Dr. Stevens, who received his degrees from State University of Iowa, heads the Marketing Dept. Dr. Stone, Dean of the School of Education, was responsible for the annual FSU Science Camp for high school students. Past president of the Florida Education Association, he is currently executive vice president of the Southern Scholarship and Research Foundation, Inc.

Dr. Townsend, head of the English Dept., received his A. B. and M. A from St Louis University and his Ph. D. from Ohio State University. Last year he was president of the South Atlantic Modern Languages Association. Dr. Wade, Mathematics Dept. head, received his degrees from the Universityof Virginia.

Twenty-Two Candidates File For Elections, Deadline Nears

Twenty - two declarations of candidacy for class offices had been filed yesterday at 12:30. Eleven are for major class offices. Filing will continue through 5 p. m. Tuesday at the information desk in Longmire.

Although no candidates had filed for Senior, Junior, or Sophomore class president, filing was rather heavy for Senate offices. Filing for the office of Sophomore women's senator were Kay Rankin, a Student Party nominee, Sally Sparks, Marsha Orth, andJoyce Killian. Tom Sisco was the only declared candidate for Sophomore men's senator.

The junior women's senator position has been filed for by Clyda Stokes of the Student Party.

Bill Greenwood and Bill Grant, both Student Party nominees, have declared candidacy for junior men's senator.

The only Senior class Senate candidate who had filed was Patti Buerke, who declared for Senior women's senator.

HONOR COURT

Filing for the eight positions to be filled on the Honor Court were Ginnie Collier for Junior women's position, Diane Goodwin and Martha Bishop for Senior women's positions and Ron Bisland and John Wesley White, both Student Party nominees, for Senior men's positions. No one had filed for Junior class men's positions.

Filing for positions on the University Court were Myra Hancock, Student Party nominee, for Sophomore woman's position, Betsy Boote, Junior woman's position, and Millie Bishop, for Senior woman's position.

EIGHTEEN POSITIONS

George Burhart and Buddy Doty, both Student Party nominees, have filed for Senior men's positions. No one had filed for positions to be filled by Sophomore or Junior men. There are eighteen positions to be filled on the University Court.

Jane Ward, a Sophomore Student Party nominee, was the only declared candidate for Traffic Court.

Candidates are reminded that no campaigning is to begin before April 24. No campaign literture is to be posted before that time. Candidates who have any questions should call and check with Nancie Sill, Secretary of Elections.

Political Parties Is The Topic Of Dr. Paul J. David

Dr. Paul T. David, professor of political science at the University of Virginia, will speak on "The Changing Political Parties," Monday, at 8 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

The fifth in a series of eight lecturers brought to Florida State University by the Government Dept., Dr. David has written several books on political parties and the national conventions.

Since he received his Ph.D.in economics from Brown University in 1933, he has served on a number of committees and commissions on education and on economic affairs.

He has served as an administrative assistant for the Tennessee Valley Authority (1933-36), a staff member on the President's Committee on Administrative Management (1936), assistant director of the U. S. Advisory Committee on Education (1936-39), associate director of the American Youth Commission of the American Council on Education (1939-42), member of the economics staff of the U. S. Bureau of the Budget (1942-46), alternate U. S. representative

(Continued on Page 6)

Shaw's 'Too True To Be Good' Is Staged In Conradi Theater Tonight And Tomorrow

George Bernard Shaw's social comedy Too True To Be Good will be presented tonight and tomorrow evening at 8:15 in Conradi Theatre by the University Theatre.

Tickets are available in Westcott Ticket Office for both performances; however, there is a limited number for tonight's showing. The cost is $.75 for students and $1.50 for non - students.

The play, which opened Wednesday night, is viewed by Director Arthur Dorlag as "a search for values in an atomic age." Dr. Dorlag said that although the Shaw play was written about ten years after World War I, it seems just as applicable to modern times. "It takes the attitude that old institutions have lost their validity, but that we still have not found anything to replace them."

'IMPROPER DIET'

Some of the character relationships come as a surprise, according to Dr. Dorlag, who said Shaw uses them to express his own opinions about human iodiosyncrasies. For instance, in the first act The Patient, played by Judy Harrison, is sick with the measles; but Shaw, a vegetarian, suggests that her illness is caused by improper diet.

Shaw in one line in the play has described the characters this way: "There is something fantastic about them, something unreal and perverse, something profoundly unsatisfactory. They are too absurd to be believed in; yet they are not fictions: the newspapers are full of them."

CAST OF PLAYERS

Members of the cast and their roles include: Sherry Arent, Susan; Jerry Walter, Aubrey; Pat McCoy, Mrs. Mopply; Rhett Bryson Jr., Doctor; Linda Diz, Microbe Monster; Bill Valle, Tallboys; David Brown, Meek; Charles Dutcher, Sgt. Fielding; and Ken Richart, Elder.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members and the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Student Party Shapes Up

Student Party, in its convention which wound up last night, appeared to be trying to change its spots, or at least disguise them with discretion.

CONVENTION LEADERS were scrupulous in the handling of floor controversies. Questions of voting were given over to the delegations who voted on a preference of handling in disputed situations. The rule book came into play as often as needed.

The voting on nominees showed spirit — new spirit apparently, because where from time to time nominees were accepted by acclamation, quite often a run-off was necessary, and sometimes the run-off vote was tense and close. There were none of the usual charges of stacking, of pledged votes and other normal criticisms.

A FEW ORGANIZATIONS were absent. Later in the convention some of these put in an appearance; one with an apology for its original no-show stand.

Certainly Student Party has nominated a strong slate of candidates for most posts. Perhaps the appearance of a new University Party has cut away much of the flab of "pledged" vote candidates whose sole qualifications for so long were that they "knew somebody." Student Party's or any other organization's strength lies in its ability to place the best possible candidates on the ballots. Student body apathy to campus politics has some basis in the feeling that too many offices were occupied by persons merely desirous of having another title to place by their name in Hall of Fame or Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

IF BOTH PARTIES are forced to compete for the best qualified candidates, and both parties stress strong qualifications and clearly indicate what they feel to be good qualifications (none of the fashion design club sort of thing), then the student body will be the winner regardless of the elected candidate's party affiliation. Neither party will "lose" if both give us people of the highest intent and dedication. It doesn't make a whit of difference whether a candidate is Student Party or University Party or Independent if that candidate cleary intends to work for FSU and not the greater glory of a pin mate.

LP

Time For Change

Let's have some traffic changes. There's no good reason why the Student-Faculty traffic committee should not begin serious reconsideration of a number of rules that no longer hold water.

FOR A START it might be a good idea if this committee consulted the campus police department and gave close attention to its recommendations. We suspect the police know more about traffic problems than any committee.

For one thing the committee should do something about the two hour parking. That "popular" rule has caused more resentment and confusion and traffic jams than anything this university has come up with yet.

AND WHAT'S WITH giving tickets to off-campus cars that merely deliver a university employee? We were not aware that traffic legislation has gone so far that it would make staff members walk. That sounds like Traffic Court—it's their kind of suggestion.

LP

Nothing Has Changed

Senate voted down the bill to shuck class officers by a 34-1 vote. The bill had been introduced in an effort to eradicate class officers due to a feeling of uselessness in some quarters.

CLASS OFFICERS ARE, of course, time honored posts. They are traditional. There is some truth in charges that many class offices are merely titles too often used as bona fide "qualification" by office seekers.

Senate defeated the proposed bill to abolish class offices, but passed the bill which reads simply "Class organization shall be established as provided for in the statutes." Which is to say, nothing has changed, for the Article in the Student Body Constitution dealing with Class Organization, using more words, says precisely what the newly approved bill says.

And we say nothing has changed.

LP

Revamp Forensics Budget

Here's something for the Budgeteers to consider: The Florida State University debaters recently acquired a second trophy case to house rapidly accumulating trophies won in the many contests in which they participate on a shoestring budget.

AS OF THIS WRITING, the debate team, one unit of the Forensics budget, has participated in 9 tournaments this year with 124 wins and 66 losses. Last year the debaters met 71 schools with enviable results, traveling 7,250 miles in the process. There are 19 debaters on the road this year (Forensics actually includes some 200 persons in its budgeted activities).

Trips are paid for, but the debaters must drive to and from distant points. This point automatically excludes their taking part in most of the big, important debates around the nation. In this respect they are being hamstrung almost exactly like the extinct Gymnastics squad.

DEBATERS ARE ALLOWED fifty cents per person per meal on road trips. Soon they will represent FSU at the Tau Kappa Alpha tourney in Indiana—and they must drive that distance. Short funds make it necessary for the debate team to go to say, New Orleans, debate, and hit the road home again, tired and unable to stay overnight unless they pay their own expenses. And a fifty cent meal is not very morale lifting either.

We feel that the people handling the budget might go to the History Bldg., take a look at the burgeoning trophies, and find that Forensics actually isn't a dirty word, but a needed and vital training ground that has brought recognition to this university. Then they might take a new, long look at the frayed Forensics budget.

LP

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '58
BEN C. SHARP—Editor

Leslie Powell, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor — Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Toni DiCarlo ..... Executive Assistant
Erik Collins ..... Asst. Managing Editor
Lana Murray ..... Asst. News Editor
Victor Comolli ..... Asst. Sports Editor
Spence Guerin, Julie Savage ..... Artists
Dianne Klinck ..... Business Manager
Fred Salgado ..... Circulation Mgr.
Emmette Jackson ..... Photo Editor
Photographers—Del Kittendorf, Josn Lynch, Fred McDonald.
Columnists . Gerry Dobson, Bob Sanchez, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clark, Jim Smith, Carl Rosenbush, Karen Thornton, Joedy Smith, John McCotter.
Feature Staff—Joycelyn Ward, Martha Robberts, Leslie McNevin, Pat Freeman.
Proof Staff— Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Logan.
Anderson, Mary Grossenbacher, Sharon
News Staff—Jim Smith, Bobbie Shiplett, Maureen Perkins. Gayle Motes, Nancy Olsen, Sandra Dixon, Carol Hackney, Karen Pace, Merry Morehouse, Jody Wilkis, Linda Collier.
Sports Staff—John Wood, Shirley Hardison
Juliann Gabbert ..... Advertising Manager
Bill Love ..... Asst. Advertising Manager
Margo Duffe ..... Layout
Advertising Sales Staff: Dick Waterworth, Sue Hendrickson, Dwayne Atkins.

Associated College Press, Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave. New York 17, New York. Published by Florida State University students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Guest Column

Student Party Celebrates Tenth Year Under Fire

By DALE MARLER

Operating under a new constitution, the Student Party met Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights in its 20th consecutive convention in the Education Building Lecture Hall.

NOW IN ITS TENTH year of operation on the Florida State University campus, the Student Party again proved its political abilities and desire to continue its service to FSU.

Although the party has undergone much criticism during these past weeks, leaders are confident that because of the major changes in the organization of the SP, the NEW STUDENT PARTY represents a most democratic political body. It has been the prime concern of all party officers that every person seeking nomination receive a fair chance at the convention. Under the new constitution, all candidates received that chance.

MUCH OF THE CRITICISM aimed at the SP lately has been without adequate support. Many people have complained about certain aspects of the party structure. These same people failed to submit evidence to back their complaints. They likewise failed to offer suggestions designed to change undesirable situations. It is easy to criticize. It is easy to start rumors, and it is easy to refuse to work for a better situation. It takes an interested person to criticize and make suggestions that better any situation.

The opponents of the Student Party have criticized, but have failed to help improve the faults they found.

CRITICISM OF THE STUDENT Party is nothing new. Since 1952 the party has undergone many mud slinging campaigns. It has been able to continue in existence because it was able to prove its determination and desire to serve the FSU student body.

Although a new party has been formed, SP feels confident that its existence will continue. This confidence is felt because of the verbal support given the NEW STUDENT PARTY and changes evident in the latest nominating convention. Student Party has the support of dorm presidents, fraternity and sorority leaders, and most important—the members of the student body.

THE STUDENT PARTY hopes that people will realize that the party offers much to its candidates. An organization second to none is present in the party structure which allows SP nominees a representative and campaigner on every floor of every dorm. The desire and determination on the part of everyone associated with the party to wage an effective campaign presents desirable elements to potential SP candidates.

The party was not disappointed in its hope that a number of students would seek party nominations. SP realizes only too well that by offering the best candidates can any party win in the coming election.

Slobs

Short-Shorted

By JOHN McCOTTER

Probably one of the poorest pictures of the American life ever to be presented to foreign visitors in this country is the general sloppiness — in dress and conduct — of native Americans while visiting their nation's capitol.

THE ARMY OF short-shorted, tee - shirted, gum - chewing wastrels that daily invade those places in the Washington D. C. area that should be considered sacred has aroused the ire of several public figures. Among them is Rep. Walter L. McVey of Kansas.

McVey has sought legal action against those constituents of his third district who would appear before such places in less-than-proper attire. It would seem that, in a nation that is, for the most part, so relaxed in its daily dress habits, citizens could stir themselves to look presentable for a short time, at least in respect for the birthplace of their nation and the men who brought it about. Unfortunately this is not the case.

AN APPALLINGLY LARGE number of women think no more of wearing their lumpy curlers in the halls of Congress than they do at the local laundromat. Pot-gutted men wander about national shrines in their undershirts as easily as they do back home.

These public shrines have become a virtual paradise for pickpockets and human garbage of all types. It's enough to bring tears of patriotic ecstacy to your eyes as you mount the steps of the Capitol and are greeted by the warning "Watch Your Wallet." One Washingtonian informed me, "if you listen closely at night, you can hear the bums catching squirrels in the Capitol's lawn." The factual validity of this statement is, of course, negligible, but the attitude of disappointment and disgust it reflects is real.

PERHAPS THIS ATTITUDE is too victorian, perhaps a little litter never hurt anyone, but I think these are the rationalizations of the smug and the small that try to ignore a problem with a deeper significance than they would like to believe it possesses.

The fact that these people carry their lack of respect with them to other countries makes the problen even more serious. For an example, one has only to consider the sleazy bjorads (there just isn't a more fitting term to be found) that aggravate the guards at Buckingham Palace. It seems tragic to think that legal action should govern the personal habits of private citizens in their own Capitol as well as abroad, but frankly, that appears to me to be the only answer.

After Hours

Sees Hope For Two Parties

By KAREN THORNTON

The UNIVERSITY PARTY started last Tuesday night with its first of three nights of convention meetings. Delegates and visitors crowded the Women's Gym and excitement and curiosity filled the air.

THE FIRST NIGHT got off to a rather slow start, but it had its moments of action, especially when three fraternities chose to show their true-blue colors. Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Alpha, and Theta Chi walked from the convention floor rather suddenly, but not exactly unexpectedly. I have only one question. Why did they bother attending the UNIVERSITY PARTY convention in the first place? Whether they know it or not, their action brought out a "patriotic" spark from all the other delegates at the convention. I noticed, however, that the walker-outers managed to crawl back in on the second night.

FRANKLY, I FEEL that the harder the opposition fights against the UNIVERSITY PARTY, the stronger it will fight to make a lasting place on this campus; and it will make a place because it has a rare quality of individual in it. It promises to withstand the pressures of time.

Many people who feel that the UNIVERSITY PARTY is trying to knock the STUDENT PARTY out of existence are sadly mistaken. At last campus politics at FSU are headed toward the fair and democratic — by this I mean not necessarily within either party, but in that the campus does have a two party system.

BOTH PARTIES APPEAR to be doing their best to suit the wishes of the students. If the student body will take a more active interest and part in campus politics, then the best persons will go into office and more will be accomplished through and with Student Government.

Friday The Thirteenth

By BONNIE FREEDMAN

If you will notice, today is a unique day of the year — Friday the thirteenth has once more fallen on a Friday. It is estimated that this has happened only one hundred and ninety - seven times in this century, and only three times in the past seventeen years has it chanced to fall in April.

In honor of the occasion, we shall name all sorts of bad things that can happen to us on Friday the Thirteenths, okay?

We could have another fire drill at four a. m., like last week, except that it probably won't be cold enough this time.

My brother could lose a chess

We could have sunshiney Thursdays from now until the end of the semester.

College of Florida, at Goonsville, could beat us at something.

The workmen could finish their work around the freshmen women's dorms, and we would find out that they are building moats.

Cliff could run out of Candy Apples.

Coma could get bounced out of her sorority.

Oxford could stop smiling.

You see — there are all sorts of unreasonable things that can happen on such a day. But fortunately, this is all ridiculous; worrying about Friday the Thurteenth is like worrying about house council.

Coma Goes To A Convention

By LESLIE POWELL

It was a spring, somewhat akin to this one, only wetter, when Coma fell off a boxcar at FSU. Picking the gravel from her teeth, and paying the Bursar off with Pepsi - Cola caps, she enrolled at FSU as a new rose . . . oops! Pardon, as a new freshman in one of the lovely old dorms left over from Dracula's estate.

ONCE AT FSU, widely known in other places as half - something or other-U, Coma became aware. Especially of campus politics she became aware. So it came to pass that Coma found herself serving as a delegate to the We're For Us First Party.

THEN CAME THE NOMINATIONS for Bicycle Traffic Court. The Sigma Watta delegation nominated Diana Schwinn, who wowed the convention in her saran-wrap toga and her gilded bow. Then the Antler House nominated Bonny Freewheeler who took her bow twirling her circle pin on a length of bicycle chain. Both candidates promised to keep their spokes in shape and press for more cyclical activity. The voting grew confused when the Watta delegation cast five female votes, 5 goldfish votes and two snail votes. As luck would have it, Clara Hara, girl actress and partime bike rider wheeled into the convention due to loss of control of her vehicle. She won by acclamation.

Clara was heartbroken, since she had intended seeking the nomination for Pope.

THE OFFICE OF CHIEF Procrastinator was sought by one Careen Thornyside and Masonic Kelpsey. Said Miss Thornyside, shoving Mr. Kelpsy off the party platform: "I was here first." Mr. Kelpsey, tramping deeply indeed into the vintage, and shouting "Vengeance is mine," slugged Miss Thornyside, who hit him in the cigarettes with her copy of the Chicago Tribune which declared "Dewey Defeats Truman."

The next office up was Party Sniper. Filly Mignon, her name placed in nomination, refused saying: "Not on a bet. I'm tired." Harvard Dimson accepted, saying "Why not? Whot, me worry?"

MR. DIMSON, Coma noted, was irritated when the Sigma Watta delegation insisted on making popcorn whilst Dimson sang "Pass that Football," his acceptance of the accolade. The Pie

Fies brought over their thermos of Purple Passion and sorority-proletariat relations were never better.

Then came the moment when Ethelred Donaldiddy, char-woman of the Watta clan rose to make a nomination speech. Said Miss Donaldiddy: "Ah proposes the name of a great citizen. I proposes a toast to same." After a variety of toasts, the speaker continued: "Seems to me in these trying times on campus, we need a check and balance system. I propose the name of Coma Fink for party Pike catcher.

I feel that Coma Fink is qualified to create checks. Her balance is as good as anybody elses who ever walked the center line. official request Y... ...ent q... fications? Coma F... as a co... signer, a schemer of quality ... unprejudiced viewer of eleph... and has a knowledge ... the Wa... For Us First Party."

COMA DIDN'T WIN, ... tern von Mathis ... constituents as Earl Hallowe... copped the vote. However ... convening body voted Ethelred ... special Oscar for her perfor... ance.

Excitement broke out on the floor when some little blonde kid from South Carolina waved a rebel flag and the Union States delegation stomped out. The ... delegation followed shortly after a delegate made an impassioned speech in favor of ... atomic weapons or ...

THE CONVENTION BROKE UP for the night when someone spoke out in favor of reorganizing professors as an official part of the party platform.

A tired Coma were home wearing her "Westcott Inspected" stamp, shouting "Yes, college" and picking her way gingerly across the cramped tennis courts.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Letter From A FAMUAN

TO THE EDITOR:

I, along with several other FAMUans, read with delight Howard Denson's article, "FSU Should Ask A&M to Play" appearing in the April 10, 1962 edition of the Florida Flambeau. I would like to point out to Mr. Denson that Robert Hayes, the 9.2 sprinter is not the only star on Coach Griffin's talented squad. The third - ranking low hurdler in the country, a 47.5 quarter-miler, two milers who have done better than 4:24, a 190-foot javelin thrower, a top-flight mile relay unit and the second ranking 440 yard relay unit in the nation.

Add to this a 24-foot broad jumper, a better than average high - jumper and the Rattlers will compete on equal terms with any team in the nation.

This is no idle boast. The the A&M trackmen were beaten by Miami, but only because the Hurricanes overloaded ... events. They won only two team events. Robert Hayes is the top ranked sprinter in the nation. Robert Harris and Robert Par... more are tied for third right behind him.

The Rattlers would like nothing better than to enter friendly competition with the Semi... and prove once and for all which is the better team. Even more important, a warm feeling of competition will prevail ... haps the universities will be drawn closer together. As Mr. Denson so vividly pointed out— "It will not rub off."

ROBERT HARRIS
FAMUAN Sports Editor

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Veep Elect

FELLOW STUDENTS:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you who helped in my campaign for Vice President. I sincerely appreciate it and only hope that I can live up to the trust and confidence you have placed in me.

After surveying the many experienced and qualified candidates currently seeking office in the coming election, I look forward to a productive and progressive Student Government next year. I especially hope for a dynamic Senate one capable of formulating progressive legislation designed to cope with unprecedented situations and problems presented by the institution of the trimester academic system.

I also look forward to the successful functioning of a two party system here at FSU, which can only come about through active student participation in both parties. The University Party has evolved as a result of genuine student interest in a two party system; the success of this dual system depends solely upon student interest and participation in it.

JOHNNY SMITH

A Gain

TO THE EDITOR:

I know the other members of the College Bowl team join me in expressing gratitude for the support given us in the tourney. I especially appreciate the actions of the many students, faculty members and administrators who took the trouble to meet us at the airport this past Monday even though we did not bring back a second victory.

If anything concrete and lasting came out of FSU's participation in the College Bowl ... it was the fact that there has since been a great deal of enthusiasm for academic work at FSU and in particular, much interest in the university's scholarship fund, as well as the Honors Program.

I wish that somehow FSU's participation in the College Bowl might influence the Board of Control to reconsider their decision regarding faculty salaries and to realize that funds spent on education represent a gain, not a loss, to the State of Florida and its citizens.

CLAIRE ARMENT KEMPER

"Strom, Are You Coming Or Are You Going To Stay?"

FSU Debaters To Attend TKA National Conference

By JOHN SCHAFFNER
Flambeau Managing Editor

Four members of the Florida State University Varsity Debate Squad will be attending the Tau Kappa Alpha National Conference, April 18 through 20, in Terre Haute, Ind.

The four students attending this tournament will be Marilyn Young and Richard Root as affirmative debate unit and Betty McIntosh and John Schaffner as the negative unit. Miss McIntosh and Root will also be representing FSU in the extemporaneous speaking contest; while Miss Young and Schaffner will be entered in the persuasive speaking event.

INDIANA STATE COLLEGE

The conference will be held on the campus of Indiana State College, in Terre Haute, and will draw schools from all sections of the country.

There will be eight rounds of debate for each team on the national proposition, Resolved: that labor organizations should be placed under the jurisdiction of anti-trust legislation. Each of these debates will be of the conventional style, with a 10 minute constructive argument for each speaker and a five minute rebuttal apiece.

The extemporaneous speeches will be five to seven minutes long on some area of international affairs. Each speaker will draw his topic and will have 30 minutes to prepare his speech. Each speaker will participate in the first two rounds, and a final round will consist of the top-ranking eight speakers.

The persuasive speeches will be on a topic of the speaker's choice and will not last over 10 minutes. Each of the speakers will participate in the first two rounds, and the final round will be composed of the eight speakers receiving the highest ratings in the first two rounds.

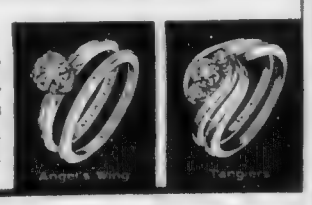
There are first, second, third and fourth place plaques awarded in debate, as well as a first place traveling trophy. There are plaques awarded to the top three persons in each of the individual events with certificates being awarded to the other five finalists.

Debate Coach R. A. Hahn will accompany the team on the trip, and the team will stay at the home of his parents while in Terre Haute.

The FSU debaters won seven and lost nine at this conference last year which was won by Butler College.

Three members of the FSU squad will be initiated into Tau Kappa Alpha (a national forensics honorary) at a formal initiation ceremony April 18 at the conference. These three members are: Betty McIntosh, Marilyn Young and Richard Root.

College Queens choose Artcarved



What makes a girl a College Queen? Beauty and brains. What does she look for in a diamond engagement ring? Beauty and value. Smart girls!

These 1961 College Queens, twelve of them from all over the country, found the designs that flatter their hands (and warm their hearts) among Artcarved's award-winning styles. They found value, too. Every Artcarved diamond ring carries a written guarantee of quality and value that is recognized by fine jewelers from coast-to-coast.

You'll find the extra measure of beauty and value that you want in a diamond ring at your Artcarved jeweler, listed below. Ask him to show you the designs chosen by America's College Queens.

Artcarved
DIAMOND AND WEDDING RINGS

Two of the lovely designs chosen by America's College Queens. From $100.

Get your National College Queen Contest entry for yourself or your candidate at:

W. C. VASON JEWELERS
124 E. Pensacola St.
Tallahassee ● Phone: 222-3603

PETE FOUNTAIN SWINGS INTO FSU
. . . Monday night as the famed jazz clarinetist will present two concerts in Westcott Auditorium, one at 7 p.m. and the other at 9 p.m. Tickets are now on sale at the Westcott ticket office.

Time Flies Toward Family Weekend

With Circus time not far away, students should begin making plans for having their parents at Florida State University for Family Weekend, May 1 through 5, for the varied program of events being scheduled.

Tickets for the Circus went on sale Wednesday at the Athletic Ticket Office at Tully Gym. Prices are $.75 for students and $1.50 for non-students. All tickets are for reserved seats.

Organizations wishing to purchase tickets in a bloc should begin making plans to do so immediately.

The policy used in purchasing reserved seat tickets for the Saturday matinee or evening performances will be the same as last year. That is, for each student ticket sold, one non-student ticket must also be puchased; however, additional non-student tickets may be bought without the purchase of more student tickets.

This policy was established to assure that all parents would have an opportunity to see the "Big Show."

Campus Chest Drive Gains Steady Funds

The Campus Chest Drive contributions have begun to come in steadily, with the expectation that last night's street dance will boost funds considerably.

Residence solicitors have gone into action to meet their goals. The Gamma Phi Beta pledge class project for Campus Chest which brought in $60 will be added to their $20 goal to be contributed to the drive.

Residence solicitors have posted scales showing the standing of their residence collections. Collection boxes have been placed on campus for day student contributions.

Monday night will end the drive. Contributions are to be brought to Room 411 Longmire between 2 and 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Elegant Simplicity For Easter

Sizes 5 to 15

miss pat

Gibbs French Shoppe

Pete Fountain Plays Two In Westcott On Monday

By REEN PERKINS
Flambeau Staff Writer

Pete Fountain, jazz clarinetist, will appear in Westcott Auditorium on Monday night, sponsored by the Artist Series.

There will be two programs, one at 7 p.m. and one at 9 p.m. Tickets are now on sale at the Westcott Ticket Office at $2 for students and $2.50 for non-students. No seats will be reserved.

This will be Pete Fountain's second appearance on the FSU campus, his first being last spring when he played a closed concert for the SUSGA Conference.

The 30 - year - old musician, who resides in his hometown of New Orleans under his real name, Pierre Dewey La Fountaine Jr., has become known as one of the greatest stars of the jazz world today.

He has been called the "clarinetist of his age."

ORGANIZED BANDS

Credited by critics and the public as surpassing both his former teacher and friend, Irving Fazola, and Benny Goodman, Pete has played in and helped organize several small bands. One of these was the Basin Street Six, organized in 1950.

Fountain began his career 20 years ago upon the recommendation of his family physician Fountain had a respiratory ailment which a "wind instrument" might help alleviate.

Fountain began his studies of the "licorice stick" at the John Wiggs' State Band School of Music. He obtained much of his training from jam sessions on Bourbon Street in New Orleans, where he developed his "tonal quality, style and technique." It was at one of these jam sessions that he met Irving Fazola, one of the original Bob Crosby Bob Cats. Fazola later became his teacher and good friend.

Fountain's first professional date came when he was 16 and "took over Fazola's Dixieland band seat in a French Quarter burlesque house the night his friend died." Since then he has appeared on the Lawrence Welk TV Show, the Ed Sullivan TV Show and on tours all over the country.

RECORD ALBUMS

He has recorded eight albums for Coral Records, one of his greatest hits being "Mr. New Orleans Jazz Meets Mr. Honky-Tonk," in which he works with Big "Tiny" Little of the Lawrence Welk Show. Commenting on his reasons for leaving the Lawrence Welk Show, Fountain quipped, "I guess champagne and bourbon just don't mix."

Other albums by Fountain are New Orleans, The Blues, Pete Fountain Day, The Blues by Pete Fountain, and many other hits. His latest album is Pete Fountain's French Quarter.

The high - point of his career came in October of 1959, when an annual jazz festival was centered around Fountain, who had just returned from his two years in Hollywood. On this day a torchlight parade led Fountain patriots to the Municipal Auditorium where Pete gave the "concert of his life" and "Pete Fountain Day" was officially proclaimed.

Describing his playing, Fountain says he strives for one thing "feeling and the velvet sounds Irving Fazola produced . . . like diamonds falling out of a velvet bag."

Most music students believe he has surpassed this goal.

NOT 'PROGRESSIVE'

Fountain insists his brand of New Orleans jazz is not orthodox Dixieland, but neither is it progressive — a word and a school he abhors. "I'm a swinger," he says, "but I don't see why many people call my brand of music pure Dixieland. I guess it comes down to the fact I'm from New Orleans. But I don't use a trumpet or a trombone — which are the mainstays of Dixieland."

Pete and his wife, Beverly, have two sons and a baby daughter. They reside in New Orleans, where Fountain owns a club, the French Quarter Inn. Fountain could easily triple his income by touring more often but this he won't do. He is a confirmed family man and dislikes separations from his wife and children.

Fountain has received awards from Playboy and Downbeat magazines this year.

J. C. Press Association Holds Annual Meet Here

The Florida Junior College Press Association will hold its annual spring convention on the Florida State University campus today and tomorrow.

The meeting, which began last night, features workshops for junior college newspapers and yearbook.

Feature speakers will be Ann and Martin Waldron, Tallahassee correspondents for the St. Petersburg Times, speaking on feature writing.

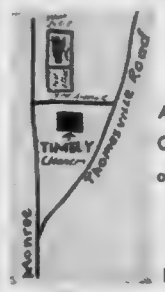
Ted Kyper, of Rose Printing Co., will talk on "Putting Out the College Annual."

Florida State students on panels are Beth Ann LeGate discussing "Photography in the Year book" and Betsy Donnelly talking on "Writing for the Yearbook."

FSU's director of Student activity Dr. Reid Montgomery, lead a panel and open floor discussion on "Editorial Policy: Freedom or Restraint?"

The conference is being sponsored by the Florida Flambeau.

The Florida Junior College Press Association has 18 junior college members and the University of South Florida as an associate member.



"The organization is interested in re - establishing the lines of communication with other colleges and universities in the state," said President John Gordon, of St. Petersburg Junior College. "The purpose of this conference is to discuss the ever - increasing need for good feature writing, which, because of the infrequency of publication, is the only real substitute for the lack of "hard" news in the junior college newspaper."

Chem. Grant

A grant of $6,000 from Tennessee Eastman Co. to Florida State University has been made in support of the graduate program in chemistry.

The company announced that grants are also being made to other Southern institutions: Emory and Henry College, Georgia Institute of Technology, University of Kentucky and University of Tennessee.

Although the grants do not specifically provide for graduate fellowships, a portion of the funds may be used for this purpose.

EASY TO REACH!
219 E. THIRD AVE.
Around the corner from the Carriage Shop . . . or turn off the Thomasville Road.
Ph. 224-8000

STORE YOUR CLOTHING FOR THE SUMMER PAY IN THE FALL

A complete storage service, mothproofed, insured, fur storage, economical box storage and bag storage. Guaranteed satisfaction.

For Pickup and Delivery Call 224-8000

OTHER SERVICES:
Waterproofing, dying, reweaving, rug cleaning, laundry and alterations.

TIMELY CLEANERS

We Specialize In Formal and Evening Wear

DIRECT FROM THE PEPPERMINT LOUNGE

"The Celestials"

AT THE FAIRGROUNDS

SATURDAY, APRIL 14th 8:00 P.M.—12:00 P.M.

- House Capacity Only
- No Alcoholic Beverage Permitted

ADVANCE TICKETS
$1.25
ADMISSION AT DOOR $1.50

RADIO STATION WMEN STUDIOS & OFFICE
FLORIDAN HOTEL

BAFFLED KNIGHT COFFEE LOUNGE
115½ S. ADAMS

Fourteen Florida College Students Observe Offices Of Gov. Bryant, State Officials

Fourteen students from as many Florida colleges and universities were student observers this week in the offices of Governor Farris Bryant and other state officials.

The students participated in the fifth student Observer Program of the Florida Citizenship Clearing House Sunday, they attended orientation meetings before taking their observation posts. They were welcomed at a buffet supper by FCCH President Donald K. Carroll, Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals. Dr. Elston Roady of FSU, executive director of FCCH, gave instructions.

Tuesday the group attended a Cabinet session. At 7 p.m. in the FSU Faculty Club, they heard Hendrix Chandler, correspondent in charge of the Associated Press capitol bureau. Gerald Howell, Merit System director, was speaker for a similar dinner - discussion at 7 p.m. Thursday.

SELECTED BY SCHOOLS

The students, selected by their school for their interest in government and politics and their good records, and the offices they were observing, are as follows:

Gov. Farris Bryant —Roger Sledd Rollins College; Frank Louis Natter, Dade County Junior College. Sec. of State Tom Adams — Kathleen Montpelier, Daytona Beach Junior College; Daniel O'Connell, University of Florida. Atty-Gen. Richard Ervin — Bobby Spence, Orlando Junior College; Douglas M. Perkins, Pensacola Junior College.

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE

Comptroller Ray Green — Ronald Clifton, Stetson University. Supt. of Public Instruction Thomas Bailey — Barbara Butler, St. Petersburg Junior College; Stanley Clark Wyllie, Florida State University. Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner — Julian (Pete) Kelly, Central Florida Junior College.

Florida Supreme Court Justice Stephen O'Connell — Donald Harris, Palm Beach Junior College. Florida Industrial Commission, A. Worley Brown — Cynthia Northrup, Florida Presbyterian College. Florida State Road Department — Robert Brown, Jacksonville University. Florida Development Commission, Wendell Jarrard — John Van Landingham, Chipola Junior College.

'Stop Where Do You Think You're Going

Do you think you can escape judgment?" voices the judge in one of the scenes from the play The Sign of Jonah appearing Sunday and Monday at the Chapel of the Resurrection. Performing are l to r., Phyllis Hartford, Fred Richter, Jill Nicholson, Ned Barr, Bob Armstrong and John Hopkins.

Episcopal Chapel Is Set For 'The Sign Of Jonah'

By FRED McDONALD
Flambeau Feature Writer

Guenter Rutenborn's German play The Sign of Jonah will be presented Sunday and Monday nights at 8:15 p.m. in the Episcopal Chapel of the Resurrection. Translated into English by George White, The Sign of Jonah is a post-war German play telling of the justification of the ways of God in the face of evil—a Theodicy.

This short play, 70 minutes, has a big meaning. It draws its characters from the Bible and gives them modern identities. The play has a range from Babylon and Ninevah to Nazi Germany and Judgment Day.

Jonah is in the form of a trial, but a trial such as Pirandello might build up, for there is much shifting of role and perspective. The characters are put on trial for cruelty and indifference. The spokesman is a U-boat commander who was trapped in a submarine and saved by God: the similarity of his fate to that of the biblical Jonah and the whale leads him to adopt this name.

Other characters include the Archangels Gabriel, Michael and Raphael, all who suffered and bear the marks of post-war humanity, and the Queen of the South, who depicts the rulers or crowned heads.

The Court is seeking someone to blame for the horrors and agonies of the war. The defendants blame each other: the Average Man, Average Woman, the Queen — but all have alibis.

Finally, the Court finds one upon whom to attach the blame. The play has a surprising conclusion, one which points out an answer to a very profount question being asked by modern man.

SURREALISM

This play abounds in Surrealism and to a degree Existintialism. It is a very remarkable play which exposes some central problems and gives some enlightening replies.

Abroad, this play has been performed in churches, German POW camps in Russia and on a professional West Berlin stage. In New York it was given for three student performances by Union Theological Seminary and was written up by Time and Life, arousing national interest in the strange play. Television and Broadway productions are in the offing.

PASTOR AND PLAYWRIGHT

The author, who is portrayed by one of the characters in the play sharing similar experiences, is a Protestent pastor in East Germany who has also had a career as a playwright. Born in Dortmund in 1912, Pastor Rutenborn has lived through a period of world wars and revolutions, and his dramatic imagination has caught fire from the times. For many years he was at odds with the Nazis and was once fined 1000 marks for his remarks hostile to Hitler's regime.

Sent to East Germany by his Church in 1963, Pastor Rutenborn was placed against a wall to be executed by a Russian firing squad who he says, "fortunately were too drunk to aim carefully." He wrote The Sign of Jonah after the war amid the rubble of the Third Reich. This nine-scene play written in 1960 was intended primarily for enactment in churches, but has caught the hearts and imaginations of literally thousands of viewers.

Says Life: "With his humor, his religious conviction and his deep sense of humanity, Guenter Rutenborn is likely to become Germany's most gifted living dramatist."

PASSION OF MANKIND

"From every point of view Rutenborn's Sign of Jonah is a remarkable play. In an hour's time it concentrates the passion of mankind . . . Stunning," stated the New York Times.

The joint Episcopal-Lutheran production opening Sunday night has been weeks in the making. The actors are amateurs, but promise an excellent performance. There is to be no admission charged. This play promises to be a truly moving experience for the onlooker and will not easily be forgotten. The opening scene is Berlin.

All Around Campus

Business Fraternities Battle In Softball Game Tomorrow

EDITOR'S NOTE: News for All around the Campus is due in the Flambeau Officek, 213 Longmire, by 5 p. m. Tuesday for Friday's issue and by 5 p.m. Friday for Tuesday's paper. All activities must be dated and the time and place should be mentioned if necessary. Copy should be typewritten if possible.

Alpha Kappa Psi professional business fraternity will meet Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity in a softball game at the athletic field tomorrow at 9 a.m.

KAPPA DELTA PI

New officers of Kappa Delta Pi national education honorary are Mrs. Nancy Douglas, president; Howard Green, vice president; Charlyn Webber, recording secretary; Mrs. Nera Alderson, corresponding secretary. Howard Able, treasurer, and Mrs. Louise Boyce, historian.

Durwood Harrell, personnel director for Jordan Marsh, was guest speaker at the recent meeting of the Marketing Club. Harrell spoke on opportunities in the retail business for men as well as women and mentioned the one - year training program sponsored by Jordan Marsh for interested persons.

Mortar Board

Tonight is Mortar Board's annual "Penny-a Minute" night to raise money for a scholarship given by the woman's honorary.

All women students may stay out until 1:30 a.m. tonight at the price of one penny per extra minute after 12:30 a.m. the regular closing hour.

To take advantage of this, coed's must sign out before leaving their dormitory or sorority house.

Gen. Hester Is Speaker

Brig. Gen. Hugh B. Hester will speak on the foreign policy of the United States, Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

A retired general from St. Petersburg, he will talk on "International Cooperation — Our Best Defense" as the fourth in a series of lectures on "Crises in the Sixties," sponsored by Liberal Forum.

FSU President Gordon W. Blackwell, Rev. John Carey, and Dr. Michael Kasha, all previous Liberal Forum speakers, are scheduled to return for the evening to participate in a panel discussion with Gen. Hester.

Gen. Hester studied law and international relations in the graduate schools of the Universities of North Carolina and Pennsylvania, and George Washington University.

He was active in the military for thirty - four years and was director of the food program for the armed forces in Germany after World War II.

PATRONIZE YOUR FLAMBEAU ADVERTISERS

San Can Restaurant
Across the Road from the Capital Shopping Center
Try Our Fast Drive-In Service
Enjoy A Meal In Our Lovely Dining Room
Call In Your Order
And It Will Be Waiting
1825 Thomasville Rd. Phone 223-0445

WHILE THEY LAST...

Featuring Outstanding Books For Your Seasonal Enjoyment

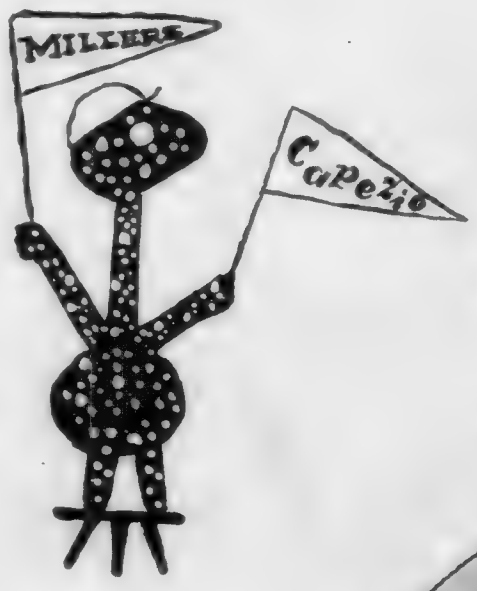
Leaves Of Gold
Deluxe and Standard Edition

Easter Ideals
For Children and Adults

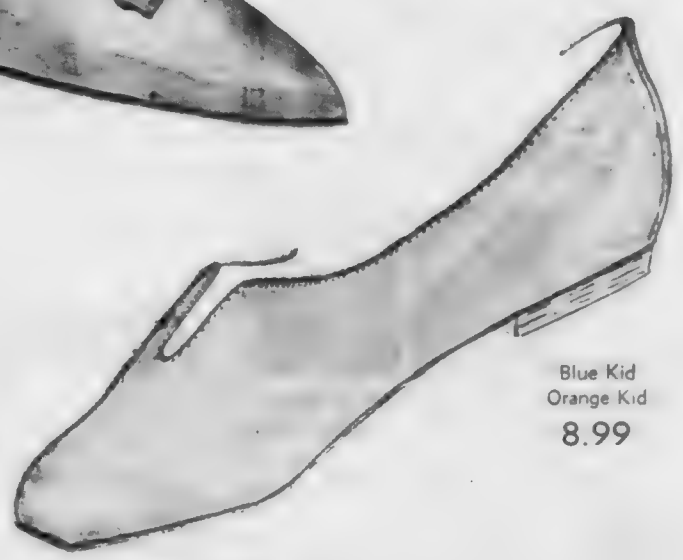
☆ New English Bible
Cloth and Paper Back

☆ Bibles and Testaments
Different Colors and Sizes

Religious Books
Fiction and Non-Fiction



UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE



Dulaney's Service Station
504 North Macomb Phone 224-4186
Standard Brand Gasoline
29.9 PER GALLON
Listen To The Big Jim Program
On WMEN AT 4:30 PM TO 4:45 PM Every Day
FREE RADIO GIVEN AWAY
FRIDAY AT 6:00 pm.
Register For Free Set of Dunlop Tires
(If You Don't Need Them, Big Jim Will Buy Them Back)
OPEN ALL DAY SUNDAY
• WASH JOB.....$1.25
• GREASE JOB...$1.25
We Specialize In Economical Mechanical Work
Ask For A Standard Credit Card Applciation
TELL BIG JIM THAT YOU SAW HIS AD IN THE FLAMBEAU

MILLER'S Bootery
FUN SHOES FOR EASTER 'N AFTER Capezio

Bone Kid
16.99

Blue Kid
Orange Kid
8.99

Red Patent
Black Patent
White Patent
9.99

Black Patent
16.99

MILLERS
Monroe at College

Smithies Gives Talk On Economic Policy

By JOAN ABBOTT
Flambeau News Editor

It may be "quite fatal" if the United States moulds foreign policy for the country's own economic gain, Harvard economist said Monday night.

Dr. Arthur Smithies, professor of economics at Harvard University, spoke at the fourth of a series of eight lectures sponsored by the Florida State University Government Dept.

"Economic policy should be an instrument of general foreign policy," Dr. Smithies said, and that it has somewhat the opposite relation to foreign policy as military armament.

'POSITIVE FORCE'

Dr. Smithies called economic aid a "positive force," adding that he didn't think "diplomats dealing with each other get very far."

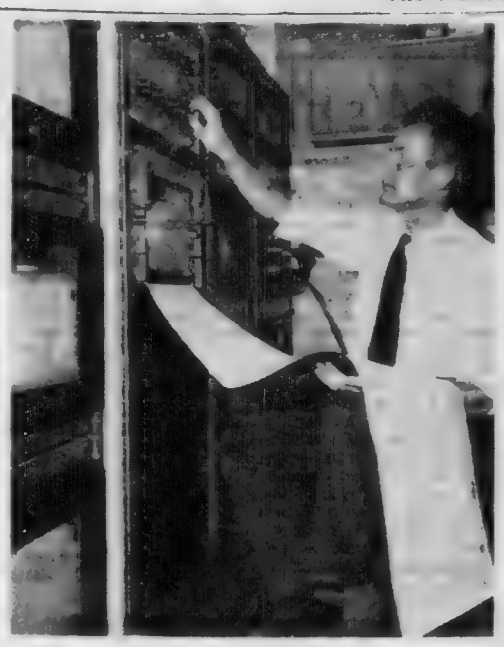
However, he advocated that the U. S. not make long range commitments with sharply defined objectives. "I think this is one of our national failings to want to put objectives," he added. "The U. S. makes far reaching mistakes as in dealing with Cuba, where we might lead us astray," he said.

He said he advocated that "we learn to live with a problem, rather than solve it or . . . rather than adopt a spurious solution. If the U. S. avoids this pitfall it would allow the foreign policy to be more flexible as to when change, he explained.

After reviewing U. S. economic history from 19th Century isolationism period to the present, Dr. Smithies said that "we can now afford ourselves a genuinely low tariff country."

However, Dr. Smithies pointed out that there are more things that can be done in the area of trade that would further American foreign policy.

"In the area of trade agreements with the industrialized European countries, Dr. Smithies noted the need for "generalization on both sides." In the case with the Communist countries for the underveloped countries, it is important that free countries maintain liberal trading policies and low tariffs in order to permit the underdeveloped countries to trade with the free world, he said.



JAPAN AND TARRIFFS

Dr. Smithies used the problem of Japan as an example. A low wage and high technology country, Japan is discriminated against in tarriff laws by almost every country. Total or further exclusion of Japan would force it to trade with the Communist bloc and political implications are likely to accompany economic dependence, he said.

On the question of whether or not private owners in the U. S. should be allowed to sell wheat to Red China, Dr. Smithies said that this depended entirely on the circumstances at the time. If the China government would collapse if wheat were withheld, then no wheat should be sold, he said.

Since this would probably be unlikely, Dr. Smithies suggested as an alternative that wheat be sold or given to China if the Chinese agreed to let Americans distribute it.

Whether this would be accepted or not it would be an "effective propaganda measure," he said. "It could get Americans into the country" he stressed.

April Will Bring The Planet Jupiter

. . . 390 million miles away, within listening distance. So after all the disk jockeys are in bed Florida State University physicist Colin Home Barrow will go out between 1 and 6:30 a.m. for a daily session of listening to the surf-like noises from the planet. Barrow's listening post is a small concrete block hut in a field filled with masts and intenna. A jagged-lined chart records the noise surges from the planet. Barrow has just received a $75,000 grant from National Aeronautics and Space Administration to continue studies on his ideas about a magnetic field and ionosphere around Jupiter.

FSU Scientist Is Recording Jupiter Under A Three-Year Federal Grant

A Florida State University scientist will soon begin making recordings—of noises from the planet Jupiter.

CHART OF NOISES

The planet, bright in the southern sky during the few hours before dawn, will be the second brightest thing in the heavens at the time Colin makes his recordings, next in brilliance to Venus, also in the South. Barrow, however, will close the door of his concrete block radio observatory and will observe the charting of the noises of the planet by a pen recorder on long strips of chart paper.

Jupiter, in addition to being the second brightest planet is also the noisiest thing in the sky with the exception of the sun. It is some four times as far away as the sun, or about 380 million miles, but the noises which can be heard over a good quality short - wave receiver come in like the roar of breakers in the ocean surf, and are recorded as a series of jagged lines on the charts.

The grant was made on the basis of the NSA's interest in Barrow's theories about the existence of a magnetic field around Jupiter and the presence of an inosphere similar to the ionosphere in the outer part of the earth's atmosphere.

MADE AT NIGHT

Since the earth's ionosphere partially blocks out the signals from Jupiter when the sun is shining, the observations have to be made at night. The ideal time for the observations is between 1 and 6:30 a. m., since terrestial interference is at a minimum then.

The experiments will begin in late April, since Jupiter will then begin a four - month radio "apparition," or suitable period for radioastronmy listening.

Using $20,000 from the NASA grant, Barrow and his assistants have purchased and will soon be installing four 30-foot-high towers with tracking antennas. These are replacing the less versatile set of poles and wires which the physicist has used during the past year.

Barrow, an Englishman, has been studying Jupiter for six years. He first came to Florida in 1955 on a Fulbright scholarship. Since coming to FSU in September, 1960, he has taught astronomy and physics courses.

EARLIER STUDIES

Soon after coming to FSU he began putting together with the help of student assistants the series of observations of Jupiter in 1961. He reported on these observations at the December meeting of the American Astronomical Society in Denver.

Barrow believes that he has discovered a method to measure the magnetic field of Jupiter. The [illegible] observations which might help establish the existence of a magnetic field and ionosphere on Jupiter, he said, but he believes he has found a way by comparing polarization observations made at different frequencies of obtaining a measurement of Jupiter's magnetic field which is independent of most of the uncertainties which might be introduced by the terrestial ionosphere.

ENGLISH OBSERVERS

Barrow and his assistants will be doing their early morning listening to Jupiter over new equipment at frequencies between 16 and 26 megacycles. During the coming apparition he has an arrangement with an English observer to make general 18 megacycle observations and because of the difference in longitude between England and Florida a continuation of the observations will provide a continuous story of the planet through one complete rotation each hour.

One of the old antennas will be left for use in a conjoint experiment with the radio astronomy group at the University of Florida. The physicist said the observations would provide information on the fine structure of individual Jupiter noise bursts. Director of the U of F group is Dr. Alex G. Smith.

During the coming year, Barrow hopes to build an extra sensitive antenna to search for possible radiation from Jupiter at a higher frequency of 38 megacycles. A few previous observations at Cambridge in 1955 indicated no radiation from Jupiter at this frequency but Barrow thinks that the planet may possibly be active on rare occasions.

University Party . . .

(Continued from Page 1)

Darragh and Carolyn Wronske. Candidates are Bobbi Darragh and Carolyn Wronske. Senior Men's Judiciary: Pete Davis, Steve Botts and Chuck Cutajar were accepted by acclamation.

Senior Women's Judiciary: Mary Lillian Jones and Millie Bishop, by acclamation. Junior Men's Judiciary: Frank Ryll and Matt Miller, accepted by acclamation. Junior Women's Judiciary: Judy Register, Marty Baumrucker, Patti Haer and Betsey Boote. Candidates are Judy Register, Patti Haer and Betsey Boote. Sophomore Men's Judiciary: Jim Jones and Hines Boyd were accepted by acclamation.

Sophomore Women's Judiciary: Dana Phaar, Sandra Brooks and Linda Hoffman were accepted by acclamation.

Junior Traffic Court: Dana Lenahan, Sandy Clary and Alice Marshell. Candidates are Dana Lenahan and Alice Marshell. Sophomore Traffic Court Horace Smith and Virginia Pittman. Senior Men's Senate: Paul Miller and Jim Johnston were accepted by acclamation. Senior Women's Senate. Nancy Paluzzi was accepted by acclamation. Junior Men's Senate: Jon Kaney and Arnie Gibbs were accepted by acclamation. Junior Women's Senate Cathy Young was accepted by acclamation. Sophomore Men's Senate: Milton Mull, Curry Bassett, Ray Iannucci, Jim Wassen, Tom Sisco and Frank Darrell. Candidates are Curry Bassett and Ray Iannucci.

Sophomore Women's Senate: Marsha Orth, Joyce Killan, Jennifer Newcomer and Sally Sparks. Candidates are Martha Orth and Joyce Killian.

Senior Class President. Duncan Moore was accepted by acclamation. Senior Class Vice President: Bill Arnold was accepted by acclamation. Senior Class Secretary: Al Lewitt was accepted by acclamation. Senior Class Treasurer: Ron Boersma was accepted by acclamation. Senior Class Social Chairman: Nany Gross was accepted by acclamation.

Junior Class President: Tom Haney was accepted by aclamation. Junior Class Vice President: Richard White, John Harley and Dino Kitchen. Candidate is Dino Kitchen. Junior Class Secretary Sylvia Cashion was accepted by acclamation. Junior Class Treasurer. Sandra Clary is the candidate. Junior Class Social Chairman: Martha Roberts is the candidate.

Sophomore Class President: Louis Barnett and Julian Proctor. Julian Proctor is the candidate. Sophomore Class Vice President Gaines Pickett and Sherman Henderson. Sherman Henderson is the candidate.

Sophomore Class Treasurer. Ted Davis, Betsy Williams, Maryland Johnson and Pat Bowman. Maryland Johnson is the candidate. Sophomore Class Social Chairman: Debbie Allen, Jerri McDaniel and Carolyn Jones. Carolyn Jones is the candidate.

The party wound up their convention last evening after three nights of hotly contested battles. The contests of Junior Men's Honor Court, Junior Women's Judiciary and Junior Traffic Court went into two ballots. The Sophomore Men's and Women's Senate races went into three ballots, with the Sophomore Class Treasurer contest going into the fourth ballot.

Junior Class vice president and Sophomore Class vice president were both elected on the second ballot.

Student party . . .

(Continued from Page 1)

heoped make the convention the success that it was. We were very pleased to see the enthusiasm, excitement and support which the student body showed toward the party's convention. Many excellent candidates were nominated and through hard work on the part of the party members we hope that Student Party will make a good showing at the polls."

He further thanked the many groups and individuals who volunteered to help in the coming campaign.

Nominations were completed at the third session. Nominated for Senior Women's Judiciary were Nancy Van Smith and Sarah Southworth. Also nominated were Sophomore Men's Judiciary, Bill Ward; Senior Women's Senate, Jimmie Langford.

Sophomore Class office nominations for Student Party are president, Bob Kerrigan; vice president, Bob Watson; secretary, Kathy Alonso; treasurer, Carol Peters; and social chairman, Sandy Staten.

Junior Class nominations are president, Coley Tooke; vice president, Mike Woods; secretary, Patty Childs; treasurer, Susan Cawthon; and social chairman, Ann DeHoff.

An ammemdment to the new constitution was unanimously accepted which stated that students in the FSO houses be represented by a separate delegation. It was further ammended that there will be one delegate for every 50 residents in the FSO houses.

The new constitution for the Student Party was unanimously accepted by the convention.

Notice

All students who are applying for admission to medical colleges in the fall of 1963 are reminded that the final date for receiving application for the Medical College Admissions Test to be administered May, 5, is April 20.

Applications must be received by the Psychological Corporation 304 East 45th Street, New York 17, not later than April 20.

When & Where

TODAY

At 3 p.m. the Faculty Mothers Club will meet at the home of Mrs. P. B. Gibson, 2116 Ridgetop Drive.

• • •

Dr. Hardin Goodman will be the speaker at the English Coffee Hour at 4 p.m. in the Westminster House.

• • •

Dr. C. David Gutsche will speak on the topic of "Ultra Molecular Reaction of Diazoalkalines" at the Chemistry Dept. Seminar held in 306 Science at 4 p.m.

• • •

SOLDIER OF FORTUNE with Clark Gable and Susan Hayward will be the Campus Movie shown in Westcott Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

• • •

Professor William L. MacDonald, History of Art Dept. Yale University will speak on "Architecture of Damascus and the Architecture of Trajan" at the Tallahassee Archeological Society meeting in the Library Lecture Hall at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

• • •

The Women's Glee Club Spring Concert will be held in Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 p.m.

• • •

The University Theatre production, TOO TRUE TO BE GOOD will be presented at the Augusta Conradi Theatre at 8:15 p.m.

TOMORROW

Gilchrist Hall picnic and swim will be held at the Reservation at 1 p.m.

• • •

Mozart's COSI FAN TUTTE, direct from the Met in New York will be broadcasted at 2 p.m. over WFSU-FM.

• • •

SOLDIER OF FORTUNE, with Clark Gable and Susan Hayward will be at the Campus Movie, held in Westcott Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

• • •

George Bew, pianist, will play at the Masters Recital, held at Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 p.m.

• • •

Leonard Bernstein will conduct Brahms Piano Concert No. 1 and Nicolai Capriccio to "Masskarade and Suite" from the New York Philharmonic broadcast direct from Carnegie Hall over WSFU-FM at 8:30 p.m.

• • •

The University Theatre production, TOO TRUE TO BE GOOD, will be presented at the Augusta Conradi Theatre at 8:15 p.m.

• • •

Sallie McSwain, soprano, will sing at a Senior Recital, held in Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 p.m.

SUNDAY

The Pi Mu Epsilon picnic will be held at the Reservation at noon.

• • •

The Chess Club will meet in the Trophy Room at 2 p.m.

• • •

The Hillel Reception will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Large Lounge, Longmire.

• • •

The Angel Flight Interviews will be held in the Faculty Lounge, Longmire at 2 p.m.

• • •

Herman Gunter will direct Verdi's "Requiem" at the Choral Union's concert in Westcott Auditorium at 4 p.m.

• • •

"The Piano" — Ginette Doyen, Janine Dacosta, Lucette Descaves and works by Beethoven, Chopin, Liszt, Debussy and others will be broadcasted over WFSU-FM at 5 p.m.

• • •

Dr. V. S. Mamatey, Professor of History, will discuss "The History of Evolution" at the Gamma Delta Lutheran students meeting at 6 p.m. at the Epiphany Lutheran Church.

• • •

High B. Hester Big Gen. Ret. of the U.S. Army, will speak on the "International Cooperation Our Best Defense," in Longmire Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. for the Crisis in the Sixties series.

• • •

RECRUITMENT SCHEDULE

All seniors and graduates must register with the Placement Office in order to be eligible for interviews with the companies listed below. To make an appointment, sign up on the schedules in the Placement Office in Longmire and pick up company literature prior to interviews.

MONDAY

Martin Marietta Company of Orlando—An administrative and executive program. Students must have completed sophomore year [illegible] completion of second [illegible] year. The program is designed to give students [illegible] management and business administration the opportunity to gain experience by working in a variety of assignments, with practical career guidance and supervision.

• • •

John Hancock Insurance Company—Business and liberal arts majors.

• • •

TUESDAY

Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company—Business and liberal arts majors.

• • •

J. A. Lanehart Construction Company of Bartow, Fla.—Accounting majors, June graduates.

• • •

THURSDAY

Hotel Corporation of America—Interviewing for management candidates for all positions in Budget and control, personnel, sales, Food and beverage management — and controllership. Will interview any major who has interest in the above areas.

• • •

FRIDAY

Department of State—Representatives will discuss current information on its examination procedures at [illegible] concerning Foreign Service group meetings 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. in the Auditorium on the second floor of Longmire. The Foreign Service Exam will be given Sept. 8.

FAIVER'S
Phones: 222-4578, 222-9166
STUDENT SPECIALS
WE DELIVER TO YOUR DORM
PIZZA PIE
9" Tom. & Cheese Pizza
75c Reg. $1.00
★ ★ ★
12" Tom. & Cheese Pizza
$1.25 Reg. $1.50
★ ★ ★
Each Additional Item 15c Each on 9" and 12"
...rooms, bell pepper, pepperoni sausage, meat sauce, ...ovies, anchovies.

CAMP COUNSELOR OPENINGS
UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS
(Min. age 19 & completion of at least 1 year of college)
GRADUATE STUDENTS and FACULTY MEMBERS
THE ASSOCIATION OF PRIVATE CAMPS
. . . comprising 350 outstanding Boys, Girls, Brother-Sister and Co-Ed Camps, located throughout the New England, Middle Atlantic States and Canada.
. . . INVITES YOUR INQUIRIES concerning summer employment as Head Counselors, Group Leaders, Specialists, General Counselors.
Write, Phone, or Call in Person
Association of Private Camps — Dept. C
Maxwell M. Alexander, Executive Director
85 West 42nd Street, OX 5-2456, New York 36, N.Y.

Why Carry Those Winter Clothes Home?
FREE! Storage Moth-Proofing Mildew-Proofing
Quality Cleaner's
DIAL 222-5097 215 W. College

CUT ALONG THIS LINE
Two Buckets of Balls for the Price of One With Coupon—Good for Fri., Sat., and Sun. Nights
"OPEN DAILY"
COUPON
Oak Valley GOLF CLUB
Two For One Special Good for Friday, Saturday & Sunday Nights, April 13, 14 & 15
FOR NITE LIGHTED
PALY
CLUBS FOR RENT
555 Ocala Road off West Tennessee
Two Buckets of Balls for the Price of One Coupon—Any Size Bucket
CUT ALONG THIS LINE
COUPON
GOLF
STUDENTS SPECIAL
• MONDAY-FRIDAY 9 OR 18 HOLES—$1.00
• SATURDAY-SUNDAY 9 OR 18 HOLES—$1.50
9 AM to 5 PM

AVAILABLE NOW AT YOUR BOOKSTORE

The Noble Savage #4
Edited by SAUL BELLOW and KEITH BOTSFORD. The most exciting issue thus far. Featuring an intemperate blast at Seymour Krim arias on fall-out shelter geopolitics and the dangers of the two cultures view by Stephen Spender. "Count Nulin." Pushkin's little-known parody of Shakespeare's "The Rape of Lucrece." 19 poems and non-fiction by Dan Jacobson, A. Sionimski, and Louis Guilloux. "A most remarkable paperback periodical." — Herald Tribune News Service. M125 256 pages / $1.50
LOVE AND DEATH IN THE AMERICAN NOVEL
By LESLIE FIEDLER. A provocative, frankly Freudian comparative study of American fiction from Cooper to Kerouac. "One of the most ambitious surveys of our literature since Parrington's Main Currents..." —Malcolm Cowley. MG43, 640 pages, $2.25
NOW in an inexpensive paperback edition
THE RECOGNITIONS
By WILLIAM GADDIS. The modern novel that has become a classic. MF20 / 960 pages / Only $2.75
FREE CATALOG
MERIDIAN BOOKS are used as inexpensive paperbound texts and readers in universities and junior colleges. Send for catalog of basic titles in major disciplines: MERIDIAN BOOKS, Dept. CP, The World Publishing Company, 119 West 57th St., New York 19.
MERIDIAN BOOKS

NOW FUN AND SUN DAYS AT YOUR CHEVROLET DEALER'S
(where you'll find the nicest ways to get away!)
You won't find a vacation-brightening variety like this anywhere else. And now that spring has sprung, the buys are just as tempting as the weather. Your choice of 11 new-size Chevy II models. Fourteen spacious, spirited Jet-smooth Chevrolets. And a nifty, nimble crew of rear-engine Corvairs. Three complete lines of cars—and we mean complete—to cover just about any kind of going you could have in mind. And all under one roof, too! You just won't find better pickings in size, sizzle and savings anywhere under the sun. And you couldn't pick a better time than now—during your Chevrolet dealer's Fun and Sun Days.

NEW BEL AIR 4-DOOR STATION WAGON
Jet-smoothie that rides just right, loaded or light—with 97.5-cu.-ft. cargo care and Full Coil suspension.

CORVAIR MONZA 4-DOOR SEDAN
From snappy interiors to sure-footed seat, this one's got the gift of making sport of most any trip.

NEW CHEVY II NOVA STATION WAGON
Here's a wagon that sells at a compact price, yet totes in a big way with a longer load floor than any compact—over 9 ft. with second seat and tailgate down.
See the new Chevrolet, Chevy II and Corvair at your Chevrolet dealer's One-Stop Shopping Center

Fourteen Florida College Students Observe Offices Of Gov. Bryant, State Officials

Fourteen students from as many Florida colleges and universities were student observers this week in the offices of Governor Farris Bryant and other state officials.

The students participated in the fifth student Observer Program of the Florida Citizenship Clearing House. Sunday, they attended orientation meetings before taking their observation posts. They were welcomed at a buffet supper by FCCH President Donald K. Carroll, Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals. Dr. Elston Roady of FSU, executive director of FCCH, gave instructions.

Tuesday the group attended a Cabinet session. At 7 p.m. in the FSU Faculty Club, they heard Hendrix Chandler, correspondent in charge of the Associated Press capitol bureau. Gerald Howell, Merit System director, was speaker for a similar dinner-discussion at 7 p.m. Thursday.

SELECTED BY SCHOOLS

The students, selected by their school for their interest in government and politics and their good records, and the offices they were observing, are as follows:

Gov. Farris Bryant —Roger Sledd, Rollins College; Frank Louis Natter, Dade County Junior College. Sec. of State Tom Adams — Kathleen Montpelier, Daytona Beach Junior College; Daniel O'Connell, University of Florida. Atty-Gen. Richard Ervin — Bobby Spence, Orlando Junior College. Douglas M. Perkins, Pensacola Junior College.

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE

Comptroller Ray Green — Ronald Clifton, Stetson University. Supt. of Public Instruction Thomas Bailey — Barbara Butler, St Petersburg Junior College; Stanley Clark Wyllie, Florida State University. Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner — Julian (Pete) Kelly, Central Florida Junior College.

Florida Supreme Court Justice Stephen O'Connell -- Donald Harris, Palm Beach Junior College. Florida Industrial Commission, A. Worley Brown — Cynthia Northrup, Florida Presbyterian College. Florida State Road Department — Robert Brown, Jacksonville University. Florida Development Commission, Wendell Jarrard — John Van Landingham, Chipola Junior College.

'Stop Where Do You Think You're Going

Do you think you can escape judgment? [illegible] of the scenes from the play The Sign of Jonah [illegible] and Monday at the Chapel of the Resurrection. [illegible] l to r., Phyllis Hartford, Fred Richter, Jill Nicholson, [illegible] Bob Armstrong and John Hopkins.

Episcopal Chapel For 'The Sign Of Jonah'

[illegible] of Jonah [illegible] the Chapel of the Resurrection [illegible] Monday [illegible] Hopkins, Bob Armstrong [illegible] Nicholson, Jill [illegible] Richter, Fred [illegible] Hartford, Phyllis [illegible] Jr., l to r., [illegible]

All Around Campus

Business Fraternities Battle In Softball Game Tomorrow

EDITOR'S NOTE: News for All around the Campus is due in the Flambeau Officek, 213 Longmire, by 5 p. m. Tuesday for Friday's issue and by 5 p.m. Friday for Tuesday's paper. All activities must be dated and the time and place should be mentioned if necessary. Copy should be typewritten if possible.

Alpha Kappa Psi professional business fraternity will meet Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity in a softball game at the athletic field tomorrow at 9 a.m.

KAPPA DELTA PI

New officers of Kappa Delta Pi national education honorary are Mrs. Nancy Douglas, president; Howard Green, vice president; Charlyn Webber, recording secretary; Mrs. Nera Alderson corresponding secretary. Howard Able, treasurer, and Mrs. Louise Boyce, historian.

Durwood Harrell, personnel director for Jordan Marsh [illegible] guest speaker at [illegible] ing of the Marketing Club. Harrell spoke on [illegible] retail [illegible] as women and [illegible] one-year training program sponsored by Jordan Marsh for interested persons.

Mortar Board

[illegible]

Gen. Hester Is Speaker

Brig. Gen. Hugh B. Hester will speak on the foreign policy of the United States, Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

A retired general from St. Petersburg, he will talk on "International Cooperation — Our Best Defense" as the fourth in a series of lectures on "Crises in the Sixties," sponsored by Liberal Forum.

FSU President Gordon W. Blackwell, Rev. John Carey, and Dr. Michael Kasha, all previous Liberal Forum speakers, are scheduled to return for the evening to participate in a panel discussion with Gen. Hester.

Gen. Hester studied law and international relations in the graduate schools of the Universities of North Carolina and Pennsylvania, and George Washington University.

He was active in the military for thirty-four years and was director of the food program for the armed forces in Germany after World War II.

PATRONIZE YOUR FLAMBEAU ADVERTISERS

San Can Restaurant
Across the Road from the Capital Shopping Center
Try Our Fast Drive-In Service
OR
Enjoy A Meal In Our Lovely Dining Room
Call In Your Order
And It Will Be Waiting
1825 Thomasville Rd. Phone 223-0445

WHILE THEY LAST...

Featuring Outstanding Books For Your Seasonal Enjoyment

Leaves Of Gold
Deluxe and Standard Edition

Easter Ideals
For Children and Adults

☆ New English Bible
Cloth and Paper Back

☆ Bibles and Testaments
Different Colors and Sizes

Religious Books
Fiction and Non-Fiction

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

Dulaney's Service Station
504 North Macomb Phone 224-4186
Standard Brand Gasoline
29.9 PER GALLON
Listen To The Big Jim Program
On WMEN AT 4:30 PM TO 4:45 PM Every Day
FREE RADIO GIVEN AWAY
FRIDAY AT 6:00 pm.
Register For Free Set of Dunlop Tires
(If You Don't Need Them, Big Jim Will Buy Them Back)
OPEN ALL DAY SUNDAY
• WASH JOB.....$1.25
• GREASE JOB...$1.25
We Specialize In Economical Mechanical Work
Ask For A Standard Credit Card Application
TELL BIG JIM THAT YOU SAW HIS AD IN THE FLAMBEAU

...mithies Gives Talk
...n Economi...
...Flambe...
...may be ...
...d ...
...

...ball Team Tumbled
...uburn, 7-6 And 5-3

...game marked the 13th time in a row that FSU's Woodward has hit successfully.

Auburn's highlight in the second game was a homerun by ... the right ...

FSU To Face Cincy Netters

...e Florida State tennis team will go against the Cincinnati netters tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. ...

...Florida State ... Jerry Bowness the ... have recently ... a 9-0 bout with the ... team.

... which has a ... season will send Paul Scarpa against John Kline in the number one singles match. ... was 4-0 record in singles ... and a 7-1 record in ... was teamed with Curt Kunz.

... coach, who attended ... during 1959-60, also ... freshman basketball team. The team was the national champion two years in a row.

Tarpons Choose Members, Officers

The new Tarpon members and officers were announced ... week. The new officers are Minnie Bishop, president, Phyllis Doud, vice president, twin sister Pam Doud, secretary; Madge Clements, treasurer; and Cynthia Sward, historian.

The 10 girls who were tapped Wednesday night are Alice Davis, Valerie Biship, Beth Peyraud, Carole Agerton, Bugs Blount, Diana Todd, Teena Bunker, Marsha Jones Reetie Hamilton, and Karen Klish.

Sports Calendar

Thursday and Friday — Golf: Miami, Florida, Florida Southern, ... Rollins at Orlando. (Results not available at presstime).

Saturday — Tennis: Cincinnati at Tallahassee (1:30), Frosh ... South Georgia College at Tallahassee (3:30). Track: Piedmont Relays at Greenville, S. ... Racquettes: Rollins at Tallahassee (10 a. m.)

Monday — Baseball: Miami at Tallahassee (3:30); Tennis: The Citadel at Charleston, S. C..; Golf: Turner AFB at Albany, Ga.

SCALP EM—Victor Comolli

Students Want A&M Invited To Compete

Due to the overwhelming support of the sports editorial of last week suggesting that Florida A&M be invited to the Florida Invitation next month, we have sent a letter to Vaughn Mancha, FSU's athletic director, asking him about FSU's position.

If you approve of the idea, write to the sports desk of the Flambeau and let us know how you feel about the matter. The more signatures we get with the letters, the better the chance of success. Send it via "campus mail."

The following is a letter we received, bearing the names of FSU's students who approve of the idea:

To The Editor:

We believe that Mr. Denson's suggestion that Florida A&M University be invited to compete in the upcoming Florida Invitational track meet is an excellent idea. In addition to bettering relations between the two universities, it could give the FSU sponsored event national recognition should Robert Hayes set a world record in the 100, which could very well happen.

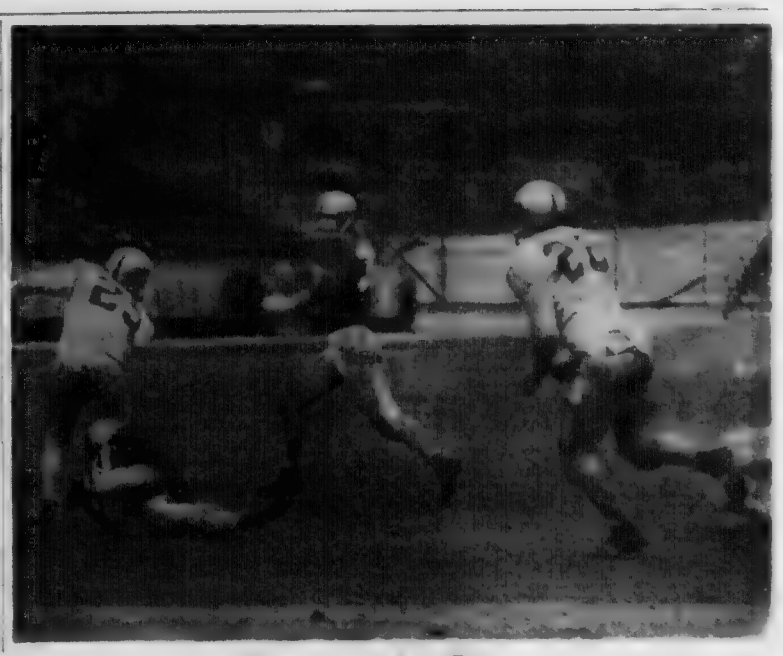
It is about time we recognize the fact that Florida A&M University can compete on an equal basis with the major universities in the state.

JIM DE GROODT	DOUGLAS HANEY
MEL KELLER	ED BERGIN
HUGH L. DAVIS	BRUCE E. RYAN
LARRY STALLINGS	JOHN A. BRICKETT
STEPHEN BERNSTEIN	JEFF WADSWORTH
K. HOWARD WEINER	EDWARD BARR
WALTER GLASS	GEORGE STOOKE
THOMAS R. PATRICK	LOUIS AMBROSE
MARK L. COHEN	HAZEL WINCHELL
STEVE BARON	JOE S. EDWARDS
CLYDE FRIEDMAN	PATRICIA WHALEY
IVAN D. MARTINEZ	BRUCE WITNER
GLEN T. OSBORN	BENTO L. BENSON
RALPH E. PLUMB	GEORGE S. PARKER
WAYNE R. MARTIN	CLIFFORD DILLMAN
GIDEON BROWN	MICHAEL FICKS
JAMES E. ATHOS	STEPHEN RHODES
NORMAN E. THAGARD	HERBERT ZINSER
BONNIE FREEDMAN	AMELIA HAPKE
DAVID KELMECKIS	W. R. HOUSTON
ALLAN DERMOTT	ARLAND EYL JR.
MICHAEL O. HANSON	WILLIAM J. MCCARRON JR.
DONALD LUEKE	ANN YAEGER
JOE MARSHALL	ROXANNA ALBURY
MICHAEL STORRIE	PATRICIA BESSETT
LAWRENCE JEROME	DIANA TODD
FRANK AMOTT	CAROL SENA
ROY GIBSON	MAUREEN HOWLAND
FRED ELLIS	STEPHEN J. GROSS
WILLIAM LAWRENCE	MARTHA MEYER
D. N. BARLOW	MARY JANE EZZARD
KEN LIPNER	FISH CHITTENDEN
BERNARD SALZBERG	NANCY JONES
CHUCK SALZBERG	SALLY PEAM
TIM MANUCY	JERRY LYALL
ROBERT W. PRESTON	ROBERTA WELCH
CARLOS PRESTON	PETER M. [illegible]
THOMAS HAPNER	DIANA M. GOFFE
PETER FALCK	JAMES ALEXANDER
GEORGE SHEPHERD	ROBERT CORDREY
RAY DEWRELL	JAMES THOMPSON
ROBERT REDFERN	MICHAEL STAFF
EDWARD P. MALLAS JR.	WARD SEGURN
NORMAN L. BEARRENTINE	RUSSELL DE SOUZER
ROBERT HUNGERBUHLER	JIM MCDANIEL
DICK HALL	MARY ANN GELLESPEE
ART REED	CAROLINE MAGER
CHUCK CROOKES	BRUCE GRANT
PHILLIP JACOWITZ	COOKIE HILL
ROY JONES	RODALIA HAPKE
DAVID A. SNYDER	DAB S. AKE
CHARLES CALHOUN	JIM STEVENS
FRED BILENTNIKOFF	GEORGE LOSEY
DOUG MESSER	LETITIA THOMAS
DALE MAC KENZIE	PAT SHAW
AVERY SUMMNER	BARBARA WARD
BOB CAESOR	JOE HILL
BOB ROSE	BECKEY BRILEY
TERRY HOLLMAN	LIBBY EVANS
DAVID WILLE	LINDA CAROL LATHAM
JOHN F. CARSON	JUDITH C. REGISTER
MAC FARRINGTON	JEAN EDMONSON
A. D. HOPKINS JR.	ANNE MARK
D. O. COBURN	LILIAN KRESE
JIM HAYGOOD	DEWEY REID
OGIE KENEIPP	HARRY BROWN
BOB MANGAN	LINDA LIDSEY
JEFF FLORES	MAC MC CASKILL
KENNETH THOMPSON	TOM DU PREE
EARLE KNAPP	JOE VAN VOORT
JIM LOVELL	FRANK AKINS
MAURICIO DOMINGUEZ	DAN T. JONES
ARNOLD SELIGMAN	THOMAS S. LANIER
DONALD DONATELLI	BRUCE T. SARGENT

Top Prep Star Is Signed; Two Gridders Leave Team

Florida State sports added and subtracted players in recent days, gaining a football player and losing two.

The Seminoles signed extra-point kicker, Brad Gasque, a 5-3 athlete on Chamberlain High School's team. Signed by assistant coach Vince Gibson, Gasque totalled 32 extra points last season.



GRIDDERS

Two football players left the team. They are Gene Roberts and Charles Keneipp.

Keneipp, a 280-pound center, has been called FSU's best candidate for All-American. The athlete was dropped because of disciplinary reasons.

The basketball team signed a 6-7½ high school star from St. Petersburg when it inked Jim Wallace. The cager had a 19.7 average per game at Boca Ciega High.

Wallace set a school record last season by bagging 507 points in a year.

Pardon Me, Boys

Quarterback Jim Seaward fades back for a pass in an intra-squad scrimmage during the spring practice. End John McConnaughhay of Ocala and tackle Jim Sims of LaGrange, Ga., rush in to clobber the 200-pound quarterback. (Photo by John Quarries.)

Soccer Club Faces Gators

The red-hot FSU-Florida rivalry will be renewed Saturday afternoon when the FSU International Soccer team tangles with Florida in the first soccer match to be played in Florida. The game is one of the highlights of the University of Florida's International Week.

The FSU team goes into the match as a distinct underdog since the University of Florida Soccer Club is sporting a 33-game winning streak. In November 1961, the Florida Soccer Club won the State of Florida Cup in the Sunshine Soccer Tournament at St. Petersburg.

Undismayed by this strength, FSU Captain Roger Cheng of China, and Co-Captain Bodo Pyko of Germany expect that their team, composed of students from around the globe, will be a match for the Gators. Most of the FSU International Club Soccer team have had limited experience with the game in their own countries but decided to introduce the sport FSU's campus when they arrived here.

In their only game to date they defeated a team of physical education majors, 6-4. The team is coached by Tom Martin, graduate assistant in the Physical Education Dept. who participated in the sport as an undergraduate at Slippery Rock State Teachers College.

Game time at Florida Field is set for 2:30 p.m. Several members of the International Club are planning to travel to Gainesville for the game and other activities of the International Week.

Members of the FSU International Club Soccer team are:

The captain and co-captain; Suwat Pananon of Thailand; Peter Falch of the USA; B.U.B. Sarma of India; Tenari Krishna of India; Donal Wall of Canada; Phaltoon Uiboonsanti of Thailand; Bernard Huang of China; Bjorn Gade of Denmark; Rick Lapan of the USA; E. Brahim Khaleghi of Iran; Alan Schwartz of the USA; Maruice Cohen of the USA; Narayan Viswanath of India; and Shanu Ahase of India.

Camellia Bakery
TALLAHASSEE'S FINEST
OFTEN COPIED - NEVER EQUALLED
OPEN SUNDAY 7 a.m. to 1 p.m.
WE DELIVER
617 N. MONROE Dial 222-4560

DIVE RIGHT IN!

in . . . McGREGOR® SWIM TRUNKS!

You'll like the bold, brash action styles, colors and patterns of these beachside beauts!

5.95

other swim trunks by Robert Bruce and Catalina from $3.95

Turner's
doorway to fashion

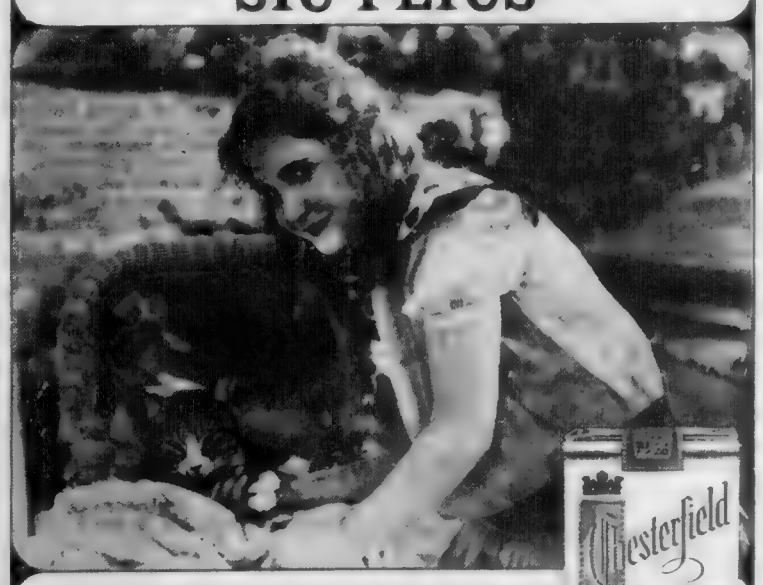
GREYHOUND COSTS SO MUCH LESS

...Greyhound fares are less than ...er form of public transportation. What you probably ...ieve is how much less. For a pleasant surprise, ...the money-saving Greyhound fares below. You'll see ...glance why it always pays to insist on exclusive ...ound Scenicruiser Service®...and leave the driving to us!

...er form of public transportation has fares so low. For example:

	1-Way	Round Trip		1-Way	Round Trip
...y			DAYTONA	$7.04	$12.71
JACKSONVILLE	$4.35	$8.54	DOTHAN, ALA.	$4.02	$7.26
MIAMI	$12.65	$22.77	GAINVESVILLE	$4.29	$7.76
PENSACOLA	$6.11	$11.00	ATLANTA	$9.42	$15.18
TAMPA	$7.04	$12.71	306 N. ADAMS Phone 222-4240
ORLANDO	$7.04	$12.71

...You can take more with you on a Greyhound. If you prefer, send laundry or extra ...ggage by Greyhound Package Express. It's cheap, it's quick, and costs you little.



GREYHOUND

Artistic Flowers
"When It's Flowers—Say It With Ours"
SEND FLOWERS For EASTER SUNDAY April 22
Early Airmail Order Saves Money
PHONE 222-9719
115 W. COLLEGE AVE.

GARCIA'S
PIZZAS
SPAGHETTI
Open 7 Days A Week
Close 12:00 P.M.
320 E. TENN.
223-1177

SIC FLICS

"He has your ears, Bernie."

Chesterfield KING CIGARETTES

21 GREAT TOBACCOS MAKE 20 WONDERFUL SMOKES!
AGED MILD, BLENDED MILD - NOT FILTERED MILD - THEY SATISFY

First Of Four Map Volumes Is Received By FSU Library

The first four volumes of the Portugalia Monumenta Cartographica have been added to the 60,000 sheet map collection in the Robert Manning Strozier Library.

More than 1600 samples of early cartography are reproduced in the five - volume set, published in 1960 as part of the commemoration of the fifth centenary of the death of Prince Henry the Navigator of Portugal.

The books, containing 600 plates of all the known Portugese maps prior to 1600 and many from the seventeenth century, are a gift from the Portugese government.

The set is sponsored by the Centenary Executive Committee and edited by Dr. Armando Cortesao and Commander Avelino Teixeira de Mota. Each chart is accompanied by a descriptive or critical text in Portuguese and English. The fifth volume will be completed some time this year.

This set adds to a collection of early atlases and books on the history of cartography which already includes such original publications as Mercator's Atlas Minor of 1630, Ortelius' Theatro del Mondo, 1612, Jeffery's American Atlas, 1776, Bellin's Le Petit Atlas Maritime, 1764, and many others.

'Map Of The World'

. . . Drawn in 1502, is shown by Miss Estelle Ardrey, Florida State University maps librarian, to Mary Griffin of Jacksonville. The map is part of a four volume set, printed in commemoration of the Fifth Centenary of the Death of Prince Henry the Navigator, which has been given to the library by the Portuguese Government.

Univ. Hospital

Visiting hours have been put into effect as of last night at the University Hospital.

Patients may be visited on weekdays between 2 and 3 p.m. and between 7 and 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday visiting hours are between 2 and 3 p.m. and 6:30 and 8 p.m.

Only two visitors per patient will be permitted upstairs. Special cards will be made available for visitors to pick up when they enter the infirmary. These cards are to be given to the receptionist when leaving.

Dr. David Speaks On Changing Parties

(Continued From Page 1)

to the International Civil Aviation Organization in Montreal (1946-50), chairman of the Economic Committee of the ICAO Annual Assembly (1948) and chairman of the U.S. delegations on joint financing and operation of air navigation services in London (1949).

While serving in this later post he negotiated and signed the agreement on North Atlantic weather ships on behalf of the U.S.

From 1950 to 1960 he served at the Brookings Institution in various capacities including the direction of a survey of the administration of foreign affairs, a series of major studies of party politics. For three years he was the director of governmental studies.

Dr. David did advanced study on a fellowship at the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences at Sanford, immediately prior to his appointment in 1960 as a professor of political science at Virginia.

Some of the books Dr. David has published are Toward a More Responsible Two Party System, co-author, (1950), Presidential Nominating Politics, five volumes, principal author and editor, (1952), Executives for Government, co - author, (1957); The Politics of National Party Conventions, with others, (1960); and The Presidential Election and Transition 1960-61, with others.

Grecian Columns

KA's Hold Record Parties This Weekend

By FLO NEILSON

EDITOR'S NOTE: News for Grecian Columns must be turned in to the Feature Dept. of the Flambeau by 5 p. m. Tuesday for publication Friday. Activities must be dated. No old news will be used unless it concerns a surprise party, elections, appointments or other instances which could not be reported previously. Copy should be typewritten if possible. Any questions should be directed to the Flambeau Office, 213 Longmire, or to Ex. 2437.

Delta Gamma social sorority is holding its second annual bridge tournament tomorrow from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. at the Delta Gamma house. There will be a registration fee of $1 which will include the noon meal as well as refreshments. Representatives from sororities, fraternities, dorms and scholarship houses will be present. Anyone wishing to enter is asked to contact Ritchie Cooper or Peggy Simpson at the Delta Gamma house.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

A surprise dessert party was given this week by the Alpha Chi's for the Tri-Delts, An Easter party is being given Sunday for the alums' children.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Tuesday night the ADPi's will have an exchange dinner with the Theta Chi's. Wednesday the ADPi's will present a special Easter program at the Tallahassee Convalescant Home.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

The Alpha Gam's will begin their "Roman Holiday" week-end with a formal dance at the Tallahassee Women's Club. Tomorrow the chapter and dates will spend the day at Lake Bradford and return for a combo party at the house that night featuring the "Chaotics." Sunday the Alpha Gams will attend church and dinner with their dates.

ALPHA OMECRON PI

The AOPi's will entertain Dean of Women Katherine Warren at dinner Tuesday night.

ALPHA PHI

Mrs. Martha Bribben, district governor, is visiting the chapter this week. Pledge officers are president, Connie Byrd; vice president, Patty Keifer; secretary - treasurer Linda Roach, and chaplin, Judy Clark.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

There will be a combo party tonight at the house. A new initiate is Mickey Harbin.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Tonight the Alpha Xi's will begin their week-end with an informal combo party carrying out the theme of Friday the 13th. The Intruders will provide the music. Tomorrow a cookout will highlight the day spent at Wakulla Springs. A banquet and the Rose formal will be held at the Holiday Inn tomorrow night. Sunday the Alpha Xi's and their dates will attend the First Presbyterian Church and a buffet dinner afterward at the house.

CHI OMEGA

Nancy Arnold was recently elected to represent the chapter at the National Convention this summer at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia.

DELTA CHI

The Delta Chi's will have an exchange dinner with the DZ's Wednesday. Jim Meeks and Phil Chase were guests during the week-end. Marcy Tibbets, Sigma Kappa, was crowned sweetheart at the dance during the week-end. Her court consisted of Pat Melton, Jan Moniz, Mary Ann Croft and Penny George.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Peggy Bruce is Best Active for the week and Dottie Kohlman is Best Pledge. At the Scholarship Banquet Gale Norman received the award for the highest active average; Norma Ronan and Fran Ubele received the highest mother - daughter average award and Millie Bishop, the most improved Monday the chapter will entertain the children of the alums at the annual Easter Egg Hunt.

KAPPA ALPHA

Record parties are planned for both tonight and tomorrow night at the KA house. Tomorrow KA's and their dates will go to the coast for a beach party. Joe Martin is a new pledge.

KAPPA DELTA

Tonight the KD's begin their week-end with a dinner at Wakulla and a dance at the house. The theme is "KD in Orbit." Tomorrow they will have a combo at their coast party. Sunday everyone will go to church and then return to the house for dinner.

KAPPA SIGMA

Carol Mitchell was crowned Kappa Sig Sweetheart at the Black and White Ball. In her court were Marcia Gringle, and Carol Cochran. Al Shaw is a new pledge. Sunday several of the faculty will be the dinner guests of the Kappa Sig's.

PHI DELTA THETA

The Phi Delt's begin their week-end tonight with their sweetheart dance at the Holiday Inn ball room. March Wilson and the Redcoats will play for the dance. Tomorrow they will go to the coast for the afternoon and a picnic supper followed by an informal combo party at the American Legion Club. New initiates are Jim Lyons and Doug Messer.

PHI KAPPA TAU

New Phi Tau pledges are Jim High and Bobby Dennard.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The new Pi[illegible] Judy Riddle. H[illegible] of (Mrs.) Pi[illegible] Gross, Betty [illegible] Hutchins. The follow[illegible] were made at [illegible] Dream Girl Ba[illegible] standing Pike [illegible] tramurals, Bill [illegible] ship, Chet Adair, and Ba[illegible] ther, Joe Hay[illegible]. New officers president, Marty Steiner; president, Rose[illegible] surer, Fred Sc[illegible] John Lynch.

PI KAPPA PHI

The new sweetheart of P[illegible] Phi is Suzi Sm[illegible] Baily scholarsh[illegible] Jim Clark [illegible] is Walt Rothenbach and [illegible] of the Semster is Chuck [illegible]

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Sigma Alpha [illegible] will begin this afternoon with a lawn party. Tonight there is a formal dance [illegible] Club with entertainment [illegible] Oxford's of Atlanta. Tomorrow there will be a beach party followed by a combo party at the house. A new pledge is Bo[illegible] Lales

SIGMA CHI

Newly elected officers are: [illegible]ident, George Harriet; vice president, Robbie Robinson; recording secretary, Ken Suarez; treasurer, Dave Cumming, corresponding secretary, Bob Ramos; sergeant-at-arms trainer, Bill Arnold; social chairmen, Lyman Fleming, Johnny Smith. Tonight the Sigs are having a party at the house with the Pinetoppers from Massachusetts. Robbie Robinson was elected Pi Beta Phi man for the coming year.

SIGMA KAPPA

Best pledge of the week [illegible] Laura Wise. Tomorrow is the dance at the Floridan Hotel. It will begin the week-end activities. Tomorrow they will have a party at Panama City. Sunday by a combo party at the house. The theme of the week-end is Underwater Fantasy.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

Because Founder's Day is during Easter vacation, the Sigma's will observe their Founder's Day Monday. An informal hour will be held Monday morning at 6:30 at the house. A banquet will be held at the Elk's Club that night. Walker is Pledge of the Week.

THETA CHI

Tomorrow night [illegible] and their dates are planning a Lauderdale warm[illegible] the house. Music will be by [illegible] Frost and the Intruders

"You can guard your dry skin all day long" says our Charles of the Ritz beauty consultant. "Take a few seconds before make-up to apply Liquid Revenescence and you'll protect your skin all day long against ageing dryness. Liquid Revenescence helps replenish precious moisture... gives your skin the silken glow of youth. Liquid Revenescence: $6, $10, $17.50. Plus tax."

Charles of the Ritz

Linden's

Tallahassee's
Finest Cosmetic Bar

Faculty Notes

Paintings Of Karl Zerbe Are Exhibited In Germany

Works by Karl Zebe, professor of painting at Florida State University, will be exhibited in Germany this month in the first one-man show of his painting since he left that country in 1935.

Twenty paintings will be displayed in the Municipal Museum in Munich for one month. In June the one-man show will go to the American Embassy in London. His subject matter varies from "Young Woman" (figure) to "Hope Garden" (study). The paintings are done in acrylic, a synthetic resin mieda, and gouache.

Zerbe, now represented in over 50 American museums, has become known as one of the country's foremost expressionistic artists.

NATIVE OF BERLIN

A native of Berlin, Zerbe took much of his art training in Munich, studying painting from 1921 to 1923 at the Debschitz School. Before coming to America in 1935 he exhibited in Berlin (Gurlitt Gallery) and in Munich (Caspan Gallery and the Neue Sezession.

In 1932 the National - Galerie in Berlin took one of his oils into its permanent collection. This oil, "Herbstgarten," was later destroyed by the Nazis as "degenerate art."

In 1939 the artist rediscovered one of the oldest of mediums, encaustic — color pigments suspended in wax. He became widely known for his paintings in this medium until it was found in 1949 that he was allergic to encaustic.

Zerbe's first retrospective exhibition was in 1951 by the Institute of Contemporary Art in Boston. His second, now on tour in the United States, was organized in February of 1962 by the American Federation of Arts, under a grant from the Ford Foundation. The exhibit will come to FSU next fall, according to Dr. Gulnar Bosch, head of the Art Dept.

Faculty and staff members may submit items to be used in Facuty Notes to the Flambeau, 213 Longmire.

The column will be published once a week if enough items are received by the paper.

Elena Nikolaidi, opera singer and professor of voice at FSU, will sing in a Music Festival at Fisk University in Nashville, April 27.

Miss Nikolaidi will give a recital of lieder and operatic arias. Composers represented will be Purcell, Handel, Schubert and Canteloube.

Recently the contralto sang the part of Azzucena in Verdi's "Il Trovatore," with the Florentine Opera Company in Milwaukee, Wis. Her performance received excellent reviews from Milwaukee critics.

In Houston, Tex., this spring Miss Nikolaidi sang with the Houston Symphony in a performance of Gustav Mahler's "Resurrection" Symphony. She appeared as contralto soloist, with Francis Yeend, soprano soloist.

Dr. Melvene Hardee, FSU professor of higher education, will become president of the American College Personnel Association in the organization's annual convention, to be held in Chicago Sunday through Thursday.

A leader in the field of student personnel work in higher education, Dr. Hardee has been a charter member and president of Southern College Personnel Association. She has directed workshops and served as consultant for numerous Southern colleges and universities.

In Florida, Dr. Hardee has taken part in the study and evaluation of programs of student personnel work in junior

A work by Dr. John Boda, associate professor of music at FSU, was performed Tuesday and Wednesday nights by the National Symphony in Washington, D.C.

The work is Dr. Boda's SINFONIA, which he wrote in 1960 on a Ford Commission. The orchestra, conducted by Howard Mitchell, played in Constitution Hall.

The Voice of America plans to use two tape recordings made by Edward Kilenyi, FSU professor of music. The musician taped the broadcasts with commentaries in Hungarian.

Subject of one of the programs is Kilenyi's association with the late Ernst von Dohnanyi, FSU professor of music and piano. At Kilenyi's suggestion, a performance of a Brahms Hungarian Dance was copied onto this tape, for broadcasting to Hungary.

It was recorded at a Dohnanyi-Kilenyi recital at FSU six years ago.

Dr. Karl O. Kuersteiner, dean of the School of Music, has been elected to the USO National Council for a one-year term.

The work of the group is coordinated with the National Music Armed Forces Overseas Touring Committees of which Dr. Kuersteiner has been a member for some time.

Chairman of FSU's Hotel and Restaurant Management Dept., Peter Dukas, was principal speaker at a meeting of the Indianapolis Restaurant Association this week.

He spoke on "The Basis of Effective Management Decisions" and "New Concepts of Cost Controls."

Mrs. Lucy Tokheim of the University School spoke Saturday in Minneapolis at a convention of the Minnesota School Food Service Association.

Assistant professor in charge of the school food service, Mrs. Tokheim also moderated a panel discussion Friday.

Dr. Robert T. Lansdale, professor of social work at the FSU Graduate School of Social Welfare, was project director of the Institute on Programming and Administrative Practices last week.

The Institute, conducted by the American Foundation for the Blind, was held to strengthen administrative programs and practices, with the ultimate intention of improving the facilities offered the visually handicapped.

Dr. John Carey, FSU chaplain, will serve as one of three chaplains at an annual conference of college and university chaplains, at Moravian College, Bethlehem, Pa., from April 23 to 26.

Theme of the conference will be "Styles of Salvation" with papers and discussions of the topic. The main address will be given Wednesday, April 25, by Dr. Edward Eddy Jr., president of Chatham College, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. Michael Kasha, professor of chemistry and director of the Institute of Molecular Biophysics at FSU, and Dr. Max Oppenheimer Jr., former professor of modern languages at FSU and now professor of Russian at State University of Iowa, are translators of Theory of Molecular Excitations by Russia scientist A. S. Davydov.

The book concerns the fundamental theories of the Russian scientists Frenkel and Davydov on excitation of molecules as applied to radiobiology.

Two Technicians Serving Fla. Restaurant Industry

Two technicians in lodging and food service are now serving Florida's hotel and restaurant industry as field representatives of the state's fast-growing Hospitality Education Program.

Dean Charles A. Rovetta of Florida State University's School of Business has announced the appointment of Peter L. Niles and Charles D. Corwin, Jr., who will work with hotel, motel, and restaurant operators in improving their establishments and in offering better service to their guests.

Niles, a native of Bonifay, is a lodging specialist and Corwin, from Cortland, N. Y., specializes in food service.

Created by the Florida Hotel and Restaurant Commission and administered at FSU's School of Business, the Hospitality Education Program (HEP) was designed to develop and train personnel to better serve Florida's hospitality industry and the traveling public. HEP utilizes existing educational facilities, including vocational-technical schools, junior colleges, and FSU's Hotel and Restaurant Management Dept.

According to Robert A. Riedel, Hotel and Restaurant Commissioner, Florida is the only state with a program of this type for the tourist industry. Riedel says the program is "increasing the capability of Florida's tourist industry and upgrading and developing more professionalism."

Coordinator of the program is Richard L. Almarode, whose office is located in FSU's School of Business Bldg. Hotel, motel, and restaurant operators have been asked to contact Almarode if they desire assistance or services from HEP.

Niles has long been associated with hotel hospitality work and more recently has been owner and manager of motels in Daytona Beach. He studied at the University of Florida and the New York University School of Accounting.

Niles is a member of Lions International, Florida Peace Officer's Assn., Masonic Lodge, Florida Public Relations Assn., and the American Society of Association Executives.

Corwin, who has an extended background in hotel and hospital administration, recently has been manager of the Lake Shore Yacht and Country Club in Clay, N. Y. He received a B.S. in Hotel Administration from Cornell University.

Among a number of organizations, Corwin is a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators, The American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Rotary Club.

Ponce de Leon Motel
1801 W. Tennessee St.
Telephone 222-4950
A Motel for University Guests

For Better Health, Improve Circulation
by Massage
Headache—Sore Muscles—Tension
● Swedish Massage
● Slenderizing
● Exercise
"Add Years to Your Life and Life to Your Years"
DRAKE'S MASSAGE STUDIO
For Men and Women — Hotel Duval Phone 222-5364

JUNE GRADUATES
The Deadline For Ordering April 16
ORDER NOW!
Graduation Announcements
Calling Cards
Caps And Gowns
UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

Exciting Items For Spring
Jeweled Wedgies 5.95 Pair
From The Philippines
F. Millot's Insolem
Special Invitation Package 3.00
Perfume and Eau de Toilette
Jewelry From The Seven Seas 1.00 Up
Easter Cards by Fravess imports by
Vardi
214 W. College Ave.

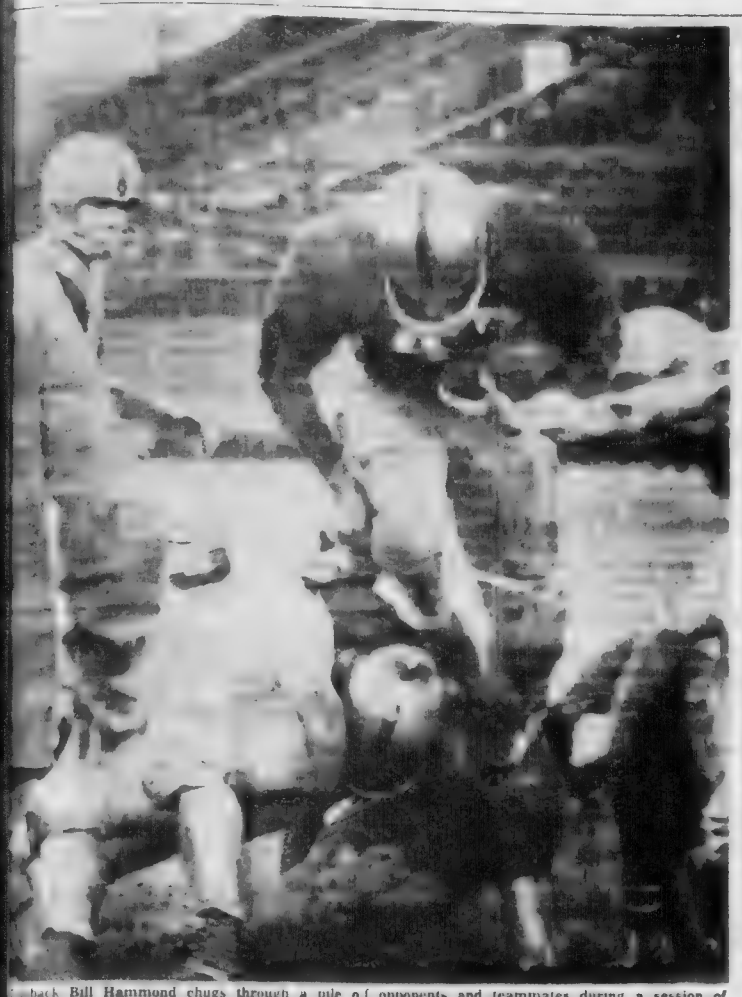
MALOLO® TIKI STRIPE terry lined jacket printed with rows of authentic Tiki Gods $8.95. Hawaiian cut trunks $5.95. Both of 100% cotton in colors of *orange green or blue on white.

MALOLO® KEY WEST terry lined jacket in *orange and green color combinations woven of mapping 100% cotton $8.95. Teamed with Hawaiian cut cotton trunks $5.95.

SPINNAKER STRIPE launches brilliance in knit combo of *navy/red and brown/yellow. Cotton blazer $8.95 over Hawaiian trunks $7.95. Cotton and rubber square rig ball trunks $6.95.

THE SEAFARING MAN IS A Catalina MAN
(with an All-American Look)

Brighten the shoreline scene in brilliant swimwear created in the great American tradition... guaranteed to command raves from your admiring crew!



TRANSPACIFIC sets sail in bold color and stripes. Fleece lined pullover $5.95 atop knit trader length deck pants $7.95. *Yellow or red combinations of seaworthy 100% cotton.

MALOLO® KON TIKI rugged woven jacket with embossed, authentic Tiki head on jac and trunks $8.95. Hawaiian trunks $7.95. Both of cotton in colors of *natural, yellow, pewter or blue.

MALOLO® MIDSHIPMAN bonded with boat trim in *white, natural, pewter or navy. Windworthy jacket of cotton gab $7.95. Hawaiian length Lastex cord trunks of acetate, cotton and rubber $6.95.

*featured color

Catalina, Inc., Los Angeles, Calif., Another Fine KR Kayser-Roth Product

Halfback Bill Hammond chugs through a pile of opponents and teammates during a session of the spring drills. The 180-pound sophomore is from Melbourne. (Photo by John Quarries)

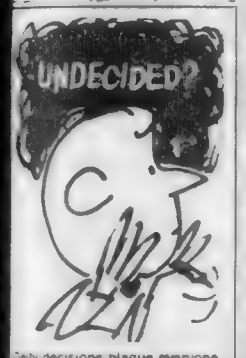
Baseball Team Tumbled By Auburn, 7-6 And 5-3

The Auburn Tigers exploded in two games this week to down the Florida State Seminoles, 7-6 and 5-3.

In the first contest Florida State led 6-3, after six innings, but the Tigers pushed two each in the seventh and ninth to win the game.

Giving FSU pitcher Ray McShane his second loss of the season, Auburn was propelled by Larry Nichols who hit 2-of-3, including a double. Another Tiger, Wayne Fowler, batted in two runs.

In his nine inning period on the mound, McShane gave up eight hits, five runs, five bases on balls. He fanned nine players.



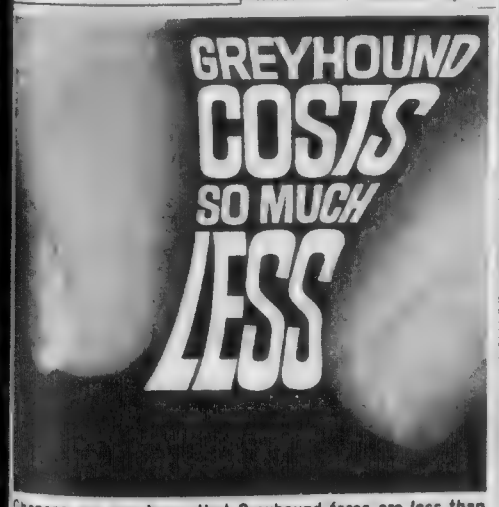
Auburn sent two men to the mound, Gary Nichols and Tommy White. Nichols lasted six innings, giving up six earned runs, eight walks, and fanning nine. His reliefer fanned eight men in his two inning stint. White also gave up one base and two hits.

Auburn opened the second contest, bombing pitcher Larry Hawkins for three runs. Auburn tallied again in the fourth and fifth to move ahead 5-0, but Florida State notched one in the fifth for its first run. The Seminoles did not score again until the eighth when two men came home.

The eighth inning runs came after Woody Woodward singled. Billy Williamson reached first on an error. Hal Mangin singled to score Woodward, and Williamson scored on a sacrifice fly.

The game marked the 13th time in a row that FSU's Woodward has hit successfully.

Auburn's highlight in the second game was a homerun by Bill Breakfield over the right center field fence.



Many decisions plague everyone, but when they have to do with a future career, they're really a problem.

If your indecisions fall in this area you might try looking into the advantages of a career in life insurance sales, leading to sales management. We're looking for young men with initiative, young men who want job opportunities that will grow with them. And we're equipped to start you on your training program now, while you're still in school.

Just call our office, or write for the free booklet, "Career Opportunities"

Dick D'Alemberte
Manager
P. O. BOX 66
Chattahoochee, Tennessee
PROVIDENT MUTUAL
Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia

Chances are, you know that Greyhound fares are less than any other form of public transportation. What you probably don't realize is how much less. For a pleasant surprise, check the money-saving Greyhound fares below. You'll see at a glance why it always pays to insist on exclusive Greyhound Scenicruiser Service®...and leave the driving to us!

No other form of public transportation has fares so low. For example:

1-Way	Round Trip	1-Way	Round Trip
JACKSONVILLE		DAYTONA
$4.35	$8.54	$7.04	$12.71
MIAMI		DOTHAN, ALA.
$12.65	$22.77	$4.02	$7.26
PENSACOLA		GAINVESVILLE
$6.11	$11.00	$4.29	$7.76
TAMPA		ATLANTA
$7.04	$12.71	$8.42	$15.18
ORLANDO		306 N. ADAMS
$7.04	$12.71	Phone 222-4240

BAGGAGE! You can take more with you on a Greyhound. If you prefer, send laundry or extra luggage on ahead by Greyhound Package Express. It's there in hours...and costs you less.

GREYHOUND

SCALP EM – Victor Comolli

Students Want A&M Invited To Compete

Due to the overwhelming support of the sports editorial of last week suggesting that Florida A&M be invited to the Florida Invitation next month, we have sent a letter to Vaughn Mancha, FSU's athletic director, asking him about FSU's position.

If you approve of the idea, write to the sports desk of the Flambeau and let us know how you feel about the matter. The more signatures we get with the letters, the better the chance of success. Send it via "campus mail."

The following is a letter we received, bearing the names of FSU's students who approve of the idea:

To The Editor:

We believe that Mr. Denson's suggestion that Florida A&M University be invited to compete in the upcoming Florida Invitational track meet is an excellent idea. In addition to bettering relations between the two universities, it could give the FSU sponsored event national recognition should Robert Hayes set a world record in the 100, which could very well happen.

It is about time we recognize the fact that Florida A&M University can compete on an equal basis with the major universities in the state.

JIM DE GROODT
MEL KELLER
HUGH L. DAVIS
LARRY STALLINGS
STEPHEN BERNSTEIN
K. HOWARD WEINER
WALTER GLASS
THOMAS R. PATRICK
MARK L. COHEN
STEVE BARON
CLYDE FRIEDMAN
IVAN D. MARTINEZ
GLEN T. OSBORN
RALPH E. PLUMB
WAYNE R. MARTIN
GIDEON BROWN
JAMES E. ATHOS
NORMAN E. THAGARD
BONNIE FREEDMAN
DAVID KELMECKIS
ALLAN DERMOTT
MICHAEL O. HANSON
DONALD LUEKE
JOE MARSHALL
MICHAEL STORRIE
LAWRENCE JEROME
FRANK AMOTT
ROY GIBSON
FRED ELLIS
WILLIAM LAWRENCE
D. N. BARLOW
KEN LIPNER
BERNARD SALZBERG
CHUCK SALZBERG
TIM MANUCY
ROBERT W. PRESTON
CARLOS PRESTON
THOMAS HAPNER
PETER FALCK
GEORGE SHEPHERD
RAY DEWBELL
HERBERT REIFFERN
EDWARD P. MALLAS JR.
NORMAN L. BEARRENTINE
ROBERT HUNGERBUHLER
DICK HALL
ART REED
CHUCK CROOKES
PHILLIP JACOWITZ
ROY JONES
DAVID A. SNYDER
CHARLES CALHOUN
FRED BILENTNIKOFF
DOUG MESSER
DALE MAC KENZIE
AVERY SUMMNER
BOB CAESOR
BOB HOSE
TERRY HOLLMAN
DAVID WILLE
JOHN F. CARSON
MAC FARRINGTON
A. D. HOPKINS JR.
D. O. COBURN
JIM HAYGOOD
OGIE KENEIPP
BOB MANGAN
JEFF FLORES
KENNETH THOMPSON
EARLE KNAPP
JIM LOVELL
MAURICIO DOMINGUEZ
ARNOLD SELIGMAN
DONALD DONATELLI
DOUGLAS HANEY
ED BERGIN
BRUCE E. RYAN
JOHN A. BRICKETT
JEFF WADSWORTH
EDWARD BARR
GEORGE STOOKE
LOUIS AMBROSE
HAZEL WINCHELL
JOE S. EDWARDS
PATRICIA WHALEY
BRUCE WITNER
BENTO L. BENSON
GEORGE S. PARKER
CLIFFORD DILLMAN
MICHAEL FICKS
STEPHEN RHODES
HERBERT ZINSER
AMELIA HAPKE
W. R. HOUSTON
ARLAND EYL JR.
WILLIAM J. MCCARRON JR.
ANN YAEGER
ROXANNA ALBURY
PATRICIA BESSETT
DIANA TODD
CAROL SENA
MAUREEN HOWLAND
STEPHEN J. GROSS
MARTHA MEYER
MARY JANE EZZARD
FISH CHITTENDEN
NANCY JONES
SALLY PEAM
JERRY LYALL
ROBERTA WELCH
PETER M. COMBS
DIANA M. GOFFE
JAMES ALEXANDER
ROBERT CORDREY
JAMES THOMPSON
MICHAEL STAFF
WARD SEGURN
RUSSELL DE SOUZER
JIM MCDANIEL
MARY ANN GELLESPEE
CAROLINE MAGER
BRUCE GRANT
COOKIE HILL
RODALIA HAPKE
DAB S. AKE
JIM STEVENS
GEORGE LOSEY
LETITIA THOMAS
PAT SHAW
BARBARA WARD
JOE HILL
BECKEY BRILEY
LIBBY EVANS
LINDA CAROL LATHAM
JUDITH C. REGISTER
JEAN EDMONSON
ANNE MARK
LILIAN KRESE
DEWEY WEISS
HARRY BROWN
LINDA LIDSEY
MAC MC CASKILL
TIM DU FREE
JOE VAN VOORT
FRANK AKINS
DAN T. JONES
THOMAS S. LANIER
BRUCE T. SARGENT

FSU To Face Cincy Netters

The Florida State tennis team will go against the Cincinnati netters tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. on the FSU courts.

Coached by former Florida State tennis player, John Powless, the Cincinnati players have recently triumphed in a 9-0 bout with the Marshall tennis team.

Florida State, which has a 7-4 record this season, will send Paul Scarpa against John Kline in the number one singles match. Kline had a 16-2 record in singles last year and a 14-1 record in doubles; he was teamed with Curt Kunz.

The Cincinnati coach, who attended FSU during 1959-60, also coaches the freshman basketball team. The team was the national champion two years in a row.

Tarpons Choose Members, Officers

The new Tarpon members and officers were announced this week. The new officers are Millie Bishop, president; Phyllis Doud, vice president; twin sister Pam Doud, secretary; Madge Clements, treasurer; and Cynthia Sward, historian.

The 10 girls who were tapped Wednesday night are Alice Davis, Valerie Biship, Beth Peyraud, Carole Agerton, Bugs Blount, Diana Todd, Teena Bunker, Marsha Jones, Reetie Hamilton, and Karen Klish.

Sports Calendar

Thursday and Friday — Golf: Miami, Florida, Florida Southern, Stetson, Rollins at Orlando. (Results not available at presstime).

Saturday — Tennis: Cincinnati at Tallahassee (1:30); Frosh Baseball: South Georgia College at Tallahassee (3:30); Track. Piedmont Relays at Greenville, S. C.; Racquettes: Rollins at Tallahassee (10 a.m.)

Monday — Baseball: Miami at Tallahassee (3:30); Tennis: The Citadel at Charleston, S. C..; Golf: Turner AFB at Albany, Ga.

Top Prep Star Is Signed; Two Gridders Leave Team

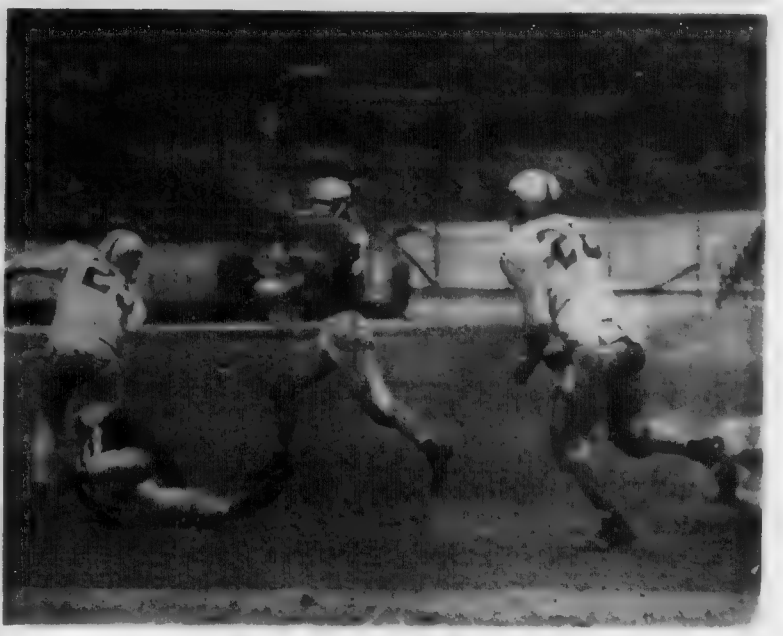
Florida State sports added and subtracted players in recent days, gaining a football player and losing two.

The Seminoles signed extra-point kicker, Brad Gasque, a 5-3 athlete on Chamberlain High School's team. Signed by assistant coach Vince Gibson, Gasque totalled 32 extra points last season.

GRIDDERS

Two football players left the team. They are Gene Roberts and Charles Keneipp.

Keneipp, a 280-pound center, has been called FSU's best candidate for All-American. The athlete was dropped because of disciplinary reasons.



The basketball team signed a 6-7½ high school star from St. Petersburg when it inked Jim Wallace. The cager had a 19.7 average per game at Boca Ciega High.

Wallace set a school record last season by bagging 507 points in a year.

Artistic Flowers
"When It's Flowers—Say It With Ours"
SEND FLOWERS
For EASTER
SUNDAY
April 22
Early Airmail Order Saves Money
PHONE 222-9719
115 W. COLLEGE AVE.

GARCIA'S
PIZZAS
SPAGHETTI
Open 7 Days
A Week
Close 12:00 P.M.
320 E. TENN.
223-1177

Pardon Me, Boys

Quarterback Jim Seaward fades back for a pass in an intra-squad scrimmage during the spring practice. End John McConnaughhay of Ocala and tackle Jim Sims of LaGrange, Ga., rush in to clobber the 200-pound quarterback. (Photo by John Quarries.)

Soccer Club Faces Gators

The red-hot FSU-Florida rivalry will be renewed Saturday afternoon when the FSU International Soccer team tangles with Florida in the first soccer match to be played in Florida. The game is one of the highlights of the University of Florida's International Week.

The FSU team goes into the match as a distinct underdog since the University of Florida Soccer Club is sporting a 33-game winning streak. In November 1961, the Florida Soccer Club won the State of Florida Cup in the Sunshine Soccer Tournament at St. Petersburg.

Undismayed by this strength, FSU Captain Roger Cheng of China, and Co-Captain Bodo Pyko of Germany expect that their team, composed of students from around the globe, will be a match for the Gators. Most of the FSU International Club Soccer team have had limited experience with the game in their own countries but decided to introduce the sport FSU's campus when they arrived here.

In their only game to date they defeated a team of physical education majors, 6-4. The team is coached by Tom Martin, graduate assistant in the Physical Education Dept. who participated in the sport as an undergraduate at Slippery Rock State Teachers College.

Game time at Florida Field is set for 2:30 p.m. Several members of the International Club are planning to travel to Gainesville for the game and other activities of the International Week.

Members of the FSU International Club Soccer team are:

The captain and co-captain: Suwat Pananon of Thailand; Peter Falch of the USA; B.U.B. Sarma of India; Tenari Krishna of India; Donal Wall of Canada; Phaltoon Uiboonsanti of Thailand, Bernard Huang of China Bjorn Gade of Denmark; Rick Lapan of the USA; E. Brahim Khaleghi of Iran; Alan Schwartz of the USA; Maruice Cohen of the USA; Narayan Viswanath of India; and Shanu Ahase of India.

Camellia Bakery
"ALL A MASSEE'S PRODUCT OFTEN COPIED - NEVER EQUALLED"
OPEN SUNDAY 7 a.m. to 1 p.m.
WE DELIVER
617 N. MONROE. Dial 222-4560

DIVE RIGHT IN!

in . . . McGREGOR®
SWIM TRUNKS!

You'll like the bold, brash action styles, colors and patterns of these beachside beauts!

5.95

other swim trunks by Robert Bruce and Catalina from $3.95

Turner's
doorway to fashion

SIC FLICS

"He has your ears, Bernie."

Chesterfield KING CIGARETTES

21 GREAT TOBACCOS MAKE 20 WONDERFUL SMOKES!
AGED MILD, BLENDED MILD – NOT FILTERED MILD – THEY SATISFY

Will Someone Please Send These Girls

. . . from Women's Glee Club to the New York Town Hall June 2? The group is still $2500 short of the amount needed to make the trip. Here some the members practice informally in hopes that some friendly donors will provide the necessary funds. From left are Julie Adams, Janet Schuff, Barbara Morris, Lyndol Michael, Janice Sheffield, Eleanor Belote, Carole Goldstein, Michele Ann Davenport, and Eileen Lindrose.

Religious News

Dr. Anna Forbes Liddell Is Honored At A Reception Sunday In Longmire

Dr. Anna Forbes Liddell, professor of philosophy, will be honored at a reception in the Large Lounge, Longmire, Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 by the Hillel Foundation. The reception is open to the public.

Dr. Liddell, who has been at Florida State University as a member of the Philosophy Dept. since 1926, is retiring this spring. While at FSU she was head of the Dept of Philosophy and Religion and in 1959 was recognized as a Distinguished Professor.

Dr. Liddell was recognized as the first women from the South as an authority in Philosophy and Religion in 1934 .

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Seminarians, a choral Baptist Theological Seminary, will perform at the BSU House Tuesday night at 6.

NEWMAN HOUSE

The Newman Club has been making plans for their annual Sportmen's Banquet which will be held at the Elks Club on April 29. Tickets are presently being distributed and sold at the Catholic Student Center.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

The Sunday Morning Seminar will feature Dr. Joseph R. Hooten, Jr. who will discuss Chapter Ten of the Gospel of Mark at 9:30 in the lounge at the Wesley Foundation.

WESTMINSTER

The Bible Study Group will be conducted this Sunday night by Rev. Robert Hall, assistant pastor of the First Prewbyterian Church. The Sunday School Work Party will be held tomorrow at 9:30 a. m .Registration for the Student Conference on World Missions must be completed before Easter.

Editor's Notes: All news for Religious News is due in the Flambeau Office by 5 p.m. Tuesday. Copy should be typewritten if possible and all activities should be dated. The time and place should also be indicated in reporting events to which readers are invited.

Music Box

FSU Concert Band Undertakes First Tour

By KAREN PACE
Flambeau Staff Writer

The Florida State University Concert Band, under the direction of Robert T. Braunagel, left this morning on tour. This is the first tour undertaken by this musical organization.

The group is to appear in Perry this morning at the Taylor County High School Auditorium. This evening at 8 p. m., they will play in Lake City at the Columbia High School Auditorium, and tomorrow evening the Concert Band will perform in Waycross, Georgia. These programs are sponsored by the high school bands, with proceeds going to the local organization.

The Concert Band is a group of eighty musicians, about ten per cent of whom are music majors.

FEATURED MUSICIANS

Many individual musicians will be featured on the tour. The entire trombone section, including David Krug, David Gaines, Pat Ammann, Richard Tuten and Bill Taaffe, will be featured in "Trombrero" by Frank Cofield, which is a light beguine for trombone. A trumpet trio, featuring Winford Franklin, LeMoyne Roll and Gary Sheffield, will perform "Bugler's Holiday" by Leroy Anderson

Also included on the program will be "Italian in Algiers" by Rossini, "Folk Song Suite" by Vaughn Williams, "Psalm for Band" by Persichetti, "Court Festival" by Latham, "Au Pays Lorraine" by Balay and "West Side Story" by Vaughn Williams. Of particular interest will be "Ballet for Young Americans" by Ralph Herman, which depicts the times of the modern American teenager.

The Concert Band will perform this program of music at FSU after they return from the tour. This event will take place in Opperman Auditorium on Monday at 8:15 p. m.

The Women's Glee Club, under the direction of Betty Jane Grimm, will present its Annual Spring Concert this evening at 8:15 p. m. in Opperman Auditorium.

In this free appearance, the group will present the program which landed it a spot in New York's Town Hall for June 2.

The 75 - member group is hoping that Friday the 13th will be its lucky day, since about $2,500 still stands between the organization and a trip to the New York performance in two months. The director, Miss Grimm, is hoping the appearance this week will convince generous donors to contribute what is needed to make the trip.

SOUND THEORY

Science enters the picture for the Glee Club in the use of the "difference tones theory" of acoustics. Developed for strings and organ in the 17th century, Miss Grimm has used it to advantage in recent years by placing each of the 75 Glee Club members in a position on stage where the voices of neighboring women will lend support to the quality and volume of each individual voice.

As an example, a soprano, instead of being placed in the midst of a large group of sopranos, is placed near a contralto and a mezzo-soprano. The frequencies of the various voices support each other, so that the soprano can reach a higher note with less effort

RELIGIOUS MUSIC

The first two parts of the concert will consist of religious music by Taylor, Makarov, Hendl, di Lasso, Schubert, Schumann and Brahms. One of the Brahms numbers will feature two French horns Oxford Kitchengs III and Monty Hobbs will be the hornists.

Part three consists of "Four Love Songs," with two pianos, by Brahms. The pianists featured are Carole Goldstein and Karen Moran.

"Songs of the South" including "When It's Sleepy Time Down South," "St. Louis Blues," "Way Down Yonder in New Orleans" and "The Birth of the Blues" will complete the program.

Richard D. Powell, a senior music major, has written the special arrangements heard in "songs of the South" for the Women's Glee Club.

TOWN HALL

Miss Grimm said in regard to the planned New York presentation, which will bring the Glee Club before some of the nation's outstanding critics, that Town Hall has already been rented for the concert.

C. Asbury Gridley, a Tallahassee music enthusiast, has put up $150 as the down payment on the $700 rental. With this amount, $500 has been contributed by the parents of one Glee Club member, and the organization has $500 available in a travel account. The cost of the New York appearance is estimated at more than $4,000.

MUSIC HALL

Florida State University's School of Music has been presented to the television-viewing music - lovers for a year and a half via the series "Music Hall."

With financial backing from the Florida Educational Television Commission, the show started in the fall of 1960. FSU Broadcasting Services absorbed production costs, and the series was launched with internationally - known opera soprano Elena Nikolaidi of the FSU faculty presenting a program of French, Greek and Spanish folk songs.

FSU FACULTY

Since then, the weekly productions have featured most of the performing musicians on the FSU faculty, music educators, composers, theorists and outstanding students.

Among the Florida areas whose educational TV stations now carry the program are Jacksonville, Gainesville, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Miami and Tallahassee.

In addition to this home - state popularity, the show is now being run in such widespread areas as Sacramento, Cal., Columbus, Ohio, Buffalo, N. Y, and Albuquerque, N. M. Thousands of viewers watch each program, and additional stations throughout the nation have inquired about programming the series.

SIMPLE FORMAT

The emphasis of the show is on the music itself, with a simple format of program notes on the music, composer and performer. When possible, the program includes an interview between host Thomas Wright, a professor of music at FSU, and the guest of the evening.

The purpose of the show is to acquaint viewers in Flo[rida] and the nation w[ith] many members of the FSU School of M[usic] and with the various activities, organizations, and programs of the university, and to provide cultural and educational programs of serious music for viewers [in] educational television audiences.

"Music Hall" is presented every Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. over WFSU-TV

Paul Svendsen, graduate senior music recital in Opperman Music Hall Monday night at 8:15.

The program will include "Chorale Prelude" by Bach-Busoni, "Sonata Appassionata" by Beethoven, [Etude] and "Ballade in F minor" by Chopin

Dames Club Picks Mrs. FSU Finalists

Beebe Chatman, Judie Dyer and Rita Shoemaker were selected as finalists in the Dames Club sponsored Mrs. FSU contest Wednesday night.

Judges for the event were Mrs. Ruthe Tate of the Central Ticket Office, James Hardy, director of placement, and Ray E. Green Jr., assistant business manager.

During the finals, they were judged on general appearance, poise and beauty.

HOMEMAKING TASK

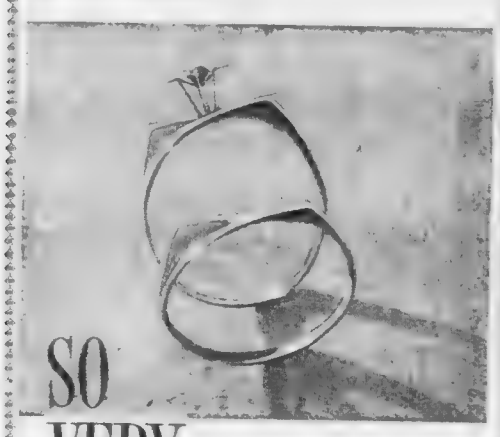
Mrs. Dyer entered a pecan fluff dessert as her homemaking task in the preleminaries.

Mrs. Shoemaker made several varieties of candy and a wall hanging for her son's room as her homemaking example. Her husband is a graduate student in Humanities and working on his Masters in Philosophy

Mrs. FSU for 1962 will be selected from these three finalists. Her identity will remain a secret until the Dames Club Dinner Dance at the Holiday Inn April 28. The dance is open to married students and their friends. Tickets can be obtained from any Dames Club member for $6 per couple.

H & R Management Majors Are Guests On April Trip

Fifteen student majors in Hotel and Restaurant Management at Florida State University will be guests this month of the Bahamas Hotel Association and the Florida Hotel Association in a field trip to Nassau, BWI and Fort Lauderdale



The students will leave April 27, for Nassau, where they will be hosted by member hotels of the BHA in tours of the leading hotels of the island.

Lauderdale April 30, to attend meetings and social functions meetings and social functions of the 47th Annual Convention of the Florida Hotel Association. Included in the program will be the formal presentataion of American Hotel Association scholarship awards by Hotel Commissioner Robert Reidel to FSU students Jerry Spinks and Robert Waters.

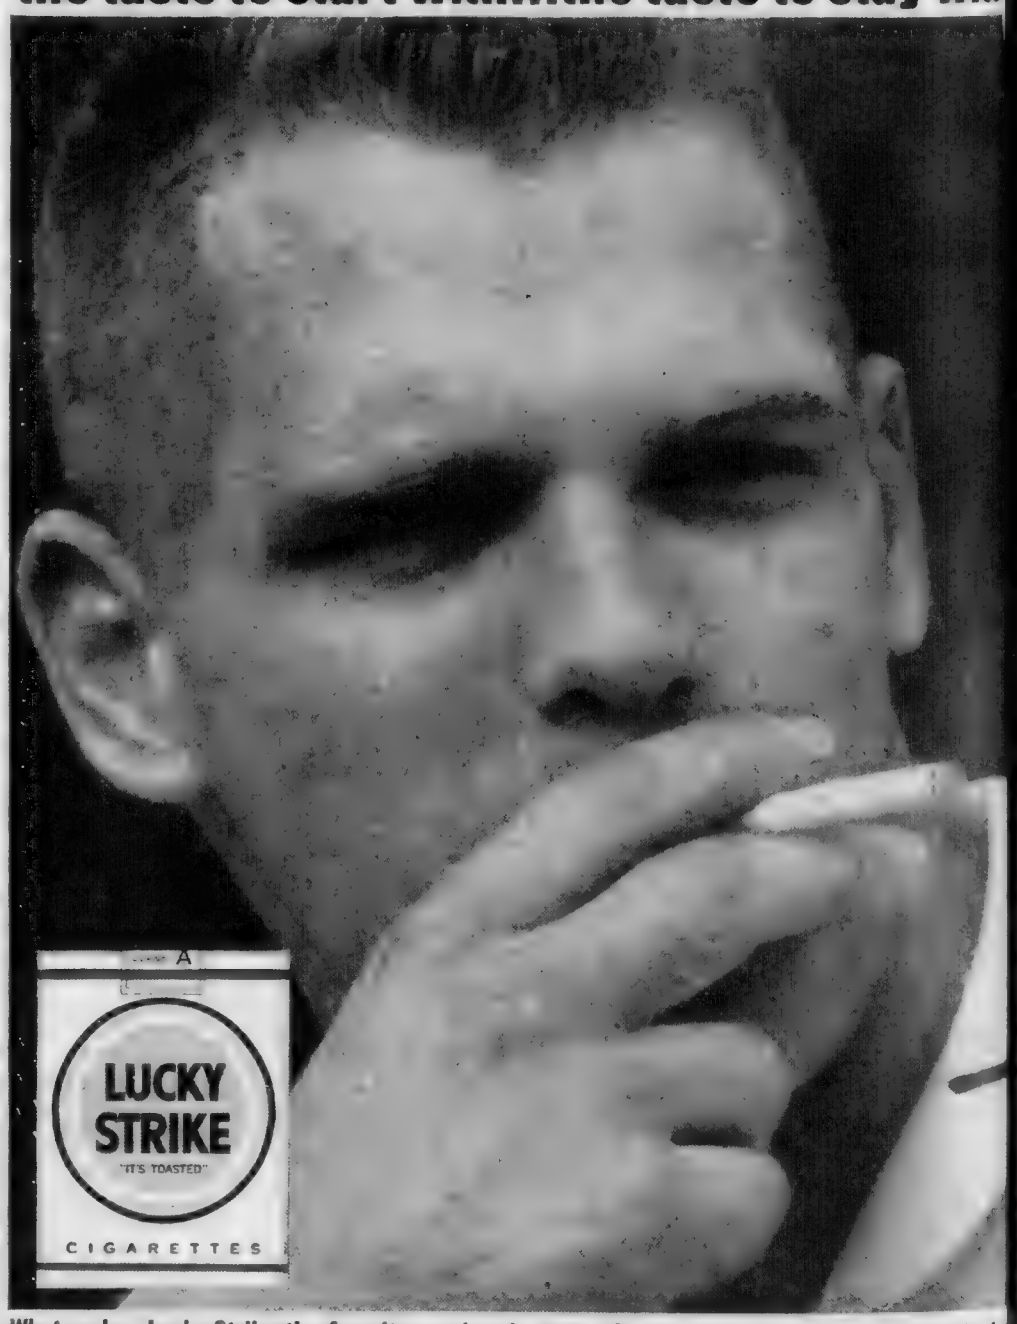
A reception will be given in honor of the students by Stewart Moore, immediate past president of the Florida Hotel Association and president of the Florida Hillsborough Corporation, and Mrs. Moore, at their home in Boca Raton.

Ashby G. Stiff Jr., assistant professor of Hotel and Restaurant Management, will accompany the group, which includes: Jon Carrington, J. Barry Hill, Beverly Haygood, Larry Nelson, Coralee Moore, Mary Stephens, Charles Dudley, John Bigler, Beverly de Zicheck, John Lynch, John W. White, David Crumb and Robert Sterling Bell.

BLACK & WHITE FILM 620—120—127 — 3 ROLLS 88c
8 MM. KODACHROME, Processing Included — $3.69
WESTINGHOUSE NO. 5 FLASH BULBS, doz. — $1.30
FOR PRICES AND QUALITY, SEE
CHEVET'S Your camera Shop
Adams at College

at PUTNAM'S

SO VERY NEW !
Truly TODAY in spirit . . . fresh, sophisticated, beautiful . . . yours from your MASTER JEWELER
Orange Blossom
ENGAGEMENT and WEDDING RINGS
Putnam Jewelers
REGISTERED JEWELERS AMERICAN GEM SOCIETY
308 South Monroe St. Phone 222-3075
DOWNTOWN TALLAHASSEE
All Our Diamonds Are Diamondscope Tested For Your Protection



at your TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

FLORIDA
Today & Saturday
"The Day The Earth Caught Fire"
* * *
Tonite! 11:30 p.m.
Friday 13th Jinx
Late Show!
All Tickets 75c
On Sale NOW!

PERRY HIGHWAY OUTDOOR
Tonite & Saturday
Anthony Perkins
"TALL STORY"
Pat Boone
"ALL HANDS ON DECK"
James Darren
"Gidget Goes Hawaiian"

STATE
Today - Saturday
1st TIME TOGETHER
Paul Newman
"THE HUSTLER"
—also—
Sophia Loren
"TWO WOMEN"

CAPITOL DRIVE-IN ON WOODVILLE HWY.
Tonite & Saturday
TWO COLOR FEATURES
Showing 7:45
Glenn Ford
"Pocketful of Miracles"
and at 10:10
Vivien Leigh
Warren Beatty
"Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone"

Get Lucky
the taste to start with...the taste to stay with

What makes Lucky Strike the favorite regular cigarette of college smokers? Fine-tobacco taste. The taste of a Lucky is great to start with, and it spoils you for other cigarettes. That's why Lucky smokers stay Lucky smokers. So, get the taste you'll want to stay with. Get Lucky today.
©A.T.Co.
Product of The American Tobacco Company — Tobacco is our middle name

Tallahassee Flowers & Candy INC.
WE WIRE FLOWERS
WE MAIL CANDY
Call In Your Easter Order Now OWNERS
JUANITA M. GIBSON
MARY V. ALEXANDER
Phones: 224-8032 224-5023
105 E. JEFFERSON STREET

TONY'S PIZZA
We Specialize in
PIZZA PIE and ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Take Home
or
Eat in Dining Room
ACROSS FROM CAPITOL PLAZA SHOPPING CENTER
MEAT BALL SANDWICH
1805 Thomasville Road
Phone 224-6210

Van Assenderp Appoints Ten As Advisory Cabinet Members

Lyman Fletcher

Jim Blue

Bill Sheppard

The appointment of 10 students to Cabinet posts has been announced by Student Body President-elect Ken van Assenderp.

The new Cabinet officers will be Attorney General Lyman Fletcher, Secretary of State Jim Blue, Secretary of Student Welfare Bill Sheppard, Secretary of Finance Frank Milwee, Secretary for the University Union Don Thigpen, Secretary of Elections Ron Jones, Secretary for Communications and Public Affairs Reville Sladen, Secretary of Student Events Lou Rich, Secretary for Intercollegiate Affairs Kitty Miller and Secretary for Internal Affairs Evelyn Flathman.

The appointments must be confirmed by Student Senate.

Fletcher, as attorney general, will act as an advisor to the student body president and will be in charge of publishing revisions of the statutes. He is currently chairman of the newly-formed University Party, chairman of Speakers' Bureau and a member of the Lobby Committee. A junior, Fletcher was president of his Sophomore Class and a Lieutenant-Governor of Smith Hall. He is a member of Alpha Phi Omega, Pershing Rifles and Sigma Chi social fraternity.

SECRETARY OF STATE

Blue will be the first secretary of state to serve in an advisory capacity to the student body president. Formerly, the secretary of state served as an official hostess. Blue, who was a candidate for men's vice president, is vice chairman of the Speakers' Bureau and a member of the Lobby Committee. He served as chairman of the Homecoming Dance this year and will be student chairman of Homecoming next year. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity.

Secretary of Student Welfare Sheppard is a member of Alpha Council, the Campus Chest, Organizations and Rally Committees, and has been assistant attorney general. He is on the steering committee of Project Awake and is treasurer of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity.

Milwee will move up from an undersecretary of finance position to the full Cabinet post. He is a past officer of Kellum Hall and is in Advanced Army ROTC. At the recent Student Party convention he served as parliamentarian.

SECRETARY OF FINANCE

Secretary of Finance Thigpen, a Sophomore history major, was co-introducer of the University Union Board Bill last year, which is to be entered in the Statutes. He served as Freshman Senator last year and has been Precinct Senator. His duties have included Chairman of the Election and Appointments Committee, a standing Senate Committee, the swimming pool committee and the University Union committee. He is a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

Frank Milwee

Ron Jones

Don Thigpen

Revillo Slayden

Secretary of Elections Jones transferred from Palm Beach Junior College in 1960. Since he has been at FSU, he has been active as Precinct Senator, vice-chairman of the Organizations and Finance Committee, chairman of the Senate Who's Who Selection Committee and member of the Senate Trimester Committee. He is a member of the Young Republicans and was on the Speakers' Bureau in 1960 and '61. He is a member of the Smoke Signals staff.

Miss Sladen, who is at present Secretary of the Junior Class, is a member of Speakers' Bureau and Grand Cru. A Mortified. A Sophomore Counselor last year, she is an officer in Chi Omega.

STUDENT EVENTS

Miss Rich, Secretary of Student Events, was one of two representatives to attend the national convention of the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students at University of Wisconsin last April. A member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, she is vice president of Reynolds and a member of Mortar Board. She is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta honorary and is a Junior Counselor. Last year she was Sophomore Class Senator and a member of Sophomore Council.

Secretary for Intercollegiate Affairs, Miss Miller presently is Secretary of the Senate. A Junior Counselor and member of Mortified, she was Freshman Class Secretary, Sophomore Class Secretary, and member of Sophomore Council. A member of the Lobby Committee, she is vice president of the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority.

Secretary for Internal Affairs, Miss Flathman is Secretary of the Sophomore Class and a member of Sophomore Council. She recently has been selected a Junior Counselor. A member of the Lobby committee, she has also served on the Freshmen Orientation, Sophomore-Senior Investiture, and Sophomore Dance committees.

Lou Rich

Kitty Miller

Evelyn Flatham

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLVIII, No. 45 — Published By The Students Of Florida State University — Tuesday, April 17, 1962

Gen. Hester:

Truth Is Our First Casualty Of War

By MERRY MOREHOUSE

"Unfortunately, truth is our first casualty in any war, hot or cold," stated Brigadier General Hugh B. Hester, Sunday night in the concluding talk of this year's Liberal Forum Lecture series.

Since his retirment from 34 years of active military service in 1958, General Hester has lectured and written on U. S. foreign policy, and has done graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania in international relations. He calls himself a thermo-nuclear pacifist, a position backed by three outstanding military leaders, MacArthur, Eisenhower and Bradley.

The nature of war, Hester pointed out, has changed. War is no longer rational, and should be replaced by negotiation. Formal negotiation proceedings followed wars. In the face of thermo-nuclear disaster, however, negotiation must come first. "The only shelter we can turn to now," he emphasized, "is disarmament and cooperative international development."

DESTROY MYTH

In order to negotiate, it is necessary to destroy what Hester calls "the myth of the monster." Propaganda has made out of the side a monster, and it is impossible to negotiate with a monster, he added. The first step toward cracking the structure of lies which has been erected, he feels, came with the uncovering of the U-2 spy missions in May, 1960.

Several magazines and newspapers are attempting to present an international view of the actual political facts to the public, he said. Among those he named were New Republic, Progressive, The Churchman and Nation.

Mutual benefit and a common understanding of the terms of the agreement are basic to any workable regulations which result from negotiation, he stated. "Survival," he added, "is to the interest of all parties, and our survival depends on disarmament."

UNIFIED WORLD

"The world is one in every sense except our knowledge and recognition of it. The language barrier is important, but not in any way insurmountable," Hester explained. Recognition of a unified world, he added, can come only through a cooperative effort, based on a community established by improved communication and personal contacts between peoples.

When challenged as to the conflict of this solution with basic Communist doctrine, Hester answered, "Ideology in every moment of history has had to accomodate itself."

Three factors — Hester dubs them the "three C's" — are essential for a stable world society. These are codes, courts and cops. Without a means of law enforcement, he stated, world government would be farcical.

General Hester spent the past week vacationing in Havana, Cuba, where he observed that conditions are not as bad as the press leads us to believe. He is planning his second trip to the Soviet Union this summer.

FSU Flyers Buy Airplane

The Seminole Flying Club of Florida State University has purchased another airplane.

The new plane, a Piper J-3, has been modified for training purposes. It has a complete electrical system, two - way radio and night-flying equipment.

The purchase of this aircraft by the club releases its other aircraft, a Cessna 140, for more cross-country flying. To prospective members it means more flying time available.

Anyone interested in learning to fly may attend the meetings of the Seminile Flying Club to get acquainted with some of the members and instructors. The club meets the first and third Wednesday of each month in 102 Business Bldg. at 7:30 p.m. The next meeting will be tomorrow.

Some of the pilots in the club will be at the Municipal Airport, at the south side of the General Aviation Hangar, to give rides to all prospective members April 28 and 29.

Circus Tickets Are On Sale

Tickets are now on sale for the Florida State University Circus, which has erected its tent for a five - day stand, May 1 through 5.

Performances Tuesday through Friday begin at 8 p.m., with Saturday performances at 5:30 and 8 p.m. set aside especially for students and parents.

Tickets for the Saturday performances should be obtained early. Tickets are $.75 for students and $1.50 for non-students. They may be obtained at the Athletic Ticket Office in Tully Gym, Westcott Ticket Office or downtown at Brown's Men's Wear.

Sitting Behind The Controls

. . . of the newly purchased training plane, is Ed Sessions, maintenance officer of the Seminole Flying Club.

Dr. Anna Liddell Presented Medalion By Hillel Club

Dr. Anna Forbes Liddell, professor of philosophy was presented wth a medalion with chipped dismonds by Hillel, Jewish student organization, Sunday, at a reception in honor of her work as first counsellor of the organization.

President Gordon W. Blackwell, Dean Coyle E. Moore, of the school of Social Welfare, Dr. Symour L. Hess, head of the Meteorogogy Dept. were among the more than 100 students, faculty and townspeople attending the reception at Longmire.

On the reverse side of the medalion placed around her neck by President Marianna Youngerman, was the inscription, "Hillel to their Beloved Teacher."

In addition to the medalion, Dr Liddell received a $100 check presented by Fred Lowry, of the Capital City National Bank, who said the contributors "were friends and admirers who wished to remain anonymous."

Prof. Royal Mattice, of the Economics Dept., in his address pointed out that the philosophy professor who has taught at FSU since 1926, was the first to receive a doctor's degree in philosophy from University of North Carolina. Dr. Liddell received her degrees from the North Carolina institution and Cornell University.

HEBREW PHILOSOPHY

Dr. Liddell said that she was chosen for the directorship of Hillel in the 1930's because of her interest in Hebrew philosophy, which with Greek philosophy formed the foundations of modern thinking.

At the time she was selected, she explained, this institution was called Florida State College for Women. Hillel had 20 student members and the meetings were held in a sorority-house. Today, under the direction of Dr. Sidney Kobre, professor of public relations and communications, School of Business, Hillel has increased its membership and the scope of its activities. Each Sunday a "brunch" is given before a cultural and musical program.

In discussing her career at FSU, Dr. Liddell said that she always stressed the necessity of developing good judgement and the ability to discern the facts and weigh values in any issue.

KEPT IN TOUCH

Asked about the number of students she had taught, Dr. Liddell said, "I guess about a million." During her career at FSU, Dr. Liddell has always kept in touch with Hillel, she said, being invited to its special occasions and brunches.

In the receiving line at the reception were Dr. Liddell, Miss Youngerman, Diane Malnikoff, program chairman, Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Kobre, William Lader, treasurer and Carol Roth, secretary.

DR. LIDDELL

Schedule

The Semirole Club Dining Hall will remain open throughout the Easter holidays and will observe the following schedule:

Friday, Saturday and Monday: 7:30 - 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m.-1 p.m., 5-7 p.m.; Sunday: 8-9:45 a.m., 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m., 5-7 p.m.

All other food services will be closed until Tuesday at 7 a.m., except for the Student Center Fountain, which will reopen Monday at 5 p.m.

Student Center and Suwannee Dining Room will close Wednesday at 7 p.m.; Soda Shop, Thursday at 4 p.m.; Smith Hall, Wednesday at 10:30 p.m. and Faculty Club, Thursday at 1:30 p.m.

Glee Club To Give Program

The Collegians, men's glee club at Florida State University, will present a varied program including four calypso songs Tuesday, April 24.

The program will be at 8:15 in Opperman Music Hall.

The 35-member choral group is directed by Dr. Raymond Meyer.

The calypso songs have been especially arranged for men's voices, flute and percussion by Richard D. Powell of Tampa, a senior.

Assisting the Collegians in performance of calypso arrangements will be Walter Pittman, Dennis Silkebakken, Jack Gibson, percussion, and Dale Jensen, flute. Jensen is assistant director of the Collegians.

The choral group will sing Brahms "Schicksalslied" (A Song of Destiny); Tschaikovsky's "Pilgrim Song"; several sacred songs and two Negro spirituals. Steve Smith from the studio of Carlisle Floyd will play Mendelssohn's variety "Serieuses" for piano. Smith is accompanist for the Collegians.

President Gordon W. Blackwell

. . . and several others have been practicing up for the Faculty-Student Mixed Doubles Tennis Tournament which will get under way next Tuesday. With him in this picture are (l. r) Judi Dunn, Peter Podes, and Gail DeLozier. Miss DeLozier is vice president of The Raquettes, which is sponsoring the tournament, and also is No. 1 player in the organization of women tennis players.

Deadline For Filing Ends

By COOKIE NEUBAUER
Flambeau Staff Writer

Deadline for filing a declaration of candidacy is today at 5 p. m. No declarations will be accepted after that time.

There will be a compulsory meeting of all candidates who have filed a declaration at 7 tonight in Longmire Auditorium.

The purpose of this meeting is to explain all campaigning procedures, said Secretary of Elections Nancie Sill. This meeting is mandatory and the candidates' failure to attend could result in disqualification, she added.

Candidates not able to attend should notify Miss Sill at 408 Longmire or the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

CAMPAIGNING

Active campaigning will begin at 5 p. m., next Tuesday.

At noon yesterday 71 candidates had filed a declaration.

As of that time, no one had filed for senior or junior class social chairman or sophomore class vice president, and only one person had filed for each of the two positions of senior men's and women's senators.

Sixteen candidates have filed for the eight positions to be filled in Honor Court. Filing for senior men's positions were Ron Bissland and John Wesley White, Student Party, and Jamie Jamieson, University Party.

Janice Freeman, Student Party, Diane Goodwin, independent and Martha Bishop, University Party, filed for senior women's positions.

Junior women's positions were filed for by Bobbi Darragh and Dana Lenahan, University Party, Jean Fountain, Student Party, and Ginnie Collier, independent.

David Wiles, Student Party, Kelley Reid and Joe Rodgers, University Party, and Dave Crumb declared candidacy for junior men's positions on Honor Court.

Filing for senior men's positions on University Court were Steve Botts, University Party, and George Burkhart and Buddy Doty, Student Party and Chuck Cutajar, University Party. Senior women's positions were filed for by Nancy Vann Smith, Student Party, and Millie Bishop, University Party.

Junior men's judiciary was filed for by Frank M. Ryell Jr., University Party. Betsy Boote, Patti Haer and Judy Register, University Party, filed for junior women's judiciary.

Filing for sophomore men's positions were Jim B. Jones, University Party, and John Stysma and Mike Thackston, both Student Party. Sophomore women's positions were filed for by Louise Carter, Betty Gardner, Fran Ubele all running independently.

Myra Hancock and Jan Walker, Student Party; and Linda Hoffman and Dana Pharr, University Party.

TRAFFIC COURT

Junior Traffic Court positions were filed for by Alice Marshall, University Party, and Roger Shortz, Student Party. Horace Smith, University Party and Jan Ward, Student Party, filed for candidacy for Sophomore Traffic Court.

Seventeen candidates have filed declarations for positions to be filled in the Senate. Mitch Franks, Student Party, is the only one on file for senior men's senators. Patti Buerke, independent, is the only candidate who has filed for senior women's senators.

Filing to be junior men's senators were Arnie Gibbs and Jon Kaney, University Party, and Bill Green and Bill Greenwood, Student Party. Candidates for junior women's senators are Pat Doomar and Clyda Stokes, Student Party, and Cathy Young, University Party.

Allen Bird, Student Party, Ray Iannucci, University Party, and Tom Sisco running independently have filed for sophomore men's senators. Joyce Killian and Marsha Orth, University Party, Sally Sparks, independent and Kay Ranking and Texas Wiltshire, Student Party, have filed for sophomore women's senators.

CLASS OFFICES

Sixteen candidates have filed for 15 class office positions. Duncan Moore of the University Party has filed for senior class president. Bill Arnold running independently, filed for vice president. Peggy Bruce, also running independently, has filed for Senior Class secretary. Ron Boesema, University Party, and Student Party nominee Evelyn Foy have filed for Senior Class treasurer.

Filing for Junior Class offices are Coley Tooke, Student Party, president; Deene Kitchen, University Party, vice president; Sylvia Cashion University Party, secretary and Susan Cawthon, Student Party, treasurer.

Filing for sophomore class offices are Julian Proctor, University Party, president; Gerry Bryant, University Party, and Dee Weber, independent, secretary; Carol Peters, Student Party, treasurer; and Carolyn Jones, University Party, Josie LaRoche, independent, and Sandi Staten, Student Party, social chairman.

A student may withdraw his declaration of candidacy at any time prior to noon, April 26. A student may change the office for which he declared candidacy at any time prior to 5 p. m. tomorrow. No student may delcare candidacy for more than one office at a given time.

Easter Hours

Library hours during Easter vacation are as follows.

Strozier Library — Thursday — 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., Friday — 8:30 a. m. to 5 p.m., Saturday — 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., Sunday — Closed., Monday — 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Warrend D. Allen Music Library — Thursday — 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., Friday — 8 a. m. to 1 p. m., 2 p. m. to 5 p.m., Saturday — Closed, Sunday — Closed, Monday — 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members and the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Two Party Benefits

FSU's brand new two-party system is already yielding fruit, but it has also brought an old problem into sharper focus.

SEVENTY-ONE CANDIDATES had already filed to run for office as of 2 p. m. yesterday, with another 24 hours before filing closed. This shows the phenomenal benefits of having more than one group to nominate and support able candidates. However, having such a wide field magnifies all of the old election campaign problems tremendously.

During the major-office campaigns the off-campus eateries and Bill's Bookstore suffered considerably from a barrage of paste-up literature which provided ceiling-to-floor wallpaper and made it practically impossible to see a friend across the room without X-ray vision. With this many candidates, the heavy artillery will swing out. We may find ourselves eating from plates which say "Joe Blow for Student Senate," and sitting on thumbtacks labeled "Don't Just Sit There Vote For Mary Lou."

NOT THAT ANYONE should discourage the candidates from vigorously seeking their offices. On the contrary, every aspiring office-holder finds campaign season a chance to prove his originality, capability and willingness to work.

Nevertheless, customers and owners of off-campus businesses should be protected from the over-zealous politicians who will cover an entire wall with handbills of their smiling face. Three average sized handbills or one large streamer should be enough for each candidate in any one establishment.

IF THE ELECTIONS committee does not have the authority to make such a policy, Student Senate could. Senators, all politicians themselves, should realize that too much literature in any one place simply leads students to ridicule all of the posters, regardless of the qualifications of the candidates.

Another election innovation which would be practical with the enlarged slate of nominees is to hold rallies in Opperman Amphitheatre on three or four successive nights. One session could be devoted to senate-seekers, one to class offices, and one to the judiciary. Another alternative would be to break it down by classes so that each student could hear in one night all the candidates he is eligible to vote for.

IN THIS CASE, one night would have sophomore senators, and class officers, another the junior candidates, and the third night would feature the senior officers. Since every one votes for the entire judiciary, these candidates would have to either appear each night or else hold a fourth rally for their branch.

These details should be worked out and supervised by either a Senate committee, the elections committee, or a joint committee appointed by the heads of the Student Party and the University Parties. The latter would probably be the best administrators of the project since the campaigning is their immediate concern.

Also, since the rallies would give voters a chance to compare the opposing candidates firsthand, support of the project by the parties would be a vote of confidence by party leaders in their own nominees.

BY SHOWING THAT they are not afraid to be compared with their opponents, the two groups will show the good will and sincerity necessary to make FSU politics a favorable example of the democratic process

TD

Personality Is Weapon

Pres. John Kennedy put his tremendous personal prestige to the test in battling price increases on the part of Big Business and won a resounding victory.

Kennedy, his Irish temper flaring, was magnificent in his forceful, coordinated attack in the interest of lower consumer prices to benefit the economy. He called in the president of U. S. Steel, Roger Blough, and laid his attack on the line. The steel industry backed down.

IT IS EVIDENT that Kennedy's powerful personality is a powerful force to be reckoned with in the future dealings.

Kennedy should not fear to use strong, positive methods if they are needed to aid the country.

But Big Business is not the only deserving recipient of the President's wrath. Big Labor, who continually demands more money at less work, is equally deserving of a whipping.

UNION LEADERS stretch their justified reasoning for existence when they press for higher wages and ridiculous working hours. They ignore the welfare of the country by pursuing this course to extremes at the expense of the nation's industry.

President Kennedy would do well to be consistent in his thrashing of pressure groups who injure the nation's interest. Big Business is not the only guilty party.

BCS

The Hanging Backers

By JOHN McCOTTER

Now that fly-casting on Landis Green has halted, I predict that an age-old campus custom will undergo a resurgence of popularity during the waning days of this semester. This quaint old custom is known as "hang back."

THE RITUAL BEGINS with a group of restless young blades who, although it's final exam week, have nothing to do. They gather in surly groups mumbling discontentedly, and scraping their sneakers on the pavement in agitation. They seem to be waiting for someone—a leader. Suddenly one of their number will leap to his feet and seize control of the situation. Almost always a sociology major, this man will work the youths into a foaming frenzy with a brief description of what is common practice in Sweden, and will then proclaim a panty raid. The mob seizes the idea immediately, and descends upon the nearest women's dormitory.

The women hearing the ruckus, carefully turn out all the lights, pretending like nobody's home. They huddle together on the bottom floor in the dark, telling ghost stories and wishing. There are always a few imps who stand in the windows cheering the boys on, but their efforts are in vain, for although the young buckaroos make several advances, they never seem to be able to bring themselves to the point of actually entering the bastille. Thus one perceives the origin of the panty's name.

SUDDENLY THE CAMPUS police arrive, looking angry, and wielding long aluminum rods with chalk on the end. With these hasty weapons, they dart through the students marking the shoes of those who aren't wearing the proper stickers. This, of course, terrifies the rebels, who either cower in quivering groups, or run away. Synonymous with the arrival of the police, comes a new batch of students, apparently taking some kind of census, who mingle with the others, writing things in little black books.

The ritual finally ends after a few more feeble attempts at entry, and the men disperse, feeling wordly. The women retire to their rooms in disappointment, with sighs of "maybe next year."

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP—Editor

Leslie Powell, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor — Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Toni DiCarlo ..... Executive Assistant
Erik Collins ..... Asst. Managing Editor
Lana Murray ..... Asst. News Editor
Victor Comolli ..... Asst. Sports Editor
Spence Guerin, Julie Savage .....Artists
Dianne Klinck ..... Business Manager
Fred Salgado ..... Circulation Mgr.
Emmette Jackson ..... Photo Editor
Photographers—Del Kittendorf, John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.

Columnists Gerry Dobson, Bob Sanchez, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clark, Jim Smith, Carl Rosenbush, Karen Thornton, Joedy Smith, John McCotter.

Feature Staff—Joycelyn Ward, Martha Robberts, Leslie McNevin, Pat Freeman.

Proof Staff— Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Logan Anderson, Mary Grossenbacher, Sharon

News Staff—Jim Smith, Bobbie Shiplett, Maureen Perkins, Gayle Motes, Nancy Olsen, Sandra Dixon, Carol Hackney, Karen Pace, Merry Morehouse, Jody Wilkis, Linda Collier, Cookie Neubauer.

Sports Staff—John Wood, Shirley Hardison

Juliann Gabbert .....Advertising Manager
Bill Love .. Asst. Advertising Manager
Margo Duffe ..... Layout

Advertising Sales Staff: Dick Waterworth, Sue Hendrickson, Dwayne Atkins.

Associated College Press, Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave. New York 17, New York.

Published by Florida State University students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Ben Sharp

Federal Courts Mean Business

Southern Legislators, long accustomed to hiding their faces from the realities of unequal representations, certainly cannot fail to see the handwriting on the wall presently supplied by federal courts. No longer can they ignore the unfairness of political domination by rural areas or shake off charges of apportionment inequalities.

This became readily apparent when federal courts laid down a mandate to Alabama that they must reapportion or be reapportioned. Georgia's Governor Ernest Vandiver called his state legislature into session to attempt to work out a reapportionment change in order to head off possible federal action.

These two states had been among the nation's worst offenders of just representation.

• • • •

In Alabama, a three judge panel declared unequivocally that the House and the Senate must be redistricted before a new legislature is elected in November.

The court stated bluntly that unless the assembly enacts a reapportionment bill in special session this summer, the court will blue print a plan and order it put into effect. July 16 is the deadline for this plan to be submitted.

Georgia's problem is of an even more serious nature.

Not only is the Georgia General Assembly poorly apportioned, but the state is also plagued by the county unit system, which allows the rural counties to control the gubernatorial races as well as the legislators.

The county unit system is based upon one vote per county, regardless of the population of that county, and each county has the same amount of say in state-wide executive races as any other.

This allows counties like Ware, the home of the Okeefenoke Swamp and few people, to have the same amount of say in electing a Georgia Governor as Fulton, Atlanta's county.

• • • •

The dramatic population shifts from rural areas have caused the change of representation and made it graphically unfair. The shift has left vacant farm lands, barren of population, controlling metropolitan areas which thrive with people, money and prosperity.

Only a remarkable ability to ignore stark reality on the part of some rural Dixie lawmakers has allowed this condition to exist. Their driving lust to retain political power has made them insensitive to the pleas of justice.

So the federal courts had to speak in terms that they understand—in terms of sheer power.

Georgia's Vandiver is trying desperately to come up with a plan to keep the county unit system without having the courts strike it down. Alabama's Patterson is saying that he just might not call the legislature into session to meet the court deadline.

If these gentlemen think they can actually keep unfair representation, they are only kidding themselves. The federal courts mean business.

Easter Break Interferes With Lauderdale Season

By JIM SMITH

Ft. Lauderdale approaches; not Easter! Who ever thought of having an Easter break in the middle of the Lauderdale season?

IT'S A SHAME that Lauderdale can take care of only a few thousand people on its beaches and streets when it is the foremost Mecca at this religious time of the year.

From all parts of the United States and Canada come those sick in heart and soul to inundate their minds on the clean sands and shores of the Lauderdale beaches. The cleansing frees the mind from strife, woe and worry.

THE FIRST CEREMONY to be seen is the ritualistic trudging from temple to rheumy-eyed temple while the followers of the Lauderdale break exhaust themselves in the strain of communion consumed inside the temples. The services are so weary and so long that the worshippers can be seen weak and staggering, triumphantly of course, to the next damp temple.

Brains grow confused, speech muddled, the brow wet, and the body unable to control itself; all in the approach to a feeling of freedom. The services of the Lauderdale season are aimed at the consummation of freeing the worshippers from the woes of everyday environments.

LAUDERDALE IS A beacon to the sick, weary, feeble, emasculated student. It beckons them to its snores. For those who wish to be lost in the mass, in the crowd, in the wastes of the season, Lauderdale is the land of promise. It opens its heart, its doors and its cash registers.

The holiday in Lauderdale features thousands of people jammed together like sardines — indeed, smelling like sardines — all searching for a few days of fun.

UNHAPPILY, THE CROWD grows larger and the "fun" element of the journey becomes lost in the mad scramble to keep one's feet planted firmly on the sand. Chances of being swept along unnoticed grow as the crowd multiplies and becomes more fervent in its search for temples of the draught.

Me? Well, I think I'll go home and sit on the sun porch and be content with the company of two dachshunds.

After Hours

Act Yourself

By KAREN THORNTON

In just a few days you students shall emerge rapidly from this university campus, leaving it to relax from the tide of everyday activity. Some of you will go home for a quiet rest, others shall "hit" Daytona and Ft. Lauderdale with a large, news-making bang. In either case I am sure you will try your best to act as adults and not go wild in the sense of animals.

PERHAPS IT WOULD do each of us some good to remember exactly why we are having this break from books and classes. This is not so much a vacation for ourselves as it is a time to honor someone else. These days of relaxation are religious and sacred to much of the world.

Some of us find no special meaning in Easter, but we owe it to those who do to behave with respect. This nation was founded in the faith of those who reversed the Easter season. To put it on a student level, if Christ had not been crucified you wouldn't be having an Easter break. You can be thankful for that.

HAVE A GOOD HOLIDAY.
GEORGE ZACK

Grateful For Generosity

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to thank publicly those members of the FSU faculty and my attorney, Mr. Exter Douglass, who were so generous with their support in my behalf when I was falsely identified, arrested and held by city police for armed robbery earlier this year.

It is frightening to speculate on the extent to which justice might have been miscarried had it not been for the immediate, positive, and resourceful actions of Mr. Douglass — actions for which he has refused any payment.

GEORGE ZACK
GRADUATE ASSISTANT

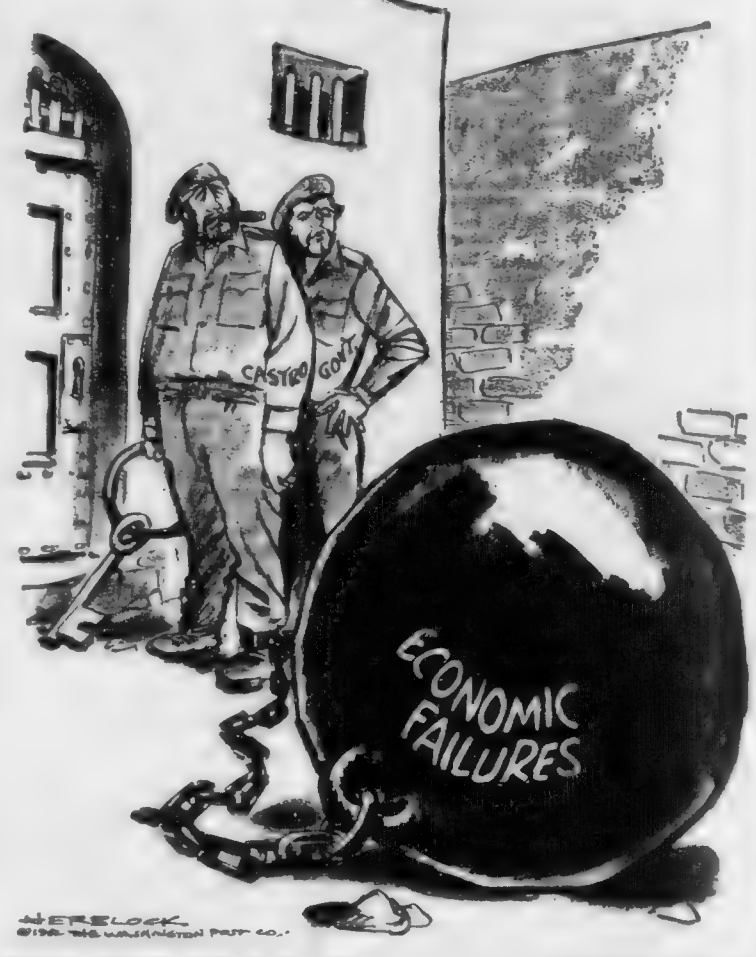
We Approve

TO THE EDITOR:

We approve of A&M's proposed invitation to the Florida Invitational.

James B. Hill
James D. White
Larry A. Nelson
Cebron D. Fussell
Paul Vaillancourt
Wayne Muir
Ray C. Accord
Elizabeth Berja

Well-Stuffed



DEAR LETTER WRITERS:

I, for one, am full to the gizzard with the current "Right vs. Left" editorial page controversy. On Tuesday we have accusations; on Thursday the recriminations.

I'm sure you can find plenty of live issues between liberals and conservatives without dragging skeletons o. of each other's well - stuffed closets.

STEVE PARKS

"How Much Will It Take To Release Us?"

Letters

Another Story From The Minor Kingdom

DEAR MINNIE,

There are many stories within this kingdom like yours, except for one thing, you had the courage to tell yours. You say you missed two meetings in the minor kingdom. Minnie why didn't you tell what goes on in those meetings? Why didn't you say they are petty and undeserving of the time they take, much less important than the time spent resting when you were ill. If the meetings are non-compulsory, let those who have nothing better to do attend them and carry on their mockery of democratic life in the kingdom. Then those who seek more serious pursuits in the kingdom could follow them uninhibited.

Ah, but this sort of thing will not come about because the rulers must have some way of exerting their petty authority. I am sure many girls living in this kingdom are aware of these methods, and are aware that exceptions to these laws are never made, no matter how extenuating the circumstances.

Let me tell another story now for those who think yours is an exception.

Once upon a time there was a girl called Lizzie, who wanted to take a trip to the outside world. Now, in order to get out, she had to fill out a paper telling everything about her trip; leaving time, destination, returning time. The paper had to be filled out twenty - four hours before she left so that she could have the minor ruler's official permission.

Well, Lizzie wasn't certain if she could take the time to go, if she would have the money to go or if she could find a ride. Tired and hurried, with only a short time to pack, Lizzie filled out the paper and mistakenly put her leaving time and date where her returning time should have been. When the minor ruler saw the mistake it was too late — Lizzie had gone! When she returned, the minor ruler sent Lizzie to the second petty court, one step above the first petty, or dragon court. (The offense was too serious to be handled by the first). Here, despite the explanation Lizzie gave she was sentenced to stay within the kingdom for eight days. She was also reminded of the consequences of failing to obey this punishment and told to "take her medicine like a big girl." (Lizzie was twenty. Lizzie took it, but she was reminded of it every time she saw it happen to other girls and every time she saw serious offenders go undisciplined, and the original purpose of seeking light forgotten, giving way to blindness.

NAME WITHHELD BY REQUEST

Reflections

Good Luck

DEAR MINNIE:

Good luck in your fight against petty bureaucracy. It is unfortunate when some people can take such advantage of such restrictions and regulations. I think that people who are interested in this sort of thing should all get together in one dormitory where they could make asinine rules to their heart's content. All too often these people lose sight of the real purpose of a university in their fight for conformity and subordination.

ROBERT HARVEY

Vocal Opioion

TO THE EDITOR:

I understand that Mr. Sanchez was considering resigning his post on the Flambeau staff because he felt that the student body was not pleased with his "radical" ideas. I certainly do not agree with Mr. Sanchez on every point but I for one, am very pleased that the man not only has opinions but voices them!

When I picked up a copy of the Flambeau and read an article which is entirely contrary to the opinions held in this section of the country, I am reminded that I still live in "the land of the free. . . "

MARY ANN STEVENS

Appalled

I am appalled at the lack of student and faculty response to letters by Mr. Peter Rice, Mr. Gerry Dobson, and Mr. Roland Eves encouraging longer hours for the Robert Manning Strozier Library! As it is the library is geared to that minority—however significant — of women students in residence. This means that other serious students must submit to enforced hours most inconvenient to their studies to the inconvenient weekday hours and ridiculous weekend hours of the library. How frustrating it is to look forward to the weekend in hopes of having time to do some serious studying and then to realize that the library is closed most of the time! A worthwhile degree students, stems from being able to take advantage of unlimited study and research opportunities. Should we not cry out in defense of our educations and careers? I would like to join Mr. Rice, Mr. Dobson, and Mr. Eves in a plea for more accessible study facilities in our academic community.

GARY THOMPSON

Coma Gets A Party Cabinet Appointment

By LESLIE POWELL

Coma in the rush of new cabinet appointments, got herself appointed to the campus branch of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

THEREFORE, NOBODY was surprised when she showed up in the Pseudo Shop wearing her magnifying glass disguised as a monacle, carrying a pin-striped cane in a charcoal shade, and with the faithful recording secretary, one Jackolantern Von Mathis trailing along behind, wagging her notepad.

Jackolantern was severely got up in a form fitting tape recorder (which later proved a nuisance, as it recorded such delicate sounds as the closing of fingers on pinched flesh, which caused the Committee to ban the tape from public hearing, naturally.)

LOOKING ABOUT, Coma saw signs. "Hoo ha," she shouted, "What have we here? Cuban sandwiches! Subversive sandwiches! Great Scott, von Mathis, get The Man on the phone, you hear?"

"Yessum," answered the noble secretary, removing one canvas clad foot from the face of an avid tourist interested in ankles. Von Mathis, unstrapping her walkie - talkie, rang up the number of one highly placed; so highly placed that his walkie-talkie number was unlisted in invisible ink.

"THAT YOU?" SHE queried of the answering voice. The voice said something Jackolantern listened wide-eyed to the anecdote. "You vulgar man," she said haughtily when given the chance to speak, "tell me another one."

"Down to business there girl," Coma said. "You did get JFK Bird on that line, did'nt you?"

"YESSUM,"VON MATHIS told Coma. And to the unseen voice she mumbled "You're another, but that's not what we had to report. No. We have a case here in the Pseudo Shop. Yes. They're selling Cuban sandwiches to all these nice young people. I don't know, bossman, whether or not these subversive sandwiches have infected anybody or not. All I know is I got hold of one with sweet pickle instead of kosher dill, and that seems to prove to me that the sandwiches are pretty doggone subversive, not to mention prejudiced."

"Hold that line, girl," Coma urged. "Not only do they got subversive sandwiches, but they're mixing chocolate syrup and vanilla ice cream."

"OH MY, OH MY," von Mathis repeated to her listener. "It's almost as bad as the Johnstown flood. They're mixing chocolate syrup and vanilla ice cream. Not only that, bossman, but when I bit into my triple scoop cone, I found out where the kosher dills are too, and I consider that downright implicating."

The walkie talkie emitted strangling noises.

"Don't know no cure, boss," Jackolantern, sympathized. "Never been seasick in a swivel chair before."

AND SO THE GREAT investigation dragged on. The Pseudo Shop denounced the committee on the grounds that irresponsible action would destroy the tremendous tourist trade. The committee countered with a proposal to build a through highway down the middle of the Pseudo Shop and feed the tourists turnips. The public hearings, in Westcott, which incidentally were not open to any but a carefully selected public, ended with APO's armed with Paper Mate pens dragging protesting Pseudo Shoppers down the marble steps on their heads. And so came to pass the first committee meeting of the Campus Branch of the HUAC but nothing was ever settled about the subversive sandwiches.

Tracksters Cop Piedmont Title

For the fourth straight year in ville, S. C., the Florida Seminoles walked away with title at the Piedmont Relays. Seminoles, who scored 81 points were pushed ahead as smashed two records—one pole vault and one in the relay.

The nearest competitor was man, which totalled 76 points. place went to The Citadel, tallied 51½ markers, while son racked up 39½ points fourth.

Hayes, who recently broke pool record against the LSU smashed his old 13-9¾ as he cleared 14-2½ for a and school record. Semi- Bill Crotty tied for second. Johnson, Bill Davis, Ter- and Quentin Till ran mile relay in 3:19.3 for a meet record.

Brocksmith, Davis, Dick erts and Leon Smith ran the medley relay in 10.42.4 first place.

Then the Seminoles grabbed sec- in the 440, sprint relay, and relay.

Clark, who set meet, track, school records in the discus put against LSU, hurled discus 146-5 and the shot mmate Al Williams finished behind Clark in both Fourth place in the shot Barry Topper.

Craig Johnson came in fourth in the 100.

George Smith was involved in a two-way tie in the high jump, while Mike OBrien was in a six-way tie for fourth place in the high jump.

TERRY LONG
. . . Speedy Seminole

Seminole Calendar

MONDAY — Tennis: The Citadel at Charleston, S. C.; Baseball: Miami at Tallahassee; Golf: Turner AFB at Albany, Ga.; Football: Spring practice.

TUESDAY — Baseball: Miami at Tallahassee (3:30); Golf: Turner AFB at Albany, Ga.; Presbyterian at Clinton, S. C.; Football: Spring practice.

WEDNESDAY — Tennis: Clemson at Clemson, S. C.; Night Football Scrimmage in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

THURSDAY — Baseball: Clemson at Clemson, S. C.; Track: Florida at Gainesville; Golf: Auburn at Tallahassee (1 p. m.); Tennis: Furman at Greenville, S. C.

FRIDAY — Baseball: Duke at Durham, N. C.

SATURDAY—Baseball: Duke at Durham, N. C.

(April 23) MONDAY — Baseball: East Carolina and North Carolina at Chapel Hill, N. C.

TUESDAY — Baseball: North Carolina State at Raleigh, N. C.; Tennis: Clemson at Tallahassee (3:30).

WEDNESDAY — Baseball: Georgia Southern at Statesboro, Ga.

FRIDAY — Freshman Baseball: Florida at Gainesville; Track: Penn Relays; Golf: Florida at Gainesville; Freshman Golf: Florida at Gainesville.

SATURDAY — Freshman Baseball: Florida at Gainesbille; Gymkana: Florida AAU at Gainesville.

SUNDAY — Soccer: St. Petersburg at Tallahassee.

(April 30) MONDAY —Freshman Baseball: Dade County Junior College at Tallahassee (3:30).

TUESDAY—Freshman Baseball: Dade County Junior College at Tallahassee (3:30).

WEDNESDAY — Tennis: Rollins at Tallahassee (1:30).

THURSDAY — Golf: Southeastern Conference Intercollegiate at Athens, Ga.

GARCIA'S
PIZZAS
SPAGHETTI
Open 7 Days A Week
Close 12:00 P.M.
320 E. TENN.
223-1177

Sticky-Fingers

Freddy Biletnikoff, who had been termed the best pass receiver to come to FSU, keyed a White touchdown Saturday as he caught a short pass and ran for a TD.

Seminole Baseball Team Meets Miami

By JOHN WOOD
Staff Sports Writer

The Golden Boys of the University of Miami are in town. They arrived yesterday for a two-game series to be finished today at Seminole field, beginning at 3:30. Satatistics say the odds are against UM winning either one.

It seems that, in the 24 times the two teams have met since the inauguration of the series in 1951, the Seminoles have won all but three games. The locals have taken the last eight in a row against Miami and haven't lost to the Hurricanes since 1958.

By all indications, the lad to watch on the FSU team will be a bespectacled stormy shortstop Woody Woodward. The 6-2, 175-pound sophomore is following in the cleatsteps of another Seminole shortstop who has hit the big time. Dick Howser, now with the Kansas City A's in the American League cellar, missed American League rookie-of-the-year honors last season by a slim margin. He graduated from Florida State in 1958.

Coach Danny Litwhiler sees Woodward as another Howser, judging from his performance this season. In the 13 games this season, Woodward has hit safely in each and leads the regulars with a batting average of .481. He also leads in extra base hits (12), with three homers, four triples, and five doubles. He is tops in RBI's also, with 17.

Faculty-Student Tourney Starts

The Faculty-Student mixed doubles tournament will be played beginning April 24 and the deadline for entering is Thursday, April 19.

Plenty of students have indicated an interest, but the entry lists are still short of many faculty members, according to Miss Ann Lankford, faculty sponsor of the club. Entries should be filed at the Montgomery Women's Gymnasium.

Racquettes Bob Rollins

Even after defaulting the number four doubles match, the Racquettes gained a decisive win Gail DeLozier continued undefeated in singles play as she dropped top ranked Rocky Sullivan, 6-4 and 6-1, to lead the team's 11-7 victory.

Other match scores were Carol Riley over Sue Williams, 6-4, 6-4; Judi Dunn lost to Lin Morss, 4-6, 1-6; Dana Lenahan stopped Gay Andrews, 6-2, 6-0; Ann Lake defeated Janice Farnsworth, 4-6, 6-3 ,6-3.

Norma Moore lost to Jane Bilideau, 1-6, 6-8; Chris Padgett lost to Priss Zeigler 6-8, 0-6; Maxine Moody defeated Carole Salam, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4; Kit Logan lost to Jane Burdick 0-6, 5-7; Priscilla McKnight outplayed Judy Robb, 6-8, 6-4, 6-1; Nancy Barnes won over Gloria Pasternack, 10-8, 7-5; and Mary Mac Owens defeated Sandy McLeod, 6-2, 6-0.

In doubles, DeLozier and Lenahan defeated Sullivan and Williams, 6-1 and 6-1; Riley and Dunn won over Morss and Andrews, 6-3, 6-3; Moody and Logan lost to Bilideau and Farnsworth 2-6, 6-8; Barnes and Padgett defaulted to Zeigler and Robb; Lake and McKnight defeated Salman and Burdick 7-5, 6-1; and Moore and Owens stopped Pasternack and McLeod 6-4, 6-4.

In Saturday's Scrimmage

Whites Down Reds

The White team of the Florida State football team came from behind Saturday afternoon to defeat the Red team in a game like scrimmage in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

Led by quarterback Charlie Calhoun, who seems determined to hold onto his first string position, the Whites outscored the Reds, 19-6.

The Reds scored the first touchdown in the first quarter when fullback Johnny Roberts plunged two yards over the goal.

Then in the second quarter, the Whites tied the score as halfback Ken Russom traveled the four yard distance off left tackle to reach paydirt. John Harlee, who kicked the crucial field goal in the 3-3 Florida game, then kicked the only successful PAT of the day.

In the same quarter, senior Keith Kinderman, whose powerful running stood out like the teams' two colors, caught a 17-yard pass from Calhoun to set up a touchdown play. Kinderman followed this up by bursting across the goal for the TD.

The third touchdown came after quarterback Ed Pritchett hurled a short one to end Fred Biletnikoff, who twisted and turned 68 yards to the goal.

Other outstanding performances came from fullback Dave Synder, end John McConnaughhay and halfback Winfred Bailey.

Synder stole a pass from Red quarterback Jimmy Seaward, an Auburn transfer, to hold a dangerous drive of the opposition.

The passing game looked up as McConnaughhay caught regularly and as Bailey caught about seven consecutive passes from quarterback Ed Loveless.

Two injuries came out of the scrimmage.

Kinderman aggravated an old injury by straining the ligaments in his ankle, while Seaward separated his left shoulder.

Practices are scheduled this week on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. The Wednesday practice will be held under the lights at Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

The spring drills will be climaxed by a Varsity - Alumni clash on May 5. The alumni, which will be coached by Ken MacLean, Florida High mentor and Former FSU gridder, have been practicing recently. The alumni are expected to don uniforms in Wednesday's drill.

Letters, Letters

The sports desk has received approximately 203 signatures endorsing the idea of inviting Florida A&M to the Florida Invitation track meet here next month. We have not received any letters opposing the idea. There has also not been a reply from Vaughn Mancha, FSU athletic director, concerning the school's policy in the matter.

Netters Drop Cincy In 6 To 3 Match

The Cincinnati tennis team, coached by former FSU netter John Powless, tumbled Saturday as Florida State triumphed, 6-3.

The Seminoles won four singles against Cincinnati's two and then took four of the six doubles matches.

FSU's consistent winner in the singles, Paul Scarpa, was true to form as he socked John Kline, 7-5 and 11-9, in the singles.

Gordy Smith gave FSU its second victory as he mowed down Art Kunz, 8-6 and 6-3. Ed Fasula dropped Larry Whitaker, 6-2, in the first set and then was defeated, 2-6,in the second bout. He bounced back in the third set to triumph 6-2.

Jamie Jamieson of Florida State had the same trouble with the second set as he dropped Hal Busch 8-6, 4-6, 6-1.

Cincinnati's first victory came as Richard Ispording downed netter-ager Wally Dale, 6-4, 6-1. Then Cincy took its second singles win as Allen Rosenburg defeated Bob Berry, 6-1, 8-6.

Scarpa and Smith opened the doubles matches with a 9-7, 6-3 spanking of Kline and Kunz. Then Fasula and Jamieson dropped Whitaker and Bush in two 6-3 sets. Isporing and Rosenburg teamed up to sock Dale and Berry, 6-3 and 6-2.

SUMMER JOBS in EUROPE
THE 'new' WAY TO SEE & 'live' EUROPE
Specializing in 'European Safaris'
For summer jobs or tours write: American Student Information Service, 22, Avenue de la Liberte, Luxembourg-City Grand Duchy of Luxembourg

COIN OPERATED
☆ DRY CLEANING
10 LBS. FOR 6 QUARTERS
☆ STEAM PRESS
COIN OPERATED
☆ AND LAUNDRY
WASHERS AND DRYERS
Open 24 Hrs. Daily
The Pink Spot
LOCATED OPPOSITE SEARS ON LAFAYETTE ST.
COIN OPERATED LAUNDRY
Koin Kleen
Behind Winn Dixie—South Monroe St.

at your TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

FLORIDA
Last Day
"Sail A Crooked Ship"
ELVIS PRESLEY
in his newest All-Color and first All-Florida hit!
"Follow That Dream"
PERRY HIGHWAY OUTDOOR
Last Times Tonight
Showing at 7:45
Paul Newman
"Sweet Bird of Youth"
Also at 9:55
Robert Stack
"The Last Voyage"

STATE
Today & Wednesday
Laurence Harvey
Geraldine Page
"SUMMER AND SMOKE"
Technicolor.
CAPITOL DRIVE-IN ON WOODVILLE HWY.
Tonite & Wednesday
In COLOR at 7:45
Jeff Chandler
"Return To Peyton Place"
-also- at 9:55
Anthony Quinn
"Wild Is The Wind"

An invitation to shape your own future...

A graduate seeking his way in the world has the best opportunity of achieving his goal if he starts with firm ground under his feet. This is an assurance at General Telephone.

As a major communications company, "Gen Tel" has the solid stability of a public utility, together with the added stability that is a substance of growth.

In addition, General Telephone Companies make every effort to provide the best living climate for all employees. Salaries and benefits are comparable to those offered by other stable industries. Those seeking positions with General Telephone are assured of paid vacations, paid holidays, military leave, tuition aids, disability benefits, military, insurance, pensions and stock purchase plans.

As a step toward planning your future, ask your Placement Director for a copy of our brochure on Management Careers.

Employment Opportunities:
The General Telephone Company of Southeast has many employment opportunities for college-trained people. Contact your Placement Office for full information.

GENERAL TELEPHONE
America's Largest Independent Telephone System
GENERAL SYSTEM

Then lend an ear to our message!

If being in a business that can be built from your own ability and imagination sounds appealing, you should look into the possibilities of life insurance sales and sales management. The opportunities are limitless —and you can get started now, while you're still in college.

Our booklet, "Career Opportunities", will give you a good picture of what the life insurance business can mean to you. Just write or phone us.

DICK D'ALEMBERTE
Manager
P.O. BOX 66
Chattahoochee, Florida

lively Mikki Pellettieri, Tulane '63

Cautheme born Mikki Pellettieri now calls Houston, Texas, her home. She's Secretary of the Tulane Student Council.

lives it up with this lively One from Ford '62: the new Fairlane 500 Sports Coupe!

Mikki Pellettieri, a Year Book Beauty, has her mind on Psychology and her eye on the all-new Fairlane 500 Sports Coupe. This Fairlane "a la king" combines trimmed-for-action outside dimensions with carriage trade interior appointments, between-seats console, and snug-fitting bucket seats. An optional torrid Challenger 260 V-8 engine delivers high-velocity performance on regular gas. See the exciting Fairlane 500 Sports Coupe and all the Lively Ones at your Ford Dealer's—the liveliest place in town!

A PRODUCT OF Ford MOTOR COMPANY

Whence Comes Campus Milk? FSU Dairy, Of Course

STORY AND PHOTOS BY DAVID KELMECKIS
Flambeau Feature Writer

How many students notice what is written on the caps of bottles of milk consumed in the various eating establishments on campus? Other than a few voracious readers who visually consume every printed word, no one ever seems to notice the small letters "FSU Dairy" on the bottle cap, but all the milk sold on campus comes from this source.

4800 HALF PINTS

The dairy consists of 750 acres of land located off Lake Bradford road and adjoining Alumni Village. Although it is relatively close to the campus, its existence is not generally known to most students. Its primary function is to provide FSU and the University School with approximately 4800 half pints of milk daily.

The dairy is managed by Merrill Futch and run by Futch and six employees.

The dairy raises all its cattle, the bulk of which is comprised by 130 milking cows. The ruffage for the cattle as well as the sillage, which consists of 80 acres of corn, is grown on the self sustaining farm. In addition, the farm provides sod for the campus as well as for a special nursery garden.

DAIRY SHRINKING

According to Futch, the part of West Campus now occupied by Tully Gymnasium, the maintenance shops and the Business Bldg. was once a part of the farm. In 1934 the dairy gave way to an expanding FSU and relinquished that land. Recently, it has lost more land for the construction of Alumni Village.

A far comparison with the dairy of former years is the present dairy with its aluminum components and milk carrying transparent pipes. The stainless steel bottling facilities and automatic milking devices assure the campus of a wholesome product. The utmost precautions have been taken, according to Futch, to insure sanitation and efficiency in the processing of the milk.

The plowed fertile fields and the rolling green acres of oats could be reminiscent of any farm. But this particular farm is different, as evidenced by the words FSU Dairy on the cap of every milk bottle on campus.

All Around Campus

JCs Cancel Meeting, Date Will Be Set

The regularly scheduled meeting of new Junior Counselors for tomorrow has been cancelled for Easter vacation. The date of the next meeting will be announced.

Robert T. Lansdale, former commissioner of the New York social welfare dept. now serving as professor of social welfare at FSU, will speak in "Public Welfare and Urban America" tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the Library Lecture Hall. The American Studies lecture series is open to the public.

Keith O. Pitchford and Dale Wooldridge represented the FSU Arnold Air Society chapter in the National Conclave in Los Angeles. Pitchford is the Wing Material Officer in the AFROTC and Wooldridge serves as Wing Comptroller.

Freshman Flunkies are planning to provide free baby sitters for FSU married students for three performances of the FSU Circus. Baby sitting dates are for evening performances Tuesday, May, 1, and Friday, May 4, and an afternoon performance Saturday, May 5. Transportation must be provided for the baby sitters. For information contact Martha Bryson at Jennie Murphree or at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. Baby sitters must be requested before April 29.

FSU Concert Band Presents Musical 'Home Show' Tonight

By KAREN CE
Flambeau Staff Writer

Florida State University's Concert Band will present its "home show" this evening at 8:15 p.m. in Opperman Auditorium.

The band will present the same program used while on tour.

One of the numbers on the program, "Bugler's Holiday," features a trumpet trio. Members of the trio are Winford Franklin, LeMoyne Roll and Gary Sheffield.

The rest of the program will include "Ballet for Young Americans" by Ralph Herman, "Italian in Algiers" by Rossini, "Folk Song Suite" by Vaughan Williams, "Psalms for Band" by Persichetti, "Court Festival" by Latham, "Au Pays Lorraine" by Balay and "West Side Story" by Leonard Bernstein.

The trio is scheduled to make an appearance in Augusta, Georgia next July and at a meeting of the Southern Division of the Music Educators National Conference sometime next year. The group also plans various appearances over Florida during the coming year.

The Faculty Woodwind Trio

. . . a newly formed group, will present its first formal concert in Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow. L to r are Nancy Fowler, oboe; Harry Schmidt, clarinet; and Ronald Waln, flute and bassoon.

Faculty Woodwind Trio

Tomorrow evening at 8:15 p.m., the Faculty Woodwind Trio will give a recital in Opperman Music Hall.

The trio, composed of Nancy Fowler, oboe, Harry Schmidt, clarinet and Ronald Waln, flute aand bassoon, will be assisted in one number by John Boda, pianist.

The program consists of "Trio No. 1 in G Major, London" by Haydn, "Ronde des Lutins" by Kriens, "Sonata for Flute, Oboe, Clarinet and Piano" by Mihhaud, "Cinq Pieces en Trio" by Ibert, "Sonata Espaniole" by Zachara and "Trio for Oboe, Clarinet and Bassoon" by Badings.

Reservation

The Reservation will be open during the Easter Holidays, Thursday through Sunday from 2 to 7 p.m.

New Greenwich Village theater and art center. Opening Sept. Room and board $27-$32.50 per wk. Apply 160 Bleecker St., NYC.
RENAISSANCE HOUSE

When & Where

TODAY

Dr. S. J Bauer will be the guest of honor at the Physics Faculty Luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in the Faculty Club.

• • •

Angel Flight interviews will be conducted at 2 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge.

• • •

"Topside Ionospheric Sounding" will be the topic of Dr. S. J. Bauer at the Physics Colloquim at 4 p. m. in 124 Science.

• • •

Alpha Lambda Delta will meet at 5 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

• • •

The New Orleans Seminary Choir will be featured at Vespers at the Baptist Student Union at 6 p. m.

• • •

A compulsory meeting of all candidates for class and court offices will be held at 7 p. m. in Longmire Auditorium.

• • •

The Inter - Varsity Christian Fellowship will meet at 7 p. m. in the Longmire Student Lounge.

• • •

The Concert Band will perform at 8:15 p.m. in Opperman Music Hall.

• • •

The Women's Glee Club under the direction of Miss Betty Jane Grimm will be featured on Music Hall over WFSU-TV at 8:30 p. m.

Sophomore Council will meet at 9 p. m. in Longmire Auditorium.

• • •

TOMORROW

"Research Problems of Graduate Students" will be discussed by a panel at the Higher Education Seminar at 2 p.m. in the Education Bldg. Lounge. Panelists are Joe Carson, Douglas Montgomery, Charles McKinney and Dave Robinson.

• • •

The Faculty Senate will meet at 4 p. m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

• • •

The examination in defense of the dissertation of Elton Frank will be at 4 p. m. in 225-C Westcott. The title of the dissertation is "William Gager's Ulysses Redux (1592) A facsimile Edition and an English Tradition.

• • •

Angel Flight interviews will be conducted at 7 p. m. in the Faculty Lounge, Longmire.

• • •

Sigma Delta Pi will meet at 7 p. m. in the Longmire Club Room.

Robert Lansdale will speak on "Public Welfare and Urban America" at the Program in American Studies at 7:30 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

• • •

The Young Americans for Freedom will meet at 8 p. m. in the Longmire Student Lounge.

• • •

Problems of adjustment to college life will be examined on insight at 8 p.m. over WFSU-TV, Channel 11.

• • •

The Woodwind Trio will present a faculty recital at 8:15 p.m. in Opperman Music Hall.

• • •

THURSDAY

Easter holidays begin at noon.

Dr. Allan Thomson will discuss W. H. Auden's poem, "The Age of Anxiety" and Leonard Bernstein's music of the same name will be played along with the discussion of the poem on the Humanities Hour at 8 p.m. over WFSU-FM.

• • •

Soviet vs. U. S. Economic growth will be discussed by Dr. W. C. Cash on Frontiers of Knowledge at 8 p.m. over WFSU-TV.

Florida Beta Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity announces the Pledge Project of donating one pint of blood each to the chapter blood bank. This blood may be used for any member of the donator's family and has also been donated to FSU professors, students and local citizens.

★ ★ ★

Courtesy of
TALLAHASSEE BARBER COLLEGE
Parkway Shopping Center — Phone 224-3944
Sanitary Prompt Service — Closed Monday

BLACK & WHITE FILM 620—120—127 — 3 ROLLS 88c
8 MM. KODACHROME, Processing Included — $3.69
WESTINGHOUSE NO. 5 FLASH BULBS, doz. — $1.30
FOR PRICES AND QUALITY, SEE
CHEVET'S Your Camera Shop
Adams at College

Visit
FAIR'S BEAUTY SALON
549 W. Park Ave.
Phone 224-8351
The Beauty Salon Nearest to Campus

On Campus with Max Shulman
(Author of "Rally Round The Flag, Boys", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.)

CRAM COURSE No. 3: ENGLISH POETRY

Final exams will soon be upon us. This is no time for fun and games. Let us instead study hard, cram fiercely, prepare assiduously.

In this column today let us make a quick survey of English poetry. When we speak of English poetry, we are, of course, speaking of Byron, Shelley, and Keats. Some say that of the three, Keats was the most talented. It is true that he displayed his gifts earlier than the others. While still a schoolboy at St. Swithin's he wrote his epic lines:

If I am good, I get an apple,
So I don't whistle in the chapel.

From this distinguished beginning, he went on to write another 40,000 poems in his lifetime—which is all the more remarkable when you consider that he was only five feet tall!

I mention this fact only to show that physical problems never keep the true artist from creating. Byron, for example, was lame. Shelley had an ingrown hair. Nonetheless, these three titans of literature turned out a veritable torrent of romantic poetry.

Nor did they neglect their personal lives. Byron, a devil with the ladies, was expelled from Oxford for dipping Elisabeth Barrett's pigtails in an inkwell. He thereupon left England to fight in the Greek war of independence. He fought bravely and well, but women were never far from his mind, as evidenced by this immortal poem:

How splendid it is to fight for the Greek,
But I don't enjoy it half as much as dancing cheek to cheek.

While Byron fought in Greece, Shelley remained in England, where he became court poet to the Duke of Marlborough. (It is interesting to note in passing that Marlborough was the original spelling of Marlboro Cigarettes, but the makers were unable to get the entire word on the package. With characteristic ingenuity they cleverly lopped off the final "gh". This, of course, left them with a "gh" lying around the factory. They looked for some place to put it and finally decided to give it to the Director of Sales, Mr. Vincent Van Go. This had a rather curious result. As plain Van Go, he had been a crackerjack director of sales, but once he became Van Gogh, he felt a mysterious, irresistible urge to paint. He resigned from the Company and became an artist. It did not work out too well. When Van Gogh learned what a great success Marlboro Cigarettes quickly became—as, of course, they had to with such a flavorful flavor, such a filterful filter, such a flip-top box, such a soft pack—he was so upset about leaving the firm that he cut off his ear in a fit of chagrin.)

But I digress. Byron, I say, was in Italy and Shelley in England. Meanwhile Keats went to Rome to try to grow. Who does not remember his wistful lyric:

Although I am only five feet high,
Some day I will look in an elephant's eye.

But Keats did not grow. His friends, Shelley and Byron, touched to the heart, rushed to Rome to stretch him. This too failed. Then Byron, ever the ladies' man, took up with Lucrezia Borgia, Catherine of Aragon, and Annie Oakley. Shelley, a more domestic type, stayed home with his wife Mary, and wrote his famous poem:

I love to stay home with the missus and write,
And hug her and kiss her and give her a bite.

Mary Shelley finally got so tired of being bitten that she went into another room and wrote Frankenstein. Upon reading the manuscript, Shelley and Byron got so scared they immediately booked passage home to England. Keats tried to go too, but he was so small that the clerk at the steamship office couldn't see him over the top of the counter. So Keats remained in Rome and died of a broken heart.

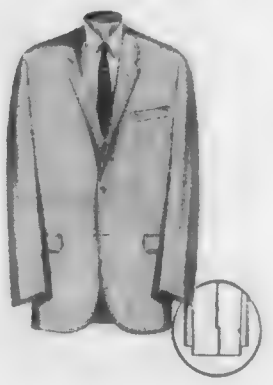
Byron and Shelley cried a lot and then together composed this immortal epitaph:

Good old Keats, he might have been short,
But he was a great American and a heck of a good sport.

© 1962 Max Shulman

• • •

Truth, not poetry, is the business of the Marlboro makers, and we tell you truly that you can't find a better tasting, better smoking cigarette than today's Marlboro.



Erik the Red had no choice—but Vitalis with V-7 will keep your hair neat all day without grease. Naturally. V-7 is the greaseless grooming discovery. Vitalis® with V-7® fights embarrassing dandruff, prevents dryness, keeps your hair neat all day without grease. Try Vitalis today!

FAIVER'S
Phones: 222-4378, 222-9166
STUDENT SPECIALS
WE DELIVER TO YOUR DORM
PIZZA PIE
9" Tom. & Cheese Pizza
75c Reg. $1.00
★ ★ ★
12" Tom. & Cheese Pizza
$1.25 Reg. $1.50
★ ★ ★
Each Additional Item 15c Each on 9" and 12"
Mushrooms, bell pepper, pepperone, sausage, meat sauce, shrimp, oysters, anchovies.

Devoted to Tradition...

OUR DUKE MODEL SUIT
This trim suit has become the classic of natural tailoring. College Hall's nineteen years of fashion experience gives it an unequalled authenticity of detail. The jacket is lap-seamed with deep hook vent . . . the trim-cut trousers are pleatless. We feature it in traditional fabrics that are "naturally" more comfortable, give you complete fashion assurance. from $42.50

nic's toggery

EASY TO REACH!
219 E. THIRD AVE.
Around the corner from the Carriage Shop . . . or turn off the Thomasville Road.
Ph. 224-8000
For Pickup and Delivery Call 224-8000

STORE YOUR CLOTHING FOR THE SUMMER PAY IN THE FALL
A complete storage service, mothproofed, insured, fur storage, economical box storage and bag storage. Guaranteed satisfaction.

OTHER SERVICES:
Waterproofing, dying, reweaving, rug cleaning, laundry and alterations.

We Specialize In Formal and Evening Wear

TIMELY CLEANERS

OPEN WIDE and SAY A-H-H-H!
Get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!
Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by: Tallahassee Coca-Cola Bottling Company

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Florida's First Semi-Weekly College Newspaper

Vol. XLVIII, No. 46

Published By The Students Of Florida State University

Friday, April 27, 1962

Senate Is To Act On New Budget

By GAYLE MOTES
Flambeau Staff

If the proposed Student Activities Budget for 1962- approved by Student Senate, Wednesday, $107,916 be appropriated to student organizations.

only drastic change in the is the elimination of av- ations to Spring Formal the Student Artist Series. Milwee, Undersecretary of explained that the Bud- mmittee decided not to ate any money to Spring because there were stu- anizations which merited ey more than the dance Milwee also explained that e has not been a profit- ably.

ded that the Artist Ser- an independent entity is able to function on a making basis without the University funds.

DENT PARTICIPATION

main thing we were in- d in," explained Milwee, o appropriate all the funds fair, impartial basis. We concerned in aiding those zations the students get the t of by measurement of t participation and interest anizations."

also explained that in funds the committee to find out as closely as e funds needed to see funds were managed, to see that the most worthy ions received first con- ion.

re we are functioning in trimesters with slightly funds than we had to op- with in two semesters we really pressed for mon- he asserted.

most money alloted under roposed budget is $29,500 will go for Tally-Ho pub- This is a cut of $395 since The next highest ap- on will go th the Flam- anch will receive $26,685 in contrast with the $22,543 which was alloted last year. The Budget has a stipulation which states that the sum alloted is based on the Flambeau's continuation as a paper printed by letterpress. If the paper is printed by an offest press next year the sum representing the difference in cost will be transferred to the Student Activities Budget Reserve.

CLASSES

All Classes requested $400 but will be alloted the $200 they presently receive. Forensic appropriations have been increased from $1,800 to $2,300. Collegians will continue to receive $800. Under the proposed allotments Men's Intramurals will be appropriated $3,675 and Women's Intramurals will receive $1,400.

Choral Union will receive $700, Symphony Orchestra will be allotted $1,000, University Singers will be given $2,000, Women's Glee Club will be appropriated $600 and the Opera Guild will receive $700.

Under the proposed Budget the Smoke Signals will be alloted $4,285 and FSU's literary anthology, The Legend will receive $1,000.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

Under other proposed appropriations the International Club will receive $300, Student Travel will receive $1,200. Racquettes will be given $250, while $3,000 will be alloted to Gymkana. The cheerleaders will be appropriated $200 and the Married Students will receive $300.

Six hundred dollars will go to Theater Dance and $1,000 will go to Tarpon Club.

In the field of Student Government's Senate will be alloted $670 and Student Government in general will receive $7,300.

Remaining funds will be divided between the Budget Reserve and Surplus Funds. The Budget Reserve will be alloted $3,221 and Surplus Funds will be appropriated $13,000.

THEY FLY THROUGH THE AIR

. . . with the greatest of ease as the Sunshine Trio consisting of Ron Tracy, Dick Kaeslin, and Judy Allen swing through their paces practicing for the upcoming Circus Weekend May 4, 5, and 6.

Circus Headlines Family Weekend

Classrooms And Dormitories Will Be Open May 4-6 For Students And Families

By JIM SMITH
Flambeau Staff Writer

The annual Family Weekend at Florida State University will begin Friday, May 4, and run through Sunday, May 6.

The University will open classrooms and dormitories to students and their families next weekend with the student "Flying High Circus," headlining as the main attraction.

"The greatest Collegiate Show on Earth," will perform nightly at 8 p.m. next Tuesday through Friday with two big shows Saturday a t5:30 and 8:30 p.m. According to Coaches Jack Haskin and Ad Gilbert, this year's circus features new costumes, new back banners, a variety of new colorful lighting techniques, and, of course, the huge new colorful big top.

TICKETS SALES

Tickets for the Circus performance are on sale at the Athletic Ticket Office in Tully Gymnasium at $1.50 for non-students and $.75 for students for reserved seats and $1.25 for non-students and $.50 for students for general admission.

The coaches have advised against waiting to get tickets for the Saturday night show, which are sure to be sold out since these are the performances set especially for Family Weekend.

Family Weekend activities begin Friday night with a track meet at Florida High between FSU, the Universities of Florida, Georgia and Miami and Georgia Tech. At 8:15 a.m. the seventy-six voice University Singers will present a free concert in Westcott Auditorium.

Saturday, a baseball game between FSU and Gulf Coast Junior College will begin at 10 a.m., and at noon a big picnic at Game's Woods will be highlighted by performances by the Army and Air Force Drill Teams, Angel Flight and the Circus Clowns.

Some of the highlights of the Circus include the one - wheelers with four performers on a unicycle and an aerial act with two men and two coeds in a series of spins climaxed with the women suspended by loops around their necks and whirling like tops.

The "precarious Perch," has a pretty young lady doing hand stands on top of a pole while her partner balances the pole twenty feet below. The flying act concludes the show featuring Dorothy Gilmore executing a double somersault. She is one of the two people in the world who is capable of performing this trick.

MORE PARENTS

Coach Haskin commented that everything "points to the fact that there should be more parents on campus this weekend than during Homecoming. The tent, lights and poles are all brand new. The costumes and effects should provide a beautiful show."

The 21 piece Circus band directed by Charles Carter will provide the music as the grand entrance begins the show. The entire Circus troupe of 14 members will parade in costume around the new huge red and white big top.

The show proceeds with nineteen acts which include the double Trapeze: Rola and Juggling; Balancing and Triple Trap; Bicycles and Hand Balancing; Clown Lamp Post, Acrobatics Swinging Ladders; Cloud Swings; Clown Knife Throwing; Skating and Unicycles; Two Lane and Three Lane Break Away; Clown Walk Around; Swinging Traps, Rings, and Shoot through the Ladder; Clown Fish Act; Perch Acts; Spanish Webs Quartette Adagio; Clown Operation; and the grand finale, The Double Flying Act.

ENTHUSIASTIC

The circus troupe is very enthusiastic about this year's show, the coaches said. The new big top insures them of not being "rained out" any night of the week. Some of the troupe commented that they are very excited about the new tent. It allows the troupe to see their audience more closely and to be able to play directly to the people and not to a grand stand. They added that the new tent will give a bigger thrill to performers and audience by giving a more personal touch and allowing for better showmanship to develop.

After the two circus performances on Saturday, open house will be held at men's residence halls and fraternities. Sorority houses and dormitories will be decorated on a Circus theme with one huge decoration on Landis Green built by the fraternities.

For parents who stay as long as Sunday afternoon, FSU has coordinated activities with tours of distinctive Tallahassee homes and the opening of the Tallahassee Art Festival.

Phi Beta Kappa Announces Election Of 35 New Members

The Alpha of Florida Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa honor society has announced the election of 35 new members.

Selected from among liberal arts students for outstanding scholarship, new members include one junior, 22 seniors graduating in June, 11 recent graduates and one alumna member.

The oldest national honor society in the United States, Phi Beta Kappa was organized in 1776 by students of the College of William and Mary at Williamsburg, Va. Alpha of Florida Chapter was installed at the Florida State College for Women in March, 1935.

FIRST GREEK SOCIETY

The first of all "Greek-letter" secret societies (although it has not been secret for a hundred years its meetings were devoted to literary exercises and debates. Its founders later distinguished themselves in public life.

Dr. Marion E. Doro, elected as an alumna member, currently is a Ford Foundation Fellow doing research in political science in Kenya. Dr. Doro received a B.A. degree from FSU in 1951 and an M.A. degree in 1952. The Ph.D. was received from Pennsylvania in 1958.

MEMBERS

New members include:

Barbara L. Hepp, junior (Spanish).

Patricia F. Alexander, senior, (Spanish); Harry R. Baitinger, graduated June, 1961 (economics); Walter T. Blackshear, senior (mathematics); Clarence H. Bush Jr., senior (meteorology); John P. Crews, Jan. '62 (mathematics); Hugh L. Davis, senior (social science).

Penelope C. Diehl, senior (English); Hans O. Doerr, Aug. '61 (psychology); Eugene C. Edel, Jan. '62 (psychology); Frances B. Exum, senior (Spanish); Susan K. Fisher, (history); Gwendolyn Sue Floyd, senior (art); Timothy C. Galvin, senior (engineering science); Robert M. Holley Jr. senior (meteorology); Stinson H. Lenkerd, senior (mathematics).

Mrs. Maria Malby, Jan. '62 (German); Theresa B. Marchetta, senior (history); Frank J. Miller, senior (German); Sharon L. Moses, senior (mathematics); Bernard L. Palmer, Aug. '61 (mathematics); Glenda Powers, June '61 (English); Robert E. Reiman, June '61 (geography); Mabel W. Shaw, senior (anthropology).

Albert T. Siegrist, senior (mathematics); Nancie Lou Sill, senior (medical technology); Daniel L. Solomon, senior (mathematics); Joyce Ann Story, senior (French); Barbara E. Syfrett, senior (English); Barbara J. Walker, senior (medical technology); Louise A. Ward, Jan. '62 (sociology); John C. Wells Jr., senior (mathematics); Richard N. Westaway, Jan. '62 (history); Rosa N. Wilson, Aug. '61 (English).

Liberal Forum

Dr. Adamavic, a Yugoslavian nationalist, will be the speaker at the Liberal Forum on Sunday evening at the Unitarian Chapel at 7:30.

A visiting professor in Economics, Dr. Adamavic will speak on "Yugoslavia: East-West." Dr. Adamavic received his Ph.D. from Ohio University.

Sophomore Council Taps New Members

One hundred and thirty-five freshmen women were tapped for Sophomore Council, Tuesday.

Present and new Council members attended a get - together breakfast Wednesday morning at the Seminole Club. Wednesday afternoon Dean of Women Katherine Warren, Assistant Dean of Women Elizabeth Lynn and Sherrod Campbell, Sophomore Council president for 1960-61, were speakers at the initiation of new members.

Later there was a Dutch treat box supper, followed by a short meeting. Lynne Gordon, president of Sophomore Council announced that new officers will be elected Tuesday, May 1.

New Sophomore Council members are:

TAPPED

Patricia C Alagood Raines Aldrich Dianne L Alexander Debby Allen, Kathy Alonso Lillian J Amos Patricia L Anderson Valerie Barnes Susan Gail Bohner Elizabeth Jean Bell Julia Byrd Bennett, Margaret L Bennett Debbie Bennett Katherine B Burton Barbara Boetema Gloria J Boren, Donna Rae Brannin Martha Anne Brason Deedee Butcher Susan Campbell Diane Marylyn Chinn Dorothy F Clark Mary Carolyn Cook Jean Ann Cox Karen Kay Cornelius, Suzanne Gay Counts, Laurel Jean Crawley, Patricia Ann Curry Barbara Scott Davis, Ellen Anne Davis Irene Dixon, Carolyn J Dolina

Carol Bell Dorsey Ruth E Doyle, Dale Ann Dunsmore Bonnie S Egan, Susan Karen Fincher, Sandra G Finney Tina L Fletcher, Teressa Mae Gammage Betty Gardner, Susan Lynn Garrett Al vida Anne Gentzen Penelope George, Pamela Jean Gustrap Shirley H Gordon Julie Gore, Sharon Ann Grimes, Linda Anne Gross, Pamela J Hall Shirley J Hardison, Linda S Hoffman Ann Horne Paige P. Horne, Sylvia Jane Hudson, Sharon Ann Hull, Flora G. Humphreys

Sharon Hutchinson, Mary Grey James, Christina A. Janz, Betty L Jenkins, Marilyn J Johnson, Carolyn Jones, Wilda F Jones, Barbara L Kahn, Laurie Kerney, Joyce Killian, Bobbie Lee King, Patsy Faye Kinsey, Beverly A Kleep, Margie Jean Klink Georgia A Knobloch Susana G Lacayo, Linda Lagrone, Carolyn Langford, Josephine E. Larrache Roberta H Lipscomb, Judith L. Lowe, Marsha Anne Lynn Caroline K Magee, Effie Darleen Malouf, Benita C Mathison, Mary Susan Mauger, Virginia R McMath Barbara R. Merrill, Betsy Meyer, Martha Ann Meyer, Marilyn O Miklos Paula Frances Miller, Harriett A Murphree, Mary L Murphy

Jennifer R Neugarten, Martha G. Orth, Linda R. Outlaw, Christine J Padgett, Dana D Pharr, Sue F. Phillips, Cheryl Ann Pittman, Marianna R. Protsman, Barbara Gail Read, Carole E. Renfroe, Susanna Cary Ross, Judy Rowell, Linda L Rountree, Lynne Marie Rogers, Maria Sartar, Dare M. Schenk, Pat Scott, Mudith Ann Seymour, Donna Lou Shaw, Susan Sheehan, Yvonne L. Summers

Mary Anne Sparks, Sharon Lee Spencer, Lucy F. Spivey, Sharon L Stewart, Donna Mae Stinton, Mary C Stockbauer, Mary E Stone, Linda Jane Thoureen, Diana Frost Todd, Janet P. Townsend, Donna M Trantham, Martha Tinsley Treat, Vicki Lou Vann, Pamela Jean Warner, June Elyse Ward, Linda Sue Wardle, Jan Watson, Joel B Weddle, Vicki Kittie Wilson, Texas Wiltshire, Jean M Woodley, Joyce M Woods

ODK Convention

Johnny Smith, student body vice president-elect, and Dr. J. M Plant of the Florida State University faculty represented FSU at the Omicron Delta Kappa convention at the University of Georgia April 13 and 14.

Omicron Delta Kappa is the highest national men's leadership honorary with over 100 circles, or chapters, across the nation.

The convention was a meeting of all ODK circles in the Southeastern Province which includes Florida, Georgia, North Carolina and Tennessee. These conventions are held every two years. At this convention, eight universities were represented.

According to Smith, discussions at the convention centered primarily upon improvement of membership selection methods to assure members of high quality. Other discussions concerned those activities which constitute leadership abilities and by what methods these abilities can be justly recognized.

Dr. Lou Silberman Represents Jewish Society At FSU

Dr. Lou H Silberman, Hillel Professor of Jewish Thought and Literature at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., will represent the Jewish Chautauqua Society next Tuesday and Wednesday at Florida State University.

Rabbi Silberman received his B.A. from the University of California at Berkeley and was ordained at Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1941 with the degree of M.H.L. In 1943 he received the degree of D.H.L.

In 1941-42, Dr. Silberman held the Morgenthau Fellowship and in 1942-43 the Heinsheimer Memorial Fellowship. He also served as instructor in Medieval Biblical Exegesis at Hebrew Union College.

While on campus Dr. Silberman will meet with the faculty at the Faculty Luncheon in the Trophy Room, Tuesday at 12:30. The Student Inter-Faith Council will meet with Dr. Silberman at 4 the same afternoon. At 5:30 Tuesday evening the members of Hillel, the Jewish organization on campus, will have dinner with Dr. Silberman.

Tuesday and Wednesday evenings Dr. Silberman will lecture in Longmire Auditorium at 7:30. The topic for Tuesday evening is "Religion and the Freedom of the Artist." "Between God and Man The Meaning of Revelation for the Contemporary Jew" will be the topic of discussion, Wednesday.

A panel discussion will held in the Club Room of Longmire, Wednesday at 4 p.m. on "Religion and the Arts." Dr. Jack Rollow, associate dean of Arts and Sciences, will moderate the discussion. Dr. Karl Zerbe of the Art Dept. and Dr. Thomas Wright of the Music Dept. will be on the panel along with Dr. Silberman.

Dr. Silberman lectures on college campuses under the auspices of the Jewish Chautaugua Society, an organization which seeks to create better understanding of Jews and Judaism through education.

Dr. C. Rossiter ectures Here onday Night educator and political sci- Dr Clinton Rossiter of l University, will speak on esident and Congress — at 8 p.m. in the Library re Hall, Monday.

ecture, the sixth in a se- ght sponsored by the State University Govern t, is free and open to Rossiter is John L Senior of American Institutions ell. He is the author of books including Constitutional Dictatorship, The Supreme and the Commander in and The American Presi-native of Pennsylvania, Dr. served as visiting pro- of politics at Princeton in d has been visiting lectur- the University of Chicago University of Salzburg, where he conducted a in American Studies.

a member of the board tors of the Woodrow Wil- ndation and a recipient Institute of Early Ameri- in 1953.

Ph.D. is from Princeton holds an LL.D. from Ken- ge.

THEY KEEP GOING AROUND IN CIRCLES

. . but it's all part of the act. The Wheeling Wonders, composed of (from left) Angie Seymour, Carolyn Jordon, Charlie Parkes, Kim Stratton, and Carolyn Cairnes, is only one of the acts to be seen at the circus the first week in May.

135 Seek Student Govt. Offices In Elections Tuesday

By COOKIE NEUBAUER
Flambeau Staff Writer

One hundred thirty five, a record number of candidates, will seek Student Government offices in elections Tuesday.

"Perhaps the reason for this is the influence of the two parties," suggested Nancie Sill, secretary of elections.

Due to the number of candidates there has been a great deal of confusion and violation of campaign regulations, she added. Candidates are reminded by Miss Sill that election placards are only to be placed on designated bulletin boards on campus. All posters on campus are limited to 12x18 inches. No campaign literature is to be placed on any city property. To post literature on private property consent of the owner is necessary. No other candidates' posters are to be mutilated, torn down or covered by any student, she added. Members of the Elections Committee are watching all locations where campaign posters have been placed, she said, and if any regulations are violated, a penalty will be imposed.

Before the first day of campaigning was over, 68 candidates were fined.

For the first offense a candidate is fined $1, for the second $3, for the third $10, and the fourth offense will result in automatic disqualification. She requested that every candidate check his campaign regulations sheet. Extra copies are available in the office, 103 Longmire. If anyone has any questions concerning regulations they should contact Ron Jones at 223-2912, or Jim Wilson at 2333.

SOPHOMORE CANDIDATES

Candidates for sophomore class offices are: president—Bob Kerrigan (SP) and Julian Proctor (UP); vice president—Sherman Henderson (UP), Gaines Pickett and Bob Watson (SP); secretary—Kathy Alonso (SP), Gerry Bryant (UP), Mary Lois Stone and Dee Weber; treasurer—Patty Bowman, Marilyn Johnson (UP), Linda Luna, Leslie McNevin and Carol Peters (SP); social chairman—Carolyn Jones (UP), Josie LaRoche and Sandi Staten (SP); men's senate (two posts)—Curry Bassett (UP), Allen Bird (SP), Ray M Iannucci (UP), Tom Sisco and Chris McEwan (SP); women's senate (two posts)—Joyce Killian (UP), Marsha Orth (UP), Sally Sparks, Kay Rankin (SP) and Texas Wiltshire (SP).

JUNIOR CLASS

Junior class officer candidates are: president—Tom Haney (UP) and Coley Tooke (SP); vice president—Deeno Kitchen (UP) and Mike Woods (SP); secretary—Sylvia Cashion (UP), Pattie Childs (SP), Van Miller and Boots Ratteree; treasurer—Susan Cawthon (SP) and Sandy Clary (UP); social chairman—Merrily Costello, Ann DeHoff (SP) and Martha Roberts (UP); men's senate (two posts)—Arnie Gibbs (UP), Bill Grant (SP), Bill Greenwood (SP) and Jon Kaney (UP).

SENIOR CLASS

Candidates for senior class offices are: president—Duncan Moore (UP) and Bob Sopher (SP); vice president—Bill Arnold (UP) and Wayne Edwards (SP); secretary—Peggy Bruce, Allen Lewitt (UP) and Gretchen Uzzell (SP); treasurer—Ron Boersma (UP) and Evelyn Foy (SP); social chairman—Beverly Calcert (SP), Ann Dinsmore and Nancy Gross (UP); men's senate (two posts)—Ron Edward (SP), Mitch Franks (SP), Jim Johnston (UP) and Dallas Matthews; women's senate (two posts)—Louise Bone (SP), Patti Buerke, Jimmie Langford (SP), Nancy Paluzzi (UP) and Geri Wright.

HONOR COURT

Candidates for Honor Court are: senior men (two posts): Galt Allee (UP), Ron Bissland (SP), Jim Brown, Jamie Jameison (UP) and John Wesley White (SP); senior women (two posts)—Martha Bishop (UP), Lou Perry (SP) and Nancy Sindon (UP); junior men (two posts)—Brian Bibeau, Dave Crumb, Kelley Reid (UP), Joe Rodgers (UP) and David Wiles (SP); junior women (two posts)—Bobbi Darragh (UP), Ginnie Collier, Jean Fountain (SP), Patty Warren (SP) and Carolyn Wronske (UP).

JUDICIARY

Candidates for Judiciary are: senior men (three posts)—Carl Alcorns (SP), Steve Botts (UP), George Burkhart (SP), Chuck Cutajar (UP), Pete Davis (UP) and Buddy Doty (SP); senior women (three posts)—Barbara Bates (SP), Millie Bishop (UP), Mary Lillian Jones (UP), Nancy Vann Smith (SP) and Sarah Southworth (SP); junior men (three posts)—John Brown (SP), Bill Hughes (SP), Dale Marler (SP), Matt Miller (UP) and Frank Ryll (UP); junior women (three posts)— Marty Baumrucker, Nancy Bell (SP), Margay Blasingame (SP), Betsy Boote (UP), Bobsie Carlton (SP), Patti Haer (UP) and Judy Register (UP); sophomore men (three posts)—Hines Boyd (UP), Jim B. Jones (UP), John Sytsma (SP), Mike Thackston (SP) and Bill Ward (SP); sophomore women (three posts)—Sandra Brooks (UP), Louise Carter, Betty Gardner, Irene Lopez, Dinnie Mathison, Fran Ubele, Myra Hancock (SP), Linda Hoffman (UP), Judy Loucks (SP), Dana Pharr (UP) and Jan Walker (SP).

TRAFFIC COURT

Candidates for sophomore Traffic Court (two posts) are: Virginia

(Continued on Page 6)

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members and the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Senate Absenteeism

As the school year starts into the home stretch, and student government activities and offices begin to change hands for the coming year it seems that student senate has caught a bad case of absenteeitis. This past Wednesday's meeting, which could quite possibly be considered one of the more important ones of the year, found approximately fifteen of the senators absent.

THREE SENATORS WERE justifiably absent so that they could attend the convention of the Southern Union of Student Government Associations. The rest of them, however, were absent for no reason that was readily discernable. To complicate matters further, several of the members of those present had to leave the meeting early so that they could attend the initiation of the Sophomore Councilors. This caused the meeting to be ended rather abruptly for a lack of a quorum to transact business.

Wednesday's meeting was particularly important to the operation of the University, since it was the time at which the Student Activities Budget was to be submitted for the Senate's approval. Due to the lack of a quorum being present, this article of business could not even be discussed.

WE SHOULD HOPE THAT we would not have to remind the senators of the vital importance of the Student Activities Budget, not only to all of the student organizations on campus, but also to the entire student population. However, after having had at least a week's notice that the budget would be presented at this time, it definitely seems that a number of the senators have become negligent of their responsibility, not only to their constituents, but also to the entire student body.

It seems that the time has come for many senators to decide where their responsibility lies, and to act accordingly. It also seems, as election time draws near, that it is time for the students to evaluate the representation that these senators have given, in attendance and actions in the Senate; and to decide whether they want these people to represent them for another year in this capacity.

IT SEEMS IRONIC, as one visitor to Senate was overheard to remark, that some of those absent "were probably absent so that they could campaign, so that they could be re-elected to sit in Senate." If this is so, quite possibly these senators should re-evaluate the worth of their individual campaigns.

This is the second year in which the budgeting of the Student Activity fees to the individual organizations has been put in the hands of the students. This year the total budget comes to $107,916, and means the total operating expenses of twenty-nine student organizations. Continual work has been done on this budget by the Executive branch's audit committee since the beginning of the year, and by the Senate budget committee since early November. The relative importance of this budget compared to the personal whims of some senators, is obviously immense.

THE TIME HAS DEFINITELY come for certain senators to become cognizant of the responsibility they accepted when they were elected to this office, and of the faith entrusted in them by their constituents by their election. Quite possibly it is also time for the Senate to re-evaluate their absentee system, and to reduce the number of absences allowed each senator before he is removed from office.

The Student Activities Budget, as well as other important pending business, presents a vital need for the attendance of the entire roster of senators at Senate meetings. This presents a definite challenge to this year's senate; a challenge it is hoped they will be able to meet.

J.F.S.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Let's Get Serious

Like, Mr. Hyde

By GERRY DOBSON

..What's with this guy Jack Kennedy, you know, Jackie's husband? Is he turning into a neurotic? Lately he has been exhibiting a positively Truman-like temper. First he got angry at that poor lady who asked if a couple of State Department employees were security risks, and now he has blown up at the steel companies, threatening them with all sorts of legal punishments . . . in his pique he seems to be a real Mr. Hyde-like character. . . .

BUT AMERICA CAN PROFIT greatly if we can only find a way to tap this natural resource. Imagine if we could somehow project into Jack's mind that Castro and Khrushchev are really steel moguls. We might start to win the cold war instead of bumping along with the knee jerk foreign policy we have had since the end of world war two. And just think the benefits which might be obtained if we could con Walter Reuther or George Meany into asking Jackie's husband if there are any security risks in the State Department. We might even get away from the dual standards of raises for the workers, but none for the corporations and their thousands of stockholders. Perhaps we should try hypnotism.

It is noteworthy that DeGraff Hall is going to be turned into a freshman dorm next year . . . in fact, instead of just in practice. I suppose it is part of a liberal education to expose Graduate girls who did their undergraduate work elsewhere to the wonders of FSU's women's rules.

A NOTE ON OUR MARVELOUS phone system. One poor sucker, unused to the intricicies of our switchboard and smiling operators, tried to place a long distance call from Miami to an FSU extension. After reaching the University operator, and feeding over a dollar into the pay phone, the operator tried the extension and said "sorry, that extension is busy, please try again in a few minutes." Click.

Say, what ever happened to the celebrated Women's apartment bill? And who has hidden the Sweet Shop, Bill's and the Mecca?

WE HAVE HEARD ALL about the wonders of the two-party system here at FSU. But really now, what good are two parties if neither has an ideological base? As far as I have been able to figure out, neither The University Party nor brand "X" has a platform, and therefore all a person can do is vote for his friends, vote against his enemies, and support all the ugly boys and all the good looking girls. This last is a male viewpoint. Girls will reverse the procedure.

Got hit twice today. Saw this guy with a beard and said, "boy, this certainly is a nice day for Confederate Memorial Day. I understand that you guys are going to be the color guard for the services. By the way when is your weekend?" then he hit me. I hadn't seen his prophet shoes and lack of a haircut. I vowed I wouldn't repeat that error, so I said to the next bearded one I saw, "hey, man, like how's it going? This weather is really Neatsville, eh?" He hit me. I hadn't noticed his Confederate uniform.

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914

ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59

BEN C. SHARP—Editor

Leslie Powell, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor — Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Toni DiCarlo ..... Executive Assistant
Erik Collins .....Asst. Managing Editor
Lana Murray ..... Asst. News Editor
Victor Connolli .....Asst. Sports Editor
Spence Guerin, Julie Savage ..... Artists
Dianne Klinck ..... Business Manager
Fred Salgado ..... Circulation Mgr.
Emmette Jackson ..... Photo Editor
Photographers—Del Kittendorf, John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.

Columnists Gerry Dobson, Bob Sanchez, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clark, Jim Smith, Carl Rosenbush, Karen Thornton, Joedy Smith, John McCotter.

Feature Staff—Joycelyn Ward, Martha Robberts, Leslie McNevin, Pat Freeman.

Proof Staff— Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Logan Anderson, Mary Grossenbacher, Sharon Perkins, Gayle Motes, Nancy Olsen, Sandra Dixon, Carol Hackney, Karen Pace, Merry Morehouse, Jody Wilkis, Linda Collier, Cookie Neubauer.

News Staff—Jim Smith, Bobbie Shiplett, Maur-

Sports Staff—John Wood, Shirley Hardison

Juliann Gabbert .....Advertising Manager

Bill Love ..... Asst. Advertising Manager

Margo Duffe .....Layout

Advertising Sales Staff: Dick Waterworth, Sue Hendrickson, Dwayne Atkins.

Associated College Press, Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave. New York 17, New York.

Published by Florida State University students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Reflections

Coma Joins The Circus

By LESLIE POWELL

COMA ENTERED THE arena of the big tent singing "It ain't gonna rain no 'mo." She was all dolled up in her ruffled leotards and her best pink Sunday brogans.

THE LIGHTS BLAZED, the sawdust got in her shoes, the people applauded, coughed and said "lookit that." She could tell the coach was happy because he hadn't said "oh, fudge," in the last ten minutes.

"Now ladies and what come with you," the ringmaster proclaimed in his best Sunday School voice, "we give you the dagnabdest act this side of Sopchoppy. Coma in her flunk-out defying, triple-threat, gravity-wrecking, nerve-pinching imitation of various and sundry deans.

TO THE STRAINS of a calliope rendition of "It's a Grand Old Flag," Coma snarled at the audience, pointed and wagged a finger and delivered a five minute lecture on righteous indignation.

And all this time the acrobats were sailing about overhead and plopping into the nets. The intake of breath from the gasping patrons excluded music. Who needed it?

AND BELOW, COMA, intent on giving the Flambeau staff its free passes worth, was chewing on the ropes (in lieu of a carpet) and doing other spastic things like juggling pink slips and withdrawal slips.

The spangle, bangles and beads kept on coming: trapeze acts, quartet adagio type acts; the works. Seems like everybody had something they just had to do.

AND THERE, LOST in the shadows up near the top of the tent, stood Coma, about to do a ridiculous dive into a thimble of red ink. "This, ladies and gen'ulmen," the ringmaster announced, "is approximately the manner in which state universities are run."

Down plunged Coma, trailing a banner that unfurled to read "REEMPHASIZE PROFESSORS."

"WHOT!" SOME unidentified gentleman exclaimed, "Whot!" I got the contract for red ink, and who's that young woman to go diving into free ink that the student body paid for?" He stamped out in highest dudgeon.

And all the time the sedan chairs and pretty girls kept marching about the sawdust floor and acts kept going on. The light and shadows kept playing about the tent roof and the audience was obviously satisfied.

AND ONCE MORE, there was Coma, tucked up among the tents dropping water filled balloons on the heads of the unwary and chanting "There stands the glass, fill it up to the brim." And every balloon was inscribed $1,300,000 or bust. They all "busted."

Eventually a zealous administrator zeroed in on Coma with a sling shot, potted her from her perch and sent her spinning, trailing sparks, to the net below, through which she strained with much grace, thereby doing honor to the FSU circus and a student body good and tired of seeing people shot down

SO THAT'S HOW COMA got the first barbed wire cluster with the Big Bird perched on top. She strode out across the sawdust with her circus award pinned triumphantly onto the seat of her bedraggled leotards. She had joined the circus.

Shifty Sidewalks

FSU Stumbling Blocks

By JOHN McCotter

To fly, to soar,
Free of the earth and its confines;
To spread one's limbs as gossamer sails,
In swift pursuit of the absolute;
To be infinate for one ecstatic moment,
Only to bash your teeth out on the sidewalk.

THE ABOVE IS A sensation felt at one time or another by every student on campus. Little did we know as we thumbed breathlessly through our FSU bulletins, that Tallahassee was not only the seat of the state government, but also the home of the crookedest sidewalks in the world (any similarity between the two might be coincidental, but don't bet on it).

PROFESSOR WINTERS of Geology would have us believe that the forces of epeirogeny, temperature change, shifting, globs of underground clay, and, every now and then, a stopped-up sewer pipe, cause this phenomenon. But I believe, and always have, that it's caused by shock waves from the Student Government offices.

OF COURSE NOT ALL of the falls take place on the sidewalk. There are also the steps of the History Building, which shrug off every foot. The only reason they let anyone into the building at all is because they have an agreement with the coke machines to let people inside so they can be gypped out of their dimes.

The last, but not least of the campus stumbling blocks is, no, not the Registrar's Office, but those new safety steps in the Business Building that catch you by surprise when your feet just. . . don't. . . ali-i-de!

After Hours

Kid's Rules Fit

By KAREN THORNTON

This column is primarily for the women students, although I'm sure the same problem arises in the men's dorms, I am not qualified to discuss it.

DURING THE PAST few months complaints have buzzed through the air from the women about some of the rules concerning the dorms. I haven't a complaint against the rules as such but against the women themselves and their lack of common courtesy for their fellow dorm mates.

Most of us forget about this once in a while, but there are those who continually "forget." One of the biggest complaints concerns those girls who stay up until the wee small hours of the morning. This would be quite all right except for one minor thing —they keep the girls awake who live near them by their loud talking, laughing, and playing the hi-fi's very loud. I, myself, wouldn't mind except one does get tired of hearing bongos until you drop off into a disgusted, bumpy sleep.

IF THESE GIRLS desire rules for adults, then they must first desire to be adult. If they wish rules for children, then they can function perfectly under the existing system. Unfortunately, FSU is not a place for children, but they seem to be here. Courtesy is something that even the most "way-out" people show for others and it is a standing rule for all people; therefore, I'm asking these girls, for their own good if not for my sleep, to act as mature adult women of this university.

Letters

Limited

TO THE EDITOR:

Although there are times when some of your writers appear warped and ignorant, I find the Flambeau generally an enjoyable paper, in its job of informing and amusing FSU students and faculty.

Nevertheless, I feel that there is one very glaring omission in your sports coverage. There is a need for recognition of some of the SCUBA diving activities. This is a sport which interests a very noticeable number of FSU students.

This sport requires a great deal of training and expense to be safe and enjoyable. An active familiarity with "spontaneous pneumothorax," "air embolism," "nitrogen narcosis," "Caisson's Disease," decompression tables, the different types of equipment and innumerous factors in diving is required.

I feel that a sport as advanced and educational as this deserves recognition. With the interest in SCUBA on campus it is the Flambeau's responsibility to provide for this recognition.

MICHAEL C. HREBEC

(EDITORS NOTE:)

The sports policy is to give as much coverage as possible to all sports; since this is impossible due to pace limitations, the sports desk has limited itself to covering only athletic competitive sports. SCUBA is not a competitive sport.

H.D.

From Sad Experience

TO THE EDITOR:

I sincerely believe that it would be to the benefit of all students if someone would begin a movement to ban Biology from college. Biology is good only for ruining a person's appreciation of nature and destroying one's enjoyment of a good meal. I speak from sad experience.

I follow with my mind each swallow of food, from the gullet to the stomach. My mind races through all the enzymes which act upon the substance swallowed. I even think I can begin to tell when the hydrochloric acid in the stomach begins to act.

Before I condemned my soul to who knows where (before I had taken Biology), I could look at a flower, plant, or tree and truly appreciate the rich beauty of it. Those days are gone. Now I wonder whether the plant is a dicot or monocot; sporophytic or gametophytic; angiosperm of gymnosperm. Is it getting enough sunlight for photosynthesis? Is it transpiring without trouble? Are the phloem and tylem tubes in proper working order?

Fellow students of biology, won't someone please start the movement?

KEN SELLERS

"Perhaps You'd Like To See Something Less Expensive—"

In The Wake Of The Easter Crisis

By BOB FOSS

The whole spectacle finally comes to an end. The doors of the various campus residences were again thrown open to the returning lettermen of the annual Daytona hide-and-go-seek championships and things are about to return to normal.

THE MALE DORMS once more look like the aftermath of the latest Algerian crisis, the usual cowboy and Indian games are taking place in the halls and the campus is littered with the prostrate bodies of the somewhat tired, or the intellectual aspirants, in preparation for those tests that some sadistic instructor chose to throw at his captive trusts.

The library is bustling with activity as numerous last minute attempts are made to recover from the gaiety syndromes of the past weekend and settle down to the task of finishing out the remaining weeks of the year. The various and sundry rotation dynamics enthusiasts are busy introducing change into the ever hungry pinball machines in hopes of winning just one more game before reclaiming their air of scholasticism.

AS DARKNESS SETS IN, the eating establishments are beginning to collect their hungry, coffee drinking clients to hash over the last remnants of the grand and glorious pilgrimmage to the mecca of sunshine, relaxation and hedonism. Westcott pool has seen its usual post-vacation supply of pinmates and marriage aspirants, heard the traditional songs, ... has done its job of releasing ... victims somewhat wetter ... perhaps desired, and glad that ... entire ordeal is over.

Night has fallen and the ... lamps light up. The books ... out, and as a rule, the mob ... yesterday saw roaming ... beaches and crowding the ... has been transformed ... their world of rationality and ... son.

ANOTHER EASTER HAS ... and gone and the Santa ... type rabbit, having made ... rounds to the younger, imaginative generation, is forgotten ... another year, the traditional ... ter bonnet is placed in the ... et smelling of mothballs and ... a little over four weeks to ... mer.

Young Socialists League Lists Major Aims

TO THE EDITOR:

The FSU Young Peoples Socialist League invites all those interested to an organizational meeting in the Student Lounge, Longmire, Friday, at 8 p.m. There will be an election of officers, and the plans and activities of the group will be discussed.

In answer to the many queries that have been raised regarding the Young Peopies Socialist League, we stand:

1.) In opposition to capitalism and communism, and in support of all those struggling for democracy and self-determination —on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

2). The withdrawal of all foreign troops to their own lands, the ending of the arms race and an immediate stop to nuclear testing.

3.) In opposition to all forms of racial and religious discrimination and offer full support to the Negro people in their fight for equality.

4.) In defense of civil liberties for all, including those with whom we disagree.

5.) In suppor of the labor movement in its struggles on behalf of the working people.

6.) In support of all attempts to bring about a political realignment in America and the formation of a Liberal-Farmer-Labor Party.

7.) In support of public ... education, low-cost housing, ... higher minimum wage, improved social security, increased public power programs, and aid to ... family farm and the farm ... er.

8.) For education as to ... need for public ownership of ... dustry, workers' control, and ... sumer planning, so that ... tion can be democratically ... ized and operated on the ... of need rather than profit.

MICHAEL F. COHEN
JOHN PEARCE

Mostly "No"

TO THE EDITOR:

I really don't think the time is ripe for a revision of women's rules on this campus. Why, the century is young yet. And who can tell what 1984 will bring —a vintage crop or a group of misfits in search of guidance?

For simplicity's sake, however, I suggest that instead of printing a book of rules, we hang a sign which proclaims "no" over all doors that a proper FSU coed should enter. For example, all men in the area who own apartments should be required to place a big "no" sign on their doors. And, of course, all local pubs would be required to follow suit.

And the dorms could hang "no" signs on all outside doors after 11 p.m.

In small letters, under "no", should be the words "don't" and "never" for the benefit of those unfortunates who, thru disuse or lack of training, have no concept of te word "no."

In time, if the system works, a few days during the year (Spring vacation) could be set aside in which all "no" signs would be changed to "yes" signs. And those of us who have no concept of the word "yes" can go home and observe Easter.

MARY ANN STEVENS

This Fun Thing

By BONNIE FREEDMAN

"Floor meeting will now start. Is everyone here?" Shouts, cheers, cries of "yes-"

"NOW SINCE NEXT week is May, the first thing we have to do is elect our candidate for May Queen. Nominations?"

"Giggle, giggle, I nominate — giggle, giggle — Coma Camille!" Shouts, cheers, applause.

"Tee, hee, giggle — I decline, giggle, teehee." Shouts, cries of aw c'mon, Coma. Shouts of oh all right. Applause.

"I nominate Swampy Sue!!"

"I second that nomination!"

"I nominate Toora-Loora."

Shouts, cheers again, more applause.

"ALL RIGHT, NOW if those who have been nominated would please cover their eyes, we can have a secret vote.

Names are called, in reverse order. Shouts, applause, occasional sniffles and cries of "fix!"

Well, it seems that you peeked, Sue. And Toora, you voted three times — so Coma, you are our candidate by acclamation.

NOW THE SECOND ITEM of business concerns you girls who have been sneaking out of your rooms after 11:30 to get a drink of water. I have been informed that if this keeps up we are going to have to lock the bathrooms.

Next, our social chairmen will tell you about the fun thing we have planned for us all at the reservation. It will bring about more social solidarity, which is one of the most important things you will learn here. To sign out for this fun thing you will need a permission slip from your mother, father, and brother, a note from each of Florida's twenty-three deans and an autograph from their alligator, a clean record, and approval from the house marm, if you are under twenty-five.

WE HAVE ALL SORTS of fun things to do — we will arrive at the Reservation about 7:30, eat, play card games and mah jong, build a bonfire of old campaign posters, sing songs and have a friendship circle, have another snack and a pleasant long chat, giving you an opportunity to meet all the other girls in the dorm. ....We will be in our cabins by 8:00.

We'll get up early the next morning to look at the lake for three hours. After a whole weekend of fun, we'll head back to campus, arriving in time for lunch.

"THANK YOU, TOORA. It really sounds like fun. Let's all have a big hand for our social chairman."

Big hand. Shouts, cheers, applause.

"Well, I guess that's all we have to discuss for this meeting. Don't forget our next big get-together, featuring a puppet show and a discussion of the Berlin crisis.

Shouts, applause, cries of "What are we in school for anyway?"

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Candidates Letters

Candidates for Class President (Sr., Jr., and Soph.) and for Honor Court and Senate posts may submit letters to the FLAMBEAU for Tuesday's issue. Letters will not be accepted after five o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The time, word and endorsement limits will be strictly adherred to, for there are approximately 40 candidates eligible to submit letters in the designated categories.

No letter should be longer than 150 words. Candiates should stick to facts. Please! No more than five endorsements. All letters will be subject to such cutting and editing as space may require.

Six Candidates Vie For Congressional Post

By JIM SMITH
Flambeau Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: As a service to the students, faculty and staff members who are registered voters in the new Ninth Congressional District, FLAMBEAU is running sketches of the candidates for the new seat in the House of Representatives.

The 1961 Florida Legislature divided the state into twelve new congressional districts from the existing eight. In north Florida, the eastern part of the third district and the western part of the fourth district were made into the new ninth district.

Tallahassee, as the State Capital, has become the focal point of the new district which encompasses thirteen north Florida counties. In the May 8 Primary, six democrats are seeking the office of congressman from the new Congressional District.

The six democrats are: Roy Ball, a former official of the State Department of Corrections; Hal Davis, a farmer, businessman and lawyer; Dexter Douglas, a Tallahassee lawyer; Don Fuqua, a state congressman and dairyman from Altha; James W. Murphy, a Lt. Col. Rt., and Tallahassee lawyer; and Ralph D. Newman, a Tallahassee businessman.

Roy Ball

ROY BALL

Ball, as a conservative, believes in the constitutional form of government in favor of states' rights. He opposes governmental competition with private business and any form of World Government and Socialist trends.

He has no ties with any groups or factions, he says, and will render undivided and equal representation to each and every individual of this district, without regard to political or economic status.

For many years he has been associated with state government, the last four of which have been devoted to industrial installations. Ball believes that industry - weekly payrolls for the people of each country are badly needed.

HAL DAVIS

Hal Davis, a conservative, recommends a citizens advisory committee to investigate solutions to area problems. He stands for a strong economy and balanced governmental spending with a reduction of administrative costs. He supports the Talmadge Bill which would require previous judicial experience for Supreme Court appointees.

Hal Davis

Davis stands for separation of the races with separate and equal facilities and opportunities for all. He wants to take the Federal Government out of unfair competition with private enterprise and will fight to protect the American system against socialism. He wishes for a sensible approach to agriculture, management, labor and education. Davis stands for states' rights, the return to constitutional government, and the moral concepts and principles of our founding fathers.

DEXTER DOUGLAS

Douglas as a southern democrat believes in preserving the basic philosophy of states' rights.

Dexter Douglas

He intends to fight "creeping socialism and federal dictation of the pattern of our lives from the cradle to the coffin."

Douglas promises to keep abreast of the farm problems through the district and will work for sound legislation to strengthen the agricultural economy. He supports the development of waterways including the intercoastal link between St. Marks and Tampa.

Don Fuqua

He believes income taxes reforms are necessary as an incentive to industrial growth and that they must be reduced if free enterprise is to survive. Douglas opposes giving out money in foreign aid to those nations who refuse to stand with America and Freedom. He will demand that the United Nations be truly united, with each nation sharing the cost of operations without the United States "footing the bill."

DON FUQUA

Fuqua supports the completion of the inland waterway from St. Marks to Cedar Key to attract new industries in this area with low cost barge transportation. He proposes to increase the economic value of the Apalachicola National Forest so its resources will benefit the entire area.

He urges greater support of commerical fisheries on the Gulf Coast and the rehabilitation of oyster reefs with the dredging of small boat channels for dependable access to and from seafood producing areas.

On the medical care for the aged, Fuqua believes that the needy and indigent should be provided for but not those who can provide for themselves. He wishes to revise present welfare policies with emphasis on rehabilitation rather than relief. He seeks to re-evaluate the foreign-aid program with an "eye toward achieving more lasting benefits for tax dollars."

JAMES MURPHY

Murphy believes the salvation of the country depends on a strong defense establishment with increased emphasis on conventional forces to meet present committments and the threat of limited wars.

He proposes a budget to reduce taxes to a "level of sanity" until income tax reaches an absolute maximum of 25 per cent of an individual's income.

Murphy's two years of investigation and liasion experience in Europe enabled him to study foreign affairs. He is convinced that the United States is the "number one sucker in the world." In the great give-away since 1948, he says, the rest of the world has eagerly taken our tax dollars" and laughed and spit upon us."

James W. Murphy

Murphy supports the residents program for medical care for the aged under the Social Security System and federal aid to education. He does not believe these to be give-away programs, but a vital asset to the welfare of the citizens.

RALPH NEWMAN

Newman promises to control overlapping waste in government expenditures and to saddle the federal government from interfering with state, county and city government and free enterprise.

He supports a graduated inheritance tax that will keep the wealth of the nation from resting in the hands of a minority. He stands for the development of suitable ports and harbors along the Gulf Coast of the Ninth District similar to the port of Huston, Texas.

Newman objects strenuously of government interference in business competition. He is for federal aid administered by and through the state and local authorities for medical care to the aged. He wishes to further subsidize the Small Business Loan Administration to give the little businessman an opportunity on the same basis as FHA insurance.

Lobby Comm.

Bill Boykin, chairman of the Student Lobby Committee, has announced that more student volunteers are needed to represent Florida State University to the State Legislature.

Students are especially needed to represent the following counties: Baker, Bradford, Calhoun, Charlotte, Citrus, Dixie, Flagler, Franklin, Gilchrist, Glades, Hamilton, Hernando, Indian River, Jackson, Jefferson, Lafayette, Liberty, St. Johns, Santa Rosa, Sumter, Union, and Wakulla.

Lobby Committee members will meet with members of the Legislature to discuss legislation that is pertinent to FSU. All students who are interested in serving FSU in this capacity should contact the Student Body President's Office in 214 Longmire, ext. 2397 or Bill Boykin at 222-5766.

Faculty Notes

Shores Ends Job As Editor

Dr. Louis Shores, Dean of the Library School, has recently completed 18 months' work as editor-in-chief of the second edition of Collier's Encyclopedia.

Dr. Shores, who in 1946 acted as library consultant for the first edition of the encyclopedia, was granted a leave of absence from Florida State University in 1959 to work on the new edition, which was expanded to 24 volumes.

In preparing the new edition, Dr. Shores had an editorial staff of 100, a budget of $4 million, and 5000 contributors, including President John F. Kennedy. Dr Shores also was editor-in-chief of the last printing of the old edition (1961) while beginning the new work.

The new edition contains 21 million words, an increase of one third over the previous edition. There are three transparency overlays, made in Germany, and a new map program done in cooperation with Rand McNally. Among new articles are those on space and ballet and seven sectional maps of the new countries of Africa.

The presses were held on volume 21 so that information of John Glenn's orbital flight might be included to make this edition as up-to-date as possible.

In the March 24 issue of the Saturday Review, the new encyclopedia was praised as "a reference work of great soundness and apparent endless scope."

Two members of the mathematics education faculty appeared on the program of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics at its fortieth annual meeting in San Francisco last week. Dr. Eugene Nichols, head of the Mathematics Education Dept., presided at a senior high school section discussion of operator arithmetic, and Dr. Robert Kalin discussed a programmed text in equations and inequalities for fifth and sixth grade pupils.

Dr. Leland Shanor, head of the Biological Science Dept., was recently elected to a three-year term as treasurer of the association at a meeting in Winston-Salem, N.C.

Dr. Gulnar Bosch, head of the Art Dept., will be a speaker today at the annual Southeastern College Art Conference at Knoxville, Tenn. Dr. Bosch served as president of the conference in 1959. She will speak on "Economic Exchanges Suggested by the Patterns and Materials of Islamic Bookbindings."

Monday, Dr. Bosch will address the Memphis Art Academy on the topic, "Changing Spatial Concepts on Chinese Painting." Dr. Bosch teaches a course in Asian Art at FSU.

The Yellowstone Park Company, Wyoming, has announced the appointment of Ashby G. Stiff Jr., assistant professor in the Hotel and Restaurant Management Dept., as general manager of the Lake Hotel, a 300-room resort on Lake Yellowstone, for the coming summer season.

Dr. Grace Fox, professor in the Physical Education and Recreation Dept. has recently been elected secretary of the National Section on History and Philosophy of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Dr. Ralph Witherspoon, director of the Institute of Human Development, is presiding at meetings of the Florida Association of School Psychologists being held in Miami Beach. Dr. Witherspoon is scheduled to give the presidential address to the group and also to address a meeting of the Florida Education Association being held simultaneously.

A new member of the faculty of the Chemistry Dept. and Institute of Molecular Biophysics, Dr. Leo Mandelkern, has received a grant of $39,960 from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for a two-year study. His research is directed toward an understanding of how fibrous substances can be utilized in the conversion of thermal or chemical energy into mechanical work.

A graduate of Cornell University, he was awarded his Ph. D. there in 1949. He currently is a member of the editorial board of the Journal of the American Chemical Society.

Associated Florida Sculptors has elected George F. Holschuh its president for the coming year. An associate professor in the Art Dept., Holschuh has exhibited in this country and Europe and has been represented in three exhibitions in Florida during the past two months.

Holschuh, on the faculty since 1946, has executed numerous commissions for sculpture and also for design of buildings. One of his most recent designs was for a modern hotel in Thungvellir, Iceland.

Dr. Sherwood M. Richard, assistant professor of biological sciences, has been appointed to the editorial board of a new international journal, RES Journal of the Reticuloendothelial System.

The journal, whose first issue is scheduled for early in 1963, to be published bimonthly by the Academic Press in New York. There are six scientists from this country and scientists from 11 other countries on the board.

RES, the subject of the Journal, involves a group of cells throughout the body concerned with "policing the body against bacteria and other foreign particles.

Dr. Irvin Cooper, professor of music education at FSU is conducting a series of vocal clinics in junior high schools in the northwest United States and Canada.

Dr. Cooper has specialized in bringing out the vocal qualities of the young male voice at the time of adolescent voice change. He has presented demonstrations of his vocal techniques to junior high music teachers throughout the country and has written a number of choral works for the junior high school student's voice.

Dr. Cooper will present clinics in Washington and Oregon and at the Canadian Music Educators National Conference in Vancouver, B.C. On May 9-10, he will direct massed choirs at a junior high choral festival in El Paso Texas.

The Consul' Will Be Aired On FM Radio

Florida State University production of The Consul by Gian-Carlo Menotti will be broadcast over WFSU-FM tomorrow at 3 p.m.

The contemporary musical-drama was presented by the University Opera Guild in co-operation with the University Theatre in March at the Augusta Conrad Theatre and was recorded at that time by WFSU-FM.

The Opera tells the story of the wife of a "freedom fighter" in a dictatorial state who is trying to join her husband who has escaped to a free country. Hedi Svendsen sings Magda Sorel. Thomas Hayes has the role of John Sorel and Joy Davidson portrays the mother.

John Bracewell, WFSU-FM's program assistant and a graduate student in the School of Music has prepared a commentary for this broadcast.

PONCE de LEON MOTEL
1801 W. Tenn.
Resting Place For University Guests.
Phone 224-4950

All Around Campus

Torchbearer Chapter Elects New Officers

Six junior women were elected officers of the Torchbearer Chapter of Mortar Board Tuesday. The new officers are president, Kay Isaly; vice president, Gretchen Uzzell; secretary, Mary Emma Hearn, treasurer, Lou Rich; Chapter editor, Toni DiCarlo and historian, Tricia Lawrence.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Alpha Kappa Psi professional business fraternity will hold its annual weekend beginning tonight with a formal dance at Morrison's from 8:30 p.m. to midnight. Tomorrow AKPsi's and their dates will spend the day at Waukulla with swimming and a hamburger fry planned. A jungle party at the fraternity house tomorrow night from 8:30 p.m. to midnight will round out the activities.

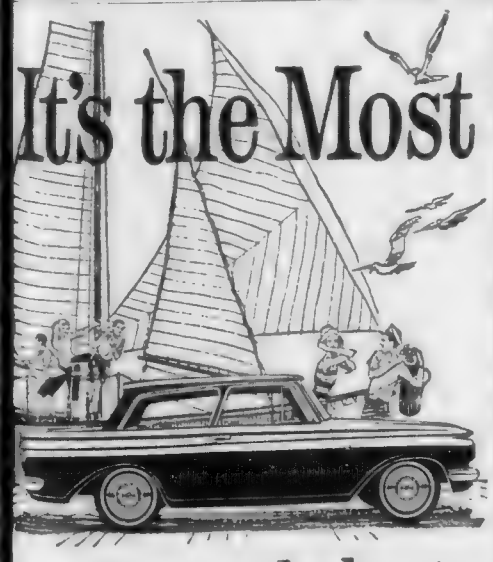
David A. Wertz, former officer of AKPsi, has been selected by the Wall Street Journal as the outstanding finance major at FSU. The award is based on recommendation of the finance professors.

HOME ECONOMICS

The annual Home Economics banquet will be held Wednesday, May 16, in the South Seminole Club at 7 p.m. Tickets may be obtained for $1 from members of the Home Economics Club, Fashion Incorporated, 4-H Club and Omicron Nu.

SIGMA XI

New members of Sigma Xi are Joseph Gabriel Cory, Jacqueline Dupont, Marcel Gouge, Inayama Seitchi, Shigemasa Osaki, Duane Rohlfing, Aaron Joseph Brownstein, Rhodes Burns Holliman, Richard C. Hazen and Bobby Lee Sanders. New Associbein, recording secretary, Marate members are Maha Raouf Al-Saad, James Thomas Ayres, Lloyd Morris Bennett, Brower Rene Burchill, John Richard Carpenter, Glenda Spinney Cowart, Robert Edward Daniel, Roland Francis Dapo, James Leon Epler, Lawrence Lee Espey, Richard Ray Facklam, John Alton Farley, James Benjamin Fleece, Tom Tucker Goforth, Randall Lee Gresens, Moon Hi Han, Thomas Lee Hopkins, Jacqueline E. Hucko, Donald Charles Martin, Richard Max Mitterer, Dale Duane Morris, Julie Gay McCoy, Joe Neggers, David Frederick Noble, Frank Overton Perkins, Charles Oscar Polland Jr., Lewis Wayne Sieck, Richard Silverstein, Harold Walter Sims, Richard Arden Stewart, Mildred Strickland, John Dennis Waskom, Paul Bernard Weiss and Joseph Sidney Wortham.



WOMEN'S F CLUB

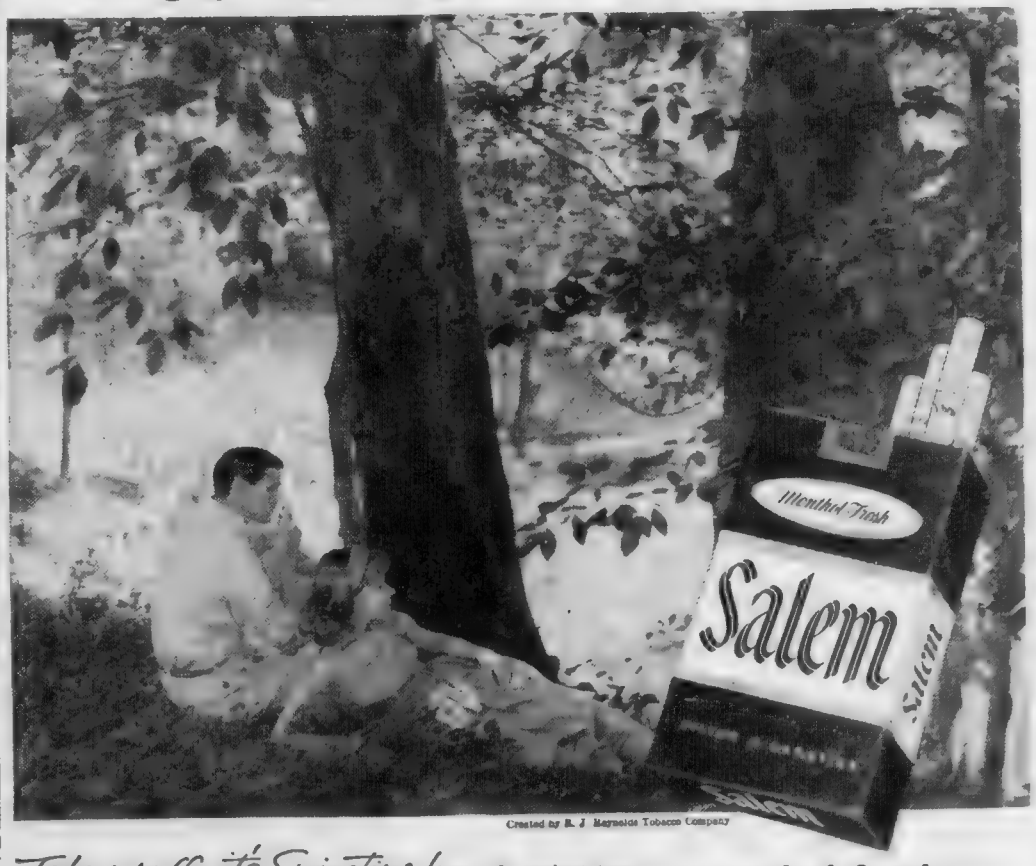
New members of the Women's F. Club are Donna Ashling, Val Barnes, Carolyn Carines, Bobsie Carlton, Melba Green, Nancy Kropp, CiCi Lopez, Chris Padgett, Joi Pederson, Diane Rickett, Donna Roxey, Sandy Shipman, Clyda Stokes, Irene Washington, Paula Welch and Penny Wood. New officers are president, Millie Bishop; vice president, Donna Rehbein, recording secretary, MRsha Jones; corresponding secretary, Maxie Thorpe, parliamentarian, Mel Leach and historian, Sylvia Neese.

Why Carry Those Winter Clothes Home?
FREE! Storage Moth-Proofing Mildew-Proofing
Quality Cleaner's
DIAL 222-5097 215 W. College

For Better Health, Improve Circulation by Massage
Headache—Sore Muscles—Tension
● Swedish Massage
● Slenderizing
● Exercise
"Add Years to Your Life and Life to Your Years"
DRAKE'S MASSAGE STUDIO
For Men and Women Hotel Duval Phone 222-5364

It's the Most

and costs the least of any U.S. car



How about that Rambler American? Among all the compacts, it has the most solidity, the most comfort, the most maneuverability, the most safety, the most rustproofing, the most features, the most economy wins, the most years of high resale value—yet it's the lowest priced of any car built in the U.S.! Seems the least you could do is visit your Rambler dealer for a look at the most car for your money.

Rambler
American Motors Means More for Americans

TONY'S PIZZA
We Specialize in
PIZZA PIE and ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Take Home
Eat in Dining Room
ACROSS FROM CAPITOL PLAZA SHOPPING CENTER
MEAT BALL SANDWICH
1805 Thomasville Road
Phone 224-6210

At Pulnam's
HER Treasure of MEMORIES
Give A DIAMOND to keep those Happy Memories BRIGHT!
Enshrined in your diamond will be her most treasured memories. Those cherished thoughts deserve a beautiful ring . . . a diamond whose radiant beauty will remain throughout the years. Our professional knowledge as Registered Jewelers will be your safeguard when selecting that most important gift . . . her diamond.
W. W. Pulnam's
308 S. MONROE ST.
Downtown Tallahassee
All Our Diamonds Are Diamond-scope Tested for Your Protection

Salem refreshes your taste
—"air-softens" every puff

Created by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company

Take a puff... it's Springtime! Beneath ancient trees, which have known so many springtimes, you feel renewed and refreshed by the soft, cool air. And so your taste is refreshed by a Salem, the cigarette with springtime freshness in the smoke. Special High Porosity paper "air-softens" every puff. Enjoy the rich taste of fine tobaccos while you refresh your taste, with Salem!

• menthol fresh
• rich tobacco taste
• modern filter, too

Grecian Columns

Sig Eps Plan For Calendar Day Monday

Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity will hold its Sig Ep Calendar Day in Westcott Auditorium Monday at 8:30 p.m.

Each social sorority on campus will sponsor one candidate in the contest. From the field of 19, 12 will be chosen to be the 1962-63 Sig Ep Calendar Girls. This is the second year the Sig Ep's have produced the calendar, but the first time the winning contestants will be chosen by judges in a beauty contest.

Judges for the competition will be Dean Lynn, assistant dean of women; Dean Brewer, assistant dean of men; Eleanor Adams of the Home Economics Dept. and Commander David Cohen, photography instructor at Florida State University.

The contestants will be judged in bathing suits and cocktail dresses on the basis of beauty, poise and photogenic qualities.

Host for the evening is Don Whidden. Hostess for the occasion is the Sig Ep "Favorite Calendar Girl," Linda Lee Jackson, last year's Miss September.

During the intermission, Delta Zeta social sorority will present their prize winning skit from the Sigma Kappa Variety Show. Admission is free and everyone is invited.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

The Alpha Chi's will have a reservation party tomorrow. The chapter will take box lunches and spend the day at the Reservation.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Alpha Delta Pi weekend will begin tonight with the Diamond Ball featuring Harry Whitehead an dhis band. Tomorrow there will be a coast party at Panama City with music by the Ramblers. Sunday the weekend will come to a close with a buffet dinner at the house. A dessert with the KA's is planned for Wednesday.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

New Alpha Gam Man is Wayne Edwards. The chapter will celebrate International Reunion Day tomorrow with a luncheon honoring past presidents of the chapter.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Tonight the AOPi's begin their "Prohibition Weekend" with their traditional Rose Ball. The Jeff Bradford Quintet will provide the music. Tomorrow there will be a coast party at Panama City followed by a Roaring Twenties party at the house and dancing to the music of the Intruders. The weekend will end with a buffet dinner Sunday.

ALPHA PHI

The Alpha Phi's will begin their weekend in New York tonight with a "Moonlight in Manhatten" dance at the Floridan Hotel. A coast party is planned for tomorrow and a Greenwich Village party for tomorrow night. Music will be provided by the Gents both nights. Sunday the Alpha Phi's and their dates will attend church together and a banquet at the Duval Hotel.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

The Tri Delt's will begin their weekend with a Delta Patch combo party at the house tonight. A dinner dance at Waukulla is planned for tomorrow. Best active for the week is Sylvia Cashion and best pledge is Beverly Brand.

DELTA GAMMA

The Pi Kappa Phi entry won the trophy in the Delta Gamma sponsored bridge tournament.

DELTA TAU DELTA

The FSU chapter will be host to the Delt's from U of F this weekend. Tomorrow morning a football game between the two chapters is planned. A combo party will be held tomorrow night at the house.

DELT' ZETA

The DZ's weekend will begin tonight with a Roman party at the house. Dog Island is the destination tomorrow with dancing to the music of the Stags planned for tomorrow night. Sunday the DZ's will attend church together and dinner will be served at the house.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Gamma Phi Beta will observe the 12th anniversary of its founding at FSU Sunday. The alum chapter will give a tea for the actives and the chapter will attend church services together.

KAPPA ALPHA

The annual Old South Weekend begins today with a parade downtown and the succession ceremony at the house following the parade. Tonight the Old South Ball will be held at Waukulla. Tomorrow the KA's and their dates will go the coast and the Sharecropper's Stomp will be held tomorrow night. Sunday the KA's will attend church with their dates.

PHI KAPPA PSI

The Phi Psi pledge class is helping the Kappa's with their Circus Weekend decorations. New pledge class officers are president, Bob Foss; vice president, Al Roles, and secretary, George Greer. New pledges are Dick Garstang, Al Roles, Bill Dahl and Joe Mac Brown.

PHI KAPPA TAU

A formal dance at the Women's Club featuring the music of Lawyer Smith's combo will begin Phi Tau weekend tonight. Tomorrow Phi Tau's and their dates will spend the day at Silver Lake followed by a Roman party with Big John and the Untouchables. The weekend will end Sunday when Phi Tau's and their dates attend church together.

PI BETA PHI

Today the Pi Phi's are having their founder's day tea. Members of the active chapter and Tallahassee alums will be present.

SIGMA NU

New pledges are Richard Lingher, Curtis Coon, Rudolph Dees, Bob Venatta, Tim Pepper and Dennis Rauls. A combo party featuring Willie and the Jay-Notes is planned for tomorrow night. Sunday there will be a tea honoring parents and alums.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Anne Halverstadt was elected chapter sweetheart and crowned Queen of Hearts at Sig Ep weekend. In her curt are Myra Come, Linda Hoffman, Pat Calvin and Marilyn Moire Ed Shamas has been elected best pledge for last semester.

Drive Funds Total $800

Sixteen residences met their goals in the Campus Chest Drive to bring total contributions collected to $800.

All contributions have not been collected for the drive which ended April 16. Secretary of Special Events, Betty Ann Eastridge, requests that donations be turned in as soon as possible to her.

Residences which met their set goals, were presented with certificates at a banquet for all Campus Chest solicitors, April 17.

Receivers of certificates were Alpha Gamma Delta, Delta Zeta, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Delta Fi, Delta Delta Delta, Gamma Phi Beta, Zeta Tau Alpha, Chi Omega, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Phi Mu, Sigma Kappa, Alpha Chi Omega, Theta Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Delta Theta, and Pi Kappa Phi.

In addition to meeting their goal Sigma Kappa contributed $61.21, and Gamma Phi Beta contributed $54.26.

The Campus Chest street dance was called off because of the rainy weather. Contributions were made through residence donations and contribution boxes made available on campus.

A COFFEE BREAK FOR A SCHOLARSHIP

. . . is the idea behind the coffee and doughnut sales by the Music Therapy Club. The proceeds from the sales will go to help aspiring musicians at FSU. Here Bill Janiak is served by Emily Stevens while Bob McCollum, Helen Largent, and Andrea Hirschy look on.

"CONCERTO FOR FIVE TRUMPETS

. . . Piano, and Percussion" is one of the numbers scheduled for presentation tomorrow night at the concert sponsored by the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia and the Sigma Alpha Iota men's and women's music honoraries. The concert will begin at 8:15 p.m. in Opperman Music Hall.

Music Box

FSU Students Write On Speech Therapy

By KAREN PACE
FLAMBEAU Staff Writer

How music helped fifteen boys and girls with cleft palate disorders overcome speech difficulties will be the subject of a paper to be presented by two Florida State University students at a regional music therapy conference in Milledgeville, Ga., today and tomorrow.

The student therapists, Jan Mickler and Isabel Autry, made the study last summer at a speech therapy clinic held on the FSU campus. Their study was directed by Dr. D. E. Michel, director of the music therapy program in the School of Music.

Sixteen FSU music therapy majors expect to attend the conference at Milledgeville State Hospital where plans are being made to begin an internship program for music therapists.

They are Martha Jan Mickler, Carole Goldstein, Floyd Parker, Judith Clark, Andrea Carlson Hirschy, William Janiak, Kay McKissack, Christine Martin, Helen Largent, Emily Stevens, Sara Bradley, Sharon Hargreaves, Margaret Carpenter, Isabel Autry, Joanne Smaltz, Anita Louise Steele, and Pauline Grant. Also attending will be Clifford Madsen, graduate student and part-time faculty instructor in the School of Music and Carolyn Russell.

One of the speech difficulties encountered by the student therapists working with the cleft palate children was nasal speaking. The flutophone, a pre-band wind instrument, the clarinet mouthpiece and jug bittles were used by the students to teach the children how to redirect air flow. After the four week clinic, all the children showed improvement.

Group singing was also used. Tape recordings made at the beginning of the study pinpointed poor speech habits and mistakes. These were compared with progressive recordings so the children could hear the difference as they improved.

The program for the handicapped children was sponsored by the Florida Crippled Children's Commission, the Florida Society for Crippled Children and Adults and the FSU Speech and Hearing Clinic under Dr. L. L. Schendel.

Recital Tonight

Marcus Sheppard and Roger Ponder will present a joint recital this evening in Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 p.m.

Sheppard is an oboeist studying with Nancy Fowler and Ponder is a student of organ with Ramona C. Beard. They will perform selections from Bach, Pachebel and Saint-Saens.

Assisting in the performance will be Bonnie Bromberg piano, Roger McLendon, oboe and Joseph Henderson, English horn.

American Composer's Concert

Tomorrow evening, Epsilon Iota Chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national professional music fraternity for men, and Sigma Alpha Iota, women's music honorary, will present a concert of music by American Composers at 8:15 p.m. in Opperman Music Hall.

This concert is presented annually to bring to the concert stage works by American composers that are not usually heard.

Among the compositions to be featured are "Five Piano Pieces" by Mennin, a "Concerto for Trumpets, Piano and Percussion" by Hovhanness, "Passacaglia" by Piston, a duet from Carlisle Floyd's Wuthering Heights and Dr. John Boda's "Sonata for Trombone."

Graduate Recital

Milton Hallman, pianist, will present a doctoral recital Monday evening at 8:15 p.m. in Opperman Music Hall.

A student of Edward Kilenyi, Hallman will play works if Bach, Beethoven, Liszt Scarlatti Albeniz, Menotti and Chopin.

Boda Work Performed

Sinfonia, written by Dr. John Boda of the School of Music at Florida State University in 1960, has been performed by the National Symphony Orchestra in Washington with the composer present.

The work was first performed and recorded by the Knoxville Symphony in December, 1960. Since then, Sinfonia has also been performed by the Oklahoma and Rochester orchestras.

When & Where

TODAY

The Phi Alpha Theta Coffee Hour will be in the Club Room of Longmire at 4 p. m.

• • •

The Desk Set, with Spencer Tracy will be featured at the Campus Movie at 7:30 p. m. in Westcott Auditorium.

• • •

The Foundation Scholarship Organization Dance will be held in Longmire at 8:30 p. m.

• • •

TOMMORROW

The Statistics Proficiency Examination for Ed. D. degree candidates will be held in room 204 Math - Meteorology at 9 a. m.

• • •

The FSU production of The Consul, the Menotti opera will be broadcasted over WFSU-FM at 3 p. m.

• • •

The University Couples Bridge Tournament will be held at 8 p.m. in the Tropha Room. For receivations call Mrs. Maurice Litton, 223-1601.

• • •

The American Composers' Concert will be in Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 p. m.

• • •

Leonard Bernstein will conduct the New York Philharmonic over WFSU-FM at 8:30 p. m. The works will consist of Beethoven's Symphony No. 4 in B flat major, opus. Fantasy for Piano, Chorus and Orchestra in C minor, opus 80; Piano Concerto No. 5 in E flat Major (Emperor)

• • •

SUNDAY

At 11 a. m. Catholic Faith Week will begin with Mass in Westcott Auditorium, followed by "Brunch in the Suwannee Room.

• • •

Dr. Adamovic will speak on "Yugoslavia between East and West" at the Liberal Forum held in the Unitarian Chapel at 7:30 p. m.

• • •

MONDAY

Alpha Epsilon Delta, the national premedical and predental honor society, will hold initiation at 8 p. m. in the auditorium, second floor of Longmire.

• • •

Dr. Charles B. Metz associate director of the Oceanographic Institute and professor of Zoology at FSU, will be featured at 8 p. m. on the WFSU-FM program of "Modern Biology — The Key to Life's Riddles" subject for Dr. Metz' lecture is "Fertilization."

• • •

RECRUITMENT SCHEDULE

All seniors and graduates must register with the Placement Office in order to be eligible for interviews with the company listed below. To make an appointment sign up on schedules in the Placement Office and pick up company literature prior to interviews.

• • •

Monday — Internal Revenue Service, Alchohol and Tobacco Tax Division — Interviewing for Criminal Investigators, Grade GS-7. The goup interview will be at 2 p. m., 411 Longmire.

Alumni Drive

The Alumni Association has received $9,000 in its drive for student scholarship loans funds thanks to successful alumni response, Tom Waites, assistant director of alumni affairs, said.

Contributions are coming in steadily and the drive is successful, he added.

This year a $3,098.63 contribution by Mrs. Frank D. Moor of Tallahassee, started the fund - raising toward its $25,000 goal.

Student Party

Two Meet the Candidates Receptions are being sponsored by the Student Party, with all candidates and interested students invited to attend, Party Chairman Bill Greenwood announced.

The first reception will be at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the West Hall Lounge. The second reception will be at 4 p.m. Monday, in Landis Hall.

Greenwood stressed that all candidates for Student Government offices, regardless of party affiliation are invited to attend the receptions.

ROSE MARIE REID
RMR juniors

"TAFFY"... fresh shark-skin confection, in candy-colored stripes rippling over a bright white background. Prettily buttoned and bowed, to delight all those males who can't resist sweets. 7-15, 19.95.

Linden's
Tallahassee's Leading Apparel Shop

Do Remember Mama
On Her Day, May 13

VARDI'S SUGGESTS:
Insolent . . .
Millot's Special Invitation Package
Perfume and eau de toilette 3.00
Millot's Crepe de Chine
Introductory Special
Poudre Glacee and eau de toilette 3.50
Pot Pourri toiletries 1.25—6.00
French Lace and Swiss Embroidered
Sachets .50 and 1.00
Imported and Domestic Jewelry 1.00 up
Exquisite Imported Hankies 1.00—2.00

Imports by Vardi
214 W. College Ave.
Bill-the-Bank Lay-Away

APRIL CLEARANCE
Selections From Regular Stock
Reduced to Clear
Thurs.-Fri.-Sat.

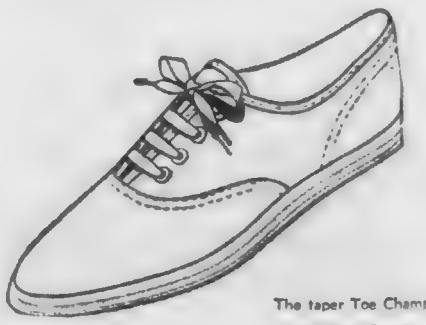
DRESSES Spring and Summer Silks and Cottons Sizes 5 to 15 6 to 18
Shirtwaists
Dressy
Daytime
Cocktail
Semi-Formal
2 Piece Dresses
2 Piece Suits
20% to 50% OFF

SPORTWEAR Spring And Summer Selected From Regular Stock
Skirts
Blouses
Bermudas
Long Pants
Co-Ordinates
20% to 50% OFF

BRAS---Discontinued Styles
Strapless — 32 to 36
With Straps—Values to $5.00
$2.00

Gibbs French Shoppe
Bill - the - Bank Lay - Away

Goods in this van are PROTECTED
Local or Long Distance Moving
Packing — Storage
YOUR LOCAL AGENT
Blaine Mayflower
FREE ESTIMATES
224-3020



San Can Restaurant
Across the Road from the Capital Shopping Center
Try Our Fast Drive-In Service
OR
Enjoy A Meal In Our Lovely Dining Room
Call In Your Order
And It Will Be Waiting
1825 Thomasville Rd. Phone 223-0445

At your TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

FLORIDA
Now Showing
"A Funny Thing Happened to Me on My Way to the Moon . . ."
Walt Disney's
"Moon Pilot"
in Color
PERRY HIGHWAY OUTDOOR
Tonight - Saturday
All-Star Color Show
Showing at 7:45
Robert Mitchum
"The Wonderful Country"
and at 9:30
William Holden
"SATAN NEVER SLEEPS"

STATE
Today & Saturday
Double Action Show
Audie Murphy
Dan Duryea
"6 BLACK HORSES"
in Color
—PLUS—
John Gregson
"Desert Patrol"
CAPITOL DRIVE-IN ON WOODVILLE HWY.
Tonight - Saturday
TWO COLOR HITS
Showing at 7:45
Fred MacMurray
"At Gunpoint"
and at 9:15
Rory Calhoun
"COLOSSUS OF RHODES"

MILLER'S Bootery
For Summer FUN:
Washable, Wearable Keds
5.00
With warm weather here the Perfect Shoe for Summer Fun, for fishing, boating or beach, for all casual wear.

LOOK FOR THE BLUE LABEL
U.S. Keds
The Shoe of Champions

The taper Toe Champion
☆ White Canvas
☆ Black Canvas
☆ Red Canvas
☆ Blue Canvas
5.00
and other materials

BOOKS CLOSED Charge purchases made the remainder of April will not be billed until June.

MILLERS
Monroe at College

Peterson Slates Saturday 'Game'

The Florida State Seminoles will round out their fourth week of spring football practice tomorrow afternoon with a scrimmage in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

Practicing daily through Thursday on the FSU practice field, the Seminoles were observed in two of the drills by Clemson Coach Frank Howard.

The tobacco - chewing mentor was impressed with the performances of Garnet quarterback Eddie Feely, fullback Marion Roberts, and left half Jim Loftin.

In addition, Coach Bill Peterson singled out left half Tom Hillabrand as an outstanding athlete in early drills this week.

Several Seminoles remained sidelined this week because of injuries. They include right half Keith Kinderman, quarterback Jimmy Seaward, left half Ralph Norman, and quarterback Steve Tensi.

Peterson opened the fourth week of practice with the following athletes on the first team.

Left end John Wachtel, left tackle Tom Slicker, left guard Chuck Robinson, center Bill Daly, right guard Gene McDowell, quarterback Charlie Calhoun, left half Tom Hillabrand, right half Larry Brinkley, and fullback Dave Snyder.

However, Peterson is expected to make a few changes in lineups in the latter drills this week.

The FSU coach termed Monday's practice "a normal Monday practice." The Tribe ran through several fundamentals, because it had forgotten a few things over the Easter break, Peterson said.

Tuesday's practice was judged "a good practice," as the Seminoles scored five touchdowns in intra-squad competition. The Gold squad scored against the first string as quarterback Ed Loveless passed to right half Phil Spooner. Playing against the third squad, the Gold team scored two touchdowns runs around left end. The Garnet squad, running against the Whites, tallied a TD as Loftin grabbed a 25-yard pass from Feely.

One of the most distinguished plays of our time... becomes powerful adult screen drama!

AUDREY HEPBURN
SHIRLEY MacLAINE
JAMES GARNER
THE CHILDREN'S HOUR
Starts Sunday
STATE

Drag 'Em Down

Quarterback Jimmy Seaward is tackled in a recent scrimmage with the first team, Whites. The transfer from Auburn has since been injured and may don pads again soon. (Photo by John Quarries)

For Next Week's Game

Alumni Work Out

Many alumni of the Florida State football team are preparing for the first annual Varsity-Alumni game, which will be held May 5 at 2 p.m. in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

The contest, which will replace the annual Garnet and Gold intra-squad game, has been begun for two reasons, officials say.

The first is to set up scholarship aid to athletes, and the second reason is to develop more interest among former lettermen.

Although this is the first year that Florida State has been able to schedule a Varsity-Alumni clash, the ranks of the Alumni will still be rather thin. In addition, to the ex-gridder severals former cheerleaders are expected to participate in the Varsity - Alumni day.

Eventually, officials expect as many as 75 to 80 alumni to attend the game, but not all of them will dress out. About 30 athletes are now working out with Alumni coach Ken McLean, who is head mentor at the University school and a FSU alumnus. About 18 gridders are expected to arrive in the next few days.

Alumni who are presently working out include:

Freddy Pickard, Jack Forehand, Joby Kidd, Jim Fry at halfback; Paul Andrews, Gene Tinsley, Tim Fichtner at fullback; Don Sellars, and Larry Hood at center; Ken Marchman, Ronnie Moore, Tom Feamster, Tom Cook, Don Donatelli at guard; Leo Baggett, Jimmy Groot, Bob Nellums at end; Ron Schomburger, Joe Lincoln, Jim Hook, and Bob Fowle at end.

TONY ROMEO
. . . expected to play

FREDDY PICKARD
. . . drills with alums

Coach McLean has said the alumni are in good shape, but the athletes had not dressed out in pads at presstime. Primarily, the gridders have been running through exercises and fundamentals.

Florida State athletic director Vaughn Mancha said a surprising amount of interest has been shown from a different set of alumni.

"You know Florida State wasn't always the young school behind the University of Florida, because it used to be Florida State College," he said.

"In 1903, Florida State beat Florida and four members of this 1903 have shown an interest in attending the Varsity-Alumni game," Mancha said.

The four players are Guite McCord, the 90-year-old clerk of the Supreme Court; Walter McNin; Judge Dozier Devane; and Bob Bradfrod.

"Guite McCord has definitely said that he wants to play . . . we may make some of them team captains," Mancha said.

Baseballers Drop Georgia Southern

The Florida State baseball team, which has a 14-day layoff before its May 11 game with Florida Southern, would up its spring vacation by dropping the Georgia Southern squad, 5-1, Wednesday.

The Seminoles are now 4-3 on the road, having won their last three games.

Seminole Jack Ross pitched the victory against the Georgians, becoming the third Seminole to hurl a full nine innings.

Several records were tied or set in the contest.

Billy Williams of FSU tied the season home run record for individuals by slapping his sixth homer against the South Georgia team.

Another Seminole, catcher Buddy Teagle, broke the doubles record on the road when he hit his 10th two bagger.

The team completed two double plays against the Georgians to set a season record of 30 DP's, smashing the old mark. The Tribe had previously completed five double plays against North Carolina State to put them within shooting sistance of the DP mark.

In their swing through the Carlinas, the Seminoles dropped North Carolina State. The day before they defeated North Carolina, 9-2, after falling to East Carolina, 19-2, in the first game.

Soccer Squad Seeks 2nd Win

The International Club Soccer team of FSU, which was organized with students from America and 10 foreign countries, will play against the St. Petersburg Soccer Club at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

All FSU faculty members, students, and Tallahasseeans are invited to the meet. There is no admission.

FSU's soccer team started training in September 1961, and has a 1-1 record. Dr. John Cummer, the foreign student advisor, assisted in the organization of the team, and Tom Martin of the Physical Education Dept. has been named the coach.

The International Club is the first organization to bring soccer to the FSU campus, officials say.

SKI SHOW
APRIL 28th
FSU RESERVATION
Morning Show—11 a.m.
Afternoon Show—2 p.m.
Admission FREE

Cindermen Stomp Gators In 83-53 Go

The track team of Florida State remained undefeated in a dual meet last week after stomping the University of Florida, 83-53.

The Seminoles won 10 events to the Gators' six. Florida State dominated in the long hauls, while Terry Long grabbed victories in the high and low hurdles.

FSU captured the 440 relay on the efforts of Quentin Till, Harold Johnson, Terry Long, and Craig Johnson. They toured the course in 42 seconds.

Dick Roberts finished the mile run in 4:28.7, and then went on to win the two-mile run in 10:06. Jim Lankford of FSU took second in the mile and then grabbed third in the two-mile.

Florida's Ted Mealor and Pete Rowe won first and second in the 440 run, while FSU's Jack Brocksmith came in third.

Craig and Harold Johnson finished second and third behind Florida's George Leach in the 100. Leach clocked 9.7.

Florida State's Bill Welch finished third in the high hurdles and FSU's Spike Olsen came in third in the low hurdles.

Bill Davis and Leon Smith gave FSU's a first and second in the 880, dropping Florida's Bob Harris. Davis' time was 1:56.5.

Then Leach clocked 21.8 in the 220 to get his second win of the day. Craig Johnson finished second, while Harold Johnson finished third.

With Brocksmith replacing Till on the relay team, Florida State won the mile relay in 3:18.8.

Florida State swept the shot put as Jeff Clark came in first with a 52-11 heave. Al Williams and Barry Topper finished second and third. Florida won first and second in the javelin on John Hale's 199 effort. FSU's Topper was third.

All three places went to Florida in the broad jump, as Jerry Wilson recorded 22-2½. Then FSU took all three places in the pole vault as Ed Hayes cleared 13-6 for first. Bill Crotty and Frank Ford came in second and third.

Two Florida cindermen tied for first in the high jump as Wendell Willis and Arnold Stephens jumped 6-0¾. FSU's Tom Bourne came in third.

First and second in the discus went to FSU as Jeff Clark recorded 143-4. Al Williams came in second.

Florida State will participate in the Penn Relays tomorrow in Philadelphia.

Auto Rally Scheduled

Sports car enthusiasts will gather at Doaks Campbell Stadium for the Tallahassee Sports Car Club's monthly rally Sunday afternoon at 1:30.

Participants bring their sports car, a navigator, and a stop watch and slide rule. A $1 entry fee is also required. Dr. N. W. Skaja of the Psychology Dept. will serve as steward of Sunday's activity, which will be a photographic rally. A variation of the time - distance rally, it will include photographs serving as route instructions.

The organization membership, which is open to both towns-people and FSU residents, includes FSU faculty, staff, and student members. Visitors are welcome to take part in the event.

For further information contact either Charles Smith, president, Warren Dixon, secretary, or Charles Benda, treasurer.

Linkers Grab 13th Win, Defeat Auburn University

The Florida State golf team defeated Auburn, 15 ½ to 11 ½, last week to grab its 13th win of the season against two losses. Auburn is now 6-2.

Dave Philo teamed with Manny Nordone to give FSU its first doubles victory, as they dropped Harry Slinguff and Bill Welch. Philo shot a 69 and Nordone tallied an 81, while Slinguff recorded a 72 and Welch a 78.

Then FSU's Doug Davis and Jim Hall shot a 72 and 71 respectively to fall to Bill Boswell and Wally Nall, who tallied a 67 and 80 respectively.

Florida State closed out its doubles victories as Dick Whitmire and Roger Kennedy defeated Hank Johnson and Mike Groover. Both Whitmire and Kennedy shot 76s, while Johnson and Groover shot a 79 and 78 respectively.

Today, the Seminoles will meet the Florida linkers in a match in Gainesville. The frosh will meet the Baby Gators also.

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "I Was a Teen-age Dwarf", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.)

CRAM COURSE NO. 4: BATHYMETRY

Continuing our series of pre-final exam cram courses, today we take up bathymetry—the study of ocean depths.

Admittedly, this is not a terribly popular course on most campuses. And small wonder. In the whole world there is only one bathyscape, and only two people can get into it.

Nevertheless, the study of ocean depths is of great importance. Why, do you realize that the ocean is by far the world's largest biological environment? The ocean has more than three hundred times as much living room as all the continents and islands combined! Unfortunately, only fishes live in it.

And small wonder. Who'd want to live some place where he couldn't smoke? Surely not I! I wouldn't give up my good Marlboro Cigarettes for the Atlantic and the Pacific put together. Nothing could induce me to forego Marlboro's fine mellow flavor, Marlboro's clean white filter, Marlboro's flip-top box that really flips, Marlboro's soft pack that's really soft. Let others repair to the spacious deeps. Me, I will stick with my Marlboros and the tiny garret I share with a tympanist.

But I digress. Back to the oceans. The largest, as we know, is the Pacific, which was discovered by Balboa, a Spaniard of great vision. To give you an idea of Balboa's vision, he first saw the Pacific while standing on a peak in Darien, which is in Connecticut.

Even more astounding, when Balboa reached San Francisco, he clearly saw the Hawaiian Islands! Being, as we know, a friendly cuss, Balboa waved merrily to the Hawaiians and shouted, "Great little ocean you got here, kids!" The Hawaiians, also, as we know, friendly cusses, waved back, declared a half holiday, organized a luau, built a cheery fire over which they prepared several gallons of poi, a suckling pig, and Captain Cook. This, of course, was the origin of Cooking.

Who'd want to live there?

But I digress. The Pacific, I say, is the largest ocean and also the deepest. The Mindanao Trench, off the Philippines, measures more than 5,000 fathoms in depth. (It should be pointed out here that ocean depths are measured in fathoms—lengths of six feet—after Sir Walter Fathom, a noted British sea measurer of the seventeenth century who, upon his twenty-first birthday, was given a string six feet long with which he used to go scampering all over England measuring sea water until he was arrested for loitering. A passion for measuring seems to have run in the family; Fathom's cousin, Sir Sol Furlong, spent all his waking hours measuring race tracks until Charles II had him beheaded in honor of the opening of the London School of Economics.)

But I digress. Let us, as the poet Masefield said, go down to the seas again. (The seas, incidentally, have ever been a favorite subject for poets and composers.) Who does not remember Tennyson's "Break, break, break"? Or Byron's "Roll on, thou dark and deep blue ocean, roll"? Or the many hearty sea chanties that have enriched our folk music—songs like "Sailing Through Kansas" and "I'll Swab Your Deck If You'll Swab Mine" and "The Artificial Respiration Polka." My own favorite sea chanty goes like this:

A girl loved a sailor and he did jilt her,
And she did weep and roar-ho!
Until she found a perfect filter,
And a perfect smoke—Marlboro!
Sing hey, sing ho, sing ring-a-ding-ding,
Sing tars and spars and patches,
Sing pack and box and lots to like,
And don't forget the matches!

© 1962 Max Shulman

• • •

The landlocked makers of Marlboro wish you smooth sailing through your final exams and smooth smoking—with Marlboro, of course. Have YOU settled back with a Marlboro lately?

Armstrong OFFERS CHALLENGING CAREERS

- SALES
- ADVERTISING
- PRODUCTION PLANNING
- ACCOUNTING
- TRANSPORTATION
- PURCHASING
- CREDIT

For further information, write to

C. F. FLEMING
ARMSTRONG
CORK COMPANY
LANCASTER, PA.

men recommend it to other men

Cool, clean Old Spice After Shave Lotion always gets you off to a fast, smooth start. Feels just as good between shaves as it does after shaving. Rates A-OK with dates. 1.25 and 2.00 plus tax.

Old Spice AFTER SHAVE LOTION

SHULTON

CUT ALONG THIS LINE

Two Buckets of Balls for the Price of One With Coupon—Good for Fri., Sat., and Sun. Nights

"OPEN DAILY"

COUPON

Oak Valley GOLF CLUB

Two For One Special Good for Friday, Saturday & Sunday Nights, April 13, 14 & 15

CLUBS FOR RENT

555 Ocala Road off West Tennessee

FOR NITE LIGHTED PALY

COUPON

GOLF

STUDENTS SPECIAL

- MONDAY-FRIDAY 9 OR 18 HOLES—$1.00
- SATURDAY-SUNDAY 9 OR 18 HOLES—$1.50 9 AM to 5 PM

Two Buckets of Balls for the Price of One With Coupon—Any Size Bucket

CUT ALONG THIS LINE

CUT ALONG THIS LINE

CUT ALONG THIS LINE

FUN...FIT FOR A QUEEN

(KING TOO FOR THAT MATTER)

FREE! Be the proud owner of the most exciting sports car on campus. Enter the NATIONAL COLLEGE QUEEN CONTEST. It's easy. Just go to your nearby BMC dealer for a free application blank for yourself or a friend. And for a sample of the fun to come ask him to let you take a SPRITE for a trial drive.

A fun-loving SPRITE is just one of the free prizes. You, or a girl friend, can win a total of $5,000. in fabulous prizes. Others include an all-expense trip to Europe, a $500. art-carved diamond ring, 20 pairs of Sandler of Boston shoes, a 10-year supply of Berkshire hose, a $500. David Crystal wardrobe, Westinghouse appliances and a full year's supply of Toni beauty products.

SPRITE

NATIONAL COLLEGE QUEEN

ACT TODAY!

Applications must be postmarked by midnight, Monday, April 30th.

BMC

A BMC CAR

P.S. Going abroad this summer? Save money! Have more fun! Drive your own BMC car! Ask your dealer for details.

Elections...

Continued from Page 1)

Pippen (UP), Horace Smith, (UP), Vicki Voyles, Jane Ward (SP) and Jan Warren (SP); junior Traffic Court (two posts)—Rick Frost (SP), Dana Lenahan (UP), Roger Shortz (SP) and Alice Marshall (UP).

AMENDMENTS

Also on the ballot to be voted on Tuesday will be four amendments to the Student Body Constitution. Bill No. 30 states that there will be a cabinet to advise the president of the student body and that the appointed cabinet members and their assistants must be approved by a majority vote of the Student Senate.

Bill No. 33 provides for possible changes in the structure of class officers system setup, only if needed. This does not make changes in the structure of class offices at present. Bill No. 35 sets up operating procedure for the Board of Publications. Bill No. 37 clarifies the duties of the Chief Justice of Honor Court. It states that he may vote only in the event of a tie.

The entire text of the bills are as follows.

1961-62 Student Senate Bill No. 30
A bill to amend Article III Section 5 of the Constitution of the Florida State University Student Body
Be it enacted by the Florida State University Student Senate
That Article III Section 5 of the Constitution of the Florida State University Student Body be amended to read as follows:
There shall be a cabinet to assist and advise the President, the membership of which shall be determined by the Statutes. The appointment of the cabinet members and their assistants must be confirmed by a majority vote of the Senate.

1961-62 Student Senate Bill No. 33
A bill to amend Article VII of the Florida State University Student Body Constitution
Be it enacted by the Florida State University Student Senate:
That Article VIII Section 1 be amended to read:
Section 1 Recognized Publications
Student Publications deriving funds from the Student Body shall be The Florida Flambeau, a newspaper; Tally-Ho, an annual; Smoke Signals, a magazine; The Legend, a literary anthology; andPow-Wow, a handbook.
Be it futher enacted:
That Section 4, Subsection A be amended to read
A. Non-student Membership.
There shall be three non-student voting members who shall be appointed for a three year term of office by the President of the University or the Dean of Students. Non-student members may serve more than one term.
Be is further enacted:
That Section 4, Subsecuon B be amended by deleting
Editors of the publications shall serve as non-voting members.
Be is further enacted
That Section 4, Subsection D be amended to read:
D. Ex-Officio Membership.
The business manager and editors of the student publications shall be ex-officio members of the Board of Student Publications, with the right to discuss, but not the right to vote at meetings which they attend.
Be is further enacted:
That Section 4, Subsection D, Par. 2 be deleted
Be it further enacted.
That Section 5, Subsection A be amended to read
Section 5 Organization
A. The Chairman, who shall be one of the student members hereinafter described, shall be elected by the entire membership of the Board of Student Publications. The chairman shall serve for the period of time of one scholastic year, beginning with the onset of the third semester and shall not succeed himself or herself in the office. The secretary shall be chosen by vote of the board. The chairman shall vote only in case of a tie.
Be it further enacted
That Section 6, Subsection A be amended to read
A. Regular meetings shall be held each month of the academic year. Time for such meetings shall be determined by the Board. Notifications of the meetings must be made two days in advance of the designated time by the Secretary of the Board of Student Publications.
Be it further enacted
That Section 6, Subsection D be amended to read.
D. Executive sessions (those closed to persons other than board members) shall be prohibited.
Be it further enacted
That Section 7, Subsection A be amended to read
A. It shall be the duty of the Board of Publications to appoint the editor for each publication and the business manager for the publications. The business manager and editors of the Florida Flambeau, Smoke Signals, Tally-Ho, The Legend, and the Pow-Wow shall be appointed according to the procedure and for the term designated by the Board of Student Publications.
Be it further enacted
That Section 7, Subsection B be amended to read
B. The procedure of applying for the positions shall be announced three weeks before the date of appointment.
Be it further enacted
That Section 7 Subsection D be amended by:
Substituting the number 500 for the number 100 in the first sentence.
Be it further enacted:
That Section 7 Subsections F and G be deleted.
Be it further enacted
That Section 8 be deleted.

1961-62 Student Senate Bill No. 37
A bill to amend Article IV of the Student Body Constitution
Be it enacted by the Florida State University Student Senate
That Article IV Section 7, Part A be amended to read.
A. The Chief Justice shall preside over Honor Court and shall vote only in case of a tie.

FOUR NEWLY PLANTED SABAL PALMETTOS
. . . are among the 150 recently scattered throughout the campus. The Sabal palmetto or cabbage palm is Florida's state tree native to Northern Florida. Pictured with the trees are (from left) Jean Hedleston, Mary Alice Leonard, and Denise Gonatos.

DeGraff To Become Undergraduate Hall

By LANA MURRAY
Assistant News Editor

DeGraff Hall will be converted into an undergraduate women's dormitory beginning the fall trimester, according to Miss Edith McCollum, director of housing.

DeGraff presently is being used as a coeducational dormitory for graduate students.

Miss McCollum said that in a meeting with all present residents who had reapplied for housing in DeGraff, the graduate students were offered alternatives of one-room apartments in the new 185-unit section of Alumni Village, which is now under construction and scheduled for completion by September.

She added that in these new graduate apartments, the students would have better facilities at only slightly higher costs.

Miss McCollum explained that this move was necessary because there have been fewer dropouts among women students, and because transfer student applications have increased markedly. She added that Gilchrist will become an entirely freshman dorm instead of being divided between freshmen and upperclass women students.

'SUCCESSFUL PLAN'

Commenting on the fact that DeGraff has been a coeducational dorm for two years, Miss McCollum remarked, "This has been a highly successful plan . . . is with great reluctance that the decision has been arrived at."

She added that she hoped someday there would be coeducational underclass dorms.

With the new housing facilities provided by DeGraff Hall, Miss McCollum pointed out that freshmen women students will not be allowed to live off-campus except with close relatives. She added, however, that Housing Office officials are exploring all possibilities of additional approved off-campus housing for upperclass women.

So that her office may have a sooner estimate of housing needs, the due date for housing reservation payments for present dorm residents has been moved up to July 1, Miss McCollum said.

SADDLE HORSES FOR RENT
For Reservation And Information
Phone 222-3598
AFTER 5:00 P.M.

Tallahassee Art Festival Is Held At The Columns

Florida State University students and faculty or staff members are invited to exhibit original art work in the first Tallahassee Art Festival, to be held May 6 through 13 in The Columns.

A non-competitive exhibition headed by Leon Mead, who teaches art at the University School, the show will include art work done by amateurs, professionals, and semi professionals above the age of six who spend most of their time in Leon County, including such well-known professionals as Karl Zerbe of the FSU faculty.

The only requirement for entry in the Festival is originality. Work in all media will be accepted at The Columns on the corner of Adams and Park from tomorrow through Tuesday.

FSU students and faculty members have been working with Mead on planning the show and getting the 130-year old building ready for the exhibition. Faculty members on the organizing committee of the Festival include Ivan Johnson, Gulnar Bosch, Jack Breckenridge, Jim Martin, Mary Lou Kuhn and Ralph Hurst.

Members of the Student Art Teachers Association and the Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity have spent Saturdays painting The Columns and building display properties. Lewis Friedman, a commercial art student, designed the official symbol of the Festival.

Work to be exhibited from the FSU faculty will include that of Zerbe, Jackson Ice, Fred Metzke, Rudolph Jegart, Ed Hill, Gail Johnson, Nellie Bond Dickenson, Ann Kirn, Janet Smith and the members of the Festival committee.

Religious News

Bowling Party Is Tonight

The Wesley Foundation is having a bowling party tonight. Participants are asked to meet at the Women's Gym at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served at the Foundation after the party. Rev. Austin E. Hollady will have the Sunday morning worship service at 11 a.m. in the chapel.

LUTHERAN

The LSA will not meet Sunday because of the regional Little Ashram in North Carolina. The program for next week is a talk by Harry Adams.

State Trees Are Planted

Florida State University's campus now has more specimens of the state tree, the Sabal palmetto, than ever before, as a result of the planting of 150 of them which has just been completed.

About one-third of the trees were planted around Campbell Stadium, which now has enough to justify the name of "palm tree bowl."

The others were placed around the Student Center and at other places on the campus.

Assistant Business Manager Ray Green Jr. said the palms were obtained, free for the digging, through the courtesy of St. Joe Paper Company and Silas Eubanks of the company's offices at Newport.

The palms are from a forest of palm trees 10 or 12 miles east of Newport.

The Sabal palmetto, often called the cabbage palm, is native to the coast from Cape Hatteras, North Carolina, to Upper Matecumbe Key in Florida and westward as far as St. Andrews Bay.

SPECIAL
Daytona, Ft. Lauderdale
POST-MORTEM
1-GROUP SHORT SLEEVE
SPORT SHIRTS
$3.99
Values $5.95
nic's toggery

Special to Students Only
BRAKES RELINED
$10.95
lining and labor on most American Cars
WHEEL ALIGNMENT AND BALANCE
6-95 Plus Weights
JONES AUTO ELECTRIC
2224 S. Monroe Tel. 222-3252

lively Jessica Darling, U. of Texas '64

lives it up with this lively One from Ford '62: the new Falcon Sports Futura!

Our Longhorn Lively One plays piano, is one of Texas' "10 Most Beautiful" girls, and an avid Falcon Sports Futura fan. This spirited compact handles so well you'll figure the controls should be indicated in Italian. New bucket seats are separated by a personal console, and the rakish "Son of Thunderbird" roof can be covered in vinyl. No wonder all the liveliest student bodies are cruising the campus in the new Falcon Sports Futura. See it, and all the Lively Ones at your Ford Dealer's . . . the liveliest place in town!

A PRODUCT OF Ford MOTOR COMPANY

Girl Watcher's Guide
Presented by Pall Mall Famous Cigarettes

First field trip

LESSON 7- Keep moving

One of the most important rules of girl watching is this: keep moving. In fact, it is always a good idea not only to move, but to appear to be going somewhere. (This is especially important on group field trips.) Beautiful girls, although they enjoy being watched, are instinctively suspicious of strollers and downright fearful of loiterers.

The man who is walking briskly, who looks like he's "going places," makes a better girl watcher. For one thing, he sees more total girls and in the end he enjoys his hobby more. (If you are planning an extended field trip—to Paris and Rome, for example—be sure to pack a couple of cartons of Pall Mall.)

WHY BE AN AMATEUR?
JOIN THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF GIRL WATCHERS NOW!

FREE MEMBERSHIP CARD. Visit the editorial office of this publication for a free membership card in the world's only society devoted to discreet, but relentless, girl watching. Constitution of the society on reverse side of card.

This ad based on the book, "The Girl Watcher's Guide." Text: Copyright by Donald J. Sa rs. Drawings Copyright by Eldon Dedini. Reprinted by permis n of Harper & Brothers.

Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste!
So smooth, so satisfying, so downright smokeable!

Product of The American Tobacco Company — Tobacco is our middle name

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Florida's First Semi-Weekly College Newspaper

Vol. XLVIII, No. 47

Published By The Students Of Florida State University

Tuesday, May 1, 1962

THE GREATEST COLLEGIATE SHOW ON EARTH

. . . starts tonight as the annual FSU circus week gets into full swing with the first show under the big top at 8 p.m. Walt Rothenback and Judy Goodman are just two of the many performers featured in the gala event.

FSU Circus Performs Six Under Cover Of New Tent

are still available for ty and by the Tallahassee Cham for all performances ber of Commerce which is spon- the Saturday night shows sored the Tallahassee Spring The Athletic Ticket Office re- Family Festival. that there are still tick- one for the 8 p.m. Thurs- through Friday night and 8:30 p.m. show Saturday most of the good ones already sold except for

The tickets, on sale at the Ath- Ticket Office in Tully am are $1.50 for non and $.75 for students for seats and $1.25 for non and $.50 for students for admission.

With the Circus Home highlight Florida State 's annual Family many other activities are planned for visiting parents and alumni, both by the Univers-

The first event of the weekend will be the Florida A.A.U. International Track Meet, scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday at the Florida High Stadium. Participating in the meet will be FSU, the Universities of Florida, Miami, Georgia and Georgia Tech. Admission will be $1 for non-students and $.50 for student.

The University Singers, under the direction of Dr. Wiley Housewright, will present a free concert at 8:15 p.m. Friday at Westcott Auditorium.

The glassbottom boat trip and jungle cruise at Wakulla Springs will be specially priced during the Festival. Admission for adults will be $1.65, students $1.10 and children under six will be admitted free. The Springs will be open from 8:30 a.m. to sunset, Saturday and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Killearn Gardens State Park will be open during the same hours Saturday and Sunday, with admission of $.50 per person.

The Tallahassee Junior Museum will be open for tours Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

FSU's baseball team will play Gulf Coast Junior College at 10 a.m. Saturday. Admission will be free.

The first annual Alumni-Varsity Football Game will be played at 2 p.m. Saturday at Doak S. Campbell Stadium. Admission will be $1.50 for non-students and $.50 for students. The game will feature former FSU football stars and some FSU All-American players.

An art festival will be held at the Columns, Park Ave. and Adams St. from 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday. Admission is free to the exhibit which includes entries by professionals and amateurs.

Simultaneously, there will be exhibitions of photography at the Lewis State Bank, Little Gallery, arts and crafts of members of staff families at the Tallahassee Democrat Bldg., FSU and FAMU faculty work at the County Library, Carol Bradley's masters exhibition at the FSU Gallery and George Milton's retrospect exhibition in Randall House.

A Pilot Club tour of distinctive homes will be Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m. Admission is $2 for the tour which features homes of historical interest, novel design and interior decoration.

A Florida High School band concert will be at 5 p.m. Sunday at the Columns. Admission will be free.

FSU Student Govt. Program Rated Tops By U F Survey

The Florida State University Government program was tops in a survey of schools the South, Southeast and Mid- conducted by the University ating was announced by F delegate last week in a on at the conven- the Southern University Government Associa- emson College, Clemson, S.C. conference included panel ns of different student ment areas and of at pts to locate and solve prob- ms that arise in student gov- ment; business sessions in next year's convention man and state chairmen each of the eight states ented in SUSGA were elect- and the passing of an amend- to the constitution.

Entertainment for the convention was furnished by the Whisky Hill Singers and the Four Saints.

Of the 47 member schools, 45 were represented at the SUSGA convention. Except for the host school, Clemson, the FSU delegation of 18 members was the largest. FSU also had the most members invited to participate in panel discussions.

The five voting members from FSU were Bobby Byrd, ken van Assenderp, Johnny Smith, Dan Walbolt and Ben Sharp.

Other FSU students who attended the convention were: Marion Clark, Pat Doomar, Bill Grant, Kitty Miller, Nancie Sill, Nancy Sindon, Jackie Mathis, Tom Schultz, Buddy Holly, Marianna Girtman, Mary Jo Webb, Dick Hume, and Mike Wegalius.

HURRY, HURRY, HURRY,

. . . to the 1962 edition of the FSU circus. This year the circus troupe, with the support of student government, has bought a new tent which will be used tonight for the first time. The new blue and white big top makes the possibility of a postponement due to bad weather almost impossible and, according to circus officials, will greatly add to the spectator's enjoyment.

S.G. Officers Are To Be Elected As Polls Open From 9-5 Today

By Cookie Neubauer
Flambeau Staff Writer

Class officers and court system elections take place today. Voting begins at 9 a.m. and continues until 5 p.m. at the Student Center, Bryan Hall, Westcott, the library, Smith Hall, and the Seminole Club. Students must show FSU identification cards to be eligible to vote.

One class president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and social chairman and two men and two women senators will be elected to represent each class.

Eight members will be elected to Honor Court, two men and two women fron the Junior Class and two men and two women from the Senior Class.

Three candidates from each of the following six categories will be elected to Judiciary: senior men, senior women, junior men, junior women, sophomore men and sophomore women. Two will be elected for sophomore traffic court and two for junior traffic court.

RUNOFFS FRIDAY

Runoffs will be held Friday. At that time permanent Senior Class officers and outstanding senior man and woman will be elected.

Nominees for outstanding man are Bobby Byrd, Jack Ascheri, Marion Clark and Charlie Hawkins. Nominees for outstanding woman are Mygnon Champion, Marianna Girtman, Gail Gillespie, Jan Dougherty, Carolyn Reeves, and Scarlet Pogue.

Permanent class officer nominees for president and vice president are Jack Ascheri, Chuck Kemman, Bobby Byrd, Duke Scott, Marion Clark, and Carl Kuttler. The man receiving the most votes will be elected president, the one with the second highest number will be vice president.

Jane Fanchum, Selby Cannon, Mygnon Champion, Marianna Girtman, Rena Ambrosini, and Linda Stearns are women candidates. Among these, the one receiving the most votes will be secretary, the second highest will be treasurer.

Constitutional Amendments

Also to be voted on Friday will be the amendments to the Student Body Constitution which were printed in Friday's Flambeau.

Nancie Sill, Secretary of Elections, stated that no final results from Friday's election will be announced until all posters on the outside bulletin boards and those at Bill's, the Corner, the Sweet Shop, the Mecca, and University Inn are taken down. Miss Sill reminds candidates that it is the responsibility of candidates, not of property owners, to remove posters.

Results of both elections will be posted in the main entrance of Longmire.

INDEPENDENT CANDIATES

Running independently for sophomore class offices, are for secretary—Mary Lois Stone and Dee Weber, treasurer—Patty Bowman, Linda Luna, and Leslie McNevin, social chairman—Josie LaRoche, men's senate—Tom Sisco, women's senate — Sally Sparks.

Junior class secretary — Van Miller and Boots Ratterree, social chairman — Merrily Costello.

Senior Class secretary Peggy Bruce, social chairman — Ann Dinsmore, men's senate —Dallas Matthews, women's senate —Patti Buerke and Geri Wright.

Honor Court senior men —Jim Brown, junior men — Brian Bibeau and Dave Crumb, junior women—Ginnie Collier, Judiciary junior women's—Matty Baumrucker, sophomore women's — Louise Carter, Betty Gardner, Irene Lopez and Dinnie Mathison.

Sophomore Traffic Court — Vicki Voyles.

Student Party Candidates

Student Party candidates for sophomore class offices are: President — Bob Kerrigan, vice president — Bob Watson, secretary — Kathy Alonso, treasurer —Carol Peters, social chairman —Sandi Staten, men's senate—Al len Bird and Chris McEwan, women's senate—Texas Wiltshire and Kay Rankin.

Junior class president — Coley Tooke, vice president — Mike Woods, secretary — Pattie Childs, treasurer —Susan Lawhon, social chairman — Anne DeHoff, men's senate — Bill Grant and Bill Greenwood, women's senate —Pat Doomar and Clyda Stokes.

Senior class president — Bob Sopher, vice president —Wayne Edwards, secretary — Gretchen Uzzell, treasurer — Evelyn Foy, social chairman — Beverly Calvert, men's senate — Ron Eward and Mitch Franks, women's senate—Louise Bone and Jimmie Langford.

Honor Court senior men—Ron Bissland and John Wesley White, senior women — Lou Perry, junior men — David Wiles, junior women — Jean Fountain and Patty Warren.

Judiciary senior men — Carl Alcorns, George Burkhart, and Buddy Doty, senior women—Barbara Bates, Nancy Vann Smith, and Sarah Southworth, junior men — John Brown, Bill Hughes and Dale Marler, junior women —Nancy Bell, Margay Blasingame and Bobsie Carlton, sophomore men — John Sytsma and Mike Thackston, sophomore women — Myra Hancock, Judy Loucks and Jan Walker.

Sophomore Traffic Court candidates are Jane Ward and Jan Warren, junior Traffic Court — Rick Frost and Roger Shortz.

University Party Candidates

University Party Candidates for sophomore class offices are: president—Julian Proctor, vice-president — Sherman Henderson, secretary—Gerry Bryant, treasurer—Marilyn Johnson, social chairman—Carolyn Jones, men's senate—Curry Bassett and Ray Mannucci, women's senate—Joyce Killian and Marsha Orth.

Junior class president —Tom Haney, vice president—Deene Kitchen, secretary—Sylvia Cashion, treasurer—Sandy Clary, social chairman—Martha Roberts, men's senate—Annie Gibbs and Jon Kaney, women's senate — Cathy Young.

Senior class president—Duncan Moore, vice president—Bill Arnold, secretary—Allan Lewitt, treasurer — Ron Boersma, social chairman — Nancy Gross, men's senate—Jim Johnston, women's senate—Nancy Paluzzi.

Honor Court senior men —Galt Allee and Jamie Jameison, senior women—Martha Bishop and Nancy Sindon, junior men—Kelley Reid and Joe Rodgers, junior women—Bobbi Darragh and Carolyn Wronske.

Judiciary senior men —Steve Botts, Chuck Calvior and Pete Davis, senior women—Millie Bishop and Mary Lillian Jones, junior men—Matt Miller and Frank Ryll, junior women—Betsy Boote, Patti Haer, and Judy Register, sophomore men—Hugh Boyd and Jim B. Jones, sophomore women—Sandra Brooks, Linda Hoffman, and Dana Pharr.

Sophomore Traffic court candidates are Virginia Pippen and Horace Smith, junior Traffic Court—Dana Lenahan and Alice Marshall.

Debaters End Year Attending Two Meets

By JOHN F. SCHAFFNER
Managing Editor

The Florida State University Debate Squad ended a winning season by adding three more trophies and two certificates to their record in the two final tournaments of the year.

This weekend, two four-men teams of the first year debaters won three trophies and a certificate at the University of Georgia's Cross Examination Style Debate Tournament at Athens, Ga. Louis Barnett and Jan Duggar won the first-place affirmative trophy, while Carolyn Cooksey and Ann Rushing won the second-place negative trophy.

This four - man unit also won first place among all of the four-man units at the tournament. Ann Rushing won the trophy for the top speaker in the tournament, and Bill McCarron won a certificate for being one of the top four speakers in the tournament.

The tournament drew schools from six states, and consisted of a varsity division only. All of the FSU debaters that attended were first year debaters in college competition. The debaters participating were: affirmative—Barnett and Duggar, Joan Corey and Richard Erickson, negative —Miss Rushing and Miss Cooksey, W. O. Beauchamp and Bill McCarron.

INDIANA TOURNAMENT

On April 18, 19, and 20, an FSU four-man team participated in the Tau Kappa Alpha National Conference at Indiana State University in Terre Haute, Ind. The teams participated in eight rounds of debate, and each speaker also took part in two rounds of an individual speaking contest. Marilyn Young won a certificate for being one of six finalists in the persuasive speaking contest.

In debate, the negative team of Betty McIntosh and John Schaffner won six debates and lost two, while the affirmative team of Marilyn Young and Richard Root won three and lost five. The team as a whole, winning nine and losing seven, placed 11 in a field of 28 teams in the tournament. There were 15 states represented in the tournament.

The FSU debate squad ended the 1961-62 season with a record of 147 wins and 82 losses. They participated in 229 tournament debates, five audience debates and 87 practice debates, for a total of 321 debates.

The team attended 11 tournaments and won eight trophies, six medals, and a large number of certificates. FSU debaters have debated teams as far south as Miami, as far northwest as Vermont, and as far west as southern California.

CONTEST WINNERS

The director of forensics at FSU, Dr. Gregg Phifer, has recently announced the finalists and winners in the three intramural speaking contests. The winner in the after - dinner speaking contest finals, which were judged by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, was Elizabeth Betts. The other two finalists were Marilyn Young and John Schaffner.

The winner of the persuasive speaking (original oratory) contest was Louis Barnett. The other two finalists were W. O. Beauchamp and Richard Erickson. This contest was judged by the Tallahassee Optimist Club.

Richard Erickson was the winner in the extemporaneous speaking contest, which was judged by the Toastmasters Club of Tallahassee. The other two finalists were Marilyn Young and Betty McIntosh.

Dr. Adamovic Gives Talk On Yugoslavian Neutralism

"To be poor and independent—that is a real job," said Dr. Ljubisa Adamovic, as he spoke on Yugoslavia's neutralism before Liberal Forum, Sunday night.

Dr. Adamovic is at present a visiting lecturer from Yugoslavia with the Economics Dept. at Florida State University. He plans to hold a similar position at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Penn., in the fall, returning to Yugoslavia in 1963. During a previous visit to the United State, he earned his Master's degree at Ohio University, and he has a Ph.D. degree from the University of Belgrade.

UNCOMMITTED

Yugoslavia is an uncommitted nation, pointed out Dr. Adamovic. In developing their own government, Yugoslavians are trying to learn from the experiences of both sides, imitating the best of both. They would like to combine the personal freedom of Western government with the planned and accelerated economy of the East, he added.

Speaking of his country's present government, Adamovic stated, "Most people have the government they deserve . . . You have to deserve freedom. You have to know how to handle it." Yugoslavia is a strong socialist country, but is is not Communist, he stressed. The Yugoslavian Communist Party was dissolved in 1952. It does have some of the same basic economic criterion as Russia. However, the ruling party has no control over the artistic and domestic life of the people, he explained.

The parallel to American life he said, can be illustrated by the comment of an American correspondent who attended a workers' committee meeting in Belgrade. He compared it to a corporation board meeting in the U.S.

UNIFICATION

Dr. Adamovic likened Tito to George Washington or Nehru in his role of molding and holding together his country. Tito was supported in World War II by the U.S. and the United Kingdom because it was felt that he would do the best job in fighting the Nazis, he added.

The difficulty of unifying Yugoslavia, Adamovic feels, is readily apparent. To demonstrate this he pointed out that it has six states, five nationalities, four religions, three languages and two alphabets.

"You can't say that all is black and evil on one side and paradise on the other," Adamovic concluded, commenting on present world opinion toward Yugoslavia.

Director Of Gulmarg Laboratory To Serve As Visiting Lecturer

Dr. P. S. Gill, director of the Gulmarg Research Laboratory, Gulmarg, Kashmir, India, will serve as a visiting lecturer at Florida State University next Monday through Wednesday.

Dr. Gill will be at FSU under the auspices of the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Institute of Physics as a part of a broad, nationwide program to stimulate interest in physics. The program of Visiting Scientists in Physics is being conducted with the support of the National Science Foundation.

The American Association of Physics Teachers is one of the five member societies of the American Institute of Physics. Other member societies are the American Physical Society, the Optical Society of America, the Acoustical Society of America and the Society of Rheology.

The Visiting Scientists Program, now in its fifth year, has enabled prominent physicists to lecture at many colleges and universities.

The visiting scientist gives formal lectures, takes part in colloquia, meets informally with the physics staff about teaching and research in this country, and often visits nearby colleges and secondary schools to learn about the varied conditions under which physics is taught in the U.S.

Dr. Gill, a native of Panjab, india, received his A.B. and M.S. degrees from the University of Southern California and his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. He was a research fellow at the University of Chicago; a lecturer in physics at the Forman Christian College, Lahore, and a visiting scientist at the Terrestrial Magnetism and Atmospheric Electricity Dept. at the Carnegie Institution, Washington.

Dr. Gill was a consultant at the National Bureau of Standards in Washington, D.C, in 1949 and has been professor of physics and head of the Physics Dept. at Aligarh Muslim University since that time.

Among other positions held by Dr. Gill are: director, Gulmarg Research Observatory, Gulmarg, Kashmir; honorary professor of physics, the University of Jammu and Kashmir; and dean of the faculty of science, Aligarh Muslim University from 1950 to 1953 and 1955 to 1957.

Dr. Gill is a fellow of the American Physical Society; of the National Institute of Sciences of India; of the National Academy of Sciences of India; and of the Indian Physical Society.

He is past president of the Physics Section, Indian Science Congress Association, Indian Physical Society; and the National Academy of Sciences of India.

At present, Dr. Gill is foreign secretary of the National Institute of Sciences of India; general secretary (Outstation), Indian Science Congress; and visiting professor of physics, Washington State University.

Professor Colin H. Barrow of the FSU Physics Dept. is in charge of arrangements for the visit.

S. G. Banquet

Tickets for the Student Government Installation Banquet will be on sale today at 4 p.m. in the Longmire Lobby.

Tickets are $1.75 for the banquet which will be May 9, at 6:30 p.m. in the Suwannee Room.

The tickets will be sold from 4 to 6 p.m. today and during the same hours through Friday and on Monday.

Newly elected Student Government offices will be installed at the banquet and merit awards will be given.

THE MEXICAN CLOUD SWING

. . . is one of the most spectacular of the acts to be seen this week at the FSU circus. Wynn Ellison is pictured rehearsing for tonight's opening performance.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members and the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Facts Not Decided

Since the Student Government trimester publication urged students to "look for the answers . . . in coming issues of the Flambeau," students are wondering why their newspaper has not published more specific facts concerning the new operations. The recently circulated pamphlet, although attractively printed, contained absolutely no information which had not previously been printed in the Flambeau.

INFORMATION ABOUT the trimester so far has been laden with terms such as "certain" changes, "substantial" increases, "significant" adjustments. Very few specifics other than the calendar are available. When details have been officially decided, the Flambeau will publish them.

THE FALL TRIMESTER is expected to have an unduly heavy enrollment in relation to the other trimesters. If this imbalance is too great, some restricting measure may be necessary. Such measures might be helping students find employment for the fall; prohibiting students on academic probation from re-entering in the fall; or, if the situation is acute, allowing only those students in the upper segment of their class to enter for the first trimester. Any or all of these or similar techniques will be used if necessary, but "necessity" cannot be determined until all of the applications are in.

Although administrators "recognize the need for decisions" on the subject of housing, definite answers have not yet been reached. Will upperclassmen returning after a trimester lapse or incumbents who have been in attendance for one trimester, have housing priority?

HOW WILL THE trimester affect what classes are being offered? We will have to wait until the August publication of the schedule of classes for the answer to this question. Each department must make its own decision as there will be no university-wide policy on this subject.

The set-up of the classes themselves has not yet been officially decided. Will we keep the Monday-Wednesday-Friday; Tuesday-Thursday classes or will they take a form like: Monday-Wednesday-Friday and Thursday afternoon? We don't know.

AS SOON AS these questions are resolved, students will be notified. In the meantime, the facts are not being withheld, they simply have not been decided yet. TD

Money For Time

Recent letters to the Flambeau have indicated an interest in a revamping of library hours, especially to meet the new demands that the trimester will make on the student body, which will turn increasingly to the library.

WE HAVE REASON to believe that the library itself is not unwilling to increase the hours it stays open. There has been an expressed willingness on the part of the library staff to do what they can to meet the demands of the coming trimester operation.

However, in some secluded spot from whence cometh the necessary funds, there has not been a stir of movement in any direction. The library, in order to give the increased service desired by our students, must have one additional librarian and adequate part-time student help. The new librarian might require a decent salary, but student help still goes at something like seventy-five cents an hour.

It seems to us that the value of better library hours and the accompanying services, would more than offset the added operational expense involved.

Even the APO's can't be expected to volunteer to keep the library open! LP

Candidates Stress Trimester, Qualifications

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Class Senator Candidates

Senior Class

Franks

DEAR JUNIOR CLASS:

Today you will go to the polls to determine who will represent you in the Student Government for the coming year.

This letter is to introduce you to a candidate we feel is well qualified to continue the fine tradition of student government at FSU. This candidate is Mitch Franks, competing for the office of Senator from the Senior Class.

Mitch is aware of the needs of the student Body and the Senior Class, and has the experience and knowledge to fulfill these needs. Mitch is a veteran of four years in the Air Force, is presently Vice President of the Young Democrats, FSU campaign chairman for Dexter Douglass for Congress, a member of the Drama honorary, the holder of several offices in his fraternity, and has continually made the Dean's list for academic excellence since coming to FSU. We believe Mitch meets the qualifications of leadership, scholarship, and experience. Therefore, we urge you to vote for the candidate who can do the job. Mitch Franks for Senior Class Senator.

JIM STEVENS
REVILLE SLAYDEN
CHARLIE HAWKINS
BOB BARBER

Burke

DEAR SENIORS-TO-BE:

In your final year as an undergraduate of Florida State, I would like to represent you as a class senator in your Student Senate.

I believe my experience for the past two years as a representative in Student Senate and Women's Senate, along with two years as a member of the Honor Code Committee, plus being a Co-student Chairman of the 1961 Homecoming Parade will aid me in representing to the best of my ability our Senior Class in Student Senate.

I would appreciate your consideration and support and hope the best for you in your coming Senior Year.

PATTI BURKE
Candidate, Sr.
Women's Sen.

Bone

DEAR JUNIORS:

We are supporting Louise Bone for Senior Class Senator. Her experience in leadership positions, legislative work, and other fields of campus activity qualified her to serve you as Senior Class Senator.

Louise has served as Clerk of Women's Senate this year and has gained invaluable experience with legislative procedures. She has worked with the rules here by serving as a Junior Counselor, and a Sorority president. In addition, Louise has worked on many student government committees. Mortified has recognized her for her leadership ability.

We know that Louise Bone can offer you the caliber of leadership that will be so vital in Senate under the trimester system. We urge you to help make FSU an even greater university through the support and election of our candidate —Louise Bone for Senior Class Senator.

MYGNON CHAMPION
REVILLE SLAYDEN
JIM BLUE
KITTY MILLER

Paluzzi

DEAR JUNIORS:

Today we are voting for our student government officers for next year. This election is perhaps even more important than those of past years for we are faced with a revision of campus life. The trimester system brings us many problems and, as yet, they are not all ironed out. Our student senate will play a big role in revamping our campus activities, both social and academic. I am familiar with the workings of senate since I have served as precinct senator for two years.

I would appreciate your consideration in enabling me to serve as your Senior Class Senator.

NANCY PALUZZI
University Party

Junior Class

Doomar

DEAR JUNIORS:

I am a candidate for Junior Class Senator and would greatly appreciate your support today.

I have served in student senate and women's senate for two years and was elected to serve as Women's Vice President Pro-Tem this year by women's senate. In this position I have had an excellent opportunity to work very closely with all phases of student government.

Our student government is one of the most outstanding in the South and possibly the nation. I have attended the Regional Convention of the Intercollegiate Assn. of Women Students held in Lawrence, Kansas, and the annual convention of SUSGA held in Clemson, S.C. At these conventions, I had an opportunity to study and compare various student governments throughout the South.

Our student government must undergo much study and many changes to adapt to the trimester system. I have a working knowledge of our student government and I want to continue to serve you in senate.

Let a candidate that is qualified by experience serve you. . . "DO MORE WITH DOOMAR". . as Junior Class Senator.

PAT DOOMAR

Stokes

DEAR SOPHOMORES:

It has been a challenge and a pleasure to work in Senate the past two years as a representative for our class. Next year with the introduction of the trimester system, there will be even more important decisions to be made and much extra work. Your consideration of my record and qualifications would be greatly appreciated. I hope that they will serve as a voucher for my interest and desire to continue to the job for you.

CLYDA STOKES
Candidate Junior Class Senator

Grant

FELLOW SOPHOMORES:

I am once again seeking a position of class representation; this year as our Junior Class Senator. I feel that the experience gained from the office of Sophomore Class President which you elected me to last Spring, qualifies me to seek this position.

As our class senator, I would take a firm stand for the continuation of the class structures and the class officers. I would attempt to ring into our constitution a provision for majority and minority leaders in the Senate under a Democratic two party system. I would work for a solution to the parking problem now facing an expanding student body. I would at all times emphasize the growing financial strains of the students and would work to bring about measures to correct some of these if possible.

I would appreciate your vote on May 1st. Let's fight together for an outstanding class and for an even more outstanding FSU.

BLL GRANT

Sophomores

Sisco

DEAR FRESHMEN,

Election time is here again and the choice of Class Senators will be yours.

During the past year, we the undersigned, have worked with Tom Sisco in many phases of Student Government. Tom Sisco has shown himself to be an earnest and capable leader to this year's Senate. He has served on six Senate committees including the important Budget and Trimester committees.

Tom Sisco has continually shown a sincere concern for the welfare of you, his constituents. We hope that you will consider his experience as well as his outstanding qualifications and then join us in supporting him for re-election.

GINNY BOYD
MINA CRAWFORD
MYGNON CHAMPION
CLAIRE KEMPER
GERRI McDANIELS

Orth

DEAR FRESHMAN CLASS:

It has been a most rewarding experience for me to represent each of you in our Florida State Senate this year. In fact I have become so wrapped up in Student Government with all that I have learned and with all the challenges anticipated for the trimester that I am earnestly seeking re-election as your Sophomore Senator.

Please consider my qualifications as an indication of my willingness and interest to serve you.

Experience counts in the trimester.

MARSHA ORTH
Candidate, Soph.
Class Senator

Killian

KILLIAN
DEAR FELLOW FRESHMEN:

On May 1st and 4th we will have the opportunity to elect the entire court membership, Sophomore Class Officers and Sophomore Class Senators for next year. This is an important election for us and one in which we should all vote after carefully studying the candidates and their qualifications.

I would sincerely appreciate your considering me for Kay Killian, and my qualifications when you elect your two Sophomore Women's Senators.

Through serving on SUSGA, Senate Women's Senate, Senate Chairman of the Senate Organizations and Finance Committee, serving on the Trimester Committee, representing you at the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students Convention in Kansas, and serving as editor of the student government section of next year's Pow Wow, I feel well qualified to be re-elected to senate.

More important than this, however, is my strong desire to again serve you and apply the knowledge and experience I have gave me the opportunity to gain this year.

Your consideration and support will be greatly appreciated.

JOYCE KILLIAN

Reid

TO THE STUDENT BODY:

I am very grateful to be afforded this opportunity to express my desire to attain a position on the Honor Court. The judicial branch of our government has always fascinated me because it encompasses an entirely different method of procedure as contrasted to the executive and legislative branches.

A justice is called to render a decision on his fellow man, and this is done according to a certain legal formula. Rules governing equaling Decision; but I believe it requires more than this. A judge must, when voicing his decision, utilize all of his experiences in life which are similar in nature to the instant case. He must strive to understand the attitudes and motivations of his fellow man. It is only then that he is able to render a fair decision.

I have used this opportunity to discuss with you some of my beliefs concerning the legal system. These beliefs are supplemented with my previous court experience and also the fact that I plan to go into law. I am sincerely interested in gaining an Honor Court position and if I am elected I will strive for equal and fair adjudication.

KELLEY REID
Endorsed by Johnny Smith
Gene Brown

Other Court Candidates

Bissland

DEAR STUDENTS:

I would sincerely appreciate your support in today's election. Honor Court is an extremely important function of any university system. As an Honor Court Justice, I feel well qualified to serve you. I have had extensive discussions with Honor Court Justices in the past and have been well informed of the courts' procedures. I have been in many student activities among them are the swimming team, the "F" Club, an officer in my social fraternity, an officer in the Westminster Fellowship and Pershing Rifles. Remember the candidate you elect will be representing you, so be sure to vote.

RON BISSLAND

Bishop

TO THE STUDENTS:

We, the undersigned, would like to place before your consideration the name of Martha Bishop for Senior Honor Court. Martha has shown her leadership abilities in several campus activities. She is presently serving as president of her sorority, commander of Angel Flight and president of a fraternity Little Sister group. She is also a member of Speaker's Bureau and the Campus Chest Committee. Martha has served on the standards committee of her sorority for two years, her pledge year and as chairman.

Because of her interest in and service to various organizations at FSU, we feel that Martha Bishop is the best qualified candidate for Senior Honor Court, and for this reason we are proud to endorse her.

KAREN EDGAR
CAROL HAUGHT
BARBARA NORMAN
JEAN SAUER
SALLY STREET

Rodgers

DEAR STUDENTS:

Although visitors are not allowed to visit Honor Court, I am quite aware of the work and responsibilities involved.

I feel that the Honor Court tries the individual and not the group and therefore the considerations should be more flexible. I will work with this in mind. Also, I will continue the work of clarifying and improving the Honor Code to meet the needs of the coming trimesters.

It would be a pleasure to represent you on the Honor Court.

JOE RODGERS
Endorsed by Gene Brown
Diane Goodwin George Powell

Allee

FELLOW STUDENTS:

The utility of the Honor System is a controversial subject. However, I feel that the benefits the Honor system through the functioning of the Honor Court contributes with respect to the advancement of social and academic honesty makes it a beneficial asset to our campus.

Recently there has been much work towards revision of certain sections of the Honor Code to clarify and remove ambiguities, and following along the same line, I would like to see that the actual functioning of the Honor Court be made definite and comprehensible to all students and not merely those who work with it or have had occasion to appear before it.

I am very much interested in the functioning of our Honor System and would appreciate the opportunity to work towards further advancement of its utility at our university. GAULT ALLEE
Endorsed by Diane Goodwin
George Powell
Gene Brown
Mary Sue Allen

Class Presidents

Senior President

Moore

DEAR FELLOW STUDENTS,

Recently, there has been doubt and discussion concerning the effectiveness of class offices under the present system, and most important, under the new trimester system. Because I definitely feel that class officers are presently an asset and, under the trimester system, can be of even more importance, I am seeking the office of President of our Senior Class.

I am certain that the actions and decisions of our next class officers will play a vital role in molding the future of the student government of Florida State University. Naturally we will need sound leadership, far-sighted planning, and proven initiative and I feel that my past activities prove that I hold these qualifications. I have served on the student body president's cabinet for two successive years, one as Secretary of Student Welfare and and one as Executive Assistant. I have been chairman of seven student government committees and have served on six others. I was co-chairman of this year's homecoming parade and I have been a member of Alpha Council and Pershing Rifles.

I would appreciate your consideration and I hope that through your vote, you will give me the opportunity to serve you as President of our Senior Class.

DUNCAN MOORE

The following students are endorsing me.

FLOYD PRICE
MYGNON CHAMPION
JO SMALTZ
EVELYN LARSON

Sopher

DEAR JUNIOR CLASS:

For the third time, Bob Sopher is asking for your support in an election here at Florida State. For the third time, he wants to represent you in our Student Government. In order to do this, though, he must have the support of you — the next Senior Class of FSU.

We sincerely believe that Bob has the necessary qualifications to serve in the capacity of Senior Class President. We feel even stronger that he will provide the necessary leadership for the coming Trimester transition. Vote in this election for the candidate of your choice. We hope that you will feel as we do, that Bob Sopher should be our next Senior Class President.

BOBBY BYRD
ROSS McVOY
DAN WALBOLT
JACK ASCHERL

Junior President

Haney

DEAR SOPHOMORES:

Our university will soon make an extensive change in its entire system. The new system, the trimester plan, is not only new as far as Florida State is concerned —it is practically untried anywhere.

For this reason, all aspects of life at Florida State, including class organization, will be confronted with the problems which always accompany an extensive change in organization. Only with experienced leadership can we make this change a successful one.

We feel that the experience Tom Haney has gained by serving in elective offices and his extra-curricular activities qualify him to serve you as your Junior Class President. We sincerely hope that you will consider his qualifications and will support Tom Haney as your candidate.

TOM HANEY
Endorsed by Gene Brown
Boyce Ezell
Fuller Treace
"Beans" Campbell
Bucky Fox

Honor Court

Wiles

FELLOW STUDENTS:

I would like to place my name, David Wiles, before you for the office of Junior Honor Court. The emergence of a second party on campus has the goal of all people on campus to be reached—that of offering a selection of the best and most qualified candidates to the voters. My opponents, most of whom I know personally, are among the finest and most qualified candidates in any race. But as far as knowledge and experience in Honor Court and judicial process is concerned, I invite them to match my three years experience. In high school I served two years on a Honor Court patterned after FSU's and last year I served you in the office of Sophomore Judiciary. I ask you to let me serve you again — please vote David Wiles, Junior Honor Court as your choice.

DAVID WILES

Collier

DEAR FELLOW STUDENTS:

We the undersigned would like to introduce you to GINNIE COLLIER, a candidate for Junior Women's Honor Court Justice. We feel GINNIE possesses the integrity and desire to serve our Student Government in the Honor Court System.

GINNIE served as an officer of her freshman dormitory, a member of Freshman Flunkies, a member of the Spring Formal Committee, and was elected the Best Allround Pledge of her sorority.

GINNIE is currently serving as treasurer of the Sophomore Council, as vice president and a member of the Standards Board of her sorority, and as a member of the Tally-Ho staff.

JOEDY SMITH
GINNY BOYD
DON THIGPEN
BOB STRIPLING
BILL SHEPPARD

Warren

DEAR FELLOW STUDENTS:

Realizing the importance of maintaining the standards and ideals of our university, it is my desire to serve you as a Junior Member of Honor Court. Through my experience as a member of Traffic Court I have gained an insight into the problems of our judicial system at FSU, but more important, I have gained experience which comes from accepting responsibility and trust. As Social Chairman of Landis Hall this year I have served on House Council and have realized the importance of judging fairly and objectively. In addition to my court experience, I am presently a member of Angel Flight, Alpha Lambda Delta, Sigma Delta Pi Spanish Honorary, and have maintained a 3.7 average.

In determining your choice of candidates, I hope you will consider qualifications and sincere interest. I am asking for your support in this election of Junior Honor Court. I hope you will permit me to serve you.

PATTY WARREN
Endorsed by Bobby Byrd
Diane Goodwin
Dan Walbolt
Tricia Lawrence

Brown

BROWN
DEAR STUDENTS:

After a week of seeing the campus covered with posters, the time has come to make your decision for the right candidate.

One of the most important offices you will be voting for is Senior Men's Honor Court. This is an office that requires time, integrity, and a conscientious desire to represent the student body in this capacity.

I sincerely believe that I can fulfill the duties of this office and would appreciate your support.

JIM BROWN

Wronske

DEAR STUDENTS:

We believe that in order for a great university to function well, an efficient and effective Honor Court and Honor System must exist. Because we believe this, we are supporting Carolyn Wronske for the Position of Junior Justice on our Honor Court.

Her activities at Florida State have been varied and we feel that her experience in these fields qualifies her to serve you on Honor Court. These activities include Dormitory Vice President, Junior Counselor-elect, Sophomore Council, Angel Flight, Speaker's Bureau, sorority officer, dorm committee work, and she has maintained a 3.0 over-all average.

Her chief qualification is her sincere desire to serve you as a Junior Justice on Honor Court. Her purpose is to work to the best of her ability for a strong Honor Court and Honor System. We would appreciate your considering her on election day.

JOHNNY SMITH
BEANS CAMPBELL
JEAN SAUER
CAROL AVERA
GEORGE POWELL

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Sophomore President

Proctor

FELLOW FRESHMEN:

Let me take this final opportunity to ask your support in today's election. The choices you make will set the pattern for student government for the coming year and I feel my qualifications and desire to serve you as Sophomore Class President will fit me into this pattern. Please show your concern for your class and vote in this all important election.

JULIAN PROCTOR

Flash . . .

At press time yesterday another candidate announced that she was going to seek office in the up-coming elections.

The candidate's name is Lucy and she is running for Miss Fussbudget of 1962.

The picture of the young lady on the poster bears a striking resemblance to Lucy of Peanuts fame.

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '58
BEN C. SHARP—Editor

Leslie Powell, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor — Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Toni DiCarlo ..... Executive Assistant
Erik Collins ..... Asst. Managing Editor
Lana Murray ..... Asst. News Editor
Victor Comolli .....Asst. Sports Editor
Spence Guerin, Julie Savage .....Artists
Dianne Klinck ..... Business Manager
Fred Salgado ..... Circulation Mgr.
Emmette Jackson .....Photo Editor
Photographers—Del Kittendorf, John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Columnists....Gerry Dobson, Bob Sanchez, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clark, Jim Smith, Carl Rosenbush, Karen Thornton, Joedy Smith, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens.
Feature Staff—Joycelyn Ward, Martha Robberts, Leslie McNevin, Pat Freeman
Proof Staff— Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Mary Grossenbacher, Sharon Logue

News Staff—Jim Smith, Bobbie Shiplett, Maureen Perkins, Gayle Motes, Nancy Olsen, Sandra Dixon, Carol Hackney, Karen Pace, Merry Morehouse, Jody Wilkis, Linda Collier, Cookie Neubauer.
Sports Staff—John Wood, Shirley Hardison
Juliann Gabbert ..... Advertising Manager
Bill Love ..... Asst. Advertising Manager
Margo Duffe ..... Layout
Advertising Sales Staff: Dick Waterworth, Sue Hendrickson, Dwayne Atkins.
Associated College Press, Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave. New York 17, New York.
Published by Florida State University students in Tallahassee, Florida.

SCALP EM—Victor Comolli

More Students Lend Support To Rattlers

It is misfortunate that apparently our athletic director, Vaughn Mims does not deem a petition of over 300 FSU students worthy of response. We are referring to a letter which we sent Mr Mims April 12 asking him about the chances of having Florida A&M University asked to compete in the Florida Invitational track meet here.

Since our editorial appeared, we have been overwhelmed with letters from students endorsing the idea. Some have voiced dislike for the idea. The two most common arguments against it are, "it has never been done" or "the City of Tallahassee will never accept it."

We recognize the need for cordial relations with the City of Tallahassee, but this is a state university and not a city one. It cannot forever be limited in making our policies as an educational institution to the conservative traditions of a Southern community. We admit that the university needs the support of the city, but let's remember that FSU proves quite profitable to the city, economically and culturally.

The argument that an integrated sports event has never taken place does not make it impossible. Let's bear in mind that at one time Florida State College for Woman had no male students. Also that at one time our track teams had never competed against any teams, Negroes or Whites. It was fortunate that the board did undertake policies of trying new and different things.

Furthermore, we cannot see how FSU, which claims to expect to become a "great university" can have double standards. It is ill-fitting to be told that our teams cannot compete against Negroes in Tallahassee, when this year our basketball team played Wisconsin and Ohio State, and our track team is going to the Penn Relays where Negroes compete. Are these not double standards? And those double standards can hurt tracksters.

Don and Dave Styron, the sensational sprinting and hurdling twins from Northwestern Louisiana State College say the South should be restricted. An open meet policy would have helped us," they said in a recent AP story.

Some further letters have come to the sports desk concerning the invitation to A&M. The letters are:

"We think that you have a great idea in inviting A&M to your track meet. . . ."
Philmore Potts

". . . I also think Florida A&M's presence at the track meet would raise the quality of competition to a prosperous level."
Jim B. Richards

"We would like to concur with the idea of inviting A&M . . ."

Jo Riles	Hardy C. Kinney Jr.
Jo O'Neil	Glyndon D. Riles
Joe W. Beard	Noenia S. Gauber
Jo B. King	Karen Pritchett

"Please add my name to your petition . . ."
Pat Reilly

"We . . . would like very much to have Florida A&M to compete against FSU . . ."

Jo Sahlgren	Earl B. Carr
Jo Vicorns	John Leonard
Joe E. Pyko	Dave Onstad
Jesus Esparza	Gail Vander Molen
	Charles R. Heckler

"We . . . would like to add our names to the list of those open-minded persons advocating the suggestion that Florida A&M be invited to compete in the upcoming Florida Invitational track meet."

Tom Dillin	Robert Ernest Parker
Robin Rittgers	Floyd A. Parker
Philip E. Laskard	Pat Combes
Rick Hancock	David A. Garlyrick
James Godden	C. Leonard Aimes
Janet Wieland	Ronald D. Stainthorpe
Charles Intriago	Tom Tichenor
Annette Grass	Charles H. Stacy
Irene C. Lopez	Harry W. Huskin
Hetty McIntosh	Bill Lader
Gilda R. Valnordo	Tran Mink Tain
Ann R. Harris	Gte P. Thores
Evelyn M. Lain	S. Viswanathan
Judy Butler	Ben Mivanagan
Cathy Housy	Frank Spena
Landarae Denlinger	Marc Brand
Linda Lee Parsley	Bill Hankins
Leslie Powell	Beverly Abercrombie
Robert MacLennar	Douglas McDannoth
Thomas Crook	Mike Trafta
Albert Wetterstroom	Bill Fdort
Bransid Besurn	Darrel M. Creener
Margaret W. Lambert	Pat Curry
Richard G. Miller	Susan Brinkman
Mitzie Beckana	Gayle Barnard
Phyllis Doud	Diane Brantley
Fran Lika	Nancy Daniel
Lynn McCullough	Bob Stauffer
Roberta Welch	Randy Mills
Makoto Tani Jarvey	Bucky Martin
John Carr	James K. Minshew
Darwin Shiflett	Harriet Mayar
Bonnie B. Egan	Steve Datu
Joan Drake	David G. Gurleigh
Bruce A. Driskuth	Joe Cynnierhir
Martha Terrell	Poles Welch
Kenneth C. Pereth	Carey L. Mims
Mickey Martin

PHI KAPPA TAU

Will be host to the annual Southern Phi Kappa Tau Domain Conference, May 11, 12 and 13.

★ ★ ★

Courtesy of

TALLAHASSEE BARBER COLLEGE

Parkway Shopping Center — Phone 224-3944
Sanitary Prompt Service — Closed Monday

EDDIE FEELY
. . . back in form

JIM LOFTIN
. . . spectacular run

MARION ROBERTS
. . . line-smasher

Game Is Saturday

Many Pros Among Alumni

Several professional football players and signees from Florida State University will be playing in Saturday's first annual Varsity - Alumni game.

The contest will begin at 2 p.m. in Doak S. Campbell stadium.

Already working out with the alumni is former FSU halfback Freddy Pickard, who was an all-American honorable mention during his collegiate career. The speedy back was drafted by Montreal for one year.

End Tony Romeo was traded this season from his Texas pro team to Denver. Romeo was also an All-American honorable mention at FSU.

Left halfback Bobby Renn is remembered as the one who ran an 80-yard kickoff return against Florida in the first FSU-UF contest. Regarded as the fastest back to play for the Seminoles, Renn was traded to the New York Titans this season.

Three seniors have been signed by professional teams.

Right tackle Don Donatelli inked a pact with the Houston Oilers. He was chosen to the All-State football squad by the Jacksonville Times-Union. Donatelli was regarded as one of the best tackles in the state by several grid experts and he played first string at FSU for three years in a row.

Quarterback Roy Bickford, who saved the 3-3 Florida game with a field goal block, has been signed by the Houston Oilers.

Left end Fred Grimes, who has been termed one of the best defensive ends ever to play at Florida State, was signed by Buffal. Bills.

Coach Ken MacLean, a graduate of FSU, is presently head mentor at Florida High. Never having had a losing season, Mac. Lean was named the coach of the North All-Star high school football team this year.

ROY BICKFORD
. . . returns to grid

LARRY HOOD
. . . drills at center

Pirates Bop FSU Linkers

The Pensacola Junior College Pirates chalked up an 11-7 victory over the Florida State freshman golf team to mark PJC's first triumph ever over an FSU golf team.

Medalist in the match was John Kendricks of the Seminoles. He shot a 70. Low man for PJC was Al Yates with a 75. Other PJC scores were Bryon Bracewell (76), Ashton Hayward (78), and Don Fanning (80).

Other FSU scores were Dave Slincy (78), Jim Hill (72), Dennis Rauls (78), Bob Hudson (73), Rod Reimen Schnider (77), and Dick Whitmire (76).

In previous matches, the frosh have fallen twice to the University of Florida.

Frats, Coeds, Dorms Battle In Intramurals

By SHIRLEY HARDISON
Staff Sports Writer

Intramural action in the women's division began last week as the women finish with the third and last sports season. Practices have been held over a period of four weeks, enabling the teams to have the required number of eligible players for competition.

Tennis was the first sport to begin, the tournament starting last Tuesday afternoon on the courts behind Montgomery Gym. Syd Betz is in charge of the tennis competition this season and has divided her entrants into three divisions: beginner, intermediate, and advanced. The intermediate group in the both singles and doubles is the largest. The players were ranked by Racquettes, the coed tennis club. Twenty-eight are entered in the singles rivalry while 14 sets are playing doubles.

Badminton began Thursday afternoon in a round robin tournament. Close to 125 girls are entered in the badminton tournament, according to Miss Betty Wilkie, badminton manager for this season.

The swimming meet has not been set as yet but Paige Anderson, sports manager, states it will be during the second week of May. The meet will be at night, and will be open to the public.

Softball games begin Friday and will continue for nearly two weeks. Games will also be played on Saturday mornings at 10 to finish the tournament in time.

In the men's division of the intramural department, three sports have been completed, while the softball games continue for the next two weeks. In the track meet, the Sigma Chi fraternity and the P. E. Majors came out on top; in wrestling, matches produced more than 100 men, Phi Delta Theta and Kellum, the victors. In the bowling tournament, Phi Kappa Tau and Kellum rolled the highest scores to take the trophy.

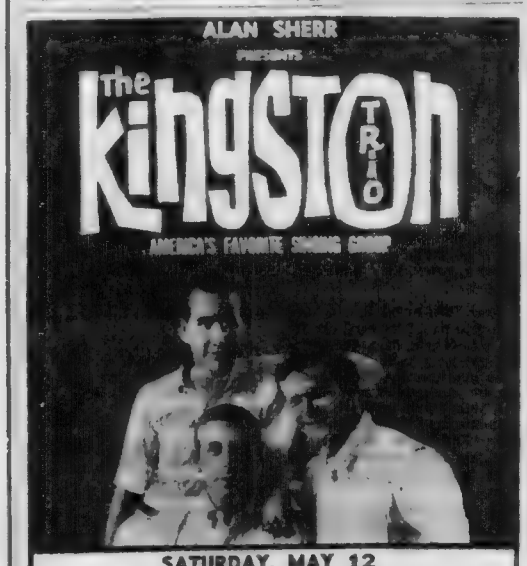
In the softball competition the fraternities are divided into two leagues, the Garnet and the Gold. Sigma Nu is leading the Garnet league, while Lamba Chi holds the top position in the Gold league. In the dorm-independent league, the Majors and the Villagers are tied for first place. Several ties are occuring in the three leagues, but the final two weeks of competition will determine the tournament entrants.

SPORTS CALENDAR

MONDAY — Frosh Baseball: Dade County Junior College at Tallahassee. Results not available at presstime.

TUESDAY—Frosh Baseball: Dade County Junior College at Tallahassee (3:30).

WEDNESDAY — Tennis: Rollins at Tallahassee (1:30).



THURSDAY—Golf: Southeastern Conference Intercollegiate at Athens, Ga.

GARCIA'S
PIZZAS
SPAGHETTI
Open 7 Days A Week
Close 12:00 P.M.
320 E. TENN.
223-1177

DARK BROWN CALF WITH BLACK SADDLE-LEATHER
Sole With "Special Rounded Edges" $23.50

nic's toggery

SATURDAY, MAY 12
One Performance Only 8:30 P.M.
Miami Beach Convention Hall
Mail Orders Now: Tickets — $6.00 — 4.00 — 3.00 — 1.25
Mail Orders should be addressed to Miami Beach Convention Hall. Please enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope. Make checks or money orders payable to Production Associates, Inc.

Feely Quarterbacks Garnets To 14 To 7 Win Over Whites

By VICTOR COMOLLI
Assistant Sports Editor

The Garnet (second) squad of the Florida State University football team scored a 14-7 victory over the White (first) unit in a game practice Saturday afternoon in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

The victory came on the quarterbacking of Eddie Feely, the spectacular running of halfback Jim Loftin and fullback Marion Roberts, and the fantastic catching of end Freddy Biletnikoff.

The triumph could be termed an upset since the first unit is made up of mostly juniors and seniors.

The Garnets scored their first touchdown in the second quarter. Feely opened the TD drive by passing 15 yards to Roberts for a first down. Then after three unsuccessful runs, Feely faked a field goal and ran 22 yards for paydirt. John Harlee kicked the point after touchdown for a 7-0 tally.

In the same quarter, Feely stymied the Whites by punting a beautiful kick that went out of bounds on the one yard line. The Whites unable to move the ball, kicked to the Garnet squad.

After a 15-yard pass to Ken Russom, Loftin carried the ball seven yards. Russom stepped off five more yards for the second first down. Then Biletnikoff grabbed a 25-yard pass from Feely for the third first down.

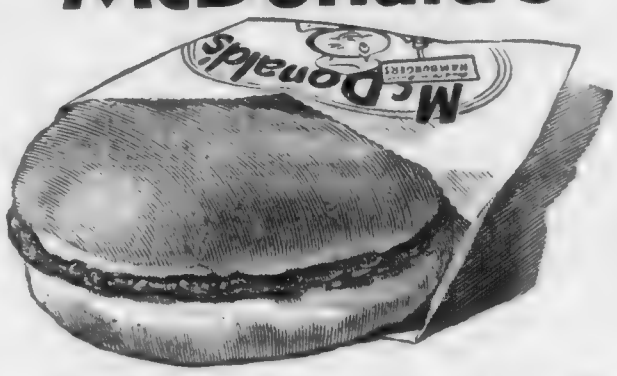
A ruling of pass interference in a heave from Feely to Biletnikoff put the Garnets on the two-yard line. Feely passed to Russom for the TD, and Harlee kicked the PAT for a 14-0 half time score.

The Garnets, opening the third quarter on offense, moved to the 30 on a seven-yard pass from Feely to Lifton. A pass to Russom gave the Garnets a first down. After Roberts ran eight yards, Loftin gained two yards for another first down.

Once again Loftin carried, but he met a solid wall of Whites for another two-yard gain.

Feely moved back and hurled a 15-yard pass to Biletnikoff for the first down.

The Garnets' drive continued as Roberts ran for five yards, then for three. An off-sides by the Whites and two more runs by Roberts gave the Garnets' another first down.



The Whites dug in, however, and held the Garnets' drive on the nine-yard line. The second team punted, and the Whites took over, with Auburn transfer Jimmy Seaward replacing Charlie Calhoun at quarterback.

Immediately, the Whites began moving for their only touchdown, but the Garnets slowed them down when right end gridder Terry Garvin caught Seaward 10-yards behind the line. On the two yard line, Larry Brinkley charged over the goal for the Whites' only touchdown.

Loftin received the 23-yard pass to Biletnikoff and came up with the most spectacular offensive effort of the day. During the third quarter, the left halfback broke loose from the Whites and charged 45 yards before he was stopped. Loftin carried the ball again, but found no hole.

Once again with Seaward at the helm, the Whites moved the ball as Jim McConnaughhay and Tom Hillabrand sparkled on pass receptions.

Let's Go To The CIRCUS
And Then To
McDonald's

Open Every Night Until Midnight During Circus Week
701 West Tennessee

HOW TO GET TO EUROPE WITHOUT PAYING FOR IT...

(Try this plan on the folks...there is a good chance they will say yes!)

The best part of this plan is that not only will you be able to ramble around Europe but, equally exciting, you will be able to do it behind the responsive wheel of the world's finest automobile...a Mercedes-Benz. And you can do it soon...while you are still footloose...before you find yourself employed, espoused and mortgaged.

AND, MOST IMPORTANTLY, IT MAY NOT EVEN COST YOUR DAD A DIME!

Read on, and we'll plot a gentle conspiracy together...

The logic behind your plan is this. Your parents can order a Mercedes-Benz from their dealer at home and you can take delivery at the factory in Stuttgart at the lowest German or European Retail price (saving from $1,169.00 to $2,955.00, depending upon the model). You can then drive leisurely through Europe, soaking up culture, history, camaraderie and life along the way. When you return to the States, there will be no problem. Your Mercedes-Benz dealer will advise you before you leave for Europe regarding the easy arrangements that we will gladly make to return your car stateside. Incidentally, your Mercedes-Benz will be admitted and taxed on an appraised value, largely dependent upon mileage, and you can then pick it up and deliver it to Mom and Dad. The money you save for them on the European price of the car will more than cover your round-trip passage by plane or boat, plus license plates, insurance, shipment back to the U.S.A. and duty, and quite probably even your expenses. You, therefore, will have had a free trip to Europe.

Sound interesting?

We'll even help convince Mom and Dad to let you go. All you have to do is fill out the coupon below, send it to us. We'll do the rest. Of course, a pointed reminder to them about it in all of your letters home wouldn't hurt, either.

When we receive your coupon we'll also send your folks all the details if you request us to, plus all the benefits they will receive by owning a Mercedes-Benz, and the benefits you will receive by journeying through Europe. We will also send you detailed information on such items as "How to Obtain a Passport," "Clothes to Take to Europe," "Language Is No Barrier," and so on.

Close your eyes and picture yourself driving down the Champs Elysees, through all the romance that is Paris, cruising along the Autobahn toward the excitement of Munich, or roaring around a curve in a Mercedes-Benz to discover the grandeur of the Alps.

Worth doing, isn't it? And all it will take for your trip to come true is your parent's name on the coupon below. Mail It Today! And make your next letter home the most convincing one you ever sent.

HERE'S HOW YOU SAVE

	Your price in Europe is only	U.S.A. East Coast Price	Saving
190-C 4-door sedan	$2,500.00	$ 3,807.00	$1,307.00
220-S 4-door sedan	3,328.00	4,808.00	1,480.00
220-SE 4-door sedan	3,755.00	5,191.00	1,436.00
190-SL coupe	4,296.00	5,465.00	1,169.00
300-SL coupe	8,352.00	11,307.00	2,955.00

Incidentally, this plan can also apply to graduate students and others. Simply write in "Graduate Student."

Lon A. Fleener, President
Mercedes-Benz Sales, Inc.
635 South Main Street
South Bend 27, Indiana

Please rush catalog and information

My Name _____
Address _____
City _____
Zone _____ State _____

This is not an order—merely a request for information. I understand there is no obligation.

☐ Check here if you wish same material sent to your Mom and Dad:

My Parent's _____
Address _____
City _____
Zone _____ State _____

ROTC Drill Team Wins 3 Of 5 At Annual Regimental Meet

The Seminole Sentries, Army ROTC Drill Team, commanded by Cadet Capt. Thomas N. Grizzard, won three of five drill events at the Annual Pershing Rifles Regimental Drill Meet at Fort Rucker, Ala., Saturday, to tie with Louisiana State University as Overall Winner of the 1962 Drill Competition.

Nine universities and colleges in the Southeast entered teams in the competition. Finishing behind FSU and LSU teams were Loyola, Tulane, Spring Hill, Florida A&M, Stetson, Northeast Louisiana State College, and Miami University.

First Place in the Individual Advanced Drill event was won by Cadet Grizzard. Cadet Elbert N. Atwater led his squad to First Place in the Squad Drill Competition. The entire drill team participated in winning the First Place Platoon Drill trophy under the direction of Cadet Grizzard.

Other awards won by members of the FSU Pershing Rifles Company at the Drill Meet included the Runner-up Award for Most Improved Company and a medal to Cadet Capt. Hugh L. Davis for special achievement as Commander of the FSU Pershing Rifles Company.

Other members of the Drill Team are: Michael R. Odum, Paul M. Roberts, Dexter N. Barlow, Russ Blumenthal, Dennis R. Combs, P. R. Hutchison, Robert D. Susik, Arthur T. Davis, James S. Becker, John M. Stansfield, Albert Caracausa, Walter Glass, Francis M. Baggott, Gordon Roberts, Norman L. Preston and Elbert N. Atwater. Larry Johnson

Lt. Col. Wolfred K. White expressed pride in the achievement of the Drill Team and noted that this was a job "well done and in the best traditions of the ROTC establishment."

The Drill Deam was accompanied to Fort Rucker by Sgt. Leonard R. Harris, who has been working with the team as a faculty advisor for the past two years, and by several other members of the Pershing Rifles Company who were on hand to assist the marching members in preparations and administrative details.

All Around Campus

Dr. Middleton Is To Speak On Student Feelings Of War

Dr. Russell Middleton will speak on "Some Factors Associated with Student Acceptance or Rejection of War" at a meeting of Alpha Kappa Delta Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Sociology Dept.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

This weekend the Florida State University chapter of Alpha Phi Omega will be host to national fraternity officers, the University of Florida and the University of Tampa in a conference to improve the organization of Alpha Phi Omega in the state. Friday night there will be a smoker at the headquarters. Saturday there will be small discussion groups which will discuss topics brought up at the smoker.

AMERICAN STUDIES LECTURE

An illustrated lecture on "The City as Architecture" will be presented by Dr. Gulnar Bosch, head of the Florida State University Art Dept. at the American Studies program tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Library Lecture Hall. The lecture is part of a series on the city in American life and is free and open to the public.

DELTA SIGMA PI

New members of Delta Sigma Pi international business fraternity are William Short, Robert Irwin, John Binns, Ernie Grover, Wilson Henson, Robert Fillingim, Larry Nicholson, Clyde Long, Albert Becker, Richard Bowen, Frank Pittman, Craig Haskell, Ralph Suarez, Ken Stoutamire, Ronald Irwin, Cliff Snedeker, Willis Hawlett, Jack Wicker and John Langston. An initiation banquet was held at the Duval Hotel following the installation.

HOME ECONOMICS

The annual Home Economics banquet will be held Wednesday, May 16, in the South Seminole Club at 7 p.m. Tickets may be obtained from members of the Home Economics Club, Fashion Incorporated, the 4-H Club and Omicron Nu for $1.

Counselling

All students planning to register for the summer session or the fall trimester must have a green trial schedule signed by the academic counselor between now and May 11.

Students who do not know who their counselor is may call the Counseling Office, 3040, for the information.

Although changes may be made in individual courses if necessitated by the fall trimester schedule, student schedules as a whole must be done now.

Atomic Nucleus Poses Old Problem

Photographs of events which occurred in California two years ago are under intensive examination at Florida State University to illuminate a problem which has probably worried physicists more than any other during the past quarter of a century—what holds the atomic nucleus together?

"Events" is the name given by physicists for the collisions which occur when a large number of nuclear particles are hurled at high energies against targets and a few of the particles make direct hits on nuclei.

One thing which sometimes happens when such an event occurs in the target area of a high energy accelerator is the creation of entirely new and very shortlived particles, and it is these new particles in which FSU physicists Joseph E. Lannutti and Byerly Brucker are most interested.

Billions of volts of energy are needed to shake great quantities of them loose from the tightly compacted nucleons (protons and neutrons comprising the nucleus) for which they form an outer cloud or atmosphere, and only two or three accelerators in the country are powerful enough to do this.

Drs. Lanutti and Brucker have been getting their photographs of "events" from the big Bevatron at the University of California at Berkeley. Still under study are pictures from an accelerator run two years ago. Brucker has just visited Brookhaven National Laboratory in New York which has a synchroton five times more powerful, this one of 33 billion electron volts, to perform a series of experiments producing pictures of additional events.

The National Science Foundation has provided the two physicists a grant of $87,000 to continue their research into the behavior of these particles, which most scientists believe hold the key to understanding the binding energy of forces which hold the atomic nucleus together even though other physical laws indicate it should be torn apart by the presence of like electrical charges.

Earlier the NSF provided a grant which enabled FSU to get a $50,000 machine which is one of the key tools in the research. This film reader, sometimes known as the Frankenstein, shortens the work of examining the pictures of events by many months. FSU has had its Frankenstein in use for 10 months and it runs about 12 hours a day. Only the University of Kentucky, among other southern universities, has such a machine.

The film reader is put into use after the scientists have brought back rolls of 46 millimeter film picturing the events which have been recorded by several well placed cameras around a "bubble chamber" in the business area of the big synchrotons.

PROJECTILE

The accelerator projectile, usually a pi meson or K meson—both members of the select fraternity of elementary particles under study — are sent into a large tank containing liquid hydrogen cooled almost to absolute zero and when the particle passes into this tank (the bubble chamber) it causes the hydrogen around it to boil, thus leaving a train of bubbles.

When a nucleus is hit, newly created particles fly out in various directions, also leaving bubble paths, and this is recorded by the cameras. The film first is scanned by the scientists for the general picture it presents and then is programmed for the measuring projector or Frankenstein.

An operator, usually lab technician Alice Addison, sits at the controls with the instructions at hand and sets the machine so that its electronic eye "follows" one of the bubble paths on the film. The data it records about this particle track is automatically punched in IBM cards, about 50 of which tell the story of every event in terms of number locations in X and Y coordinates.

FSU's IBM 709 computer now comes into play and the Lanutti-Brucker experiments normally require about six hours of computing time each week. After a series of "questions" about the data has been asked of the computer the computer churns out a set of answers which when compared with existing knowledge show what kind of particles are involved in each event and how they have behaved.

FRATERNITY OF PARTICLES

The fraternity of strange particles has a pi meson, a Xi meson, a Sigma meson and several others with Greek names. Lanutti and Brucker recently have had under study the latest additions to the [illegible], Omega, Rho and Eta, whose existence as separate particles has not been well established.

Most scientists think the [illegible] son, one of the first mesons the group discovered, holds the secret of the massive [illegible] which holds the nucleus together. There's always the question of some of the others, like the meson and the [illegible] part of the answer and physicists over the world are hard at work plotting the behavior of the [illegible] is called high energy or [illegible] tary particle, physics.

Four doctoral students are working with Lanutti and Brucker in the research: Frank Schwanb of Miami, [illegible] formerly of Hungary, Shiv Tuli of India and [illegible] of Cleveland, Ohio.

Tally Ho

No pictures for the 1962 Tally-Ho will be taken this spring Editor Sally Street announced.

Anyone who wishes to work on next year's Tally Ho should fill out an application blank in the Longmire Main Desk, she also announced.

When And Where

TODAY

New staff members will be announced at the meeting of Pershing Rifles, at 7 p.m. in the Military Bldg.

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will meet in Longmire Student Lounge at 7 p.m.

The annual meeting of the Tallahassee Council for International Friendship will be at 7 p.m. in Longmire Club Room.

Dr. John Griffin will speak to the A.A.U.P. on "The Roles of Administration and Faculty in the University's Public Relations" at 8 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

Date With Dizzy and One Summer of Happiness are FSU Film Guild selections to be shown at 8 p.m. in Westcott Auditorium.

First performance of the 1962 FSU Student Circus will begin at 8 p.m.

Thomas Cavendish, baritone, and Miss Lynn Hollingsworth, soprano, will give their certificate recitals at 8:15 p.m. in Opperman Music Hall.

Sophomore Council will meet in Longmire Auditorium at 9 p.m.

TOMORROW

A report on the meetings of the American Society of Biological Chemists will be given at the Biochemistry Seminar, 12 noon in 306 Science.

The Program in American Studies will feature "The City As Architecture," at 7 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

Dr. Russell Middleton will speak to Alpha Kappa Delta on "Some Factors Associated with Student Acceptance or Rejection of War" at 7:30 p.m. in the Sociology Dept.

Circus performance will begin at 8 p.m.

Howard Borsuk and Dr. John Anderson will be featured on Insight on WFSU-TV and WFSU-FM at 8 p.m. in "The Social and Emotional Problems of College Students."

Frederick Fernald will discuss "Giant Sea Salt Nuclei" at a seminar at 4 p.m. in 301 Main-Meteorology.

THURSDAY

Carol Bradley's Graduate Exhibition will be on display in the University Gallery.

Mrs. Margaret B. Ramsey will speak at noon in 409 Sanders Bldg. at a Food and Nutrition Seminar on "The Anticoagulant Action of Vegetable Extracts and Sodium Tripolyphosphate in Cooked Meat and Fish."

An examination in defense of dissertation by Gary Earl Mitchell will be held in 209 Science at 2 p.m. Subject of the dissertation is "Inelastic Scattering of Alpha Particles by Carbon."

The examination in defense of dissertation by Verne Allen Simon on the subject "The Acid Catalyzed Hydrolysis of the Tetraphenylborate Anion" will be held at 3 p.m. in 506 Science.

Alpha Lambda Delta will meet at 5 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

APO Actives will meet in Longmire Auditorium at 7 p.m.

Dr. Allan Thompson will be host and commentator on the Humanities Hour at 8 p.m. on WFSU-FM. This program, "Man and Time," deals with modern man's views on time as expressed in literature, philosophy and music.

Circus performance will begin at 8 p.m.

APO Pledges will meet in Longmire Student Lounge at 8 p.m.

RECRUITMENT

A representative from Marshall Field Enterprises Educational Corporation will be at Florida State University tomorrow to discuss full and part time positions in sales and management, particularly for this area.

The representatives will interview both men and women business, liberal arts and education majors. Group meetings will be at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. in 212 Business.

Students should register with the Placement Office, Longmire, and pick up company literature prior to the meetings.

Finals Start May 25

Classes will end Wednesday, May 23, at 10 p.m. Examinations will begin at 8 a.m., Friday, May 25, and end 6 p.m., Friday, June 1. Examination periods are two hours.

All sections of the following courses have examinations at the same time and will be held at the place announced by the instructor.

COURSE	TIME OF EXAMINATION
Accounting 201-202	Friday, May 25, 7-9 p.m.
Biology	Saturday, May 26, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Business Law 321	Friday, May 25, 4-6 p.m.
Business Law 322	Tuesday, May 29, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Chemistry 101, 103, 107	Monday, May 28, 4-6 p.m.
Economics 201, 202	Wednesday, May 30, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Education 406 (Sections 7, 8, 10)	Monday, May 28, 8-10 a.m.
English 101	Wednesday, May 30, 7-9 p.m.
English 102	Friday, May 25, 4-6 p.m.
English Education 302	Saturday, May 26, 7-9 p.m.
Finance 340	Saturday, May 26, 4-6 p.m.
Food and Nutrition 105, 106	Wednesday, May 30, 4-6 p.m.
Government 106	Tuesday, May 29, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Government 355	Saturday, May 26, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Health Education 115	Thursday, May 31, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
History 181, 215, 216	Thursday, May 31, 4-6 p.m.
History 182	Monday, May 28, 8-10 a.m.
Humanities 202	Saturday, May 26, 8-10 a.m.
Insurance and Real Estate 355	Friday, May 25, 8-10 a.m.
Library Science 105	Thursday, May 31, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Library Science 315-500	Thursday, May 31, 7-9 p.m.
Management 215	Wednesday, May 30, 7-9 p.m.
Mathematics 105, 118	Friday, May 25, 8-10 a.m.
Mathematics 117	Wednesday, May 30, 8-10 a.m.
Mathematics Education 441	Friday, May 25, 7-9 p.m.
Meteorology 105	Friday, May 25, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Military—Air 102, 202, 302, 402	Tuesday, May 29, 7-9 p.m.
Army 102, 202, 302, 402	Tuesday, May 29, 7-9 p.m.
Modern Languages—First and Second Years	Saturday, May 26, 7-9 p.m.
Physical Education 110-160	Tuesday, May 29, 8-10 a.m.
Physics 107, 113	Tuesday, May 29, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 a.m.
Physics 211, 212	Monday, May 28, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Science Education 311	Saturday, May 26, 8-10 a.m.
Social Science 105	Monday, May 28, 7-9 p.m.
Social Studies Education 422 (E)	Wednesday, May 30, 8-10 a.m.
Sociology 105, 305	Friday, June 1, 8-10 a.m.
Sociology 106	Friday, June 1, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Speech 206	Thursday, May 31, 8-10 a.m.

Examinations for courses not previously listed are listed below. They will be given in the classroom where the sections of the courses meet.

EXAMPLE. If you have an 8 or 8:30 class on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday and if that course is not listed above, you will take the examination in your regular classroom Saturday, May 26, 4-6 p.m.

COURSE	TIME OF EXAMINATION
8 or 8:30 M W F	Saturday, May 26, 4-6 p.m.
8 or 8:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week
8 or 8:30 T Th	Friday, May 25, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
8 or 8:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week
8 to 9:15 T Th	Monday, May 28, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
9 or 9:30 M W F
9 or 9:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week
9 or 9:30 T Th	Tuesday, May 29, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
9 or 9:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week
9:30 to 10:45 T Th	Friday, May 25, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
10 or 10:30 M W F
10 or 10:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Friday, May 25, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
10 or 10:30 T Th
10 or 10:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Friday, June 1, 4-6 p.m.
11 or 11:30 M W F
11 or 11:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Saturday, May 26, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
11 or 11:30 T Th
11 or 11:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week
11 to 12:15 T Th	Monday, May 28, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
12 or 12:30 M W F
12 or 12:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Friday, June 1, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
12 or 12:30 T Th
12 or 12:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week
12:30 to 1:45 T Th	Wednesday, May 30, 8-10 a.m.
1 or 1:30 M W F
1 or 1:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Wednesday, May 30, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
1 or 1:30 T Th	Thursday, May 31, 4-6 p.m.
2 or 2:30 M W F
2 or 2:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Wednesday, May 30, 4-6 p.m.
2 or 2:30 T Th
2 to 3:15 T Th	Thursday, May 31, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
3 or 3:30 M W F
3 or 3:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Monday, May 28, 4-6 p.m.
3 or 3:30 T Th
3:30 to 4:45 T Th	Thursday, May 31, 8-10 a.m.
4 or 4:30 M W F
4 or 4:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Monday, May 28, 7-9 p.m.
4 or 4:30 T Th	Wednesday, May 30, 7-9 p.m.
Courses meeting one hour each week	Friday, June 1, 10:30 a.m.-12:30

Courses meeting two hours each week will take the same schedule as the three hour courses unless otherwise shown on this schedule.

In case of conflict, the examination which appears first on this schedule will have preference over the other examination. Make arrangements with the instructor of the conflicting examination to take the examination Tuesday, May 29, 4-6 p.m.

Students are not permitted to change sections for examinations.

In unavoidable circumstances where a student must be absent from an examination, the student may request permission from his academic dean to take the examination late. No examination is to be given early in such cases.

Night classes will have their examinations at the first regular class period time during the examination week, except those having group examinations.

Classes meeting on Saturday morning only will have their examinations Saturday, May 26, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

Students who have more than three examinations scheduled for one day contact Del Williams or Mrs. J. L. Bryant, 102A Westcott. In case of four examinations in one day, the third examination in the student's schedule will be changed.

A candidate for graduation may be excused by his instructor from taking the final examination of a course in which he has maintained, without question, a "B" average when the examination is scheduled. Candidates for degrees who are required to take examinations will have them scheduled with their instructors not later than Saturday, May 26. Grades for degree candidates must be in the Registrar's Office by noon Tuesday, May 29.

The lecture period of a laboratory course will determine the examination time.

Arrangements for room assignments should be made with Del Williams or Mrs. Bryant in the Registrar's Office, Extension 2710, by Friday, May 18.

The examination schedule is published with the approval of the Faculty Senate Committee on examinations.

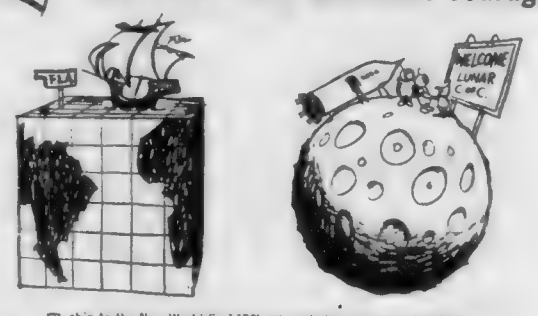
Local or Long Distance Moving
Packing — Storage
YOUR LOCAL AGENT
Blaine Mayflower
FREE ESTIMATES
224-3020

Visit
FAIR'S BEAUTY SALON
549 W. Park Ave.
Phone 224-8351
The Beauty Salon Nearest to Campus

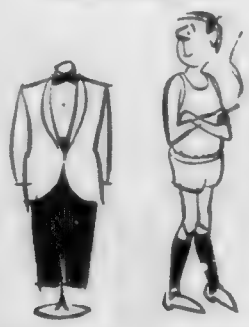
COIN OPERATED
DRY CLEANING
10 LBS. FOR 6 QUARTERS
STEAM PRESS
COIN OPERATED
AND LAUNDRY
WASHERS AND DRYERS
Open 24 Hrs. Daily
The Pink Spot
LOCATED OPPOSITE SEARS ON LAFAYETTE ST.
COIN OPERATED LAUNDRY
Koin Kleen
Behind Winn Dixie—South Monroe St.

at your TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

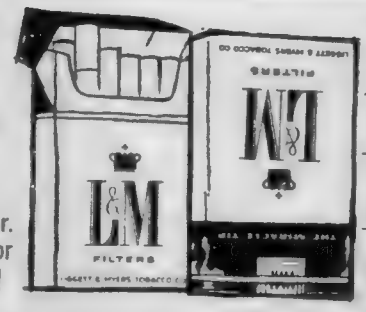
FLORIDA
Last Times Today
Walt Disney's
"MOON PILOT"
Starts Tomorrow
Troy Donahue
"ROME ADVENTURE"
PERRY HIGHWAY OUTDOOR
Tonight & Wed.
All-Star Comedy Show!
John Wayne
Sophia Loren in
"Legend Of The Lost"
Robert Mitchum
"Bandido"



STATE
Now thru Thursday
Audrey Hepburn
Shirley MacLaine
James Garner
"THE CHILDREN'S HOUR"
(Not for Children)
CAPITOL DRIVE-IN ON WOODVILLE HWY.
Tonight & Wed.
All-Color Comedy Show
Showing at 7:55
Glenn Ford
"Cry For Happy"
and at 9:55
Susan Hayward
"The Marriage-Go-Round"



Everyday Holland's Has A Special To Fit Your Budget
Everyday — 10 Oz T-Bone Steak with French Fries, Hot Rolls $1.25
Wed. Nights — Large Platter of KENTUCKY Fried Chicken. Reg. 1.25 Special $1.00
Hollands Restaurant



Daily decisions plague everyone. But when they have to do with a future career, they're really a problem.
If your indecisions fall in this area, you might try looking into the advantages of a career in life insurance sales, leading to sales management. We're looking for young men with initiative, young men who want job opportunities that will grow with them. And we're equipped to start you on your training program now, while you're still in school.
Just call our office, or write for the free booklet, "Career Opportunities"
PROVIDENT MUTUAL
Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia
DICK D'ALEMBERTE
MANAGER
P.O.BOX 66
Chattahoochee, Florida

SAVE MONEY ON GAS!
93 OCTANE REGULAR GAS
26.9c Per Gallon
★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★
STUDENT SPECIAL
ETHEL USERS WILL RECEIVE 2c DISCOUNT WHEN YOU MENTION THAT YOU SAW THIS AD
31.9 ETHEL REG. PRICE
29.9 ETHEL STUDENT SPECIAL PRICE
RAINBOW SERVICE STATION ON BLOUNTSTOWN HIGHWAY
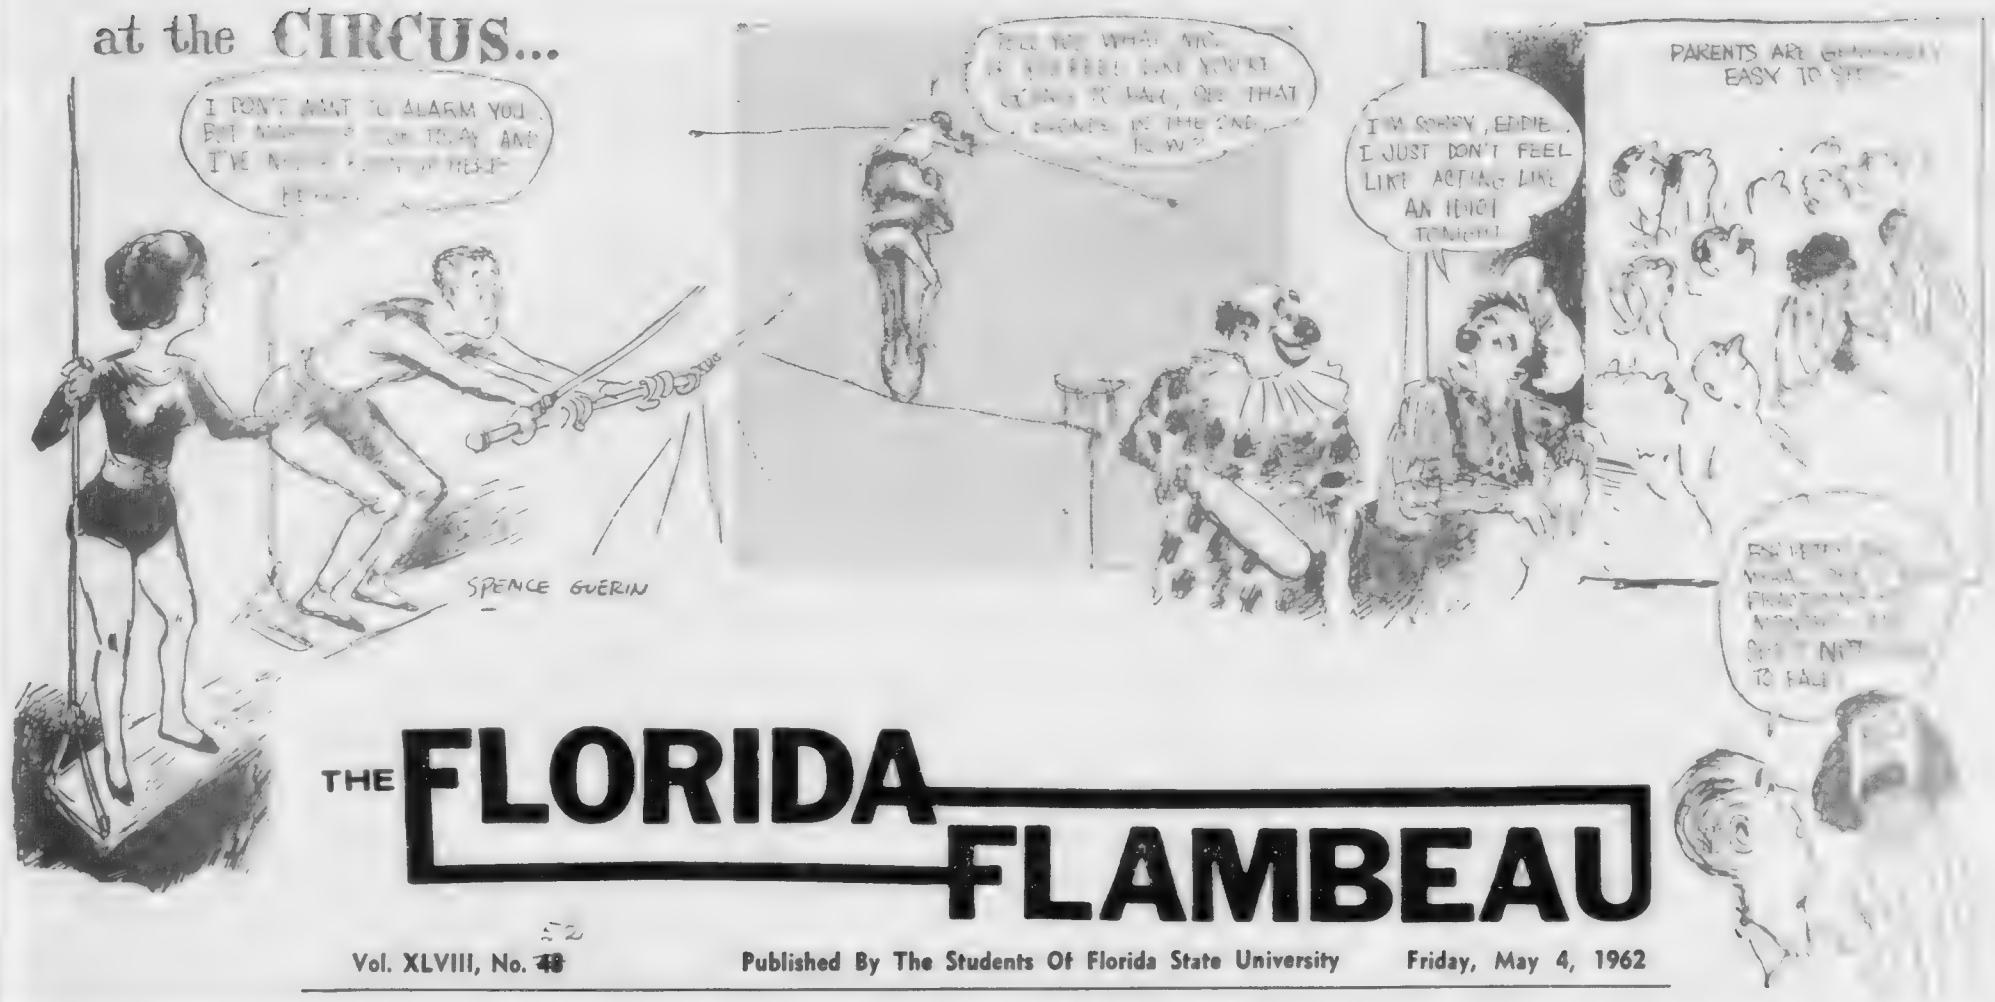
TURN LEFT OFF WEST TENNESSEE ONTO HIGHWAY 20

Check your opinions against L&M's Campus Opinion Poll #21
1 Which would take more courage?



☐ ship to the New World (in 1492) ☐ rocket to the moon (in 1967)
2 Is it true that "clothes make the man?"

☐ Yes ☐ No ☐ Sometimes
3 How did you choose your present brand?

☐ "Smoked around" till I found it
☐ Stuck with the one I started with
Get Lots More from L&M
L&M gives you MORE BODY in the blend, MORE FLAVOR in the smoke, MORE TASTE through the filter. It's the rich-flavor leaf that does it!

HERE'S HOW MEN AND WOMEN AT 56 COLLEGES VOTED:

	MEN	WOMEN
Stuck with it	17%	16%
Smoked around	83%	84%
Sometimes	55%	54%
No	31%	39%
Yes	14%	7%
Moon	27%	22%
New World	73%	78%

L&M's the filter cigarette for people who really like to smoke.

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLVIII, No. ~~48~~ 52 | Published By The Students Of Florida State University | Friday, May 4, 1962

The Greatest Collegiate Show On Earth

. . . is the main attraction during Family Weekend. For the first time, the show this year is produced under FSU's own Big Top.

Family Weekend Activities Are Set

Circus Headlined As Featured Event For Annual Spring Family Festival

By BOBBIE SHIPLETT
Flambeau Staff Writer

Various activities have been planned by students and residents of Tallahassee for Family Weekend, which gets underway today as approximately 2500-3000 parents and friends descend upon Tallahassee for the annual Spring Family Festival.

Parents and other family weekend guests may register and obtain information at Longmire today and tomorrow. An information booth will also be maintained at Westcott all day tomorrow.

CIRCUS SHOWS

The Florida State University Circus is the featured attraction, with three performances scheduled for the weekend: tonight at 8 p. m. and tomorrow at 5:30 and 8:30 p. m. General admission tickets for these performances are still available at Tully Gymnasium at $1.25 for non-students and $.50 for students.

Circus decorations at the sorority houses and women's dormitories will be judged by a committee headed by Lyman Fletcher, this afternoon. First, second and third place awards will be given in both divisions.

Fraternities are co - operatively constructing a large Circus display on Landis Green.

Continuing the circus theme, the Tallahassee Junior Museum has a special exhibit of the American circus memorabilia from the Ringling Museum, in addition to the regular displays. The Museum will be open to the public from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. tomorrow. There is no admission charge.

Tonight at 8 p.m. the A.A.U Invitational Track Meet will be held at the Florida High Stadium. Participants will be FSU, University of Florida, University of Georgia, University of Miami and Georgia Tech. The admission is $1 for non-students and $.50 for students.

The University Singers, under the direction of Dr. Wiley Housewright, will present a concert at 8:15 p. m. in Westcott Auditorium. There will be no charge for the concert.

Following the evening programs the women's dorms and sorority houses will hold open houses for all visitors.

Tomorrow in addition to the two circus performances and the Junior Museum exhibits, students and their parents may take special glassbottom boat trips and jungle cruises at Wakulla Springs from 8:30 a. m. until sunset. Both tours will be offered for the price of one, $1.65 for non - students, $1.10 for students. Children under six are admitted free.

Killearn Gardens will be open from 8:30 a.m. until sunset. Admission is $.50.

BASEBALL GAME

At 10 a.m. the FSU freshman baseball team will meet Gulf Coast Junior College. Admission is free.

A family picnic is scheduled at Games Woods from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p. m. Featured at the picnic will be clowns. Angel Flight and Air Force and Army drill teams. Reservations for box lunches may be made until noon today at Westcott Ticket Office. Tickets are $1.25. Tickets will also be sold at the picnic.

The FSU Alumni Football Game featuring former stars and certain All-American football players from FSU will be held at 2 p.m. in Doak S. Campbell Stadium. The admission charge is $1.50 for non - studets and $.50 for students.

The Grove, an historical home originally built by Richard Keith Call around 1825, will be open tomorrow afternoon from 2 p. m. - 5 p. m. The admission is $.52 for non - students and $.26 for students.

Men's dorms and fraternity houses will have open house following the evening performances.

SUNDAY SCHEDULE

Sunday, Wakulla Springs will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Killearn Gardens from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., the Tallahassee Junior Museum from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. and The Grove from 1 p.m. to 6 p.mm.

The Tallahassee Arts Festival will be held Sunday afternoon from 1 p. m. until 6 p. m. at The Columns, on the corner of Park and Adams Streets. Original works by amateurs and professionals from age six up will be featued. There is no charge for the exhibit.

A tour of distinctive Tallahassee homes will be sponsored from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. by the Pilot Club of Tallahassee. The Governor's executive residence, FSU President Gordon W. Blackwell's home and homes designed by Frank Lloyd Wright will be included in the tour with many others. The admission charge is $2.

At 5 p. m. the Florida High School Band will present a free concert at The Columns.

Fourteen Run-Off Races To Be Decided Today; 20 UP And 14 SP Candidates Elected Tuesday

By COOKIE NEWBAUER
Flambeau Staff Writer

Twenty University Party candidates and 14 Student Party candidates were elected the Tuesday election.

Although there are seven candidates running independently in the runoffs, no independent candidates were elected in the Tuesday elections. Fourteen run - off races will be voted on today.

SENIOR CLASS

Duncan Moore (UP) was elected by a margin of 14 votes over Jim Sopher (SP) to head the Senior Class for 1962-63. Elected to serve under him were Bill Arnold (UP) as vice president, Gretchen Uzzell (SP), secretary, and Evelyn Foy (SP) treasurer. Senior men's senators-elect are Jon Eward (SP) and Jim Johnson (UP).

President-elect for the Junior Class is Tom Haney (UP). Serving under him will be Mike Woods (SP), vice president; Susan Cawthon (SP), treasurer, and Anne DeHoff (SP), social chairman. Junior men's senators are Arnie Gibbs (UP) and Bill Grant (SP). Junior women senators are Clyda Stokes (SP) and Cathy Young (UP).

Elected to head the Sophomore Class was Joan Proctor (UP), with Sherman Henderson (UP) as vice president. Sophomore men's senator - elect is Curry Bassett (UP) and women's senator -elect is Marsha Orth (UP).

HONOR COURT

Martha Bishop (UP) and Nancy Sindon (UP) will serve on senior women's Honor Court.

Steve Botts, Chuck Cutajar and Pete Davis all of the University Party were elected to senior men's Judiciary. Barbara Bates (SP), Millie Bishop (UP), and Sarah Southworth (SP) will serve on senior women's Judiciary for the coming year.

Junior men's Judiciary will consist of John Brown (SP), Bill Hughes (SP) and Matt Miller (UP). Hines Boyd (UP), Jim B. Jones (UP) and Bill Ward (SP) were elected for sophomore men's Judiciary.

Rick Frost (SP) and Dana Lenahan (UP) will serve on junior Traffic Court.

There is at least one runoff in each class and six in the court system elections.

Voting will take place at the same six polls, Westcott, Brian, Smith Hall, Student Center, the Seminole Club, and the library. The polls are open from 9 a.m. till 5 p.m.

Runoffs in the Sophomore Class are between Kathy Alonso (SP) and Gerry Bryant (UP) for class secretary, Marilyn Johnson (UP) and Linda Luna for treasurer, Carolyn Jones (UP) and Sandi Staten (SP) for class social chairman, Chris McEwan (SP) and Tom Sisco for men's senator, and Joyce Killian (UP) and Texas Wiltshire (SP) for women's senate.

In the Junior Class there will be a runoff between Sylvia Cashion (UP) and Pattie Childs (SP) for class secretary. In the Senior Class, the runoff for social chairman will be between Beverly Calvert (SP) and Nancy Gross (UP. For senior women's senator, there will be a four-way runoff between Louise Bone (SP), Patti Buerke, Jimmie Langford, (SP) and Nancy Paluzzi (UP).

For sophomore women's Judiciary, a runoff between Sandra Brooks, (UP), Linda Hoffman (UP), Judy Loucks (SP), Dana Pharr (UP), Fran Ubele and Jan Walker (SP) will be held. For junior women's Judiciary, Nancy Bell (SP), Margay Blasingame (SP), Bobsie Carlton (SP), Patti Haer (UP) and Judy Register (UP) are still in the running.

In the runoff for sophomore Traffic Court are Virginia Pippen (UP), Horace Smith (UP), Vicki Voyles, and Jan Warren (SP).

In Honor Court, junior men in the runoff are Dave Crumb, Kelley Reid, (UP), Joe Rodgers (UP), and David Wiles (SP. Junior women are Bobbie Darragh (UP), Jean Fountain (SP), Patty Warren (SP) and Carolyn Wronske (UP). Senior men are Galt Allee (UP), Ron Bissland (SP), Jim Brown, and Jamie Jamieson (UP).

Nancie Sill, secretary of elections reminds candidates that the results of today's elections will not be announced until all posters off campus and those on the outside bulletin boards around campus are taken down.

Miss Sill also stated that all winning candidates must turn in expense statements by noon Tuesday. There are extra ones available at the main desk in Longmire. Miss Sill said that winning candidates will not receive their certificates at the banquet Wednesday night, unless the expense statements are in.

Along with the runoffs, amendments to the student Body constitution, outstanding senior men and women and permanent senior class officers will be voted on today. Nominees for outstanding woman are Mygnon Champion, Marianna Girtman, Gail Gillespie, Jan Dougherty, Carolyn Reeves and Scarlet Pogue. Nominated for outstanding senior man are Bobby Byrd, Jack Ascherl, Marion Clark and Charlie Hawkins.

PERMANENT OFFICERS

Permanent class officer nominees for president and vice president are Jack Ascherl, Chuck Kemman, Bobby Byrd, Duke Scott, Marion Clark and Carl Kuttler. The man receiving highest and second highest number of votes will be elected president and vice president, respectively.

Women nominated for secretary and treasurer are Jane Finchum, Selby Cannon, Mygnon Champion, Marianna Girtman, Rena Ambrosini, and Linda Stearns. The candidate with the most votes will be secretary, the second highest will be treasurer.

One hundred and eighteen ballots were disqualified from Tuesday's election for various reasons. This could have been enough to determine several races and change the outcome of some others. Ninety one students voted out of their class. 24 voted in more than one class, and three used ink instead of the pencils given them.

Tally-Ho

Arrangements for Greek and classes pictures for the 1963 Tally Ho have not been made yet, Editor Sally Street announced.

As soon as the photography schedule is set up all persons involved will be notified, she said. Pictures of all present Greeks will be taken during May, she added.

Miss Street asked that all students disregard any previous notices that they may have received about the individual pictures.

Greek contracts for pages in the 1963 Tally Ho are past due and are needed before the plans for the annual can be made, she also announced.

Any students who want to work on the Tally Ho during any of the next three trimesters can pick up applications at the Main Desk in Longmire. Students who filled out applications for the 1962 Tally Ho and want to work again should also file new applications, she added.

Weekend Schedule

FRIDAY

8 a.m. to 5 p.m.	Classes open to parents.
2 p.m. to 9 p.m.	Registration of parents and guests at Longmore
8 p.m.	Florida A A U Invitational Track Meet
8 p.m.	Circus Performance
8:15 p.m.	University Singers Concert

Following the evening programs there will be open house at all women's dorms and sorority houses.

SATURDAY

9 a.m. to noon	Registration in Longmire.
10 a.m.	Baseball FSU Freshmen team vs Gulf Coast Jr. College
11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.	FSU Family Weekend Picnic. Games, Woods.
2 p.m.	FSU Alumni-Varsity Football Game
5:30 and 8:30 p.m.	Circus Performance.

Following the evening programs there will be open house at all men's dorms and fraternity houses.

Faculty Eligible For $500 Outstanding Teaching Award

Students and faculty members may submit nominations for the $500 Coyle E. Moore Jr. Award for Outstanding Excellence in Teaching until May 14.

Nominations for the award, which will be given to an instructor or assistant professor who has been on the Florida State University faculty for at least five years, must be addressed to the chairman of the selection committee, Dr. Paul J. Piccard at the Government Dept.

Nominations should include the name, rank, department, date of appointment to FSU (must be at least or prior to September 1957), and a supporting statement.

The recipient of the award will be selected by a committee of nine students and faculty members and will be announced at Commencement.

CRITERIA

Criteria fo the award includes the following

"The recipient of the Award shall be a faculty member who has demonstrated outstanding excellence in teaching not only in the classroom but also through the active involvement of individual students in discussion and conversation designed to expand intellectual horizons, and to stimulate and inspire students to invest still further in the subject field.

"Necessarily, the recipient shall be a teacher who opens his (or her) door to all interested students and who carries his teaching responsibilities far beyond the prescribed number of hours in obvious devotion to the intellectual development of his students.

"Such a teacher will have earned the respect and confidence of students and faculty alike and will, in turn, respect the interests of students and colleagues throughout the University. The recipient will have demonstrated consistent high intellect, firm dedication to teaching, good judgment, and a sound sense of justice.

"This Award shall thus be made not only to an outstanding teacher and a respected colleague, but also to one who shows great promise of leadership in his or her subject field."

STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT

Coyle E. Moore Jr., a former president of the student body, died of cancer last June.

He was the son of Dr. and Mrs. Coyle E. Moore Sr. Dr. Moore is head of the School of Social Welfare.

The Memorial Foundation was established from funds he left and from contributions from his family and friends. The funds were designated to go to educational, charitable and religious institutions, as well as for scholarships for Leon County students to attend FSU or Florida A&M and for awards for outstanding achievement in promoting the ethical, moral and spiritual tone of the people.

Coyle E. Moore Jr. graduated cum laude with a B.S. in business in 1956. As a student at FSU

(Continued on Page 4)

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members and the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Welcome Guests

As the FSU Circus entertains hundreds of parents, students and just plain spectators this week, another example is given to the world beyond Westcott Gates of what a group of enterprising college students can do.

Outsiders too often judge students by vacation conduct, forgetting that we have spent the long academic year with book, part-time jobs and activities. Projects like the circus, musical and dramatic productions, publications and many other activities show the world that students, when they use their imagination and initiative, can achieve adult-calibre results. This, in turn, brings us more respect as grown-up individuals.

CONTRARY to popular opinion, the circus is an extra-curricular activity. There is no such thing as a major in circus, just as there is no major in student leadership. The flyers, clowns, prop-men and other participants put in long hours because they are interested in producing a worthwhile show, and they usually succeed.

Visitors see that students are interested in good entertainment, from Van Doren's play to a real life circus. The campus is a well-rounded area, as normal as a college situation can possibly be.

We welcome our weekend guests, and we thank the circus participants for providing a fine show for both students and families.

TD

Two Party System

The fruits of the two party system have been reaped. Intense campaigning and awakening interest has characterized the races for Student Government in the past few weeks. The final returns show that the two party system has been elected.

The political situation on campus is a healthy one. More candidates ran for office than at any time in recent history. More races were decided by narrow margins than in the past. More campaigning took place than in previous elections. All this adds up to more interest.

AFTER ONE ELECTION under their belts, the two parties would seem to still be going concerns. The University Party won the majority of offices in the first polling, but this can be traced to their newness.

The Student Party won a respectable number of positions and may win more in the runoff today.

BOTH PARTIES HAVE shown that they have the strength to provide winning candidates. There is no reason for any candidate to shy away from either party.

The two party system is here. We sincerely hope it will stay.

BCS

Another Chapter Written

Reprinted From the St. Petersburg Times

It is not the concluding one, of course. But the new chapter just written by the Federal court in Georgia on that state's County Unit system of voting brings closer the end of the old rural-urban political controversy. Indeed, it is historic, and has special interest in Florida.

WITHIN HOURS AFTER the Georgia Legislature had adjourned following adoption of a "reform" in the inequitable Unit System, the Federal court struck down both the old and new systems. The handwriting is on the wall. Mere concessions to the urbanites are not enough. Under our Constitution we must have an equal vote, rural or urban.

Most Georgians did not realize that the democracy-defeating Unit System was a product of the "Carpetbagger" Constitution of 1868. This downgraded the urban vote, with understandable reasons at the time. But the modern-day politico had found it as a means of watering-down the urban vote and appealing to the ruralite on the basis of prejudice against what used to be known as the dwellers in "street car counties."

THE SYSTEM HAS BEEN maintained with strange results. Since the Democratic primary, in which the Unit System applies, has been the "election" in Georgia, we saw Eugene Talmadge "elected" Governor over James Carmichael, although the latter polled more votes than the former.

Other examples: Helen Douglas Mankin in the Fifth District got more votes for Congress than her opponent, yet lost to James C. Davis. In 1950, Herman Talmadge won the governorship by a 295-to-115 unit vote over M. E. Thompson, although the popular vote difference was under 9,000.

IN ONE OF THE MORE recent instances of inequity, incumbent Prince Preston of the First Congressional District received a vote of 34,318 in 1960 while his opponent, Elliot Hagan, was elected under the Unit System with a vote of 33,629. He received 28 Unit votes over Preston's 18, and went to Congress.

Many Georgians have what they think is a good argument for the Unit System. They point out that the Federal system proves an equal number of Senators, without regard to population, and that Representatives are elected on the population basis.

BUT THEY IGNORE such an obvious inconsistency of a small county like Chattahoochee, with around 12,000 population and an average of 196 votes cast, have one representative, while Fulton County (Atlanta), with a half-million people has only six representatives.

The Georgia development was a real "cliff-hanger." Just hours before the Federal Court decision, the Legislature in special session, had tried to "reform" the Unit System—merely by adding seats here and there. This "reform", the court decided, was not enough.

THE FLORIDA "REFORM" is of the same, vain pattern. The Amendment to the Constitution we are called upon to vote next November only adds a few seats here and there. The state Administration, itself, has branded it as insufficient by calling it a "compromise" plan.

Floridians want no compromise when it comes to having each citizen's vote count as much as the next one's. The Georgia decision gives even more reason to vote against the "compromise" reapportionment Amendment next November. The last chapter in this rural-urban struggle hasn't been written. But we can see the outline, already.

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '58
BEN C. SHARP—Editor

Leslie Powell, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor — Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Toni DiCarlo ..... Executive Assistant
Erik Grimm ..... Asst. Managing Editor
Lana Murray ..... Asst. News Editor
Victor Cowell ..... Asst. Sports Editor
Spence Guerin, Julie Savage ..... Artists
Duanne Klenk ..... Business Manager
Fred Salgado ..... Circulation Mgr.
Emmette Jackson ..... Photo Editor
Photographers—Del Kittendorf, John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.

Columnists—Gerry Dobson, Bob Sanchez, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clark, Jim Smith, Carl Rosenbush, Karen Thornton, Joedy Smith, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens.

Feature Staff—Joycelyn Ward, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Pat Freeman.

Proof Staff—Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Mary Grossenbacher, Sharon Logan

News Staff—Jim Smith, Bobbie Shiplett, Maureen Perkins, Gayle Motes, Nancy Olsen, Sandra Dixon, Karen Pace, Merry Moorehouse, Jody Wilkis, Cookie Neubauer, Hope Paster.

Sports Staff—John Wood, Shirley Hardison

Julian Wilcox .... Advertising Manager
Bill Love ..... Asst. Advertising Manager
Margo Duffe ..... Layout

Advertising Sales Staff: Dick Waterworth, Sue Hendrickson, Dwayne Atkins.

Associated College Press, Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave. New York 17, New York.

Published by Florida State University students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Little Washington

A Roving Eye

By HUME

The recent SUSGA Convention at Clemson, S. C., seemed well worthwile for our eighteen member delegation. Rumors and comments have it that KVA made a lsting impression on the delegates to this ninth annual meeting. Social obligations and duties fulfilled, the "trail blazer" was reported to have made good use of the Clemson Library as well. Summing up: He who studies at conventions can have nothing less than tenacity of purpose. Our compliments.

NANCIE SILL, SOON TO BE retired Sec. of Elections, recently commented that she feels much can be done to improve theoff-campus poster "situation." Attention Mr. Jones: If enforced, this seems well worth space on the official record.

Integrity and not intrigue, seems to be the key to the success of "SP" and "UP." If certain "wild cards" can be kept out of the game, it would appear that the "Big Two" will survive. Maverick: . . . my Pappy always told me that . . . .

PROVING THAT THE well-executed plans of politico's are often upset through no fault of Student Government as such: we ask Smith Hall . . . oh where, oh where have your telepones gone? Well, Duncan, at least you did your job.

(From time to time the roving eye of LITTLE WASHINGTON will note persons on the "way up" at Florida State University.) The LW "Man of the Week" this time is University Party's Louis Barnett. Keep your eye on his trail, ladies and gentlemen of the Freshman Class.

A ONE TIME MEN'S VICE President and student political power at FSU has been a member of our university faculty for the last several years. He is soon to depart our "halls" for the rolling green of Virginia. James, you shall be missed.

Word has it that everyone will win the Spring Elections this year. Those who fail to win the necessary total at the pools will find their names listed for future service by the coming administrauon. Attitude in the halls of Longmire, (and elsewhere), seems to say that "shared work" will bring "shared wealth." At least this is the way the story is being told.

JIM BLUE, recently appointed Sec. of States, is reported to have much up his sleeve — weekly dinners or something like that. Any comment, James?

Letters

Study On And Off

TO THE EDITOR:

The library, it seems, is not the only place where studying is turned on and off. Saturday evening around 12:30 as I was studying in the history building, a campus policeman came in and asked the profound question, "What are you doing here?" Realizing that perhaps he did not know that some of us occasionally study, I answered "studying, sir." Well, it seems that the history building (as well as all other campus buildings) is supposed to be locked up at 12, so I apologized for my verboten studying and left.

Last year the history building was a place where one could study as long as he wished in relative quiet, thus not disturbing his roommates, who were trying to sleep, or not being disturbed by his roommates who provided anything but an atomosphere for studying. Why, I ask, is it different now? Is there fear of property destruction, or a higher light bill?

I, for one, would like to see at least the history building open for students to use at any time, the justification being that it does provide a good place to study when other environments sometimes do not.

This necessarily places a trust upon us. We must be mature enough to use the facilities without causing destruction to them. Let's be given the chance to do so.

FRED L. GLAVIN

Bologna

TO THE EDITOR

On one of the questions that you presented and answered on the Trimester Operation at FSU, you made a statement that makes us wonder how you ever got in college. You said that the cost of one tri-mester will be the same as it now costs to attend one semester. If we are not mistaken, the costs for the tri-mester are $113 (tuition) and $110 (rent).

Assume you just bought four pounds of bologna for one dollar. Then assume that the next time you buy bologna you get three pounds for a dollar. Are you dense enough to think the price has not risen. Right now, you are paying $223 for seventeen weeks of rent and "tuition expenses." Next fall, you will still be paying $223 for these items, but you only get fourteen weeks of service for them.

Anyone can twist the truth around. Why don't you break down and admit the costs are increasing? Why are you afraid to bring this into the open?

HARDY BRYAN
DAVE LEE
CHUCK JEWSON
BARRY WALKER

Tell Him

TO THE EDITOR:

Will someone please explain to me how Bonnie Freedman can be smart enough to be on the College Bowl team and still write those stupid articles?

JOSEPH TORRE

In Favor

TO THE EDITOR:

I was very disappointed that my name was not printed below the letter which stated that I was in favor of the idea of inviting Florida A&M to the track meet. I would appreciate it if you would rectify this error as I would like to go on record in this instance.

BIRGITTA SIDH

Reaction

TO KEN SELLERS:
TO THE EDITOR:

Your reaction to biology produced a reaction of amazement to say the least. You state that "Biology is good only for ruining a person's appreciation of nature and destroying one's enjoyment of a good meal." However, have you ever really considered the intricate structure and many complex chemical reactions that are a part of every living organism — from the lowly amoeba to man? Don't you get a feeling of awe and amazement that a living organism is the final product? An organism (or complex chemical factory to you) that can grow, laugh, wonder and love?

It seems that the study of the inner structures of these organisms would have opened your eyes to the miracles that are occurring around you every day and would have made you proud that you too are a part of that miracle.

MIMI AMELIA HOPKE

Rebuttal

He Questions Paper Aims

By TOM BROWN

The letter in Friday's Flambeau on the Young Socialists League which states the paper aims of the League did not go far enough in answering the "many queries" that have been raised in regard to the YSL. The answers given are only nice sounding generalities with no mention made of means. After all, it sounds good to say that one is for "the ending of the arms race" or "in opposition to all forms of racial and religious discrimination." But these principles are only generalities. What has the YSL done in actual practice beyond writing them on paper? Messers. Cohen and Pearce should be able to state specifically the YSL's stand on some real life issues relating to their generalities stated in the letter.

FOR EXAMPLE, in the YSL's "opposition to all forms of racial and religious discrimination" they have firmly condemned discrimination in the United States. Have they also condemend the discrimination against the numerous minority groups in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics?

The fifth point says that the YSL supports "the labor movement in the struggles on behalf of the working people."

Do they support all union activity? Including Jimmy Hoffa's union? Do they support unions that are Communist infiltrated?

THE FIRST POINT says that the YSL is opposed to both capitalism and communism. Russia is not a communist state (in the proper sense of the word, where "the state has withered away"), but a socialist state. So in being opposed to communism (with a small "c"), the YSL is opposed to a condition that does not exist but would in the future according to Marx.

The YSL stands for the withdrawal of all foreign troops to their own lands. Did they take a stand against foreign troops invading the Katanga section of the Congo where people were fighting for self - determination? Did they oppose the Russian troops in Eastern Europe and Iran after WW II? Are Chinese Communist troops in Tibet condemned as foreign troops who should be withdrawn?

THE CHANGES IN ENGLAND since it has embraced socialism should be viewed to see what the real life consequences of socialism are.

Here is the critical point: here is the basis of the socialist morality — production bases on need rather than profit. Wasn't it Marx that said many years ago, "From each according to his ability to each according to his need." Although socialists do not like to talk about this point, there is no way to determine who "needs" what. There must be a preconceived notion in the socialist mind about just what everybody needs. There is another problem of duping people into working where there is no profit involved. Would you like to work at a level set by someone with a preconceived notion of your ability and receive in turn for your labor only what that person thought you "needed"?

It is easy to write down idealistic sounding principles, but the "firm stand" should carry over to specific issues in the real world.

Graduating?

All students who plan to graduate in June 1962, or in December 1962, should sign up in 102-B Westcott to have their general education requirements checked for graduation, as soon as possible.

Apology

The Sanchez and Thornton columns for this issue have been lost for no explicable reason. They just evaporated from an editorial desk.

"How Dare You Follow Me, You Criminal!"

Satire

Who's Left When Who's Right?

By CARL ROSENBUSH

Let me take this opportunity to tell you about a new and exciting organization: The National Association for the Advancement of Left-Handers. The principle function of this organization is to correct wrongs caused by manufacturers of equipment which is operated best with the right hand (such as scissors) and reversing social customs and language which is basically right-handed.

FOR YEARS WE HAVE used such words as gauche and sinister which are derived from words meaning left to indicate unpleasant circumstances. Much better is the meaning of such words as right and dexterous which are words derived from right. We drive on the right side of the street (our comrades in England have already improved this situation) and shake right hands. Now the great psychologist Wotan Fraud, has definitely proven after working for seven years and twenty-three days with amoeba and white rats, that this is harmful to the well-being and egoism of left-handers.

To correct such base policies perpetrated by right-handers, we have formed this society to force new laws and customs which will end such discrimination. We have several ambisinistrous lawyers in our main office laying the groundwork. We forsee little difficulty in getting basic laws passed in the Congress and Supreme Court as we are a minority group and politicians will do anything to get a few votes. We may even get JFK (an abbreviation for Just For Kinfolks) to say a few words in our behalf.

OUR REFORM WILL consist of such things as forbidding people to speak of the correct way as "the right way." People will have to eat left-handed so that they will not disturb us when they sit beside us, violinists will bow left-handed, we shall read and write from right to left, etc. Someday it is predicted that the penalty for disobedience shall be the removal of the offenders right arm.

Already our foes are yelling "Communists." But, after all, we need support to launch our campaign and the Communists are always willing to help those who will create havoc.

So all left-handers and progressive right-handers who are wishing to change join us in our campaign to remake the world in our image. We need you to force unwilling citizens into our mold. So come on and advance with The National Association for the Advancement of Left-Handers!

Review

K. Plays B. — Both Win

By CHRIS CLARKE

Wagner, one of the greatest of all composers and the possessor of an intellect rivaling that of Da Vinci, wrote that he would never write a symphony simply because Beethoven had done everything to the form that could be done. Its developement was complete, he said, and any efforts on his part the compose such a work would be foolish indeed. High and richly deserved praise.

Where does this leave us over a century later? It leaves us with Toscanini whose phrasing was at times brilliant and whose tempi were almost always so fast as to be tragically laughable. While listening to his version of the ninth for instance, one gets the distinct impression that the score is on fire and the little fellow is racing to get through before the music burns up . . . (I know he didn't use a score; I'm only trying to make a point). By the time Toscanini reaches the last movement things are so completely out of hand that one wants to check his turntable to see if it is on forty-five instead of thirty-three.

WE ARE ALSO LEFT WITH Sir Adrian Boult who does pretty well but leans heavily toward the classical. In the "Eroica" this is fatal. There is Von Karajan, the European Bernstein, who seems to forget at times that there is an inter - relation between the various movements of the same work.

All this is confusing. The horizon is not really so dark, however. There is a bright ray of hope in the person of Otto Klemperer. If his Angel recording of the seventh (A major) is any indication we can relax. The perfect conductor has been found.

Klemperer is in perfect control. Each section is interpreted as a part and in relation to the whole. The second movement, with its lovely allegretto, is given the delicate treatment it merits. The fourth movement is by far the most complicated of the work. If taken too quickly, as in the Toscanini version, it has no power. If taken too slowly, as in the Van Karajan, it becomes clumsy and uneven. Klemperer leaves the listener breathless with his control and understanding of how the work should be treated. By the time the last note of the orgasmic conclusion has been reached one feels that Beethoven himself, in the person of Otto Klempeer, has led the performance.

KLEMPERER HAS ALSO recorded the remaining eight symphonies. If they exhibit the same depth of understanding and clarity of expression it is highly likely that they will be considered the definitive Beethoven editions for a long time to come. In any event they far surpass any except perhaps the Bruno Walter and Hermann Scherchen discks now available. Walter and Scherchen run a fair second to Klemperer. But who wants to settle for the second?

Roles?

By MARY ANN STEVENS

Having just seen "The Children's Hour," I am still shaken with new awakening. I am very happy to see that Hollywood is turning out real, adult, informative entertainment. A big part of education is the exploration of taboo subjects, and this particular subject has been with us a long time with very little constructive or even responsible action being done about it. My proverbial hat is off to the producers of the film.

THE MOVIE DEALT, primarily, with the question—"is difference bad?" And it brought a few questions to mind. Do we, in our efforts to do what is "right and proper" create problems where none should exist? There are laws against many kinds of unnatural activities but I have yet to understand how the psychological and emotional condition of a human being can be illegal. Do these people, like Shirley MacLaine in the movie, have to commit suicide in order to be law abiding citizens? And why do we still insist upon punishing people for things they cannot control?

I understand that heretofore certain "unnatural" conditions are punishable by expulsion. I wonder how different history would be if every "strange" individual had been kicked out of school. I'll bet quite a few documents that we are very proud of would have a few names missing. And I'll bet some great pieces of music would never have been written and quite a few paintings and poems would never have seen the light of day.

THE MORALISTS SAY that "unnaturalness" is punishable by "hellfire and damnation." But who prescribes this punishment—God or man? Aren't we confusing our roles?

The Bible also tells us to "love one another." Personally, I'm content to try and uphold the latter of these two Biblican excerpts. Punishment is God's business, not mine. If anyone has any answers to the questions that I have posed, I would be sincerely interested in hearing them.

Student Activities Budget Is Tabled For 2nd Week

For the second consecutive Student Senate meeting the proposed Student Activities Budget for 1962-1963 of $107,916 was tabled.

Debate arose on the proposed appropriations $540 of $7,370 alloted to Student Government funds would become a salary for the Secretary of Senate.

Sen. Jeanie Ferlita was opposed to the payment of a salary Student Government officials. Miss Ferlita asserted that there are many students on this campus who would like to serve their Student Government in this capacity and that the position loses some of its meaning when it becomes a paid office.

Sen. John Schaftner explained that he was in favor of paying the secretary of Senate because, "The Secretary is not only the secretary, and because of her two so serves as vice president's secretary," and because her two duties she works as much as any Student Government member at FSU.

Sen Gerry Dobson was opposed to the measure on the basis that other student activities were in more need of the funds.

Sen. Nancy Sindon in favor of the salary stated her reasons as follows:

1. The secretary of Senate holds a unique position whereas her office can not be compared to any other Student Government position.

2 She is doing the type of work that other student workers get paid for.

Sen. Jennifer Newcomer questioned how the salary would be broken down under the trimester system. Frank Milwee under secretary of finance, who was in senate to explain the budget said that the secretary would receive approximately $32 a month.

Sen Ginny Boyd also stressed that the secretaries of Senate have done a good job in the past, but that there were other organizations that needed the funds.

A proposed amendment to cut the salary, introduced by S. I. Dobson, was defeated 22-10.

Milwee later requested that all senators be present at next Wednesday's meeting. "The Budget concerns all students and their elected representatives should be present to represent them," he asserted.

Why Carry Those Winter Clothes Home?

FREE! Storage Moth-Proofing Mildew-Proofing

Quality Cleaner's

DIAL 222-5097 215 W. College

BOWL—TWO! ONLY 51c

Sunday, May 6th & 13th

SEMINOLE LANES 1952 W. Tenn. 224-0136

PARKWAY LANES 1230 Apalachee 224-5000

Banquet

Tickets for the Student Government installation banquet will be sold in Longmire from 4-6 p.m. today and Monday. Tickets are $1.75.

The banquet is to be held in the Suwannee Room next Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. Installation student body officers will be held and merit awards will be given.

PONCE de LEON MOTEL
1801 W. Tenn.
Resting Place For University Guests.
Phone 224-4950

Just received, is this picture of FSU

. . . during some unknown date some where between 1920 and 1940. A post card company has presented it to the Photographic Archives of FSU.

President And Congress Is Dr. C. Rossiter's Topic

The success of the United States government, operating under an 18th Century Constitution with two major branches often "mutually antagonists," is a "mystery" to political scientists. Dr. Clinton Rossiter said Monday night.

The sixth in a series of eight lecturers brought to Florida State University by the Government Dept., Dr. Rossiter, professor of political science at Cornell University, spoke on "The President and Congress."

Other countries often call the U. S. system one of the most "retarded and rigid political systems," and wonder about how it manages to operate so efficiently, he said.

Actually, he said, "Ours is probably more of a 20th Century Constitution than most people realize," adding that he thought the Constitution "will prove itself equal to any reasonable demands we decide to put upon it."

HARMONY

The president and Congress always make the headlines when they clash. "Co - operation is not news." Dr. Rossiter said, thus little is ever heard of this aspect of presidential - congressional relations. The essence of these relations "has been harmony and mutual respect," he added.

A number of factors operate to aid co - operation between the president and Congress and between the two houses, Dr. Rossiter said. These include: the American consensus that seems to exist on broad principles and policies which also acts to "stifle debate" and "discourage fresh views"; common "political ties," which can also act as a factor encourage opposition; "the good element in a good horse - trade," when the president wants some things and Congress others and co -operation is promoted by "anticipation of fruits of friendly compromise"; rules and customs, and also "a morality that appears to govern political actions."

On the last point, Dr. Rossiter stressed that the political leaders of both parties, "play to win but not to disgrace, not to demoralize, not to destroy."

The president has become the dominatnc force in these relations Dr. Rossiter said.

"Never in history has any people or any people that' calls itself free put so much power in the hands of one man," he said.

"All over the U. S. today, I think, we can say that it is a great season for the executive," he commented, although Congress still acts as a restraining force. "No important policy, domestic or foreign, can be pursued for long by any president . . . unless Congress appropriates money or passes laws," he pointed out.

The powers of Congress used to be considered "delegated" however, today a more accurate picture of congressional powers, he explained, would be shown by the following equation the power to tax and spend for the general welfare plus the war powers, plus the commerce clause, 'times the "necessary and proper" clause, equals the "vast scope of congressional power."

"Congress today has the constitutional authority to pass laws on any problem that has national scope," he said.

Daughtry Receives 4-H Scholarship

Sandra Daughtry of Tallahassee a junior in home demonstration education at Florida State University has received a 1962 Pfizer 4-H scholarship award.

The $250 award was announced at the annual Extension Training Conference in session at Oklahoma State University.

Active in 4-H work for 11 years, Miss Daughtry's major club interest was the foods and nutrition project. She was a delegate to the National 4-H Congress in 1957 and to the National 4-H Club Conference in Washington D. C., in 1960.

NATIONAL DELEGATE

Miss Daughtry has served as a counselor at 4-H camps as an officer and commutes member of local 4-H club work and in several capacities on the county 4-H council. She also served as president of the State girls 4-H Club Council.

At FSU, Miss Daughtry is active in a number of organizations including Collegiate 4-H Club Home Economics Club and Wesley Foundation. After graduation in April, 1963, she plans to enter home demonstration work. Her mother, Mrs. G. F. Daughtry, is the home agent in Leon County.

This marked the seventh consecutive year that Pfizer has presented scholarships to outstanding 4-H students all of whom are presently enrolled as majors in agricultural colleges and universities. The awards were established to encourage young people to seek careers in agricultural extension work.

In all 20 young men and women representing 16 states, received scholarship awards.

QUALIFICATIONS

To qualify for an award, students must have an outstanding scholastic record and be enrolled in courses that will lead to an extension career. They are required to submit as a part of their application a teaching plan for a program of benefit to human health.

Application is made through the state extension director of each state. Those selected for final consideration are forwards by states to a national committee of Agricultural Extension Service representatives who make the final selections.

Parkway SHOPPING CENTER

- WALGREENS
- STEIN'S CLOTHIN G
- LERNER SHOPS
- STAFFORD JEWELERS
- PARKWAY PACKAGE
- SOUTHLAND DRAPERY
- BENHIL'S
- NEISNER'S
- CHICK 'N TREAT
- BUTLER SHOES
- THOM McAN
- ONE-HOUR VALET

4 -- Spring Festival of Values

(ADVERTISEMENT) (ADVERTISEMENT)

Get Lucky

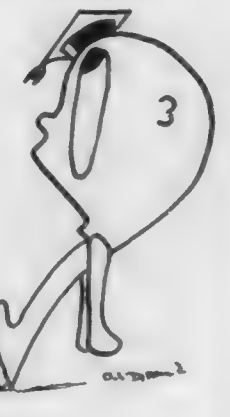
the taste to start with...the taste to stay with

What makes Lucky Strike the favorite regular cigarette of college smokers? Fine-tobacco taste. The taste of a Lucky is great to start with, and it spoils you for other cigarettes. That's why Lucky smokers stay Lucky smokers. So, get the taste you'll want to stay with. Get Lucky today.

Product of The American Tobacco Company — "Tobacco is our middle name"

Dr. Grodzins Speaks Monday On American Federal System

Dr. Morton Grodzins, a political scientist from the University of Chicago, will be the speaker Monday night in the Lectures in Government series at Florida State University.

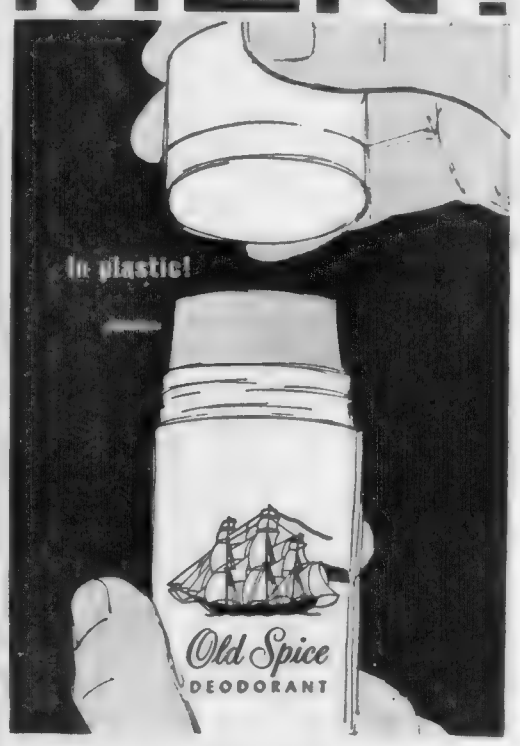


"Local Strength in the American Federal System — the Mobilization of American Private Interests" will be the title of the hour - long lecture by Dr. Grodzins in the Strozier Library Lecture Hall at 8 p.m. Dr. Marian Irish, head of the FSU Government Dept., will introduce the speaker, whose talk is open to the public without charge.

A native of Chicago, Grodzins has served as a consultant to the Public Administration Clearing House (1948-49) and the Hoover Commission (1948) and has written extensively in the field he will cover in the address Monday. He received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Louisville in 1940 and 1941, and his Ph.D. from the University of California in 1945.

He was director of public relations and student publications at University of Louisville from 1998 to 1941, a fellow and research assistant at University of California from 1941 to 1945 and has served successively as instructor, associate profesor and professor in the Political Science Dept. at Chicago. He has served also as department chairman, as dean of the Division of Social Sciences and as editor of the University of Chicago Press.

Patronize Flambeau Advertisers



STOP!!
DON'T MISS
OUR FULL PAGE IN Tuesday's Flambeau

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

MEN!

Here's deodorant protection YOU CAN TRUST

Old Spice Stick Deodorant...fastest, neatest way to all-day, every day protection! It's the active deodorant for active men...absolutely dependable. Glides on smoothly, speedily...dries in record time. Old Spice Stick Deodorant—most convenient, most economical deodorant money can buy. 1.00 plus tax.

Old Spice STICK DEODORANT

SHULTON

Grecian Columns

Sorority Rush Registration Held Tuesday

[illegible] women students interested in being [illegible] should register. Rush information [illegible] mother.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

An open house is planned for [illegible] dinner Sunday. Wendesday the Alpha Chi's will have a dessert party with the KA's.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Rod Parrish, Pi Kappa Phi, was chosen the new King of Diamonds [illegible]

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Jack Marcotte, Sigma Phi Epsilon, is AOPi Man of the Year. [illegible] as Rose Girl at the traditional Rose Ball last weekend. Mrs. [illegible] Mrs. Pauline Cullison was initiated [illegible] member Tuesday.

ALPHA PHI

Jan T[illegible] Man last weekend. Mrs. Marian Strader, Alpha Phi national decorator, is visiting the chapter and making plans for the interior decorations of the new house.

ALPHA EPSILON PHI

D[illegible] to [illegible] the alumni-varsity football game tomorrow will be alumni Ronnie Moore, Fred Pickard, Loe Bag- [illegible] Jack Espenship, Tom Feemster and Don Seders and actives [illegible] Joel Lankin and Roy Bickford. An open house will be held this weekend for Circus Weekend.

ALPHA XI DELTA

An open house for visiting par[illegible] is planned for tomorrow night from 7:30 to 11 p.m.

CHI OMEGA

Dick Kaeslin, Kappa Alpha, is the new Chi Omega Owl Man.

DELTA CHI

New pledges are Charles [illegible] Donald Leonard, Thomas Cisco and Peter Poda. Plans for the weekend include a "Nite Club" party in the White Carnation Room of the Delta Chi house tomorrow night. Ray Daley and the Copeland Five combo will be backed up by Jeff Voyles and Ollie Geeting as the Singing Executives dance stylist Phil [illegible] vocalist Frankie Boy Hoerter, Ron Stone and his pole twisters and master of ceremonies Jim Davidio. Shows will be at 9:30 and 11:30 p.m.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

New Tri Delta man is Gene Daniel, Kappa Alpha. Cathy Mosley is best active of the week [illegible] best pledge.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

The [illegible] have been invited to sing "O Divine Redeemer," their selection from Campus Sing at the Methodist Church Sunday. A jazz combo party is planned for Wednesday night.

KAPPA DELTA

A brunch honoring parents will be held tomorrow at the KD [illegible] Another social will be held after the Circus performances. Wednesday an exchange dinner with Kappa Sigma is planned.

KAPPA SIGMA

The Kappa Sig's will celebrate Family Weekend tonight and tomorrow night with combo parties featuring the Intruders. Ron Anderson, Peck Casson, Pete Kidd and Robin Rittger are new pledges. The last Kappa Sig student-faculty dinner will be held Sunday.

PHI KAPPA TAU

Stan Melnick is a new pledge.

PHI MU

Elsie Rogers is pledge of the Week. Leighton Le Boeuf, Phi Kappa Tau, was named Phi Mu Man of the Year this past weekend.

PI KAPPA PHI

A combo party featuring the Ramblers will be held at the house tonight from 9 p.m. to midnight. A spaghetti dinner sponsored by the pledge class will be held tomorrow at the house from 4 to 7 p.m. Everyone is invited. Cost is $1. An open house will be tomorrow night from 9 p.m. to midnight. Bill Harnage is a new pledge.

Faculty Award . . .

(Continued From Page 1)

he was vice president and president of both the student body and the Kappa Alpha Order, a member of the Accounting Club, the International Debate Team, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Council, Gold Key, Omicron Delta Kappa, the FSU Hall of Fame, listed in Who's who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities, named outstanding ROTC Cadet in his sophomore and junior years and was a member of the Arnold Air Society.

He was among three percent who passed the CPA exam in November, 1956.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

This weekend the SAE's are entertaining rusheees from various sections of Florida. Tonight will be circus night with a record party at the house afterwards. Tomorrow will feature a smoker for the rushees, the alumni varsity game and a combo party at the house with the R-Dells.

SIGMA CHI

Ellen Whigham, Chi Omega, is new Sigma Chi Sweetheart. Members of the court are Phyllis Webb and Sandy Shipman. Russ Bryant was named Outstanding Senior and Gordy Smith Outstanding Intramural Athlete. New officers are associate editors, Jim Yon and Cliff Freeman; historian, Don Compton, and sergeant-at-arms, Tom Henry. Tomorrow night the Sigma Chi's are having a party at the house featuring the Castaways. Jim Welchel is a new pledge.

SIGMA KAPPA

Best pledge of the week is Josie LaRoche. An exchange dinner with the Kappa Sigma's is planned for Wednesday.

SIGMA NU

New pledges are Pete Gonzales, David Rice, Steve Baum and Richard Fletcher. New officers are Al Folds, commander, Gene Lewis, lt commander, Felix Johnston, secretary, and Robert Richardson, treasurer. Other officers are Mike O'Brian, scholastic chairman, and Mike Ziccardi, intramurals chairman. A smoker Sunday afternoon honoring the brothers from South Carolina highlights the weekend.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

An informal record party will be held at the house tonight. Tomorrow afternoon there will be a barbecue for Sig Ep's, their families and alumni.

All Around Campus

Cadets And Angels Have Party Sunday

A party for all AFROTC cadets and their dates and Angel Flight members and their dates will be Sunday at the Reservation from 2 to 6:30 p.m.

A bus will provide transportation to and from the Reservation and will leave from the Student Center every half hour from 1:30 to 3 p.m. The bus will go back to campus every half hour from 5 to 6:30 p.m.

Informal attire is required for the free event, which will feature a barbecue chicken dinner. Only cadets, Angel Flight members and their dates may attend. ID cards and units will be checked.

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

New initiates of Alpha Epsilon Delta, the national premedical and predental honorary, are Galt Allee, Robert Brush, Thomas David Capuzzi, Roy Cannon, Ray Lynn Columbaro, Samuel Draper, Fred Galvin, Thomas Haney and Robert Hungerbuhler.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

This weekend the Iota Rho Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega is playing host to its national fraternity officers, the University of Florida and the University of Tampa chapters in a conference to improve the organization of APO in the state of Florida. Joseph Scanlon, the national executive secretary, will be the guest of the Florida State chapter and will be here to coordinate the activities and thoughts of the group.

Tonight there will be a smoker at the FSU Reservation during which abstract ideas will be covered and the groups will get to know each other better. The highlight tomorrow will be discussion groups of small numbers which will cover the more concrete ideas brought out in the smoker.

HOME ECONOMICS

The annual Home Economics banquet will be held Wednesday, May 16, in the South Seminole Club at 7 p.m. Tickets may be obtained for $2 from members of the Home Economics Club, Fashion Incorporated, 4-H Club and Omicron Nu.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS

Hope Pastor, corresponding secretary of the FSU Young Republican Club, was elected co-director of the Region at the Regional Conference of Young Republican Clubs at Jacksonville, last Saturday.

Tom Sisco, president of the FSU organization, John Fleetwood, chairman of the membership committee, also attended.

Bill Petterson of the University of North Carolina was elected director.

The College YR's met in conjunction with the Young Republicans Organization to discuss problems of local chapters and hear a report on the progress of the organization nationally from the National Chairman and College National Chairman.

Emerson Rupert, Republican opponent of encumbent Senator George Smathers for U.S. Senate in the coming elections, was the principal speaker.

Another similar conference will be held again in July at Jacksonville.

Clowning on a unicycle

. . . is another of the many difficult feats performed in the Flying High circus.

Fulbrights For Graduate Study Overseas Available

By LANA MURRAY
Assistant News Editor

Opening date for Fulbright fellowship applications for graduate study overseas in 1962-64 was Tuesday according to Dr. Albert Leduc, Florida State University Fulbright program advisor.

The program offers a year of study in a foreign university, research center or art conservatory for qualified students, with all expenses paid under the U.S. government program. Grants average $2,500 for the year, but vary with the living expenses of the country involved.

Those who apply at this time, if selected, would enter their overseas study in September, 1963.

Final date of application is in October, 1962. FSU students interested in applying must do so through the campus Fulbright advisor.

HOW CHOSEN

Selections are made from recommendations, personal evaluations and judgments of the Fulbright committee. Associate Dean Robert O. Lawton of the College of Arts and Sciences is chairman of the committee.

In order to apply, a student must at present be a second semester junior, a senior or a graduate student. Another division of the Fulbright program is open to applications from professors.

Study may be done in any field, including several areas recently added and in any of the approximately 30 foreign countries which cooperate in this program. The field, however, should be a specialty of the country the Fulbright applicant requests.

QUALIFICATIONS

There are three specific qualifications for application to the Fulbright program: 1) The student must have an adequate knowledge of the language of the country in which they will study; 2) The study project selected must be appropriate to the country and to the student's ability and interests and 3. The student must have a good record for competition.

Several hundred fellowships are available nationwide. Because of the strenuous competition, applicants usually are those who are on the Dean's List each semester, said Dr. Leduc.

Dr. Leduc, FSU Fulbright program advisor for the past 10 years, is retiring from the post, and a new advisor will be selected and announced shortly.

An average of three or four Fulbright fellowships have been awarded to FSU students each year that he has served as advisor.

Music Box

'Madame Butterfly' Is Given

By KAREN PACE
Flambeau Staff Writer

Madame Butterfly by Giacomo Puccini will be presented in Westcott Auditorium May 18 and 19 by the Opera Guild.

Under the direction of Richard Collins, Madam Butterfly will be given in full costume, with orchestra and in English.

Although the Opera Guild will attempt a fresh approach to this very well known and often performed opera, due consideration is being given to making this production an authentically Japanese as theatrical convention will allow. In order to effect this authenticity, Mrs. Takashi Ichiye has been added to the production staff as a consultant. Mrs. Ichiye brings to this production the previous experience of having seen Madam Butterfly in Japan, and a lifetime of interest in music.

Another member of the production staff who is vitally involved with the visual aspect of the opera is Harlan Shaw, costume and set designer. Shaw had a similar responsibility in the Opera Guild production of Orpheus and Euridice last November.

CAST

The cast for the production is as follows: Madame Butterfly (Cho-cho-san), Ethel Donaldson and Frances Martin; Suzuki, Phyllis Deklab and Maija Murray (understudy); Kate Pinkerton, Joanne Smaltz; B. F. Pinkerton, Wendell Barthoif, Sharpless, Willard DeLara; Goro, Tom Cavendish; Prince Yamadori, James Varner; The Bonze, Walter Britt; Yakuside, Ralph Hartley; The Imperial Commissioner, Earl Foster and Mark Reichman; The Official Registrar, Reginald Teague; Butterfly's Mother, Maija Murray; The Aunt, Virginia Fugate; The Cousin Camille Mosley and Sorrow, David Collins.

Madame Butterfly is a tragedy of broken faith. The scene is Japan, but the characters and flavor of the work are both Japanese and American.

Saturday evening at 8:15 p.m. in Opperman Music Hall, Patricia Pippin and Sue McKenzie will give their certificate recitals.

Miss Pippin, a soprano, is a student of Herman Gunter Jr. and Miss McKenzie, also a soprano, is from the studio of Charlotte Reinke.

The program consists of works of Monteverdi, Legrenzi, Dowland, Arne, Donaudy, Puccini, Schumann, Menotti, Britten and others. Also featured will be folksongs from different countries.

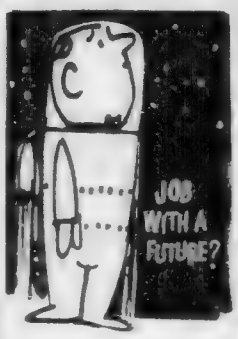
San Can Restaurant
Across the Road from the Capital Shopping Center
Try Our Fast Drive-In Service
OR
Enjoy A Meal In Our Lovely Dining Room
Call In Your Order
And It Will Be Waiting
1825 Thomasville Rd. Phone 223-0445

For Better Health, Improve Circulation
by Massage
Headache—Sore Muscles—Tension
● Swedish Massage
● Slenderizing
● Exercise
"Add Years to Your Life and Life to Your Years"
DRAKE'S MASSAGE STUDIO
For Men and Women — Hotel Duval Phone 222-5364

Parkway SHOPPING CENTER
● WALGREENS ● BENHIL'S
● STEIN'S CLOTHING ● NEISNER'S
● LERNER SHOPS ● CHICK 'N TREAT
● STAFFORD JEWELERS ● BUTLER SHOES
● PARKWAY PACKAGE ● THOM McAN
● SOUTHLAND DRAPERY ● ONE-HOUR VALET
Covered Sidewalks. You
5 -- Are always out of the Weather

at your TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

FLORIDA
NOW PLAYING
Troy Donohue
Susan Pleshette
Rossano Brazzi
Angie Dickinson
"ROME ADVENTURE"
2:00-4:35-7:10-9:40



STATE
Today & Saturday
Frank Sinatra—Dean Martin
Shirley MacLaine
"SOME CAME RUNNING"
in COLOR at 1:45-5:45-9:45
Also Gary Cooper
"TEN NORTH FREDERICK"
4:00 and 8:10

PERRY HIGHWAY OUTDOOR
Showing at 7:55
Tony Curtis—Debbie Reynolds
"The Rat Race"
Color
And at 9:50
Deborah Kerr in
"The Innocents"

CAPITOL DRIVE-IN ON WOODVILLE HWY.
Tonight &Saturday
Showing at 7:30-10:50
Kent Taylor-Diane Darrin
"THE BROKEN LAND"
COMEDY at 9:00
James Cagney—Pamela Tiffen
"ONE, TWO, THREE!"

SIC FLICS

"Your pilot is Captain Smith— I'm your stewardess, Miss Kong."
21 GREAT TOBACCOS MAKE 20 WONDERFUL SMOKES!
AGED MILD, BLENDED MILD – NOT FILTERED MILD – THEY SATISFY

If you're looking for a position that offers unlimited opportunities—a business that will be built from your own ability and imagination—you should look into the advantages of life insurance sales and sales management. Provident Mutual will start you on your training program now—while you're still in college.
Give us a call or write for the free booklet, "Career Opportunities". It may open up a whole new area you've never considered before.
DICK D'ALEMBERTE
MANAGER
P.O. BOX 66
Chattahoochee, Florida
PROVIDENT MUTUAL
Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia

HOW TO GET TO EUROPE WITHOUT PAYING FOR IT...
(Try this plan on the folks...there is a good chance they will say yes!)

The best part of this plan is that not only will you be able to ramble around Europe but, equally exciting, you will be able to do it behind the responsive wheel of the world's finest automobile...a Mercedes-Benz. And you can do it soon...while you are still footloose.. before you find yourself employed, espoused and mortgaged.

AND, MOST IMPORTANTLY, IT MAY NOT EVEN COST YOUR DAD A DIME!

Read on, and we'll plot a gentle conspiracy together...

The logic behind your plan is this. Your parents can order a Mercedes-Benz from their dealer at home and you can take delivery at the factory in Stuttgart...at the lowest German or European Retail price (saving from $1,169.00 to $2,955.00, depending upon the model). You can then drive leisurely through Europe, soaking up culture, history, camaraderie and life along the way. When you return to the States, there will be no problem. Your Mercedes-Benz dealer will advise you before you leave for Europe regarding the easy arrangements that we will gladly make to return your car stateside. Incidentally, your Mercedes-Benz will be admitted and taxed on an appraised value, largely dependent upon mileage, and you can then pick it up and deliver it to Mom and Dad. The money you save for them on the European price of the car will more than cover your round-trip passage by plane or boat, plus license plates, insurance, shipment back to the U.S.A. and duty, and quite probably even your expenses. You, therefore, will have had a free trip to Europe.

Sound interesting?

We'll even help convince Mom and Dad to let you go. All you have to do is fill out the coupon below, send it to us. We'll do the rest. Of course, a pointed reminder to them about it in all of your letters home wouldn't hurt, either.

When we receive your coupon we'll also send your folks all the details if you request us to, plus all the benefits they will receive by owning a Mercedes-Benz, and the benefits you will receive by journeying through Europe. We will also send you detailed information on such items as "How to Obtain a Passport," "Clothes to Take to Europe," "Language Is No Barrier," and so on.

Close your eyes and picture yourself driving down the Champs Elysees, through all the romance that is Paris, cruising along the Autobahn toward the excitement of Munich, or roaring around a curve in a Mercedes-Benz to discover the grandeur of the Alps.

Worth doing, isn't it? And all it will take for your trip to come true is your parent's name on the coupon below. Mail it Today! And make your next letter home the most convincing one you ever sent.

HERE'S HOW YOU SAVE

	Your price in Europe is only	U.S.A. East Coast Price	Saving
190-C 4-door sedan	$2,500.00	$ 3,807.00	$1,307.00
220-S 4-door sedan	3,328.00	4,908.00	1,580.00
220-SE 4-door sedan	3,755.00	5,191.00	1,436.00
190-SL coupe	4,296.00	5,465.00	1,169.00
300-SL coupe	8,352.00	11,307.00	2,955.00

Incidentally, this plan can also apply to graduate students and others. Simply write in "Graduate Student."

Lon A. Fleener, President
Mercedes-Benz Sales, Inc.
635 South Main Street
South Bend 27, Indiana

Please rush catalog and information

My Name _____
Address _____
City _____
Zone _____ State _____

This is not an order—merely a request for information. I understand there is no obligation.

☐ Check here if you wish same material sent to your Mom and Dad:

My Parent's _____
Address _____
City _____
Zone _____ State _____

Faculty Notes

Blackwell Talks To Alumni

Florida State University President Gordon W. Blackwell will speak tomorrow at a luncheon meeting of the FSU Alumni Club in Washington, D.C.

The noon meeting is scheduled in the Senate Dining Room in the Senate wing of the Capitol. Mrs. Spessard Holland, wife of Florida's senior senator, is president of the Washington FSU Alumni Club. More than 100 alumni of FSU live in the greater Washington area, 95 in the District of Columbia.

President Blackwell will meet with FSU alumni in New York City in a dinner meeting tomorrow night.

Dr. Nickolas Heerema, professor of mathematics at FSU has been elected president of the Faculty Christian Fellowship at FSU for the coming year.

Other officers of the organization are Dr. Gregg Phifer, professor of speech, vice president; Mrs. Kirk Bell Cocke, professor of advertising, communication and public relations, secretary; and Dr. Marian Black, professor of education, treasurer.

The group is part of a national organization founded in 1941. Its concern is the relation of Christian faith to the vocations and disciplines of the teacher and scholar.

Mrs. Birgitta K. G. Sidh who received a personal fellowship from the King of Sweden when she came to FSU to study, has been selected as one of 50 international student delegates to the Williamsburg International Assembly to be held June 10-13. The Assembly brings together graduate students from 12 countries for an exchange of ideas and opinions. Delegates from Europe, Asia, Latin America, the Near East, Africa and the South Pacific will be guests of Colonial Williamsburg.

During the four-day conference, "The historical perspective of American Ideals and Illusions" will be explored by eight authorities in the political, socio-economic and cultural fields.

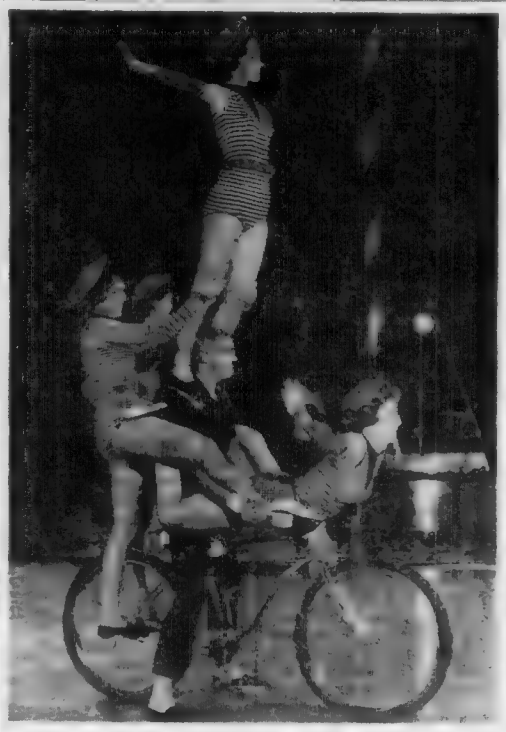
Mrs. Sidh came to FSU under a $2000 fellowship from the Swedish-American Foundation. She also received a travel fellowship of $300 from the Vocational Board of Education in Stockholm. A third fellowship was a special gift of $600 from the Swedish king in recognition of her work in the field of home economics.

A native of Stockholm, Mrs. Sidh holds the teacher's diploma from the State Teachers Seminar in Stockholm. She taught for 15 years in various schools in her country and worked part - time in an experimental test - kitchen. Mrs. Sidh is the author of six cookbooks in Swedish and one in Norwegian, and a textbook in nutrition.

A candidate for the master's degree at FSU, she is majoring in home and family life. For her thesis, she is conducting a study of Swedish and American children's perception of family and development of responsibility.

Dr. Francis R. Allen, professor of sociology, has been elected president of the FSU chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

Other officers elected are Dr. William Cramer, associate professor of music, vice president; Dr. Dorothy Hoffman, professor of modern languages, secretary; and Miss Jo Kennedy, assistant professor and head of Documents-Maps, Library, treasurer.



Dr. Allen reported to the group on a recent meeting with University of Florida faculty and Dr. Hoffman on a national meeting of AAUP held last week in Chicago. The group also heard Dr. John Griffin, director of university relations, speak on the subject, "The Role of the University."

Dr. J. F. Spratt, assistant professor of Music at FSU, will address the Congregational List Group of the United Student Fellowship Sunday at 5 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Nye. Dr. Spratt's subject will be "The Spirit of Congregationalism in Music." The public is invited.

Richard Collins, associate professor of music at FSU, is in Birmingham to assist the Civic Opera Company in choosing singers for the March , 1963, production of The Marriage of Figaro, an opera by Mozart. He will serve as stage director for the production.

Dr. William Randel professor of English and director of the American Studies program, will read a paper on "The American Search for Its Image Aborad" at an interregional American Studies Association convention in Miami Beach today and tomorrow.

Nine of 20 regional societies will be represented at the meeting, which will hear from speakers from New York, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Delaware New Jersey and Washington, D. C. Randel is past president of the Southeastern American Studies Association and has held three appointments as visiting professor of American Studies.

The bicycle built for five
. . . . is one of the featured stage acts in the Flying High circus.

Three Distinguished Faculty Resign For New Positions

Three senior faculty members whose combined service totals 33 years are leaving the Florida State University faculty at the end of the summer faculty at the positions in other universities.

Dr. Albert Leduc, associate professor of modern languages, will join the faculty of Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia as professor of modern languages and ranking member of that department; Dr. David E. Christensen, associate professor of geography, is joining the Geography Dept. of Southern Illinois University, and Dr. Donn S. Corsline, acting director of the Oceanographic Institute, is leavnig to join the Allan Hancock Foundation, a similar agency at University of Southern California.

Dr. Werner A. Baum, dean of faculties at FSU, said the university regrets losing the three men but that FSU is unable to match the opportunities being offered them elsewhere.

Originally from Indiana, Dr. LeDuc has been a member of the faculty since 1947. He received the A. B. degree with distinction from Indiana University in 1931 and also holds the M. A. degree from Indiana. He received his Ph.D degree from University of Chicago.

Dr. Leduc has served as president of the Alpha of Florida Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, and for 10 years has been FSU advisor for Fulbright scholarships. He is a colonel in the Air Force Reserve and formerly commanded the Tallahassee Air Reserve Squadron. For several years he has been coorindator for French studies in a program of the Modern Languages Association.

Dr. Christensen presently is on leave teaching at Southern Illinois University. A native of Wisconsin, he is a graduate of State Teachers College at Mankato, Minn., and holds his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from the University of Chicago.

Dr. Christensen's dissertation at Chicago was on the subject of the changing agricultural pattern in two southeast Georgia counties and his 160-page study, Rural Occupance in Transition: Lee and Sumter Counties, Georgia, was published by the University of Chicago Press.

FLORIDA ATLAS PUBLISHED

A year ago, Florida Reference Atlas, prepared by Dr. Christensen and Professor Henry F. Becker of the FSU Geography Dept., was published locally.

Dr. Gorsline, who has been on the FSU faculty since 1958, is originally from California and has a Ph.D. from the University of Southern California. A marine geologist, Gorsline has done extensive research while at FSU in the geology and hydrography of the Florida west coast shoreline, working under a program of the U. S. Office of Naval Research.

Patronize Flambeau Advertisers

First School Of Music Grad Revisits FSU After 50 Years

Florida State University's first School of Music graduate, Mrs. Carol Perrenot Langone of New York City, returned last Friday for a visit to the school where she got her degree in 1912.

A native of Milton, Fla., she was back in Florida on a vacation and said she made it a point to visit her old school "to pay my respects to Miss Opperman, who did so much for me at the time I was going there."

Dr. Ella Scoble Opperman, founder of the School of Music in 1911, was on hand to greet her old pupil, the daughter of a man who was president of Florida's Senate more than half a century ago.

Dr. Opperman said Mrs. Langone, a pianist, is "internationally famous as the originator of the operalogue." The operalogue is a presentation of the arias, duets, trios and quartets of an opera with the continuity provided by the pianist-narrator.

In her twice monthly presentations at New York's hotel Pierre, Mrs. Langone plays the piano and comments, often humorously, on the opera itself. The voice parts are done by opera singers, usually young American talent. More than 30 have gone on to the Metropolitan Opera.

"I specialize in all talent," she declares, "using any available performer who fits the part." The operalogue is an essentially informal production designed to put both the audience and the young performers at ease.

The former head of the School of Music recalled today that when she "discovered" Miss Perrenot in 1911, the college was not authorized to offer a Bachelor of Music degree.

When & Where

TODAY

Registration for Family Week-end will be held in the Large Lounge of Longmire from noon to 9 p. m.

• • •

The examination in defense of dissertation will be held in the Education Lounge at 1 p. m. by Miss Dorothea Anne Merry. All faculty members are invited to attend.

• • •

Dr. Frank Field, Humble Oil Co., will speak on "Reactions of Ions and Excited Atoms in the Mass Spectrometer" at the General Chemistry Seminar that will be held in 306 Science at 4 p. m.

• • •

The Young People's Socialist League will have its second meeting in the Longmire Student Lounge, at 8 p. m.

• • •

Th University Singers Concert will be held in Westcott at 8:15 p. m.

• • •

TOMORROW

Family Week-end Registration will be held in the Large Lounge of Longmire from 9 a. m. until noon.

• • •

The Pershing Rifles' Banquet and Dance will be held at 7:30 p. m.

• • •

Allan Thomson will be the commentator of "What is Poetry?" on Images of Man which will broadcast over WFSU-FM at 8 p. m.

• • •

Patricia Pippin and Sue McKenzie will perform at the Certificate Recital, Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 p. m.

• • •

Leonard Bernstein will conduct Symphony no. 82 in C, Symphony no. 1, and Central Park in the Dark, by Haydn, Mahler, and Ives respectively on the New York PH Harmonic Broadcast over WFSU-FM at 8:30 p. m.

• • •

SUNDAY

Dr. Paul Piccard will speak on the "Perils of Public Poacies in the Sixties," at the Liberal Forum held in the Unitarian Chapel at 7:30 p. m.

• • •

Robert T. Braunagle will be the conductor of the Concert Band Rebroadcast which was originally presented on April 17. The program will include: "Italian in Algiers" by G. Rossini, "Court Festival" by William Latham, and "West Side Story" will be presented over WFSU-FM ata 8:30 p. m.

• • •

RECRUITMENT SCHEDULE

All seniors and graduates must register with the Placement Office to be eligible for interviews with companies recruiting on campus. Sign up for interviews on schedules posted in Placement Office and pick up company literature prior to interview.

• • •

TUESDAY

The Ford Motor Company has immediate openings in the Sales Office in Jacksonville. Starting salary is $475-500. Please attend group meeting at 8:30 a. m., Room 411, Longmire, for short aptitude test. Individual interviews will be given at times signed for on the schedule on bulletin board.

• • •

WEDNESDAY

The U. S. Marine Corps will be at the Student Center Wednesday through May 12.

Graduate School Mystery Crests Stump All University Experts

PAT FREEMAN
Flambeau Feature Writer

Dodd Hall is an enigma. The Graduate Bldg. is the keeper of a mystery which defies the most persistent detectives on campus. Even the Alumni Office is stymied!

I refer to the unexplained presence of four decorative shields on the rear of the old library, facing Jefferson Street. What is the meaning of these four unobtrusive crests so boldly displayed? Did Sir Lance of Tesche fair Lady Joan from the perils of an illegal visit to cousin Galahad's apartment many eons ago, or perhaps King Hottentot of Xanzibar was the first male student to graduate from the university? All efforts to unravel the teas puzzles have been devastating failures. The riddle seems to equal the Gordian knot, and where is Alexander?

The University has been most helpful. They have family encyclopedias and attempts with the famous U S A University Score board. Anonymous tips, twenty-three departments I reached could offer no clues . . . only more departments.

Ann Hullander of the Alumni Office bravely called the Capitol for information from old files and received information on the painters crests used in the trim of the building. This monumental effort has been the closest attempt at a solution reached and having for the best I called the library to ask for information.

MAIN ENTRANCE

Three weeks of peering at family shields can be depressing especially when you spend your leisure hours [illegible] semetser. The fruits of my sojourn among the stacks proved fruitless, and I am applying for a position as a monitor at the campus movies as soon as there is an opening. But before I go, here are a few details on the two big shields which are over the main entrance to the Graduate Bldg. Using this as a clue, I dare you to explain the four shields behind the building.

Part of the decorative stone which was used on the front of the Graduate Bldg. are two huge shields bearing the printers' marks of Nicholas Jenson and Aldus Manutius. Devices such as these were largely used by printers as trade marks to take the place of their names on books although now the practice is dying out.

ROMAN MEDAL

The design chosen by the printer may be very simple and plain as is the monogram which appears above the entrance to the Graduate Building of a few lines and the initials, "N. J." This shield is the famous trademark of Nicholas Jenson. Others chose a more fanciful embellishment, usually of eleborate arms. The device of Manutius is an example of the latter type. His shield of the dolphin and anchor was copied from an ancient medal of imperialistic Rome.

Erasmus, who was a member of the Aldine press, says that this medal was sent to Aldus by the Renaissance scholar, Bembo. Aldus has added the motto "Festina Lente," which indicated a [illegible] the best [illegible] and was used by the Aldine press for over three [illegible].

PRINTING AS ART

Nicholas Jenson, a Frenchman was born around 1430. A [illegible] Mainz to Master Gutenberg, to [illegible] He [illegible] Venice where [illegible] and [illegible] greatly to [illegible] as a center of [illegible] as an art [illegible].

He is [illegible] have invented a scheme for locking the pages of [illegible] a [illegible] in [illegible]. His greatest contribution to the art of printing was his style of Roman type which has been the accepted [illegible] ever since.

Of greater fame even than Jenson [illegible] Aldus Manutius. [illegible] the field of printing at [illegible] has been of the book. Aldus was aid [illegible] discovered by Jenson, [illegible] years before. To the Roman font of his predecessor he added small capitals which no other printer had ever used. He then invented the Italic letters so often used today which are supposed to be copied from the slanting [illegible] of Petrarch.

SCHOLAR AND PRINTER

Manutius was a good scholar as well as a printer and his claim to recognition and fame comes not only from his work as a printer but from his great influence on the world of learning. He sought to make knowledge universally available to [illegible] in the economic range of nearly everyone. The literates of today owe [illegible] the placing of a shield over Dodd Hall.

As pioneers of printing these men established so high a standard that [illegible] modern mechanical devices. Perhaps Manutius or Jenson were they alive today, could take but a glimpse of the four mysterious shields and immediately attain the summit of mystery mountain . . . but not I.

PATRONIZE YOUR FLAMBEAU ADVERTISERS

Circus Roster

One hundred and forty Florida State University students are performing in the circus Home Shows this week, directed by Al Gilbert.

The performers are:

Betty Allen, Judy B. Allen, Judy G. Allen, Ann Angel, Rosemary Armes, Bill Arnold, Dave Arnold, Brenda Beam, Bud Berringer, Judy Bigelow, Carolyn Bugg, Mary Ann Blake, Janet Bryant, Linda Buhl, Connie Byrd, Carolyn Cornes, Larry Camp, Mark Carroll, Martha Carter, Adrian Catarzi, Rosalie Clancy, Fred Clarke, Betty Lou Claywell, Elsie Coleman, Tom Coles, Frankie Collar, Myra Conn, Mina Crawford, Sue Criswell, Bob Dawson.

Jeannie DeRosay, Frances Dickens, Dale Dunsmore, Linda Edgar, Wynne Ellison, Beth Farnsworth, Carole Floyd, Harry Folson, Judi Ford, Steve Fraser, Cindy Friend, Alan Gadney, George Galt, Penny George, Dorothy Gilmore, Olivia Goldsmith, Bob Goodman and Judy Goodman.

Erol Green, Tye Gregory, Flora Hampton, Louise Hartz, Rodger Harrington, Doug Harwell, Charlene Henderson, JoAnn Hess, Barbara Hepp, Terry Higgenbotham, Kent Hobbs, Charlene Howard, Don Johnson, Carolyn Jordan, Dottie Jordan, Carolyn Jones, Dick Kaesin, Betty Keel, Mary Ann Kinney, Kathy Koren, Susie Lacayo, Janie Lane.

Kay Lewis, Diane Lineau, Claire Lewis, Carol Luck, Carol Ludke, Jan Luse, Jo Malloy, Wayne Mar, Joy Kay Marotte, Nelson Marshall, Susan Mauger, Georgia McArthur, Vaugh McIntire, Jane McLarine, Dave McVickers, Edna Moore, Sue Mullis, Dick Newcomb, Judy Nealing, Jane Nixon, Geri O'Conner.

Mary Ann Pace, Charlie Parks, Rod Parrish, Bonnie Patten, Don Peery, Pat Pelt, Carol Peters, Linda Phillips, Lynette Pieper, Beth Prather, Becky Richardson, Lynn Rodgers, Walt Rothenback, Jack Rowland, Viretta Rozhan, Marilyn Rusch, Kathy Sanborn, Lee Schiemeyer, Angie Seymour, Pamela Shearer, Beverly Smith, Ann Smith, Carol A. Smith, Frances Smith, Susie Smith, Sally Sparks, Lynn Stanaleigh.

Sandy Stovall, Kim Stratton, Bobbie Testa, Bonnie Thomas, Richard Toth, Ron Tracy, Jane Turnage, Emily Tyler, Annelle Ulm, Mike Van Horn, Becky Wainwright, Diane Walters, Debbie Ware, Jan Yesterfield, Judy Wheeler, Ivan Williams, Charles Wolf, Ann Warner, Pyllis Webb, Ann Yeager, Linda Wynn.

Lost Folder

The FSU male student who received a folder belonging to Miss Lois Jackson, from the ticket agent at the Tampa Greyhound Bus Station, may send the folder to Miss Jackson, 2522 W. Wilder, Tampa.

(ADVERTISEMENT)

ELECT DAVID GRETSCH

FOR WHAT PEOPLE?

Where does your state senator stand when the chips are down? Is he on the side of the voter who elected him, the folks that support his business?

Where does he stand in the $1 million appropriated by the 1961 Legislature for merit raises to university faculty members? He was chairman of the senate appropriations committee. In an article in the Tampa Tribune Saturday, March 24, 1962, reporter Lennon Bradford, wrote how Senator Carraway interpreted Legislative action:

"Sen. Wilson Carraway of Tallahassee and Rep. J. J. Griffin of St. Cloud asserted, however, there was no legislative mandate for the state to spend all of the $1.3 million."

The Tampa Tribune story also said:

Carraway said the legislative intent for use of the $1.3 million was that it could be used in its entirety "if it were needed" and "if it were justified."

Also then, besides Carraway from a university county, should know whether or not the appropriation was justified?

The Tribune also pointed out:

Three Alachua County legislators (in the University of Florida territory) have told the board of control they agree with the university presidents. Griffin and Senator Carraway of Tallahassee disagree."

It is clear that the Alachua County legislators back their school. But who is to back Florida State University? Is it to depend on delegates? Or, to put it as Carraway has, should our universities to depend on business appropriations?

The Tribune also quoted:

Carraway said it was up to the university officials "to justify that they are entitled to these raises and to justify them to the cabinet.'"

Now doesn't this sound strange coming from a senator whose hometown depends on a state university? If Carraway appropriated this money and left it up to the university officials "to justify they are entitled to these raises," who does Carraway represent?

I ask myself, just who does Senator Carraway represent, and what has he done for Leon County?

I am ready to stand up and be counted. I am for Florida State University. I am not afraid to admit this. And if you vote for me for State Senator, I will do my best to represent Florida State University as an important part of our community. You are starting a new system whereby you'll get a third more work. I think you should get a third more pay.

David Gretsch
Paid Political Adv.

Religious News

Meth. Hold Annual Social

The Wesley Foundation's annual Ice Cream social will be tomorrow from 2:30 to 5 p.m. at the Foundation. FSU Chaplain John Carey will have the Sunday morning worship service at 11 a.m. at the Foundation.

BAPTIST

A Parisian Dinner party is planned for next Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Baptist Student Union.

CATHOLIC

Catholic Faith Week ends tonight with an open house at the Catholic Student Center at 7 p.m.

EPISCOPAL

Rev. Roger Steinhauer has been assigned to the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer in Jacksonville. Rev. Harcourt E. Waller, who has been at FSU for five years prior to his leave of absence to study in England, has been assigned to a student chapel at the University of Virginia.

PRESBYTERIAN

Sunday night the associate director from Westminster Fellowship will be installed at a 7:30 service at Westminster Presbyterian Church. Presbyterian students are invited to attend the installation service and supper at the church at 6 p.m.

Parkway SHOPPING CENTER

- WALGREENS
- STEIN'S CLOTHIN G
- LERNER SHOPS
- STAFFORD JEWELERS
- PARKWAY PACKAGE
- SOUTHLAND DRAPERY
- BENHIL'S
- NEISNER'S
- CHICK 'N TREAT
- BUTLER SHOES
- THOM McAN
- ONE-HOUR VALET

Add These up for Values At Parkway Shopping Center

BLACK & WHITE FILM 620—120—127 — 3 ROLLS 88c

8 MM. KODACHROME, Processing Included — $3.69

WESTINGHOUSE NO. 5 FLASH BULBS, doz. — $1.30

FOR PRICES AND QUALITY, SEE

CHEVET'S Your camera Shop
Rooms at College

Marlboro

the filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste. You get a lot to like.

King size pack or Flip-top box

Varsity Is Ready For Football Game

By VICTOR COMOLLI
Assistant Sports Editor

The Florida State University varsity football hopefuls for 1962 conclude their spring training period with the first annual Varsity - Alumni game at 2 p. m. tomorrow in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

The varsity's starting lineup will probably include Eddie Feely at quarterback, Jim Loftin and Ken Russom at halfbacks, Marion Roberts at fullback, John Levings and Chuck Robinson at guards, Tom Slicker and Jim Sims at tackles, Fred Biletnikoff and Red Dawson at ends, and Bill Daly or Bruce Darsey at center.

The entire starting backfield was re-shuffled last week following a 14-7 upset of the second team over the Whites last Saturday.

Charley Calhoun moved down from first team to third, as senior Feely replaced him. Feely looked polished in last week's game-like scrimmage as he ran 22 yards for the Garnets first Touchdown and passed to Russom for the second one.

Russom was an all-around sparkler in Saturday's game too, while fullback Marion Roberts replaced Dave Snyder at the number one position after a tremendous display of power running.

The most promising development of the spring practice has been at the ends, where the Seminoles were expected to be weak. At this position, many players have looked sharp, but especially Dawson, John McConnaughhay, Biletnikoff, and John Wachtel.

Biletnikoff, who will be a sophomore next year, could very well be the best pass receiver in FSU's history.

Another pleasant surprise this spring has been halfback Jim Loftin. The former Pensacola track, baseball, and football star has the speed and ability to run all the way at any time, and he could be the solution to the Seminoles' weakness of past seasons. Loftin, a freshman, is being followed closely by the second team left halfback Keith Kinderman, who has been plagued by an ankle injury this sprnig. Both are capable of managing a first string position.

At tackles, Slicker and Sims are hlding tenaciously to num-

At tackles, Slicker and Sims are holding tenaciously to num-

At guards, the story is quite different. Robinson and Levings are presently number one, but they are beig closely pressed by linebacker Gene McDowell.

The quarterback spot is perhaps the strongest of all. Besides two experienced pilots, Calhoun and Feely, the Seminoles have a corps of newcomers, which have been referred to as the most promising bunch of young quarterbacks in the South by a Miami assistant football coach.

Jimmy Seaward is presently running second team behind Feely after a fine performance Saturday. The 200-pounder, who transferred here after one year at Auburn, has already impressed some visiting pro scouts. Others following closely are Steve Tensi and Ed Pritchett, who may see some action as a defensive fullback

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

To Meet Varsity

Alums Drill

By JOHN WOOD

Representatives of the football "dynasties" which have occupied the scene at FSU since 1947 will be present tomorrow to challenge this '62 edition of the up-and-coming football team at the Alumni Day game.

Several professional football players who got their start at these ivy-less walls will return to give our youngsters a taste of football as it was once played here. They will be directed by Coach Ken MacLean of Florida High School, a member of the 47-48-49 Seminole teams.

When Coach MacLean was asked to preview the clash, he leaned back in his swivel chair and cast an anxious glance in the direction of the Florida High field, where the alumni have been practicing every night this week from 7:45 to 9:30 p.m.

When he was satisfied that the field was still there, he began, "Our plan of attack will be to punt, play defense, and hang on till we have a chance to score.' We may have a surprise in store for the varsity if we can strike early.

"Our biggest problem is conditioning. We have had 15 practices, but we still have a group of players who are in poor shape. I just hope that the ones who have not arrived yet are in good shape and can work with the boys who are in good physical condition. We feel like we will play well, but we don't know for how long."

He paused, then continued, "We had the largest turnout so far last night (Monday, April 29) and went into pads. I have been refreshing their memory on the basic plays of offense. Now, we are going to stress defense and the passing and running attacks tonight. (Tuesday, May 1).

The players will come almost entirely from the teams coached by Haskins in 1947, Veliers from '48 to '52, Tom Nugents from '53 to '59, Perry Moss in 1959, and Peterson in '60 and '61. Among the pros will be Jack Espenship, Bobby Bean, Tony Romeo, Roy Bickford, Don Donatelli, and Fred Pickard.

Among the alumni will be Florida Supreme Court Clerk Guyte McCord, who was a member of the 1902 team, the first to beat the University of Florida. Also present will be Bob Bradford and Judge Dozier of the 1903 edition. One of these gentlemen will probably act as captain of the alumni team, and the other will kick off.

FSU Recruiters Are Doing Well

The Seminoles have been able to sign several top gridders in the state this year. Mac Keesee, a 6-1, 216 pound tackle from Jacksonville, appears to be the most outstanding state gridder FSU has signed. Peterson has also inked guard Tommy Calhoun of Gainesville, halfback Harry Breeze of Manatee, and center Tommy Carter of Tampa, all of whom were picked to the All-State teams.

In addition to these, the Seminoles have signed Jacksonville halfback David Mann, who holds the state 100-yard dash record at 9.7 and 220 - yard dash mark at 21.3. Another Florida prospect signed by FSU is quarterback Elton Revell from the University School. Revell received numerous scholarship offers from other universities, including one from universities, including one from the University of Tennessee and he was selected top back of the year for this area.

Top out-of-state signees for the Seminoles are Edwin Pope, a 6-1, 190 - pound halfback, and Linkford Lee, a power runner who gained 1,060 yards in 100 efforts in his senior year at Ware County High. Pope scored eight touchdowns during the '961 campaign, while gaining 636 yards in 129 carries. Both were picked to Georgia's Class A All-State team.

In Savannah, Ga., FSU came out with two big ones when it signed halfback Tommy Brennan and tackle Henry Rape Brennan, a 180 - pounder, gained 502 yards rushing for a 5.8 average in his senior year at Benedictine High, and he won the honor of back of the year in the city. Rape, a 230 - pounder, was selected to the AAA first team All-State squad.

The latest Seminole signee was Heiis Marty Sica of Springfield, N. J. The 220-pound tackle was recently chosen to the New Jersey All-State first team, and reportedly received offers from 30 colleges.

THERE'LL BE NO MORE SLIDING FOR A WHILE, UNTIL THE SEMINOLES' 14-day layoff is ended by the May 11 contest with Florida Southern. FSU's Woody Woodward is tagged out in a recent game. (Photo by Emmette Jackson)

Tribe Prepares For 14th Victory

The Florida State Seminoles, resting in preparation for their May 11 baseball game with Florida Southern, now have a 13-9 season record.

Last year, the Seminoles fell twice to the Moccasins.

After another contest with Florida Southern on Saturday week, the Seminoles will battle the Georgia Southern squad May 14 and 15.

The season will come to a halt May 18-19, after two battles with the University of Florida baseball team, which is presently high in the ranks of the Southeastern Conference standings.

The Seminoles will go into these last days backed up by the performances of eight Tribesmen hitting at a .300 clip and the efforts of four regular pitchers owning an earned run average of under 3.50.

The leading batters are Bill Wilcox (.385), Buddy Teagle (.392), Woody Woodward (.376), Bobby Williamson .351, Elliot (.338 Madison .347, Hal Mangin .319), and French .300).

The leading pitchers are Thomas, who has given up 15 runs in 25 innings for a 2.52 ERA; Beccaccio who has surrendered 7 runs in 10 innings for a 2.61 ERA; Ray McShane, who has allowed 33 runs in 58 innings for a 3.28 ERA; and Ross, who has given up 12 runs in 29 innings for a 3.46 ERA.

McShane claims a 4-3 record, while Thomas has won 3-of-4 contests he hurled.

The leading Seminoles will also able to have a hand in the Tribesmen's attempts to rack up some more records this season.

Already FSU has cracked two records and tied one. It is likely it will add another mark to its list.

The home run record fell when the Seminoles smacked 19 four-baggers, to put them three ahead of the old one-season record of 16.

A double play mark fell when the Florida State Squad completed 30 double put-outs. This is two more than the old record.

The baseball team tied the doubles mark with its 41 tally this year.

The record that is in danger of falling is the total - hits mark of 302. The Seminoles have 248 hits this season.

The statistics

	Batting AB	H	BB	RBI	Avg.
Dirks	1	1	1	0	1.000
Jarett	1	1	0	0	1.000
Howell	3	2	0	2	.667
Teagle	26	31	10	17	.392
Wilcox	52	20	4	8	.385
Woodward	93	35	13	25	.376
Williamson	97	34	8	23	.351
Elliott	23	8	2	2	.348
Madison	75	26	21	12	.347
Mangin	[illegible]	29	9	13	.319
French	30	9	4	3	.300
Fergusson	46	13	7	4	.281
Spitzer	25	7	4	4	.280
Smith	38	10	4	2	.261
Litchfiler	4	1	1	1	.250
McShane	18	3	3	2	.167
Baccaccio	25	4	5	0	.160
Ross	19	3	6	2	.158
Johnson	33	5	2	3	.152
Augustine	24	3	3	3	.125
Hawkins	15	2	1	2	.133
Thomas	8	1	1	2	.125
Tucker	4	0	0	0	.000
Shiflett	3	0	2	0	.000
Echols	1	0	0	0	.000
Ferrar	1	0	0	0	.000
Rountree	1	0	0	0	.000
FSU Totals	810	248	119	130	.306
Opp Totals	796	225	108	124	.279

Pitching	IP	H	R	ERA	W	L
Hondank	2	2	0	0.00	0	0
Thomas	25	22	15	2.52	3	1
Beccaccio	10	7	7	2.61	0	0
McShane	58	55	33	3.28	4	2
Ross	29	16	12	3.46	2	0
Tucker	12	17	7	5.11	2	0
Echols	11	10	8	5.90	0	1
Hawkins	48	52	41	6.26	2	2
Howell	9	13	11	10.00	0	2
Ferrar	3	8	8	18.00	0	0
Others	1	2	1	9.00	0	0
FSU totals	197	252	143	4.53	13	9
Opp Totals	195	248	167	5.78	9	13

3 Sports Events Free To Students

There will be no admission fee for students to three sports events which will be held on campus this weekend, but non-students will have to pay for two of the contests.

Students will be admitted free to the Varsity Alumni game at 2 p.m. tomorrow and at the Florida AAU Invitational track meet at 6:30 tonight. Non-students must pay $1.50 for the two events.

There will be no admission charge to the freshman baseball game, which will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

SCALP 'EM - Howard Denson

Frank Howard Views Practice

One of the most colorful characters to appear on campus this month was undoubtedly Frank Howard, the tobacco-chewing football coach from Clemson. Howard visited the campus along with the Tigers' tennis team and watched Monday's and Tuesday's drills on last week.

The first view that spectators got of Howard, if they came late, was the sight of a physically well-rounded man wearing tan pants, a white shirt, sporting a garnet Seminole hat to protect his bald head from the sun, and spitting brown liquid on the grassy gridiron.

Two grid fans wandered over to him. "Well, Coach, how do they look?" they asked.

Howard paused, not saying much, or seeming to not want to.

"Wal, they don't have much polish, 'course, they've had a purty long layoff 'cause of the Easter holidays," Howard said.

"Anybody special look good to you?" they persisted.

Easter Layoff

"They're all a bunch of numbers to me," Howard said, not committing himself. "I don't know any of them." Non-commitment means one of two things — either he doesn't have an opinion . . . or he's being polite. Visiting coaches never run down the host team if they're not looking too good. They keep their mouths shut. If the team is good, the visitor opens his mouth. And at this time, the Seminoles weren't in top form.

But later during the day, the Tribesmen shaped up, and Howard said quite often, "That's a beautiful play." Three players especially impressed him. Garnet quarterback Eddie Feely, Garnet fullback Marion Roberts, and Garnet left half Jim Loftin. Howard's preferences were excellent, because all three have since been moved up to the first team.

Looking about the field — first at the stadium area, then at the wooded area next to the baseball diamond, then at the men's dormitory area — Howard said "Y'all got a nice campus here. A guy wouldn't mind working here."

Then he said the campus is related to recruiting.

"A campus like this really impresses a young kid, and it makes a kid want to come here," Howard said.

Talking about the University of Florida's football team, Howard's comments gave a clue to this fact: He doesn't think the Gators were as good as biased state sports writers said they were. His team was defeated by Florida, before the Gators tied FSU.

College Interferes With Football

On the second day of drills, Coach Bill Peterson was complaining to Education Dean Mode Stone, who was visiting the field, "These classes are getting longer and longer and soon we won't be able to have any practice at all." He was apparently joking about the effects of the trimester system on football practice.

Howard said to Peterson in quasi - astonishment, "Come on, you don't let college interfere with football down here, do ya?"

Peterson grinned, but didn't answer.

Watching the nearly 100 football players bang themselves together, Howard — who has a reputation for being extremely rough with his players — said "Y'all work yor players too hard down here. An hour should be enough."

He was laughing and smiling, so listeners weren't quite sure whether or not he was joking.

Eventually, Howard returned the Seminole cap to assistant coach Charlie LaPradd and walked off the field, saying, "I'll see y'all at the clinic this summer."

Rollins Dropped

The Florida State netters met tennis conscious Rollins College Wednesday and dropped the South Floridians, 5-4 on the winning efforts of Paul Scarpa, Gordy Smith, and Jamie Jamieson.

Scarpa easily defeated Juan Ticho, 6-1, 6-0 in the singles, and then Gordy Smith claimed a 6-2, 6-0 triumph over Miguel Olvera. Jamie Jamieson rounded out FSU's singles victories as he defeated Dwane Ackerman, 6-2, 6-1.

FSU's losses in the singles came at the expense of Ed Fasula, Bob Berry, and Wally Dale. Fasula fell to Ralph Greco after a 6-4, 3-6 and 6-1 sets. Tom Johnson dropped Berry, 6-2,6-3, and then Fred Wilson defeated Dale, 6-4, 6-3.

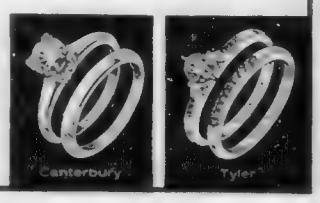
In the doubles, Florida State came two out of three of the contests.

Smith and Scarpa teamed to defeat Olvera and Greco, 6-4 and 6-3. Jamieson and Fasula gave FSU its other win as they mowed down Johnson and Ackerman, 7-5, 6-4. Rollins' Wilson and Ticho defeated Dale and Berry, 6-3, 6-2.

Florida State, which now has a 10-6 record, will meet the University of Florida Monday. Rollins had a 15-6 season mark.

Parkway SHOPPING CENTER
• WALGREENS • BENHIL'S
• STEIN'S CLOTHIN G • NEISNER'S
• LERNER SHOPS • CHICK 'N TREAT
• STAFFORD JEWELERS • BUTLER SHOES
• PARKWAY PACKAGE • THOM McAN
• SOUTHLAND DRAPERY • ONE-HOUR VALET
1 -- NO PARKING METERS

Which diamond is a girl's best friend?



Every girl knows "a rose is a rose is a rose." But is a diamond a diamond a diamond?

The smart girl who cares (about beauty and value) knows there's more to a diamond than meets her eye. Even under magnification, a diamond reveals its inner secrets only to the eye of a trained expert. That's why America's College Queens have chosen their "best friends" from among the award-winning designs of the world-famous Artcarved selection.

Every Artcarved diamond gives you more than the beauty which meets your eye. The quality and value of its inner beauty is also certified by a written guarantee that is recognized and respected by leading jewelers everywhere.

If you want to be sure of the inner beauty and value of your diamond, see your Artcarved jeweler. Ask him to show you the styles chosen by America's College Queens.

Artcarved
DIAMOND AND WEDDING RINGS

Two of the lovely designs chosen by America's College Queens. From $100.

Get your National College Queen Contest entry for yourself or your candidate at:

W. C. VASON JEWELERS
124 E. Pensacola St.
Tallahassee • Phone: 222-3603

Parkway SHOPPING CENTER
• WALGREENS • BENHIL'S
• STEIN'S CLOTHIN G • NEISNER'S
• LERNER SHOPS • CHICK 'N TREAT
• STAFFORD JEWELERS • BUTLER SHOES
• PARKWAY PACKAGE • THOM McAN
• SOUTHLAND DRAPERY • ONE-HOUR VALET
3 -- All Stores Air-Conditioned

GARCIA'S
PIZZAS
SPAGHETTI
Open 7 Days A Week
Close 12:00 P.M.
320 E. TENN.
223-1177

Goods in this van are PROTECTED
Local or Long Distance Moving
Packing — Storage
YOUR LOCAL AGENT
Blaine Mayflower
FREE ESTIMATES
224-3020

Let's Go To The CIRCUS!
AND THEN TO McDonald's
701 W. Tennessee

OPEN UNTIL 1 A.M. FRIDAY AND SATURDAY NIGHT

Frank talk about your hair: Vitalis with V-7 keeps your hair neat all day without grease. Naturally, V-7 is the greaseless grooming discovery. Vitalis® with V-7® fights embarrassing dandruff, prevents dryness, keeps your hair neat all day without grease. Try it!

Best Coed Netter

ARL DELOZIER, ABOVE, SAT OUT HER FRESHMAN YEAR AT FLORIDA STATE, but joined the woman's tennis club this year to become the number one netter.

DeLozier Named Top Coed Netter In Sophomore Year

a'l DeLozier, number one on Florida State Univer- women's tennis team, is with President Gordon W en in the faculty student doubles tournament now gress.

n in Louisville, Ky., the e sophomore began playing the tutelage of her father age of ten and continued eive instruction in the city She was a member of Southern Girls' Intersection- am from 1956 to 1960. 1958, she was ranked first in South for 15-year-olds and under and seventh in the nation in that same category. She was runner-up in the Westerns as well as top ranked in Kentucky in the women's division, a ranking she held every year through 1960.

Miss DeLozier was ranked nationally as 14th in 1957, 19th in 1958, and 21st in 1959. She did not play competitively after her freshman year at FSU but taught tennis at Camp Owaissa in Monterrey, Mass.

She recalls as one of the most satisfying victories the win in national competition in 1957 over Karen Hane.

Valdosta Falls To Racquettes In '62 Finale

The Racquettes swept nine singles and four doubles matches against Valdosta last week to close their most active season since being organized in the spring of 1958. Jan Quinn playing the number one singles position had difficulty in getting her power game under control, but defeated Barbara Knoll, 8-6, 6-4.

In the other matches, Carol Riley defeated Nancy Simon, 6-2, 6-1; Dana Lenahan blanked Beverly Gunter, 6-0, 6-0; Chris Padgett defeated Sandy LaMontague, 6-1, 6-2; Ann Lake won over Judy Lawson 6-1, 6-1, Marilyn Bush defeated Katherine Dennis, 60, 6-2; Kit Logan took the match from Jan Shelton, 6-2, 6-0, and Maxine Moody defeated Joy Smith, 6-2, 3-6, 7-5.

In doubles competition Quinn and Lenahan teamed to defeat Knoll and Simon, 6-1, 6-3; Riley and Dunn defeated Gunter and Wilson, 6-1, 6-0; Lake and Bush defeated Lawson and LaMontague 6-0, 6-3; and Logan and Moody defeated Smith and Shelton, 6-4, 6-1.

Seminole Gymnasts Triumph; FSU Coeds Come In Third

At the Florida AAU Gymnastic meet last week at the University of Florida, the Florida State Gymkana Team edged Dade County Junior College to take the first place team trophy.

Florida State racked up 43 points, Dade County had 41, and Tri-G of Miami had 29 points. Other teams competing were the University of Florida, Police Athletic League of St. Petersburg, Wills Gym Club of Gulfport, Mississippi, West Palm Beach Gym Club, Miami High School and many other contestants who were unattached.

The Florida State Women's Team took a third place in the team scores, beaten only by West Palm Beach Gym Club and the first place winner, Wills Gym Club.

For individual scores, Rick Miller led Florida State with a first in free exercise and in tumbling and thirds in high bar, parallel bars, and still rings. In the all around, Julio Garriga, competing unattached, took first with 46.90. Allen Church of Dade County was second with 45.45, and Rick Miller was third by a narrow margin with 45.16.

Joe Greene took second on the trampoline to get points for Florida State; Mitch Weinstock took a third in the rope climb, and Nobie Stone took a third on the side horse.

In the women's events, Ellanor Daniell placed second in free exercise an on the uneven parallel bars. On the balance beam and in the all around, Miss Daniell won third places. In the vaulting event, Frances Gregroy of FSUG took the fourth place to help tally a score that made FSUG the third place team at the meet. The first place in every women's event went to Miss Judy Wills of Wills Gym Club, who is considered by some as the world's greatest tumbler. She is the 13-year-old that accompanied the USA Olympic Team to Rome and astonished the Russians with her performance. She has been tumbling for nine years and has never lost a meet.

Florida Invitational Scheduled Tonight

The Seminoles will perform in their last team effort this season tonight at 6:30 in the Florida AAU Invitational track meet, which will be held at Florida Field.

Other competitors will come from the University of Florida, the Atlanta Striders, and Miami, which has combined freshman and varsity athletes of the University of Miami with the members of the Miami Athletic Club.

The 100 - yard runners will provide the highlight of the night as defending champion Buddy Folkes (9.5 best time; of Atlanta meets George Leach (9.7 best time) of Florida, Bobby Sher of Miami, unattached Pat Garrett (who was an undergraduate Louisiana Tech and is a graduate student at Auburn; best time 9.4), and probably Craig Johnson of Florida State (9.7 best time).

Century runner Johnson, relay leg Quentin Till, and broad jumper Herbit Kraft and recovering from injuries, and it is questionable whether or not all them will compete.

John Dunkleberg of Atlanta will return to defend his 880 title of 1:51.6, while Henry Horn of Miami will guard his 4:24 time in the mile. Horn, who is also defending champ in the two-mile, has knocked five seconds off his mile run time.

A hurdles match is shaping up among five tracksters. They are Terry Long of FSU, Bill Welch of FSU, defending champ Dave Ellis of FSU, Iceland Olympian Pete Ronson of Miami, and John Turek of Miami, who was the national high school champ with a 13.7 time.

Field events will begin at 6:30, and the running events will start at 7.

Florida State's last competition this year will occur in the Georgia AAU in two weeks. Seminoles will compete on a voluntary basis.

Booters Defeated

The Florida State International Soccer Club met its second defeat Sunday when it lost a 7-5 contest to the St. Petersburg Soccer Club.

Coach Tom Martin said he was pleased with FSU's performance against the 12-year-old St. Pete club.

Co-captain Bodo Pyko of Florida State captured the scoring high - mark for both teams, as he scored three goals.

Ceasa, and FSU soccer player from Peru, scored a point for the Seminoles, while the other point was sunk by Bernard Haung.

The International Soccer club will not have any more games this season, but they will have a full season next year. Playing before 70 people in Doak S. Campbell Stadium, the FSU soccer team consisted of Rodger Cheng, Suwat Pananan, Peter Falk, Alan Schwat, Donald Wall, Vib Phaitoon.

Seminoles Edge Auburn Linkers

Florida State golfers dropped Auburn University, 14½ to 12, Tuesday as Bryan Bergeron birdied on the 18th hole.

Low score came from Dave Philo and Chuck Keating of Florida State. The two scored 64s.

Philo and Keating teamed to drop Al Slingluff and Dave Harband.

Then Don Boswell and Jim Groover of Auburn shot a 74 and a 72 respectively to down Jim Hill and Doug Davis.

Kennedy and Bergeron fell to Auburn's Jon Johnson and Bill Nall.

The Seminoles will complete in the Southeastern Conference Invitation through Saturday.

Seventy More Want Invitation

Seventy other people have stated that they approve of the idea of inviting Florida A&M to the Florida AAU Invitational track meet, which will be held on campus tonight.

A&M will definitely not participate this year, since the Board of Control, which has the final say - so in such matters, has not okayed the proposal.

The recent letter:

We will gladly support an invitation to A&M to the Florida Invitational.

Harold Fisher, Clifford Root, Anne Hamilton, Cy Casoria, Maureen O'Neill, Kit Moore, Earl Mayfield, Jim Chappell, Ronnie Rust, Sharon McMillan, Robin Sandlin, Gruendie Roberts, Bob Crewford, Annette Beaubine, Nancy Hines, Don Ralston, Mickey Parker, Warren Tyler, Frank Rowe, Dennis Genter, Zottie Pinizzotto, Darrell J. Rushton, John W. Oliver, Coleman Tharpe, David F. McVicker, William Lee Harnage, Don Daniel, Bruce D. Smith, John W. Korp, Bob Mikler, Gary L. Vergho, Fred A. Richter Jr., Mary Lynn Unger, Peggy Dickman, Jeanette Kent, David Mower, Terry Turner, David Cheshire, Lynn Witherspon, John M. Quarles, Jim Hall, Paul Darst, Dave Hamilton Larry Jackson, Laura Lee Potter, Betty Barlow, George Trebour, Dick Korn, Jim Mayhew, Judy Williams, Jan Luse, Patty Hickman, Kent Grattean, Ross Williams, Jim Vacca, Robert Blair, Bill Adkinson, Pat McKersur, William Erwin, Bruce Collins, Harold Taylor, Fred Glavin, Ras Cook, Henry Haire', John Panratt, Terry E. Lewis, Pollianne McClure, Donald L. Gorman, Doris McQuiddy.

BUD KENNEDY
. . . coach of hot-shots

Cagers Named Best Scorers

The Florida State Seminole basketball team has been recognized by the NCAA as the nation's number one collegiate team in field goal accuracy. FSU, which hit 51.2 per cent of its attempts, was the only major college team to bag as many as 50 per cent of its shots.

Individually, Ray Swain of FSU was fourth in the nation in field goal accuracy with a smashing 57.3 per cent. Dave Fedor was 22nd with 52.2 per cent. Ohio State's Jerry Lucas was the national leader in this category with a 61.1 per cent. Fedor was also 63rd in individual scoring, averaging 20.4 points per game.

Two Gridders Feted At Half

Two graduating Florida State football players will receive trophies at the halftime of tomorrow's first annual Varsity-Alumni game in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

The players are right tackle Don Donatelli and quarterback Roy Bickford.

Donatelli, who was judged the outstanding Catholic athlete of the year last Sunday by the Newman Club, will receive a trophy for being named to the All-State football team, which was selected by the Florida Times-Union of Jacksonville.

Bickford will receive an award for being the outstanding gridder in the Florida State - Florida tie. He was selected by the unanimous vote of the sports writers that attended the game.

FSU's Jim Daniel Signs Pro Pact

Jim Daniel, former Florida State football and baseball player, has signed a professional baseball contract with the Cincinnati Reds.

An intern coach for the Florida High baseball team, Daniel will report to the Rocky Point (North Carolina) Class B team in the Carolina league.

He will report to the Reds' farm club June 4.

Daniel, who finished his baseball eligibility last year, played end for the Tribes this last season.

Parkway SHOPPING CENTER

- WALGREENS
- STEIN'S CLOTHIN G
- LERNER SHOPS
- STAFFORD JEWELERS
- PARKWAY PACKAGE
- SOUTHLAND DRAPERY
- BENHIL'S
- NEISNER'S
- CHICK 'N TREAT
- BUTLER SHOES
- THOM McAN
- ONE-HOUR VALET

2 -- ONE-STOP SHOPPING

Medical Care for the Aged! Aid to Education!
Don't Send a "Boy" to Congress—Send a Man!

James W. MURPHY For Congress

- Trained cold war expert, since 1948 graduated from 5 Armed Forces Schools including the U. S. Army Command, and General Staff College.
- The oldest candidate in the race at 40 . . . 17 years older than the next oldest lawyer-candidate.
- Member First Baptist Church of Tallahassee.
- Educated at 6 Universities (Florida, Cumberland, Columbia, F.S.U., Tulane and University of Edinburgh, Scotland).
- Worked as dishwasher, waiter, janitor, clerk, investigator, editor.
- Lawyer, trained in all legal systems of the world.
- Combat veteran (from Private to Lieutenant-Colonel of Infantry).
- Married, father of 4 children.
- Teacher and Military Intelligence Specialist.
- Army Mobilization Assignment to the General Staff of the Third United States Army.
- Latin America: educated for 2 years among its people.
- Europe. 2 years investigative and liaison experience as War Crimes Investigator, War Crimes Lawyer and War Crimes Liaison Officer.

Murphy is the only candidate supporting President Kennedy on both Medical Care for the Aged and Aid to Education.

In walking the tight rope of national survival, don't take a chance on INEXPERIENCE . . . Don't send a "Boy" to Congress—Send a MAN!
SEND MURPHY TO CONGRESS!

lively Joyce Rice, Iowa State '63

Saxophone-playing Joyce Rice doubles on oboe and has been a Baton-Twirling National Champion lives it up with this lively One from Ford '62: the new Galaxie 500/XL!

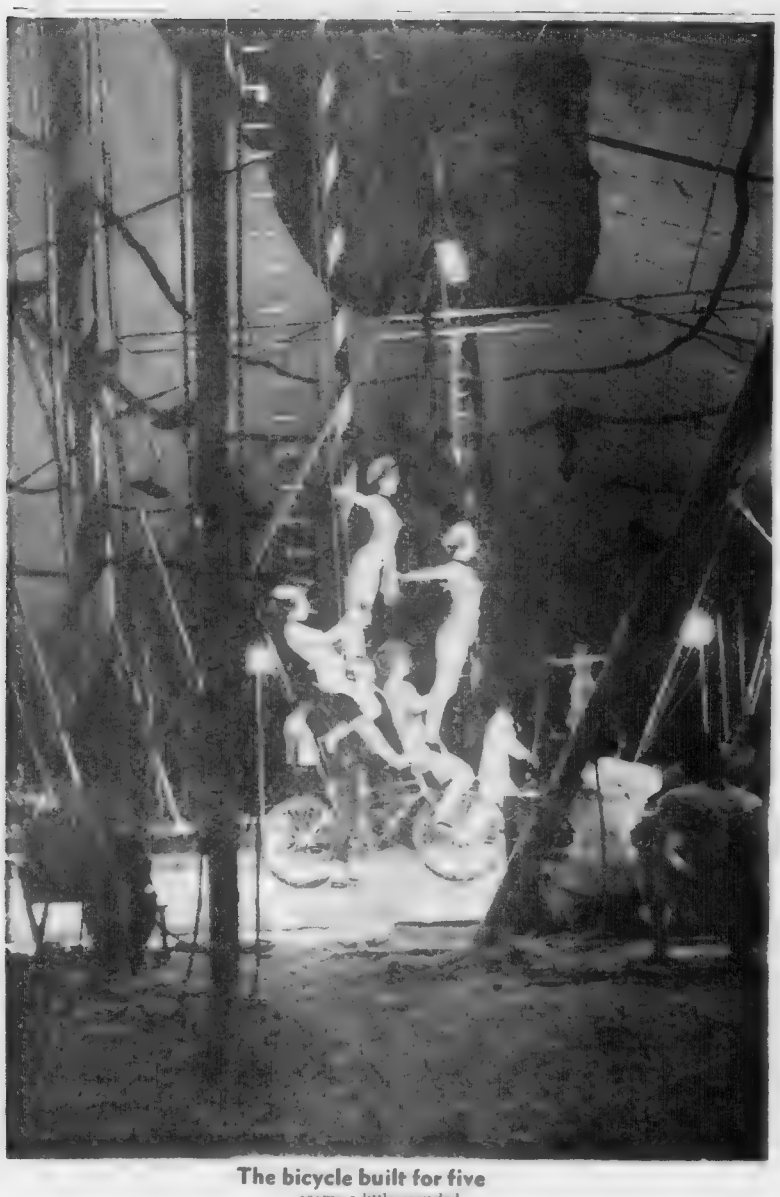
Lively Joyce Rice is a Homecoming Queen who likes all sports, including this red-hot, new Galaxie 500/XL. The rugged XL gets road-scorching performance from a crackling 405-hp Thunderbird V-8 that is precisely controlled by a 4-speed stick shift. Handsome bucket seats, a Thunderbird-type console, and smart appointments are all "ah" inspiring. Go debonair in the sleek hardtop, or tan your hide in a sun-drenched convertible. See the new XL at your Ford Dealer's liveliest place in town!

A PRODUCT OF Ford MOTOR COMPANY



It's what's up front that counts

FILTER-BLEND is yours in Winston and only Winston. Up front you get rich golden tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for filter smoking. Smoke Winston.

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

WINSTON TASTES GOOD like a cigarette should!

The bicycle built for five
. . . seems a little crowded

Coach Jack Haskins
. . . acts as a modern ringmaster behind the scenes

Must we explain?

High above the circus crowd
. . . Dorothy Gilmore balances on her knees.

Introducing FSU's 'Flying High' Circus

The middle man lies suspended
. . . on his new air cushioned mattress.

By JIM SMITH
Flambeau Staff Writer
Photos By Emmette Jackson

Trapeze artists, clowns, acrobats and many lovely ladies are all presented in one delightful and exciting two hour spectacular as the Flying High Circus performs Color In Flight.

Audiences recat gratefully to many tense moments throughout the show as young performers attempt skillful and daring stunts. From act to act, the show rapidly moves along, leaving the audience on the edge of their seats during the performances, and finally, breathless, as they watch the artistic trickery performed by the Flying Seminoles.

GRAND ENTRANCE

The Purple Carnival March begins the grand entrance as the show gets under way. One hundred and forty members of the circus troop march around the circus arena in a spectacular color parade. Colors of the costumes vary from the bright reds, blues, yellows and greens, to the soft pastels intermingled with 20 brightly dressed golden girls. Along with these are the clowns with their outlandish costumes, big feet and gaudy faces.

High up on the trapeze, the show begins with performers dressed in gay pink costumes blanded against a background of the red and white big top. Young ladies spin furiously around in the air as their partners hold on tightly with their teeth to the neck loops.

During the trapeze ballet, Dorothy Gilmore in the center ring picks up a flower from the bar with her teeth while balancing on her knees.

BICYCLE FOR FIVE

On the floor below, the bicycle built for five circles the small stage as four girls dressed in Parisian stripes and red berets performed tricks while a young lad rides the bike in circle. Dick Newcomb doesn't seem to mind the four girls constantly climbing over him performing their feats. He never stops smiling. Their climatic trick has all five on the bike, sitting three high on shoulders while circling the floor.

The twenty golden girls take to the air performing stunts on ladders, swinging them high up into the stands over the heads of the crowd.

On the far rings, Becky Richardson and Jane McLaurine pace through stunts on the cloud swing, while Wynne Ellison in the center ring performs without hand and feet straps on the Mexican cloud swing.

The clowns on the unicycles show how not to ride a one wheeler and get up the next morning without feeling bumps and bruises. As one circus performer pointed out, it is difficult enough to learn to ride a one wheeler as well as clown on one. The clowns add more excitement with a special performance by "Sam the Man," with the sweetest trombone this side of Tommy Dorsey. They also recruited some poor lad to stand in front of some of the most deft knife throwers ever to step in front of an audience.

The golden girls return again in 20 different colored costumes to perform graceful stunts on the Spanish web. They set the entire circus arena in motion as they concluded their act in a grand circular swing.

During the performance Wednesday, Barbara Hepp on the ladder in the center ring took a bad tumble to the hard floor. After a few tense moments, she regained her breath and ran off smiling like a true circus trouper.

The Flying Seminoles conclude the show with outstanding showmanship of a highly professional calibre. High above the circus floor the trapeze artists race their swings above the heads of the crowd, sometimes crashing into the roof of the tent, performing some of the most hair-raising stunts.

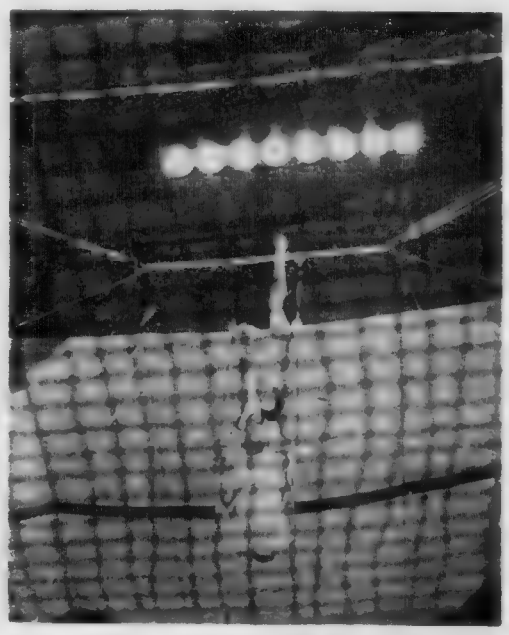
Dorothy Gilmore and Adrian Catarzi perform through singles, and doubles while Bill Arnold and Ivan Williams catch the flyers by the hands and feet. The finale has the flyers executing the extremely difficult two and a half with masterful perfection.

BEFORE SHOWTIME

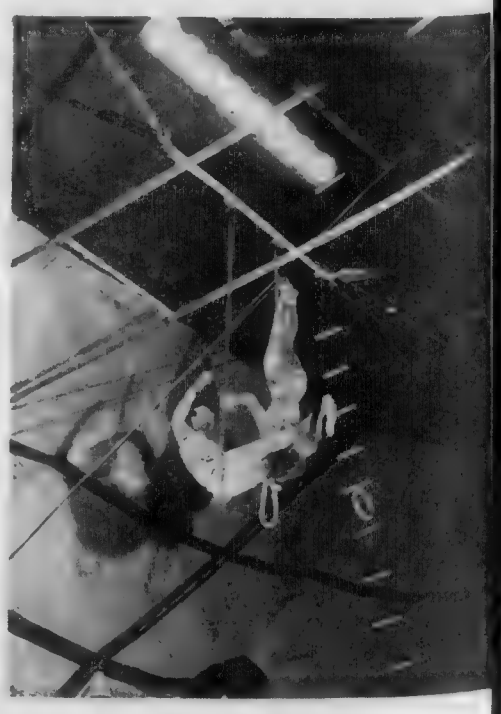
The activity begins before showtime in the circus hut as the performers begin to ready themselves for the grand march. Costumes are pinned together, faces are painted, nerves gather a tinge of excitement and faces grow into broad smiles as 8 o'clock approaches. The freshmen first nighters who never worked a show before were a little shaky on Tuesday, but soon cooled down after they were in front of the crowd.

One performer commented that the first few performances of the show were well received by the audience. There were many children from five to ten years old in the audience who responded very well to the acts and clowns.

Another performer remarked that it was so much better with the new tent. The performers are close to the people which gives performers and audience a more personal contact.



Another young lady tearfully explained the confessions of a circus wife as she watched her husband execute daring tricks on the trapeze. "When the show is on the road," she said, "it's weekends alone with the door locked, for me. And when he is home, it's supper at 8 o'clock. Then, of course, there is a natural jealousy involved as I watch my husband swinging pretty girls on a trapeze."



Round and round she goes
. . . and where she stops . . .

"I remember the good old days
. . . of Barnum and Bailey when I . . ."

As seen through the net
. . . the performers prepare for another trick.

Back seat drivers
. . . aren't allowed up there.

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Tuesday, May 8, 1962

Published By The Students Of Florida State University

Vol. XLVIII, No. 49

Smoke Signals

Smoke Signals will be distributed today at the Student Center and Bernard Westcott Auditorium from 3 p.m. until the edition runs out.

The issue is the biggest Smoke Signals that has been produced since 1951, Editor Spence Guerin said.

UP Wins Majority Of Minor Officers

University party, facing first elections last week, ...k 53 per cent of the ...ected positions, while Stu... Party won 40 percent ...d those running indepen...ently won 7 percent of ...offices.

...arty candidates, 27 Student ... candidates and four inde...ent were elected.

...ost of the runoff races were ...e the closest was in the soph...ore class and was determined ... one vote

Selected in the runoffs Friday ...e for the Sophomore Class, ...thy Alonso (SP) secretary, ...n Johnson, treasurer. ... Tom Nisco (IND) men's ...ator, and "Texas" Wiltshire ...men's senator (SP), Sandi Sta... (SP) was elected by a mar... of one vote over Carolyn ...s (UP) for social chairman ...via Cashion (UP) was elect... to fill the position of Junior ...s secretary

...sition of Senior Class social ...man will be filled by Bev... Calvert (SP), and women's ...ate Louise Bone (SP) and ... Buerke (IND).

Honor Court results are Kelley Reid (UP) and Joe Rodgers (UP) for junior men's court, for junior women's Honor Court Patty Warren (SP), and Carolyn Wronski (UP). Galt Allee (UP) and Jim Brown (IND) will serve on senior men's honor court.

Linda Hoffman (UP), Judy Loucks (SP), and Dana Pharr (UP) were elected to sophomore women's Judiciary. Betsy Boote (UP), Bobsie Carlton (SP), and Judy Register (UP) will serve on junior women's Judiciary.

All amendments to the Student Body Constitution passed.

Nancie Sill, secretary of elections, once again reminded candidates that campaign expense statements are due in her office by today. If they are not in, the officers will not receive their certificates at the installation banquet.

Outstanding senior man and woman also voted on Friday will be announced May 19 at the Spring Formal given by the freshmen, sophomore, and junior classes for the senior class.

Permanent senior class officers will be announced Class Night, May 22.

Piccard Speaks At Forum; Attacks Stock Speculators

...a man is successful enough ...getting something for nothing ...n have his lackeys in news... ...churches and even the ...ools preaching the idea that ... can't get something for ...ng'."

...s Dr. Paul Piccard, FSU ...ciate professor of govern... criticized the parasitic ...ities of the stock market ...culator" who reaps profits ...out producing any goods or ...ces.

Dr. Piccard delivered the last ...eral Forum lectures of the ...ring series Sunday night. His ... was "The Crises of Public ...cies in the Sixties."

...s Dr. Piccard outlined them, ...re are three major problem ...eas of American public pol... productivity, population ...d peace.

PRODUCTIVITY

...n the area of productivity, he ... the important question is ...t is for the sixties, the proper relationship between what a man puts into good production and what he gets out of it. There is no set proportion which can be maintained he proceeded but there must be some creativity, some contribution made before any profits should be gained.

He added that, if old age benefits and social welfare payments are "getting something for nothing" it certainly isn't getting very much that since "the poor we have with us always," they must be taken care of.

As for the increased population of the earth, Dr. Piccard quipped, "Cannibalism is one obvious solution, since it attacks the problem from both ends." He said that science has offered two possible solutions through birth control and through increased world food supplies.

PEACE

Dr. Piccard said that the issue "better red than dead" is a fake issue in the Cold War, that each individual must relate his own values to those of the Russian system to see what quality of peace he would have.

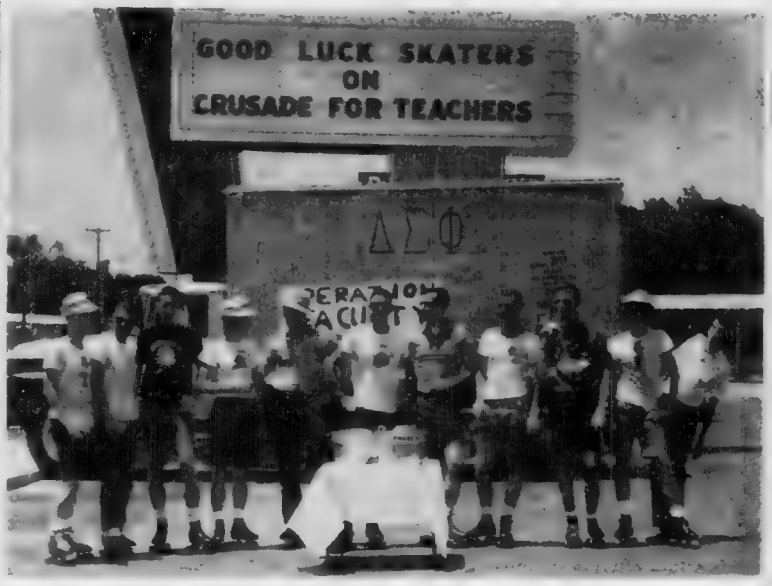
"We must also realize that our system may not produce the best results for other people," he added, that peace must be in terms of the standards of the people.

Scientific progress has in some ways aggravated man's inability to get along with man, he remarked.

The creation of better human relations would be a more worthy goal of scientists than the present one, of directing all their energies toward creating technology that men can't handle.

SG Banquet

Dr. Laurence Chalmers, assis... dean of the faculties, will ...he main speaker at the an... Student Government Instal... Banquet tomorrow night.



...kets will be on sale from ...6 p.m., on the first floor of ...gmire at $1.75 per person. ...receipt is being used as the ... No tickets will be sold ...e door.

...e banquet will be at 6:30 ... in the Suwannee Room. ...ing Student Body President ... Byrd will preside over the ...g with Chief Justice of ... Court Dan Walbolt admin... the oath to the newly ...ed Student Government ...s.

...e outstanding senator award ... certificates of merit will ... be presented at the ban...

Correction:

Last week's Flambeau printed an erroneous box stating that Tally-Ho pictures would be taken in May. They will be taken in September.

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA PETITION-SKATERS

. . . were pictured here as they were about to set out on their trip to Tallahassee with a petition 50 feet long containing 4,500 signatures urging merit pay raises for university faculty. The ten left Gainesville Friday and arrived here late Sunday afternoon. From left are Gene Ramsey, Jim Moore, Bill Adams, Dave Brands Tom Fox, Terry Thompson, Bob Walther, Ken Lamb, John Wallis, Gordon Aker, and Bill Johnson.

Reduction In Academic Load Planned For Education Majors

By MERRY MOREHOUSE
Flambeau Staff Writer

A reduction of the academic load of students majoring in education during their internship trimester has been announced by Dr. Garth Blake, director of educational placement and internship.

"With the trimester plan, the semester has actually been decreased two weeks," Dr. Blake stated. "Experience in the field cannot decrease Florida State University already has the shortest internship in the state, and one of the shortest in the nation. Less than eight weeks of teaching experience would be inadequate."

According to the proposed plan, students will not return for instruction following their internship, as is presently done.

Dr. Blake also pointed out that because the instructional period of the internship trimester will be reduced from eight weeks to six weeks, one of the courses now being taught in that time must be removed.

Therefore, students planning to intern during the second trimester, 1962 - 63, should plan to take EnF 406 (Social Foundations of Education) or EnF406 (Developing School Programs) prior to their internship trimester. The courses will be taught according to present procedure during the first semester.

The courses remaining in the internship trimester will be those most closely connected with the work which the student will be doing while interning. These will include problems of education and special methods at the grade level and in the subject field in which the student will be teaching.

No senior will be put in the position of not graduating as planned because of this transition, Dr. Blake emphasized. "It simply means that students in the transition stage will have to take three hours that they hadn't planned on — either in the summer or in the fall," he explained.

REGISTRATION

Students expecting to intern during the second trimester must apply to the Educational Placement and Internship Office, 208-A Education, not later than 5:00 p. m., September 21, 1962.

To be eligible for internship, students must achieve a quality point average of 2.0 in all work attempted at FSU and an average of 2.25 in the major teaching field before applying and must maintain these averages during the trimester preceding internship.

Internship packets containing applications may be puchased at the University Bookstore after September 3, 1962. Applications should be submitted at the earliest time possible.

Circus, Weekend Awards Go To Houses, Performers

Kappa Delta Sorority and Magnolia Hall won top honors in house decorations for Circus and Family Weekend in the sorority and women's residence categories.

There were no entrants in the men's residence and fraternity divisions this year. In the sorority competition the Delta Gamma and Delta Zeta sororities took second and third place honors.

There also appeared to be little competition in the registration of parents and visitors in Longmire over the weekend. Jennie Murphree Hall, with thirty-three registered visitors, Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, with thirty-five, Kellum Hall, 16, and Kappa Sigma Fraternity, four, had the largest registrations.

Trophies for the winners of Circus and Family Weekend competitions were awarded by Student Body President Bobby Byrd at the Saturday night performance of the FSU Circus.

Coach Jack Haskins received a Student Government award and an award from Governor Farris Bryant for his outstanding contribution to the State of Florida and the FSU student body.

CIRCUS AWARD

The coveted Gil Aldridge Memorial Award, annually presented to an outstanding FSU Circus performer, was awarded to Wynne Ellison, a senior recreation major.

The award is presented by the Kappa Alpha Fraternity each year in the memory of Gil Aldridge a former FSU Circus performer who was killed in action in the Korean War. The recipient is selected by secret ballot by all members of the FSU Circus.

Miss Ellison is a soloist on the Mexican cloud swing, which is an apparatus somewhat similar to a trapeze but it does not have a bar.

She came to FSU because of the Circus and after graduation hopes to work with a community circus. "It's hard to understand the thrill of performing unless you have done it," she commented.

Cheerleader Selections

Five newly selected cheerleaders joined the squad Saturday for the Alumni-Varsity football game.

The new cheerleaders are Carolyn Dyck, Judy Patton, Deanna Weber, Mike Van Horn, and Roger McDonald. The three women were selected from fifty women try-outs April 13. Men's selections were made April 16.

Judges for try-outs were Dr. Coyle Moore, Coach Bill Peterson, Tom Waites, Gayle Motes, Ken van Assenderp, Ed Feeley and Harnage.

Other members of the cheering team are Harnage, Linda Morris and Sherrie Harris.

Budget Held Over For Third Meeting

Lack of a quorum at a special session of Student Senate yesterday called to consider the $107,916 Student Activities Budget caused budget approval to be postponed until the final session of 1961-21 Senate for the year tomorrow.

The budget which has been tabled for the two previous Senate meetings because of failure to have a quorum is an increase over last year's budget of $3,316.

If Senate fails to have a quorum again Wednesday, another special session will have to be called or the budget will not be approved this year. A further complication is introduced by the fact that new class senators will be installed tomorrow night, many of them currently precinct senators, and other senators assume other Student Government posts, which might mean that a quorum of senators might not be avilable after the installation ceremonies.

TWO-THIRDS DISCUSSED

Senate has debated approximately two - thirds of the budget items and has pledge - voted on about a third of the budgets. However, the remainder of the budgets must be discussed and the budget must be approved as a whole.

The only extended debate so far was on the Student Government budget concerning the allocation of $540 for a salary for the secretary of Senate.

Vice President Ken van Assenderp apologized for the failure to obtain a quorum at yesterday's meeting. "I called the special session of Senate on the 'spur of the moment,'" he said. "It was a bad move on my part because of lack of time to notify everyone — Wednesday's session will have to last longer, but we'll get everything accomplished," he added.

Vice President - elect Johnny Smith explained, "Due to lack of communication it was nearly impossible to get a quorum in such a short time." "We didn't have to have the Monday meeting," he added, "but it would have been more convenient for the senators if we had had two days in which to consider the budget."

"We will extend tomorrow's session as long as is necessary to complete the Senate business," he stressed.

Secretary of Senate Kitty Miller said that tomorrow's session is "probably going to be quite extensive." She explained that eight bills are going into committee two coming out of committee and at least four resolutions are to be introduced.

Editorial

Poor Communications?

Action on the Student Activities Budget had to be held over once again by the Student Senate, due to the lack of the necessary number of Senators present to hold a meeting. This is the second time that consideration of this budget has had to be delayed because of not having a quorum, and the third meeting at which it was to have been considered.

President-elect Ken van Assenderp attributed the lack of quorum to the fact that the meeting had not been called at the previous Senate meeting last Wednesday. However, he pointed out that he had asked the services of the APO service fratrnity to call each of the senators and inform them of the meeting and its purpose. Considering the past performances of APO, we would assume that a majority of the senators were notified.

Van Assenderp blames himself for the senators not being on hand for the meeting, but we felt that this probably is unjustified. Considering the fact that there was also a lack of a quorum at the first meeting at which the budget was to be considered, on Wednesday, April 25; and also that the senators present at last week's senate meeting, at which it was to again be considered, were anxious to adjourn that meeting as well as being unwilling to return at an earlier date than this week's Wednesday meeting to finish consideration of the budget; it would seem extremely likely that it is the fault of the senators that it was not considered yesterday.

Vice - president-elect of the student body, Johnny Smith, also felt that the lack of a quorum probably was due to a lack of adequate communications. He said that it was not necessary to have the meeting on Monday, but that it would have been a lot more convenient. Wednesday's meeting will have to be extended considerably to finish the budget then. It is especially necessary that the budget be finished at that time since the old senators will be replaced at this meeting by those newly elected. It is imperative that the budget consideration be completed by the present senate.

We certainly feel that it is time that the senators realize their obligations to the Senate and those constituents to whom they pledged themselves when they sought election to their positions. We challenge each of the senators to assume his responsibility — to attend not only this Wednesday's meeting to consider the budget, but also to attend all of the remaining meetings falling in their terms of office. We also suggest that better notification be given in the future for all special meetings, and that a better means of communication be establishd for this notification.

JFS

BOP Names New Editor

Sandra Jean Bowes, Florida State University junior, was elected editor of the 1962-63 Smoke Signals, at the last Board of Publications meeting.

Miss Bowes, a transfer student from St. Petersburg Junior College, is an advertising and art major. She is also a member of Delta Gamma sorority, Gamma Alpha Chi honorary, a junior counselor, and present exchange editor for the Smoke Signals.

Her main ideas for changing the publication include: adding additional information to stimulate school spirit and orientation for the freshman students, establishing unity from one publication to another, and categorizing material into a morgue.

The newly elected Board of Publications members were also invited to attend the meeting in order to become familiarized with procedures and policies before next year. Bill McLemore, present Board chairman, stated that the incoming members would be much better organized for the next year if they began to fill their positions in the spring after elections, instead of waiting until the next school term.

Newly elected Board members include Mary Ellen Harris, Toni DiCarlo and Beth Ann Legate. Miss Di-Carlo was elected temporary chairman until the remaining two members are appointed.

Les Jongleurs Will Present Plays By Tennessee Williams

Les Jongleurs dramatic honorary will present a program of one-act plays by Tennessee Williams, May 16 at 8:15 p.m. in Conradi Theatre.

First play is "This Property Is Condemned," directed by Sam Baker. The play presents character studies of two children. Willie (Janine Chapman) and Tom (Ashley Ahl).

Second on the program will be "Talk to Me Like the Rain and Let Me Listen," directed by Sammy Kilman. Also a character study, this play features Claire Freiberger and Charlie Hawkins as the woman and the man.

The final presentation will be the off-Broadway success "Suddenly, Last Summer," directed by Ken Richart. A recent movie hit, the play features Claudia Melton as Chatherine, Pat McCoy as Mrs. Venable, and Jimmy Rayfield as Doctor Cucrowicz.

Others in the cast are Stephanie Van Lackum as Mrs. Holly, Ken Richart as George, Mary Byrd as Miss Foxhill, and Linda Markgraf as Sister Felicity.

Rush Registration

Sorority rush registration will be held tomorrow from 1 to 5:30 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium. All women students interested in being rushed at any time next year should register. Rush information will be sent during the summer to those registered.

MADAME BUTTERFLY

. . . is scheduled for May 18 and 19 in Westcott Auditorium. Here several of the leading performers rehearse in preparation for the presentation. From left are Harlan Shaw, Mrs. Takashi Ichiye, and Richard Collins.

Music Box

Symphonic Band Gives First Starlight Series Performace

By KAREN PACE
Flambeau Staff Writer

The Symphonic Band will present the first of the summer's traditional Starlight Series tomorrow night at 7:15 p.m. in tre amphitheatre.

The public is invited to the concert by 80 musicians conducted by Dr. Manley R. Whitcomb and guest conductor Clifford Madsen, instructor in the School of Music.

The program includes Latham's "March Proud Heritage," "Toccata" by Frescobaldi, "The Hidden Fortress" by Donato, "Second Suite for Military Band," "Canzona" by Menin, "Beguine for Band" by Osser, "March Electric" by Creatore and Tschaikovsky's "1812 Overture."

The Series have been scheduled at 7:15 p. m., an hour earlier than most regular concerts, for the convenience of families with children.

MADRIGAL AND ORATORIO SINGERS

The Madrigal Singers and the Oratorio Singers, both small specialized singing groups directed by Walter James, will present a recital in Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 p. m. Thursday.

There are seven students in the Madrigal group; whereas, the Oratorio Singers are made up of nine members of a class studying oratorio literature in the School of Music.

The Madrigal Singers will sing five numbers from the works of 17th century composers. Four of the numbers are by Michael East and one is by Thomas Greaves. They will also present two modern madrigals by Robert Linn to poems by James Joyce and "Partita Piccola" by Lex Van Delden.

The Oratorio Singers will perform two selections from the works of Bach and "On Thee Each Living Soul Awaits" from "The Creation" by Haydn.

The two groups will join in the performance of the last number on the program, selected from Bach's "Christmas Oratorio." They will sing the third part of the 18th century composition.

Members of the Madrigal Singers are: Sallie McSwain, Maija Murray, Jan Newton, Patricia Cheney, Marilyn-Swingle, Thomas Adair and William Poplin.

Members of the Oratorio Singers include Barbara Lee Willis, Samuel Schulken, William Poplin, Sherry Lynn Minton, Nash Noble, Thomas Adair, Marilyn Swingle and Samuella Whitaker.

A MADRIGAL-ORATORIO RECITAL

. . . will be presented Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in Opperman Music Hall. Pictured (from left) are Walter James, director of both groups; Marilyn Swingle, William Poplin, Patricia Cheney, Jane Newton, Thomas Adair and Sallie McSwain.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members and the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Boys See Bryant

University of Florida students picked a somewhat questionable mode of expression this weekend when they promoted a roller-skating derby from Gainesville to Tallahassee to present Gov. Farris Bryant a petition backing an increase in merit raise money.

The petition, containing 4,500 names of UF students, undoubtedly had excellent intentions. Enough money for quality professors is an issue which rightly concerns students from all parts of the state. And we wholeheartedly support their intention in attempting to persuade the Governor to devote more state money for this purpose.

BUT WE SINCERELY question their method of carrying out this persuasion.

We do not pretend to know how Gov. Bryant received this publicity-seeking effort to embarrass him. It would seem that the Governor of any state would be a great deal more influenced by students who meet and talk with him on intelligent, mature dignitfied terms than by students who attempt to catch the headlines in an effort to embarrass him. It would seem that coats and ties would make more of an impression than roller-skates, and that sincere interest would carry more weight than stunts.

Further, we suggest the Governor might wonder where the University of Florida has been while the issue was under discussion. The proposal went to the Board of Control, the Board of Education, and the Board of Administration for discussion before UF made any move to express a stand.

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY students, by contrast, passed a Senate resolution and sent letters to the Board of Control before the issues had been settled FSU did not wait until the discussion was over to take a stand.

Florida State University students have had dealings with Gov. Bryant on several occasions this year. They have been conducted on an adult level and have been beneficial and meaningful. We think the 'Boys from ole Florida' should become men before going to see the Governor of Florida.

BCS

What Makes Absences?

Ordinarily, students assume that cuts will not be taken into consideration on their grades unless the professor announces otherwise.

The University policy is reasonable in that it leaves the matter to the discretion of the departments and professors.

In making these policies, professors should remember that students might have a reason for missing the class. When one professor has such a low absentee ratio that it is unnecessary to demand attendance, and another has trouble coercing fifty per cent of the class to attend, it is posible that there is something wrong with the teaching.

Professors who invariably read to their students tend to have more absentee trouble than those who know their subject well enough to ecture, using their notes rather than dully reading them verbatim.

Likewise, the instructor who merely reiterates the text, adding no comments or clarifications, will probably find his classes dwindling after about two weeks of this practice. The same is true when a lecturer reads directly from the text, without even bothering to rephrase it. College students, it seems, feel that they can read sufficiently well to eliminate the need for this type of class. Consequently, they refrain from coming or else attend in shifts, to make sure they don't miss it if the professor does say something original.

When a professor insults a class by having them read aloud from prose written in English, he has little right to complain when students refuse to attend, and even the most stringent regulations will not force them into the classroom with any degree of regularity.

The paradox of the mater is that the very instructors who conduct classes in these ways are the one who require class attendance. Professors whose lectures are informative and interesting have amazingly few cut restrictions, yet their classes are usually full. At least one professor this semester was forced to requisition a larger classroom because his students attended class even though they had to sit on the floor!

Students will usually attend a class which they consider worth while. There are, of course, chronic cutters who wouldn't listen to Will Rogers if he were a professor, but most college students are capable of making a proper value judgment in deciding to cut or not to cut.

Perhaps some of the faculty should make sure that their lectures are worth walking across campus to hear.

TD

Discover Mary Renault

By LESLIE POWELL

Mary Renault has stepped up to her myth-ridden typewriter and batted in another best-seller. Miss Renault attains a high degree of success with an uncanny ability to incorporate such creatures of legend and mythology as Medea, Thesus, Oedipus, Minos the Amazons and the color and movement necessarily associated with the intrigues and tragedies that surrounded them in fabled times.

HER LATEST Bull From The Sea, begins where The King Must Die left off. She deftly picks up the strings of her narrative concerning the adventures of Thesus, King of Attica, and carries it on. Bull From The Sea, thoght a better work of fiction than ordinarily hits the stands, is not so faced or quite so striking at The King Must Die.

However, whether you have read or will read the novels in question, you need to realize that Miss Renault deals with characters famed in tales and legends and still makes them seem ordinary humans gifted with what appears to be supernatural powers and often on the edge of realizing that their strange intuitions just might not be all that they have thought. To me, a thread of doubt seems to creep through and tie the central men and women together in their lusty adventures.

MISS RENAULT packs her novels with color and action. She takes you to ancient Crete and lets you see the bull leapers in action. There are battles featuring the Amazons and men who are less than men, but appear to be a form of life sandwiched in between men and apes.

She is gifted with a knowledge and a sympatheuc understanding of the myths and mythological persons she uses to such advantage.

IF YOU ARE WEARY of the maggoty workings of the Faulnarians, of the bubbling quicksands of Tennessee Williams, that sometimes tedium of Penn Warren and the tons of nothing published in the laughable "family" magzines and are about to search out a new author, give Mary Renault a fling. Her The King Must Die is available locally in paperback. The library possibly has copies of The Last of the Wine and The Bull From the Sea. It's a pleasurable way soak up some mythology and certainly it is as accurate as the brand dished up in Humanities texts. Renault makes her myths rise up, swords in hand, and breathe.

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP—Editor

Leslie Powell, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor — Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Toni DiCarlo ..... Executive Assistant
Erik Collins .....Asst. Managing Editor
Lana Murray ..... Asst. News Editor
Victor Comolli ..... Asst. Sports Editor
Spence Guerin, Julie Savage ..... Artists
Dianne Klinck ..... Business Manager
Fred Salgado ..... Circulation Mgr.
Emmette Jackson ..... Photo Editor
Photographers—Del Kittendorf, John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Columnists Gerry Dobson, Bob Sanchez, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clark, Jim Smith, Carl Rosenbush, Karen Thornton, Joedy Smith, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens.
Feature Staff—Joycelyn Ward, Martha Robberts, Leslie McNevin, Pat Freeman
Proof Staff— Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Mary Grossenbacher, Sharon Logan

News Staff—Jim Smith, Bobbie Shiplett, Maureen Perkins, Gayle Motes, Nancy Olsen, Sandra Dixon, Karen Pace, Merry Moorehouse, Jody Wilkis, Cookie Neubauer, Hope Pastor.

Sports Staff—John Wood, Shirley Hardison
Julian Wilcox . . . . Advertising Manager
Bill Love ..... Asst. Advertising Manager
Margo Duffe .....Layout
Advertising Sales Staff: Dick Waterworth, Sue Hendrickson, Dwayne Atkins.

Associated College Press, Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave. New York 17, New York.

Published by Florida State University students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Ben Sharp

Book Points Out 'Pork Chop' Sins

The inevitable, undeniable approach of reapportionment in the Florida legislature, either through the courts or through an equitable plan advanced by the state, will be a culmination of years of battling against rural domination by the peninsula section of Florida.

The struggle has been hectic; the satisfaction of finally achieving equality in representation will be sweet.

One who will particularly relish the change will be Virgil M. "Red" Newton, managing editor of the Tampa Tribune and crusader against domination of the rural "Pork Chop Gang."

Newton's recent book, Crusade For Democracy, contains a pointed chapter entitled "The Pork Chop Gang," a short history of their role and a recap of a series of articles by the Tribune dealing with this political group.

The straightforward presentation merits consideration by citizens interested in political justice and equal representation of all Floridians.

• • •

"Florida's 'Pork Chop Gang' is a group of 22 state Senators who dictate what laws are passed or not passed by the 38-member Senate and the 95 - member House of Representatives in the state legislature. These 22 rural county Senators represent only 18 per cent of Florida's population, who pay only 14 per cent of the state's taxes and get back 27 per cent of the state's benefits," says Newton.

"Stated another way, the 685,000 people in Florida's 40 small, rural "Pork Chop" counties paid state taxes of only $95,250,792 in 1959, and got back in state benefits, $175,668,828."

The techniques used by the majority block in keeping control of the legislative processes serve these inequalities

"The 'Gang' keeps a firm grip on the 'killer' committees in the legislature, through which it 'kills' all bills it does not like. These 'killer' committees are Appropriations, Finance and Taxation, Federal Legislation and Governmental Reorganization, Miscellaneous, Temperance, and Judiciary "C."

The personal history of individual "Pork Choppers" is also enlightening.

Facts produced by a Tampa Tribune reporter after three months of researching records in county courthouses showed that "the "Pork Chop Gang" includes millionaire bankers, millionaire cattle ranchers, millionaire potatoe growers and a number of prominent and wealthy lawyers."

"One 'pork chopper' borrowed thousands from DuPont banks in Jacksonville, Ocala and Bushnell and finally became a director of the last one."

"One 'Pork Chopper' borrowed $4,000 from a bank in his rural county just before the opening of the 1959 session of the legislature. Ten days later this 'Pork Chopper' introduced a number of banking bills sponsored by the president of this bank who also served as the lobbyist for Florida's banking interest."

• • •

This is not the whole story of the "Pork Chop Gang." Newton relates material too lengthly to quote here. And much of the doings of this semi - formal group will never be brought to light.

But the need for correction of unfair apportionment has been unearthed. The evils of unequal representation will be stopped at their sources. "The Pork Chop Gang" is on the way out. The majority will be served.

Syllabus

The Six Up For Congress

By ROBERT SANCHEZ

Even FSU students must by now be vaguely aware of the fact that an election is taking place in the Tallahassee area. Although there are many offices being contested to today's Democratic primary, the main interest centers on the race for the newly - created Ninth District congressional seat.

SIX CANDIDATES are vying to represent the Ninth District in Washington. Of these, five are right - wing and one, Don Fuqua, is a moderate conservative. Only three of the six candidates are taken seriously, however: Douglass, Davis and Fuqua.

Dexter Douglass is a Tallahassee attorney with an unusually ambitious program. Not only does he oppose the UN and the Supreme Court, but he also intends, as a freshman congressman, to raise spending, lower taxes, and eliminate the federal deficit, while bringing industry and prosperity to Ninth District from the oyster beds along the gulf to the cotton patches of Two Egg

THE MAIN DIFFERENCE between Douglass and his noisiest opponent, Hal Davis, American, States - Righter, Fighter, etc., is that Davis is a Quincy attorney.

Actually, the obvious explanation for the incredible political naivete of Douglass and Davis is the fact that both are utterly lacking in legislative experience Fuqua, on the other hand, has a reasonable record in the State House of Representatives, where he was a loyal friend of education and was not altogether opposed to progress. His platform is moderate and realistic, free of the Birchism which has characterized the campaigns of his opponents.

AS FAR AS THE OUTCOME of the voting is concerned, it appears that in the first primary Douglass will get the most votes, with Fuqua second and Davis third. In the runoff, Douglass will pick up a little of the Tallahassee support of Newman, Ball and Murphy. Thus, Douglass will strongly carry Leon County (Tallahassee), which has a third of the district's votes However, Gadsden County will turn from Davis to Fuqua in the runoff, and Fuqua will win with the continued strong support of Jackson, Calhoun and Suwance counties. In the last analysis (a cliche I detest, but which seems appropriate), Fuqua's victory will be fortunate, for although all of the candidates leave a lot to be desired, he alone appears to have at least the potential to grow to fill the job he seeks.

A brief note to those of you who asked: my exile during April was entirely voluntary, caused by the pressure of other interests. Wasn't it Elliot who said, "April is the cruelest month?" Or was it the OAS?

"Cap'n, You Keep Chasing After That Great White Whale, We're All Gonna End Up In Trouble"

You Can't Go Back Again

By CHRIS CLARKE

At home (Jacksonville, Fla., pop. 250,000 people and some politicians), I have a younger brother and sister, ten and thirteen respectively.

OVER THE EASTER BREAK they were watching a wrestling match on TV. I asked when Gorgeous George was coming on, and for an answer received uncomprehending stares and a two-voice chorus of "Who's he?" This set me thinking with the result being a sentimental jaunt back to the days of and just after the war.

Do you recall, for instance, a team known as the Brooklyn Dodgers? Maybe you knew them as The Bums. Recall the team that played them often with a great batter known as the Yankee Clipper? Nobody ever worried about who was going to play in the series. There were only two teams any way you looked at it.

RADIO ON SUNDAY afternoons: "The weed of crime bears bitter fruit, ha ha ha. . .where are you, Shadow. . .all right, I'll shoot at your voice". . .bang, bang, bang. . . "ha ha ha." Nobody ever hit the Shadow. And then there was Nick Carter, Private Eye, and Boston Blackie. Jack Benny had a graveled voiced valet named Rochester and a sponsor named Lucky Strike

There was Life With Luigi, with everyone waiting for Rosa's papa to call her: "Rosa, Rosa, Rosa, where are you?" and always the same answer, "Eating Papa." Fibber McGee's closet fell with a terrific crash and then a little bell rang. It was expected and you were comfortable with it. Ask a kid today about McGee's closet and he'll ask you 'Whatsamatta, you some kinda nut?"

ON SATURDAY afternoon your mom gave you fifteen cents. Nine cents got you in the movie, and the rest was 'to spend'' There was Rex Allen and the Durango Kid. Wells Fargo always got robbed and Gene Autry could fire his six shooter fifty times without reloading. So who cared?

Sunset Carson walked into bars and ordered Milk. Some dirty cowpoke would snicker and there was a fight which Sunset never lost.

AND THE SERIALS! No serial was complete without a cliff. Cars went over the cliff with the hero inside; tumbling trunk over radiator to the bottom of the cliff where it burst into flame. Always the hero escaped the car to be trapped in a closet sprayed with machinegun bullets or trapped in quicksand and on and on for seventeen weeks. Then he caught the crooks and a new serial began.

And what of trading comic books after school? Red Ryder, Superman, Batman Wonder Woman, Green Hornet and many more. Only everyone held onto one comics; for some reason they were most valuable.

THEN ONE DAY some rich kid down the block, whose old man made a $100 a week came in and said "Guess what we got? A TV set." And once you accepted the invitation to go watch, you were changed inside and an era was ended forever. Know what I mean?

After Hours

An Old Problem

By KAREN THORNTON

One week ago last Saturday night, the TV show, The Defenders, had as its theme one of those secretive subjects, abortion.

THIS CONTROVERSIAL matter was thoroughly and truthfully handled. Whether or not abortions should be legalized has been a matter of serious discussion in the U.S. for many years with nothing being directly done about it. One reason for this inaction has resulted from the unfounded and biased ideas of a few religious groups.

As one juror on the Defenders show stated it, "It should not be judged right or wrong by man, but by God alone." Both views of the subject were brought out and aired on the show, such as whether it would be spiritually and physically wreng to have legalized abortions. The defendant refuted these arguments with skill. He showed that abortion does not kill a human being since the organism in question doesn't have a personality, and therefore is not a person.

Abortions have been performed outside the law for years by quack doctors with little or no medical training with the results being thousands of women butchered and murdered in this nation each year.

This needless pain and, often death, is the result of fanatical opposition to logical handling of the situation. If legalized abortions are against one's religious beliefs, and he or she is truly dedicated to the stand taken by their religious leaders then legalized abortion need not concern or involve them personally in the least. Others might stop and think of the human lives at stake each time one of these shadowy operations takes place.

Perhaps some persons are as busily destroying lives with their ideas and minds as are those who can and do kill with their hands.

New Boy On The Block

Competitive Jungle

By MATT STRAUB

It would seem that during the next few weeks students must be able to grasp the fact that next year's dorm rent will have risen

THOUGH THE PRICES still hover in the $110 to $120 range, a trimester will be two weeks shorter than one of the usual semesters. Sneaky, eh? This development should cause many students to realize that on-campus and off - campus accomodations are now on a competitive basis ($28.50 a month dorm costs as compared to $30-$35 a month off-campus).

With this in mind, the forth coming anaylsis, slightly slanted, will present some of the opportunities and problems available to those thinking of moving off-campus. This will be directed mainly to the boys. Girls, as it is have beautiful dorms with well-cared-for rooms and spacious recreation areas. You can't get out anyway, girls.

LIFE ON OFF-CAMPUS housing may be a jungle. Beware of the following beasts.

Many off - campus houses are dumps. The rents quoted above would signal such as the situation. Getting something at a reasonable rent is perhaps the thickest part of the jungle. Beware of apartments that have plenty of cockroaches big enough to mo the furniture. It might be better to stay in Killem Hall or Smith Hell. Between explosions and the number of big feet rampaging around, the roaches steer clear of those citadels

THE GOOD POINTS of having your own place off-campus can be added up in one word . Privacy. The bathroom is just a few feet from you, not down a long hall to a foggy room swarming with shower - bent nudes

If you are on the Fodder Plan but incline towards keeping your own feeding hours, consider the convenience of splashing on soup or burning a potato in your own kitchen at your leisure, with no standing in line to have your Fodder grimly ladled onto your trough balanced on a tray.

A COMPOSITE of little things is needed to make the picture complete. Quieter atmosphere is but one of off-campus housings virtues. An occasional wee party is possible, too, as are the usual weekly big ones; poppies may be grown in the backyard suntans acquired in the front yard, there are no maids to barge in and dust off the pink elephants after last night's Bacchanalian repast; and above all no health inspectors to shower at your domain. It's the little things that count.

Upon consideration of the total factors for off - campus housing, it should become obvious to most students that here is a facet of college life worth exploring, one that is handy and wise, unless you pitch a tent in Games' Woods.

What Was Accomplished?

TO THE EDITOR:

The Student Party (old and new) in essence, is dead thanks to the crusading efforts of the student body. But let us reflect further what else has been accomplished. True, the party that was once the evil, bloc - controlled, machine is demoralized, but also the new Student Party that was trying so hard to establish good two party competition.

And what has the past election accomplished? Are we back under complete one party rule under a new name and bloc? The conscientious voter can draw his own conclusions. I am not against the University Party, in fact I endorse it highly because I believed it was FSU's chance at fair and representative government. But I also believe candidates should be chosen as individuals on their merits and qualifications rather than a party affiliation.

DAVID W. WILES

A Discussion Of Halves

TO THE EDITOR:

In the Tuesday issue of the Flambeau I don't believe that I have ever seen a more gross violation of the Freedom of the press. The article entitled "More Students Lend Support To Rattlers" leaves much to be desired. I feel that everyone should know whom he is going to school with.

In looking up these students in my student directory, by a strange coincidence, I discovered that over half of these students are non-existent. Where did these ghosts come from? The ones who were listed come from places which are either up North or live where there is little or no problem with integration. Though I can't prove it I'd be willing to bet that the majority of these "Floridians" are transplants or Yankees, totally unfamiliar with the problems in the South. For these people, Yankee is only half a word!

I live in the Tallahassee area where many of the A. & M. students come from, and for the past 21 years have worked with many of them. Needless to say an integrated track meet would put me in a very embarrassing position as it would others who live here. You people who are signees of that list will be gone — that is, if you exist — but, we will gather repercussions for some time to come.

I would not like to have any integrated event at F.S.U. now next year, or a hundred years from now, whether it be track swimming, pool, marbles, spelling bees, poker, or what have you!! Do you people also picket lunch counters in your spare time?

BRADLEY MUNROE

EDITORS NOTE: Many of the "non - existent" names referred to resulted from indecipherable signatures. The names were spelled as they unscrambled, which is not a guarantee of accuracy. The list referred to was largely passed around by foreign students, many of whom signed. We doubt that "over half" the signees are non-existent. Evidence we have seen backs our view.

Varsity Tumbles Alumni In 48-6 Disaster

By HOWARD DENSON
Flambeau Sports Editor

The Florid State Seminoles ...ped the FSU alumni, 48 - 6, ...e First Annual Varsity-Alum- game Saturday in Doak S. ...pbell Stadium.

The alumni, their ranks bols...d by several varsity players, ...ked during the first and ...d quarters, but fell behind ...he second and fourth ses...

...ick-kicking seemed an inte... part of the alumni's strat... as Jack Espenship punted ...e 50 after Fred Pickard had ...or six in the first plays.

...ght plays later, the varsity ...ed its first touchdown after ...ack Marion Roberts charg... two yards up the middle ...s the goal. This was after ...halfback Keith Kinderman ...snagged a short pass from ...terback Eddie Feely and ...w to the end zone —only to ...e touchdown wiped out by a clipping penalty.

Pickard was involved in most of the next few plays of the alumni as he rushed for five and four yards and had a beautiful pass from quarterback Mike Norman bounce off his chest at the 43. With a fourth and one situation, the varsity's Bill Daley partially blocked Espenship's kick, which rolled to the varsity's 37

A fumble by varsity halfback Jim Loftin put the ball back into the alumni's hands but Espenship wound up kicking again on the fourth play when the grads lacked four for a first down.

The varsity lacking a first down, Loftin fumbled again moments later, but the ball rolled forward into first down territory, where the varsity's Cliff Gunter recovered it. Two plays later, the varsity got another first down as Dave Snyder charged eight yards over right guard.

A diving catch by Espenship, however, took the ball from the varsity when quarterback Jimmy Seaward attempted a pass.

SECOND QUARTER

Quarterback Vic Prinzi opened the second session with a 15-yard pass to end Ronnie Schomburger, for the only important gain, and two plays later fullback Paul Andrews punted into the end zone.

Feely's squad took the ball on the 20 and charged 80 yards, starting with Kinderman's run to the varsity's 27, to the goal. After a no-gain pass to Kinderman, Ken Russom cut across left end to the 38 for a first down. An 11-yard pass to Russom gave the varsity its second first down in its drive, and two other first downs came on a six-yard run by Kinderman and a clipping penalty.

Marion Roberts moved the ball to the 18, and three plays later Kinderman stepped across the goal to rush the varsity ahead, 13-0. John Harlee's PAT kick was good.

AND A QUICK-KICK

The alumni had the ball a short time. Norman faded back to pass, found himself in trouble, and ran back to the 10 before he shot a pass to Pickard on the 35 for a five yard gain. After a fumble and a tackle behind the line, Espenship kicked to the 44.

Kinderman Gets Two Touchdowns

The varsity's Phil Spooner followed up Ed Pritchett's two yard run with an eight-yard gain to give the varsity a first down. And three plays later, left end Fred Biletnikoff caught a pass to put the ball on the 25. Spooner then ran eight yards again for the only long run as no-gains and three yeard runs became the order of the day. However, a near score came when Tensi faded back and hurled a long pass to Biletnikoff, who snagged it out of bounds behind the goal. Feely replaced Tensi, and the varsity scored its third TD as Kiderman stepped over from the two.

ROBERTS THE RUNNER

Two 19-yard runs by Marion Roberts opened the third quarter, which seemingly would be the varsity's best, but then Feely was thrown for a loss on two plays and a 15-yard penalty put the varsity in a third and 14 predicament. Charlie Calhoun kicked to the eight.

An alumni quick-kick was blocked by center Bruce Darsey after Pickard had trudged for a no-gain and Prinzi had bootlegged it around left end for a five-yard gain. The ball on the 28, the varsity was within scoring distance again.

After an eight-yard run by Hillabrand and two short trips by Snyder, Seaward hit Hillabrand with a flat pass for a touchdown. The PAT was good, and the alums trailed, 28-0.

The alumni couldn't get going again, but obtained a first down on a pass interference ruling. Later, the grads came the nearest to getting a touchdown as two passes hurled to the five

On the first, Pickard blitzed down to the five and actually had the 30-yard pass from Prinzi in his hands, but he dropped it. On the next play, Prinzi vainly attempted the same pass to Possum Lee.

The varsity then managed to lose a yard in three plays before the quarter ended, but the fourth session opened with an eight-play touchdown drive that was highlighted by Calhoun's 17-yard run off left end and the final pass to Don Floyd for a TD. The PAT was good

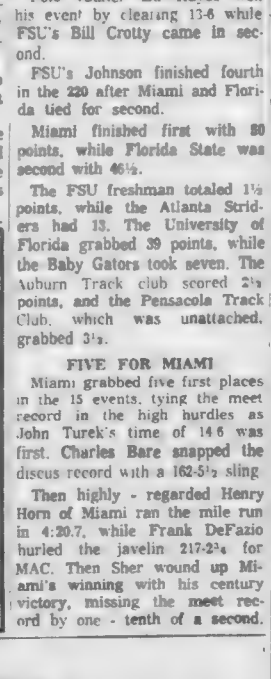
At this point, the alums began a 71-yard drive from the 29 for its only TD, but nearly all the key efforts were put in by undergrads. A 15-yard varsity penalty added to a two yard run, and then Ed Loveess grabbed nine yards at left end on a keeper. The grads lost two on the next effort, but another 15-yard penalty gave them their third first down of the quarter.

A pass to sophomore Dick Raduenzel and a run off right end . . . gave the grads 14 yards. A jump pass from Loveless to Terry Garvin put the alumni on the 10 and gave them a first down. Raduenzel then charged nine yards off left end, setting up the play for Loveless to sneak over for a touchdown. The score was 35-6 and then Loveless' PAT pass failed

SWITCHEROO

The varsity lost the ball on a fumble and moments later the alums lost it on a pass interception. . .but not to be outdone the alums recovered the ball via another interception. Then alum quarterback Joe Majors lateraled to Roy Bickford, who in turn lateraled to Espenship, who was downed on the 35.

The next two plays involved 15-yards penalties against the alums, and the varsity scored with 3:06 left as Earl Hawkins easily slipped through right guard and sped 22 yards for the TD. Garvin then blocked Harlee's PAT kick.



The alumni unable to get a first down the varsity regained possession on the 26. Two plays later, they tallied their last touchdown as Winfred Bailey handed off to Calhoun. Harlee's kick was good for a final 48-6 score.

KEITH KINDERMAN
. . . power runner

QUENTIN TILL
. . . boosts FSU

TERRY LONG
. . . record setter

Miami Finishes First

Seminoles Taken In Track Contest

Florida State's track team, last year's winner of the school's own Florida AAU Invitational track meet, was edged Friday night by the Miami Athletic Club.

The Miamians using freshman and varsity athletes from the University of Miami, tallied 3½ more points than Florida State.

It was anybody's contest until the next to the last event, the two - mile, when the Seminoles failed to place a man. The Atlanta Striders won the first and second in the two-mile, and Miami came in third.

The Seminoles, however, did win the mile relay as Craig Johnson, Jack Brocksmith, Bill Davis, and Quentin Till toured the course in 3:19.2 for a meet record

Two other meet records fell to the Seminoles in the shot put and the low hurdles.

Jeff Clark, who has yet to be beaten in dual matches, hurled the shot 53-7½, while teammate Terry Long ran the low hurdles in 23 flat.

Till finished second in the 440 behind Florida, which tied a meet record of 48.0.

In the century run, which was rated the highlight of the evening, Craig Johnson finished third behind Bobby Sher of the Miami Athletic Club. Sher clocked 9.7.

Pole vaulter Ed Hayes won his event by clearing 13-6 while FSU's Bill Crotty came in second.

FSU's Johnson finished fourth in the 220 after Miami and Florida tied for second.

Miami finished first with 80 points, while Florida State was second with 46½.

The FSU freshman totaled 1½ points, while the Atlanta Striders had 13. The University of Florida grabbed 39 points, while the Baby Gators took seven. The Auburn Track club scored 2½ points, and the Pensacola Track Club, which was unattached, grabbed 3½.

FIVE FOR MIAMI

Miami grabbed five first places in the 15 events, tying the meet record in the high hurdles as John Turek's time of 14.6 was first. Charles Bare snapped the discus record with a 162-5½ sling

Then highly - regarded Henry Horn of Miami ran the mile run in 4:20.7, while Frank DeFazio hurled the javelin 217-2¾ for MAC. Then Sher wound up Miami's winning with his century victory, missing the meet record by one - tenth of a second.

FSU Golfer Finish Third

The Florida State University golf team came in third in the Southeastern Invitational golf championship in Athens, Ga., Saturday, as Bryan Bergeron led the Seminoles.

Bergeron finished the day's match with a 200 overall score. On the first round, Bergeron tallied a 73 for FSU's low.

Dave Philo, who finished with a 201 shot a 75 on this day, while Chuck Keating, who shot a 208 overall, tallied a 76.

Bergeron grabbed the scoring lead over FSU golfers on the second day also when he shot a 70. Philo's 73 was two storkes ahead of Keating's score.

On the third round, however, Philo definitely took FSU scoring honors as he shot a 71. Bergeron had a score of 74, while Keating had a 76.

On the last round of competition, Philo retained the low score title for Florida State golfers by shooting a 72, while Bergeron shot a 73, and Keating a 75

The University of Houston and the University of Georgia grabbed first and second in the event as the Texans shot 1,154, which was 16 strokes less than Georgia's.

Florida State had a 1,195 score, while Auburn had a 1,199. Other teams were Miami, 1,202; Louisiana State University, 1,203, Georgia Tech, 1,215; Kentucky, 1,215, and the University of Florida, 1,219.

This is the second year that Houston has won the Southeastern's individual and team trophies. The top Houston golfer was Homero Blancas.

Blancas, who was the nemesis of Florida State in the Florida Invitational and the Houston All-American Intercollegiate, shot a 69 and 70 on his last round to surge ahead after being seven strokes behind.

Second place honors went to Georgia's David Boyd and the Texans' Wright Garrett, who tied.

This was the last regularly scheduled meet for the Florida State golfers. The Seminoles next competition will be Thursday in Auburn, Ala., where they will meet the University of Alabama and the University of Florida.

When & Where

TODAY

Registration for women students wishing to rush in the fall is from 1 to 3:30 p. m. in Longmire Auditorium

There will be a Student Party meeting in the Longmire Club Room at 4 p. m.

S. H. Hess will speak on "Meteorological Insurumentation for Measurements in the Atmosphere of Mars" at the Meteorology Seminar at 4 p. m.

Tau Kappa Alpha initiation will be at 4:30 p. m. in the Faculty Lounge, Longmire

German Club will meet in Longmire Club Room at 8 p. m.

"Washington Reports to the People" concerning the hidden interest costs on used cars and the Truth in Lending Bill sponsored by Sen. Paul Douglas, will be broadcast at 6:15 p. m. on WFSU-FM.

Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship will meet at 7 p. m. in Longmire Student Lounge

The Threepenny Opera will be FSU Film Club selection at 8 p. m. in Westcott Auditorium

Final meeting of the year for the Tallahassee Archaeological Society will include three films of Turkey and the annual business session. The public is invited to the films

TOMORROW

FSU Faculty Club will hold its annual meeting at 4 p. m. in the Library Lecture Hall

Starlight Serenade will feature the symphonic band at 7:15 p. m. in Opperman Music Hall

Dr. Wiley Housewright will discuss "Music in the City" at the Program in American Studies at 7:30 p. m. in Library Lecture Hall Fashion Inc. will meet in the Home Economics Lounge at 7 p. m.

Pi Delta Phi will meet at 7:30 p. m. in Longmire Student Lounge.

The Recreation Club and Sigma Lambda Sigma initiation will be in Longmire Club Room at 7:30 p. m.

"Theories of the Good Life," second in a series of four lectures by Dr. Anna Forbes Liddell, on ethical theories from the Greek period to the present will this week deal with Plato and Aristotle, at 8:30 p. m. on WFSU-FM.

THURSDAY

The examination in defense of dissertation of Faqir Khanna will be in 212 Science at 9:30 a. m. Subject of Khanna's dissertation will be "Applications of the Cluster Model of the Nucleus to Light Nuclei"

Miss Carmelita G. Reynes will speak on "Management Activities of the Food Production Managers in Selected Hospitals" at 12 noon in 409 Sandels, and the Food and Nutrition Seminar.

The examination in defense of dissertation of Charles David Gerstern will be at 3:30 p. m. Title of the dissertation is "Response Differentiation in Verbal Behavior."

H. Frederick Kreimer Jr. will speak at the Mathematics Colloquium at 3:30 p. m. in 303 M M on the topic "Differential Galois Theory."

Alpha Lambda Delta will meet at 5 p. m. in Longmire Auditorium

APO actives will meet at 7 p. m. in Longmire Auditorium

Young Democrats will meet in the Library Lecture Hall at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Harold Cottingham will speak on "Emerging Trends in Guidance and Counseling" at the Guidance and Counseling Dept. Seminar at 7:30 p. m. in the Education Bldg. Lounge

Dr. Alan Thomson is host and commentator of the Humanities Hour at 8 p. m., WFSU-FM, which will present the drama T. S. Eliot's "The Cocktail Party"

APO pledges will meet at 8 p. m. in Longmire Student Lounge

Sigma Tau Delta will meet at 8 p. m. in Longmire Club Room

Edward Kilenyi will give a "Treatment of Bach" on WFSU-TV's Frontiers of Knowledge at 8 p. m.

Madrigal - Oratorio Recital will be at 8:15 p. m. in Opperman Music Hall

"F" Club will meet at 9 p. m. in Longmire Student Lounge

Sigma Nu Fraternity will have their weekend May 11th and 12th. It will start off with a Play Boy party Friday night. Saturday there will be a coast party with a combo party following featuring the Jay Notes.

★ ★ ★

Courtesy of
TALLAHASSEE BARBER COLLEGE
Parkway Shopping Center — Phone 224-3944
Sanitary Prompt Service — Closed Monday

BLACK & WHITE FILM 620—120—127 — 3 ROLLS 88c
8 MM. KODACHROME, Processing Included — $3.69
WESTINGHOUSE NO. 5 FLASH BULBS, doz. — $1.30
FOR PRICES AND QUALITY, SEE
CHEVET'S Your camera Shop
Adams at ...ollege

at your TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

FLORIDA
Today Only
Troy Donahue
"ROME ADVENTURE"
Starts Wednesday
Rodger & Hammerstein's
"State Fair"
Pat Boone
Bobby Darin
Alice Faye
PERRY HIGHWAY OUTDOOR
Tonight Only
Showing at 8:00
"A MAJORITY OF ONE"
Plus Co-Hit 10:30
Glenn Ford
"THE GAZEBO"
Wednesday—Saturday
One Showing each Night at 8:00
"EXODUS"

STATE
Today thru Thursday
A Story About Kids . . . For Everyone!!!
Hayley Mills
Alan Bates
"WHISTLE DOWN THE WIND"
CAPITOL DRIVE-IN ON WOODVILLE HWY.
Tonight and Wednesday
Showing at 8:00
"GUNS OF THE BLACK WITCH"
Plus Co-Hit 9:30
Dana Wynter
"SINK THE BISMARCK"

Special Student
SALE
Stock up before going home with clothes you'll need for summer
Suits
Sport Coats
Slacks
Sport Shirts
Short Sleeves
AND Dress Shirts
nic's toggery

GARCIA'S
PIZZAS
SPAGHETTI
Open 7 Days A Week
Close 12:00 P.M.
320 E. TENN.
223-1177

Nothing rusher for your hair than grease. Let Vitalis with V-7 keep your hair neat all day without grease. Naturally. V-7 is the greaseless grooming discovery Vitalis® with V-7® fights embarrassing dandruff, prevents dryness, keeps your hair neat all day without grease. Try Vitalis today. You'll like it!

Visit
FAIR'S BEAUTY SALON
549 W. Park Ave.
Phone 224-8351
The Beauty Salon Nearest to Campus

COIN OPERATED
☆ DRY CLEANING
10 LBS. FOR 6 QUARTERS
☆ STEAM PRESS
COIN OPERATED
☆ AND LAUNDRY
WASHERS AND DRYERS
Open 24 Hrs. Daily
The Pink Spot
LOCATED OPPOSITE SEARS ON LAFAYETTE ST.
COIN OPERATED LAUNDRY
Koin Kleen
Behind Winn Dixie—South Monroe St.

"MUSIC BY MAIL"
HI-FI RECORDS STEREO
popular - jazz - country & western - sacred - classical
All Major Labels at Regular Price
Any record of your choice mailed to your home! (all factory guaranteed against defects) Enjoy this modern, convenient way of adding to your record collection. Send us your request (indicate hi-fi or stereo) Save C.O.D. & postage by including check or money order. FREE catalogue upon request.
HOUSE OF MUSIC
Dept. B — Box 2232 — Jacksonville, Fla.

VOTE MAY 8th
Vote For A Straight Ticket For The ROYAL BURGER
[x] Excellent Food
[x] Excellent Service
[x] Where The Customer Is King
[x] Royal Burger
690 West Tennessee — Ph. 224-4911

GIGANTIC SPRING BOOK SALE

Starts Today at 8:30 A.M. Brand-New Editions from Leading Publishers at Tremendous Savings—up to 80%

In The

TROPHY ROOM

Today Through Thursday
8:30 A.M. to 4:30 P.M.

1 Boris Pasternak — I RE MEMBER [illegible] cherished and [illegible] and others. Pub. at $[illegible] Sale $1

2 THE HIDDEN RUSSIA [illegible] present - day life in the U.S.S.R. Pub. at $5.00. Sale $1

3 THE TRIAL OF PETER ZENGER. An historical account of "The [illegible] With introduction by Vincent Buranelli [illegible] Sale $1

4 [illegible] Sale $1

5 [illegible] LUGGAGE [illegible] Sale $1

6 [illegible] POOR [illegible] Sale $1

7 THE YEAR 2000: A Biography of [illegible] Sale $1

[illegible] ist, eccentric, and prophet. Pub. at [illegible] Sale $1

[illegible] P. Calk. A guide to astronomy as explained through astrophysics — the stars and the sun, the planets and satellites, and the mathema[illegible] $2.75 Sale $1

10 A SHORT HISTORY OF EX[illegible] Sale $1

[illegible] based on the memoirs of the Secretary of the Treasury who came [illegible] Cabinet member. Discusses agri[illegible] Sale $1

[illegible] ING, by R. Wolfard. A description [illegible] mory, trial and selection, induc[illegible] Sale $1

[illegible] vellous stories of magic, murder, [illegible] Sale $1

[illegible] A bomb in a sardine tin ticking [illegible] of 1905 — all are elements in this masterwork of suspense. Pub. at $[illegible] Sale $1

[illegible] BEFORE YOU GO. The author of "The Ene[illegible] destructive loves of "Poison Ben" [illegible] Sale $1

[illegible] Sale $1

17. THIRD [illegible] in boxing" tells the powerful story [illegible] Sale $1

18 A MOON FOR THE MISBEGOTTEN, by Eugene O'Neill. America's greatest playwright reveals all his tragic passion and power in [illegible] ma of sin and guilt. Pub. at $2.75. Sale $1

[illegible] TIP ON A DEAD JOCKEY and other St[illegible] The masterly range and quick [illegible] teller brings us ten new visions [illegible] Sale $1

20 THE CHILD OF MONTMAR[illegible] an artist's life and love [illegible] Sale $1

21 IN SEARCH OF THE HEREAFTER [illegible] A [illegible] starting search into life after death and the astonishing experiences that changed his beliefs. Pub. at $3.50 Sale $1

22 THE SPANISH TOWN PAPERS [illegible] during Revolutionary War. Includes a remarkable clearance paper signed by George Washington [illegible] and Log Books. Pub. at $4.00. Sale $1

23 [illegible] NINE BAD MOVES [illegible] ners and professionals alike. Pub. at $[illegible] Sale $1

24 [illegible] HOW TO PLAY THE KING PAWN OPENINGS [illegible] Sale $1

25 [illegible] YANKEE FROM SWEDEN [illegible] Sale $1

26 KNOW YOUR CAMERA [illegible] graphy — from purchase of camera [illegible] Sale $1

27 GOD AND MAN IN WASHINGTON [illegible] an attack, but a carefully - documented report [illegible] campaign. Pub. at $[illegible] Sale $1

28 THE GREAT WALL OF FRANCE [illegible] French fortification whose true story [illegible] Illus. Pub. at $4.50. Sale $1

29 DAUGHTER OF THE GOLD RUSH [illegible] of the Alaska gold rush as seen [illegible] ers as Tex Rickard, Gene[illegible] my Doolittle, Jack London. Photos. Pub. at $3.50 Sale $1

30 [illegible] startling collection of singing verse and prose by France's foremost [illegible] poet . . . — Albert Camus. Pub. at $5.00. Sale $1

31 Poland's Protest — THE BROKEN MIRROR, ed. by Pawel [illegible] A strong and intensely varied col[illegible] Sale $1

[illegible] here skillfully and tastefully com[illegible] Pub. at $4.00 Sale $1

[illegible] EFFECTIVE SPEAKING [illegible] approach to better speech and a [illegible] Special $1

[illegible] ALL THE WAY BY WATER by Sidney W. Dean. Charming [illegible] young - at - heart skipper and his "mate." Pub. at $4.50. Sale $1

[illegible] THE FAMILY BOOK OF FAVORITE HYMNS [illegible] Words and music for over 100 [illegible] at $2.95 Sale $1

[illegible] RECAPTURED [illegible] Things Past. Pub. at $4.00. Sale $1

37 LOVE IS MORE THAN LUCK [illegible] ly hearts club to study mate-selectivity in America and the results are both amusing, informative and warm - hearted. Pub. at $[illegible] Sale $1

[illegible] FRESHMAN WRITING by Ollie Depew. Guide to easier, clear[illegible] criticism, autobiography, suspense [illegible] Pub. at $3.50 Sale $1

9 ISLAND OF THE DRAGON'S BLOOD [illegible] Douglas Botting. The true, spell - binding report of the Oxford University Expedition [illegible] with witchcraft, weird plants and [illegible] Sale $1

40 SIMONE WEIL [illegible] Critical assessment of her thought in relation to modern philosophy and theology. The author considers her to be the finest product of the French Resistance. Pub. at $2.50. Sale $1

41 ABRAHAM LINCOLN [illegible] TO NEW YORK [illegible] speech in Cooper Union's Great [illegible] Lincoln's views. Pub. at $3.95. Sale $1

42. THE REDISCOVERY OF MAN [illegible] Waldo Frank [illegible] leading writers of our time provides an intellectual memoir and analysis [illegible] up the modern world. Pub. at $6.95. Sale $1

43 TIDES OF CRISIS, by A. A. Berle, Jr. The well - known diplomat discusses U. S. foreign relations [illegible] Latin America. Pub at $4.00. Sale $1

44 [illegible] COMPANY OF STRANGERS, by An[illegible] that won them over 1 million dol[illegible] Sale $1

45 SPINOZA AND WESTERN DEMOCRACY [illegible] light of present - day problems. Pub. at $[illegible] Sale $1

46 I AM MY BROTHER [illegible] as Spender, Eliot, Orwell and others. Pub. at $[illegible] Sale $1

47. "No Man is an Island" — THE SOCIAL SELF, by P. E. Pfuetze. A probing study of the interdependence of human beings, [illegible] of George Mead and Martin Buber [illegible] and meaning. Pub. at $4.50. Sale $1

48 [illegible] cellent as reference guides for [illegible] off - beat places, best dining, [illegible] Sale $1.49 each. [illegible] Guide to BRITAIN & IRELAND. Guide to SWITZERLAND. Guide to GERMANY. Guide to SPAIN & PORTUGAL

49 Francois Mauriac's SECOND THOUGHTS. All the emotional eloquence of the Nobel prize - winning [illegible] superb essays on history, D. H. Lawrence, success, Greta Garbo, war, pride, Shakespeare, etc. Pub. at $3[illegible] Sale $1.49

50 MY FATHER, CHARLIE CHAPLIN [illegible] courtroom battles, legendary [illegible] Sale $1.49

51 MAYFLOWER HERITAGE [illegible] hundred years of American [illegible] as seen through the [illegible] American family [illegible] Pub. at $3.50. Sale $1.49

52 THE MORAL PHILOSOPHY OF SANTAYANA [illegible] Sale $1.49

53 FROM GALAXIES TO MAN [illegible] hilarating book, dramatizing space [illegible] billions of years ago with a thin gaseous cloud. It narrates the story of creation, the formation of [illegible] Sale $1.49

54 THE PROUDEST DAY [illegible] er the superior British forces on [illegible] nation's fate. Superb study of the men, the ships and that climactic battle. Pub. at $5.75 Sale $1.49

55 THE DANCE — From [illegible] to Rock and Roll, by Joost A. M[illegible] tic photos, paintings and drawings from various cultures and epochs. A noted psychiatrist's startling, sometimes shocking history of the dance and dance contagions through[illegible] Sale $1.98

56 Nell Gwynn & Others — ALL THE KING'S LADIES, by J. H. Wilson. The bawdy, boisterous story of the fabulous female actresses of England's Restoration stage — their careers, relations with theatre and royal luminaries. The illustrious cast includes Nell Gwynn, Elizabeth Barry, Rebecca Marshall, Colly Cibber, Dryden, Pepys and others. Pub. at $3.95. Sale $1.98

57 RASPUTIN AND THE FALL OF IMPERIAL RUSSIA, by Heinz Liepman. Recreates the atmosphere of pre - revolutionary Russia, illuminates the character of the miracle - working monk and sheds light on the forces that led to the Russian revolution. Pub. at $3.95 Sale $1.98

58 LINCOLN AND THE PARTY DIVIDED, by W. F. Zornow. The whole exciting story of how Lincoln recouped the political and military failures of the North in the election of 1864 and saved the union from disintegration. Pub. at $4.00. Sale $1.98

59 OSCAR WILDE and the Yellow Nineties, by Frances Winwar. [illegible] Sale $1.98

60 EMILY DICKINSON'S LETTERS to Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Holland, ed. by T. V. W. Ward. 93 intimate, unreserved literary letters [illegible] Pub. at $4.00 Sale $1.98

61 THE THIRD ROSE — Gertrude Stein & Her World, by John Malcolm Brinnin. A warm and [illegible] France. All the famous friendships and influences are judiciously evaluated. Pub. at $6.00 Sale $1.98

62 ART UNDER A DICTATORSHIP, by Hellmut Lehmann-Haupt. [illegible] a, and post - war tyrannies. Pub. at $5.50. Sale $1.98

63 VIRGINITY: PRE - NUPTIAL RITES AND RITUALS, by O. Nemecek, a scholarly study of the con[illegible] ing psychology of mankind's prenuptial behavior — in both primitive and modern societies. Illus. Pub. at $4.75. Sale $1.98

64 PSYCHOANALYSIS OF TODAY, by Dr. S. Nacht, pref. by Dr. Ernest Jones. Modern French [illegible] analysts. Pub. at $6.00. Sale $1.98

65 A PASSION FOR POLITICS — The Earlier Years, by Louis [illegible] A remarkable narrative of the fading American 19th century and the intense political issues and colorful figures that marked it. A rich strand of the American story that stands alongside of the great autobiographies. Pub. at $7.50. Sale $1.98

Good Books for Younger Readers

SNOW WHITE and Other Stories [illegible] other figures beloved of all children trip through this large (9x12") volume which is beautifully illustrated in full color. (Ages 5-8) Pub. at $1.95 Sale $1

CINDERELLA and Other Stories. The best-loved fairy tale of them all, plus "Puss in Boots," [illegible] in a large 9x12") volume. Beautiful full - color illustrations. 5-8 Pub. at $1.95 Sale $1

THE FABLES OF LA FONTAINE. Even the parents will enjoy "The Grasshopper and the Ant," "City Rat and Country Rat," etc. in this handsome [illegible] Pub. at $1.95 Sale $1

MERRY HOURS PICTURE CROSSWORD BOOK. Over 50 humorous, enjoyable, and educational puzzles for the very [illegible] (Ages 6-10) Special Import $1

SUNNY HOURS PUZZLE BOOK [illegible] joy to youngsters 7½"x10". Illustrated in color. (Ages 8-12). Special Import $1

Good Housekeeping's BEST BOOK OF FAIRY TALES [illegible] famous and classically delightful stories that have filled chil[illegible] Beauty and the Beast, Snow White [illegible] Pub. at $2.95 Sale $1.49

Good Housekeeping's BEST BOOK OF STORIES OF BOYS AND GIRLS, edited by Pauline Rush Evans [illegible] Sibley. Tom Sawyer and Penrod, [illegible] Children and 20 other stories— [illegible] whose adventures we all love to share. 384 delightful pages. Pub. at $2.95. Now $1.49

66 THE ANGLO AMERICAN TRADITION IN FOREIGN AFFAIRS, ed. by Arnold Wolfers & L. Martin. Readings, with a running commentary, from 20 great thinkers from Thomas More to Woodrow Wilson. Pub. at $4.50 Sale $1.98

67 EGYPTIAN RELIGION, by Sir Wallis Budge. The classic account of the religion of ancient Egypt with its conflicting [illegible] and primitive superstitions. A reprint of the London 1900 edition with over all illustrations. Pub. at $5.00. Sale $1.98

68 The Great Newspapers — PARK ROW, by Allen Churchill. Stirring re-creation of the days of the newspaper tycoons [illegible] who made papers that made the news. Hearst, Pulitzer, Bennett, Richard Harding Davis. Pub. at $4.95 Sale $1.98

69 She Ruled A Queen—MARLBOROUGH'S DUCHESS: A Study in Worldliness, by Louis Kronenberger. More astounding than a historical romance. During her long and tumultuous lifetime [illegible] Sarah Churchill married the greatest soldier of the age, saw the [illegible] hoisted the Whig party to power. Pub. at $5.75 Sale $1.98

70 MONEY AND EMOTIONAL CONFLICTS, BY Edmund Bergler, M.D. The famed psychiatrist examines the [illegible] unconscious ends by the miser, the success hunter, the gold digger, the playboy, etc. Pub. at $3.95 Sale $1.98

71. SEEDS OF TIME: The Background of Southern Thinking, by Henry Savage, Jr. A penetrating study of slavery and King Cotton, the Civil War and reconstruction, the Klan and the NAACP, Bilbo and Thomas Wolfe — the vast panorama behind the Southern mind today. Pub. at $4.50 Sale $1.98

72 "Charge of the Light Brigade" — CRIMEAN BLUNDER, by Peter Gibbs. The full story of the "little" [illegible] war that through optimism and stupidity on the part of Palmerston, Queen Victoria, Louis Napoleon and Tsar Nicholas developed into a nightmare. Pub. at $4.50 Sale $1.98

73 John P. Marquand's THIRTY YEARS. 25 short stories, fiction and nonfiction, written by this outstanding American novelist over the past three decades, none of which has ever previously appeared in book form. Pub. at $5.00 Sale $1.98

74 Taoism — THE PARTING OF THE WAY, by Holmes Welch. A comprehensive study of Lao Tzu and the [illegible] in all its seemingly conflicting aspects. Pub. at $5.00 Sale $1.98

75 Great Russian Critic — VISSARION BELINSKI (1811-1848), by Herbert E. Bowman. Full length study of the life and work of this important thinker [illegible] on the ideology of the pre-Bolshevik and Soviet intelligentsia. Pub. at $4.25. Sale $1.98.

76 AN ENQUIRY INTO GOODNESS, by Prof. F. E. Sparshott. Essential problems of moral philosophy are profoundly examined in this well-organized study whose ethical contentions stand in opposition to Wittgenstein. Pub. at $5.50 Sale $1.98

77 A HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE SINCE 1865, by H. J. Carman & H. C. Syrett, both of Columbia University. Our history from the Civil War to the "Cold War" with special emphasis on economic and social history. Scores of illustrations, documents, etc. Over 800 pp. Pub. at $6.75 Sale $1.98.

78. THE SEXUAL RELATIONS OF MANKIND, by P. Mantegazza. The great Italian anthropologist's definite account of strange and curious sexual customs. First complete English edition. Pub. at $6.00. Sale $1.98

79 ADVENTURE IN BIOGRAPHY, by Willard Connely, Biographer of Wycherley, Steele, Beau Brummell and Louis Sulliven, describes his adventures in tracking down his subjects. Among those we meet are Yeats, R. L. Stevenson, Lord Chesterfield, Margaret Fuller and Augustus John. Pub. at $4.00 Sale $1.98

80 THE TERRORISTS — The Story of the Forerunners of Stalin, by Robert Payne. An authentic portrait of four pre-Bolshevik terrorists and their band of Nihilists — their attempts to destroy the despotic brutality of Czarist Russia. Pub. at $5.00 Sale $1.98

81 Red China — THE YELLOW WIND, by William Stevenson. A Canadian correspondent's detailed account of his years behind the Bamboo Curtain. Candid observations of the aims, methods and achievements of Mao-Tse-tung. 25 photos by the author. Pub. at $6.00 Sale $1.98

82 THE HERMIT PHILOSOPHER OF LIENDO, by J. K. Stephens. Life story of Edmund Montgomery, [illegible] the [illegible] of a Texas plantation [illegible] of American thought. Pub. at $5.00 Sale $1.98

83 THE TYPICAL TEXAN, by Joseph Leach. The sources of the Texas image of grandeur and braggadocio traced with scholarship [illegible] Brilliantly analyzes the image of "Tex", the T.V. six-gun hero, as he emerges out of such stalwarts as Davy Crockett, Sam Houston and Big Foot Wallace. Pub. at $5.00 Sale $1.98

84 Civil War Desperadoes — BEEFSTEAK RAID, by Edward Boykin. Documented story of a hunger and desperation that brought about the greatest but last successful raid the Gray "Commandos" ever struck against Grant's Army at Richmond. Pub. at $4.95 Sale $1.98

85. THE OPDYCKE LEXICON OF WORD SELECTION, by John Baker Opdycke. 6,000 [illegible] English words with their practical and correct usage, [illegible] and history. An invaluable reference work. Pub. at $5.00 Sale $1.98

86 SEA DEVIL OF THE CONFEDERACY, by Edward Boykin. Saga of John Newland Maffitt, the dreaded Confederate sea raider and blockade runner, including the dramatic [illegible] story of one of the most famous [illegible] in American naval history. Pub. at $4.95 Sale $1.98

87. AMERICAN FERRYBOATS, by John Perry. The fascinating adventure of America's "floating highways" and the significant role they played from their strange beginnings to the present. 44 wonderful old photos. Pub. at $3.95 Sale $1.98

88 NEW YORK, NEW YORK, by Stewart Hawkes. Guide to the world's most dazzling city for visitors and armchair travelers alike. More than 400 scenic wonders, off beat attractions and popular high spots, from the Battery to the Bronx. Zoo Photos and maps. Pub. at $4.95. Sale $1.98

89 SPY STORIES FROM ASIA, by Kurt Singer. 24 [illegible] true espionage tales of famous and obscure spies, patriots and traitors operating on the world's most dangerous continent from Siberia to Hong Kong. Pub. at $3.95 Sale $1.98

90. Anatomy of a Scream —THE FROG POND, by Joyce MacIver. Astonishingly frank confessional of a woman whose strange compulsion drove her from lover to lover and from analyst to analyst. Abounding with fascinating encounters — and devastating exposes of psychoanalysts who dwell in fantasy world even more startling than those of their patients. Pub. at $4.95. Sale $1.98

91 NEW ORLEANS, by Oliver Evans. From a leisurely stroll through the town's charming and famed gardens to wild nights in the honky tonks and gambling palaces of Basin Street comes a vivid and exciting portrait of the New World's "Oldest" City. Illus. Pub. at $5.00. Sale $1.98

92 Drugs and Dreams — THEOPHILE GAUTIER. His life and Times, by Joanna Richardson. Major study of this scathing herald of the Romantic movement. Gautier reflected both the virtues and shocking faults of the 19th century, an amazing transitional figure who was a poet, painter, user of hashish, critic, and eccentric. Pub. at $7.50. Sale $1.98

93 Desert of Destiny: SAHARA, by George Gerster. From the earliest Tassili friezes to the discovery of oil, here is the entire strange history of this unbelievably vast piece of sun-struck geography — its camels, caravans, fierce nomadic tribes and modern political upheavals. Pub. at $6.00 Sale $1.98

94 PRINCIPLES OF GENERAL PSYCHOPATHOLOGY, by Siegfried Fischer, M.D. Lucid interpretation of the theoretical foundations of psychopathological concepts, covers everything from affects, illusions to the pathology of volition. Pub. at $4.75. Sale $1.98

95 THE END OF EMPIRE, by John Strachey. Analysis of Britain's dissolution of empire, speculation about a U.S., Russian or Chinese Empire and a practical blueprint for the future. Pub. at $5.00 Sale $1.98

96 Khrushchev's Communism — THE WAR CALLED PEACE, by Harry & Bonaro Overstreet. A vitally important book that penetrates the purposes and tactics of the most enigmatic man on earth. Does Khrushchev offer a new brand of Communism? Or is he really a shrewder, more dangerous strategist for a changeless Communist doctrine? Pub. at $4.50 Sale $1.98

97. John Dewey: DICTIONARY OF EDUCATION. The basic thoughts of the great American philosopher and educator, arranged for ready reference. Pub. at $3.75 Sale $1.98

98 THE COMIC TRADITION IN AMERICA, ed. by K. S. Lynn. Shining forth from every page of this magnificent anthology are the tremendous vigor and native originality of America's humor. Here are the satires of Mark Twain, Edgar Allan Poe, Benjamin Franklin, the tales of Davy Crockett, the fantasies of Washington Irving. Pub. at $5.00. Sale $1.98

99 Sir Herbert Read - THE NATURE OF LITERATURE. One of the foremost critics of our time sets forth his general views on the nature of poetry and the nature of criticism, and adds thirteen brilliant psychological and literary studies of individual writers. Pub. at $5.00 Sale $1.98

100 Civil War Chronicle — THE GREAT REBELLION, by Earl S. Miers. A closeup of the Civil War, from the outbreak of hostilities to Lee's surrender at Appomattox, this book is a stirring tribute to Lincoln and his epic vision. Pub. at $6.00 Sale $2.98

101 LOVE AND THE FRENCH, by Nina Epton. Brilliant journey from the Middle Ages to the 20th century, through the amorous history of the country which could have invented the word. Pub. at $5.00 Sale $2.98

102 DICTIONARY OF AMERICAN FOLKLORE, by Marjorie Tallman. A vastly entertaining collection of Americana — over 1,200 items gathered from every phase past and present of life in these United States. Acadian customs and Creole New Orleans, spruce beer and straddle bugs, cowboy terms and the Bronx cheer, Paul Bunyan and Yellow Kid, much more. Pub. at $10. Sale $2.98

104 AMERICAN WRITING TODAY, ed. by Allan Angoff. An exhaustive study of the U.S. literary scene. Over 50 articles by leading authorities from W. H. Auden to John Dewey cover all phases: Books, radio, TV, press, film, theater, authors, poets, critics, audiences, etc. Pub. at $4.50. Sale $2.98

105 MEN AND MORALS: The Story of Ethics, by Woodbridge Riley. A beautifully organized lucidly written study of all the schools and all the great teachers of ethics — among them, Plato, Buddha, St. Augustine, Spinoza, Rousseau, Nietzsche, William James. Pub. at $6.50 Sale $2.98

106 HANDEL, by Herbert Weinstock. The definitive biography of the great composer and a fully drawn picture of 18th century musical and social life in London. Pub. at $5.00 Sale $2.98

107 BORNEO PEOPLE, by Malcolm MacDonald. Told in a style worthy of Conrad, this is an affectionate, exciting account of a lush land by its former Governor General. Describes its native tribesmen, white Rajahs, customs, manners, dances, head-hunters, with an account of the impact of modern civilization on a primitive world. 44 photos. Pub. at $6.50 Sale $2.98

108 Fodor's JET AGE GUIDE TO EUROPE. Provides the modern traveller with complete coverage of all Europe including Iron-curtain countries. Information on hotels, restaurants, shops, entertainment. Scores of illustrations and maps. 1960 edition. Pub. at $5.95 Sale $2.98

109 CAGLIOSTRO — Magician, Martyr or Maniac, by W. R. H. Trowbridge. Carlyle crowned him "Prince of Quacks" while many worshipped him as a martyr to monarchial and clerical tyranny. Some others saw in him a great pioneer of hypnotism, telepathy and psychic healing. Pub. at $6.50 Sale $2.98

110 THE VAMPIRE: HIS KITH AND KIN, by Montague Summers. Blood-sucking, body-snatching, necrophilia in all its chilling manifestations. All the classic cases are here, from ancient Greece and Aztec Mexico to the modern terrors of Central Europe: Origins and Generation of the Vampire, Traits and Practices of Vampirism, The Vampire in Literature and much more. Pub. at $6.00. Sale $2.98

111 HARLAN FISKE STONE: Pillar of the Law, by Alpheus T. Mason. Richly documented biography of the twelfth Chief Justice of the United States, a New Hampshire Republican who helped FDR "liberalize" the Court. Over 900 pages about a warm human being who was also one of the leading figures of our time. Pub. at $8.75 Sale $2.98

112 Strange Collaboration — The GONCOURT BROTHERS, by Andre Billy. The fascinating account of two men [illegible] ed as one. Devoutly dedicated to literary realism, Jules and Edmond de Goncourt were arbiters of 19th century French taste. Pub. at $6.50. Sale $2.98

113 THE LOST PANORAMAS OF THE MISSISSIPPI, by John Francis McDermott. The fabulous illustrated history of five panoramic paintings of the Mississippi and its environs and the outstanding artists who painted them. These amazing canvases measured from four hundred to twelve hundred yards and served as the nineteenth travelogue documentary "movies" of their day. Pub. at $7.50. Sale $2.98

114 The Essence of Wonder — ROME, NAPLES AND FLORENCE, by Stendhal. The great literateur's incredibly rich tapestry of post Napoleonic Italy during her "golden age of travel." Stendhal's keen reportorial eye reveals the essential vibrant spirit of this enigmatic land, capturing the very life's blood of its ingenious, provocative women, men and arts. Over 800 concise biographies. Pub. at $7.50 Sale $2.98

115 NO STONE UNTURNED: An Almanac of North American Prehistory, by Louis A. Brennan. This brilliant, vividly written synthesis destroys the belief that the American Indian descended from Mongols reaching this hemisphere only 4000 years ago. Based on Carbon 14 dating techniques, the author establishes the presence of the Amerinds 40,000 years ago and follows the rise of their culture. Pub. at $5.00 Sale $2.98

116 PSYCHOANALYSIS OF THE PROSTITUTE, by Dr. Maryse Choisy. The former president of the French Psychoanalytic Society who has also in her motivational research been a maid in a Parisian house, carefully analyzes the case histories of call girls, street walkers, procurers and their clientele in a deep examination of this "permanent scandal in all civilizations." Pub. at $4.75. Sale $2.98

117. Woodrow Wilson: A CROSSROADS OF FREEDOM, ed. by J. W. Davidson. The 1912 campaign speeches of Wilson which first set forth the principles of his "New Freedom." Pub. at $6.00. Sale $2.98

118. DIDEROT: The Testing Years, by Arthur M. Wilson. A magnificent biography of the great encyclopedist's formative years, his connection with Rousseau, D'Alembert, Voltaire and the other central figures in the political and intellectual history of the 18th Century. Pub. at $10.50. Sale $3.98

119. THE TRAVELS OF MARK TWAIN, ed. by Charles Neider. This wonderful collection of Mark Twain's travel pieces is also a kind of informal autobiography, full of astringent observations and amusing anecdotes. Drawn from such classics as Innocents Abroad, Roughing It and Following the Equator. America's greatest humorist casts a clear and merry eye on the manners and morals of many lands. Handsome gift edition. Pub. at $7.50. Sale $3.98

120 THE RE[illegible] Years of Great [illegible] the Camera, by H. & [illegible] 250 historic [illegible] text. From the [illegible] graph taken in 182[illegible] signing of the [illegible] 1939, here is a [illegible] pictorial record [illegible] Sale $3.98

121 JOURNEY TO THE [illegible] OF TIME [illegible] by Sacheverell Sitwell [illegible] work of the disting[illegible] death, explored through [illegible] $7.50 Sale $3.98

122 CHINA IN THE [illegible] TURY. The [illegible] Ricci, 1583-16[illegible] osophic period in Sino-European [illegible] Sale $3.98

123 COMPLETE [illegible] WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE [illegible] A. H. Bullen, noted [illegible] scholar. The famous [illegible] Head Press Edition [illegible] the Sonnets, Venus [illegible] Folio's Life of Shakespeare, a modern glossary. 1,280 pp. [illegible] cial $4.95

124 THE SETTLERS [illegible] Martin F. [illegible] A large (8½x12") picture [illegible] the West of the [illegible] to become great cities — in their daily activities and in the [illegible] $10.00 Sale $4.98

125. Sports Illustrated BOOK OF THE OUTDOORS. The most [illegible] ment of the natural world — pleasures and activities of field [illegible] water sailing and beach [illegible] $4.98

126 Portrait of a Queen — VICTORIA R., by Helmut [illegible] of this great and long lived [illegible] tions based on her personal [illegible] her private and public life [illegible] during and after her fairyland [illegible] to Prince Albert [illegible] Sale $4.98

127 THE PAST WE SHARE [illegible] Illustrated History [illegible] and American Peoples, ed. [illegible] ter Quennell and Alan Hodge. 611 [illegible] full color. A mighty adventure takes you on a wonderful and [illegible] filled exploration of our American heritage [illegible] from the bloody battle of [illegible] and the founding of the first [illegible] $5.95

128 THE HOLMES [illegible] extra-ordinary record [illegible] Pub. at $12[illegible]

129 LOWELL THOMAS' [illegible] CLOPEDIA OF [illegible] tural History and New York [illegible] pp. and 600,000 words [illegible] language and supplemented [illegible] Only $7.95

130 THE LIFE AND [illegible] THEODORE ROOSEVELT [illegible] War I. Every historical [illegible] from the Civil War [illegible] The Wright brothers [illegible] Mark Hanna [illegible] Woodrow Wilson and [illegible] great outdoorsman and [illegible] tionist — all come vio[illegible] bound. Pub. at $15.00 Sale $[illegible]

131 THE CONFEDERATE SOLDIER IN THE CIVIL WAR [illegible] by Ben La Bree [illegible] tos paintings and maps [illegible] tions of all the campaigns [illegible] and naval engagements [illegible] son, Beauregard, [illegible] Longstreet, etc. Plus political [illegible] bound. Pub. at $22.50. A lim[illegible] supply at $9.95

132 CALL OF THE ARCTIC [illegible] Charles Francis Hall [illegible] tury American explorer [illegible] ous discoveries and incred[illegible] ships. Pub. at $5.00 Sale $[illegible]

133. The Midwest [illegible] LAND THE LONG HORIZON, ed. [illegible] stirring panorama of our [illegible] civilization 300 years late[illegible] the social drama of a [illegible] regional sons, and modern [illegible] Indian captivities to [illegible] Pub. at $12.50 [illegible]

134. DE VALERA and the [illegible] of a Nation, by M. C. Bro[illegible] The fascinating life of [illegible] great Prime Minister [illegible] the Easter Rebellion, the [illegible] the Free State and the [illegible] of Eire. Illus. Pub. at $4.25. Sale [illegible]

Just Unpacked . . . Hundreds of New

Color Prints

Art Prints, Panels, Posters!

- ★ gallery-sized, ready for framing
- ★ many never available before
- ★ not $3 . . . not $5 . . . not $10, their original prices, but just

$1

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Florida's First Semi-Weekly College Newspaper

Vol. XLVIII, No. 49

Published By The Students Of Florida State University

Friday, May 11, 1962

Senate Approves $107,916 Budget

BY GAYLE MOTES
Flambeau Staff Writer

The $107,916 Student Activities Budget for 1962-63, tabled because of a lack of a quorum at three previous sessions, was finally approved by Student Senate, Wednesday.

When there appeared that a quorum no longer was present for the approval of the Budget, Sen. Gerry Dobson asked for a roll call. Since there were only 29 senators present there was no longer that quorum needed to vote on any legislation. Sen. Dobson then asserted that he was "sick of the hypocrisy of a Senate that doesn't show up to meet it's obligations. Senators are showing themselves to be lazy and allowing other things to interfere with their responsibilities as elected representatives of the Student Body," he added.

NO SPRING FORMAL

Main debate on the Senate floor on the budget concerned the allocation of any appropriations to the Graduate Class and to the Spring Formal.

Sen. Dobson stressed that it is necessary for the Graduate Class to have an alloted fee to carry on social functions next fall. Secretary of Finance Frank Milwee explained that no money could be appropriated to a class without a definite governing body.

With Senate objection to the elimination of a Spring Formal, Frank Milwee explained that it is not a well managed project, in that FSU is greatly lacking in tradition and that the Formal is one of the few traditions left.

Sen. Dobson accused FSU of lacking so much in tradition that it is becoming a diploma mill.

Sen. Fred Diulus then explained as a graduating senior he feels it extremely important to be able to look back upon a few traditions.

Sen. Schaffner offered two alternative suggestions. First, that a dance "could be given in cooperation with the Student Artist Series or second, that all the classes could get together and give a large dance in the Spring.

The Budget as approved by the Student Senate is:

Organization	Approved 1961-62	Request 1962-63	Approved 1962-63
Class of 1963	$ 200	$ 400	$ 200
Class of 1964	200	400	200
Class of 1965	200	400	200
Class of 1966		400	200
Cheerleaders	800	800	800
Flambeau	22 543	27 685	26 685
Gymnastics	1,800	2 600	2,500
Student Union	675	1,000	500
Men's Intramurals	3 675	5 205	3 675
Orchestra	900	1 425	1 000
Smoke Signals	4 285	4 337	4 285
International Club	280	385	300
Student Govt	8 100	7 370	7 370*
Student Travel	1 200	1,200	1 200
Tally Ho	30 395	29,985	29 500
University Singers	1,400	4 226	1 800
Varsity Dance	600	600	600
Women's Glee Club	500	1,000	800
Graduate Class	350	350	200
Band Reserve	2 233	5.000	3,281
Pow Wow	900	1,145	1,000
Women's Senate	800	970	970
Spring Formal	1 700	2,500	0
Student Artist Series	900	0	0
Drama Guild	600	800	700
Majorettes	100	611	250
Band Students	300	300	300
Gymkana	175	6,004	3,000
Athletic Funds	13,000	13.000	13 000
Cheerleaders		1,395	1,200
Joe Legend		1,270	1,000
Women's Intramurals	1,050	1,619	1 400
Totals	$99,600	$124,130	$107,316

*With $200 for Grad. Class
To Student Govt. Fund

A stipulation was made and placed at the end of the Budget allowing that to preserve a gmynastics team at FSU priority of $1,000 to $1,500 will be given to Gymkana if there are any excess funds.

There will be an additional session of Senate next Wednesday to consider all remaining business. Since several senators were elected to other governmental posts and installed Wednesday night there may be difficulty in obtaining a quorum at the session next week.

Student Body President, Van Assenderp

. . . receives oath of office from Chief Justice Walbolt, at the Student Government Banquet Wednesday night.

Killian Is Chosen Senator Of Year

Speech By Chalmer, Certificates Of Merit, Installation Of Officers Mark SG Banquet

BY BILL SMART
Flambeau Staff Writer

Senator Joyce Killian received the Outstanding Senator Award at the annual Student Government Installation banquet, Wednesday night.

The award was presented by President-elect Ken Van Assenderp as his last official act as student body vice president. In presenting Miss Killian with the trophy, Van Assenderp cited her for her outstanding contributions at Senate meetings and for her service as chairman and secretary of the Senate Organizations and Finance committee this year.

Dr. E Laurence Chalmers, assistant dean of the faculties, was the guest speaker for the Banquet.

Student Body President Bobby Byrd presented Certificates of appreciation to 15 students and faculty members for their outstanding contributions to FSU. Following this, out - going President Byrd made a last speech to the assembled student government workers and faculty. At the close of his speech out-going Secretary of the Student Union Doug Shank presented him with a gift as a small token of appreciation and gratitude from those with whom he worked during this past year.

Then followed the actual swearing - in of next year's officers. The oath of office was administered by Dan Walbolt, chief justice of the Honor Court this year. Walbolt administered the oath to all of next year's student Government officers who have been elected. Some offices will not be filled until the fall elections.

Dr. Chalmers, aimed his speech at both those now going into Student Government service and at those in Student Government who will be graduating this year.

To those who will be working in Student Government next year he urged for "an aggressive and cooperative student force . . . one which demands the respect of faculty and students alike."

He also urged that student leaders should not get discouraged when university or state administrative officials veto or appear to disregard their actions.

As an example, he mentioned that while the recent Senate resolution urging the Board of Control to release more money for teachers' salaries didn't have any immediate effect on the issue that it was quite successful from several other points of view. In addition to being a great aid to student - faculty relations, Dr. Chalmers said that its effects as an outcome of mature sound judgment on the part of students may still be felt when the Legislature meets — next year.

To the group of student leaders graduating this semester Dr. Chalmers pointed out the opportunities of continuing service to FSU in the areas of local and state government, of Federal service and of work in Alumni activities.

President Byrd thanked those who had worked with and helped him during his four years at FSU and challenged next year's student leaders to do well and to do more for FSU. In closing he issued a plea that next year's student leaders work closely with their advisors, with the faculty and with the administration, and gave his "wishes for an outstanding year and continued personal success" to all.

Those who received Certificates of Appreciation from Student Government were: Professor Richard Fallon, for his work in the Speech Dept., especially for his direction of 'The Last Days of Lincoln; Eddy Feely, for his contribution to FSU on the football field; Quentin Till and Jeff Clark, co - captains of the FSU track team, the "most winningest team in athletics" at FSU this year; Jeanette Byers, Jan Brantley, Joe Eien Eyester for being chosen to the Orange Bowl Court and Carol Hair, for representing their advisors, with the faculty senting FSU as Orange Bowl Queen; Bim Stults, for his services as FSU swimming coach and for his aid to Student Government toward getting a second pool for FSU; Bonnie Freedman, Steve Wheaton, Bob Houston and Claire Kemper, for representing FSU on the G. E. College Bowl; Dr. George A. Lensen, for his services as an exchange professor to Russia; and to Dr. Anna Forbes Liddell, for her outstanding service to FSU during the past 30 years.

Trimester Class Changes

The present class will be used during the first and second trimester with appropriate lengthening for the new system, the Faculty Senate and the Council of Deans have decided.

Third trimester classes will feature two different patterns, running simultaneously, to accommodate both students enrolled for the full session and those in the half-sessions.

FALL AND SPRING CLASSES

During the fall and spring MWF classes will be 55 minutes long, as opposed to the present 48, with 15 minutes between classes in contrast to the present 12.

Beginning at 8 p.m., the schedule will be: 8 to 8.55, 9:10 to 10:05, 10:20 to 11:15, etc. Daytime classes MWF will end with a 4:10 to 5:05 p.m. class. This is one less daytime class per day than is now taught.

Tuesday Thursday classes will be 85 minutes with no mid-class break. Present TTH classes are 75 minutes.

The twice-a-week class days will run: 8 to 9.25, 9:40 to 11:05, 11:20 to 12:45, etc., ending with a 4:20 to 5:45 p.m. class. This is the same number of TTH classes as taught now.

Night classes will be MW, 8.15 to 9.40 p.m., or TTH, 7 to 8 p.m., depending on the course.

SUMMER CLASSES

Students enrolled for the full Summer Trimester will still have 55 minute MWF classes and 85 minutes TTH classes, but they will have 25 minutes between their MWF classes and 15 minutes between the TTh classes.

Three-days-a-weeks sections will run: 8 to 8:55, 9:20 to 10:15, 10:40 to 11:35, etc., ending with a 4to 4.55 p.m. class. Full-term TTh classes will be: 7:40 to 9.05, 9:20 to 10:45, 11 to 12:25, etc., stopping with a class from 4:20 to 5.45 p.m.

All-summer night classes will be 8:15 to 9:40 p.m. on MW, or 7 to 8:25 p.m., TTh.

Half-term summer classes will meet five days a week for 65 minutes with 5 minutes between classes. This schedule, running simultaneously with the full-term pattern, will be: 8 to 9:05, 9:20 to 10:25, 10:40 to 11:45, etc., ending with a 4 to 5:05 p.m. class.

Night classes in the half-term will meet Monday through Thursday from 7:30 to 8:55 p.m.

No mid-class rest breaks have been scheduled since six 10-minute breaks during the day would eliminate an entire class, cutting down classroom utilization by almost one-sixth.

3 OTHER PROPOSALS

Although "theoretically" this gives "slightly greater" classroom utilization, the plan "did not meet with much popular support," according to Asst. Dean of the Faculties Werner Baum.

Another of the proposals would have had a class meet at 8 a.m. on Monday and Wednesday and at 9 a.m. on Tuesday. This was also rejected in favor of the plan described above.

This class pattern was chosen over several other plans, one of which was called the "L" plan. Under this system, one section would meet for two hours on Tuesday and one hour on Thursday, while another section would meet for one hour on Tuesday and two hours on Thursday.

Another trimester innovation passed by Faculty Senate is mandatory final examinations for all students, including graduating seniors who have customarily been exempted if they had a "B" average in the course.

This issue will be re-opened in Wednesday's Faculty Senate meeting as the professors decide whether the graduating seniors will be required to take exams early, as in the past, or at the same time as the rest of their class.

Correction:

Two issues ago The Flambeau erroneously announced that students expecting to graduate in June and December, 1962, should visit Mrs. Gilmer in the Registrar's office, Room 102B, and fill out appropriate cards. The notice should have read August and December, 1962.

Legislation Defeated By Women's Senate

A bill to prohibit men from visiting in the apartments of Florida State University coeds who live off campus was defeated unanimously, Tuesday, by Women's Senate.

The bill was introduced by Sen. Ginny Boyd. Prevailing sentiment in Women's Senate was that the bill was unnecessary.

Other legislation passed at the meeting include two bills to clarify the constitution of Freshman Flunkies and one bill to clarify the constitution of Sophomore Council. Another bill was passed which states that University Court during the summer will be composed of Women's Judiciary and the male members of the executive council.

Other bills were proposed to revise Knowledge for College. A bill was passed to limit the six week period with only limited light light privileges for freshmen to only two weeks under the trimester-system.

Another bill to change the word semester to trimester wherever it appears in Knowledge for College was defeated because the change of terminology might create complications at the present time.

House Meeting

All women students will report to the residence halls where they will be living next year at 10 p.m. Tuesday for house meetings and elections.

The only exception is that the undergraduate women who have been assigned to DeGraff Hall will meet in Longmire Auditorium.

Committee Elects Ten Seniors To FSU's Hall Of Fame

The selection of 10 seniors to the Florida State University Hall of Fame was announced today by Fuller Tresca, Junior Class president and chairman of the selection committee.

Those selected were Rena Ambrosini, Jack Ascherl, Mygnon Champion, Jan Dougherty, Gail Gillespie, Charles Hawkins, Scarlett Pogue, Carolyn Reeves, Nancie Sill and Susan Workizer.

Formal presentations of awards will be made May 19, at the Spring Formal.

Rena Ambrosini

Rena Ambrosini, vice president of Mortar Board, was social chairman and Panhellenic representative of Phi Mu, president of Reynolds Hall, secretary of Omicron Nu home economics honorary, a Junior Counselor and chairman of Faculty Luncheons for Religious Emphasis Week. She also is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, Garnet Key, Women's Judiciary, Phi Kappa Phi, Circus, Lutheran Student Assn., and Fashion, Inc., and was selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Jack Ascherl, president of his class for three years, has been steward, vice president and president of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity, president of Omicron Delta Kappa, vice president and president of Inter-Fraternity Council, chairman of the Spring Formal, Student Homecoming chairman and a member of Gold Key.

Mygnon Champion, women's vice president, received the outstanding senator award two years, and is president of Pi Sigma Alpha government honorary, and has been associate editor of the Summer Flambeau. She also is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, Garnet Key and Mortar Board and has been a Flambeau staff writer, a member of Freshman Flunkies and was selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Jan Dougherty has been president of Kappa Alpha Theta, president of Alpha Lambda Delta, president of Jennie Murphree Hall, President of Freshman Flunkies, vice president of Sigma Delta Pi Spanish honorary, secretary of Garnet Key, a Junior Counselor and chairman of Religious Emphasis Week. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board, Phi Kappa Phi, Sigma Tau Delta English honorary, was a member of Sophomore Council and Women's Judiciary, and was selected for Who's Who Among Students in Universities and Colleges.

Gail Gillespie, president of Pi Beta Phi, was vice president of Jennie Murphree Hall, vice president of Alpha Lambda Delta, vice president of Sophomore Council, treasurer of Garnet Key and a Junior Counselor. She is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board and Sigma Tau Delta English honorary, and was selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Charles Hawkins has been president of Sigma Nu social fraternity, chairman of Traffic Court, president of Gold Key, social chairman of Inter-Fraternity Council and a producer at WFSU-TV. He also is a member of Alpha Council, Omicron Delta Kappa and the men's glee club, and was selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Scarlett Pogue has been editor-in-chief, classes editor and assistant classes editor of the Tally Ho, house chairman and intramurals chairman of Chi Omega, an Honor Court justice, undersecretary of student welfare, secretary of inter-collegiate affairs, and a Junior Counselor. She is also a member of Mortified, Garnet Key, Off-Campus Court, Sophomore Council, Board of Publications and Speaker's Bureau, and was selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Carolyn Reeves, 1961 Homecoming Queen, was vice president and chaplain of Alpha Chi Omega, president of Sigma Alpha Iota music honorary, secretary of University Singers, song leader of Sophomore Council and representative to the Music Educators' National Conference. She was also a member of Garnet Key, Women's Glee Club, the Honor Committee, Legislative Committee and BSU.

Nancie Sill, president of Mortar Board, was vice president of Kappa Alpha Theta, secretary of elections, assistant editor of the Tally Ho and Pow Wow, secretary of Alpha Lambda Delta, vice president of Reynolds Hall, and a junior counselor. She has been a member of Garnet Key, Honor Bureau, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Sigma, Student Senate, Speaker's Bureau, the Curriculum Evaluation committee, and Westminster Fellowship and was selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Susan Workizer, president of Garnet Key, also was president of Alpha Gamma Delta, treasurer of Sophomore Council, treasurer of Freshmen Flunkies, under-secretary of intercollegiate affairs, and was on Women's Judiciary for two years. She is a member of Mortified, Honor Court and the Wesley Foundation, and was selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities Colleges.

Susan Workizer

Jack Ascherl

Mygnon Champion

Jan Dougherty

Gail Gillespie

Charles Hawkins

Scarlett Pogue

Carolyn Reeves

Nancie Sill

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members and the initials of the writer following the editorial.

The New Honor Court

The retiring Honor Court left behind them a gift of no little value to the newly elected court; within the last year much, perhaps most, of the usual complaints and bitter denunciations of the Honor Court have subsided to the point that it is barely, even rarely heard.

THE NEW COURT, in their first action since their election, gave evidence that they know how to and intend making use of the much improved prestige of Honor Court.

A willingness to listen to the defendants, to such witnesses as might come before the court, and a firm, but indulgent courtesy marks the new Honor Court as one which well may be remembered as a Court of distinction.

CHIEF JUSTICE McVOY has already exhibited a reservoir of patience and openness to those students who have placed themselves in positions that would bring them before the Honor Court. Apparently the Chief Justice, fortunately for the campus and the Honor Court, will take his job much more seriously than many elected Student Government officials do. We suspect that in the tradition of the outgoing Chief Justice Walbolt, McVoy will exercise discretion, understanding and a humane quality that understandably will go a long way in making offenders feel that they are not incorrigible, got their just punishment, and can serve their sentences with no grudges —a hangover effect often left by punishments not fair or just and which sometimes make second-time offenders.

We are pleased to think that the new Honor Court will serve well and creditably; more importantly, we feel they will base their judgments on an honest integrity, an ability to listen, and intelligent assessment of the facts in any case that comes before them.

LP

A Reverse Senate Race

WHAT, EXACTLY, is wrong with the duly elected Senators of the FSU student body? To be more pertinent, where are they? Certainly they are not in Senate on Wednesday afternoons unless the poor things have been trapped in one of our milk-run elevators, starved to death, and are attending Senate as unhappy shades.

THEY MIGHT be there in spirit; they certainly aren't in body. There haven't been enough bodies available on the floor of Senate lately to have the quorum necessary to the transacting of Senate functions. Maybe what we really need is a Senate race in reverse—an unelection.

LP

Comparatively Speaking

Conservatives Aware Of Doom

By ROBERT SANCHEZ

Those who see, or think they see, a conservative movement in the United States must have been slightly disillusioned by the course of recent events. The Tampa Tribune, for example, in an editorial entitled "Hardly a Conservative Trend" cites the victories this week of congressional candidates Pepper, Fascell and Fuqua as a repudiation of their more conservative opponents. Furthermore, teh Florida elections are but one indication of an anti-conservative trend.

IT HAS LONG BEEN obvious that the only reason the conservative elements in the United States have retained any semblance of political power is the fact that the cards have been stacked in their favor. For one thing it costs money to get elected to office ,and the conservatives have long had a huge financial advantage. With high-powered advertising added to the natural conservative bias of the press, the conservatives have had no problem in getting their cose before the public.

In spite of years of conservative brainwashing, however, the people have continued to show an overwhelming preference for moderate and liberal candidates. Whenever the people's will was permitted to prevail, conservatives have usually lost. But the people's will has often been thwarted by a distortion of the electoral system which has been an kept in the hands of rural conservatives. In state after state, the peoples at large have elected liberal governors. Meanwhile, thanks to malapportionment, legislatures have been kept in the hands of usural conservatives. These legislatures in turn apportion their states' representation in the U. S. House of Representatives. Thus, the conservatives in the House have had in recent years about a hundred votes to which they are not entitled. But the conservatives have recently been dealt a severe setback by the U. S. Supreme Court, which has ruled that the will of the people cannot be distorted by continued malapportionment. This may be the beginning of the end for the career opponents of progress, the conservatives.

AWARE OF THEIR IMPENDING doom the conservatives have begun to fight among themselves. They have been unable to deal with the right-wing extremists who have infiltrated their ranks. They have been unable to evolve a positive program, remaining essentially a negative group. They have been deserted by several of their leaders who for reasons of expediency now prefer to be called "moderates" rather than "conservatives." They now control neither party on the national scene. On college campuses throughout the Union, students have overwhelmed highly financed conservative attempts to attract new adherants to their outmoded philosophy. Plainly the conservatives in the United States are an ineffecutal, moribund group, a group, however, which could still become dangerous in its irresponsible desperation. As for now, the only thing which Goldwater, Buckley and his ilk are capable of achieving is publicity from a sympathetic press. Unfortunately for them, noise doesn't count on election day.

Not In The Bag!

By GERRY DOBSON

The race in the Ninth congressional district is shaping up to be a very interesting one, indeed. Although Don Fuqua came in first by quite a large margin in the first primary, many feel the second will be very close. The reason should be plain, both Hal Davis and Dexter Douglass were running as conservatives, and therefore most of the Douglass vote will probably go to Davis.

IN ADDITION, there is the slight matter of squaring Don Fuqua's voting record in the Florida House with his campaign platform. Don Fuqua, according to a study of his voting record made by a statewide conservative organization, voted, in 23 selected votes in the last four years, 100 per cent for states rights segregation and conservatism. It seems quite interesting that this is the voting record of the "moderate" Don Fuqua. It seems that the boy just looked around, saw that with Davis, Douglass and Ball all running as strong conservatives, that there was very little running room on the right, and therefore moved to the center of the track. Many voters will feel that this shows Fuqua to be much less a man of principle than a man of expediency, the typical politician type who puts his finger up to see which way the wind is blowing. There are many voters in the Ninth who will become aware of Fuqua's extremely conservative voting record as contrasted to his present platform and will prefer, whatever their political persuasion, a man of principle.

Then again, the candidates in the first primary took little time to explore the obvious weakness in Fuqua's big campaign cry, his "legislative experience." Davis is sure not to [illegible] it. The Florida Legislature meets every two years for exactly sixty days. So [illegible] "legislative experience" amounts to little more than four months as a legislator. [illegible] in agriculture, hardly a training ground for legislators.

THE CAMPAIGN, I feel, although I am not a political expert as is my colleague Bob Sanchez will become a rough, tough bitter struggle. And Fuqua by no means has it in the bag.

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '58
BEN C. SHARP—Editor

Leslie Powell, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor — Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Toni DiCarlo ..... Executive Assistant
Erik Collins ..... Asst. Managing Editor
Lana Murray ..... Asst. News Editor
Victor Comolli ..... Asst. Sports Editor
Spence Guerin, Julie Savage ..... Artists
Dianne Klinck ..... Business Manager
Fred Salgado ..... Circulation Mgr.
Emmette Jackson ..... Photo Editor
Photographers—Del Kittendorf, John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.

Columnists — Gerry Dobson, Bob Sanchez, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clark, Jim Smith, Carl Rosenbush, Karen Thornton, Joedy Smith, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens.

Feature Staff—Jocelyn Ward, Marsha Rooberts, Leslie McNevin, Pat Freeman.

Proof Staff— Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Mary Grossenbacher, Sharon Logan

News Staff—Jim Smith, Bobbie Shiplett, Maureen Perkins, Gayle Motes, Nancy Olsen, Sandra Dixon, Karen Pace, Merry Moorehouse, Jody Wilkis, Cookie Neubauer, Hope Pastor

Sports Staff—John Wood, Shirley Hardison

Julian Wilcox . . . Advertising Manager
Bill Love . . . Asst. Advertising Manager
Margo Duffe ..... Layout

Advertising Sales Staff: Dick Waterworth, Sue Hendrickson, Dwayne Atkins.

Associated College Press, Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave. New York 17, New York.

Published by Florida State University students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Distinguished Professor

How To Be Retired Without Retiring

To retire after thirty-nine years of students and classrooms would be a milestone in the life of any teacher. But for Florida State University Professor Anna Forbes Liddell, 1962 will be a year of milestones: not only does she retire next month after the aforementioned number of years as an instructor, but she hopes to complete this year a job she has been working at for thirty-two years.

BETWEEN STRENUOUS teaching duties, Dr. Liddell has completed a translation from the Latin of De Docta Ignorantia, by the German Philosopher-theologian, Nicholas of Cusa (1401-1464). She hopes to get the book ready for publication this year in English with the completion of an introduction.

Miss Liddell "discovered" the philosophy of Nicholas as an undergraduate at the University of North Carolina in 1917 and has subsequently studied it on three occasions in Germany. She began a translation of De Docta Ignorantia, Nicholas' principal book, in 1930. "I find it the most satisfying philosophy I have ever studied," she said.

IN GENERAL, SHE SAID, the German scholar, whose work marks a transition from the Middle Ages to Renaissance thinking, and who was a brilliant mathematician and scientist as well as philosopher-theologian, had a philosophy in which there is no conflict between science and theology but on the contrary holds that greater knowledge of the physical universe leads to greater knowledge of God.

Miss Liddell packs more energy, brains and enthusiasm into a small space than anyone on campus. A professor of philosophy and head of the Department of Philosophy and Religion from 1936 to 1951, she claims, by cheating an inch or two, to be four feet 11 inches tall. When she was declared Distinguished Professor of 1959 at FSU, a colleague said her case was proof positive of the passage in the Bible which says, "Which of you by taking thought can add a cubit to his stature?"

MISS LIDDELL NEVER added an inch, but she recalls with a chuckle how Dean W. G. Dodd added a complete foot to her height when looking over her papers before hiring her to teach at Florida State College For Women in 1926.

Dr. Dodd, then dean of arts and sciences, had read her papers as saying she was five feet 11 inches tall and weighed 95 pounds. He confided later that he had misgivings about hiring such a string bean at FSCW but had given weight to her other qualifications. These included a Ph.D. degree in philosophy —the first ever given by the University of North Carolina. She was also the first woman at UNC to come up for a doctoral exam.

A FAVORITE WITH faculty and students alike, tiny Miss Liddell has a knack for getting across big ideas in down-to-earth language and with a world of enthusiasm. She, therefore, was drafted for one of FSU's first television teaching chores and taught via TV for two years.

She likes teaching and considers herself as "being retired" from it, having reached the retirement age of 70, rather than "retiring." Yet if anyone had asked her in the early twenties she would have said her ambition was research and not teaching.

EVEN BEFORE THIS, creative writing and journalism were her interests. Between 1909 and 1920, while holding down various office jobs and going to college, she free-lanced for magazines and newspapers including the The New York Evening Post. Around 1920, one of her fairy stories, The Adventures of Arabella and Wiggly Wumps, appeared serially in Holland's Magazine. During this period she was also active in the woman's suffrage movement, serving as organizing president of the first Equal Suffrage League in North Carolina.

A native of Charlotte, Miss Liddell's undergraduate work was taken at various times in Presbyterian College (now Queens), Columbia, University of Tennessee and University of North Carolina, where she obtained her bachelor's degree in 1918.

SHE TAUGHT HIGH school English two years at Salisbury, then took a fellowship for graduate work in the Sage School of Philosophy at Cornell. Returning to North Carolina for her doctoral program, Miss Liddell got her Ph.D. in 1924 after a research study entitled Alexander's Space, Time and Deity. She came to FSCW after teaching briefly at Chowan College.

It was during her stay at Cornell that Miss Liddell began searching libraries for everything which had been written by or about Nicholas of Cusa. However, not even the Library of Congress contained the most important work, De Docta Ignorantia. (Instructed [illegible]

In 1930, having been able to [illegible] for a summer at Heidelberg University, Miss Liddell was able to study the complete [illegible] returned to Heidelberg in 1931 and in 1951, studying with the foremost authority on Nicholas, the late Professor Ernst Hoffmann.

Dr. Liddell says Nicholas was far in advance of his time. After his death his work was considered unorthodox by some and for this reason she [illegible] included in the Vatican [illegible] most of it unprinted, for a century or so.

HIS WORK, THEREFORE is not extensively known in Europe and is almost unknown in this country. She feels this unfortunate because she believes Nicholas has something quite important to say to present day readers, including students of philosophy and especially undergraduate students.

She has read papers on various phases of Nicholas' philosophy at meetings of the Southern Society for Philosophy and Religion and of the Southern Society for Philosophy and Psychology (She's served as president of both organizations) and at the International Congresses of Philosophy at Brussels in 1953 and Venice in 1958.

In addition to appearing on the programs at these two international congresses, Miss Liddell has attended others at Oxford (1930), Copenhagen (1932), Prague (1934), and Amsterdam (1948). She has traveled in England, Scotland, France, Belgium, Ireland, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, Denmark, Czechoslovakia, Holland, Norway, Sweden, Luxemburg, along with Quebec, Montreal and most of the states this side of the Atlantic.

THIS SUMMER she intends indulging her fondness for travel again. In July, she and her sister, Mrs. Dexter B. McBride of Charlotte, and a friend, Miss Dorothy Davison, of Tallahassee will board a ship at Port Everglades for a three month tour through Southern England, the Channel Islands, the west of France and the Balearic Islands off the Spanish coast.

Either before then or afterward, she's hoping to complete her work on the 500-year-old book by her favorite philosopher.

Dr. Anna Forbes Liddell

Letters

How Can He

TO THE EDITOR:

Would somebody please tell me why, if Joe Torre is smart enough to be a father, he writes those stupid letters to the editor?

LYNN IVORY

Be So Smart?

DEAR JOE TORRE:

Will someone please explain to me how you can be smart enough to be in college and still wrtue such asinine letters?

C. LEONARD HIMES

That Track Meet! Who's Freedom?

TO THE EDITOR:

This is in reply to FSU's own embarrassed segregationist, Bradley Munroe, who would have had a difficult time of explaining to his fellow jaundiced companions in anti-Americanism the "why" and "how" of the supposed integrated track meet.

He speaks of freedom, but does he know the real meaning of freedom. His is a narrowminded freedom — freedom for himself at the expense of others.

Why can not we of Florida State Universities also express our openmindedness by allowing such small steps forward (such as the track meet) to take place and thereby advance the prestige of our nation, state and university!

TOM DILLIN
BEN MIYANAGA
TOM TICHENOR
PHILIP E. PACKARD

Where Credit Is Due

TO THE EDITOR:

In Tuesday's Flambeau an article about Circus Weekend Awards stated that Coach Jack Haskins received a student government award and an award from Gov. Farris Bryant for his outstanding contribution to the State of Florida and the FSU student body.

This needs some correcting — all the aerial acts and many stage acts in the show received this award also.

The entire troupe was awarded the citation from Gov. Bryant for its outstanding contribution to Florida and our student body.

Let's give credit where credit is due.

ROD PARRISH

Do You Exist?

DEAR MR. MUNROE:

Your letter protesting the petition supporting the invitation of Florida A&M University to the recent track meet was extremely illogical.

First of all, you accused the Flambeau of violating your "freedom of the press" by using "non-existing" signatures to bolster the petition. If a person's existence depends upon his name appearing in the Student Directory, as you concluded, and since your name does not appear in the directory, how can you account for your existence?

As one of the originators of the first petition, let me assure you that all of the signatures were valid. Furthermore, we made a conscientious effort to obtain a well-rounded representation.

JIM De GROODT

Even In The Big Bend

TO THE EDITOR:

In a letter to the editor in Tuesday's Flambeau, one of our Gadsden County boys expressed his views on freedom of the press, Yankees, and integrated track meets. His letter was interesting, but it leaves much to be desired.

Not every North Floridian shares Bradley Munroe's views on integration. On the contrary, some of us (who have grown up in the same area and have worked with the same A&M students) feel very strongly about the unfair treatment of Negroes in our home towns. Because we realize the complexity of the racial problem in this area, we favor any effort to sponsor understanding between the races. Perhaps an integrated track meet would be one opportunity for FSU students to get acquainted with students at A&M. Such cooperative events, involving interaction between the two universities, may help to ease the tension when integration does come, as it inevitably will — even in the Big Bend.

MARGARET WEATHERLY
DIANNE HALL

Soonest

TO THE EDITOR:

When and if Hume ever grows up, I hope he gets to "Big" Washington — and takes his inane column with him. The sooner the better.

DOUG SMITH

Little Washington

Have You Heard?

By HUME

Our "hat" is off to Linda Hoffman. Seldom have we seen so many original campaign ideas and techniques in the Spring Campaigns . . . much less so many from a single candidate. Pastel posters and FLORIDA STATE "stickers" seemed to be everywhere. Everyplace legal that is.

HAVE YOU HEARD about the "600?" Well this is a new group on campus composed of (in alphabetical order), Messrs. Gibbs, Grant, Greenwood, Haney, Ried, and Thigpen. Word has it that no meetings have been called, nor has a constitution been drawn, but all seem to have the same purpose in mind.

Attention Student Government. A certain Miss Maxwell of ZTA would make a top flight Under-Secretary. Any openings?

DEAR MR. WILES: Re: your letter of Tuesday, May 8 to the Flambeau . . . we do not agree. Instead, we suggest that our newly born two party system will die only if WE let it die. It is true that the master politicians must become efficient and effective administrators to attain this success . . . we believe this can be done.

With the passage of Messrs. R. Byrd, J. Ascherl, D. Walbolt, D. Shank, T. Schultz and M. Clark this past Wednesday, we have seen the end of a political and administrative era. Many of these men were groomed by the "old time" political kings of F.S.U. To each of them we send our sincere thanks for a job well done. May our emerging leaders wear your "mantle" with the pride of leadership that each of you has given to it.

AN ANNUAL BROADWAY production of years past, entitled NEW FACES, brought many stars to the American stage and screen. Exposure seemed to be the key to young talent in those days of ole. Again this week we draw your attention to new talent . . . again we expose. This time twice over. The LW Men of the Week are Curry Bassett and Mike Wigelius. WATCH THEM.

In the tradition of KVA, Vice President Johnny Smith has stated that Senate Committee appointments will be withheld until our September Senators are elected. This seems both logical and fair, Mr. Smith . . . our compliments.

IN AN INTERVIEW on Tuesday, May 8th, the now past Student Body President Bobby Byrd answered the following questions:

WHO is Student Government?: "A pressure group in an administrative position that often means more to the university administration than it does to the students."

WHAT is Student Government?: "A proving ground for many of the best students at our university. Also, it is an area of university life where one may improve his character . . . or lose it."

WHERE is S.G. going?: "Toward a difficult transition in the rimester that will require strong leadership. Student Government can and must attain this without any outside interference."

"If Theah's Anythin' Ah Like, It's A Good Joke"

Tickets For Butterfly Auailable Monday

By KAREN PACE
Flambeau Staff Writer

Tickets for Madame Butterfly, to be presented by the Opera Guild May 18 and 19 will go on sale Monday at Westcott Ticket Office.

Tickets are $2 for non-students and $1.50 for students. All seats will be reserved.

Performances will be at 8:15 p. m. in Westcott Auditorium on both nights.

Madame Butterfly is a two-act opera. The first act opens on a Japanese villa where Lieutenant Pinkerton, U.S.N., finds out he will be stationed in Nagasaki for 999 months and desires to contract a Japanese marriage. The marriage broker, who transacts the business, assures him that the marriage will only be binding so long as he consents to live with his wife, and that afterwards she can marry again.

Cho-Cho-San, the girl who agrees to marry the lieutenant, has fallen deeply in love with him and believes she is entering into a life contract. She even renounces her religion, which severs all connection with her own people.

CURSES BUTTERFLY

The American consul, Sharpless, tries to prevent the match by telling his friend Pinkerton how serious the girl considers it. As the wedding party is seated at the feast, a fanatical bonze, or priest, an uncle of hers, appears and heaps curses upon her for renouncing her faith.

Thereupon, all her relatives desert her, but Cho-Cho-San, though sorrowful, clings to her husband, and he soons calms her fears. The scene closes in mutual protestations of love.

Act two, scene one takes place in the Villa three years later. After a short but blissful wedded life, Lieutenant Pinkerton has been recalled to America. He leaves Cho-Cho-San, who is now called "Madame Butterfly," in Japan, promising to return. She trusts him implicitly, but Suzuki, her maid, is far from having the same confidence.

RETURNS WITH WIFE

After several months of silence, the battleship on which Pinkerton serves is again ordered to Japan. The officer writes Sharpless a letter saying that he will return with an American wife, and asks that the consul break this news to Madame Butterfly.

Sharpless gives the letter to Madame Butterfly, but she is so overjoyed at seeing a letter from him that she pays no attention to its message. She also refuses to accept a match between a Japanese nobleman and herself even though Pinkerton's letter is equivalent to a divorce.

The sound of a cannon announces the warship's arrival. Excited, Butterfly and her maid decorate the house with flowers to honor the expected arrival of its lord. The evening drags by and the maid and child fall asleep, but the housewife waits and watches without closing her eyes.

The second scene opens the next day.

Madame Butterfly has watched and listened all night, and now the morning has arrived without bringing her husband Suzuki awakes and persuades her to lie down and rest. She does so in order to look well when he arrives.

After she has retired, the consul arrives with Pinkerton and his American wife. When Pinkerton hears from Suzuki of Butterfly's devotion and trust, he is overcome with remorse and cannot remain to face the deserted bride. Suzuki is commissioned to tell her that Mrs. Pinkerton will care for the child, but Butterfly, entering at this moment, hears it from the American lady's own lips.

COMMITS SUICIDE

Butterfly retains her composure with great effort, congratulates Mrs. Pinkerton politely and says that if they will return in half an hour, they may have the child.

When the Americans return at the specified time, they find that Madame Butterfly has slain herself with her father's sword, on which is inscribed: "Die with honor, when you can no longer live with honor."

Planning For The Music And Dance Program
. . . are Tom Hall, violin; Robert Sedore, Symphony Director; Elda Franklin, viola; Nellie-Bond Dickinson, Dance Director; and Annette Williams, student dancer.

Faculty Notes

Foreign Ports Beckon

Mrs. Olive H. Cross of the Florida State University English Dept., has been awarded a State Dept. grant to serve a year's lectureship at the University of Saigon, South Viet Nam.

Mrs. Cross will be one of two visiting professors of English at the university attended by some 10,000 Vietnamese students. These students are, said Mrs. Cross, being trained to teach English in the schools of Viet Nam, work in government offices, foreign service, banks and other businesses.

After three days' briefing in Washington, Mrs. Cross will fly to Saigon on Aug. 3, and will begin her teaching duties on Aug. 7.

She previously served as lecturer for two years at the University of Damascus under the State Dept. educational program. She held a Smith - Mundt grant from 1959 - 60, and the following year taught under a Fulbright.

The first woman to be professor on the faculty of a Syrian university, Mrs. Cross received in 1961 a citation from the University of Damascus and the American Consulate General of Damascus for "distinguished service."

Born in Conyers, Ga., Mrs. Cross is a graduate of Agnes Scott College. She holds the M.A. degree in English and sociology from Columbia University, and has done graduate study at Harvard and the University of Southern California. She joined the FSU faculty in 1939.

• • •

Three members of the Modern Languages Dept. will go abroad this summer.

Dr. Margaret Campbell will spend the summer in Chile; Dr. Victor R. B. Ogelsby will do research in Spain, and Dr. Azzurra B. Givens will spend the summer in Italy.

The three professors expect to combine research and vacation as they visit other nations.

• • •

Dr. Weymouth T. Jordan, head of the History Dept., has been elected president of the Agricultural History Society.

He was elected at the annual meeting of the international organization in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical Assn.

Dr. Jordan is a member of the editorial board of the society's quarterly publication, Agricultural History, which carries articles on world agricultural history.

The author of several books and numerous articles on American agricultural history, Dr. Jordan has worked many years in the field. His book Hugh Davis and his Alabama Plantation was a 1948 selection by the History Book Club.

In 1957 - 58 he held a Guggenheim Fellowship to study scientific agriculture in the Old South. At present he is preparing a study of French travelers' accounts of American agriculture, 1820 - 1860.

• • •

Dr. Howard Borsuk of the Social Welfare Dept. and Dr. John Anderson of the Psychology Dept. will be hosts to a new educational television series built around the social and emotional problems encountered by students.

The series, titled Insight, may be seen on Wednesday nights at 8 p. m., WFSU-TV. Case studies are dramatized, with conclusions made as to what possible courses the student could take to resolve his problem.

• • •

Dr. Seymour Hess, head of the Meteorology Dept. and professor in the Institute for Space Biosciences, has been invited to be among 30 scientists who will evaluate the quality and scope of the United States space science program in a summer study, June 18 to Aug. 10.

Dr. James Van Allen of State University of Iowa will serve as general chairman of the space summer study at Iowa City. Goals will be an examination of the scope, quality and objectives of both the current and future space science program, and a report to provide a guide for national activities in space science for the next few years.

The seven - week study was planned by the Space Science Board of the National Academy of Sciences, in response to a request from James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Research Is Undertaken

A research project investigating values and their relationship to marital relationships is being started at Florida State under the direction of Dr. F. Ivan Nye, professor of sociology.

The first phase of the project is a preliminary study involving the random sampling of college couples living in the Alumni Village and trailer parks in Tallahassee.

The data will be coded and processed at the Institute of Social Research and will act as the basis for the second part of the project which will involve a more detailed investigation of value discrepancy and marital adjustment.

Music Box

Music-Dancers Combine Talent

By KAREN PACE
Flambeau Staff Writer

Two popular organizations on the Florida State University campus, Theatre Dance and University Symphony, will combine their talents in a spring concert tonight.

The program, last of the current season for both groups, will be in Westcott Auditorium at 8:15 p. m.

Conductor Robert Sedore and the orchestra will open the program with Johannes Brahms' First Symphony. The musicians will then move to the orchestra pit as the dancers take the stage.

The dancers, under the direction of Nellie-Bond Dickinson, will perform a four - scene dance drama Orpheus and Euridice, to ballet music from the Gluck opera played by the orchestra.

The dance - drama was choreographed by Miss Dickinson especially for presentation at Theatre Dance's annual "Evening of Dance" and the costuming will be the same. Scenes take place at the tomb of Euridice, entrance to the underworld and the smoldering home of the Furies, the Elysian fields and on earth where the dance is in celebration to Amor, the God of Love, for granting life to Euridice.

A new dance to Enesco's "Rumanian Rhapsody No. 1" will end the program. The gay, colorful number will be danced by all the members of the dance group. Costuming is by Miss Dickinson.

Members of Theatre Dance participating in the program are: Barbara Gleason, Mary Ann Middleton, Jodi Manni, Robin Leeger, Holly Chapman, Sandra Myrick, Fairfax Smathers, Marsha Jones, Caroline Magee, Migon Trice, Chris Christman, Lin Pollard, Eda Steltz and Lynn Raymond.

This program is the sixth joint appearance in the past 15 years for Theatre Dance and University Symphony.

Coffee Concert

On the last Coffee Concert of the 1961 - 62 school year, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity will present the Collegium Musicum, directed by Dr. Lewis Pankaskie, performing the Vesperae Solennes de Confessore by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart and the "Clarinet Quintet" of Johannes Brahms with the Faculty String Quartet and Harry Schmidt, clarinetist. The concert will be at 4 p. m. Sunday in the Longmire Large Lounge.

The purpose of Collegium Musicum, a non - credit choral organization of the School of Music, is to rehearse and perform little - known choral compositions.

Graduate Recital

Ronald Hill, a graduate student specializing in sacred music, will present an organ recital Monday evening in Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 p. m.

Hill is a graduate of Baylor University. He has given organ recitals at Vanderbilt University and at Hopkinsville, Kentucky, and has served as organist at the First Baptist Church of Glasgow, Ky., First Christian Church of Waco, Texas, and the Christian Scientist Church of Tallahassee.

A student of Ramona Beard, he will include on his program Bach's "Toccata, Adagio and Fugue in C Major," a selection from "Suite Breve" by Jean Langlais and "Litanies" by Jehan Alain.

FOR RENT
Two bedroom house trailer completely furnished, including washing machine. Located on private lot. Call 224-5181. After 5 pm 224-7459.

PONCE de LEON MOTEL
1801 W. Tenn.
Resting Place For University Guests.
Phone 224-4950

Why Carry Those Winter Clothes Home?

FREE! Storage Moth-Proofing Mildew-Proofing

Quality Cleaner's

DIAL 222-5097 215 W. College

For Better Health, Improve Circulation by Massage

Headache—Sore Muscles—Tension

- Swedish Massage
- Slenderizing
- Exercise

"Add Years to Your Life and Life to Your Years"

DRAKE'S MASSAGE STUDIO

For Men and Women — Hotel Duval Phone 222-5364

FOR BRAVE MEN ONLY

Every year a stout band of brave young men march off to the jeweler to buy the engagement ring—unaided. We at Artcarved, makers of the world's most treasured rings for over a hundred years, salute them.

More to the point, we help them. Here's how.

IN STYLES. Styles in engagement rings change over the years. To keep you abreast of the best, Artcarved quizzes College Queens (like the one above) from all over the country. You'll find their choices at your Artcarved jeweler.

IN VALUE. Unless you're majoring in diamonds, your chances of discerning the true value of any particular diamond are small indeed. To safeguard your investment, Artcarved gives you a written guarantee of your diamond's true value, a guarantee that is respected and recognized by leading jewelers everywhere, and backed by a 110-year reputation for quality.

So, go on and buy the ring yourself. She'll love you for it—especially when it's an Artcarved.

Artcarved
DIAMOND AND WEDDING RINGS

Two of the lovely designs chosen by America's College Queens. From $100.

Your authorized Artcarved Jeweler

Get your National College Queen Contest entry for yourself or your candidate at:

W. C. VASON JEWELERS
124 E. Pensacola St.
Tallahassee • Phone: 222-3603

Lanz

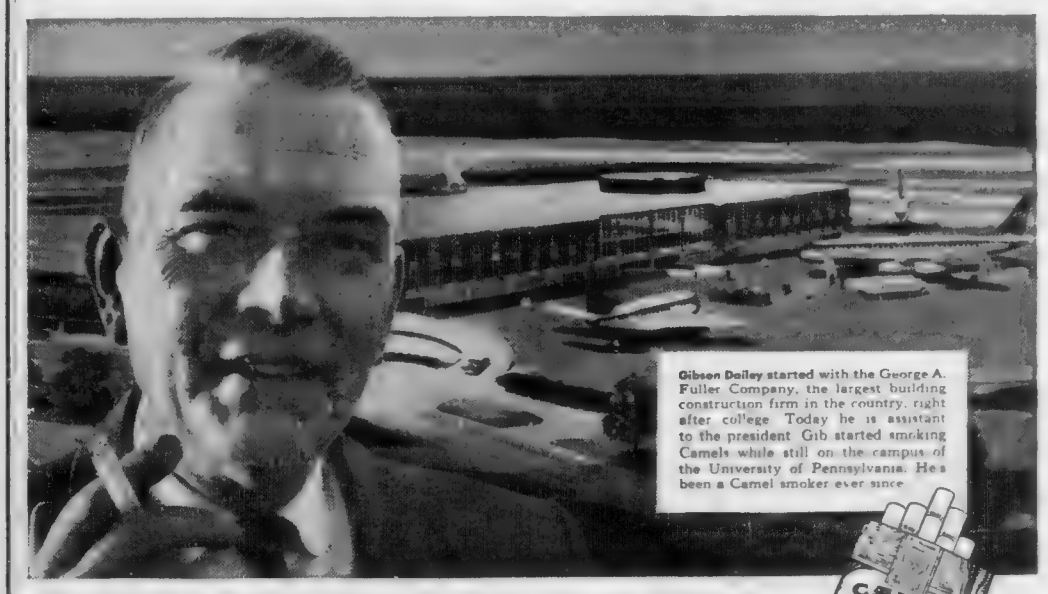
A new slant on an old favorite—a classic eased sheath with angled bodice seams punctuated with piping. A Lanz Original floral print on all cotton in pink or blue with white print; or black print on white. 5 to 15. 25.95

Gibbs French Shoppe

Career Cues:

"An interest in student activities can pay you dividends later on!"

Gibson F. Dailey, Asst. to the President
George A. Fuller Company



"Extracurricular activities never really interested me... architecture and construction always did. It's a paradox, though, because as it turned out student activities gave me a big jump on my career in construction.

"Studies educated me. But college activities provided the confidence I needed to approach the business world. Looking back, it was these activities that really gave me my first knowledge of people, administration, leadership.

"Working for the college newspaper, fun magazine, and engineering bulletin taught me writing—a gift I use today in the promotion and getting of new business. Student Council brought the chance to work with other men—a daily occurrence now. Penn's theatrical group and engineering shows helped me relax in front of an audience then—and help me find my voice when I'm talking to large groups now.

"True, today's heavy college curriculum doesn't allow much time for activities. There wasn't much time for them in my day either. I burned a lot of midnight oil on architectural studies, but difficult as they were I still found time for student activities.—I'm mighty happy that I did.

"If you have time during the rest of your years in school to take an interest in activities—do it! It's certain to pay big dividends in an inspiring future in the business of your choice."

Gibson Dailey started with the George A. Fuller Company, the largest building construction firm in the country, right after college. Today he is assistant to the president. Gib started smoking Camels while still on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania. He's been a Camel smoker ever since.

Smoking more now but enjoying it less?...change to Camel!

Have a real cigarette—Camel

THE BEST TOBACCO MAKES THE BEST SMOKE

Fraternity Conclave

The Florida State University chapter of Phi Kappa Tau social fraternity will be the host chapter for this year's Southern Domain Conference. Chapters in Florida, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi will be represented at the conference, the purpose of which is to allow the members of the various chapters to exchange ideas, discuss problems and acquire information which will make each chapter stronger.

Activities include an informal get-acquainted party tonight at 7 p.m. and a breakfast tomorrow morning at 8 a.m. followed by an introductory meeting.

Finance, leadership, rush and pledge training seminars will be held at 9 a.m. tomorrow followed by a buffet lunch at 11:30. A general meeting will be held in the afternoon at which topics such as scholarship, social activities, alumni relations, attendance of fraternity functions, pre-initiation procedures and house operation and maintenance will be discussed. National representative Michael Raleigh will speak at the end of this session

At 3 p.m. there will be an achievement contest at which the outstanding chapter in the domain will be chosen. Bill Daniel, local attorney, will be the guest speaker at dinner. A Shipwreck combo party featuring the Five Knights from Jacksonville will be from 8 p.m. to midnight tomorrow night.

The conference will officially end Sunday morning after coffee and doughnuts are served.

Lost

A Ladies Home Journal and its binder were removed from Longmire Student Lounge three weeks ago.

Longmire Administration asks that the magazine be returned to the Student Lounge magazine rack as soon as possible.

Joyce Killian Receives Award

. . . as outstanding senator from President Ken Van Assenderp, at the Student Government Banquet Wednesday night.

All Around Campus

Doctoral Exemption Tests Administered Tomorrow

The Graduate School will administer the experimental tests in French and German for doctoral students tomorrow at 9 a.m. in 124 Science Bldg. This testing program will be under the supervision of Dr. Joseph Conrad of the Modern Language Dept.

All graduate students who expect to take the exemption examination in French or German on May 19 should take this warm-up examination tomorrow. The Graduate School is interested in comparing the results obtained by FSU graduate students with graduate students at other institutions.

ALPHA KAPPA DELTA

Alpha Kappa Delta sociology honorary will have its annual Founder's Day picnic and barbecue at the Reservation tomorrow from 1 to 7 p.m.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

The new sweetheart of AKPsi is Mrs. Roy Brand. Members of the court are Betty Sue Montes, Carol Smith, Hope Meyers, Mrs. Leon Newton and Mrs. Billye Wilcox. New officers of AKPsi are president, Joe Berchey; vice president, Jim Kuntz; treasurer, Ron Brooks; secretary, Billy Wolcox and master of rituals, Jerry Gandy.

ANGEL FLIGHT

New members of Angel Flight are Betsy Boote, Jerry Brooks, Christine Brown, Colleen Brown, Susan Cawthon, Charlotte Christopher, Pat Cook, Anita Donaldson, Chris Doyle, Betty Ann Eastridge, Frances Hackler, Ley Hulsey, Alice Marshall, Gayle Mathias, Betty Lynn Nelson, Kay Rastatt, Diane Short, Claire Stanton, Sandy Storrar, Terry Tucker and Cathy Young. Sherrill Williams was made an honorary member for her outstanding service.

COUNCIL FOR EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN

The CEC banquet will be held at the Silver Slipper Thursday with Dr. Gates of the Social Welfare Dept. as featured speaker. All members are urged to attend. Presently CEC members are working on "Project: Information" by which they hope to inform Florida of the Exceptional Child program

HOME ECONOMICS

The annual Home Economics banquet will be held Wednesday in the South Seminole Club at 7 p.m. Tickets may be obtained for $2 from members of the Home Economic Club, Fashion Incorporated 4-H Club and Omicron Nu

PERSHING RIFLES

New officers of Company M-6, Pershing Rifles, are commander George D. Shea; executive officer, Michael Odum; S-1, Albert [illegible]; S-2, James de Groodt; S-3, Paul Roberts; S-4, Michael Staff, and pledge trainer, Russ Blumenthal. Warrent officers are Al Shaw, assistant S-1; [illegible] assistant S-2, Mervin Fant assistant S-3, Walter [illegible] assistant S-4 and K. D. Duncan first sergeant

SOPHOMORE COUNCIL

New officers of Sophomore Council are president, Lynne Ledgers; vice president, Ellen Davis; secretary, Donna Branson; treasurer, Marsha Lynn, and song leader, Lillian Amos.

STUDENT NURSE WEEK

May 6-12 has been proclaimed as Student Nurse Week by Gov. Bryant. Kathy Phillips has been elected to represent FSU in the contest for Miss Student Nurse of the Year in Florida which will be held at the annual convention in Miami in October

Grecian Columns

Spring Fling Is Held At Womens Club Tomorrow

By FLO NEILSON

Tomorrow night the traditional Sigma Alpha Epsilon - Sigma Chi Spring Fling will be held at the Tallahassee Women's Club from 8 p.m. to midnight. Music will be provided by the Stags.

The annual event, which will bring to a close the major social activities for both fraternities, was started when the two fraternities were in their infancy on this campus. It was designed to bring the SAE's and Sigma Chi's closer together.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Tonight the Alpha Chi's will hold their Carnation Ball at the Floridan Hotel. Music will be provided by the Chaotics. Last year's Favorite Guy, Bob Abstem, will announce the couples as they come through the arch. Favorite Guy for this year will be named. Tomorrow the chapter will spend the day at Panama City, returning to the house for a Pirate Party. Music will be provided by the Ramblers.Sunday the Alpha Chi's will go to church together and return to the house for a buffet dinner.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Next Tuesday afternoon the ADPi's will entertain with their annual Founders Day Tea celebrating their 111th birthday. The best pledge, named every two weeks, is Harriet Holms.

ALPHA PHI

Tomorrow the Alpha Phi's are holding a work party to plan for next years activities

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

ATO's will start their week-end tonight with a semi-formal dance featuring the Five Knights and the Royal Impalas Tomorrow the Tau's will move to the coast and climax the week-end with a surfside dance New pledges are Bob Solomon and David Hyde.

ALPHA XI DELTA

The Alpha Xi's are having a dessert party with the Sigma Chi's next Thursday. This week-end the following girls are going to New Orleans to assist in the installation of Delta Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Xi Joycelyn Ward, Dottie Rodabaugh, Donna Shaw, Penny George, Barbara Guidos and Carol Nelson

CHI OMEGA

The Chi Omega executive council will be honored by the Tallahassee alumnae at a dinner party Sunday at the home of Mrs. Hazel Richards.

DELTA CHI

Ollie Geeting was recently elected vice president and Dick Ross was elected corresponding secretary. The new pledge officers are president, Fonzy Huston vice president Jose Espeso secretary - treasurer, John Woodruff, and sergeant at arms, Dave DeLones.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Betsy Boote is best active of the week and Carol Cubbedge is best pledge.

DELTA GAMMA

The DG's will begin their week-end tonight with a banquet at the Duval Hotel and the annual Anchor - Cotillion Formal immediately following at the house. The trophy will be awarded to the new anchor man for 1962-63 at this time. Tomorrow a beach party - combo party will be held at Dog Island

DELTA TAU DELTA

Tonight is the beginning of Delt weekend. A formal Rainbow Ball is scheduled at the Tallahassee Women's Club The Untouchables will be featured. Tomorrow the Delt's will have a sailing party and picnic at Mystic Lake followed by a Sayonara costume party at the house Recording artist Johnny Jenkins backed by the Pinetoppers and Otis Reading will be featured. New Delt pledges are Wallace Cooley and Bill Ward.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Tonight the Gamma Phi's begin their week-end with a banquet and formal dance at the Country Club. Tomorrow they will spend the day at the coast and return to the house for a Roaring 20's party. Sunday a brunch will be served at the house after which the girls and their dates will attend church

KAPPA ALPHA

The Kappa Alpha Rose for 1962-63 is Carolyn Cairnes. Members of the court are Sally Doughty Carolyn Duyck, Linda Sandy Hancock. Awards have Duyck, Mary Lou Hutto and recently been presented to the members of last semesters pledge class. Receiving awards were Walter Smith, Scholarship Trophy; Mike Muley, most deserving pledge, and Bill Greenwood, most outstanding pledge. Eddie Collier is a new pledge

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

The Kappa's will be the guests of the Pi Phi's next Wednesday night at a dessert social. Monday night the Kappa's will have their rush workshop.

KAPPA SIGMA

Officers for the fall trimester are Gary Southworth, president; John Dame, vice president; Wayne Futchey, grand master of ceremonies; Carl Alcorns, treasurer; Bill Godley, secretary, and Bill Slaughter, guard.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

A formal dance at Wakulla Lodge tonight marks the beginning of the Lambda Chi weekend. Tomorrow afternoon there will be a picnic and waterskiing at Lake Talquin, followed by an Egyptian party at the house with music by Big John and the Untouchables. Sunday the brothers and their dates will go to Panama City for a barbecue.

PHI KAPPA TAU

Liz Coon is the new Phi Tau Dream Girl. Gail Mudie and Nicki Parson served on the queen's court. Dave Elinor is the new Phi Tau pledge.

PI KAPPA PHI

New officers are president, Ron Boersma, treasurer, Phil Irvine; secretary, Ken Loppincott; warden, Truman Troutner; historian, Ralph Archbald; chaplain, Henry Land. Sunday the Pi Kap's will honor their graduating seniors at a special dinner at the house. Guest speaker will be C. T. Henderson.

SIGMA KAPPA

Best pledge of the week is Claire Lewis. Sunday the Sigma Kappas will initiate their [illegible] initiation the Sigma Kappa's will mother, Mrs. J. Cosper. After attend a banquet in her honor at the Duval. A reception will be held from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Sunday for Mrs. Cooper.

SIGMA NU

The annual White Star weekend begins tonight with a Playboy Party featuring Willie and the Jay Notes. Brothers and their dates will go to the beach tomorrow and will return [illegible] six p.m. for a buffet [illegible] Richard Zipperer, [illegible] and Jim Fisher [illegible] pointed to the executive [illegible]

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

Anne Jordan is the best pledge of the week

TAU EPSILON PHI

Tonight the TEP's will have a Pagan Rites of Spring [illegible] party at the house featuring [illegible] Spiders Tomorrow [illegible] the day at the coast and [illegible] night will have the [illegible] White Banquet and [illegible] University Room [illegible] Lawyer Smith's [illegible] vide the music [illegible] ing the TEP's [illegible] week-end with a [illegible] at the Tallahassee Dining Room

THETA CHI

Tonight the Theta Chi's [illegible] gin their week-end with a [illegible] dance at Wakulla Lodge [illegible] the new Theta Chi dream girl and court will be presented [illegible] morrow night, after a dance at St George's [illegible] have a Polynesian party with Roy Orbison [illegible] day at an alumni banquet [illegible] Shank received the [illegible] Award for the outstanding [illegible] and Jim Baker the [illegible] Award for the person contributing the most to the chapter [illegible] pledge awards were [illegible] Barton, most active [illegible] Whiden, most consecutive [illegible] Leo Murdock, most outstanding pledge.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Zeta weekend [illegible] with a dinner dance at the [illegible] day Inn featuring the Statics tomorrow Zeta's and their dates are going to Panama City for a beach party. A dessert party with the KA's is planned for Wednesday

Religious News

Hillel Elects New Officers

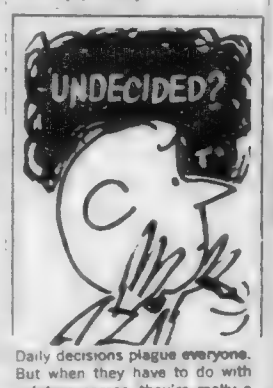
New officers of Hillel Organization are president, Bill Lader; vice president, Chuck Salzberg; treasurer, Danny Solomon; secretary, Joan Frieden; historian, Helene Samuels, and parliamentarian, Bonnie Freedman Traditionally, the outgoing president Marianna Youngerman was named chaplain for the coming year.

BAPTIST

Vespers will be held at Baptist Student Union Tuesday and Thursday at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday Chaplain Carey will speak on "A Christian on Campus." Thursday Rev. Ellis Bush will be the speaker

METHODIST

The Wesley Foundation's annual coast party will be held tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Panacea. Those going are asked to sign up at the Foundation by today. The cost will be $.75 and will include food and transportation.



Sociology Award

Letitia Thomas, a first semester senior majoring in sociology, received the Chi Omega Social and Civic Service Award.

The award is presented by the social sorority each year to a senior woman who is outstanding in the field of sociology. It is a part of Chi Omega's national social and civic program. The recipient of the award is selected by the Sociology Dept

The award was presented to Miss Thomas by Dr. Meyer Nimkoff, head of the Sociology Dept., at a banquet at the Chi Omega house Tuesday night. Miss Thomas also received a $25 check from the chapter.

After graduation, Miss Thomas plans to attend Columbia University to do graduate work in social psychology.

Daily decisions plague everyone. But when they have to do with a future career, they're really a problem.

If your indecisions fall in this area, you might try looking into the advantages of a career in life insurance sales, leading to sales management. We're looking for young men with initiative, young men who want job opportunities that will grow with them. And we're equipped to start you on your training program now, while you're still in school.

Just call our office, or write for the free booklet, "Career Opportunities"

PROVIDENT MUTUAL
Life Insurance Company
of Philadelphia
DICK D'ALEMBERTE
MANAGER
P.O. BOX 66
Chattahoochee,
Florida

BLACK & WHITE FILM 620—120—127 — 3 ROLLS 88c

8 MM. KODACHROME, Processing Included — $3.69

WESTINGHOUSE NO. 5 FLASH BULBS, doz. — $1.30

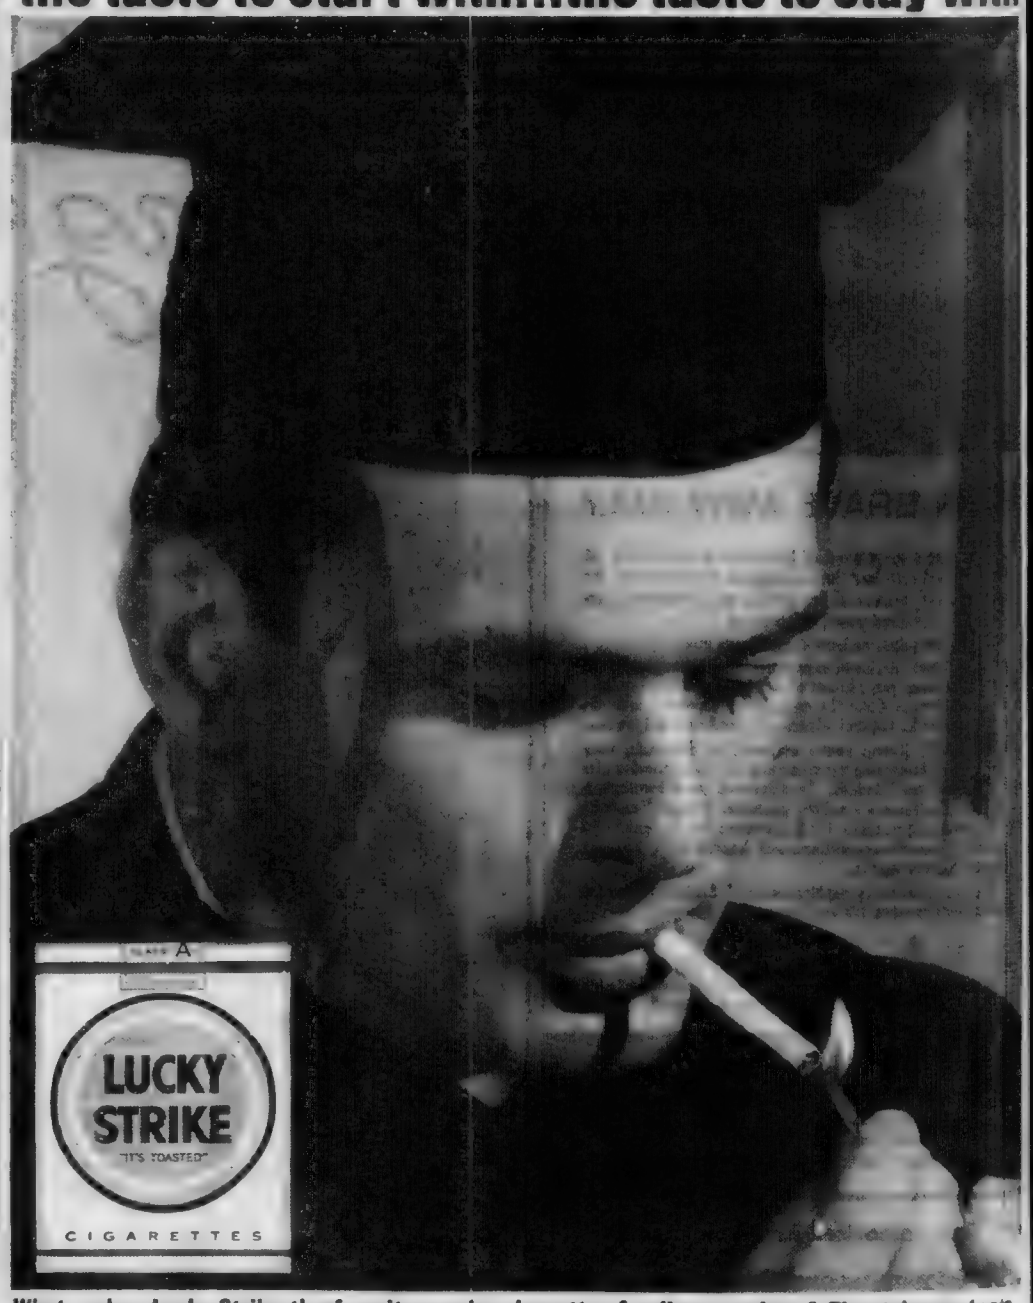
FOR PRICES AND QUALITY, SEE

CHEVET'S Your Camera Shop
Adams at College

It's your tapered shape and your hopsacking look that get me...

Mother always told me to look for the blue label*

Keds
The Shoe of Champions



Nobody's really suggesting romance will be yours if you wear U.S. Keds. But it is true that Keds are the best-fitting, the most comfortable, good-looking and long-wearing fabric casuals you can buy. Because Keds are made with costlier fabrics. With an exclusive shockproofed arch cushion and cushioned innersole. In short, with all those "extras" that make them your best buy in the long run. Head for your nearest Keds dealer. Get that Keds look, that Keds fit... GET THAT GREAT KEDS FEELING!

*Both U.S. Keds and the blue label are registered trademarks of United States Rubber
Rockefeller Center, New York 20, New York

Camellia Bakery
TALLAHASSEE'S Finest
OFTEN COPIED - NEVER EQUALLED
OPEN SUNDAY 7 AM to 1 PM
WE DELIVER
617 N. MONROE. Dial 222-4560

Get Lucky

the taste to start with...the taste to stay with

What makes Lucky Strike the favorite regular cigarette of college smokers? Fine-tobacco taste. The taste of a Lucky is great to start with, and it spoils you for other cigarettes. That's why Lucky smokers stay Lucky smokers. So, get the taste you'll want to stay with. Get Lucky today.

© A. T. Co.

Product of The American Tobacco Company — "Tobacco is our middle name"

at your TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

FLORIDA

Now Showing
Pat Boone-Bobby Darin
Pamela Tiffen
"STATE FAIR"
in COLOR
2:00-4:30-7:05-9:35

PERRY HIGHWAY OUTDOOR

Tonight & Saturday
Special Engagement!
Showing 8:15 Only
Paul Newman
Eva Marie Saint
"EXODUS"
Plus—Walt Disney's
"Legend Of Sleepy Hollow"
This Eng.—ADULTS 90c

STATE

Today & Saturday
The BEST OF MICHUM!
Robert Michum in "HOME FROM THE HILL"
3:25-7:50
and
"THUNDER ROAD"
1:40-5:55-10:20

CAPITOL DRIVE-IN ON WOODVILLE HWY.

Tonight & Saturday
Showing at 8:00
Tommy Noonan
Pete Marshall
"SWINGING ALONG"
in Color
and at 9:15
TONY CURTIS in
"THE OUTSIDER"

ennis Tourney 3rd Round

SHIRLEY HARDISON
Staff Sports Writer

ertaining, enjoying, exercising, describe the d annual faculty-stu- tennis tournament.

ournament is in the third of play at the present; it duled to end this Monday four and five final round ext two weeks to determine ner.

rdon W. Blackwell and DeLozier, number one Rac- e are paired in tournament They are expected to prog- o final competition. Their tenders are Dr Robert head of the philosophy de- and Racquette mem- Miss Ann Lake A game o these two doubles teams played at 4:30 p. m on the varsity courts mately 60 students and members were entered in games Department and major students from economics to math and art anders.

faculty wives entered the ent for the first time Burhard Baker, Mrs Jim and Mrs Earl Frieden ed up new frontiers year any faculty wife who may enter the tournafaculty - student tourna- began last spring, under the Miss Beth Warner, a education teacher in 0-61 school year. Miss Vir Dumas, a recreation teacher ame year helped m the or- ation along with Dr Miller, osophy head.

Ann Lankford is now head tournament. It has be- an activity taken over by Racquette sponsor. She plans both a fall and spring ament next year, with 120 or dents and faculty parti-

QUENTIN TILL
. . . top trackster

ROY BICKFORD
. . . team's choice

Banquet Slated May 17 By WRA

The Women's Recreation Association of Florida State is sponsoring their annual Women's Intramural Banquet on May 17 at 7:30 in the Suwanee Room Dining Hall. Dr. Milton Carothers will be the guest speaker.

All women students are invited to attend the banquet. Tickets went on sale May 2 and are obtainable from the intramural office between 4:30 and 6 p.m. each day this week or from any intramural chairmen in the dorms or sororities.

Trophies will be presented to the individual sports managers and the 1962-63 WRA officers will be announced.

8 Athletes Lauded

Eight athletes have been chosen as the best in their sport and are in the runoff for the Flambeau's choice as best athlete of the year The final selection will be public in next week's Flambeau.

The eight students were chosen by the sports staff, which investigated the record of each athlete and talked to his teammates.

Looking for qualities of excellence in the sport, leadership ability, and sportsmanship, the following students were named tops in the respective sport:

FOOTBALL

Roy Bickford, senior, was the obvious choice in this sport, because the football team itself chose Bickford as the Most Valuable Player of the Year. He was the same athlete that saved the 3-3 tie against Florida this season with his tremendous block of a possibly lethal field goal. The state sports writers that covered the game, about 31, gave all but one of the votes to Bickford as the Most Valuable Player in the game, as Bill McGrotha, Tallahassee Democrat Sports Editor, told fans at last week's varsity - alumni game.

BASKETBALL

Dave Fedor, senior, was continuedly named the best basketball player ever to come to Florida State University by coaches and sports observers. This year, he led Scoring with 470 points for a 20.4 average points per game. He also broke the career free throw record by scoring 585 points in three years; Ham Werneke had set the old mark in four years.

This year, Fedor had a 78.4 per cent average at the foul line, and 52.2 average from the field.

BASEBALL

Woody Woodward, sophomore, has been called the "guy most likely to make All - American next year," and won by a narrow margin over the nearest competitor.

Woodward is presently hitting at a .376 mark (this does not count the current game series). At the first of the season, he graced the sports pages of the state by keeping a hitting streak going beyond the unlucky 13th game.

SWIMMING

Paul Thompson, senior, clearly copped honors in his field, as he was named an All - American Swimmer this year after finishing fourth in the nation. Thompson, long a power swimmer, was also named an All-American last year.

TRACK

Quentin Till, senior, has bolstered the track team this year although he has been injured much of the time. The choice of teammates, Till was a consistent winner throughout the season.

GYMKANA

Rick Miller, ran through the 1961 - 62 season taking titles away from athletes in the Southeastern area of the country. Undoubtedly the best in the state and region, Miller went on to the national competition in California and came in 14th in a field of 57 contestants.

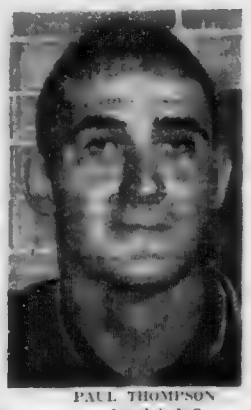
TENNIS

Paul Scarpa, senior, has downed the number one singleg spot on the Seminole tennis team this season and has overpowered a majority of his opponents. Possibly his most outstanding "win" was a default with a former Davis Cup winner. Scarpa defeated the Davis Cupper on the first go-round, lost the second match, and was unable to continue because of leg trouble.

GOLF

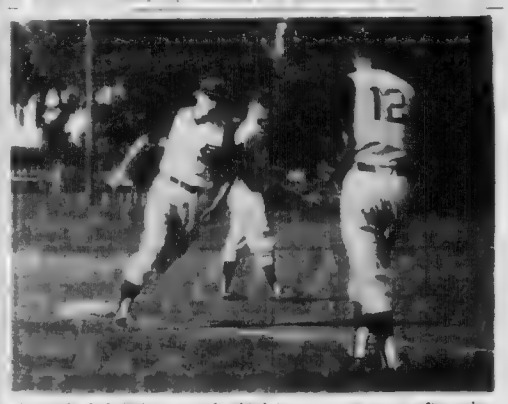
Bryan Bergeron, senior, was chosen in golf, a field that fluctuates as by the sharpness of a putting eye. The senior has been the key scorer in several matches, such as the three - way bout in Jacksonville when he came out with low score. Along with Chuck Keating and Dave Philo, Bergeron has helped send the golfers through one of its most successful seasons.

RICK MILLER
. . . leads Gymkana



DAVE FEDOR
. . . best in history

PAUL SCARPA
. . . successful netter



WOODY WOODWARD
. . . All-American candidate

PAUL THOMPSON
. . . fourth in U.S.

BRYAN BERGERON
. . . helps lead linkers

Seminole Bob Wilcox rounds third in a recent game after whopping a homerun. The Seminoles will meet the Florida Southern baseball team today and tomorrow on Seminole Field. (Photo by Emmette Jackson)

Baseball Team Faces Florida Southerners

Florida State's baseball team, finishing a two week layoff, will get back into action this weekend against the Florida Southern Moccasins. The state - rival teams will clash at Seminole Field in single games today and tomorrow. Today's game will start at 3:30 and Saturday's tilt will get underway at 1:30.

The Seminoles and Moccasins have met 29 times with the Tribe winning 20. Last season, the Seminoles were victorious, 5-4 and 13-2, in Lakeland. In 1960, the Moccasins won twice.

The Seminoles have a 13-9 record with hitting dominating the Tribe season. FSU hitters are breezing along with a .306 team batting average. Tribe sluggers have already broken a school mark by hitting 19 home runs. The old mark was 16, set in 1957 and 1958.

The Tribe has rapped 41 doubles, the same amount hit in 1939. Junior catcher Buddy Teagle of West Palm Beach has hit 10 of the doubles, eclipsing the old mark of nine, held by Bob Trowbridge in 1952 and Neil Martin two seasons ago. Teagle is leading the regulars with a .392 batting average.

Junior leftfielder Billy Williamson (.351) has hit six home runs this year, tieing the record of Fred Twomey (1955) and Jack Dull (1959).

The Tribe defense has sparkled with 30 double plays, also a new school record. The old record was 28, set last year.

The Seminoles have won their last three games, with route-going pitching performances. The Tribe had only four such performances in their first 19 games. If the pitching continues to be good in the final six games of the year, the Seminoles could prove to be a team hard to stop.

Senior lefthander Ray McShane (4-3) will probably start Friday's tilt for the Seminoles.

SCALP EM—Howard Denson

Varsity-Alumni Game Was Farce

It's all over now but the laughing.

This is all that can be said of last week's Varsity Alumni game. It was a farce and a fiasco, although to many it was an enjoyable afternoon.

The alums never had a chance to win the game. Anyone that said otherwise was probably helping to promote the ticket sales. Those that took the pre-game propaganda literally may have been sadly disappointed.

But it was quite evident, even before the game began, that the alumni would eat mouthsful of dirt throughout the "contest."

First of all, the alums and graduating seniors we talked to said they would be beaten.

Some gridders, wearing rose-colored contacts, said, "Oh, I guess we'll be defeated about 12-0. Some intimated that it might be 60-0; these were the pessimists.

The alums didn't have a chance because 90 percent of the time the grads never have a chance—no matter how good they are. The reason? Practice. Practice makes perfect is the old saying, and the alumni never had an adequate chance to get much intrasquad coordination developed.

Not many of the grads showed up for practice, and those that did ran light-heartedly through light passing, centering, etc. Most of the time was spent getting into condition.

Because they weren't in condition, Coach Bill Peterson of the varsity augmented the alumni lineup with several fifth and sixth stringers or what it four and fifth? The reserves were to go in "in case the alumni needed a rest."

It is significant to note that the only "alumni" touchdown was scored while most of the grads were on the bench.

All this goes to prove one thing: don't expect to see the varsity lose at a Varsity-Alumni game. And there should not be any pre-game propaganda implying that "it's going to be a tossup."

The Silver Lining

But the game had its good points.

For one thing, it allowed several graduating seniors to get their last taste of an FSU football game. Three gridders, in particular, carried a heavy load throughout the contest for the alumni. They are Roy Bickford, Don Donatelli, and Steve Kleius.

It also let some freshmen and transfer students see some old stars . . . Jack Espenship, Mike Norman, Vic Priasl, Ronnie Schomburger, and many, many others.

The guy that probably played with the most heart was pint-sized Freddy Pickard, who was obviously putting every effort into his performance.

The Time Machine

The game lets us look into the future and perhaps predict what the next season will look like. One thing is evident: If the varsity plays like it did Saturday, it's going to be 0 and 10 in '62. Playing against the stiff competition and murderous opponents, they have a chance if they don't play loose—like getting a handful of 15-yard penalties. One 15-yard penalty against the gigantic apes in the Southeastern Conference (on the SEC's home soil) is certain suicide.

We also know, turning from the gridiron, that the cheerleaders shouldn't make the fans giggle during the game. Like calling for "Hold That Line," when we have the ball.

Now really.

Bowling League Finishes Season, Presents Awards

The Florida State Bowling League finished its 1962 season this month, with the announcement that it would resume competition early in the fall trimester.

The final statistics tabulated, the league presented awards to several of the bowlers. Max Rieves, the Smith Hall counselor, was named the most improved bowler. The awards and standings:

INDIVIDUAL AVERAGE

1st Place, Dick Hahn	176
2nd Place, Roger Handberg	174
3rd Place, Robert Earnest	167

HI SERIES SCRATCH

1st Place, John Brosious	621
2nd Place, Arthur Murphy	577
3rd Place, Harry Dunlap	573

HI SERIES—HDCP.

1st Place, Max Rieves	690
2nd Place, Carlyle Kennedy	639
3rd Place, Zichary Skokos	639

HIGH GAME SCRATCH

1st Place, John Graves	245
2nd Place, Marshall Colberg	223
3rd Place, Everett Goodwin	216

HIGH GAME HDCP.

MOST IMPROVED BOWLER

Max Rieves 17-41 pins

90

TEAM

1st Place, Aero Jets	142
2nd Place, Skittlers	138
3rd Place, Left Overs	138
4th Place, Earls Rivers	124
5th Place, Profiteers	122
6th Place, Hi Ballers	118
7th Place, Five Flingers	106
8th Place, Unspeakables	90

Most Anything For Rent

Party And Banquet Needs
Floor Polishers
Rug Shampoo
Power Tools
Rollaway Beds

United Rent-Alls
CALL 224-6710
619 N. Monroe (Near Brevard)

Hi Guys and Gals

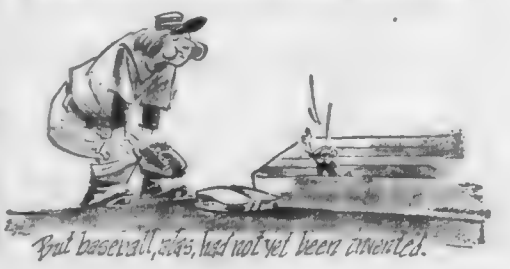
We have the after-shave Lotion And Cologne You have been asking for

Canoe by Dana

nic's toggery

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "I Was a Teen-age Dwarf", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.)



CRAM COURSE NO. 5: SHAKESPEARE

Continuing our series of pre-final exam cram courses, today we take up the works of William Shakespeare (or "The Bard of Avon" as he is jocularly called).

First let us examine the persistent theory that Shakespeare (or "The Pearl of the Antilles" as he is affectionately referred to) is not the real author of his plays. Advocates of this theory insist that the plays are so full of classical allusions and learned references that they couldn't possibly have been written by the son of an illiterate country butcher.

To which I reply, "Faugh!" Was not the great Spinoza's father a humble woodcutter? Was not the immortal Isaac Newton's father a simple second baseman? (The elder Newton, incidentally, is one of history's truly pathetic figures. He was, by all accounts, the greatest second baseman of his time, but baseball, alas, had not yet been invented.) It used to break young Isaac's heart to see his father get up every morning, put on unicorns, spikes, glove, and cap, and stand alertly behind second base, bent forward, eyes narrowed, waiting, waiting, waiting. That's all—waiting. Isaac loyally sat in the bleachers and yelled, "Good show, Dad!" and stuff like that but everyone else in town used to snigger and pelt the Newtons with overripe fruit—figs for the elder Newton, apples for the younger. Thus, as we all know, the famous occasion came about when Isaac Newton, struck in the head with an apple, leapt to his feet, shouted, "Eureka!" and announced the third law of motion: "For every action there is an opposite and equal reaction!"

(How profoundly true these simple words are! Take, for example, Marlboro Cigarettes. Light one. That's the action. Now what is the reaction? Pleasure, delight, contentment, cheer, and comfort! And why such a happy reaction? Because you have started with a happy cigarette—a felicitous blend of jolly tobaccos, a good-natured filter, a rollicking flip-top box, a merry soft pack. As Newton often said, "You begin with better makin's, you end with better smokin's." Small wonder they called him "The Swedish Nightingale!").

But baseball, alas, had not yet been invented.

But I digress. Back to Shakespeare (or "The Gem of the Ocean" as he was ribaldly appelated).

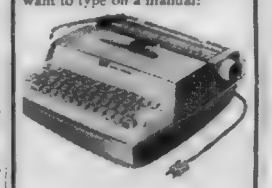
Shakespeare's most important play is, of course, Hamlet (or Macbeth, as it is sometimes called). This play tells in living color the story of Hamlet, Prince of Denmark, who one night sees a ghost upon the battlements. (Possibly it is a goat he sees: I have a first folio edition that is frankly not too legible.) Anyhow, Hamlet is so upset by seeing the ghost (or goat) that he stabs Polonius and Bare Bodkin. He is thereupon banished to a leather factory by the King, who cries, "Get thee to a tannery!" Thereupon Ophelia refuses her food until Laertes shouts, "Get thee to a beanery!" Ophelia is so miffed that she chases her little dog out of the room, crying, "Out, out damned Spot!" She is fined fifty shillings for swearing, but Portia, in an eloquent plea, gets the sentence commuted to life imprisonment. Thereupon King Lear and Queen Mab proclaim a festival, complete with amateur theatricals, kissing games, and a pie-eating contest. Everyone has a perfectly splendid time till Banquo's ghost or goat shows up. This so unhinges Richard III that he drowns his cousin, Butt Malmsey. This leads to a lively discussion during which everyone is killed. The little dog Spot returns to utter the immortal curtain lines:

Alack, it's play forsooth was sad and sobby,
But be of cheer—there's Marlboros in the lobby!

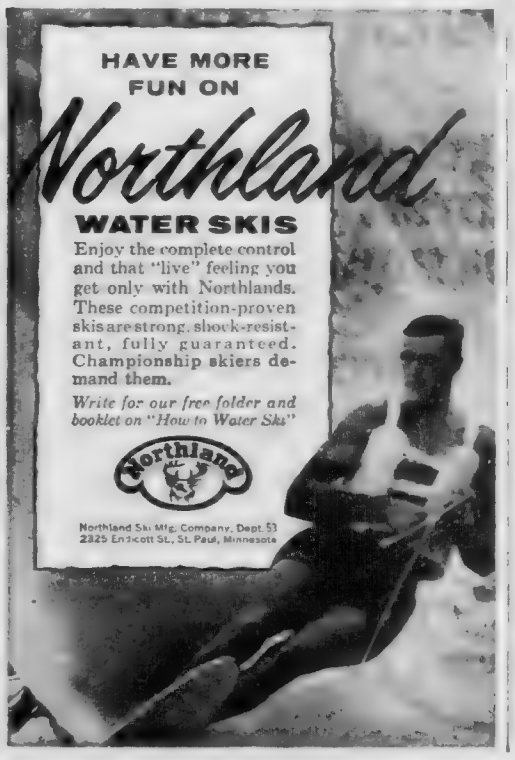
© 1962 Max Shulman

* * *

As the slings and arrows of outrageous finals loom closer, perchance the makers of Marlboro are not untoward to offer this friendly suggestion: Get thee to a library!



Two approaches to the "man's deodorant" problem



If a man doesn't mind shaving under his arms, he will probably find a woman's roll-on satisfactory. Most men, however, find it simpler and surer to use Mennen Spray Deodorant. Mennen Spray was made to get through to the skin, where perspiration starts. And made to work all day. More men use Mennen Spray than any other deodorant. How about you? 64¢ and $1.00 plus tax

DON'T Buy!

Don't buy any portable typewriter until you have tried an electric portable. That's right... an electric portable. It's a Smith-Corona — world's FIRST electric portable. It does things no other portable can. It gives you the touch of an expert. Every letter is typed with the same even blackness. There's no pounding, electricity does the work. You can make ten clear carbons. And there are 5 repeat actions. Touch the key once, and you have rows of dashes, underlines, dots, spaces and the letter "X". Come in today. Try it—and you'll never want to type on a manual!

Huggin's Business Machines
111 W. College Ave.
Phone 224-2195

Ticket Sale Starts For Spring Formal

Tickets go on sale Monday in Westcott Ticket Office for the annual Spring Semi-Formal Dance, honoring seniors and their dates.

The dance will be held in the Tully Gymnasium, May 19, from 9 p.m. to 1 p.m. Late permission will be granted all women students for that night.

Invitations have been sent to all graduating seniors. Seniors may present these invitations at Tully Gymnasium the evening of the dance for admission. The tickets are non-transferable. I. D. cards of seniors will be checked at the door.

If a senior wishes to take a date who is not a senior, he may pick up a guest ticket at Westcott Ticket Office. Non-seniors may obtain tickets for $2 per couple.

Decorations for the dance will be centered around this year's theme of "Roman Holiday."

Roy Hamilton, Epic recording star, with the backing of Bernard Lee's Orchestra, will be the featured entertainment for the evening. Two 45-minute shows will be given.

Hamilton, a former commercial artist and amateur heavyweight boxer, entered the entertainment field in 1947, and has recorded such hit records as "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Ebb Tide," "Hurt," "Unchained Melody," "There Goes My Heart" and "Don't Let Go."

Interviews

Interviews for Secretary of Judiciary will be held Wednesday and Thursday, 4 to 5 p.m., in 404 Longmire. Typing ability is required.

If unable to come at those hours, interested persons may call Mary Jo Webb at 3004.

Six Undergraduates Were Chosen

. . . for service, leadership and character by Omicron Delta Kappa honorary. Jack Ascherl of Daytona Beach taps, l-r: Jim Blue, Gene Brown, George Harriett, John Leonard, Bob Self, and Joedy Smith.

ODK Taps Six On Tuesday

Omicron Delta Kappa ,men's leadership and service honorary, tapped six students and one faculty member, Dr. Warren B. Nation, Wednesday.

Student taps were Jim Blue, Gene Brown, George Harriett, John Leonard, Bob Self and Joedy Smith.

Dr. Nation, professor of marketing, who was tapped for his excellence in classroom instruction, has served on the Faculty Senate and various committees while at FSU including the Academic Affairs Committee, Chariman of the University Comittee on Admissions, and University Committee on Admission of Marginal Students.

He has also served on the Committee on Academic and Non-academic Convocations, and Chairman of Parade Floats on the 1961 Homecoming Committee.

His activities in the School of Business include, sponsor of the Marketing Club, and service on the Basic Curriculum Graduate Planning, By-Laws, Accreditation, and Graduate Fellowship Committees.

Jim Blue, a pre - law major with a 2.9 overall average, will be Secretary of State in the student body President's cabinet.

He is also a member of various committees including the Lobby Committee and Honor Committee and is vice chairman of the Speaker's Bureau. He served as co - chairman of the Homecoming Dance this past year and he will be Homecoming chairman next year.

Gene Brown, newly elected men's vice - president, is a government major. He is Student Senate parliamentarian. He has previously served as Sophomore Class treasurer, Junior Class Senator and as a Summer Councilman.

George Harriett holds the highest sophomore and junior class grade average with a 3.85 overall. He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholastic honorary. He has ... ous comm... ly Comm... Spring F... Decorati...

A pre - medical ma... logical Sciences, John ... is a membe... and Alpha E... Med Honorary). ... ricular activities ... dent of Inter-Hou... and president - el... minister. F... vice president ... ter - Faith Council ... erator, Westminster ... Synods of ...

Bob Self ... Baptist Stude... dent of the ... Council, is ... with a 3.5 ...

He has ser... the Senate Who's Who ... and a mem... visory Com... Gordon W...

Joedy Smith is a Senior ... Senator and ... er-I Senate ... Who's Who ... and Finance.

He has worked ... nection ... and served ... for one ... served as pastor of the Zion ... Pisgah, and ... dist Churches.

Speakers Bureau Tryouts Begin

Tryouts for the 1962-63 Speaker's Bureau will be held next week in the Honor Court Room, on the fourth floor of Longmire.

On Tuesday, tryouts will be held 2 to 4 p.m. and on Wednesday and Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m.

The organization provides speakers for high schools, alumni groups, civic clubs and other such groups, to acquaint them with Florida State University. Members serve also as guides for groups visiting the FSU campus.

Next year, Speaker's Bureau will be under auspices of Gold Key, rather than Student Government. However, membership in the two groups is in no way affiliated.

Applicants for Speaker's Bureau should prepare a two-to-three minute speech on some phase of university life. Members of the Speech Dept. will be judges, and 20 to 30 speakers will be selected.

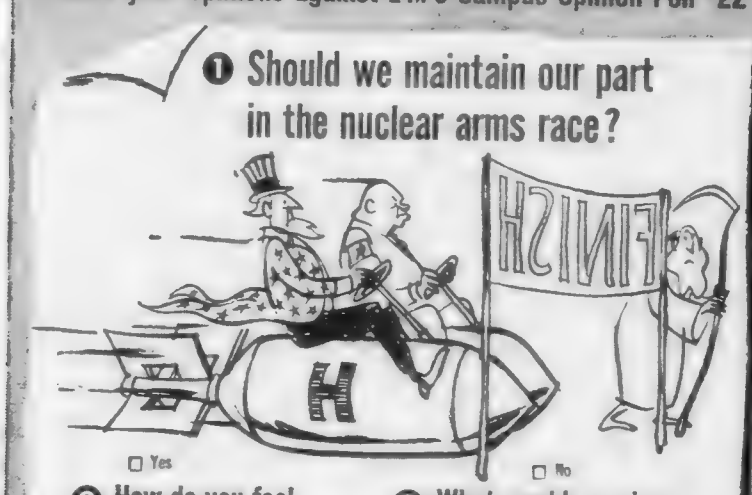
Those who now are members of Speaker's Bureau must try out again if they wish to be a member during the 1962-63 school year.

Anyone wishing further information concerning the tryouts may contact Gene Brown at 2240.

Goods in this van are PROTECTED

Local or Long Distance Moving Packing — Storage

YOUR LOCAL AGENT



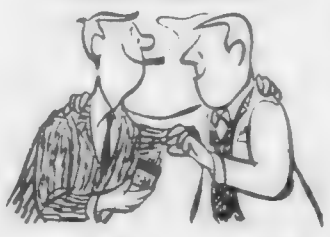
Blaine Mayflower

FREE ESTIMATES

224-3020

Check your opinions against L&M's Campus Opinion Poll #22

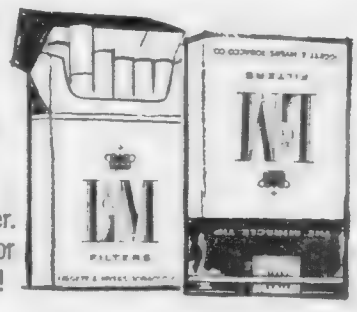
❶ Should we maintain our part in the nuclear arms race?



☐ Yes ☐ No

❷ How do you feel about fraternities?

☐ Like 'em ☐ Don't like 'em ☐ Can take 'em or leave 'em



❸ What would convince you to switch to a different cigarette?

☐ Friends smoke it ☐ Advertisements ☐ Contests sponsored by it

Get Lots More from L&M

L&M gives you MORE BODY in the blend, MORE FLAVOR in the smoke, MORE TASTE through the filter. It's the rich-flavor leaf that does it!

HERE'S HOW MEN AND WOMEN AT 56 COLLEGES VOTED:

		MEN	WOMEN
❶	Yes	87%	82%
	No	13%	18%
❷	Like 'em	61%	48%
	Don't like 'em	12%	15%
	Take 'em or leave 'em	27%	37%
❸	Friends	58%	65%
	Ads	27%	20%
	Contests	15%	15%

L&M's the filter cigarette for people who really like to smoke.

When & Where

TODAY

The Pi Sigma Alpha initiation will be in the Longmire Club Room at 5:30 p.m.

• • •

All Faculty mothers and their families are invited to the Faculty Mothers Club Picnic which will be at the Reservation at 5:30 p.m.

• • •

Robert Segove will conduct the University Symphony Concert in Westcott Auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

TOMORROW

French and German Experimental Examination which is available to graduate students wishing to take the test will be held in 124 Science at 9 a.m.

• • •

Music from Broadway shows and outstanding films, performed by members of the original cast will be broadcast at 5 p.m. over WFSU-FM.

• • •

Leonard Bernstein will conduct the New York Philharmonic Orchestra over WFSU-FM at 8:40 p.m. Included will be works by Haydn, Shostakovich and Brahms.

• • •

Doris Dana will be the pianist at the Master's Recital held in Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 p.m.

• • •

SUNDAY

Alpha Kappa Psi will meet in the Education Lecture Hall at 1 p.m.

• • •

The Opera Matinee which includes L'ELISIR D'AMORE by Donizetti will be broadcast over WFSU-FM at 3 p.m.

• • •

The Phi Mu Alpha Coffee Concert will be in the Longmire Large Lounge at 4 p.m. Included in the concert will be Beatles Clarinet Quartet, Harry Sobotka and the Faculty String Quartet; Mozart's Sonata Vesters, Chimes and the Orchestra of the Collegium Musicum.

• • •

The Lutheran Student Association will meet in the Trophy Room at 7 p.m.

• • •

The first formal concert of the Woodwind Trio originally broadcast on April 8 will be heard over WFSU-FM at 8:30 p.m. The trio features Nancy Fowler, oboe; Harry Schmidt, clarinet and Ronald Wair, flute and bassoon.

• • •

RECRUITMENT SCHEDULE

Seniors and Graduates should register with the Placement Office ... to be ... for interviews with the ... Seniors and graduates ... Placement Office ... literature prior to interviews.

• • •

TUESDAY

The Sea-Land Service, Inc. ... business and ... graduates. Included is a training program ... combination of training by water and land.

• • •

The U.S. Navy and Naval Aviation Team will be at the Trophy Room Tuesday, May 15, through Thursday, May 17.

• • •

FRIDAY

The Delta Air Lines will be interviewing for Stewardesses.

Wylie Award Is Presented

The Philip Wylie Award to the Library School graduate of 1961-62 who gives the most promise of success in librarianship is being made at 4 p.m. today in the Library Lecture Hall at Florida State University.

Dr. J. Russell Reaver of the English Dept. is speaker for the occasion.

The Philip Wylie Award, established by Florida's distinguished novelist and essayest, is an annual affair held just before commencement to recognize the outstanding contribution in the field of librarianship. The award has been presented personally on at least three occasions by Wylie himself. Because of another commitment he will not attend this year.

Two Chosen To BOP

Margaret Weahterly and John Schaffner, Florida State University juniors, have recently been appointed to the Board of Publications by Student Body President Ken van Assendelft.

Miss Weatherly is a member of Sigma Tau Delta English honorary, and a member of the selection board for the FSU literary anthology, The Legend.

Schaffner, who is managing editor of the Flambeau, is a transfer from St. Petersburg Junior College, a member of the Varsity Debate team, a precinct senator and a government major.

The Board will meet Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. in Longmire Faculty Lounge, to elect a chairman for next year. Recently elected members of the Board are Beth Ann LeGate, Mary Ellen Harris and Toni DiCarlo. Miss DiCarlo is temporary chairman.

Summer Government

Women students who desire to run for summer Student Government offices may do so by filing declarations of candidacy in the main office of Longmire before 5 p.m. Monday.

Positions open are Chairman of Women's Judiciary, Campus Fire Marshall, two representatives on the Executive Council from each dormitory, and a president, two vice-presidents and a social chairman of each dormitory.

The two dormitories to be be open during the summer are Dorman and Magnolia.

The declarations of candidacy should be addressed to the Women's Vice President.

San Can Restaurant

Across the Road from the Capital Shopping Center

Try Our Fast Drive-In Service

OR

Enjoy A Meal In Our Lovely Dining Room

Call In Your Order And It Will Be Waiting

1825 Thomasville Rd. Phone 223-0445

lively Beth Hofstetter, Ohio State '64

This lively Homecoming Queen hails from Chardon, Ohio, and will be a June bride this fall.

lives it up with this lively One from Ford '62: the lively New Thunderbird Sports Roadster!

Lively Beth Hofstetter enjoys steak, ice cream, and the rousing Thunderbird Sports Roadster. This upholstered bullet features slip-stream headrests, wire wheels, personal console, and contour-carved bucket seats. You also get intercontinental ballistic muscle from an extra 40 hp of Thunderbird thunder packed into the new Sports V-8 engine . . . it's a stirring propulsion unit! See the impressive Sports Roadster, and all the Lively Ones at your Ford Dealer's . . . the liveliest place in town!

A PRODUCT OF Ford MOTOR COMPANY

SPECIAL STUDENT SALE

STOCK UP BEFORE GOING HOME WITH CLOTHES YOU NEED FOR SUMMER

SUITS
SPORT COATS
SLACKS

SPORT SHIRTS and DRESS SHIRTS

nic's toggery

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Florida's First Semi-Weekly College Newspaper

Vol. XLVIII, No. 30

Published By The Students Of Florida State University

Tuesday, May 15, 1962

Dr. Sturm Picked To Head Research

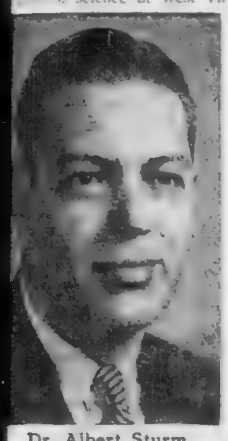
The appointment of Dr. Albert Lee Sturm, 50-year-old political scientist who is a specialist in state constitutional revision, as director of the Institute of Governmental Research at Florida State University was approved Friday by the Board of Control.

Sturm presently is with the [illegible] of Public Administration at the University of Miami [illegible] conducting a case study of [illegible] constitutional convention in session. He will [illegible] his work there in May and come to Tallahassee.

The Institute of Governmental Research is an agency of the University School is charged with [illegible] research in state and local government. Dr. Odell Wald [illegible] professor of government has been acting director [illegible] on leave on a program [illegible] International Cooperation Administration in Formosa.

WILL TEACH

In addition to becoming [illegible] director, Sturm will teach [illegible] as a professor in the [illegible] Dept.



A native of Appalachia, Va., [illegible] is a graduate of Hampden-Sydney College and Duke University. In 1940-41 he served as [illegible] of the Brookings Institution in Washington.

He became associate professor [illegible] political science at West Virginia University in 1946 and served [illegible] on the faculty there until [illegible] leave the past year to serve with the University of Michigan agency [illegible]

He has been a visiting professor at Duke, Pennsylvania State [illegible] and Michigan and was [illegible] to the University of Ankara, Turkey, in 1957-59 under a program of the International Cooperation Administration.

He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of several professional associations. He has served as editor of Journal of Politics and American Political Science Review; and as a consultant to the Task Force on Water Resources and Power for the second Hoover administration, 1954-55.

He is author of the book Methods of State Constitutional Reform and co-author of The Constitution and the Executive.

Dr. Albert Sturm

FSU Receives Many Grants

Receipt of several grants to Florida State University was approved by the Board of Control at the meeting Friday morning.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is to furnish $29,960 in support of research entitled "A Study of Crystallization, Cross-linking and Dimensional Changes During the Crystal-Liquid Phase Transition of Oriented Polymeric Systems" under the direction of Dr. Leo Mandelkern, Chemistry Dept. Approximately 20 per cent of the principal investigator's time will be devoted to the project.

The United States Health, Education and Welfare Dept. is to furnish $65,214 to provide continued support of graduate training in psychiatric social work, under direction of Dr. David Levine, School of Social Welfare. The grant will provide for supplementation of teaching personnel in the class and in the field and for stipends for graduate social work students.

The Health, Education and Welfare Dept. also is to furnish $6,785 in support of research entitled "Effect of Diet on Synthesis of Certain Lipids," under direction of Dr. Harvey Lewis, Food and Nutrition Dept. The problem will be to determine amount and rate of synthesis of individual phosphatides in the rat when the diet varies in kind and amount of fat. Further, the amount and rate of synthesis of cholesterol will be determined in the same animals and the possibility of interconversions explored.

A third grant from the Health, Education and Welfare Dept. will provide $9,579 in support of studies on marine cercariae from the Gulf of Mexico, under the direction of Dr. Rhodes B. Holliman, Biological Sciences Dept. A study will be made of the embryonic development of marine cercariae of the northern Gulf of Mexico, particularly of species whose family affinity is unknown or only conjectural.

Frances Martin Sings "Madame Butterfly" Lead

. . . in Friday night's performance with David Collins playing the role of the child (shown above). Ethel Donaldson will play the lead role in Saturday night's performance of the opera. The performances will begin at 8 p.m., and will be held in Westcott Auditorium.

120 High School Students Visit The Computing Center

By BONNIE FREEDMAN
Flambeau Staff Writer

"Quite likely this is your first letter from an electronic computer. It is important that capable students such as yourself become better acquainted with me."

So began an invitation to more than 120 students from Leon and Florida high schools to visit the computing center at FSU Saturday morning.

Selected on the basis of membership in National Honor Society, a high score on the Florida twelfth-grade placement exam, excellence in National Merit competition, or success above the local level in Science Fair competition, these juniors and seniors were taken on a guided tour of the Computing Center, the Nuclear Accelerator Bldg., and the weather department.

The computer-program for the invitation included a coding of the students as to male or female, school, and the points on which they were selected. There were fifteen different possibilities for each letter; each student got a personal invitation, with only one program.

SIGNED 'BLINKY'

The letter was signed "Blinky, the FSU IBM 709 computer."

Dr. E. P. Miles, director of the computing center, planned the tour, as well as a similar one for students enrolled in the Honors Program at FSU.

Dr. Ralph Bradley, head of the department of statistics, welcomed the students, and Dr. Charles Bowen of the Office of Education, IBM Corporate Headquarters in New York, spoke on the importance of computers and of the education of the capable student. Dr. Paul Piccard, director of the honors program, also spoke to the students during a refreshment break.

To demonstrate the capabilities of the 709, several programs were run, including several solutions to the famous eight queens problem and plotting of a graph.

ROULETTE

Another program was a roulette game, in which a player is assumed to have a certain sum of money and the machine selects the random numbers the player might bet, as well as the random numbers on which the roulette wheel would stop. Each time the player wins, he pockets his money and bets another dollar; each time he loses, he doubles his last bet. Theoretically, doubling the bet at each loss should make it possible for the player to completely recoup his loss, but the house limit prevents this from happening. The 709 shows the results of each play, and records the number of plays it takes for the player to go bankrupt.

The Van de Graff accelerator was shut off for the morning so that students could be taken on a tour of the building and the apparatus.

At the top of the Math-Meteorology Bldg. students were shown a facsimile machine, which reproduces weather maps from the United States Weather Bureau transmitted by radio.

The computing center was located in the Business Bldg. until the Math-Meteorology Bldg. was completed this year.

The 709 in the new center prints results on long sheets of paper, instead of cards, and magnetic tapes are used to store programs in place of cards. Nearly every department in the university now uses the facilities of the computing center, and until the University of Florida finally got their own computer, they also sent their work over here.

Flambeau Notice

Friday's issue will be the last Florida Flambeau of the year. Flambeau publication will begin next year on September 10.

Dean's List

Arts And Sciences Sets Requirements

By TONI DiCARLO and JOAN ABBOTT

Deans' List requirements for upperclass students in the College of Arts and Sciences will rise this semester from a 3.0 to a 3.25.

Both faculty and students felt that the new standard would be more in keeping with the intellectual tone of the College in its emphasis on academic quality," Dean Paul J. Reynolds commented.

The Dean said that a study is going to be made of grade distributions in the Division of Basic Studies, relative to changing the requirements for freshmen and sophomores.

If effected last semester, the move would have eliminated 168 juniors and seniors in arts and sciences from the List, with only those in the top 10 per cent of their classes remaining.

The change was approved unanimously by the Arts and Sciences faculty, but the other schools have not adopted the change. Some others have considered it, but only Arts and Sciences has put it into effect.

According to President Gordon W. Blackwell and Dean of the Faculties Werner A. Baum, the change was made to make the honor "more meaningful." Dr. Baum commented, "A 3.25 is a little more meaningful than a 3.0." He added, "It is not much of an honor if a large number of people get it."

Dean of the School of Business Charles Rovetta stated that a similar move in his school has been "under consideration," but stated that an examination would first be made of the distribution of grades among the [illegible] students.

Dean's List requirements for business students will be raised if the present rules "place an unusually large proportion of students on the List," he said.

Dean Rovetta concluded, however, that "any student who has maintained a 3.0 at Florida State University deserves some recognition."

The School of Education, according to Dean Mode [illegible] Stone, "hasn't taken any consideration of it yet." Likewise, the Nursing and Social Welfare Schools have not yet considered such a change, although the Nursing facility may discuss a change at a meeting after final exams.

MORE THAN 10 PER CENT

The raise of standards is based on the fact that last semester 393 of 2,200 [illegible] in Arts and Sciences made the Dean's List and this figure is considerably more than 10 per cent of the enrollment.

Dean Baum [illegible] that the change is not university-wide, referred to the other schools saying, "I suggest that they consider it, but it is up to each individual school and college."

Raising the requirements in only one school will cause an even greater disproportion of students on the List than has appeared in the past.

The School of Education, with less than half the enrollment of Arts and Sciences, placed only seven fewer students on the Dean's List than the larger school last semester.

This disproportion may be accounted for by the fact that "The School of Education gives a significantly higher percentage of 'A's' and 'B's' than Arts and Sciences," said Dean Baum.

Board Of Control

FSU Faces Crisis Blackwell States

"The University is now in a crisis," Florida State University President Gordon W. Blackwell said at the State Board of Control meeting, Friday.

As enrollment climbs under the pressure of increasing numbers of applications the University needs both more faculty members and more physical facilities.

"The student-faculty ratio is out of proportion according to generally accepted standards," Dr. Blackwell said. "Thirty-five additional faculty are needed now to bring the ratio up to the standards set by the Board of Control," the President added.

INCREASES NEEDED

There have been no substantial increases in the faculty for the past several years, Dr. Blackwell said. "Now the shoe is pinching badly."

"For the past several years our quality has been threatened," the President asserted, "We believe that we cannot operate properly next year if our enrollment exceeds 10,400."

At the Board meeting President Blackwell requested and received an additional $2,377 in merit raises for FSU personnel for the next fiscal year.

The total salary budget for FSU for the fiscal year beginning July 1, will be $8,733,929, or $2,377 higher than the budget the Board had prescribed at its March 27, meeting.

Board members said they didn't want to be "picayunish" about the matter and approved the excess Dr. Blackwell requested.

HOUSING

Concerning the problem of housing, Dr. Blackwell reported the Housing Office was seeking an additional person to study the problems of women students living off-campus due to the housing shortage. The additional staff member will seek out rooms and apartments where women students under 21 will have adquate supervision.

The University will require all freshmen women to live on campus unless they are living with relatives in Tallahassee, the President said. However, some women students above the freshman level will live in approved housing off-campus.

The regulations concerning women over 21 living off-campus will remain the same and they will still be allowed to select their own housing.

Additional on-campus housing for men will be available on completion of a $2,285,617 air-conditioned men's dormitory to house 550 students. Saturday, the Board authorized FSU to make application for a building loan for the dormitory to add to the $700,000 from state funds which is to be made available for the dormitory.

Symphonic Band Presents Second Starlight Concert

A second Starlight Serenade featuring the Symphonic Band will be presented Wednesday evening in the ampitheatre.

The program will be at 7:15 p.m. Dr. Manley R. Whitcomb conductor, said that the public is invited and that parents are especially encouraged to bring their children.

Bernard Linger, a graduate student in the School of Music, will be guest conductor.

The program is as follows: "Moorside March" by Holst, "Choral and Fugue in g minor" by Bach, "Overture in C" by Catel, "Variations on a Shaker Melody" by Copland, "Sol y Sombre" by Gates and Giannini's "Praeludium and Allegro."

Two Southern patriotic numbers, "Peachtree Promenade" from the Atlanta Suite by Gillis and "The Blue and the Gray" Civil War Suite by Grundman, will be featured on the last half of the progam. The 80-member band will end the program with "Finale from Symphony in F minor No. 4" by Tschaikowsky.

Madame Butterfly

Tickets for Madame Butterfly, to be presented Friday and Saturday ni ghstniWc ,ewt ttonseotn [illegible] Westcott Aud. on sale yesterday.

Tickets are $2 for [illegible] and $1 for students. All seats are reserved.

It has been announced that Frances Martin will sing for the Friday night performance and Ethel Donaldson for the Saturday performance.

Spring Semi-Formal Dance Tickets Are Now On Sale

Tickets are now on sale in Westcott Ticket Office for the annual Spring Semi-Formal Dance. Only seniors and their dates. The dance will be held in Tully Gym. May 19, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Late permission will be granted all women students for the night.

Roy Hamilton will be the featured artist at this year's Formal. He, backed by Bernard Ighoyota's orchestra, will give two 45-minute shows.

Roy Hamilton, a former commercial artist and amateur heavyweight boxer, entered the entertainment field in 1947. In that year he successfully competed in several amateur contests and began working in the semi-classical field.

ENTERED POP FIELD

In 1953, Hamilton had begun to center his talent on a popular song style. In February, 1954, he had his first important in-person appearance at the Apollo Theatre. He received a tremendous ovation at every performance. A repeat performance was immediately arranged and he was on his way to a fascinating career.

During a joint appearance with such stars as Perry Como, Patti Page, Sarah Vaughn, Nat King Cole and other celebrities, soon after Hamilton had launched his career, Cole remarked, "A new star is born, this boy is great!"

After many successful night-club appearances and hit records such as: "You'll Never Walk Alone," "If I Loved You," "Ebb Tide," "Hurt," "Unchained Melody," and "There Goes My Heart," Hamilton was forced to terminate his singing career.

SEVERELY ILL

In May, 1956, he contracted a severe illness, and for nine months discontinued all recordings and singing engagements. After a complete recovery he soon picked up the threads of his career and was back at the top with his hit recording of "Don't Let Go."

Hamilton describes his unique style as being compounded of "about 50 per cent from the Gospel field, about 30 per cent from the 'Pop' field, and about 20 per cent from the Semi-Classical field, with a touch of Rhythm and Blues. As for my sometimes singing several notes on one syllable, you will find that very common in the Gospel field."

Hamilton, quite recently, has ventured into another area of entertainment. He has appeared in a Columbia movie "Lets Rock." The director of "Let's rock," Hamilton's first movie appearance, commented: "Here is the greatest natural talent I've ever seen."

The Singing Ex-prizefighter

. . . Roy Halmilton, who sings a combination Gospel, Pop, and Semi-classical type of music, will be featured at the Annual Spring Semi-Formal this Saturday evening. The dance will last from 9-1 and will be semi-formal in dress.

Les Jongleurs Presents Williams' One-Act Plays

Les Jongleurs dramatic honorary will present a program of three one-act plays by Tennessee Williams tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Conradi Theatre.

The opening play, "This Property is Condemned," presents character studies of two children playing on a railroad track. Janine Chapman and Ashley Ahl will be featured.

"Talk to Me Like the Rain and Let Me Listen" is likewise a play of character studies, but its subjects are two adults played by Charlie Hawkins and Claire Freiberger.

The last half of the Les Jongleurs program will be "Suddenly Last Summer," with Pat McCoy, Jimmy Rayfield, Mary Byrd, Claudia Melton, Linda Markgraf, Stephanie Von Lackum and Ken Richart.

Williams is noted for such successes as "Streetcar Named Desire," "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," "Summer and Smoke," and his recent "Night of the Iguana."

The last Williams play to be presented on the Florida State University campus was "The Glass Menagerie," produced in 1959. No other Williams play has been produced by the FSU Speech Dept.

Panhellenic Plans Rush

Late registration for girls wishing to be rushed next year will be held in the Panhellenic Office, Room 203 Longmire, today, tomorrow and Thursday, from 4 to 5:30 p.m. each day.

"Suddenly Last Summer"

. . . one of three one-act plays by Tennessee Williams will be presented by Les Jongleurs, dramatic honorary, at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Conradi Theatre. Left to right are Pat McCoy as Mrs. Venable, Jimmy Rayfield as Doctor Curowicz and Claudia Melton as Catherine Holly. The other two plays are "This Property is Condemned" and "Talk to Me Like the Rain and Let Me Listen."

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members and the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Requirements Raised

Raising Deans' List requirements to 3.25 is another example of the stress on academics which has recently hit FSU in its attempt to become a "Great University." The only problem is that the College of Arts and Sciences, not the whole university, has made the change.

THE INDIVIDUAL schools and colleges are given great autonomy by the administration, any group can raise or lower its own standards at will. It is a healthy sign that, instead of lowering the standards to get more of their students on the List, Arts and Sciences has raised them, even though this will mean a lower percentage of its students recognized through the Deans' List.

We hope that this move will set an example for the other schools and colleges. Under the old system Arts and Sciences had proportionately half as many students on the list as the School of Education. This proportion will be even more out of balance with the new plan.

When over 1000 students receive an honor, most of the honor is lost and the List becomes a mere formality and a bookkeeping problem. If the other schools follow the lead set by Arts and Sciences, the honor will be worth receiving.

If nothing else, professional pride should convince the rest of the university to raise its standards to match those of FSU's largest college. TD

Not Too Soon

The newly elected President of the Student Body, Ken van Assenderp, was installed before a crowd of other outgoing and incoming student Govt officials at the annual Student Govt. banquet last week.

THE PRESENTATION was impressive; the speaker was good. But the whole affair lacked one important ingredient—the majority of the student body.

The president of 9,500 students was installed before a few of that number. Van Assenderp gave his inaugural address to a relatively small group of people, all having generally the same interests. The talk centered primarily around the duties and responsibilities of student government officials, challenging them to act dynamically in the new trimester operation.

CEREMONIES OF this type are one reason why the average member of the student body does not have a real concern for student government. He feels that it is an introspective organization and a closed-door corporation.

Although there are outstanding examples that contradict this, such as the plans for a new student union and swimming pool and the fight for the Apartment Bill, the impression that Student Govt. is only concerned with itself persists.

The impression is not invalid. At election time, the governmental officials are greatly concerned about the needs of the electorate. But once the office has been won the electorate can be forgotten. Elected officials don't have to worry about what to tell the voters. They simply tell them nothing.

PRESENTLY, MANY LOOK upon van Assenderp as chief executive of Student Govt., rather than President of the Student Body. This might be partially remedied if the President would go straight to his constituents and tell them what he wants to do for them and why.

INAUGURATION WOULD be a good place to start. A public ceremony with a public swearing in and an address to the student body as a whole would bring Student Govt. to the people.

A public ceremony, similar to inaugurations for President of the United States and the Governor would create interest and give the President an opportunity to express his plans. The knowledge that plans would have to be expressed would help insure that the President would take the time to formulate some objectives.

If Student Govt. wants public support, they would be wise to go to the student body often. Inauguration is not too soon to start.

BCS

In Missionary Spirit

By JOHN McCOTTER

Feeling a surge of missionary spirit, I am taking my pen in hand to help those of our student body who will graduate from this university after two years of [illegible] playing.

WHEN I WAS YOUNGER, I pictured an opera as a collection of overstated ladies in viking armor screaming their heads out. But one night I attended a University Opera Guild production and received quite a surprise—they don't wear viking armor! Seriously, speaking as one with no ultimate knowledge of music (more than that of an ardent listener, I would like to encourage any student who has never been particularly interested in sitting through an opera to attend the Opera Guild's forthcoming production of Madame Butterfly. Now before you decide that this is an assigned testimonial, let me say that I speak as a common ordinary schmuck who wouldn't know a recitative if it bit me. Not that I have listed my qualifications on the subject, I would like to speak to you, schmuck-to-schmuck, and give you a few simple rules concerning operas.

1. You shouldn't attend an opera if you absolutely hate it but you should absolutely hate it unless you have at least tried it.

2. DON'T EXPECT exceptional acting. From what I have been able to see, the real expression of emotions in an opera depends not so much on the physical ability of the performers as it does upon their voices and the music. Some people say that if you were deaf, opera performers would seem as though they are moving underwater. Remember to use your ears as much as your eyes.

3. Applaud after arias. An aria is one of those times during an opera when all the performers except one leave the stage or shut up while that one conducts a sort of filibuster. In Italy they accompany their applause with shouts of "Bravo." But since Opera Guild productions are done in English it would be out of place to shout Italian words. I secretly believe that there are times when everybody would like to, but they're afraid. At least that was my case while watching Orpheus and Euridice.

4. WATCH THE CURTAIN. It is a custom unique to FSU operas to lower the curtain every now and then at the beginning of an act until it is piled in a tangled heap upon the floor of the stage. It's a quaint custom, but it's all ours.

5. Look at the scenery, lights, and costumes. These accoutrements don't necessarily aim for accuracy, but rather at the capturing the mood of the opera. If a set looks good, applaud; I don't know if a "bravo" would be appropriate here or not.

6. DON'T WORRY about the plot. Most of the operas I have seen or read about have ridiculous plots, but I realize that the plot is just a mannikin upon which the music is displayed. Sure the heroine may die five or six times, but if she has a good voice, it gives you a chance to hear it more often. A good practice for schmucks is to look up a synopsis of the plot in the library.

7. Come with an open mind. Make your judgement after the performance. If you didn't enjoy even ONE part of the opera, chances are you never will enjoy an opera, but at least you know for sure. You can go back to your pin-ball machines secure in the knowledge that here is a pasttime that was just made for you.

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '58
BEN C. SHARP—Editor

Leslie Powell, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor — Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Toni DiCarlo ..... Executive Assistant
Erik Collins ..... Asst. Managing Editor
Lana Murray ..... Asst. News Editor
Victor Comolli ..... Asst. Sports Editor
Spence Guerin, Julie Savage ..... Artists
Dianne Klinck ..... Business Manager
Fred Salgado ..... Circulation Mgr.
Emmette Jackson ..... Photo Editor
Photographers—Del Kittendorf, John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Columnists....Gerry Dobson, Bob Sanchez, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clark, Jim Smith, Carl Rosenbush, Karen Thornton, Joedy Smith, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens.
Feature Staff—Joycelyn Ward, Martha Robberts, Leslie McNevin, Pat Freeman.
Proof Staff— Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Mary Grossenbacher, Sharon Logan
News Staff—Jim Smith, Bobbie Shiplett, Maureen Perkins, Gayle Motes, Nancy Olsen, Sandra Dixon, Karen Pace, Merry Moorehouse, Jody Wilkis, Cookie Neubauer, Hope Pastor.
Sports Staff—John Wood, Shirley Hardison
Julian Wilcox .... Advertising Manager
Bill Love ..... Asst. Advertising Manager
Margo Duffe ..... Layout
Advertising Sales Staff: Dick Waterworth, Sue Hendrickson, Dwayne Atkins.
Associated College Press, Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave. New York 17, New York.
Published by Florida State University students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Can Commies Convert The College Kid?

By ALLAN DERMOTT

One of the most interesting questions arising today is "How can Communism convert the intellecutual and idealist, mainly, the college student?" In today's world the western thought is being torn between two forces: faith in God and religion, and the sciences. Christianity says, "Believe in God and seek the kingdom of heaven." The sciences say, "How do you know there is a God. Things must be proved through experimentations. How can something invisible to mortal eyes be proved." The results on the mind is doubt ,and often, confusion and frustration.

COMMUNISM OFFERS convictions to its followers. Working through western colleges, Communist agents convince a few misguided individuals that they are the intellectuals and leaders of tomorrow, who must recognize and overthrow the evils of the world which are caused by big business, mainly, capitalism. This approach appeals to some students' intellect and ego. Why?

The Christian churches say it is because of the lack of spiritual values. Psychologists say it is because of the lack of firm convictions. Both agree that knowledge is the first weapon of defense. But what is this knowledge? Is it the mere awakening to the evil plans of Communism? No. Something is needed to unite western thought in a firm faith or convictions.

VIRGIL KNEW THAT in order for Rome to stay powerful, its people must be united in a set of strong convictions. This was one of the reasons why he wrote the Aeneid. Although it is believed by many scholars that Virgil personally did not believe in the pagan gods, it is clear that he wanted to use the gods as his source for uniting the Roman people even stronger in their belief of the gods and, thus stronger in their strength to resist outside enemies. We need something to unite us in our convictions.

It would be helpful here to look at a certain development in a man: John Stuart Mill, a nineteenth century philosopher and economist. There is no doubt that he was an intellectual. As one professor put it, Mill was reading Latin and Greek at the age of four, and at seven he was worried because he still didn't understand some things yet in the writings of Plato. To make a long story short, at the age of eighteen he was one of the main contributors to the Westminister Review. He, however at nineteen had what we call a nervous breakdown.

ONE SHOULD NOTE that if God is Love as John declared, and Eternal Mind, as Wordsworth called Him, then it makes sense that man needs a balance of love and intelligence in order to find happiness. At this point faith and science unite. Such a God as an eternal Mind force and Love can be accepted even by scientists and thus lead to uniting convictions in western thought. However, the many old creeds, doctrines, and dogmas based on an anthropomorphic God must first be put aside.

If man could accept a God of Mind and Love, much of the doubt confusion, and frustration of today could be eliminated. This is the knowledge we need. With this understanding Communism would find itself fighting an almost pierceless, united western thought.

"We've Flunked Out In Math Already"

Guest Column

How To Register For Fall Trimester

By SHARON TOTH

Suggestions for registering for the coming fall trimester:

1. You should spend the summer resting for the three day ordeal of registration.

2. You arrive at F. S. U. properly equipped with [illegible] for the entire ordeal, aspirin for headaches caused by unsympathetic professors, kleenex for more realistic "sob stories," four ball point pens, and a remedy for relieving hand cramps.

3. Prepare to speak on the impossibilities of entering eight o'clock or Friday afternoon classes and on your tale of woe required to enter closed courses.

4. Before entering the actual chamber of horror, take a tranquilizer and have your sob stories ready to be recited.

5. Clutch the four ball point pens and the information sent to you by the helpful Registrars Office which any idiot who has taken advanced hieroglyphics could decipher.

6. Try to find the entrance door (hint — do not follow arrows).

7. Advance to the first station with your blue card (of which you only have sixteen).

8. Prepare to spend a great deal of time, approximately two days, getting by the next two stations, where you simply get checked and pay your bills, fines, and [illegible] to spell your name.

9. Enter the rodeo between the ropes. Watch out for major floods of tears, screaming maniacs, and professors with a two word vocabulary — "section closed."

10. Proceed to spend four days, nine hours and fifteen minutes picking up your class cards which you will later turn in for drop and add slips.

11. The remaining tables require you to register a car you do not own, writing a 5,000 word autobiography on a 3x5 card, and checking your cards at the registrar's table.

12. Now for the final blow — your photo identification which would make Boris Karloff or Al Capone look like a clean cut American student. Then you walk out into the clean fresh air thinking that next time it will surely be a little better.

Letters

The Correspondence Corner

"Ghostwriter"

DEAR MR. MUNROE:

I read with great interest your letter in last week's Flambeau. Let me make it clear to you before I start, I don't want to get into a "discussion" with you on the virtues or drawbacks of A&M in a track meet with FSU. I'm from the North, and of course I'm "prejudiced" (naturally).

I'm glad you have lived in Tallahassee for 21 years. One would think in that amount of time, you would have grown up a little. Tell me, just how would having A&M at a track meet embarrass you?

And your comments on the "ghosts" that signed that article —being non-existent. Since when has the student directory been a criterion for existence? I too, read the student directory, and for the record, under that condition, you don't exist either. You're a "ghost" too (and maybe that's why you embarrass so easily). You know, people who live in glass houses. . .Oh, before you ask I don't picket lunch counters in my spare time, I write letters to embarrassed ghosts. Gee!

GEORGE B. MILLER

Ole, Torre!

TO THE EDITOR:

Pity Mrs. Ivory so lacks in cleverness as to be forced to refer, in her criticism of Mr. Torre, to a matter which the most unenlightened amongst us realizes has nothing whatsoever to do with intelligence!

I think his statement was more than justified.

MARY BRAND

On Application

Why The Confusion?

By MARY ANN STEVENS

I have not been around long enough to actually witness any major trends in this country, but I have a feeling that something is happening to the basic rights that we, as Americans have. But I'm not quite sure what.

EITHER WE ARE losing these rights, or we're adding strength to them. But I know one thing for sure: if we don't keep our minds, as well as our eyes and ears open, democracy is going to come out on the short end of the stick.

World Magazine informs us, last issue, that in the communist nations one can "receive the bullet" for everything from murder to traffic violations. In these nations, it seems the only safe thing one can do is think. And I'm expecting a device for the control of that divine element to be developed any day now.

RECENTLY HUNGARY, in a great humanitarian effort, raised the death penalty age limit from 12 to 14. I'm sure that deserves some words of praise, but I can't think of any at the moment.

Socialists print their doctrines in the newspapers and "believers" are usually not far behind with support. That's fine and I'm all for it in a spirit of free press. But what about the other side of the fence? Are we afraid that by denouncing communism we will be labeled Nazis? Is this the fear that keeps opposition quiet?

That tall, green thing in the New York harbor proclaims "Give me your tired, huddled masses. . ." This and those first ten amendments don't mean that everyone who is free, white and 21 is first and the rest of you guys later. They mean exactly what they say. So why all the confusion? I'm neither a Communist nor a Nazi. But when a job application says "nationality" I write, in legible letters, "American." What does that mean, anyway?

All You Do In Contrast

DEAR WRITERS:

It seems that Bonnie Freedman and I at least have something to our credit. In contrast, all you do is write stupid letters to the editor.

JOSEPH TORRE

Once More

Speaking In A Manner Of Proof

By CHRIS CLARKE

One result of last week's column on approximately this same subject has been a number of people who ask me questions beginning with, "Do you remember?" As a sort of proof that I do remember here is a second installment.

Do You Remember?—

HOOFBEATS FADE in the distance and a man drawls, "Say who was that masked man, anyway?" And then there was the voice that began a certain radio program thusly, "Faster than a speeding bullet, more powerful than a locomotive, able to leap tall buildings at a single bound. Look, up in the sky, it's a bird; it's a plane, it's Superman."

Remember the songs? "Ghost Riders in the Sky" and a thing called "Mule Train." Remember Raymond Scott and the Orchestra with Dorothy Collins and Snooky Lanson? Ricky Nelson was the son of Ozzie and Harriet. . .now Ozzie and Harriet are the parents of Ricky Nelson.

somewhere on our shelves are books and books about Tom Swift and His Electric Swizzle Stick and Nancy Drew and the Hidden Still or The Hardy Boys Catch Mono. If you liked real adventure there was always Tarzan Meets Frank Buck or Bomba the Jungle Boy and the Snake Men.

No I Was a Teen-age Werewolf things because Bela Lugosi and Boris Karloff were scaring the socks off everybody. People who ate pizza were foreigners. The fastest plane in the world was the P-51 Mustang and all planes had propellors. . .jets were things gas came out of to light the house.

PEPSIS WERE TWELVE full ounces (that's a lot) and Cokes cost a nickel. There were seasons for marbles and yo-yo contests. A new author named Jerome David Salinger published a first novel called Catcher in the Rye . . .that was 1945.

An Olympic swimming champ named Johnny Weismuller signed a contract to make some movies based on a character by Edgar Rice Burroughs. We still hear his Tarzan yell. A football player from Alabama also signed for a series of films. His name? Johnny Mack Brown. To speak of a horse named Tony always brought to mind a cowboy named Tom Mix.

THE NEWS WAS A BIG thing on the radio and everybody listened for "And now my first exclusive" or "Good evening Mr. and Mrs. North and South American and all the ships at sea; now let's go to press." And after the news was over music played for a minute and a phone rang. The man that answered it said, "Hello. Duffy's Tavern where the elite meet to eat. Blondie and Dagwood were on the radio, too. Dagwood's boss, Mr. Dithers, had a special way of answering the phone. Remember this. . . Hello, Dithers Construction Company. We'll build you a house, we'll build you a castle, we'll build you a gym if you want to rastle."

These are a few of many that come to mind before anybody had heard of Barry Goldwater and Robert Welch was the manager of a candy company. Besides, that long ago I was far too young to get drafted.

Campaign Trail

Pop, The Promiser

By KAREN THORNTON

The primary race is over and the big run off is coming on to determine who shall be the congressman from the ninth district. Who will win? Your guess is nearly as good as mine. I'm positive my candidate will succeed.

I'M BACKING a gentleman who really stands for what he believes. His name is famous the farms over. It is none other than POP the PROMISER. His motto is: Lend the dough and I promise to uphold.

He doesn't state exactly what he will uphold but you name it and he'll uphold it. He's for the people all the way and if FarmerBrown needs a new pig pen then he'll get a new pig pen. That will be the first suggestion he'll make in Washington. Farmer Brown needs a new pig pen his little spotted pig and POP will do everything in his power to get it for him.

I'M CERTAINLY NOT qualified to tell you all the great issues that POP stands for. I'll quote POP so that he can tell you in his own words.

"Farmers and little friends I's prod ta come before ya'al on this marvelous occasion. It is a gret honor to unveil this statue of Mister Danglas who bilt this magnificet brick [illegible]. This here district needs more society concerned person like Mister Danglas. I's goin ta make this district a gret district Washinton D.C. wil heare of this gret occassion. I do Promise. Every one of ya farmers will be represented in big congress since I's agin reaprotionment. We must hold on to the good equal representation that we all have in the gret state of Floida. I thak ya'al agin for this here gret honor."

These two illustrations should prove to you what a true blue farm boy POP is. He's one to all and all for one. If you want a congressman who will stand by you through thin and then then get out and back POP the PROMISER.

Syllabus

More Mohican Than Seminole

By ROBERT SANCHEZ

Those few brave souls among you who plan to attend summer school this year may be more like the last of the Mohicans than like Seminoles. This is the last year of the [illegible] summer session. A FSU year it will be merely the third trimester, and although there will be a few short courses offered things will not be [illegible].

THOSE OF YOU who have never attended FSU in the summer would be amazed at the differences. For one thing there seems to be almost an entirely different group of people. Numerous dedicated teachers working on advanced degrees are the student body a more mature look. A touch of [illegible] provided, however, by several hundred young high school students in summer music camps. The music campers provide the most pleasant moments of the summer with their evening concerts in Westcott Auditorium. Under the direction FSU faculty members the youngsters frequently produce music of professional quality.

In spite of the fact that many of the courses in the summer are speeded up to a rather frantic pace, the summer session always seems to be a more leisurely time. The weather [illegible]. The high temperature [illegible] 92, the low 68 and it rains every afternoon at 2 o'clock. The [illegible] servation is made more [illegible] Tallahassee rather deserves [illegible] nics and outings are the order of the day. While the [illegible] watermelon cuttings at the [illegible] social events. The movies take place outdoors at the amphitheatre, barring thunderstorms. And speaking of thunderstorms, the Tallahassee area can stage some of the most spectacular displays of heavenly fireworks of any where in the nation. Students can expect the power to be knocked out at least a couple of times during their eight weeks.

DURING THE SUMMER there are no large social events, big plays, spectator sports, [illegible] ity weekends, or other organized distractions. Somehow people manage to have a good time without them. But no more FSU is changing, and the tides of change have finally reached summer school. One summer remains. In June the same old crowd will be back for one last fling. The shop teacher from Miami will greet the librarian from Mary[illegible]. The science campers from Daytona will have a summer romance with the musician from Fort Myers. A thunderstorm will interrupt the third reel of "Shane." The School of Education will have a picnic at the reservation. Someone will rob the plaster in the History Building. Dr. Roady will take his family for a vacation over on the Atlantic. Dr. Hay will probably strike out for Mt Everest. Dr. Liddell will take a trip to Europe. Five hundred perspiring students will wonder when they're going to air-condition the History Building. One last fling — the summer of happiness that summer school succumbs to [illegible] that since one woman can have a baby in nine months, nine women can do it in one month. Hurry. The trimester is coming.

BILL DAVIS
. . . on winning relay team

Tracksters Finish Season

The Florida State track team smashed nine records while sweeping to a 5-0 dual meet season.

The Tribe, which has 36 wins and only five dual meet defeats in seven years under Coach Mike Long, toppled more school records this season than in any previous campaign

It was the third undefeated dual season during the long dynasty with wins over Miami, Furman, South Carolina, Florida, and Louisana State, the top-ranked contender to win the Southeastern Conference track championship. The Seminoles walloped LSU 85-50 for their largest margin of victory, but no other foe managed to come within 23 points of FSU.

Besides posting an undefeated dual season, the tracksters also came in first in the Piedmont Relays and the Memphis Indoor Track Carnival. Florida State has won the Piedmont Relays the last four times they have entered.

Coach Long's own son, Perry, led the assault on the record books, breaking the high and low hurdles marks and running legs on the record-smashing 440 and 880 relay teams. Long's time in the 120 highs was 14.7 seconds and was set the first time he entered this event this year. He bettered his own low hurdle mark in 22.6 seconds.

Jack Brocksmith eclipsed the old 880-yard run mark with a 1:54.5 time; senior Ed Hays pole vaulted to a record 14 feet, two and a half inches; Jeff Clark, a senior co-captain, hurled the shot a record-shattering 55 feet, three and a half inches; and junior Herb Kraft out-distanced his own broad jump record with a leap of 23 feet, seven and a half inches.

The Seminoles' relay teams were led to new marks in the 440 and 880 events by their other senior co-captain, Quentin Till. The 440-yard race was run by Till, Hutch Johnson, Long, and Craig Johnson in 42 seconds flat; the 880 team, comprised of Till, Bill Davis, Long, and C. Johnson, completed distance in 1:27.2.

The two-mile relay unit, Dick Roberts, Davis, Brocksmith, and Leon Smith, turned in a record clocking of 7:49 flat.

Coach Long sees a bright future for the South's track teams, and he readily points to his own team's record-setting pace to prove that the state's track teams are rapidly improving.

TERRY LONG
. . . hurrying hurdle hopper

Mangin Keys Win

The Florida State University baseball team, socked the Florida Southern squad, 9-7, at the first game, and then dropped Southern 12-11 in the second encounter.

Pitcher Ray McShane, going all the way and getting his fifth victory against three losses, struck out 12 batters in his mound stint. He surrendered 10 hits and six earned runs in addition to allowing three walks.

It was not an easy contest as the Seminole stroked three home runs to help keep the elusive lead. Trailing, 6-4 in the bottom of the fifth, catcher Buddy Teagle slapped a four-run homer to push Florida State ahead.

Florida State trailed for the first three innings of the game until it managed to knot the score 3-3 in the third. FSU's first run came in the first when center fielder Bob Madison knocked his fifth homer of the season.

In the fourth, a double by third baseman Hal Mangin and a single by Teagle pushed FSU ahead, 4-3, but then the Moccasins exploded in the fifth to tally three runs.

In Saturday's game Hal Mangin smashed a sacrifice fly that brought in Al Beccaccio with the winning run in the 9th.

Jack Ross started for the Seminoles but was relieved by Tommy Davis and Allen Thomas after 5 2-3 innings, when FSU lost an early 9-0 lead. Reliever Robert Ferrar got credit for the victory.

Florida State blasted 17 hits in one of its biggest days at the plate as Bob Madison clouted a four-run homer in the first inning and Bill Williamson went 3-for-5.

Beccaccio stroked a triple and three singles in six trips to the plate. He scored three runs, drove in another, and stole three bases.

It was the fifth victory in a row for the Seminoles, now 15-9 for the season. FSU closes out its home season against Georgia Southern today.

RAY McSHANE
. . . kills 12 snakes

BOB MADISON
. . . slams homer

Peterson Gets Pay Increase

Florida State University's head football coach, Bill Peterson, received a $1,000 pay boost in Friday's meeting of the State Board of Control.

Acting upon the recommendation of Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell, Florida State president, the board approved the boost, which still has to meet the approval of the Budget Commission.

Peterson's overall pay check from Florida State will amount to $16,000 under the new pay increase. Thirteen thousand of this amount will come from the state and $3,000 will come from funds in the athletic budget.

The grid-mentor has been at Florida State University for three years, having come here from Louisiana State University where he was an assistant defensive line coach.

Two Prep Stars Ink Court Pacts

Two more high school basketball stars signed basketball scholarships at Florida State University. They are Bill Phillips and Gary Schull.

Phillips, 6-8, made the all-state class B team last season after scoring up 22 points and 18 rebounds per game.

Schull, shorter, 6-7, was also one of the most sought-after players in the state. He earned class AA all-state high school basketball in Pompano and averaged 23 points per game and 25 rebounds a game.

PLAYING BY EAR?

Then lend an ear to our message!

If being in a business that can be built from your own ability and imagination sounds appealing, you should look into the possibilities of life insurance sales and sales management. The opportunities are limitless—and you can get started now, while you're still in college.

Our booklet, "Career Opportunities", will give you a good picture of what the life insurance business can mean to you. Just write or phone us.

PROVIDENT MUTUAL
Life Insurance Company
of Philadelphia
DICK D'ALEMBERTE
MANAGER
P.O. BOX 66
Chattahoochee,
Florida

SCALP EM—Howard Denson

Florida Balks At Grid Talks

"Dealing with Florida State is like dealing with a bunch of old women."

These are in essence the words of Gainesville Sun sports editor Joe Halberstein, who felt FSU was letting its emotions govern itself concerning the discussion of the 1964 Florida-FSU football game.

And the dispute between the two schools is still raging. Recently officials from the two schools got together to pick a '64 stadium site. FSU logically suggested that the seventh contest be played on Seminole soil, since the other six have or will have been on Gator dirt.

Florida Walks Out

At this point, Florida walked out, unable to agree with FSU. Florida's side of the argument is: Playing at Doak S. Campbell stadium would cost the two schools $100,000 in would-be ticket sales, since Florida's stadium holds 45,000 to FSU's 25,000. The Gators, who are unselfishly thinking of the Seminoles, say playing in Florida Field would certainly benefit FSU financially since it is known to have money troubles in athletics. (They're great guys down there.)

Despite Florida's argument about Florida Field being so blasted big, Seminoles nevertheless get the idea that it isn't big enough . . . BECAUSE FSU FANS HAVE HAD TO SIT IN THE END ZONES FOR ALL THOSE FOOTBALL GAMES IN THE GIGANTIC FLORIDA FIELD.

Seminole fans had rather lose money on the 50-yard line.

Psychological Advantage

Florida State says, regardless of the money, playing on home soil would give the Seminoles a psychological advantage that they haven't had in the past encounters.

Florida, trying to reach a compromise, says, "Why not play on 'neutral' ground—like the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville?" Jacksonville is neutral? Gator Bowl—that sounds fishy to us, especially since the newspapers and citizens of Jax have been faithfully rooting for Florida during its annual game with Georgia in the Gator Bowl.

No Neutral Field

Florida State learned in 1958 that the citizens of Jacksonville will not support FSU as much as the Gators. The Seminoles played the Bulldogs in the Gator Bowl and didn't bring in enough $$$ to make the game profitable.

So Jax's out, FSU says.

Then FSU re-emphasized the fact that it wants to have a football game on Seminole soil . . . to give us the already-mentioned psychological advantage, to boost Florida State's finances, and to make Florida realize that FSU has become as important as UF—a thought unbearable to Gator brains.

The psychological advantage? In 1959, the Seminole frosh spanked the Baby Gators 26-11 in the first and last frosh football encounter of the two schools (before 7,000 screaming Seminole fans) in Tallahassee.

Loss Not So Great

The Finances? Bill McGrotha, Tallahassee Democrat sports editor and chief arguer with Halberstein, put forth this idea: The financial "loss" of playing in Tallahassee would not be so great for the Seminoles, because Florida State could give seating priority to people with season tickets, thus making up for the "loss."

In other words, Florida is the only one losing money . . . and they sure can afford it.

Wall Street

It is evident that FSU should not have to play second fiddle for the rest of its life. The game is not a financial enterprise, this game of football; it is an athletic contest between two teams—according to the rule book.

And neutral ground cannot be found in this state. So how about it, UF? Leave us old women alone and quit acting like a bunch of Wall Street financiers. You'll get your dander up and blow your Teapot Dome.

Paralyzed Frosh Gridder Recovered From Accident

By VICTOR COMOLLI
Assistant Sports Editor

A football player that was told he might never walk again is back in Florida State University.

R. A. (Mac) McCaskill of Sparta, Ga., received a brain concussion in his fourth day of freshman football practice in September 1960 and woke up 18 days later in the Tallahassee Memorial Hospital to find his left side paralyzed.

In a routine tackling drill, McCaskill "lunged his head into another gridder's knee" and received the concussion. "I was dizzy from a previous tackle when I went into this drill," McCaskill said, commenting on a drill in which he lay on the ground, got up, and tackled a runner.

"The doctors and coaches said it was probably the dizziness that caused the accident. . .when I misjudged in tackling. . .but I have a personal theory that I had my helmet adjusted wrong causing my head to be too far in it."

McCaskill was in TMH for one month, after which period he was moved to the FSU infirmary for five weeks.

During the time he was unconscious, doctors began a shock treatment of sending 21 volts of electricity through his useless arm and leg. "I learned to hate that machine. . .they used to give me those treatments twice a day."

How does it feel to be paralyzed?

"It's the funniest thing. . . I was out for 18 days, and one day I opened my eyes and looked down at my foot. The first thing I saw was this bottle of glucose hanging there with a tube going into my ankle. . .my first thought was to kick that tube out. But somehow — I can't explain how—I realized that I was paralyzed."

The doctor had been whispering these words into his ear twice a day during his coma: You are Mac McCaskill, you were injured in a football practice, and you are now in a hospital with your left side paralyzed.

After 10 days the usefulness of his left leg miraculously returned during the changing of his bed sheets and he was able to attend his first football game at FSU.

It was the Richmond-Florida State contest, the season opener, which FSU won 28-0. Sitting in the pressbox with his girl friend, he heard it announced that he was guest of honor that night.

He recalls while he was at the hospital Coach Charlie Lapradd would often visit him, bringing game films of the freshman team, which went 5-0 that year. It saddened him, McCaskill said, that he couldn't play with his teammates.

MAC McCASKILL
. . . back in school

The Richmond game was the only football game McCaskill saw that year. He finished out the year taking treatments and eventually gained use of his arm and hand. Returning home to Sparta, he often visited FSU for treatments.

And in September of this year and unable to play football, he returned to college to resume his studies in physics. Still on full scholarship, McCaskill eats with the football team, which he thinks is good enough to win "at least five games next year."

Although he could have attended Furman University on scholarship, McCaskill said he is not sorry in the least bit that he attended FSU. "The school's been very good to me," he said, "it helped save my life."

Seminole Netters Edged By Florida

The University of Florida netters dropped the tennis team of Florida State last week, 5-4, as Richard Collins, the Gators' former manager stepped in to replace injured Ron Rebhuhn.

Collins' triumph over FSU's Bob Berry gave the Gators the win as the Seminole fell, 6-4 and 9-7.

Paul Scarpa opened the Seminole attack and dropped Jim Schaffer in the first 6-3 set, but then lost the second set 3-6. However, on the third set, Scarpa surged, 6-2, to grab a win.

A second Seminole win came in the Gordy Smith - Francisco Montana match, as Smith dropped Montana, 6-1 and 6-0.

Florida's Mike Cullinane then defeated Ed Fasula in 6-0 and 6-2 sets. Fred Shaya followed this up with a 6-3, 5-7, 7-5 triumph over Jamie Jamieson. At this point, Collins downed Berry to give Florida the edge. Jerry Pfeiffer added to Florida's points by defeating netter-cager Wally Dale, 6-2, 6-3.

In the doubles match, Florida State claimed two out of three victories as Scarpa and Smith defeated Schaffer and Montana, 6-2 and 6-1.

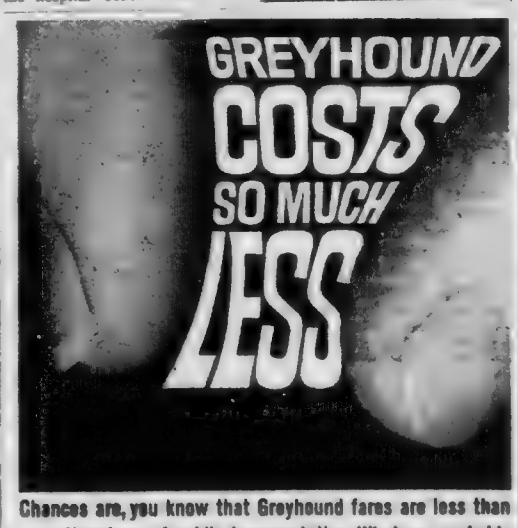
Fasula and Jamieson teamed to down Cullinane and Shaya, 6-4, 6-2 for FSU's second victory.

Then FSU's Berry and Dale fell to Collins and Pfeiffer, in two 6-0 sets.

Frank Howard To Instruct At June Clinic

Frank Howard, one of college football's most successful coaches, will be one of the featured lecturers at Florida State University's ninth annual football clinic.

The clinic, combined for the first time with a basketball program, is slated to run June 7th through 9th here at FSU.



Howard, a coach at Clemson College since 1931, is now one of the two coaches who has headed a major football institution longer than anyone else. The other is Howard's old boss—Jess Neely of Rice. Wally Butts of Georgia had one year on the pair until the Bulldog coach resigned in December of 1960.

Through his 22 seasons as head coach, Howard's Clemson teams have won 126, lost 79, and tied 10.

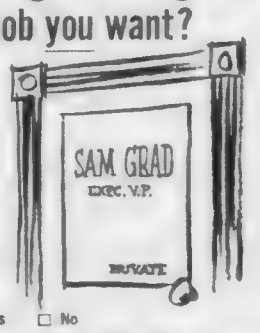
The 1948 Clemson eleven went 10-0 and faced Missouri in the 1949 Gator Bowl, winning 24-23. Howard claims this is the best football game he ever witnessed.

Coaches, players, and any others planning to attend the clinic are advised to make their reservations early.

Chances are, you know that Greyhound fares are less than any other form of public transportation. What you probably don't realize is how much less. For a pleasant surprise, check the money-saving Greyhound fares below. You'll see at a glance why it always pays to insist on exclusive Greyhound Scenicruiser Service"...and leave the driving to us!

No other form of public transportation has fares so low. For example:

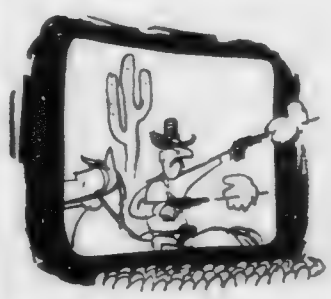
1-Way	Round Trip	1-Way	Round Trip
JACKSONVILLE		DAYTONA
$4.35	$8.54	$7.04	$12.71
MIAMI		DOTHAN, ALA.
$12.65	$22.77	$4.02	$7.26
PENSACOLA		GAINESVILLE
$6.11	$11.00	$4.29	$7.76
TAMPA		ATLANTA
$7.04	$12.71	$8.42	$15.18
ORLANDO		306 N. ADAMS
$7.04	$12.71	Phone 222-4240



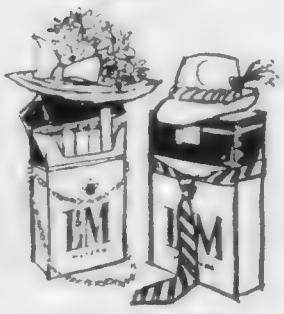
LUGGAGE? You can take more with you on a Greyhound. If your [illegible] or extra baggage on ahead by Greyhound Package Express. It's there in hours . . . and costs you less.

GREYHOUND

Check your opinions against L'M's Campus Opinion Poll #20



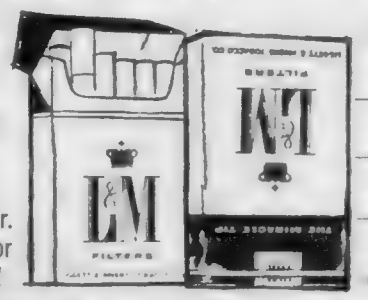
1 Is a B. A. good enough for the job you want?



☐ Yes ☐ No

2 Do U.S. movies weaken our image abroad?

☐ Yes ☐ No



3 What's the smart way for a cigarette to dress?

☐ box ☐ soft pack

Get Lots More from L'M

L&M gives you MORE BODY in the blend, MORE FLAVOR in the smoke, MORE TASTE through the filter. It's the rich-flavor leaf that does it!

HERE'S HOW MEN AND WOMEN AT 56 COLLEGES VOTED.

		MEN	WOMEN
3	soft pack	36%	46%
	box	64%	54%
2	No	28%	43%
	Yes	72%	57%
1	No	49%	66%
	Yes	51%	34%

L&M's the filter cigarette for people who really like to smoke.

THE FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY OPERA GUILD PRESENTS

PUCCINI'S

MADAME BUTTERFLY

In English, with Orchestra, and in Full Costume

Friday, May 18 Saturday, May 19

ALL SEATS RESERVED ADULTS $2.00

STUDENTS $1.00

Tickets on Sale at Westcott Ticket Office

MAY 18, 19 8:15 p.m.

WESTCOTT AUDITORIUM

Finals Start May 25

Classes will end Wednesday, May 23, at 10 p.m. Examinations will begin at 8 a.m. Friday, May 25, and end 6 p.m., Friday, June 1. Examination periods are two hours.

All sections of the following courses have examinations at the same time and will be held at the place announced by the instructor.

COURSE	TIME OF EXAMINATION
Accounting 201-202	Friday, May 25, 7-9 p.m.
Botany 101	Saturday, May 26, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Business Law 201	Friday, May 25, 4-6 p.m.
Economics 201	Tuesday, May 29, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Education 100, 101	Monday, May 28, 4-6 p.m.
Education 202	Wednesday, May 30, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Education 206 Sections 7, 8, 10	Monday, May 28, 8-10 a.m.
Education 301	Wednesday, May 30, 7-9 p.m.
Education 312	Friday, May 25, 4-6 p.m.
English 202	Saturday, May 26, 7-9 p.m.
English 301	Saturday, May 26, 4-6 p.m.
French: Narration 105, 106	Wednesday, May 30, 4-6 p.m.
Geography 206	Tuesday, May 29, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Government 101	Saturday, May 26, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Health Education 115	Thursday, May 31, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
History 181, 215, 216	Thursday, May 31, 4-6 p.m.
History 182	Monday, May 28, 8-10 a.m.
Home Economics 202	Saturday, May 26, 8-10 a.m.
Interior Design and Real Estate 255	Friday, May 25, 8-10 a.m.
Library Science 205	Thursday, May 31, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Library Science 515-580	Tuesday, May 29, 1-3 p.m.
Mathematics 203	Wednesday, May 30, 7-9 p.m.
Mathematics 111, 118	Friday, May 25, 8-10 a.m.
Mathematics 151	Wednesday, May 30, 8-10 a.m.
Music Education 441	Friday, May 25, 7-9 p.m.
Music 162	Friday, May 25, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Military Science 102, 202, 302	Tuesday, May 29, 7-9 p.m.
Military Science 102, 202, 302	Tuesday, May 29, 7-9 p.m.
Medical Technology 1st and 2nd Years	Saturday, May 26, 7-9 p.m.
Nursing 110-180	Tuesday, May 29, 8-10 a.m.
Philosophy 212	Tuesday, May 29, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Physics 201, 202	Monday, May 28, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Speech 321	Saturday, May 26, 8-10 a.m.
Social Science 105	Monday, May 28, 7-9 p.m.
Social Studies Education 422 Ed.	Wednesday, May 30, 8-10 a.m.
Sociology 101	Friday, June 1, 8-10 a.m.
Sociology 306	Friday, June 1, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Speech 101	Thursday, May 31, 8-10 a.m.

Examinations for courses not previously listed are listed below. They will be given in the classroom where the sections of the courses met.

EXAMPLE: If you have an 8 or 8:30 class on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. And if that course is not listed above, you will take the examination in your regular classroom Saturday, May 26, 4-6 p.m.

COURSE	TIME OF EXAMINATION
8 or 8:30 M W F
8 or 8:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Saturday, May 26, 4-6 p.m.
8 or 8:30 T Th
9 or 9:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Friday, May 25, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
9 or 9:30 M W F
9 or 9:30 T Th
10 or 10:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Monday, May 28, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
10:30 M W F
10 or 10:30 T Th	Tuesday, May 29, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
11 or 11:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Friday, May 25, 10:30 a.m.-12:30
11 or 11:30 M W F
11 or 11:30 T Th	Friday, June 1, 4-6 p.m.
12 or 12:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Saturday, May 26, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
12 or 12:30 M W F
12 or 12:30 T Th	Monday, May 28, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
12 or 12:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Friday, June 1, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
12 or 12:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Wednesday, May 30, 8-10 a.m.
1 or 1:30 M W F
1 or 1:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Wednesday, May 30, 10:30 a.m.-12:30
1 or 1:30 T Th	Thursday, May 31, 4-6 p.m.
2 or 2:30 M W F
2 or 2:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Wednesday, May 30, 4-6 p.m.
2 or 2:30 T Th
2 to 3:15 T Th	Thursday, May 31, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
3 or 3:30 M W F
3 or 3:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Monday, May 28, 4-6 p.m.
3:30 to 4:45 T Th	Thursday, May 31, 8-10 a.m.
4 or 4:30 M W F
4 or 4:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Monday, May 28, 7-9 p.m.
4 or 4:30 T Th	Wednesday, May 30, 7-9 p.m.

Courses meeting one hour each week — Friday, June 1, 10:30 a.m.-12:30

Courses meeting two hours each week will take the same schedule as the three hour courses unless otherwise shown on this schedule.

If a student has three examinations which appear first on this schedule, he may request over the other examinations. Make arrangements with the instructors of the conflicting examination to take the examination Tuesday, May 29, 4-6 p.m.

Students are not permitted to change sections for examinations.

In cases of emergencies where a student must be absent from an examination, the student may request permission from his academic dean to take the examination late. No examination is to be taken at home in such cases.

Night classes will have their examinations at the first regular class period time during the examination week, except those having group examinations.

Classes meeting on Saturday morning only will have their examinations Saturday, May 26, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

Students who have more than three examinations scheduled for one day contact Del Williams or Mrs. J. L. Bryant, 102A Westcott Building, Extension 2710, one day the third examination in the sequence may be changed.

A student may be excused by his instructor from taking the examination in a course in which he has maintained satisfactory grades if he is absent when the examination is scheduled. Students who are required to take examinations will have them scheduled with their instructors not later than Saturday, May 26. Graduate candidates must be in the Registrar's Office by Monday, May 28.

The exact period of a laboratory course will determine the examination meeting.

Arrangements for room assignments should be made with Del Williams or Mrs. Bryant in the Registrar's Office, Extension 2710, by Friday, May 18.

The examination schedule is published with the approval of the Faculty Senate Committee on examinations.

Plans For Assault Are Given

. . . As Cadets listen on their aggressor-held position.

When & Where

TODAY

The Examination in Defense of Dissertation of Patricia Davis Frazier will be held at 151 Education School of Education at 8 a.m. Title of Frazier's dissertation is: "Interrelationships of Personality Self Assessment, Academic Achievement, and other Factors Among Selected University Freshmen." All faculty members are invited to attend.

• • •

J. McDermott will speak on "Molecular Basis of Hormone Action: Role and Mechanism of Action of Insulin" in the Biochemistry Seminar of the Science, at noon.

• • •

The Examination in Defense of Dissertation of Gene Marion Simons will be held in 210 Music Bldg. at 2 p.m. Title of Simon's dissertation is "Responses of Young Men and Women to Twins and Singletons." All faculty members are invited to attend.

• • •

The Phi Alpha Theta will meet in the Lecture Hall at 7 p.m.

• • •

Assistant Dean of Students Jean Causey will speak at the Vespers at the BSU House at 9 p.m.

• • •

The Phi Mu Epsilon banquet will be in the Suwannee Room at 7 p.m.

• • •

Angel Flight will meet in the Union Room of Longmire at 7 p.m.

• • •

The Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship will meet in the Student Lounge of Longmire at 7 p.m.

• • •

Epsilon Chapter of the Education Lecture Hall at 7 p.m.

• • •

Phi Alpha Theta and History Dept. will meet in the Lecture Hall at 7:30 p.m.

• • •

Lectures on "Philosophical Issues and World Relations" will be broadcast over WFSU-FM at 8 p.m.

• • •

The Master Board will meet in the Faculty Lounge of Longmire at 8 p.m.

• • •

Sophomore Council will meet in Longmire Auditorium at 8 p.m.

• • •

The Gold Key initiation will be held in Opperman Music Hall at 9 p.m.

• • •

At 10 p.m. Sorority Open House meetings and Future residents of DeGraff Hall will meet in the Longmire Auditorium.

• • •

TOMORROW

The Examination in Defense of Dissertation of Mr. Joseph O'Hara Carson, Jr. will be held in 216 Education at 8 a.m. Title of Mr. Carson's dissertation is: "An Analysis of the Leader Behavior of Junior College Deans as Perceived by Student Leaders." All members of the faculty are invited to attend.

• • •

The Examination in Defense of Dissertation of Mr. Ann Kelly Hess will be held in 112 Education at 3 p.m. Title of Mr. Hess' dissertation is: "Effects of Changing Social Structure Through Child Leaders." All faculty members are invited to attend.

• • •

The Examination in Defense of Dissertation of Miss Rita Jeanne Wetzel's will be held in Room 03 CBA at 3 p.m. Title of Miss Wetzel's dissertation is: "The Effects of a Marriage Course on the Personality Characteristics of Students." All faculty members are invited to attend.

• • •

The Faculty Senate will meet in the Library Lecture Hall at 4 p.m.

• • •

The Seminole Home Economics will have its banquet in the South Seminole at 7 p.m.

• • •

The Social Welfare Club will meet in the Club Room of Longmire at 7 p.m.

• • •

The Student Senate will be at the Outdoor Theatre at 7:15 p.m.

• • •

Dr. Arthur Dorlag will speak on the Role of Theatre in Urban Life at the English and American Studies meeting in the Library Lecture Hall at 7:30 p.m.

• • •

The Florida Accounting Association will have a business meeting in 101 History at 7:30 p.m.

• • •

AAPGA will meet in the Education Lecture Hall at 7:30 p.m.

• • •

The Alpha Kappa Delta will meet in the Student Lounge of Longmire at 8 p.m.

• • •

"Theories of the Good Life," one of a series of lectures by FSU's Distinguished Professor for 1962 Dr. Anna Forbes Laddell, on ethical theories from the Greek period to the present time will be broadcast over WFSU at 8:30 p.m.

THURSDAY

The Village Vamps will meet to elect officers at 8 p.m. at the Zeta Tau Alpha House.

• • •

The Examination in Defense of Dissertation of K. Morton will be held in 232 Education at 3 p.m. Title of Mr. Morton's dissertation is: "Energy Range from 10 to 19 Mev." All faculty members are invited to attend.

• • •

The ACE Picnic will be held at [illegible] at 5 p.m. The price is $.50 per person.

• • •

The Phi Eta Sigma meeting will be held in the Large Lounge of Longmire at 7 p.m.

• • •

Rev. F. Bruce will be the speaker at the Vespers at the BSU House at 9 p.m.

• • •

APO Actives will meet in Longmire Auditorium at 7 p.m.

• • •

Sigma Pi Sigma will meet in 124 Science at 8 p.m. There will be the election of new members and election of officers.

• • •

The Choral Union will present an informal concert at the Outdoor Theatre at 8:15 p.m.

Fellowships Are Awarded

Eight persons have been awarded cooperative graduate fellowships by the National Science Foundation for doctoral studies at Florida State University during the coming year.

A stipend of $1,800 is provided for nine months of study, and $2,400 for 12 months.

Fellowship receivers include: James Thomas Ayres, analytical chemistry; Richard Edward Chandler, topology in mathematics; Fredrick James Zerla algebra in mathematics; William Arthur McLaurin, experimental psychology; Julian Barham Coon, atomic and molecular physics; Raymond Eugne Hunter, nuclear physics; Samuel Graves Snow, nuclear physics; Thurman Lamar Talley, nuclear physics.

In addition to the cooperative fellowships, these NSF summer fellowships for study at FSU were announced.

Stanley Eugene Payne, mathematics; Robert Craig Briner, chemistry; Edward James Powers, mathematics; Paul Joseph Smith, mathematics.

Choral Union Gives Program

The Choral Union, Florida State University's largest mixed choral group, will present a program principally of lighter choral numbers at 7:15 p.m. Thursday, in the Opperman outdoor theatre.

Herman Gunter Jr., director, said the program will include a medley from "Oklahoma," some folk songs, a madrigal and a selection from the works of contemporary composer Randall Thompson. Piano accompaniment will be by Russell Wilson. The program will last 40 minutes.

ROTC Holds Field Training Maneuvers

Fifty-one cadets of the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps participated in a field training exercise conducted Thursday through Saturday.

About a dozen members of Pershing Rifles, national military honorary, acted as aggressor forces in maneuvers with the other ROTC cadets.

The cadets were organized into a rifle platoon consisting of four rifle squads and a weapons squad. For control purposes the problem was broken down into eight phases. For each phase a platoon leader, platoon sergeant and five squad leaders were appointed. Platoon leaders and squad leaders had complete charge of their units and were responsible for proper control, action and discipline.

The aggressor forces maneuvers were in accordance with the new Army emphasis on guerrilla-style warfare.

Two regular daylight battles were fought, as well as one night battle and several minor skirmishes.

Special emphasis was placed on night patrol, infiltration, close combat, and training on short water and food rations in 90 degree weather.

Art Students Display Work

The best work by Florida State University art students will go on display Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in the University Gallery.

Topranking art students in each class will be awarded prizes.

Dr. Jack Rollow, associate dean of arts and sciences, who is leaving soon to become vice president of Queens College, Charlotte, N. C., will make the presentation. The public is invited.

The summer exhibit will represent nearly every kind of media, including water color, gouche, fashion illustration, graphics, drawing, design and painting. The exhibit will remain up during the entire summer.

The Gallery is now open from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. during the week, from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday afternoons.

The Attorney General Speaks

. . . as cadet Lyman Fletcher talks on a field radio to other units and receives plans for night defense.

—Photos by Emmuelo Lagos

French Honorary Holds Annual Social, Honors Joan Of Arc, Elects President

Nathaniel E. Smith was elected president of Pi Delta Phi, national French honorary, Sunday night at the annual social meeting of the organization. The meeting was held on a French national holiday in honor of Joan of Arc.

Other officers elected were Linda Lamar, vice president; Glenda Langford, secretary-treasurer.

Initiation ceremonies were conducted over the meeting, which was held at La Leche home of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Leduc. Dr. Leduc, who will begin teaching at Hampden-Sydney College, Va., in September, received an engraved silver tray from the French honorary members, in recognition of his services as faculty sponsor of the organization.

Dr. Azzurra Givens was elected as new faculty sponsor by the Pi Delta Phi members.

In addition to officers already mentioned, Patricia Booker, [illegible], Hugh de Verges Harris, [illegible], Mary Meeks were initiated at the last week. Miss Kathleen Kaiser, [illegible], Master was initiated at an [illegible] ber.

Also elected to be initiated [illegible] Patricia Finn Alexander and Marilyn Mc[illegible] ham.

To be eligible for membership [illegible] must have a 3.0 overall grade average, with a 3.1 average in French, including at least [illegible] hours, both undergraduates and graduate students are eligible.

All Around Campus

Dorlag Speaks Tomorrow On "The Role Of Theatre . . ."

Dr. Arthur Dorlag director of University Theatre at Florida State University will be the American Studies lecturer tomorrow night. Dr. Dorlag will speak on "The Role of Theatre in Urban Life" at 7:30 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall. The lecture is open to the public. This lecture will be the final one in the spring lecture series except for a summary lecture, "The Future of the City" by American Studies Director Dr. William Randel next Wednesday night.

HOME ECONOMICS

The annual Home Economics banquet will be held tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the South Seminole Club. Tickets may be obtained for $2 from members of the Home Economics Club, Fashion Incorporated, 4-H Club and Omicron Nu.

TARPON CLUB

The Tarpon Club will represent FSU at the Southern Aquatics Festival in Baton Rouge, La., Friday. The Indian composition from the annual Tarpon Club performance will be presented. Directed by Pam and Phyllis Dowd and Cecile Mola, the number will feature Barbara Benz, Millie Bishop, Judy MacCausen, Arlene Martin and Marilyn Sorin.

GARCIA'S
PIZZAS
SPAGHETTI
Open 7 Days
A Week
Close 12:00 P.M.
320 E. TENN.
223-1177

at your TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

FLORIDA
Last Times Today
"STATE FAIR"
Starting Tomorrow
James John
STEWART WAYNE
—in—
"The Man Who Shot Libert Valance"

STATE
Today & Wednesday
Eva Marie Warren
SAINT BEATTY
—in—
"All Fall Down"
1:30-3:30-5:30
-7:30-9:30

PERRY HIGHWAY OUTDOOR
Last Day
"WALK ON THE WILD SIDE"
"THE RAW EDGE"
Tomorrow-Saturday
Elvis Presley in
"FOLLOW THAT DREAM" and
"QUANTRILL'S RAIDERS"

CAPITOL DRIVE-IN ON WOODVILLE HWY.
Tonight & Wed. Showing at 8:00
Dana Andrews in
"MADISON AVENUE"
Co-Hit at 9:40
Stephen Boyd
Hope Lange
"BEST OF EVERYTHING"

It's greasy, by George! But Vitalis with V-7 keeps your hair neat all day without grease. Naturally V-7 is the greaseless grooming discovery Vitalis with V-7 fights embarrassing dandruff, prevents dryness, keeps your hair neat all day without grease. Try it today!

lively Jan Ray. Cornell '64

lives it up with this lively One from Ford '62: the new Falcon Sports Futura!

Lively Jan Ray is moved by the music of Mozart and the liveliness of the new Falcon Sports Futura. This snappy compact sports foam-rubber bucket seats, handy personal console, and a stylish new roofline to please any Thunderbird-watcher (vinyl covered, if you like).

The spunky Futura has an optional 4-speed stick shift for the anti-automation crowd, and the gas needle stays on "full" as if it's been welded there. See all the Lively Ones at your Ford Dealer's —the liveliest place in town!

A PRODUCT OF Ford MOTOR COMPANY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Florida's First Semi-Weekly College Newspaper

Vol. XLVIII, No. 56

Published By The Students Of Florida State University

Friday, May 18, 1962

1150 Get Degrees Graduation Day

By LANA MURRAY
Assistant News Editor

A record graduating class of about 1,150 students will receive degrees at commencement exercises, Saturday, June 2.

Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell, president of Florida State University, will confer degrees at the exercises, which begin at 7:30 p.m.

The main speaker will be Dr. Doak S. Campbell, who as president guided the development of FSU from a liberal arts college for women to a co-educational university. Commencement exercises are being held in the stadium which bears his name.

DR. CAMPBELL

A native of Scott County, Ark., Dr. Campbell began teaching in public schools in 1905, then attended Ouachita College and received his bachelor's degree in 1911. After serving for two years as secretary of the Baptist Young People's Union and Religious Education Association in Kansas, Campbell became an instructor in chemistry at Central College, and in 1920 president of the college. For 17 years he was secretary of the American Association of Junior Colleges.

Leaving the presidency of Central in 1928, he began his graduate work at George Peabody College for Teachers, and after getting his Ph.D. degree remained at Peabody. In 1938 he became dean of the Graduate School and in 1941 left to come to FSCW.

In 1946 FSCW was asked to take care of an overload of 1,000 male applicants for admission at the University of Florida. A branch institution was set up here, leading several months later to the establishment of co-educational FSU in 1947.

Since his retirement in 1957 at the age of 68, Dr. Campbell has continued his educational activities, serving as a consultant in development of educational programs in various parts of the nation.

At commencement exercises, in addition to the conferring of degrees and honorary degrees, two awards in recognition of outstanding teaching at FSU will be given. Names of recipients of the awards are being kept secret until the Saturday night ceremonies.

DISTINGUISHED PROFESSOR

The first of these, the Distinguished Professor award, is in recognition of a faculty member who has been in at least 10 years at FSU, and has continued to contribute to the university teaching and research, or "some other creative endeavor of some importance or worth." Each department may make one nomination for the Distinguished Professor award. The FSU president appoints a screening committee from the teaching faculties, which may go beyond the nominations of the departments in their selection.

Although it is not a qualification that the recipient be a full professor, each of the recipients since the establishment of the award in 1957 has been.

Those who already have received the award are Dr. William Hudson Rogers, 1957-58 Dr. Marian D. Irish, 1958-59 Dr. Anna Forbes Liddell, 1959-60 Dr. Ernest Grunwald, 1960-61 and Dr. Wiley Housewright, 1961-62.

No stipend accompanies the annual Distinguished Professor award.

COYLE MOORE JR. AWARD

The other award to be announced the Coyle E. Moore

(Continued on Page 6)

Garnet And Gold Key Tap

Garnet Key, (above), women's honorary, tapped 16 sophomore and junior women, Monday night. Taps are: (l to r) first row: Beth Ann LeGate, Pat Doomar, Beverly Calvert; second row, Kitty Miller, Nancy Arnold, Gretchen Uzzel, Jimmy Langford, Milie Bishop; third row, Jo Smaltz, Dianne Klinck, Pat Melton, Patsy Brill, Eleanor Belote, Reville Sladen and Clyda Stoakes. Not pictured, Patricia Lawrence.

Gold Key, (below) men's honorary, tapped 13 junior and senior men, Tuesday night. Taps are: (l to r) first row, Johnny Smith, Duncan Moore, Joedy Smith, Doug Shank, Ron Jones, Bobby Byrd, Jim Blue and Bill Arnold; second row, Ross McVoy, John Leonard, George Harriett Hugh Davis and Galt Allee.

FSU's Future Role Revealed By Study

A role as one of two "senior universities" in the state's public educational system is proposed for Florida State University in a role and scope study just completed by the institution.

A College of Law should be established at FSU, said the 66-page report, filed with the Board of Control by President Gordon W. Blackwell. The result of a year-long study directed by an 18-member faculty committee, the report carries recommendations for consideration of the Board in defining the role and scope of the various institutions of higher education. Dr. Hugh Stickler was director of the study.

It projects an enrollment of 15,000 students in 1970, compared with nearly 10,000 at present. Of the larger enrollment, an estimated 4,000 will be graduate students.

The term "senior university" as used in the report refers to institutions with doctoral programs and concentrating on advanced education, as distinguished from two-year junior colleges and four-year universities with some graduate programs.

NEW Ph.D. FIELDS

It is proposed that early considerations be given to offering the doctorate in such fields as business, economics, philosophy, engineering science, art education, special education, social welfare and librarianship, in addition to the 23 fields where the Ph.D. is now offered.

FSU can serve the state best by becoming recognized according to national standards of excellence, the report states, and reaching these standards of excellence will require an expenditure of between two and three times the present annual budget in 10 years along with $77 million in capital outlay during the same period.

In addition to the $3,155,000 in capital outlay expenditures already programmed for the 1961-63 biennium, the report proposed these additional capital expenditures during the decade 1960-69: $19.5 million; 1965-67, $20.2 million; 1967-69, $16.5 million; 1969-71, $12 million; 1971-73, $6 million.

"If the recommendations are followed, FSU will become one of the distinguished universities of the nation and will be in the future an even greater force for the development of the citizens of Florida and their state," said the study.

The report noted that FSU's development from a liberal arts college during the past 15 years has paralleled the fastest period of growth of Florida itself, and that "teaching large numbers of Florida's youth and adults is a first obligation of the University."

Research and service programs directed toward various aspects of Florida's economy are other primary functions, said the report. It noted Florida is rapidly becoming more urban.

"State universities should help guide such growth, but there is not in the state a single center for training specialists in city planning and urban problems," it said.

In support of the establishment of a College of Law at FSU in addition to the one at University of Florida, the report stated:

"Because of the rapid growth of population in Florida and the consequent demand for more lawyers and legally-trained personnel, there will be need shortly for another state-supported law program. Tallahassee, as the center of state legislative and judicial activity and the site of the state law libraries is a natural location for a college of law. The University already maintains an excellent pre-law program as well as appropriate graduate-level supporting programs in the social sciences."

NEW MASTER'S PROGRAM

Further innovations at the master's degree level are needed, the report said — "an important one of which is the three-year program beginning at the junior year and leading to a master's degree."

There should be a graduate program leading to a master of fine arts degree and the University recognizes the need to develop several programs for "the doctorate which prepares the candidate for teaching rather than research."

New departments or interdisciplinary programs should be established, said the report, such as Asian studies, oceanography, [illegible] planning, and actuarial science, and an Institute of International Affairs "should be established immediately."

Staffing of the faculty "has been reasonably successful to date," said the report, but the prospect for the future gives cause for concern.

At present with [illegible] more than 2/3 teaching and research members, the faculty is still short of the desired quota, according to generally accepted productivity indices," said the report.

"It is estimated that as early as 1965 the University will need a faculty of 830 to 950; it will need 1,100, and these estimates do not assume [illegible] which will become essential with year-round operation."

FACULTY BENEFITS

FSU, said the report, "must be prepared to encounter the keenest kind of competition for the available personnel." It was suggested, therefore, that such inducements be provided as more faculty time for research and creative activity; sabbatical leaves at full pay for scholarship and creative activity in operation not later than 1965; a variety of fringe-benefits such as low cost housing for new faculty, low interest mortgage loans, free tuition for members of families and social security coverage.

FSU's Library, said the report, "is far below the size and quality necessary" for the developing University, and is greatly in need of additional financial support. By 1967 library space should be doubled.

The Library and Library School officials are exploring [illegible] the feasibility of activating an information retrieval laboratory equipped to undertake literature searching in five areas important to industrial, scientific and cultural research in Florida; aircraft, meteorology, space-biology, naval countermines, and geontology" and both public and private support for this laboratory should be sought, it was said.

PREDICTED ENROLLMENT

The enrollment projection for 1970 calls for a student body with 11,000 undergraduate and 4,000 graduate students. Freshmen and sophomores will number about 4,000 (300 fewer than at present); junior and senior enrollment will be approximately twice the present 3,650; and graduate enrollment will be about three times the present enrollment.

The projection indicates 29 per cent of the student body will be married and that the overall ratio of men to women students will be 3 to 2.

"As the University looks ahead to 1970, it should provide housing for [illegible] per cent of the married students," said the report.

The report suggested that, after Board of Control determination institution should formulate the tion of the floor for admission to the several universities, "each institute should formulate the admissions policy best suited to its own needs. Instead of relying solely on test scores and minimum high school grade averages, this University should broaden its bases for selection to include oth-

(Continued on Page 6)

Trimester Operations Begin In September

By TONI DiCARLO
Flambeau Staff Writer

Trimester operations at Florida State University will begin Sept. 5, 1962, with the opening of registration. Classes start Monday, Sept. 10.

The trimester program consists of dividing the year into three equal "trimesters" instead of two "semester" and a summer session equaling one half "semester." The plan was chosen over the "Quarter" system when the State Legislature forced the state universities into year-round full time operations.

The quarter system would have necessitated a complete revamping of semester courses into one or two-quarter courses and a revaluation of semester hours into quarter hours.

COURSE HOURS

Courses under the trimester will remain the same as the semester courses except that they will be covered in less time. Hours and credits will remain unchanged, so that students transferring into and out of trimester schools will have no problem with credit transfers.

Fall Trimester classes will begin Sept. 10 and end Dec. 14. Final examinations will be given Dec. 15 through 21. "Trimester break" will extend through the holidays until Jan. 3, when spring registration starts.

Spring classes will begin Jan. 7 and end April 12. Examinations will be April 13 through 19, and Commencement ceremonies for the year will be April 20.

ONE GRADUATION

This will be the only graduation ceremony of the year. Students who finish their requirements in August or December will be given a statement by the Registrar to the effect that they have completed their studies and that conferral of the degree awaits only the next scheduled commencement.

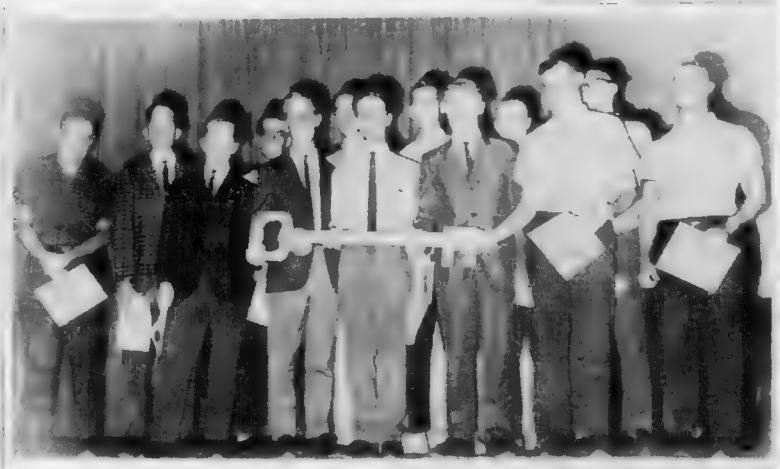
This will technically take the place of a diploma, enabling students to get jobs or enter graduate school without delay. All students will receive diplomas in April.

After graduation there will be a four day spring vacation, with summer registration starting April 25 and classes beginning April 29.

The Summer Trimester will be split into two short sessions for those who wish to attend only half of the summer. The full trimester will run from April 29 to Aug. 7, with a break June 15 through 19 while the first half session takes finals and the second session registers.

Summer finals will end August 10, leaving almost a month before classes resume in September.

EQUAL DISTRIBUTION



Students may attend all three trimesters or any combination of trimesters they choose, but restrictions may eventually be placed on those entering in the fall to insure equal distribution of students throughout the year.

Activities as well as classes will assume the year-round schedule. The Flambeau will publish during the summer and one of the three editions of Smoke Signals will be distributed during the Summer Trimester. Student Government is still making

(Continued on Page 6)

Dr. Doak S. Campbell

Univ. School Goes Year Round

Florida State University has received authority from the Board of Control to place its 12-grade University School on a plan of year - round operation using the trimester sustem beginning in September.

The school thus will become one of the first in the country below college level to go on trimester operation, and FSU will be able to study on a pilot basis a plan which may be widely applied later.

Coupled with the trimester plan is a system of non-graded instruction. This will allow students to progress rapidly in subjects in which they are skilled.

None of the students in the first eight grades, however, will be allowed to skip a grade, and thus all will enter Florida High at about the age of 14. Florida High, grades 9 to 12, also will have non-graded instruction and the top 20 per cent of the student body will be able to finish in less than the usual four-year time.

University School director Dr. Joseph Hooten said the kindergarten will operate as at present, except that the year will be divided into trimesters.

PRESIDENT BLACKWELL

In presenting the trimester plan to the Board, FSU President Gordon W. Blackwell said:

"It is becoming increasingly difficult to defend a policy which permits the nation's schools to lie idle or to operate at less than capacity during the summer months. By adopting the trimester plan, the University School will serve as a pilot project to evaluate year - round operation and to develop its techniques before a statewide movement begins.

"In addition to the benefits derived from maximum use of plant and personnel, our proposal offers a bold new approach to curriculum planning. It stimulates creative, self-directed activity and provides a flexible program for each student that is consistent with his ability and through which he progresses at a rate commensurate with his achievement."

University School will begin its first trimester on Sept. 6 and end the trimester on Dec. 21; the second trimester will begin Jan. 7 and end April 23; and the third trimester will begin April 29 and end Aug. 9.

The third trimester will be divided into two halves, the first ending on June 14 and the second beginning on June 17.

Dr. Hooten emphasized that acceleration will have little emphasis in the trimester plan, unless as in the first eight grades it is "acceleration in content rather than in years."

While each trimester will be only 75 school days in length, each student in grades one through eight must complete a minimum of 20 trimesters in eight years. Thus, through junior high, a student will attend school at least 1,500 days, or 60 more than under the usual 180-day school year.

MORE INSTRUCTION

In addition, length of class periods will be increased in high school so that the amount of class time in 75 days equals that of the present 90-day semester. Before graduation, then, every child will receive substantially more instruction than under the present semester system.

Academically talented students may enter college after nine trimesters of high school work, provided they have pursued a full course of studies each trimester. Bright students who are socially too immature for college may study college level materials while remaining in high school.

In the legislative asking budget will be made for the 1963-65 biennium, a request will be made for 12 - month contracts for teachers, with payment for July and August in addition to other months. Another request will be made for a trimester leave with pay every three years for approved study, travel or other professional activity. However, the Board of Control was not asked to approve these matters at this time.

NOTICE

This is the last issue of the 1961-1962 FLAMBEAU Publication will be resumed in September for the 1962-1963 academic year.

Dr. A. T. Mason Speaks On Role Supreme Court Takes As A Check

By JOAN ABBOTT
Flambeau News Editor

"Security and freedom are not necessarily at cross - purposes," Dr. A. T. Mason said, Monday night.

At some point the two are the same and it is for justices to search for that point, the last speaker in the Government Lecture Series commented. Dr. Mason, professor of jurisprudence at Princeton, spoke on the Supreme Court's role as one of the "checks" on governmental action.

"Judicial review is but a single cog in an intricate machine of free government," he said. Among others "calculated to check majority rule," are the bicameral legislature, the presidential veto, and the complicated process of presidential election that includes the electoral college.

CONTROL ITSELF

By the use of these checks, it was the framers' intention "to oblige government to control itself," he added. Many people wonder whether a government with so many "checks" can survive in such an age, Dr. Mason said, when "prompt political action unparalleled in scope" is required as a "matter of survival."

However, the courts are positively affected by war, which "tips the scales toward the government, granting sufficient powers." "Clearly the justices do not wish to obstruct the prosecution of war," he said, but at the same time they must protect individual rights.

This commonly results in "erosion of safeguards, normally accorded civil rights," since the Court "will avoid the risk of rendering the government too weak."

Judicial "hands off" in economics is "perfectly compatible" with judicial activism in protecting the political process, Dr. Mason commented. "In the end result of the political process—voting is basic," he asserted.

"Justices have been hesitant in making each vote count equally," but since the decision in the Tennessee case that courts may reapportion if the states do not, this may change, he said.

Judicial protection of minority groups is important to national security, because the composition of the majority is always subject to change. The protection of the integrity of the political process by which majorities are formed is in the interest of national security, he asserted, in order that the avenues of peaceful and orderly change remain open otherwise the alternative method of instituting change becomes violent overthrow.

"The Supreme Court must keep alive the torch of freedom, forged by our ancestors in the crucible of revolution."

Hudson Rodgers Proclaimed Dedicatee Of 1962 Tally Ho

The 1961-62 Tally-Ho has been dedicated to Dr. William Hudson Rogers of the English Dept. for his "dedication to his profession and his willingness to help students both in and out of class," Editor Scarlett Pogue announced.

Dr. William H. Rogers

Dr. Rogers, who has been at Florida State University for 40 years, was the first Distinguished Professor of the Year in 1957-58. After the retirement of Dr. Anna Forbes Liddell this year Dr. Rogers will be the senior faculty member.

In 1949 Dr. Rogers served as head of the English Dept. and for some time he was Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. For the past five years he has devoted his time to teaching.

Dr. Rogers is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa and an honorary member of Gold Key. He is an active member of the Rotary Club and other civic groups, as well as a deacon and Sunday school teacher in the Presbyterian Church.

Born in Plumbranch, Va., the son of a Presbyterian minister, Dr. Rogers attended Davidson College in North Carolina at the age of 15. He graduated from Davidson Phi Beta Kappa, and is a charter member of the Phi Bet Kappa chapter at FSU.

He served as principal of the Presbyterian Missionary School in Grundy, Va., before receiving his master's degree from the University of Virginia.

During World War I, he received the Croix de Guerre, (Cross of War), the highest award of France for military service.

After receiving his Ph. D. from the University of Virginia he married the former Mary Wood and then came to FSU in 1922.

Dr. Rogers is the author of The Best of Browning and History of the Book Review.

The Only Junior Among The 33 Students

. . . Initiated this week into Florida State University's chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, Barbara L. Hepp of Ft. Lauderdale here receives the congratulations of the chapter president, Dr. John E. Champion. The honor society recognizes scholarship among liberal arts students.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members and the initials of the writer following the editorial.

FSU In A Crisis

"The University is now in a crisis," Pres. Gordon W. Blackwell told the Board of Control at its last meeting These words echo solemnly throughout the University as we pause on the brink of the trimester changeover. The possible effects of this are awesome.

The trimester system could go either way. Florida may be undertaking one of the most enlightened programs in the country for getting the most education out of existing facilities. The trend nationwide is for using educational facilities on a year-round basis. Many colleges are studying this possibility and Florida may provide the blueprint for others to follow.

HOWEVER, SUCCESS is dubious at this point. Florida is attempting to make major changes in the educational structure of the state and is still keeping its hands tightly on the strings. Ironically, penny-pinching may be the downfall to achieve economy by getting more use out of present facilities.

But regardless of the consequences, the die is cast. Florida State University, as part of the university system of Florida, will go on the trimester plan. All we can do now is try to make it successful.

Faculty

The faculty is the most vital link in the trimester machinery. Yet it is the one that the state shows the least concern for.

UNDER THE NEW plan, faculty members will have to cram more work into their already tight schedule. They will have less time for research; less time for their families. This can only be discouraging.

Ironically, the excellent professors will be the most handicapped. Keeping up with ones' field, searching for additional material, and revising notes takes time. The trimester system demands more each working day, which puts the burden on those professors who strive to make their classes vital.

Merit pay was devised as a means of encouraging professors to strive for vitality and meaningfulness in their courses and to compensate them for the handicaps of extra work. Professors were agreeable to the extra demands providing they had the opportunity to get a pay raise if it was merited.

But the Board of Control, the Board of Education, and the Board of Administration knifed their expectations by withholding half of the merit pay money. Many of the best are leaving as a direct result of this.

Quality education is a state's best business deal. It pays manyfold dividends. But dividends are not realized without a proper amount of investment. The state needs to realize this before its universities are lain bare of intellects and its teachers are driven to other areas.

Teaching minds to think and reason clearly involves much more than merely keeping the class rooms full. The state should realize its responsibility to produce quality as well as quantity.

Administration

When the trimester system is mentioned, one phrase dominates the administration's discussion. "We don't know," is the recurring theme of those who reside in Westcott.

Recently, a few decisions have been made and have trickled out. But many more remain and the administration is still mulling things over as they have all year.

From the outside, it appears that those who run FSU get so tangled in red tape, procedures, and inner administration working that they are continually in a bog. When a significant question arises, the administration throws it around and discusses it so thoroughly that any action is long in coming.

We suspect that this is a result of both intention and inaction. Some administrators have a great deal more ability in talking than in acting while others use this device to bog down any proposal that does not strike their fancy.

Pres. Blackwell's attitude of treating students as adults is praiseworthy. His habit of being honest and forthright with members of the student body is commendable. But even though his principles are mouthed by all members of the administration, some indicate by their actions that their personal wishes come before their concern for the students they serve.

Student Government

This year's Student Government has shown brief, but brilliant, flashes of concern for significant issues.

Student leaders have acquitted themselves admirably in taking stands on the bond issue and the merit pay raise issue. They have plugged along on established projects, such as the student union and the swimming pool.

They have given serious thought to the trimester operation and have laid a groundwork for year-round operation. Much of this work has been wasted energy. But their concern means that student leaders will be aware of the multitude of trimester problems and will give much attention to them.

But they have failed to come up with any creative ideas to benefit the student body and have spent much of their energy squabbling among the various branches. Many Student Government workers are sincere, hard-working people who abor long to better the University. But these are in the minority. The majority contents itself with seeking office and then figuring which office to run for the succeeding year.

The two party system has been a catalyst of competition for student offices. This is good. But party politics can also go too far. If party members are concerned more with the political benefit of their party than the welfare of the university, then the two-party system will be detrimental.

Pres. Blackwell

Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell has come into his own as a University President this year. He has demonstrated both tact and aggression throughout the year and has not flinched in face of pressure from either inside or outside the University.

The faculty and student body can count him as a staunch leader in the search for greatness. Those who wish to stand in the way of quality education can count him a formidable, shrewd opponent.

FSU IS IN a crisis. The problems will be difficult to surmount. But, we can find some small solace in the knowledge that Dr. Blackwell can lead FSU over the rough waters —if this is possible.

BEN C. SHARP
Editor 1961-62

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '58
BEN C. SHARP—Editor

Leslie Powell, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor — Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Toni DiCarlo ..... Executive Assistant
Erik Collins .....Asst. Managing Editor
Lana Murray ..... Asst. News Editor
Victor Comolli ..... Asst. Sports Editor
Spence Guerin, Julie Savage .....Artists
Dianne Klinck ..... Business Manager
Fred Salgado ..... Circulation Mgr.
Emmette Jackson ..... Photo Editor
Photographers—Del Kittendorf, John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.

Columnists Gerry Dobson, Bob Sanchez, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clark, Jim Smith, Carl Rosenbush, Karen Thornton, Joedy Smith, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens.

Feature Staff—Joycelyn Ward, Martha Robberts, Leslie McNevin, Pat Freeman.

Proof Staff— Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Mary Grossenbacher, Sharon Logan, Sarah Gordon.

News Staff—Jim Smith, Bobbie Shiplett, Maureen Perkins, Gayle Motes, Nancy Olsen, Sandra Dixon, Karen Pace, Merry Moorehouse, Jody Wilkis, Cookie Neubauer, Hope Pastor.

Sports Staff—John Wood, Shirley Hardison

Julian Wilcox .... Advertising Manager
Bill Love ..... Asst. Advertising Manager
Margo Duffe .....Layout

Advertising Sales Staff: Dick Waterworth, Sue Hendrickson, Greg Grunke, Don Dughi.

Associated College Press, Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave. New York 17, New York.
Published by Florida State University students in Tallahassee, Florida.

"They've Been Going Together For Quite A While"

Syllabus

JB No Longer Worries

By ROBERT SANCHEZ

Until last Monday, Jonah B. Mann (JB) was worried—and he had reason to be. There he was a senior in the School of Business, slated to graduate in only three weeks, and he had yet to find a job. He simply couldn't understand it. After all, he was a straight "C" student, except for a little variation when he got the "wrong teacher" in Humanities 201, "thet stoopid course they make we take so's thair teechurs'll have job." He was a certified white, anglo- saxon protestant, a 100 per cent American who had never belonged to any subversive or liberal organizations. He had been a loyal son of SAE for more than three years, and he had even been accorded the honor of guarding the SAE lion during the KA weekend of 1961. Weren't these qualifications enough for American industry?

WELL, AS I said, JB ceased to worry last Monday. On that fateful day he was interviewed by Mr. Searcy, a representative of Behemoth Corporation. Mr. Searcy hired JB to be a junior executive beginning this June. Now JB will never have to worry again. Now he can go ahead with his marriage to pretty Polly D. A. R Pure, popular KD. JB already had ceased to worry about the Army, for he had failed the physical when his blood was found to contain 37 percent alcohol, and in case that condition cleared up he had been unable to pass the mental aptitude test anyway.

SO JB HAS absolutely nothing to worry about. He is secure. His future is all set. He will shortly begin working for $5600 a year in Atlanta, where he and Polly will share a duplex in Hapeville. After five years of devoted anonymity, he will be promoted to a $7000-a-year job and transferred to Jacksonville, Florida, where he, Polly, and their two children will occupy a $15,000 house in the suburbs.

There he will remain. He will become a lay leader in his church, although he will never be troubled by thoughts about religion. He will be a Rotarian, a Jaycee, a Southern Republicrat, and a Son of the American Revolution. He will attend all Jacksonville cultural activities, such as the Gator Bowl and Haydon - Burns - for - Gevernor rallies.

HE WILL READ Life, Business Week, and the TV Guide. He will receive a promotion every three years until, in 1984, he will be a junior vice - president at $15,000 a year, a devoted father with a son at FSU, a respected and respectable civic leader, a pillar of the community, etc.

At the age of sixty—barring lung cancer —he will retire. He will receive an engraved gold watch, a liberal — or rather, generous — pension, and will at last take Polly on that long awaited trip to see Rock City. In short, he will be the paragon of success in the world of commerce, the ideal of nine out of ten FSU graduates. What a pity he will never amount to anything.

We Don't Meddle

TO THE EDITOR:

Your note under the letter from Bradley Munroe, in the Flambeau of Tuesday, May 8, stated that the list of students sponsoring participation of A&M in the track meet was "largely passed around by foreign students, many of whom signed." As a foreign student here, I was not aware of any such alleged action by the foreign students. I wonder from what source you obtained this information. The foreign students at FSU have an organization called the International Club and to my knowledge, this club did not have anything to do with passing around any such list.

Students from foreign countries come here essentially for the pursuit of knowledge. The majority of them are graduate students who know better than to meddle in a controversial issue which is actually of no concern to them.

M. S. LATEEF

Year Draws To A Close

By BOB FOSS

The year draws to a close and the final wrappings are all too soon to be administered. Summer plans are being made or have been made, and anticipations are being put aside for that final application of concentrated study.

Typewriters are heard down the hall creating for their users that final term paper or letter home. In the room next door a study break is being used to take a brief run through the year that has passed altogether too fast.

REGISTRATION, well that's over until next year. The first date for the football game with that someone you met during the trials of registration, and all the sudden it's homecoming. The traditional parade, amazing the Tallahassee people with all the creativity and genius that is contained within college world that is so far set apart from their own, the game, dance, and memories, and before you know it Thanksgiving and a much needed chance to catch up on lost sleep.

Back again for a month while preparations for Christmas are being formulated, New Year's resolutions being made to be broken at some later date, and then home again. Returning with surpluses of food, gifts and all kinds of seasonal goodies, and the inkling that finals aren't too far away, a last basketball game is attended, dead day is observed, finals become a reality . It's half over.

REGISTRATION again claims its toll of the confused and unprepared and it sure seems like an eternity until summer. Resumption of those dreaded phys. ed. classes and R.O.T.C. drills, an occasional movie at Westcott, an attendance at the last Lecture series, the greek weekends and you know, this semester too is about over. Over, that is, after one big fling.

Easter descends, and the pilgrimmage to to the beaches creates the annual collegiate image and some lasting memories. The migration back to school, and as far away as they seem, finals are just around the corner. Around the corner, that is, after class elections, circus weekend, the spring formal and finally the last issues of Smoke Signals, the Flambeau and the terminating epitaph—the Tally-Ho.

HARD TO BELIEVE, but it's that time of year again. What kind of year was it, and where did it go so fast? Who's really sure? The gamut of finals to be run will tie the bow on another year. This week to some will determine just how bright and untarnished the package will remain as it is put away into the safekeeping of the past.

Guest Column

"Butterfly" Has Depth One Shouldn't Miss

By DAWN SHARP

Into the lovely land of lotus ponds and oriental firs many FSU imaginations will traipse this weekend. Opening tonight in Westcott, Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" promises vicarious travel and artistic flight to students and faculty growing more harassed daily with numbering pre-exam pressures. It is a perfect "grand finale" in entertainment for the semester and attenders will want to be alert to its cultural depth.

PRINCIPALS Cio - Cio-San (Madame Butterfly) and Lieutenant Pinkerton are — like Othello and Desdamona — "unlike in clime, complexion, and degree" — and thus embark on marriage of disproportionateness. As the tragedy turns it becomes poignantly apparent that their respective values of human feelings and loyalties are likewise at odds. Kipling (points out Emily Coleman, Theatre Arts, May, 58) was not alone in his mistrust of any constructive alliance between East and West.

Being fuzzy on American-Japanese relations, one may wonder just what business a U. S. Naval officer had in Nagasaki in the year 1900 (the time and place of the opera.) The answer is that Japan had, in 1854, opened her long - locked doors to the ships and trade of the United States — a not altogether altruistic gesture that followed the coercion by Commodore Perry who appeared one day off the coast of Japan with a squadron of U. S. Warships.

THE OMINOUS sight of the steam - driven battle fleet so impressed the Japanese that they shelved their policy of death to foreigners who set foot on their shores, yielded to Perry's demands, and opened their ports. Thus Pinkerton — in "Madame Butterfly" — has the right as a U. S representative to be there and the official welcome mat of Japan to tread upon.

Brushing up on Buddhism, one can more fully appreciate the weight of denuciation of Butterfly by her uncle, a Japanese priest. She, like most other Japanese youths, has been nurtured in the faith of Buddha, which teaches that the way of escape from morality is the "Eightfold Path" of right belief, right resolve, right word, right act, right life, right effort, right thinking, and right meditation

"BUDDHISM PREACHES kindness to all living things and persons. (But) there is no God in Buddhism, no Creator. There is no beginning and so no end, or, if there is an end, it is in nothingness or "Nirvana." Thus there is no hope of a heaven. We may profitably compare Buddhism with the religion of the Greeks, who represent the thinking West that prepared the way for Christianity.

The Buddhists stand for self-repression, suppressing all one thinks or wants to do. The Greeks stood for self - expression, for action, and changing what is bad into good." (Compton's Encyclopedia, 1947)

AT THE TURN of the century the official state religion was Shinto — in a sense the worship of Japan itself — and millions who practiced Buddhism also observed Shinto rites. Every home had its miniature shrine where homage was paid to ancestors and to native gods. (In the twentieth century Japan's militarists expanded its gospel to teach that the emperor was divine, their race, superior, and their destiny, to rule the world.)

WITH SO STRINGENT a tradition enveloping Cio-Cio-San, imagine the electric jolt that must have sped through her frame on discovering, from the stormy interruption of her uncle at the wedding - feast, that Butterfly has visited the Christian missionaries with Pinkerton and denounced the gods of Japan. Their rapid leave - taking and curses are devastatingly sincere and Butterfly becomes to them as a thing apart, a religious and social leper.

The steadfast devotion of Butterfly to Pinkerton — even after desertion — marks her as a heroine of extraordinary dimensions. Through our sometimes disillusioned Western eyes we behold her faithfulness and femininity as something quite special in womanhood, a graphic witness to the literary myth that has grown up about the Japanese woman — geisha or goddess. Nowhere in drama or opera is there a more dramatic, durable manifestation of her capacities for sacrifice than in "Madame Butterfly," a portrait that leaves the audience far more to carry away from the music hall than their programs.

Letters

Program Was B iased

TO THE EDITOR:

We would like to reply to Karen Thornton's column of May 8th concerning the Defenders television show on abortion. After stating that the program gave a fair and unbiased presentation, she went on to support the idea of legalized abortion.

First, the program did not present both sides of the issue equally. The only arguments presented against abortion were those brought out in a half-hearted manner in the prosecution's cross-examination of the defendant, Dr. Montgomery. The defendant answered each of the prosecution's questions with an unsubstantiated statement of his own views.

ON THE QUESTION of whether or not the fetus is a human person, the only thing that can be said is that it might or might not be. But one cannot kill an organism that might be human.

It is frequently stated that countless women are killed or maimed every year by illegal quack abortions. But countless people are also murdered every year. This is no argument for legalizing either murder or abortion, but rather for stricter enforcement of the law.

Most of the arguments presented in the TV show were at least partially emotional. Miss Thornton is similarly appealing to the emotions by accusing her opponents of "fanatical opposition" and by questioning the sincerity of their beliefs.

SHE FURTHER recommends that her opponents take an ostrich attitude by stating that "legalized abortion need not concern or involve them personally in the least." We would like to assure her that the problem does concern us and that we are sincere in our beliefs.

CLAUDIS KANEVAL
KAREN KISTLER
JOHN GAITHER
CAROLYN GILMORE
RONNIE MOSELEY
JACK DRISCOLL
PEGGY DICKMAN
GEORGE FRIEDMAN
ANNE ST. AMANT
RENE BABINEAU
JANET BECKER
J. O. BRANDEIVRE
CAROLE ANN DOTSON

Little Washington

Bureau Changes Hands

By HUME

A long time "political football" at F.S.U., SPEAKERS BUREAU, has recently passed to new hands. As the several posters on campus have announced, tryouts are currently being held under the direction of GOLD KEY. With a helping hand from the Speech Department, and a desire to limit the membership to those that are truly qualified, we feel that our representation in the state is bound to improve. One thing is for sure though . . . anything would be better than what we have had in recent years.

WHILE THE MEMBERSHIP of the "600" may change as time goes by, we feel that an outset number of six is extensive, to say the least. By NOVEMBER, we predict that the group will be closer to the "300." Let's hope that it falls no lower than the "200," however . . . by election time that is.

Though he is down from a recent defeat at the hands of a well qualified young gentleman, we select Bob Kerrigan as the L.W. Man of the WEEK. A fine job as Freshman Class President did not go unnoticed, and we suspect that much more will be heard from "CHECKMATE."

In our opinion, an unfair qualifications clause in the Smith Hall Constitution has added to the current headaches in dorm government. The "tide" is so far out these days, that the incumbent official, "Bucky" Fox, won re-election, unopposed, by the dorm Executive Council. Isn't it time that something was done about the dorm system? ATTENTION GENE BROWN: Maybe you can offer a solution to the problem. These are YOUR constituents . . . they seem unhappy.

DEAR DOUG SMITH: SUGGESTION: If you read between the lines of Little Washington in the future, as well as on the lines, we feel that you will find our purpose to be a great deal less than inane. SOME people like to be informed about what is "really" going on. I personally dislike an "A, B, C . . . approach."

"Tricia" Lawrence, longtime faithful member of Student Government, has been a little under the weather of late. I know I speak for many when I wish "Tricia" a speedy recovery and quick return to F.S.U.

PARTY POLITICS SEEM to be running a little "deep" of late. We note the elections in I.F.P.C. and Alpha Council in particular. We trust in the judgment of MOST, but we suggest that there should be areas entitled, OUT OF BOUNDS.

We close LITTLE WASHINGTON for this week, and for this year, with the sincere belief that STUDENT GOVERNMENT is on the way up at F.S.U. We recall the labors of many, and the men like "Buddy" Wotring who left us in body, but not in spirit. To the graduates we send our thanks . . . to the new administrations we wish the best. Further, we hope that LITTLE WASHINGTON can serve a useful purpose in the attainment of our mutually desired ends.

So Long!

TO THE EDITOR:

Some weeks ago the Flambeau published an article on the Interstate Exchange Program which has brought five University of Massachusetts students to FSU for a one semester stay.

Like all good things our semester at FSU is coming to an end, rather sadly we are preparing to say good-bye to your campus in the near future. Our experience at FSU has been short but pleasant and we have thoroughly enjoyed it.

DURING THE semester on campus we have received many signs of friendship, and we would like to thank you for so cordially accepting us as your fellow students. Also our very special thanks go to the Dean, Dr. Gilford Hale, the faculty and staff of the School of Education, as well as to the administration of the Florida State University for making our stay a pleasant one.

In another few days our group will return to Massachusetts, and the months we spent at FSU might be just another forgotten episode if it weren't for the friends we made here. FSU will live on in our memories and remind us of the nice people we met here and to whom we now say: "Farewell to all of you, and thank you for your friendship!"

ARLENE ANDERSON
BEEBE BOSSI
LEE CARRELL
LISA NORDBERG
JOY TRAQUAIR

Approval Is Awaited On Housing Policies

...using policies and priorities ...e trimester program have ... recommended by Dean of ...ents R. R. Oglesby, but they have not yet been presented to the Administrative Council for approval.

Under this plan the University assumes the obligation of housing all freshmen women who are not commuters. Tallahassee women students may, for the present, continue to live on campus.

They and their parents are reminded, however, "that girls who will agree to live at home, especially during the fall trimester, will provide one more opportunity for students who come from other areas of the state."

The two-semester housing contract will be discontinued and all students will contract their rooms trimester by trimester. At the student's request, a longer-term contract may be arranged with the Housing Office.

PRIORITY

Students currently enrolled for any trimester will be given first consideration for any available housing space for the following trimester.

Transfer and former students will be assigned available housing according to the date of their application. A full time staff person will be added to the Housing Office to be concerned wholly with securing additional facilities in town for all types of students —single men, single women, and married students.

Since the Fall trimester is expected to have the heaviest enrollment, plans are now under consideration to insure full use of the residence halls, as well as the other University facilities.

Among the proposals to insure even enrollment over the three trimesters is one which would limit the students allowed to enter in the Fall on the basis of their grade averages.

...partment Bill ...till Pending

...decision has been reached by ...University Administration on ...Women's Senate bill concern... women visiting in men's ...rtments, but the decision ...not be released to students

...ean of Women Katherine War... asserted that "A decision ...been reached," but added that ...President Gordon W. Black... returns to Tallahassee next ..., she cannot divulge the ...er.

..."ery effort was made," she ..., "to reach a decision be... the last issue of the Flam... was printed."

...Blackwell was unexpected... ...ed out of town because of ...death of his mother-in-law ...week.

...SS Registration

Summer school registration ...gins Saturday, June 16. ...classes will begin Tuesday, ...une 19, and end Saturday ...gust 11.

Students are to bring the ...rds they received from the ...egistrar's Office this week ...registration.

Twenty-Two FSU Public Relations Students

. . . have produced "Client File," a motion picture in color and sound. These students wrote the script, directed the action, operated the cameras and acted in the film under the direction of Dr. Sidney Kobre, professor of public relations. Peggy Lu Phillips is shown at the typewriter. Ralph Crawley is directing and Charles Gilmore is handling the camera. The film will be used for training purposes as well as for projecting to other classes. It will also be shown before professional and business groups.

Public Relations Students Produce Film 'Client File'

Twenty-two Florida State University students in public relations have produced a 25-minute motion picture film called "Client File," which has everything short of a full cinemascope production from Hollywood. The film is in full color and will be accompanied by a full magnetic sound track.

The "star" of the 16 mm. film is Carolyn Lenahan who portrays a young, energetic public relations manager of the Recreation Division of the Florida Development Commission. The various scenes, "on location" at the Business Bldg. and the Carlton Bldg. where the commission is located, show Miss Lenahan as she goes about her work, researching and writing news, features and brochures. It shows her as she develops a film, a staged event and an exhibit for the recreation agency.

Other students are portrayed doing the public relations programming for various Tallahassee business concerns. Some other students are shown developing a public relations program for the Leon County Mental Health Association, Leon County Civil Defense, the Chamber of Commerce, The Florida Dept. of Agriculture and other organizations.

The camera follows the students as they go on field trips to local printing plants and to the development agency where they observe how Florida is promoted all over the world.

Besides doing their own acting, the students in Dr. Kobre's class wrote the script and did much of the production work under the instructor's direction. Ronald Cueto and Toni Kuster as well as Charles Gilmore and others operated the camera.

Gilmore, who works at the WFSU-TV educational station, was in charge of the script and Ralph Crawley headed the title department. John Rogers was in charge of sound.

Dr. Kobre, who has produced 8 mm films before, consulted FSU film expert Werner Vagt of the university television station for ideas and methods.

"Client File" will have many practical uses, Dr. Kobre explained. The film will be projected as an introduction to the public relations courses and, during the semester, will be used as a training film. "Client File" will be shown to other students in the School of Business and to other departments and schools at the university.

The motion picture may be shown to junior colleges and business and professional public relations groups throughout the states, added Kobre.

Honor Court Tries Fifty-Four

The Florida State University Honor Court has tried a total of 54 cases during the past year.

A summary of the most recent cases follows:

Two students were found guilty and sentenced to two semesters of Honor Court Probation for stealing from the University Bookstore.

Two students were sentenced to immediate suspension for stealing. One student stole and sold another student's book, the other removed a piece of public property.

Three students were found guilty of deception and sentenced to two semesters of Honor Court probation. Two of the cases involved obtaining records from a record company illegally by using fictitious names and box numbers. The other student was convicted for lying to a professor concerning absences from class.

Three students were sentenced to one semester Honor Court Probation on charges of deception. Two cases involved falsifying a bill of sale for the purpose of registering a car with the Traffic Office. The third was a case of deception concerning a discrepancy in destination on a sign-out card.

The newly elected Honor Court has tried three cases

A student was found guilty of deception in the illegal use of another student's Food Plan ticket and sentenced to one semester Honor Court probation. Her sentence was suspended on the grounds that she was unfamiliar with the Food Plan system and unaware that she had committed an Honor Court offense.

Another student was found guilty of deception in the lending of his Food Plan ticket and sentenced to one semester Honor Court probation.

A third student was found guilty of stealing several small articles from the Student Center. Because of extenuating circumstances, the sentence was reduced to two semesters Honor Court probation.

Summer Recreation Is Being Planned

Canoeing, deep sea fishing and campus movies will be presented during the summer session of Florida State University.

There will be a bus to the reservation each Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. returning at 6 p.m. with the round trip costing only $.25.

Four canoe trips and three deep sea fishing excursions at the coast (free transportation) will highlight the water activities for the summer.

The Robe will open the series of eight movies on June 17, with an admission price of $.25 to pay for the two new movie projectors. There will also be six book reviews spaced throughout the session.

In the line of sports there will be an organized bowling league and basketball teams. On the tennis courts this summer square dances will be held. Six of these dances will be held with an orchestra for each one. At the Student Center six dances will be held also with an orchestra for three of them.

A special trip will be taken on June 24, to the Stephen Foster Memorial. Transportation is free and there will be lunch at the Colonial Hotel. On June 28 the President's Reception will be held .

A tour of Tallahassee will be held July 1. A Music Camp Concert will feature an exchange group from Mexico, also July 1. There will be a Music Camp Stunt Night, July 4.

A dramatic presentation, The Way of the World by Congreve, will be July 5.

Student Senate Discusses Bill On Campaign Material

Debate Wednesday at the last Student Senate meeting of the year centered around a bill which would require candidates for student offices to obtain permission from property owners before posting campaign material.

After many amendments, the bill was finally passed unanimously.

Sen. Arnie Gibbs felt that it was illegal to say what kind of campaign material a candidate could distribute at a private establishment. He felt this was up to the owner.

Women's Vice President Jeanie Ferlita explained that she felt there was a need for clarification in the Statues, but that "the Elections Committee can not govern any private establishment."

Sen. Jim Johnson said that off-off-campus property should be related by the owner. Sen. Johnson added that if he wanted to place a 100 foot long, 20 foot wide campaign poster in front of his fraternity house that the Election's Committee shouldn't have anything to say about it

Secretary of Elections Ron Jones then explained that his committee was not trying to regulate private property, but was trying to protect property owners by enforcing the rule that no one puts up campaign material without the consent of the property owner

Sen. Jeannie Grahame agreed with Secretary Jones. She illustrated how a candidate could come along, and put up a fifty foot sign without the property owner's consent. She then explained that Elections committee could not say anything about the candidate's actions.

Secretary Jones then explained that if there isn't a regulation to limit the amount of posters that are placed in eating establishments the fire marshalls from Tallahassee will not allow any campaign material to be placed at some businesses adjacent to campus at all

A bill to limit the student body president, the student body vice president, the men's vice president, women's vice president, the chief justice of Honor Court, the Traffic Court chairman, and the chairman of the University Court from holding fraternity or sorority offices while serving their particular term in office was unanimously defeated.

Senators felt that this was unconstitutional and infringed an individual's right to serve in any capacity other than in Student Government.

Bower Given Wylie Award

The Philip Wylie Award at Florida State University to the 1961-62 graduate showing most promise of success in librarianship was given to Donald M. Bower, Friday.

Bower, 45, of St. Petersburg, presently is on the library staff at the University of South Florida. He received his master of science degree in library science at FSU last January.

Dean Louis Shores of the Library School made the award presentation, the seventh annual Wylie award given at FSU. The award was established at FSU by the well known novelist and essayist, whose home is Miami.

Bower is originally from Cleveland, Ohio. He received a bachelor of architecture degree in 1940 from Western Reserve University and worked thereafter in the Architectural Dept. of Colonial Williamsburg.

In 1943-44 he was assistant to the supervisor of Fox Movietone News, Washington; from 1944 to 1974 was in public relations work with 20th Century Fox, Beverly Hills, Calif.; and in 1948-49 served as a Sunday School missionary at Aztec, N. M.

He received a bachelor of divinity degree from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1951 and from 1951 to 1958 was chaplain and assistant professor in the Religion and Philosophy Dept. at Inter-American University, Puerto Rico.

Mrs. Lyles Succumbs

Mrs. J. Belton Lyles of Spartanburg, S. C., mother of Mrs. Gordon W. Blackwell, wife of the president of Florida State University, died at 4:30 p. m., Wednesday afternoon after suffering a heart attack.

Mrs. Blackwell, who was enroute to Spartanburg, was joined by President Blackwell yesterday was in Tampa at a dinner honoring outstanding Tampa high school students.

For Better Health, Improve Circulation
by Massage
Headache—Sore Muscles—Tension
● Swedish Massage
● Slenderizing
● Exercise
"Add Years to Your Life and Life to Your Years"
DRAKE'S MASSAGE STUDIO
For Men and Women
Hotel Duval
Phone 222-5364

Talquin Inn
THANK YOU FOR YOUR PAST PATRONAGE
WE HAVE ENJOYED SERVING YOU
3 Miles West on West Tennessee

PLAN ON HAVING YOUR Graduation Dinner
AT
The Silver Slipper
2000 S. Monroe
224-1266

Your Favorite Graduate Has Earned A Gift FROM VARDI'S
Ernst Belts 2.50
Rooster Ties ..... 2.50—3.50
Ernest Tie-Tacs ..... 1.50—2.50
Bookends ..... 3.95—15.00
Museum Sculpture ..... 2.25 up
Imported French Toiletries:
Millot's Crepe-de-chine & Insolent ..... 3.00 up
Givenchy Le De and L'Interdit ..... 5.00 up
Jewelry From the Seven Seas ..... 1.00 up
Roy the Froy 1.00
Rondo . . . Circular playing cards ..... 2.00—3.50 and a host of other marvelous and unusual ideas imports by
VARDI
214 West College Ave.
Bill-the-Bank Lay-Away

Why Carry Those Winter Clothes Home?
FREE! Storage Moth-Proofing Mildew-Proofing
Quality Cleaner's
DIAL 222-5097 215 W. College

Gifts For The Graduate
Diamond Set Rings and Pendants
Fraternity and Sorority Jewelry
Birthstone Rings
Parker and Sheaffer Pens
Silver
Binoculars
Travel Clocks
Transistor Radios
W.W. Putnam Jewelers
REGISTERED JEWELERS AMERICAN GEM SOCIETY
308 So. Monroe Ph. 222-3075
DOWNTOWN TALLAHASSEE
PARK FREE WHILE SHOPPING HERE AT THE PARK AND SHOP LOT NO. 1 NEXT DOOR

GIGANTIC SUIT SALE
SEARS ROEBUCK AND CO
May 24, 25, 26...
If You Intend To Buy A Suit...
IT WILL PAY YOU TO WAIT!
Special Preview Night For University Students and Faculty
Wednesday, May 23--6:30 to 9:30 p.m.
OVER 1,000
SUITS
• Plaids • Checks • Stripes • Solids
• New Patterns • New Fabrics • New Styles
Sears, Tallahassee, Florida

Approximately 1150 Will Receive Degrees June 2

Approximately 1,150 students, including 203 graduate students will be graduated Saturday, June 2, from Florida State University's various schools and colleges.

Those to receive degrees are:

SCHOOL OF NURSING

Bachelor of Science in Nursing Education

Marilyn M Amundson, Janet De-Nimo, Ruth Esther Foden Gayle Lucky Greene Marie C Josberger, Emily Jane Lyons, Remma Blanton Price.

Bachelor of Science in Nursing

Judith Ann Butler, Bonnie Maghes Ellis, Laura Elizabeth Fetterlee, Edith Marie Fuller, Elizabeth Lyle Goodwin, Nancy Aleen Gray, Jane A Hollis, Sally Ann Hoit, Diana Rebecca Hood, Judith Labadie, Bonnie Lee Raedisen, Peggy Ann Sanders, Suellen Mary Sullivan, Sandra May Turgeon, Terry Sue Turner, Wynyard Marie Williams, Edith Charlene Worrall.

Bachelor of Science

Richard Milton Adams, David E Aiello, Donald Fred Aiken, Kenneth E Allen, Raymond Frederick Allen, Richard Rothwell Almond, Thomas Lee Anderson, William H. Arnold Jr. F Jackson Ascheri, Waymon Manry Ashley.

William Mac Autry III, Candido Jose Barcelo, Benjamin Charles Barranco, Joseph A. Barresi Jr., Dowell Bernard Bates, Richard Ward Beagles, Robert Post Bell, C. Malcolm Bennett, Gerald Lee Benton, Joseph M. Berchey, Bryan Frank Bergeron Jr.

Walter Eugene Bigbie, David Nelson Blitch Jr., Gordon Crews Bond, Albert S. Bowen, Charles Lawson Boyer, Roy Croft Brand, John Michael Brock and Elliotte LeRoy Brewton Jr.

Lyman Bunn Jr., Barbek Brook, Robert D. Brock, Bertram D. Brown, Rodney Dague Buck, Michael C Burch, Fred H Burkes, Charles J Burns, Patricia Ann Cannella, Donald L. Carson, Jean Burbeson Carrison, James Howland Caswell, Anthony Franklin Chafin, Richard Cain.

David Ciarcchi, Charles C Clifton D Dean Coffin, Thomas Wilton Conley III, James H Craven Roy E. Daniels, Richard Terrell Davis, Francis Ramona Deeson, Arthur Lawrence Devoy, Patrick John Dolan, John Robert Douglas Jr.

Thomas Joseph Dowdell, Charles Norman Dudley, Alla Erman, Duane Jack Esaki, Zonetta Elisabeth Fain, Donald Elliott Farry, George Allen Fergusson Walter James Fleming, Franklin Rudolph Fletcher, Philip Paul Fletcher Jr Robert Orr Fohl, Henry Neil Fountain Jr.

Douglas S. French Thomas Wayne Fritz, Lewie D Fugate, Julann Gabbert, Randal Buzz Geoghagan, Wylie Howard Gilmore, Gene John Giuliani, Richard C Goodell, Edson Whiteman Graessling Thomas, Norman Griscard, Carolyn Sue Halman, M. Marvin Hammett, Herbert William Harris, William Karl Harris, William W. Harris, Beverly Neal Haygood, Edwin C Hays.

George Lloyd Heflin, Jimmy Oliver Helms, Robert A. Hennessy Alan Richard Herbert, Rudy Hernandez, William D Heuck, Delbert Grady Hicks, James F. Hipp Jr. Joseph Eugene Hitchcock Jr, William Calvin Holley III, Edwin Gunn Hyatt Jr, Ronald Lee Irwin, Jerry Parris Jeffress.

Jerry Luther Jessup, Earl D Johnson, Malcolm Parks Johnson Otho Bronson Jordan, Charles M Keating, Marvin Kelley, Lawrence D King, Alan Scott Kirkpatrick, Katherine Jean Kortegaard, George Ann Kutter, Carl Martin Kutter Jr, Ben N Lakin, Patrick Gilbert Langston, Esther Sue Larson, Donna Lee LaRue, Louis Kersey Lebeau.

Henry David Ledbetter, Frances Marion Lee, Annette Leingartner, Eva Rae Littlejohn Jr, Albert Gallatin Love V, Robert Preston MacFate Jr, Janet Sandra Mattocks, William M Mayo, James Robert McCall, Harold Boyce McCormack.

Ernest J McCrone, Jerry Lamar McDaniel Jr, Tree M McNeal, Raymond K Mebane, Gerald Edward Mehlich, Maurice Berner Millis, James Ronald Minchin, Stuart Mitchelson Cummings W Moles Jr, Michael J. Moloney, Andrew Herold Moore, Walter Douglas Morris, Kenneth Dow Moser, Warren Richard Mowell, Wilson A Nelson, Leon Q Nix Jr.

Ronald L Nystrom, Robert Grady Odom, Arlo G Outlaw, Michael Smith Overstreet Jr, William Eugene Page III, Lucinda Lorraine Parker, Mary Ann Pearson, James V. Peters, Harry J Pickett, Robert Pierce, Barbara Marie Pilkinton, Donald F Powell Jr, C Powell, Andrew Lonnie Powers.

Linda Reeve, Deborah Josephine Ricketts Gale C Roemheld, Patricia Grace Smith, Judith Ann Steadman, Marcia Lynne Stein, Sarah Anne Terrell, Anita Louise Thompson.

Dora Carolyn Thornton, Susan Lynn Thorp, Karen Sue Thoureen, Mary Ann Trask, Linda Louise Walter, Carol Martin-Vegue Whitehead, Elizabeth Ann Wickersham, Annie Jane Williams.

Bachelor of Arts

Pheobie Claire Pope.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

Bachelor of Science

Sally Adair Adams, Franklin M. Akins, Joyce M Alleman, Paul L. Andrews, Janice Cathryn Ard, Jr. June F Baldwin, Violet Margo Bastard, Virginia Frances Baymiller, Camila Faye Beauchamp, Ferdinand B. Bergmann, Mary Suzanne Bevier.

Suzanne Beville, Glenna Fay Blackburn, Janice Ella Blackwell, Virginia B Blount, Shelby Joan Bodiford, Linda Joy Boise, Linda Ann Bozeman, Betty Carolyn Brady, Rebecca Nan Braxton, Ann Carol Brennan.

Dorothy Louise Broadwell, Marjorie Jane Brown, Barbara Brunner, Gwendolyn Mae Bullard, Richard A. Bunting, Kathryn June Burts, Susan Butler, Sheila Britt Cameron, Selby Cannon, Nancy Anne Carlson, Mary Ann Carroll.

Charles N. Carter, Sue Ann Casciola, Dorothy Otis Chazal, Jewell Naomi Cheely, William James Clancy, Diane Clark, Margaret Eugenia Clark, Marilyn Rebecca Clark, Mary Frances B Clark, Nancy Ruth Cleland, Betty Jean Cloud, Rita R. Cobb, Charles W Collier, Brenda Shirlene Cook, Carla Gwen Cook, Margaret Wilson Cooper, Ritchie Louise Cooper, Sally Louise Cooper, Cato, Ann Coward, Virginia Hold Cox, Linda Sharon Creighton, Judith Curtiss, James Melvin Daniel.

Judith Ann Darsey, Sara Elizabeth Davis, Virginia Gayle Davis, Jeraldine Carol Day, Shirley Ann Dea' Norma DeCamp, Donna Marion Deutsch, Nelrea Dickson, Ellen Adair Dillon, Hermon Dodson, Thomas LeRoy Dorsett Jr., Sharon Janet Downing, Nancy Hodges Duden.

Margaret Dunn, Sandra Leigh Eason, Ellen Edge, Muir J. Edney Jr. Jack Clark Edwards, Judith Lee Edwards, Sylvia Karen Ekman, Linda Ruth Eshleman, Phyllis Eichert Estridge, Mary Virginia Fearnside, Katherine Jo Ficarrotta.

Jane Love Finchum, Eddie Mitchel Franklin, Elizabeth Ivylyn Frazier, Joel Harold Friedman, Minora Frances Galbraith, Michelle Ann Garrett, Nadine Henderson Gentry, Jane Ellen Gridley, William Harry George.

Emory Eugene Giddens, Mary Ann Goss, Patricia Justine Golden, Faye Elizabeth Gordy, Linda Marion Gormley, Martha Griffith, Melanie Frances Groover, Carol Frances Hair, Bruce Wendell Hall, Flora Ann Hampton, Betty Jean Hand.

Myrtle Elizabeth Hanna, Donald Lee Hanson Jr., Vonnie Jean Hart, Lily Marsena Hawk, Mary Martha Headley, Janet Gayle Hearn, Mary Garrett Hellinger, Jo Ann Helm, Betty Jo Henry, Sandra Jean Henson, Lawrence Ronald Hepburn.

Martha Rebecca Hill, Joanne Frances Hinds, Sandra Lynn Hooks, Alice Josephine Horn, Mary Ruth Howell, Penelope Vetch Howell, Dorothy Edwina Humphrey, Robert Wayne Hunter, Eula Mae Hurst, James Thomas Hurst.

Kathleen Ann Hutchins, Linda Lee Jackson, Sally J. James, George F Jensen, Karen Sue Johnson, Sandra Raye Johnson, Susan Griscom Johnson, Thomas Edward Johnson, Carl Lamar Jolly, Anton Chris Jones, Sue Ellen Jones, Mescer Kager, Dauntice Delorise Keel, Milton Fred Kelly, Janet Carolyn King, Peggy Anne King.

Jean Valerie Kirchhoff, Stephen Edward Klemm, Jean Diane Knight, Jann Waters Knight, Karin Leigh Knight, Helen Allene Kuhn, Phyllis Jo LaFollette, Jack Robert Lambert, Marilyn Lancaster, Ouida Hayes Lanier, Evelyn Louise Larson.

Jane T Lawhorn, Lawhorn, Kathryn Virginia Layne, Jannie Rae Leach, Lorraine Lee LeBoeuf, Bennie Vernon Lewis, Linda Lee, Katherine Lewis, Bonnie Liston, Marjorie Ruth Little, Donald Ernest Lott, Patricia Helen Mack.

Esther Mallia, Dorothy Dale Mann, Beverly Louise Marchant, Arlene Vaughn Martin, Mary Bea McAnnich, Gail Ewing McDonald, Ruth Lynn McDonald, Terry Lynn McGuire, Martha Ann McKethan, Patricia Lynn McManama, Kay Ireen Meeks.

Peggy Dawson Meyer, Phyllis Annette Moore, Clair Jean Mundy, Jean B Myers, Susan D. Neely, Barbara Mattie Nichols, Rosalie Anna Negrasa, Joan S Ojala, Mary Patricia O'Reilly, Carina Lee Omer, Mary Mac Owens, Barbara Dorothy Page, Mary Grace Palcic, Betty Jean Parker, Zelda Yvonne Parrell, Linda Anson Pate, Virginia Ann Patterson, Linda Loyce Patton, Gene Rodney Peacock, Patricia Peddie, Blair Russell Phillips, Fred Pickard, Vernita Marianna Pinto, Mary Marguerite Pipkin, Shirley Gail Porter, Roberta Catherine Powers.

Claire Elizabeth Prandoni, Judith Lee Price, Annie Ruth Rainey, Gloria Jean Rankin, Ray R. Raymond, Flinor Wilson Ready, Faye Bradsher, Reeves, Rodney Lee, Reeves, Mary Lee Register, Dee Reid, Reynolds, Virginia Sue Rhodes.

Elizabeth M Rider, Dorothy Dean Rodabaugh, Walter Joseph Rodenbach Jr, Pegg Ross, Manuel Roy, Richard Donald Santello, Janice Ruth Sasser, Elizabeth M Saunders, Thomas R Sayre, James L Scaggs, Charles Edward Schack, Edward John August Schindler, Maxine Louise Schramm, Barbara Ann Scott.

William Jody Shampine, • Mary Audrey Sharon, Kathleen Louise Shay, Bennett H Shelfer Jr., Sara Ruth Shelfer, Jeanne Ann Shuman Smith, Judith Katherine Smith, Odessa Lee Smith.

Patricia Louise Smith, Samuel Emmett Smith, Saralee Smith, Zephbie Smith, Susan Jeannette Snell, Doris Louise Solomon, Sandra Claire Spear, Patricia Faye Spears, Lydia Robinson Speed, Joan Spratt, Agnes Stansfield, Carol Ann Stayer, Norman Russell Steadman.

Lenora Ann Stephens, Elizabeth Suzanne Stoinoff, Edgar Eugene Stokes, Eda Louise Stoltz, Judith P. Swalley, Nancy Lou Swilley, Bernard Price Swindell, Mary Ann Temple, Mary Annette Thames, Joyce Ann Thompson, Margaret Ann Old Todd, Sharon L. Toth.

Miriam Boyette Tripp, Eldon Gardner Tullis, George Keegee Tyler, Reba Jane Underwood, Sandra Gail Vanmatt, Betty Ruth Wadsworth, Rose Dorothy Waddingham, Martha Clyde Watkins, Patricia Elise Welch, Sandra Dawn Welch, Martha Mary Wermeschee, Mercy Alice Whilden, Patricia Jane Whitley, Stella Stanford Wilcox, Linda Oline Williams.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Bachelor of Arts

Alexandria Demas, Sandra W. Grow, Charlotte Doris Hunt, Virginia W. Law, Susan Diane Marsch.

COLLEGE of arts & sciences 8

Bachelor of Science

David Harold Akey, Donald McGaughy Alexander, Ed M. Andrews, Linda Jeanne Austin, James Hal Baker, Woodrow Otis Beauchamp Jr., Fred Alvin Beeler, G Kemble Bennett Jr., William L Bergstraesser Jr, Vernon Lewis Buell, Raymond Edward Biedinger, Samuel Norton Bird.

Walter Thomas Blackshear, Graham Wallace Blomquist Jr, Donald Jay Bogue, Elwin Claude Boozer Jr., Brenda Lee Brandt, Charles Henry Bremer, Eugene Brock, Ernest Allen Brown, Leroy P. Brunner, Arthur Morris Busbia, Clarence H. Bush Jr., Robert William Byrne.

Mary Ann Caplinger, Marlene Fernanda Carbonell, Marjorie Ann Carlson, Mygnon Champion, William L. Chase, Stanley Cheren, Michael Carter Chester, Aundrea Elayne Christopher, Constance Church, Jeffrey Byron Clark.

Marion Francis Clark II, Robert N. Claxton, Anthony Richard Clinger, Kenneth Brooks Cone, John Turner Conway, Wendell A. Cox, Bobbie Aileen Cranford, Dewy A. Crisp, Donald C. Cunningham, Bernard B. Cushing, Joseph Lee Dagnon.

Anna Louise Davis, Doris Davis, Fred A. Davis Jr., William H. Davis, Louis John DeFelice, Robert Otis DeHaney, Joe L. Dewrell, Fred Edward Diulus Jr., James Dixon, Donald J. Donatelli.

Robert F. Donohue, Kathleen Downey, Stephen Eugene Dunlap, John Edman, Robert Clay Ellis, Lucy Virginia Engelhard, William Charles Enberge, George Arthur Evans Jr., Jo Elen Eyster.

Susan Kittredge Fisher, Thomas Mack Fisher, Kay Charlotte Fletcher, John Compton French Jr., Sayer Loyal Frisbie IV, Timothy C. Galvin, L. Dale Gauvin, William M. Graham, Donald L. Green, Elizabeth Lois Gunn.

Joseph W. Haddock, Hans Eric Hansen, Gail Harris, Robert Curtis Harris, Lamar W Hartsfield Jr., Lionel Randell Henderson, Harry Lee Hickson Jr., Charles Kelly Hill, Victor L. Hirsch, William Dana Hiscock III, Robert Maurice Holley Jr., Joseph Jesse Hope, Harold Hazlett Hosack, Kay Marlene Hudson.

James Ralph Hughes, Hal Clinton Ingram, Tom Dewitt Inskeep, Richard Alan Jensen, Winston H. Jervis Jr., Charles Wayne Johnson, Edward R. Johnson, Victor B. Johnson Jr., John Harrison Jones, Betty Ann Keller.

Robert Gordon Kilburn, Sammy Madison Kilman, George Lee Kosko, Joel Vincent Lanken, Fred H. Lanning, Sally Roslyn Lewinsky, Charles William Lewis, Frederick Stearns Lewis, Barbara Jean Lima.

Frederick Lee Littlefield III, Albert B Lockwood, Douglas Harold Logan, Lake H Lyal Jr., Harry Lee MacGill, Edward J. Mac Grotty, Patricia Ann Mann, Howard L. Marshall, Shirley Ann Martin.

Alice Maxine Matthews, J. Edwin Mayer, Terrance Thomas McCabe, Vivian Charlene McDaniel, Thomas Joseph McKay, Judith Elaine McKinnis, Charles Thomas Mede, Thomas Joseph Mew III, Peter F Moffett, Thomas A Molitor, Robert A. Moore, Curtis Raymond Mosley, Carl Monroe Mostellar, Thomas Oswald Muller III, Stephen Ira Parks, David Ross Parkson.

Fred Stanford Parrish, Richard Bradley Pasto, Anthony J Perrone, Wayne L. Perkins, James Edward Phifer Jr., Roger Allen Pick, John C Pilcher, Marshall Van Pinson, Thomas Arthur Pisinski.

Stephen Ross Poe, Alan Joseph Patrick Pollock, Samuel S Porco Jr., Josephine Reiling, James L. Ridley, Carroll R. Runyon Jr., Theodore Ralph Ruta, John Calvin Sanderlin, August Joseph Sardinha Jr., Stanley Steven Sawicki.

Fred Schmehl, Thomas Gaylord Schultz, Duke Hill Scott, Melvyn A. Shapiro, Mary Linda Hall Shaw, Max Albert Shaw, Richard A. Shulman, Albert Thurman Siggrist, Henry Bryant Sims, Lenwood Glenn Skinner.

Jack William Slaton Jr., Clark L. Smith, Douglas Bodsford Smith Jr., James Cloudis Smith, Marvin Wendell Smith, Rodnes Clyde Smith, Van Elliott Smith, Daniel L Solomon.

Linda Kaye Stearns, Phil W Steeves, Stephen Sterk Jr., Robert A Stuart, Lawrence Earl Taylor, Samuel Joseph Thompson II, Lawrence William Thompson, Quentin Thomas Till, Andrew Jones Trice Jr., Joseph Michael Troncali, Virginia Catherine Twerdochlib, Herbert Walter Uppitt, Ira Sylvester Valentine Jr., Harley L. Vause.

Daniel Robert Watson, Roger B Walker, Leonard Weinstein, Donald Louis Wells, William Roberts Wilkins, Loyd Eugene Williams, Richard Stanley Wilson, Ronald Wilson Wingate, John Emmanuel Yancey, Thomas Wayland Yarbrough, Robert Van Yeager.

Bachelor of Arts

William Andemour, William Robert Abbrell II, Brenda Lee Albergon, Patricia Finn Alexander, Mary Sue Allen, Sharon Jean Arment, Sandra Jeannine Asher, Caroline Lee Avera, Elaine Marie Barber, Robert Van Barrow, Eleanor Irene Be.

James Carlton Berry, Sandra Kay Bohannon, Lloyd Thomas Bragoz, John Francis Brickett, Jane Ann Briggs, Paul Allen Brown, Forrest Russell Bryant, Marilyn Ann Burkholder, Earl Benjamin Carr.

Dennis Stephen Cassidy, Eric Chandler, William Edward Clarke Jr., Kathryn Carlton Clemons, Sandra Mae Cozette Clift, Michael F Cohen, Victor M. Comolli, Charles Walker Crawford Jr., George William Crofts.

Martha Susan Daniel, Ralph Charles Datillio, Nicolas Loeb David, Ann V Davis, Hugh L. Davis, David Armon Day, Thomas Arno Decker, Donna Kay Dial, Penelope Clair Diehl, Elizabeth Anne Diehm, Cassandra Amelia Dixon.

Patricia Rae Doepke, Mary Elizabeth Donnelly, Jan Isabelle Doughertz, Jan Wharren Duggar, Sam Hays Durham Jr., Deanna Lee Edwards, Barbara Elliott, David Emin Gonzalo S Esparza, Roland Wallace Eves, Frances Bell Exum.

Martha Cloutier Facklam, Gwendolyn Sue Flood, Thomas J Fortina Jr., J Lawrence Fox, James Charles Fox, Mildred Judith Freeman, Nancy Treasure Hannaford Freeman, Maryann Galvin.

Dannye Carol Gibson, Mary Gail Gillespie, Lee Garie Gray, Carol Ann Gulley, Diane Hagan, Josephine Ann Harrison, Charles Louis Hawkins, Jean F. Hern, Virginia Lee Herrmann.

Mary Shirley Hodges, Sara Beth Huntley, John Merle Jerke, Carolyn Johnson, Mary Clyde Johnson, Charles A. Kemman, Claire Arment Kemper, Helen Hibler Knight, Pauline Elise Krausche, Dorothy M. Lanning, Sal A. Lanza Jr., Derek Spencer Lawler, Margaret Stephens Lawrence, Letty Anne Lee, Irene K. Lemieux.

Stinson Haselton Lenkerd, Park Roland Lewis Jr., Mary Frances Malcolm, Theresa Beverly Margheta, Marilyn Patricia Marshburn, Linda Jane Mathews, Carol Kennedy McGowen, Milton E McGowen, William Pearman McLemore, Claudia Ann Meeks, Frank Joseph Miller, Linda Ellen Miller.

Susan Halliday Mitchell, Charles Harold Montford, Merry Elisabeth Morehouse, Robert Henry Mortner, Sharon Lynn Moses, Sarah Gunn Moore, Gary Edward Neal, Carol Mildred Nelson, Margaret Webb Nelson.

Barbara Kay Ogden, Gordon David Opstad, John Dahlman Pasto, Allen D Pate, Deborah Ellen Patterson, Keith Owens Pitchford, Carolyn Scarlett Pogue, LaVerne Frederick Pohl Jr., Stanley Leon Price, Harriet Elizabeth Priest.

Nina Patricia Reddy, Elizabeth Collins Rice, Linda Gail Rice, Mario Norberto Rios, Ben Houston Romine Jr., Jane Phillips Ross, William D Royster, Samuel Saldivar Garcia, Ann Virginia Sampson, Frances Loretta Sandstrom, Carolyn Worth Schaefer, Charlette Watson Schildecker.

Herbert G. Schmuck, Frances Annette Sharp, Mabel Watson Shaw, Harriet Harris Sibley, Nancie Lou Sill, Timothy Wayne Sineath, Joseph Daniel Smith Jr., Robert Tipton Snipes, Sarah Emily Staninger, David Wayne Staton, George Joseph Stegmeir Jr., Joyce Ann Story, Berkely Strobel, Mary Ann Sunday.

Barbara Elaine Syfratt, Wallace Ervin Taylor, Dorothy Swancey Thomas, Peggy Elizabeth Traylor, George M Trebour, Ann Wallar Turner, Barbara Joan Walker, Mary Ann Walker, Linda Lee Walton, Joanna Williams Warren.

Daryl Mae Weatherly, Eunice Margaret Webb, Judith-Ann Renata Whittaker, Jan K. Williams, Lynn Simon Williamson, Loren G. Wolfinbarger, Kent Philip Wood, Jerry Ross Woodall, Marjorie Susan Worklizer.

A. Douglas Worley, William Christopher Worrell Jr., William H Wratten, Martha Ozella Wynn, Sape Anne Zylstra.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

Master of Music

Griffin Scofield Beaman Griffin, Nancy Conner Hearn, Ralph Rosenberg, Ellen Burdella Taaffe.

Master of Science

Russell O. Alderman, Benjamin J Allen Jr, Jon Paul Alston, James Harold Bedsole, Charles Henry Blake, Patricia J. Bloch, John Edward Bodle, Charles R. Bond Paul Bowdoin, Stuart Owen Brogsell, James Harold Bruce.

Margaret Cannon, John Richard Carpenter, Lillian S. Conesa, Wietse de Hoop, Ahmed Lotfy Elattar, Bill A. Felton, James B. Fleece, Richard Joseph Fleming, Thomas, Leroy Francis, John Francis Gander, Evelyn Elreane Gatley, Elaine Pardue Giles, Edward P. Guettler, Keith Allan Harp.

James Edward Harris, Bonnie Le Merle Hart, Edward Sonn Hessberg, Jean L. Hoffman, Howard W. Huseman, Ethel Madge Hutcherson, Winfield Alan Jones, Rosalind Sylvia Kochel, William Charles Lansdowne, Granville Lee Larimore.

Wade Thomas Macey, Marion Glenn Martin, Eugene McCormick, Julia Gay McCoy, Jennie J. McIntyre, Norma Gayle McKinney, Edward Victor Mednick, Saria D. Merchant, Joseph F. Metcalf, Richard Sheppard Mitchell, Dale Duane Morris.

John Malcolm Motes, M. L. Chintana Navawongs, David F. Noble Sr., Dorris LaVanture Olds, James Dickens, Phillips Jr, Richard C Phillips, Edward Gould Platt Jr., Joseph Howard Purser, Mary Esther Raker.

Margaret Bregger Ramsey, Robert Ellis Reiman, Carmelita De-Guzman Reynes, William Roger Reynolds, Carolyn Ruth Riley, Carlton Charles Rochpil, Mark W. Roe, W. Terry Rogers, Mary Ann Russo, Curbachan Lal Sachdeva, Bh. U. Bhaskara Sarma.

James Byrd Seaborn, John Douglass Sharp, Janace A. Speckman, Joseph Jarlathe Staley, Myrtle Lingo Stevens, Marilyn Sue Swears, Wayne Chittick Thompson, Philip John Unrein, Paul Von Ward, Mary Alice White, Herman C. Willcutt, Mary Phyllis Williamson, William Earl Young.

Master of Arts

Carmen M. Avila, Carol Jane Bradley, Stuart John Brisley, Thomas J. Burns, Charles A. L. De-Forest Bader, Linda Joreen Suzanne Goyer, Jeanna Frances Graham, Dennis Lee Hale, Frances Irene Helms, Jeanne B Howard, Gladys Ann Kachdin, Joseph Mar... Robert W. Lan... Mares, Marian ... Moon, Walter ... thy Lola Rudwa... Rueth, James ... an Walter ... Watkins, Ray S. ...

Master of Social Work

Marsha Beth Bal... dy, Eldred R. ... son Brown, ... John Thomas ... ting, Richard D ... Eleanor Dutton ... hart, Pauline ... Barbara Thom... Frampton, Mary ... Temple Hess, ... land, Robert C ... Jaeger, Carolyn ... Urias Kenther... dron, Norman G ... Eleanor Fraser ... Moulthrop, Nancy ... C. Fred Rader ... son, Charles William ... Lowell Rottar, ... Rutchik, Gerald ... Mildred Dale ... Anna Elizabeth ... Wesley Strusser, ... Anna R Tuttleman ... VanVranken, Florence ...

Master of Business Administration

Marian Jone Hensley, ... tani, Jyotin Sheth, ...

Doctor of Education

Charles H Adair, ... Paul Webb Fitzgerald, Walter ... Fries, Saul A ...

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

Daniel Boda, Joseph O'Hara ... son Jr., Elmer Buzby ... ert L. Counts, ... Jacqueline ... Foree, Milton ... Frazier, Charles ... Kirtland Heath, ... William Everette ... rence Keith.

Faour, Daniel ... James Kwasi ... Stephen Bernard ... hakur Kanta ... Meriwether, ... Warren James ... Mitchell Brae ... Charles Bennett ... Charles Edgar ... John Russell ... son Rosch.

Wilford Neil ... Shivers, Verne ... Marion Simons, ... Simpson, Donald ... Andrew Tucker ... cigarra Rita ... Jay Winokur.

President's Award Is Given To Caustic & Shelfer Yesterday

Dennison M. Caustic, an Army ROTC cadet, and Bennett H.R Shelfer Jr., an Air Force ROTC cadet, yesterday were presented the President's Awards at a joint awards ceremony held at Florida State University.

The Army ROTC award is for the senior "who has demonstrated the highest degree of military leadership and academic achievement" and the Air Force ROTC award for the Air Science 4 cadet "who has made the greatest contribution to the FSU AF-ROTC and student government and for individual achievement at FSU."

In addition to the President's Awards, Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell, FSU president, awarded Nathaniel E. Smith the Association of the U.S. Army ROTC Medal "for outstanding leadership and academic achievement."

Other awards were presented at a ceremony attended by the cadet corps of both Air Force and Army ROTC as follows:

Hugh L. Davis, The ROTC Certificate of Meritorious Leadership Achievement, presented annually by the Commanding General, Third United States Army.

James E. Phifer Jr., The Department of Army Superior Cadet Ribbon Award, presented annually to the outstanding Cadet, Military Science IV.

Mitchell D. Franks, The Department of Army Superior Cadet Ribbon Award, presented annually to the outstanding Cadet, Military Science III.

Russ Blumenthal, The Department of Army Superior Cadet Ribbon Award presented annually to the outstanding Cadet, Military Science II.

Milton M Moll, The Department of Army Superior Cadet Ribbon Award, presented annually to the outstanding Cadet, Military Science I.

Charles H Blanchard, The Chicago Tribune Award for Military Proficiency, Military Science IV.

George D Shea, The Chicago Tribune Award for Military Proficiency, Military Science III.

Michael R. Odum, The Chicago Tribune Award for Military Proficiency, Military Science II.

Albert R Caracausa, The Chicago Tribune Award for Military Proficiency Military Science I.

Marvin W Smith, The Chicago Tribune Award for Air Science 4, first semester.

Douglas B Smith Jr, The Chicago Tribune Award for Air Science 4, second semester.

Edward C. Ekermeyer, The Chicago Tribune Award for Air Science 3 first semester.

Peter F Simonette, The Chicago Tribune Award for Air Science 3, second semester.

Walter E. Bigbie, Commander Company "C", The Reserve Officers Association Award for Honor Company.

Alan S Kirkpatrick, Platoon Leader, Second Platoon, Company "D", The Reserve Officers Association Award for first place, Platoon Drill Competition.

Frederick S. Lewis, Platoon Leader, First Platoon, Company "E", The Reserve Officers Association Award for second place, Platoon Drill Competition.

Charles D. Brown, Squad leader, First Squad First Platoon, Company "D", The Reserve Officers Association Award for first place, Squad Drill Competition.

James A. Jackson, Squad Leader, Second Squad, Second Platoon, Company "E", The Reserve Officers Association Award for second place, Squad Drill Competition.

Wallace R Watson, The Reserve Officers Association Award for first place, Individual Drill Competition.

John C Hagman, The Reserve Officers Association Award for second place, Individual Drill Competition.

Elbert N Atwater, The Reserve Officers Association Award for Arms, ROTC Drill Team Proficiency, Military Science II.

Carol Albert R Caracausa, The Reserve Officers Association Award for Army ROTC Drill Team Proficiency, Military Science I.

James E. Phifer, Jr., The Reserve Officers Association Award for Army ROTC Rifle Team Proficiency.

Robert D Green, The Reserve Officers Association Award for Army ROTC Band Proficiency.

James S Becker, The Reserve Officers Association Award for the highest grade achieved in American Military History.

Joe L. Dewrell, The Reserve Officers Association Award for the Senior Air Force ROTC Honor Cadet.

John S. Baughman, The Reserve Officers Association Award for the Junior Air Force ROTC Honor Cadet.

Joseph T Rodgers, Jr., The Reserve Officers Association Award for the Sophomore Air Force ROTC Honor Cadet.

Michael C Storrie, The Reserve Officers Association Award for the Freshman Air Force ROTC Honor Cadet.

Dennis Silkenakken, The Reserve Officers Association Award to the Cadet in the Band with the highest overall proficiency and effectiveness.

James H. Gillis, The Reserve Officers Association Award to the Cadet in the Rifle Team with the highest running score for record.

Richard J Erickson, The Sons of the American Revolution Medal for outstanding leadership, soldierly bearing and excellence.

Richard B White, The Sons of the American Revolution Medal for

(Continued on Page 6)

(ADVERTISEMENT) (ADVERTISEMENT)

SPECIAL STUDENT SALE

Come in and look over our casual and dress clothes that you will be needing this summer.

SUITS
SPORT COATS
SLACKS
SPORT SHIRTS
SHORT SLEEVES
and DRESS SHIRTS

nic's toggery

CAMP COUNSELOR OPENINGS
UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS
(Min. age 19 & completion of at least 1 year of college)
GRADUATE STUDENTS and FACULTY MEMBERS
THE ASSOCIATION OF PRIVATE CAMPS
. . . comprising 350 outstanding Boys, Girls, Brother-Sister and Co-Ed Camps, located throughout the New England, Middle Atlantic States and Canada.
. . . INVITES YOUR INQUIRIES concerning summer employment as Head Counselors, Group Leaders, Specialties, General Counselors.
Write, Phone, or Call in Person
Association of Private Camps — Dept. C
Maxwell M. Alexander, Executive Director
55 West 42nd Street, OX 5-2656, New York 36, N. Y.

TURN YOUR BOOKS INTO DOLLARS
$ CASH $ FOR YOUR TEXTBOOKS AT
BILL'S BOOKSTORE

$ Check our prices before you Buy or Sell

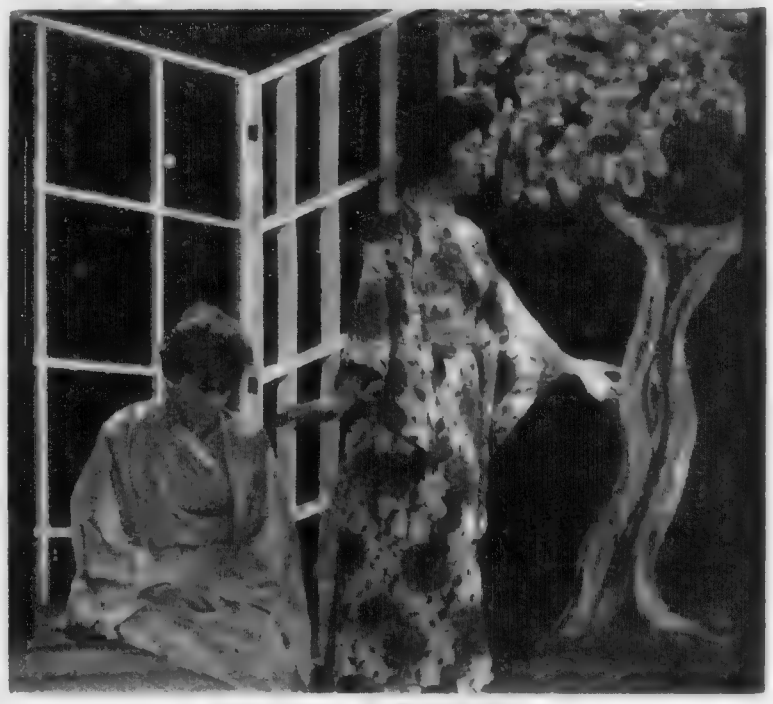
$ Top prices paid for your Textbooks

$ Books bought even if not used on this campus

$ Sell before the books change or a new edition comes out.

NOW IS THE TIME

$ WHEN YOU THINK OF BOOKS, THINK OF BILL'S $



Francis Martin As Madame Butterfly
. . . introduces her young son to sharpless (Delara, the American Consul. He is unaware of the and as he has come to interview Butterfly knowing Pinkerton will not return.

Madame Butterfly

Butterfly Realizes
. . . that she is in an unhonorable position. Her religion and culture force her to commit hari-kari.

Maija Murray As Suzuki Knows
. . . Pinkerton will not return. While Butterfly is unaware of this she sings the famous aria from the opera, One Fine Day.

Butterfly Bids Farewell . . .
. . . to her small son before she prepares to take her own life.

Ethel Donaldson Sings
. . . the highlight of the opera, One Fine Day. She performs as Madame Butterfly in the Saturday performance.

at your TALLAHASSEE THEATRES

FLORIDA

NOW SHOWING
First Time Together!
James STEWART John WAYNE
—in—
"The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance"
At 1:55-4:30-7:00-9:35

STATE

Today - Saturday
At 1:40-4.50-8:10
Filemt direct from the PEPPERMINT LOUNGE!
"Hey, Let's Twist"
BONUS COLOR HIT at 3-6 10-9-30
Elvis Presley
"Blue Hawaii"

PERRY HIGHWAY OUTDOOR

Tonight - Saturday
Big All-Color Program
Showing at 9:25
Elvis Presley in
"Follow That Dream"
and at 10:00
Steve Cochran
"Quantrill's Raiders"

CAPITOL DRIVE-IN ON WOODVILLE HWY.

Tonight & Saturday
Showing at 8:00
David Janssen
Polly Bergen
"BELLE SOMMERS"
Also at 9:10
PAUL NEWMAN
"SWEET BIRD OF YOUTH"

Opera Guild Presents Madame Butterfly

By CHRIS CLARKE
Flambeau Music Critic

Perhaps no composer in all opera was able to imbue heroines with such life and as Puccini. Tosca, Turandot, Manon Lescaut, and Madame Butterfly even the titles reveal talent. Certainly no opera that he wrote reached any higher heights of beauty and more rending tragedy than Madame Butterfly. Above all an opera that speaks to heart. It has no great message to deliver . . . no earth shaking decrees. Only a story of love heartache that sings to the ear with a voice of pathos cannot be ignored.

THE STORY

Briefly, it is the story of Lt. Pinkerton, USN, an American sailor stationed in Nagasaki, Japan marriage to a Japanese girl named Cio-Cio San or Madame Butterfly. For him the marriage is not serious and is a means of enjoying his stay in Japan. For her it means everything.

For a while they live together happily but his orders come and he tells Butterfly he must leave but will return. Three years pass and Butterfly has had a son. The baby's name is Trouble and is to be changed to Joy upon the return of Pinkerton. Only Butterfly has faith in Pinkerton: all others say that he will never come back.

Then a ship is sighted in the harbor. It is Pinkerton's the Abraham Lincoln. He has come back indeed. With him he has brought his American wife. They have come for the child.

The heart broken Butterfly says they may have him providing she is given a half an hour to prepare him for the trip. After Pinkerton leaves she takes from the wall her father's dagger and reads the inscription on the blade . . . "To die with honor, when to live with honor is no longer possible." She seats the baby on a stool and goes behind a bamboo screen. A moment later the dagger falls to the floor and Butterfly staggers out. She is embracing the baby when Pinkerton's voice shouts to her from off stage. He arrives too late, for she is dead. As Pinkerton falls to his knees crying the curtain comes down.

IN WESTCOTT

Tonight and tomorrow night Madame Butterfly will be presented on the stage of Westcott Auditorium. We at FSU are fortunate indeed to be able to see such a professional performance on our own campus. The Opera Guild has assembled some of its finest voices and talent for this internationally acclaimed love story.

The title role will be played and sung by Frances Martin tonight and by Ethel Donaldson, Saturday. Both these young women have top quality voices and if the dress rehearsals are any indication we are in for a fine evening indeed.

Tickets are $2 for non-students and $1 for students. According to the ticket office there are still seats available although about two - thirds have been sold.

Originally the Opera Guild began as the Light Opera Guild with emphasis on musicals, such as Kiss Me, Kate and Oklahoma. Before long it was found that those involved were capaable of more serious undertakings and Richard Collins was brought to FSU to enlarge the scope of the opera program as Guild director.

The Opera Guild is honored to have as one of its advisors the soprano Elena Nikolaidi. She has sung major roles in Opera houses from the Vienna State Opera to the Metropolitan. The German government has given her its highest award, that of HAMMARSANGAREN, in recognition of her musical achievement.

Carlisle Floyd ,composer in residence at FSU, also lends invaluable assistance to the Guild. He has written a number of operas, one of which, Susanna, was given its southeastern premier here and was later selected to represent American Art at the Brussels World's Fair.

Cool, clean Old Spice After Shave Lotion always gets you off to a fast, smooth start. Feels just as good between shaves as it does after shaving. Rates A-OK with dates. 1.00 and 1.75 plus tax.

Old Spice AFTER SHAVE LOTION

SHULTON

SPRING SALE

Everything you need. All yarns, Needlepoints and crewel works.
MARKED DOWN

Hank O'Yarn Knittery
210 College

It's what's up front that counts

FILTER-BLEND is yours in Winston and only Winston. Up front you get rich golden tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for filter smoking. Smoke Winston.

WINSTON TASTES GOOD like a cigarette should!

Grecian Columns

Tri-Delts Award Scholarship To Coed

All women students now attending Florida State University who are interested in receiving a Delta Delta Delta social sorority sponsored scholarship are asked to contact the Tri-Delta service projects chairman by Monday. This scholarship is awarded to deserving women students on any campus on which there is a Delta Delta Delta chapter.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Tommy Lynn is the new Favorite Guy of Alpha Chi. A party for the graduating seniors will be given next Tuesday.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Monday the graduating seniors will entertain with a skit and their last will and testament at a banquet given in their honor. Wednesday night the ADPi's will have their annual dinner with the Chi O's.

ALPHA PHI

A reception to honor Mother Howell, the housemother, will be held Sunday afternoon at the house from 3 to 4:30 p.m. Monday night a party for the graduating [illegible] been planned by their little sisters and the chapter.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

The Aleos were the champs of the [illegible] season and were awarded the trophy this past week. Bonnie Bell was crowned by the ATO Sweetheart at the ATO Weekend.

CHI OMEGA

The Chi Omega alumnae are giving a dinner for the graduating seniors of the chapter Monday night at the home of Mrs. Clements.

DELTA CHI

Recent awards for outstanding [illegible] went to Ford Davis and Frank Akins. Don Evans received the most improved scholarship award and Ron Stone the outstanding intramurals award. Jose Esposo was selected as pledge of the month. Next week, K. F. Deady, region representative, will visit the Delta Chis.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

The annual Pansy Breakfast will be held Sunday in honor of the seniors. Best active of the week is Barbara Cox and Kaki Chandler is the best pledge.

DELTA GAMMA

A banquet to be held at the Silver Slipper has been planned for the graduating seniors. They will be entertaining several of the residence counselors Wednesday night at dinner.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Skip Archibald, Pi Kappa Phi, is the new Gamma Phi Dream Man. Tonight the Lane L'Avants are entertaining the Gamma Phi's and their guests with a cookout and pool party at their home. Mrs. Gordon Blackwell was initiated into Gamma Phi Beta this week. Mrs. Foreman, providence collegiate director, came up for the ceremony.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

The Theta's will have Mike Shara as a guest for dinner this week.

KAPPA DELTA

Monday the Senior Banquet given in the honor of the graduating seniors will be held at the KD house.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

The Kappa's will be the guests of the ADPi's and the KD's at a coke party tomorrow morning [illegible] so the Kappa's can meet their new neighbors.

KAPPA SIGMA

The Kappa Sig's will have a combo party tomorrow night with the Classics playing. Newly elected officers are assistant treasurer, Barry Kempson; assistant secretary, Shelton Barlow; pledge master, Doug Bennett; rush chairman, Clay Terry; social chairman, Greg Greunke and housemanager, Bob Aneuyl.

PHI DELTA THETA

The Phi Delt's will give a banquet honoring the graduating seniors Sunday. New officers for next year are president, George Powell; vice president, Tom Haney; recording secretary, Sherman Henderson; treasurer, Duncan Moore warden, John Evans corresponding secretary, Joe Rogers; chairman of executive board, Buddy Waring and chaplain, Riley Dunn.

PHI KAPPA PSI

New chapter officers are Andy Rogers, president; Kelly Reid, vice president; Dale Smith, treasurer; Dave Arnold, recording secretary and Bob Schmidt, corresponding secretary. New pledges are Thornton DeWitt, Tony Kowals, Bill Dahl, Allen Roles, Dick Garstang, and Joe M. Brown. George Kincaid, the national field secretary, was in town last week.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Sunday a banquet is planned in honor of local Pi Kappa Alpha alumni at the Duval Hotel. The purpose is to outline the fraternity's plans for the coming year.

SIGMA NU

The new Sweetheart is Ann Schloss, Pi Beta Phi. For the National Convention in Pittsburg, Tom Roback, Al Folds, Gene Lewis and Mitch Franks are the delegates.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The Sig Eps will have their last blast before finals tonight. A new pledge is Jim Vacca.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

A new pledge is Gwenn Cawthon. Pledge of the week is Linda Lehman.

THETA CHI

The new officers are president, Jack Smith; vice president, Don Thigpen, recording secretary, Dick Johnson; corresponding secretary, Jim Brown; pledge marshall, Rick Sapin; social chair- Les Murdock, Lynn McClaren is Les Murdick. Lynn McClaren is the new Theta Chi Dream Girl. Her court was composed of Beverly Schummel, Kay Goldsworthy, Sylvia Lee and Joann Wadsworth. Sonny Riddlehoover is a new pledge. Joe Morello national advisor, is visiting the chapter this week.

CB Alternates Given Books

Two alternate members of Florida State University's G. E. College Bowl team have some fresh reading material, at the courtesy of two bookstores.

Senior government major Robert Delack and junior science education major Tom Crook, have been presented copies of the Third International Edition of the Merrian - Webster Dictionary by Bill's Bookstore. The University Bookstore has awarded Delack and Crook $25 apiece in books at wholesale prices.

Crook and Delack did not accompany the team to New York when it defeated University of the South on the G. E. College Bowl April 1, or when it lost to Tufts University April 8.

Members of FSU's team, which netted the University $2,000 in scholarship funds for its two appearances were Bonnie Freedman, Bob Houston, Carie Kemper and Steve Whealton.

The quartet, along with alternate members Ann Kendall and Lynn Witherspoon will be presented a choice of a number of small appliances by the General Electric Company, sponsor of the CBS-TV program. Miss Kendall accompanied the team to New York when it met University of the South and Witherspoon was the traveling alternate against Tufts.

Speech Inst. Conference

The Eighth Annual Southeastern Summer High School Speech Institute will be held at Florida State University June 24 through July 20 for high school students who want to know more about dramatic art or want to become better speakers or debaters.

Richard Fallon of the Speech Dept. will be in charge of instruction in drama and Dr. Gregg Phifer of the department will be in charge of forensics. Morning classes for everyone will include oral interpretation of dramatic literature, discussion and debate, public speaking (taught by Dr. Wayne Minnick, department head) and Introduction to radio and TV taught by Dr. Bernart Cooper of the department).

The afternoon and evening sessions will be divided. The forensics group will study all kinds of original speech activities, including the 1962-63 high school debate resolution, and the drama group will prepare for and present one-act plays and scenes from longer plays.

The basic fee for the four-week course is $75, which includes registration housing and laundry but not food. For students living in Tallahassee with parents or relatives the fee is $45. All fees must be paid by June 8.

1150 Get Degrees

(Continued from Page 1)

Jr. Award for Outstanding Excellence in Teaching, carries with it a $500 "bonus" for the instructor or assistant professor who in the opinion of a selection committee, has demonstrated outstanding capacity in instruction, in at least five years' teaching at FSU.

This complement to the Distinguished Professor award is university - wide, to be awarded only this year, since the Coyle E. Moore Jr. Memorial Foundation, donator of the award, has no permanent fund.

Recipient will be chosen by a faculty - student committee appointed by the Council of Deans.

FSU's Future Role . . .

(Continued from Page 1)

er qualities as well as intellectual excellence."

The report added:

"The student body of 1970 will reflect a higher degree of intellectual selectivity and an increased level of maturity. To meet the needs of these students there must be continuing appraisal of university - sponsored social, recreational, and non-academic activities to insure that they contribute to the cultural development of the students.

In addition to providing appropriate [illegible] rooms, record libraries, art exhibits, visiting lectures, concert artists, symphonies, choruses and theatre groups, the University should expand and strengthen the [illegible] student-sponsored intellectual and cultural activities."

Providing a university which is great by national standards will be expensive, said the report, but "with the support of the people of Florida the University can and will become a distinguished institution."

Of the $?? million in capital improvements needed, several buildings are scheduled for construction during the 1961-63 biennium.

The schedule of capital improvements recommended by the report follows:

1961-63: Addition to Psychology Bldg.; addition to Nuclear Science Bldg.; Physics Bldg. graduate laboratories, one men's dormitory; Student Union and recreational facilities; infirmary. (Total $3,155,000)

1963-65: Child Research Laboratory; coastal facilities for Oceanographic Institute; Physics undergraduate laboratories, classrooms, offices, and lecture auditorium; Social Science Bldg.; Library addition, West Wing; chemistry graduate laboratories; Chemistry undergraduate laboratories; married student housing units (400); one dormitory for men; two dormitories for women; classroom greenhouse and [illegible] laboratories; renovation of Longmire Bldg.; air conditioning old buildings; campus improvements; utilities renovation and expansion; land acquisition. (Total, $19,500,000)

1965-67: Home management practice houses, renovation of Dodd Hall; Fine Arts Bldg., Engineering Science Bldg. first section, renovation of Science Bldg., School of Nursing Bldg., Biological Sciences Bldg., renovation of History Bldg., remodeling Classroom Bldg. "A"; Science lecture halls; Accelerator addition, married student housing units (300) one dormitory for men; one dormitory for women; Library addition, East Wing; campus improvements, land acquisition. (Total, $30,300,000)

1967-69: Renovation of Conradi Bldg. for Business School; addition to Music Bldg.; Auditorium (3500-4000 seats); Space Science Bldg.; Engineering Science Bldg. second section; Armory, Science Branch Library; married student housing units (300); one dormitory for women; utilities expansion; campus improvement. (Total $?,?00,000)

1969-71: New Education Bldg., Law School Bldg.; new Mathematics-Statistics Bldg., science research institutes, Social Welfare Bldg., Library addition, North Wing; married student housing units (300), Food Service Bldg. or renovation of Suwannee Room; utility expansion; campus improvement. (Total $12,000,000)

1971-73: Geology Bldg. (including museum), new Administrative Bldg.; married student housing units (300), one dormitory for men; one dormitory for women; campus improvements. (Total $6,000,000)

Finals Start May 25

Classes will end Wednesday, May 23, at 10 p.m. Examinations will begin at 8 a.m. Friday, May 25, and end 6 p.m., Friday, June 1. Examination periods are two hours.

All sections of the following courses have examinations at the same time and will be held at the place announced by the instructor.

COURSE	TIME OF EXAMINATION
Accounting 201-202	Friday, May 25, 7-9 p.m.
Biology	Saturday, May 26, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Business Law 321	Friday, May 25, 4-6 p.m.
Business Law 322	Tuesday, May 29, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Chemistry 101, 103, 107	Monday, May 28, 4-6 p.m.
Economics 201, 202	Wednesday, May 30, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Education 306 (Sections 7, 8, 10)	Monday, May 28, 8-10 a.m.
English 101	Wednesday, May 30, 7-9 p.m.
English 102	Friday, May 25, 4-6 p.m.
English Education 302	Saturday, May 26, 7-9 p.m.
Finance 340	Saturday, May 26, 4-6 p.m.
Food and Nutrition 105, 106	Wednesday, May 30, 4-6 p.m.
Government 306	Tuesday May 29, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Government 305	Saturday, May 26, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Health Education 115	Thursday, May 31, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
History 181, 215, 216	Thursday, May 31, 4-6 p.m.
History 182	Monday, May 28, 8-10 a.m.
Humanities 202	Saturday, May 26, 8-10 a.m.
Insurance and Real Estate 335	Friday, May 25, 8-10 a.m.
Library Science 105	Thursday, May 31, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Library Science 315-500	Thursday, May 31, 7-9 p.m.
Management 215	Wednesday, May 30, 7-9 p.m.
Mathematics 105, 118	Friday, May 25, 8-10 a.m.
Mathematics 117	Wednesday, May 30, 8-10 a.m.
Mathematics Education 441	Friday, May 25, 7-9 p.m.
Meteorology 105	Friday, May 25, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Military—Air 102, 202, 302, 402	Tuesday, May 29, 7-9 p.m.
Army 102, 202, 302, 402	Tuesday, May 29, 7-9 p.m.
Modern Languages—First and Second Years	Saturday, May 26, 7-9 p.m.
Physical Education 110-160	Tuesday, May 29, 8-10 a.m.
Physics 105, 112	Tuesday, May 29, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 a.m.
Physics 201, 212	Monday, May 28, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Science Education 311	Saturday, May 26, 8-10 a.m.
Social Science 105	Monday, May 28, 7-9 p.m.
Social Studies Education 423 (E)	Wednesday, May 30, 8-10 a.m.
Sociology 105, 305	Friday, June 1, 8-10 a.m.
Sociology 106	Friday, June 1, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
Speech 105	Thursday, May 31, 8-10 a.m.

Examinations for courses not previously listed are listed below. They will be given in the classroom where the sections of the courses meet.

EXAMPLE: If you have an 8 or 8:10 class on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and if that course is not listed above, you will take the examination in your regular classroom Saturday, May 26, 4-6 p.m.

COURSE	TIME OF EXAMINATION
8 or 8:30 M W F
8 or 8:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Saturday, May 26, 4-6 p.m.
8 or 8:30 T Th
8 or 8:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week
8:40 [illegible]	Friday, May 25, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
9 or 9:30 M W F
9 or 9:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Monday, May 28, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
9 or 9:30 T Th
9 or 9:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week
9:30 to 10:45 T Th	Tuesday, May 29, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
10 or 10:30 M W F
10 or 10:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Friday, May 25, 10:30 a.m.-12:30
10 or 10:30 T Th
10 or 10:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Friday, June 1, 4-6 p.m.
11 or 11:30 M W F
11 or 11:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Saturday, May 26, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
11 or 11:30 T Th
11 or 11:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Monday, May 28, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
12 or 12 M W F
12 or 12 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Friday, June 1, 1:30-3:30 p.m.
12 or 12:30 T Th
12 or 12:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week
12:30 to 1:45 T Th	Wednesday, May 30, 8-10 a.m.
1 or 1:30 M W F
1 or 1:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Wednesday, May 30, 10:30 a.m.-12:30
1 or 1:30 T Th	Thursday, May 31, 4-6 p.m.
2 or 2 M W F
2 or 2 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Wednesday, May 30, 4-6 p.m.
2 or 2:30 T Th
2 to 3:15 T Th	Thursday, May 31, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
3 or 3:30 M W F
3 or 3:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Monday, May 28, 4-6 p.m.
3 or 3:30 T Th
3:30 to 4:45 T Th	Thursday, May 31, 8-10 a.m.
4 or 4:30 M W F
4 or 4:30 meeting 4 or 5 times a week	Monday, May 28, 7-9 p.m.
4 or 4:30 T Th	Wednesday, May 30, 7-9 p.m.

Courses meeting one hour each week: Friday, June 1, 10:30 a.m.-12:30

Courses meeting two hours each week will take the same schedule as the three hour courses unless otherwise shown on this schedule.

In case of conflict [illegible] which appears first on this schedule will have [illegible] over the other examination. Make arrangements with the [illegible] of the conflicting examination to take the examination [illegible] May 26, 4-6 p.m.

Students are not [illegible] for examinations.

In unavoidable [illegible] where a student must be absent from an examination the student may request permission from his academic dean to take [illegible] date. No examination is to be given early to such cases.

Night classes will [illegible] examinations at the first regular class period time during the examination week except those having group examinations.

Classes meeting on Saturday morning only will have their examinations Saturday, May 26 [illegible] 12:30 p.m.

Students who have [illegible] examinations scheduled for one day conflict Dr. [illegible] of Mrs. J. L. Bryant, 102A Westcott. In case of four examinations in one day, the third examination in the students schedule will be changed.

A candidate for a degree may be excused by his instructor from taking the final examination of a course in which he has a grade of A without question. A [illegible] where the examination is scheduled. Candidates for degrees who are excused from their examinations have them scheduled with the [illegible] time [illegible] May 28. Candidates for degrees graduates must be in the Registrar's Office by noon Tuesday, May 29.

The [illegible] of a laboratory course will determine the examination [illegible].

Arrangements for room assignments should be made with Del Williams or Mrs. Bryant in the Registrar's Office, Extension 2710 by Friday, May 18.

The [illegible] schedule is announced with the approval of the Faculty Senate Committee on Examinations.

President's Award . . .

(Continued from Page 4)

outstanding leadership, military bearing and proficiency in the Dr. Team.

John J. Shearer, The 8880th Air Reserve Squadron Award to the Air Science 3 Cadet for outstanding leadership, laboratory achievement during the past school year.

Samuel D. Disque, Jr. The Gen. Hq. Air Force ROTC Cadet Award for the outstanding Air Science 2 Cadet [illegible] entered in Air Force ROTC.

Keith O. Pitchford. The Air Force Times Award to the graduating cadet who has contributed materially to constructive public attention on the Cadet Corps.

William W. Lane. The Air Force Association Award for the Air Science 4 cadet for highest academic leadership and summer training unit achievement.

Fred E. Davis. The Cadet Commendation Medal for meritorious service to the 880th Cadet Wing.

Jerry L. Vaughan. The cadet commendation medal for meritorious achievement and outstanding service as the First Sergeant, Drill Team.

Jesse Sisco. The Cadet commendation medal for outstanding service as Commander, Angel Flight, 1st semester.

Beverly Marchetta. The cadet commendation medal for outstanding service as the Commander Angel Flight 2nd semester.

In addition to the foregoing awards, the Professor of Military Science has announced the following appointment of the following Military Science III Cadets as Distinguished Military Students:

S. C. Botts, M. D. Franks, T. F. McDonald, C. F. Reinella, G. D. Shea, N. E. Smith, R. G. Williams.

Legend Soon Out

The Literary Anthology, The Legend, is expected to be completed in time for distribution next week.

Distribution centers will be behind Westcott Auditorium and at the Student Center.

Students must present their I. D. cards to obtain a copy.

Additional copies will be sold for $25.

Rocket Club Sponsors Natl. Essay Contest

The National Rocket Club is sponsoring an annual national essay competition on the historical development of rocketry and astronautics in honor of the famous American rocket pioneer, Dr. Robert H. Goddard.

The essay competition is the first project of the National Rocket Club's Committee for the History of Rocketry and Astronautics.

The essays submitted under the competition may deal with any significant aspect of the historical development of rocketry and astronautics, and will be judged on their originality and scholarship. They may bring new information to light, or may cast a new or different light on events or individuals influencing rocket technology in the U. S.

ENTRY RULES

The contest is open to any U.S. citizen. Entries should not exceed 5,000 words and should be documented. The essays should be received by the Chairman of the Committee for the History of Rocketry and Astronautics by Nov. 1, 1962. Essays must be typewritten, legible, double spaced on paper approximately 8½ inches by 11 inches. Entries must be duplicated in their entirety.

The name of the competitor should not appear on the essay, and each essay must have a motto selected by the author in addition to the title. This motto shall appear in three places: (1) on the title page, (2) on the outside of a sealed envelope containing identification of the author; and (3) above the name and address of the competitor inside the envelope containing this identification.

Essays should be submitted to the "Goddard Historical Essay Competition," National Rocket Club, Suite 32, 1745 K street, N. W., Washington 6, D.C.

Missing Art Object Found

Ten of the 11 missing art objects borrowed by Florida State University from Ringling Museum ago have been located and will be returned, Dr. Gulnar Bosch, head of the Art Dept., has announced.

The small two to six inch glass and terra cotta art objects were located in an archeaological museum storeroom last Friday following newspaper accounts that reported their loss.

They had been packed and stored away some time after being used for teaching purposes by the Archaeology Dept., according to Dr. Bosch.

"The pieces of art work [illegible] fitted hundreds of students [illegible] on loan to FSU [illegible] we regret greatly the loss of even one of them."

She said an inventory would be continued and that [illegible] the missing item —a terra cotta sculpture [illegible] head—may still be found.

Art items located [illegible] note jug, several [illegible] flasks and vials, a moulded glass vase and a buttons [illegible] jug.

Trimester Operations . . .

(Continued from Page 1)

plans for its Third Trimester activities.

Registration fees will remain the same for the shorter [illegible] since students will be allowed to take the same number of hours as they do now. No overloads will be allowed.

Housing fees for a trimester will be the same as for a semester even though the trimester is two weeks shorter.

CLASS SCHEDULE

Classes during the Summer and Spring Trimesters will [illegible] the same MWF and TTh pattern as they have now but [illegible] be lengthened to equal the total amount of time spent [illegible] during a semester.

MWF classes will be 55 minutes long instead of 48 and there will be 15 minutes between classes. These classes will [illegible] 8:55, 9:10 to 10:05, 10:20 to 11:15, etc.

Tuesday-Thursday classes will be 85 minutes with [illegible] class break. Present TTh classes are 75 minutes.

The twice-a-week class days will run: 8 to 9.25, 9:40 to 11:05 etc., ending with a 4:20 to 5:45 p.m. class.

Students enrolled for the full Summer Trimester will [illegible] 53 minute MWF classes and 85 minute TTh classes but [illegible] have 25 minutes between the MWF classes and 15 minutes between the TTh classes.

Half-term summer classes will meet five days a week [illegible] minutes with 5 minutes between classes. This schedule [illegible] simultaneously with the full-term pattern.

INTERNSHIP

Interns in the School of Education will face a slightly [illegible] program than has been used in the past.

Internship has been shortened from 16 or 17 hours to [illegible] Instead of being in University classes for a month, interns for eight weeks and then returning to campus for a month, interns will take their [illegible] FSU course work in six weeks, then leave [illegible]

They will not have to return to campus until graduation or registration for the next trimester.

Parkway Shopping Center
Wishes You A
Happy Vacation
This Summer

the best perfume Paris has to offer

Linden's

Last-Minute
Gifts of Beauty
For Graduates

Here are just a few of the lovely gifts you'll find at our Beauty Center . . .

☆ Christian Dior ☆ Arpege
☆ Chanel ☆ White Shoulders
☆ Guerlain ☆ Charles of the Ritz

AND OF COURSE

• Bags • Lingerie • Hose
• Imported Boutiques

"All Gift Wrapped Free"

hey guys! stock up now on slacks!
saturday the last day of our 1000 pr. slack
sale

handsome, cool, wash-n-wear slacks on tables for easy selection

Values to 9.95 6.99 each cuff alteration free!
3 for $20

these are the slacks that will take you all through summer! we've got 'em in dacron-cotton cords and and poplins and dacron-rayon tropicals.

plan front "ivy" or pleated model

Turner's
doorway to fashion

Basketball's Dave Fedor Chosen Athlete Of Year

Dave Fedor, Florida State University Senior basketball star, has been chosen the 1962 Athlete of the Year by the Florida Flambeau sports staff.

The ...ager was chosen because ...ellence in his sport, sportsmanship and character.

...honorable mention All-...n this season, Fedor led ...Tribe in rebounds and total ...nts of points (470), a 20.4 ... game average. The 6 - 6 ...yrhills product finished his ... career with .453 points, ... average of 20.2 per game. ... scrappy co - captain played ... varsity game for three ...ons and scored in double ...es in all 72 contests.

...e led FSU in free throw per...age (78.4, hitting 78 per cent for this three years of varsity competition. From the field, Fedor, shot 52.2 per cent, hitting 49.8 per cent over the three year span.

The FSU forward owns two individual single-game highs this season and is co-owner of another. Against Tampa, Fedor pushed in 38 points for the season's high in total points scored. Fedor and Assistant Coach Hugh Durham hold the all - time high mark of 43.

Both Fedor and senior center Ray Swain of Jacksonville pushed in 15 buckets for the field goal high, while Fedor burned the boards against Rice by pulling down 21 rebounds for a game high.

It has been said that Fedor could play with anybody's team including the all - mighty Ohio State Buckeyes.

After the FSU - Ohio State opener this season Buckeye Coach Fred Taylor said, "I got shook up just looking at his field goal percentage. My assistant coach told me before the game that Fedor was the best cornerman we would face all year."

In the contest, Fedor hit for 18 points, with an 8-of-10 average from the field. He helped hold All - American Jerry Lucas to 11 points, the second lowest total in Lucas' college career.

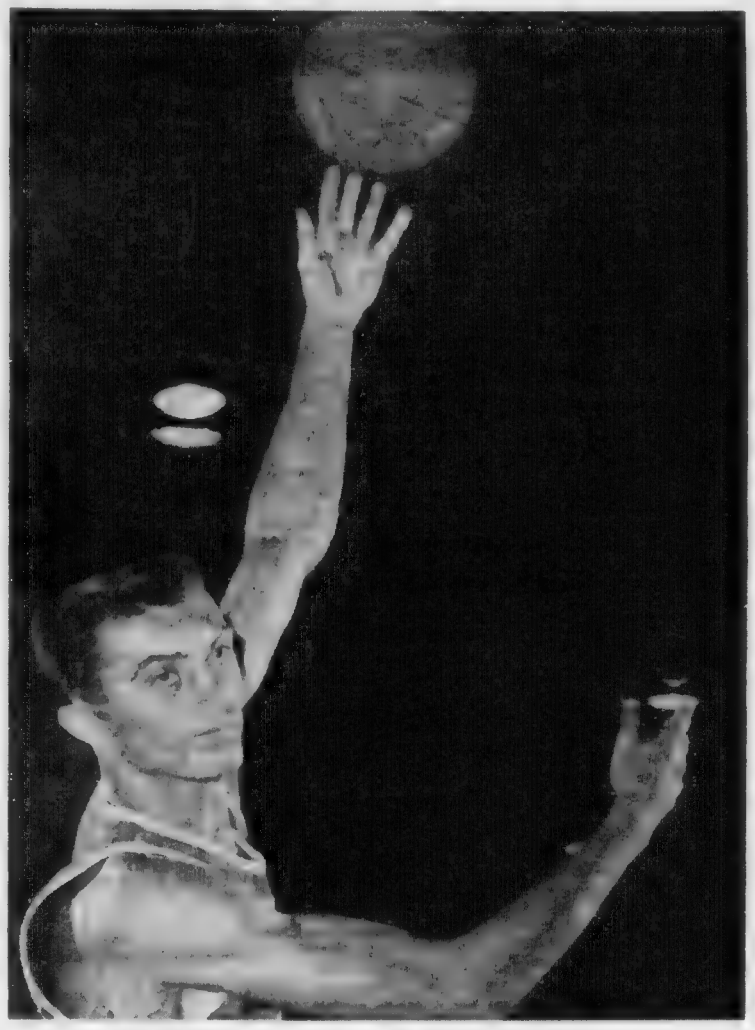
Auburn Coach Joel Eaves said, "Fedor is a tremendous ball player — a good shooter, a good ball handler. He can do about anything you want done. He's a real fine pro prospect. He can face the bucket."

In 1959, as a sophomore, Fedor was named the most valuable player in the Gator Bowl tournament while being named to the all - tournament team. Last season the 6-6 cornerman was voted honorable mention All-American. And as a tribute from opponents the University of Florida cagers named Fedor as one of the players on their all-opponent team.

Born in Youngstown, Ohio — the heart of basketball country — Fedor moved to Zephyrhills with his family at the age of five. At age 11, he moved to Indiana.

But he was not born with a silver basketball in his mouth when he was in the sixth and seventh grades in Indiana, he didn't go out for the team because he did not know the rules.

Back in Florida having learned the rules, he played on a B-squad team won the conference championship. After he averaged 15 points a game on the varsity squad he set a school record of 38 points a game. In his senior year he tallied 41 and 43 on two nights to crack his old prep mark.



Then his family moved to Germany, where Florida State comes into the picture.

Danny Litwhiler, FSU baseball coach, was in Germany conducting a clinic and heard about a smooth lefthander ... Big Dave, who was playing for the Frankfort American Dependent High School. After contacting FSU coach Bud Kennedy, Litwhiler signed Fedor to an athletic scholarship.

Fedor's prowess has also been pointed out by two other incidents.

He was the first basketball player in the state to be drafted this season, coming in ahead of Florida's Cliff Luyk and Jacksonville's Roger Strickland.

He was edged in the voting of top amateur athlete of the year in Florida by Miami's All-American end Bill Miller.

One More Bucket

Florida State's top basketball player, Dave Fedor, was chosen the 1962 Athlete of the Year at FSU by the Florida Flambeau sports staff and consultants.

Intramurals End '62 Competition

The third and final season of ... women's intramural season ...e to a close this week as each ...ooshed the last tournament ... An intramural rally was ... Thursday at 7 p.m. in ... Montgomery gym to give the ...es to winning sorority and ... as those to the sport ...ason's.

... was finished Wednes... afternoon as Jennie Murph... a win over the Sigma ... to cop the cham... ... third dorm title and ... sport's championship ... this year. Jennie pair... Sigma Kappa in the ... inning to hold their lead ... for a 6-4 game.

Reynolds Hall captured the ...imming title Monday afternoon in Montgomery Pool. The ...nolds team was comprised ... four freshmen and a junior counselor. They collected first, second, or third places in most of the events to tally the highest total score.

Tennis tournament championships were played last week. In the beginning singles, Marilyn Johnson of Pi Beta Phi claimed the winners trophy. In the intermediate grouping, it was Marcene Smith of Broward and Caryl Lenahan another Pi Beta Phi, who took honors.

In the doubles competition the winning beginners were Ann Dixon and Bea Kautz of Florida Hall. The intermediate champs were Marsha Lynn and Lee Davenport of Kappa Delta.

Dana Lenahan and Susan Slaughter, two Racquette members, won a third victory for the Pi Beta Phi sorority in advanced doubles rivalry.

Seminoles To Battle Florida In Final Baseball Contests

Florida State's baseball team will pit its 16-9 record against the powerful University of Florida in Gainesville.

Florida grabbed the Southeastern Conference championship only last week and also got the NCAA Regional Tournament bid which automatically goes with it. This will be the Gators' second appearance in the last three years at the Regional Tourney, which is held annually at Gastonia, N. C.

The Gainesville nine opened a two-game series against Rollins College in Winter Park on Tuesday with a bright 24-6 record. Florida has depended greatly on its pitching staff this year, which includes three talented starters in C. W. Price, Eddie Clark, and Jim Biggart.

Florida State's hopes for a really successful season will be riding on the series with Florida.

A pair of wins could mean a respectable record as well as an invitation to the NCAA affair. In the past FSU has attended five Regional Tournaments and walked away with a win in one, which also brought a coveted berth in the College World Series at Omaha, Neb. Although Florida State's record may seem good enough to the average baseball enthusiast, Seminole fans must have at least 20 wins under their belts to be satisfied, and Coach Danny Litwhiler's clubs have only failed to attain this goal once in the past six years.

Unlike the Gators, this season FSU has been hindered by a young mound staff, but the last half of the year has been considerably brighter than the beginning. There were two route going performances in the last four games for the Tribe.

Allen Thomas, Ray McShane, Jack Ross, John Tucker and Larry Hawkins have all recorded wins for FSU. Also, Tommy Davis is in the mound corps for the first time after being plagued by illness throughout the early part of the season.

The Tribe's sluggers have battered opposing pitchers throughout the year and have posted better than a .300 batting average. Woody Woodward, Billy Williamson, Buddy Teagle, and Bob Wilcox have all hovered above the .350 mark this year.

SOUTHERN SUFFERS

In the Seminoles last contest, Georgia Southern fell, 8-2, as Florida State outhit the Georgians nine to six.

Al Beccaccio, Paul Dirks, and Williamson constituted FSU's impetus as they each stroked home runs.

In the first inning, Williamson slammed a two-run homer. The day before he had broken a school record of six two-run homers.

The Seminole then poled a double in the fifth, as he brought Beccaccio home.

Beccaccio's homer came in the third with one man on. Going 3-for-4, he also scored three runs.

SCALP EM—Howard Denson

Sports Next Year Should Be Good

Things we'll look forward to next year.

By the grace of God and perhaps someone more powerful (such as the University of Alabama's Paul Bryant), maybe the football team will have a winning season.

One top official not a coach, said the Seminoles will go 8-2. Some players say that Coach Bill Peterson's units will go 6-4. Some say FSU will lose most of the SEC games and win the ones against the independents and Southern teams.

But we must pause . . . 'cause the Semi-holes haven't won an away game in two years since '60. The two independents are Miami and Houston—almost sure losers. Then they say you lose some you don't expect to and you win some you don't expect to. But playing against the SEC squads you can't hope to win any "extra"—unless Georgia will be as good as last season. The Seminoles showed they could lose to Southern squads by falling 10-6 to Virginia Tech last season. We face Houston in the Homecoming contest next year . . . and we haven't won a Homecoming game since 1958.

So, good luck, guys. We're with you anyway.

In basketball, there are two things to look forward to . . . continuing the winning "streak" against Florida and (far more important) defeating the gigantic hoop klan again. We also play Cincinnati and West Virginia. The basketball team is losing the best group of players it has ever had, and next year's team will be playing one of the toughest schedules ever slated. Those that know say the freshman team will come through and we will have a good season next year . . . not as good as this year . . . but good.

We hope so.

Swell Swimmers

In swimming, the outlook is extremely bright, since the freshman team went undefeated and the varsity only lost two athletes . . . one an All-American, Paul Thompson. The back stroke, free style, and diving events should be much improved. A good prediction is: they will win all their dual matches, with the Florida contest being a toosup as usual.

In track, we find that nearly everyone is taking the exit via the graduation line this month, so Coach Mike Long will have a lot of rebuilding to do. Top prospects will come in the broad jump and sprints. We've heard no predictions in this field in which the Seminoles are always strong. We hope they'll keep up tradition, but we feel they will not be as strong as this year when they were the "winningest" team on the campus.

The baseball team should recover from a slight slump this season. The batting was strong this year and several of the top stickmen are staying around . . . but the pitching was weak. Unless the frosh can bolster this area, pitching could be a problem again. No predictions, but a winning season.

Two sports scare us when trying to delve into the future . . . tennis and golf, which depend so much on individuals. We'll remove our necks from the chopping block when talking of these two.

But back to football, and this needs to be said. Frank Howard, Clemson coach, said it could be a long winter. We agree . . . the team should be good but the schedule is too tough and entirely impractical. So, we predict either a 2-7-1 tally sheet or a 3-7 mark.

We hope to God . . . or Bryant . . . that we're wrong.

Annual Football Clinic Scheduled Here In June

Florida State University will sponsor its annual coaching clinic June 7-9, adding a program on basketball along with the usual football.

Attending the clinic on football will be:

Darrell Royal of Texas, Jack Mollendorf of Purdue, Charlie McLendon of Louisiana State University and Frank Howard of Clemson College.

Assisting the basketball clinic will be Byron Gilbreath of Georgia Tech, Joe Dean of LSU, Florida State University Head basketball coach Bud Kennedy will represent FSU at the clinic.

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "I Was a Teen-age Dwarf", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.)

TILL WE MEET AGAIN

This is the final column of the eight-year wait for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and this year, as in every preceding year, when I come to the end of the season, I confess a problem.

My contract with the makers of Marlboro entitles me to write a humor column and mine is not to reason why. I am not to explain, I am not to defend. Would I like to? Of course. I am shorter than anybody. Second, there are moths in my cashmere jacket. Third, I work in television.

The same, when it comes time to write the column. I get a free Marlboro Cigarette ... as soon as I come up with ... Sometimes it works better than others, but on the last column of the year, it just flatly doesn't work at all.

... very beginning ... was true ... eight years ago ... I was relatively young and strong and not yet developed ... knack ... But well do I remember sitting down to write the final column of my first season. Day followed sleepless day ... deadline neared, ... I did I produce. I was ... a job selling mechanical dogs when all of a sudden, in a ... flash, I realized why I couldn't think of any jokes!

... up from my typewriter ... I ... to the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and I tugged my forelock, and I said, "Sirs, I am well aware ... I have engaged ... I write a humor ... as I approach the final column of the season, I am far too misty to be funny, for the final column of the season is, after all, a leave-taking, and when I think of saying goodbye to my audience—the swellest audience any columnist ever had—the college students of America—wonderful human beings every one of them—wise but kindly—astute but compassionate—perspicacious but forbearing—when, sirs, I think of saying goodbye to such an audience, I am too ... to even ... and so I ask you, sirs, to let me in the final column of the year forego humor and instead write a simple, dignified, straightforward farewell."

Wise but kindly—astute but compassionate

Then I took out my bandanna, wiped my eyes, ears, nose, and throat and waited for a reply from the makers of Marlboro.

They sat around the polished board room table, the makers, their handsome brows knit in ... pondering thoughtfully on the Marlboros in their tattooed hands. At length they spoke. "Yes," they said simply.

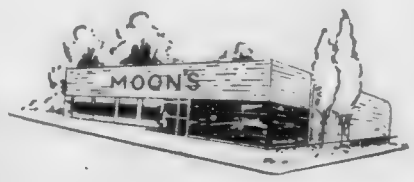
I never doubted they would say yes. People who make a cigarette as good as Marlboro ... People who ... such care on blending tobaccos ... filters ... devising a filter so clean and white on the ... flip-top ... packing a soft pack so ... people like that are one hundred percent with me!

And so from that day forward, the final column of the year ... being the one you are ... reading—makes no attempt to be funny, but is instead a simple thank you and au revoir.

Thank you and au revoir, makers of Marlboro. The memory of our eight years together will remain ever ... in my heart, and I would like to state for all the world to hear that if you want me back again next year, I shall expect a substantial raise in salary.

Thank you and au revoir, college students of America. May good luck attend all your ventures. Stay well. Stay happy. Stay loose.

© 1962 Max Shulman



• • •

Small Max has said it all. We, the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, can only add a heartfelt second chorus: Stay well. Stay happy. Stay loose.

"Moon's Invites You To"

In two minutes, with our modern scientific Diamondscope®, we can show you more about diamond value than we could tell you in a thousand words. This marvelous three-dimensional magnifier peers deep into the heart of a diamond and exposes the secrets that help establish quality and value. Come in . . . look through the Diamondscope® . . . you'll be amazed and delighted.

Not just three sizes... but three different kinds of cars... Chevrolet!

Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan (foreground) Chevy II Nova 4-Door Station Wagon Corvair Monza 4-Door Sedan (background)

Take your pick of 34 models during CHEVY'S GOLDEN SALES JUBILEE

No look-alikes here! You've got three decidedly different kinds of cars to choose from—each with its own size and sizzle. The Jet-smooth Chevrolet's specialty is luxury—just about everything you'd expect from an expensive car, except the expense. ■ If you're thinking a bit thriftier, there's the Chevy II with practicality to do you proud. Lots of liveliness, too, for such a low, low price. ■ Got a sporty gleam in your eye? Step right up to our Corvair for rear-engine scamper and steering that's doggone near effortless. ■ Conclusion: See your Chevrolet dealer now for the most versatile choice going and a beauty of a buy on your favorite.

CHEVROLET

Beautiful Buying Days are here at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's

All Around Campus

Phi Kappa Phi Elects 23 New Members

Phi Kappa Phi national, non-[illegible] honorary society, announced [illegible] weekly [illegible] approved the election [illegible] members.

In addition the society announced that Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell has been named an honorary member.

Spring initiation will be held Monday at 5 p. m. in the Sandels Lounge. Horne Economics Bldg. A banquet will follow in the Suwannee Room at 6:30 p. m. Speaker for the banquet will be Dr. Gulnar Bosch, head of the Art Dept.

Reservations for the banquet may be made with chapter secretary Dr. Janet Wells at extension 2041 [illegible] today.

New members include Doreen S. Goyer, candidate for M. A. degree; Patricia F. Alexander, Eugene B. Brock, Earl B. Carr, Linda Ruth Eshleman, Frances B. Exum, Kay M. Hudson, Stinson H. Lenkerd, Harry R. Martinez, Sharon Lynn Moses, Harriet E. Priest, Mabel V. Shaw and Albert T. Siegrist, graduating seniors.

Undergraduates tapped for membership are Ferdinand B. Bergmann, Patricia G. Booth, Brian F. Chellas, Barbara Lee Freed, George M. Harriett Jr., Mary Emma Hearn, Shirley Kay [illegible], Marion M. Thornton and Alan A. Ward.

ALPHA DELTA SIGMA

New [illegible] of Alpha Delta Sigma national professional advertising fraternity, are Duncan Fraser, president; Charles Garofalo, vice president; Ignatius Galente, corresponding secretary-treasurer; Roger Sherman, recording secretary, and Ben Thornal, historian. The president of the Chemical Corporation of America was the speaker at the meeting. Those being initiated into the fraternity submitted their sandwich-boards to President Feinberg for judging.

Each semester, pledges are required to construct two signs advertising a local merchant to be worn for two days on campus. Proceeds from this sale cover the initiation costs of the pledge.

ALPHA KAPPA DELTA

Alpha Kappa Delta sociology honorary will hold its annual banquet at 7:30 p.m. in the Seminole Club Tuesday. Guest speaker will be Sociology Dept. head Dr. Meyer F. Nimkoff who will speak on and show films of his trip to Russia.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

Alpha Lambda Delta scholarship honorary for freshman women held its initiation service followed by a banquet honoring the new members last night. New initiates are Patricia Alagood, Roxie Albury, Ann Angell, Nancy Ballard, Madeline Barber, Janice Brandeweie, Carol Bryant, Marilyn Chinn, Carolyn Christensen, Carol Clifton, Janice Conner, Barbara Daniel, Irene Dixon, Billie Edge, Marie Ellis, Mary Jane Ezzard, Judy Frey, Teresa Gammage, Dale Hannaford, Patricia Henderson, Barbara Hill, Nancy Hines, Maureen Howland, Nancy Jones, Laurette Kenney, Carolyn Langford, Julie Long, Judy Loucks, Marsha Lynn, Karen McCarthy, Martha Ann Meyer, Marilyn Miklos, Louise Montgomery, Wendy Murphy, Maureen O'Neill, Marsha Orth, Sandra Pearce, Linda Phillips, Gail Pittman, Elizabeth Qualls, Sally Ream, Judy Revell, Della Rodriguez, Helaine Samuelowitz, Carol Sena, Kathleen Swope, Linda [illegible], Diana Todd, Sandra Uber, Lorann Williamson, Brenda Wittstein, Susan Wongfield, Joyce Woods, Peggy Yaeger, Caroline Campbell, Virginia Fleishell, Marianne Lugsis and Candace Stewart. New officers are president, Maureen Howland; vice president, Marsha Orth; secretary, Della Rodriguez, treasurer, Gail Pittman and historian, Marilyn Chinn.

BAKER'S CLUB

The annual FSU Baker's Club banquet honoring graduating seniors featured Jodean Cash and Benson Skelton, vice president and president of the Southern Baker's Association. Alan Price, Continental Scholarship student, was presented with an engraved plaque and a gold watch from the SBA for being selected the outstanding student in the FSU Baking Industry program.

COMPUTING CENTER

An additional guided tour of the Computing Center has been arranged for Tuesday afternoon.

The new tour was requested by University and high school honor students unable to attend previously held special demonstration tours. Members of Pi Mu Epsilon mathematics honorary also have been invited to attend the Tuesday tour.

Following the guided tour of the Center, a question and answer period will be held in 101 Mathematics - Meteorology Bldg.

Dr. E. P. Miles Jr., Computing Center Director, will discuss questions relating to interactions between the computer and various areas of education and research on the university campus.

DELTA SIGMA PI

New officers of Delta Sigma Pi professional business fraternity are President, Ed Russell; first vice president, Bill Barnes; second vice president, Bob Whyte; secretary, Richard Bowen; treasurer, John Samson, historian, Stan Streit; chancellor, Jack Wicker; public relations, Val Binns, and efficiency chairman, Larry Nicholson. The Rose of Delta Sig trophy was presented to Nancy Morton, Chi Omega, by President Jim Sanborn. John Bretland was presented with the Alpha Kappa Psi School of Business scholarship award for the highest average in the school. Delta Sigma Pi presented the School of Business with two engraved concrete benches to be placed at the main entrance of the Business Bldg. Howard Abel is faculty advisor.

KAPPA DELTA PI

New officers of Kappa Delta Pi education fraternity are president, Mrs. Nancy Douglas; president - elect, Dr. Harold Green; recording secretary, Charlyn Webber; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Nera Anderson; treasurer, Howard Abel, and historian, Mrs. Louise Boyce. New initiates are Mrs. Minnie Lee Gibson, Emma Haymes, Mary E. Mecomb, Charlotte C. Phillips, Earl F. Schworm, Wilbur F. Weston Jr., John B. Wuertz and Kenneth R. Yates, graduates.

Senior initiates are Susan Jeannette Snell, Flora Hampton, Rebecca Braxton, Diane Clark, Eunice Lorene Fleming, Jane Love Finchum, Ann Carol Brennan, Ruth Lynn McDonald, Sally Ann Emptage, Michelle Ann Garrett, Rae Ellen Falmlen, Sue Diane Marsch, Dorothy Rodabaugh, Mary Gail Gillespie, Sharon Maloney, Reba Jane Underwood, Evelyn Larson, Nancy Ann Carlson, Carol Mildred Nelson, Mary Ann Giles, George Frank Jensen, Mrs. Melisse S. Kager, Virginia Ann Patterson, Joycelyn Ward, Sylvia Karen Ekman, Zelda Yvonne Parnell, Elizabeth Ivylyn Frazier and Judith Ann Panter. Juniors are Mrs. Joyce Bryant, Shirley Kay Isaly and Roberta Louise McPheeters.

PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION

H. F. Bevis, administrator and pharmacist at the University Hospital, has been given the Miskoff Award by the Florida State Pharmaceutical Association for contributing the most to the pharmaceutical profession in Florida.

Bevis also received the Shield of Pharmacy Certificate for his outstanding service as president of the northwest district of the Florida Pharmaceutical Association, which was recognized as having the most outstanding participation during National Pharmacy Week.

PHI ETA SIGMA

Thirty - one freshman men were initiated into Phi Eta Sigma last night. These men attained a 3.5 average or better during their first semester to qualify for membership. The initiation was followed by a joint banquet with Alpha Lambda Delta scholarship honorary for freshmen women. New initiates are John Akin, James Arango, Frank Arnoth, Tim Baumgartner, Dennis Berry, James Brandt, Louis Capone, Roger Colbert, Norman Gravitz, Steven Gross, Harry Hicks, Charles Himes, Wendell Houston, Lawrence Jerome, Charles LaBar, William Lawrence, James McCranie, Gregory McNeilly, Jeffery Nugent, Andrew Oltyan, George Parker, Charles Ragsdale, James Richardson, Daniel Rivkind, Leslie Rivkind, Frank Ruggieri, Michael Storrie, Coleman Tharpe, Douglas Windham, Phillip Yasnowsky and Herbert Zinser.

PI SIGMA ALPHA

New initiates of Pi Sigma Alpha political science honorary are Joan Abbott, Alice Matthews, Howard Nations, Nina Pat Reidy, Gary Sasse, Charlotte Schildecker, Frances Sharp, Alan Ward. Graduates are Noel Carper, Joseph Cepuran, James Clark, Ettie Grose, Frederic Greenhut, Per-Olaf Jonsson, Byung Pak, Richard Shaw, Richard Shivagon and Steven Van Vorhees. New officers are president, Joan Abbott, and secretary, Howard Nations.

ROTC

Chaplain (Lt. Col.) John W. New is visiting the AFROTC Dept. today for the purpose of studying the spiritual welfare aspect of cadets in precommissioned training. New, who has had 20 years of military service during WW II and since, will visit in four AFROTC classes and will visit Dean Paul J. Reynolds of Arts and Sciences.

SUMMER COUNCIL

Declarations of Candidacy for Summer Council may be obtained at the main desk at Longmire on June 19. Candidates may file for office until 5 p. m. on June 23.

Positions open during the summer sessions include the Summer Council Chairman, of junior or senior standing; secretary of Summer Council; and eight councilmen, two men and two women of junior or senior standing, and two men and two women of sophomore or second-semester freshman standing.

Elections for the Council will be held on July 3.

Rollow Is Named College Vice-Pres.

Dr. Jack W. Rollow, Associate Dean of Arts and Sciences at Florida State University, has been named to the position of Vice President of Queens College in Charlotte, North Carolina.

His appointment, which was announced by Queen's College president, Dr. Edwin L. Wade, former FSU Registrar, will be effective July 1 of this year.

Dr. Rollow came to FSU in 1946 from Harpur College in Binghampton, New York. He has served FSU in the past as Assistant Dean of Students, Assistant to the President, and [illegible].

Dr. Rollow is a native of Texas and a graduate of Texas Christian University. He received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in English from Cornell. His teaching experience includes four years at Cornell, two terms at Texas Christian and a summer session at Alfred University.

Dr. Jack Rollow

He served four years during World War II in the Air Force as a bombardier in the European theatre.

Dr. Rollow is a member of Sigma Tau Delta national honorary English so-[illegible]

Dames Clubbers Get PhT Degrees

Twenty four members of the Florida State University Dames Club received their PhT (Putting Hubby Through) degrees at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon W. Blackwell last Wednesday night.

The commencement speaker was Dr. John A. Griffin, director of university of relations. After a reading of the graduates last will and testament and their prophecy, Mrs. Blackwell presented each of the graduates with a diploma and Mrs. Jack Rollow, retiring club sponsor, gave each of them a rose corsage.

The graduating Mrs. were Jackie Burkey, Linda Busbia, Charlene Carpenter, Freida Deham, Susie Heath, Jane Jackson, Marj Jordan, Marua Klingen, Sonya Krivey, Alice Kruse, Pat McCormick, Millie Norrell, Marian Poitivent, Alice Pribble, Carolyn Rotter, Rita Shumaker, Barbara Seck, Mary Steele, Marjorie Valentine, Yvonne Wiericks, Willene Willcutt and Shirley Williams.

Top Artists Are Named

Outstanding student artists of each class were named yesterday at the opening of the Annual Student Art Exhibition in the University Gallery.

Dr. Jack Rollow presented awards to Gwen Flyd, senior Spence Geurin, junior Mary Buchanan, sophomore and William Richardson, freshman as outstanding artists in their classes. Each student received a book from Bill's Bookstore.

The show, consisting of 350 pieces of art will be on display through the summer.

Dr. Gulnar Bosch, Art Dept. head, announced that another student, Poke Runyon, has won seventh place in the Third Annual College Package Design Contest of St. Regis Paper Company.

Coed To Enter Peace Corps

Laura Cameron, a candidate for a bachelor's degree at Florida State University in June, has been selected by the Peace Corps to serve with its most recent project in Nepal.

Miss Cameron is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cameron, Rt. 8, Box 493-H, Jacksonville. She is a graduate of Alfred I. duPont High School where she was active in band, 4-H, and choir and a member of the National Honor Society. At FSU she has served as home demonstration extension clerk-typist.

FSU Holds Math Camp

Florida State University has announced it will hold its fifth annual Mathematics Camp for 30 mathematically talented high school students June 25 through Aug. 4.

The camp is supported by a grant of $11,000 from the National Science Foundation. Candidates are chosen by a committee of names submitted by high school mathematics teachers. Successful candidates will be notified by April 20, according to Dr. Robert Kalin, assistant professor of mathematics education and camp director.

The six-week summer program is designed to provide the mathematically inclined students with an opportunity to increase their mathematical and scientific interests.

In addition to advanced math subjects such as logic and theory of numbers, the group will learn to program the IBM 709 high-speed electronic computer located in the FSU Computing Center. Each student will then use the computer to carry out a mathematical project of his own choice according to Dr. Kalin.

During the math camp, the students will be given a six-week course in the Russian language. Dr. Kalin said. A member of the FSU Modern Languages Dept., Dr. Joseph Conrad, will teach the course.

FSU research scientists from the fields of nuclear physics, molecular biophysics and space biosciences will be lecturers at the camp.

Instructional staff members will include: Dr. Eugene D. Nichols, professor of mathematics education; Walter James Koss, research associate, computing center; Dr. Kalin and Dr. Conrad. Charles D'Augustine will be the graduate assistant under the grant.

FSU received the first National Science Foundation grant for a math camp on the basis of an idea that originated in the Mathematics Education Dept. It was held in 1958. Since that time the program has grown under NSF sponsorship and training will be provided this summer from some 7,500 high ability students from 151 institutions.

Asolo Plays Open At FSU

The annual Asolo Theatre Comedy Festival will open July 5.

Five 17th and 18th century comedies will be presented by the Florida State University company this summer.

One of these, Congreve's The Way of the World will be presented in Conradi theatre July 5 and 6. The Barber of Seville by Paisiello, The Misanthrope by Moliere, The Music Master by Pergolesi, The Way of the World and Commedia dell 'Arte will be presented at the 17th century imported Italian Asolo Theatre in Sarasota, from July 13 to Aug. 30.

The company includes Dr. Dorlag, general director; Richard Collins musical director; Charles Reimer technical director, Richard Fallon and Robert Strane associate directors; Harlan Shaw costumer; Mrs. Barbara Bell, publicity director; Cynthia Krich assistant costumer, Miriam Strane secretary, Brent Sutton production manager, Joanna Helming box office manager; Bill Valle, sound and property master, Susan Dehart, seamstress; and George Bea, accompanist.

The acting company includes Eb Thomas, Stan DeHart, Jan Baker, John Kirch, Paul Wagner, Polly Holiday, Lee Ann Diehl, Dennis Noble, Rhett Bryson, Pat McCoy, Barbara Spearman and Judy Harrison.

Baking Award

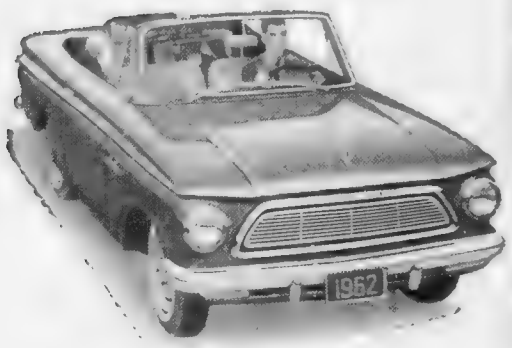
Alan Roger Price has been selected as the outstanding student among the 33 in the Baking Industry Program at Florida State University.

Price is a sophomore and is majoring in the science section of the program. His grade point average during the first two semesters in school were 3.75 and 4.

Price is studying here under a scholarship of the Continental Baking Company. He has been a Basic Studies Honor Program student.

His selection as outstanding student won for Price a watch and plaque presented by the Southern Bakers Association.

GREATER PENSACOLA COLLEGE STUDENTS

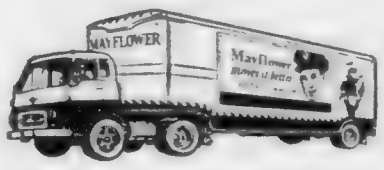


EARN $4,000.00 this summer

A chance for $1,000.00 Scholarship . . . 15 will be awarded
A chance for free world travel awards . . . 7 will be awarded

A large national firm will hire and train sharp, young, college men for interesting summer public contact work. NO EXPERIENCE NECESSARY, but you must enjoy meeting and talking to people. Wonderful business experience regardless of your future job plans. Positions are open in Pensacola and surdounding resort areas. We have awarded $250,000.00 to students these past 7 years through scholarships, grants, free world travel, and special bonus awards.

For interview write: Mr. Owens
314 Camelia
Gulf Breeze, Florida



Has Power Top, Will Travel

(costs less than manual top jobs!)

Name: Rambler American "400" Convertible. Power-operated top. Price: Lowest of any U. S. convertible. Travel restrictions: None (has 125-HP overhead-valve engine plus five transmission choices. Bucket seats, optional). Honors: Economics (has won both major 1962 economy runs—beating all other compacts entered). Interviews: At your Rambler dealer's.

RAMBLER
American Motors Means More for Americans

GOODS IN THIS VAN ARE PROTECTED
by the Best-Trained moving men in town!

FREE ESTIMATES

MOVING—LOCAL OR LONG DISTANCE

PACKING STORAGE

RATES FOR SUMMER STUDENTS AND FACULTY

Call Us for Information Pertaining to Any Shopping Needs

BLAIN MAYFLOWER
224-3020

SELLING YOUR BOOKS?

you'll get more at

MAY 28-29-30 (MON., TUES., WED.)
10:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M.

Suwanee Arcade
Landis Rec. Room
Smith Hall Check Room

In Trophy Room May 25 Thru June 2

Regular Store Hours 8:20 to 4:30
Saturday 8:20 to 12:30

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

xperiments Are Run On Skin Sensitivity

xperiments to determine skin ...tivity to temperature ...es as minute as 0.1 deg. F. ...ow being carried on in the ...nology Dept.

... D. R. Kenshalo, who is ...ting these experiments, has ...d that females are better ... distinguish more minute ...perature changes of the skin ... a wider range than can ...

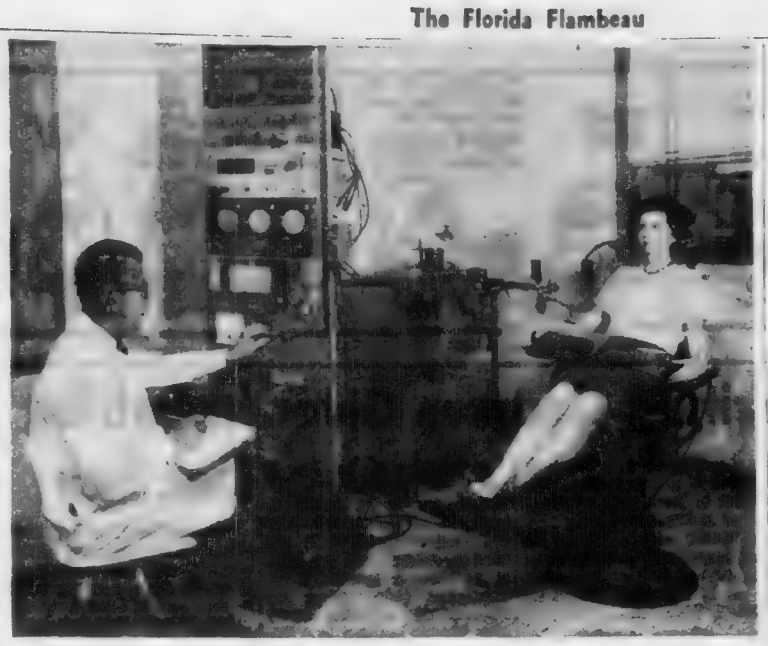
IFFERENCE IN SEXES

... having been established, ...enshalo and his assistants ...ying to determine just why ...ifference between sexes as ...gree of skin sensitivity to ...al changes is apparent. One ...esis which is being test... ...s present is the possibility ... estrogen hormone level of ... being responsible for this ...tion. Differentiation in ...her four senses in regards ... are not manifest, only in ...ense of temperature.

...ar experiments are being ... animals such as cats. The ... put in a plaster cast and then placed in an apparatus designed to measure the animal's ability to distinguish between minute temperature changes in its doermal layers. The cat is trained to lift its paw upon sensing any temperature changes, whether hot or cold.

MILD SHOCK

After many tests, the cat begins to detect smaller degrees of change. If the cat should not raise his paw, he is given a very mild electric shock. Without this slight electrical shock being administered when the cat fails to lift its paw, the researchers would have no way to determine whether the animal recognized any temperature difference or not.



The animal experiments have been cross - checked with human volunteers, who are submitted to the same conditions. It has been discovered that animals and humans have about the same degree of response.

The ultimate goal of Dr. Kenshalo and similar scientists, is to determine that mechanism in the skin which lets us distinguish temperature changes even to 0.1 degrees F.

PURE SCIENCE

The Psychology Dept. at FSU is one of the few in the country doing such experimental work in these areas of pure science. In the area of thermal skin sensitivity, FSU's Psychology is one of the few concerning itself with this little understood theatre of the human nervous system.

Dr. Kenshalo and his staff are making progress in this vital area in hopes of getting insight into some of the mysteries of Psycho - biology still unanswered by modern science.

Dr. D. R. Kenshalo Conducts Tests

. . . on his subject seeking to determine the degree of differentiation of skin sensitivity to changes in temperature. This is one of the current experiments being carried out in FSU's Psychology Dept.

ousing roblem

By GAYLE MOTES
Flambeau Staff Writer

...re is a greater shortage in ...g facilities for women stu... than ever before," accord... Miss Edith McCollum, ... Director.

... McCollum said the quota ...man housing already has ...filled, but she hopes pros...ive freshmen who have not ...ceived housing assignments ...ceive assignments this sum... after the usual number of ...ts.

...re are facilities in the fresh... dormitories to house ap...mately 1050 women students.

DEGRAFF HALL

...available rooms in upper... dormatories also have been ... DeGraff Hall, which ...ses graduate students, will ... an upperclass women's ...itory next year, and sev...ance rooms in Landis and ... Murphree Halls will be ... to hold three occupants.

... McCollum feels also there ...ll a definite need for two ... dorms to house coeds on ...ting list.

...ause of the shortage in ... space, Miss McCollum ... a new employee has ... hired to secure and ap... off - campus housing for ... students under 21 who do ...ceive dormitory as...nts. No freshman women ... be allowed to live off-campus ...ess they are staying with par... or close relatives.

CERTAIN STANDARDS"

... McCollum explained there ... any difficulty in se... off - campus housing for ... but that since a woman stu... must follow certain stand... ...s more difficult to find ...roper housing for coeds. ...ed that transportation is ... problem, since many ...e students, especially coeds, ...ot have access to cars.

...ss McCollum added that in... sorority houses, approxi... 3,250 women students live ...iversity housing.

... McCollum was confident ...he university would be able ...ecure off campus housing ...those who did not get Uni... housing assignments.

Patronize Your Advertisers

Women's Glee Club Prepares For New York

A total of $3,000 now has been raised to send Florida State University's Women's Glee Club to New York City for a concert in Town Hall, June 2.

Betty Jane Grimm, director of the 75-member singing group is going ahead with arrangements for the trip even though as it now stands the girls may have to pay for their own housing.

The Glee Club, one of FSU's expert choral organizations, will perform as one of their numbers "The St. Louis Blues" with a six-member student combo.

The choral organization usually has sung alone and stuck to a standard repertoire but on its spring program three weeks ago drew an enthusiastic audience response for jazz and blues numbers done with the combo, the Devilaires.

Some $1,500 for the funds for the Town Hall appearance have come from money raised by the students themselves and from private contributions of both individuals and organizations. Another $1,500 was authorized by Dean of Students R. R. Oglesby from student activity funds. The women are paying for their own food and about $750 still is needed for housing.

The group will leave at midnight May 30, in two chartered buses. They will arrive at noon June 1. After a sightseeing tour they will visit Radio City music hall and June 2, at 10 a.m. will rehearse in Town Hall.

The concert will be Saturday night June 2, at 5:30 p.m. On Sunday they will tour churches and on Monday will appear on a 7 a.m. television show. Through arrangement by the Florida Development Commission the singing group will also appear on Florida Showcase while in New York.

The Devilaires, a campus jazz combo headed by Richard Powell, will accompany the group in three numbers. The selections were arranged by Powell.

Music Box

Final Concerts Given

By KAREN PACE
Flambeau Staff Writer

The Tallahassee Youth Symphony, conducted by Dr Jack Swartz of the Florida State University music faculty, will present its final concert of the season tomorrow night.

The program will be at 7:30 p.m. in Opperman Music Hall. The earlier hour has been arranged so that children may attend with their parents, Swartz said.

Eight young musicians will be featured as soloists with the 60-member orchestra made up of junior and senior high school students. Most of the soloists have been with the orchestra since it was first organized three years ago under the sponsorship of the School of Music.

Included on the program will be the first movements of Mozart's "Concerto in C minor for Piano and Orchestra," "Concerto No. 3 for Two Violins" by Bach and "Concerto in D Major for Piano and Orchestra" by Haydn.

Nancy Fowler, woodwind consultant to the orchestra will direct a number by Mozart, "Sinfonia Concertante" which features four wind instrument soloists.

Other members on the program will be "Melody" by Roy Harris, the finale and adagio of Tschaikowsky's "Symphony No. 6 'Pathetique' and Two Polovetsian Dances from "Prince Igor" by Borodine.

The Youth Symphony which presents three concerts each year has the following consultants from the FSU School of Music faculty: Robert Sedore, director of orchestras; Dr. Swartz, conductor; Ronald Waln, assistant conductor; Miss Fowler, woodwind consultant; Bela Urban, string consultant.

RECITALS

Jane Newton and Harry Martinez will present a joint recital Monday in Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 p.m.

Miss Newton, soprano, will be assisted by Ann Wicks, flutist, and accompanied at the piano by Margaret Carpenter. Miss Newton, a student of Charlotte Reinke, will perform works by Haydn, Bach and Mozart.

Martinez, pianist, will perform the Mozart "Sonata in C minor," Brahm's "Rhapsody in E flat major." He is a student of Mary Winslow.

Elda Franklin will present a graduate recital on the viola Tuesday in Opperman Music Hall at 8:15 p.m.

Mrs Franklin, a student of Bela Urban, is presently assisting with the development of a community string program in Valdosta, Ga. She holds a bachelor of music education degree from FSU.

She will be accompanied by Milton Hallman and assisted by Bela Urban, Thomas Hall, Martha Lauth and Nancy Hern.

The program is as follows: "Concerto in G Major for Viola and String Orchestra" by Telemann, "Trauermusik for Viola and Piano" by Hindemith, "Madigal for Violin and Viola" by Martinu and "Suite for Viola and Piano" by Bloch.

CONCERT BAND

The Concert Band conducted by Robert T. Braunagel will be featured in the last of the Starlight Serenade concerts at Florida State University, Wednesday evening.

The concert will be at 7:15 p.m. in the amphitheatre. The traditional serenades are being scheduled early so that children may attend with their parents.

Selections on the program include: "Music for a Carnival," "Bambuco — Latin Dance," "Mississippi Suite," "March - Klaxon," "Sea Portrait — Tone Painting," "Military Symphony" and "Overture — Morning, Noon and Night."

FACULTY TRIO

Florida State University's Faculty Woodwind Trio has been selected to appear on the Evenings In the Appleby Garden program of the Augusta - Richmond County Summer Series.

The program, one of 12 arranged in an outdoor setting during the summer months, will be Tuesday, July 17. Members of the trio are Nancy Fowler, oboe; Harry Schmidt, clarinet; and Ronald Waln, flute and bassoon. The program will include six selections by Haydn, Ibert and Badings.

Class Night

Awards, presentations and exchange of caps and gowns will be made at the Class Night ceremony, to be held in Westcott Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Jack Ascherl, Senior Class president, will deliver a welcoming address. Also on the Class Night program are reading of the class poem and history, presentation of class gift to the University and recognition of class sponsors.

Florida State University President Gordon W. Blackwell will present the Hall of Fame. Presentation of permanent class officers will be made by Dean of Students R. R. Oglesby.

After the exchange of the gavel, Junior Class President Fuller D. Tresca will give a response.

Traditionally, graduating seniors select juniors to whom they wish to present their caps and gowns. All seniors will wear caps and gowns; underclassmen girls wear white dresses, underclass men wear dark suits.

Parents and friends of the graduating seniors may attend the Class Night ceremony. No tickets are needed.

Price Awarded Fellowship

Dr. Hartley Price, professor of physical education and gym coach at Florida State University, has been awarded a National Defense Education postdoctoral fellowship to study Spanish at University of California at Los Angeles during the summer.

Price returned in January from a year at National University in Bogota as a Fulbright professor and he and others have been selected for the language course in preparation for State Department assignments in connection with the Alliance For Progress program.

The six-week course will start June 18 and afterward Dr. and Mrs. Price will go to Cuernavaca, Mexico, prior to the opening of the fall trimester.

The coach of 11 national champion gym teams, five of them at FSU, Price also has coached 12 individual champions or Olympic team members. In 1959 he was elected to the Helms Hall of Fame for Gymnastics. His recent assignment in Colombia was his second on a Fullbright grant. In 1958-59 he served a Fulbright professorship in India.

Spring Formal Is Planned

The annual Spring Semi - Formal Dance, honoring seniors and their dates, will be held tomorrow night from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in Tully Gymnasium.

Late permission until 1.30 p.m. will be granted all women students for that night.

Tickets are still on sale at Westcott Ticket Office for $3 per couple.

Roy Hamilton will be featured artist, with music by Bernard Lee's Orchestra. Hamilton will give two 45-minute shows.

Hamilton, former commercial artist and amateur heavyweight boxer, entered the entertainment field in 1947. After working for a while in the semi-classical field, he began in 1953 to develop his popular song style.

In 1954, he had his first important in-person appearance at the Apollo Theatre, and received a tremendous ovation at every performance.

Quite recently, Hamilton appeared in his first movie, the Columbia-produced "Let's Rock."

Automobiles Banned

Students with less than junior standing will be prohibited from having automobiles in Leon County, starting with the fall trimester, according to Associate Dean of Students John J. Carey.

Exceptions currently in effect will be continued. Exceptions are students over 21, married students, students living with parents in Tallahassee, physically handicapped students, and students living more than one mile from campus.

Sergeant James M. Lewis of the Campus Police Dept. has announced that all traffic regulations now enforced will be continued during the summer, except for the two-hour parking areas, which will be unlimited time areas.

There have been periods in the which traffic regulations will not be in effect.

There have been periods in the past when traffic regulations were suspended during vacation, Sgt. Lewis said.

MADE THAT GRADUATION PHOTOGRAPH APPOINTMENT YET?

We Invite You To Compare Prices

Seven Hills Studio

Most Anything For Rent

Party And Banquet Needs
Floor Polishers
Rug Shampoo
Power Tools
Rollaway Beds

United Rent-Alls
CALL 224-6710
619 N. Monroe (Near Brevard)

PONCE de LEON MOTEL
1801 W. Tenn.
Resting Place For University Guests.
Phone 224-4950

Psychology Dept. Tests Personal Traits In Humans

STORY AND PHOTOS BY FRED McDONALD
FLAMBEAU FEATURE WRITER

The administration of various tests to determine a wide range of individual traits within the human being is just one of the vital areas of concern with the science of Psychology. The vast majority of these tests have significant values on a practical level, such as aptitudes, abilities and capacities to perform certain tasks or jobs and degree of ability to solve complex problems in reasoning, coupled with imagination and creative capacities of the human mind.

Perhaps the most widely used of such tests is the Wechsler-Bellevue Scale for determining adult intelligence. This test is divided into nine sub tests which measure a wide range of individual primary abilities which are then combined to produce an overall score, or I.Q. This test is made up of two different types of tests, Verbal and Performance. Using two methods of testing, a better result can be obtained

COMPLEX DESIGNS

One of the nine sub-tests is the Block-Assmbly test (see photo), which utilizes 16 identical cubes, some or all of which are used to make nine given designs of varying complexity and ranging from four to 16 blocks being employed. This sub-test is designed to determine an individual's ability to analyze and synthesize.

Another type of test is the Projective test which is designed to provide the subject with a stimulus situation, giving him an opportunity to impose upon it his own private needs and his particular perceptions and interpretations. The Rorschach Ink-Blot tests and the Thermatic Apperception Test are two such tests widely used in this area.

PERSONALITY STRUCTURE

These tests (see photo) are intended to elicit responses that will reveal the individual's "personality structure," feelings, values, motives and "complexes." He is said to project the inner aspects of his personality through his interpretations and creations; thereby these tests tend to get at the roots of an individual's problems so help of a constructive character can be administered if such a person should be in need of it.

The Crawford test for Tridimensional Structural Visualization has indicated the relative degree of this type of spatial relations insight present. In other words, the Crawford test determines an individual's ability to think in the abstract. This test is made of many different pieces of metal cut in such a way as to present three possibilities to fitting into its proper mold, so a person being tested is forced to think three-dimensionally in order to complete the test.

OBJECTIVE EVALUATION

Modern businesses and employment services depend to a large extent on the outcome of various tests which applicants are required to take before being hired. Many other concerns, especially colleges and schools, whether technical or otherwise, also use these tests to arrive at an objective evaluation of an employee or future employee.

One such test would be the Kudar Aptitude Test. This and similar tests are designed to evaluate the aptitudes of an individual in regard to his interest level. The test is divided into broad areas of interest such as science, literature, music.

PERSONALITY TESTS

Personality tests such as the Minnesota Personality Scale, the California Test of Personality and others are widely sought tests for an insight into the personality of an individual and how he is liable to react in a given situation. Students and other individuals often have these tests administered for themselves. In the area of marriage counseling and related fields, these tests are widely employed with marked results.

These are just some of the many tests used by the modern psychologist in his quest of seeking to understand the complexities of the human mind. Business and industry have also made great use of the variety of tests obtainable for the wide range of areas to be tested in an individual. Striking leaps forward have been and are still being made in this relatively new science. The demand for psychologists is booming, showing no signs of slowing, as this field of endeavor and research in it steadily climb

Faculty Senate

Florida State University's Faculty Senate has agreed that quality points for university-wide required physical education courses will not be considered hereafter in computing grade averages for scholarships and graduation honors.

Four quality points are assigned for students making A in a course, three for a B, two for a C and one for a D.

The Faculty Senate also agreed in a meeting this week that students passing an exemption exam for physical education courses will be assigned course credit without quality points.

Food Service Sum. Schedule

The University Food Service schedule for summer, 1962, has been announced.

The Soda Shop, the only University Food Service facility remaining open during the entire semester break, will observe regular hours Monday through Friday, 7 a.m to 4 p.m.

The Suwannee Room will close Tuesday, May 29, at 7 p.m. and will tentatively reopen in July, the date to be announced. Smith Hall will close at 10:30 p.m. the same day, but will remain closed throughout the suhmer.

The Student Center will close Wednesday, May 30, at 7 p.m. and will repoen Monday, June 18, at 8 p.m.

The Seminole Club Dining Hall will close Saturday, June 2, at 7 p.m. and will repoen Sunday, Jun3 17, at 8 a.m.

The Faculty Club will close Friday, June 1, at 5 p.m. and will reopen Tuesday, June 19, at 8 p.m.

Chaplainship Intern

Theodore C. Linn of Drew University Theological School, Madison, N. J., will serve a chaplaincy internship at Florida State University beginning in September as a Danforth Foundation intern.

FSU is one of 24 colleges and universities selected by the Foundation to participate in the internship program for the 1962-63 academic year. Purpose of the project is to enable young men interested in college and university religious life to work for a year under the supervision of a chaplain in the academic setting.

Danforth interns are usually men who have completed two years in a divinity school and will return for a final year after the internship, according to John Carey, acting associate dean of students.

Linn is at present a second year student at Drew University Theological School. He is a native of Pittsburgh and an honor graduate of Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., where he majored in psychology.

Dr. Marcus B. Caldwell Administers

. . . one of the sub-tests, Block Assembly, of the Wechsler test to Sarah Gordon, demonstrating one of the myriad functions of the modern psychologist.

Home-Made Product Comes To College

Culture, at one time almost exclusively a home-made product, has come to college.

Dean of Women Katherine Warren, who three years ago began a cultural lecture program in Florida State University's women's residence halls, says "the student should be surrounded by a cultural atmosphere in her university home."

A similar program in FSU's men's halls, called The Smoker's Series, was started a year ago under the direction of Dr. Arthur L. Murphy, counselor and member of the Dean of Men's staff.

The lectures are well attended. At times the informal discussion, says Miss Sarah Robinson, who heads the program in the women's residences, has to be broken up because of the late hour. The programs, covering a wide variety of subjects, give students an opportunity to chip in their opinions on the topic under discussion.

The students have a hand in planning the programs. Each dormitory (10 women's and two men's) has a student in charge of the program.

POPULAR SUBJECTS

Modern music and modern art have drawn some of the largest audiences in the women's dormitories. Religion and politics have been popular subjects for the men students.

Foreign students have been enthusiastic participants in the residence hall lecture program, and have talked in nearly every women's hall this year.

During the first year of the program, an international student and his wife prepared and served an authentic Pakistan meal. A Chinese meal was prepared by faculty member Dr. George Lensen and his wife, a native of China.

Even before the Smoker's Series, men's dormitories scheduled occasional lectures, according to Dr. Murphy. The lecture program, he said, is part of the hall government program.

Dean Warren says "residence living should and can offer much more than social education and the techniques of good citizenship. It can show the seeds for intellectual stature by placing emphasis in its program that will stimulate and encourage the student in such a way that it will supplement the academic program."

'DEVELOPMENT'

A college education should, according to Dean Warren, provide the means by which an individual can develop to maximum intellectual capacity, "and no channel which will aid in this development should be overlooked."

Miss Robinson, head counselor in charge of the residence hall educational program for the past three years, says lectures have been on a wide range of subjects. In addition, the students have set up hall libraries, record libraries, exhibits of art work, ceramics and other creative projects. Educational films and slides are also shown often in the residence lounge.

Some of the lectures this year have been: "Philosophy and Religion" by Rev. Roger Steinhauer, "Communism" by John Vanderhoef, "Modern Dance" Nellie Bond Dickinson, "Modern Art" by Dr. Ivan Johnson, "The Fine Art of Loving," Dr. Edwin Hartz, and "Gershwin" by Thomas Wright.

Miss Robinson was formerly associate professor of music at Hendrix College in Arkansas. She holds the bachelor of music education and the master of music degrees from Northwestern University.

Assisting Dr. Murphy with the Smoker's Series in the men's dormitories are Gene Simmons, assistant counselor and Thomas Crook, hall representative from student government on campus.

Patronize Your Advertisers

Economist Works On Third Book

"Throw it out."

That is the advice of Dr. Janet Smith, Florida State University home economist, who is working on her third book on how to furnish a home. Her advice concerns the habit of homeowners of holding onto things which are "not in key."

It is "sentimental objects that people just can't part with" and results of "impulse buying" that clutter many homes, according to Dr. Smith. She believes people keep things because they are afraid they will offend friends or relatives if they don't have them in sight.

After 16 years of teaching interior design at Florida State College for Women and FSU, Dr. Smith is retiring at the end of this semester. Next year she will teach interior decoration and home planning at Washington State University. While at FSU, she has frequently been called on as consultant for planning and furnishing motels and has conducted seven short courses for motel owners.

INDIVIDUALISTIC

It is Dr. Smith's belief that a house should express the personality of its occupants. "An interior deocrat or sholu kdnow as much decorator should know as much about the family as a psychiatrist," she asserted.

For years Dr. Smith has been teaching future homeowners in moderate financial circumstances how to decorate their homes inexpensively. She has said that one of the changes she has observed in the past 10 years is the increase in manufacture of furnishings with simplicity and pleasantness of design.

"The real criteria of the public taste today can be found in a mail order catalogue," she said. "It is really almost impossible to buy a hideous thing now from any one of them — except lamps. They still offer some awful lamps." Dr. Smith makes her own lamps from driftwood collected on Florida beaches, and out of wooden newel posts from staircases.

FINE ARTS ACADEMY

A native of Evanston, Ill., Miss Smith studied at Wellesley and the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts. She is a graduate of the University of Chicago, and holds the Doctor of Education degree from Teachers College, Columbia.

She joined the faculty of FSCW in 1938 and was associate professor and head of the department of textiles, clothing and related arts until 1941.

For six years she taught at Iowa State College, College of the City of New York and the Barmore School (New York), as well as other plces. In 1949 she returned to FSU as professor of housing and interior design in the Home and Family Life Dept.

This summer Dr. Smith will teach a two-week summer workshop on advanced home furnishings at Northern Michigan State University in Marquette.

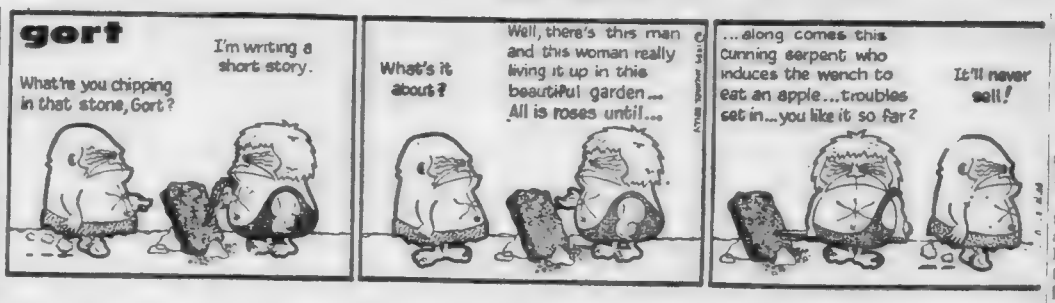
The avocation of the energetic professor is the theatre. Beginning in ballet as a child, she has been performer, costumer, playwright and director. She has written and produced pageants with casts of from 50 to 500 performers in various parts of the country. In 1954 she portrayed Countess Aurelia in "The Madwoman of Chaillot" at FSU.

EDUCATIONAL TV

Long interested in educational television, Dr. Smith appeared on 38 one-hour programs as co-host and panel member of "Focus" on WFSU-TV in 1961. She also presented five half-hour programs on house furnishings and housing for retirement.

A world traveler, she studied for two summers in England and Scandanavia and in the summer of 1959 led graduate seminars in both places. Three of the five people in the seminar are now doctoral students at FSU with Dr. Smith.

The professor of home and family life has many interests. She works in ceramics, metal and weaving — especially tapestries. Experiments in marionettes for adults has long been a favorite project. Her experience in sculpture and modeling has enabled her to make her own puppets and miniature stages.



Speech Award

The Speech Dept. is presenting a new award this year to the outstanding undergraduate in theatre and interpretation.

The award was furnished by Mrs. Richard Joel in honor of her mother. The Madge Schwartz award, as it is to be called comes from an invested fund, and will consist of a plaque and $50 in cash.

The bases for selection are scholarship, demonstrated talent, and potential for contribution.

The award will be given Sunday at 3 p. m., in the Home Economics Lounge at the same time that the annual Les Jongleurs awards for acting and technical work are given.

Summer Writing Courses Given

Opportunities galore are available this summer for the undergraduates or graduate student interested in publishing or writing.

The 15th annual Radcliffe summer course in publishing procedures is planned for June 20 through July 31. Enrollment, limited to 50, is open to both men and women. Applicants must be recent graduates of a four-year college unless presently employed in some branch of publishing.

Application blanks and further information may be obtained by writing to Publishing Procedures Course, Radcliffe College, 10 Garden St., Cambridge, Mass., by June 1.

Tuition for the course is $275. The program is an orientation course designed for those who are seriously interested in publishing as a career. The teaching staff consists of practicing publishers who leave their desks for a classroom podium for the six weeks of the course.

WRITERS CONFERENCE

Twelve fellowships are available for the annual New York City Writers Conference to be held July 10 through 20 on the Wagner College campus, Staten Island.

According to the conference director, Willard Maas, the fellowships are for the workshops in fiction, drama and poetry.

A fellowship of particular interest to college students is the Adele Crabtree Memorial which includes fees which will permit the winner to earn two academic credits in English on the graduate or undergraduate level.

A special prize of $100 for the best avantigarde poem writer at the conference has been established by Frances Steloff of the Gotham Book Mart.

DRAMA AWARD

The conference also gives the $500 Stanley Award in Drama to "an outstanding new playwright" for a work that has never been produced professionally. The award also carries a full fellowship to the conference.

Judges for this year's Stanley Award competiton will be playwright Edward Albee, producer David Susskind, actress Kim Stanley and Geraldine Page and Dr. John Hruby, director of theatre at Wagner College.

Further information on the scholarships and the conference can be obtained by writing to the Administrative Secretary, New York City Writers Conference, Wagner College, Grymes Hill, Staten Island 1, New York.

LIBRARY AWARD

The Amy Loveman National Award of $1,000 9s available to a college senior who has collected an outstanding personal library. The award is sponsored by the Saturday Review, The Book of the Month Club and the Women's National Book Association.

Nominations of senior students will be made by chairman of Campus Library Award Committees who will have selected a local winner. "How I would start building a home library," "The next 10 books I hope to add to my personal library and why." "My ideas for a complete home library" and an annotated bibliography of the local winner's present collection accompany the nomination for the national award.

No collection of less than 35 books will be considered. Collections are to be judged on basis of intelligent interest, scope and imagination shown in creating the collection and knowledge of the books as revealed in the annotations. Collections of any type, excluding textbooks, are eligible whether centered in a subject or avocation, a single author of group of authors or a general collection.

Deadline for the nomination is April 30. The award will be made to the winning student at commencement time.

Institute On Guidance Set

Florida State University has announced that the School of Education for the third year will hold a summer institute on guidance of the gifted students in secondary schools.

The eight weeks institute will be held June 18 through Aug. 11 in the Guidance and Counseling Dept. according to Dr. Harold F. Cottingham, director.

Part of a national program administered by the United States Office of Education under the National Defense Education Act, the institute will have an operating budget of $21,425, Dr. Cottingham said.

The institute covers testing and counseling procedures that the teachers may use in advising talented young people about their educational and vocational plans. Participants in the institute receive nine semester hours graduate credit.

Staff for this year's institute will be Dr. William Hopke, professor of education at FSU; Dr. Clarke F. Hess of Marshall College, Huntington, West Virginia; Dr. George A. Comstock, professor of education at the University of Wichita, Kansas; and Douglas G. Sprague of the University of Minnesota.

Consultants for the institute will be Dr George E. Hill, professor of education, Ohio University; Dr. Walter F. Johnson, professor of education, Michigan State University; Miss Bessie - Ruth McAbee, reading consultant, Hillsborough County Schools, Tampa; Dr. Dan Overlade, director Escambia County Child Guidance Clinic, Pensacola.

T. Di Carlo Heads BOP

Toni DiCarlo, Florida State University junior was elected permanent chairman of the Board of Student Publications for 1962-63, at the Board meeting Wednesday.

Miss DiCarlo is present executive assistant of the Flambeau, former managing editor, and has been staff member on the publication for three years. She was recently selected to Mortar Board, and is a French and English education major.

John Schaffner, present managing editor of the Flambeau was also a candidate for the position.

Dr. Reid Montgomery, faculty advisor for the Board was elected secretary for next year.

The Board announced a pamphlet to introduce student publications to the incoming freshman will be printed this summer and distributed next fall.

Flambeau editor Ben Sharp announced that there will be no Flambeau this summer.

When & Where

TODAY

The Annual Student Exhibition will continue through the summer at the University Gallery.

At 8:30 a. m. The examination in defense of dissertation of Hassel A. Simpson will be held in the Graduate Conference Room. Title of Simpson's dissertation is "The Short Stories of William Faulkner." All faculty members are invited to attend.

The examination in defense of dissertation of Anthony Vinciguerra will be held in 306 Science at 2 p. m. Title of Vinciguerra's dissertation is "Synthesis and Structural Studies of Transition Metal Complexes Part I 2 2' — Bipyridine — N, N' — Dioxide Part — Amino ethanesulfonic Acid and 2— Aminoethanesulfonic Acid." All faculty members are invited to attend.

The examination in defense of dissertation of Elmer Burby Carter will be held in 212 Science at 3:30 p. m. Title of Carter's dissertation is "The Elastic Scattering of Alpha Particles from Carbon 12 and the C12 (a, a) N 15 Reaction from 10 to 19 Mev." All faculty members are invited to attned.

The newcomers family picnic and tour of Junior Museum will meet at the Junior Museum at 4 p. m., arriving at the Reservation at 5 p. m. for a picnic. Members and families will bring a meat or casserole plus one other dish and eating equipment.

Dr. J. W. Cable, Oak Ridge Traveling Lecture Program, will speak on "Recent Developments in the Magnetic Properties of Rare Earth Metals and Compounds," at the General Chemistry Seminar, in 306 Science.

Young People's Socialist League will meet in Longmire Student Lounge at 8 p. m.

The Opera Guild production of MADAME BUTTERFLY will be presented in Westcott Auditorium at 8:15 p. m.

TOMORROW

The examination in defense of dissertation of Theodore James Klingen will be held in 306 Science at 9 a. m. Title of Klingen's dissertation is "Effects of Angular Momentum on the Excitation Functions of Heavy Ion Nuclear Reactions." All faculty members are invited to attend.

The language exam for graduate students will be held at 9 a. m. in Longmire Auditorium.

The examination in defense of dissertation of John Robert Merriweather will be held in 306 Science at 10 a. m. Title of Merriweather's dissertation is "Fission Studies Using Low Energy Charged Particles." All faculty members are invited to attend.

The Sigma Pi Sigma Physics Dept. picnic will be held at the Reservation at 4 p. m.

Campus Bridge will be in the Tropics Room at 4 p. m.

MADAME BUTTERFLY will be presented in Westcott Auditorium at 8:15 p. m.

The Spring Formal will be held in Tully Gym at 9 p. m.

SUNDAY

Phi Delta Pi will meet in the Student Lounge in Longmire at 2:30 p. m.

Mortar Board Open Initiation will be in the Large Lounge in Longmire at 4:30 p. m.

The FSU Radio Forum will be broadcast over WFSU-FM. Dr. John A. Griffin will be moderator.

Raymon Meyer will be the director of the Rebroadcast of the Collegians Concert originally given on April 24, over WFSU-FM at 8:30 p. m.

RECRUITMENT SCHEDULE

All seniors and graduates should register with the Placement Office, 108 Longmire to be eligible for interviews with the companies listed below. To make an appointment for an interview, students must sign up on schedules on the bulletin board in the Placement Office.

MONDAY

Curtis Candy Company — Business majors for sales training program in Florida. Salary plus car and expenses.

Bibb Manufacturing Company — Business majors for sales trainees. Will train in Macon, Ga. and relocate later. Military service completed.

TUESDAY

American National Red Cross — Recreation and social workers.

Patronize Your Advertisers

Frieden Is New Chem. Head

The appointment of Dr. Earl Frieden, a biochemist, as chairman of Florida State University's Chemistry Dept., was approved by the Board of Control, Friday.

The Chemistry Dept. has developed within the past 15 years from a small science department of a liberal arts college to one of the most active chemistry departments in the country. It is a million dollar a year operation, most of this amount in research grants, and is one of the most active departments on campus in graduate work with nearly 100 students.

Dr. Frieden, who has been with the department since 1949, is a native of Norfolk, Va. He received a bachelor's degree from the University of California at Los Angeles and a Ph.D. degree from the University of Southern California.

In 1955 he was a Lalor Fellow at the Institute For Enzyme Research at the University of Wisconsin and in 1957 was awarded a special U. S. Public Health fellowship for 15 months of biochemical research at Carlsberg Laboratories, Copenhagen.

He is the author of some 40 published papers in biochemistry and presently is working under a $204,000 grant from the Cancer Division of the U.S. Public Health Service for a study of biochemical changes during the metamorphosis of amphibians.

As department chairman Frieden succeeds Dr. Michael Kasha who has held the post for three years.

Dr. Earl Frieden

Fiesta Of Flags Features All American Coed Contest

A nation wide search for the "All American Coed" is being sponsored by the Fiesta of Five Flags in Pensacola.

The "All American Coed" contest, June 6 through 10, will be a feature of the annual Fiesta of Five Flags, a week of pagentry celebrating 403 years of colorful history in Pensacola dating back to the landing og Don Tristan de Luna and his Spanish colonists in 1559.

Candidates must be from 18 to 26 years of age, unmarried and a student in an accredited college or university. The winner will be chosen on the basis of intelligence, beauty, personality, poise and talent.

The "All American Coed" will share in scholarships or savings bonds totaling $5,000 and will receive an all-expense paid vacation in Hollywood, Cal., where she will appear with Jackie Cooper on the "Hennesey" television series.

All expenses of the contestants during their six days as participants in the Fiesta of Five Flags pageant will be paid by the Fiesta Association. Transportation to and from Pensacola will be the responsibility of the contestant.

Entry blanks and further information may be obtained from the Fiesta of Five Flags, Room 330 Brent Bldg.: Pensacola, Fla.

The second annual Lanz College Coed Fashion Contest offers an education trip to Europe as first prize this year.

The contest, which is open to any matriculated college [illegible] may be entered by [illegible] Lanz fashion show for a [illegible] campus or living group, [illegible] promotional plans, stage set[illegible] and merchandise to be featured. Entry blanks and further information can be obtained from a store carrying Lanz Original. The deadline is March [illegible] winners notified not later than April 15.

The first place winner will be eligible to spend a summer session at a European university listed in the book New Horizons in Education. Included will be tuition, room and board and a complete Lanz travel wardrobe. [illegible]

Second prize will be a complete Lanz wardrobe. Third prize is a $150 Lanz merchandise certificate, while fourth and [illegible] winners will receive $100 Lanz merchandise certificates.

The next 20 winners will receive merchandise [illegible] a Lanz cocktail dress, daytime dress, active sportswear ensemble or swimsuit.

No CD Drills

No campus wide Civil Defense drills have been planned at Florida State University, however, when the National Government decides to have a nation-wide drill, FSU will co-operate.

"Until that time, there will be no drills on campus because they are not beneficial and only mass confusion would result," said Jass Wilson of the FSU Safety Office.

No classes have been planned or scheduled, he said. Further instructions will be given when deemed necessary by CD personnel. At present, only meetings with wardens and personnel are planned, he added.

Those who participated in past courses will be kept up to date by supplementary talks, which have been planned, but unscheduled to date, Wilson said.

Shelters are still stocked and have assigned personnel, as wardens, nurses, policemen, etc. These will be maintained as long as necessary, he said. Supplies and duties of personnel are still posted.

Civil Defense has not died off, but is not at the peak reached in the past, he stressed. Medical survival courses are in the form of long-range thinking, at present, continued Wilson.

AFROTC Cadets Get Commissions

The Air Science Dept. announced today the offer of Regular Air Force commissions to [illegible] June graduates of Florida State University and the AFROTC program.

The three are D. Bodine Smith, Jr., mathematics; Marvin W. Smith, Mathematics; and J. L. Dewrell, government.

The offer of a Regular Air Force commission is made [illegible] to those cadets who have distinguished themselves by outstanding performance academically in the University and in AFROTC academics, in leadership at summer camp, and to the corps of cadets.

Only about one out of six [illegible] commissioned from FSU years has qualified. This group of three from the June [illegible] represents the largest [illegible] Regular officer [illegible] graduated from FSU at one time.

THE SAFE WAY to stay alert without harmful stimulants

NoDoz keeps you mentally alert with the same safe refresher found in coffee and tea. Yet NoDoz is faster, handier, more reliable. Absolutely not habit-forming.

Next time monotony makes you feel drowsy while driving, working or studying, do as millions do . . . perk up with safe, effective NoDoz tablets.

Another fine product of Grove Laboratories.

GARCIA'S
Congratulations to '62 Grads

7 STEERS
CONGRATULATIONS To The 1962 GRADS
Celebrate At The
7 STEERS
1818 W. TENNESSEE
224-7711

EXAM TIME JITTERS?
RELAX...
WE HAVE THE WIDEST SELECTION OF CONCENTRATED STUDY AIDS
University Bookstore

ATTENTION NORTHWEST FLORIDA
A SUMMER JOB FOR COLLEGE MEN weekly salary plus chance
FOR $35,000.00
in Scholarship, Travel Awards to England, India, etc.
To assist manager in brand identification technique, sales management, sales promotion, and office procedures during summer with distinguished internationally known concern. Plenty of time for sports, parties, vacation fun. Compete in our international sports car race, sales promotion contest tournament with other students for free holidays in London, a real tiger hunt in India with White hunter, elephants, etc. A complete SHIKAR.
For interview write: Mr. Barry
8 North Palafas Street
Pensacola, Florida

325321

Florida First In U.S. With Trimester

BY TONI DICARLO
Executive Editor

Florida State University officially began trimester operations with the opening of registration today. Florida is the first state ever to enter the trimester system on a state-wide basis.

Many of the problems of the new system are purely administrative, such as rescheduling teaching loads. Other new factors, however, directly affect students and their plans.

Terms are shortened so that work formerly covered in a semester ending in January will now be completed and final exams taken by Dec. 21. The second trimester begins immediately after New Year's.

Classes are slightly longer to compensate for the shorter term. Monday, Wednesday and Friday classes are 55 minutes long instead of the previous 48. Tuesday-Thursday courses meet for 85 minutes with no mid-class break. Former T-Th classes were 75 minutes.

A 15 minute break between classes brings the MWF schedule to 8:00 to 8:55; 9:10 to 10:05; 10:20 to 11:15, etc. Twice a week classes are 8 to 9:25, 9:40 to 11:05, etc., ending with a 4:20 to 5:25 p.m. class.

Since the same amount of work will be covered hours and credits remain the same so that students transfering into and out of trimester schools will have no credit-transfer difficulties.

The spring trimester will start with registration Jan. 3. Classes resume Jan. 7 and end April 13. Examinations will be April 13 through 19, and Commencement ceremonies for the year will be April 20.

There will be only one Commencement during the year. Students completing studies at the end of the first or third terms will receive a "certification of completion of studies" enabling them to get jobs or enter other schools, but the official diplomas will all be awarded in April. All students are entitled to participate in the first graduation ceremony following their completion of studies.

The summer trimester will be split into two short sessions for those who wish to attend only part of the term. Courses will be offered on a short schedule while full-term courses will be given for those who are enrolled for the entire summer session.

Students may attend all three trimesters or any combination of trimesters they choose. Restrictions may eventually be placed on those entering in the fall to insure equal distribution of students throughout the year.

"Tally Ho," the annual, will be

(continued on page 3)

★ ★ ★

Enrollment Hits New FSU High

BY JOHN SCHAFFNER
Managing Editor

Florida State University is expecting the largest total enrollment in its history as it begins the [illegible] trimesters in the 1962-63 school year.

[illegible] enrollment at FSU will probably exceed 11,000, according to Dr. Murray W. Kenna, registrar. He estimated there will be approximately 3,500 to 4,000 new students at FSU for the fall term. Kenna said his office is expecting about 7,450 new freshmen and about 1,500 transfer students.

This is the most highly selective group of new students in the history of the University, he added. This is especially true of out-of-state students. "From this group," he said, "we will have the highest number of students qualifying for the honors program we have ever had."

[illegible] announced several new policies concerning this year's registration.

1. A fee of $2 will be charged for every change of schedule a student makes. The money will go into a [illegible] fund.
2. Students will not be allowed to register before the time listed on their registration cards. This has always been a rule, but has not been strictly enforced.
3. This year's I. D. cards will have [illegible] photographs.

During registration, each student will be asked whether or not he plans to attend the University during the third trimester, Kenna said. This is to help the registrar's office determine the probable enrollment during the summer term and is not binding upon students.

Kenna also announced a new policy concerning junior college credits which will help students who have previously been suspended for poor grades from FSU. Any of these students [illegible] then graduate from a [illegible] will be considered automatically in good standing at FSU, regardless of their previous record.

Improvements are continuing to be made in the registration system, [illegible] are trying to reduce the [illegible] and to make registration as humane a process as possible."

Dr. Murray W. Kenna

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLIX, No. 1 | Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University | Wednesday, September 5, 1962

'Flambeau' Prints Daily Using New Process

BY JIM SMITH
Assistant Managing Editor

For the first time in its 47 year history, the "Flambeau" will hit the campus each weekday morning no later than 8:30 a.m.

The "Flambau," in keeping pace with the fast growing campus, is being published five days a week for a more complete and up to date coverage of campus events and activities.

Although smaller in size than over the previous years, by publishing five times a week, the "Flambeau" can maintain complete and better coverage of campus events throughout the week.

News stories about upcoming campus events will be shorter but more stories will be printed in advance of major events.

Editorial comment will run five days a week but on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday editions, news and features will be added to the regular editorial page. Full editorial pages will run Tuesday and Friday with an editorial cartoon, editorials and columns.

Sports coverage will run five days a week with emphasis placed in Monday and Friday papers on the weekend games during football season.

(continued on page 3)

Three Negro Students Enroll Here This Fall

BY JOAN ABBOTT
Flambeau News Editor

Three Negro students have been admitted to FSU for the fall trimester.

This will be the second group of Negro students to attend FSU. Twelve Negroes were enrolled in advance science courses at FSU this summer.

The students were admitted under the Board of Control policy that any and all Negro students who meet admission requirements shall be admitted.

The first announcement concerning the admission of Negro students for the fall trimester was made Monday by Willis Caldwell, the University director of admissions. One of the students is a freshman, the other two are graduate students.

Although the University of Florida has been admitting Negro students for graduate study, it will admit the first Negro undergraduates this fall. Eighteen Negroes attended the University of South Florida this summer. Several of the state-supported junior colleges have also admitted Negroes.

None of the three students admitted for the coming trimester will live on campus, Caldwell said. During the summer, the twelve Broward County junior high school teachers lived on campus.

Caldwell said the new Negro students are Maxwell G. Courtney, a freshman; Marcus H. Boulware, a postdoctoral student in speech therapy; and Maxine A. Thurston a graduate student in social work.

The Florida Cabinet, Board of Control and Supreme Court approved a way for Negroes to attend classes at FSU and the University of Florida by 1948, but none enrolled under the plan.

Fall Election Filing Begins

Filing for freshman class officers and precinct senators began yesterday and will continue through 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Declarations of candidacy and elections regulations may be picked up at the Longmire Main Office. Campaigning begins on Sept. 18, with primary elections on Sept. 25. Run-offs will follow on Sept. 28.

Class offices are president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, social chairman and four senators (two men and two women).

Candidates must attend a compulsory meeting, Sept. 11, at 7 p.m. in the Longmire Auditorium.

Blackwell Welcomes All FSU Students

To the Members of the Student Body:

Welcome to all FSU students as you come back to the campus for the beginning of our 106th year. May I say a special word of welcome to you who are coming here for the first time, either as freshmen or as transfer students from other institutions. The faculty and administration of FSU hope that you will find here a rewarding educational experience and a pleasant and stimulating setting in which to pursue your academic careers. We are proud of the Florida State University student body, our most precious resource as we move toward becoming a University of real distinction.

You are the first students to attend under the trimester system of operation. Because this system concentrates the academic program, you will recognize your increased responsibilities. This new academic calendar will be a challenge to us all as we attempt to allocate our time properly. I have confidence that the student body will be able to accommodate successfully to our new schedule.

May I wish for each and all of you a most successful and exciting year at Florida State.

Cordially,
Gordon W. Blackwell
President

LIBRARY
FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY
TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members and the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Just Students

THREE NEGROES, one freshman and two graduate students, are joining the Florida State University student body. Twelve Negro graduate students attended a summer science teachers' institute here this summer, but this is the first time an undergraduate has ever entered the FSU Student Body.

While this action comes as a surprise, desegregation of southern colleges is not new. Georgia Tech, the University of South Florida and many other previously all-white schools now enroll Negroes. Of the 234 predominantly white institutions supported by public funds in the South, 137 of them now admit Negroes. These figures do not include FSU, the University of Florida, which is also desegregating on the undergraduate level this fall, and several other schools making the change.

THE MOST IMPORTANT fact to be noted is that there was no court suit, no agitation for the admittance of these students. FSU, which enjoys an increasing national reputation, has already been commended for its mature conduct after the admittance of the 12 qualified graduate students this summer.

The only "ulterior" motive of these Negroes is the desire for FSU's high calibre education. They are not backed by CORE, the NAACP or any other group. They are individual citizens of the state of Florida, and as such are entitled to admittance.

IF THESE STUDENTS had come seeking demonstrations, political wrangling and agitation, they probably would have found it. Since they come quietly, seeking education for its own sake, that is what they will probably find.

Those who oppose their entrance will not find them waving banners and making speeches. Those who would parade in favor of their admittance will find them up willing to participate. Neither group should try such agitating, for these Negroes are FSU students--no more and no less.

They enjoy the privileges and opportunities of the University and, with 10,500 other students, share the responsibility for making FSU a Great University.

TD

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '58 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor; Joan Abbott, News Editor; John Schaffner, Managing Editor; Howard Denson, Sports Editor; Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Asst. Managing Editor.....Jim Smith
Asst. News Editor.....Lana Murray
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Bob Sanchez, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Cris Clark, Carl Rosenbush, Karen Thornton, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens.
News Staff - Bobbie Shiplett, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Jody Wilkis, Hope Pastor, Maureen Perkins.
Sports Staff - John Wood, Shirley Hardison.
Feature Staff - Joycelyn Ward, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Pat Freeman.
Photographers - John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Proof Staff - Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Mary Grossenbacher, Sarah Gordon.
Business Manager.....Diane Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Bill Love
Ad Makeup.....Margo Duffee
Advertising Sales Staff - Dick Waterworth, Sue Hendrickson, Greg Grunke, Don Dughi.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, N. Y. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Meet The Change

University students in the State of Florida plunge into uncharted water today, as thousands descend upon institutions of higher learning to face the challenge of a new idea. That idea is accelerated education and it has been named the Trimester plan.

Regardless of its success, the impact of this plan will be felt in numerous areas.

EDUCATORS, PARENTS, AND LEGISLATORS nationally will be waiting to see if this is the key to getting more youths educated quicker and at a cheaper cost. A solution to the thorny dual problem of lowering the sharply rising costs to both students and university and a method of accomodating rapidly increasing numbers of qualified students clamoring for admission would have imminent ramifications in the school systems of every state in the union. The success of this experiment could lead to the shifting of all schools to year round operation.

A shift in the entire school system to year round operation would mean that the American student could get the same education in ten and two thirds years that it is presently taking him sixteen years to acquire. He could then graduate from college with a bachelor's degree at the age of 17.

THE IMPORTANT THING to those here assembled is how the Trimester will effect the individual student.

Bluntly, accelerated education means the student will have more material faster. It will require him to do more work on his own and have less vacations. He will have less time for coffee breaks, decorating floats, fraternity parties, dates, and bull shooting. He will have to spend less time in the Corner and more time in the library; less time earning pledge points and more time earning quality points.

The Trimester will mean that important extracurricular activities like drama, music, student government, publications, and athletics will require more students to play smaller parts if they are to continue to prosper.

IN MANY RESPECTS, it is a bleak prospect. But it is necessary that each student face squarely the change--or he will be the one to suffer. The time for facing the prospect is now. The impact of the Trimester is upon us.

BCS

Ben Sharp

'Flambeau' Goes Daily

The Florida Flambeau becomes daily newspaper today. To reader, the change is a sudde tradition-shaking one. But it been long and tedious in co

Last spring the old eight co twice weekly "Florida Flam rocked along the usual path, stir up wrath and criticism in its no manner. When the old editor wa elected, no new changes were nounced. The "Flambeau" appea to be riding the same horse tha served it so well for many ye

But, behind the scenes plans brewing. The product before the result of the fermentati that brew.

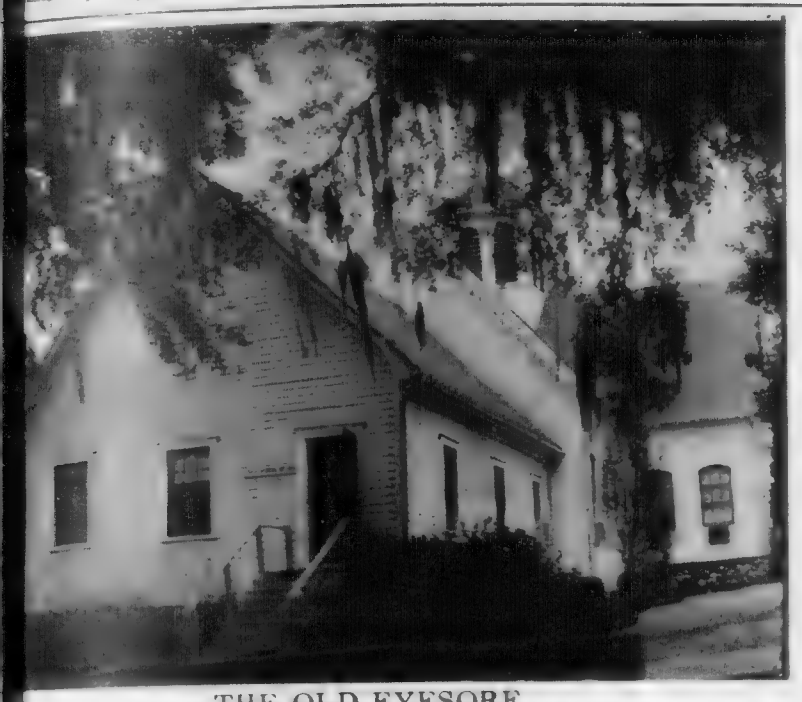
As long as five years ago, R. R. Oglesby, dean of students that Florida State University ne a daily. In 1958 the Board of P cations authorized Dr. Reid M gomery, advisor, to change "Flambeau" to daily, offset pro tion at his discretion. But the stude members of the paper opposed it a neither men attempted to force the will upon "Flambeau" editors.

The necessity for the change could, and probably should, ha been made years ago finally bec readily apparent this year. A can the size of FSU, with its vast a diverse activities, must have means of daily communication wi all its branches. The "Flambea is now that means.

The campus daily is really nothi new. Northwestern Universit UCLA, California, Texas, Missour North Carolina and many others ha daily newspapers. But the dail seemed to be confined to the ultra large universities.

Contact with students of McG University, a school in Montre Quebec with the same enrollme as FSU, and the University of Vir ginia, which has half as many st dents, proved this theory to be fal lacious. Both schools have h dailies for many years.

People were contacted; plans wer readied, altered, and then readi again. Student Senate passed a res ution (which was not reported fo tactical reasons) encouraging t move. Student members of the B met with President Gordon Blackwell. Drs. Oglesby, and Mo gomery, convinced that stude wanted a daily, then began the dri through the morass that is Westc Building.



Dr. Blackwell, a man vitally co cerned with the rapid progress this university, gave his blessing a obstacles down the line began melt. But there is also the outsi world to consider and pressur from vested interests is an everyda reality in university administrati The President handled the shrewdly.

Support from administrators, stu dent government leaders, and sta members, from Managing Editor reporter, were primary factors the step into the ranks of colle daily papers.

The "Flambeau" is now in th big league of college journalism. is here only because Florida Stat University faculty and students wil profit by it. A daily will be a toug job. The "Flambeau" will need co operation and assistance throughou the year, if it is to prosper under the change to the Trimester system But it is on its way.

DEADLINES

Student comments are solicited Letters to the editor and guest columns must be in the Flambeau offic no later than 12 noon on the day pre ceding publication.

THE OLD EYESORE

. wrecke[illegible] remove the building in anticipation of a new addition to the [illegible]chology Building.

Social Welfare Building Removed For Addition

Most students coming back to FSU this year will notice a huge cavity in the campus. The historic school of social welfare building has dissappeared.

The old schoolhouse was originally the Tallahassee Colored Norman School, established by the Legislature in 1887. As more and more grades were added, the school gave birth to Lincoln High School and Florida A&M University.

Before Florida State College for Women was established in 1915, the two buildings were moved up the hill, and placed side by side on the site where the School of Music now stands. Since then, the schoolhouse has been used as a classroom building, a gymnasium, a school or music and a school of social welfare.

Construction of the School of Music, in 1947, forced the buildings to be moved again. FAMU expressed sentimental attachment towards the school house and wanted it moved to their campus. but FSU needed the classrooms. The church was moved to 832 West Tennessee and the school was moved on top of the swimming pool.

The church as part of a home has acquired a reasonable amount of security. But expansion of the Psychology Building forced the university to sell the schoolhouse. This time FAMU did not have the funds to have the building moved to its campus. The many pieces and boards of the old building will be sold and will probably go to build structures with not so an historical past.

★ ★ ★

Psychology Gets Lab

BY MARY ELLEN HARRIS
FLAMBEAU FEATURE EDITOR

FSU's oldest building has been razed to make room for an $850,000 psychology laboratory.

The white frame Social Welfare Bldg., which used to be located on Copeland St. between the Music and Psychology Bldgs., was demolished this summer.

In contrast to the old frame structure, the psychology laboratory which will be built on the site will be modern in design. It will be four stories high, of red brick, and will be built with a minimum of window space. Practically all of the interior will be laboratories.

The new structure will be connected on the second and third floors with the present Psychology Bldg. which will be used exclusively for class room and laboratory instruction and offices. The new building will be utilized for basic research.

Construction should begin by the end of the year on the new building. It will be constructed with a $327,928 grant from the U. S. Public Health Service and $525,000 in state funds from a $25 million revenue certificate.

Until a few months ago the old building housed classes for the School of Social Welfare.

University records indicate the structure was built around 1877. The high windows with rounded tops, the steep gables with gingerbread trim and the central cupola mark it as Victorian period. FSU got the structure in a trade by which FSU gave the site for what is now Lively Technical School.

DEMOLITION UNDERWAY

. . .FSU's old Social Welfare Building once stood between the Music Building and the Psychology Building.

...'Flambeau' Goes Daily

(continued from page 1)

Sports coverage will stress the week's practice activities during the week. Fridays and Mondays it will give a complete wrap-up of the past weekend's game. During the week, complete coverage of the intramural program will also be stressed.

The biggest innovation in this year's "Flambeau" is its composition process. Prior to this year's edition, the paper was published twice a week using the letterpress process, the same process used on big city publications.

Beginning this year with the smaller tabloid size paper, the "Flambeau" is printed using the offset method which completely eliminates the problem of setting each line of type in a story separately.

The "Flambeau" will be processed and composed on campus in the enlarged production lab on the fourth floor of Longmire Building. Here, using justowriter machines, instead of linotype machines which set the stories in lead, the stories will be typed on paper and pasted on cardboard sheets the exact size of the newspaper page. The page is laminated and then taken to the printers where the page is photographed and an engraving is made from the negative to make the plates for the press.

Students may pick up copies of the daily "Flambeau" at regular distribution points at Westcott, the History Building, the Student Center, Seminole Club, Longmire, the Music Building, the Math-Meteorology Building and the Business Building.

r. John Champion Made ew FSU Vice President

r. John E. Champion, a member [illegible] faculty since 1956, has [illegible] named University vice presi[illegible] to succeed Doctor Milton W. [illegible]thers.

[illegible]mpion formerly was professor [illegible]counting and assistant dean of [illegible]chool of Business.

[illegible]re coming to FSU, Champion [illegible]at the University of Georgia. [illegible] Bachelor's and master's [illegible] the University of Ga., [illegible] a Ph.D. from the University of [illegible]rgia.

[illegible]rrently [illegible] president of the FSU [illegible]ter [illegible]ta Kappa. A certi[illegible] public accountant, Champion has [illegible] active in the American Institute [illegible]rtified Public Accountants and [illegible] American Accounting Associ[illegible].

The retiring vice president, a veteran of 35 years in Florida education, served for five months as acting president of FSU following the death of Dr. Robert M. Strozier in 1960. He has been vice president for the past two years.

Carothers asked to be relieved of the administrative duties of vice president to devote full time as professor in the Higher Education Dept., and to conserve his health.

The former vice president came to Tallahassee in 1937 after having taught in Tampa for 10 years. In 1943 he joined the faculty of Florida State College for Women as professor of education, and later became registrar. In 1946 he was placed in charge of the Tallahassee branch of the University of Florida at FSCW.

Dr. Carothers became dean of the Graduate School when the school became coeducational in 1947. He also served for two years as associate dean of the faculties.

In announcing the change, President Gordon W. Blackwell said, "It is with genuine regret that I have accepted the resignation of Doctor Carothers as vice president of the University. He did a magnificent job as acting president of the University in a very critical period, and since my arrival here his long-time knowledge of this University, his wisdom and his perceptive insight have made him an invaluable colleague.

"We are extremely fortunate that Dr. John E. Champion, who has served as professor and assistant dean in the School of Business, will succeed Dr. Carothers. Dr. Champion's demonstrated abilities in fiscal affairs and management mean that he is specially qualified to serve as vice president for administration."

Dr. John E. Champion

[illegible]ith an associate, Dr. Homer A. [illegible]ack, he is co-author of a text[illegible]ok, "Accounting in Business Deci[illegible]ons," which is widely used in [illegible]merican universities.

Dr. Milton Carothers

[illegible]elevision Grant [illegible]mproves Programs

[illegible]he Nat[illegible]l Educational Televi[illegible]n and Radio Center, from which [illegible]SU-TV receives some 20 pro[illegible]ams a week for use on Channel 11, [illegible] been awarded a $4,700,000 grant [illegible]m the Ford Foundation.

[illegible]he gran[illegible] will result in improve[illegible]ent in the coming season's pro[illegible]ams in public affairs, humanities, [illegible]e sciences, the arts, and programs [illegible]r children, according to an an[illegible]uncement by the Center.

[illegible]hese funds are part of a total of [illegible]527,000 being spent by the Ford [illegible]oundation in the interest of devel[illegible]oping educational television.

Today's Weather

Widely scattered showers in the afternoon, temperature in the middle 90's reports the Tallahassee Weather Bureau.

Today

Registration for Interfraternity Council Rush will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p.m. in room 16, Longmire.

* * * * * * * * * * *

Registration for classes begins at 9 a.m. in Tully Gymnasium.

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

The Seminole Boosters will have a Kick-Off Luncheon at 1 p.m. in the Suwannee Room.

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

An Orientation Meeting for Foreign Students will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Large Lounge of Longmire.

Florida First In Trimester

(continued from page 1)

distributed and mailed during the fall trimester.

Interns in the School of Education will face a slightly different program than has been used in the past.

Internship has been cut from 16 or 17 hours to 14 or 15 hours of credit. Instead of being in University classes for a month, interning for eight weeks and then returning to campus for a month, interns will take their FSU course work in six weeks, then leave to intern.

They will not have to return to campus until graduation or registration for the next trimester.

Registration fees will remain the same for the shorter trimester since students will be allowed to take the same number of hours as they did under the semester system. Housing fees for a trimester are the same as for a semester even though the term is two weeks shorter.

Baseballers Die In Semis Of College World Series

Florida State skyrocketed into the semifinals of the College Baseball World Series this summer, in spite of a snail's pace season start.

On Apr. 23, the Seminoles had a 10-9 mark and 1962 seemed like one of those wait-until-next-year years, but during the next two months the Tribe garnered a 23-14 record. This makes the sixth of seven years that FSU has won over 20 games.

Probably the highlight of the year was the tournament win streak, in which the Seminoles triumphed in four straight games at the Gastonia, N.C. District III playoffs and in two games at the World Series in Omaha, Neb.

Two of these six wins were over the top-ranked teams in the country.

The University of Florida Alligators were ranked third in the nation when the Tribe dropped them, 3-1, in the third FSU game at Gastonia.

The Santa Clara Broncos, who later gained revenge, were ranked number one in the country when the Seminoles belted them, 5-1, in the Series.

But then the Broncos shot the Tribe out of the saddle when they dropped FSU Coach Danny Litwhiler's nine, 11-6, at the next encounter.

Cracked Record

In addition to gaining national distinction, the Seminoles also set 14 records during the season. Six individual and eight team marks were rewritten.

Leading the individual record-busting parade was junior leftfielder Billy Williamson of Palm Harbor. The powerful righthanded swinger set three marks, one of them the home run record.

Williamson hit eight home runs, breaking the old mark by two, but even then he didn't hit a round-tripper during the final month of the campaign.

The old homer mark had stood up for seven years. Fred Twoney hit six in 1955 and Jack Dull duplicated the feat in 1959.

BUDDY TEAGLE
...slams 11 doubles

Williamson slammed out a record 56 hits this year. The output overshadowed Bob Clems's old effort by 12. Clem's old mark of 44 was set in 1959.

Like Ruth and Mantle of major league fame, Williamson, a top hitter, was also the leader in strikeouts. He was fanned 29 times for another school mark. He shattered the old record of 23 miffs, which belonged to Carlee Hendrix (1956) and Neil Martin (1959), old record of

DANNY LITWHILER
...23-14 Season

23 miffs, which belonged to Carlee Hendrix (1956) and Neil Martin (1959).

All-American catcher Buddy Teagle set two Seminole records this year. The junior backstop from West Palm Beach slammed 11 doubles, which was two better than the 10-year-old former mark. Bob Trowbridge in 1952 and Martin in 1959 hit nine doubles each.

Teagle also set a school mark for number of putouts, receiving credit for 253 during the 1962 campaign. First baseman Charlie Rodgers garnered 238 points in 1959.

Top Pro Prospect

Sophmore shortstop Woody Woodward of Coral Gables received laurels in the record department and from sports observers. He set a school mark for assists with his 141 effort, which broke the old record of 90 set in 1955 by Phil Hunt.

Not only did Woodward sparkle in the field, he also led the Seminole regulars at the plate with a season record of .365, only one point above Williamson's .364 finish.

Woodward led the Seminoles in runs (38), triples (5), and RBIs (33). Woodward and Williamson each finished with a total of 94 total bases.

The Coral Gables shortstop was voted the best hitter and infielder in the NCAA playoffs in Gastonia. Scouts in Gastonia and Omaha rated Woodward one of the finest major league prospects in college baseball.

Lefthander Ray McShane was the top winner for the Seminole mound staff. The senior co-catain had a 6-3 season record and was voted the top pitcher in the Gastonia playoffs.

Eight Team Marks

The Tribe smashed eight team records during the 1962 campaign. They slammed out the most hits (388), including 66 doubles and 30 home runs, all school marks. The Seminole slashers drove in 199 runs for a new school mark and stole 71 bases for another school record.

Defensively, the Seminoles broke a record by executing 36 doubleplays. They eclipsed the mark of 28 set by the 1960 team.

On the dimmer side of statistics, the Tribe lost more games (14) than in any previous season and allowed their opponents more runs (231).

EDDIE FEELY
...special praise

KEITH KINDERMAN
...the better h

Y. C. McNeese
...utility center

John McConnaughhay
...downs left e

FSU Fields Toughest Grid Squad In History

The Seminoles have twice as many returning lettermen (24) than they lost (12) from last year's squad that posted a 4-5-1 record.

Five lettermen return to guard, including Chuck Robinson, who was praised by Peterson after his effort in Saturday's scrimmage, Jerry Bruner, Ferrell Henry, John Levings, and Gene McDowell. Frank DeFrancesco is the only guard letterman not returning. Jack Shinholser and Steve Slay, promising sophmores, could cause trouble for the veterans.

At end, sophmore Jim Causey was elevated to the first string after Saturday's scrimmage, replacing John McConnaughhay at right end. McConnaughhay replaced John Wachtel at left end.

Causey's old position, on the offensive unit, was filled by sophmore Frank Sytsma.

In the past, Seminole pass receivers have left much to be desired: Butch Gunter, McConnaughhay, Y.C. McNeese, and Wachtel only caught 11 passes for 125 yards last season. However, this group of flankmen improved their pass-catching considerably during spring drills.

☆

The Tribe lost its two top ends from last season, defensive specialist Fred Grimes and top receiver Jim Daniel, but Fred Biletnikoff, a nifty, glue-fingered sophmore, is expected to take up the slack. Veteran Tribe observers tab Biletnikoff the possessor of the best pair of hands in Seminole history.

Sophmore Red Dawson has shown signs of pushing the vets for a starting berth, although he entered second week of drills with an injured foot.

☆

At tackle, four lettermen return: Mike Blazovich, Jim Sims, Tom Slicker, and Bill Tyree. The graduation of Don Donatelli, Steve Klesius, and Joe Verbinski should be felt more than the losses at any other position, but sophmores Avery Sumner and Ken Thompson should add strength to this position.

Center appears adequate, but could be the weakest position. ior Bruce Darsey and junior Daly are an impressive veteran but the remaining group lac perience. Top sophmore conter is Jack Edwards. McNeese, fo erly an end, will be employed a utility center.

☆

At quarterback, Peterson pra the performance of senior Feely, who heads FSU's stro position. Junior Charlie Calh the top contender, but Steve Te came in for a good word fro coach concerning his passing a Defensive quarterbacks, Roy ford and Ed Trancygier, were at QB.

Keith Kenderman, a hard-ru halfback, received special pra from the coach last week, a appears that Kinderman and may solve the halfback pro

☆

Among the "others" are mores Jim Loftin, Phil Spo (both tabbed as players with pro ising potential by Peterson), Earl Hawkings.

The only veteran lost was se Jack Forehand, so the Semi still have Larry Brinkley, Hillabrand, Doug Messer and Russom around to build a hard-running position.

Marion Roberts and Dave Sny head the list of fullback candid with Ed Pritchett, Johnny Robe and George D'Alessandro help give the fullback spot some needed depth.

Paul Andrews and Gene Roberts losses at fullback.

Peterson Praises Best Contact Drill

Coach Bill Peterson said that he was pleased with the FSU football team, which finished its first week of practice with a scrimmage Saturday.

He termed the Saturday session as the best contact drill FSU has had during a first week of practice.

The two-way unit, the Chiefs, came in for the biggest amount of praise. The coach said the unit was the best it has ever been during a first week of rehearsals.

Likewise, Peterson said the offensive team, the Warriors, was doing better than the 1961 team after the same time.

But the renegades, the defensive unit, have caused some apprehension, as the mentor reported them to be "a little disappointing" in comparison to the '61 team, which was instrumental in a 3-0 win over Georgia and a 3-3 tie with Florida.

The Tribe coach said FSU might switch to two units later in the season, if it became necessary to tighten up the Seminole performance.

Several of the football players have finished, or are still engaged in, battles with Old Man Injury. Two players were sidelined at the beginning of the second week of practice. They are ends Red Dawson and Cliff Gunter.

Sophomore Dawson sustained a foot injury during Saturday's scrimmaging, and he is not using crutches to keep strained tendons inactive. Gunter was sidelined with a shoulder injury, but both ends are expected to return this week.

Guard Jerry Bruner re-entered play Monday after suffering a charley horse.

Senior Y. C. McNeese, who was unable to finish the '61 campaign at end because of a knee injury, returns after a knee operation to play as a utility center either on offense or defense.

Passing was stressed in Monday's practice session. This part of the Seminoles' offense has reached an all-time high, Peterson said.

Top receivers were halfback Winfred Bailey and three ends, Fred Biletnikoff, John McConnaughhay, and Jim Causey.

Leading the fine aerial attack was first string quarterback Eddie Feely, who saw some fine relief work from sophomore Steve Tensi.

Today's Weather
Widely scattered showers in the afternoon, temperature in the mid 90's reports the Tallahassee Weather Bureau.

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLIX, No. 2 | Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University | Thursday, September 6, 1962

S.G. Race Filing Set

...elections for freshman class officers and precinct senators ...Sept. 25.

...deadline for filing declarations of candidacy is 5 p.m. Tuesday. ...declarations may be obtained and ...filed at the Main Office of Long-...

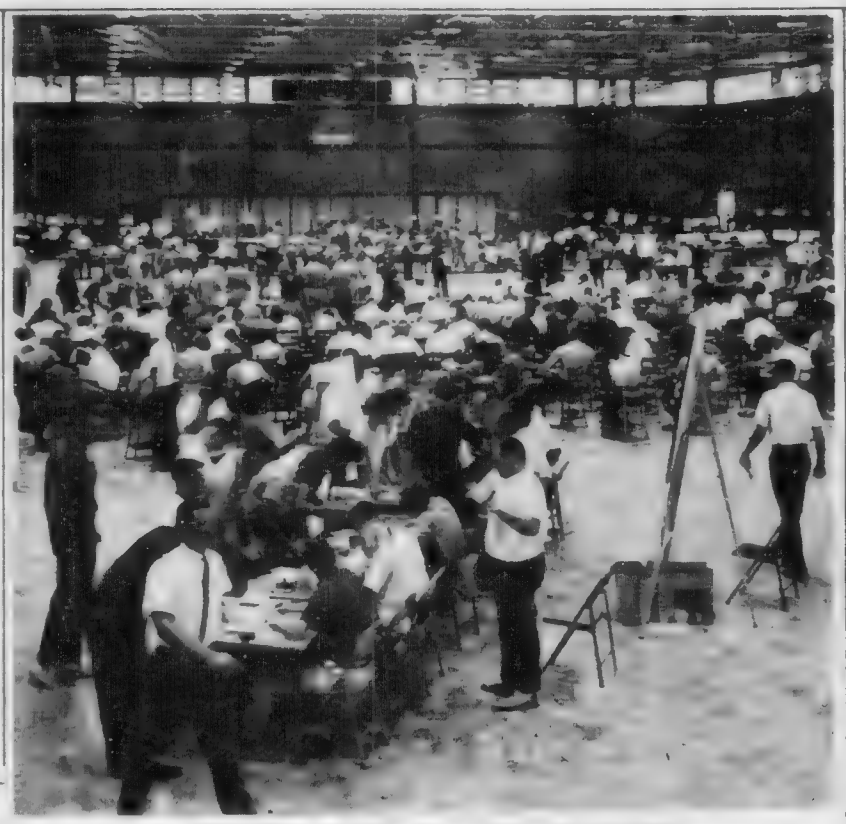
...precinct failing to have sen-...candidates equal to the num-...senators provided for that ...shall forfeit, for that year, their right to have a senator, under provisions in the Student Body Sta-...

...officers elected at this time will serve until elections in the fall of '63.

The Senate precincts are constituted as follows:

1. Jennie Murphree; 2. Reynolds; 3. Bryan-Broward; 4. Gilchrist; 5. East Landis; 6. West Landis; 7. Florida; 8. Dorman; 9. Magnolia; 10. Cawthon; 11. DeGraff; 12. West Hall; 13. Kellum; 14. Day Students; 15. Lambda Chi Alpha, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Theta Chi, Phi Kappa Tau, and Sigma Chi. 16. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Kappa Alpha, Alpha Tau Omega, Pi Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, and Alpha Kappa Psi. 17. Sigma Phi Epsilon, Delta Chi, Tau Epsilon Phi, Pi Kappa Phi, and Sigma Nu. 18. Alpha Phi, Delta Gamma, Alpha Omicron Pi, Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Chi Omega, Kappa Alpha Theta, Alpha Xi Delta.

19. Alpha Gamma Delta, Sigma Kappa, Zeta Tau Alpha, Gamma ...a, Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Kappa Gamma. 20. Sigma Sigma Sigma, ...Delta Pi, Kappa Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Zeta, Phi Mu. 21. ...ry Heights and University Trailer Park. 22. FSO Houses. 23. ... Village. 24. Graduate Stu... at large).



The day students have four senators. The precincts for West and Kellum precincts each have two senators. All other precincts have one senator each.

...sh Registration

...who plan to participate ...hellenic Rush must regis...day between 8 a.m. and ...in the second floor aud... of Longmire.

...es will pay a $2 regis... fee and receive a booklet ...ing rush information at ...

...eral meeting will be ...ow at 4:30 p.m. in West... Auditorium for all rushees, ...rding to Miss Betty Bent... President of Panhellenic. ...day at 1:30 p.m. rushees ...meet with their rush coun... who will accompany ... the open receptions at ...rority houses Saturday ...day afternoons.

THOSE SAME OLD HEADACHES

...recur each year as registration goes into full swing. Here is a scene from yesterday's registration, held in Tully Gym.

New Housing, Classroom Construction Is Unseen

Students arriving at FSU this fall find no additional classroom space and little additional housing available to welcome them.

FSU will begin the trimester with 124 general classrooms, 84 teaching laboratories, five teaching auditoriums and seven regular seminar rooms, according to a report by the office of the Registrar. No additional teaching facilities have been built.

Housing for single students has expanded very little, and there are approximately 5000 spaces on campus for them. Apartment units for 185 additional families in Alumni Village are expected to relieve the housing situation for married students somewhat.

Miss Edith McCollum, housing director, said that the 3230 living spaces for women and 1743 for men, including 666 in sorority and 573 in fraternity houses, all have been filled.

Some overflow is being taken care of by placing 150 women in temporary housing on campus and 45 rooms will have three to a room.

Although all freshmen women will be housed on campus, some 250 upperclass graduate women will live in University approved and supervised off-campus housing this year.

The only new facilities this fall are two new sorority houses, one additional scholarship house and the Alumni Village apartment units. The Alpha Phi house, 634 West Call St., will house 44 women, the Kappa Kappa Gamma house at 530 West Jefferson, 47 women. Additional facilities are provided by a trailer park in Dale Mabry Heights which has 80 trailers and 100 apartments.

Helping to relieve the housing problem is the opening of a seventh scholarship house by the Southern Scholarship and Research Foundation, a men's scholarship house at 811 West Jefferson Street. The new residence will be occupied by 20 of the 150 members of the scholarship program. Of the other six houses, three are for men and three are for women.

In addition, the office of the Dean of Women has opened three additional residences for women students. They are the McPeak House, 610 West Pensacola St., run by Miss Mila Villeabrilla; the Campus Inn at 539 West College Avenue, Mrs. Katharine Radford; and the Thompson House at 537 West Park Avenue, Miss Jane Newton.

No additional housing facilities are planned for construction.

Dean Of Women

Off-Campus Party Rule Established

BY TONI DICARLO
Executive Editor

Parties with student chaperones in students' off-campus private residences will be sanctioned by the University under a plan outlined yesterday by Dean of Women Katherine Warren and Miss Marie Williams, director of social activities.

Such parties, previously forbidden by FSU regulations, will now be "legal" when registered in Miss Williams' office. As with all other "approved" parties, chaperones must attend.

The change paving the way for these parties is an expansion of the list of acceptable chaperones to include not only faculty and staff members, but also reliable senior women and possibly their dates.

This enlargement of approved social functions for students is a result of the "Apartment Bill" passed by Women's Senate last Spring. University officials vetoed the bill but offered the new plan as a compromise.

The vetoed bill sought permission for women to visit men's apartments in groups of not less than three and stipulated that they would have to sign out with their residence counselors before visiting the apartment.

Under the new plan, women will not have to sign out individually but the party itself will be registered as "approved" for all students to attend upon invitation from the host or hostess.

Student chaperones will have the responsibilities previously entrusted only to older persons, usually faculty and staff members. Chaperones will hold the duty of insuring the observance of all university regulations.

Many details of the new system have not yet been definitely decided, the "Flambeau" will print this information as soon as the decisions are made.

Among the unanswered questions are the deadlines for registering parties and the ratio of chaperones to other students.

Miss Williams announced that large parties will probably have to be registered several days in advance. Smaller groups of only a few couples may be to register for approval as late as the day before the party.

Larger groups will require more chaperones just as they always have. No distinction will be made between student and faculty chaperones.

Summer Enrollment

A total enrollment of 4,043 for FSU's 1962 summer session has been reported by Registrar Murray W. Kenna.

For the 1961 summer school, total enrollment was 3,756.

Of the 2,752 undergraduates, more than half were in the upper division--588 juniors and 857 seniors. There were 723 special students.

The summer enrollment included 2,283 men and 1,760 women.

Dr. Keirs Given Assoc. Dean Post

Dr. Russell J. Keirs, associate professor of chemistry, has been appointed associate dean of FSU's Graduate School.

Keirs, who joined the FSU faculty in 1950, has served as associate chairman of the Chemistry Dept. since 1959. In his new position he will have primary responsibility in the area of research, and will continue to be active as a teacher and in research.

Before coming to FSU, Keirs served on the faculties of the University of Illinois and the University of Buffalo. He holds BS, MS, and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Illinois. He is a member of the American Chemical Society and Sigma Xi.

In research at FSU, Keirs developed a new method of chemical analysis called phosphorimetry, which identifies composition of organic molecules by the phosphorescence produced in substances important in medicine and agriculture. An instrument which he invented for use in the analysis was put into production in 1959.

"Dr. Keirs' background in the natural sciences, his familiarity with a large segment of the research program at the University, and his administrative experience make him an excellent choice for this key position," President Gordon Blackwell said.

"BUT I JUST HAVE TO HAVE THAT COURSE"

...is what this girl seems to be saying as she trys to work out her schedule for the Fall Trimester.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members and the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Mistaken Image

More than 5,000 women live under the rules stated in "Knowledge for College." Some of these women actively resent the rules; others enjoy them. Most would prefer complete freedom but recognize the need for regulations in a group of this size composed mainly of students who are legally minors.

Confusion often results from the intricacies of the rules and the various versions of real and rumored regulations which circulate so freely through the women's dormitories.

THE MOST IMPORTANT of these popular fallacies lies in a common misconception of the Academic Honor Code, which is often confused even more by the frequent use of the word "honor" in connection with social infractions. This mistaken impression should be corrected now while hundreds of freshmen and transfer students are meeting these rules for the first time.

The Academic Honor Code, which specifies that any student who has knowledge of an offense shares equal guilt with the offender, applies only to academic dishonesty. Cheating, in its various forms, and plagairism are the only actions which fall under the Code. All other infractions do not come under the Academic Honor Code,Students are therefore not obligated upon pain of sharing guilt with the offender to report other infractions. Only in cases of cheating and plagairism must students turn each other in.

THIS CLAIRIFICATION does not imply that students cannot report each other for social infractions. It only explains that reporting students for other offenses is a matter of individual taste and conscience. In spite of the popular rumor to the contrary students are not obligated to turn each other in for breaking social rules.

One of the main reasons for the persistence of ignorance about the Honor Code and its limitations is House Councils' common practice of ordering women to "turn themselves in" for everything from spending the night out of the dorm to walking to the shower without a robe on. Students, hearing this appeal to "honor" concerning minor offenses, cannot help associating it with the Academic Honor Code.

THE RESULT is that many women develop such a grotesque picture of the Honor System that they disregard it altogether. Most students refuse to turn each other in for the minor offenses, and when they are continually asked to do so they simply refuse to report anyone for anything. TD

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor

TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg	Joan Abbott	John Schaffner	Howard Denson	Ellen Harris
Associate Editor	News Editor	Managing Editor	Sports Editor	Feature Editor

Asst. Managing Editor.....Jim Smith
Asst. News Editor.....Lana Murray
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists-Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Cris Clark, Carl Rosenbush, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens.
News Staff-Bonnie Shiplett, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Jody Wilkis, Hope Pastor, Maureen Perkins.
Sports Staff-John Wood, Shirley Hardison.
Feature Staff-Frank Coney, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Dave Kelmeckis, Fred McDonald.
Photographers-John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager....Charlie Mull
Ad Makeup.....Margo Duffee
Advertising Sales Staff-Dick Waterworth, Sue Hendrickson, Greg Grunke, Don Dughi.
Circulation Manager....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, N. Y. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Jim Smith

Hectic Summer At FSU

SUMMERTIME AT FSU runs in extremes of unusual excitement to the gentlest repose.

When the campus unloads its burden after the last diploma is given out, silence descends upon the grounds and is not interrupted until the gong sounds for the beginning of summer registration.

During the two-week break between sessions, campus policemen stand in front of their office, rocking on their heels and spinning their thumbs, waiting hopefully for something to happen--anything.

Then it began.

Summer school opened and the campus filled and seethed with life. Most students rushed for 8 o'clock classes to avoid the hot penetrating afternoon sun. And when the regular afternoon shower passed by and forgot us, which happened many times, the sun did a fine job of penetrating.

DOWNTOWN Tallahassee and the state offices were swamped with work. Many people besides students roamed the main street constantly bothered by little two-footed elves selling boiled peanuts.

By five o'clock, when the traffic rush was over, busy downtown Tallahassee quieted to a restful sleep. They all went some place, but venture out at night is something they didn't do.

Back on campus, high schoolers invaded the campus with truckloads of group-oriented adolescents. Squeals and nervous laughter became louder and louder as pimply faced boys chased budding young girls wearing shorter and shorter shorts.

Highlight of the summer season came when the local Tallahassee high schoolers, namely the males, became irked at university officials for not allowing music camp girls to date town boys.

A large protest march ensued, with various pieces of dorm furniture becoming several pieces, and a counselor receiving a very embarrassing blow on the head. Needless to say, the girls remained on campus.

SEVERAL TIMES during the summer, fire trucks wailed on campus but found no fire. One false alarm caused several units to be dispatched to the music building only to find that piano movers had accidently bumped into the fire alarm box on the wall with the edge of a piano. The movers apologized with reddened faces. The piano didn't say nothin'.

Then all the high schoolers and summer schoolers went home and the tired campus breathed a sigh of relief. The crickets scratched their legs in comfort while the only shadows were cast by sleepy street lamps and wind stirred trees.

And, oh yes, finding a parking space on campus during the lulls was no problem. No problem at all.

"I Think Them Feds Got Me, Boys, But I Know You'll Carry On"

John McCotter

First Days Bring Bedlam

AND THERE GOES Rusty! We're off on our first trimester. What bedlam the first day brings; what a contrast to the sleepy, sweltering little town of two weeks ago!

The first hint that anything big was going to happen was the gutter-sweeping machine making the rounds. Now, to an outsider, this may not mean very much, but as far as the natives were concerned, all eyes were on that swirling, filthy brush. For, as one old-timer put it: "As the gutter goes so goes Tally." And now the excitement has reached a crescendo. Feeling the electricity in the air I decided to walk around campus to gather color for my first column.

I was strolling absently by Reynolds Hall, musing on the statistical relationship between the defeat of Medicare and Ben Casey's Trendex rating, when I was approached by a bedraggled Sophomore Councilor. She was a very big girl for a sophomore, and was unusually strong. "Hi, dearie," she cried with a fixed smile and a glazed look in her eyes. She embraced me briefly, pressing my nose against a huge cardboard diamond she has pinned to her lapel. The card bore a cryptic symbol of indiscernible origin. A fertility fetish I presumed. After releasing me, she led me quickly into the dorm. I couldn't object because she kept babbling over and over, "You'll like it here, you'll like it here, oooh Lord, will you like it here....!"

THE NEXT THING I knew I was sharing a double room with a blond from Pahokee. I personally didn't mind the situation, but realizing that my wife was apt to be a stick-in-the-mud about the whole thing, I tactfully withdrew.

Upon leaving the dorm I was informed by the House Manager, as she flew by, that I'd better be in by curfew or else.

Outside, I noticed a crowd gathering on the lawn in front of Jenny Murphree. Crawling through the legs of several football players, and carefully avoiding the pools of saliva, I came upon a touching scene. A mother of some fifty odd years was lying on the ground, screaming, "My baby! My little baby!", she screeched, as, with one hand she clutched one of her daughter's sweatsocks, and, with the other tore out huge chunks of freshly laid sod.

THE GIRL STOOD there, glancing fearfully about and hissing, "Mother, please!! There might be an upperclassman watching!" The girl's father vainly tried to hold the hysterical woman by her ankles. "Martha, blast it all, pull yourself together. We've got to let the child sometime," he uttered manfully. A glance at their car revealed a Quincy license plate.

But whether you'll be a Freshman or a Senior, happy or disappointed, eager or scared, I bid you sincere welcome.

Letters Policy

Letters to the editor and student comment are welcomed by the "Flambeau". We firmly believe that students should have an organ through which their opinions and views can be aired.

We will attempt to print all letters received that meet standards of good taste, conciseness of thought and quality of presentation. In addition, letters must be held to a maximum of 250 words. In rare instances, material exceeding that amount which is of exceptional quality will be run as a guest column. All letters must be signed by the author.

At no time will letters containing material which libelous or in bad taste be printed.

When a number of letters are received which express essentially the same thought the best one will be printed and others acknowledged. We reserve the right to edit material as long as the meaning and intent remain the same.

All mail should be addressed to "Florida Flambeau", Longmire Building, Room 211. Any material which the writer desires returned should be accompanied by a stamped self-addressed envelope.

ev. Minus Is ew Chaplain he Rev. [illegible] M. Minus, Jr., a 26-ar-old scholar in church history, oined the staff of FSU as Univer- chaplain.

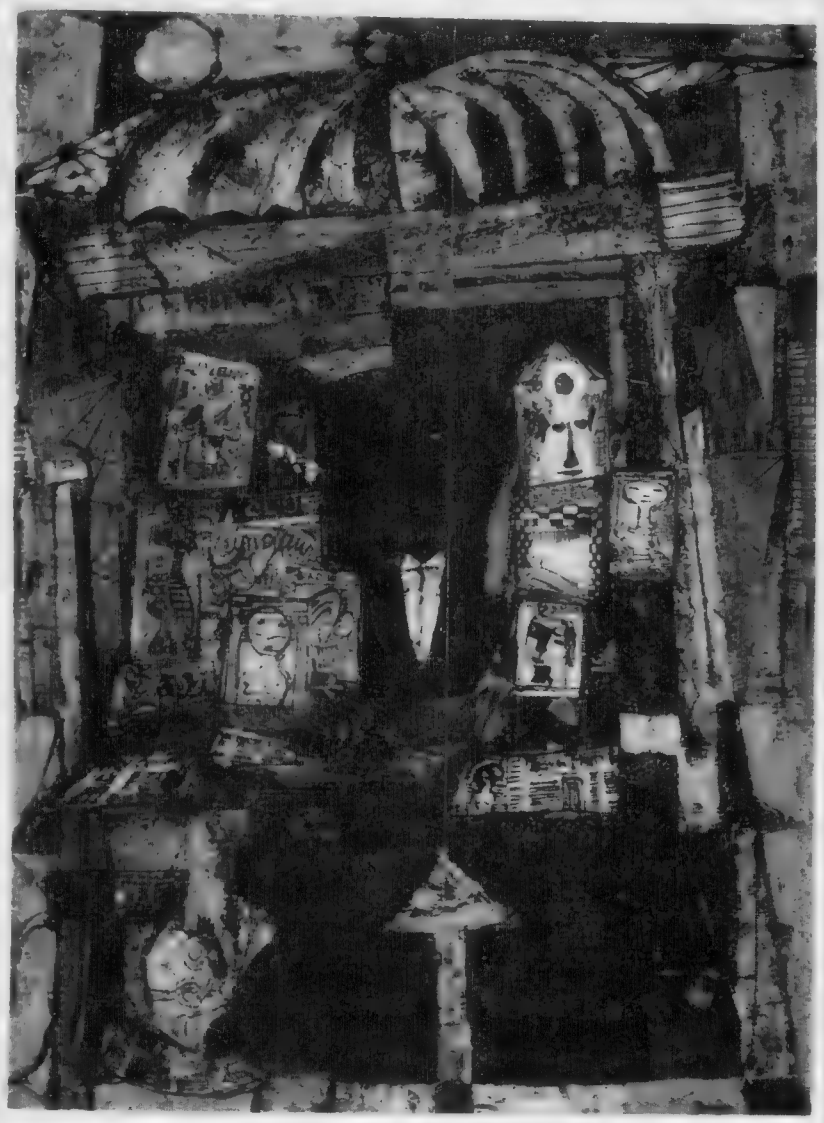
Minus received his Ph.D. degree m Yale University in June. His sertation was on "The Contem- ary [illegible] Reconsideration of testantism in French-speaking pe."

he increasing inclination of Pro-tants and Catholics toward ndly relations was spurred along their working together during rld War II, he says. He thinks tendency toward unity "is one he most momentous movements r way on the ecclesiastical ne."

t of the research for his doc-te was done while Minus was ing under a Fulbright Fellow- at the Catholic University of ain in Louvain.

us is a native of Charleston, , and a Methodist. At the age of he was sent to Yale under the program in exper- tal administration.

received his B. A. degree in m laude, in 1955, bachelor of divinity degree in and the master of divinity de- in 1960.



us is married to the former DeWitt and they have a son, [illegible]

Dr. Paul Minus

Soda Shop

e Soda Shop, located in the base- of Longmire Bldg., will be open 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday ugh Friday beginning this Mon- Formerly the Soda Shop has d at 4 p.m. to reopen later nner.

GOING ON EXHIBITION

. . .In the University Art Gallery, is this painting of Dr. Karl Zerbe entitled "News Stand." The painting is part of Dr. Zerbe's retrospective exhibition, and it is on loan to FSU by the Ford Motor Company. The exhibition will run from September 24 through October 14.

1,146 Graduate In June

A record graduating class of 1,146 at June Commencement ceremonies heard FSU President Emeritus Doak S. Campbell urge them to "continue actively and energetically the process of learning."

Campbell, FSU president from 1941 to 1957, reminded the new graduates of Alexander Pope's lines, "A little learning is a dangerous thing!/Drink deep or touch not the Pierian spring."

He further stated, "He is only half-educated whose ambitions in life are not guided by the simple principles of integrity, honesty, unselfishness, and consideration for others."

University President Gordon W. Blackwell, made a parting statement to the class getting 37 doctorates, 125 master's and 984 bachelor's degrees.

Blackwell said, "No individual and no institution can stand still. We intend to see that the Florida State University assumes increasing stature in American higher education. You in turn must bestir yourselves to see that our leaders and the general public understand the crucial role of our universities in this state and beyond. You must help Florida achieve a revolution of expectations for higher education."

Two honorary degrees were awarded by FSU at the June commencement ceremony.

A botanist noted for his plant explorations, Leonard J. Brass, received the Doctor of Science degree. Thomas B. Swann, awarded the Doctor of Law degree, was a member of Florida's first Citrus Commission for 17 years.

Brass is staff botanist for Archbold Biological Station, Lake Placid, Fla. He was cited for his 35 years of work in experimental botany.

Swann's citation noted his "imaginative leadership" in Florida.

Dr. M. Kasha Selected Distinguished Professor

Dr. Michael Kasha, 41-year-old professor of chemistry and director of FSU's Institute of Molecular Biophysics, is the new Distinguished Professor of the Year.

The Distinguished Professor is selected annually by fellow faculty members. The decision is announced at commencement ceremonies.

The Coyle E. Moore, Jr. Memorial Foundation Award for Outstanding Excellence in Teaching went to Dr. James Pickett Jones, Jr., a 30-year-old professor of history.

As director of the Institute of Molecular Biophysics, Kasha is in charge of an interdepartmental study of life on the molecular level. The Institute is financed by a five-year grant of $3,000,000 from the US Atomic Energy Commission.

In making the presentation Dean of the Faculties Werner A. Baum said, "He has established a vigorous research program that has gained world-wide recognition.

"A $50,000 unrestricted research grant was awarded him by the Petroleum Research Fund in 1959. Last year he received the annual award given by the Florida Section of the American Chemical Society to one who has made outstanding contributions to the chemical profession in the Southeast.

The Moore award was established following the death of Coyle E. Moore, Jr., an FSU student from 1952 to 1956. The recipient "must be a person whose door is open to all interested students and whose teaching responsibilities are carried far beyond the prescribed number of hours in obvious devotion to the intellectual development of students."

Kasha, receiving the Outstanding Professor award, joins Dr. W. Hudson Rogers (English); Dr. Marian Irish (Government); Dr. Anna Forbes Liddell (Philosophy); Dr. Ernest Grunwald (Chemistry); and Dr. Wiley Housewright (Music Education), as recipients of the award.

A native of Elizabeth, N. J., Kasha received his B.S. degree with distinction and with honors in chemistry from the University of Michigan. After working at the University of California for his doctorate and teaching at the University of Chicago, he came to FSU in 1951 as professor of physical chemistry.

In 1959 Kasha became chairman of the FSU Chemistry Dept. He relinquished the chairmanship this year to devote more time to the Institute of Molecular Biophysics which he organized in 1960. A building to house the institute is now nearing completion.

Jones, recipient of the Moore award, received his BA, MA, and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Florida and has studied at Emory University and the University of California, where he served as a teaching assistant.

Dr. Michael Kasha

Traffic Rules Given Strength

Traffic regulations have been tightened up more than ever this year on the FSU campus in anticipation of the more than 10,000 students who are expected to enroll for the first trimester this week.

Freshmen and sophomores will not be allowed to bring their cars to Tallahassee or Leon County. The only exceptions to this rule are students over 21 years of age, married students, physically disabled students, and students living more than a mile from the campus. Also, freshmen, sophomore and junior students will not be allowed to park their cars on campus between 7:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Traffic fines remain the same as in the past but a new $5 fine will be assessed against any student who accumulates five traffic violations during any one trimester.

University Security Officer William Tanner said there are approximately 1,200 parking spaces on the main campus east of Woodward St., about 500 spaces on a lot at Call and Tennessee streets and several hundred more spaces between Call St. and Tully Gymnasium.

Today

Registration for Interfraternity Council rush will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in 16 Longmire.

* * * * *

Library tours for new faculty members will be conducted from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Collegians

Singing Group Needs Men Desiring To Sing

A love of music, a desire to sing, and a small amount of extra time. Those are the only requirements for men interested in filling the vacancies in the FSU's Men's Glee Club, The Collegians.

The Collegians have been organized since 1946 and perform in campus concerts, on radio and TV shows, and take an annual concert tour throughout the state in the spring.

One hour credit is given in Music 32 for each trimester of singing. The course applies towards credit for graduation, Ramon E. Meyer, director, said.

The first big event for the Collegians this year will be a joint football concert with the University of Florida's Men's Glee Club, and will precede the Big Game at Florida Field in Gainesville, Nov. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Meyer said the concert will offer a cultural exchange and closer spirit of cooperation between Florida's Senior Universities, as well as presenting a stirring prelude to one of the state's leading athletic events.

WELCOME SEMINOLES

To The

Cherokee Beauty Salon

LOCATED IN ITS NEW BUILDING

Corner of East Park and North Gadsden -- Only
2 Blocks East From the Downtown Park Avenue
Bus Stop and Free Parking For Customers Driving

A Large Up-to-Date Experienced Staff
To Serve All Your Beauty Needs Promptly

FOR THE BEST MOST RELAXED CARE DIAL 222-2116

Rolling On

Bruce Darsey, the number one center of the Florida State University Seminoles, will be among the gridders that will explode into action Sept. 15 in Tallahassee against The Citadel. One of the top centers in the South, Darsey will be backed by veteran Bill Daly, sophomore Jack Edwards, and utility man Y.C. McNeese.

How Powerful Are FSU's Opponents?

After a 4-5-1 season in 1961, the sports buffs viewing Florida State are kicking around the inevitable question, "How are the Seminoles going to do this year?"

On a given day, there are supposedly only two teams that the Seminoles can't beat--Georgia Tech and Auburn, but unfortunately FSU can't be choosey about its scheduling ... so nobody is predicting an 8-2 fnish.

The optimists say that the opposition is quite similar to last year's, only a little tougher, and that FSU may break even.

And still others, viewing figures and scores, say the season could be quite bleak. One national grid magazine voted FSU the underdog in seven of its ten contests.

So who's right?

Only time will tattle, but we can review the 1962 slate and get an idea of what to expect.

THE CITADEL--The Seminoles stomped The Citadel Bulldogs last year--in revenge, it is said, of the 0-0 tie to the 'Dogs in an away game. (It is further said that the Curs' fans screamed so loud they drowned out FSU's signals.) But last year, The Citadel had already won the Southern Conference crown, so they can be expected to fight harder this time.

Coach Bill Peterson of FSU warns of The Citadel's "unbalanced line and other off-beat variations"--that take a lot of time defensively on FSU's part.

Seventeen lettermen and 11 starters are missing from The Citadel's squad, with guard Gene Dice being the only returning regular. Coach Eddie Teague will utilize the unbalanced T with the assistance of his senior backfield--quarterback Sid Mitchell, halfbacks Eddie Taylor and Roy Brinson, and fullback Bobby Jackson.

Except for the center, the starting line is all-senior. Teague's line strength will come from center Joe Buckner, ends Charlie Brendle and Ed Gould, guards Dice and Joe Turbeville, and tackles John Evans and Larry Ross.

Possibly Seminole fans will be seeing a three-team system against a three-team system in the curtain-raiser ... in spring drills, The Citadel coach was using the LSU (and FSU) system.

KENTUCKY--After the firing of Coach Blanton Collier, a mere 5-5 finish in 1961, and the wholesale player withdrawals during spring practice, Kentucky fans are hoping newly hired Coach Charley Bradshaw can pour oil on the troubled Bluegrass.

Kentucky, a bit smaller than usual, still has the passing duo of quarterback Jerry Woolum to Tom Hutchinson. Woolum's backfield cohorts consist of Gary Stewart; Darrell Cox; fullback Perky Bryant; halfbacks Bob Kosid, Phil Pickett, and Ken Bocard. On the line, Hutchinson and Dave Cash combine for a definite power at ends. The guards are considered weaker than the rest of the SEC guards, and there is a lack of depth at center.

FURMAN--Coach Robert King's Purple Hurricanes have 23 returning lettermen, although Furman lost three-fourths of the backfield and two centers.

After a 7-3 finish in 1961, the Furman squad is expected to take to the air more this season, utilizing the passing combination of quarterback Elton Brunty to Rodger Senter.

In the Paladian's spring intrasquad contest, Brunty completed 10 of 14 pass attempts.

Elsewhere in the backfield, King has six lettermen returning at half. On the line, 233-pound Ed Flynn and the 195-poind Doug Dillard will give power at guard, while junior Doug Stacks is the only center with experience.

Which team is the strongest? The 61 or 62 editions? King says it would be a tossup.

(To Be Continued)

FSU Opens Sept. 15 Against The Citadel

The Florida State football team will open its 1962 season with the Sept. 15 curtainraiser against The Citadel.

The Citadel, which Florida State defeated, 44-8, last season grabbed the Southern Conference title in 1961.

The Kentucky Wildcats, who dropped the Seminoles, 20-0, last season, will meet Coach Bill Peterson's squads Sept. 22 in FSU's first road game of the year.

The Seminoles will then go against Furman University of the Southern Conference Sept. 29. This will be played in Tallahassee.

The rivalry between FSU and the University of Miami will be reopened Oct. 5 when the Seminoles face the Hurricanes on the Canes' home soil.

On Oct. 20, the Tribes will have a chance to see if they can defeat the University of Georgia Bulldogs on enemy territory. Last year, the Seminoles nipped the Bulldogs, 3-0, in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

The Seminoles will be seeking revenge against the Virginia Tech unit Oct. 27. Last year, the Gobblers slipped by to a 10-7 victory after a Seminole fumble near the goal.

Houston, judged the best of the Texas independents, will battle Florida State in Tallahassee Nov. 3. The Texans, who romped over FSU, 28-8, last year on Lone Star soil, will be FSU's Homecoming competition.

Nov. 10 will feature a bout with Coach Bobby Dodd's Georgia Tech Yellowjackets. This will be an away game.

After a 3-3 tie 1st year, the Seminoles will be given another chance at defeating the University of Florida Alligators as the two teams meet at Gainesville's Florida Field.

A Nov. 24 contest with Auburn University will close out the Seminoles' schedule as FSU meets the Alabamans in an away game.

Tickets for all of the football games, both home and away, went on sale to the general public Tuesday morning.

The FSU ducats can be purchased at any of six establishments in Tallahassee, or by writing or coming by the Athletic Ticket Office in Tully Gymnasium. Season tickets may still be bought at the ticket office.

In Tallahassee, tickets will be on sale at Nic's Toggery, Brown's Men's Wear, Eppes-Edenfield Hardware, Skyline Restaurant, Aubrey Barrow's Service Station, or Tallahassee Barber College.

Hemphill Returns To Publicity Post

Paul Hemphill resumed his duties as the director of sports publicity this week after serving one year with an activated Air National Guard outfit in Europe.

Hemphill, 26, had been at Florida State only six weeks before being called to active duty last October during the Berlin crisis. His wing was sent to Dreux Air Base, France.

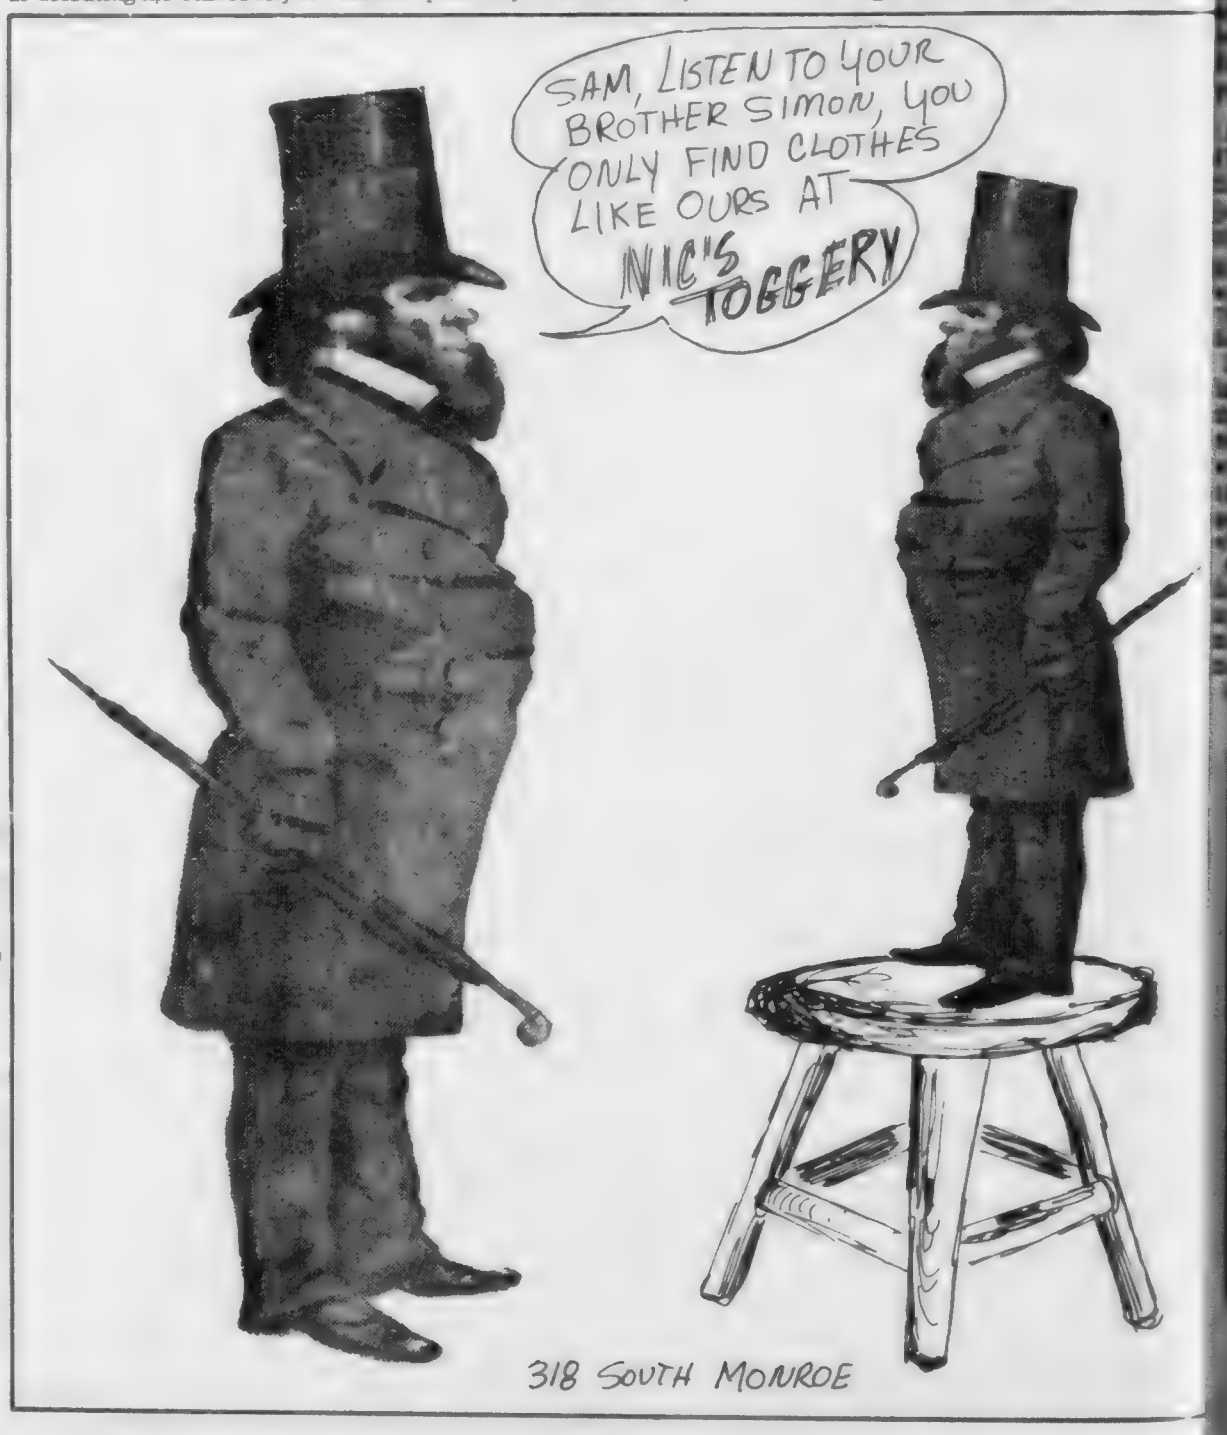
The FSU drum-beater formerly wrote sports for the Atlanta Constitution and the Birmingham News. He is a graduate of Auburn University.

During Hemphill's absence, sports publicity was handled by Neil LaBar.

LaPradd Resigns As Coach

Charlie LaPradd, one of the undefeated football coaches in country, has resigned fr coaching staff of Florida Sta versity.

LaPradd coached the fre football teams through three feated seasons, allowing the o sition only one tie (a 6-6 finish Mississippi Southern's B-team). the end of the 1961 season, La was switched to the varsity co ing staff, supervising the line.



He left FSU to take a position the State Department of Edu where he will work in the su

An All-American tackle at University of Florida in 195 graduated from UF in 1953 serving in the Air Force. He graduate assistant at Florida S while working toward his mas degree in 1956. He became member of the staff in 1957. leading the Baby Seminoles 11-0-1 record during the years, he also studied for his torate degree.

Peterson Talks T Athletic Club

Florida State University's coach, Bill Peterson, was among group of speakers which addr the summer conference of The F lowship of Christian Athletes a tes Park, Colo.

Peterson spoke at two ses addressing hundreds of colleg high school athletes and coach

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLIX, No. 3 | Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University | Friday, September, 7, 1962

Wreck Sends FSU Coeds To Hospital

Two FSU coeds are in Tallahassee Memorial Hospital suffering from injuries received in a two car collision downtown Tallahassee Wednesday evening about 8:30.

Both of the coeds, 22-year-old Ann McKenna of Attleboro, Mass., is in critical condition suffering from a fractured jaw, severe mouth cuts and possible head injuries. She was a passenger in a sports car driven by Aaron E. Martin, 20, of Winter Haven. Miss Martin was admitted to TMH suffering from body bruises and cuts on the legs. She is reported in fair condition.

ON ADAMS STREET

Tallahassee Police Department said the sports car was traveling at excessive speed on Adams street near Florida A&M University when it struck the rear of a properly parked car in front of the office of Dr. A. D. Brickler, a Negro physician.

Police said the physician probably saved Miss McKenna from dying by giving immediate aid at the scene of the accident. Dr. Brickler carried the girl into his office and used a wooden tongue blade to keep her throat clear to enable her to breathe. Dr. Brickler then carried Miss McKenna across the street to FAMU Hospital Emergency Room where he placed a rubber breathing tube in her throat. She was then transferred to Tallahassee Memorial Hospital where her condition is reported as critical.

PINNED IN CAR

Aaron Martin, the driver of the 1959 MG, was pinned in the car as the front seat flew forward and jammed after the impact. Police officers Charles Taff and Dick Granger freed Miss Martin from the wreckage. She was then taken to TMH. Her condition is reported to be fair.

Lt. Ernest Causseaux of the Tallahassee Police Department said the driver of the car was under heavy medication most of yesterday and he was unable to question her as to the cause of the accident. He said charges are pending further investigation of the accident.

Injured in the accident was Miss M. Davis, who was sitting in the parked car. She was admitted to FAMU Hospital where her condition is reported as fair.

Miss Katherine Warren, dean of

(Continued on page 3)

COEDS INJURED

. . . in Wednesday night's two car collision remain at Tallahassee Memorial Hospital suffering from injuries received when the sports car, carrying the coeds, struck a parked car. (Police Photo)

29 Students File For Fall Elections

Twenty-nine students had filed declarations of candidacy for Freshman Class officers and precinct senators as of press time yesterday, with three filing for Freshman Class President.

Any candidate wishing to change the office he has filed for must do so by the deadline for filing at 5 p.m., Tuesday. Candidates may withdraw until noon Sept. 20.

Declarations of candidacy may be picked up and turned in at the Longmire Main Office.

Elections plans will be announced Sept. 18. Secretary of Elections Ron Jones said.

All former students and transfer students running for office are required to have a 2.0 over-all average.

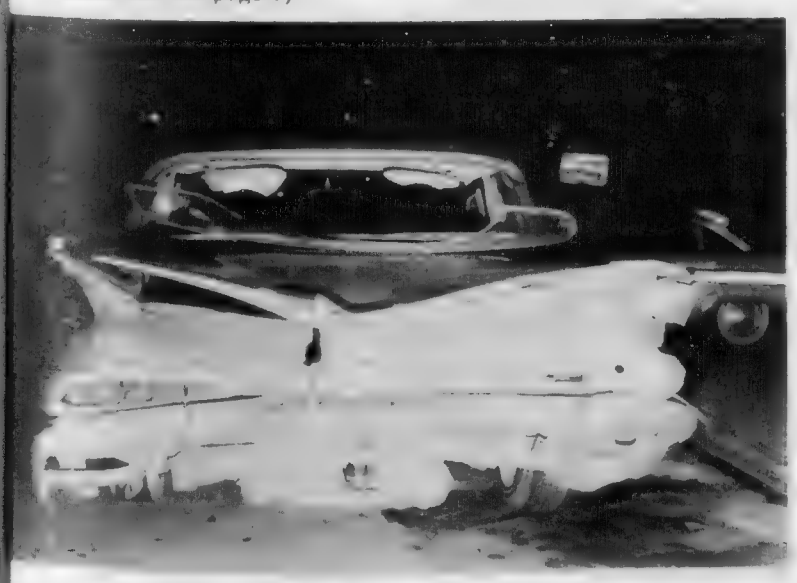
The three filing for positions of Freshman Class president are Francis A. DeTure, Joel DeVolentine and John Perry Thomas.

Karl Beck has filed for Freshman Class Treasurer.

Those filing for FRESHMAN Class social chairman are Margaret Marsden, Dianne Seabolt and Mildred "Stormy" Thurmond.

Only one man, Robert Lee, has filed for the two men's freshman senators positions. Susan Foxworth and Cathy Cochran have filed for the two women's openings for freshman senators.

Those filing to represent their respective precincts in Senate are as follows:



1. Mary Arliskas and Carole Higginbotham; 2. Pat Sauer; 4. Karen Chambers, Caryl Griffin, Barbara Brandon, and Diane McLaughlin; 5. Joyce Killian.

12. Gaines Pickett, George R. Rinhart, Louis Barnett and Ted DeLaVergne; 14. Bob Barden; 16. Woody Benson; 18. Jean Sauer and Mary Lois Stone; 21. Don Dughi; 23. Mike Green; and 24. Clarke Wyllie.

News Flashes

National, international and state late news bulletins from the Associated Press will printed daily in the "Flambeau" on page three.

This new service to "Flambeau" readers is being offered though cooperation with WFSU-FM and WFSU-TV.

...The Other Car

Alligator Goes Daily

The "Alligator," student newspaper of the University of Florida, becomes the state's second daily collegiate nespaper today with the publication of its first tabloid offset daily edition.

Florida State University's "Flambeau," also tabloid, offset, began publication Wednesday.

Arrangements have been made for the two nespapers to share late-breaking news items of interest to students in both universities.

Artist Series

Top Performers Appear At FSU

BY CHRIS CLARKE
Flambeau Staff Writer

Zinka Milanov, acclaimed as one of the world's greatest sopranos, will open the 1962-63 Artist Series with concerts on Oct. 22 and 24.

Six attractions will be included in the present season.

Other performances during the year will feature Dame Judith Anderson, the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, the San Francisco Ballet and violinist Isaac Stern. A sixth attraction, to be announced later, will be presented during the third trimester.

Miss Milanov, as ranking prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera, has been given the honor of opening the opera season three times in succession. Her performances have won the praise of critics the world over.

Dame Judith Anderson won the 1962 Emmy award as television's best actress of the year. She also has won acclaim for her work in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," "Rebecca," and "Medea."

The San Francisco Ballet, America's oldest performing ballet company, will be in Tallahassee for the second trimester. The Minneapolis Symphony, ranked as one of the country's top five orchestras, achieved great success with their recording of Tschaikovski's "1812 Overture."

Isaac Stern was seen recently in television's "Salute to Jack Benny." He is the only American-trained artist among the world's top-flight violinists.

Student tickets for all Artist Series attractions are free. They may be obtained at Westcott Ticket Office upon presentation of a student I.D. card. The dates when they will be available for each performance will be announced.

Season tickets, for non-students, for the six performances are $15. Single tickets are $3.50.

Season tickets will go on sale at the ticket office Monday.

Sisco Is Made State Chairman

Tom Sisco, president of the FSU chapter of the Young Republicans Association, has been elected State Young Republican chairman, which is the highest office for a person under 21 years of age to hold.

Sisco also was elected secretary of the Southern region. Hope Pastor, corresponding secretary of the FSU club, was chosen co-chairman of the regional group.

Other officers of the FSU group are Grady Sceals, vice president; Elaine Co Ain, recording secretary, and Ed Reid, treasurer.

The campus GOP organization is sponsoring a membership booth at registration.

East Coast Counties Bolster Enrollment

Three lower east coast counties, Dade, Broward and Palm Beach, together supplied 22 per cent of the total number of Florida students at FSU during the past year.

Dade, with 1,052 student, was second only to Leon in the number of students enrolled at FSU in the fall of 1961, accoridng to a compilation by the Office of Institutional Research and Service.

Broward had 425 students, and Palm Beach had 272. The three together accounted for 1,749 students.

Leon, with 1,356, and Gadsden, with 159, sent 19 per cent of the Florida students. Another 19 per cent was supplied by an area of five counties near Tampa Bay. Of this group Pinellas supplied 548, Hillsborough 367, Polk 289, Sarasota 201 and Manatee 114.

Duval was third among the 67 counties with 637 students enrolled in FSU. Orange had 299, Volusia 133 and Brevard 114. Escambia had 226 students, Okaloosa 237 and Bay 143.

All 67 counties were represented in the student body, according to the study released by Edward Eikman of the research office.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members and the initials of the writer following the editorial.

State Faces Test

Reapportionment?

In November representative government in Florida will face one of its sternest tests. It is a test which will decide once and for all whether or not the people of this state have enough interest in their system of government to make it work properly.

Appearing on the ballot in the Nov. 6 general election will be a formula for reapportionment of state legislative seats. The plan was passed by a recent special session of the legislature and subsequently approved by the federal court. It provides for an increase in membership of the Senate from 38 to 46 and the House from 95 to 135. The three-judge court ruling on this formula stated simply that it met the test of constitutional equal protection.

But a closer examination of the increased legislative membership reveals that only 27 per cent of the population would elect a majority of the house and 14 per cent a majority of the senate. These figures provoke amazement in many quarters that the court can consider such a proposal as providing "equal protection."

Added to the court's mildness in dealing with the reapportionment question are the disturbing comments made by top governmental leaders. One state official viewed court approval of such a measure as "extremely gratifying" and a prominent lawmaker quipped, "It's the best they're going to get."

Malapportionment of state legislatures is one of the symptoms and symbols of state government irresponsibility. When a group of lawmakers representing only a small segment of the population is able to completely dominate state government, not only are the constitutional rights of the majority being infringed upon, but the progress of the state as a whole is being impeded.

The November balloting will be the last opportunity for many years to come for the people of this state who wish to have a truly responsible, representative and progressive state government to raise their voices and be heard.

If we fail to defeat the proposed reapportionment plan all hopes of further assistance from the m or anyone else in wresting control of the state from the strangle hold of the minority will be lost.

The Porkchop gang will once more be free to resume its parasitic role in the affairs of our state.

OW

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '58

BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Scheffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor — Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Asst. Managing Editor.....Jim Smith
Asst. News Editor.....Lana Murray
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clarke, Carl Rosenbush, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens, Matt Straub.
News Staff - Bonnie Shiplett, Hope Pastor, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Jody Wilkis, Maureen Perkins, Pat Freeman, Bill Smart, Mary Gros-Senbacher, Sarah Gordon, Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Duke Mader.
Sports Staff - John Wood, Shirley Hardison.
Feature Staff - Frank Coney, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Dave Kelmeckis, Fred McDonald.
Photographers - John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Business Manager.....Dranne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Dave McNeill
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKerther, Greg Grunke, Don Dughi.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Interpretive

Redistrict Solution Doubtful

BY OTIS WRAGG
Flambeau Associate Editor

A three-judge federal court in Miami Wednesday gave its conditional blessings on the legislative reapportionment plan hammered out in a recent special session of the Florida Legislature.

The new apportionment formula, which will go on the ballot for the Nov. 6 general election, calls for a 46 member senate and a 135 member house. If the plan meets approval of Florida voters, special elections will be called early next year to fill the newly created seats.

The court, while praising the plan, did not immediately dismiss a suit attacking it. They said they would keep control of the case until after the November elections. "If the (plan) is rejected, further appropriate action can be taken," the judges said.

State officials and legislators greeted the court's decision with both praise and criticism.

Governor Bryant said he is "extremely gratified" at the court's acceptance of the new apportionment formula.

State Sen. S.C. Clarke of Monticello, dean of the Pork Chop Gang, predicted the plan would meet the approval of Florida voters. "It's the they're going to get," said Clar

Lawmakers representing l population centers expressed favor with the court decis called for defeat of the plan in N ember.

"I think definitely the cou backing down from its original le spon," said Rep. James T. Rus of Pinellas County.

Florida's legislature as pres constituted has 38 senators house members. Because apportionment of these seats ation has arisen in which the largest counties in the state, taining more than 52 percent population, have 5/38 of the rep sentation in the Senate and 19/95 of the representation in House.

The Federal Court stepped Florida's reapportionment stru under the precedent of a U.S. preme Court ruling in a Tenne case which granted authority eral district court in state re tionment cases.

Early this year two Miami news filed suit in federal court in an attempt to force apportioning of legislative

The three-judge panel held 23 that the legislature wa sently constituted with "ir discrimination" toward the of the citizens of Florida. declared existing legislative m prospectively null, void and ino tive.

Principal controversy of the ial session called to effect apportionment of legislative centered around small count maker's reluctance to yield majority power to more pop counties. They contended appor ment strictly according to p tion would result in rank discri tion against less populous a

After a heated 11 day sessi which hundreds of apportion formulas were proposed and ar the 46-senator, 135 member h plan was agreed to.

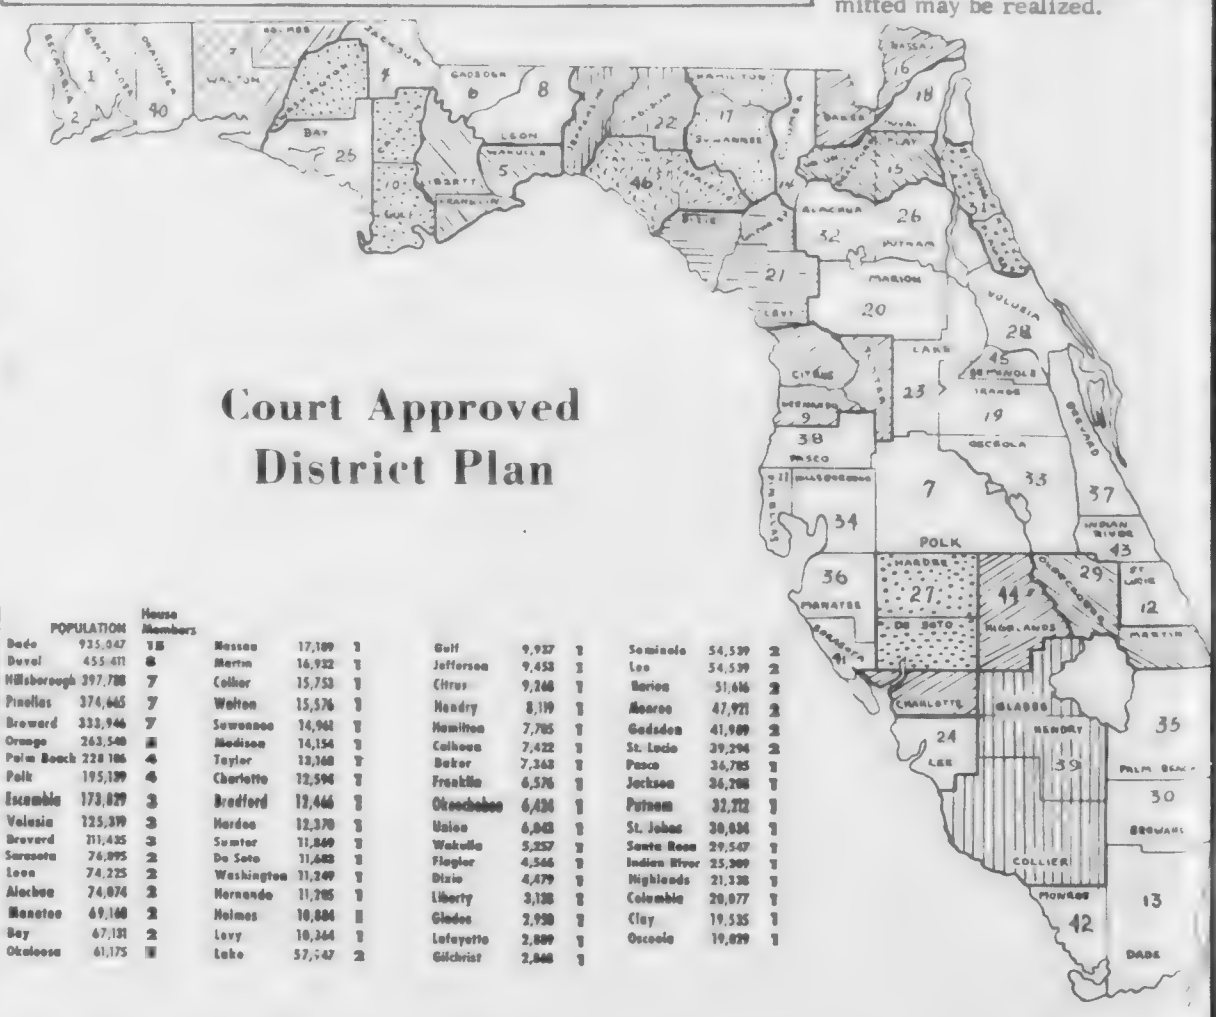
If, in November, Florida voter they have finally achieved repre tative government, the reapport ment problem will be solved.

On the other hand, if Floridian not satisfied with the compro measure, the original request b Miami attorneys that the judge their own reapportioning as a sub tute for what the legislature s mitted may be realized.

It's Up To The People

FROM ST. PETERSBURG TIMES

Just how the Federal District Court at Miami could examine an arithmetical analysis of the 46-Senator, 135-Representative formula for reapportionment adopted by the special session of the Legislature and conclude that it is not "invidiously discriminatory" baffles us.



We cannot conceive that the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals or the Supreme Court would arrive at a similar conclusion.

The facts are that the 11 largest counties, with 72 per cent of the state's population, would have 49 per cent of the seats in the House and 24 per cent in the Senate. A mere 14 per cent of the voters could elect a majority of the House and 17 per cent a majority of the Senate.

Now, as never before, it is up to the three-fourths of Floridians who live in the larger counties, and who have been utterly at the mercy of the Pork Choppers, to repudiate this amendment by an overwhelming majority.

Certainly we cannot afford to take any chances on giving the enemies of fair apportionment the potent weapon they would have should the amendment pass. Now let every citizen who believes in equal justice in the law, who despises the dictatorship of the minority under which we have been living, get out and work untiringly to defeat this amendment on November 6.

Should we fail in this, we may have forfeited our fight to fair and good government for years to come.

Court Approved District Plan

	POPULATION	House Members
Dade	935,047	15
Duval	455,411	6
Hillsborough	397,788	7
Pinellas	374,665	7
Broward	333,946	7
Palm Beach	228,106	4
Orange	263,540	4
Polk	195,139	4
Escambia	173,829	3
Volusia	125,319	3
Brevard	111,435	3
Sarasota	76,895	2
Lee	74,225	2
Alachua	74,074	2
Manatee	69,168	2
Bay	67,131	2
Okaloosa	61,175	1
Nassau	17,189	1
Martin	16,932	1
Collier	15,753	1
Walton	15,576	1
Suwannee	14,961	1
Madison	14,154	1
Taylor	13,168	1
Charlotte	12,594	1
Bradford	12,446	1
Hardee	12,370	1
Sumter	11,849	1
De Soto	11,682	1
Washington	11,249	1
Hernando	11,205	1
Holmes	10,884	1
Levy	10,364	1
Lake	57,547	2
Gulf	9,937	1
Jefferson	9,453	1
Citrus	9,268	1
Hendry	8,119	1
Hamilton	7,785	1
Calhoun	7,422	1
Baker	7,363	1
Franklin	6,576	1
Okeechobee	6,424	1
Union	6,043	1
Wakulla	5,257	1
Flagler	4,566	1
Dixie	4,479	1
Liberty	3,138	1
Glades	2,950	1
Lafayette	2,889	1
Gilchrist	2,868	1
Seminole	54,539	2
Lee	54,539	2
Marion	51,616	2
Monroe	47,921	2
Gadsden	41,989	2
St. Lucie	39,294	2
Pasco	34,785	1
Jackson	36,298	1
Putnam	32,772	1
St. Johns	30,834	1
Santa Rosa	29,547	1
Indian River	25,309	1
Highlands	21,338	1
Columbia	20,077	1
Clay	19,535	1
Osceola	19,029	1

Miss Gymkana Contest Is Planned For October

Preliminaries for the Miss Gymkana Contest to be staged in Tully Gymnasium in October, will be held Monday, September 21 at 6:45 p.m., Gymkana Coach announced.

The contest staged in Tully Gymnasium and conestants must be registered by noon of that day with Coach Price at the gym, Peggy Bruce at the Delta Delta Delta house or at the Sigma Kappa house.

Contestants may be sponsored by campus or may independently.

Contestants will be judged on beauty, charm and poise. They will wear shorts and high heels. The finalists of the preliminary contest will compose the Gymkana court. From this court of from 18 to 20 girls Miss Gymkana will be chosen on the additional requirements of costume design and cooperation.

"Pirate Daze" is the overall theme of Gymkana this year which will open for a four night run Oct. 17 at Tully Gymnasium.

Coach Price said any interested in being master of ceremonies of "Pirate Daze" should contact him at the gym no later than Monday. A person with a good quality voice and experience in public speaking is needed.

Today's News Roundup

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

DOCTORS report no change in condition for soviet spy Robert Soblen at a London hospital where he remains in a coma from an overdose of sleeping pills. The British government says efforts to deport him to the U.S. have been put off until tomorrow at the earliest.

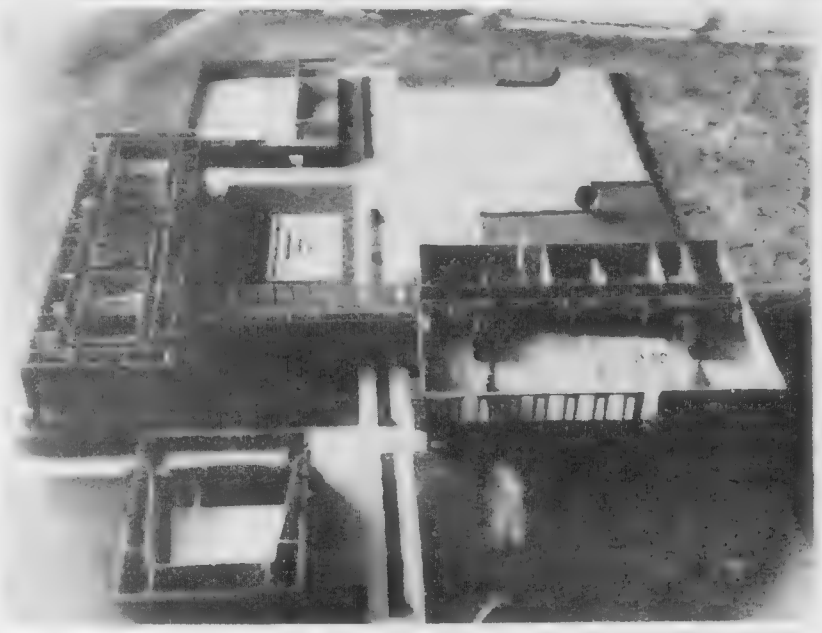
VICE-PRESIDENT Johnson has returned to Rome after a day of many [illegible] in Naples, Italy. Johnson said he had not seen such [illegible] anywhere else on his good will tour, and he called it one of the most fine and thrilling experiences of his life.

THE STATE department says two U. S. officers were fired on last Tuesday while traveling through East Germany in an official car of the U. S. military liaison mission. Neither man was injured, and the state department has no explanation for the attack.

UNOFFICIAL reports from Havana say most of the recently-arrived Soviet equipment consists of electronic devices. These include three types of radar used to detect, aim and guide projectiles. Tests of the gear may already be going on as part of current artillery drills in western Cuba.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY has promised to request legislation in the next session of Congress to remove inequalities suffered by the U. S. Textile industry in competing with foreign-made goods. Kennedy was critical of the system through which foreign manufacturers can by U. S. cotton at cheaper prices than American competitors. He issued the statement after the tariff commission ruled against recommending further restrictions on imports of cotton products.

THE SENATE has passed a heavily-amended version of the administration bill granting tax incentives to get manufacturers to invest in modern equipment. Differences between this bill and one passed by the House will be ironed out by a conference committee.



IN THE STATE

TAMPA - The University of South Florida has been given the job of producing an aerospace science textbook for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. NASA has awarded the university a $5,500 grant to do the work. The grant was made as a result of the university's southeastern conference on aerospace sciences last July. Some 200 teachers from 12 states attended lectures by leading men from government, industry and education.

TAMPA - The director of Hillsborough Health Department, Dr. J. S. Mahoney, says the Pinellas County outbreak of sleeping sickness has not spread across Tampa Bay to Tampa.

TAMPA - A Cuban Air Force cadet, an unwilling passenger on an instructor's flight to political asylum, returned to Cuba today by commercial air liner. U. S. Immigration lists him as Edel Ramirez Santos, 20. Immigration Service says the civilian instructor, Jose Diaz Vasquez requested political haven in the United States.

Downtown Hardware & Sports Center
108 EAST JEFFERSON STREET
Camp Lamps
Clothes Dryers
Irons
Space-X-Panders
Skirt and Blouse Racks
Clock Radios
Hair Dryers
Water Skis
Face Masks
Transistor Radios
OPEN 7 to 7

SCALE MODEL OF UNION IN LONGMIRE BUILDING

Construction Is Planned Student Union Building

Construction of the Student Union complex may start around December or January, Dean of Students R. R. Oglesby has said.

Plans currently are being developed, and Board of Control architects say it is expected that bids can be called in November.

The Student Union, estimated to cost $2,618,000, will not be completed until April 1, 1964, under present plans.

The Union complex will feature a Z-shaped olympic size outdoor swimming pool. Said to be the first of its kind in the South, the pool is scheduled for completion by next August or September.

This may be the first unit of the complex for which ground is broken, to be in the present hockey field area on Call Street, across from the present Student Union.

Other facilities planned for the Student Union complex include a recreation building, three-story student activities building, auditorium and two-story cafeteria-ballroom.

WFSU-TV Broadcasts Throughout Ten Counties

Telecourses broadcast by WFSU-TV will go into classrooms of ten counties in the viewing area beginning Sept. 10, bringing high school students a course in Americanism vs. Communism and elementary school students a course in Spanish.

The station also will begin airing two programs to Chipola Jr. College at Marianna and Gulf Coast Jr. College at Panama City.

Duane Francheschi, program manager for the station, said that heretofore the elementary schools in Leon County have been the only schools in the area receiving educational television and that the extension will add about 60,000 potential viewers in the schoolroom to the 16,000 in this county.

The Americanism vs. Communism course, taught by James Jackson of St. Petersburg Jr. College, will be aired from 10 to 10:30 a.m. Monday through Friday, beginning Sept. 10, and will be repeated from 2:30 to 3 p.m. The same course will be shown once weekly every Tuesday night at 8:30 p.m., beginning Sept. 11.

A conversational Spanish course, Spanish 1, taught by Mrs. Maria Lacayo of the Leon County schools, will be aired from 9:45 to 10 a.m. Monday through Friday beginning Sept. 10, and Spanish 11 from 10:30 to 10:45 a.m. on the same days.

Leon County schools will receive these courses as well as an elementary social studies course. This can be viewed from 2 to 2:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. It will be repeated on Wednesdays and Fridays at 1:30 p.m.

Representatives of 11 county school systems met in Tallahassee this month with station officials and, according to Miss Nelle Wright, chairman of the telecourse coordinating committee for the Big Bend Area, representatives of 9 of the counties indicated readiness to receive the Spanish course and/or Americanism vs. Communism course beginning Sept. 10. (She said these were Leon, Liberty, Jefferson, Wakulla, Gulf, Jackson, Calhoun, Franklin and Bay.) Leon County schools began receiving a televised Spanish course and social studies course last February.

Geology 107, a freshman course, will be broadcast from 12 noon to 12:30 p.m., Monday, Wednesday and Friday, beginning Sept. 10. A junior college Spanish course will be aired from 11:30 a.m. to 12 noon Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, beginning Sept. 25.

Religious News

The Christian Science Organization invites all those interested in Christian Science to its annual fall reception on Sunday from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Lewis House, 535 West College Ave. The speaker will be Stanley C. Larkin of Miami. Refreshments will be served.

The regular services of the Organization are held every Thursday from 7 to 7:45 p.m.

Virgil Austin Draws Praise

"The Crystal," a three-act play written by FSU graduate student Virgil R. Austin, Jr., for his master's thesis, has drawn praise from Pulitzer prize-winner Mark Van Doren.

Van Doren termed the drama, "an ambitious work, carried through with thoughtful and serious devotion, and revealing in many places true literary skill and insight."

Austin wrote the play as partial fulfillment of requirements for the master's degree he received at the summer commencement exercises. He termed his work a mystic comedy, or a religious drama.

He appeared last year in Van Doren's play, "The Last Days of Lincoln," which was performed at FSU using both student and professional actors. He has been active in Speech Dept. productions at FSU.

Austin has written nine one-act plays, three of which have been produced at FSU or the University of Miami.

...Accident

(continued from page 1)

women, was immediately notified of the accident and went to the hospital where she remained all night. She was unable to talk to either of the girls as they were both under heavy sedation all Wednesday night and most of yesterday.

PARENTS NOTIFIED

Parents of the coeds were notified of the accident and Miss Martin's parents arrived immediately from Winter Haven. Miss McKenna's mother is en route from Attleboro, Mass.

Both girls are seniors at FSU and are enrolled as education majors.

Lt. Causseaux said Miss Martin apparently didn't see the parked car as the large tail fins of the 1959 Chevrolet caught the windshield of the sports car. Both cars were demolished.

Today

Interfraternity Council rush registration will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in 16 Longmire.

* * * * * *

Panhellenic will have a meeting with all new women students at 4:30 p.m. in Westcott Auditorium.

* * * * * *

Interfraternity Council will have a meeting with all new men students at 4:30 p.m. in Opperman Music Hall.

THIS WEEKEND

The deadline for registering with the University Test Service for the Graduate Record Exam and the Teacher Education Program is noon Saturday.

* * * * * *

The President's reception for new students will be from 8 to 10 p.m. Saturday.

Buses taking students to the President's reception will leave from in front of Jennie Murphree, Reynolds, Bryan and Gilchrist Halls. In case of rain, the reception will be held in the Suwannee Room.

* * * * * *

The Lutheran Student Organization will have open house at Cabin Four at the Reservation from 4 to 9 p.m.

* * * * * *

Open house for all Episcopalian freshmen and transfer students from 6 to 8 p.m. at Ruge Hall.

ISAAC STERN

...appears for two performances in May as part of this year's Artist Series. He will appear with his assisting artist pianist Alexander Zakin, who has been with Stern for more than 20 years.

Videotape To Record Events

WFSU-TV, the University educational television station, will take to wheels beginning this Fall to make videotape recordings of concerts, plays, football games and other events for rebroadcast.

All home football games will be taped and broadcast the following Monday.

Edward L. Herp, director of the University Broadcasting Services, said for the first time in the three year history of the station it will be possible to broadcast out-of-studio events with the same quality of live in-studio shows.

This new versatility has been provided by use of a new Ampex videotape machine mounted in a truck. The new machine was supplied by the Florida Educational Television Commission. WFSU-TV already has a stationary videotape machine located in its studio in Dodd Hall.

In addition to the videotape machine, the truck will hold three cameras and all the necessary equipment to have videotapes ready for rebroadcast from the studio a few minutes later.

Some of these tapes will be su plied to other educational televis stations located in Tampa, Mia Jacksonville and Gainesville.

However, the videotape truck not be limited to on-campus activ ties. Already planned are tapes the Florida Legislature in next April.

Engineers from WFSU-TV are i stalling the equipment in the tru now and say that it will be rea for operation when the station on the air Sept. 10.

Chaplain Appointed

George Chester Bedell, former Rector of St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Panama City, has been named the new Chaplain of the Episcopal Chapel of the Resurrection.

Bedell was born in Jacksonville and attended public schools there. He received his B.A. from the University of the South at Suwannee, Tenn., and his B.D. from the Virginia Theological Seminary.

Before coming to the FSU campus, he was Priest-in-charge at Saint James Church, Lake City, and at St. Bartholomew's, High Springs.

His Diocesan positions include membership in the Executive Council and chairmanship of the Stewardship Commission and of the Dept. of Christian Living. He was deputy to the General Convention in 1958 and in 19r1.

Bedell's civic affairs include the chairmanship of the Advisory Committee of Gulf Coast Junior College in Panama City and membership in the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotarians.

Bedell is married to the former Bettie Clifton Moor of Tallahassee. They have two children.

The first official function at the Chpel will be an open house Sunday night from 6 to 8 p. m. at Ruge Hall for freshmen and transfer students only.

Services will be held at the Chapel each Sunday at 9:30 and at 11 a. m. Holy Communion services are held Wednesday at noon. Evening Prayer is at 5:30 p. m. Monday through Friday. Holy Communion is celebrated on Holy Days at 5:30 p. m.

Rev. Bedell

MILLERS
Bootery

Perfect For School

The Casual Bag

8.99 to 24.99

THE SATCHEL, Brass Harness trim on natural Burlap with choice of Brown, Black or Mahogany leather trim also all Black Burlap with black leather 14.99

The Classic ... in Creme Leather with contrasting Mahogany trim, or in all Mahogany to match the loafer craze ... Brass harness trim ... 18.99

The Famous Skeedle

by

Capezio

8.99

Black Kid
Red Kid
Black Suede
White Kid
8.99
Sizes 4 - 10
S - N - M

Capezio, the fun shoes shown the Skeedle pump. Only one of the very many Capezio shoes in the Millers Collection see them all

MILLERS

Monroe at College

Greeks Get New Houses

...letter social fraterni- ...rities are occupying ...tall.

... Alpha Phi and Kap- ...a sororities and Phi ... Tau Epsilon Phi ...

... are now located 34 West Call St. next to Sigma fraternity. The sorority was erly housed on College Ave. brick structure has been paint- yellow and is New Orleans in ... iron grillwork- med balconies. The color ... in tones of gold, and turquoise. house has a capacity of 44 and ... for over 80.

... Gammas are liv- at 530 West Jefferson St. in a ... white house. The ... in shades of pink, white, and features large ... across the front. ... houses 47 and has ...ties for over 80.

... colony plans to be ... 21 West College Ave. Presently some of the ... living in an apart- ...al address.

... Phi fraternity has ... 47 West College Ave. ... Pensacola St. The ...ides facilities for 18 men ...ite for the housemother. ... was formerly occupied Alpha Phi sorority and members the fraternity mentioned that the ne numbers have not been chang- the telephone book. There has n some confusion reported when ... Phi house has been ... persons assuming it to ...na Phi house.

Today's Weather

...air to partly cloudy with a chance ...widely scattered thundershowers. ... and evening thund- ...wers. High 94, low 74, with ...ear showers.

BRIGHT YELLOW

...is the color of the newly constructed Alpha Phi House located on West Call Street. The New Orleans design is a striking addition to the campus.

"Henry The Fourth, Part I" Tryouts Will Begin Monday

Tryouts for "Henry the Fourth, Part 1," the first play of the University Theatre season, will be Monday and Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Conradi Theatre.

Director of the University Theatre, Dr. Arthur Dorlag, said the Monday night meeting is for everyone interested in working with the theatre group in any capacity, as well as for those who wish to audition using their own material and for tryouts for the Shakespearian play.

"Henry the Fourth, Part 1" will be presented Oct. 10-13.

Other theatre productions this year will include "Kismet," produced in cooperation with the Opera Guild, Nov. 8-9; a children's program, Dec. 4-8; Thornton Wilder's "The Matchmaker," April 3-6; and "Dark of the Moon" by Richardson and Berny, June 5-8.

The theatre group may also present the world premier of a new play by Maurice Valency in early February.

"No experience is required for participation in University Theatre productions," Dorlag stressed. There are many opportunities for new talent, he added, especially in "Henry the Fourth" since there will be a cast of 26.

Copies of the script for "Henry the Fourth" will be available today in 115 History. Students also may read from any edition of Shakespeare.

In the final script, any words or passages that are not readily understandable will be changed according to the Folger Edition of Shakespeare, Associate Director Richard Fallon said.

Faculty Notes

Miss Haynes Retires After 36 Years Here

Miss Frances Haynes, reference librarian at FSU for 36 years, is retiring to return to her home in Darien, Ga.

A native of Atlanta, Miss Haynes received her A.B. degree from Baynard College. She taught for three years in a girls' high school in Atlanta, then received her Bachelor of Library Science degree from Pratt Institute in 1926.

She has held the position of reference librarian at FSU since 1926. Associates have said that the fact that the Library has just been admitted to membership in the Association of College and Research Libraries is a testimony to the excellence of the reference collection.

Staff members at Strozier Library presented Miss Haynes with a rowboat as a parting gift. They said they heard her talk of plans to spend many hours on the Altamaha river near her home. "I'll have to get myself a rowboat," they heard her say.

Mrs. Isabel McKinnell Lyons, who has served for the past three years as assistant to the director of the Institute of Molecular Biophysics, has retired after 29 years at FSU and University of Florida.

Mrs. Lyons, who joined the FSCW faculty in 1928, served as assistant professor of chemistry until 1951, when she began teaching at U of F. She returned to FSU in 1959 as assistant to Dr. Michael Kasha.

She holds degrees from Winthrop College, S.C., and the University of Maryland, and has done graduate work at Johns Hopkins, University of Maryland and University of Colorado. She held a teaching fellowship at University of Maryland and a research fellowship at Johns Hopkins.

While at FSU, she served as chairman of the Florida section of the American Chemical Society.

Mrs. Lyons plans to make her home in Tallahassee.

Librarian

Miss Frances Munson is the new reference librarian and head of public services of the FSU Library, succeeding Miss Frances Haynes, who recently retired.

Miss Munson has been assistant reference librarian since 1952 and holds degrees in library science from the University of Illinois and Columbia University Library Schools.

Dr. Gregory R. Choppin, associate professor of chemistry at FSU, will spend this year as visiting scientist at the Belgian Atomic Energy Laboratory in Mol, Belgium.

He will serve as a consultant in setting up a program for the study of the heavier transplutonium elements, or actinides. The FSU scientist is one of a few researchers in this country working with these reactor-produced elements.

Work is under way in this country on these actinides at the Atomic Energy Commission and at only one or two universities. Choppin will assist the Belgians in setting up laboratory techniques necessary for chemically purifying the products of reactors which have unweighable amounts of the actinides.

Before coming to FSU in 1956, Choppin was a staff member of the Radiation Laboratory at University of California. While at this laboratory he became a co-discoverer of element 101. Mendelevium. He holds a Ph.D. from University of Texas.

In Belgium, Choppin will continue his research in the actinides. He will return in August.

Dr. Douglas M. Montgomery, who received a Ph.D. from FSU in August, has accepted the presidency of East Central Mississippi Junior College at Decatur.

Montgomery, formerly a fighter pilot in the Air Force, came to FSU in 1956 as an assistant professor of air science. He recently completed two years as a fellow in the W. K. Kellogg Foundation junior college leadership program at FSU.

Montgomery received his AB degree from University of Pennsylvania and a law degree from Harvard in 1941. He also has studied at University of Nevada and Princeton, and received a master's degree in political science at FSU.

Honor Students Arrive At FSU Early

BY SUSIE RHOADES

The freshman honors students arrived on Sept. 1 for a two-day preregistration conference at the Reservation on Lake Bradford.

This was followed by an on-campus meeting Saturday night during which they were greeted by President Gordon W. Blackwell.

Dr. Paul J. Piccard, associate professor of government and Honors Program director, said the 121 freshmen will join 70 returning sophomores in the program. It is designed to provide a maximum of faculty assistance in helping able students utilize their first two years in college to maximum advantage.

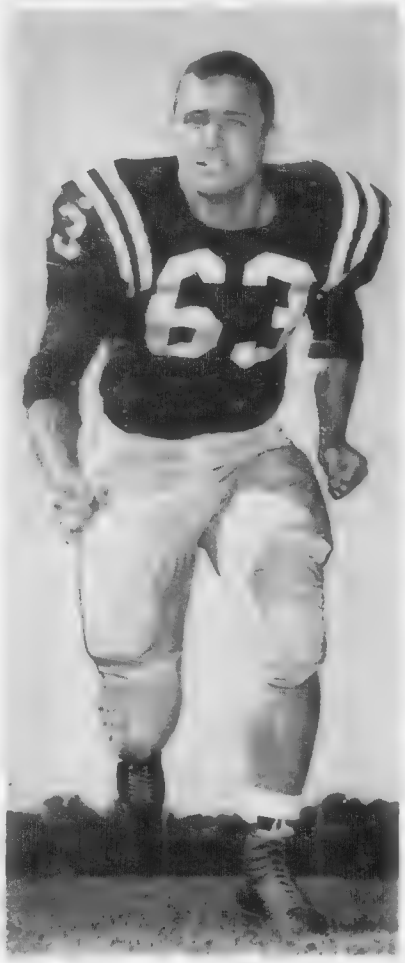
To be selected for the program a student must have scored 450 or above on his Florida Twelfth Grade Test or 1,100 on the College Entrance Examination Board test. He must have maintained a 3.5 (A minus or B plus) average in high school academic subjects.

In the College of Arts and Sciences, there is now an Honors Program for juniors and seniors. Piccard said this is offered on a departmental basis. Students usually execute a library or laboratory research project of their own choice under a directing professor and write a thesis which they must defend. A high percentage of the honors students in this program go into graduate work.

The School of Education Honors Program will be for seniors who will enroll for six hours of honors work in place of the regular internship. They will do student teaching at the University School and will carry out research related to teaching a particular subject.

Students selected must have maintained a grade average of 3.5 in their major subject, with an overall grade average of 3.0. Dr. Dwight L. Burton, professor of English education, is chairman for the Education Honors Program.

The School of Music Honors Program will be for those who have completed two trimesters. High grade averages again will be required but selection will be based also on musical ability.



The Music School Honors work will be in music theory, music history, composition, applied music literature and other areas. It will be under the direction of Dr. John F. Spratt, assistant professor of music and coordinator.

HANGING SPANISH MOSS

...drape gracefully in front of the new Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority house on West Jefferson Street. The new white house appears like a luxurious southern mansion with interior rooms decorated in soft pastel shades.

Team Captain

Guard Gene McDowell has been named the captain for all ten of the Florida State University Seminoles' football games. Last year, McDowell intercepted two passes for a seven yard gain and a 3.5 average. A co-captain will be named for each game.

'64 Game To Be Played Here

Graves, Mancha Ink Pact

The compromising between the University of Florida and Florida State University has finally come to a temporary end--with the decision that the Gator football squad will finally meet the Seminoles in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

Florida will play in Tallahassee in 1964, again in 1966, and almost assuredly every other year thereafter, said Bill McGrotha, sports editor of the Tallahassee Democrat in a recent story.

This truce, a four-year contract, was the culmination of a long, nasty battle between the two schools.

"It will be the first football game played by the Seminoles and Gators in Tallahassee since the series was inaugurated in 1958. All previous games have been played in Gainesville," McGrotha quoted from the announcement.

"The contract is based on the condition that FSU's Doak S. Campbell Stadium be able to accommodate at least 35,000 persons by 1964. Present Campbell Stadium capacity is 25,000.

"The present UF-FSU contract extends through the 1963 season, with the two upcoming games scheduled for Gainesville. The 1962 game is scheduled for Nov. 17 and the 1963 game for Nov. 30.

" 'We are very pleased,' Vaughn Mancha, FSU athletic director, said, 'Our students, alumni, and friends of the university have long been interested in such an arrangement.

" 'I'm pleased that we have made a satisfactory arrangement for continuing the young Florida-Florida State series,' said Ray Graves, director of athletics and head football coach of Florida."

The 1965 and 1967 games are scheduled to be played in Gainesville's Florida Field.

The complete schedule:
1964--at Tallahassee, Nov. 21
1965--at Gainesville, Nov. 27
1966--at Tallahassee, Oct. 8
1967--at Gainesville, Nov. 25

Since no financial arrangements were mentioned in the joint announcement, McGrotha said:

"Graves told a Miami newspaperman earlier that Florida sought a $50,000 guarantee, with an option of 50 percent of the net."

He opined, "It is a reasonable assumption that Florida got its $50,000 guarantee--the highest FSU has ever offered a team to play here.

"Odds are, however, Florida will take home more than $50,000 on a 50 percent-of-the-net basis."

The Seminoles will continue to play at Florida on a 50 percent-of-the-net basis; the Seminoles will deduct the same percentage from the gross for home-game expenses that Florida does, he said.

"So, for all practical purposes, the two state schools will now be playing on an even basis--all the way."

Although he gave no precise plans, Mancha told McGrotha FSU has already started planning to enlarge Campbell Stadium to 35,000 seats. Not having the seats ready by 1964 would cause the game site to be switched to Gatorland.

According to the contract, the seats do not need to be permanent. Since the seats have been called "revenue seats," they may presumably be sold at an appropriate rate.

McGrotha figured that the price of the tickets, which sell for $5 each at this time, will probably go up before 1964.

The hassle concerning Florida playing a grid game in Tallahassee goes back a long time, and even further back goes the battle to get Florida to play FSU in football at all.

Eventually, the issue was taken to the State Board of Control, which ruled that the two schools should play each other in all sports. Thus the 1958 game was set up.

It appeared for the first two years that the Seminoles were always to be the patsy in the contest as they fell to the Gators, 21-7, in 1958, and 18-8, in 1959.

But in 1960, Florida State began showing some stiff competition, which lent support to its argument that a game should be played on Seminole soil. That year, the Tribesmen lost, 3-0, in a "moral victory."

Last year, the Gators fought madly.

VAUGHN MANCHA
. . .signs

came from behind, and tied the Seminoles, 3-3. The tie strengthened FSU's demands.

A few counter-proposals were made across the state concerning the game site. Florida suggested that the two teams meet on "neutral ground." Both squads have played games in Jacksonville. . . against Georgia and Florida and Georgia and Duke.

Some citizens of the Tampa area even suggested building a stadium where the annual FSU-UF game would be played.

No decision was reached in the contract between FSU using SEC transfers against Florida in future years or whether or not Florida's freshman football team would resume battles with the Baby Seminoles.

At the present time, the Seminoles have an agreement not to play Southeastern Conference transfers against Florida, although other SEC teams have not demanded this. Furthermore, the other SEC schools are merely required that the Seminoles follow the rules of the NCAA concerning player eligibility.

Injuries Hit Ends

The services of end John Wachtel, who is potentially one of the finest flankermen in Florida State's football history, have been lost for the season.

Coach Bill Peterson said that Wachtel broke his wrist in Wednesday's scrimmage and will not be able to play this year. Wachtel, a 6-0 junior from Ohio, caught seven passes for a 65 yard gain last year. He averaged 9.3 yards per catch.

A broken ankle added Florida State's sophomore end, Freddy Biletnikoff, to the list of injured Seminole gridders.

The 6-1 Pennsylvanian, who is sporting a cast from his toes to inches below his knee and is travelling on crutches, said yesterday that it would be five weeks before he will be back in action.

He is expected to recover in time for the Georgia-FSU game Oct. 20.

Rated as potentially one of the best offensive ends ever to come to FSU, Biletnikoff caught eight passes for 156 yards in the three freshman games.

Others Injured

Two other ends had already been injured.

Bill (Red) Dawson is also hobbling on crutches to relieve the strain on some pulled tendons in his foot. The 6-3 junior from Valdosta was redshirted last year and is expected to carry a fairly sizeable load as an end.

Cliff Gunter was sent to the sidelines after suffering a shoulder injury. Originally expected to return to action this week, the new verdict says it will be some time next week before he dons his uniform again.

The backfield also saw two injuries.

Halfback Jim Loftin, who scored the Tribes' touchdown in the 6-6 FSU-Mississippi Southern frosh game, sustained a foot injury along with sophomore Steve Slay, a line backer.

Gustafson Fields Mighty Team —Even Without End Bill Miller

One of the best indications of what the 1962 season will be like for the Florida State University football team is the shape that the opposition is in.

Reported in Thursday's issue of the Flambeau were The Citadel ("17 lettermen and 11 starters are missing ... may use a three-team system"), Kentucky ("Coach fired ... team is smaller than usual ... still has the passing duo of Jerry Woolum to Tom Hutchinson), and Furman ("lost three-fourths of the backfield and two centers ... 1961 and 1962 teams are about equal, says coach").

The other opponents get stronger and nastier, Georgia Tech and Auburn being in the list.

MIAMI--Miami is predicted to be the strongest team in Florida and the giant among the South's independents. Coach Andy Gustafson's quarterback George Mira is being ballyhooed as a definite All-American, with some pros picking him as their choice of the number one college QB.

Mira and Miami are supposed to have a good season, but the loss of All-American pass receiver Bill Miller might have its effect ... however slight. Gustafson still has Jim Simon, John Bennett, and Ben Rizzo as receivers, but none is of Miller's stature.

Generally the backfield has improved. Fullback (formerly halfback) Nick Ryder, laft half Nick Spinelli, and right half Johnny Sisk will provide a solid running section.

Miami, which finished with a 6-4 record in 1961, leads in the FSU-UM grid series. Florida State managed a 7-6 squeaker in 1958 (when Miami lost eight games), but Gustafson has seven Seminole scalps under his belt.

GEORGIA--It almost would have been different playing against Georgia this year, because Coach Johnny Griffith temporarily installed a 3-team system. Lack of depth caused him to change his mind. The Bulldogs will be playing host to the Seminoles at this go-round.

Since the Bulldogs lack strong runners, they might have trouble getting out of the situations that demand speed ... and their 3-7 record in 1961 seems to indicate that these situations will occur.

VIRGINIA TECH--The Gobblers from Virginia Tech lost nine starters, with All-Conference tackle Gene Breen and guard Newton Green staying behind. The loss of a total of 18 lettermen left Coach Jerry Claiborne with only six men who had ever played varsity ball after he fad filled the first unit with the experienced ones.

VPI had a 4-5 record last year, and one national sports forecaster says the Gobblers will be the underdog in seven of their 10 games this season. Claiborne's men will not be so wet behind the ears, however, when the Seminoles meet them at the season's midpoint.

HOUSTON--The Houston Cougars finished with a 5-4-1 record in 1961, lost seven starters, kept 21 returning lettermen, and added five tough teams to their schedule--but Houston still shapes up as the best of the independents in the Southwest.

A new coach is expected to help, and to replace Hal Lahar the Texans grabbed former All-American at Army Bill Yeoman who was a top aide to Duffy Daugherty at Michigan State for a long time.

The Cougars retained top ground gainer Bobby Brezina, an All-American candidate who racked up 235 yards last year, and quarterback Billy Roland, who completed 41 of 79 passes in 1961. Except for the center, the Cougars have two experienced men for each position.

(To be continued)

Swim Drills Begin Monday

Swimming Coach Bim Stu... announced today that swimming practice will begin at 4 p.m. Monday at Montgomery Pool. All those persons interested in trying out for this year's swimming team should be there.

Repeat By Popular Request!

cashmere and wool

Really Outstanding Values At Only . . .

$28.

FALL COATS

10% Imported Cashmere, 90% all wool. Premium grade coats all Milium lined in several new fall styles. All colors and sizes.

JUST $5.00 WILL HOLD YOU COAT ON OUR LAY-AWAY

Linden's

Tallahassee's Leading Apparel Shop

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLIX, No. 4 | Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University | Monday, September 10, 1962

Blackwell Tells Women Needs In Education

The multiple roles that women must play in modern society require special kinds of education and counseling, President Gordon W. Blackwell said, in part.

He spoke at a conference on the Continuing Education of Women at Ithaca State Park, Minn.

Blackwell said that some of the needs can be met by the institutions of higher learning in its general education program, but other needs must be met with special programs [illegible]

He said he appointed a committee to study the education of women last spring to find ways to improve the contribution to the education of women students and alumnae.

AFTER COLLEGE

"The counseling they receive in college directly affects the education of women after they leave the campus. Adequate counseling should help a woman to understand the nature of the life patterns and roles which lie ahead of her, the social stereotypes relative to women which are part of American culture and society, and the career opportunities which will be open to her."

[illegible] educational institutions must augment the educational opportunities of the undergraduate student on the campus and begin to build an educational bridge between the undergraduate years and later opportunity for continuing education. He cited the restiveness and antipathy toward mental and physical inactivity that women feel, with children in school or college and the [illegible] affected by modern technology. He also noted the increasing acceptability of women in a variety of working roles.

[illegible] FOR ACTION

"The time has now come for action in the education of women," he said. "Whether for personal satisfaction, enhancing employability and productive potential, or for learning to better a voluntary community leadership role, many women have found that they see a first step toward self-fulfillment in a return to education," he stressed.

In providing continuing educational opportunities, there is a "clear need for educational counseling centers for women," Blackwell commented.

Tally Ho

"Tally Ho" registration will continue through Sept. 21 from 2 to 5 p.m. in the "Tally Ho" office, 403 Longmire.

"Tally Ho" Editor Sally Street has requested that seniors register this week and make an appointment to have their senior pictures taken.

PRESIDENT BLACKWELL PREPARES HIS SPEECH

. . . which he delivered to the conference on the Continuing Education of Women at Ithaca State Park, Minnesota, on Friday.

Chinese Is Offered This Trimester At FSU

BY FRANK CONEY
Flambeau Staff Writer

First and second year instruction in the Chinese language now is being offered during the same term for the first time.

Students who enter this course will be taught by Mrs. George Lensen, wife of Dr. Lensen of the History Dept. According to Dr. Victor Oelschlager, head of the Modern Language Dept., there are 10 students enrolled in first year Chinese and five in the second year course.

LAB

A main facility for these classes is the language lab in Classroom Bldg. "A." In the lab, students use tape recorders to assist them in learning Chinese. Textbooks have been completely recorded, as well as Chinese Plays which the students act out.

During the summer of 1962, Mrs. Lensen attended a seven-week program for Chinese language instructor's at Seton Hall University in South Orange, N. J. She discussed instruction techniques with other teachers of Chinese, and compared the amount of Chinese learned by FSU students and students at other universities.

Mrs. Lensen found FSU's instruction methods very satisfactory. She said that the Chinese language students here compare favorably with those of other universities.

"If a student devotes enough time to the serious pursuit of Chinese, he can learn to speak it nearly as easily as most other foreign languages," Mrs. Lensen said.

FIRST OFFERED

Chinese first was offered at FSU when Professor Chu, an exchange professor from Formosa, taught a short but intensive course during the spring of 1960. After a short stay he left FSU, and his students were without an instructor. It was then that Mrs. Lensen was asked to join the faculty as a Chinese instructor.

A native of China, Mrs. Lensen attended Saint John's University in Shanghai. In 1947, she obtained her M.A. degree in Human Relations.

While engaged in graduate work, she met Dr. Lensen, and they were married on June 1, 1948. Tallahassee has been their home since 1949, when Dr. Lensen joined the FSU faculty.

Home Game Ticket Is ID

Students will not need tickets for home football games this year, Ronald Melton, Intercollegiate Athletic Business Manager, announced Friday.

Instead, students will be admitted to the games by showing their I.D. cards at the gates of the stadium.

Since there will be no tickets for the student side of the stadium, there will be no reserved seats. Students who want good seats or who want to sit together will have to get to the stadium early. All seating will be on a first come, first serve basis.

General admission date tickets for dates who are not FSU students will be sold at the stadium from 5 p.m. until game time on the Saturday of every home game.

Melton said there are many advantages to I.D. card admittance--there will be no long lines at the ticket office in Westcott for days before the game, there will be less traffic congestion at game time around the stadium as people will tend to come earlier to get the best seats and there will be fewer violations of the rules for obtaining student tickets because of the simplicity of the new method.

(SEE EDITORIAL, PAGE 2)

Flambeau Notice

A general staff meeting for all students who are interested in working on the "Florida Flambeau" will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the "Flambeau" office, 213 Longmire.

FSU Coed Dies

Accident Victim Dies In Hospital

Miss Ann McKenna, a 22-year-old FSU coed, died at 11:15 a.m. Sunday in Tallahassee Memorial Hospital of injuries received in an automobile accident.

A senior at Florida State, Miss McKenna remained in critical condition, until the time of her death, suffering a fractured jaw, severe mouth cuts and apparent head injuries.

She was injured Wednesday evening when the sports car in which she was a passenger struck a properly parked car opposite the Florida A&M University entrance on Adams Street.

The accident occurred in front of Dr. A.D. Brickler's office. The Negro physician administered first aid at the scene of the accident.

After using a wooden tongue blade to keep her throat clear to enable her to breathe, he carried her across the street to FAMU Hospital's emergency room where he placed a rubber breathing tube in her throat. She was then transferred to TMH.

SERVICES

Miss McKenna was born Aug. 8, 1940, in Attleboro, Mass. She was a member of St. John's Catholic Church of Attleboro.

She will be returned to Attleboro, where funeral services will be held at the P.J. Duffey Funeral Home.

Funeral services will be held at Miss McKenna's home church in Massachusetts. Masses will be held for her at 7 a.m. tomorrow and Wednesday in the Catholic Student Center on College Avenue. All students are invited to the Masses here.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. McKenna, six brothers, and one sister, all of Attleboro.

The driver of the sports car, Miss Sharon E. Martin, a 20-year-old FSU coed, has not been released from TMH, where she is listed as in fairly good condition. She received body bruises and cuts on the legs.

PINNED IN CAR

Miss Martin was pinned in the car as the bucket seat flew forward and jammed after the impact.

Apparently, she did not see the parked car in which Miss Bernice M. Davis was sitting, said Lt. Ernest Causseaux of the Tallahassee Police Dept.

Miss Davis was admitted to FAMU Hospital in fair condition and was released Sunday.

No charges had been made at press-time.

Diploma Deadline

The deadline for paying the diploma fee and for registering to graduate in December is Sept. 21.

The $5 fee may be paid at the Registrar's Office in Westcott.

Election Code Rules Given Emphasis

All candidates for Freshman Class offices and precinct Senate seats should carefully examine the student body elections code concerning active campaigning, Secretary of Elections Ron Jones emphasized.

The code defines active campaigning as "The dissemination of literature of any type, the posting of signs or any other tangible construction, all of which is to be displayed for the purpose of advocating or urging the election of any candidate."

It should be noted by all candidates that while they can be making contacts prior to Sept. 18, no literature and no name tags should appear on campus, he said. No organized campaign activities will be permitted before 5 p.m., Sept. 18.

Candidates should plan for printing campaign literature and keep in mind the expense limits that have been set, he added.

Anyone having questions concerning the expense limits for campaigning may call the cabinet office for clarification.

The time for the compulsory meeting of all candidates who have filed a declaration of candidacy will be announced in tomorrow's "Flambeau."

DEADLINE

Filing closes promptly at 5 p.m. tomorrow. Any precinct with no one qualified to file forfeits their right to have a representative in Senate this year. There are still positions vacant in precincts 3, 7, 10, 11, 13, 15, 20, 22 and 23.

Additional filings for declarations of candidacy since Friday are:

Freshman Class: president, Lief Erickson; vice president, Chuck Beck, James Butler and Duke Mader; secretary, Nancy Meyers, Marlou Morton and Barbara Jane Walker; treasurer, Michele Purdy; men's senator, Pete Nealing; women's senator, Dot Fish and Susan Worley.

Precincts: 1. Camilla Kilgroe, Margaret Marsden, Nancy May and Barbara West; 2. Donna Futral; 4. Carol Gresiemer and Dee Williams; 6. Carole Renfroe; 8. Judie Miller; 9. Mickie Neumann; 13. William H. (Bill) Caldwell; 14. Robert J. Schramm; 17. Don Leonard and Frank M. Ryll, Jr.; 19. Barbara Daniell and Jean Edmonson; 21. Mike Green; and 24. Gerry Dobson.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Initials of the author follow editorials.

Improvement, But-

THE NEW METHOD of admission to home football games announced Friday is another in a series of attempts by university officials to find the simplest method of allowing students into games while preventing non-student use of student tickets.

Advantages of this system are obvious. It is quick, simple, and the most foolproof yet devised.

In addition to preventing non-students from acquiring free passes to games, the new system will relieve pre-game congestion at Westcott. Formerly, for several days prior to each home game the main hall of Westcott was jammed with students waiting for tickets. This made it virtually impossible for office workers on the first floor to carry on their business and required students to take many hours from their other activities in order to be assured a seat game night.

HOWEVER, SOME disadvantages are apparent. There is no way to efficiently organize block seating--a tradition as old as football itself, and there will be no "safe" seats. People who leave their places during the game or at halftime will have no guarantee their seats will be there when they return.

The new system is a definite improvement over the old one. But it will be interesting note whether or not its simplicity will lead to more confusion in the stands than was evidenced in the halls around the ticket office in Westcott.

OW, WS

Today's News Roundup

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AROUND THE WORLD

BERLIN - Three U.S. Army units have arrived in West Berlin without incident after a routine 110 mile drive across Communist East Germany. The units, including 63 vehicles and 502 men, had been on a training assignment in West Germany.

LONDON - Doctors in a London hospital report the condition of runaway spy Dr. Robert Soblen has worsened. Convulsions and the possibility of brain damage have added complications to efforts to bring Soblen back to consciousness.

Soblen has been in a drug-induced coma for three days.

ACROSS THE NATION

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA. - Both crewmen of a B-57 bomber were killed yesterday when their plane crashed and burned in a suburb of Oklahoma City. The accident occurred about two minutes after the plane took off from Tinker Air Force Base. The aircraft barely missed a thickly populated residential area. No one on the ground was injured.

ATLANTA - Civil rights leaders in racially disturbed southwest Georgia have vowed to intensify their Negro voter registration campaign and rebuild recently burned Negro churches. An F.B.I. agent was attacked yesterday as federal officers investigated the church burnings. The agent was not seriously injured.

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor; Joan Abbott, News Editor; John Schaffner, Managing Editor; Howard Denson, Sports Editor; Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Asst. Managing Editor.....Jim Smith
Asst. News Editor.....Lana Murray
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clarke, Carl Rosenbush, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens, Matt Straub.
News Staff - Bonnie Shiplett, Hope Pastor, Gayle Moses, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Jody Wilkis, Maureen Perkins, Pat Freeman, Bill Smart, Mary Grossenbacher, Sarah Gordon, Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Duke Mader.
Sports Staff - John Wood, Shirley Hardison.
Feature Staff - Frank Coney, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Dave Kelmeckis, Fred McDonald.
Photographers - John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Dave McNeill
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeither, Greg Grunke, Don Dughi.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Matt Straub

Notice Any Changes?

ANY RETURNING upperclassman can cloddishly point his finger at the site of the old Social Welfare Building's demise and mutter, "Duh, it's gone!" But how many of these same intellectual converts can notice the subtle differences and similarities to last year's campus?

To put it personally, for instance, have you noticed how much slower traffic moves and how timid the pedestrians are? Though the campus is just now wallowing in newcomers unfamiliar with the layout, things will eventually change. There are many people right now who actually slow down to drive by a campus cop. (The police sirens are actually duds cunningly fashioned by the metal working shop from old '39 Parkard headlights.)

Just take a quick tour of the campus. Most things remain the same, such as the blasted creek, gully or whatever you want to call it, that runs between the Student Center and the Business Building. The state will put many coins into bridges going over it and bushes leafing around it but nary a rehabilitive cent into the foul thing itself.

MAYBE THIS YEAR we can show all that we hold esteem for this stream by giving it a suave, sophisticated big college name such as "Seminole Sinkhole" or "Crappy Creek."

The SAE lion, that perennial dare to any nightly tar and feather brigades, somehow acquired two eyes and a black mouth during this summer. The stalwart men of SAE quickly returned him to his original lamb white color, though.

By now, all of the new students have seen and experienced something that never changes--the FSU circus. This is not the famous FSU Circus which has its own tent, performers, and band, but the infamous FSU circus which has its own gymnasium, buffoons and fair share of suicides.

SPEAKING of circuses, the complex of buildings which house the R.O.T.C. and custodial department still has not been painted. Each year the bushes surrounding the area get higher and higher as the buildings get greyer and greyer.

These buildings are certainly a part of the campus. For a university which prides itself so much on its physical appearance, it seems something would have been done by now. Maybe a fake, brick veneer on the part visible from the road or just an overall paint job would do the trick.

Maybe someday the bushes will grow real big and envelope the place.

Joe Rice

NASWC Decries Name Calling

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION of Small Woodland Creatures (NASWC) has met again. This time for the purpose of putting a stop, once and for all, to what they term a "disturbing trend" in the always hectic relations between the American public and the members of the NASWC. It is becoming more and more apparent, they say, that the names of certain of their members are being bandied about in an undesirable manner.

The secretary of the NASWC has sent along to us the minutes of the meeting and, because we think they shed a little light on some pressing current problems, we reprint them here, in full:

The crow was moderator of the discussion. "We are meeting here today," he said, "to discuss ways and means for putting a stop to the disagreeable habit of the American public to use the names of our members in unfortunate, not to say disrespectful, idiomatic turns of speech. I refer, of course, to such expressions as 'you old crow.'"

"You are right, crow," said the loon. "I suggest that we go on record as being 100 percent opposed to any and all idioms using the names of our members."

AT THIS POINT the happy lark let out a chirrup of dismay and tried to gain the floor but he was hissed down by several members of the snake family. He retired from the scene and was followed shortly by the bluebird of happiness.

The wise old owl started after them but changed his mind. "I don't think we should eschew all idioms using our names," he said, "but I am getting darned good and tired of always hearng myself referred to as 'the wise old owl.' Don't let these baggy nocturnal eyes of mine fool you. I'm still a gay YOUNG blade. Boop-boop-be-doooo."

"You think you got troubles," said the skunk. "How about me? My name equated with zero, more often than not. People are always saying, 'ha ha, I skunked you.' Meaning, of course, 'ha ha, you didn't score.' Now, gentlement, I may be a lot of things, but I am no void. A nothing, a cipher, a goose egg I am not. How this stupid and unfounded expression ever gained popular credence I'll never know."

THERE WAS A murmur of agreement. Then the turtle, usually a timid and restrained creature, took the floor. "As long as we're getting these things off our chests," he said, "I may as well tell you about something that has been bugging me (I hope my use of that expression doesn't offend any of our good friends in the National Association of Insects).

"I am, ladies and gents, jolly well fed up with the expression 'turned turtle,' used in connection with every form of accident and mishap known to man. If a guy is on skis and he flips over a rock he says 'I turned turtle.' If he hangs up a car or a boat or a motorcycle he says the same thing, 'I turned turtle.'

"This is all wrong! The expression should be 'I have been turned turtle' or 'I was turned turtle.' We turtles never turn of our own volition or under our own power. We are sometimes turned, but we don't like it very well. Furthermore, I am not the sluggard most people think I am

AT THIS POINT in the turtle's narrative the possum interjected some remarks to the effect that he never 'played' possum and the fox barked his irritation at being referred to in fables and fairy tales as shrewd, conniving, sneaky, and [illegible]. The squirrel shouted, "I'm not as nutty as some people think." "Me either," the woodpecker chipped in. "I'm not so ugly, either," croaked the toad.

All of the members of the association started shouting and gesticulating and the meeting threatened to break up in disorder. But order was finally restored and the meeting was adjourned, without the issue before the members being brought to a vote.

AS THEY WERE leaving the convention hall, the turtle turned to the quiet little creature and said: "Of all of us, you are the most malign. Why didn't you go on record as being opposed to the disrespectful barbarage to which your name is subjected, Mrs. Shrew?"

"Why don't you pull in your neck, shut your mouth, and mind your own busness?" countered the shrew.

Moral: It's not what people think of us, but what we think of ourselves that counts.

Library Becomes Target Of Crime Wave

BY JIM SMITH
Asst. Managing Editor

...ew freshman studying in the ... during the first week of ... heard a slight tearing sound ... table where he was sitting. ...ooked up from his studies and ...ed someone seated across from ...eared to be tearing out several ... library book.

...e, while doing research work, ...ad been looking through some ...icals when the page he needed ... research was missing. Fur- ... research of his assignment ... him constantly irritated as ... of the books he was looking ... and anywhere in ... though records ... books were on the stacks. ...ld find the books he ...l, he looked through the table ... for the chapter of his ... found the entire ..., torn neatly from ... razor blade.

BOOKS DISAPPEAR

If this sounds a little exaggerated, librarians report that 755 books somehow disappeared from the shelves during the spring semester last year and an undeterminable number of pages were ripped and torn from other bound periodicals and books. It would take approximately $6,000 to replace the books and an unknown amount of money to replace pictures, chapters and pages torn from textbooks by the textbook criminal.

Destruction of property, thievery and wanton mutilation of educational materials should be a moral issue for all serious academic-minded students to consider, the librarians report.

Librarians say that such an atmosphere must be generated by a vigorous conviction of a huge majority of students that those who steal or mutilate books are not fit members of an academic society.

DISCOURAGING

It is an extremely discouraging thing for anyone doing research to obtain a book from the stacks only to find that the most important information he needs has been torn or sliced from the book. Or, that the book that the student is looking for is missing from the shelves with no record of its whereabouts.

Often the stealing is prompted because of a class assignment. If the thief gets the book first, the rest of the class is unable to do the assignment and the luckless students not only miss the information but are sometimes penalized in final grades.

EXAMPLES

During May of last year, one librarian jotted down incidents illustrating detections of careless handling of educational materials.

1. A graduate student, unable to find material urgently needed, commented, "A man I know, who is making a collection of books from the library, is interested in this field. That's probably where the book is."

2. Another student, being told by an area librarian that a particular book had not yet been found, brightened and said, "I know who's got it. He never checks books out. I'll get it from him."

3. A janitor found a shopping bag full of books which someone had sneaked out during the year and was now returning the books in an unobtrusive way as possible. But many hours had already been spent searching for those books not recorded as being out, and many people were denied the use of the books.

4. Two pages torn from a periodical were left on the humanities desk but half a dozen pages torn from the same volume were never brought back.

Librarians appeal to every serious-minded student to help. They ask for suggestions on any helpful ideas to prevent this menace to costly and important and many times irreplaceable educational materials.

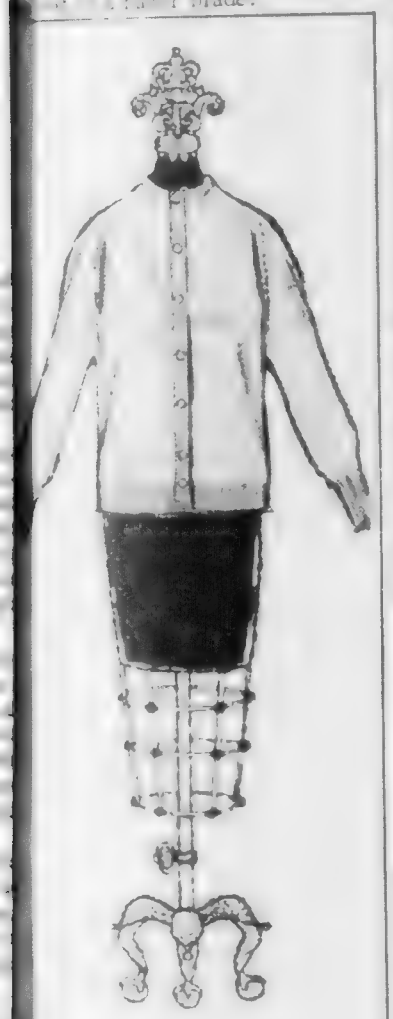
Send a postcard to "The Committee on Book Mutilation and Theft, Strozier Library, FSU Campus," with your ideas on how to stop the text book criminal.

Today's Weather

Generally nice, with scattered showers throughout the day. Temperatures will fall in the low 90's as reported by the Tallahassee Weather Bureau.

Rev. Houtart Speaks Here On 'Unity Of All Christians'

The Reverend Francois Houtart, director of the Catholic Religious Sociology Research Center in Brussels, Belgium, will speak tomorrow at FSU.



The religous sociologist will discuss "The Past, Present and Future of Roman Catholicism in Latin America: A Sociological Appraisal," at a faculty luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in the Suwannee Dining Hall. Faculty members wishing to attend this luncheon meeting should notify the Chaplain's office today.

Tomorrow night, he will speak on "The Second Vatican Council: Prospects for the Renewal of the Roman Catholic Church and the Unity of All Christians." The public is invited to the lecture, which will be at 8:15 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

A native of Brussels, Rev. Houtart did his theological work at Malines and was ordained a priest in 1949. He has done advanced graduate studies at the University of Louvain, University of Chicago and University of Indiana.

He served from 1954 to 1959 as executive member of the Archdiocese of Malines and in 1956 was secretary general of the International Conference of Religious Sociology. He has been visiting professor in Montreal, Holland and Buenos Aires and has lectured at the University of Louvain.

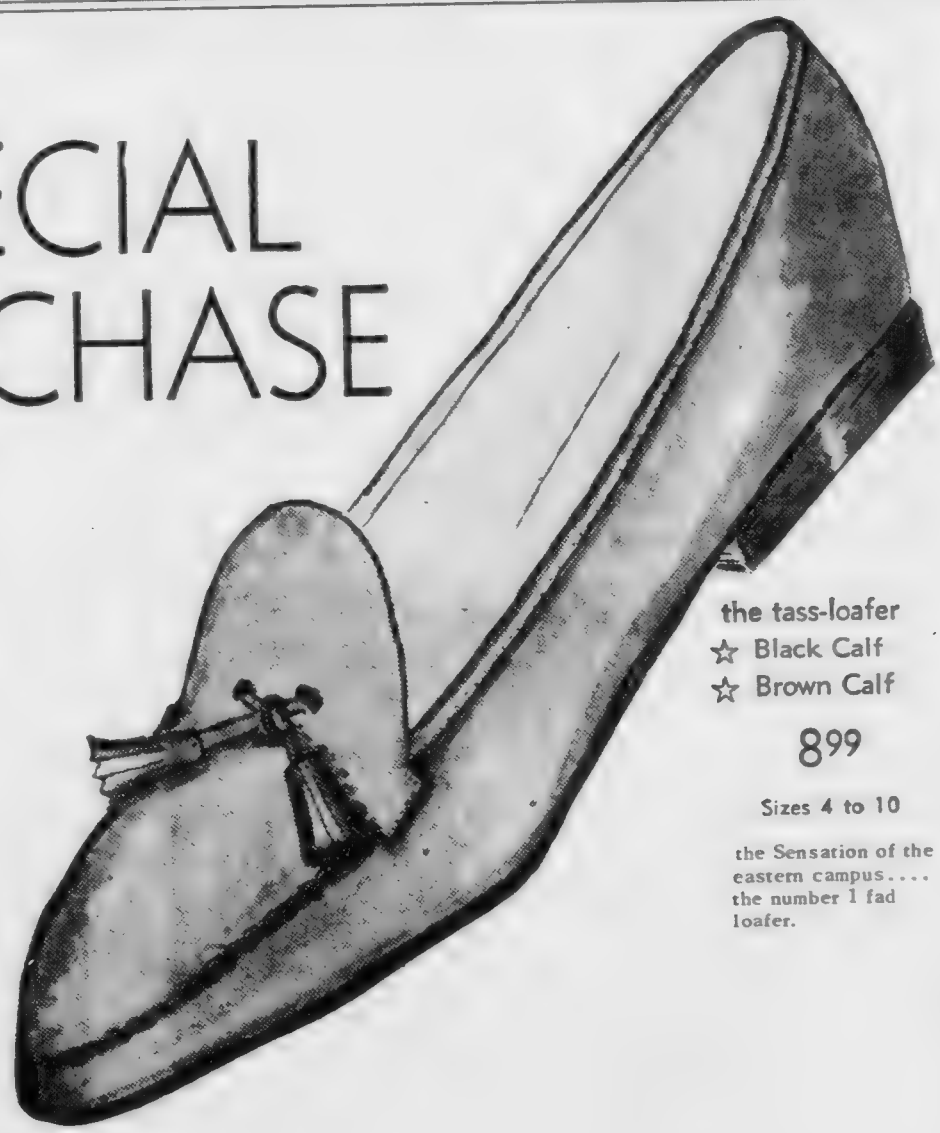
Author of many words on religious sociology and urban sociology, he is at present editing a multi-volume study of Latin American Catholicism, and his various works have entered prominently into the preparation for the Second Vatican Council.

Villager Sweater

...great classic joins Villager: ... cardigan in the original ... of the true sweater. Full ... with saddle-shoulder ...onstruction . . . the front ribboned ...side with grosgrain and buttoned with ocean pearls.

The Villager TMREG

Gibbs French Shoppe



MILLERS
Corner Monroe at College

SPECIAL PURCHASE

Genuine Handsewn
LOAFERS

8.99

regular to 11.99
all with arch support

the tass-loafer
☆ Black Calf
☆ Brown Calf

8.99

Sizes 4 to 10

the Sensation of the eastern campus.... the number 1 fad loafer.

MILLER'S

'Ragged, Inconsistent'

Scrimmage Displeases Peterson

The Florida State Seminoles wound out their second week of football practice Saturday afternoon with a game-like scrimmage in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

Despite five touchdowns and a field goal by the three teams, Head Coach Bill Peterson was not pleased with the performance.

"The play was inconsistent," he began, "we were too ragged, allowed too many penalties, and gave up too much yardage."

The three teams, which were never seriously challenged offensively by the freshmen, did lose yardage occasionally via the quarterback being tackled behind the line, etc.

But the varsity made up for it with its offensive effort.

Quarterback Eddie Feely was getting yardage with both twisting runs and fine passes, while bulldozing halfback Keith Kinderman charged across the goal for three touchdowns.

Two of the TDs were scored by the Warriors, the offensive outfit, while the others were tallied by the Chiefs, the first-string two-way unit.

John Harlee kicked a 30-yard field goal to add to the varsity's tally.

The defensive outfit, the Renegades, allowed one touchdown to the freshmen while practicing goal line stands. They did, however, block the PAT.

Coach Peterson praised the efforts of halfback Phil Spooner, who was playing a fine game until he sustained a minor hip injury. He blasted his way 25 yards up the middle in one play.

The only other injury, this one also minor, occurred when sophmore end Jim Causey was tackled from two directions after snagging a pass, causing him to turn his ankle.

...Peterson announced [illegible] that he did not plan to [illegible] three-team system when the [illegible] noles go against The Citadel [illegible] 15 in Tallahassee.

Instead, he said, several of the [illegible] ulars, especially the ends [illegible] to double up...

...Today, with the starting of [illegible] ses, the Seminoles will begin [illegible] once-a-day practices at 4:[illegible]. Fe[illegible] erly, they had been having [illegible] day drills...

Jackets, Plainsmen, Gators Round Out Tribe's Schedule

In the last laps of the grid seasons, FSU will get no rest as it faces Georgia Tech, Florida, and Auburn.

Despite the Seminoles' injuries, however, other schools have their problems. Previously reported Kentucky had two more gridders withdraw (35 total). Eddie Johns of Miami said his knee wouldn't permit him to play, and Florida has an injured quarterback on its hands (Larry Libertore).

(Third of a Series)

GEORGIA TECH--Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant says of the Georgia Tech squad, "They will probably have the best Tech team that they have had in several years. They will probably have the finest line in the conference and could be one of the best in America. They not only have good size and speed, but depth in all positions. They also have their quarterbacks back from last year, and as you know, they always have a host of good running backs."

"We'll be good," Coach Bobby Dodd said recently, adding that he probably had his best backfield in 30 years. He says his line is good, but lacks depth--so key injuries could scramble The Bear's evaluation. Tech finished with a 7-3 record in 1961 and will meet Peterson's crew in Athens, Ga.

Florida State has fallen by large margins in its three games with the Yellowjackets.

FLORIDA--The Gators are usually picked the favorite over FSU, but Coach Ray Graves' outfit had to come from behind last year to manage a 3-3 tie with the Seminoles. Florida finished the season with the same record as FSU.

Three deep in talent, Graves will meet the Seminoles this year with three teams of his own.

The line will be much stronger, with 16 of the 25 lettermen being on the front wall. The backfield will hold its own with such talent as quarterbacks Larry Libertore, Bobby Dodd, Jr., and Tom Batten; left half Dick Skelly; right half Lindy Infante; and fullbacks Jim O'Donnell and Tom Kelley.

The line will boast of the biggest end in the nation--245-pound Floyd Dean. The other big names on the line are Russ Brown, a 6-2 end, and Bruce Culpepper, a 6-1 center and line-backer.

Florida leads the FSU-UF series, 3-0-1.

AUBURN--Enemy Coach Bryant said that after the spring intra-squad game the Auburn Tigers were "more agressive than they have been since we (Alabama) have been here and their kicking game is tremendous." Coach Ralph (Shug) Jordan has talented backs, but his line is weaker and not as deep as it has been.

The headliners in the line will be center Jim Price, right tackle George Gross, and pass receiver Howard Simpson. The back field features left halfs Jimmy Burson and Tucker Frederickson, fullback Larry Rawson, and right halfback George Rose.

Since signal-caller Bobby Hunt graduated, three gridders fought for the QB spot--Mailon Kent, Jim Sidle, and Jim Martin. Kent won.

In the last FSU-Auburn encounter, the Seminoles were swamped, 57-21. Pollyannists point out that FSU scored more points against the Tigers than any other team in recent years, but Auburn racked up the highest of any of FSU's opponents.

NOTICE RUSH CHAIRMEN

Call us for box lunches and Seafood, etc.

Free Carry-Out Service For Sorority and Fraternity Parties.

CHICK N' TREAT
Parkway Shopping Center

PHONE
224-3620

Miss Rhodes

COTTON
WITH WINNING WAYS...

Swishing skirt and newly important wrist-length sleeves pay tribute to your femininity. Cuffs and skirt are set off by a fringe and braid trim of contrasting color. In tan, stone green or brown in washable 100% cotton with ease of entry zipper. Size 5-15

$16.95

BERTHA COOKE

•VISIT• Parkway Bakery
for
FINE BAKERY PRODUCTS
WE SPECIALIZE IN CAKES AND COOKIES
FOR PARTIES....
-PHONE-
224-7539

WELCOME
NEW AND OLD STUDENTS make
BROWN'S PHARMACY
Your drug, cosmetic and gift headquarters-----
We're open 365 days a year.
Free delivery - Free Store-side Parking
441 N. Monroe
PHONE 222-3431
FOUNTAIN AND COFFEE SHOP

Tommy Holland Says:

WELCOME
All F.S.U. Students Teachers and Visitors

We have added to an extensive menu of delici[illegible] Foods the FAMOUS...

Colonel Sanders' Recipe
Kentucky Fried Chicken
"it's Finger-lickin' good"

Served in Our Dining Room or - If You Are Unab[illegible]
To Visit Our Popular Restaurant ... Just
PHONE 222-5542 and PICKUP

Individual Servings	A Family Bucket O' Chicken	A Party Barrel
$1.00	$3.50	$4.85
Distinctive Flavor!	Serves 5 to 7 Persons	Serves 8 to 10 Persons

HOLLAND'S RESTAURANT
106 E. Pensacola - - - - - - - - - - "Across From The Capit[illegible]

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLIX, No. 5 | Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University | Tuesday, September 11, 1962

FSU'S OWN MOONSHINE STILL

. is shown here, operator and all, after it was recreated by state cers for a television broadcast by WFSU-TV. The state officers then ceeded to dismantel it again, under the eyes of the TV cameras.

Dr. James T. Cox Dies

Professor Shoots Himself, Dies of Shotgun Wounds

Dr. James T. Cox, assistant professor of English at FSU, died of self-inflicted shotgun wounds at his home yesterday.

The 41-year-old creative writing teacher had been in ill health for about two years and was hospitalized this summer but had returned to teach classes with the beginning of the fall trimester yesterday.

His wife, the former Jean Hogan, discovered the body when she returned to their home at 1722 Prince St. at about 1:15 p.m. yesterday.

Dr. Cox had been scheduled to teach a junior level creative writing class at 12:40 p.m., but had not arrived for the class. Mrs. Cox had called him about 9:30 a.m. to remind him of the class. Later, when she called at 11:30 a.m., he did not answer the telephone.

Since he had planned to pick her up before the class, she asked friends to take her home. When she arrived, she discovered his body still sitting in a chair in the garage that was being used as a storage room.

A Negro maid working across the street from the Cox residence heard what she believed to be a gunshot about 12:30.

The investigating officer, Deputy Sheriff Grady Smith, arrived at the scene at 1:37 p.m.

No suicide note was found. The coroner was notified and has indicated there will be no inquest.

Dr. Cox had been well known on campus and was one of the main faculty supporters of the "Literary Anthology." He had given a great deal of his own time to help student writers.

"I think he was one of the best teachers I ever saw," Dr. Francis G. Townsend, head of the English Dept., said of Dr. Cox.

"One of the most prominent educators in the South said Dr. Cox was the best teachers of freshman English that he had ever seen." Dr. Townsend recalled.

"I think that he was an outstanding teacher and a very fine scholar. He was always willing to help his colleagues or his students. He was the finest and most sensitive man I ever knew. We will all miss him," the department head said.

The faculty member came to FSU in 1957. Previously he had served as an instructor in English at the University of Iowa, as managing editor of the "Western Review" and as an instructor in English at Clemson.

A native of Lynchburg, Va., he received his A.B. degree from the University of North Carolina, where as an undergraduate he won the coveted Thomas Wolfe Memorial Award for short stories in 1941 and 1942. He received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Iowa.

Among other works of his were "Homesick for a Hanging," published in "Cross Section," 1947 (Simon and Schuster); "This is Sedacek Talking," in "Perspective," Spring, 1957; and "Stephen Crane: Symbolic Naturalist," in "Modern Fiction Studies," Summer, 1957.

In addition to his widow, he is survived by two sons, Charles F. and Christopher H., both high school students.

DR. JAMES T. COX

FSU Grants 43 Fellowships

ree graduate students have ellowships for study at ar.

ships are $1,800 for stulying toward a master's $2,400 for those studying and a doctorate.

holders, degrees they and field of fellowship study, role Bissinger, bachelor's deory, library science; T. Jones, master's degree University of Michigan, hematics; Marvin Elijah Reed, achelor's degree from Stetson ersity, humanities; Hugh Gorachelor's degree from College, physical edu-ce Taylor, master's de- University of South Carogy; Alan Hart Drake, egree from FSU, music Martha Ann Dreadin, degree from FSU, Latin; Brahaney, master's de- Bucknell University, gui- unseling.

hampion, bachelor's de- FSU, government; Frank per, Jr., bachelor's de- FSU, humanities; Donna achelor's degree from economics; James E. Dooley, egree from FSU, music; Whitney Eves, bachelor's de- from FSU, geography; Doreen master's degree from sh.

Harold Hazlett Hosack, bachelor's gree from FSU, engineering ience; Harley Edison Jolley, mas- ee from University of Tenee, American history; Terrie rol Jones, bachelor's degree from ish; Charles A. Kemman, lor's degree from FSU, ac- William P. Love, bache- ee from FSU, science ed- hard C. Lukas, master's m FSU, history.

nie J. McIntyre, bache- ree from FSU, sociology; J. Moloney, bachelor's de- FSU, accounting; Norman master's degree from Uni- f Kansas City, high edu- Myrton A. Packer, master's from Wittenberg, higher education; Andres Petrasovits, master's degree from Comercial DeDeusto, Spain, statistics; Margaret Reiber Stewart, bachelor's degree from University of California, food chemistry.

Harold D. Mixon, bachelor's degree from Southern Baptist Seminary, speech; Charles D. Weller, bachelor's degree from Regis College, criminology and corrections; Jean Hendricks, bachelor's degree from Tifts College, guidance and counseling; David Lee Neuhouser, bachelor's degree from Manchester College, mathematics education; Ronald O. Haak, bachelor's degree from Northwestern University, philosophy.

Ann Lee Morgan, bachelor's degree from Knox College, art history and criticism; William R. Thompson, Ph.D. degree from University of Illinois, library science; Wallace George Brown, master's degree from University of Wichita, speech; Mrs. Mary Jo Danford, bachelor's degree from University of Kentucky, clothing and textiles; Kenwood Glenn Foster, bachelor's degree from Culver Stockton College, social work.

John Edward Roueche, Jr., master's degree from Appalachian State College, higher education; Timothy David Ferguson, bachelor's degree from Phillips University, marriage and family living; Phillip Wayne Edgington, bachelor's degree from North Texas University, social work.

Charles C. Fishburne, Jr., master's degree from University of Maryland, government and politics; Sally Annette Sibley, bachelor's degree From Winthrop College, psychology; Helena P. P. Yeh, undergraduate work at Chung Hsing University, China, accounting; Capt. Charles K. Kyne, Jr., bachelor's degree from U.S. Military Academy at West Point, physics, science education.

State Officers Make Televised Moonshine Raid

A moonshine operation was raided and destroyed by state officers on the FSU campus Thursday evening.

The still was a real one. The raid was a sham operation, staged for the TV cameras.

The 40-gallon capacity still was captured Thursday morning by State Beverage Dept. officers in a wooded area about 40 miles southwest of Tallahassee in north Liberty County. Instead of being destroyed on the spot, as is the usual practice, the rig was transported intact to the FSU campus. Beverage officials and representatives of WFSU-TV spent the greater part of the day re-creating the scene for taping.

SHOWN TONIGHT

Films of the raid will be shown tonight at 8 over WFSU-TV, Channel 11. The program is the first of a new television series, "Government in Action." The programs will show how the public is served by the state and local government.

The still used in the televised raid had probably been in operation for several months, Bill Harris, supervisor for District II of the Beverage Dept., said. One of the two mash cookers was completely burned out. He said the still was the type typically used in the area.

Illegal whiskey costs the state over $50 million a year in unremitted taxes, Information Officer Duke Newcome said. About 25 to 30 percent of all liquor drunk in Florida is unlawful.

UNSANITARY

The real danger to the public, however, is that the illegal spirits are produced under unsanitary conditions, the officers said. Various vermin and foreign materials are found in almost every operation.

Those who run the stills are concerned solely with the profit involved and exercise no care whatsoever in cleanliness, the officers added.

The sham raid was recorded with the new video tape truck which was used for the first time by the station.

Scientists Hold FSU Symposium

Several scientists of international repute will be at FSU today through Friday for a symposium on "Elementary Particles and Quantum Field Theory."

Dr. M.A. Melvin, FSU professor of theoretical physics who has arranged the symposium, said the symposium will open in the conference room of the Nuclear Research Bldg. at 2 p.m. today with a lecture by Dr. Hans Ekstein of Argonne National Laboratory.

Dr. Ekstein will also deliver lectures in that room at 2 p.m. Thursday and Friday on "Rigorous Symmetries of Elementary Particles."

Today and Thursday, symposium lectures will also be held in 124 Science following refreshments at 4 p.m.

The symposium lecture today will be by Dr. Joseph Jauch, an American scientist at CERN (European Center for Nuclear Research) in Geneva. He will lecture on "Superselection and Statistics of Elementary Particles." A panel discussion will follow by Dr. Fritz Coester of the University of Iowa, Dr. Rudolph Haag of the University of Illinois, Dr. Richard Ingraham of the research center of the New Mexico State University, and Dr. Ekstein.

At 4 p.m. Thursday, the symposium will be by Haag on "Foundations of Quantum Field Theory." A panel discussion led by Coester, Ekstein, Ingraham and Jauch will follow.

The symposium, which will be concerned with some of the foundations of modern physics, is open to all interested persons, Melvin said. It is being held with the aid of funds from the National Science Foundation.

See page three for World and State News, today's weather, an important election notice, and further news.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Elections Blues

ELECTION TIME on the FSU campus is a time of tradition. The kind we're talking about is not that which is looked forward to with glowing anticipation and back on with sentimental satisfaction.

Traditionally, FSU has been marked with an extremely poor student voting record. In years past 30-35 percent of eligible voters turned out for student body elections., Fall Freshman Class and senate precinct elections produce only a 15-20 per cent turnout.

Compared to the rest of the student body, Freshman vote in vast numbers and greet campaigning with enthusiasm. But as they become sophomores, juniors and seniors their interest wanes and they join the ranks of the apathetic and uninterested.

It is true the advent of a two party system last spring percipitated one of the largest percentage votes in the University's history. About 36 per cent of the student body voted. But that is little respite, for if history repeats itself, and it many times does, last spring's enthusiasm was just a passing fancy.

BALLOTING FOR fall elections begins with the primary Sept. 25 with runoffs slated Sept. 28. Offices up for grab are Freshman class officers and 38 senatorial precinct seats.

At press time today Secretary of Elections Ron Jones reports precincts 3 (Bryan-Broward), 15 (frat houses), and 16 (frat houses) have failed to produce a candidate. Precincts 5 (East Landis), 6 (West Landis), 7 (Florida), 9 (Magnolia) and 22 (FSO houses) have one candidate each, running with no opposition. Day students have four seats vacant for which three candidates have filed.

Deadline for filing declarations of candidacy is today at 5 p.m. Declarations may be picked up at Longmire main office, first floor.

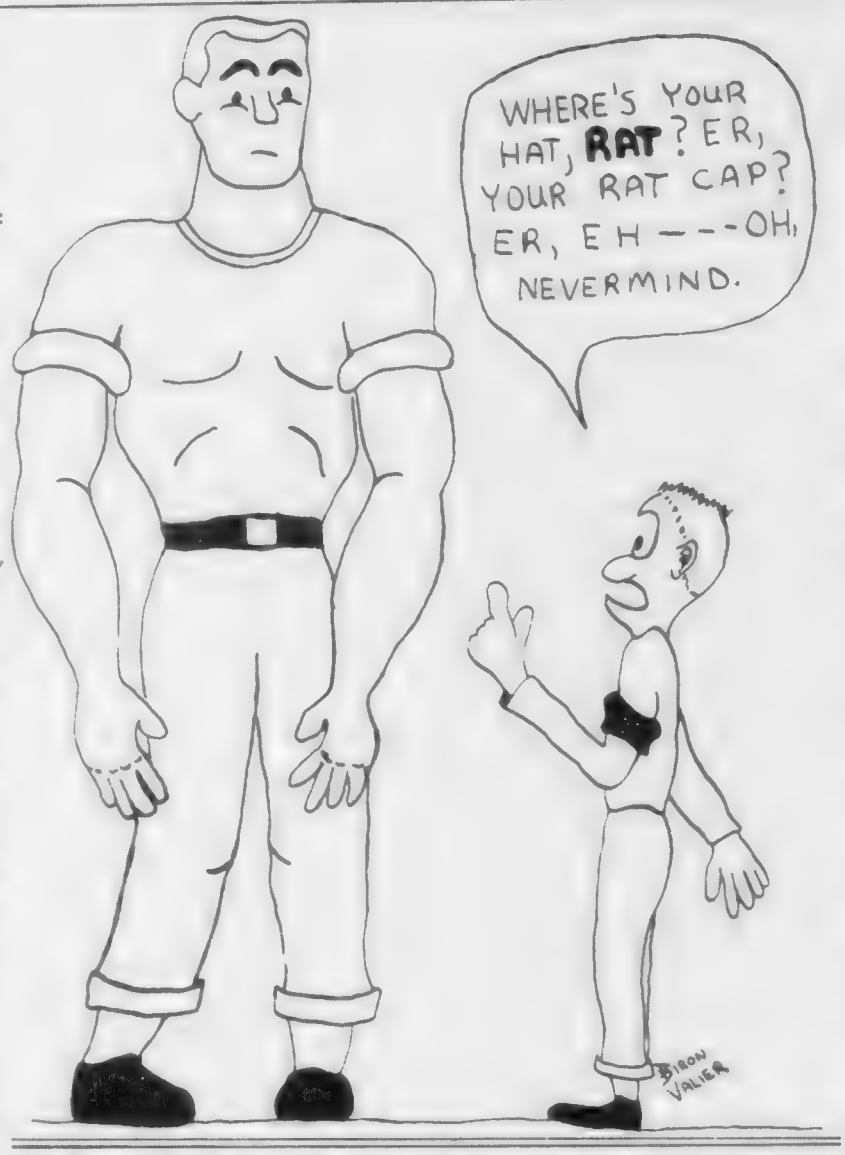
Under student body statutes, any precinct failing to have candidates equal to the number of senators provided for that precinct shall forfeit for that year the right to have a senator.

IN THOSE RACES in which there is one candidate the detrimental effects are obvious. The less competition for a position the lower the quality of the person obtaining the office, and the less he will be bound to serving the wishes of the students.

Pre-campaigning predictions from Sec. of Elections Jones indicates history will again repeat itself. He estimates about 1200 of 2500 Freshmen will cast a ballot.

But for the rest of the student body Jones merely shrugs his shoulders and shakes his head sadly.

OW



Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor; Joan Abbott, News Editor; John Schaffner, Managing Editor; Howard Denson, Sports Editor; Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Asst. Managing Editor.....Jim Smith
Asst. News Editor.....Lana Murray
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clarke, Carl Rosenbush, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens, Matt Straub.
News Staff - Bonnie Shiplett, Hope Pastor, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Jody Wilkis, Maureen Perkins, Pat Freeman, Bill Smart, Mary Gross-Senbacher, Sarah Gordon, Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Duke Mader.
Sports Staff - John Wood, Shirley Hardison.
Feature Staff - Frank Coney, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Dave Kelmeckis, Fred McDonald.
Photographers - John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Dave McNeill
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeither, Greg Grunke, Don Dughi.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

John McCotter

Dye Is Sick Joke

WHY DON'T WE start the year off right? I'll be a crusading columnist and you be a shocked public.

To be a shocked public, you must collect in ominous groups and mumble discontentedly. If we all mumble loudly enough, I might get the Pulitzer prize, or, better yet, Dean's List. But to do this we must have an issue--some grave violation of social standards that is long overdue for correction. I just happen to have such an issue with me.

Very soon now, at least within the next two weeks, a group of our less astute male students will be sitting around with nothing to do. A conversation closely resembling the following will take place:

Garth: (Combing hair on knee) "Jeez, Lobo, what we gonna' do?"

Lobo: Combing hair on palms) "Jeez, Garth, I dunno' ". (Enter Frey, running electric razor over tongue")

Frey: "I gotta great idea, less' t'row dye inna' Westcott pool!"

AND SO IT will start. Beginning with the simple play of some happy-go-lucky primates, the game will be reenacted almost daily, using every color in the rainbow. At first it will seem funny to a few warped people, but by the third time, even the most asinine student will get sick of it.

But it won't stop; it will go on and on and on, boring everyone stiff. The university won't spend hundreds (no exaggeration) of dollars per month on paint and labor for the pool alone. And during Homecoming it will lose any humor it once had.

The only thing that keeps these village idiots in action is the misunderstanding that what they're doing is funny. The logical solution therefore would be to point out to them that the whole thing is a sick joke from beginning to end.

BUT A GREAT smashing campaign would just encourage them to continue to keep the excitement going. No, the only campaign that will really work is an individual one. Last year a certain university official suggested converting the pool into a flower bed. This suggestion is characteristic of the rumblings frequently heard from this particular source, and it would be a shame if we were subjected to such an absurd policy because we were not able to govern ourselves at least in this relatively minor area.

Bob Cornet

Tully Gym Fools Frosh

TULLY GYM, for the past three days, has looked out of place on campus. It looked more like it belonged in a Chicago stockyard.

As the sheep were led to slaughter (the freshmen went through registration), they were assured of the University's concern for their health and were urged to buy insurance. What no one knew was that the money was to be used for lamb barbecue.

When the aspiring chiefs were herded into the gymnasium panic struck. Someone realized the sawdust around the tables was exactly the same as that used in butcher shops!

THINGS WENT WELL at the first table, whose purpose was clearly defined as Station 1. Here a blue card (a used target for the rifle team) received a blue smudge mark which seemed to be quite important. It read: USDA CHOICE.

Hidden away so as not to offend the more aesthetic minded students (nothing is worse than an offensive lamb chop), was the next area--the fee's desk. Here the victims worldly possessions are taken so that in the event he is on the food plan next week there won't be a court battle in probating his will.

CLASS CARDS, clever these Americans, using such an inoffensive name for this masterful "softening chamber." The sheep become so confused here they gladly give their all for FSU.

Incidentally, the roast mutton in the Seminole Room is quite good.

Ben Sharp

State Demos Miss Issue

State Democratic leaders paused amid their mad whirl of golf [illegible] and cocktail parties to take a look at the international situation, specifically Cuba, this weekend.

Occasion was the annual fun-fest in Daytona Beach known in state political circles as the Democratic caucus.

Announced intent of this meeting was to select Rep. Mallory [illegible] Tallahassee as Democratic nominee for Speaker of the House of Representatives. Horn, who has had enough committments to insure this [illegible] for over a year, graciously accepted the mandate of his peers.

The state leaders then tangled the intricacies of international politics by calling on Congress President John Kennedy to [illegible] all necessary steps to eliminate whatever means possible the Communist threat in Cuba."

The reason for the document is obvious. Certainly the state leaders must protect weak, little Florida, protected only by massive Air Force bases in Orlando, Homestead, Tampa, and Pensacola, from the aggressive hoards of bearded Cuban soldiers who threaten our fair state.

But it is a shame that the state leaders did not take a little more time to advise Kennedy and Congress on just exactly what steps should be taken to eliminate the Communist threat.

But, without this valuable help the President is perplexed.

Cuba, no doubt, is a serious problem in United States foreign policy. The island, under Castro dictation, is a sore of Communism. It has Communist weapons, Communist ideologies, and Communist techniques. Cuba is located much too close to the United States for comfort.

But though Communist dominated Cuba is a sovereign country. Except for the recent shooting at American Navy planes, Cuba has done nothing more than shout names at its neighbor to the north. To attack Cuba now, as the state leaders apparently were urging, would be to violate the sovereignity of that nation.

In attacking the island, the United States would be violating its self-avowed policy of fighting only when attacked first. Such a violation would put the United States in the same class with the Soviet Union when it rumbled tanks into Hungary to take over that country.

Had Cuba actually hit the [illegible] planes, then Kennedy would have had a reason for taking military action. Or, if Castro attacked another member of the OAS, the United States, as an OAS member, might take action at the request of the attacked member. But under the existing circumstances, the President must wait for an opening.

However, it might just well be that the weekend in the Daytona Beach sun has provided state leaders with the necessary creativity to overcome these thorny international questions and they now know what specific steps to take in Cuba.

If so, it is their duty as American citizens to spell out their new findings to the President.

But if they are content to view the Cuban situation in terms of generalities and meaningless resolutions state Democratic leaders might do well to devote even more of their time to frolic and leave thorny international problems to those who have studied the situation--President Kennedy, for instance.

FSU Film Series Begin

Campus Movies

...r schedule of cam-
...s Thursday night
...wing of "Don't Go Near
...ater," starring Glenn Ford,
...ancis, Earl Holliman and Gia

...ing of this movie
...riday night. All
...ies will be shown at
... in Westcott Auditorium.
...mission fee of 25¢
...r all movies. Any
...s will be applied toward the
... two new projec-

...r movies to be shown this fall
...pt. 21 and 22, "Sayonara,"
... Marlon Brando, Patricia
... Red Buttons; Sept. 27
...hree Faces of Eve,"
...dward, David Way-
..., Cobb; Oct. 5 and 6,
...net." Walter Pid-
...ls and Leslie Niel-

... and 13, "Gigi," Leslie
... Jourdan, Maurice
... Eva Gabor; Oct. 19
... Man Who Knew Too
... Stewart and Doris
... and 17, "The Bro-
...," Yul Brynner,
Schell, Claire Bloom, Lee J.
... 23 and 24, "Gentlemen's
... regory Peck, J. Gar-
Dorothy McGuire, Celeste

...ts, University personnel and
...amilies may attend these mov-

... drinks and smoking are not
... Westcott Auditorium.

☆ ☆

Film Club Series Set

Tickets may be obtained now by mail for the 1962-63 season of the FSU Film Club, Dr. George A. Lensen announced today.

The first showing of the new season will be in Westcott Auditorium at 8 p.m., Sept. 25, when "Royal Affairs in Versailles," a French classic, will be presented. The film stars Sacha Guitry, Claudette Colbert, Orson Welles and Jean-Pierre Aumont.

All foreign language films have English subtitles.

Season tickets are $3, and may be obtained by writing FSU Box U-3049. Tickets also will be available at Westcott Ticket Office beginning Sept. 17, and at the entrance to the auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 25.

Other film classics scheduled for this year are: Oct. 9, "Nights of Cabiria," Italian; Oct. 23, "Panic in the Parlor," British; Oct. 30, "The Seventh Seal," Swedish; Nov. 27, "The Affair Blum", German; Dec. 4, "Bullfight," Spanish.

Jan. 15, "Oscar Wilde," British; Jan. 22, "The Men Who Tread on the Tiger's Tail," Japanese; Feb. 12, "The Scandals of Clochemerle," French; March 5, "The World of Apu," Indian; March 19, "Border Street," Polish; April 2, "A Lesson in Love," Swedish; April 9, "Ikiru", Japanese.

May 7, "Rosemary," German; May 21, "The Roof," Italian; June 11, "The Red and the Black," French.

Today's News Roundup

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ACROSS THE NATION

...INGTON - The Senate has passed and sent to President Kennedy an ...ecession measure. It authorizes the President to spend $900 million ...ic works projects in depressed areas during the next year. The ... will be on projects that can be started quickly.

...INGTON - The Atomic Energy Commission announced tonight that ...ted States will resume its nuclear test series in the Pacific some...ter Sept. 22. The announcement of the resumption of atmospheric ...ame in a joint announcement of the Atomic Energy Commission and ...s.

...N - The President has signed into law a bill designed to safe... Dept. buying when it is done without competitive bidding. ...ew law requires contractors to certify in greater detail the cost esti... they submit. About 80 percent of military buying is done by negoti... contracts rather than competitive bidding. The new bill voices the ... Congress that competitive bids be used wherever possible.

...N - The Senate Armed Services Committee has approved ... Kennedy's request for standby authority to summon 150,000 ...s to duty in case of a Communist threat while Congress is in ...s. The resolution is expected to win swift passage in both Senate and ...

...HINGTON - The House has passed a bill to provide $3 million a year ...hree years in grants for health clinics for migratory farm workers. ...asure now goes back to the Senate.

..., WASHINGTON - Two men telephoned the Spokane, Washing... Office late yesterday and said they had located the wreckage ...giant ... tanker. The Air Force said earlier the plane was carrying ... The report to the Sheriff's Office said there were some bodies ...e of the wreck, on the east side of Mount Spokane about 20 miles ...ty. But it was not known immediately whether all aboard were ... or if there were some survivors.

AROUND THE STATE

...E CANAVERAL - Project Mercury bosses have postponed the plan... six-orbit space journey of Astronaut Walter Schirra for three days, to ... more time for preparation. The new blastoff date is Sept. 28 from ... Canaveral.

...RSBURG, FLORIDA - Pinellas County officials report four new ... sleeping sickness. This boosted the county's total to 177 since the ... started in July. Thirteen have died.

Education Is Confused By Television Classes

BY BRUCE TIBBO

Flambeau Photo Editor

The second trimester freshman English students entered their classroom in the History Bldg. Some shuffled around the room restlessly, others found their seats and began to copy the assignment written on the blackboard.

The turmoil of the first day settled when the professor entered and began collecting IBM class cards from each student. The confusion became more organized and the class was underway. The professor introduced himself and explained the scope of the course.

While the preliminaries were being run through, class members began to notice the presence of two television sets at the front of the room. The instructor explained these would be used as instructional aids each Monday for the remainder of the session.

A large clock on the TV screen counted down toward the start of the program. Tension mounted as many of the new students were awaiting the start of their first TV class in English 102.

The screen flashed as the change of pictures occurred. A man seated at a simulated desk in the TV studio smiled and faced the camera as the introductory music and ceremonies commenced.

Across his face flashed the letters, "Welcome to English 101." And the professor on camera repeated the warm invitation to the English 102 students.

The classroom instructor rushed out of the room, down the hall to the nearest phone and proceeded to correct the quite obvious error.

A few minutes later the screen went blank as the video tapes were switched.

In a moment the proper tape was being aired for the students and soon they were engrossed in an interesting lecture on the proper subject, English 102.

Today's Weather

Tallahassee Weather Bureau

Fair, with partly cloudy skies showing a slight chance of afternoon showers. Temperatures will be in the low 90's.

Fall Candidates Meeting Is Set In Longmire

The compulsory meeting of all candidates who have filed for Freshman Class or precinct senator posts has been rescheduled for tonight at 8 in Longmire Auditorium.

The meeting time was changed because of the conflict with the Upper Class Women's Convocation in Westcott at 7 p.m.

The Elections Committee will meet today at 5 p.m. in the Longmire Cabinet office to set rules for off-campus campaigning.

Authority for making these rules was given by all owners or managers of the various eating establishments and book stores around the campus and by the Senate.

The regulations will be made in order to give each candidate an equal chance for poster space and to prevent fire hazards in the privately owned establishments.

Today

The Rev. Francois Houtart, director of the Catholic Religious Sociology Research Center, Brussels, will speak at the faculty luncheon at 12:30 in the Suwannee Room. His topic will be "The Past, Present, and Future of Roman Catholicism in Latin America: Sociological Appraisal."

* * * * *

The Upper Class Women's Convocation will be at 7 p.m. in Westcott.

* * * * *

The Home Economics Club will meet at 7 p.m. in the Sandels Lounge.

The compulsory meeting for all candidates in the fall Student Government election will be at 8 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

* * * * *

The Rev. Francois Houtart will lecture on "The Second Vatican Council: Prospects for the Renewal of the Roman Catholic Church and the Unity of All Christians" at 8:15 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

* * * * *

Sophomore Council will meet at 9 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

SCULPTURE EXHIBITION
RALPH HURST
Extended 'til Thursday, September 13th

PAINTING EXHIBITION
TOM ALLEN
Beginning September 16th

MONDAY-FRIDAY 9:00-1:30

the little gallery
THE LEWIS STATE BANK

SCALP EM -- Howard Denson

Despite Clouds, A Good Feeling

Going through the wire gate to the Florida State football practice field, you can see a narrow, rectangular sign saying, "Go-Go-Go," in garnet letters and on a gold field.

A "Go" for each of the three teams, you think as you step over a small strip of asphalt.

A little further ahead, you can, at this moment, make out a myriad of moving colors--red, blue, green, white, garnet, gold. The colors are rushing, stopping, diving, falling, and jumping on a field of brightest green, which is marred only by a few indistinct white parallel lines, spectators wearing clashing colors, coaching apparatus, muddy grass growing near a leaky water pipe, and two brown paths beaten out by the tires of automobiles, leading to a tan tent.

Overhead, the sky is gray--bluish gray, signalling that a storm is due. Occasionally, a quiet, but thunderous, grumble from above will compete with the shouts of the players and coaches below.

Perhaps, you muse, the sky is an omen of what is to come in the future, and you look at the athletes to see if they've noticed this. Sharply, the colors strike your eyes against the green grass--like bright lights bouncing from reflecting mirrors.

The football players, however, aren't noticing this, but are applying themselves to their respective tasks. Not divided into teams, they practice passing, pass blocking, rushing, blocking,etc. in several sections.

That Extra Push

One gridder squats down, ready to block three teammates that will charge at him. He steps to one side and stops them...all three, and he is praised for his thinking by the assistant coach standing near. He succeeds the second time, but is berated severely when he fails on the third try. A push from behind, applied helpfully and harmfully by a coach's foot, gives him that extra momentum to stop the three again as they charge on the fourth and fifth attempts.

Tired, he is relieved. "Good job," the coach says, but the blocker probably thinks of the reprimand.

And so it goes.

Eventually, Coach Peterson comes to the sideline, and takes off his hat while a slight breeze from the rain-threatening sky swishes lightly over the field.

He has bad news. You knew that, but it is worse than you expected--one player is lost for the season.

"We thought we had a good ball club before all these injuries came along," he says. Things were turbulent now, however, and you knew that the staff is sweating out every torn tendon and sore shoulder.

"Some of the sophomores are going to have to really come through for us...and the veterans will have to double up on some spots," he continues.

Calling Dr. Kildare

Then, like a Dr. Kildare checking the conditions of patients in a hospital ward, you run down the list of the injured.

"Out for the season.

"Should be well tomorrow.

"Expect him to be ready Monday.

"May miss one game."

He says the three-team system will be used against The Citadel, and you quit your questioning, while he walks over to one of the sections. After checking one gridder's condition once again, you turn and survey the various sections of the field.

A siren-like device howls, while an assistant turns a crank. And once again you hear thunder. A small, quick streak of lightning spits through a small section of the sky.

On the sidelines are the fans. One hasn't missed a practice, drill, game, what-have-you for many years--except for one period when a coach unerringly locked him out. "He's part of the staff," Peterson says to those who ask. Others watching are the regulars...some are new and carry their two-colored rat caps in their hands.

The injured hobble about on crutches or casts... or both. You see the blond pass receiver, the red-headed and determined end, a speedy halfback with tape around his foot. You've missed someone, but while trying to remember if they all hurt the same leg or foot, you forget.

Nearby is an old working companion, sitting on the ground smoking a pipe and watching the offensive rushing drills.

It thunders again and you wonder if you'll make it back to the office before it rains, but still you talk.

You fill him in on the injured, although he already knew 90 percent of it.

That Good Feeling

Several minutes later in the conversation, he says, "It's getting so that I just live from game to game."

You agree that it's a fine, interesting sport.

"I've got a good feeling about this team," he says.

The reasons why are the attitudes and abilities of the athletes. His concerns, of course, are the injuries.

"Strange how a run can get started on a position," he says.

Hearing "run," you know you've got to; in order to report the drills, so you leave a moment later.

The sky grumbles again, but it doesn't rain on the way to the office... nor for the next 12 hours. So you quit counting.

Maybe that's an omen also.

Now you have a good feeling too.

KEITH KINDERMAN (26) PLOWS THROUGH . . . freshman defenses for a substantial gain. The halfback scored three touchdowns in Saturday's scrimmage. (Photo by Emmette Jackson)

Coach Announces Final Lineup

After viewing a game-like scrimmage last Saturday afternoon, Head Coach Bill Peterson said there would be no changes in positions.

During the next four days before Saturday's opener against The Citadel Bulldogs in Doak S. Campbell Stadium, the Tribe will drill in teams instead of sections.

The Chiefs, the offensive unit, will feature John McConnaughhay, 6-0 senior from Ocala, and returner Jim Causey, at ends. Jim Sims, a 205-pound Georgian, and Tom Slicker, a 6-2, 220-pound Ohioan will down tackles, while Chuck Robinson, a 5-11 junior, and team captain Gene McDowell, a 22-year-old senior from Waycross, Ga., will handle guards.

Senior Bruce Darsey of Largo returns to his old position at center.

Eddie Feely, the foxy 5-7 speedster from Gainesville, will quarterback the team, while the other backfield positions will go to fullback Marion Roberts, a 19-year-old Georgian; halfback Keith Kinderman, a 205-pound senior from Illinois; and halfback Ken Russom, a 21-year-old senior from Gainesville.

The Renegades, the defensive unit, will be manned by end Butch Gunter from Dothan, Alabama; and end Bill Dawson from Valdosta, Ga. Tackles will be handled by Bill Tyre, a 6-2 senior from Sanford; and Avery Sumner, a 210-pounder from Adel, Ga. Jacksonville junior, Bill Daly, will down center.

The 5-10 Charlie Calhoun will command the Renegades, while other backs will be 6-0 Larry Brin[n] half, the 179-pound Tom Hill at half, and 20-year-old Dave [S] at fullback.

The two-way outfit, the War[riors] will consist of the following li[ne]

Sophomore Don Floyd of M[iami] and sophomore Hank Sytsma [of] sota at ends; sophomore Dale [Mc]Kenzie of Clearwater and 220 [pound] Mike Blazovich at tackles; [sophomore] Jerry Bruner of Indiana and T[om] John Levings at guard; and [sophomore] year-old Tampan Jack Edwar[ds] center.

The Warriors' backfield w[ill be] handled by sophomore Steve [Tensi] from Cincinnati at quarterbac[k] Loftin of Pensacola and soph[omore] Winfred Bailey at halfs; and [sophomore] Roberts at fullback.

WRA Has Starte[d] Mural Organizatio[n]

The Women's Recreation As[so]tion has begun to organize the in[tra]mural seasons for the first two [se]mesters, under the direction of their [new] president, Marie Thorpe.

Each trimester will feature tw[o in]dividual sports seasons, and th[ree] four sports will be included [in a] season. Each sport will be l[ed] separately by people who are i[n]ested, plus Miss Martha Moore [who] acts as advisor for WRA.

Three sports managers for t[he] season met yesterday after[noon] dictate the policies for each [of] intramural chairmen, who wil[l] their first meeting tomorrow [at] noon.

LOUIS' Seafare

Welcomes all FSU Students and Faculty. We would like to welcome you with the following specials. . . . . INTRODUCING !!!!!!!

LOUIS' SPECIAL CHICKEN BOX
3 pieces (no choice), Hush puppies
Coleslaw, and French Fries
$1.00

Regular Scallop Box $1.25 (regular price $1.45)
Regular Flounder Box $1.00 (regular price $1.30)

WE FEATURE OVER 18 DIFFERENT ITEMS TO CARRY-OUT IN OVER 50 DIFFERENT SIZES.

"A BANQUET IN A BOX"

LOUIS' Seafare

620 W. TENNESSEE ST. PHONE 224-1181

134 Candidates File For Fall Elections

By SUSIE RHOADES
Flambeau Staff Writer

One hundred thirty-four students have filed declarations of candidacy for the 38 available offices in Fall freshman and Senate elections. Filing closed at 5 p.m. yesterday.

andidates [illegible] withdraw until Sept.
. Active [illegible]ming begins Sept.
at [illegible] primary election
Sept. 25.

All candidates attended a compulsory meeting last night and were given rules for active campaigning by the Elections Committee yesterday.

No campaign material of any kind will be allowed on city property. Sorority and fraternity houses will make their own regulations concerning publicity.

No campaign material is allowed in the building formerly known as [illegible] without written permission from the owner. On all other establishments off campus signs 12" by 18" each, [illegible] per candidate. Only one sign, no longer than five feet and no wider than three feet shall be [illegible] on each building per candidate.

CANDIDATES

The final list of those who have filed is as follows:

Freshman Class: president, Charles DeFoor, Francis A. DeTure, Joel M. DeVolentine, Lief Erickson, Gary Hays, Bob Moon, John Perry Thomas and Guy "Darry" Wood; vice president, James Butler, John Green, Duke Mader and Gene Stearns.

Secretary, Louise Beddingfield, Anne Orum, Nancy Meyers, and Barbara Jane Walker; treasurer, Karl Beck, Margaret DeHoff, Carl J. Domino, Nancy Harris and and Michele Purdy; social chairman, Margaret Marsden, Susie Peters, "Rusty" Seabolt and "Stormy" Thurmond.

Men's senator's (two), Chuck Beck, Bob Hays, Jerry Huegel, Pete Johnson, Robert Lee, Pete Nealing, George Partin, George R. Rinhart and "Sparky" Sparkman; women's senator's (two) Ida May Barber, Candy Clifford, Cathy Cochran, Nancy Dale, Dot Fish, Susan Foxworth, Susan Worley and Katherine Young.

Precincts: 1. Mary Arliskas, Jane Franzino, Joanne Griffin, Carole Higginbotham, Camilla Kilgroe, Marsha Love, Nancy May and Margaret Lynn Patterson; 2. Sheila Appleby, Nancy Aunspaugh, Donna Futral, Jean Norman and Pat Sauer; 3. Patricia Johns, Beverly Josephson, Barbara McDonald, Linda McGuirt, Kathy Russe and Jeanie Williamson.

4. Barbara Brandon, Karen Chambers, Caryl Giffin, Carol Gresimer, Rita McCann, Diane McLaughlin, John T. Riggins, Paula Tucker and Dee Williams; 5. Joyce Killian; 6. Carole Renfroe and Joann Ruth; 7. Sandra Brooks; 8. Mary Ann Kinney, Judie Miller and Anne Williams; 9. Laurie Crawley and Mickie Neumann; 10. Kathy Adkins and Ruth Doyle.

11. Pat Curry, Sharon Dunn, Susan Finchner, Cheryl Pittman and Sharon Stewart; 12 (two senators) Dick Acosta, Jeff Andrews, Louis Barnett, Ted De La Vergne, Gaines Pickett, Ken Porter and Carl M. Sugarman. 13. (two senators) William H. (Bill) Caldwell, Charles Intriago, Bill McCarron, John Merting and George Miller.

14. (four senators) Bob Barden, Bill Branch, Connie Carroll, Marshall Gifford, Diane Gilbert, John B. Herndon, Guy Hollingsworth, Dennis Lanahan, Robert J. Schramm and Susan Wharton; 15. Miles Williams.

16. Woody Benson and Mike Thackston; 17. Frank M. Ryll Jr.; 18. Krene Lopez, Mary Lundale, Jean Sauer, Boots Ratteree and Mary Lois Stone; 19. Barbara Daniel, Jean Edmonson, and Suzie Miller.

20. Linda Luna, Linda Robertson and Suzanne Treadwell; 21. Don Dughi and Mike Green; 22. Jennifer Newcomer and Barbara Vadnais; 23. Richard Sanders and Otis Wragg; and 24. Gerry Dobson, Jim White and Clark Wyllie.

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLIX, No. 6 Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University Wednesday, September 12, 1962

Tanner Seeks To Ease FSU's Football Traffic

How to ease the tangled traffic around Doak Campbell stadium before and after home football games was the theme of a meeting held by University Security Officer William Tanner last week.

Tanner stressed the fastest way for people who live on or near [illegible] to the game is to walk. He suggested that those students who live out of walking distance and have to travel by car would find it easier and quicker to get to and from the stadium if they would park in the Tully Gymnasium parking lot.

He also suggested that if more people double or triple dated when taking their cars, the traffic situation would be relieved. He pointed out that the walk through Games Woods from the Tully Gym lot is short and well marked.

Tanner praised those groups who have chartered city buses to and from the stadium, thereby easing the strain on police and other drivers in trying to control the traffic.

Attending the meeting were representatives of the Florida Highway Patrol, the Tallahassee Police Dept., the Florida Highway Patrol Auxiliary and the Campus Police. All of these law enforcement bodies cooperate on the nights of games in the stadium to keep traffic flowing.

Schedule Set At Reservation

[illegible]servation, the Univer[illegible]ated on Lake Bradford [illegible] campus, is open [illegible]rough Friday from [illegible]sunset.

n Saturdays and Sundays the camp open from 10 a.m. to sunset. camp is closed on Mondays. [illegible] Reservation are open groups of 10 ormore students d may be reserved for informal [illegible] weekend parties.

abins contain dormitory sleeping ters, kitchen, juke box, piano lounge. Recreation equipment [illegible]ked out from Mrs. Ruth [illegible] camp hostess.

[illegible] faculty and staff may use [illegible]t, weather permitting. [illegible] facilities are open Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. until [illegible] and from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m. [illegible]cept Mondays.

Small craft are available for a nall fee to persons who comply th requirements to use them. urther information about the Reservation may be obtained from Mrs. Kalb, 222-2212. Reservations for of cabins or for large picnics [illegible] through the office of pecial Events, Ext. 2860.

Tests Given New Students

The Minnesota Counseling Inventory will be administered to freshmen and newly transfered students who failed to take the test during orientation tomorrow at 7 p.m. in [illegible] 124 Science.

This is one of two tests required of all entering students.

DR. ALBERT L. STRUM MAKES A CASE STUDY . . . of the work of Michigan's Constitutional Convention. Here he looks over the manuscript of his work which will be made in book form to be used by the Michigan voters in their election in April. Dr. Sturm is director of FSU's Institute of Governmental Research.

Sturm Is Given Govt. Research Director's Post

Several hundred pages of manuscript in an FSU file drawer are going into a book which will inform Michigan voters about the new constitution on which they will vote in April.

The case study of the several months' work on Michigan's Constitution Revision Commission takes no sides on whether voters should adopt the new basic charter but its author, Dr. Albert Lee Sturm of FSU, says he probably would vote for adoption if he were in Michigan.

For the benefit of champions of the new constitution who want to take the stump, for the benefit of opponents also, and for the benefit of students of government who want to follow one of the major constitutional revision efforts of this century, "Constitution Making in Michigan, 1961-1962" will be published around the first of the year by the Institute of Public Administration of the University of Michigan.

Before the 50-year-old Sturm, a well known political scientist, had left his job of professor at the University of West Virginia last January to go to Michigan he had accepted from FSU an offer to become director of the Institute of Governmental Research at FSU, beginning in September.

Although it is too soon to say what direction FSU's institute will take Sturm said after a week on the job that he "would like to see it devote more attention to basic research related to the fundamental problems affecting the state of Florida."

There are needs, he says, for "studies of basic constitutional problems" and of some of the governmental problems related to Florida's fast growth in recent years, to problems of metropolitan areas, and to such developments as those at Cape Canaveral.

His publications include several books, among them "Metods of State Constitutional Reform" (Michigan Governmental Studies No. 28, 1954) and he is co-author of "The Constitution and the Executive," a monograph used in the current Michigan effort.

He's been on the editorial boards of "Journal of Politics" and "American Political Science Review" and in 1954-55 was a consultant to the Task Force on Water Resources and Power, Second Hoover Commission.

Student Senate Plans First Session Of Year

The first session of the 1962-63 FSU Student Senate will be held at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the Main Student Lounge of Longmire, reported Johnny Smith, vice-president of the student body and president of Student Senate.

The session will be of an introductory nature, he added, and visitors may attend. Smith stressed the importance to all students, especially those interested in student government, of getting acquainted with the Senate as a functicning representative of the student populaton.

The Senate will take action on one or two bills which have been introduced and will consider appointments made by Student Body President Ken Van Assenderp, Smith said.

Voting members of the Senate, as it convenes tomorrow, will be class senators who were elected last year for this term and only those precinct senators who still are living in the same precincts as last year.

DR. JAMES T. COX

Memorial Services Set For Tomorrow

Memorial Services for Dr. James T. Cox will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. at the Episcopal Chapel of the Resurrection at Ruge Hall on the FSU campus.

The services are open to all who wish to attend.

The assistant professor of English died Monday.

The Rev. George Bedell, Episcopal chaplain at Ruge Hall, will officiate at the memorial services.

Occuring simultaneously with the memorial services will be funeral services in Lynchburg and interment at Big Island, Va.

Dr. Cox is survived by his widow, the former Jean Hogan, and by two sons, Charles F. and Christopher H.

The family has requested that flowers be omitted.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Take Opportunity

When Dean of Women Katherine Warren and Dr. R. R. Oglesby, dean of students, announced their willingness to extend the eligible chaperones list to include senior women, reactions varied among the students.

One prevailing opinion is that the "Apartment Bill," which would have allowed coeds to visit men's apartments in groups of three after signing out, should have been passed by the administration. Others feel that the compromise is as good as the bill, and some even think the new plan is better than the original suggestion.

Fact is that although the compromise does not grant complete freedom to students, it entrusts them with more responsibility than they have ever had before in conducting their own social activities. The new plan is, in essence, a severe test of the maturity of all FSU students, not just the chaperones.

If no one registers parties, the administration has no choice but to believe off-campus parties are orgy-type affairs which no "reliable" women would attend. This, of course, is not true. Sponsors of the "Apartment Bill" were among the top student leaders on campus. They were willing to carry their fight for more student responsibility directly to the deans' offices.

The only reason for withholding freedom from an individual, especially a young one, is the threat of "what might happen." Since most students are minors, the University is still responsible for the consequences of our misdeeds. If police are called to quiet parties and stop property damage, townspeople say, "Why don't they do something about those kids?"

If "those kids" prove they can have fun without wandalism, and that they can drink without becoming wild and destructive, no one will object to parties. Good taste, while it varies with the individual, is not too difficult to define when it comes to large social gatherings. Alcohol in moderation is accepted in modern American society, but drunkenness is not. The difference between moderation and excessiveness with alcohol is usually apparent to any observer.

Since state beverage laws prohibit those under 21 years of age from buying or possessing alcoholic beverages, the university cannot be expected to do otherwise.

Certainly FSU students do not yet have complete freedom in their actions, but if they take this opportunity to prove they do not need constant supervision, they may finally gain the stature and independence of adults.

TD

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor; Joan Abbott, News Editor; John Schaffner, Managing Editor; Howard Denson, Sports Editor; Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Asst. Managing Editor.....Jim Smith
Asst. Nesw Editor.....Lana Murray
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clarke, Carl Rosenbush, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens, Matt Straub.
News Staff - Bonnie Shiplett, Hope Pastor, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Jody Wilkis, Maureen Perkins, Pat Freeman, Bill Smart, Mary Gros-Senbacher, Sarah Gordon, Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Duke Mader.
Sports Staff - John Wood, Shirley Hardison.
Feature Staff - Frank Coney, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Dave Kelmeckis, Fred McDonald.
Photographers - John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Dave McNeill
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeither, Greg Grunke, Don Dughi.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Georgiana Fry Bateman

'You Know, It's Strange'

James T. Cox was a short little fellow who bobbed as he walked. His face was friendly, but his penetrable eyes were sad.

Wherever he was seen on campus he was generally carrying a thick, worn briefcase which contained penciled or typed pages manuscripts and his textbooks for teaching. Some time during the semester you could always be sure copies of Ford Mattox Ford's "The Good Soldier" or Stephan Crane's "The Red Badge of Courage" were in the leather case--for as his students soon learned, these were two of his favorite books.

Students flocked to registration to get in one of Dr. Cox's classes. Many were turned away to the tune, "Sorry, that section's already filled." Some would go to him and cry on his shoulder to be let in anyway. Often he would consent.

He was an excellent teache... extremely enthusiastic. Some... ings he'd spring into the cla... after no sleep at all the pr... night because he'd had so... symbolic insight into Fau... "As I Lay Dying" or Hemi... "Farewell to Arms," and he'... ed awake thinking about it.

"Listen," he'd say, as he ... Indian style on top of his ... let's examine the book thi... Tehn puffing one of his endle... of cigarettes, he'd proceed to... the direction the class dis... would take that day.

He rarely deviated from t... ture at hand. But on a few occ... social issues would rile hi... point he'd have to let off ... steam.

It was then his students lea... views on state legislatur... thought most lawmakers, p... larly in the South, acted f... and unwisely); academic f... (on occasions he felt thwart... cial injustices and creepin... ship of the press.

But these days were rar... sions, for he had a keen s... responsibility and love for te...

The writing classes under ... torage seemed to be his fa... They too were informally con... Sometimes the class met und... trees behind the history bu... rather than in an assigned ... Often they met at night.

Regardless of how badly w... some student's poem or short ... was, he generally made con... tive criticisms about it.

If a student's manuscript s... promise, he was most encour... He always took time from hi... schedule to help the student re...

(continued on page 3)

Leslie Powell

All You Can Ask

Dr. Jim Cox is dead.

That sentence contains the most cruel, irrevocable word in the English language. It seems harsh, but it embodies the integrity of the man it calls to mind.

Dr. Jim Cox was all the things Florida State University ordinarily does not offer its students. He had integrity, he had fortitude, he had courage; courage of his convictions, courage of heart and mind, and the kind of courage that allows sensitive, intelligent, generous men to go on until they are no longer able to face the hypocrisy and double dealing that makes up the "standard life."

Among the many things Dr. Cox was not was standard. He had time for student problems....academic or personal. He gave students his time, his interest, his affection and his guidance. He was a minority.

We shall miss Dr. Jim Cox. He was instrumental in the revival of student interest in writing...even among students who were never fortunate enough to have one of his courses. And better, Dr. Cox was man enough to admit that he could still learn from his students. He knew us; he knew our problems; our anxieties; our limitations.

He guided, goaded, led, pushed, inspired, and encouraged many students to greater efforts in writing than they ever dreamed they could reach. Reach back in your memory: Mark Austin, Sean Cleary, Claudia Thonnard, Dorothy Reedy, Leslie Lowell, Sue Lowell, Evan Bergman, and on and on and on. Virginia Delavin, Georgianne Fry, Pat Senn, Don Doughi; the list is endless, Dr. Cox found and developed the latent talent in us.

When a man dies we wonder why? But do we want to know? Possibly no. Actually we don't. It is just as well that we are aware that he was among us for a few years. All we can hope, and the highest compliment we can pay Dr. Cox is to remember him for the confidence he placed in us. We loved him; we hope he loved us. In such a case as this, officialdom doesn't matter.

Dr. Jim was ours...he belonged to the students...we belonged to him. That's all you can ask of an instructor.

Allan Dermott

Dialectical Materialism Is. . .

Just recently I have been asking students what they thought Dialectical Materialism is. One student replied, "It is a--well it is a--well you know what it is." Another answered, "It is the philosophy of Communism." Still another added, "It is a materialism which is dialectical."

It is apparent that not only most college students don't know what Dialectical Materialism is, but, most Americans don't know either. Before this can be illustrated, we must understand the topic.

Karl Marx adopted the basic slogan of the German philosopher, gan of the German philosopher, Feuerbach: "Man is what he eats. We are matter in motion, nothing more." We can see that this is still the Communists' concept, when Mao Tse-tung, a student of Marx's works, said in 1956: "There is nothing in the world except matter in motion." Because these statements deny the existence of a spiritual, inner being, which most people call the soul, we refer to this type of philosophy as being materialistic. Most Americans understand this. What they don't understand is what is meant by "dialectical."

Marx took the dialectic of the nineteenth century German philosopher, Hegel, and married it to Feuerbach's materialism. This brought to materialism, as Dr. Fred Schwarz states, an "element of devotion, sacrifice, initiative, and purpose." Why? We must look at the two main features of the dialectic.

The first is progress. The Communists believe that "progress is at the heart of change," as Schwarz states it. They believe that the best lies in the future and that this best can be brought about only by Communism. When Americans don't understand why Khrushchev doesn't look at America and repent, they don't understand this feature of Communist dialectics. It is apparent that Mr. K. is aware of America's "present" wealth and power, when he said, "Anyone who does not know that America is rich and strong is unbelievably stupid."

The second feature is the dialectical nature of progress. The Communists don't head straight toward their goal. Although it is fixed and changeless, they approach it t... a series of forward-backwar... going directly away from it m... the time. In other words-... steps forward, two steps ba... this way confusion and frustr... added to those trying to ... them. The Berlin situation i... fect example.

Remember that Dialectica... terialism is not just a fanc... for the Soviets' philosophy. W... understand it in order to fi...

Ratus Freshmanus

by Lee Gray

After years of espionage and subversive planning, they suddenly stream from every small-town nook and cranny, descending upon our serene and stately ivy-covered walls.

Halls rock with the noise of their invasion, gothic spires teeter from their vibration,
timid students seek peace in library hermitation.

The staff rolls out prepared defenses, arm-banded armies fight the battle with lipstick, dunkings, cherry-pie facials.

The rat formations are submitted to mental hurdles unrelented, brains washed of knowledge uncommitted.

Seminole Food Service does its part, stalling the rats until they start for the off-campus eating places.

We make one last attempt in desperation, with the organized efforts of faculty and administration
we develop our final inspiration--freshman registration.

But the rats squeak through by some wily contrivations,
we finally surrender in total resignation, living in peaceful toleration when a change mysteriously oc...

Garnet caps of rat distinction disappear from all creation, pointed rat nose and toes forgotten in the struggle for education.

...iling Deadline ...or Fulbrights ...s October 15

...adline ... filing applications for ...rants for study abroad ...63-64 is Oct. 15, Dr. George A. ... student advisor, announ- ...

... said that two types of ... programs are avail- ... (1) U.S. government grants ... Fulbright-Hays Act and ... government and univer- ...

... requirement for a Ful- ... is U.S. citizenship, ... degree or its equivalent ... the beginning date of the ..., proficiency in the language of ... host country sufficient to carry ... the proposed study and good ...

... transportation, tui- ... maintenance for one ...

...uirements and provisions of ...ment and university ...s vary according to the country ...

...ed in applying for a ... abroad should contact ... for further information.

Today's Weather

...t the morning, fol- ... thunder showers later in ... peratures will be in ...

Today's News Roundup

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

IN THE WORLD

The Soviet Government has made a new strong statement ...d help defend Cuba if the island nation were attacked. The ...tement warned the U.S. that an armend attack on Cuba would ... the world into nuclear war. The Russians said they are not ... up a military base in Cuba, and arms being sent the Castro ... are exclusively for defencse purposes. They accused Americans ...eing afraid of their own shadows.

...ASHINGTON--- Secretary of State Rush responded to the Soviet ...ement on Cuba by saying "We are a great country. We are not nervous ...afraid. We'll proceed as we find it necessary.";;

...ate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana called the Russian ...ment propaganda and said, "We will determine for ourselves what ... ...ies will be."

... Cuba's Castro Government says what it terms a pirate ves- ...ot launch--entered a harbor in north-central Cuba early ...ired more than 60 shots into a British sugar freighter and ... used to store molasses. In Miami, an anti-Castro group ...lpha-66 claims five of its members staged the attack. But ... where they started from. Havana radio claims the invading ...e from the U.S. and blames the attack on criminals armed and ...

IN THE NATION

...SHINGTON--- The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Negro ...er Thurgood Marshall to be a judge of the second circuilt court of ...

... vote was 54 to 16. Marshall, former general counsel to the National ...r the Advancement of Colored People, was nominated by ...sident Kennedy one year ago. He has been serving on the appeals court ... York and New England while the appointment was pending.

IN FLORIDA

...PE CANAVERAL--- President Kennedy left Cape Canaveral late ... for Houston, Tex., third stop on his tour of space facilities. The ...dent earlier visited installations at Huntsville, Ala. At Cape Can- ...al, Kennedy predicted the U.S. will eventually surpass the Soviet ...ace accomplishments.

...LAHASSEE--- A Negro eighth grader has been admitted quietly ...iessed Sacrament Catholic School in Tallahassee and several ...ilies have removed their children. It was the first integration ... at the parochial school with an enrollment of about 400. The ...Sacrament Church has been integrated for many years.

Faculty Notes

Miss Richey Retires From Faculty

After 24 years of teaching and research in the field of destructibility of textiles, Miss Helen Richey has retired from the FSU faculty.

A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, Miss Richey came to Florida State College for Women in 1915, as the first graduate student with an undergraduate degree from another university. She received a teaching certificate in home economics in 1916, and for the next three years taught in high school. She then went to Japan to teach in the mission school which initiated home economics teaching in that country.

After spending 12 years in Japan, Miss Richey returned to the U. S. and taught at Leon High School for three years, and in a Presbyterian junior college in Kentucky. She joined the FSCW faculty in 1936.

She and Dr. Hazel Stevens, head of the Clothing and Textiles Dept., have collaborated in writing many articles on the wearability of fabrics. One of their publications is a laboratory manual, "Introduction to General Textiles," published in 1950.

They also have studied such features as the ability of materials to withstand abrasion and ultraviolet rays.

Miss Richey has said that she plans a quiet retirement in Miami, where she will "grow flowers and vegetables." She will live with two sisters who also are retired teachers.

ASSIGNMENT--BAGHDAD

Dr. Jack W. Eichinger, chemistry professor at FSU, has accepted a two-year assignment as professor of chemistry at the University of Baghdad.

Eichinger is one of nine American professors participating in an engineering and physical science teaching program of the Agency for International Development. Dr. and Mrs. Eichinger sailed in August for England, and flew from there to Iraq.

A member of the FSU faculty since 1948, Eichinger is known for his work in chemistry education. An electron chart of the elements which he developed is widely used in chemistry courses.

In 1956 he became first executive secretary of the Nuclear Development Commission of Florida, which prepared a program under which the 1957 Legislature appropriated $5 million for nuclear programs at the universities. He served as coordinator while FSU's nuclear program was being organized, but left this post last fall to return to full time teaching.

CHEMISTRY AWARD

Dr. Harold C. Beard, associate professor of chemistry at FSU, has received an American Chemical Society pin for 40 years membership in the organization.

Beard joined the professional society while an instructor at Carnegie Institute of Technology. He also was an active officer in the Lehigh Valley, Pa., section of the ACS.

The chemistry professor joined the FSU faculty in 1947.

STATISTICAL MEET

Dr. Ralph A. Bradley, head of the Statistics Dept., and Dr. S. K. Katti, a faculty member, have returned from a meeting of the American Statistical Assn. in Minneapolis this past weekend.

Meeting with the association are the Institute of Mathematical Statistics and the Biometric Society.

GRADUATE AWARD

Felix M. Berardo was recipient of the first annual Raymond F. Bellamy award for an outstanding paper written by a graduate student in sociology at FSU during the past year.

Berardo, a native of Waterbury, Conn., received his B. A. degree with high honors and distinction in sociology at the University of Connecticut in 1961.

The award is named in honor of the professor emeritus, who came to FSCW in 1918 and taught for 38 years. He was the first sociologist to teach here, and taught the first statistics course at FSU and the first anthropology course in the Southeast.

Fashion Inc.

Fashion Inc. will have a meeting of all Senior and Modeling Board members tomorrow at 4:15 in the Home Economics Lounge. Dues will be collected.

Upperclass Women's Convocation Speech

Dean Warren Honors Coed Accident Victim

"Each year the officers of your Women's Government Association accord me the provilege of participating in this annual convocation for upperclasswomen by allowing me a few minutes in which to discuss with you some topic which seems to me important to your welfare. However, in spite of my high regard for your officers, the excellent work which they do and my constant interest in you, I do not feel moved tonight to speak of the functions of self-government, of rules and regulations, or even of those standards which are important to your development because during the past week I have come face to face and have been intimately associated with the beauty and tragedy of life, the mystery of death and the magnificence of human courage and stamina when faced with disaster and crisis.

As you know two of our women students were involved in a tragic accident last Tuesday night, which cost the life of one this past Sunday morning. Last week at this hour this young woman was full of vitality and the joy of living, with her future an unchartered sea before, and tonight she is only a beloved memory in the hearts and minds of her family, her friends and her classmates.

Ann McKenna as she has been described to me by those who knew her best would not want us to grieve unduly for her passing nor permit it to cast a shadow on our days. She would on the contrary hope that through her passing we would draw a lesson which would strengthen us and permit us to make more of our own lives. The gift she has left us is a simple but vital truth, namely that the life of an individual is precious and under the best of circumstances a brief moment in time. As a consequence every minute of every day should be spent by each of us in striving for self-improvement in giving unselfishly of ourselves to others. Whether young or old we can in reality be sure only of the present moment because between us and our futures there is a veil which cannot be penetrated. Therefore don't put off until tomorrow the kind word spoken, the generous act performed, the seeking after beauty and truth, the sharing of self with others, the development of mind and heart. Grab each moment as a thing to be cherished because it is another point in time leading towards possible self-fullfillment.

This is the gift which Ann McKenna has given to us, a realization of the brevity of life and the need for crowding each moment with beauty and self-forgetfulness.

It seemed to me appropriate and as you would wish it, that this convocation of upperclass women should be dedicated to her memory and that it should be concluded by us with a moment of silent prayer for her and her family."

Tally Ho

Students may reserve copies of the 1962-63 "Tally Ho" through Sept. 21 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the "Tally Ho" office, 403 Longmire.

Editor Sally Street has requested that seniors register this week and make an appointment to have their senior pictures taken.

Student Insurance

Students may purchase Student Insurance in 210 Longmire from 3 to 5, Monday through Friday.

Today

Student Senate will meet at 4 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

*****

Faculty members are invited for cokes and football tips from Coach Bill Peterson at 4 p.m., under the big tent, on the football practice field.

*****

Graduate students must register by 5 p.m. in the Graduate School Office for the language examinations to be given on Sept. 22.

*****

Fashion Inc. will have a reception for new students at 7 p.m. in the Large Lounge, Longmire.

*****

FSU Dames Club will have a get-acquainted party at 8 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium and Club Room.

*****

Today is the last day to sign up for the Theology Hour Supper to be held in Westminister House at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow.

You Know, It's Strange

(continued from page 2)

his work, implanting suggestions that gave the plot a Cox touch.

In a private conversation once with this writer, Dr. Cox commented that three fourths of the short stories turned in by students had tragic endings. First of all, he said, they forget to give the bad guy at least one redeeming quality. Then the authors don't seem to know how to handle the character in the final analysis, Dr. Cox remarked, so they let them die.

"You know, it's strange," he continued, "most of them commit suicide."

Then almost as an afterthought he added, "Isn't that strange? I don't understand."

Hours Extended For Rush Invites

Panhellenic has extended the hours during which coeds may pick up invitations to parties on Friday and Saturday. Invitations may be picked up between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. tomorrow.

All women who registered for formal rush but do not plan to continue in rush are asked by Panhellenic President Betty Bentley, to inform Panhellenic at this time.

Rushees who were kept from attending all formal receptions because of rain may still participate in rush, she said.

NOTICE RUSH CHAIRMEN

Call us for box lunches and Seafood, etc.

Free Carry-Out Service For Sorority and Fraternity Parties.

CHICK N' TREAT
Parkway Shopping Center

PHONE
224-3620

True Tribe Triumverant

These three Seminole fans were some of the football boosters that turned out to watch the varsity in action against the freshmen last Saturday--despite the rain. However, it is anticipated the stadium ought to be packed Saturday. (Photo by Emmette Jackson).

Says Coach Teague

Cadets Should Be Speed...

The Florida State Seminoles will open their football season Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in Doak S. Campbell Stadium against The Citadel Bulldogs of Charleston, S. C.

While The Citadel will not be the Seminoles' toughest opponent of the season, it will not be a push-over, since the Cadets rambled to the All-Conference title last year.

Coach Eddie Teague, like Coach Bill Peterson of FSU, will be taking on bigger and more experienced foes this season, but Teague hopes to offset his disadvantages with "speed and mobility."

To do this, he is offering alternate units, which are about equal. The first team will be quarterbacked by Sid Mitchell, the only returning letterman at this position. Wade St. John of Atlanta will command the second unit.

The Citadel coach has also considered a third unit, which would lack the experience of the first two. Like FSU's Peterson, Teague is having to rely on inexperienced ones, and he has 10 outstanding sophomores that may be able to do the job. Included in this number are tackles Mitchell Foster and Frank Ferguson, both of whom weigh in at 225 pounds.

Graduation, which has apparently killed Teague's hopes for another conference crown but not his hopes for a first flight finish, took 16 lettermen, including all-conference end Bill Gilgo and halfback Early Eastburn. The sheepskins grabbed four tackles and five halfbacks. The only returning letterman tackle is 220-pound Larry Ross, a senior.

To replace his topnotch end, Teague tabbed Charlie Brendle, who scored 24 points last year for an individual team high. In the season scrimmages, Teague has reported that the passing combination of Mitchell to Brendle has been working out well.

Elsewhere in the backfield, the Bulldogs will rely on sophomore Eddie Taylor, 198-pounds, and Dwight Street, 187-pounds, to provide speed at half.

In the Seminoles' practice Monday, which was cut short by the rain, Florida State Coach Peterson warned the Tribes' of the Citadel's kicker.

The man in question was Clyde Marsh of Georgia, who has been switched from quarterback to end. Marsh was the number five punter in the nation last year.

Again like the Seminoles, the Cadets have been having personnel trouble.

Defensive specialist Buddy Sharp of Clearwater, S.C., withdrew last week for academic reasons. The coach said that, although he would be missed, "the situation is far from hopeless." He said he had some players that could come through, but the team will miss the experience.

And then sophomore tackle ... Lewis injured his knee ... Alth... he has been released fro... me... care, Lewis will not be ab... lend support to the Cadets' wea... spot in the opener with FSU. He... however, start a week later.

In scrimmages, the coach repo... verdicts similar to FSU's Peter... Displeased with a few, pleased ... others.

On Sept. 6, The Citadel got its ... taste of the Seminole offense, ... then in a game-like scrimmage, ... White team downed the Blue te... 6-0, on the verdict of two field g... by Smith.

Teague was pleased with ... returning regular, guard Gene D... calling the Citadel co-capta... "complete football player."

Causey Hurts Leg

Another Seminole end, this time Jim Causey, has joined the league of the walking wounded and possibly further weakening an already-weak position.

Causey, a 21-year-old sophomore from Miami, sustained an injury in Saturday's heavy scrimmage when he was tackled from two directions after catching a pass.

At the time, Seminole officials said the injury was probably a minor ankle sprain, but later discovered the injury would keep him out of action until at least this afternoon.

The Miamian, who returned from a hitch in the services this year, was a member of quarterback Eddie Feely's outstanding freshman team.

Other ends have been injured this year. The most serious are Fred Biletnikoff, who broke his ankle and will be out till the Georgia game, and John Wachtel, who broke his wrist and will be unable to play again this season.

Two other ends will probably dress out in pads this week, after recovering from injuries. They are Bili (Red) Dawson of Valdosta, Ga., and Cliff (Butch) Gunter of Dothan, Ala. Dawson fractured his ankle recently, while Gunter suffered a shoulder injury.

Golf Meetin... Slated Toda...

The Seminole golf team ... a meeting at 4 p.m. today for ... varsity members, announced ... coach Bill Odeneal. The ... will be held in 214 Tul... nasium.

The squad will hold fall ... during the months of Oct... November, Odeneal said. ... team members will take a b... during December and return to ... tio after January.

Odeneal says the linkers ... prospective members and ... a bright outlook for the ... team.

Now in his sixth year a ... golf coach, Odeneal was ... mous for his Seminole ... teams which won three nat... les before the sport was ... from the Florida State inter... legiate athletic program ...

BILL ODENEAL ...gets golf going

Pete To Fete Faculty At Today's Practice

Faculty members of the university have been invited to preview a football scrimmage by the Florida State Seminoles, announced Athletic Director Vaughn Mancha.

Coach Bill Peterson will send the Tribe through grid drills especially for the benefit of faculty members this afternoon at the FSU practice field.

The practice field is located below the viaduct, next to the game field.

Besides serving refreshments to the faculty members, the head coach will also offer tips on the practice and what to expect in Saturday's opener with The Citadel.

The practice will start at 4 p.m.

OTHER DRILLS

Before a literal flood rained out Monday's football practice, Peterson sent his three squads through all phases of the kicking game.

After working defensively, blocking "Citadel" field goals and point-after-touchdowns, the Seminoles then concentrated on Florida State's kicking offense.

During a light drizzle, the Tribe toe-men, John Harlee and Doug Messer, completed three out of four PAT tries, and then they went on to succeed with two of three field goal attempts from approximately the 20 yard line. Further kicking drills were cut short by the rain.

Although they drilled in sweats Monday, the coach dressed the Seminoles out in pads yesterday when they began their offensive and defensive practice.

In yesterday's practice, the Seminoles again had a foul visit from the weather man when the drills were stopped by a 25-minute shower.

However, after the showers had passed, Peterson watched the teams practice runs up the middle, passing, and defensive moves.

While not dissatisfied with the practice, Peterson summed it up as a "typical Tuesday practice" that was slowed by rain and classes.

Trimester Forces Changes

'Murals Open Monday

BY SHIRLEY HARDISON
Flambeau Sports Writer

The trimester is in full swing now, as the classes begin and the intramural program at Florida State adapts its program to the sports interest of its students. Because of the late classes each day and the shorter time to run sports seasons, intramurals changed some of its policies.

Garnet and Gold leagues will be run in both men and women's intramurals this season. The women who will play in the Garnet league are those coeds who can participate, as a team, on Monday, Wednesday, and (if needed) Friday.

The Gold league will constitute those teams who are able to play on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

The time has also been changed this year. Intramurals will begin at 4:30 p.m. and run until 6. This time change is in hope of eliminating the supper hour problem for the sororities.

Miss Martha Moore, advisor of the WRA program, said the two different leagues will enable more people to participate in the intramural games. Scheduled make up practices will be on Friday for the Garnet league, on Saturday for the Gold league.

The sports to be highlighted during the first sports season are volleyball, badminton, and archery. The season officially begins September 17; it ends October 31. Chris Padgett is in charge of the volleyball games this year, while Rene Washington is directing the badminton games, which will be played this year at night. Linda Ingalls has command of the archery field.

The first unit managers meeting will be tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 in 204 Montgomery Gym. Each of the unit managers should have some idea of the number of teams they plan to enter in each sport, plus the days that the girls will be participating, putting the team in either the Garnet or Gold league. All girls who are interested should contact the intramural chairmen the dorms or sororities or scholarship houses and sign up for the sports.

Frat, Dorm 'Mura... Slate Two Meeti...

An organization meeting of ... ternity Intramural Board wi... at 4 p.m. Wednesday in 2... Gym. Every fraternity sho... a delegate. Business will ... principally of program plan... scheduling of events.

Dormitories and indepen... ganizations should send th... presentatives to the Int... Board meeting for program ... at 4 p.m. Thursday in 214 Tully...

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLIX, No. 7 — Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University — Thursday, September 13, 1962

THIS YEAR'S LEADERS OF THE STUDENT SENATE

...hown above, just prior to the first meet-...e senate yesterday. They are, left to right: ohnny Smith, vice-president of the student body; Jeannie Ferlita, women's vice-president; Jackie Mathis, secretary of senate; and Gene Brown, men's vice-president. (Photo by Bruce Tibbo)

Two Way Traffic ?

Committee Discusses New Traffic Proposals

BY LANA MURRAY
Asst. News Editor

Two-way vs. one-way traffic in congested areas, placement of parking spaces and parking lots, and widening of intersections are among proposals being studied by an ad hoc committee.

The committee, composed of several top administrative personnel, is examining various recommendations designed to alleviate the University's campus traffic problems.

Members of the committee are Dr. John Champion, University vice president; Rod Shaw, treasurer and business manager; Ray Green, Jr., assistant business manager; William Cullom, executive assistant to Shaw; William Tanner, security officer; Dr. Lewis Killian, professor of sociology; Dr. Laurence Chalmers, assistant dean of faculties; Dr. James Carr, director of financial aid, and Student Body President Ken Van Assenderp.

"Members of this ad hoc committee have been working diligently for several weeks now, in study of numerous proposals, some presented quite in detail, relating to the University traffic situation. It is to be realized that no definite proposals or action are yet made," Van Assenderp commented.

"I would like to remind everyone that foremost in the minds of the committeemen is the safety of all University personnel. Students can rest assured that their best interests are well in hand," he continued.

PROPOSALS

Some of the proposed solutions that have tentatively been considered to relieve the traffic problem are:

(1) Changing traffic regulations on University Way and University Circle (the streets to the north and south of Westcott and the circular drive in front of that building), Ivy Way (the street east of the freshman women's dorms), and in other congested areas.

This would entail making some sections of these heavily-traveled streets one-way, changing other sections to two-way traffic, limiting parking spaces around the administrative building to essential vehicles, and making new or additional facilities for pedestrian traffic and parking areas.

(2) Ways to handle the problem of parking and parking violations on the part of visitors to the University campus.

(3) Eliminating speeding, both by University and non-University personnel.

(4) Widening of intersections to allow for right and left turn lanes as well as straight lanes.

(5) Location of two new parking lots, even if of a temporary nature.

Van Assenderp added that the committee is taking into consideration all new building programs planned by the University.

If the traffic situation is not improved, other remedies may be suggested, such as no traffic other than essential University vehicles being allowed on campus between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Van Assenderp said. Such a remedy could only be effected, however, after improvement of the campus bus service, he added.

Student Senate Has Meeting
No Legislative Action Is Taken

...e will take no legis-...until after fall elec-...s, Vice President Johnny Smith ...ounced at yesterday's first Sen-...

...previous years, action was often ...n by the class senators prior to ...election of the precinct senators. ...lthough voting members of Senate ...the opening session this included ...cinct senators from last year who ...l live in the same areas, some ...to unrepresented until ...er elections.

...nate yesterday heard a report ...om Secretary of Finance Frank ...ilwee on the Student Activities ...udget. Milwee stated that the admin-...ration had approved the budget ... Student Senate last year, ... a proportionate adjust-...mmended by Milwee to ..., Oglesby. Milwee added ... "thrilled" at this demon-...raton of the value the administra-...es upon the recommenda-...tudent Senate.

...nounced that two bills and ...lutions are ready to be sent ...ittees, and that standing ... memberships will be an-...at the next Senate meeting.

Sen. Tom Sisco informally introduced a resolution concerning dismissal of classes for the Thanksgiving holiday. Senate moved into a committee as a whole to discuss this resolution, but no formal action was taken.

The resolution will be introduced formally next week, reported Sen. Sisco.

Diploma Deadline

...deadline for paying the diploma fee and for registering ...duate in December is Sept. ...

The $5 fee may be paid at the Registrar's Office in Westcott.

Soda Shop

The Soda Shop, located in the basement of Longmire, is now open from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Live entertainment is featured nightly.

Marching Chiefs Plan Dazzling Football Show

After more than a week of intensive rehearsal, the Marching Chiefs will again take the field during pre-game and halftime periods as the FSU Seminoles meet the Citadel Bulldogs Saturday night.

The first show will be of special interest to freshmen, as the band will give a preview of some of the coming events throughout the year.

The band will salute the trimester system by forming two triangles and warning freshmen of the hard work ahead. As FSU moves forward with the new Molecular Biophysics building the Chiefs recognize scientific progress by giving fans their version of splitting an atom.

A wristwatch will be formed to warn all the freshman girls not to be late at closing hour. As the hands move around to two o'clock, the Garnet and Gold Girls, Janice Freeman and Beverly Calvert, and the majorettes will give their rendition of "Ain't Misbehavin'."

Moving into the formation of an automobile, the Chiefs will tell new students of the parking problem at FSU by playing "An American in Paris." As a finale, the band will wish new FSU students good luck in their college career, as they play, "When You Wish Upon A Star."

The FSU Marching Chiefs are now larger than ever before, with a membership of over 175. This year many new freshmen and majorettes who were added to the corps have been preparing for their new experience of marching with a college band. They arrived Aug. 31, four days prior to the regular members of the band. During this time they have sometimes worked from 8 a.m. to 9:30 p.m,

Saturday night will mark the start of a fourth year of twirling with the Marching Chiefs for the Garnet and Gold Girls. Janice Freeman and Beverly Calvert, both seniors, have been featured soloists with the Chiefs since their freshman year at FSU.

Football season will not be anything new for these two coeds, as they have made various appearances and have taught twirling around the South throughout the summer.

The Marching Chiefs plan to make at least two out-of-town appearances this fall, in Miami and Gainesville, and possibly at Georgia Tech or University of Georgia.

Greeks Are Granted One Day Weekends

Florida State University sororities and fraternities will limit their annual weekends to one day this year.

Because of the trimester system, the Greek organizations voted last spring to have their weekends at various times during the year instead of the traditional spring parties. Sororities will begin having their parties in September during the first trimester, and fraternities will schedule events in the spring. Each group will be allowed to have a dance, swim party, dinner or any other event, but only on one day of the weekend.

Weekend dates for sororities will be as follows: Alpha Chi Omega, Dec. 1; Alpha Delta Pi, Dec. 8; Alpha Gamma Delta, Dec. 1; Alpha Omicron Pi, Nov. 10; Alpha Phi, Dec. 8; Alpha Xi Delta, Oct. 26; Chi Omega, Oct. 6; Delta Delta Delta, Nov. 23.

Delta Gamma, Sept. 22; Delta Zeta, Dec. 1; Gamma Phi Beta, Sept. 28; Kappa Alpha Theta, Nov. 24; Kappa Delta, Oct. 5; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Nov. 9; Phi Mu, Oct. 6; Phi Beta Phi, Oct. 6; Sigma Kappa, Oct. 6; Sigma Sigma Sigma, Nov. 23; Zeta Tau Alpha, Sept. 28.

Fraternity events will be as follows: Alpha TauOmega, March 16; Delta Chi, March 16; Delta Tau Delta, March 16; Kappa Alpha, March 29; Kappa Sigma, March 16; Lambda Chi Alpha, March 30; Phi Delta Theta, March 29; Phi Kappa Psi, March 30.

Phi Kappa Tau, March 30; Pi Kappa Alpha, March 16; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, March 16; Sigma Chi, March 30; Sigma Phi Epsilon, March 30; Tau Epsilon Phi, March 30; Theta Chi, April 6; Sigma Nu, March 16.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Like To Co-operate

A resolution proposed in Student Senate's first meeting focused attention on a phase of Trimester operation that is distrubing to many students.

Under the present schedule, as it has been released. only one day vacation for Thanksgiving has been scheduled. The granting of only a Thursday holiday rules out the possibility of students, other than those in the immediate vicinity, going home for this holiday.

This has drawn student criticism. Scheduling Friday classes so that students cannot take a four day holiday, thus prohibiting south and central Florida students from going home, seems needless. Many point that this would be a last break before going into three weeks of constant study in preparation for final examinatons.

The Senate resolution, which was tabled for the present, would have asked the administration to reschedule the November 23 classes for November 17, a Saturday. Since the FSU-UF football game is scheduled for that weekend, the idea was quickly dropped.

It is unknown at present what the faculty's attitude is towards cuts on that day. Dean Werner Baum, Dean of Faculties, pointed out that there is no specific rule regarding cuts on that day, or at any time for that matter.

But if the University wants to make real use of that day, the administration would be wise to make other arrangements for the scheduling of those classes. Students are willing to co-operate, but they also would like to spend Thanksgiving with their families.

BCS

Needed Projectors

FOR THE FIRST time this summer FSU campus movies charged an admission fee, and for the first time those who attended behaved like college students instead of grade-schoolers. Since the summer experiment was successful, the 25 cent admission fee will stay with us this year. All proceeds go into a fund to buy much-needed new projectors for the campus film presentations.

After seeing the list of movies which will play here this year, we hope the improved behavior will also remain and perhaps become a new campus tradition.

MISS MARIE WILLIAMS, director of social activities, should be commended for arranging such an impressive array of movies to be shown on campus, and her action to have the movies help pay for new projectors will be cheered by anyone who has attended one of the weekly showings only to have the over-worked equipment break down.

TD

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor — Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Asst. Managing Editor.....Jim Smith
Asst. News Editor.....Lana Murray
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clarke, Carl Rosenbush, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens, Matt Straub.
News Staff - Bonnie Shiplett, Hope Pastor, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Jody Wilkis, Maureen Perkins, Pat Freeman, Bill Smart, Mary Grossenbacher, Sarah Gordon, Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Duke Mader.
Sports Staff - John Wood, Shirley Hardison.
Feature Staff - Frank Coney, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Dave Kelmeckis, Fred McDonald.
Photographers - John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Dave McNeill
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeither, Greg Grunke, Don Dughi.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service. 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Bruce Tibbo

The Transfer Orients

In the "Florida Flambeau's" first daily edition this year there was a cartoon illustrating problems of orientation and registration. The caption was, ". . . .You guys are wasting your time if you think you're going to beat this registration thing." Truer words were never spoken.

I've been told that the first week on campus for freshmen and transfer students is supposed to keep you busy, inform you of administrative policy, and place you in the proper classes through the guidance testing program. Well, I feel sure I'll get no debate from any freshmen or transfers about it keeping you busy.

In five hectic days, some starting at 7:30 a.m., the administration has managed to wear out one foot-sore transfer student.

I seek not sympathy from you godly upper classmen, who in past years have probably gone through the same routine, but just bear with me and read on as I tell my tale of registration and orientation woe.

The early days on the FSU campus started last Tuesday. A mass night meeting was scheduled in the Opperman Music Hall where I found I was not the only confused being on campus. Comments ranged from, "I'm a special student, do I have to go through all this testing mess?" to "I just took these tests a week ago, do I have to take the one at 7:30 a.m. again?" The reply by the orientation leader to both was a disappointing, "Yes."

Then came the tests. Oh, those tests. Math, simple stuff like calculus, symetrics and so on to determine what you need to take here. Then the Biology Exemption exam, last semester's final actually, and many others. Rots of ruck!

Then came your meeting with the group advisor for counseling. But first you had to get an appointment time. Lines of people, more lines of people and still more people. And sore feet from walking all over and now you have to stand in line for seemingly hours.

Finally, you get your appointment and off to the proper room. What courses to take? A likely question. The advisor says it will depend on what credits FSU will accept and he didn't know and I didn't know so again confusion.

Well, somehow you devise a suitable schedule on your green trial schedule. You're instructed not to lose this for you can't begin registration without it. Another fallacy.

Off to Tully Gym for the rat race, and I mean rat race of transfer registration. Did I say the Tully Gym? Well, it did resemble an athletic gym. It was very large, with the traditional high roof and all. But the floor, something was underfoot. Ah yes, the slippery, glass-like sawdust covering the polished floor. And there were people, you were there, remember all those people? Lines, lines, and even more horrible, lengthy lines in front of every station and class table.

We wandered together through the mad maze. I felt more like a cow being driven in a roundup to the stockyard.

Several hundred dollars, thousands of people and numerous stations later I completed the puzzle of registration. And to think why in just four more months.....

Now that I had my hours of [illegible] I had to try to find some employment. Weary, down- discouraged I searched al campus and Tallahassee. are still pending.

So the weekend had arr those interested in fraternity r were to just go and rush here there. Requirements were to vi all the fraternities all ove large campus.

Well, it was either rush th ternities or that wonderfu dreamy world of rest, rela sleep.

See you frat men at the rush.

Tally Ho

Students may reserve [illegible] 1962-63 "Tally Ho" thru 21 from 2 to 5 p.m. at t Ho" office, 403 Longmire.

Editor Sally Street has r that seniors register this w make an appointment to ha senior pictures taken.

MEN PART-TIME WORK

21 YEARS OF AGE MUST HAVE CAR

PHONE 222-0446 OR 222-4214

Tony's Pizza

1805 Thomasville Road

Phone 224-6210

Specializing in

Pizza

Spaghetti

Italian Salad

TONY'S PIZZA

Enjoy

Your Hometown with Your Breakfast!

Now the St. Petersburg Times gets here at the crack of dawn. That means you can have the latest sports, the news of the world and all the goings-on along the Suncoast right while you're dipping into the second cup of coffee.

Costs the same as delivered at home—just 55c a week—whether you live on-campus or elsewhere in town. Just phone 222-9451 and order The Times started in the morning.

St. Petersburg Times
FLORIDA'S BEST NEWSPAPER

ANNOUNCING

Mrs. Katherine Kanski, your campus Avon Representative
For an appointment to be shown Avon's glamorous Fall and winter cosmetics call--- ph. 224-6684 or 355-1818

WELCOME HER TO HELP YOU

Today's News Roundup

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

IN THE WORLD

ZIL - The National Security Council says the commander of the ns's Third Army has ordered his troops on the alert in Southern ll to head off disorders. The action came as President Joao Goulart ared headed for a showdown with Congress over the powers of his . The Third Army has its headquarters in the capital of Goulart's e state of Rio Grande Do Sul.

DELHI - Reliable sources in New Delhi report Red Chinese troops entered North India and surrounded an Indian frontier outpost. Uncond reports reaching New Delhi said the Chinese disarmed the Indians hen marched nine miles farther into Indian territory. There was no ation of any fighting. The Chinese in the past four years have pened and withdrawn from the area three times previously.

IN THE NATION

SHINGTON - Senate Republicans are pushing a campaign to hand ident Kennedy powers he hasn't asked for to act against Communism a number of countries. Their efforts threaten to touch off a floor fight over t the president has asked for--standby authority to all up 150,000 ian reservists. Amendments introduced by the Republicans appear n to be sought by the administration.

LOUIS - President Kennedy has wound up a two-day tour of space llations insisting that this nation can't afford to be anything less than in space. He ended his tour with a visit to the McDonnell Aircraft oration in St. Louis, a producer of space capsules. The president got er secret briefing there on how this country hopes to put the first man moon--and bring him back. Kennedy later left St. Louis by plane for ton.

FORNIA - Richard Nixon has launched his fall campaing for governalifornia with some hard swings at his opponent, Governor Edmund . The Republican former vice president called his Democratic rival for his job--quick to spend and slow to act on Anti-Communism. also said Brown is an ignoramus on foreign affairs.

SHINGTON - The Space Agency has decided to send up a new satelthis year to survey the radiation belt created by a U.S. high-altitude mb explosion last July. The craft will be one of the Explorer series. l be sent into an orbit of unusual length for an earth satellite, and ave the unusually extended orbital period of five hours.

PE CANAVERAL - America's most potent military rocket--the an Second"--has scored its third success in five test flights on a 0-mile strike down the Atlantic range from Cape Canaveral, Florida. rocket met all test goals on the half-hour flight to a designated tararea in the South Atlantic. Titan Second is an intended booster for ed space missions.

Today

All girls who registered for formal rush should report to Longmire between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., to pick up invitations to Friday's and Saturday's parties.

Girls who do not plan to continue in rush should report this information then.

* * * * *

Professor H. Ekstein will lecture to the Physics Symposium at 2 p.m. in 112 NRB, on the topic "Rigorous Symmetries of Elementary Particles (II)."

* * * * *

Tallahassee Junior Chorus tryouts will be at 3:30 p.m. in 222 Music Bldg.

* * * * *

Professor R. Haag, University of Illinois, will conduct a Physics Symposium lecture at 4 p.m. in 124 Science. Professors J. Jauch, H. Ekstein and F. Coester will participate in a panel discussion.

* * * * *

IFC rush will be at 6 p.m.

* * * * *

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will hold a meeting in Longmire Auditorium at 7 p.m.

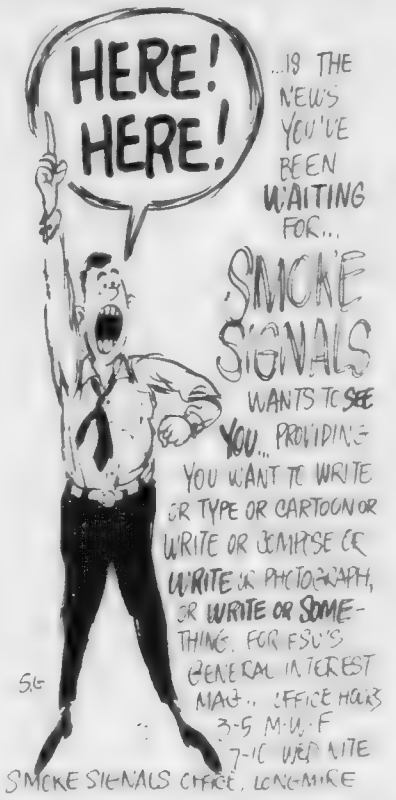
* * * * *

Circle K-ettes will meet in Longmire Club Room at 7 p.m.

* * * * *

Organizational meeting of the Young Republicans will be at 7:15 p.m. in 411 Longmire.

* * * * *



The Homecoming General Planning committee will meet in Longmire Student Lounge at 7:30 p.m.

* * * * *

"Don't Go Near the Water" will be shown at the campus movie, starting at 7:30 p.m. in Westcott Auditorium.

* * * * *

tallahassee League of Women Voters will meet at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. William Watson, 2538 Mission Road.

ELECTRIC SHAVER
REPAIRS & PARTS
BLALOCK JEWELRY
121 S. ADAMS

Today's Weather

ariable cloudiness throughthe day, with possible scatred showers later in the day. mperatures will be in the mid .

Alligator Is Bi-Weekly

"The Florida Flambeau" is still the only collegiate daily newspaper in Florida.

"The Florida Alligator," the student newspaper at the University of Florida, will not begin daily operations until Sept. 30.

The "Gator" began the trimester on twice-weekly operation. The paper will go to triweekly publication before daily operations begin.

LOOK YOUNGER
today looks forever picture of a smart contemporary remember with portraits
L'Avant STUDIOS
PARK AVE. PH. 223-1716

ANNOUNCING
GRAND OPENING
OF DEE'S BARBER SHOP
2238 S. Monroe
Across from Dr. Vickers vet. Dee's Barber Shop is a modern concern with latest equipment to meet the needs of their customers.

Regular haircuts	$1.25
Flat tops	$1.50

Flat tops & Princeton speciality
DEE'S BARBER SHOP

Price Plans Greek Awards

The Gymkana fraternity-sorority trophies will be awarded again this year, announced Gymkana Coach Hartley Price today.

The trophies will be awarded to the fraternity and sorority contributing the most to the Gymkana production "Pirate Daze," which starts Oct. 17 in Tully Gym.

The groups may make contributions to the show in any area of its production, such as publicity, costumes, staging, lighting, or props.

In 1959, the trophies were won by Delta Gamma sorority and Delta Tau Delta fraternity. In 1960, they were won by Sigma Kappa sorority and shared by Lambda Chi Alpha and Delta Tau Delta fraternities.

The trophies were not awarded last year while Dr. Price was in South America on a Fulbright scholarship.

☆ ☆

FSU Practices For Bulldogs

Coach Peterson's Seminoles ran through heavy drills yesterday afternoon in preparation for Saturday's game with the Citadel. Practicing playing against Citadel's offense and defense, the gridders were observed by about 50 faculty members and guests.

"We're in great condition," Peterson said, "but we still are weak at ends because of the injuries."

GARCIA'S RESTAURANT
320 TENNESSEE STREET

Question - What is an "EI-GAOH" sandwich?
Answer - See Vince or Cy for this tasty stomach-buster.
Open 11:00 a.m. till 12:00 midnight.

But Without Basketballs

FSU Cagers Limber Up

By JOHN WOOD
Flambeau Staff Writer

In closed meetings beginning Monday, the 62-63 edition of the Florida University Basketball team will begin its annual conditioning program, under the direction of Big Chief Bud Kennedy.

Instead of basketballs, this program will feature barbells and plenty of running. Between now and October 15, the athletes will try to sweat off excess poundage gained during the summer. They plan to do this by running wind sprints, taking laps around the stadium seats, touring the cross-country trails and calisthenics. NCAA rules rules prevent any organized practice with a basketball before October 15.

The varsity will work out every day, beginning at 3:30 and lasting till late afternoon. At 5 they will be joined in their exertions by members of the freshman basketball team.

When October 15 and organized practice does roll around, the club will have three returning seniors to lead the four juniors and eight sophomores into battle. It is yet too early to tell how well the team is going to develop, but it is a cinch that the sophomores and juniors must come through for the team to make a good showing.

The returning lettermen are senior Faurest Coogle, a 6-4 forward from Kentucky; senior Charlie Long, also a 6-4 forward from Kentucky; and senior guard Dale Ricketts, 6-1, of Indiana.

Also back for the second year of eligibility are juniors Wally Dale, a 6-0 guard from Coral Gables; Bob Ek, a 6-4 forward from Jacksonville; Dale Reeves, a 6-7 center from Kentucky; and Pete Rogers, a 6-5 guard from Daytona Beach.

The sophomores up from last year's frosh team are Pete Gonzalez, a 6-1 guard from Miami; Cal Huge, a 6-4 forward from Jacksonville; Jerry Shirley, a 6-5 forward from Mobile; Ross Winter, a 6-3 guard from Mobile; Bob Gemming, a 6-7 1/2 center from Jacksonville; and Bob Lovell, a 6-2 guard from Chattanooga.

No matter how good, this team has some mighty big shoes to fill. Last year's team was the number one team in field goal percentage, finished with a 15-8 record, whipped Florida twice, and was the state collegiate champion.

Gone from the team via the cap and gown route are Dave Fedor, an honorable mention All-American last year, and Ray Swain, fourth in the nation in Field Goal percentage last year.

The freshman unit, which will drill along with the varsity, is [illegible] "fine group" by Coach [illegible] includes the leading [illegible] Florida for the last two [illegible] cock and the most valuable player the 1962 Florida North-South basketball game (Gar[illegible]

Rounding out the squad are Kingsberry, Bill Phillips, Jim[illegible] lace, Ken Smith, Ke[illegible] and Keakey.

Frosh Baseball Drills Slated

The Florida State Freshman baseball team's annual conditioning is underway with exercises slated three times a week. Those interested in being a frosh baseballer should be at the Seminole diamond at 4 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday, and at 10 a.m. Saturday.

EPPES — EDENFIELD

Hardware and Paint Center
1334 N. Monroe St.--Ph. 223-0232

Housewares
Tools
Chicken Wire
Rope
Picnic Supplies

Cleaning Materials
Life-Time Light Bulbs
Guns and Ammunition
Plumbing Supplies
Electrical Supplies

BENJAMIN MOORE PAINTS

CALL US FIRST - - - FAST FREE DELIVERY

Palace Barber Shop

"OLDEST NAME SHOP"

New Location

113 1/2 S. Monroe

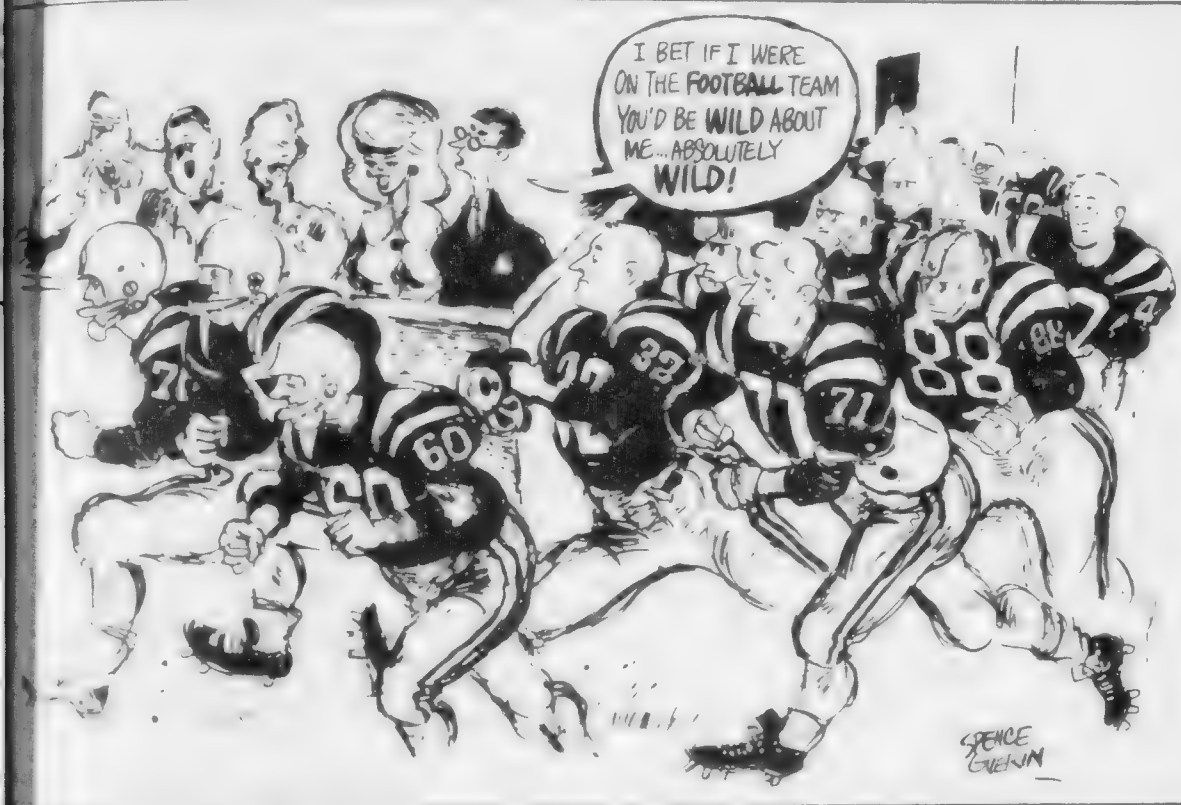
5 EXPERT BARBERS

COLLEGE CUT SPECIALISTS

WELCOME
STUDENTS & FACULTY

Come See Our Selection of Dress Flats and Campus Foot Wear.

FEATURING — CALIFORNIA COBBLERS, CON[illegible]
COLLEGE DEBS, OLD MAINE TROTT[illegible]
HUSH PUPPIES, U. S. KEDS.



PRICED $6.99 to $12.99

Mendelson's Ladies Shoe Dept.

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol XLIX, No.8 | Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University | Friday, September 14, 1962

Seminoles vs. Bulldogs

FSU Plays Citadel In First Grid Meet

The three teams of the Florida State Seminoles will open their 1962 football season tomorrow at 8 p.m. when they battle the Citadel Bulldogs in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

Since the student seating will be determined on a first come first serve basis, there will be no reserve seats and students should arrive early to get good seats. Students will be admitted to the stadium upon the presentation of their ID cards.

In this curtain-raiser against Coach Eddie Teague's South Carolinians, the Seminoles are favored to win. But the FSU coaching staff and gridders refuse to be over-confident since the Bulldongs captured the Southern Conference crown last year and since they utilize a tricky offense.

In addition, one national magazine (Street and Smith's Football) favors the Southern champs over the Tribesmen.

Florida State leads the FSU-Citadel series, 3-0-1. Last year, the Bulldogs fell, 44-8, in a game in Campbell Stadium. In 1960, the 11,200 Bulldog fans watched Teague's team tie the Tribe, 0-0, in Charleston. In the two previous contests, the Citadel fell by large margins -47-6 in 1959 and 39-0 in 1955.

(See FEELY on page 6)

Director Of Student Events

Students May Chaperone Off-Campus Social Parties

Students may register off-campus private parties beginning today for approval at the Director of Social Activities Office in Longmire.

The system for approving parties with student chaperones in students' off-campus private residences was approved by Dean of Women Katherine Warren yesterday.

"A group in excess of five couples will be treated as any other organized party," Miss Marie Williams, social director, said. "It must be approved by 4 p.m. Tuesday preceding the weekend of the party," she said.

party of five couples of less need to be cleared by noon ... of the party," she added. ever, it would be well to plan parties well in advance to insure that there will be time for ... clearance and details to ...ended to," she continued. parties for five couples or only one chaperone will be ...red. For larger parties, two ...rones will be required.

... of acceptable chaperones ...arties has been expanded to ... all reliable senior women. ...ean of Women's Office will ... the social director with a ... of senior women who through ... past conduct have demonstrated that they would not be acceptable chaperones.

...art of the approval procedure, ...gnated chaperones must personally contact Miss Williams prior ...proval of parties they are to ...rone.

...dition, prior to approval of ...rty of five couples or less, a ... the coeds attending must be ...itted to the social director. ... because larger parties must ...pproved before the list of approved parties is sent to women's ...ces. Since smaller parties ... registered up to noon of the ... the party, they will not be ... approved list and the social ... will have to notify the resident counselors of coeds who will ...tending the smaller parties ... parties have been approved.

...ate off-campus parties will be ...ned by the same general rules that have been set for University sponsored off-campus parties. Parties may last no later than midnight on Friday and Saturday nights and no later than 9 p.m. on all other nights. A chaperone will have the authority to ask anyone who becomes disorderly to leave.

Chaperones will fill out card-forms giving their general appraisal of the conduct of the party. These forms will be used as a guide for approving further parties sponsored by the same persons.

This enlargement of approved social functions for students is a result of the "Apartment Bill passed by Women's Senate last spring. University officials vetoed the bill but offered the new plan as a compromise.

The vetoed bill sought permission for women to visit men's apartments in groups of not less than three women and stipulated that they would have to sign out with their residence counselors before visiting a man's apartment.

Classroom Space Is FSU Problem

No additional general classroom buildings are under construction at the present time to alleviate the classroom shortage, Dr. Werner Baum, dean of faculties, said.

However, he said that construction of an addition to the Psychology Bldg. should begin in about six months, and that a new physics unit (#1) to house laboratories and other facilities for graduate students in physics should be begun next spring. Funds for these building purposes already have been allocated under the present bond issue.

At the Board of Control meeting being held here today, FSU officials will ask that several appropriations for new buildings be made for the 1963-65 biennium. Buildings that would furnish a significant number of additional classrooms, to be requested, are:

A chemistry unit (#1), for graduate chemistry student facilities; a chemistry unit (#2) and a physics unit (#2), both for undergraduate classrooms, laboratories, and lecture hall; engineering science and biological science units, with classroom and lab space; and addition to the Library; a social science building, a child research laboratory for the nursery school and office space; and a fine arts building, to accommodate art classrooms and studios, speech classrooms and drama studios, and related facilities.

Artist Series Season Tickets Are On Sale

Season tickets for the 1962-63 Artist Series presentations now are on sale at Westcott Ticket Office.

The tickets, priced at $15, may be ordered by mail from the Westcott Ticket Office or may be purchased direct. The ticket office is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

First attraction of the season will be Oct. 22 and 24, when soprano Zinka Milanov of the Metropolitan Opera will perform.

Also scheduled are performances by Judith Anderson, the San Francisco Ballet, the Minneapolis Symphony and Isaac Stern. A sixth attraction will be scheduled during the third trimester.

Classroom Space Problem Is Not Being Alleviated

By Lana Murray
Asst. News Editor

Fitting more students into fewer classrooms under a more compact schedule of classes seems a problem, indeed.

But this is precisely the situation that must be coped with by the Registrar's Office, Registrar Murray Kenna said.

Because building construction has not kept pace with general University expansion, classroom shortages have resulted in classes being held in Longmire Auditorium, and in other facilities not designed for classroom use.

Three factors contribute to the overcrowding, Dr. Kenna said: (1) Less actual classroom space than in 1960; (2) an increase in the number of students enrolled; and (3) fewer periods of the day available for assignment under the trimester system.

Statistics quoted by Dr. Kenna show 222 classrooms in 1960 (the number divided into general classrooms, seminar rooms, teaching laboratories and teaching auditoriums); 220 classrooms in 1961, and 220 again in 1962.

However, he pointed out, the accomodations fell from 8,409 student stations in 1960 to 7,651 spaces in 1961. Figures for this trimester are not yet available. The difference is due in part to the loss of six seminar rooms and one teaching auditorium for classroom purposes.

In the same period, however, total enrollment has risen from 9,019 students in 1960 to 9,835 in 1961. Dr. Kenna estimates the total enrollment for the fall trimester of 1962 at approximately 10,500.

Dr. Kenna noted that, in spite of the changeover to the trimester system, and all the problems involved in the switch, there were fewer conflicts in space scheduling this year than in 1961.

"On the whole, under the trimester this year, I think we've done the best possible job with what we have. However, the space situation is still not perfect form many points of view," Dr. Kenna said.

One of the most critical space situations on campus is that faced by the School of Social Welfare, since the former social welfare building has been demolished.

He said that Social Welfare Dept. offices are located in four buildings. Classrooms are in three buildings, including Longmire Auditorium, and none of them are in the buildings where the majority of social welfare offices are located.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

New System Needed

WILL THE STIFFENED trimester operations discourage students from taking the "tough" courses? Although the "normal" load remains 15 hours, the acceptable "overload" listed in the new catalog has dropped from 21 to 18-1/2. This seems a good indication that someone on Westcott hill expects students, even good ones, to have a little academic trouble under the trimester.

More education faster is the main objective of the three term schedule, but this purpose will be totally defeated if students cut back the number of hours in order to beef up grade averages and then stay in school an additional term to compensate for lost hours. Students using this logic can still graduate in the same time required by the semester system, so they won't feel they are "behind." The whole point of year-round operations will be wasted.

RADCLIFFE, SISTER school to Harvard and one of the top women's colleges in the nation, has a solution to the problem of students dropping hours to raise grades.

Under the Radcliffe system, 12 hours per semester is considered the "normal" load even though more hours than this are required for graduation in eight semesters. Any student who elects to take more than 12 hours is not penalized for a low grade in the "extra" course. Any student who makes three "B"'s and one "C" is considered as having a "B" average. The low grade does not count against the student if he is taking more than the minimum of hours.

This method of compensating for the additional load encourages students to take non-required courses simply because of interest in the subject. The additional hours count toward graduation, of course, but the three highest grades are used to determine an overall average. Since FSU's "normal" load is 15 hours, only the top four grades would count here.

IF FSU DOES not make some compensation for students carrying more than the required hours, students will become less and less willing to risk grade averages to take more courses per trimester.

The Radcliffe system, or some variation of it, seems a logical solution to what will soon be a costly problem.

TD

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59

BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor; Joan Abbott, News Editor; John Schaffner, Managing Editor; Howard Denson, Sports Editor; Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Asst. Managing Editor.....Jim Smith
Asst. News Editor.....Lana Murray
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clarke, Carl Rosenbush, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens, Matt Straub.
News Staff - Bonnie Shiplett, Hope Pastor, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Jody Wilkis, Maureen Perkins, Pat Freeman, Bill Smart, Mary Gros-Senbacher, Sarah Gordon, Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Duke Mader.
Sports Staff - John Wood, Shirley Hardison.
Feature Staff - Frank Coney, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Dave Kelmeckis, Fred McDonald.
Photographers - John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Dave McNeill
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeither, Greg Grunke, Don Dughi.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Ben Sharp

Rushees Choose Carefully Before Pledging Group

Approximately 1,500 Florida State University students are in the final stages of one of the gruelinest, cruelest institutions on any campus-rush.

It is an institution hated by both rushers and rushees. It involves miles of weary trudging, tiresome smiling and hand clasping, and much talk about nothing. The questions are down pat; so are the answers. But they must be parroted with a smile.

There is not time for genuine friendships to develop. There is no chance for either side to adequately pass judgement on the other. Choices are made on face value. "That guy dresses sharp." "That girl is cute and has a sweet smile." "I like the old so-and-so fraternity. The real hell-raisers." "The so-and-so's were sweet to me."

And at the end of this phon[y] a rushee is expected [to] choice which will last a lif[e]

It is an almost impossible ta[sk] essence of fraternalism, whet[her] be a sorority or fraternity, [is] inner association of the me[n] It involves the continual da[ily] living in a close knit group. [Per]sonal feelings, irritations, and [hu]pers of each member become [ma]tors. There is no way to mea[sure] these while shaking hands and s[mil]ing. During rush everyth[ing] sweetness and light.

Friendship is the core of a [fr]ernal group and the onl[y] for it to exist. This can [be] measured by winning [hom]floats, intramural trophies, [cam]pus leaders, high scholastic [av]or loud parties.

If the problem of choosing a [gr]to pledge confronts you, dis[card] these outward claims to fam[e] either the chapter or the na[me] for the moment.

Focus on the indivisable ties [that] bind the group. Examine the in[di]iduals closely to see if their [per]ception is showing. Many times [it] can play a larger part in the [fu]than sight, for things unseen often be sensed.

Ask yourself simply. Is th[is] group with which I can live thro[ugh] out the year with some sem[blance] of harmony? Will I be will[ing] give up time, money, and [free]in order to be a member [of] group? Will I be willing [to] jugate my will to the wil[l of] group? Is this a group of [men] would be proud-- even if they [get] no honors?

Do not let fear of not receiv[ing] invitation con you into putting [up] serious reservations. In a [lar]sity in which Greek groups [are] less than one fourth of the st[u]body, there is no shame in [in]dence.

Ken van Assenderp, Stude[nt] President, is an independent. [Ju]non Champion, last year's Wom[en] Vice President, was an indepe[n]They reached two of the hi[gh] posts among FSU students wi[th]a Greek label. There are [many] students who have had satisfy[ing] successful college careers [with]out Greekdom. One who doe[s] choose or is not chosen [has] reason to feel that all is [lo]

Fraternalism can be pleasant [and] rewarding. But he who [does] wrong will suffer more than he [who] chooses not.

"We Don't Want ANY Outside Interference"

John McCotter

Old Pros' Reunion

The opening of a new theatre season heralds the return of the old hands to campus productions. The recent try-outs for "Henry IV" allowed each of these past masters an opportunity to effect a grand entrance onto the theatrical scene.

First came the Beastie. Possessed by some mental disorder since last semester's production of "Look Homeward Angel," the Beastie had gone over his lines with thoroughness that only madness could motivate. His eyes flicked back and forth furtively as he sought his chair. Again and again he mumbled senseless phrases: "where hast been?.. (snicker) loggerheads... (chuckle) ...enfeoffed..." The person in the next seat made the mistake of peeking at the Beastie's script. The Beastie sprang to his feet with a howl and bit off the fellow's nose.

Then came the Sandfly. Prancing down the aisle, the Sandfly greeted everyone in the room with snappy handshakes and delighted babbling --except, of course, for the Beastie, who emitted an ominous rumble as the Sandfly flitted near. Introducing himself as Poins, the Sandfly plopped lightly into the seat next to the Orangutang, who kept them both giggling by browling "anon" at frequent intervals.

Finally there came Jemima. Leaping out of his chair, the Sandfly flitted up to her and asked her how she spent her summer. Jemima was thoughtful for a moment, then, looking the Sandfly straight in the eye (which is hard to do 'cause they got compound eyes), she said, "Did you know the policemen in New York City wear dresses like women?" Everyone was silent, even the Beastie, as this thunderbolt of wisdom struck home.

The director called for volunteers to begin auditioning and the Beastie sprang to his feet screaming, "I'll read, I'll do it! Lemme (pant, pant) lemme, oooh, please lemme!" He was frothing at the mouth. "I'll read (yuk yuk)," said the Orangutang. The Beastie tried to bite off his nose, but a policeman dressed as a woman burst through the door and slugged him with a huge purse. "Told yuh," said Jemima.

"Look at them," the director thought sadly, "they've acted so much they don't know who they are anymore. Why is it always this way-- the same people audition every time." His mind drifted back to better days with the University when the word "theatre" didn't scare people--when students didn't look as if they were manufactured on an assembly line. His thoughts were interrupted by a tug on his trouser leg. Looking down, he beheld the bright eyes of the Sandfly. "May I read for the part of Poins?"

Letters

More Said

The article in the "Flambeau" Sept. 12, 1962, dealing with di[a]tical materialism (written by [Allan] Dermott) is well written and [con]cise--too concise. More should [have] been said.

Communism is more than fixed changeless ideology--it is a dec[e]tive, unmitigated lie!

I will give one example: "K" [said] "We want peace." What he does say is: to get this peace (which means a world ruled by the Communists) we will blow up the West[ern] World, if need be.

In conclusion, I feel more should said and done about communism that every American understands grave danger we face from [the] "unseen" enemy.

Seth H. Bram

Today's News Roundup

FLAMBEAU NEWS SERVICES

IN THE WORLD

ANGA--- President Tshombe of the Congo's Katanga Province accused the United Nations of what he called a Trojan horse air- f 2,000 Congolese troops into North Katanga, to be used for a ed assault on three of his strongholds. appears to be building up a case against plans for unifying his sionist province with the rest of the Congo.

IN THE NATION

SHINGTON--- The Chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Com- e has warned the United Nations will have to pull its troops out he Congo in a few weeks, unless the U.N. gets an immediate and able loan. The House votes tomorrow on the bill authorizing U.S. ase of up to half of a 200 million dollar U.N. bond issue.

SHINGTON--- The President told his new conference yesterday s Commander-In-Chief, he has full power to do whatever may be ary to deal with Cuba. But he said he does no think the recent arms shipments present a threat to the United States or create need for what he called unilateral action now.
sident Kennedy branded as "cowardly and most outragious" the g of two Negro churches in South Georgia. He told his news con- ce that those incidents and the shooting of two persons in Miss- were an attempt to keep Negroes from voting. He said F.B.I. s are in the area where the burnings took place, and added, "As as we find out who did it, they will be arrested and appropriately with."
dent Kennedy moved to head off a possible weekend strike by some 00 machinists at the Boeing Aviation Company. He named a three- fact-finding board to study the stalemated contract negotiations. urrent contract expires Saturday, but the union is expected not rike at least until after the board presents its report.

L CANAVERAL--- The man who's been named next in space for nited States said today that outside commitments have just about cked astronaut John Glenn out of the space program. Walter Shirra Glenn is needed to give the other astronauts the benefit of his al experience.

FLORIDA SPOT NEWS SUMMARY

pical Storm Celia's center is now located about 1,800 miles out Atlantic but is heading for the coast of the United States.

ellas County has reported its 14th death in the current encephal- utbreak. This is the 19th death to occur from the disease in the .

rnor Farris Bryant says he's in favor of blockading Cuba and elegraphed the President to take steps against the Communist at.

WFSU-TV Schedule Today

WFSU-TV Friday, Sept. 14, 1962

9:45 El Espanol Es Facil (Elementary Spanish I)
10:00 Americanism vs Communism ("An Apostle for the Idea:Lenin")
10:30 Spanish II (Elementary Spanish) El Espanol Es Facil
10:45 Seeing Music
11:00 Commonwealth of Nations ("Can it Hold Together?"-A discussion of the "united" Commonwealth of Nations)
11:30 Geology 107
12:00 Geology 107
12:30 Mid-day
1:00 Alcoholic Hospital
1:30 Social Studies
2:00 Written Word ("Sign and Symbol")
2:30 Americanism vs Communism ("An Apostle for the Idea:Lenin)
3:00 English 101
4:30 What's New (We see how a beaver builds his home and dam)
5:00 Seeing Music (Simulcast with WFSU-TV and WFSU-FM)
5:55 News
6:00 Continental Classroom (Atomic Age Physics) "Review of Trigonometry"--The three basic functions of trigonometry are presented)
6:30 Commonwealth of Nations- "Can it Hold Together?"
7:00 Poets at Work ("Poet as Poet"-a discussion on William Butler Yates' ideas)
7:30 Lab 30--Host, Hugh Downs
8:00 Dr. Posin's Giants (Albert Einstein)
8:30 Frontiers of Knowledge
9:00 Festival of the Arts ("Music on the River"--follows the American Wind Symphony of Pittsburgh as they tour, by barge, the cities along America's rivers.)
10:00 Ten o'clock report

SCOTTY'S PURE OIL
325 E. TENNESSEE ST.
(Across from Garcias)
Mechanical Repairs
Automatic Car Wash
Gas and Oil
Slogan-While you dine at Garcia's, leave your car at SCOTTY'S
Neal Goodwin
Tune-up Specialist

UNUSUAL CLEVER EXOTIC

GIFTS

A FUN PLACE TO SHOP

imports by Vardi

214 W. COLLEGE AVE.

BILL THE BANK LAY-AWAY
OPEN DAILY 9:00-5:30
CLOSED WED. 1:00 p.m.

CHANELO'S PIZZA

NOW OPEN 11:00 A.M. DAILY
TO SERVE YOU

PIZZAS	9"	14"	17"
CHEESE	$.75	$1.50	$2.00
PEPPERONI	.90	1.75	2.25
BACON	.90	1.75	2.25
ITALIAN SAUSAGE	.90	1.75	2.25
OLIVES	.90	1.75	2.25
GROUND BEEF	.90	1.75	2.25
ANCHOVIES	.90	1.75	2.25
CHICKEN	1.00	2.00	2.50
MUSHROOMS	1.00	2.00	2.50
COMBINATION OF ANY THREE	1.20	2.25	2.75
COMBINATION OF ANY FOUR OR EVERYTHING	1.40	2.60	3.25

FREE CAMPUS DELIVERY
PHONE 224-2187
618 W. TENNESSEE STREET

Five Added To ROTC Staff

Five new faculty members began study as Army ROTC personnel at FSU this trimester.

Four of the officers will be assistant professors of military science. The fifth will serve as armorer.

Capt. William Sewell, who has just completed a tour of duty at Fort Benning, Ga., is a graduate of North Georgia College. He will teach military science as an assistant professor. His wife Samille and their three daughters, aged 6, 5, and 1, also live in Tallahassee.

Capt. Edward Stein is a graduate of LaSalle College, Philadelphia, Pa. He came to FSU after completing an Artillery Officers' course in Fort Bliss, Texas. With him are his wife Sonia and their 16-month-old daughter.

Capt. William J. Connolly, a graduate of The Citadel, has just completed a tour of duty in the 558th Artillery Group, Athens, Greece. He has a wife, Doris, and twin son and daughter, 3 1/2.

The fourth assistant professor is Capt. Daly H. Stanford, who has been with Third Armor Division Headquarters. He has a wife, Ann, and two children, 6 and 3.

Serving as armorer is Sgt./1c Andrew J. Gwin.

These five officers replace three who left FSU the past summer for new assignments.

Lt. Col. Robert E. David will be assigned to a post in Japan after several weeks at the Comptroller School, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. He was executive officer at FSU.

Maj. Robert F. Kessler has been assigned to 7th Army Headquarters in Stuttgart, Germany. Formerly department adjutant at FSU, he received his master of business administration in August.

Capt. Harry L. Sutton left in July for his new assignment to the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

Today

Professor H. Ekstein will lecture at the Physics Symposium on "Rigorous Symmetries of Elementary Particles," Part III, in 112 Nuclear Research Bldg. at 2 p.m.

* * * * *

Registration and changing of schedules for the fall trimester will close at 5 p.m.

* * * * *

Panhellenic Rush will begin at 7 p.m.

* * * * *

The campus movie, "Don't Go Near the Water," will be shown in Westcott Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

* * * * *

The Weekend

Saturday

Panhellenic Rush will be from 1 to 4:45 p.m.

FSU Seminoles will meet The Citadel Bulldogs at 8 p.m. in Campbell Stadium in the opening game of the 1962 football season.

* * * * *

The Wesley Foundation will have open house after The Citadel game.

Sunday

Rushees may pick up invitations to Panhellenic Rush parties from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in Longmire.

* * * * *

The first Hillel brunch for this year will be Sunday at 11 a.m. at Temple Israel. Faculty and students may attend.

* * * * *

Panhellenic Rush will be from 2 to 8:45 p.m.

SAN-CAN DRIVE-IN RESTAURANT

Air Conditioned Dining Room
Curb Service

Take Out Orders

Moderately Priced Food

Cube Steak Sandwich
French Fried Potatoes
Chef's Salad

55¢

Phone 223-0445
1825 Thomasville Road
(Across from Capital Plaza Shopping Center)

FORD'S TENNECO SERVICE

1444 WEST TENNESSEE
(Across from Quaker House)

GASOLINE — GOODYEAR TIRES
OIL — GOODYEAR BATTERIES
LUBRICATION — BRAKE SERVICE
ACCESSORIES — WASHING

Ask how to get your FREE wash or lube job.
Road Service ph. 222-9909
James Locke-Motor Tune Up Specialist

SUTTON'S HAIR FASHIONS
Corner College and Monroe
phone

SUTTON'S BEAUTY SALON
123 E. Fir
phone 22

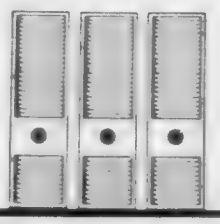
Mr. Sutton invites the students of discriminating taste in hair designs to come by or phone for an appointment.

Mr. Sutton
Evva Averett
Mary Vesta Williams
Wayne Leverette
Melanie Leverette
Louise Braswell

We have what you must have!. . . . .

CRICKETEER SUITS

head and natural shoulders above the crowd...



as seen in PLAYBOY

Cricketeer suits wit from $

Cricketeer sportcoats
from $

This Fall, more than ever, men everywhere will be w suits and sportcoats by Am top maker of strictly young clothes'. . .
how about you?

Turner's
doorway to fashion

116 s. monroe street phone 224-7178 tallahassee

DIXIE CREAM DONUTS
629 W. TENNESSEE

WE DELIVER

2 DOZ. TO 4 DOZ.
60¢ PER DOZ.

5 DOZEN OR MORE
45¢ PER DAY

PHONE 224-2554

The BIG "B"

ONE HOUR DRY CLEANERS

keep your clothes... Fresh as a rose

The BIG "B"

MONDAY TUESDAY WEDNESDAY
SKIRTS AND TROUSERS 3 for $1.00

LAUNDRY 5 SHIRTS FOR 1 $1.00

PULLOVERS, TUX, AND DOCTORS' JACKETS 25¢ each

Legend Accepts Literary Works

"The Legend," FSU's literary anthology, is now accepting contributions and looking for new staff members.

"The Legend" publishes yearly a collection of the best in creative writing being done at FSU. Typists and readers are needed for the staff.

Contributions may be left at the main desk, Longmire, if addressed to the anthology. For further information see Barbara Hoon, editor, 405 Longmire. Office hours are Tuesday and Thursday from 4 to 5 p.m. and Wednesday 7 to 8 p.m.

Open Rush

A new rule concerning open rush has been announced by Panhellenic president, Betty Bentley.

Contrary to past policy, a coed must be registered with Panhellenic in order to be eligible to be offered a bid during the year. Women who registered for fall rush or who pre-registered last year are eligible.

Registration for other coeds will be held in Longmire Oct. 5 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

.....WANTED.....

Female student to earn extra money. Must live in dorm, be neat, and desire to meet fellow student. For an appointment call Mrs. Wilson, 385-1587 or 385-1818. You'll be glad you did!

Dames Club Members Receive Special Degrees

Dames Club, a local chapter of the National Association of University Dames, is a social organization providing programs of social and cultural interest for the wives of university students, both graduate and undergraduate, and also for married women students.

Through its functions the club offers opportunities for the wives to become better acquainted with one another and encourages them and their student husbands to participate in university functions and activities.

In April a formal graduation service is held, with diplomas presented informally in August and December. Dames receive PHT (Putting Hubby Through) degrees from the University, signed by the President and Dean of Students of FSU.

Candidates "graduate along with their husbands," and to be eligible for a PHT degree, active membership in Dames must have been maintained.

The PHT degrees are awarded to members of the University Dames who have studied and practiced the science and art of "Putting Hubby Through." Fields of study include courses in culinary skills, budget balancing, household methods (offering practical experience in washing, ironing, cleaning and dishwashing), and other supplementary courses. Electives may include a 40-hour a week job or baby care or both.

Today's Weather

Clear to partly cloudy and hot, with widely scattered afternoon showers. Temperatures will range from a high of 95 to a low of 73.

Governor Speaks To Educator Group

Educators from Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina will attend a conference at FSU Oct. 7-9. Their aim is the improvement of school administration.

Speakers at the opening meetings will be Governor Farris Bryant, FSU president Gordon W. Blackwell and Thomas D. Bailey, state superintendent of public instruction.

Tarpon Club

The Tarpon Club will have tryouts Sept. 25 and 26 at 7 p.m. in the Women's Gym pool. Practice classes will be at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 18-20.

THE FRONTIER SHOP
1927 Thomasville Road
ph. 224-5311

LEVI'S

Regularly $4.50
NOW $3.99
Student Special
THIS WEEK ONLY

ANNOUNCING
GRAND OPENING
OF DEE'S BARBER SHOP
2238 S. Monroe

Across from Dr. Vickers vet. Dee's Barber Shop is a modern concern with latest equipment to meet the needs of their customers.

Regular haircuts	$1.25
Flat tops	D1.50

Flat tops & Princeton speciality

DEE'S BARBER SHOP

Bradford Manor Nursery

2117 Belle Vue Way
Phone 224-5690

Announces the opening of a discriminating nursery for parents who demand the best care for their children. Age 2 through 6. Children are now being accepted. Hours are 7:30 a.m. till 5:30 p.m.

Mrs. W. J. Moore
owner–operator

BOSTONIAN CORDOVAN

The vintage leather... hand chosen for comfort brand new to Cordovan

A)

B)

Bostonian hand-picked shell cordovan is aged naturally, with the care of a vintner aging his wine. It has a rare suppleness and comfort beyond anything you've ever known. A) cherry cordovan-$26.99. B) black or cherry cordovan $19.99. AA to E widths-sizes 7 1/2 to 13.

BOSTONIAN
MANSFIELD

Mendelson's MEN'S SHOES, STREET FLOOR

AT YOUR KENT THEATRES

FLORIDA	STATE
Now Showing JACK LEMMON has a New Apartment (Now just where does KIM NOVAK fit in.... Don't miss "THE NOTORIOUS LANDLADY"	Today & Saturday All-Star COLOR Program At 1:30-6:25-9:45 WILLIAM HOLDEN "ESCAPE FROM FORT BRAVO" And at 3:05-6:25-9:45 ROBERT TAYLOR "RIDE, VAQUERO!"
PERRY HIGHWAY OUTDOOR	CAPITAL DRIVE-IN ON WOODVILLE HWY.
Tonight & Saturday In COLOR at 7:50 BOB HOPE LANA TURNER "BACHELOR IN PARADISE" Plus at 9:45 BOB HOPE LUCILLE BALL "FACTS OF LIFE" COLOR BONUS at 11:30 "WHERE THE BOYS ARE"	Tonight & Saturday Showing at 7:50 "THREE STOOGES MEET HERCULES" and at 9:30 KIRK DOUGLAS "LONELY ARE THE BRAVE"

JIM'S CITY SERVICE
463 W. TENNESSEE

ROAD SERVICE
LUBRICATION
WASH
GASOLINE

AAA

PHONE 224-8820
BATTERIES
TIRES
ACCESSORIES

Jim Elkins–Tune-up Specialist
Free ice bucket with purchase of 10 gallons of gasoline

FRIDAY ONLY

Probation Hits Three Gridders

Disciplinary probation has robbed Florida State of three football players, who were being counted on to boost the Seminoles this season.

The three are junior fullback Dave Snyder, sophomore fullback Maury Bibent, and sophomore guard Jack Shinholser.

The three had been on probation some months ago for an offense that was not specified, and when their cases were reviewed, ther received an unfavorable decision.

For this reason, Snyder will miss the opener, Bibent will miss the first four games, and Shinholser will be out for the season.

Bibent, a freshman last semester, had his car registered under Snyder's name.

ROAD SERVICE
Auto Repairing Brake Service
Good 224-9341 Service
WEST TENNESSEE PURE OIL
637 W. Tennessee

Tony's Pizza
1805 Thomasville Road
Phone 224-6210
Specializing in
Pizza
Spaghetti
Italian Salad
TONY'S PIZZA

Complete, fresh drug stocks beyond what is carried by our drug outlets
Values on drug and related products that are the main part of our business (not a "sideline" as in non-drug outlets)
Professional services of a trained pharmacist and trained salespeople
Prompt service at any time of the day or night in any emergency
As independent business men, we take an active interest in the community we serve
FIVE REASONS WHY...
YOUR MONEY BUYS MORE
IN A REAL DRUG STORE
UNIVERSITY PHARMACY
University Plaza Shopping Center
Phone 224-5011

Against Bulldogs At 8

Feely To Lead Chiefs Tomorrow

Quarterback Eddie Feely will lead the first team of the Florida State Seminoles against the Citadel Bulldogs tomorrow as FSU and Citadel fight their fourth football contest.

Feely's outfit, the Chiefs, is an offensive squad, and it will feature right half Keith Kinderman, left half Ken Russom, and fullback Marion Roberts in the backfield.

The all-important front wall will be manned by ends John McConnaughhay and Hank Sytsma, tackles Jim Sims and Tom Slicker, guards Chuck Robinson and captain Gene McDowell, and center Bruce Darsey.

Coach Bill Peterson, who has been plagued with a rash of injuries at end, said the Renegades, the defensive team, would feature Butch Gunter and Red Dawson at end, Bill Tyre and Avery Sumner at tackles, Ferrell Henry and Dick Hermann at guards, and Bill Daly at center.

The Renegades will be quarterbacked by Charlie Calhoun. Larry Brinkley and Tom Hillabrand will handle halfbacks.

Fullback will be Ralph Norman. The third team, the Warriors, will have Dale Mackenzie and Mike Blazovich at tackles, Jack Edwards at center, Jerry Bruner and John Levings at guards. Jack Floyd and Jim Causey will probably down ends.

Quarterback Steve Tensi will command halfs Jim Loftin and Winfred Bailey and fullback Gene Roberts.

The Tribes' opponents need experience, Coach Eddie Teague of the Citadel says, which is what Peterson has said of the Seminoles' end position.

The Citadel will have 14 lettermen returning, as compared to Florida State's 24, but both teams have a few injured numbering among the returnees.

The only returning regular that Teague has is guard Gene Dice, who is described as a "complete football player." His only returning letterman tackle, a position that lost four men at graduation, is Larry Ross, a 220-pound senior from North Carolina.

The Citadel, which leans toward short passes, seems to have an adequate combination going between quarterback Sid Mitchell and end Charlie Brendle.

The Southern conference champs lost all-conference end Bill Gilgo and halfback Early Eastburn through graduation, which gives the Brendle-Mitchell duet extra onus.

Instead of utilizing the three-team system, as they originally planned, the Citadel coaches will send two teams against the three-teams of FSU.

Originally, Teague hoped to have Mitchell handle the first team and Wade St. John a second, equally experienced team, with rookies dominating the third squard.

The 0-0 tie with FSU i[illegible] proved that Teague's team [illegible] pack quite a whallop. It was the[illegible] scoreless hassle in histor[illegible] Seminole squad. Only twice [illegible] had the Seminoles even bee[illegible] volved in tie games.

Last year, the Citadel alme[illegible] the Southern Crown on its [illegible] possibly was not fighting at [illegible]

Soccer Practice

The International Soc[illegible] begin weekly practices tomo[illegible] afternoon at 2:30 on the field [illegible] to Montgomery Gymnasium.

Captain Roger Cheng invited students to try out for the [illegible]

Gymkana Tour

The Gymkana troup takes [illegible] road this weekend to prese[illegible] of their shows in Fitzgerald, G[illegible] gia. This is part of the [illegible] ation for their shows in Tul[illegible] beginning Oct. 17.

Perry Rockafellow, left, Colgate tennis coach, presents the winning bowl to the winnders of the Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament. Florida State's single title holder Paul Scarpa, teammate Gordy Smith, and Coach Eddie Cubbon accept the award.

Scarpa, Smith Cop Eastern Net Title

BY JOHN WOOD
Flambeau Sports Writer

Harvard . . . Yale . . . Colgate . . . Pittsburgh . . . Ohio Wesleyan . . .

This is a partial list of the greatest tennis powers in the East. It is also a list of the teams that fell before the wake of a bunch of Florida State netters under the direction of Coach Ed Cubbon.

Paul Scarpa and Gordy Smith, ranked number one and number two respectively during the season, appeared in Hamilton, N.Y., June 10 for the five-day Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Championship and walked off with top honors.

Scarpa, now destined for service with Uncle Sam, trounced Joe Brown of Pitt, 6-4, 6-3, 6-1, in the final round to win the singles championship. He then teamed with Scarpa to defeat the pick of Ohio Wesleyan's crop.

This enabled the Seminoles to register a grand slam in the tourney, becoming the third team to accomplish such a feat in the 42-year history of the meet.

Yale and Lehigh are the only other schools that have won the singles, doubles, and team championships. The annually awarded trophy is coveted by all large Eastern schools, but has gone to Southern schools for the past two years. Last year, the Tarheels of the University of North Carolina captured top honors.

"It was one of the biggest thrills I have had in my coaching career," Coach Cubbon said. "As I watched them win, I felt it was one of the finest exhibitions of college tennis that I have ever seen. I attribute this to the fact that Paul and Gordy had so much desire to prove they were of championship caliber.

"They displayed excellent concentration," he continued, "and kept errors to a minimum."

Enjoy
Your Hometown
with Your Breakfast!
NOW the St. Petersburg Times gets here at the crack of dawn. That means you can have the latest sports, the news of the world and all the goings-on along the Suncoast right while you're dipping into the second cup of coffee.
Costs the same as delivered at home—just 55c a week—whether you live on-campus or elsewhere in town. Just phone 222-9451 and order The Times started in the morning.
St. Petersburg Times
FLORIDA'S BEST NEWSPAPER

MEN PART-TIME WORK
21 YEARS OF AGE MUST HAVE CAR
PHONE 222-0446 OR 222-4214

SNOW WHITE LAUNDRY
and DRY CLEANERS
625 West Tennessee
One day service
One hour service also
Finish shirts—pants
Fluff dry service

COOL IDEA
PLAY GOLF
DAY OR NIGHT
Oak Valley GOLF CLUB
555 OCALA ROAD
"Open Daily" play area
Golf Course - Pro-Shop
Driving Range-Snack Bar
Putting Green.

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

XLIX, No. 9 — Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University — Monday, September 17, 1962

Student Insurance

ent Insurance will be av- [illegible] 210 Longmire [illegible] until 5:00 Monday [illegible]. Deadline date [illegible] 30.

ecture Topics n Two Series Offer Variety

[illegible] lectures beginning y night will offer a variety of s for the interest of FSU stu- and faculty.

[illegible] Forum, conducted by lan Thomson, will be at 7:30 [illegible] Unitarian Fellowship . on Wildwood Drive. The Can- ry Hour at the Episcopal Chapel he Resurrection will begin at ., with lectures to be followed cussion and coffee.

Liberal Forum will feature kers from FSU, and occasional- [illegible], of every other y night. On alternate Sundays, will be discussions of religion liberal, with students discus- ks, plays and so forth. [illegible] Sunday will [illegible] meeting, and will speak on "What Is a [illegible]. Paul Minus, University [illegible] at the Canter- [illegible]. He will discuss [illegible] Church-State Re- tudy of where and how [illegible] presented itself. r speakers and topics sched- or the coming trimester at the rbury Hour include:

30 - The Rev. Thomas van rector, St. John's Par- [illegible] "The Biblical Per- ve."

7 - Dr. Marian Irish, profes- and chairman, Government "The American Resolution." [illegible]. Riccard, associate pro- [illegible] ernment, "The Current 21 - Dr. Lewis Killian, pro- [illegible] Sociology, "The Implica- for Today and Tomorrow." series of lectures are free and o he public.

BOP Holds First Meeting

ate students and former FSU [illegible] submit contributions he Legend," the Board of tion decided last week.

ame time, however, max- pace allotted these contri- was limited to 15 percent tal space of the publication. Legend" is the campus lit- anthology. Editor of the pub- his year is Barbara Hoon. action, the board approved ment of a new salaried pos- executive editor for "The lambeau."

e board is composed of five nt members and three faculty bers. Student members are DiCarlo, chairman; Mary Ellen s, Beth Ann LeGate, Margaret and John Schaffner. Fac- members include Dr. Reid omery, Dr. Grifftith T. Pugh r. Sidney Kobre.

FEELY BREAKS THROUGH FOR FIRST TD

. . .in Saturday night's FSU-Citadel game. This also proved to be the winning touchdown of the game as FSU went on to rout the Citadel Bulldogs 49-0. See the story on page 6. (Photo by Bruce Tibbo, Flambeau photo editor)

FSU Homecoming Queen Nominations Deadline Set

Nominations for Homecoming Queen to reign over festivities Nov. 2-4, will close Thursday, except for nominations from women's dormitories which will be accepted until 10 a.m., Friday.

All organizations planning to sponsor candidates should obtain application blanks at the main desk in Longmire by Wednesday, Barbara Hornbeck, chairman of the contest stressed.

The time extension has been granted to women's dormitories since they will not have house meetings until Thursday night, she said.

The Homecoming Queen Contest Committee stresses that candidates should be "representative of the ideal coed at Florida State University." Each contestant must have a 2.0 overall grade average or better, be classified as a senior by the Registrar's Office, have a good citizenship record and be able to attend all scheduled practices for the Pow Wow.

This year in addition to posting pictures of the candidates at the polling areas, a list of each candidate's campus activities will be placed directly below her picture.

"We hope that when everyone votes Sept. 28 for Homecoming Queen, they will realize that we are not just sponsoring a beauty contest, but a character and leadership contest too. The Queen should embody all these qualities," Miss Hornbeck said.

As is traditional, the identity of the queen will be a secret until the Pow Wow, Nov. 3.

Flambeau Deadlines

The deadline for submitting material for use in the "Florida Flambeau" is noon the day before the desired publication date.

However, when possible information should be turned in about three days in advance.

The "Flambeau" offices are in 211 and 213 Longmire. "Flambeau" telephones are extensions 3228, 3052 and 2437.

Male Cheerleader Tryouts Practice Begins Tomorrow

Bill Harnage, head cheerleader, announced today that practice for tryouts for two additional men cheerleaders will begin tomorrow on Landis Green in front of Montgomery Gym at 4:30 p.m.

Harnage said the two men will be added to the squad in a plan eventually to have an equal number of men and women leading the cheers for the Seminoles.

He said any male in the University is eligible to try out and urged that all interested men and anyone with gymnastic experience seriously consider coming out Tuesday.

The new cheerleaders will have opportunities to travel to all away games in addition to cheering for the Seminoles at home, he added.

Harnage explained that contrary to past years, no freshman cheerleaders have as yet been selected. He said the freshman men will have their chance along with all other interested men students this week and that freshman women cheerleaders will not be elected until spring.

These are not the only changes in the cheerleaders this year. Harnage stressed that the squad kept in contact during the summer months developing new cheers and new approaches to the problem of "arousing the Seminole spirit." Many of the new cheers were used Saturday night.

Board Of Control

U of SF Defended; President Praised

A special committee, appointed by the Board of Control, defended the University of South Florida against critical attacks of the Johns' Legislative Investigating Committee, and commended USF president Dr. John S. Allen for developing the "beginnings of a great university."

On most of the charges, the Board's committee found no ground for accusations as pointed out in the Legislative Committee's summary report.

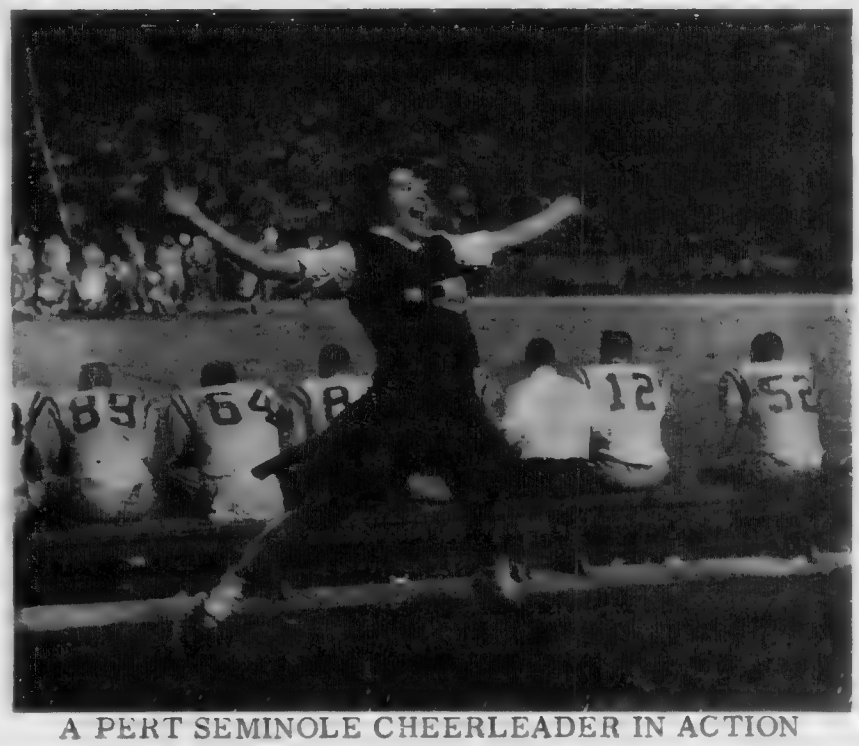
The Board, in its meeting Friday, said it was aware of most of the problems contained in the Johns' committee report. But it said the Board, NOT any legislative committee, was responsible for proper investigation as to actions taken in state educational institutions. The Board emphasized those "problems were already under scrutiny and had been corrected before the Legislative Committee went to USF.

The Board's committee reported that the 2,500 pages of testimony did not reveal any deviations from acceptable modes of social or moral conduct, but it has been cognizant for some time that its employment procedures throughout the system could be improved by thorough review of the qualifications of each individual considered for employment in any of the state educational institutions.

Concerning proper teaching materials, the Board said it would be striking at the heart of academic freedom of all institutions if it acted as a censoring group. The Board's committee suggested that selection of materials should be left in the hands of faculties. The committee felt the Board should recommend a policy for adoption of procedures as to the selection of teaching materials. It recommended material should be considered for its pertinence to the subject being taught, its availability, and its view of good taste and common decency.

As to the challenge of basic rel-

(continued to page 3)



Debaters Hold First Meeting

The first meeting of the FSU Debate Squad will be Tuesday at 7 p.m in 208 History.

Squad members as well as new members are invited by Coach Richard Hahn to attend. No debating experience is necessary. There are openings for beginning debaters to enter novice divisions at tournaments. This season's schedule will include from 10 to 12 trips.

This year's national intercollegiate topic is as follows: Resolved, that the non-communist nations of the world should establish an economic community.

Those interested in participating but unable to attend the first meeting, should contact Richard Hahn in 206 History.

A PERT SEMINOLE CHEERLEADER IN ACTION

. . .as she led the FSU student body through a succession of cheers; leading the Seminoles on to their 49-0 win over the Citadel, in Saturday night's opening football game of the season. (Photo by Emmette Jackson)

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members and the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Crisis At U M

This week one of our prominent neighbors to the north, the University of Mississippi, faces a crisis. For the first time in its history, and under federal court order, a Negro will be admitted as an undergraduate student.

In order for the Old Miss student body to follow the leadership of FSU and several other southern universities in maintaining a civilized atmosphere on campus and accepting these new students as "just students" they will have to buck the leadership of Mississippi state government.

Governor Ross Barnett issued what has been considered one of the sternest "hold the line" on segregation orders seen in recent years. The order declared he wanted no one employed by the state who is not willing to go to jail to avoid complying with the court order to desegregate Mississippi schools. During a press conference he indicated he, too, would be willing to go to jail to avoid desegregation of any kind.

The governor's statement is a black-eye for education in Mississippi. Progress in their school system has been a long time in coming. The state is finding it cannot economically provide separate-but-equal facilities for Negroes and whites and still remain abreast academic ratings of the rest of the nation's educational institutions.

They are also finding the economy of the state sadly lagging because of inadequate educational facilities and woefully insufficient job opportunities for its citizens, both Negro and white.

Mississippi's population is about 52 per cent Negro. Yet this majority finds only "second-best" opportunities in education and employment.

With the absence of leadership in state government and continued agitation from the state's governor, it appears students will face trying days in the next few weeks. It is our guess that trouble, if any is to come, will not be instituted by university students.

Last year, students at the University of Georgia calmly accepted integration, but found rabble rousers and white trash from neighboring towns invading the campus to cause riots. Georgia students were fortunate, however, in that their governor provided leadership in maintaining law and order.

It is our hope University of Mississippi students will be able to meet this crisis and come through it in the tradition of other great southern universities, and that they too will have "just students."

OW

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor; Joan Abbott, News Editor; John Schaffner, Managing Editor; Howard Denson, Sports Editor; Ellen Harris, Feature Editor

Asst. Managing Editor.....Jim Smith
Asst. News Editor.....Lana Murray
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clarke, Carl Rosenbush, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens, Matt Straub.
News Staff - Bonnie Shiplett, Hope Pastor, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Jody Wilkis, Maureen Perkins, Pat Freeman, Bill Smart, Mary Gros-Senbacher, Sarah Gordon, Bob Mullins, Susie Rhoades, Iris Anderson, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Duke Mader.
Sports Staff - John Wood, Shirley Hardison.
Feature Staff - Frank Coney, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Dave Kelmeckis, Fred McDonald.
Photographers - John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Dave McNeill
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeither, Greg Grunke, Don Dughi.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Bonnie Freeman

Education Along The Highway

THIS WAS A VACATION spent preparing for the trimester. We became an experienced highway driver this summer.

We began by being awakened at five in the morning. And being put behind the wheel of the car. We started the car; we checked the map; we got out of the city by ten-th

We learned how to pass cars. learned how NOT to pass cars, learned not to drive with the emergency brake on.

By the second day, we were aw enough to notice the scenery. saw thirty-seven signs saying R City, The Eighth Wonder; twen five with See Seven States F Rock City; Eight Millions Have Rock City Have You?; and one dred eleven See Rock City.

AND THERE WERE the others: Not Cross Yellow Line Righ Center Line, Do Not Pass, Sp Limit Enforced, Burma Shave.

Do not pass Go.

Then we got confused and d sixty miles out of our way--bu were making terrific time!!

We noticed a game the chil were playing. They would dash cross the highway in front o oncoming autos, and the first back out of the game was cal high school student.

COMING THROUGH THE NAR ("This road is being improv the Taxpayers of the State of nessee"), treacherous ("De 100 feet"), unbelievably w ("Speed limit 65, strictl forced"), Cumberland Mounta a pouring rain was challengin

But we enjoyed it all--the waitress who had never hear grits, ("Haven't seen enny s bin here, and I bin here all life."), the motel manager wasn't really sure how muc charge us ("Oh, 'bout five or or so."), the assurance for one dred miles that there was a faster way ("This Way To the S shine State I arkway!!!"), drivers that only took up hal road--the middle half.

AND YOU KNOW WHAT? We even stop to see Rock City.

"Our Quarters Are Satisfactory, And Soon We Will Look For Something More Permanent"

Joe Rice

Laughter - The Lack Of It

AT THE RECENT conference of The National Association of Small Woodland Creatures (NASWC) one of the most pressing problems of our times was first on the agenda. This problem, "laughter--the lack of, today" has been on the minds of others but today we report on the findings of NASWC.

The discussion, if memory does not fail me, went something like this: The field mouse introduced the subject. "We are," he said, "suffering from a dearth of laughter today."

"A prolonged drought," chipped in the chipmunk.

"Almosssst," hissed the king snake, "a complete sssstoppage."

"You are not far from wrong," said the nutria. Nutria, by the way, despite the fact that he is one of the newest members of the NASWC, is considered one of its most aggressive and valuable members. He has been named the association's vice president for the coming year. "I propose," he proposed, "that we do something about it."

"YOU JUST NAME it," said the crow, a member of the advertising fraternity, "and we'll push it off a limb and see if it flies."

"My idea," continued the nutria, "is to stage a laughing contest. Members of the press will give it wide publicity."

"It might catch on with the public," the crow agreed. "How about 'Laughter Is Good For What Ails You' as our slogan for the coming year?"

"Very good!" chorused the other members.

"It is just possible," said the nutria, polishing his upper incisors, "that the laughing contest will do to TV Westerns what TV Westerns did to quiz contests."

This thoughtful proposal was greeted by a bedlam of chirrups, squeaks, squeals, hoots, and catcalls.

AFTER ORDER WAS restored members were divided into half a dozen appointed judges. The mourning dove, incidentally, has been present at a number of track and field events, including the 1960 Olympics, and was prevailed upon, despite his inherent shyness, to draw up ground rules for the contest. At his suggestion the contest was run in three heats, after the fashion of hammer throw, high jump, and discus pitching events.

The teams were informally referred to as the "cheep-peeps," a variety of small birds; the "yipp-yipps," prairie dogs, gophers, etc.; the "wha-hahs," turtles, armadilloes, porcupines, and raccoons; the "nyah-nyah, you can't catch me's," jack rabbits, swamp rabbits, road runners, and blue racers; (the fact that the blue racer was the only sanke represented in the contest should not, necessarily, lead one to the conclusion that snakes have no sense of humor); and the "he-who's" a catch-all conglomerate dominated by the nutria and the hoot owl, last year's president of the NASWC.

The first or trial heat was run off quickly with only one team, the "cheep-peeps," being eliminated, on the ground that they lacked volume. Several "cheep-peeps," it must be reported, objected to the judges' decision and caused a ruckus. It took the sergeant-at-arms the better part of an hour to restore order.

THE "YIPP-YIPPS" and the "humph-humphs" were eliminated in the second heat and the go team captain of the "yipp-yipp tried to make a speech of pr He was declared out of order. went underground and has not b seen since. It is rmored the g er's name will be dropped fro rolls of the NASWC.

Third, and final, heat was run a dark, at the insistence of the Scattered mutterings and peeps protest were heard, and it p that, had it been brought to a the members would have vote adjourn the meeting and the co until morning. But the owl gla down his opponents, and the heat was held under the light o stars.

Numbers were tossed in a hat drawn out by the team capta The owl, who has excellent vision, read them off and an that the final event would be in the order of "wha-hahs," "n nyahs," and "he-whos."

The "wha-hahs," huddled on a above the judges' heads, did not l as well or as loudly as they laughed in the preliminary he and it was apparent that the ges were disappointed with th performance.

"NYAH-NYAHS" stuck their he out of their burrows just far en for the sake of appearances. laughed desultorily and withdr

"He-who's" then strutted onto stage, put their heads toge filled their lungs with good air, and gave out with a verita blast of laughter.

The judges conferred for a mom and then the mourning dove nounced: "He-who's last la blast's best," and the meeting adjourned.

...Board Of Control

(continued from page 1)

...us beliefs of students by pro-...sors, the Board's committee said ...s is the most difficult of the issues ...ised by the Legislative Commit-...e. The Board's committee said, ...it is impossible to conduct classes ...a university without certain quest-...s in the religious field occurring. ...ll questions may be discussed ...ly and it is proper to do so ...an objective manner."

...lso, the teaching faculty in dis-...ssing such questions in the class-...om should refrain from advocating ...ir own religious beliefs or their ...n personal convictions concerning ...m. The individual personal ...s beliefs of the students ...hall be respected at all times."

...conclusion the Board's committee said that most of the problems ...ted by the Legislative Investigating ...mmittee had already been cor-...ted ...curred because of rapid ...with ...of initiating corrective ...n too slowly. Some have been ...sed by poor communication am-...those concerned.

...he Board's committee pointed out ...at an investigation such as the one ...ade by the John's Legislative Com-...tee should be viewed in its proper ...spective. Its function is to inves-...pecific areas of complaint ...ate only unfavorable ...rmation because of its limited ...ction.

Dr. Zerbe's Art Is Shown Throughout U. S.

KARL ZERBE'S FASCINATING "MARTIAL CLOWN" . . .is an example of the quality of art that will be shown at the University Art Gallery September 24 through October 14 in a showing of Zerbe's retrospective art.

Forty-four art works by FSU professor Karl Zerbe will be shown throughout the U.S. under the sponsorship of the American Federation of Arts through a Ford Foundation grant.

The retrospective collection will be shown at FSU in the University Art Gallery from Sept. 24 to Oct. 14.

The exhibition will be circulated to art centers and museums east of the Mississippi for year. Later it will tour nationally.

The art works were selected by Porfessor H. S. Janson of the Fine Arts Dept., New York University, from Zerbe works created over 32 years.

Karl Zerbe was born Sept. 16, 1903, in Berlin, Germany. After spending his childhood in Paris he received his education at the Technische Hochschule in Friedburg and attended some courses at the Munich Academy. He gave his first one-man exhibition at the age of 19. In 1923 he won a traveling fellowship that enabled him to visit Italy. His work was exhibited throughout Germany.

In 1930, the Golz Gallery of Munich arranged to introduce his work to America in an exhibition at the Marie Sterner Gallery, New York City. Zerbe arrived in America Jan. 4, 1934. The same year his work fell victim to Nazi destruction--it was labelled subversive and degenerate and was removed from the museums. However, this was also the year of his first one-man exhibition in America.

In 1935 Zerbe began teaching at the Fine Art Guild of Cambridge, Mass., and to exhibit regularly in New York City, Boston, and in major national group exhibitions. He was married in 1936 to Marion Koegel. He became an American citizen in 1939.

From 1937 to 1954 he was head of the Paintings Dept. in the School of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

During 1954 he visited FSU and was offered a position as professor of art. He accepted the appointment and has remained here since, teaching and painting.

Rush Times Changed

Panhellenic reminds rushees of the schedule change for today's rush parties. The schedule to follow is 5 to 6 p.m., 6:30 to 8 p.m. (dinner) and 8:15 to 9:15 p.m.

Rushees who attend today's rush parties must sign preferentials tomorrow between 1 and 5 p.m. in Longmire.

Bertha Cooke

Fabulous Starflite

New Strapless Version

$5.95

Starflite is the original, exclusive and utterly fabulous Marja brassiere with softly gathered nylon tricot and nylon lace cups. Shaped with contoured pads, the cups give complete separation and support with flat wires. The back, strong "stay-put" elastic of acetate, Dacron polyester, rubber. White, black.

Style 24. A cups, 32 thru 36

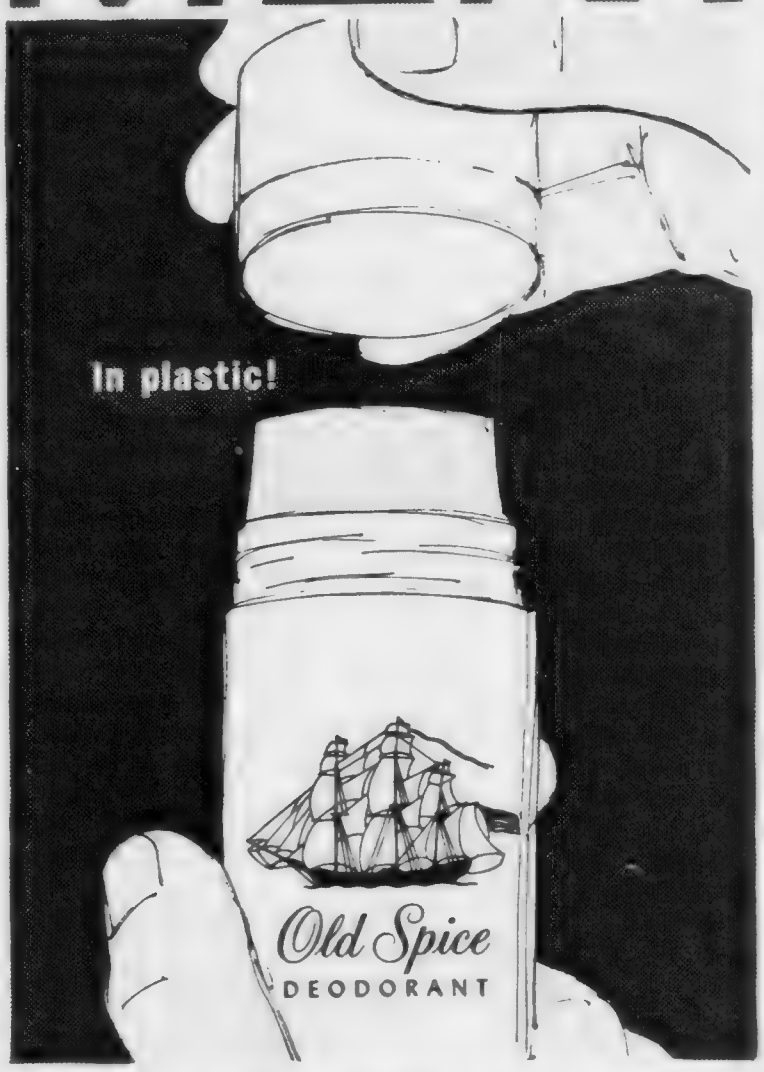
B and C cups, 32 thru 38.

When Godiva, that famed lady fair,
Told her husband, "I've nothing to wear,"
With his Swingline in hand,
He stapled a band
And said, "Wear this, my dear, in your hair!"

SWINGLINE STAPLER

98c

...ncluding 1000 staples!
Larger size CUB Desk Stapler only $1.49



No bigger than a pack of gum

- Unconditionally guaranteed!
- Refills available anywhere!
- Get it at any stationery, variety, or book store!
- Send in your own Swingline Fable. Prizes for those used.

Swingline INC. LONG ISLAND CITY 1, N. Y.

MEN!

Here's deodorant protection

YOU CAN TRUST

Old Spice Stick Deodorant... fastest, neatest way to all-day, every day protection! It's the active deodorant for active men...absolutely dependable. Glides on smoothly, speedily...dries in record time. Old Spice Stick Deodorant —most convenient, most economical deodorant money can buy. 1.00 plus tax.

Old Spice STICK DEODORANT

SHULTON

WFSU-TV Schedule

Monday, Sept. 17, 1962

9:10 English 102 -telecourse
9:40 Seeing Music
9:45 El Espanol Es Facil - Spanish I
10:00 Americanism vs Communism "The Idea Finds New Friends"- Through the willingness to temporarily overlook differences Lenin was able to unite several diverse elements into a single organized Marxist group.

10:30 El Espanol Es Facil -Spanish II
10:45 Seeing Music
11:00 Commonwealth of Nations - "The Invisible Keystone" -This film shows the influence of Magna Carta in development of Parliamentary rule throughout the Commonwealth.

11:30 Engish 101 -telecourse
12:05 Geology 107 -telecourse
12:35 Mid-Day -news, weather, hints for the ladies
1:00 Ragtime Era "Any Old Rags?" -Max Morath explains why ragtime was more than just another kind of tune.
1:30 Seeing Music
1:50 English 101 -telecourse
2:25 Seeing Music
2:30 Americanism vs. Communism -"The Idea Finds New Friends"

------sign off -------

4:30 What's New -A visit to the Florida Everglades to learn about the plants and animals.

5:00 Seeing Music -Simulcast with WFSU-TV and WFSU-FM
5:55 News
6:00 Continental Classroom-Atomic Age Physics - "Accelerated Motion"

6:30 Commonwealth of Nations - "The Invisible Keystone"
7:00 English 101 -telecourse
7:30 Writers of Today -(Debut: Explores the important literary expressions of outstanding contemporary authors. Tonight: Isak Dinesen talks about poetry.

8:00 FSU Sports- A preview into the FSU-Citadel game
9:00 Perspective -"Coastal Command"
10:00 Ten O'Clock Report -news, weather, sports (local)

Today's News Roundup

FLAMBEAU NEWS SERVICES

AROUND THE WORLD

NEW YORK-- The International Monetary Fund has criticized West European nations for discouraging exports of capital that would help ease the U.S. Balance of Payments problem.

NEW YORK-- The United Nations says there will be a report Monday about charges that two Soviet employes of the U.N. paid a New York lawyer $3,000 to give them certain information to make Pro-Russian speeches. Both Russians have left the U.S. The Justice Department made the charges, basing them on information received from the lawyer, who had worked with the F.B.I.

NEW DELHI-- India's Defense Minister, Krishna Menon, has discussed the latest Chinesd troop movements into India with the Army Commander of Eastern India. It's said 200 Red Chinese penetrated into India's Northeast frontier area.

ACROSS THE NATION

ROCHESTER, MINNESOTA-- A tornado has hit a housing development in Rochester, Minnesota, destroying or wrecking nine homes. Thirteen persons were treated at hospitals. Damage is estimated at $250,000.

WASHINGTON-- The White House announces President Kennedy's acceptance of the resignation of William Daniel as governor of Guam.

CHICAGO-- The Illinois State Medical Society has okayed use of oral vaccine in its fight against polio, but suggests that the program should be postponed until winter months when possible.

WASHINGTON-- The Atomic Energy Commission has announced another Soviet nuclear test in the atmosphere-- the 12th to be announced in the current Russian test series.

WASHINGTON-- The White House says President Kennedy will send to the Senate tomorrow the nomination of Dr. Glenn Seaborg to be U.S. representative for the Sixth Session of the Conference of the International Atomic Energy Agency. The session starts Tuesday in Vienna. Seaborg is Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

FLORIDA SPOT NEWS SUMMARY

A navy jet has crashed in Lake City and the pilot who parachuted from the plane is undergoing emergency surgery.

At least eight persons have lost their lives in accidents over the weekend in Florida.

A 43-year-old Jacksonville man says his wife died from a bullet accidentally shot from his gun while he was cleaning it.

A fire is raging in a Perry cellulose plant, but no injuries have been reported.

WANTED

ADVERTISING

Salesman for the FLAMBEAU. If Interested Apply

Rm. 415 Longmire

4 - 4:30 Mon. - Thur.

Former Party Member Speaks Here Friday

A former member of the Communist Party's National Committee, Dr. Bella V. Dodd, will speak at the Leon High School Auditorium Friday at 8 p.m.

The lecture is sponsored by Operation Information. Admission will be $.50 for students and $1 for non-students.

Tickets are available at Moon's Jewelry, Strickland's Shoe Store, Mendelson's, Parkway Bakery, Tallahassee Bank and Trust Company, Munford's Do-It-Yourself Store and Tallahassee Motor Hotel, all members of Operation Information.

State Rep. Mallory Horne of Leon County will introduce Miss Dodd.

A New York attorney, Miss Dodd was for many years a trusted member of the Communist party. She specialized in the development and institution of systems of subversion in the American school system. An ardent anti-Communist since breaking with the party in 1948, she has testified before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, the House Committee on Un-American Activities and other governmental groups concerning the subversive activities of the Communist Party in the United States.

She joined the party in 1932 and was a high ranking member of the Communist Party's National Committee from 1944 to 1948.

The lecturer taught at St. John's University Law School in Brooklyn, N.Y., from 1955 to 1961. She spoke at the Florida Governor's Conference on Cold War Education in Miami Beach in July.

Miss Dodd is the author of "School of Darkness."

Today

A report on the American Psychological Association Convention will be given at the Psychology Seminar at 4 p.m. in 306 Science.

* * * * *

Panhellenic Rush will be from 7 to 9 p.m.

* * * * *

Foundation Scholarship Organization Council will meet at 7 p.m. in the Longmire Student Lounge.

MILLER'S Cottery

The Duchess

32.99

BY

LONDON FOG

London Fog ... More than Just a Raincoat
Its a feeling ... Its a look ... In fact its London Fog Worn as a practical Raincoat worn as a light weight coat over shorts, or for warmth when the winter winds blow even for evening if need be in all sizes ... proportioned lengths
65% Dacron, 35% Cotton
Choice of Ivory or Black

MILLERS

Corner Monroe at College

Campaigning Starts Tomorrow

ctive campaigning of the 121 candates in the faces for Freshman ass officers and precinct senators begin at 5 p.m. tomorrow. urteen candidates have withwn. The deadline for withdrawal candidacy is noon Thursday.
andidates are cautioned by Ron es, secretary of elections, to erve the campaign regulations in on and off-campus campaigning.

The Elections Committee plans to rigidly enforce these regulations which were designed to provide equal opportunities for all candidates, he stressed.

There is to be no posting of literature on campus other than on the official election boards or in dorms where permissable. This means no posting of materials in academic, administrative or service buildings.

EXPENSES

Gifts and contributions to candidates in the form of posters, literature or any other tangible material are to be included on all candidates' expense accounts at full value, Jones said.

Candidates should have a better opportunity than ever before to effectively reach the voting members of the student body, stated Jones.

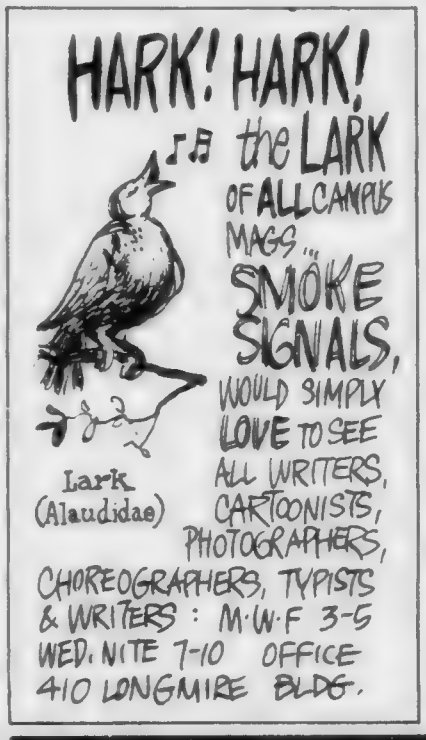
Deadline Is Friday Noon Miss Gymkana Contest

The deadline for entering the Miss Gymkana Contest is noon Friday.

Preliminaries of the contest will be Friday, at 6:45 p.m. in Tully Gymnasium.

The contestants must be registered by noon Friday with Dr. Hartley Price at the gym, Peggy Bruce at the Delta Delta Delta house or Tracy Torrey at the Sigma Kappa House.

They may be sponsored by any organization on campus or run independently. The entrants will be judged on beauty, charm and poise. They will wear sweaters, shorts and high heels.



The finalists of the preliminary contest will compose the Gymkana Court. From this court of 18 to 20 girls Miss Gymkana will be chosen on the additional requirements of costume design and cooperation.

The Gymkana troup takes to he road this weekend to present one of their shows in Fitzgerald, Georgia. This is part of their preparation for their shows "Pirate Daze" is the overall theme of Gymkana this year which will open for a four-night run Oct. 17 in Tully Gym.

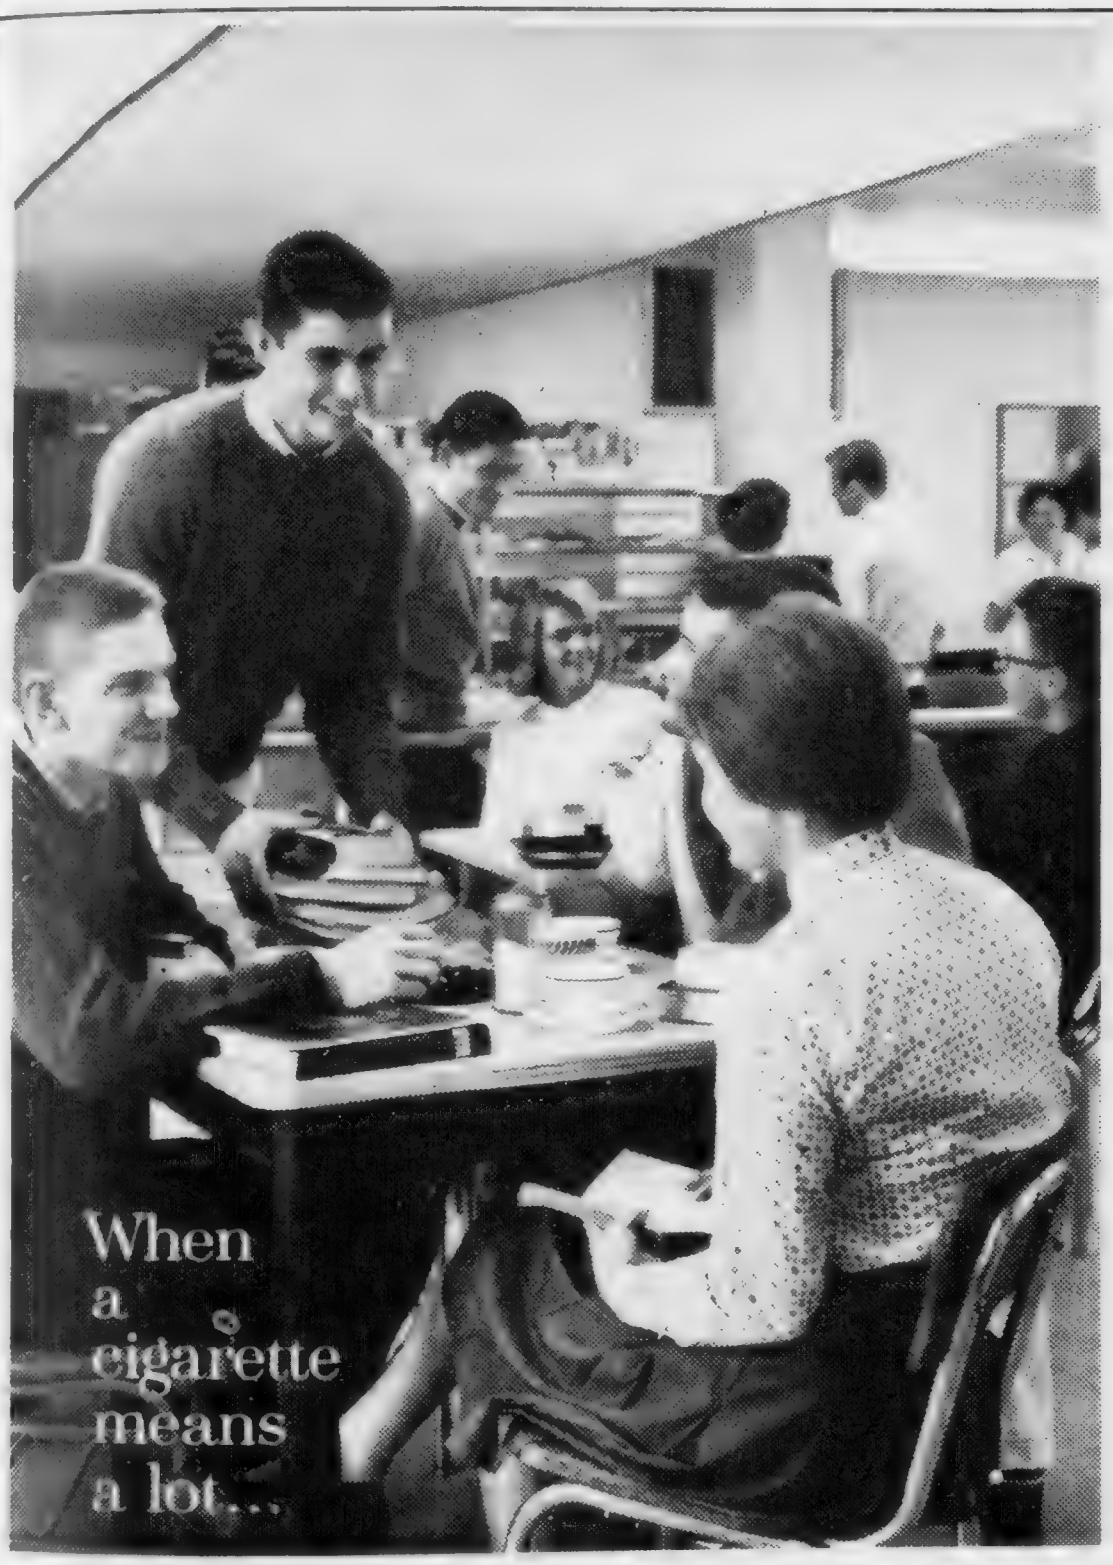
Today's Weather

Partly fair to partly cloudy with widely scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers. High 90. Low 72.

FSU Student Is Improving After Wreck



Fred Kelsey, 20, an FSU student was reported in improved condition at Tallahassee Memorial Hospital yesterday after being injured in a motorcycle accident Saturday.

After the 5:30 p.m. accident Saturday he was reported in fair condition with a broken wrist, bruises and abrasions.

He was thrown from the motorcycle when it went off the pavement on High road, west of the Tallahassee City limits and struck a culvert.

Trooper R.L. McDonald of the Florida Highway Patrol, the investigating officer, said Kelsey was injured when he went around a car which had slowed to make a left turn, apparently mis-judged his distance from the edge of the road and struck the exposed culvert.

About $50 damage was done to the motorcycle.

get Lots More from L&M

more body in the blend
more flavor in the smoke
more taste through the filter

It's the rich-flavor leaf that does it! Among L&M's choice tobaccos there's more of this longer-aged, extra-cured leaf than even in some unfiltered cigarettes. And with L&M's modern filter — the Miracle Tip — only pure white touches your lips. Get lots more from L&M — the filter cigarette for people who really like to smoke.

Enjoy

Your Hometown with Your Breakfast!

Now the St. Petersburg Times gets here at the crack of dawn. That means you can have the latest sports, the news of the world and all the goings-on along the Suncoast right while you're dipping into the second cup of coffee.

Costs the same as delivered at home—just 55c a week—whether you live on-campus or elsewhere in town. Just phone 222-9451 and order The Times started in the morning.

St. Petersburg Times
FLORIDA'S BEST NEWSPAPER

Florida State Slices Citadel Bulldogs To Shred

BY HOWARD DENSON
Flambeau Sports Writer

The Florida State Seminoles got a taste of what-is-not-to-come Saturday night when they soundly, completely, and utterly thrashed the Citadel Bulldogs, 49-0, in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

Coach Eddie Teague's Bulldogs never threatened and only made two first downs, but the three-platoons of FSU began hitting paydirt with 7:47 left in the first quarter.

After intercepting a Citadel pass and finding themselves unable to move the ball, the Seminoles punted to the Citadel three. The Citadel itself kicked to midfield and FSU's Ken Russon returned to the 20.

A holding penalty on a pass play dragged the Tribesmen back to the 38. At this point, quarterback Eddie Feely went back to pass, with Bulldogs charging all over, and heaved a lifeless ball into the air. Kinderman, with three Cadets about him, made a beautiful catch at the five and was downed on the three. Feely saw a zig-zag opening on the next play and sneaked across for a TD. John Harlee kicked the point after touchdown.

Nearly two minutes later on the clock, the Warriors entered the contest after sophomore Avery Sumner recovered a Citadel fumble on the Citadel 40. Short runs by Doug Messer, Kinderman, Gene Roberts and Winfred Bailey put FSU on the 24.

Then Tensi, who hit all seven pass attempts, passed to end Red Dawson on the nine. Three plays later, he hit Kinderman in the end zone to give FSU a 3-0 lead with 2:0+ left in the quarter. Again Harlee's kick was good.

Citadel closed out the quarter by kicking to FSU.

FSU's first score in the second stanza was a safety. After a series of short passes and runs, Feely attempted a pass from the 19 to Sytsma, but the ball bounced from the end's hands into the arms of halfback Converse Chellis, who was promptly knocked into the end zone by FSU guard Chuck Robinson. FSU led, 16-0, with 11:17 left in the first half.

Fullback Marion Roberts set up the next touchdown when he broke loose at right tackle on the Citadel 36 and ran to the one. After trying an unsuccessful drive through the middle, the fullback dove over for the third TD with 8:49 left. Again Harlee's kick was good, and FSU led 23-0

During the next seconds, the Citadel got its only first downs as (1) with a 3-1 situation, quarterback Joe Cannarella moved the ball from the 41 to the 43 on a keeper, and (2) FSU was penalized 15 yards for piling on.

The Warriors took over and grabbed five first downs--on two Citadel personal fouls, several short runs, and a 16- and 14-yard pass from Tensi to end Don Floyd. Another short run put FSU on the 11, where Tensi passed to Messer for a 29-0 tally with 2:12 left.

On the second play of the third quarter, Feely repeated his first period grand pass as he hurled the ball from the 44 to end John McCannaughhay, who made a difficult 41-yard batch. But on the next play, Feely fumbled and Citadel recovered.

Unable to do anything, Citadel punted. After two downs, FSU moved to the Citadel 33. Feely passed to Russon at the 20 and the back ran to the nine. Feely hit him again on the five and he plunged over with 7:53 left. The kick was good. FSU was ahead 35-0.

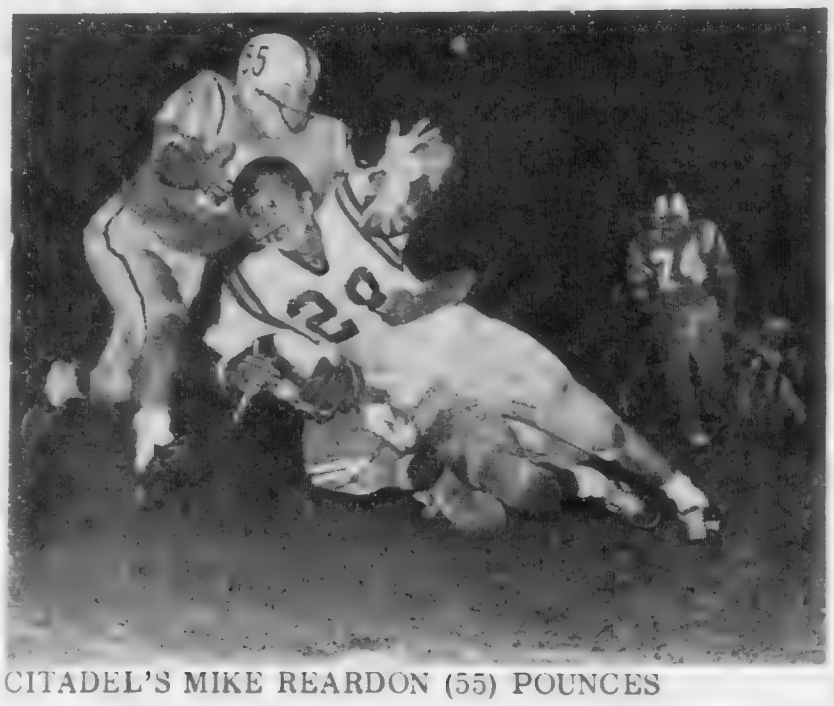
The Renegades came in, and as usual, kept the Citadel offense at a standstill. Four plays after the Citadel punt, Warrior quarterback Tensi hit Floyd at the 20 and the end ran all the way to the endzone with 3:39 left in the quarter.

Penalized 15 yards, Harlee's kick from the 35 was no good.

The Renegades kept the Citadel from doing any damage during the rest of the quarter, so FSU led, 42-0.

When the Cadets surrendered the ball, the Renegades got two first downs before they were caught behind the line, suffered a five-yard penalty, and were unable to get the four yards needed to keep the ball from the Bulldogs, who were unable to do anything with it when they took over.

The Chiefs came in with 9:15 left in the game and set up Florida Sate's final touchdown. Kinderman, who had just run from the FSU 45 to the 49, caught a heave from Feely on the 36 and ran to the 16. Then, with 7:41 left in the contest, Kinderman was hit by Feely on the goal line for a 48-0 tally. Harlee's kick was good.



The Renegades came in on defense for four plays, then were on defense for three plays, when halfback Dwight Street intercepted Renegade quarterback Charlie Calhoun's pass.

The Bulldogs dilly-dallied until 42 seconds were left, gaining eight yards on a run by Street and five yards on an FSU penalty. The other plays were losses and incompletions.

When the buzzer went off, Citadel's worst defeat at the hands of FSU. The Citadel fell, 44-8 year; tied FSU the year before scoreless game; was defeated in 1959; and faltered, 39-0, Cit.

First Downs	2
Rushing yardage	22
Passes	3-13
Passing Yardage	1
Passes Incept. by	1
Punts	8-2
Fumbles Lost	1
Yards Penalized	30

Citadel: 0, 0, 0, 0-0.
FSU: 14, 15, 13, 7-49.
FSU--Feely 3 run (Harl
fsu--Kinderman 3 pass fr
si. (Harlee kick).
FSU - Safety (Chelli
Robinson in end zone).
FSU--M. Roberts 1 run.
kick).
FSU--Messer 7 pass fro
(Kick failed).
FSU - Russon 9 pa
(Harlee kick).
FSU - Floyd 41 pass fr
(Kick failed).
FSU - Kinderman Po
Feely (Harlee kick).

CITADEL'S MIKE REARDON (55) POUNCES . . .on Florida State halfback Terry Hollman (28). who is dragged to the earth in the second quarter. (Flambeau Photo)

Says Coach Peterson 'I'm Flabbergasted,'

It was evident, even before the game was over that Florida State Coach Bill Peterson was pleased with the proceedings: he slipped up after one outstanding play and smiled, instead of nervously pacing up and down the field.

Said he after the slaughter:

"I'm flabbergasted. I do know this: these kids of ours made some real big plays out there, and I've always felt that's what it takes to play winning football.

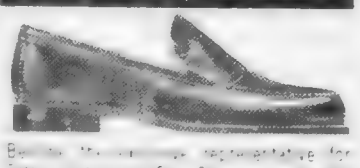
"One big one was the interception right off the bat. That was a real big one. Another, I think, was the kick that Calhoun made from Teh Citadel's 31-yard line."

This kick was attempted because of the new rule of downing a ball within the 10-yard line. "Usually, we wouldn't be trying to do something like that."

Peterson said, "...This is the first time since I went to the three-team system that it has worked absolutely ... our kids were mentally ready."

He then opined, "I think we've got a chance to win that ball game against Kentucky now. You can say I feel a lot better about things now than I did yesterday (Friday)."

Peterson said Citadel Coach Eddie Teague told him he had a great team, but warned him not to let them get "fat-headed."



Teague further stated:

"I don't want to take anything from Florida State. They didn't do a thing we didn't expect them to do. Feely was very impressive with his ability to run the ball as well as throw it. I think we expected too much from our inexperienced youngsters.

"We will not throw in any towel," said the coach that went on to win the Southern Championship after losing 40-0 to Memphis State in their 1961 opener.

VOLKSWAGON REPAIRS
A work guaranteed - day service
Pierce Causseaux - Volks Specialist
JACK KERZAN'S TEXACO
936 North Monroe
Phone - 224-0320

EARN EXTRA MONEY
IMMEDIATELY

for men, women and children, all fully illus-ply show Ortho-Vent's quality selection to guaranteed
A quick, easy way for you to have extra spending money without having to hold down a regular part-time job Work your own hours. Earn up to $10 on one sale. Easy to make $50, $100 or more extra each month
ORTHO-VENT SHOE CO
Salem, Virginia
Name
Address
City State

ELECTRIC SHAV
REPAIRS & PAR
BLALOCK JEWELR
121 S. ADAMS

FAIR'S BEAUTY SHOP
549 W. PARK AVENUE
(Around Corner From Bill's Book Stor
PHONE 224-8351
WILL YOU LOOK YOUR LOVELIEST FOR THAT SPECIAL OCCASION? BE SURE BY VISITING FAIR'S BEAUTY SALON - THE NEAREST BEAUTY SALON TO CAMPUS
"CATERS ESPECIALLY TO F.S.U. COED

DAY OR NIGHT
COOL IDEA
PLAY GOLF
555 OCALA ROAD
Oak Valley GOLF CLUB
Golf Course - Pro-Shop
Driving Range - Snack Bar
Putting Green . play area.
"Open Daily

WE HAVE MOVED ACROSS FROM YOU
F. S. U.
SEVEN HILLS STUDIO
648 W. CALL STREET
(Across from Home Economics Bldg)
PHONE 224-3532
I. D. PHOTOGRAPHS
PLEDGE GROUPS
COMPOSITES
PORTRAITS

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLIX, No. 10 | Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University | Tuesday, September 18, 1962

FSU Receives Graduate Work Health Grant

Florida State University has received a grant of $245,000 from the National Institute of Health, for a graduate training program in use of statistical methods in medical, biological and public health studies.

The program, according to Dr. Ralph A. Bradley, head of the Statistics Dept., allows for three fellowships for graduate students during the first year, six during 1963 and seven during 1964 and succeeding years. The grant is broken down into $39,512 for the first year, $43,242 for the second and $57,134 for the third, fourth and fifth years.

Dr. Richard G. Cornell, associate professor of statistics, will direct the training program. He has had experience in the field to be covered by the studies, biometry, the development and application of statistical methods and design of experiments and surveys in medical, biological and public health investigations. He presently is a consultant in epidemology to the State Board of Health.

The first three students in the program were announced as follows: Wayne A. Rollier, of Lamont, Okla., who holds a master's degree in statistics from Oklahoma State University; James K. Brewer of Ruston, La., who has a master of science degree in mathematics from Louisiana State University; and John D. Beauchamp of Nashville, a graduate of Vanderbilt University and a biometry trainee in the Vanderbilt School of Medicine in 1961. The fellowships provide $3,000 for the first year, with increasing grants for subsequent years of study. In addition to taking regular statistical courses, students will study biology at Tallahassee and will participate in an internship program.

The internship program has been worked out with the state health officer, Dr. Albert V. Hardy; Dr. [illegible], research coordinator for the State Board of Health; and [illegible] Williams, director of the Bureau of Vital Statistics. In addition trainees may be assigned to the Communicable Disease Center of the U.S. Public Health Service at Atlanta.

FSU's Statistics Dept., created in 1959, now offers work toward a bachelor's degree, a master's degree and a Ph. D. degree. The department head, Dr. Bradley, served as editor of this year as editor of "Biometrics," international journal of the Biometric Society.

FSU Student Hurt In Fight

David McFarland, an FSU student, is reported in fairly good condition at Tallahassee Memorial Hospital suffering from injuries received in an apparent fight, Deputy Sheriff John Melton said.

Melton said McFarland said he was attacked by an unidentified man at Sunday morning about 2 o'clock at a local bus stop and was struck several times. The blows inflicted severe head injuries, Melton said.

Hospital officials yesterday said McFarland lost his left eye.

Melton said a search for the assailant is being conducted.

DOCTORAL TRAINING BEGINS

. . . for three holders of fellowships for study in the use of statistical methods in medical, biological and public health. Left to right are Dr. Richard Cornell, director of the program; students, D. A. Rollier, James Brewer and John Beauchamp; and Dr. Ralph Bradley, head of the Dept. of Statistics.

Queen Is Being Sought To Reign Over Festivities

The senior woman "most representative of the ideal coed at FSU" is being sought to reign over Homecoming festivities, Nov. 2 to 4.

Homecoming queen will be selected Sept. 28, but her identity will remain a closely-guarded secret until the coronation at the Pow-Wow, Nov. 3.

Any group interested in sponsoring a candidate for the Homecoming Queen Contest should obtain an application blank from the information desk in Longmire. Thursday, 5 p.m., is the deadline for turning in applications. Dormitories which plan to sponsor a candidate will have an extension until 10 a.m. Friday since they don't have housemeetings until Thursday night.

Pictures of all contestants must be made by the University Photo Lab and picture appointments should be made immediately. Girls should wear formals or cocktail dresses. According to the rules of the contest photos may not be retouched.

Each contestant must meet certain qualifications. She must have an overall 2.0 average. She must be classified as a senior by the Registrar's office. Each candidate must have a good citizenship record and must be able to attend all scheduled practices of the Pow-Wow.

A list of each candidate's activities will be placed directly below her picture at the voting areas on Sept. 28. If necessary, there will be a run-off the following week.

"A Future View of FSU" will be the overall theme for Homecoming, Nov. 2-4.

Although the traditional events will be included in this year's Homecoming, the presentation of several of the events has been altered.

Unlike previous years, there will be no elaborate entertainment. Since the Pow-Wow is to be a pep rally, the entire presentation will stress this idea. Cheerleaders and football players will have starring roles, and the traditional crowning of the queen will take place.

Chairman of the Pow-Wow is Gayle Motes, vice chairman is Frank Ryll. Other committee members are Carol Ann Grizzard, Gaines Pickett and Jean Brunno. Faculty advisor is Dick Hahn.

The Homecoming dance will follow the futuristic theme with the use of rocket ships and fluorescent lighting. Chairmen of the dance are Linda Crockett and Bill Smart.

A singing and instrumental group, the Journeymen, will entertain in two shows at Westcott Saturday night, and also will perform at the dance. In addition to the Journeymen, comedian Buddy Hackett will perform at the Westcott show. Miss Marie Williams, director of social activities, is booking a band for the dance.

There will be the traditional Homecoming Banquet Friday night and the Homecoming barbecue Saturday afternoon. To conserve time, frater-

(continued on page 4)

Alumni Village Served By Bus

Jitney bus service to and from Alumni Village and the main campus began Monday.

The bus service operates on a non-profit basis. However, there is a fare of 10¢ each way to cover expenses.

On Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays the buses will leave Alumni Village at 7, 7:30, 8, 8:45, 12:10, 1:20 and 4:45. On Tuesdays and Thursdays they will leave at 7, 7:30, 12:30, 2:50, and 4:45. They will arrive at Westcott 15 minutes later for a five minute stop before continuing to the Library and the Student Center. (The 7 and 7:30 buses will return to the Village directly from Westcott via the University School.)

Buses will be leaving the Student Center to return to Alumni Village at 8:30, 9:15, 12:40, 1:50, and 5:10 on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. On Tuesdays and Thursdays the bus will return to the Village at 1, 3:20, and 5:15 from the Student Center.

Fall Elections

Campaign Starts For 124 Candidates

At 5 p.m. today, 124 candidates for Freshman Class officers and precinct senators will begin active campaigning.

Campaign regulations will be strictly enforced by the Elections Committee, Secretary of Elections Ron Jones said. Each candidate will be held responsible for the actions of anyone for him, he stressed.

No campaign material will be allowed on any city property, including trees and sidewalks. No literature may be posted in academic, administrative or service buildings on campus.

All on-campus posters are limited to 12 inches by 18 inches and may be placed only on official election boards or in dormitories where permissible. Only one poster per candidate is allowed on each side of the bulletin boards.

On all off-campus establishments, only four, 12 inches by 18 inches signs will be permitted to each candidate per building. On each building, per candidate, only one sign, no longer than five feet and no wider than three feet will be allowed.

Sorority and fraternity houses may make their own regulations concerning election publicity.

Consent of the property owner must first be obtained before a candidate may post any materials on private property.

Any violation of the rules set by the Elections Committee will result in a fine and/or disciplinary action to the candidate involved. No winning candidate will be eligible for office unless these fines are paid by the end of the trimester.

Candidates may still withdraw until noon, Thursday.

The latest available list of candidates is as follows:

Freshman Class: president, Charles DeFoor, Francis A. DeTure, Joel M. DeVolentine, Lief Erickson, Gary Hays, Bob Moon, John Perry Thomas and Guy "Darry" Wood; vice president, James Butler, John Green, Duke Mader, John Noppenberg and Gene Stearns; secretary, Louise Beddingfield, Nancy Meyers, Anne Orum and Barbara Jane Walker; treasurer, Karl Beck, Margaret DeHoff, Carl J. Domino and Nancy Harris; social chairman, Margaret Marsden, Susie Peters, "Rusty" Seabolt and Mildred "Stormy" Thurmond.

Men's senators (two), Chuck Beck, Jerry Huegel, Pete Johnson, Robert E. Lee, Pete Nealing, George Partin, George R. Rinhart, "Sparky" Sparkman; women's senators (two), Ida May Barber, Candy Clifford, Cathy Cochran, Nancy Dale, Dot Fish, Susan Foxworth, Susan Worley and Katherine Young.

Precincts: 1. Jane Franzino, Joanne Griffin, "Bruno" Carole Higginbotham, Camilla Kilgore, Marsha Love, Nancy May and Margaret Lynn Patterson; 2. Sheila Appleby, Nancy Aunspaugh, Donna Futral, Jean Norman and Pat Sauer; 3. Patricia Johns, Beverly Josephson, Barbara McDonald, Linda McGuirt, Kathy Russe and Jeanie Williamson.

4. Barbara Brandon, Karen Chambers, Caryl Giffin, Carol Gresimer, Rita McCann, Diane McLaughlin, Paula Tucker and Dee Williams; 5. Joyce Killian; 6. Carole Renfroe; 7. Sandra Brooks; 8. Mary Ann Kinney; 9. Laurie Crawley and Mickie Neumann; 10. Ruth Doyle.

(continued on page 5)

Theater Dance Group Tryouts Are Scheduled

Tryouts for the Theatre Dance Group will be Sept. 25, 27, and Oct. 2, Miss Holly Chapman, FSU dancing instructor, has announced.

The tryouts will be at 4:20 p.m. in the dance studio on the top floor of the Women's Gymnasium.

Previous dancing experience is not essential, Miss Chapman pointed out, but is is quite helpful to have mastered some basic techniques. During the tryout sessions techniques will be shown. Members of the group will be selected on the basis of how well they have mastered these skills, she explained. This method is designed to give everyone a fair chance according to potential ability, the dance instructor said.

Tights and leotards should be worn to the tryouts, Miss Chapman said. If anyone trying out does not own their own tights and leotards, she will check them out to students on presentation of their I. D. cards about 15 minutes before each session.

Dancers selected for the group will have technique workouts each Tuesday and Thursday from 4:20 to 6:20 p.m.

Hoping to attract only extremely interested people, Miss Chapman emphasized that the group activities will be very time-consuming and not attention-holding for only "mildly interested people."

Men should not hesitate to try out, says Miss Chapman. Many are needed for a number of roles in various performances. A few years ago about a half-dozen men danced with the group making it much better, in her estimation.

When the University Theatre produces "Kismet" Nov. 8 and 9, directed by Dr. Arthur Dorlag, the Theatre Dance Group will perform the dances. The group also plans to present "An Evening of Dance" March 12 and 13. Later they plan to invite other southern colleges to a symposium to exchange techniques. Also later in the spring Miss Chapman hopes to put on several out-of-town shows, but these have not yet been scheduled.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Limit Deans?

FOR MANY YEARS Congress has been criticized for the painful slowness with which legislation is acted upon. Many bills of crucial importance have run into the logjam of the committee system and required weeks and months of tedious examination before they are finally acted upon. Once passed and sent to the President for signature, however, the system proceeds like clockwork. The President has ten days in which to sign or veto a bill. If no action is taken during that period the bill automatically becomes law.

FSU's student government is to a great degree a model of our national legislative system. The committee system and process of floor action is a replica of Congress. There is one inequity, however, which tends to cause complete breakdown of the entire system. Once a bill is passed by student senate there is no time limit set for the university administration to take final action. They may hold the bill indefinitely, take action at their leisure or completely ignore the matter if they so choose.

Resolutions passed by student legislators often get lost somewhere between Longmire and Westcott, or else they are lost on their way back to Longmire from the administration. Some even disappear as they shuttle from office to office within one of the buildings.

AS LONG AS student legislation remains "something to attend to later," these errors are inevitable. Every second a dean delays acting on a measure multiplies the odds of its getting lost.

Many times a bill will lie dormant on a dean's desk until the session is over. If they then decide to veto the measure, the legislative body has no opportunity to review the situation and attempt a compromise measure.

THE INEQUITIES OF this system could easily be removed if student senate and the administration would work out a definite system for taking final action on legislation.

Student senate could maintain a current calendar of all bills passed by that body. Copies of the calendar would be made available to the administration. Bills passed would be sent immediately to the appropriate dean. If after a period of two weeks the measure is neither approved or vetoed by the dean it would automatically become law.

A system of this sort would alleviate forever the headaches and frustrations to both the senate and the administration involved in the present legislative system.

OW, TD

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor

Asst. Managing Editors.....Jim Smith, Sharon Blackwell
Asst. News Editor.....Lana Murray
Asst. Sports Editor.....John Wood
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, Chris Clarke, Carl Rosenbush, John McCotter, Dick Hume, Mary Ann Stevens, Matt Straub.
News Staff - Bonnie Shiplett, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Bill Smart, Mary Grossenbacher, Sarah Gordon, Susie Rhoades, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Duke Mader, Irma Wehle, Ted Harvey, Martha Treat, Thera Brackney, Michelle Johnson.
Sports Staff - Shirley Hardison, Seth Bramson.
Feature Staff - Frank Coney, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Dave Kelmeckis, Fred McDonald, Bob Cornet.
Photographers - John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Mabry Ashley
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeithen, Don Dught, John Morgan.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

John McCotter

Bargains And Blarney

OF POSSIBLE INTEREST to those who desire various articles for their dorm rooms or apartments, and to those who are interested in studying the oddities of crowd behavior is a certain auction held just east of the city every Thursday night.

The auctioneer is a tall, stately looking gentleman who sports an equally stately mustache. He never fails to remind me of an Oxford professor turned circus barker. His diction is perfect and his innate showmanship allows him to get by with even the most ludicrous bits of razzamatazz. He holds the audience's attention by intermittently pelting his colored helpers with verbal darts. The helpers take it with stoic indifference, indicating by their attitude that it's all part of the show and is nothing personal.

Another attention-getter is when the auctioneer turns his wisecracks on the audience. Although effective, these sallies are always laced with enough humor to prevent injured feelings. That these measures are effective is attested to by the size of the crowds and the amount of merchandise he is entrusted to sell.

SPEAKING OF MERCHANDISE, the range is limitless--everything from bedroom suites, to old clothing, to mystery packages. Bargains? Yes, there are. Some nights you can get a polaroid camera for $2 or a beautiful mahogany coffee table for $4. On the other hand, a lot of fifteen rusty can openers may sell for $6, or a hand-carved rosewood plumber's friend might go for $4. It all depends on the bidding, and that depends on the people.

The types and classes of people that collect at these sales are as varied as the merchandise they buy. There are weatherbeaten members of The Real McCoys set, carload driving couples from Capitol Hill, budget-buying married couples and two-car, white-collared families. All have one thing in common, a smug expression that seems to say, "I'm gonna' rob this place blind."

THE AUCTIONEER PLAYS on this Billy Sol image by using phrases like, "that's the steal of the evening!" or, "that's no money for such a fine article as this!" As a consequence the bidding on certain articles--usually quite ridiculous ones--becomes a test of manhood or honor.

The feeling that someone is trying to beat them out of something seems to drive people insane, and the price goes up, up, up, at battle wages. The auctioneer rattles off prices quickly, careful to keep the contest going. When bidding stops, the victor begins to realize what he has done, and is lucky if he doesn't suffer a devastating quip from the auctioneer. The rest of the audience might laugh at his plight after it's all over, but not without first feeling the sting of envy at having lost such a prize.

Matt Straub

Typical FSU Student

AS THE MORNING came, the purple clouds of sleep quietly slipped from the void of Wilbur Snarf's mind. Willie (as his best enemies called him) rubbed his eyes, fell out of bed, and started to dress for the day's classes.

Willie was a typical FSU student. He had a tendency to be square, though, because he did press his blue jeans and (gasp!) his tennis shoes were new.

"Here I am, a typical FSU student," said Willie, "I shall see what the weather forcast for this nice school day is."

Noting that Tallahassee's weather for the day was "slightly cloudy with slight chance of showers," Willie grabbed his raincoat, slung his canoe paddle over his shoulder, and, clutching some flares, set off for the day's intellectual adventures.

"Since I am a typical FSU student," he said wryly, "I shall barf on my Humanities class this morning and go instead to see my one and only true love."

THERE SHE STOOD in all her Southern glory, Miss Ima Dixie Belle Melody Rebel, comingly dressed in a Stars and Bars dress, subtly accented with a hugh "Dixie Do or Die" pin.

When Willie asked Melody, as her friends called her (her father called her malady), about the day's math assignment, Melody cleverly commented, "The South shall rise again." Willie sort of expected this.

He then related yesterday's exciting happenings in the Zoology lab when one of the more advanced students decided to dissect the instructor. Melody demurely expressed her amusement with a quiet rebel yell. Willie smiled softly. Sometimes he couldn't stomach Melody but at least she was fighting for a cause.

Their ways parted when the Physics demonstration lab started. Since Melody had already had her eight hours sleep, she went to the Sweat Shop instead.

Willie went ahead into the demonstration lab, found a cozy corner, and dozed off counting sheep.

MANY HOURS AND many classes passed while Willie blissfully snored. He was finally awakened though, by a rather suave looking smiley fellow energetically shaking his hand. When the fellow's smile had finally died down and Willie could see, he recognized the boy as I. M. Awinner, one of four hundred freshmen running for the Freshman Class Presidency.

(continued on page 3)

Joe Rice

Elusive Florida Lebring

"There is an old lady in Sebring
With three aardvarks, two gnus, and a lebring.
The men from the zoos like the aardvarks and gnus
But they sure are confused 'bout that lebring."

THE ABOVE ARTICLE first appeared in a circa 1900 newspaper and is reprinted here to shed some light on the identity of a timid little animal which has been causing some consternation in our state parks. Especially during the summer months.

In the sixty years since that article appeared little has been learned about the lebring it describes (or any other lebring for that matter) though aardvarks and gnus have been categorized, exhumed, dissected, captured, stuffed, and made pets of.

Extensive research has yielded the following meager information about the lebring:

A 19th century naturalist describes the elusive little fellow in these words; "An animal native to the warmer parts of Florida. Its body is covered with long hair and the tail is long and bushy. The snout or muzzle is extended and toothless and the tongue extensile and glutinous."

NO MENTION IS made of the lebring's vocal habits and it is probably that, if the naturalist wasn't describing some other animal, he was talking about an expired member of the lebring family. Surely if he had ever encountered a healthy lebring he would have made at least passing reference to its vocal habits as did the 17th centure English explorer Ossian Smith who reported that; "one of oure numbere encountered this day a verry strange and unusuale animale whitch in some ways resembles a small dogge and in others is like an hare. It appeares quite shy, hideing in bushes and makeing noises whitch sound like 'teeheehee hoohoo ha'." This is obviously a description of the common Florida lebring which is also known as the giggling or chortling lebring.

The Spanish or yukkada lebring represents the only other subspecies of the lebring family and is now almost certainly extinct. The last authenticated encounter with one occurred shortly after DeSoto landed on our shores when some of his bearded lancers, presumably hard up for food, attempted to capture or spear it in a mangrove grove. It made good its escape though it was nearly subdued on two occasions when it collapsed with paroxysms of laughter. The record states that its 'yukkada yukka' cry could be heard for hours and nearly drove the half-starved hunters frantic.

PRESENT DAY giggling, or chortling, lebring is much more restrained in its behavior. From all information we have been able to gather, it too may soon pass from the scene and be no more. There are several explanations offered for this and for the surprising fact that though this subspecies was once quite numerous it has never been properly zoologically catalogued.

To begin with, it is very bashful, as we have said. For another thing, its skeletal system is made up of a mass of wish bones and drum sticks.

How sad it is to think that eminent paleontologists, coming on the bones of this rare creature, have thought that they had stumbled on the refuse from a picnic and have discarded these priceless remnants as though they were so many sandwich wrappers or broken pop bottles.

There is still a slight chance that one may be caught alive before they are all gone. Hairy-legged gentlemen clad in Bermuda shorts seem to bring them out of the bushes. Perhaps even tomorrow an elusive Florida lebring may part the leaves of his shelter, peer out, collapse with laughter, and be captured.

New College Survey Shows Students Have Headaches

...letely exploding that rosy, ... and time-honored myth ..."college days are carefree" ... a recent survey discloses ... adults of college age--19 ... 24--suffer not only the most ...nt headaches, but the most ... ones of any other comparable ...roup.

... the harassed business man ... second place to students, with ...al of 77 per cent suffering fre... headaches as against 80 per ... the college group, according ... survey taken by Bristol-Myers ...ermine the need for an extra- ... analgesic.

...ght be said that headaches ... to higher education compose ...al "four-point program" that ... the ...ing size headache. ..., the four points fall under ...ategories of finances, friends, finals, and the future.

It is no certainly no secret that the cost of education has zoomed, making the financing of a college career a serious problem. And many a young co-ed and college boy worries about being popular, gaining admittance to the "right" fraternity or sorority--in short making friends.

Final exams are equally guilty as headache instigators. Students burn the midnight oil cramming for tests, and work what might have been a simple headache into a four-star splitter because of anziety and lack of sleep. Then, pyramid on top of all these, the big blockbuster headache --what does the future hold?

Based on the results of this survey, which covered men and women in business as well as college students and homemakers, the need for a stronger non-prescription pain reliever is indicated.

Even though earning a higher education brings on a bumper crop of headaches, it certainly has long-term advantages. One of the most obvious is that college graduates average $200,000 more in income during their earning years, than those who have only completed high school--a statistic well worth thinking about!

Sigma Pi Sigma

A meeting of Sigma Pi Sigma, originally scheduled for tomorrow at 7:30 p.m., has been postponed. The organization will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

Air Force ROTC Sees No Program Revisions

Although the Air Force ROTC at FSU will continue in its present form for the remainder of this year, some changes may be made in the future, Preston B. Hardy, Lt. Colonel, USAF, FSU professor of Air Science, said.

A proposal to revise the nationwide program and to adopt an Officer Education Program is in the form of a legislative proposal awaiting the action of the U.S. Congress.

Two major features are recommended by the Air Force. They are the adoption of a two-year course of study and the addition of a $2,200 scholarship. This would be paid directly to the cadet during his two-year on-campus period.

Under the present plan set forth by the National Defense Act of 1916, four academic years of instruction are required. This denies eligibility to about 65 per cent of all male college students--especially those in junior colleges.

Since there is an increased need for engineering and scientific graduates, the reduced workload of the new program would enable more of the highly specialized young men to compete for commissions. The revised curriculum would require three hours of classroom work per week instead of five.

Much of the applied material would be taught at two summer training phases at active Air Force bases around the country. The first phase would be between the sophomore and junior year and the second after graduation.

The new Air Force Officer Education Program would begin as soon as legislation is passed, but institutions preferring to continue the current AFROTC program may do under the proposed bill.

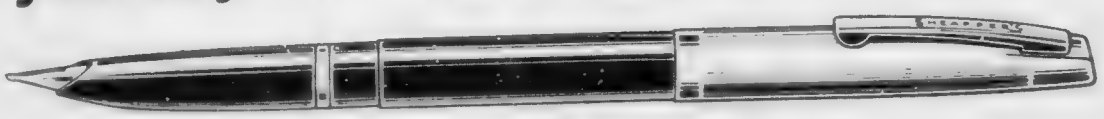
...Typical Student

(continued from page 2)

Willie ran as Awinner clicked on his portable tape recorder all fixed up with a "sincere candidate" speech.

Sleep still hung heavy on Willie's mind. So, he decided to get his R.O.T.C. uniform. Today was just his bad day though. He was only able to sneak in two hours of sleep in line before a cheerful uniform man greeted him. The man gave Willie several cunningly tailored uniforms for his very own, uniforms his own father may have paid for through Uncle Sam. This made Willie very happy.

Willie stumbled back to his house filled with pride and loaded with junk.



STILL TIRED HE decided to rest for a while. The rock'n'roll band from next door gently rocked him to sleep.

By the time he awoke, the sun was already down and the rock'n'roll band had even gotten to the third chord.

So Willie, slightly bemused at this climax to the day's activities, put a wry smile on his face, closed the window, put his nice new uniforms on the floor, laid all his "vote for me" junk in the trash can, went into the living room--and threw up!

Great new record offer ($3.98 value)...just $1.00 when you buy Sheaffer's back-to-school special!

Now when you buy your Sheaffer Cartridge Pen for school, you get 98¢ worth of Skrip cartridges FREE...a $3.93 value for just $2.95. Look for Sheaffer's back-to-school special now at stores everywhere. On the back of the package, there's a bonus for you...a coupon good for a $3.98 value Columbia limited-edition record. It's "Swingin' Sound", twelve top artists playing top hits for the first time on a 12" L.P. This double-value back-to-school offer good only while they last! So hurry, choose your Sheaffer Cartridge Pen from five smart colors...and mail your "Swingin' Sound" record coupon today.

SHEAFFER'S BACK-TO-SCHOOL SPECIAL!
New cartridge pen with 98¢ worth of cartridges FREE.
$3.93 VALUE FOR $2.95

SHEAFFER'S

©1962 W. A. SHEAFFER PEN COMPANY, FORT MADISON, IOWA

YOU'LL NEVER LOOK YOUNGER

keep your today looks forever!

Time to remember with portraits

L'Avant STUDIOS
207 WEST PARK AVE. PH. 223-1716

... Homecoming

(continued from page 1)

nity and sorority houses will have only token decorations, but dormitories and scholarship houses will continue to have house decorations.

Sororities and fraternities will collaborate in building floats for the parade. Winning floats will be presented at the Pow-Wow Friday night.

Sunday morning an alumnae breakfast will honor the Class of 1912.

Faculty general chairman for Homecoming is Dr. Bill Tait. Student chairman is Miles Williams, and student vice chairman is Bill Harnage. Other student committee chairman are Madge Lee, Jim Brandt, Ann DeHoff, Millie Bishop, Sherrod Campbell, Boots Ratteree, Marilyn Matthews, Walter Richards and Jim Blue.

Faculty chairmen are Pat Hogan, R. L. Bannerman, Rod Shaw, Ashby Stiff, Eddie Cubbon, Bill Quincy, Gayle Edgeworth, Dr. Warren Nation, Dr. John Griffin, Cliff Paisley, Bob Leigh, Mrs. Louis Hill, and Dr. Daisy Parker.

Today's News Roundup

FLAMBEAU NEWS SERVICES

AROUND THE WORLD

NEW YORK -- The U. N. reported yesterday that two of its Soviet employees who had been charged with espionage by the U.S. left America after submitting their resignations. There was no indication from the international organization that the two Russians had been fired.

NEW YORK -- Acting U. N. Secretary-General U Thant has not yet decided if he will seek a full five year term as head of the U.N. Secretariat. Thant says he expects to reach a decision in October, after considering the opinion of Assembly Delegates and the status of Congo situation.

BERLIN -- The Soviet News Agency, Tass, reports that Russia will not renew relations with the three Allied military commanders in West Berlin. The Kremlin once again describes West Berlin as a NATO Base threatening the security of the socialist countries.

MOSCOW -- Sources in Moscow say Russia will present to the U. N. General Assembly charges that the U. S. is preparing to attack Cuba. The General Assembly's new session opens today in New York.

The Soviet newspaper "Izvestia" charges that an Anti-Cuban campaign in the U. S. is part of American preparations for a war against socialist countries.

ACROSS THE NATION

WASHINGTON -- The Federal Government has asked the courts to force the racial integration in public schools attended by children of Federal personnel in Prince George County, Virginia.

DAWSON -- Arsonists have struck again in Georgia, destroying a Negro church at Dawson and setting off an intensive investigation. It was the fourth church to burn down in recent weeks. Governor Ernest Vandiver declared, "To destroy a house of worship is indicative of a demented mind."

The Justice Department reported that the F.B.I. has solved the burning of the church and turned the evidence over to local authorities. F.B.I. agents reported that no Federal law violation was involved in the burning of the Negro church.

WASHINGTON -- A conference committee of the House and Senate has reached final agreement on a two billion, 350 million dollar Federal Aid bill for the 2,040 colleges and universities in the U. S. Aid will include funds for classroom construction, assistance for needy students, and grants for community junior colleges.

FLORIDA NEWS SUMMARY

TAMPA -- Officials at the University of South Florida have reinstated John Caldwell as Assistant Professor of Fine Arts. Caldwell was suspended August 13th as a result of charges made during the Johns Legislative Investigating Committee probe into USF activities. University President Dr. John Allen said the suspension involved "a minor scrape" with a State Trooper near Plant City. University officials said a faculty committee appointed to review the status of Caldwell made it clear that charges raised against him by the Johns Committee did not justify his continued suspension. Allen expressed pleasure at the reinstatement of Caldwell.

WANTED

ADVERTISING

Salesman for the FLAMBEAU. If Interested Apply

Rm. 415 Longmire

4 - 4:30 Mon. - Thur.

WFSU-TV Schedule Today

9:45 El Espanol Es Facil - Spanish I

10:00 Americanism vs. Communism - "The Idea Loses Some Friends" (Lenin's refusal to accept any deviation in party ideology split his own party, the Social Democrats)

10:30 El Espanol Es Facil - Spanish II

10:45 Seeing Music

11:00 Commonwealth of Nations - "Poverty and Plenty" (The Colombo Plan is described through on-the-spot reports)

11:30 Heritage (Richard Rodgers) - "Future Indicative" (Rodgers discusses the technique of finding the music just by looking at the words)

12:00 Religions of Man - telecourse

12:30 Mid-day

1:00 Lab 30 - Science

1:30 Dr. Posin's Giants - "J. J. Thomson" - English scientist (final program)

2:00 Social Studies - (5th grade - local - live)

2:30 Americanism vs. Communism - "The Ides Loses Some Friends"

Sign Off

4:30 What's New - Murl Deusing takes you on a ride in a "glades buggy"

5:00 Seeing Music - Simulcast with WFSU-TV and WFSU-FM

5:55 News

6:00 Continental Classroom - "Experiment on Accelerated Motion" (Atomic Age Physics)

6:30 Commonwealth of Nations - "Poverty and Plenty"

7:00 English 102 - telecourse

7:30 Written Word - "Between the Rivers" - A discussion of the elaborate cuneiform on clay and stone in the ancient lands between the Tigris and the Euphrates)

8:00 Government in Action

8:30 Americanism vs. Communism - "The Idea is Born" - The view of historical determination developed by Hedel formed a basis for later Marxist (communist) thought

9:00 Action at Law - Explains for viewers their rights and duties when they are involved in a civil lawsuit.

9:30 Your Marriage - "Resolving Marital Deadlocks" - A discussion on how to resolve marital problems.

10:00 Ten O'clock Report - news, weather, sports.

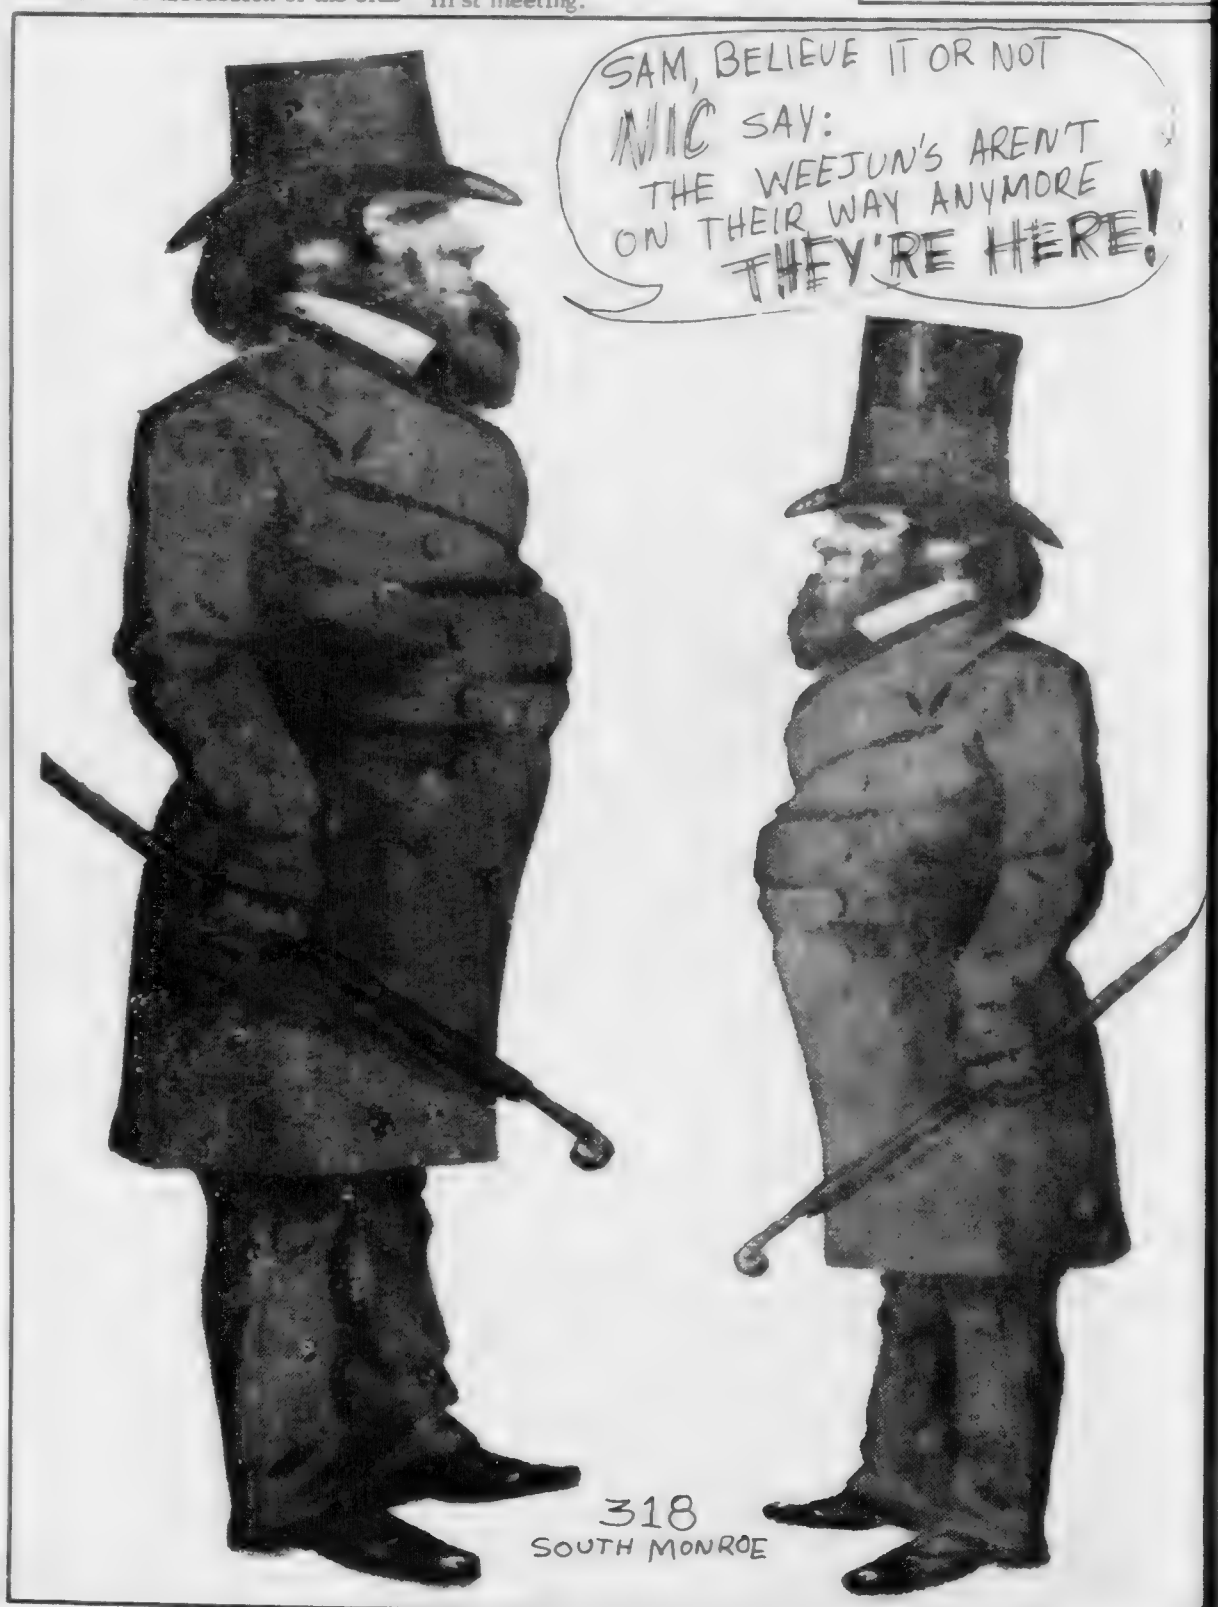
Desmond Made Campaign Head

Paul Desmond, FSU junior, has been appointed by local Democratic officials to head the "Students for Smathers" campaign here.

The total objective of this campaign is "to make the students of Florida State University aware of the important issues of the day and of the future," commented Desmond.

Desmond is slating an organizational meeting in the near future which will include representatives from each fraternity. A nomination committee to supervise the selection of officers will be selected at the first meeting.

Scholarship Teacher Exam Begin Soon



Application blanks should be picked up immediately for the competitive examinations for state teaching scholarships, to be held October 1 from 8-10 a.m. in the Education Lecture Hall, Room 201 Education Bldg.

The application forms may be obtained in the office of Dr. S.T. Lininger, Rm. 208 Education Bldg. Students who are preparing to teach in the public school system of Florida, and whose parents are legal residents of the state, are eligible for the competition.

Official excuses from classes will be given to students taking the exam. All applications must have the signatures of the student's county superintendent, an official of the college infirmary, three references and the FSU registrar.

Graduate Exam

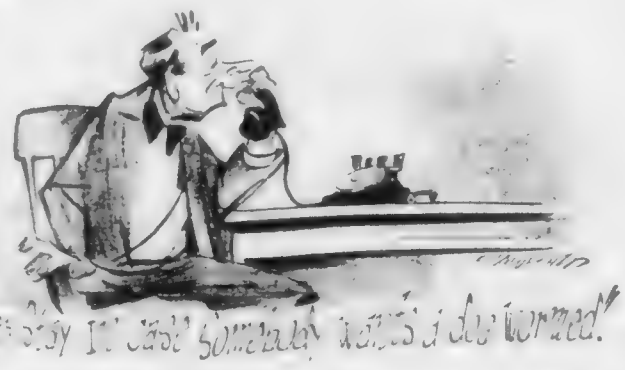
Graduate Reading Knowledge Examination will be given Saturday at 8 a.m. in the General Education Room of the Library on the first floor.

...da Shop is now open
... a.m. to 10 p.m., Mon-
...gh Friday.
...ntertainment is featured
... The Soda Shop is located
... basement of Longmire.

Student Insurance

Student Insurance will be available in 210 Longmire from 3 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, until Sept. 28.

On Campus with Max Shulman



(Author of "I Was a Teen-age Dwarf," "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis," etc.)

ANOTHER YEAR, ANOTHER DOLLAR

...s entry I begin my ninth year of writing columns ... newspaper for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes. ... I believe you will agree, is a long time. In fact, ... only a little longer than nine years to dig the Suez ... you know what a gigantic undertaking that was! ... the work would have gone more rapidly had the ... accepted at that time, but, as we all know, the ... was not invented until 1946 by Walter R. Shovel of ... Ohio. Before Mr. Shovel's discovery in 1946, all ... was done with sugar tongs—a method unquestionably ... hopelessly what one would call rapid. There were, natu... efforts made to speed up digging before Mr. Shovel's ... notably an attempt in 1912 by the immortal ... Edison to dig with the phonograph, but the only ... happened was that he got his horn full of sand. This ... Mr. Edison that he fell into a fit of melancholy ... he did not emerge until two years later when his ... Wordsworth, the eminent nature poet, cheered ... by imitating a duck for four and a half hours.

I digress. For nine years, I say, I have been writing this ... for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and for nine ... they have been paying me money. You are shocked. You ... that anyone who has tasted Marlboro's unparalleled ... has enjoyed Marlboro's filter, who has revelled in ... pack or box should be more than ... about Marlboro without a penny's compensa... ...ing.

... is the very foundation stone of the American ... Life. Whether you love your work or hate it, our system ... requires that you be paid for it. For example, I ... friend named Rex Glebe, a veterinarian by profession, ... makes to worm dogs. I mean you can call him up ... "Hey, Rex, let's go bowl a few lines," or "Hey, Rex, ... flatten some pennies on the railroad tracks," and he ... says, "No, thanks. I better stay here in case ... gets a dog wormed." I mean, there is not one thing ... whole world you can name that Rex likes better than ... dog. But even so, Rex always sends a bill for worm... ...because in his wisdom he knows that to do other... ...would be to rend, possibly irreparably, the fabric of ...

...ge with me and Marlboro Cigarettes. I think ...ro's flavor represents the pinnacle of the tobacconist's ... I think Marlboro's filter represents the pinnacle of the ... maker's art. I think Marlboro's pack and box represent ...innacle of the packager's art. I think Marlboro is a pleas... ...nd a treasure, and I fairly burst with pride that I have ... chosen to speak for Marlboro on your campus. All the ... I want my money every week. And the makers of ... understand this full well. They don't like it, but they ...rstand it.

... the columns which follow this opening installment, I will ... the hot white light of truth on the pressing problems of ...us life—the many and varied dilemmas which beset the ...raduate—burning questions like "Should Chaucer class... ...converted to parking garages?" and "Should proctors ... saliva test?" and "Should foreign exchange students ... for ransom?"

...ed in these columns, while grappling with the crises that ...ampus America, I will make occasional brief mention of ... Cigarettes. If I do not, the makers will not give me ... money.

© 1962 Max Shulman

* * *

The makers of Marlboro will bring you this uncensored, free-style column 26 times throughout the school year. During this period it is not unlikely that Old Max will step on some toes—principally ours—but we think it's all in fun and we hope you will too.

Today

Rushees are to sign preferentials in the Panhellenic Office between 1 and 5 p.m.

* * * * *

University Woman's Club reception honoring new members will be held in the home of the President, 1030 West Tennessee.

* * * * *

Publications staff will have a meeting in Longmire Auditorium at 4:30 p.m.

* * * * *

First pledge meeting of Pershing Rifles, open to all freshman and sophomore Army and Air Force cadets, will be at 6 p.m. in 106 Military Bldg.

* * * * *

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will meet at 7 p.m. in the Longmire Student Lounge.

* * * * *

The fall Forensics mixer will be in the History Bldg. at 7 p.m.

Gov. Farris Bryant and Host John Evans will discuss state government on the "Government in Action" series, WFSU-TV at 8 p.m.

* * * * *

A Naval Aviator procurement officer will be at the Student Center today and the remainder of this week to talk with students interested in Naval Aviation.

* * * * *

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity will have open rush in the Longmire Large Lounge at 8 p.m.

* * * * *

Mortar Board will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Longmire's second floor conference room.

Today's Weather

Mostly cloudy weather throughout the day, with possible thunder showers later in the day. Temperatures will remain in the low 90's.

...Fall Elections

(continued from page 1)

11. Pat Curry, Sharon Dunn, Susan Fincher, Cheryl Pittman and Sharon Stewart; 12. (two senators) Dick Acosta, Jeff Andrews, Louis Barnett, Ted DeLaVergne and Carl M. Sugarman. 13. (two senators) William H. (Bill) Caldwell, Charles Intriago, Bill McCarron, John Merting and George Miller.

14. (four senators) Bob Barden, Bill Branch, Connie Carroll, Mitch Frnaks, Marshall Gifford, John B. Herndon, Guy Hollingsworth, Dennis Lanahan, John T. Riggins, Robert J. Schramm and Susan Wharton; 15. Miles Williams.

16. Woody Benson and Mike Thackston; 17. Frank M. Ryll, Jr.; 18. Irene Lopez, Mary Lundale, Boots Ratteree, Jean Sauer and Mary Lois Stone; 19. Barbara Daniel, Jean Edmonson and Suzie Miller.

20. Linda Luna, Linda Robertson and Suzanne Treadwell; 21. Don Dughi and Mike Green; 22. Jennifer Newcomer and Barbara Vadnais; 23. Richard Sanders and Otis Wragg; 24. Gerry Dobson, Jim White and Clarke Wyllie.

A SEAT BELT CAN SAVE YOUR LIFE

They save lives every day. They can save at least 5,000 lives each year, according to The National Safety Council. A seat belt can save your life . . . or your child's. Why gamble? Why risk death or injury in a collision or a sudden stop? The odds are in your favor when you drive with seat belts. Seat belts work. Get them . . . use them.

Florida Flambeau

Faculty-Student Net Tournament Is Slated Oct. 3

The fourth Faculty-Student Tennis Mixed Doubles Tournament, which is sponsored by the Racquettes, will get underway Oct. 3. This contest pairs a male faculty member and a woman student or a woman faculty member and a male student. Faculty wives are again eligible for the last classification, as are women staff members.

The tourney was not completed at the end of the spring semester due unavoidable circumstances, but it will continue because of expressed interest by participants.

The first match pairs Gordon W. Blackwell and Gail DeLozier against Eddie Cubbon and Chris Padgett. The winners will meet the finalists: Carol Riley and Al Hughes. Although former faculty member, Miss Riley is no longer on campus, she has agreed to return from Fort Lauderdale for the competition.

People interested in participating in the fourth tourney should bring or mail their names and that of their partners to Mrs. Whittemore, 201 Montgomery Gym. It has been requested that the telephoning of entries be avoided except in case of emergency. Players not expressing preference for a partner will be assigned one if possible.

There is a small entry fee of $.25. Each team should bring a can of new balls to every match. Winners proceed to the next round of play with the unused balls.

Deadline for entries is Oct. 1 at 5 p.m. Results of the matches will be posted in Montgomery and Tully gymnasiums. It is imperative for players to report promptly and to adhere strictly to the deadlines which will be set for the competition of each round. The tournament is open to everyone except members of the freshman and varsity tennis teams.

Looking Forward To Greatest Swimming Season, Says Stults

By Seth Bramson
Flambeau Sports Writer

"We are looking forward to what could be the greatest season ever." These were the words of Seminole swim mentor Bim Stults, as he unveiled a swimming schedule that would make most collegiate swim teams quake in their boots.

The tankmen's opponents for this year include North Carolina, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Tulane, Miami, Sewanee, Alabama, Florida and East Carolina.

Stults emphasized that there are more meets in the making, depending, of course, on the fact that satisfactory dates and travel arrangements must be made. The freshman squad will journey with the varsity to away meets that will not keep them out of class too long.

In addition to the above meets, the team will participate in the Georgia AAU, the Florida Intercollegiate, and the NCAA championships.

The loss of All-American freestyler Paul Thompson will be a detriment to the squad, but this loss will be a least partially equalized by the return of distance men Bill Dahl and Alan Roles. Both juniors, they will be counted on to contribute a great deal to the total team effort.

Dale Smith, a freestyle sprinter, has a great deal of potential and should also see a good deal of work.

Other returning lettermen include Pete Davis, backstroker; Bill Lawrence, breaststroker; and Pete Combes and Risto Pyykko, butterfliers. Handling the diving will be Don Montgomery, the only returnee from last year's varsity diving squad.

Last year, the team had an 11 to 1 record, the one loss being to the Florida Gators at Florida pool in Gainesville. "But don't worry," commented Stults, "something like that won't happen again." Team members report it won't for workouts have been long and tough.

Practice started last Monday with the varsity working from 4 to 6 p.m. and the frosh until about 5:30. Primarily the workouts have consisted of wind sprints--a toughening up process that consists of as many short sprints as possible in a given length of time.

Savage Sumner

Sophomore Avery Sumner, who plays tackle, has been chosen Mr. Savage for the Citadel game. The Seminole led the defensive attack with five tackles and three assists, according to game films of the contest.

Dick Hermann, also a sophomore tackle, nearly grabbed the weekly honors with his five tackles and one assist.

AT LAST

The Corner is OPEN

Park & Copeland
Serving the Finest in Food
from
7 a.m. till 11 p.m.
Open till 12 on Weekends
Sandwiches, short orders, and regular dinners
FASTEST SERVICE ON CAMPUS

DIXIE CREAM DONUTS

WE DELIVER

2 DOZ. TO 4 DOZ.
60¢ PER DOZ.

5 DOZEN OR MORE
45¢ PER DOZ.

PHONE 224-2554

Enjoy

Your Hometown with Your Breakfast!

Now the St. Petersburg Times gets here at the crack of dawn. That means you can have the latest sports, the news of the world and all the goings-on along the Suncoast right while you're dipping into the second cup of coffee.

Costs the same as delivered at home—just 55c a week—whether you live on-campus or elsewhere in town. Just phone 222-9451 and order The Times started in the morning.

St. Petersburg Times
FLORIDA'S BEST NEWSPAPER

Bradford Manor Nursery

2117 Belle Vue Way
Phone 224-5690

Announces the opening of a discriminating nursery for parents who demand the best care for their children. Age 2 through 6. Children are now being accepted. Hours are 7:30 a.m. till 5:30 p.m.

Mrs. W. J. Moore
owner—operator

WE HAVE MOVE

ACROS FROM YOU

F. S. U

I D PHOTOGRAP

PLEDGE GROU

COMPOSITES

PORTRAITS

SEVEN HILLS STUDIO

648 W. CALL ST.

(Across from Home Economics Bldg)

PHONE 224-353

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLIX, No. 11 | Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University | Wednesday, September 19, 1962

RUSHEE MAKES A QUICK CHANGE

...of her shoes, from flats to heels, as she prepares to enter one the sorority houses during this period of rushing. This scene was ...al of those seen all over campus. (Photo by Emmette Jackson)

Student Government Meet Takes On New Look In '62

The annual Student Government Retreat will take on a new look this year.

Student Body President Ken van Assenderp announced that the Retreat, Oct. 19 and 20, will follow a new format which includes new stress on lecture and discussions by state and international political figures.

For the first time, Student Government is seeking to bring a keynote speaker of internation reputation to the Retreat.

"We are communicating with several persons in Washington D.C. in an effort to obtain a keynote speaker," Van Assenderp said. "One of the persons who is under consideration is the Honorable Rolf Hancke, counsellor of the Embassy of Norway in Washington D.C.," Van Assenderp added.

"He is very well known in international affairs and is familiar with the institutions of higher learning in Florida," the student body president said.

"The Secretary of Intercollegiate Affairs Kitty Miller, Undersecretary Pat Domar and the committee members are grateful to the Honorable Stanley R. Tait of the secretary of state's office of the State of Florida for his valuable help in securing a speaker," Van Assenderp said.

Other plans include getting members of the Florida Cabinet, Legislature and courts to come to the Retreat to lead discussions on the functions of the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government. In this way, Van Assenderp hopes to inspire in Student Government leaders an increasing awareness of the role of government in student life and in the larger area of the community and world.

The Retreat should be a learning experience, Van Assenderp stressed. A time for student leaders to evaluate the work of Student Government and to take stock of what they can do for the University.

The secretary of intercollegiate affairs also plans to invite student leaders from nearby colleges and universities, state and junior colleges and local high school to attend the Retreat.

The keynot address will be given on campus, but other sessions will be conducted at the University Reservation.

"Committees are being set up now to complete plans and arrangements for the Retreat," Miss Miller said. She requested that anyone interested in helping the Retreat contact her at the Cabinet Office in Longmire. Among those needed to help with the Retreat are students not connected with Student Government to sit in on the various sessions to take notes and help compile the final report.

Inter-Fraternity Council Announces New Pledges

The Inter-Fraternity Council today announced pledges for fraternities on campus. By fraternity, they include:

KAPPA ALPHA--Al Milton, Donald Sluder, Frank Casey, W. D. Perry, Thomas King, Mike Pietro, Walter Sparkman, John A. Smith, Lamar Thomas, John Crusoe, Lew Eason, Paul Parker, Robin C. Roberts, Joseph C. Valenti, Boyd Wynne, Jack Cannon, and Stephen W. Luther.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA--Thomas T. Richards, John Hackworth, Gary E. Hurlburt, John W. Mertying, John E. Luten, Jerry R. Porter, and Bernie C. Kehler.

PHI DELTA THETA--Ken Creely, John Robinson, Charles (Chuck) Deck, Carl (Vic) Wickman, Harold (Bunker) Hill, George Milam, Hank Systma, Bill Hartman, Bill Irwin, Richard Rosedale, Richard Whiteside, James Moore, and Jim Massey.

PI KAPPA PHI--John Albright, Ron Thomas, Dave Ward, Dave Walker, Wilson Martin, and Jack Garlow.

PHI KAPPA TAU--Ed Partelow, Bob Waterson, Bob Hoffman, Barry Caswell, John Cernuto, Norman Rosenberg, Bill Boutwell, Bill Goddard, Frank Kirk, Ted Wasserlein, Bobby Lane, Bob Moon, and Gary Jakob.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON-- Bill King, Frank Parker, Bill Bass, Gerry Williams, Joe Farley, Lee Huszach, John Green, Steve Brown, Mike Hochstein, Rick Overman, Walter parker, Dennis Fernandez, Wayne Williams, George Apthorp, Cobbie Harbeson, Joe Labat, Tommy Turner, John Perry Thomas, Bill Wood, Keith Bucklew, Charlie Evans, Charlton Hines, Ben Bailey, and Tommy Duke.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON--Richard Smith, Paul Adams, Gregory Weeks, Charles Latrick, Louis Barnett, Donald Grant, Alfred Bischoff, Gerald Huegel, Stephen Robertson, Charles Porter, and Jeffrey Manson.

TAU EPSILON PHI--Alan Margulies, Norman Levitt, Michael Gerardi, Seth Bramson, Charles Clark, Dave Philo, Robin David, Bill Treitler, Martin Abramson, Steve Squire, and Sandy Shulman.

SIGMA CHI--John Davis, Lief Erickson, Bob Hays, Stuart Huff, John McNally, Dennis Priske, Dennis Lanahan, John Knoppenburg, Bill Parsons, Gary Seaward, Bill Chamberlain, John Sproull, Ken Wilder, Bob Minnick, John Welchel, Brent Pichard, Jim Suarez, Richard Hilburn, Merry McDaniels. and Charles Tandy.

KAPPA SIGMA--Dean Van Orden DuBois, Norman Louck (Lorry) Preston, Tomothy (Tim) Joe Phillips, Bruce Ramph, Elliott Boyd Coarsey, Ricky Warren Hancock, Jessie Clark, Thomas David (Dave) capuzzi, William Michael (Mike0 Fleming, John Michael (Butch) O'Shields, Charles (Chuck) A. Stegemann, William (Bill) Upham, Julian Miller, Donald (Don) Goss, Alan

(continued on page 3)

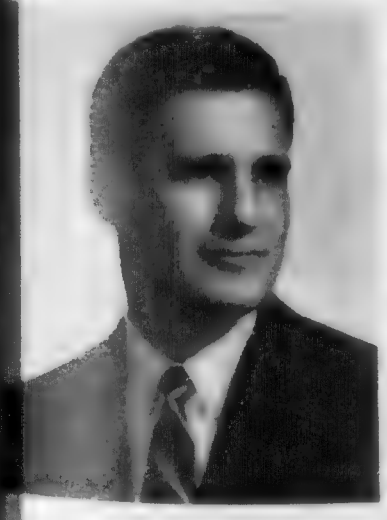
Today's News Roundup

FLAMBEAU NEWS SERVICES

IN THE NATION

MASSACHUSETTS-- Edward Kennedy and George Cabot Lodge were ...ead of their respective opponents, Edward McCormack and Lawrence ...rtis, in early returns of the primary election yesterday in Massachu...tts.

In the Democratic primary, with 31 precincts of 1,988 reporting, Ken... led McCormack, 6,353 to 4,233. Lodge led Curtis, 2,768 to 1,813, ...h 30 precincts reporting.



CAPE CANAVERAL-- A new weather satellite-- Tiros Six-- has been ... into orbit from Cape Canaveral. It joins Tiros Five. Their job is to ... information on such things as storm systems in development. ...st reports are that the new satellite is already sending back excellent ...ky pictures.

NEW YORK-- The U.N. General Assembly has opened its 17th session ... New York.

A western-supported diplomat was elected president of the assembly-- ...rammad Zafulea Khan of Pakistan. The assemby then got down to a

(continued on page 3)

Rev. McClure Speaks At Presbyterian Retreat

The Rev. Mr. Joe McClure will be the keynote speaker at the Presbyterian College Retreat this weekend at the F.S.U. Reservation. Mr. McClure is pastor of the Lake Shore Presbyterian Church in Jacksonville, Florida. He is a graduate of Davidson College and Union Theological Seminary in Virginia. Mr. McClure is a frequent camp and conference speaker and comes to us with a keen awareness of the issues of our time.

The Retreat begins Friday afternoon with supper at 5:30 p.m., and ends Saturday afternoon. Call 224-4319 to register. Cars will be leaving the Westminster House from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. Friday.

Queen Voting Scheduled As Eight Applicants File

Only eight candidates had filed applications for the Homecoming Queen Contest as of press-time yesterday.

The candidates and the groups which are sponsoring them are: Barbara Hepp, Alpha Xi Delta; Rosemary Plunkett, Delta Zeta; Martha Lynn Harris, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Beverly A. Himes, Alpha Phi; Karen Edgar, Alpha Gamma Delta; Beverly Calvert, Alpha Chi Omega; Barbara Hornbeck, Gamma Phi Beta; and Jan Quinn, Racquettes.

Tomorrow at 5 p.m. is the deadline for turning in applications at the information desk in Longmire. Dormitories interested in sponsoring a candidate will have an extension until 10 a.m. Friday since house meetings will not be held until tomorrow night.

Miss Jane Adams, director of Longmire, explained that candidates are not turning in a list of activities with their applications. Since the extra-curricular activities of each candidate will be placed on a card directly below her picture it is essential for all candidates to turn in this information.

Voting will be Sept. 28 at Westcott and the Student Center. If necessary there will be a run-off the following week.

The identity of the senior woman "most representative of the ideal coed at FSU" will not be revealed until the night of the Pow Wow, Nov. 2. She will then reign over all Homecoming festivities.

Pictures of all contestants must be made by the University Photo Lab. Sherril Mead, chairman of the queen contest, urged all candidates to make their picture appointments immediately.

Contestants should wear cocktail dresses or formals when having their pictures made. Miss Mead also explained that no pictures will be retouched in any way.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Miss Mead at Dorman Hall or the Gamma Phi Beta house.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Seating Woes

LAST SATURDAY night in Doak Campbell stadium was an experiment as far as student seating was concerned. For the first time students were admitted to the stadium without tickets and no seats were reserved. University officials and students had the opportunity to observe some of the effects of the new system of student seating in the stadium.

Great advantage of the new system was the fact that there were no long lines to stand in to get tickets.

However, now there is no control over how many people get into the stadium and as a result overcrowding may become a serious problem in the student stands. Saturday night, although, the stands were quite full, there were still some vacant seats. The real test of whether the new system will lend itself to serious overcrowding will not come until our last home game-Homecoming, which has always been crowded.

SATURDAY NIGHT, people came to the stadium earlier than in previous years to claim the best seats. This was a help in alleviating the 8 p.m. traffic snarlup that perennially plagues motorists and police alike at home games.

Although directly contrary to wishes of University officials, fraternity blocks were apparent throughout the stands. The desire of social groups to sit together manifested itself in the form of pledges sent to the stadium early to "stake out" sections of seats.

Some groups that tried this were stymied by University officials who said the only way a group may sit together would be for them all to pass through the gate into the stadium at the same time and sit down together. It was their intention that all registered students and their dates have an equal opportunity to sit in the best seats the student side of the stadium can afford.

HOWEVER, IT WAS not the desire of University officials to exchange the 'discrimination against the individual' that we have had in the seat distribution plans of previous years to 'discrimination against the group.'

But, since the plan has worked out that way and since it shows promise of backfiring unless rigid student control is enforced in the student stands why not try a compromise?

If the officials would designate certain areas in the stadium for block use several days ahead of each home game there would be no discrimination. Block areas could vary from game to game, and need not be the best seats in the stadium. This solution is equitable and would be acceptable to all. WS

Bob Foss

Return To 'Block' System

AT THE RISK of taking on the trite appellation of the crusading columnist in the name of all that is good, I would like to put forward one suggestion.

To begin with, I'd like to heap laurels on the football team for the way they came through in the annihilation of the omnipotent Southern conference pinnacles of footballdom. Perhaps the little second half entertainment on the thirty-yard line at the west end of the field was some indication, by some supernatural being who happens to be in charge of such things, of the Citadel's chances of pulling through on the winning side.

The little side show by our messcot was quite alright, that is if you were able to see what was going on. I really don't know myself. I was still on a ramp trying by chance, to find a section of the stands unoccupied.

I FULLY realize that the suggestion that follows is to be taken in contempt and all other manner of irreverence by certain factions, nevertheless. Why not return to the block system of seating which, to me at least, would alleviate the big congestion.

Granted, the practice is labeled as a discriminatory act enabling the Green faction on campus to obtain the best seating while the other three-fourths has to suffer it out in the end zone. However, through a system of intermittent blocks and non-blocks, spaced so as to give everyone a fair chance at a good seat, seems logical in the quest of finding some way to terminate a little of the congestion that existed at the last game.

THIS SYSTEM worked last year with the drawing for blocks, for those wishing to do so, and the rest of the students filled ... the sp... between.

To my way of thinking, eve... small improvement would ... a ... way in making it more en... watch our omnipotent tr... re... supreme.

Padgett's Harley Davidson
411 W. Gaines St.
Ph. 222-0130
"your motorcycle headquarters"

Enjoy
Your Hometown
with Your Breakfast!

Now the St. Petersburg Times gets here at the crack of dawn. That means you can have the latest sports, the news of the world and all the goings-on along the Suncoast right while you're dipping into the second cup of coffee.

Costs the same as delivered at home—just 55c a week—whether you live on-campus or elsewhere in town. Just phone 222-9451 and order The Times started in the morning.

St. Petersburg Times
FLORIDA'S BEST NEWSPAPER

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor | Joan Abbott, News Editor | John Schaffner, Managing Editor | Howard Denson, Sports Editor

Asst. Managing Editors.....Jim Smith, Sharon Blackwell
Asst. News Editor.....Lana Murray
Asst. Sports Editor.....John Wood
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, John McCotter, Matt Straub, Joe Rice, Lawrence Mahoney.
News Staff - Bonnie Shiplett, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Bill Smart, Mary Grossenbacher, Sarah Gordon, Susie Rhoades, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Duke Mader, Irma Wehle, Ted Harvey, Martha Treat, Thera Brackney, Michelle Johnson, Iris Anderson, Frank Coney, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Dave Kelmeckis, Fred McDonald, Bob Cornet.
Sports Staff - Shirley Hardison, Seth Bramson.
Photographers - John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Make-up.....Mabry Ashley
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeithen, Don Dughi, John Morgan.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

MILLER'S Cootery

the do-it-yourself
CHARM BRACELET

Gold or Silver

add your own charms with actually hundreds to choose from....starting at $1.50 for charms....and $2.00 for bracelets make up your own personal charm bracelet!

MILLERS
Corner Monroe at College

Today's News Roundup

(continued from page 1)

at the problems in the weeks ahead... Including another move by ...a to seat Red China in the U.N.
...assembly has elected to membership four newly-independent ...tries-- Rwanda and Burundi from Africa and Jamaica and Trinidad-...ago from the Caribbean Area. This raises total U.N. membership ...6.

...CAGO-- Both sides have agreed to President Kennedy's proposal ...arbitration in the three-week-old Chicago and Northwestern railroad ...e. Acting Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz forecasts an understanding ...would end the strike in a short time. Wirtz met with both sides in ...ington. He says they seem to be close to an understanding on the ...es to be submitted to arbitration.

...SHINGTON-- On Capitol Hill the administration has won victories ...wo big Senate showdown votes on the trade bill, as Republicans ...t to curb its authority to slash tariffs. The senate voted 58 to 23 ...ep in the measure a program to help business and workers harmed ...port competition. Earlier the Senate defeated 40 to 38 an amend-...t to retain the traditional peril point restriction. The bill, in its ...ent form, would just about wipe out this restraint on the President's ...rity to decide how low tariffs on particular items can be cut.

IN THE WORLD

...RLIN-- West Berlin authorities have disclosed 29 East Germans ...ped to the West Friday night through a tunnel bored under the Com-...st Berlin Wall. It was the largest mass escape since the wall was ...13 months ago.

...SSIA-- Russia's Government says there is an anti-Soviet military ...sion between France and West Germany designed to revise results ...rld War II. A lengthy Soviet statement says results of the recent ...of French President De Gaulle to West Germany show an urgent ...for conclusion of a German peace treaty and normalization of the ...tion in West Berlin.

Today

The Faculty Senate will meet at 4 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

* * * * *

Student Senate meets at 4 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

* * * * *

The Panhellenic pledging will be at 5 p.m.

* * * * *

A meeting of Gamma Alpha Chi is to be held in the Student Lounge of Longmire at 5 p.m.

* * * * *

A meeting of Gamma Alpha Chi is to be held in room 212 of the Business Bldg. at 7:30.

* * * * *

There will be a meeting of Young Americans for Freedom at 7 p.m. in the Student Lounge of Longmire. This is open to all persons interested in conservative politics.

* * * * *

The Recreation Club meets in the Student Lounge of Longmire at 7:30 p.m.

* * * * *

At 8 p.m. WFSU-TV features program on "Jazz Casual" with host Ralph Gleason interviewing musician Turk Murphy.

...Fraternities Pledge

(continued from page 1)

Knutzen, Dennis Karl Justi, Wayne Robert Johansen, John Stanley Wodarski, Ronald (Ronnie) Franklin Williams, Clark Douglas (Doug) Burris, and Ralph (Corky) Brumet.

DELTA CHI--Pat Shannon, Dan Campbell, Ellison Chartrand, John Kohnen, William Fritz, William Snuggs, Charles Rentz, James Vaughan, Howard Gregory, Gary West, Steve Ascherfield, and William Lutz.

PI KAPPA ALPHA--John Friese, Richard Hoekstra, Malvin Driver, Steve Huber, Dave Orr, Sandy King, John Walker, Dick Salamone, John Borden, Eddie Blanton, Stan Carolin, Jim Hart, Fred Kelsey, Eddie Haywood, Whitney Seavey, John Hadoon, Dick Schuck, Don Bryan, and Jim Williams.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA--Jack Overton, Jack Myers, Jim Wettengel, Jeff Carey, Bruce McCranie, Bob Lee, Bruce Robinson, Tony De Note, Dennis Owens, Lyndal Lewis, Ronald Loos, Jerry Everton, Pat Kickliter, Ed Weston, Sam Humphries, Roddy Hughes, Jim Prance, Tommy Garwood, Bill Baughman, and Walt Martindale.

SIGMA NU--Marty Boatright, Buddy Evans, Curtis Koons, David Laurence, Richard Lingner, Carlos Suarez, James Vincent, Sam Woods, Tom Green, Jim Carlos, Bill Wood, Allen Richards, Bob Kirtley, Ted Roth, Frederick Colvard, and David Rice.

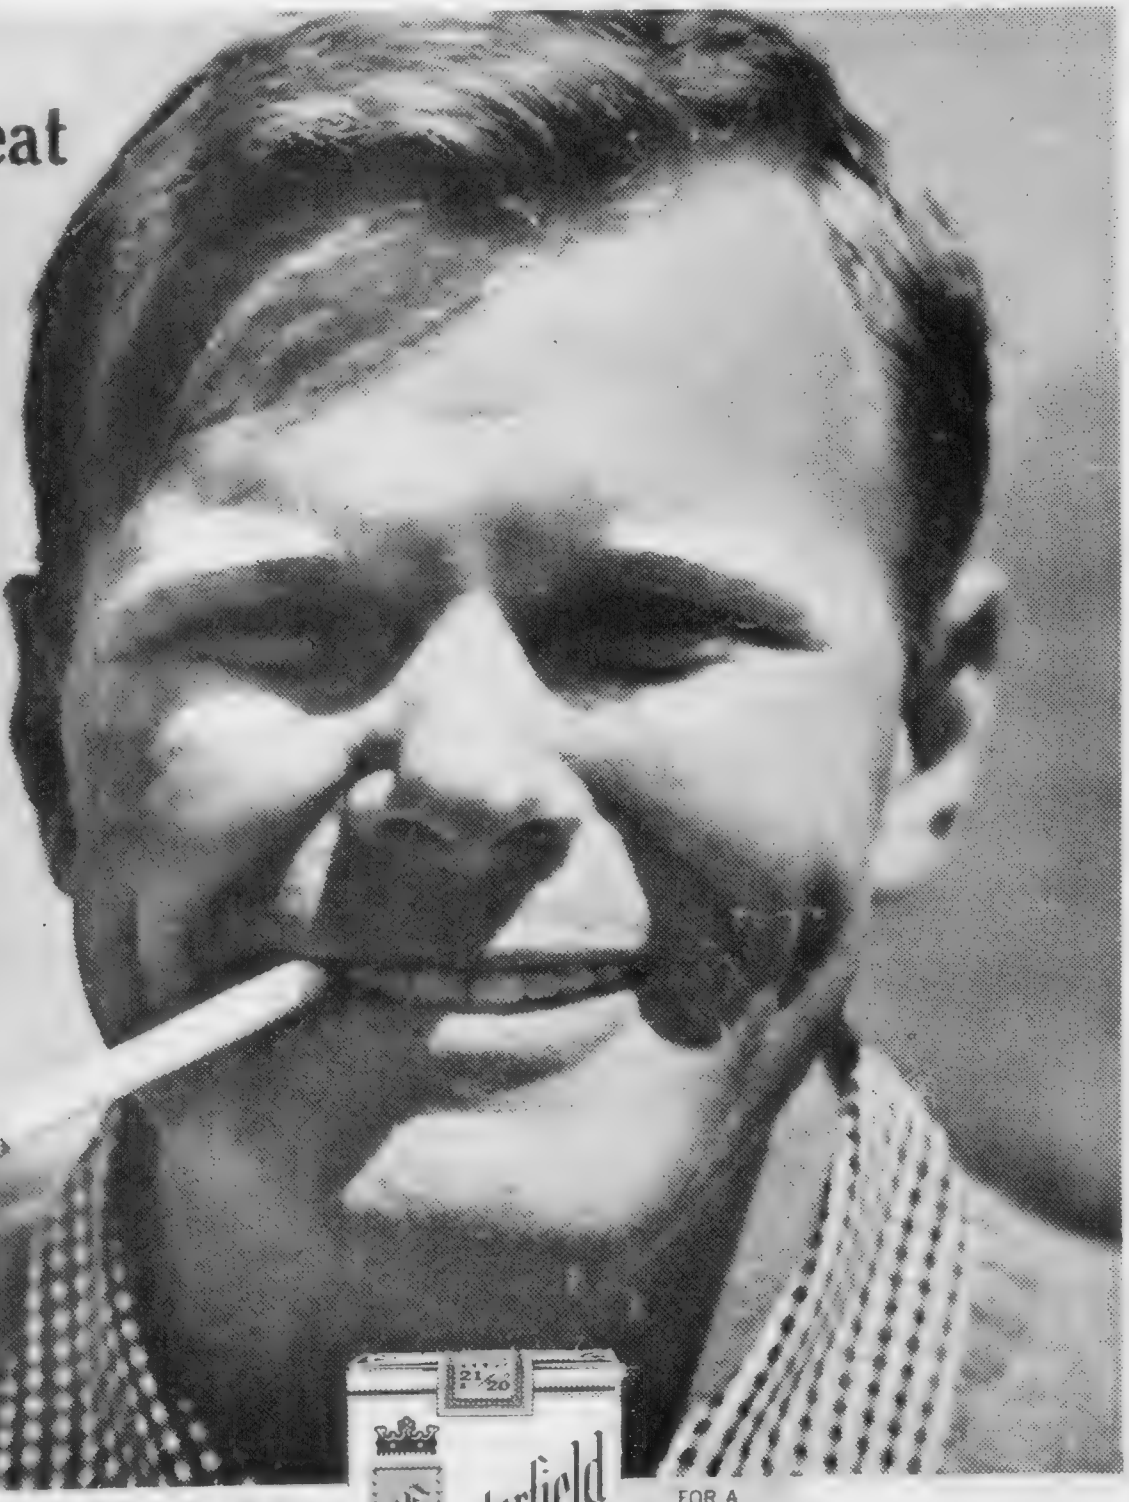
THETA CHI--James Adamson, James D. McLaughler, Jim Burns, Donald White, John B. Herndon, William D. Pollard, Robert Tompkins, Arnold Seligman, Richard Roberts, Richard A. Salzmann, Avery Sumner, Charles N. Pursley, and Tom Amstrutz.

PHI KAPPA PSI--Samuel G. Ashdown, Jr., Thomas K. Black, Rocky T. Latham.

DELTA TAU DELTA--Chet Anderson, Randy Cameron, John Lambert, Ed Sparkman, Bob Burnett, Wynne Nolan, Mike McGuire, Mickey Ford, Larry Flory, Pete Gottschalk, Dick Muckleroy, Ron Parkam, John Reinking, Mike Beresford, Don Childress, Glenn Milling, Ray Periz, david Leever, Nelson Priete, Marshall Faillace, Dick Grant, Steve Packwood, Bill Prescott, Philip Girouard, Bud Vieron, and Larry Shellel.

Today's Weather

Today's Weather
Fair and warm throughout the day, with temperatures in the high 80's. No chance of showers.



Make-up Exam

A make-up examination will be given to freshmen honor students who missed the S.C.A.T. and Minneasota Counseling tests. The S.C.A.T. test will be given at 7:00 p.m. and the Minnesota Counseling test will be given at 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday the 19th in 120 Business building.

VOLKSWAGON REPAIRS
All work guaranteed - 1 day service
Pierce Causseaux - Volks Specialist
JACK KERZAN'S TEXACO
936 North Monroe
Phone - 224-0320

WANTED
AD-MAN
for FLAMBEAU. If Interested Apply
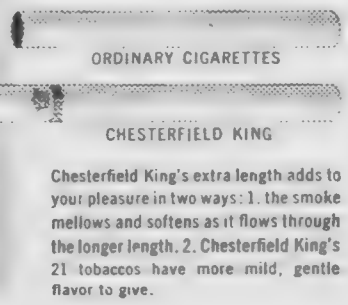
Rm. 415 Longmire
Mon. - Thur.
4 - 4:30



Tastes great because the tobaccos are!

21 GREAT TOBACCOS MAKE 20 WONDERFUL SMOKES!
Vintage tobaccos grown, aged, and blended mild... made to taste even milder through the longer length of Chesterfield King.
CHESTERFIELD KING
TOBACCOS TOO MILD TO FILTER, PLEASURE TOO GOOD TO MISS

FOR A GENTLER, SMOOTHER TASTE
ENJOY THE LONGER LENGTH OF CHESTERFIELD KING

Chesterfield King's extra length adds to your pleasure in two ways: 1. the smoke mellows and softens as it flows through the longer length. 2. Chesterfield King's 21 tobaccos have more mild, gentle flavor to give.

Baby Seminoles To Risk Football Winning Streak

The University of Mississippi Southern's freshman football team will have a chance Sept. 29 to snap the winning streak of the Baby Seminoles. The game will be played in Columbus, Ga.

Under the tutelage of Coach Charlie LaPradd, who recently resigned from the FSU coaching staff, the Baby Tribesmen romped through three undefeated seasons. The record was slightly tarnished last season when they allowed the Southerners' a 6-6 tie.

Coached by members of the varsity staff, the freshman team will then go against the University of Miami frosh Oct. 13 in the only home game of the season. Last year, the Miami frosh fell, 13-0, to the Seminoles.

They closed out their 1962 season with a Nov. 10 tilt against Furman University in Greenville, S.C. Last year, the Furman fledglings fell, 36-3, in a FSU home game.

Netters, 'Murals Slate Organizational Meets

Two organizational meetings have been scheduled this week.

The FSU tennis team will meet at 4 p.m. tomorrow in Room 206 of Tully Gymnasium. Coach Ed Cubbon will preside over the meeting. All interested freshmen and upperclassmen are invited to attend.

A meeting will be held at 5:30 p.m. today in the lobby of Montgomery Gymnasium for all day students interested in intramurals.

The Kick Fails

Seminole toe-man John Harlee discovers that his kick will not get in orbit in a recent scrimmage. Coach Peterson opened this week's grid practice by sending the Tribemen through light kicking and punting drills. (Photo by Emmette Jackson)

Racquette Try-Outs Set, DeLozier Chosen Prexy

Racquettes, the women's tennis club, will hold try-outs next Tuesday and Wednesday on the courts behind Montgomery Gym.

The club was organized in 1958 to promote interest and develop skill in tennis among university women and to provide opportunities for the more skilled women players to compete among themselves and against other university and college women.

Membership is open to all qualified women enrolled in FSU, full or part time, who are interested in tennis. The prospective members are asked to demonstrate their tennis ability during the try-outs before a judging board of six members and the faculty advisor. The club practices are at 4:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Last year, the Racquettes played eight matches on a home-and-away schedule. Twice they defeated tennis-minded Rollins College, tied the University of Florida once and nailed down a decisive win [illegible] the re[illegible] match at Gainesville, [illegible]feated Valdosta (Ga.), and lost both matches with Seabreeze of Da[illegible]na Be[illegible]. They emerged as victor[illegible] in fr[illegible] competition with the [illegible] Women's Tennis Club, [illegible] lost singles played against the [illegible] freshman tennis team.

To lead them against the 1962-[illegible] petition, Racquette members [illegible] unanimously chosen Gai [illegible] of Fort Thomas, Ky., pr[illegible]ced the club. She played number [illegible] singles positon last year and wi[illegible] only player not to lose a sin[illegible] match.

Judi Dunn of Daytona [illegible]act elected vice president. The new s[illegible]retary is Judy Lowe of St. Pet[illegible]burg, and Norma Moore of [illegible]nsa[illegible] is treasurer. Priscilla [illegible] Miami was selected the pu[illegible] chairman.

SUTTON'S HAIR FASHIONS
Corner College and Monroe
phone 224-8651

SUTTON'S BEAUTY SALON
123 E. Fifth Ave.
phone 224-4235

Mr. Sutton invites the students of discriminating taste in hair designs to come by or phone for an appointment.

Mr. Sutton
Evva Averett
Mary Vesta Williams
Wayne Leverette
Melanie Leverette
Louise Braswell

Is this the only reason for using Mennen Skin Bracer?

Skin Bracer's rugged, long-lasting aroma is an ob[illegible] attribute. But is it everything?

After all, Menthol-Iced Skin Bracer is the after-shave lotion that cools rather than burns. It helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Helps prevent blemishes. Conditions your skin.

Aren't these sound, scientific virtues more important than the purely emotional effect Skin Bracer has on women? In that case, buy a bottle. And—have fun.

- GIBBS FRENCH SHOPPE -
Welcomes
Students and Faculty
To

. Open a Charge Account
. Bill the Bank
. Use our lay-away plan

. Dresses
. Sportswear
. Lingerie
. Bridals
. Cocktails
. Coats and Suits

Gibbs French Shoppe

118 S. Monroe
Ph. 222 - 1398

Block Seating Returns With Next Home Game

lock seating will be re-ned at the next home otball game, Attorney eral Lyman Fletcher nounced yesterday.

planned to half the student stands re-ved for blocks and the other left unreserved," Fletcher commented. "We are planning that all students, both those in blocks and those not, will have a fair chance to get good seats."

"This is an action taken by the Student Government Cabinet for the benefit of all students," stressed Fletcher. "Mr. Melton and the athletic department has been very cooperative in working with us."

In past years, the block system of seating has always been in effect.

But in the switch to the system of showing identification cards instead of presenting tickets at the gate, the blocks were apparently doomed.

"This was not the intent of the administration," said Fletcher. "This is a better system, but something had to be worked out so students can have blocks."

Fletcher and Secretary of Student Welfare Bill Sheppard met with Ronald Melton, athletic business manager to discuss the problem.

The student side of the stadium under the new system will have a number of blocks marked off for block seating. The number of blocks is undetermined.

There will also be a section reserved for individuals who do not desire to sit in blocks.

Sheppard, Fletcher, and a representative of the athletic department will determine the location of both the unreserved seats and the blocks this afternoon.

A meeting of representatives from each organization desiring to have a block at the next game is scheduled for Friday at 4 p.m. in room 210 Longmire.

New P. E. Grade Policy Set By The University ginning this trimester, a revised university policy rning grades received in physical education cour- will be in effect.

ted last spring by ulty Senate, will effect prin- ting of grade aver- ships and for grad-were recommended by a faculty committee ication, headed by Dr. policy, as adopted, in- wing points.

ation of the present pro- four trimesters of physical education, (2) by examination, (3) three class hours per week, (4) one-half hour credit per trimester, (5) grades to be given as in other academic areas, and (6) requirements to be waived or altered in accordance with university catalog provisions.

Changes made in the program are as follows:

(1) Quality points and credit hours in university-wide physical education activities courses are to be set aside in computing grade averages for scholarships and for graduation honors.

(2) Credit without quality points is to be granted for exemption.

(3) A third change, to waive requirements in physical education courses for students over 27 years of age, was defeated by a vote of 15 for and 18 against.

★ News Flash ★

FSU Student Hurt In Wreck

D. Simmons, an FSU dent, was injured last night t 8:30 when he apparently control of the vehicle he and rammed into lephone pole on Thorp St. mons was admitted to Tal- memorial Hospital th a broken leg and contusions the chest. His condition was ribed by doctors as very .

tigating officer James said Simmons was trav- east on Thorp St. at the of the accident. He was entarily pinned in the age but was freed by f the Tallahassee ent.

mons' 1962 Ford estimated at $1,500. are pending further

Candidates Can Withdraw Today

Noon today is the last opportunity for candidates in the fall elections to withdraw.

Secretary of Elections Ron Jones reports that the old election enthusiasm is still present and should become more apparent as election day draws nearer. The mass paper campaigns of the past appear to have given way to a more personalized attempt to reach the student body, he said. Serenades and car parades are expected to add flavor to the election spirit, he continued.

Pow Wow

Any one interested in becoming secretary of the Pow Wow Homecoming Committee should contact Gayle Motes in Reynolds Hall or Frank Ryll at the Pi Kappa Phi house.

FSU Homecoming Queen Filing Ends Today At Five

pplications for the Homecoming Queen contest must submitted by 5 p.m. today. Dormitories have until .m. tomorrow to turn in their nominations, since meetings in the dorms will be tonight.

ontest committee has stressed that groups should or candidates who are representative of the coed at FSU." Each candidate is to turn in a of her extracurricular activities with her n.

urther information may be obtained from Sherril at Dorman Hall or the Gamma Phi Beta house.

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLIX, No. 12 Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University Thursday, September 20, 1962

THE BIG MYSTERY ON THE FSU CAMPUS

. . . is the appearance of these savages. Upon inquiry these Indian garbed campaigners would only admit that their costumes were an election gimmick thought up by one of the freshman office seekers. Their candidate will be announced later this week. (Photo by Bruce Tibbo.)

'Need' Is Financial Aid Byword

BY TED HARVEY

"Need" is the byword at the Financial Aid office this year.

Under the direction of Dr. James F. Carr, the Financial Aid office has made substantial advances in the past five years. The number of students served has increased, and the total amount of funds distributed has grown. Nevertheless, there is a definite need for more funds.

A complete and integrated financial air program has been developed to enable the participation of as many qualified students as possible. Students are assisted through loans, scholarships, part-time work or a combined program.

NEED FIRST

Applications are considered primarily on the basis of need, with academic performance and character as secondary qualifications. It is clear that, without the help this office gives, many men and women would be compelled to drop out of the University.

"Students in need of financial assistance," stated Dr. Carr, "must learn to plan ahead if they expect to solve their problem."

The largest single element of this financial aid program is a government subsidy, offered under the National Defense Education Act. This operation began in 1958, and in its present course, will extend until 1968.

Under this act, the University receives an annual subsidy of $250,000, and accumulates all payments on loans as they fall due. The size of the program will increase as outstanding loans are paid off.

INCREASE EXPECTED

During the 1961 fiscal year, 625 students received $317,000. In the present year, it is expected that nearly 700 students will receive NDEA funds. At present, only those in the priority categories: Education, science, engineering, mathematics and modern foreign languages are being considered for the program.

Grants, loans and on-campus employment have increased little over last year. University loans usually are to be repaid within the trimester or academic year, though some long-term loans are available. Last year, 3,560 loans were made, totalling $270,657.

This year, as last year, student employment on campus will be about 1,000, drawing a total payroll of $250,000.

LITTLE MORE

In 1961, grants and scholarships awarded to 469 students totalled $127,000. The average size of these gifts was $270. Money available has increased only by a few thousand dollars.

Last year, the total volume handled by the Financial Aid office was approximately $975,000. This year the $1,000,000 mark will just barely be broken.

Though some people may find these figures impressive, they are inadequate. Said Dr. Carr, "An extra $100,000 would be needed to help all the students who should be helped."

The Blanton Fund, a donation of $138,600 over the period 1964-70, will ease the situation a little. But numerous instances occur where qualified students must be turned away, as there is simply not enough money to go around. The reorganization of the University is to accommodate a larger student body. The Financial Aid office has insufficient resources to do its job completely, and conceivably the situation will deteriorate further.

As the college cost-enrollment squeeze grows, the situation will require greater effort to keep up on the part of the administration.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Election Forecast

TED KENNEDY'S smashing victory over Edward McCormack Jr. in the Democratic primary in Massachusetts Tuesday proves undeniably the strength of the Kennedy political machine. Defeat of the "old guard" McCormack politician will probably mean young Ted will have little difficulty in winning the Senate seat once occupied by his broter.

But ramifications of Tuesday's primary will not be fully realized until November's general election.

HISTORICALLY, the party in power loses congressional seats in a non-presidential election year. Occasionally they are able to maintain their present majority, but a gain is almost unheard of.

Ted Kennedy's victory, coupled with presidentially-endorsed congressional candidates primary success in Tennessee and Maryland may well mean congressional aspirtants supporting administration legislation are destined for success in the general election, and the Democrats in line for an increase in their majority.

OW

Extend Hours

IN TRYING TO squeeze the last ounce of usefulness from all educational facilities by entering a year-round program, FSU is overlooking its most valuable educational tool--the library.

Last year Student Senate passed a resolution suggesting that library hours be increased under the trimester syssed editorially. Library officials indicated their willingness to keep the building open more if they could have more money to pay the additional personnel. Everyone hoped action would be taken.

LIBRARY HOURS have been increased--by one hour. It is now open until 11 p.m. on Sunday instead of closing at 10. Many students, especially those in graduate school, would welcome the opportunity to use library facilities until midnight Friday and Saturday nights. Students could go to earlier church service and begin studying earlier on Sundays if the library were open at 10 a.m. instead of 2 p.m. Although resident women must be in their dormitories at 11, the day students and men could work until midnight if they had the opportunity.

The library was overcrowded last year. Now, with more students trying to do more research in less time, the situation will be significantly worse. There must be money somewhere in the University budget which could be released to provide for adequate use of the school's most valuable educational facility, the library.

TD

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg	Joan Abbott	John Schaffner	Howard Denson
Associate Editor	News Editor	Managing Editor	Sports Editor

Asst. Managing Editors..... Jim Smith, Sharon Blackwell
Asst. News Editor..... Lana Murray
Asst. Sports Editor.....John Wood
Photo Editor..... Bruce Libbo
Artist..... Spence Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, John McCotter, Matt Straub, Joe Rice, Lawrence Mahoney
News Staff - Bonnie Shipley, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Bill Smart, Mary Grossenbacher, Sarah Gordon, Susie Rhoades, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Dake Mader, Irma Wehle, Ted Harvey, Martha Treat, Thera Brackney, Michelle Johnson, Iris Anderson, Frank Comey, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Dave Kelmeckis, Fred McDonald, Bob Cornet.
Sports Staff - Shirley Hardison, Seth Bramson.
Photographers - John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Business Manager..... Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager..... Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager..... Dick Waterworth
Ad Make-up..... Mabry Ashley
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeithen, Don Dughi, John Morgan.
Circulation Manager..... Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Lawrence Mahoney

Extremist To Speak Friday

Dr. Bella V. Dodd is coming to Tallahassee Friday.

Sponsored by a group of local businessmen who make up a far-right organization, "Operation Information," Dr. Dodd, an ex-communist now riding the circuit as a professional anti-Red, will be presented to the students of Leon High School in particular and Tallahasseans in general as an authority on subversion in the schools.

Presumable purpose of bringing Dr. Dodd to Tallahassee is to tell students how to recognize whether there are Reds in the Leon County school system.

Dr. Dodd's talk to the high school students brings to mind a similar happening in Panama City last year when I was a student in junior college.

The right-wing extremists hesitate in using their methods on strongly established schools, instead aiming their propaganda at such institutions in their infancy as the University of South Florida and small junior colleges.

Certain community leaders in Panama City founded a "Project Alert" last spring, the purpose of which was to inform citizens of the threat of communism both internally and externally. The president of "Project Alert" was an officer in the local Birch chapter.

These grown men and women, calling themselves the XYZ Chapter plotted against the few liberal elements in the town. Of course the struggling junior college could not be allowed to become "a den of liberalism, i.e. socialism, i.e. communism."

The tragic aspect is that the members were what is known as the "town's best people." They were the civic leaders.... their names could be found listed on Rotary, Lion, and Kiwanis rosters.

They decided to hold an "Americanism School" for the students of the college and for local high school seniors. With much fanfare, they invited Dr. George Benson and Brig. Gen. William Campbell, president and vice president of Harding College in Searcy, Ark., to conduct the two-day seminar. Invited to climax the event was Paul Harvey, well-known radio commentator who is famous for his oversimplifications.

Harding College is a fundamentalist school that refuses to this day the teaching of evolution in its biology department. The college is a center for a massive right-wing propaganda mill, supported by wealthy industrialists.

After many prayers and salutations to the numerous flags the session got underway with four hours of films. One movie, produced at Harding, contrasted West and East Berlin. Color was used in picturing the West Berlin side, but the film changed to black and white when viewing the Eastern sector. Perhaps the Communists don't allow colored film.

The narrator repeatedly refered to the capitalist triumph in West Berlin and the socialist failure in East Berlin, ignoring the fact that West Berlin is anything but capitalist with its socialist government and the four billion dollars of Western aid that has been poured into the city.

Other films used world maps, showing the extent of Communist domination, covered all of Western Europe, the Middle East, all of Asia except Formosa, most of Africa, Latin America, Greenland, Iceland and Hawaii as having been to some extent taken over by Communists posing as socialists.

Dr. Benson said that any American opposing the current crop of ultra-rightism was following a Khruschev directive.

General Campbell called for preventive war against the USSR, abolishment of the income tax, capital punishment for American socialists and Communists, extinguishment of foreign aid and the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, impeachment of Earl Warren, turning space into a battlefield, and a return to the principles of militant Christianity.

Harvey blamed all the world's troubles on labor unions.

Today, professional anti [illegible] being used in a cynical wa[illegible] mote ulterior purposes: [illegible] to labor unions, and hindran[illegible] democratic and liberal refo[illegible] Certain big businesses are wil[illegible] to promote and utilize mater[illegible] and speakers which are obvio[illegible] ultr-extremist and and idiotic nature.

Perhaps they should be refere[illegible] the Kruppa of Germany who [illegible] took such chances in pre-1933 [illegible] itical crises.

"Catchy, Aren't They!"

Letters To The Editor

Spirit Blasted

To the Editor:

Saturday night's game was pathetic. When you go to a college football game you're supposed to yell, let loose, have a good time--and it can't be done in high heels or in a necktie. What is this? Can't you impress your date or your school by just showing some spirit. You were actually morbid!

I opened my mouth and yelled something...people stared at me as though I had regurgitated (or something), in church--during a prayer.

Couldn't someone give Sammy Seminole a "happy pill" before the game. He's playing in front of a lot of people down there. Maybe just a "pleasant pill" would do the trick.

Yes, we do have some new cheers, I'm glad the cheerleaders know them. My apologies if they were in the program. Mine was stolen before the first quarter was half over.

I have a few suggestions: 1. Bill Harnage take a course in group psychology. 2. Give a mike and amplifier to each cheerleader. 3. Give out a free program, that would have the cheers and Alma Mater in it. 4. Dress for a football game, not a church service. 5. Relax and enjoy the game, yell your guts out. That team is out there for us, not some silent cartoon creature, spelled Mickey.

My congratulations to the Marching Chiefs and the Frats. The Chiefs for excellent, precision work on the field; and the Frats for the refreshing sounds from the stands.

Also my sincere apologies [illegible] cellent football team. I'm sorr[illegible] student body thinks that Cam[illegible] Stadium is a television scre[illegible]

That team is on the field f[illegible] We are FSU. So next game [illegible] all take our little remedies [illegible] a placebo or orange juice (b[illegible] the game), and show them [illegible] intestinal fortitude and can ex[illegible] it!

ASHLEY AH[illegible]

* * * * *

To The Editor:

Being a freshman, I am [illegible] familiar with all FSU tradit[illegible] Is lack of school spirit a t[illegible] at Florida State?

Saturday night's displa[illegible] indication that our student b[illegible] no feeling for FSU. Is it t[illegible] for students here to act in th[illegible] ner?

The "Fighting Seminoles" [illegible] a big hand for Saturday night[illegible] formance, but it appears to [illegible] the cheerleaders went unrewar[illegible] for attempting the most [illegible] task of the evening: getting the [illegible] dents to say, or at least indic[illegible] that they really wanted the S[illegible] inoles to win.

I have feeling for FSU; h[illegible] if this is breaking a tradition ple[illegible] inform me of same before the n[illegible] game so I can adjust.

On the other hand, if it i[illegible] traditional to display indiffere[illegible] toward our school, why don't w[illegible] something about it?

GARY MI[illegible]

WFSU-TV Schedule Today

45 El Espanol Es Facil - Span-
1
00 Americanism vs. Communism
30 El Espanol Es Facil - Span-
2
45 Seeing Music
00 Commonwealth of Nations
30 Heritage Frank Lloyd Wright
00 Religions of Man
30 Mid-day
00 Jazz Carnival
30 Your Marriage
00 Social Studies

2:30 Americanism vs. Communism

------Sign Off------

4:30 What's New
5:00 Seeing Music
5:55 News
6:00 Continental Classroom
6:30 Commonwealth of Nations
7:00 Faculty Viewpoint
7:30 Alcoholic Hospital
8:00 Boston Symphony
10:00 Ten O'clock Report

Tally Ho

Registration for the "Tally Ho" will continue this week through Friday on the fourth floor of Longmire, Sally Street, editor, announced.

Students are urged to remember appointment times with the photographer as reminder cards will only be sent to campus post office boxes.

Student-Faculty Reception Set

The annual Student-Faculty reception at the School of Business will be tonight from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in Weicock Lounge and the Starry Lecture Hall of the Business Bldg.

All business majors, especially freshmen and transfer students, may attend the reception, where they will be introduced to faculty members and to the various clubs in the School of Business.

Today's News Roundup

FLAMBEAU NEWS SERVICES

IN THE WORLD

BELGRADE--Communist Yugoslavia has made public a draft of a new constitution. The major change is the creation of a position of Prime Minister--or head of the cabinet. But it still leaves President Tito as the real power with an unlimited term, the authority to name or propose the dismissal of the Prime Minister or to veto any cabinet decision.

ACROSS THE NATION

WASHINGTON--The Atomic Energy Commission has confirmed that the Soviet Union set off a powerful nuclear explosion today--the second largest blast in Russia's current series.

JACKSON--A state judge has issued a temporary order barring a Negro from entering the University of Mississippi, even though a federal court has ordered him to be admitted.

WASHINGTON--The Air Force has named six men to pilot the 17,000 mile-an-hour "Dynasoar"--a craft that will be capable of going into orbit.

WASHINGTON--A federal mediator says the Machinists union and the Convair Division of General Dynamics have reached an agreement in principle on basic guide lines set by a Presidential Panel. For one thing, the panel recommended a Union Shop. The agreement is expected to avert a strike threatened for Saturday against the firm's plants. Three other big aerospace firms face a similar deadline.

WASHINGTON--President Kennedy and Secretary of State Rusk have appealed for a restoration of more than one billion dollars cut from the Foreign Aid Program by the House Appropriations Committee.

WASHINGTON--The Senate has voted 78 to eight to pass the trade bill--giving the President one of his most spectacular victories in this session of Congress.

WASHINGTON--Senate approval has completed Congressional action on a measure to use United States' money to help keep the UN from going broke.

FLORIDA SPOT NEWS SUMMARY

TALLAHASSEE--Florida's Supreme Court has upheld the law under which a mixed group of Negroes and Whites were convicted at Miami in sit-in demonstrations.

CAPE CANAVERAL--A 50-ton Saturn rocket has arrived at Cape Canaveral by barge and will be set up for a flight in November.

TALLAHASSEE--State agencies are expected to ask the Legislature for one billion dollars to spend over the next two years.

Today

Pick up Panhellenic bids between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. at Longmire.

* * * * *

Miss Sarah Weaver will be speaker at the Food and Nutrition seminar, beginning at 11:30 a.m. in 407 Sandels.

* * * * *

The Physics Faculty luncheon will be held in the Bamboo Room of the Faculty Club at 12:30 p.m., with Dr. R.D. Edge as guest of honor.

* * * * *

The University Religious Council meet in th Club Room of Longmire at 4 p.m.

* * * * *

Physics Colloquim begins at 4:05 p.m. in 124 Science, with Dr. R.D. Edge speaking.

* * * * *

Alpha Lambda Delta meets in the Longmire Auditorium at 5 p.m.

* * * * *

APO meeting will be in the Longmire Auditorium at 6:30 p.m.

* * * * *

School of Business Student-Faculty reception will be at 7 p.m. in Weichelt Lounge, School of Business.

* * * * *

The Association for Childhood Education meets in the Student Lounge of Longmire at 7 p.m. All interested persons are invited.

* * * * *

At 7:30 p.m. WFSU-TV presents "Alcoholic Hospital".

* * * * *

Sigma Tau Delta meets in the Student Lounge of Longmire at 8:30 p.m. in 120 Geology, with John Carpenter and Randy Gresens speaking on "Field Work in north-central New Mexica."

* * * * *

Women's "F" Club meets in Longmire Student Lounge at 9 p.m.

* * * * *

Women's House meetings will be at 10 p.m. for all campus houses.

Education Interns

Students planning to intern in education during the second trimester of this year must file intern applications in 208E by 5 p.m. tomorrow. Application blanks may be bought in the University bookstore.

Pep Rally Is Tonight

A pep rally will be held in the lobby of Smith Hall tonight at 8 p.m., Bill Harnage, head cheerleader, announced yesterday.

The cheerleaders, Marching Chiefs, Coach Peterson and the football players will be featured in the event, which will be held as a "good-luck" send-off for the Seminoles, as they journey to Lexington this weekend to take on the Kentucky Wildcats.

Today's Weather

Partly cloudy throughout the day, with temperatures remaining in the high 80's.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

NATIONAL SERVICE FRATERNITY

ANNOUNCES

FORMAL RUSH

TONIGHT 8:00 P. M.

LARGE LOUNGE LONGMIRE

Enjoy

Your Hometown with Your Breakfast!

Now the St. Petersburg Times gets here at the crack of dawn. That means you can have the latest sports, the news of the world and all the goings-on along the Suncoast right while you're dipping into the second cup of coffee.

Costs the same as delivered at home—just 55c a week—whether you live on-campus or elsewhere in town. Just phone 222-9451 and order The Times started in the morning.

St. Petersburg Times
FLORIDA'S BEST NEWSPAPER

ANNOUNCING
GRAND OPENING
OF DEE'S BARBER SHOP
2238 S. Monroe

Across from Dr. Vickers vet. Dee's Barber Shop is a modern concern with latest equipment to meet the needs of their customers.

Regular haircuts $1.25
Flat tops $1.50

Flat tops & Princeton speciality

DEE'S BARBER SHOP

LOVING CARE IS NEEDED
WHEN YOU'RE DRIVING, TOO

FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Published to save lives in cooperation with
The Advertising Council and the National Safety Council

WHILE CITADEL'S BRUCE WHITNEY (35) GAINS A YARD

...Cadet Doug Shaffer exchanges fouls with Seminole Ferrell Henry--an uppercut for grabbing a face mask. (Flambeau Photo)

Robinson Name Lineman Of Wee

Florida State's Chuck Robinson, the guy who made FSU just a little bit better against the Citadel, has been named the "Lineman of the Week" by the Florida Sports Writers Association.

The 5-11, 200-pound junior guard helped the Seminoles to score two extra points in FSU's 49-0 triumph over the Bulldogs when he knocked Citadel's Converse Chellis into the end zone for a safety. Chellis had just intercepted a pass that had bounced from the hands of end Hank Stysma's hands.

In addition, the Florida State coaching staff said game films revealed that the Ohioan played high quality offensive ball.

Florida State's contest with the Citadel was the only collegiate football game played in the State of Florida this week. FSU's future opponent, the University of Miami, however, met the Pittsburg Panthers in Pennsylvania.

Top Lineman

Chuck Robinson of FSU re... the highest award of the wee... a lineman can receive. The... was lauded by state new... for his effort against the C...

Tennis Meeting

The Florida State tennis team will meet at 4 p.m. today in Room 206 of Tully Gymnasium to prepare for the 1962 net competition. Coach Eddie Cubbon will preside over the meeting. All interested freshmen and upperclassmen are invited to attend.

Every Grid Season Features Bones, Bruises, Barbiturates

Bones, bruises, and barbiturates are a necessary part of every grid season, and trainer Don Fauls and Dr. R.A. Johnson spend a large part of their time with the three B's.

To help boost the Seminole's strength and resistance to the heat, Dr. Johnson has concocted a shot of liquid called "Seminole firewater," consisting of water doctored with lime, sugar, and salt. It's had something to do with low heat-exhaustion rate at FSU, Johnson says.

Trainer Fauls says quarterback Eddie Feely avoids the bones and bad bruises because, "He runs away from trouble instead of looking for it; a lot of big guys are injured by challenging some 240-pound tackle."

While checking on the conditions of several players who had been injured and were recovering rapidly, Peterson said, "If they don't get well, you can say it's all the fault of the trainer and doctor."

And Dr. Johnson, he asserts jokingly, has been "sabotaging me by causing all of our injuries." Johnson got his bachelor's degree at Florida (FSU deadly rival), master's at Tulane (rival of LSU, where Peterson last coached), and was a saw-bones for the Miami Hurricanes (also an FSU rival).

The team officials help the Seminoles better their muscle tones with isometric contraction. When a player leaved the practice field, he must stop at each of three chin-up bars on the field and get his isometrics for the day. It doesn't necessarily make the muscles bigger, but it gives them extra strength.

From the players' viewpoints, the bruises and bones can make life miserable.

Quarterback Ed Pritchett of Decautur, Ga., aggravated an old injury this summer, had to have a knee operation, and has been lost for the season. How did he re-injure his knee? Playing badminton.

Then quarterback Jimmy Seaward, who transferred to Florida State from Auburn, had to quit the team. While playing at Auburn, he had injured his back, and this summer he realized he would not be able to continue football.

Last year, Happy Fick had the same idea. After a knee operation, the 5-9 Miamian thought his playing days were over, but spectators can see him working out every week day as a red shirt.

The same is true about center Y.C. McNeese, who had a knee operation last year. He's now back on the staff as a utility center, after being switched from end.

Sometimes the bruises delay an athlete's active playing for a year.

And other times, it gets a guy into action ahead of time.

Tony's Pizza

1805 Thomasville Road

Phone 224-6210

Specializing in

Pizza

Spaghetti

Italian Salad

TONY'S PIZZA

New Olympic Swimming Pool Plans Are Laid

reliminary plans for the FSU imming pool have been received, n Thigpen, secretary of campus ion, announced today.

ids for construction will be open- In October or November, Thig- n said. Construction should be- in late November with comple- n scheduled for late June or ly.

Final plans are being completed d should be ready early in Oct- er.

Plans are being furnished free of charge by the National Pool Engineers, Inc. of Florence, Ala. This firm builds many college pools around the country and specializes in this type of construction.

The bids will be let in two parts. One will include the construction of the main area of the pool. The other will include the dressing rooms, diving tower and outlying buildings.

Early figures estimated costs at about $250,000, but later evaluations have placed the final cost in the vicinity of $300,000.

"It'll be without a doubt the greatest aquatic facility in the South," commented swimming Coach Bim Stults. "And equal to anything of its kind in the nation."

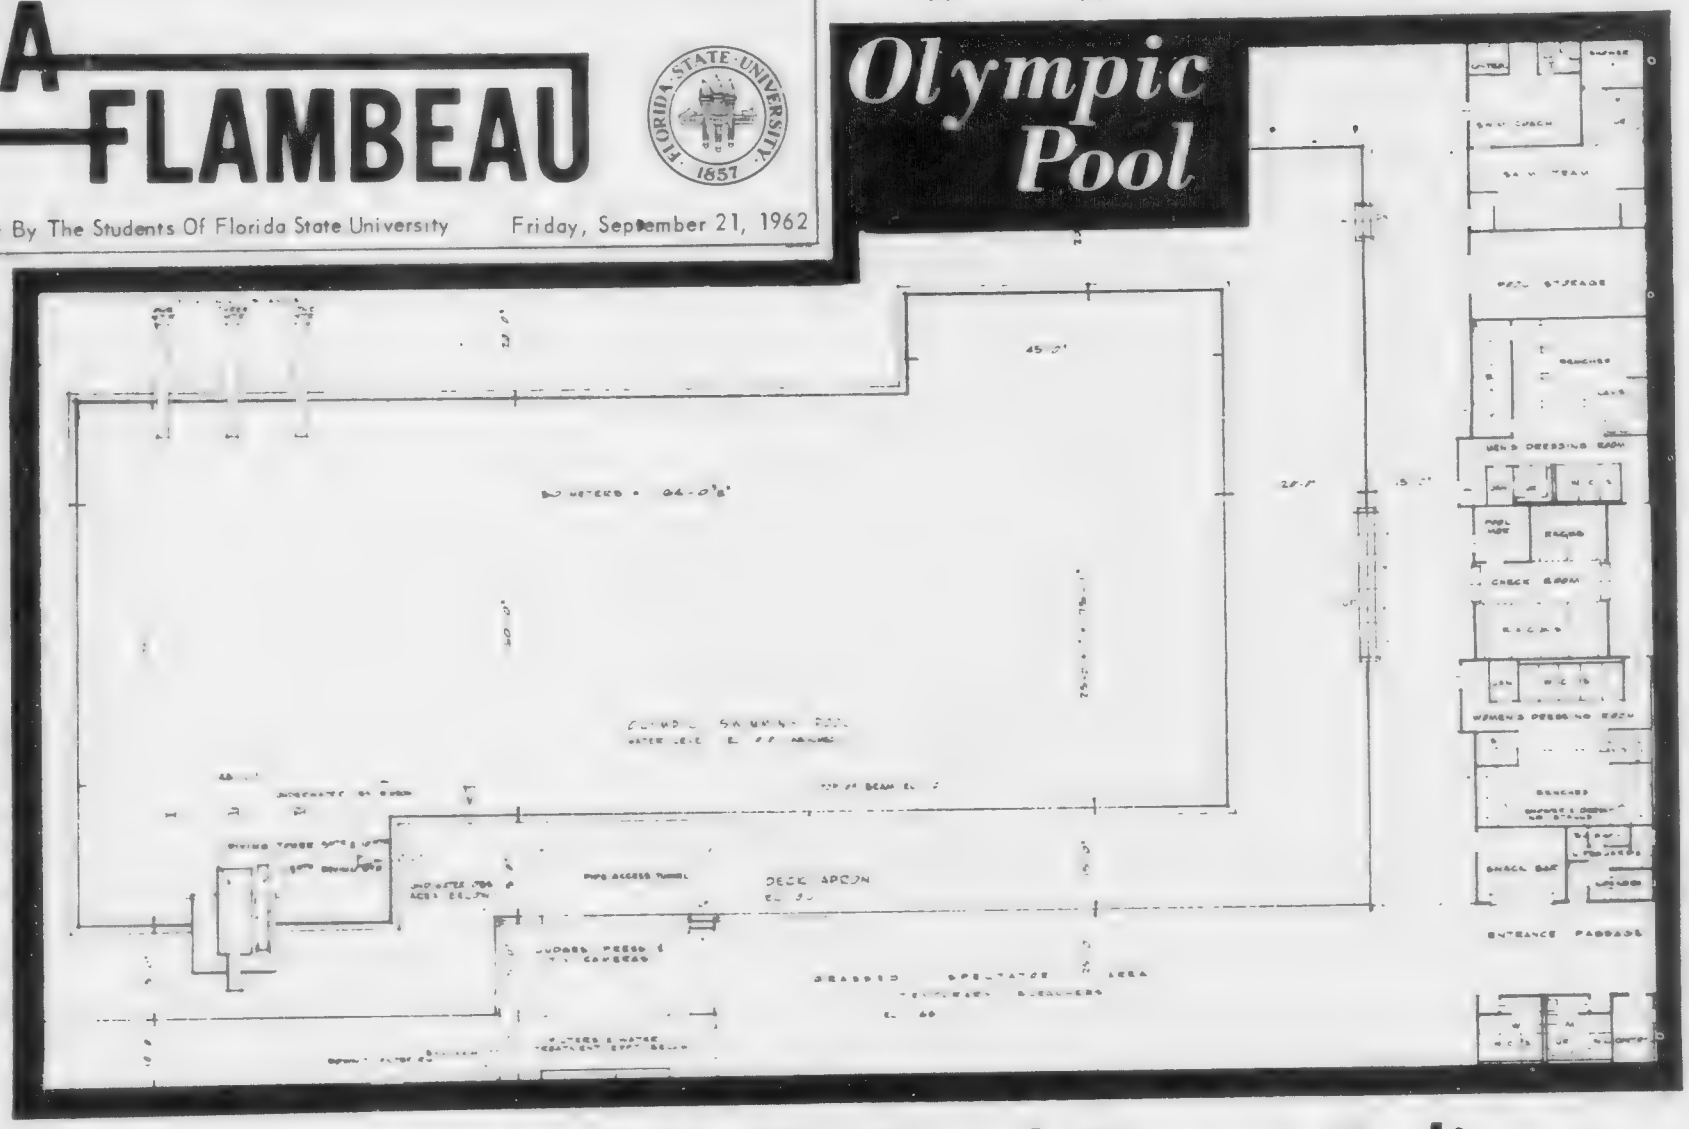
"Now we finally have something concrete," commented Thigpen. "There are finally no obstacles in our way of the realization of a dream that many people have had."

"I'm very happy about tis latest result," said Ken van Assenderp, student body president. "The announcement of further progress seems to me, above all else, to prove the meaning and significance of cooperation and mutual understanding on the part of students and administration.

"It is only through continued interest and effort that it is this close to reality," continued Van Assenderp.

The swimming pool project was first begun under the administration of student body president Mattox Hair in 1959-60. Carl Butler's administration of 1960-61 instituted action on the project.

Additional plans were made under Bobby Byrd's administration, when students met with representatives of National Pool Engineers, Inc.



The pool design is Z-shaped, so that activities can be divided. Diving practice can take place in one end, swimming practice in the other end, while the center can be used for recreational swimming.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY 1857

X No. 13 Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University Friday, September 21, 1962

orty Coeds ave Applied or FSU Queen

orty coeds have turned in ap- ications for the Homecoming Que- contest. Additional entries from rmitory candidates were accepted morning.

ting will be next Friday at the dent Center and in Westcott. If essary there will be a run-off. e identity of the Queen will be vealed Nov. 2, the night of the -Wow.

n-dormitory sponsored candid- es are: Barbara Hepp, Pi Kappa ; Rosemary Flunkett, Delta Zeta; artha Lynn Harris, Sigma Sigma ma; Beverly Himes, Alpha Phi; aren Edger, Alpha Gamma Delta; verly Calvert, Alpha Chi Omega; ara Hembeck, Gamma Phi a; Jan Quinn, Racquettes; Ginny ter, Alpha Delta Pi; Joyce Fag- ni, Sigma Alpha Iota.

rise Edwards, Pi Beta Phi; Mil- ed Bishop, Delta Delta Delta; Rich, PSU; Sherrod Ann Camp- Candida Chi Alpha; Kitty Mil- Men's Physical Education Maj- Club; Evelyn Foy, Sigma Alpha lon; Peggy Bruce, Phi Delta ta; Carolyn Fain, Sigma Kappa; rtha Bishop, Alpha Tau Omega; nne Byers, Kappa Alpha; Diane r, Delta Gamma; Francine llinor, Theta Chi; Diane Good- Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Peg Lane, Kappa Kappa Gamma; McClaren, Fashion Incorpor- ed; Revile Slaydeth, Chi Omega; ; Sindon, Zeta Tau Alpha; Bar- ra Brice, Alpha Theta; Carolyn rnes, Recreation Club; Judy Rid- Pi Kappa Alpha; Paula Walker, ha Omicron Pi; Marcia Callison, Delta; and Tricia Lawrence, ma Chi.

rol Haught, Angel Flight; Car- Bridges, Delta Chi; Ann Har- Seminole Divers; Ann Schloss, ma Nu, Barbara Norman, Phi Kay Healy, Alpha Xi Delta; and fax Smathers, Kappa Delta.

Bryant Visits Drill, Delivers Pep Talk

ov. Farris Bryant visited the FSU ractice field and gave the Sem- les a pep talk before their de- rture to Kentucky. "Remember at as players for Florida State niversity," he said, "you are re- resenting the State of Florida." The governor, a graduate of the niversity of Florida, was given a anding ovation by the spirited Sem- oles.

Governor Defies Federal Court Ruling

OXFORD, Miss.-- Governor Ross Barnett has defied orders of Federal courts and refused to admit a Negro, James Meredith, to the University of Mississippi. The Governor announced his decision after a 23-minute meeting with Meredith, who was escorted to the campus yesterday by U.S. marshals.

His decision came shortly after the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in Hattiesburg had overthrown a new state law that would have barred the 29-year-old Meredith from the school.

After the meeting of the governor and Meredith a group of students who had massed around the building in which the conference was held ran down the street behind the car carrying Meredith shouting and cursing. The crowd which had booed Meredith cheered te governor as he left a few minutes later.

During the meeting between the governor and Meredith the University registrar read to the governor a copy of the court order demanding that Meredith be admitted. Barnett then told Meredith he was denying his application.

An assistant state attorney general sitting in on the meeting asked the governor if he knew he was violating a court order. Barnett snapped "Are you telling me I'm in contempt, or shouldn't a Federal Judge do that?"

The state official replied: "That's up to the judge."

Attorney General Robert Kennedy had announced earlier: "We are going to make sure that the court orders are followed."

FSU Hosts Mexican Team

Florida State will practice the Good Neighbor policy this weekend by playing host to the football team from Mexico Polytechnic Institute.

Director of Athletics Vaughn Mancha said the Mexican gridders would be at FSU till Monday, staying at the Reservation and eating at the Seminole Club. They will arrive at 6.

"We have extended the use of the FSU practice field, so they can scrimmage in preparation for a game against Howard College in Birmingham, Ala.," Mancha said.

The Mexican team has been the opponents of the University of Miami Baby Hurricanes and the University of Southern Mississippi fledglings, Mancha said.

Since they have indicated a desire to compete against the FSU frosh, we are trying to arrange a game in Mexico City, Mancha ended.

Justice Department Asks Three Contempt Citations

WASHINGTON-- The Justice Department announced in Washington last night it will ask immediately for contempt of court citations against three officials of the University of Mississippi.

They will be charged with defying a federal court order to enroll James Meredith as the school's first Negro student.

A department spokesman identified the three officials as chancellor John Davis Williams, Dean Arthur Lewis and Registrar Byron Ellis. The spokesman indicated the Justice Department will ignore the role of Governor Barnett, saying his actions have no legal effect.

FSU Gets New Home

Florida State University, Bangkok, Thailand.

That will be the name of Section B of the eighth grade at the International School in Bangkok, Student Body President Ken van Assenderp was informed yesterday.

Wayne E. Nesbitt, principal of the school, wrote asking for information as to the official colors, traditions and student activities of FSU.

The students of the International School, a college prep school, name various sections or each grade, seventh through twelfth, after a college or university in the United States.

Students from thirty different nations are enrolled at the International School and ninty percent of its graduates attend colleges in the United States.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Read Ruling

A recent storm was created by the Supreme Court's ruling concerning prayer in the public school systems.

The reason, obviously, when the criticism cropped up was that the general public did not read the ruling, which did not say, "Thou shalt not pray," but rather, "no state government may write an official prayer to be said in schools."

The Court based its decision on the first amendment, which states, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof..."

The New York Regents' prayer was innocuous, did not have the overtones of the doctrine of any faith, and, at the most, was merely an acknowledgment of the existence of a benevolent God.

Those that truly read the ruling did not protest. Even the president of the Southern Baptist Association said there was nothing anti-religious in the Court's ruling. If any protest lingered from those that read the ruling, it was because of a what-might-happen attitude.

These people would feel that the Supreme Court might further interpret the Constitution to mean: no prayers may be said in public schools.

Justice Douglas assured the people that the Court did not mean to do this, but doubts remain in the minds of many because of court reversals, 5-4 decisions, etc.

But, if the first amendment is re-examined, perhaps it can serve to provide an argument for the pro-prayer forces.

If said aloud, prayer is a form of speech, and the first amendment guarantees that "Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of speech." Hence, it would be unconstitutional for a governmental agency to, not only write a prayer, but also forbid prayer to be spoken.

If this were no defense, schools would have an alternative. A prayer does not have to be said aloud; it can be silent. And a period reserved for silent prayer would allow each student to speak to his Jehovah, Allah, Christ, or Sun-God--or even not to speak. This would not violate any student's religious precepts nor would it allow the nation's religious sentiment to decline.

The court could have no objection to the second course, and, more than likely, no objection for the former course, because then it might be "prohibiting the free exercise" of religion.

HD

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor

Asst. Managing Editors.....Jim Smith, Sharon Blackwell
Asst. News Editor.....Lana Murray
Asst. Sports Editor.....John Wood
Photo Editor.....Bruce Libbo
Artist.....Spencer Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, John McCotter, Matt Straub, Joe Rice, Lawrence Mahoney.
News Staff - Bonnie Shiplett, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Bill Smart, Mary Grossenbacher, Sarah Gordon, Susie Rhoades, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Duke Mader, Irma Wehle, Ted Harvey, Martha Treat, Thera Brackney, Michelle Johnson, Iris Anderson, Frank Coney, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Dave Kelmeckis, Fred McDonald, Bob Cornet.
Sports Staff - Shirley Hardison, Seth Bramson.
Photographers - John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Mabry Ashley
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeithen, Don Dughi, John Morgan.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Joe Rice

Why Mow During Classes?

A diatribe, my dictionary says, is "a prolonged discussion, especially a bitter or abusive harangue; a strain of railing language."

This is a diatribe--the first in a series of diatribes--on the practice of mowing lawns while classes are in session, an honored practice at FSU, I understand.

For the past two weeks I've been experiencing classes conducted against the opposition of giant noisy mowers and I'm opposed to it.

I called Mister Henry C. Martin, the horticulturist at FSU, the Big Chief of all the lawn cutters, and I told him that I was opposed to it. I told him that the men mowing lawns outside my classrooms--sometimes the same lawn twice in one week--were making it hard for me to concentrate, were causing my professors to suffer from strained larynxes.

"I don't think you all ought to mow while classes are in session," I told Mister Martin.

"We've got 250 acres of grass to cut," Mister Martin said. "We have to cut it every five days or it gets up where we can't cut it."

"Why don't you mow it late in the afternoons?" I said, softly.

"We have too large an area to mow it late in the afternoons," he said. "We work eight to five and the classes go on from eight to five. We don't have enough money or machines to mow late in the afternoon or to mow all at once. We try not to interrupt anything but we [illegible] our budget limitations," he [illegible]

"The mowers are very large [illegible] said, "and they are noisy. The[y] very noisy. They interrupt [illegible] CLASSES. I think that this is [illegible] posed to be an educational [illegible] tion and it can be an educati[onal] institution even though covered [with] weeds. On the other hand, it [ought] be an education institution [if] students are prevented from hea[r]ing their instructors."

I paused for breath and then I [said] "It is a one-sided problem. [If] mowers interfere with classes, [the] mowers must yield."

"Well, I have to look at both [sides] of the problem," Mister Martin [said]. "I just have to look at one," I [said].

Gerry Dobson

Contemptible Candidate

As a Democrat, I am becoming increasingly disturbed by the attitude of my Party's candidates when they find themselves confronted with Republican opposition. This attitude, that of hiding behind the skirts of the South's traditional voting habit, is an insult to the citizen who is interested in the issues of a campaign, and who wants to be able to judge the relative merits of the two candidates for himself.

Here in the Ninth District we have a most glaring example of the contempt a candidate has for his would-be constituents. Don Fuqua refuses even to acknowledge the existence of the Republican candidate, Wilfred Varn. Varn has repeatedly offered to debate the issues of the campaign, but the young farmer hasn't even had the courtesy to say "no". He remains silent.

Evidently Fuqua feels that this is "smart politics". How else could a candidate who had a 100% conservative voting record in the Florida House convince the liberals in the Ninth District that he was their boy? It seems to me that this kind of behavior on the part of a candidate demonstrates more of a desire to be elected than an anxiousness to serve because of strong convictions. I would prefer a man of principle, whatever his political persuasion, to just another politician.

If Fuqua is afraid to discuss the issue, we as voters are faced with a more difficult task. We will have to dig for ourselves to find the answers which we as free Americans have a right to seek of those who would serve us. Don Fuqua seems afraid to let us have these answers. Perhaps if we find out more about Wilfred Varn, his qualifications and his political philosophy, we shall know why.

Bonnie Freedman

Soda Shop Sham

In a corner of the Soda Shop sat a young redheaded thing, wrapped up in a purple coat. "Hello," we said. "What is your name? And why are you huddled in a corner like that? Hm?"

"The name is Sam," came the unhappy reply. "And I have just returned after a long absense. Nothing seems the same."

"Sam ... that's a funny name for a boy, isn't it?"

"The 'how you say' physical plant is what I mean. The people are the same. Professors have changed, but certainly not the students. But there is so much new about the physical stuff: Magnolia is a girls' dorm; Senior Hall is a freshman dorm. And no one seems to know where West Hall is."

"How did you happen to be named Sam?" we asked.

"The sidewalks, too," she said, puffing on her pipe. "What?" we said.

"The sidewalks--there WEREN'T any last time."

"Oh," we said. "But the name ..."

"They're all over the place. Gone the lovely red ooze, the slippy-slidey paths that were the only way to get across campus in twelve minutes."

"We get fifteen minutes now," we mentioned.

"Interesting," she mumbled. "They've torn down the social welfare building too. I hope they're not planning to put a Clean Modern building in its place."

"Are you a student here?" we asked. "Of course," she grimaced. "I can't really seem to stop it."

"And what are you taking?" we queried. "The usual," she said, getting up to trip a couple of freshmen who were venturing in the door, "a DIS ... in Soda Shop."

Howard Denson

Goldwater Discovers-

Among the stories that we'd like to see:

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP)--Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) disrupted the annual meeting of the National Scientific Association yesterday with an "astonishing discovery."

"Gentlemen, I was sitting in my library reading John Locke, when suddenly I was struck on the head by a falling copy of my book, 'Why Not Victory?'.

"It occurred to me then that there must have been a reason for the book to fall since moments later it had been balanced on the end of a shelf. It was a grave problem that I pondered, and suddenly, gentlemen, I realized that I had discovered gravity!"

After a seizure of coughing, Dr. Robert von Heidleberg, president of NSA, said the 2,000-member scientific organization would accept Goldwater's observation as one of the great scientific discoveries.

"I feel that no one will dispute this remarkable theory," Heidleberg said, "it ranks Mr. Goldwater with such scientists as Einstein, Curie, and ... Newton."

In other NSA meetings, Dr. Werner von Braun, space expert, showed pictures taken of the earth during astronaut Scott Carpenter's recent orbits of the earth.

Sen. Goldwater gasped, while viewing the slides, "I'll be damned ... it's round."

Allan Dermott

Marx Ignored Arguments

This is the first in a five-[part] series on the seven important [fac]tors Karl Marx ignored [when] up his arguments against capital[ism]. These seven factors are clearly [out]lined in Dr. Fred Schwarz's [book] "You Can Trust the Communists [to] Be Communists." Few people, [how]ever, have found the time to [read] Schwarz's book.

Therefore, it is the purpose of [this] series to give a brief but comp[re]hensive account of Schwarz's [argu]ments. Dr. Schwarz has [been] ing the Communists and their [ways] ever since he had his first [meet]ing with one at the University of [Mel]land in Australia in the late 19[30's].

Before one can understand [the] portance of the seven factors [being] ignored, he must first know Marx's basic reason why he said the "[evils]" of capitalism results in the [inevita]ble consequences of depression, [im]perialism, and/or war. Marx [con]tended that a point is eventually reached where there are enough factories and machinery and that the money which was used in the building of these begins to accumulate in banks, thus, leaving the only money in circulation as that being paid in wages for producing goods. This does not leave enough money to buy the goods produced, so over-production is inevitable.

Soon the manufacturers have their warehouses filled and see no need of making more goods, when they already have more than what is demanded. Factories are closed and men are put out of work.

According to Marx, this cycle of production, leading to over-production, leading to unemployment is inevitable. The only thing the capitalists can do, Marx declares, is to turn to imperialism and force their products on other countries to go to war in order to start the machinery producing war materials and, thus, to start circulating money again among the people.

The danger in this analysis of Marx is that it is a half-truth. He did not consider everything that needed to be considered in order to draw the conclusions he reached. The first two of these factors will be discussed in part two. They are (1) the dynamic nature of money and (2) the role of psychology in the economy.

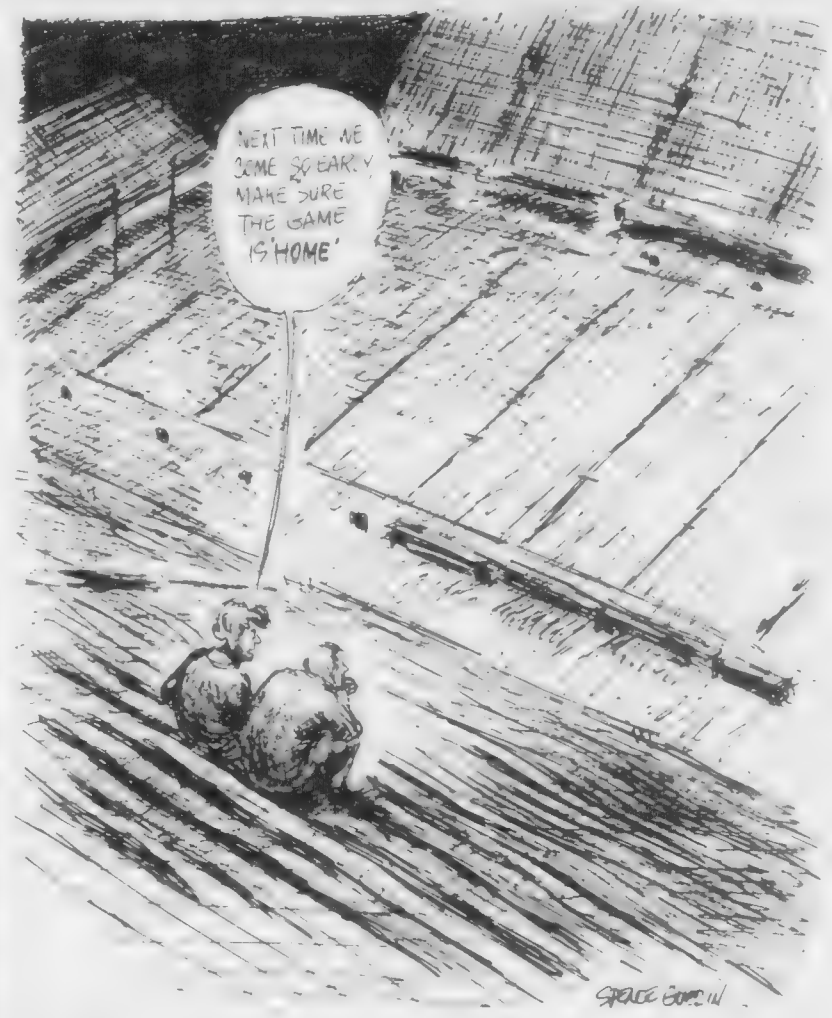
Letters Policy

Letters to the editor and student comment are welcomed by the "Flambeau." We firmly believe that students should have an organ through which their opinions and views can be aired.

We will attempt to print all letters received that meet standards of good taste, conciseness of thought and quality of presentation. In addition, letters must be held to a maximum of 250 words.

Homecoming Decorations Sketch Deadline Is Set

Any dormitory or FSU group planning Homecoming house decorations must submit a sketch of a proposed entry by Oct. 1.



All sketches must be placed in a sealed envelope and sent to Madge Lee, student chairman of Homecoming campus decorations.

Each dormitory will be given $30 by the University to purchase materials for decorations. Dormitories may not spend in excess of $60 in expenses. Scholarship houses will be alloted $15 for decorations. Total expenses may not exceed $30.

This year's Homecoming theme is a "Future View of FSU". House decorations should be designed in accordance with the general theme. Entries will be judged on a 100 point scale. Thirty possible points will be alloted for the appropriated theme or idea. There will also be a possible 30 points for general appearance of the decorations. Twenty possible points will be alloted for workmanship and there will be a total of 20 possible points for overall impact.

Judging of the entries will be Nov. 2. Awards will be given in five categories. They are: Best Men's Residence Hall, Best Women's Residence Hall, Best Off-Campus Residence, Best Non-Residence Student Center, and Best All-Around. In addition to these awards there will be two honorable mentions in each category.

Winning entries and honorable mentions will be announced at half-time of the Homecoming game with Houston, Nov. 3.

ONE HOUR
DRY CLEANERS
keep your clothes... Fresh as a rose

SPECIAL
MONDAY TUESDAY WEDNESDAY
SUITS & DRESSES 69¢ each or 3 for $1.99

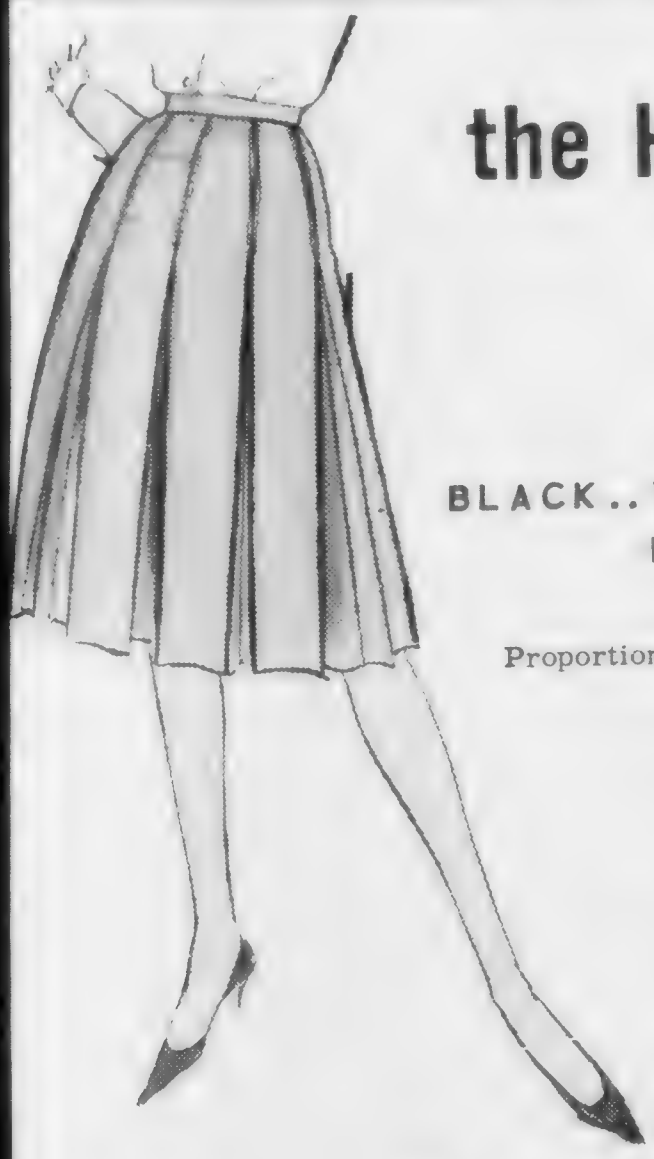
LAUNDRY 5 SHIRTS FOR 1 $1.00

PULLOVERS, TUX, AND DOCTORS' JACKETS 25c each
305 N. Monroe St. & 1100 W. Tennessee St.

Miss Gymkana Court Will Be Chosen Tonight

Twenty FSU coeds will be chosen for the Miss Gymkana Court tonight at 6:45 in Tully Gym.

They will be chosen on the basis of beauty, charm and poise. Miss Gymkana will be chosen at a later date on the additional qualifications of costume design and cooperation.



The official deadline for entering the contest is noon today but late registration will be accepted up to 6:30 p.m. It is not necessary for contestants to be sponsored by an organization in order to enter the contest. Contestants may run independently or be sponsored by any organization on campus.

Entrants may register with Dr. Hartley Price at Tully Gym, Tracey Torrey at the Sigma Kappa House or Peggy Bruce in the Infirmary.

"Pirate Daze" is the general theme of Gymkana this year. Miss Gymkana will reign over the show which begins Oct. 17 in Tully Gym for a four-day-run.

The Gymkana fraternity-sorority trophies will be awarded again this year to the fraternity and sorority contributing the most to Gymkana. Contributions may be in any areas of the production, such as staging, lighting, publicity, costumes or props.

The judges for the contest are Robert Leigh, Keith Pitchford, Fernando Lecuona, Dr. and Mrs. Price, Dr. Florence Cole, Cliff Paisley, Pat Hogan and Eddy Cubbon.

the Hip Stitcher
7.99

in pure wool

BLACK .. WHITE ... GRAY ... TAN
Navy and others

Size 7 10 14

Proportioned short ... medium ... long

The Box pleated skirt stitched neatly to the hip for free-swinging comfort
Easily the most popular style
Easily the most flattering skirt and in other materials ...other colors

MILLERS
Corner Monroe at College

AT YOUR KENT THEATRES

FLORIDA	STATE
NOW SHOWING HOW did they ever make a movie of... "LOLITA" For Persons Over 18 years of age 12:15-2:50-5:25-8:00	Today & Saturday All-Color BIG STAR Show Kirk Douglas Tony Curtis Janet Leigh "THE VIKINGS" -PLUS-Burt Lancaster Gina Lollobrigida "TRAPEZE"
PERRY HIGHWAY OUTDOOR	CAPITAL DRIVE-IN ON WOODVILLE HWY.
Tonight & Saturday JERRY LEWIS in Two Laff Hits --7:50-- "SAD SACK" --9:35-- "DELICATE DELINQUENT"	Big COUNTRY MUSIC HOEDOWN! "HOLLYWOOD BARN DANCE" " SQUARE DANCE JUBILEE" "DOWN MISSOURI WAY" "BUFFALO GUN"

Fall Primary Polls Open On Tuesday

Polls will be open Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for fall primary elections with official polling places at: the Seminole Club, Westcott (Tickett Office), the Student Center (two polls), Landis Green (near the Library), Smith (West) Hall, and Bryan Hall (by the Police Station).

Sophomore Council members will work at the polls.

Students may only vote for senators from the precincts in which they live, Secretary of Elections Ron Jones stressed. Freshmen men and women will vote for class officers, including candidates for both freshman men's and women's senators as well as for Senate candidates from their precinct.

In precincts where one candidate is running unopposed, write-in votes will be allowed. If a write-in candiate receives a majority vote, he will be elected, Jones said.

Any student violating the voting rules will be subject to Honor Court action, Jones warned.

Several candidates have been fined twice for violation of campaign regulations, Jones said. Violation of campaign poster regulations results in fines through the first three offenses. A fourth offense results in automatic disqualification from the race.

"Flambeau" Editor Ben C. Sharp announced, because there are so many candidates in the fall election, the student newspaper will not accept letters to the editor from office-seekers.

Food Plan

Today is the first day students wishing to withdraw from the food plan can get their money refunded from the Morrison Food Service.

This will be the only day until Oct. 5, that students can withdraw.

New AFROTC Wing Is Added

By Frank Coney

A new component to the AFROTC wing has been added -- a Freshman Drill Team.

The forty-five man drill team will be the first at FSU to use swords.

Sword manual of arms will not begin for another month. Before the team can use swords they must first learn the basic drill movements. Captain John Sherear, in charge of the unit, said he hopes the team will shape up fast enough to go on exhibition trips before the end of the year. If the team is good enough, he said, it will join the regular AFROTC exhibition team. Cooperation and teamwork are absolutely necessary in order for the drill team to be a success, he stressed.

"It will be an entirely new experiment," Sherear said.

Student Insurance

Student Insurance will be available in Room 210 Longmire from 3:00 until 5:00 Monday through Friday. Deadline date will be Sept. 30.

All Around Campu

DAMES CLUB-- The Married Students will hold their annual mixer Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Suwanne room. The program for the evening includes getting acquainted with old and new friends, dancing, door prizes, and refreshments. Dress is informal and admission is free.

* * * * *

COTILLION-- New officers of Cotillion are: President Anita Donaldson; Vice President Sara Mackin; Treasurer Randia McGregor; Secretary Rona Turner; and Social Chairman Carol Rusian.

* * * * *

CHORAL UNION-- Mendelssohn's "Lobegesang" is scheduled to be given Thanksgiving week end. Directed by Herman Gunter, Choral Union is a mixed singing group open to all students. The new officers are President James Haygood; Vice President Nathaniel E. Smith; and Secretary Bill Janiak.

* * * * *

DELTA SIGMA PI-- Rush for Delta Sigma Pi will begin Thursday at 7:30 in Wirchelt Lounge in the School of Business. All business and economics majors with a "C" average may join.

The purpose of the fraternity is to allow students and faculty members interested in business to establish contacts within the commercial world.

This year Delta Sigma Pi is sponsoring field trips to major sothern cities, and each week will hold professional meetings with a guest speaker from an industrial firm.

Each spring and fall a formal initiation dance is held and throughout the year other social e are planned.

* * * * *

ALPHA KAPPA PSI-- Rush Alpha Kappa Psi professional ernity will be Sunday from p.m. at the chapter house, 9 Park. All business and econo majors are invited.

* * * * *

CATHOLIC INQUIRY CLASS Throughout the trimester on day and Thursday nights, an in class will be held at the Cat Center at 7:30. Wednesday, at a benediction will be held throu the trimester.

* * * * *

The Mathematics Teaching will have a picnic Saturday 3 to 8 p.m. at the FSU Reserv on Lake Bradford.

For further information, co Mrs. Woodham at Ext. 3359 be 5 p.m. tomorrow.

Outstanding Seniors Chose

Mygnon Champion and Jack As were chosen Outstanding Senio FSU's Class of 1962.

Miss Champion, women's president, was president of the ernment honorary, Pi Sigma A and a member of Garnet Ke Mortar Board.

She is now enrolled as a gra student in FSU's Government

Ascherl was class presider three years, vice president president of Lambda Chi A social fraternity, student Homec ing chairman and a member of Key.

Today's News Roundup

FLAMBEAU NEWS SERVICES

AROUND THE WORLD

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO-- About $800,000 worth of Cuban sugar has been taken over under a court order in Puerto Rico. The action was in retaliation for nationalization of a heavy machinery firm in Cuba. The firm, headed by Terry Kane of Miami, Florida, obtained an award of $883,000 in damages in a Florida court last year. The sugar was aboard a British ship forced into San Juan Harbor after scraping a reef and cutting a hole in its hull. The cargo was destined for Soviet Russia.

NEW YORK-- Chief U.S. Delegate to the United Nations, Adlai Stevenson, today charged Cuba with conducting a campaign of subversion against her neighbors with the aid of an outside power. In a major policy speech, Stevenson also said the harassments against West Berlin threaten the peace. Stevenson also demanded that the General Assembly compel all UN members to share the cost of the world organization. Otherwise, he said, the UN is doomed. He said the United Nations cannot be expected to survive from day to day by passing a cup like a beggar in the street.

NEW YORK-- United Nations headquarters has been informed that a UN plane with 10 Swedish military airmen aboard crashed on a routine flight over dissident Katanga Province in the Congo yesterday. The plane was no armed, and there is suspicion it may have been shot down. In Stockholm a Swedish army staff spokesman said in a statement there in good hope of finding survivors but he gave no details.

WASHINGTON-- The Senate today voted to serve notice on Russia that the United States will fight to prevent Cuba from being turned into a military threat to any of its neighbors. The resolution was approved by a vote of 86 to one. Republican Senator Winston Prouty of Vermont cast the lone dissent. He said the resolution doesn't go far enough.

WASHINGTON-- The House Foreign Affairs committee approved a companion Cuban resolution and House leaders scheduled it for debate tomorrow. Some members are pressing for stronger language.

WASHINGTON-- The House ignored a plea from President Kennedy and voted tonight to slash foreign aid funds for the current fiscal year by nearly one billion 400 million dollars. The House also shouted through three amendments aimed at cutting off funds for any country which allows its ships to be used to carry goods of any kind to Cuba.

WASHINGTON-- By a thin five-vote margin, the House yesterday approved a compromise Farm Bill. The bill now goes to the Senate.

FLORIDA NEWS SPOT SUMMARY

Governor Farris Bryant says he is in favor of war if it is necessary to free Cuba from Communism.

A death from sleeping sickness in Bradenton has increased the state's toll to 20.

Today's Weather

Variable cloudiness throughout the day, followed by possible thundershowers. Temperatures will remain in the high 80's.

WFSU-TV Schedule

9:45 El Espanol Es Facil - Spanish I
10:00 Americanism vs. Communism
10:30 El Espanol Es Facil - Spanish II
11:00 Commonwealth of Nations
11:30 Geology 107
12:00 Geology 107
12:30 Mid-day
1:00 Alcoholic Hospital
1:30 Social Studies
2:00 Written Word
2:30 Americanism vs. Communism
3:00 English 101
------Sign Off------
4:30 What's New
5:00 Seeing Music
5:55 News
6:00 Continental Classroom
6:30 Commonwealth of Nations
7:00 Poets at Work
7:30 Lab 30
8:00 Dr. Posin's Giants
8:30 Frontiers of Knowledge
9:00 Festival of the Arts
10:00 Ten O'clock Report

CAMERON'S SEMINOLE TEXACO
"We give S & H Green Stam
Ph. 223 - 3555 1917 W. Tenn.

SEVEN HILLS STUDIO OF PHOTOGRAPHY

I. D. Photos
Pledge Groups
Portraits

648 W. CALL ST.
(Across from Home Ec. Bldg.)
Phone 224 - 3532

San - Can Drive In Restaurant
Air Conditioned Dining Room
Curb Service
Take Out Orders
1825 Thomasville Road
Ph. 223 - 0445
Home Cooked Food

"Record Your Memories In Film"
Tallahassee Camera Center
Offers You The Finest
In Photo Finishing - - -
Both Black and White and Color.
FAST 8 Hr. B. & W. Service
HEADQUARTERS FOR:
• CAMERAS
• FILM
• DARKROOM SUPPLIES
• RECORDING EQUIPMENT
TALLAHASSEE CAMERA CENTER
117 North Monroe St.
(Across from the Florida Theatre)

Grecian Columns

Greeks Honor Pledges With Parties

BY SARAH GORDON
Grecian Columnist

...arties in honor of new ...dges head the list of ac... ...ities in Greekland this ...k.

...HA CHI OMEGA--An Open... ...e Combo Party in honor of the ...Alpha Chi pledges will be given ... 2e from 8 to 12. Music will ...provided by "Big John and the ...charles".

...TA DELTA DELTA--The new ...lelt pledges will be honored ... a dinner Saturday evening at ... Spaghetti House. The chapter will attend church as a group Sunday.

KAPPA DELTA--Two newly elected KD officers are Assistant Treasurer Carolyn Duyck, and Editor Pat Melton.

GAMMA PHI BETA--Dale Dunsmore has been elected pledge trainer.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA--Open House will be Friday and Saturday nights for the brothers, pledges, and their dates.

Recently elected officers are Ron Hobbs, high gamma, and Joe Prater, house inspector. Bill Luten has been appointed corresponding secretary; Dave Sliney, steward; and Larry Chambers, Flambeau news correspondent.

At the National Convention this summer, the FSU chapter was awarded the Lambda Chi Alpha Scholarship Award by the National Fraternity. This award is given to those fraternities that have the highest scholastic average on their campus. The chapter was visited this week by the National Traveling Secretary, Tom Fritz.

PI KAPPA PHI--Dr. George Crouch of the FSU Physics Dept. will be the dinner guest of the Pi Kapps, Wednesday.

THETA CHI--There will be a record party at the house Friday night. Saturday, the Theta Chi's and their dates will journey to the coast for a beach party and return in time for a juke box party which will also be at the house.

Bus Schedule

University Buses Transport Students

The garnet and gold University Bus began transporting students around the campus last week, but was not used to its full capacity.

Ray Green, Jr., assistant business manager, said that unless suggestions are made to him for improving the schedule, the buss will continue to follow the schedule posted on the bulletin board behind Westcott.

The bus leaves Smith Hall after a fifteen minute loading wait, and proceeds to the bus stop behind Westcott. Following a ten to fifteen minute wait, the bus returns to Smith in a ten minute trip during which stops may be made at Gilchrist, the Women's Gym and the Student Center.

The following time schedule is printed for the convenience of the students.

MONDAY - WEDNESDAY - FRIDAY

WESTCOTT	SMITH HALL
7:50 a.m.	7:25 a.m.
9:00 a.m.	8:35 a.m.
10:10 a.m.	9:45 a.m.
11:20 a.m.	10:55 a.m.
12:30 p.m.	12:05 p.m.
1:40 p.m.	1:15 p.m.
2:50 p.m.	2:25 p.m.
4:00 p.m.	3:35 p.m.
TUESDAY - THURSDAY
7:55 a.m.	7:30 a.m.
8:45 a.m.	8:20 a.m.
9:35 a.m.	9:10 a.m.
10:25 a.m.	10:00 a.m.
11:15 a.m.	10:50 a.m.
12:05 p.m.	11:40 a.m.
12:55 p.m.	12:30 p.m.
1:45 p.m.	1:20 p.m.
2:35 p.m.	2:10 p.m.
3:25 p.m.	3:00 p.m.
4:15 p.m.	3:50 p.m.

Today

Today at 4 p.m. is the last day to apply for degrees in the office of the Registrar for first trimester.

* * * * *

The first Mathematics Club meeting will be a picnic. For information see Mrs. Woodham or call at Ex. 3359 before 5 p.m.

* * * * *

Miss Gymkana preliminaries will be in the Tully Gym at 6:45 p.m.

* * * * *

"Sayonara" will be shown at the campus movie in Westcott at 7:30 p.m.

* * * * *

WFSU-TV views "Dr. Posin's Giants" at 8 p.m.

THIS WEEKEND

Saturday

The Alpha Kappa chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma will meet at 10 a.m. in the Faculty Lounge of the Education Bldg.

* * * * *

The Math picnic will be at the Reservation at 3 p.m.

* * * * *

The campus movie, "Sayonara," begins at 7:300 p.m. in Westcott.

The Married Student Mixer will be in the Suwannee Room at 8.

Sunday

Liberal Forum meets at Unitarian Fellowship, Wildwood Drive, at 7:30 p.m., with Dr. Allan Thomson speaking.

* * * * *

The Phi Mu Alpha Coffee Concert will be in the Large Lounge of Longmire at 3 p.m.

* * * * *

The Rev. Paul Minus, University Chaplain, will speak on the "Problem of Church-State Relations" at the Canterbury Hour at 7 p.m. in Ruge Hall.

...WEARS THE PANTS?

WHY THE GALS DO!

...OF COURSE!

...ou'll find just what ...want in our man-sized ...ection every style type ...d fabric you can think of. ...and then some!)

and we've got gobs of tops, too!

Turner's
doorway to fashion

116 s. monroe street phone 224-7176 tallahassee, florida

Tony's Pizza

1805 Thomasville Road

Phone 224-6210

Specializing in

Pizza

Spaghetti

Italian Salad

TONY'S PIZZA

LETT'S BARBER SHOP
1120 N. Monroe Street
HAIRCUTS
(FLAT TOPS A SPECIALTY)
SHOE SHINE BOY ON DUTY
FREE SHOULDER MASSAGE
T. V.
WATCH THE SATURDAY SPORTS
WHILE YOU WAIT
"We Appreciate Student Business"

EPPES — EDENFIELD

Hardware and Paint Center
1334 N. Monroe St.--Ph. 223-0232

Housewares
Tools
Chicken Wire
Rope
Picnic Supplies

Cleaning Materials
Life-Time Light Bulbs
Guns and Ammunition
Plumbing Supplies
Electrical Supplies

BENJAMIN MOORE PAINTS

CALL US FIRST - - - FAST FREE DELIVERY

Tribes To Battle Kentucky In First Road Gam

BY JOHN WOOD
Asst. Sports Editor

Coach Bill Peterson foresees a "wild-eyed football game" when the Seminoles travel to Lexington, Kentucky, tomorrow.

"We know they'll be ready," he said, "we know the players there want this one in the worst way to help Charley Bradshaw get off to a good start as a head Coach.

Peterson's boys are in a "better frame of mind right now than they were for the opener." Peterson says FSU will show a different offense against Kentucky than it did in the opener, but the changes are "nothing radical."

The coach has appointed halfback Keith Kinderman co-captain for this one, to team up with season-long captain Gene McDowell. Both figure prominently in the Indian offense.

Florida State, in striking for five touchdowns via passing in last week's game, displayed interesting aerial potential. But can the Seminoles grind it out with their ground game? This matter is getting plenty of attention.

"We feel we have the boys that can dig out the yardage carrying the ball," Pete said. "Naturally we hope to take advantage of any defense our opponents use."

Peterson announced that 41 players would make the trip. By units: CHIEFS—ends Hank Sytsma and John McConnaughhay, tackles Jim Sims and Tom Slicker, guards Chuck Robinson and Gene McDowell, center Bruce Darsey, quarterback Ed Feely, lefthalf Keith Kinderman, righthalf Ken Russom, fullback Marion Roberts.

WARRIORS—Ends Don Floyd and Jim Causey, tackles Mike Blazovich and Dale Mackenzie, guards Jerry Bruner and John Levings, center Jack Edwards, quarterback Steve Tensi, lefthalf Jim Loftin, righthalf Winfred Bailey, fullback Gene Roberts.

RENEGADES—Ends Bill Dawson and Bill Gunter, tackles Avery Sumner and Bill Tyre, guards Ferrell Henry and Dick Hermann, center Bill Daly, quarterback Charley Calhoun, lefthalfback Larry Brinkley, righthalf Tom Hillabrand, fullback Snyder.

JERRY WOOLUM
...the Wildest Cat

'Cats Counting Gaps

A Kentucky scouting report?

How do you go about reporting on a team that's playing its first game under a new coach, has lost over half its personnel for one reason or another, and couldn't even hold a spring game because of the depleted size of the squad?

Coach Bill Peterson says Jerry Woolum and Tom Hutinson, the all-American passing combination are both back, along with the likes of Dave Gash, the "other end" who does the work when Hutchinson is used as a decoy. The added presence of Darrell Cox and other players from last year means even more worries.

Despite Kentucky's potential as one of the nation's better passing football teams, Florida State is alert to the possibility of the Wildcats trying to "ram the ball down our throats".

Charley Bradshaw, the new coach of the Wildcats, has repeatedly said that he favors a strong running game, indication that his teams will pass only when they have to.

"We wouldn't be at all surprised if Kentucky simply tries to control the ball on us," FSU Coach Peterson said. "They may run and keep on running as long as they can."

"Possibly we will take an opposite tact. We may pass and pass until they force us to run. That may be our best chance in this one."

Bradshaw is a Bryant and Kentucky alumnus. Taking over from mild-mannered Blanton Collier, Bradshaw set such a hot and demanding pace last spring that 40 Wildcat candidates quit. But the good ones remained, assuring one of the flashiest passing attacks in the nation. The Cats are placed seventh in the pre-season polls in the SEC, the roughest conference in the country.

Kentucky is a bit shy on top-flight runners. Gary Steward and Darrell Cox are the best, but one can't overlook Perky Bryant at fullback, and halfbacks Bod Kosid, Phil Pickett and Ken Bocard.

Steve Tensi Sparkles In Quarterback Debut

Florida State University fans weren't the only ones impressed with the passing of sophomore Steve Tensi against the Citadel.

Homer Rice, one of the four University of Kentucky scouts at the 49-0 Seminole victory, said Tensi passes as well as any sophomore in the country.

Tensi, a 6-5 product of Cincinnati's Elder High (which also sent Steve Junker to the pros) hit all seven pass attempts (three for touchdowns) and ran once for four yards while quarterbacking FSU's offensive Warrior unit in the game.

Reportedly a recipient of 70 scholarship offers while in high school, the 195-pounder was signed by FSU assistant Ken Meyer, who played and coached both high school and college ball in Ohio.

'Cat Assistant Coach Rice summed up the FSU performance in the Citadel game thusly: "They didn't show too much... Of course, didn't have to, but they have fine looking backs. That Feely ces around back there and threat anytime, passing or ru "Tensi throws the ball as as any sophomore back in the try, too. FSU has some rea personnel."

ROAD SERVICE
Auto Repairing Brake Service
Good 224-9341 Service
WEST TENNESSEE PURE OIL
637 W. Tennessee

Padgett's Harley Davidson
411 W Gaines St
Ph. 222-0130
"your motorcycle headquarters"

VOLKSWAGON REPAIRS
All work guaranteed - 1 day service
Pierre Cousteaux - Volks Specialist
JACK KERZAN'S TEXACO
936 North Monroe
Phone - 224-0320

SNOW WHITE LAUNDRY
and DRY CLEANERS
625 West Tennessee
One day service
One hour service also
Finish shirts—pants
Fluff dry service

DAY OR NIGHT
COOL IDEA
PLAY GOLF
555 OCALA ROAD
Oak Valley GOLF CLUB
Golf Course - Pro-Shop
Driving Range - Snack Bar
Putting Green play area
"Open Daily

Are there a few Money mad Southerners, some fast-talking Yankee FSU students who want to make Money
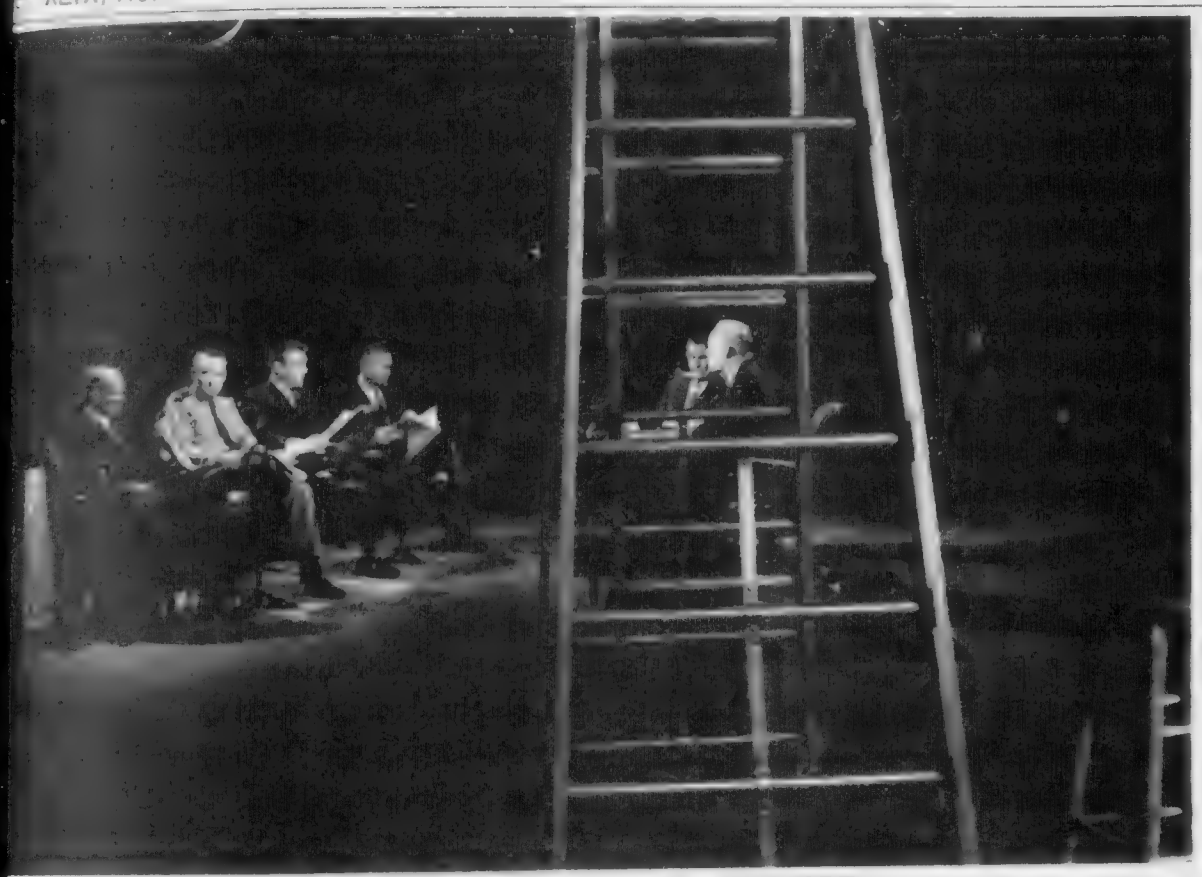
Sell our ladies and men's imported personalized cigarette lighters each with sorority or fraternity insignia in natural color for the fabulously LOW, LOW price of $2 each in 100 quantities, and make yourself 40% commission for your trouble. It's the lazy way to get rich.
WRITE NOW FOR APPOINTMENT
Old Florida Cracker Magazine
Attn.: Chief Hoss-Trader
P. O. Box 2092, Tallahassee, Fla.

DELIVERY
5-11
QUAKER HOUSE
222 - 8677
BOXES — SANDWICHES
SALADS — DRINKS
DESSERTS
$2.00 MINIMUM ORDER



SCOTTY'S PURE OIL
325 E. TENNESSEE ST.
(Across from Garcias)
Mechanical Repairs
Automatic Car Wash
Gas and Oil
Slogan-While you dine at Garcia's, leave your car at SCOTTY'S
Neal Goodwin
Tune-up Specialist

Enjoy
Your Hometown with Your Breakfast!
Now the St. Petersburg Times gets here at the crack of dawn. That means you can have the latest sports, the news of the world and all the goings-on along the Suncoast right while you're dipping into the second cup of coffee.
Costs the same as delivered at home—just 55c a week—whether you live on-campus or elsewhere in town. Just phone 222-9451 and order The Times started in the morning.
St. Petersburg Times
FLORIDA'S BEST NEWSPAPER

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

XLIX, No. 14 — Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University — Monday, September 24, 1962

A DAY IN THE GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

...shown above was taken last week, as ... TV video taped a program on a day in the ...or's office for the "Government In Action" series. Shown at the desk, at right, is Governor Farris Bryant and his administrative assistant, Jimmy Kynes. The program, arranged by John Evans, the Governor's Press Agent, will be aired Tuesday night. (Photo by Emmette Jackson)

Fall Elections

119 Seek Election At Polls Tomorrow

One hundred nineteen candidates will compete for 38 positions in the fall elections tomorrow.

Polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Seminole Club, Westcott (Ticket Office), the Student Center (two polls), Landis Green (near the Library), Smith (West) Hall, and Bryan Hall (by the Police Station).

There are five Freshman Class offices, four Freshman Class Senate seats (two men and two women) and 29 precinct Senate seats open.

There are seven unopposed races.

Secretary of Elections Ron Jones said that write-in ballots will be available for those who wish to vote for anyone not listed on the ballot.

Run-offs will be Friday at the same polling places from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The residence and class of students will be checked by the temporary IBM directories. Any student attempting to vote outside of his own precinct or class will be subject to honor court action, Jones said.

No active campaigning will be allowed within 50 feet of the polls. This means no name tags, posters or any other campaign materials, stated Jones.

Any campaign violations should be reported to he Elections Committee at Ext. 2975.

Student Dies Of Gun Wound

An FSU student was found dead late Saturday afternoon on the back porch of his home as a result of apparent gun shot wounds.

The student, Edward J. Plemmons, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Plemmons of St. Petersburg, was found by another FSU student who was riding horseback near the Plemmons residence on old Crowder Road, about 4:30 p.m.

Deputy Sheriff John Driggers said Plemmons apparently died of gunshot woulds about 9 a.m. Saturday morning. Driggers said a 16-gauge shotgun was found on the ground near the body.

Plemmons was a sophomore at FSU and had transferred from St. Petersburg Junior College as a music composition major. He lived alone in Tallahassee.

Driggers and Deputy W. W. Slappey are continuing an investigation into the death but said that no evidence of foul play had been indicated.

Theatre Tickets Are On Sale

Theatre productions will go on sale this morning at the Westcott Ticket Office.

Season tickets are $3 for students and $6 for non-students.

The theatre season will open with Shakespeare's "Henry IV, Part I," Oct. 10 through 14. Other productions will include "Kismet," Thornton Wilder's "The Matchmaker," and Howard Richardson and William Berney's "Dark of the Moon."

The fifth production will be the world premiere of a new play. This play has not yet been selected.

Ex Party Member Tells Audience Florida's Course May Be Dangerous

...rida's new Americanism vs. ...munism course "could become ...erous if taught by teachers of ... leanings," a former high ... Communist Party member ... a Tallahassee audience Friday ...

... ...ld, who was once in ... ...rmining the American ..., spoke in the Leon ... ...torium.

... ...rida's educational ... ...quiring an Americanism ... ...m course for high ... students, saying, "I am proud ... the way Dr. Fred Turner in Flor... ...'s State Department of Education has taken full opportunity to develop this course and to train the teachers." At the same time, she warned, "Whether this is successful or not will depend on how it is taught."

She was applauded when she remarked that in the educational system there are some people who don't want children to understand what is going on in the world.

BIGGEST HERESY

The Communist menace is one of the biggest heresies the world has ever known, she said.

The American fight against Russian Communism is no high-minded political or economic debate-- "it is a question of life or death of a situation," said the former Communist. "The Communists want us to believe that the struggle is economic," she said. "But it is not the truth. The basic principle is derived against a philosophy as God the creator. Our economic system is constantly changing as it meets the needs as our society changes."

She was also applauded when she said, "if we had a President who oved his country, he would clean out the State Department."

(continued on page 3)

380 FSU Coeds Receive Sorority Bids Thursday

Mid shouts of delight and ...eals of laughter 380 FSU ...eds ...ceived bids to sorority membership last Thursday.

Pledging ceremonies were ... 5 p.m. yesterday.

New sorority pledges are:

ALPHA ... OMEGA--Judith Gale ...accarella, Joann Mary Gross, San... Lou Hays, Laureen Marie Hen..., Charlotte Annette Jones, Mar... Alice Leonard, Marjorie Ann ...arghetta, Evelyn Kay McClure, ...y Evelyn Miller, Carol Lee ...ls, Vera Ann Saunders, Patricia ...cher ...ed and Paula Penelope ...ey.

ALPHA ... DELTA PI--Linda Sue ...ares, ...stie Patricia Bell, Edith ... Branch, Sharon Kay Brown, ...ttye ...ant, Marie Jane Cantey, ...re Adair Daniel, Nancy Ellen Daniel, Lynda Davis, Margaret DeHoff, Patricia Carroll DeVane, Hellen Wheller George, Evangeline Davis Killinger, Jessie MacDougal, Dorine Deaver Peerson, Tatum Harp Pendleton, Susan Holle Peters, Suzanne Pierson, Katherine Claire Powell, Carolyn Ruth Rambo, Mary Ellen Roberts, Lina Clifton Smith, Mary Elise Troxler, Doreen Van Assenderp, Eugenia Lee Williamson, Jane Lloyd Wilson and Sandra Young.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA--Claudia Adams, Sandra M. Bonner, Barbara Jean Clinkscales, Ann Hopkins, Virginia Sue Kimbrough, Sandra Lea Milton, Elizabeth Anne Moreland, Katherine Lynnette Moshier, Kathryn Ann Perloff, Jessica Eve Perry, Lois Virginia Stoker, Susan Anne Taylor, Donna Elizabeth Terry and Jacquelyn Sue Wrenn.

ALPHA OMICRON PI--Lillian Lavan Burns, Marion Louise Crawford, Pam Fae Fetrow, Karen Lee Glendinning, Betty Lee Gross, Karen Sue Grimm, Carol Jeanne Gulick, Judy Carol Jackson, Patricia Ruth Jenks, Andrea Marion Jones, Katherine Suzzanne Lowe, Joy Louise Martin, Margaret Ann Murray, Nancy Ellen Palmira, Christine Pfannenbacker, Michele S. Purdy, Julia Hazel Redd, Sharon Joan Shores, Ann Marie Skalko, Betty LeNora Slavin, Paula Lynn Spiczak, Edith Clinton Spooner, Barbara Jean Steel, Patricia Carole Watson, Barbara Ann West and Elizabeth Ann Whitehead.

ALPHA PHI--Ida May Barber, Virginia Florence Caste, Caroline Dora Coble, Patricia Anne Ernst, Florence Christine Floyd, Ann Martin Gracey, Mary Margaret Harbin, Ann Kathryn Marsden, Margaret Pasto, Marilyn Jean Petit, Gayla Reed, Phyliss Roberts, Jule Frances Shuler, Mary Louise Soler, Sharon Patricia Starr, Tiffancy Kaye Small, Catherine Waltman and Irma Elizabeth Wehle.

ALPHA XI DELTA--Joanne Gray Bayer, Mary Janet Burchett, Cheryl Eve Gedney, Caryl Jeanne Giffin, Helen Elayne Grace, Carol Elizabeth Hardison, Elizabeth Garnette Hickman, Charlotte Goree (Chotsie) Jones, Katherine Newbold (Kit) Killian, Constance Louise (Connie) King, Susan Mimi Linden, Karen Brooke McQuady, Joan Riordan, Susan Roberts, Sylvia (Sally) Ross, Patricia Sauer, Sindy Lynne Stickler, Marilyn Sue Swan, Judith Jane Tait, Kay Elizabeth Ward and Carole Alice Williams.

CHI OMEGA -- Jane Blakeney, Kathleen De Armas, Patricia A. Dickinson, Anna L. Faulds, Sallyanne Huffaker, Pamela D. Hoey, Margaret Diane Hufford, Isabelle B. McDaniel, Brenda A. Melvin, Sue D. Neal, Elinor M. Oven, Mary Elizabeth Pierce, Josephine S. Preston, Katherine Reynolds, Donna Rudge, Susan Segrest, Mildred L. Thurmond, Judith W. Waft and Lucy Williams.

DELTA DELTA DELTA--Barbara Ellen Bell, Sherian Chester, Carol Jean Cunningham, Sally Linda Douglass, Janet Faye Doyle, Suzanne Dawson Duff, Sandra Greer, Donna Glass, Beverly Lee Hayman, Susan Stebbing Hill, Lucy Lucille Kickliter, Barbara Ann McDonald, Lynn McMillian, Nancy Elizabeth Marks, Ann Henderson Meng, Marsha Anne Mould, Rebecca Ramer, Wenda Lee Ray, Prudence Ellen Ronan, Barbara Jean Turner, Jane Waller and Marian Ann Webb.

DELTA GAMMA-- Sarah Jane Adams, Barbara Jean Arnold, Nancy Ann Barrington, Priscilla Runkle Black, Judith Page Dyer, Sandy H. Elkin, Dorothy M. Fish, Linda Gail Frederickson, Judith Carol Frailey, Linda Jay Lee, Paula Ann Lucy, Sally Martin, Mary Alice Moore, Glenda Phyllis Partney, Margaret

(continued on page 4)

USF Prof Resigns, Battles Johns

The University of South Florida versus Charley Johns battle came to a stalemate this weekend. In its aftermath, Prof. John W. Caldwell, a subject of the Legislative Committee's investigation, resigned from his post after Pres. John Allen reinstated him.

Last Spring the committee began probing religious teachings, teaching materials and the competence of certain members of the USF faculty. The investigation started in secret, but Pres. Allen invited the committee to visit the campus openly. Allen asked to review the report before it was released to the press and was assured that his request would be honored.

BUT IN THE FALL, JOHNS released the report to the press before Allen saw it. Allen lashed at the committee, calling its report "biased and unfair." Johns courtered that the University had failed to take proper steps to correct the irregularities. The Board of Control had its own committee investigate the Legislative Committee's report and vindicated USF, congratulating Pres. Allen on his fine work.

The latest round of the battle came when Caldwell resigned, striking at Johns.

"As a result of the extended and continued harassment inflicted on me by the investigating committee of Sen. Charley Johns and members of the committee staff," Caldwell said, "I find that I am not at this time either physically or emotionally able to perform my teaching duties....

"The first of these charges is the testimony contained in the Johns committee report (as printed in the Tampa Tribune, Aug. 25) concerning an alleged incident of homosexuality reported to me by a student. Sen. Johns, in his most recent attack against me (as printed in the Tampa Tribune, Sept. 19) said: "the undeniable fact is that Prof. Caldwell has admitted that he failed to take any action to see that an official inquiry was made into the alleged incident. Yet the Johns committee report itself states that I reported the matter to the office of the Dean of Student Affairs.

"The second false charge made by Sen. Johns Spet. 19 is that 'it is a matter of record that when Prof. Caldwell appeared before the committee he was suffering from an extreme case of alcoholic hangover and shakes' and that when I was offered a delay in the proceedings, I declined 'stating he was in as good a shape as he would be in the next day.'

"The slanderous implication here is that I was on an extended drunk. The truth of the matter is that I had not been drinking at all. As you know, I suffer from a heart condition which in time of heavy strain causes a shortness of breath, extreme nervousness and unsteadiness. I have witnesses to prove that my condition was not the result of drinking.

"THE THIRD AND MOST DAMAGING of the charges falsely lodged against me by the Johns committee concerns a 20-year-old female student.

"The report, in a viciously contrived implication, suggests that I encouraged the girl to leave her parents and that I kept her unchaperoned in my home for several days. Many pertinent facts given to the committee in my testimony are missing from the report. It is not recored in the report that, partly as a result of my advice, the girl decided not to elope with a male student of whom her parents disapproved. It is ALSO not recorded that my wife, my son and my mother-in-law were in my home when the girl was there, or that the girl eventually returned home after staying briefly in the home of a female member of the university faculty.

☆ ☆ ☆

"These are but three of the ruthless attempts of the Johns committee to defame my character. They are indicative of the manner in which the entire investigation was carried out and they explain the low level of morale to be found among the people who were subjected to this degrading performance.

"These police state methods have made me and my colleagues almost physically ill and I cannot tell you the contempt I feel as a result.

"I feel that I stood up to be counted as a man, when I appealed my suspension and requested review by my own faculty.

"I ALSO FELT that this might aid the university and the Board of Control in removing management of the educational system from the political arena.

"However, upon my reinstatement, I find that Mr. Johns is going to continue his attacks upon me and I find that I am unable to work in a system where such reckless pursuit of a teacher can take place.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Florida's state universities cannot hope to attain greatness under the withering scrutiny of reckless investigation, for no teacher of any stature will be willing to subject himself to such irresponsible attacks.

"I should like to take this opportunity to thank and congratulate you, Dr. Allen, your deans and [illegible] administration, for the wholehe[illegible] support which you have give[illegible] during these trying times.

"I hope that all of you can now back to the business of running promises to be a great univer without further intrusi[illegible] Johns and his committee. I leave an excellent theatre, one of the l theatre arts faculties in the co[illegible] and my sincere best wish[illegible] continued growth both in qualit[illegible] quantity of the University [illegible] Florida."

Sincerel[illegible]
John W.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Stop Probing

The investigation at the University of South Florida, with all its ramifications, basically questions who is in control of the state's educational system.

THEORETICALLY, EDUCATION is Florida's universities is under the province of the Board of Control. The authority to regulate the university system is vested in its hands. Yet on two occasions in recent years, a legislative committee has usurped this authority and taken to hunting witches as a vigilantc committee. These investigations, which took place at the University of Florida and USF, had no measurable results--except harm to the universities. The Board of Control virtually vindicated both of charges brought by the committee.

But both investigations have caused fear, damaged morale of faculty, students, and administration, and now resignation of a harrassed professor.

THESE INVESTIGATIONS should stop. Principles of quality education demand the freedom to read and discuss ideas and theories. Legislative investigations, with their technique of boxing shadows, have no place on the same campus with academic freedom.

The unfortunate results of these investigations point up the need for the legislature to take steps to regulate the activities of its members. The Governor too should make it clear that the Board of Control is responsible for investigating charges against the universities and that this job should be left to the Board.

THIS UNDERCOVER investigating must stop if quality education is to be achieved. Investigation should be left to those who wish to aid education--not destroy it.

BCS

Letters Policy

Letters to the editor and student comment are welcomed by the "Flambeau." We firmly believe that students should have an organ through which their opinions and views can be aired.

We will attempt to print all letters received that meet standards of good taste, conciseness of thought and quality of presentation. In addition, letters must be held to a maximum of 250 words.

DEADLINE

Student comments are solicited. Letters to the editor and guest columns must be in the Flambeau office no later than 12 noon on the day preceding publication.

AVON
cosmetics
AVON cologne - - -
SIX ENCHANTING FRAGRACES
FOR CAMPUS SERVICE
PH. 385 - 1818

Paperbacks For Everyone At
BILL'S BOOKSTORE

ANCHOR BOOKS
APPOLLO EDITIONS
BANTAM DUAL LANGUAGE
BARNES & NOBLE OUTLINES
BARRON'S EDUCATIONAL SERIES
BLAISDELL SCIENTIFIC PAPERBACKS
COMPASS BOOKS
DOLPHIN BOOKS
DOUBLEDAY SCIENCE STUDY
DOUBLEDAY COLLECTION INTERNATIONALE
DUTTON EVERYMAN
DOVER BOOKS
GALAXY BOOKS
GOLDEN NATURE BOOKS
HARPER TORCHBOOKS
HARVEST BOOKS
JOHN KNOX PRESS
SENTRY EDITIONS
LITTLEFIELD, ADAMS OUTLINES
LIVING AGE BOOKS
MENTOR BOOKS
MERIDIAN BOOKS
NATURAL HISTORY LIBRARY
PENGUIN BOOKS
POCKET LANGUAGE DICTIONARY
SCHAUM'S OUTLINES
SCIENCE EDITIONS, INC.
SCRIBNER LIBRARY
SIGNET CLASSICS
SIMON & SCHUSTER PAPERBACKS
SPECTRUM BOOKS
UNIVERSAL LIBRARY
VIKING PORTABLES
VINTAGE
VINTAGE RUSSIAN LIBRARY
WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY and ROGET'S THESAURUS

Plus - The Following Guides & STUDY Aids
AMERICAN TRAVELERS COMPANION
LANGENSCHEIDT'S DICTIONARIES
VEST-POCKET LIBRARY VIS-ED CARDS
BRIEF COURSE
DATA GUIDES
CLIFF'S NOTES
CASSELL'S DICTIONARIES IN ALL LANGUAGES

When You Think Of Books, Think Of BILL'S
107 South Copeland

WAKE UP!!!
It's time to be photographed by---
SEVEN HILLS STUDIO
648 W. Call St.
(across from H. Ec. Bldg.)
Ph. 224-3532

22 Finalists Vie For Miss Gymkana

...enty-two finalists will compete ...the title of Miss Gymkana from ...until Oct. 20.

... finalists were chosen from ... than 200 contestants in the ... ...ana contest preliminar... ... ... in Tully Gym before ... ... about 400.

...s Gymkana will be selected the ...ight of the show "Pirate Daze" which begins Oct. 17 in Tully Gym for a four night run.

Miss Gymkana will be chosen from the finalists on the basis of cooperation and costume design.

The 22 finalists are: Joyce Ojala, sponsored by Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Bobbi Darragh, Kappa Alpha Theta; Pam Carlton, Pi Beta Phi; Ellen Wigham, Sigma Chi; Ann Saulds, Bryan Hall; Cay Russ, Delta Tau Delta; Joe Dietrich, Sigma Chi; Kay Alvarez, Pi Beta Phi; Sara Boggs, Pi Beta Phi; Carole Suncliff, Broward Hall; Viretta Rozhon, Delta Delta Delta; Dottie Kohlom, Alpha Tau Omega; Lynn Ridgeway, Pi Kappa Phi; Ann Falck, Pi Kappa Phi; Carol Anne Luck, Sigma Kappa; Dot Hay, Sigma Kappa; Kay McClure, Alpha Chi Omega; Carol Sue Malt, East Landis; Mary Ellen Yaggy, Theta Chi; Gwen Cawthon, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Barbara Monte, Delta Chi; and Rosemary Plunkett, Delta Zeta.

...Ex Party Member Speaks

Speaking further on Communism, she said, the Communists believe that man is nothing but matter, without rights. They wish to create a new world by provoking a clash between the workers and the elite to synthesize the new class organization. They believe in creating a new order and do not care how many must die in the effort.

In America, she said, we believe that man is a creature of God with natural rights guaranteed to us by the American Constitution. "We have these rights, and nobody dare take them away from us."

She said America's special mission is very evident: No other country has had such a spiritual basis in its government. It is our mission to spread this to the rest of the world, she stressed.

"We must woo our teachers to recapture a love of Americanism--of individual worship of God --of traditions that go back to the Ten Commandements. They must transmit these," she said.

"Our schools have in the past, allowed the meaning of the Constitution, adopted 173 years ago this week, to become sterile. It was in the schools that the revolution against the freedom of the individual began, many years ago.

"It is in the schools that we can recapture love of country and freedom of the individual," she said.

Today

Dr. James L. Wattenbarger, director of the Division of Community Junior Colleges, will speak on "Contributions of the Junior College to Higher Education" at the Higher Education Seminar in the Education Lecture Hall at 1:45 p.m.

* * * * *

"The Effect of Induced Arousal on Performance" will be Michael Burgess's topic at the Psychology Seminar at 4:10 p.m. in 306 Science.

* * * * *

Sigma Pi Sigma will hear a discussion by graduate students in physics on "Research at FSU" at 7:30 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

* * * * *

Foundation Scholarship Organization Awards Assembly will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Large Lounge of Longmire.

* * * * *

A replay of the FSU-Kentucky game will begin at 8 p.m. on WFSU-TV.

Today's Weather

Fair to partly cloudy with mild temperatures. High 83, Low 66.

FLORIDA STAMP & HOBBY SHOP
920 W. Tenn. - University Plaza

COIN BOOKS
COIN FOLDERS
STAMP ALBUMS MODELS GAMES

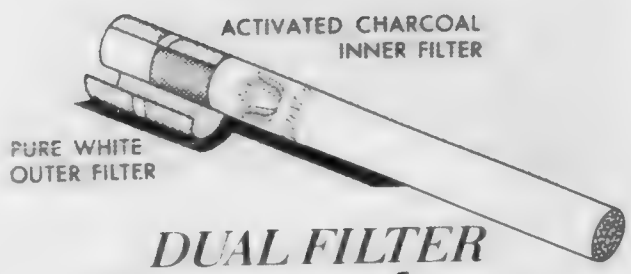
STUDENTS WELCOME



CROW'S STORE
1902 Lake Bradford Rd.
Near Alumni Village

GRADE A T-BONE	$0.69 lb
T-BONE STEAK	$0.69 lb.
SIRLOIN STEAK	$0.69 lb.

NO CHANGES in PRICES
ALL MEATS GUARANTEED

"Tareyton's Dual Filter in duas partes divisa est!" says Ursus (Bear Foot) Sulla, popular Coliseum bear fighter. We animal wrestlers fight tooth and Claudius to get to that first post-fight Tareyton," says Bear Foot. "Try a couple of ... and enjoy flavor ... de gustibus you never thought you'd get from any filter cigarette!"

DUAL FILTER
Tareyton

Product of The American Tobacco Company — "Tobacco is our middle name" ©A.T.Co.

Listen to Falcon Football broadcasts over KVOR
Co-sponsored by Dual Filter Tareyton

Cleopatra, with feminine guile,
Said to Tony, "Let's barge down the Nile!"
When she reached for an asp,
Her belt lost its clasp,
So she stapled it up Swingline style

SWINGLINE
STAPLER

98¢

...includes one 1000 staples
Larger size CUB Desk
Stapler only $1.49

No bigger than a pack of gum
- Unconditionally guaranteed!
- Refills available anywhere!
- Get it at any stationery, variety, or book store!
- Send ... SWINGLINE ... Prizes for those who ...

Swingline INC. LONG ISLAND CITY 1, N.Y.

...Shouts-Squeals Mark Sorority Bid Receiving

(continued from page 1)

Lynn Patterson, Nancy Ann Petway, Susan Jane Render, Ann Rush, Mary Warren Spenser, Linda Ann Whitman, Katherine Davidson Young and Victoria Lynn Zeve.

DELTA ZETA-- Judith Elaine Amphlett, Bonnie J. Bell, Patricia Lyn Bishop, Ellen Ann Deignan, Donna Jeanne Einig, Rebecca Jane Ellis, Geraldine Rose Ferlita, Patricia Louise Galenes, Linda Ray Goldsmith, Judi Ann Hanson, Nancy L. Hansbarger, Joyce Suzanne Jones, Jean Ellen Naviauz, Janet Newman, Gail Marie Pitman, Linda Jean Savidge, Flora Sue Smith, Donna June Spengler, Sharon Kay Sykes, Judith Kaye Toner, Alice Janette Turner and Linda Ann Wilson.

GAMMA PHI BETA-- Sandra Sue Adams, Margaret Barr, Joan Carolyn Bennett, Diane Brown, Alice Jane Clements, Dorothy Cygan, Nora Fenn, Margarette Francis, Josephine Mizell, Carol Jean Nomina, Patricia Paulson, Carol Ann Pou, Marcella Singletary, Judith Ann Tougas, Anita Van Brunt, Maria Walker and Carole York.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA-- Eileen Armstrong, Patricia Ruth Burnham, Carolyn Marie Cann, Sara Jane Carter, Mildred Cotton, Nancy Sue Dale, Ann Darling, Sylvia Dine, Timandra Dutcher, Connie Gowen, Joanne Marie Griffin, Donna Dell Hailey, Linda Carol Harold, Patricia Carmen Lane, Joice West Malbon, Katherine Mangum, Margaretta (Mitzi) Mason, Carolyn Kern Morris, Donna Marie Mueller, Anne Lynne Orum, Carolyn Roberts and Chris Townsend.

KAPPA DELTA-- Elizabeth Louise Anderson, Charlotte Suzanne Arnold, Florence Cheleene Bull, Luke Brasfield, Whitney Anne Dunn, Anne Carolyn Hair, Marie Elizabeth Hale, Donna Jean Haswell, Ellen Margaret Hinterseph, Katherine Darling Jackson, Sandra Lee Kader, Andria Madelyn Kmetz, Carolyn Langford, Carol Lee McNair, Kay Louise Mercer, Carol Moody, Mary Jane Murrell, Judy Rivard, Sandra Elizabeth Slosek, Jo Alice Taylor, Betty Lou Wainwright and Kathleen Marie Wolf.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA--Valerie Linda Cam field, Jan Elinor Connelly, Suzanne Counts, Lenora Jane Cowan, Christine Evers, Tana Felts, Mary Lou Joy, Enid Marie Hennessy, Cathy Houlihan, Sally Ann Kerr, Frances Elaine Knight, Judith Patricia Lemon, Kristin Elaine Laudenslager, Lou Leslie McCall, Judy Kay McDowell, Miriam Katherine McGaw, Joan Merritt, Nancy Meyers, Lois Ann Moon, Judy O'Connell, Roberta (Bobbie) Phillips, Rosemary Rutland, Martha Sweeney, Dorinda Ward and Pam Wilks.

PHI MU-- Lynda Carswell, Carolyn Collier, Nancy Conrath, Sandra Haynes, Claudia Hart, Theresia Helmlinger, Kathy Holt, Elizabeth Johnson, Nedra Ann Johnson, Ann Killibrew, Mary Ann Lamont, Sara Lynn, Christine McGlasson, Pat Rabun, Ann Tucker and Mary Elizabeth Weeks.

PI BETA PHI-- Mary Alfriend, Kay Alvarez, Carol Sue Austin, Endress Barineau, Sidny Barnes, Anne Barron, Sara Boggs, Patricia Lynn Clark, Sandra Gwen Clark, Donna Futral, Sandy Gilley, Janyth Hamilton, Ruth Elizabeth Harper, Janice Houser, Mary Hutchinson, Barbara Anne Jackson, Peggy Lynn Neese, Jean Pasteur, Carolyn Schmidt, Norma Jane Smith, Kay Tishenor and Marilyn Kay Williams.

SIGMA KAPPA-- Barbara Gail Andrews, Patricia R. Benner, Barbara Jean Brandt, Diane Louise Brantley, Claire Jean Coble, Diana Kathryn Deeb, Sussannan Marie Elswick, Sarah Anice Fain, Mary Louise Murphy, Jacqueline Newell, Marilyn Elizabeth Novak, Linda Murray Oliver, Carolyn Ellen Parham, Janet Roberts, Marilyn Robinson, Jane Carol Shields, Patricia St. Claire Stalcup, Nancy Marie Wolfendon and Cathy Lorraine Whelpley.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA-- Carol Sue Andrews, Margaret Ruth Burton, Joanne L. Carpenter, Judy Finney, Patricia A. Garlick, Judith Anne MacNeill, Sue Ann (Sam) Magill, Merrill Lynn Page, Patsy Pearce, Cynthia Ann Peters and Betty June (B.J.) Roberts.

ZETA TAU ALPHA-- Mary [illegible] Arliskas, Ginger Kay Bolt[illegible] Faye Dearinger, Pollya[illegible] nigan, Virginia Margaret [illegible] Elizabeth May Ferguson, Nancy [illegible] ler Goodwin, Helen Ma[illegible] nells, Gail Stuart Har[illegible] Joyce Hardy, Mary Beth Hi[illegible] Sara Kay Lewis, Dana Su Kal[illegible] Sue McGuirt, Edna Mc Moore, Marie Norman, Kathleen Ga[illegible] borne, Deanna Grace Parks, Gene Peterson, Barbara Quinn, Michelle Varner and Lelaney Wood.

The Crosby Family
'Sez'

Y'ALL COME

Freez King
Southern Kitchen
[illegible] Tallahassee Int

Walk up and Dining Room Service

Hamburgers—Hot Dogs
5 for $2.00

15¢ ea.

Home Cooked Food
Served Daily

7:00 a.m. till 9:30 p.m.

FASHION CLEANERS and LAUNDRY

[illegible] JACKSON BLUFF RD.
904 WEST THARPE ST.

We cover the city
Fairest in Price
Fastest in Service

UNIVERSITY SERVICE
Phone 224-4940

Are there a few Money mad Southerners, some fast-talking Yankee FSU students who want to make Money

Sell our ladies and men's imported personalized cigarette lighters each with sorority or fraternity insignia in natural color for the fabulously LOW, LOW price of $2 each in 100 quantities, and make yourself 40% commission for your trouble. It's the lazy way to get rich.

WRITE NOW FOR APPOINTMENT
Old Florida Cracker Magazine
Attn.: Chief Hoss-Trader
P. O. Box 2092, Tallahassee, Fla.

Visit
FAIR'S BEAUTY SALON
549 W. Park Ave.
Phone 224-8351
The Prettiest Salon Nearest to Campus
HAIR STYLIST
Grace Tucker Alice Strawman
Dores Fain

IT'S MADRAS MA'AM
FOR THREE WONDERFUL WAYS TO BREEZE THRU THE SEASONS!

$12.98

Linden's
TALLAHASSEE'S LEADING APPAREL SHOP

Here it is - your favorite, bleeding madras, going casual in a big way ... simple enough for career and campus,- sophisticated enough for dates, in three smart styles to span the season barrier. Fully lined two piece suit sizes 5-15; step-in sheath junior sizes 5 - 15, petite sizes 3 - 13, missy sizes 8 - 18; Coat style full skirted shirt dress junior sizes 5 - 15, petite sizes 3 - 13, missy sizes 8 - 18, all in assorted plaids.
We invite your charge account!

SUIT
$14.98

Today's News Roundup

Flambeau News Services

AROUND THE WORLD

U-N--The U-N Assembly President Muhammad Zafulla Khan ...stan urged all men today to understand that, as he put it, "We ...eatures of the same God by whatever name we honor him." ...ium, he spoke at cornerstone-placing ceremonies for a church ...at U-N Plaza in New York.

...-N developments include a report that Latin American countries ...ling to pay their debts for operations in the Congo and the Middle ...ly a few Latin American nations had kept up with these special ...ents, but most are said to be willing to pay up now that the World ...rt has ruled they are legitimate organization expenses. The back ...s are so heavy, however, it's reported the Latin American nations ...rying to work out a plan for spreading payments over several years.

...NTINA--Argentina's President Guido has scheduled a radio address ...ation following the defeat of military leaders opposing his govern... ...last remaining holdouts of the anti-Guido forces surrendered this ... and the victorious faction promises early elections.

ACROSS THE NATION

...Britain's Foreign Secretary, Lord Home, arrived in New ... for the U-N session and called almost immediately on ... Rusk. The meeting lasted almost an hour, and a spokes... ...the U-N agenda.

...brief statement after the meeting, Lord Home said the British under... the U.S. preoccupation with Cuba. He did not elaborate, but a spokes... ...ys the matter came up briefly during the discussion with Rusk. ...r today, the British Official warned of the danger in use of force ...ats of force to settle problems. He urged that the United Nations ...achieve negotiated solutions. He said he hopes this year's session ...roductive and without political fireworks.

...ght self-styled American Nazis picketed the White ...today, but unlike a similar demonstration last night, there was no ...olice kept a close watch on the Nazis as they picketed near a ...out 60 Negro integration demonstrators.

...groes were members of the Congress of Racial Equality pro... ...im Crow practices. The Nazi placards denounced Negroes and ...

...was touched off last night when a passerby tore a Swastika ... the hands of one of the pickets. In the fighting seven party ... arrested and face trial tomorrow ... disorderly conduct ...

...RT--President Kennedy and daughter Caroline went sailing off ...t. Rhode Island this afternoon and enjoyed a leisurely cruise after ... a cluster of spectator boats.

...Kennedy flew to Nw York to attend the first public performance ...harmonic Hall, part of the City's New Lincoln Center for the Per... ...g Arts.

...g the day, Kennedy received reports on developments in Argen... ...overnmental crisis and prepared for a meeting aboard a des... ...r tomorrow with visiting President Ayub Khan of Pakistan.

...Khan will arrive in Newport tomorrow morning and go for a cruise ...nnedy. There's no advance word on what the two presidents plan to ...

All Around The Campus

ALPHA KAPPA DELTA- Members of Alpha Kappa Delta, a sociology honorary, will have its first business meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the AKD lounge. A general meeting will follow at 8 p.m. All members are requested to attend.

YOUNG AMERICANS- The FSU Chapter of Young Americans for Freedom will hear a talk entitled, "Communism on the Campus", by Tallahassee Municipal Judge John A. Rudd at the Library Lecture Hall, Wednesday, Sept. 26, at 8 p.m.

FASHION SHOW- A fall fashion show will be presented by the FSU Modeling Board Squad for all freshmen women, Wednesday at 7 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

exceptional children- The FSU Chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children invites all interested students to attend a coffee honoring Exceptional Child Coordinators from Florida, Sept. 25, at 4 p.m. in the second floor lounge of the Education Bldg.

STUDENT TREASURERS- Advisors or student treasurers of the following organizations are asked by Secretary of Finance Frank Milwee to call the Student Body Cabinet Office, Ext. 2975 immediately: all class budgets, all student publications, Collegians, Forensics, Choral Union, Men's Intramurals, University Symphony, International Club, University Singers, Women's Glee Club, Theatre Dance Club, Tarpon Club, Women's Senate, Student Artist Series, Opera Guild, Racquettes, Gymkana, Cheerleaders and Women's U.R.A.

FILM CLUB- Tickets for the FSU Film Club are on sale at Westcott Ticket Office. Season tickets are $3 for the 16 films scheduled throughout the year. The first film, "Royal Affair in Versailles," will be shown tomorrow 8 p.m. in Westcott Auditorium. Tickets will be available at the door.

WFSU-TV

MONDAY

9 ... English 102
9:45 Singing Music
9:45 Elementary Spanish I
... American Vs Communism
10:30 Elementary Spanish II
11:45 Singing Music
11:00 American Economy
11:30 English 101
12:05 Geology 107
12:30 News, Weather and Hints
1:00 Ragtime Era
1:30 Singing Music
1:30 English 101
2:30 Singing Music
2:45 American Vs Communism
3:00 Wonders New—Children
5:00 Singing Music
5:55 News (local)
6:00 Classroom
6:30 American Economy
7:00 English 101
7:30 World of Today
8:00 FSU Sports
9:00 Footprints
10:00 Ten O'Clock Report

STATE BAKERY &DELICATESEN

BIRTHDAY and WEDDING CAKES

SANDWICHES and FOOD BOXES

SARA'S SPECIAL

PERMANENTS ONLY $5.00

HAIRCUTS ONLY $1.00

SHAMPOO & SET ONLY $2.00

SARA BEAUTY SHOP

1402 Lake Bradford Rd. PH. 224-0237

DELIVERY

5-11

QUAKER HOUSE

222 - 8677

BOXES — SANDWICHES

SALADS — DRINKS

DESSERTS

$2.00 MINIMUM ORDER

Just Received:

Culottes

6.99

65% DACRON ... 35% COTTON
DRIP DRY

* GREENS
* NAVY
* BROWN
* BEIGE
* BLACK

the Sensational Skirt
everyone has been asking
for. New shipment just received get yours while we nave
all colors... all sizes

OURS ALONE

MILLERS

CORNER Monroe at College

Seminoles Duel Kentuckians To 0-0 Standsti

The Florida State Seminoles and the Kentucky Wildcats fought to a bloodless 0-0 standstill Saturday night before 35,000 fans in Lexington, Ky.

The Seminoles opened the game on offensive and moved the ball from their 27 to their 45 in seven plays, getting one first down primarily on the running of fullback Marion Roberts. Quarterback Charlie Calhoun booted the ball to the enemy 28 where right guard and Captain Gene McDowell of FSU downed it.

Then Kentucky took over and penetrated FSU territory for the first time, moving from their own 28 to FSU's 48. After QB Jerry Woolum got a first down on a short pass, the Cats were slowed by a five-yard penalty and then by the FSU defense. Center Bruce Darsey and end Hank Stysma caught the signal caller behind the line, causing a 4-and-10 situation. Kicker Darrell Cox of Miami punted the ball to the end zone.

Two plays later, fullback Gene Roberts got FSU a first down as he charged from his 25 to the 33. Seconds later, a personal foul against Kentucky put FSU in enemy territory for the first time. Quarterback Steve Tensi lobbed a short one from the 33 to halfback Phil Spooner at the 36, and then failed to connect on the next two passes.

FSU lacked seven yards for a first down, and then utilized the new kicking rule. Calhoun kicked the ball from the 36 to the three, where Florida State downed it.

With the second quarter still young, FSU made its biggest bid for a touchdown, as the Seminoles got two first downs on the running of Marion Roberts and a 15-yard penalty against Bradshaw's crew.

The personal foul put FSU 19 yards from paydirt, and then co-captain Keith Kinderman bulldozed his way to the ten -- only to have a 15-yard penalty push FSU back to the 35.

Seminole hopes for a TD would now have to come from the pitching of Feely, who first shot a 16-yard pass to right half Ken Russom, who was downed on the 18.

But the next two Feely passes, one to the end zone, were incomplete. So kicker John Harlee, who saved the day against Florida last year, came in for a field goal attempt, but the kick was wide.

For the rest of the quarter, fine defensive plays by both squads stifled any scoring attempts.

Kentucky opened the third quarter, moving from the 20 to the 36 before Cox kicked to FSU's 25. The Kentuckians had gained a first down on the passing of Woolum, but a recovered fumble and an incomplete pass slowed them down.

Three plays later, Marion Roberts ran to the 41 for FSU's only first down, but later a 15-yard penalty put Florida State in a third-and 25 situation. At this point, Feely attempted a 50-yard pass to Russom, who was wide open, but who also dropped the ball.

A clipping penalty put Kentucky on its 36, and the Wildcats lost yardage because of the successive tackling of Woolum by end Cliff Gunter, and Red Dawson, and center Y.C. McNeese.

When Cox kicked, Hillabrand narrowly missed being the hero of the day. The Seminole took to ball on the 35 and twisted all the way to the goal, with referees slinging red flags all over the field because of a Florida State clipping penalty.

After being penalized five yards for illegal procedures, a nine-yard run by Gene Roberts nearly gave FSU a first down. Instead, Calhoun kicked, as Kentucky set up its first field goal attempt.

In nine plays, the Kentucky team moved the ball from its 39 to FSU's 15. Woolum couldn't get closer and suffered an eight-yard loss.

On the next play, Bradshaw's toeman, Clarkie Mayf, attempted a field goal from the 25, but failed. Twelve seconds remained in the quarter.

In the final session, Florida State threatened with its opening drive, and then Kentucky managed to slightly penetrate Seminole soil.

FSU took over on its own 20 and in 13 plays racked up four first downs on the solid running of Feely, Marion Roberts, and Kinderman.

Feely, after looking for receivers, ran to the 23 to get FSU one yard from its fifth first down in the drive.

At this point Coach Bill Peterson sent toe-specialist Harlee in but Feely balked and called time out to discuss the tactics. After the conference, Feely stayed at quarterback, and the next play cost the Seminoles five yards for illegal procedure. Moved back to the 28, Feely passed to Bailey at the 22, but referees ruled FSU offsides.

Kentucky refused the penalty and took over on its 33.

Woolum piloted the Wildcats to two first downs as they progressed from their 33 to the Seminoles' 45. But a fumble by Cox, who regained possession, pushed the Cats back to the 47, where Cox kicked two plays later.

Russom grabbed first a nine-yard heave and then a eight-yard pass from Feely to move FSU from the 11 to the 28, good for a first down. But three plays later, Kentucky's Gary Steward intercepted a pass by Feely to down the ball at the center stripe with 2:40 left in the contest.

The Renegades shoved the from their 49 to their 25, and FSU took over with about 60 se left, the Seminoles had time only two plays, the fir an yard run by Feely. Feely run pushed Florida State

Oak Valley Golf Club Presents

FALL FESTIVAL of GOLF

ENTRY FEE $7.50 (includes 1 Practice Round)

54 HOLES MEDAL PLAY - QUALIFYING ROUND COUNTS

Qualify by FOR Friday, October

16 MEN TO A FLIGHT

1, 2, 3 PLACE WINNERS IN EACH FLIGHT

OCTOBER 6 & 7th

OVER $500 IN PRIZES

PHONE 224-2047

555 OCALA RD. OFF W. TEN
TALLAHASSEE, FLA.

VOLKSWAGON REPAIRS

Work guaranteed - 1 day service
Parts & factory trained mechanics

JACK KERZAN'S TEXACO
936 North Monroe
Phone - 224-0320

Enjoy

Your Hometown with Your Breakfast!

Now the St. Petersburg Times gets here at the crack of dawn. That means you can have the latest sports, the news of the world and all the goings-on along the Suncoast right while you're dipping into the second cup of coffee.

Costs the same as delivered at home—just 55c a week—whether you live on-campus or elsewhere in town. Just phone 222-9451 and order The Times started in the morning.

St. Petersburg Times
FLORIDA'S BEST NEWSPAPER

Bertha Cooke

SMARTEE
SKIRT, SLIP OVER
TURTLE NECK BLOUS and STRIPPED JACKET
COLORS - BROWN
GREEN and BLACK
SKIRT LINED $7.95
JACKET $6.95
SLIP & BLOUSE $5.00
SLIM JIMS $7.95

☆☆ Vote ☆ Vote ☆ Vote ☆☆

BY SUSIE RHOADES

10,500 FSU students are eligible vote today for precinct (living senators. Freshmen men and en may vote for class officers, ding candidates for both freshmen's and women's senators as as for Senate candidates from r precinct.

students must present their I.D. ds and will be requested to sign r name and student number when vote. Further instructions for g are listed on the ballot key ts.

Polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Seminole Club, Westcott (Ticket Office), the Student Center (two polls), Landis Green (near the Library), Smith (West) Hall and Bryan Hall (by the Police Station).

No campaigning will be allowed within 50 feet of the polls.

The ballots will be counted by IBM machines beginning at 1 p.m. First unofficial returns will be reported shortly after 5 p.m. at Longmire. Secretary of Elections Ron Jones stated that the final unofficial results should be announced by 8:30 p.m. and that the official results will be posted by tomorrow morning.

Any questions may be answered at 210 Longmire or by calling Ext. 2975.

The final list of candidates is as follows:

FRESHMAN CLASS - president: Charles DeFoor, Francis A. DeTure, Joel M. DeVolentine, Lief Erickson, Gary Hays, Bob Moon, John Perry Thomas, Guy "Darry" Wood; vice president: James Butler, John Green, Duke Mader, John Noppenburg and Gene Stearns.

Secretary: Louise Beddingfield, Nancy Meyers, Anne Orum and Barbara Jane Walker; treasurer: Margaret DeHoff, Carl J. Domino and Nancy Harris; social chairman: Margaret Marsden, Susie Peters, "Rusty" Seabolt and Mildred Thurmond.

Men's senators (two seats): Chuck Beck, Jerry Huegel, Pete Johnson, Robert E. Lee, Pete Nealing, George Partin, George R. Rinhart and "Sparky" Sparkman; women's senators (two seats): Ida May Barber, Candy Clifford, Cathy Cochran, Nancy Dale, Dot Fish, Susan Worley and Katherine Young.

PRECINCTS - 1. Jennie Murphree: Jane Franzino, Joanne Griffin, "Bruno" Carole Higginbotham, Camilla Kilgroe, Marsha Love and Nancy May. 2. Reynolds: Sheila Appleby, Nancy Aunspaugh, Donna Futral, Jean Norman and Pat Sauer. 3. Bryan-Broward: Patricia Johns, Barbara McDonald, Linda McGuirt and Jeanie Williamson.

4. Gilchrist: Barbara Brandon, Karen Chambers, Caryl Giffin, Carol Gresimer, Rita McCann, Diane McLaughlin, Paula Tucker and Dee Williams. 5. East Landis: Joyce Killian. 6. West Landis: Carole Renfroe. 7. Florida: Sandra Brooks. 8. Dorman: Mary Ann Kinney. 9. Magnolia: Laurie Crawley and Mickie Neuman. 10. Cathon: Ruth Doyle. 11. DeGraff:

(continued on page 3)

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

XLIX, No. 15 — Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University — Tuesday, September 15, 1962

33 Charters Not Filed

Thirty-three organizations have not yet filed three copies of their constitutions in the Attorney General's office, Lyman Fletcher said today.

Unless these copies are filed by Oct. 3, as required by Student Body statutes, charters will be revoked at the first Senate meeting after that date.

The constitutions may be turned in on Monday, Wednesday or Friday, from 3 to 5 p.m.

Organizations that have not yet filed copies in the Attorney General's office, 210 Longmire, are: Alpha Kappa Psi, Alpha Delta Sigma, Alpha Epsilon Delta, Alpha Kappa Delta, Alpha Kappa Psi, Alpha Lambda Delta, Alpha Phi Omega, Angel Flight, Arnold Air Society.

Beta Phi Mu, Cavaliers, Chess Club, Choral Union, Circle K, Cotillion, Diving Seminoles, Engineering Science Society, Florida Education Association, Florida State Childhood Education, Florida State University Marketing Club, Garnet Key, Hellenikana, Intervarsity Christian Fellowship.

Lambda Alpha Epsilon, Mortified, Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Beta Florida, Phi Epsilon Kappa, Philosophy Club, Pi Sigma Alpha, Soldiers, State Scholarship Club, Village Chaps.

Blocks Are Drawn Today

Drawing for block seats will take place this afternoon in the office of the President of the Sutdent Body, Jan Van Assenderp, at 4 p.m.

All organizations who are interested in sitting in block seats at the Furman game met with Attorney General Lyman Fletcher and Secretary of Student Welfare Bill Shepherd, Friday.

At this meeting Fletcher stressed that all groups who participate in the drawing will be expected to sit where the drawing puts them. He said that there is a good chance that the block seating system will be discontinued if the system is abused.

Fletcher said that five people will be present at the drawing this afternoon: President Van Assenderp, Secretary of Student Welfare Bill Shepherd, Bill Smart, one other witness and himself.

THE RAIN IN SPAIN

. . . is supposed to stay mainly on the plain, but at FSU it has been seeping into plains, mountains, valleys, and co-ed's permanents. Philosophers say that father equinox has something to do with disrupting the usual sticky weather at this time of the year. Not so, says the student. It's the trimester.

Zerbe Exhibit Opened

A retrospective exhibit of the works of Karl Zerbe of the FSU Art Dept. opened last night in the University Art Gallery. The exhibit will run through Oct. 14.

Forty-four paintings and watercolors which depict the changing concepts and artistic development of the distinguished artist over a 32-year period will be in the exhibit.

Zerbe is now represented in some 50 American museums, four German galleries and the Tel-Aviv Museum in Israel. He has held 25 one-man exhibitions both in this country and abroad.

The FSU show, second major traveling retrospective for Zerbe, was organized in February by the American Federation of Arts under a grant from the Ford Foundation. His first retrospective exhibition was in 1951 by the Institute of Contemporary Art, Boston.

The retrospective show documents Zerbe's consistent growth into one of America's foremost expressionists. It also documents the several media through which the artist has expressed himself through the years---encaustic, gouache, polymer tempera and acrylic.

Born in Berlin Sept. -6, 1903, Zerbe established himself as one of the most promising young painters in Germany. Three of the earliest works in the exhibit (1929) are from this era of his life. They have been borrowed from the Staatliche Graphische Sammlung in Munich and are the only German period paintings of his still existing in Germany. Many others, especially those in the Berlin museum, were destroyed during the Nazi regime.

After coming to America in 1935, Zerbe rediscovered one of the oldest media, encaustic. He became widely known for his paintings in

(continued on page 3)

4 p.m. Deadline

Ole Miss, Mum

University of Mississippi students aren't talking about their current integration situation.

"The matter is up to the state," stated Dick Wilson, Student Body President at Ole Miss. "We have adopted the policy of not commenting on the matter."

BULLETIN

NEW ORLEANS--The Fifth U.S. Court of Appeals here has given the Mississippi State College Board until 4 p.m. today to show that it intends to comply with court order for the enrollment of Negro James Meredith.

Judge Albert Tuttle of Atlanta, presiding over the court, said, after a hearing, that the Court has found that the Board willfully and intentionally violated the order.

Photo I D's Distributed In Westcott

Photo I.D. cards will be distributed tomorrow, Thursday and Friday in the second floor foyer of Westcott Auditorium, Registrar Murray W. Kenna announced today.

The photo I.D. card will go into effect at Saturday night's game in Campbell Stadium, said Dr. Kenna. No one will be admitted to the stadium without their photo I.D. card.

Students may pick up their I.D. cards by their film number, which is stamped on the lower right hnd corner of their temporary I.D. cards, beginning at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow according to he following schedule:

Tomorrow - 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. film number 10,001 to 11,098
12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. - 11,102 to 12,580

Thursday - 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. 20,001 to 22,510
12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. - 30,001 to 31,524

Friday - 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. 31,644 to 32,162
and 32,168 to 32,537
and 12,603 to 12,615
1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. - All film numbers not listed above

The photo I.D. cards are in color this year, Kenna said, so students can be more easily identified. He said the color I.D. cards cost only $.02 more per card than the black-and white cards used last year.

Flu Vaccine Is Available

A limited amount of vaccine against influenza is now available to students whose resistance is lowered by chronic health problems, Dr. C. R. Gentry, director of the Student Health Service, has announced.

Dr. Gentry said that until Oct. 2 the vaccine will be supplied at cost to students with such health problems as asthma, rheumatic fever and diabetes. After Oct. 2, the remaining vaccine will be supplied at cost to any university student interested in securing influenza immunization.

The health service official noted that a greatly increased incidence of influenza is anticipated this fall and winter. This increase, he added, is related to the loss of immunity to Influenza type "A," Asian strain, that resulted from the epidemic of 1957-58.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Mess At Miss.

The current desegregation crisis at University of Mississippi has pointed up a startling contrast between Ole Miss and the Florida universities. An observer might ask, "Why so much difference?"

"Leadership," is the answer. In Florida students found mature leadership in their officials and administrators. In Mississippi they didn't. It is not desegregation that is hurting Mississippi now; it is violent opposition to it.

The words "Ole Miss" used to conjure up a beautiful, peaceful campus, home of several Miss Americas, where the dignity and grace of the Old South could be found. The name now signifies riots and court suits. How long will it take the University to recover from the disorder and resulting bad publicity? No one knows.

Florida students accepted desegregation largely because the community leaders set a favorable, non-emotional climate for the action. In Mississippi the opposite was true, and the difference in results is graphically illustrated by newspaper photos depicting jeering students. When university officials and the Board of Trustees of the university are being cited for contempt of court, students cannot be expected to show moderation and common sense.

Citizens of Florida should be grateful that officials here had enough foresight to avert a similar catastrophe by desegregating voluntarily before a court suit fired dangerous emotions on both sides of the issue.

TD

Why Vote?

As campus polls open today for the first time this year, many students will be asking, "Why bother to vote? It doesn't make any difference. Student Government never does anything."

ALTHOUGH THIS sentiment is popular, it is erroneous and therefore not a valid excuse for failure to vote. Any group which is impowered to budget over $300,000 cannot be inactive, and the students who supply the money in fees should be anxious to have capable, honest people in office.

It is ironical that those students who are most critical of Student Government are usually the ones who don't vote. If a student is not interested in what is done with his activity fee money then he should be content to ignore campus leaders all year long, not just at election time.

A LONG-STANDING Junior Chamber of Commerce motto, "If you don't vote, don't gripe," is as applicable to FSU as it is to any other community.

TD

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor — Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor

Asst. Managing Editors.....Jim Smith, Sharon Blackwell

Asst. News Editor ..... Larry Murray
Asst. Sports Editor ..... John Wood
Photo Engineer ..... Bruce Tribbe
Artist ..... Spencer Guerry

Copy Readers: Gerry Dawson, Allan Berman, Pat Bass, Bonnie Freedman, John McCotter, Matt Straub, Joe Rice, Lawrence Mahoney.

News Staff - Bonnie Shiplett, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Nancy Olson, Bill Smart, Mary Grossenbacher, Sarah Gretna, Susie Rhoades, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Duke Mader, Irma Wehle, Ted Harvey, Martha Treat, Thera Brackney, Michelle Johnson, Iris Anderson, Frank Coney, Martha Roberts, Leslie McNevin, Dave Kelmeeks, Fred McDonald, Bob Cornet.

Sports Staff - Shirley Hardison, Seth Bramson.

Photographers - John Lynch, Fred McDonald, John Quarles.

Business Manager ..... Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager..... ...Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager. ..... Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Mabry Ashley
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeithen, Don Dughi, John Morgan.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Helen Swain

'Comotion' In The Soda Shop

Comotion Riboglavin gaily tripped down the stairs into the depths of Longmire. Humming a few bars from Tristan and Isolde, she made her way to the door of the Soda Shop, stopping in her progress to right various and sundry underclassmen who had become entangled in her streaming green hair. (Not to tell a lie, Como wore a wig.) Suddenly she was blinded by an oversized neon sign which proclaimed in flashing red and white letters: SODA SHOP, ONLY MEMBERS ALLOWED. Como stepped nimbly over masses of writhing freshman, sorority girls and education majors who apparently had been excluded, and tried the handle of the door.

It was opened by a paint spattered dungareed giant who boomed in sonorous tones, "What's the password? Three tries or you're out." Summoning all the forces of her vapor-clouded gray matter Como hesitantly whispered, "Flambeau?"

"Nope!" he roared, sweeping off Como's green hairpiece with the gorce of his vocal chords. "Try again.' "English major," said Como hopefully. "Wrong again," said the guardsman, knocking over several curious freshmen who had come to see the beatniks in the Soda Shop.

Como concentrated. Two large veins stood out on the side of her head as she painfully searched through the smoke of her brain. Suddenly, triumphantly, she shouted, "I've got it! It's Grymph." "That's absolutely correct," shouted the giant, shaking the walls of Longmire so violently that the day students ran out ently that the day students ran out of their lounges screaming "Earthquake, earthquake!" However, they went unnoticed by Como. She was in the sanctuary of the Soda Shop, headed toward the coffee urn.

After depositing herself at a nearby table, Como noted with surprise the changes in the Soda Shop. The walls were plastered with signs that read: WE HATE GREEKS, BUSINESS MAJORS KEEP OUT, and a particularly large sign (done in a tasteful combination of purple, mahogany and hybrid yellow) which read, ANYONE SEEN IN THE SODA SHOP WTH A BUBBLE HAIR[illegible] SHOT. "Oh, those bubble hairdo[illegible] sighed Como. She remembered the riot that occurred the previ[illegible] week when several small [illegible] and one white hamster [illegible] out of the teased and twisted [illegible] of hair perched on a fem[illegible] head, and proceeded to race [illegible] the Soda Shop, raising havoc [illegible] several weak-hearted female[illegible] generally affrighting the surro[illegible]ing multitude.

Como was interrupted from [illegible] reminiscing by a commotion [illegible] the coffee urn. Several brave[illegible] men had attempted to sneak [illegible] front entrance, and one stri[illegible] ature in a shapeless burlap [illegible] had thrown her entire tray of e[illegible] at their unfortunate heads. "[illegible] is enough," said Como. "The[illegible] vasions must stop, and I've [illegible] plan to stop them." Gatherin[illegible] folds of her raccoon coat abo[illegible] generous form, she retreated [illegible] the Soda Shop, retrieving her g[illegible] wig from the masses of the excl[illegible] still writhing on the basement fl[illegible]

Letters To The Editor

School Spirit Defended

To the Editor:

Judging from the letters to the editor in the Thursday, Sept. 20 issue of the "Flambeau," I must be a majority of one, but I felt that school spirit at the FSU-Citadel football game was very good--far better than at opening games of previous years. Bill Harnage and the cheerleaders did an excellent job, and are to be congratulated for their continuous efforts.

It is apparently difficult for the freshman to understand that this is not high school; therefore we do not cheer like high school students.

The Citadel was a pushover, and this may account for the apparent lack of school spirit. I am sure more spirit will be shown when we meet opponents who will give us a healthy fight.

I would like to hear what Ashley Ahl has in mind for us to wear to the games. Perhaps he feels we would cheer more or better if we all wore bermudas? Miss Williams and the rest of us who like to get dressed up occasionally would be overjoyed, I'm sure.

Let's hope that Furman gives us a short run for our money and that the frosh all attend the FSU-U of F game--there they'll find school spirit at its best.

Janet Schuff

Thanks For Timely Warning

To the Editor:

Thank goodness we have in our University people like Lawrence Mahoney to sound the clarion call of danger. One can easily imagine the horrors to which he has been subjected. In Panama City, fanatic "right-wing extremists" plotted against "the few liberal elements in the town" by actually publicly exercising the right to free speech.

And then Our Hero comes to FSU, only to find that even here "professional anti-Reds" are openly avowing their warped philosophy.

Lawrence, thank you for your timely warning. Because of your courage, the true nature of the four horsemen of the liberal Apocalypse, capitalism, "militant Christianity," anti-communism and free speech have been revealed.

James T. Ayres

Tell Us More

To the Editor:

Last Thursday night there was a pep rally, or rather, an attempt to have a pep rally. It was hoped that a large turnour would further encourage the football team to continue their winning ways.

At the pep rally, disparaging remarks were cast upon the surprisingly small turnout. We CAN get 3,000 people to attend a pep rally; if we let these 3,000 people know adequately when and where.

A notice of a pep rally for a game as important as the Kentucky game certainly demands better placement in the "Flambeau" than the third page--perhaps the first page.

Thanks should go to the "K.D.'s" who showed their true spirit by showing up en mass at the gathering. Perhaps in the future the other sororities and fraternities will follow their example.

Jim De Groodt

Wrong Class

To the Editor:

I enjoyed very much the ar[illegible] "Extremist To Speak Friday" [illegible] Sept. 20 "Flambeau" for its en[illegible] siasm and entertainment valu[illegible] the information value was almo[illegible] I presume it was intended to m[illegible] some connection between Dr. [illegible] Dodd and the extremism we both [illegible] plore, but the connection made [illegible] article is extremely tenuous [illegible] identify Dr. Dodd as a "profess[illegible] anti-Red" (your phrase) does not p[illegible] her in the same class as, for a hor[illegible] ble example, Adolph Hitler--[illegible] "professional anti-Red." I [illegible] President Kennedy might [illegible] described as a "professional a[illegible] Red" without making him so[illegible] reprehensible.

Might not your space have be[illegible] better used with a quick biograp[illegible] of the speaker and a few particul[illegible] on her career as a "professio[illegible] anti-Red," rather than the explo[illegible] of the Panama City People and [illegible] vague but ominous referenc[illegible] "hindrance to democratic and l[illegible] eral reforms?"

Dick Sava[illegible]

Joe Rice

Lawnmowing, Part II

This is the second diatribe in a series of forty on lawnmowing during classes at FSU. Like the previous diatribe, this one is prejudiced against the practice of mowing the grass while classes are in session.

I'm opposed to the practice of mowing the lawn while professors shout to make themselves heard and students strain to hear; but let me explain, in dollars and cents, how I feel about this:

I'm a Florida resident so it cost me $113 to register this trimester. My books cost an additional $30. I could list clothing and other costs, but let's just use this $p43 as a working figure. For my $143 I get instruction in 13 hours of classwork. In other words, it costs me about $11.00 pd hour to go to school at FSU.

Since the trimester began I've had about one'third of these $11.00 hours interrupted by men pushing loud high-powered mowers beneath my classroom windows. now, these are not family or yard mowers which make a loud but not deafening putt-putt-putt. These are big field mowers with engines large enough to power a motorcycle.

These, unmuffled, big mowers make classroom discussion impossible. They put a strain on the professor. They rob me--at the rate of $11.00 per hour.

I'm opposed to it.

...Zerbe

(continued from page 1)

...medium---color pigments sus-...d in wax---which he used until ...s found in 1949 that he had ...ergy to it.

...began after a time to work ...plastic media, first with poly-...tempera, then (since 1957) with ...ic, a synthetic resin. From ... to 1954 he served as head ...e painting department of the ...- Museum of Fine Arts Sch-... Since that time he has been ...SU where he teaches paint-...rom beginning through advan-...lasses.

...works vary in subject matter: ...scapes, figure paintings, portr-... Many of his paintings show ...sympathetic concern with clo-...acrobats and actors who rep-...t a double identity compounded ...pposite qualities such as gaiety ...sadness. In addition to many ... to other parts of the world, he ...led for a summer with Barnum ...ailey Circus (1945).

Hurricanes

A specialist in tropical meteorology, Dr. Noe. E. La Seur, FSU professor of meteorology, will speak on "Hurricanes" at the opening Sigma Xi lecture, Thursday.

He will speak in the Education Lecture Hall at 8 p.m. The lecture is free and open to the public.

For several years LaSeur has been under contract with the National Hurricane Research Project to fly into tropical storms and study the recorded data taken in the instrumented planes.

Sigma Xi, an organization dedicated to scientific research, seeks to bring to its lecture audiences scientists who are expert in their field and who can talk to an audience with only a general scientific background.

FOUND--An earphone apparently used for a transistor radio has been found. The owner should contact Dr. Donald Hartford in the Research and Testing Dept.

Parking Time Now Unlimited

The two hour parking limit on campus has been lifted, Lt. James M. Lewis of the Campus Police announced.

There are still some spaces on campus where parking is limited to 15 or 30 minutes, but these are individually marked with time limit signs.

Aside from these specially marked spaces, there is no time limit on campus parking. Improper parking or parking by students in areas reserved for faculty or staff can result in parking tickets.

However, students with less than 88 semester hours may not drive or park on campus between 7:30 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Junior women who live on campus may park on campus in the lots on the north side of Florida and of Cawthon Halls. They may drive off campus before 5 p.m. if they use the shortest exit route, but then they may not return to campus until after 5 p.m.

A $10 fine is being levied for late registration of a student, faculty or staff member's car. The fine for careless or reckless driving is $5. Exceeding the campus speed limit of 20 miles per hour results in a $5 fine.

...elections

(continued from page 1)

Pat Curry, Sharon Dunn, Susan Fincher, Cheryl Pittman and Sharon Stewart.

12. Smith (two seats): Dick Acosta, Jeff Andrews, Louis Barnett, Ted DeLaVergne and Carl M. Sugarman. 13. Kellum (two seats): William H. (Bill) Caldwell, Charles Intriago, Bill McCarron, John Merting and George Miller.

14. Day Students (four seats): Bob Barden, Bill Branch, Connie Carroll, Mitch Franks, Marshall Gifford, John B. Herdon, Guy Hollingsworth, Dennis Lanahan, John T. Riggins, Robert J. Schramm and Susan Wharton. 15. Lamba Chi Alpha, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Theta Chi, Phi Kappa Tau and Sigma Chi: Miles Williams.

16. Sigma Alpha Edsilon, Kappa Alpha, Alpha Tau Omega, Pi Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, and Alpha Kappa Psi: Woody Benson and Mike Thackerton. 17. Sigma Phi Epsilon, Delta Chi, Tau Epsilon Phi, Pi Kappa Phi and Sigma Nu: Frank M. Ryll, Jr.

18. Alpha Phi, Delta Gamma, Alpha Omicron Pi, Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Chi Omega, Kappa Alpha Theta and Alpha Xi Delta: Irene Lopez, Mary Lundale, Boots Ratteree, Jean Sauer and Mary Lois Stone.

19. Alpha Gamma Delta, Sigma Kappa, Zeta Tau Alpha, Gamma Phi Beta, Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma: Barbara Daniel, Jean Edmonson and Suzie Miller.

20. Sigma Sigma Sigma, Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Zeta and Phi Mu: Linda Luna, Linda Robertson and Suzanne Treadwell.

21. Dale Mabry Heights and University Trailer Park: Don Dughi and Mike Green. 22. FSO Houses: Jennifer Newcomer and Barbara Vadnais. 23. Alumni Village: Richard Sanders and Otis Wragg. 24. Graduate Students (at large): Gerry Dobson, Jim White and Clarke Wyllie.

Today

The Biochemistry seminar will be held in 306 Science at 11:30 a.m., with Dr. Price speaking on "Lyosomes."

* * * * *

The Meteorology seminar is to be in 301 M-M at 4:20 p.m. Dr. R.A. Craig will speak on "Distribution of Ozone."

* * * * *

Theatre Dance try-outs will be at 4:20 p.m. in 402 Women's Gym.

* * * * *

A film entitled "The Treasure Chest" will be shown at the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship meeting at 7 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

* * * * *

Inter-Social Sorority meets at 7 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

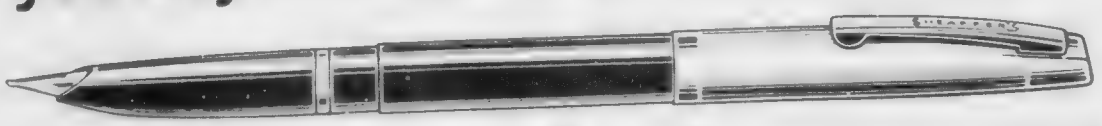
* * * * *

Gordon Carper will speak at Phi Alpha Theta Coffee hour at 7:30 p.m. in Longmire Club Room.

* * * * *

WFSU-FM presents at 8 p.m. Mr. Spotnitz speaking on "Third Psychiatric Revolution."

* * * * *



FSU Film Club presents "Royal Affairs in Versailles."

* * * * *

WFSU-FM will show economic struggle of Americanism vs. Communism at 8:30 p.m.

Great new record offer ($3.98 value)...just $1.00 when you buy Sheaffer's back-to-school special!

Now when you buy your Sheaffer Cartridge Pen for school, you get 98¢ worth of Skrip cartridges FREE...a $3.93 value for just $2.95. Look for Sheaffer's back-to-school special now at stores everywhere. On the back of the package, there's a bonus for you...a coupon good for a $3.98 value Columbia limited-edition record. It's "Swingin' Sound", twelve top artists playing top hits for the first time on a 12" L.P. This double-value back-to-school offer good only while they last! So hurry, choose your Sheaffer Cartridge Pen from five smart colors...and mail your "Swingin' Sound" record coupon today.

SHEAFFER'S BACK-TO-SCHOOL SPECIAL!
New cartridge pen with 98¢ worth of cartridges FREE.
$3.93 VALUE FOR $2.95

SHEAFFER'S

©1962 W. A. SHEAFFER PEN COMPANY, FORT MADISON, IOWA

CROW'S STORE
1902 Lake Bradford Rd.
Near Alumni Village

GRADE A T-BONE	$0.69 lb.
T-BONE STEAK	$0.69 lb.
SIRLOIN STEAK	$0.69 lb.

NO CHANGES in PRICES
ALL MEATS GUARANTEED

Scholarship Students Receive Honor Awards

Thirty-eight Southern Scholarship and Research Foundation honor students of FSU were recognized for their academic achievement last night at an awards program.

President Gordon W. Blackwell and Superintendent of Schools Thomas D. Bailey were presented to the group by the Foundation's president, J. Velma Keen.

One hundred fifty students are provided with rent-free housing by the non-profit Foundation corporation. They assist with the cooking and household chores to help with expenses.

Maureen O'Neill received an award for having maintained a straight "A" average last semester.

Those students recognized for "B" averages were Julian Larsen, Annette Baker, Lana Murray, Cecilia Clements, Barbara Godfrey, Terrence McDonald, Dorothy Eaddy, Diana Michelle Goffe, Marianne Ludwig, Anne Fleishel, Patricia Freeman, Louise Montgomery, Janet Herzog, Gwendie Roberts, Virginia Wiggins, Martha McIntosh, Nancy Hines, William Erwin, Bonnie Riley, Caroline Campbell, Rosalie Smith, Toni Wells, Jeanette Kent, Cecilia Lopez, Elaine Pinizzotto, Luther Kramer III, Dan Barwick, Madeleine Barber, Wilda Murphy, Betty Barlow, Bruce Collins, Amelia Hapke, Rodelia Hapke, William Richardson, Linda Ruth Phillips, Frederick Glavin and Caroline Whittington.

In addition to individual awards, the F.E.A. Scholarship House was presented an academic trophy for being the house group with the highest grade average.

Today's News Roundup

Flambeau News Services

AROUND THE WORLD

LONDON--Hope is fading for 14 persons still missing after the crash-landing of an airliner carrying American servicemen and their families 500 miles west of Ireland. There are 13 known dead; 49 persons have been rescued.

JUNEAU--There have been no survivors found in the crash of another plane that carried military men. The Navy patrol plane went down in Alaska with ten men aboard. A ground party reached the charred wreckage todya. The two-engine aircraft had been missing since Saturday.

BUENOS AIRES--The Argentine Navy has thrown its support behind the new authority of President Guido, giving him the backing of all armed forces branches.

CAIRO--President Nasser of the United Arab Republic says he intends to turn over his executive powers to a cabinet. It will be headed by his long-time political aid, Aly Sabry. Sabry will take the tile of Prime Minister in the one-party socialist state.

ACROSS THE NATION

WASHINGTON--The House has passed by a vote of 342 to 13 a measure authorizing President Kennedy to call up 150,000 Military Reservists if they are needed, completing congressional action on the measure.

WASHINGTON--The governmentsays the strike by a telegraphers union against the Chicago and North Western Railway is almost over. The strike is in its 26th day. The only obstacle to settlement now is negotiation on the terms for resuming service. Officials say service likely will be resumed by Thursday at the latest.

TYLER--Billie Sol Estes has gone on trial in Tyler, Texas, before a battery of microphones and television cameras. The state accuses Estes of fraud, embezzlement and swindling farmers. Estes, dressed in a black suit, sat poker-faced as his lawyer moved unsuccessfully several times for a postponement.

MIAMI--Miami advertising man Erwin Harris has failed to get court approval to seize two Cuban ships against a debt he says the Castro government owes him.

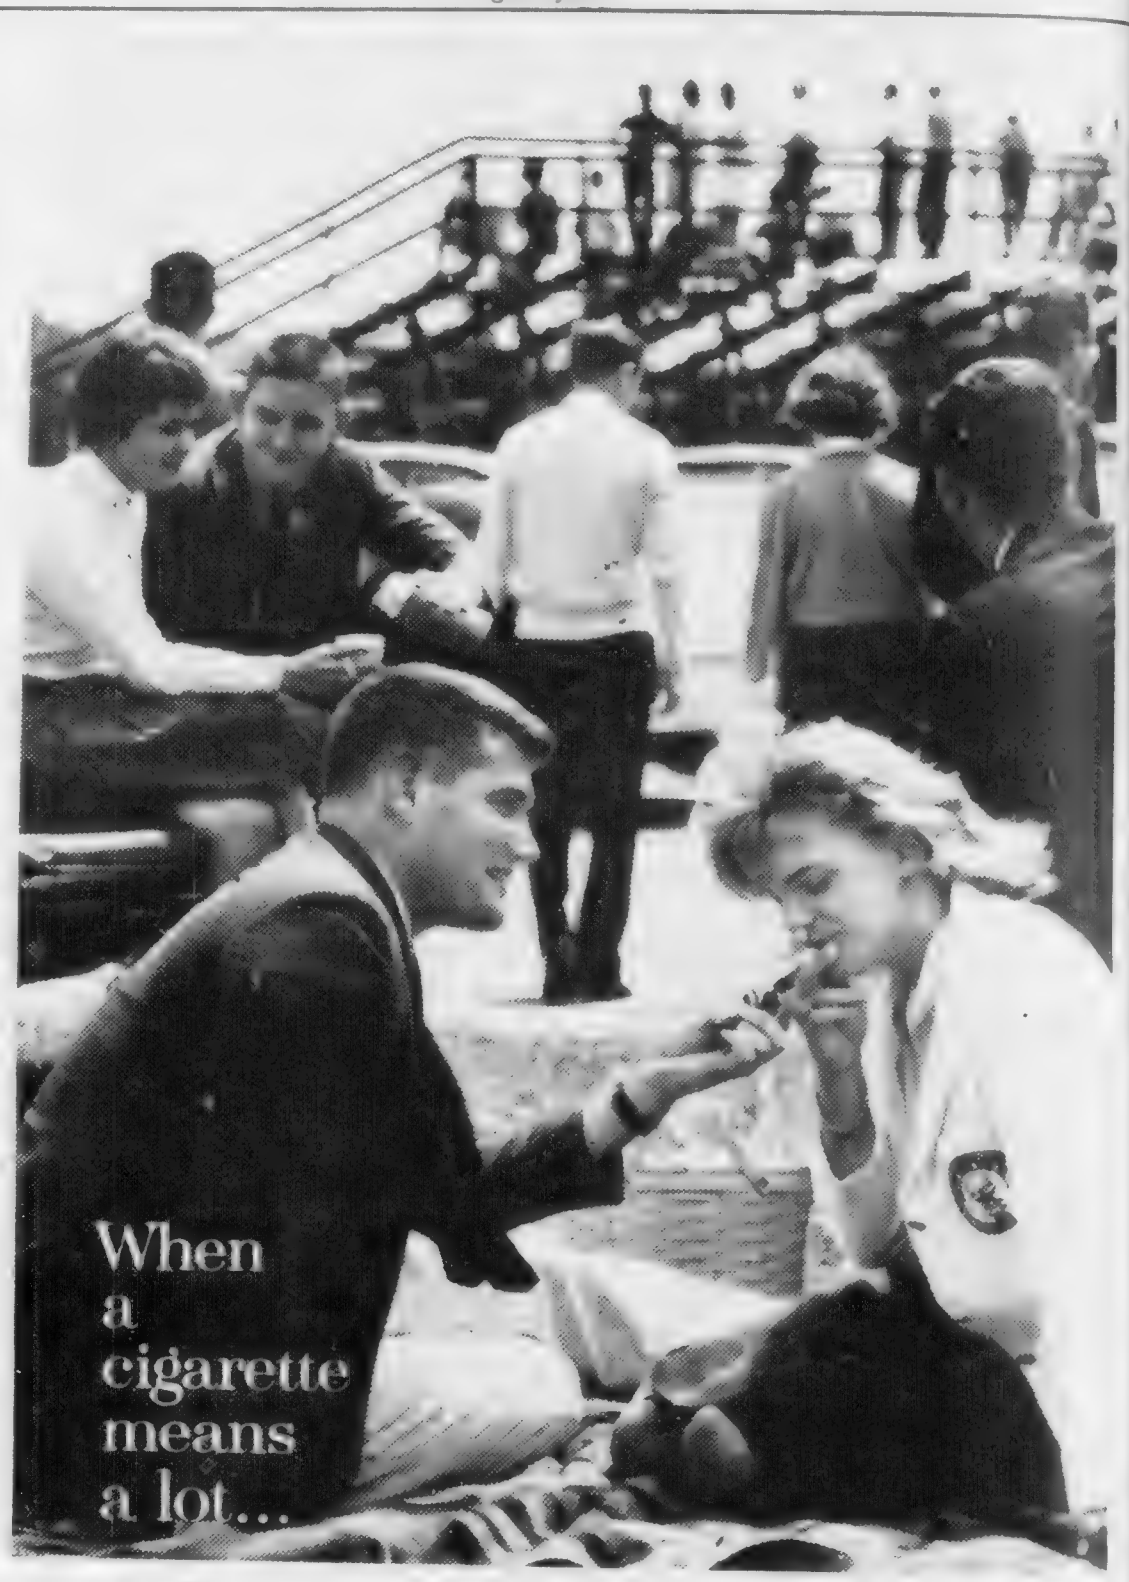
WASHINGTON--Under a bill approved by a Senate committee today, you would pay a cent more to mail letters and postcards. Other mail rates would go up too. The measure would provide a one billion dollar pay hike for one million, 600 thousand federal workers. The Senate is expected to take up the bill later in the week.

WASHINGTON--The Pentagon says it will enroll Spanish-speaking Cuban refugees in special units of the Army and Navy, abandoning its policy of requiring recruiters to peak English.

CARTER'S

SPORTING GOODS & HOBBY SHOP
104 E. College Ave. Ph. 222-5178

BRUNSWICK–MAGREGOR
WILSON–BEN PEARSON AGENCY
VOIT–HEALTHWAYS



WHITE STAG SPEEDO SWIM WEAR
OCEAN POOL SWIM WEAR
ADLER SOCKS
GAMES AND HOBBIES

SEE US FIRST
FOR YOUR SPORTING GOOD NEEDS

WFSU-TV

9:45	El Espanol Es Facil - Spanish I	1:00	Lab 30	6:30	American Economy
10:00	Americanism vs. Communism	1:30	Live and Learn: "Focus on Physics"	7:00	English 102
10:30	El Espanol Es Facil - Spanish II	2:00	Social Studies	7:30	Written Word
10:45	Seeing Music	2:30	Americanism vs. Communism	8:00	Government in Action
11:00	American Economy		SIGN OFF	8:30	Americanism vs. Comm
11:30	Junior College Spanish	4:30	What's New	9:00	Action at Law
12:30	Religions of Man	5:00	Seeing Music	9:30	Your Marriage
12:00	Religions of Man	5:55	News	10:00	Ten O'Clock Report
12:30	Mid-Day	6:00	Continental Classroom: Atomic Age Physics

get Lots More from L&M

more body in the blend more flavor in the smoke more taste
through the filter

It's the rich-flavor leaf that does it! Among L&M's choice tobaccos there's more of this longer-aged, extra-cured leaf than even in some unfiltered cigarettes. And with L&M's modern filter — the Miracle Tip — only pure white touches your lips. Get lots more from L&M — the filter cigarette for people who really like to smoke.

Professor's Opera Premieres in New York

...world premiere of a new opera by FSU professor of music Carlisle ... adaptation of Jonathan ... will be in New York, Oct. 11. ...ith opera, Floyd worked last ... to complete orchestration for ...ree-act music drama and left ... to help get the production ... for staging. He and Mrs. Floyd ... New York until after ...

...opera is set in Columbia, S. C. ...after the end of the Civil War. ... about a Union officer ... of occupation and his conflict of allegiances between duty and conscience.

Metropolitan Opera soprano Phyllis Curtin will play the role of Celia Townsend, the girl Jonathan Wade marries. Jonathan, the Union Army officer, will be played by Theodor Uppman, a baritone, also of the Metropolitan.

Miss Curtin played in an earlier Floyd play, "Susannah," which was premiered at FSU in 1955 and later played successfully in New York and in several other cities. "Susannah" won for the composer the New York Music Critics Circle Award in 1957. Since then Floyd wrote "Wuthering Heights" on commission for the Santa Fe Opera Company.

For his achievements as one of the nation's foremost composers of opera, he was chosen as one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men of 1959 by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The 36-year-old FSU pianist and composer, a native of South Carolina, went back to many historical records of the Palmetto State as a basis for the present opera. He began "The Passion of Jonathan Wade" in 1961 on commission for production by the New York City Opera Company. Some actual historical incidents are brought into the play as episodes.

The work is more "grand opera" in scope than anything Floyd has previously written. There are 18 speaking roles, a mixed chorus, a Negro double quartet and several extra parts for Union soldiers.

The opera will be performed one or more times during the season at the New York City Center following the premiere.

CARLISLE FLOYD

Weather

Fairly nice weather throughout the day; only possible cloudiness, with temperatures ranging in the low 80's.

Liberal Forum

podium topics...

BY TED HARVEY
Flambeau Staff Writer

"A liberal is one who is neither for or against anything, or stamped on either side with a label or ism," said Dr. Allen Thompson, at the Liberal Forum's first lecture of the year.

"Being committed to the framework of a traditional position is unsatisfactory, as the person is limited to theorizing, neither required nor committed to any action," Thompson explained.

Thompson described the place and importance of the liberal mind in what he terms 'a hydrogen age.' "The liberal," he continued, "is committed to unique thought and action, not necessarily accepting the dictates of tradition, because we face a situation unlike any recorded in history.

SYSTEM INADEQUATE

"The very fact that man has been hitherto unable to master the problems of a hydrogen age must be blamed on an inadequate system of thought and values."

Continuing, he asserted that imagination is a definite quality evident in a liberal person. "He must," Thompson said, "be aware of more than just what is set before him, rejecting the idea of the unimaginative and parochial mind which never thinks."

As for liberal outlook on morality: "Problems of morality must be studied in the hard core of their meaning, rather than simply being labeled good or evil. A liberal outlook requires imaginative thought and growth beyond precepts created by the past.

PROBLEMS

Emphasizing the problems which face liberalism, Thompson continued, "The conflict of ideas is not great enough to show up traditional concepts, because we ourselves are afraid to face the challenge with controversial actions and ideas."

Thompson indicated that before anyone can benefit society through liberal thought and action, he must first come to some degree of self-understanding.

"The most difficult problem for a liberal," Thompson concluded, "is to look at himself; the greatest challenge, to know himself."

Canterbury Hour

BY DREX DOBSON
Flambeau Staff Writer

"No religious freedom in the world today is absolute."

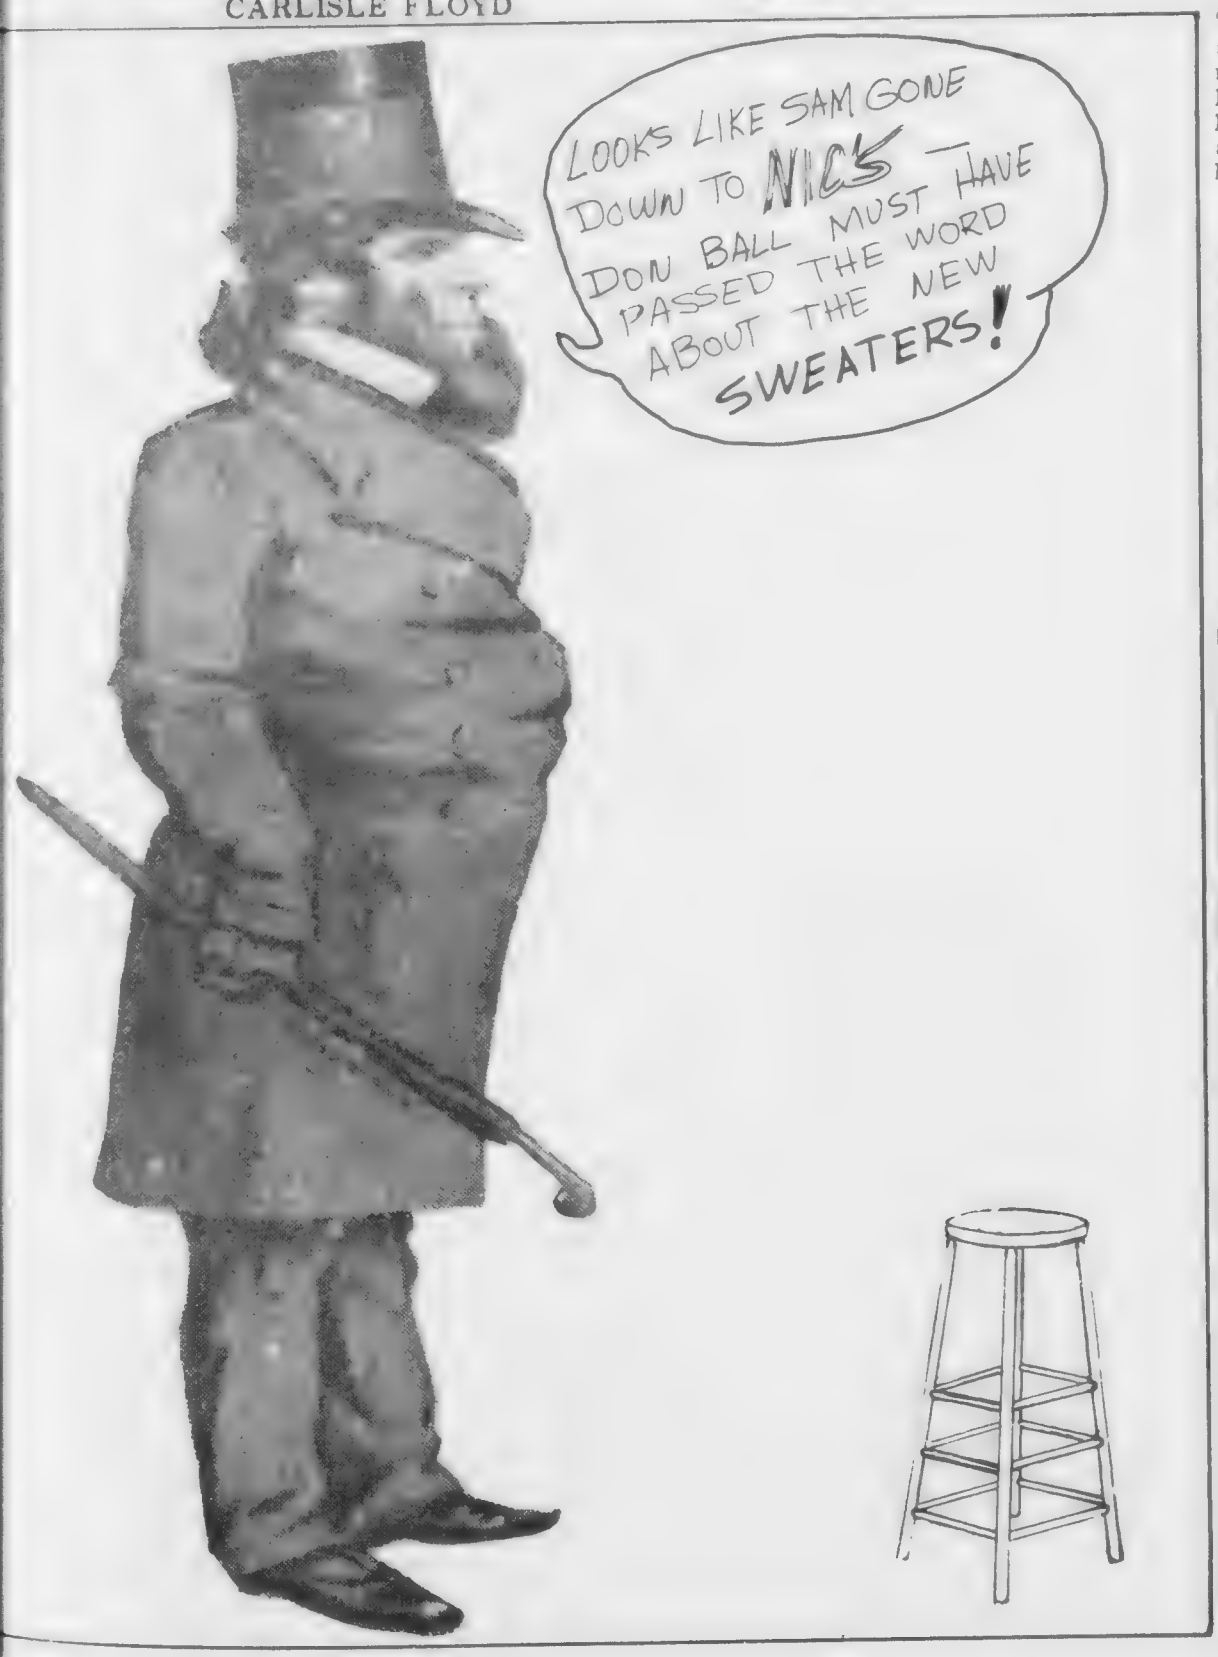
So spoke the Rev. Paul Minus, university chaplain, as he opened the Canterbury Hour lecture series: "The Problem of Church-State Relations," Sunday night.

Posing questions for the upcoming lectures, Rev. Minus opened the lecture series with a discussion of where and how church-state relations have arisen.

"In history," he cited, "religious viewpoints and political authority have presented themselves in clashing examples. From the mid-Medieval period when the Roman Catholic Church was recognized as the official church, conflicting interests have occurred."

PROTESTANT MOVEMENT

"The immediate background of our country offers an example, when in the 15th and 16th centuries people were displeased and dissension plagued the Church. The growing movement of Protestantism bounded forth and America was colonized by various religious factions."



"The authors of the U.S. Constitution recognized the factions of church-state relations from their English heritage, and provided articles regarding the establishment of a state religion."

"With the rapid growth of the Jewish and Roman Catholic communities in America after World War I, national heritage was changed and religious conflict in society and government was fervored," Rev. Minus stated. "Since 1952, civil discord over the use of religious interest in public schools has increased."

"QUESTIONED"

"Recent questioning of the use of prayer in public schools, the opening of Congress with an invocation, even the necessity of a chaplain in a state university has been questioned," Rev. Minus continued.

"The problem of neutrality and secularism offers yet another problem to be faced," he said.

Feinberg's
Semi-Annual
RECORD SALE
(10 days only - Sept. 26 thru Oct. 6)
$1.00 OFF
ON ALL $3.98–$4.98–$5.98
MONO AND STEREO RECORDS
IN OUR ENTIRE STOCK
ALL LABELS INCLUDED
FEINBERG'S
1304 N. MONROE
(ACROSS FROM JITNEY JUNGLE)

Downing Gray, Tribe Grad, Misses Am Crown Shot

A former Florida State golfer, Downing Gray, narrowly missed being named the number one amateur duffer in the United States Saturday.

Gray, who now lives in Pensacola, played his best round of the National Amateur golf championship and probably the best round in his life -- only to see his fantastic five-hole bulge deflate in the remarkable style as Labron Harris of Oklahoma put his hot putter to work.

Harris won one-up, and he will be one of four U.S. golfers competing in the World Championship in Tokyo Oct. 10-13.

The Oklahoman won five straight holes to keep Gray from taking the amateur crown that formerly belonged to Jack Nicklaus. Two-up par at the 28th hole, he cut Gray's lead to one at the 35th. A two-putt from 75 feet away on the last hole was all that Harris needed. While he putted within inches of the cup, Gray muffed a 26-footer for a birdie, which would have sent the match into overtime. Harris' second putt netted him the crown.

After shaking hands with the new champ, the apologetic Gray told friends, "I'm sorry you came all this way to see me lose."

Last Thursday, Gray advanced into the semifinals with 18-hole victories over Jim Colbert (3 and 2) and Paul Desjardins (1 up).

The Seminole alum said, "I'm glad I'm playing well now. The competition is getting tough."

The next day, he moved into the championship round with a 3 and 2 victory over Charles Coody of Texas, leading the Texan 7-up at one point. His final opponent, Harris, defeated heavily favored Billy Joe Patton, 3 and 1.

Now that the tourney is finished, Gray is ranked better than 2,051 duffers -- two less than the number that entered the Pinehurst competition.

He is still champion in his home town of Pensacola Golf Association's annual pro-am meet.

Gray, who played on a scholarship from 1958 to 1961 at FSU, was captain of the Seminoles in his senior year. Recently, he won the George Washington tournament this summer at the Capitol City Country Club.

In Gray's senior year at Florida State, he averaged a low of 72.2. His lowest scores of the year (68's) were tallied in matches with the University of Florida and in a dual match with Vanderbilt and Auburn University.

In a match with Auburn and the University of Alabama, the FSU duffer finished with a 69.

Scoreboard

Every enemy of Florida State has won at least one game this season, except for Georgia and Auburn, which has not opened yet.

The results and games scheduled this week:

AUBURN— opens against Tennessee Saturday.

CITADEL— defeated 49-0 by FSU; wins, 19-0, over Davidson; to play Presbyterian Saturday.

FURMAN— defeated Presbyterian, 40-6, and Wofford, 34-21; to play FSU Saturday.

GEORGIA TECH— defeated Clemson, 26-9; to play Florida Saturday.

GEORGIA— loses, 35-0, to Alabama; to play Vanderbilt Saturday.

HOUSTON— wins, 19-0, over Baylor; to play Texas A&M Saturday.

KENTUCKY—draws, 0-0, with FSU; to play Mississippi Saturday.

MIAMI-- defeats Pitt, 23-14; to play FSU Oct. 5.

A Statistical FSU Win

'Tucky Is Third Tie

The Kentucky Wildcats became the second team in Seminole football history to fight the Tribes to a scoreless deadlock. In addition, they became the third team to tie FSU the others being The Citadel and Florida.

So the winner can be determined only by examining the cold, hard statistics.

Unexpectedly, Florida State comes out on top. Unexpected, because Saturday was the first time that the Kentuckians had failed to soundly thrash FSU. Twice before, the Cats had won, 23-0, in 1960 and, 20-0, in 1961. And nearly every sports forecaster favored the team of Charley Bradshaw.

Although Seminoles might feel slighted because they failed to win the game, Kentucky's Bradshaw was certainly more disappointed.

Bradshaw, a former assistant Bear Bryant, said Kentucky will stress the running game, along with stressing the highly-lauded passing combination of Jerry Woolum and Tom Hutchinson.

The numbers say that the Kentuckians neither rushed nor passed well.

	FSU	Ky.
First Downs	13	6
Rushing Yardage	137	29
Passing Yardage	94	76
Passes	11-24	7-10
Passes Intecpt. By	0	1
Punts	7-33	10-36
Fumbles Lost	0	0
Yards Penalized	70	40

FLORIDA STATE

Rushing

	Runs	Net Gain
Kinderman	6	17
M. Roberts	11	46
Feely	11	47
Spooner	5	18
G. Rogers	4	20
Tensi	2	-11

Passing

	Att	Comp	In	Yds
Feely	15	8	1	60
Tensi	9	3	0	34

Receiving

	No. Caught	Yds.
Spooner	1	6
Bailey	2	31
Russom	1	34
Kinderman	1	20

KENTUCKY

Rushing

	Runs	Net Gain
Cox	7	-6
Bucaro	1	8
Bryant	10	24
Woolum	16	-6
Dunnebecke	3	5
Steward	2	4

Passing

	Att	Comp	Int	Yds
Woolum	10	7	0	76

Receiving

	No. Caught	Yds.
Cox	2	8
Hutchinson	3	51
Kamara	1	8
Gash	1	9

Tankers Have Depth Competition Is Keen

BY SETH BRAMSON
Flambeau Sports Writer

Swim Coach N. B. Stults is optimistic so far this year. "It seems," said Stults, "that we have a large number of sophomores who have a very good chance of being starters this year. Let me emphasize, though, that all strokes and all events are open. No one has any stroke nailed down yet."

Most of these sophs, who performed so commendably for the Sem's in their freshman year are expected to give a big boost to the total team effort.

The team looks good, and seemingly has a good deal of depth, but, according to Stults, "much work is needed in some strokes." The team has three divers and should have quite strong relay teams, if some of the boys can realize their potential.

There will be a great deal of competition between sophs and upperclassmen for nearly every event. Stults named the following, who were freshman record holders, as being definite possibilities for starting positions.

Gene Dayton, (400 yd. freestyle); Ted Roth, (100 yd. butterfly and medley relay); Doug Kruger, 100 yd. breast); James Mullaly, (100 yd. backstroke and medley relay); Neal Allen and James Payne, (Southern AAU champions-diving).

Others included Charles [illegible] Sherman Henderson, both [illegible] relay team members. Two other [illegible] who were quite valuable to the fr[illegible] man team last year are Ri[illegible] Green and Bob Durocher. [illegible] a breaststroker and Durocher [illegible] freestyle.

Two transfers who became el[illegible] this year are Bob Neff, from [illegible] State and Roy Davis from NYU. [illegible] men swim the breaststroke.

Workouts are becoming [illegible] strenuous each day as [illegible] tances increase. The me[illegible] not swim over the summer are [illegible] ing it easier to get ac[illegible] they go through each day [illegible]

STATE BAKER
&DELICATESE
BIRTHDAY [illegible]
WEDDING CAKE
SANDWICHES [illegible]
FOOD BOXES

Enjoy
Your Hometown
with Your Breakfast!

Now the St. Petersburg Times gets here at the crack of dawn. That means you can have the latest sports, the news of the world and all the goings-on along the Suncoast right while you're dipping into the second cup of coffee.

Costs the same as delivered at home—just 55c a week—whether you live on-campus or elsewhere in town. Just phone 222-9451 and order The Times started in the morning.

St. Petersburg Times
FLORIDA'S BEST NEWSPAPER

men recommend it to other men

Cool, clean Old Spice After Shave Lotion always gets you off to a fast, smooth start. Feels just as good between shaves as it does after shaving. Rates A-OK with dates. 1.25 and 2.00 plus tax.

Old Spice AFTER SHAVE LOTION

lo Clear-Cut Victories Indicated By Elections

rly returns from yesterday's rous elections indicated a poss- record turn-out for fall elect- but revealed no clear-cut vic- es for any candidate.

order to win in a primary tion, a candidate must have a rity of the votes cast in his .

mplete unofficial returns for shman class officers indicate e will be run-off elections in ry race. At 11 p.m. last night lots were still being counted for ine: races and no returns were ilable.

re than 2,500 students cast ballots during the day. Secretary of Elections Ron Jones said voting was steady during most of the day. He estimated that more than 60 percent of the Freshman Class cast ballots before noon. Balloting in the precinct races was heavy during the entire day.

Official tally of freshmen voting for their class president stood at 1,059. This figure was 39 votes fewer than were cast by freshmen during last year's fall elections. However, hotly contested precinct races may bring the overall total to a record high.

Jones predicted official returns may not be available until late this afternoon. Results published today in most races will become official unless recounts are called for.

Bulletin

See the elections board, at Longmire Building, today for the final results in the Precinct Senators race.

Early returns indicated there may have been as many as 100 fraudulent ballots cast. At press-time Jones said he could make no definite statement as to the reasons for these errors.

Jones complimented those students who assisted in manning the polling booths. He said more than 112 man hours were put in by approximately 80 students in supervising the balloting.

According to Jones the only difficulties encountered were with the mechanics of counting the ballots. "If these difficulties are not overcome during later counting," Jones said, "a special session of the Senate may be requested to delay run-off elections at least three days." Unless this is done run-offs will be Friday.

In run-offs Friday will be:

For President - Lief Erickson, who polled 398 votes, and John Perry Thomas, 181.

Vice President - Hohn Green, 312, and John Noppenberg, 190.

Secretary - Nancy Meyers, 221; and Anne Orum, 371.

Treasurer - Margaret DeHoff, 397; and Nancy Harris, 342.

Social Chairman - Susie Peters, 309; and Mildred "Stormy" Thurmond, 307.

Men's Senators (two) - Chuck Beck, 381; Robert E. Lee, 302; Pete Nealing, 162; and "Sparky" Sparkman, 439.

Women's Senators (two) - Candy Clifford, 266; Nancy Dale, 198; Dot Fish, 394; and Susan Worley, 239.

Defeated in yesterday's primaries were:

For President - Charles DeFoor, 62 votes; Francis A. DeTure, 39; Joel M. DeVolentine, 82; Gary Hays, 11; Bob Moon, 13; and Guy "Darry" Wood, 166.

Vice President - James Butler, 112; Duke Mader, 74; and Gene Stearns, 183.

Secretary - Louise Beddingfield, 106; and Barbara Jane Walker, 172.

Treasurer - Carl J. Domino, 106.

Social Chairman - Margaret Marsden, 157; and "Rusty" Seabolt, 98.

Men's Senator's - Jerry Huegel, 151; Pete Johnson, 59; George Partin, 21; and George Rinhart, 93.

Women's Senators - Ida May Barber, 87; Cathy Cochran, 191; and Katherine Young, 172.

HE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

X_ A No. 16 Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University Wednesday, September 26, 1962

eligious Emphasis Week bservance Is Changed format for the annual Rel- s Emphasis Week observance been changed as a result of mester system.

year, instead of bringing three r speakers to FSU for one of concentrated lecture, panel discussion programs, the Rel- s Emphasis Week Steering mittee has decided to bring e speakers to campus, one per mester.

This change is in keeping with the legislative policy that curricular and extra-curricular activities be balanced throughout all three trimesters. The new format will also make it easier for more students to attend the programs at various times during the year, Student Chairman Barbara Norman said.

Because of the change in format, the program has a new name -- the Religion in Life Series. "The fact that we are bringing three speakers to campus at different times during the year rather than just during one week, is one factor prompting the change in name. Also we think the words 'Religion in Life' are a more aduquate expression of the substance of the programs we are planning," Dr. Paul Minus, University chaplain, said.

The first speaker of the series will be Dr. Will Herberg, professor Judaic Studies and Social Philosophy at Drew University. He will be at FSU Oct. 17 through 19.

"Religion in American Culture" will be the theme of Herberg's lectures.

(continued on page 4)

United Fund Drive Is Set

rida State University launched 1962 United Fund campaign last k with a kickoff rally in the ars Lecture Hall.

re 250 departmental workers n work on the initial drive to- rd FSU's 1962 United Fund goal $14,500.

previous years, FSU has estab- ed the reputation of being the t major UF division to reach its ... ear University faculty staff members contributed ,700, well above the goal.

a brief address to the FSU work- , United Fund Chairman Tom

(continued on page 5)

42 Candidates Approved For Homecoming Queen

[illegible] senior women have been approved by the Registrar's Office eligible candidates for the Homecoming Queen contest.

oting will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday at Westcott and in the Stu- t Center. If necessary there will be a run-off next week.

erril Mead, chairman of the contest, explained that pictures of all the testants will be posted at the voting areas either this afternoon or orrow morning. A list of each candidate's activities will be placed [illegible] her photograph.

he object in voting for a Homecoming Queen is to choose the senior an who is most representative of the ideal coed at FSU," said Miss d. She added that the Homecoming Queen is more than just a beautiful . She should also have the qualities of leadership, service to FSU character.

ive coeds will be elected to be in the Homecoming Queen Court. The didate with the highest number of votes will be selected to reign over mecoming festivities Nov. 2-4, as Queen.

he official candidates for the contest are: Martha Bishop, Mildred hop, Barbara Brice, Carolyn Bridges, Peggy Bruce, Norma Brunsell, olyn Caldwell, Marcia Callison, Beverly Calvert, Carol Cochran, Karen ar, Joyce Faggioni.

arolyn Fain, Evelyn Foy, Jane Gambill, Diane Goodwin, Ann Harbin, rtha Lynn Harris, Carol Haught, Barbara Hepp, Beverly Himes, Bar- a Hornbeck, Kay Isaly, Dorthey D. Jones, Dianne Klinck, Peg Lane. ricia Laurence, Lynn McClaren, Kitty Miller, Francine Millinor, Ginny wton, Barbara Norman, Rosemary Plunket, Jan Quinn, Lou Rich, Judy dle, Ann Schloss, Nancy Sindon, Reville Slaydin, Joanne Smaltz, Fair- Smathers and Paula Walker.

he identity of the Queen will be revealed at her coronation Nov. 2, night of the Pow Wow.

AN INTERESTED COED CASTS HER BALLOT . . . yesterday noon, as the Fall elections went into full swing. This photo was taken at the polling place at the Student Center, but the scene was the same all over campus. (Photo by Bruce Tibbo, Flambeau Photo Editor)

Mississippi Situation Explodes

Gov. Barnett Faces Contempt Citation

WASHINGTON- A contempt of court citation will be sought by the Justice Department against Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi, spokesman said last night.

He will be charged with defying a court order and twice attempting to block the enrolling of Negro James Meredith at the all-white University of Mississippi.

Barnett had previously denied Meredith admittance after Federal Courts said he must be enrolled. The State College Board, under threat of contempt citation, yielded to the court.

However, Barnett met Meredith today when the Negro went to the board office in Jackson. The governor declined to accept copies of Federal Court orders, turned Meredith away and said he was acting under state law.

The first time Barnett intervened to block Meredith's admission. US officials ignored him saying his actions had no legal effect. They lodged charges instead against Ole Miss officials. The circuit court has now added the governor's name to those of university officials and trustees already cited by the court for contempt.

Meredith was accompained by a U.S. Justice Department attorney who warned the governor of the court orders. Barnett said he was complying with state laws, state constitutional provisions and the Tenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution.

Barnett said he had interposed the sovereignty of the state in this case as a shield over state officials to protect them from action by the federal government.

Barnett also said he is acting under authority empowering him to prevent violence, breach of peace, and to protect the dignity of the state, and of Meredith. U.S. courts have held in the past that the "Doctrine of Interposition" is not valid.

Barnett was cheered as he left the State College Board's building yesterday. Crowds yelled, "Go get 'em, Ross."

Tally Ho Picture Deadline Is Set

Registration for senior pictures for the 1963 "Tally Ho" is being extended until Friday, since only about one-third of the senior class pictures have been made.

Seniors may register today through Friday between 2 and 5 p.m. on the fourth floor of Longmire. Pictures will be taken today and Monday and Tudesday of next week. Seniors who have missed appointments may have pictures made on any of these days.

Underclassmen and graduate students may reserve copies of the 1963 "Tally Ho" any afternoon this week.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Touchy Situation

The Cuban crisis has placed President Kennedy and the Federal Government in a touchy situation concerning "blockading." Already, we are engaged in an economic blockade that has deprived the island of its vital sugar trade, and no one can dispute our right to refuse to trade with Castro.

But several senators, such as Dodd, Keating, et. al., have been loudly crying for strict measures that fall just short of invasion. One of these measures is an actual blockade of shipping which is bringing weapons to the Communist island.

And here the touchy situation is created.

First, President Kennedy would have to determine if the mere presence of offensive weapons is a threat to the United States and its Allies. If potentially the Cuban missiles were harmful to the U.S., then it would seem that the same conclusion would be reached concerning Russian ships that view our atomic tests, satellite launchings, and shorelines.

And second, the President would have to determine if the Unites States has the right to cut off Castro from the rest of the world in regard to the shipping of a particular import.

Lincoln placed a blockade about the South during the Civil War. Since he believed the secessionist States to be part of the U.S., he did not violate the ideal of open seas. But several American voices were raised during World War I when American ships were fired upon, stopped, and searched in waters near England and Germany. Many Americans, noticeably the ones with commercial interests, complained of the blockade around Germany during World War I--a blockade that helped to starve the people into a truce.

Those that thumb through history books get a strange feeling viewing the Cuban situation . . . of how history repeats itself, but perhaps in a reverse manner.

In the 16th century, Spanish speaking people were invading an English speaking people, and the Monarch of England, Elizabeth I, warned the Spanish Ambassador: "The use of the sea and air is common to all; neither can a title to the ocean belong to any people or private persons, forasmuch as neither nature nor public use and custom permit any possession thereof."

And another repeat of history (which in the final analysis will probably overshadow the "open sea" implications of the matter), only 60 or so years ago the United States decided Spanish dominated Cuba was too evil and the Cuban people needed to be freed. HD

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor | Joan Abbott, News Editor | John Schaffner, Managing Editor | Howard Denson, Sports Editor

Asst. Managing Editors.....Jim Smith, Sharon Blackwell
Asst. News Editors.....Lana Murray, Nancy Olson
Asst. Sports Editor.....John Wood
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, John McCotter, Matt Straub, Joe Rice, Lawrence Mahoney, Mary Ann Stevens.
News Staff - Bonnie Shiplett, Gayle Motes, Mary Angel, Bill Smart, Mary Grossenbacher, Sarah Gordon, Susie Rhoades, Lucia English, Jack Simmons, Irma Wehle, Ted Harvey, Thera Brackney, Mirianne Johnson, Iris Anderson, Frank Coney, Leslie McNevin, Bob Cornet, Drex Dobson.

Sports Staff - Shirley Hardison, Seth Bramson.
Photographers - Art Campbell, Vic Howland, Fred McDonald
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Mabry Ashley
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeithen, Don Dughi, John Morgan.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Allan Dermott

Arguements Ignored

This is the second in a five part series on the seven important factors Karl Marx ignored when setting up his arguments against capitalism. Part one simply told why Marx concluded that capitalism results in inevitable consequences of depression, imperialism and/or war. It also pointed out that the danger in this analysis of Marx is it is a half-truth. He did not consider everything that needed to be considered in order to draw the conclusions he reached.

The first ignored factor is the dynamic nature of money. Marx did not consider that money is not static--that it can be used over and over again and will distribute more and more goods. The best way to explain is by an illustration.

Dr. Fred Schwarz gives a perfect example: "A man...wrote a check for a hundred dollars without having any money in the bank. With it he bought a certain article. The man from whom he purchased the article took the check and, without cashing it at the bank, used it to purchase certain goods. These he sold for one hundred and twenty dollars, making a profit of twenty dollars on the deal. The person to whom he gave the check did likewise. This happened ten times, each person making a profit of twenty dollars, before the check finally reached the bank where it was dishonored. The ten people who had handled it got together and decided that to avoid trouble, each of them would contribute ten dollars to cover the check. This was done; the hundred dollars was paid, and each of them was richer by ten dollars. This story simply illustrates that the question of credit and rate of circulation of money must be considered."

The second factor is the role of psychology in the economy. Marx gave little attention to this aspect of economic theory. This factor can also best be explained by an illustration.

I once saw a movie in which a multimillionaire owned a large steel industry. Somehow a newspaper reporter misquoted the owner, and the people made a mad rush on the stock market to sell their steel stock. The owner saw a depression coming on and investigated. He had the reporter retract the false report. Soon all was harmonious again.

The next two of these factors will be discussed in part three. They are (3) the relation of advertising to distribution and (4) the consumer credit.

Mary Stevens

FSU's Saga -- San Pans

The time--5 a.m. October 21, 1968
The place--FSU

The calm hush of gray dawn is broken only by the muffled beeping of an early rising san pan on the glittering Student Center Bay. The crystal glitter of the water laughs gently at the swaying yellow lanterns attached to the little boats.

Some forgotten laundry from the previous day can be seen stretching from boat to boat. A deep well of joy stirs in my heart as I try to hold back happy tears. "Yes," I say to myself, "we've finally done it. We've finally solved our housing problem and our crying need for a new pool in one feld swoop."

This new idea in community living has brought prosperity and notoriety to FSU. The concession stands along the Deep End are obviously doing a booming towel and scuba equipment business. And the newspapers on the rack by the diving board proclaim Senator Lon Peturnia's new slogan, "A bed pan in every san pan!" Yes, it's a happy sight before me and I know that all's right with FSU.

The early rising san pan docks at the six foot mark and a gung ho freshman steps out to greet the dawn with a stretch and a yawn. It's good to see people so eager to be on time for six o'clock classes.

Gerry Dobson

Reapportion U. N.

We hear a lot of gum and drum beating for reapportionment these days, but no one yet has even mentioned the grossest case of malapportionment of all ... the United Nations General Assembly. It would do my heart good for some of those who feel that our state has been apportioned badly (which it has been) to use some of those "so many per cent of the people elect a majority of the members," or "we provide most of the money but hardly have any voice" arguments on the U.N. The results would be ridiculous. But no one will do this.

For a while the state legislatures are easy targets for the liberals because they are largely controlled by rural and conservative interests, but the United Nations is a sacred cow, not to be questioned. When the United Nations is criticized, all we ever get in rebuttal are vague generalities about it being the "last chance to avoid nuclear destruction," or some other equally emotional and unprovable alibi.

But let us look at the record. How does the U.N. actually stack up as the "guardian of world peace?" We have been lulled to sleep by the technicality of "majority rule" in the General Assembly and have ignored the paramount interests of the West. In Mali, Gabon and what have you, the U.N. has interfered in the internal bowing to the tightly reasoned logic of delegates from Ghana, Mali, Gabon and what have you, the U.N. has interfered in the internal affairs of nations, deprived, in the "interests of world peace" peoples of their right to self-determination, as in Katanga, and have supported an army which has committed documented atrocities against innocent persons. These atrocities are made all the worse because they have gove unpunished and ignored.

We have witnessed the atrocious hypocrisy of an organization which has ignored the USSR's agression in Hungary, and Red China's in Tibet, but which has applauded India's in Goa, and priased the brutal crimes of left wing terrorists in Angola, merely because the nation attacked was considered a "colonial power." But the liberals continue to chant, in unison, "the U.N. is the only hope for world peace."

Our financial support of this ideological and financial deadbeat organization reminds me of the little fat boy who tried to win the friendship of the gang by treating the members to ice cream, only to be pushed in the mud outside the ice cream parlar. The next day, still desperately wanting to be liked, and not knowing how else to go about, he again treated the gang, with the same results.

So let's talk about reapportionment ... and let's start at the top, and give the fat boy who pays the bills some say-so.

Matt Straub

Rush Tempt Mass Theft

A lot of things happened last ... What with the Greek rush and ensuing complications, I'm sure ... a lot more didn't.

Had I been a thief, ... sweaters and enough umbrellas ... make a circus tent, could have ... mine. The only thing that ... tween me and riches was ... of get-away transportation. ... I have access only to three ... and a bike.

* * * * *

Ken van Assenderp ... s.a.m. He won his ... Body President ... of his personality ... But--why can't he ... end of the football ... playing of "Hymn to the ... Gold" like a good many ... do?

* * * * *

The local expresso spot, ... fled Knight, was the host la ... day night for an army of ... present for a jam session. ... teen hornmen crowded ... lay down some sound ... rons. This town needs ... same thing.

The highlight of the ... curred when everybody ... didn't like rock'n'roll.

Hidden back in the dept. ... Baffled Knight's crowd was ... ly Tallahassee police. ... sucking up one or two ... fee, he promptly went outside ... gave out three parking ...

For those of you ... enough to get parking ... quote the nice little poem insc... on the back of each ticket.

"Mr. Motorist take your ... You just can't stop on a ... Clever, isn't it?

* * * * *

Have you ever noticed the two ... nons on the steps of Tallahassee's lovely Capitol Building? They're quite a Pair.

Not long ago, I went ... and climbed all over them. I ... ced that one, if loaded ... would blow Howard ... the map, and the other, ... a little, would bounce ...

Around the mouth of each can ... stamped, "C.A. and Co., 219 ... 1863." I figured C.A. stood for ... federate Army, except for ... On the top of the cannon, ver... ly stamped, was "U.S."..... ... Florida could have gotten ... federate ones!

* * * * *

A freshman friend of mine ... had his first taste of college ... While riding his scooter ... Hall, some suave fellow ... in a car hurled an apple core ... his ear. I'd like to quote ... but his language concerning ... cident is a mite crude.

* * * * *

What ever happened to Little ... and the "Lo-commode-she..."?

Letters Policy

Letters to the editor and student comment are welcomed by "Flambeau." We firmly believe students should have a ... through which their opinions ... views can be aired.

We will attempt to print all letters received that meet standards of good taste, conciseness of thought and quality of presentation. In addition, letters must be held to a maximum of 250 words.

At no time will letters containing material which is libelous or in bad taste be printed.

Bill Greenwood Comes Eye To Eye With Hurricane

[illegible] CONEY
Flambeau Staff Writer

[illegible] flying into a stone [illegible] was over ninety miles [illegible] it tossed the plane a[illegible] to make abrupt [illegible] of 50 feet or more."

s is the way Bill Greenwood, [illegible] described what fly[illegible] hurricane felt like. He through the season's first hur[illegible] Naval Super Constella[illegible] was working this summer as a [illegible]rter for radio station WMBR. [illegible] Commander Max of the Hurricane Warning Ser[illegible]go along on a reconnaissance [illegible]ricane Anna.

[illegible] PLANE invitation came at 11 a.m., [illegible]. Bill arrived at [illegible]irport and boarded the 90-ton The plane, used only by the Hurricane Hunter Squadron, [illegible] radar units, [illegible] manned by two complete a team of meteorologists, [illegible], making a total of 26 men lying about 100 miles east [illegible]ville, the Constellation [illegible]. The contact was made off the [illegible]arleston, S. C. The position of the storm was recorded as east of the North Carolina coast. Anna was moving 22 miles an hour in a north-northwesterly direction, extremely fast for a storm of Anna's size, Bill said.

Flying at an altitude of 10,000 feet, the Hurricane Hunter caught up with the storm off Atlantic City's coast at 3:30 p.m.

After being tossed about by the storm, the Naval craft climbed to 13,000 feet. At this height it was "real calm, as there were no winds from the hurricane up that high," Bill described.

When the co-pilot left his seat to get some coffee, Bill was allowed to sit in his place. "The plane's windshield gave me 180 degree view of the storm," Bill said. "From this view, I could actually see the center of the storm, around which were the rainclouds that made up the heavy winds of the hurricane," he described.

"The clouds were so thick that they looked more like snow than a destructive wind. Everyone aboard, after seeing the clouds, commented that they looked thick enough to walk on," Bill continued.

CIRCLED EYE

For half an hour the plane circled above the eye of the hurricane while the team of meteorologists took measurements of Anna's movement and intensity. About 4:30 p.m., Bill related, gas began to run low, and observations were cut short as the plane set a course for Jacksonville.

During the return flight, Bill talked with the weather experts who had compiled a new set of figures on the storm. At this time, they declined to make a prediction as to the probable course of the hurricane. Bill, however, worked out a prediction that the storm would change course and move away from New York.

Since the transmitting facilities at Jacksonville could not receive signals from the hunter plane, Bill established radio contact with Miami. His message was first taperecorded and then relayed to station WMBR by telephone. The Jacksonville station in turn released the story to CBS radio network, station WWDC in Washington D. C. and New York's WCBS.

Teacher Scholarship Application Blanks Can Be Obtained

Application blanks for State Teaching Scholarships can obtained in 208 Education.

All application blanks must have the signatures of the student's County Superintendent, an official of the FSU infirmary, of three references and of the FSU Registrar.

The students are expected to bring the completed application to the test center--the School of Education Lecture Hall (Room 201)--Oct. 16, for the competitive examination.

The test will be given from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Official excuses from classes will be given to the students taking the test.

Students preparing to teach in the public schools of Florida whose parents are legal residents of the state are eligible.

Henry IV Cast Is Selected

The final cast for "Henry IV Part 1" has been chosen and rehearsals have begun.

Henry IV is to be played by Hal Poe. Others in the cast include: J. Swain as Prince Hal; Sam Baker, Prince John; Jim Martain, Westmoreland; Robert Wenman, Sir Walter Blunt; Albert Smelko, Worchester; Harlan Shaw, Northumberland; Stanley DeHart, Hotspur; John Hofmann, Mortimer; Michael Gallagher, Douglas; Dean Patterson, Glendower; John McCotter, Vernon; Sammy Kilman, Falstaf; Sam Baker, Poins; Rhett Bryson, Bardolph; George Bew, Vintner; Rhett Bryson, Francis; George Bew and Ashley Ahl, travelers, Jerry Walter, Gadshill; Joann Gresham and Linda Diz, messengers; Louise Beddingfield, servant; Pat McCoy, Lady Percy; Mary Crawford, Lady Mortimer; Janine Chapman, Mistress Quickly; and Howard Gregory, Peto.

Director of the production will be Richard Fallon. Other production assistants are: Judy Harrison, assistant director; Rhett Bryson, stage manager; Paul Bremer, fencing instructor; Ashley Ahl, lighting; Charles Reimer, scene designer; Dr. Harlan Shaw, costume designer; and George Bew, musical director.

Fallon plans to present an unusual interpretation of the play in that he is deleting the tragedy of Hotspur and will accent the human comedy of the production. He plans to stress the contrast between the social groups around Falstaf and Hotspur.

Hardy Talks To Marketing Club

Jim Hardy, FSU Placement director, will address the Marketing Club tonight at 7:30 p.m. in 220 Business. His topic will be "Business is Looking For You."

In addition to explaining the services of the Placement office, Hardy will preview the companies that will interview here this trimester. The necessary forms for interview applications will be given out at the meeting to all interested.

Today's Weather

Increasing cloudiness, with possible scattered showers later in the day. Temperatures will be in the low 80's.

Tastes Great because the tobaccos are!

FOR A GENTLER, SMOOTHER TASTE
ENJOY THE LONGER LENGTH OF CHESTERFIELD KING

The smoke of a Chesterfield King mellows and softens as it flows through longer length . . . becomes smooth and gentle to your taste.

21 GREAT TOBACCOS MAKE 20 WONDERFUL SMOKES!
Vintage tobaccos grown, aged, and blended mild . . . made to taste even milder through the longer length of Chesterfield King.

CHESTERFIELD KING
TOBACCOS TOO MILD TO FILTER, PLEASURE TOO GOOD TO MISS

FASHION CLEANERS and LAUNDRY
1317 JACKSON BLUFF RD.
904 WEST THARPE ST.
WE COVER THE CITY
FAIREST IN PRICE
FASTEST IN SERVICE
UNIVERSITY SERVICE
PHONE 224-4940

CROW'S STORE
1902 Lake Bradford Rd.
Near Alumni Village

GRADE A T-BONE	$0.69 lb.
T-BONE STEAK	$0.69 lb.
SIRLOIN STEAK	$0.69 lb.

NO CHANGES in PRICES
ALL MEATS GUARANTEED

Today's News Roundup

Flambeau News Services

AROUND THE WORLD

LONDON-- Fire is reported to have broken out aboard the Swiss freighter which is carrying 44 survivors of Sunday's U.S. plane crash in the Atlantic.

HAVANA-- Cuba's Communist boss, Fidel Castro, says the Soviet Union and his country plan to build a port in Cuba as headquarters for a joint Atlantic fishing fleet. Castro says the Russians will use the port under a ten-year contract which surely will continue much longer than ten years.

WASHINGTON-- In Washington, the White House said it had no comment on the Cuban announcement. Western authorities suspect Soviet fishing fleets of doing considerable spying around the world, using radar and electronic equipment.

BUENOS AIRES-- A new dissension among the Argentine forces is blocking President Guido in his efforts to impose civilian authority over the military. There is spreading dissension in all three services over Guido's new military appointments. Guido has been patching up his government following his victory last week in crushing a military rebellion aimed at crushing his regime.

NEW YORK-- In New York Secretary of State Rusk and the Soviet foreign minister have talked privately for the first time since July. A U.S. spokesman says Laos and the Nuclear Test Ban issue were the only subjects discussed. They met for more than three hours.

ACROSS THE NATION

WASHINGTON-- The Senate has passed the compromise Farm Bill which contains only about half the authority President Kennedy asked to control grain surpluses. However, Kennedy is expected to sign the measure which has been sent him.

TYLER, TEXAS-- A judge in Tyler, Texas has granted bankrupt financier Billie Sol Estes a postponement until October 22 of his trial on state charges of fraud, swindling and embezzelment. The judge said he granted the delay because 30 defense witnesses failed to.
ma federal judge has refused to dismiss a suit seeking

TALLAHASSEE-- A federal judge has refused to dismiss a suit seeking to force integration of Leon county schools.

NEW PORT, R.I.-- "Weatherly" successfully defended the America's cup of yachting for the United States by defeating the Australian challenger "Gretel" and winding up the best of seven race series.

Biophysics Building Is New Link

BY BOB CORNET

Flambeau Staff Writer

The Institute of Molecular Biophysics, FSU's newest building, represents the first link in a chain of buildings in the new "science complex."

Within five years, 11 more connected buildings will be erected consolidating the University's science department. With this goal in mind, the building was designed not so much to exhibit an architect's "artistic talent," but as a functional member of the science community.

Institute Director Dr. Michael Kasha and the architect made a study of similar buildings throughout the country and incorporated some of their features into this building. They were also able to foresee and avoid certain problems--especially that of overexposure.

In most of the buildings studied, the architects had overused glass--glass that lets in sunlight, spoiling experiments. To avoid this problem, windows in the new building were placed only where necessary. This causes the irregular pattern on the east and west sides.

Another unique feature is a power shaft running the length of each floor to facilitate wiring changes since all powerlines are located in the shaft. Work area has been given to graduate students in the form of individual work alcoves. The stairwells have been constructed so that corridors connecting the future buildings can be erected from each floor.

The Institute will house fifteen permanent professors, three visiting professors, sixty graduate students and twenty doctorate fellows. They will be involved in graduate research in biology on the molecular level.

Fifty-two of these people are moving from the old Science Bldg. where they have been fighting cramped quarters. The original institute (top three floors of the Science Bldg.) was intended for seven instructors. It now has 152 residents. With the new move this still leaves an overload of 93.

Finances for the $1.1 million building came from a $475 thousand federal grant, which was matched by state funds, institute funds, and money left over from the Math-Meteorology Bldg. construction.

Enjoy

Your Hometown with Your Breakfast!

Now the St. Petersburg Times gets here at the crack of dawn. That means you can have the latest sports, the news of the world and all the goings-on along the Suncoast right while you're dipping into the second cup of coffee.

Costs the same as delivered at home—just 55c a week—whether you live on-campus or elsewhere in town. Just phone 222-9451 and order The Times started in the morning.

St. Petersburg Times
FLORIDA'S BEST NEWSPAPER

Senior Notice

All Seniors interested in graduating either in April or in August should check immediately with the Registrar's Office. Hours, quality points, and graduation requirements must be verified in the Registrar's Office before a Senior will be classified as eligible for graduation.

...Rel. Emphasis

(continued from page 1)

In preparation for his lectures an interdenominational study group will begin meeting this Sunday evening to discuss Herberg's book, "Protestant-Catholic-Jew."

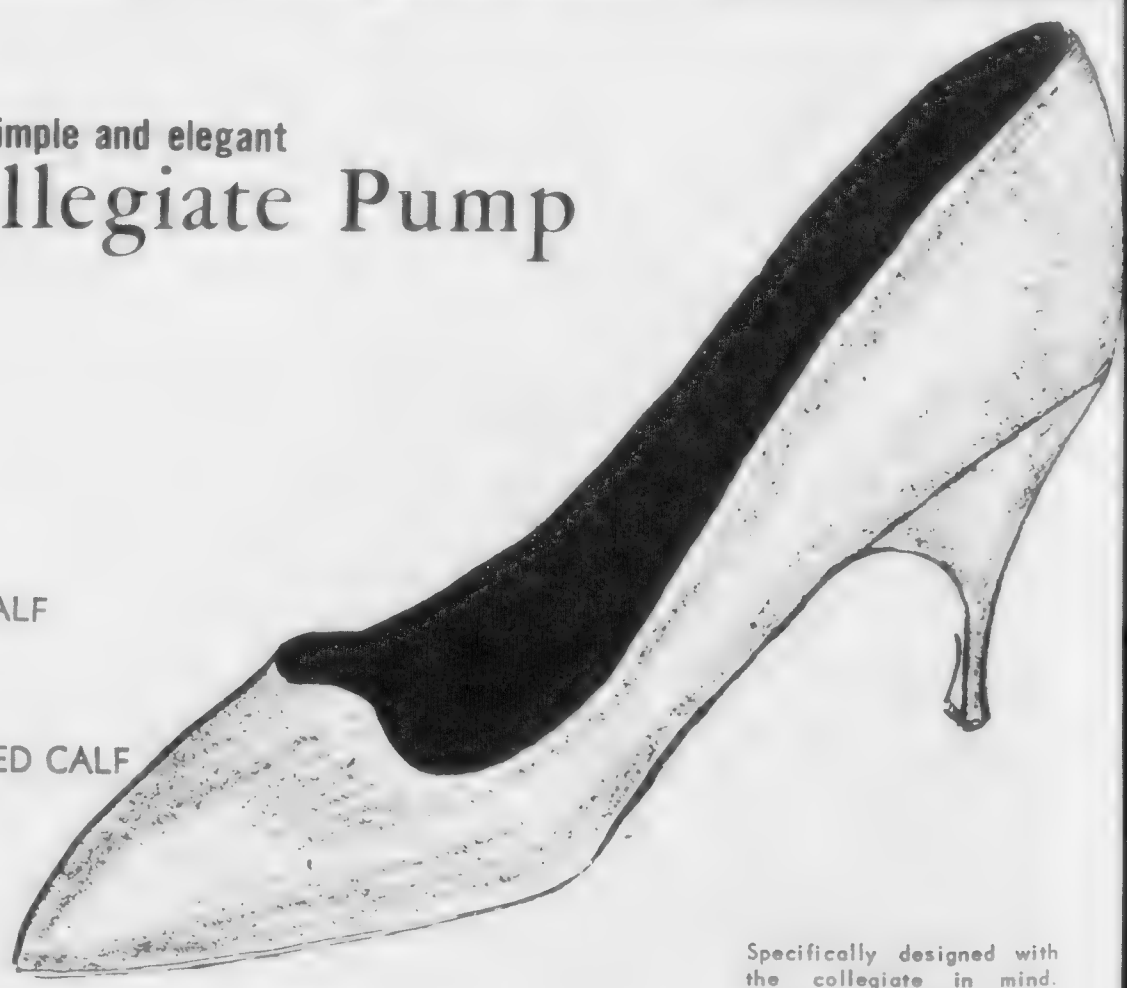
The study group will meet on three successive Sunday evenings at 8:30 p.m. in Longmire Club Room. Study leaders will be Jackson Lee Ice, Dr. Edward Deslodge and Chaplain Minus.

The group is open to all students. Students should sign up for the study group by Friday afternoon at the University Chaplain's Office, 245 Suwannee Arcade, Ext. 2155.

Other speakers in the Religion in Life Series will be Dr. Chad Walsh, poet in residence at Beloit College, Wisconsin, who will speak on "Religion in Contemporary Literature," in February; and Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, executive head of the United Presbyterian Church of America, who will speak on "The Future of the Churches," in May.

MILLER'S Bootery

simple and elegant



The Collegiate Pump

16.99

By Mezzio

- BLACK POLISHED CALF
- DARK BROWN POLISHED CALF
- RED POLISHED CALF
- NAVY POLISHED CALF
- CAMEL ANTIQUED TEXTURED CALF

All Sizes
also in black patent or white calf

Specifically designed with the collegiate in mind. Turned edges with a neat Smoothlook. Medium heel cut to look high. Taper toe not-too-pointed — not-too-round. It's the low cut comfortable shoe every girl is asking for.....

ours alone

MILLERS

Corner Monroe at College

New Woodrow Wilson Program Steps Up Pace

...ew fellowship program of the ...drow Wilson National Fellow... Foundation is aimed at step... ...up the pace of producing col... ...teachers.

...der the new program, the Wood... ... Wilson Dissertation Fellow... ...s offer financial aid to advanc... ...graduate students seeking the ... degree. The awards, made ...ssible by a recent grant from the ...on Foundation, will provide re... cipients complete financial independence during the time they are meeting their final doctoral degree requirements.

200 AWARDS

Up to 200 awards will be made annually, at a total cost of $500,000. They will be limited to former Woodrow Wilson fellowship winners studying in Humanistic or Social Science fields.

Only students who give promise of completing the Ph.D. in four years or less will be considered. Currently, the average time for degree completion in these fields is from six to eight years.

"The Foundation began experimenting with the program last spring," Dr. Alan D. Ferguson, head of the new program, said. "We received 88 applications, made 24 awards, rejected 31 and are keeping the others in a pending status until they qualify fully.

CANDIDATES

"Now we are ready to launch a full-scale competition. The deans of 83 graduate schools have been asked to nominate candidates. Awards will be announced by Deb. 1, 1962."

Ferguson said that the program is expected to show that doctoral studies can be completed in four years or less.

He added, "If four years should become the norm, we will be able to produce more college teachers than before, and by accelerating their training we will make the whole profession attractive to larger numbers of candidates."

...United Fund Drive

...continued from page 1)

...ams said "this institution--its ...lty and staff--has set the pace ...years." Adams said, "I need ...suggest how you organize your ...a.m. You know the answers. ...e to doubt what the FSU record ...e."

...-chairmen of the FSU drive are ...sident Gordon W. Blackwell and ... Robert O. Lawton, associate ... the College of Arts and ...ences.

..."We believe in this coordinated ...rt most sincerely," Dr. Black... said. "It is not just a cliche ...s that the community and the ...versity are interdependent. The ...ted Fund campaign will help make ... a better community in which to ... each of you, to each of your ...ors, and to persons yet to ...e into our community." Black... said.

..."We have had a good organization ...the past and have gone over the ... The president pointed out to the ... workers., "but I want to warn you that the pressure is on...the competition (among the divisions) is keen."

Lawton expressed appreciation to the FSU workers for "your willingness to serve in this very worthy campaign. You are the key people and our campaign will be a success insofar as you are successors," Lawton said.

Members of the steering committee of FSU's United Fund drive are Thomas R. Lewis, Joseph Hooten, Owen Sellers, N. Orwin Rush, Bill Cullom, Ralph Richard, Hugh Adams, John Carey, Frank Glenn, Edwin R. Hartz, Charles Rovetta, Wesley Vordenberg, Hortense Glenn, Eugene Boyce, Homer Black and Patrick Hogan.

Royal Ray is chairman of FSU's progress reports committee.

Agencies supported by the United Fund are Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Associated Charities, Red Cross, Mental Health, YMCA, Retarded Children, Salvation Army, Junior Museum and Milk Fund.

Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Competition Has Now Begun

Competition for the 1,000 first-year graduate study awards offered by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation for 1963-64 is now under way.

The purpose of the Fellowships is to attract men and women to the profession of college teaching. The Foundation primarily supports candidates in the humanities and social sciences.

Funds to support Wilson Fellows come from a recent grant of $27,500,000 to the Wilson Foundation by the Ford foundation. Fellows receive a stipend of $1,500 for the academic year. Tuition and fees are paid directly to the Fellow's graduate school. A Fellow is also paid $500 for his wife's support, $400 for his first child and $200 for each additional child.

QUALIFICATIONS

Eligible for nomination are men and women of outstanding intellectual promise. Qualifications include: native ability, solid undergraduate preparation for graduate study leading to the Ph.D. degree, competence in foreign languages and other required subjects such as mathematics, ability to write essays and reports on independent work accomplished.

Faculty members have until Oct. 31 to nominate candidates for the awards. The candidate's name, address, college and proposed field of graduate study should be sent to the regional chairman, Dr. Charles D. Hounshell, 402 Administration Bldg., Emory University, Atlanta 22, Ga.

All nominees will be notified to return an information form immediately after receipt and to file other credentials no later than Nov. 20. By the end of December, a candidate must have applied to at least one graduate school in the United States or Canada.

Interviews of about 25 percent of the nominees will be held in January. Notification of awards and honorable mentions will be sent out by March 15.

Further information may be obtained from Dr. Weymouth R. Jordan, head of the History Dept., campus representative for the Woodrow Wilson Foundation.

New ID Cards Are Distributed Today-Saturday

Students may pick up their photo I.D. cpads beginning today at 8:30 a.m. in the second floor foyer of Westcott Auditorium.

The schedule for picking up the cards is as follows:

Wednesday - 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.
film number 10,001 to 11,098
12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. - 11,102 to 12,580
Thursday - 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.
20,001 to 22,510
12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. - 30,001 to 31,524
Friday - 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.
31,644 to 32,162
and 32,168 to 32,537
and 12,603 to 12,615
1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. - All film numbers not listed above

The photo I.D. cards are in color this year, Kenna said, so students can be more easily identified. He said the color I.D. cards cost only $.02 more per card than the black-and white cards used last year.

Student Insurance

Student Insurance will be available in Room 210 Longmire from 3:00 until 5:00 Monday through Friday. Deadline date will be Sept. 30.

Today

The Faculty Christian Fellowship luncheon will be held in the Trophy Room, at 12:30 p.m.

* * * * *

The Student Senate will convene in Longmire Auditorium at 4 p.m.

* * * * *

Social Welfare Club will meet in the Longmire Club Room at 7 p.m.

* * * * *

Modeling Board's fall fashion show will be held in Longmire Auditorium at 7 p.m.

Dr. John Rudd will lecture to the Young Americans for Freedom, in the Library Lecture Hall at 8 p.m.

* * * * *

"How the Jazz Soloist Complements the Blues Singer," at 8 p.m. on WFSU-TV.

* * * * *

The FSU Forum will discuss "Florida and Higher Education," at 8:30 p.m. on WFSU-FM.

* * * * *

Honors students and faculty will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Large Lounge of Longmire, to hear Dr. Michael Kasha speak on "Molecules and Men."

* * * * *

"Fall Fashion Show," presented by FSU Modeling Board, will be held tonight at 7 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

* * * * *

The Society of Scullions will entertain at a reception for all present and prospective majors in the' Department of Hotel and Restaurant Management on Wednesday, Sept. 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the Weichelt Lounge, School of Business.

WFSU-TV Schedule

9:45 El Espanol Es Facil - Spanish I
10:00 Americanism vs. Communism
10:30 El Espanol Es Facil - Spanish II
10:45 Seeing Music
11:00 American Economy
11:30 Junior College Spanish
12:00 Geology 107
12:30 Mid-day
1:15 Seeing Music
1:30 Social Studies
2:00 Humanities
2:30 Americanism vs. Communism
----------Sign Off----------
4:30 What's New
5:00 Seeing Music
5:55 News
6:00 Continental Classroom: Atomic Age Physics-
6:30 American Economy
7:00 Humanities
7:30 Art and Artist
8:00 Jazz Casual
8:30 Montage
9:00 Ragtime Era
9:30 Music Hall
10:00 Ten O'clock Report

Shop Thursday and Friday
Closed All day Saturday September 29th

the V-V shape of shirts

McGREGOR

Royal Tones Coat Shirt

New dimensions in sport shirts... longer and leaner. V-tapered waist fits better, looks trimmer. Longer shirttail stays put. 100% cotton in a variety of checks, blocks, glens and madras patterns. Coat model with panel front, authentic button-down collar.

Long or short sleeve. From $5.

Turner's doorway to fashion

116 s. monroe street tallahassee florida

STATE BAKERY & DELICATESEN

BIRTHDAY and WEDDING CAKES
SANDWICHES and FOOD BOXES

SUTTON'S HAIR FASHIONS
Corner College and Monroe
phone 224-8651

SUTTON'S BEAUTY S'ALON
123 E. Fifth Ave.
phone 224-4235

Mr. Sutton invites the students of discriminating taste in hair designs to come by or phone for an appointment.

Mr. Sutton
Evva Averett
Mary Vesta Williams
Wayne Leverette
Melanie Leverette
Louise Braswell

Several members of the Chiefs, the offensive unit, watch the Renegades run through drills in preparation for Saturday's game with the Furman Paladins in Tallahassee. (Photo by Emmette Jackson)

Away Game Ducats On Sale - Melton

Costs and procedures for obtaining road-game football tickets have been announced by Athletic Business Manager Ronald Melton.

The Seminoles have five remaining road games on their schedule. Three of the away games will cost students only $1.00, providing the students show their photo I.D. cards when purchasing the ducats, Melton said.

The three $1.00 games are against the University of Miami Oct. 5 in Miami, against the University of Florida Nov. 17 in Gainesville, and against Auburn University Nov. 24 in Auburn, Ala.

For the two other games, students will have to pay full price. The Florida State-Georgia Tech game, which will be played Nov. 10 in Atlanta, will cost Seminole fans $5.50, while the Seminole-University of Georgia contest will cost students $4.00. The FSU-Bulldog game will be played in Athens, Ga., Oct. 20.

Except for the Florida game, students may purchase all road game tickets at the athletic ticket office window in Tully Gymnasium until the Wednesday before each scheduled game, Melton said.

Tickets to the Florida-Florida State game will be sold from 2 p.m. Oct. 23 until 4 p.m. Nov. 7.

Frat Members Travel To UK

"Half a league. Half a league. Onward!"

"Yuh been mumblin' fuh fort miles, Heathcliff. Want I sh drive?"

"Half a leak, onward to Kentucky, Pomphret."

Ridiculous, you say. Of course. It's 700 miles to Kentucky and five Florida State fra bers drove up there and bac for free, just to help the Seminoles. They wouldn't pay.

Three of them were f Lambda Chi A ughes, Roger Wi Mike Wigulast and t members of Theta Smith and Rick Sa

These five helped the by assisting trainer Dor handling equipment, the radio announcer, and ting sideline passes.

"This meant a great the ball club," Ronald Melto athletic business said, "it's really encourag to see such school

McConnaughhay Is Savage; Peterson Lauds Tribe Defense

End John McConnaughhay has been acclaimed winner of the "Savage Award" for his outstanding defensive play and aggressiveness against the Kentucky Wildcats last Saturday.

After reviewing films of the Florida State-Kentucky contest, coaches rated that McConnaughhay, in addition to his aggressiveness, tackled four Wildcats and helped to down five other Kentuckians.

"I can't say too much about our defense," Head Coach Bill Peterson said of Saturday's performance.

In addition to McConnaughhay, Peterson singled out several other outstanding performers.

Y.C. McNeese, who downed center against Kentucky, was rated nearly perfect on defense, while offensive praise went to fullback Marion Roberts, halfback Phil Spooner, quarterback Eddie Feely, and fullback Gene Roberts.

But in spite of the fine defensive display, Peterson has his reservations about the 0-0 tie, in which Florida State was unable to capitalize on five scoring threats.

"I was not the least bit pleased with the tie, mainly because I thought we should have won it," he said. "... I honestly thought we would wear them down and score in the fourth quarter. But we just couldn't get it over. And, let's face it, they had a well conditioned team. I think Coach Bradshaw has done a real fine job."

Bradshaw admittedly planned to send a very well conditioned team against the Seminoles. It was no secret that he had been preparing his men for an "iron man" role of near-60-minute performance. The Kentucky crew that faced Florida State was perhaps the best conditioned team in 72 years of Wildcat football history.

Naturally, Peterson's own team came in for praise.

"This team certainly has nothing to be ashamed of. This was, for the most part, a magnificent effort. "If this team can stick together, keep its head high, it has a chance to do really well."

The mentor's stipulation--"that the team keep its head high"--has overtones of a statement from Coach Eddie Teague after he watched his Citadel Bulldogs go down, 49-0, in FSU's curtain-raiser.

"You have a great team," Teague told Peterson, "but don't let them get fat-headed."

BILL PETERSON

. . . praises defense

His statement will be applied to the Seminoles' outlook toward the Furman Paladins, whom the Tribes meet at 8 p.m. Saturday in Doak S. Campbell Stadium.

Although Furman, a Southern Conference squad, is not rated as highly as the run-of-the-mill Southeastern Conference team, Coach Bob King's unit has been predicted to finish second in its conference.

Led by quarterback Elton Brunty, who completed 10 of 14 aerials in the spring intra-squad game, the Paladins have already defeated Presbyterian and Woofson by large margins.

In the opener against Presbyterian, halfback John Cook of Furman scored more touchdowns than he did all last season. In 1961, he scored two and against Presbyterian he tallied three--one of them a twisting 55-yard punt return.

Presbyterian and Wofford fell, 40-6, and 19-0, respectively this season, as compared to 27-6 and 45-19 respective losses in 1961.

The Paladins trail in the Florida State-Furman series, 5-2, having been defeated 42-7 in 1958, 27-7 in 1957, 42-7 in 1956, 19-6 in 1955 and 33-14 in 1954, Florida State was defeated 14-7 in 1953 and 9-0 in 1952.

Padgett's Harley Davidson
411 W. Gaines St.
Ph. 222-0130
"your motorcycle headquarters"

VOLKSWAGON REPAIRS
All work guaranteed - 1 day service
Pierce Cousseaux - Volks Specialist
JACK KERZAN'S TEXACO
936 North Monroe
Phone - 224-0320

DAN'S STABLES
SADDLE HORSE RENTALS

OPEN SAT. & SUN. 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.
OTHER DAYS BY APPOINTMENT
2610 MISSION ROAD
1 1/2 miles west of university shopping center—Ph. 222-3598

SHOP EARLY THIS WEEK
CLOSED SAT.,
Sept. 29

miss pat

THE COUNTRY SET...MISS PAT blends red and brown wool to create RED MAPLE...here in a bold plaid skirt with inverted front pleat. Worn with roll sleeve, convertible collar shirt in redwood or cedar oxford cotton, buttoned in brass. Topped with a long sleeve Shetland type wool cardigan sweater in pine, redwood or cedar. The hi-rise waist capri in pine, redwood or ebony wool flannel is fully lined and worn with an oxford cotton, long sleeve shirtbar collar shirt, white or tan. Up top, the generous shaping of a Shetland type wool V-neck slipon sweater in pine or redwood.

Sizes 5-15, 6-16, 31-40

GIBBS FRENCH SHOPPE 118 S. Monroe

FSU DEFENSE

In the picture at the right, Bill Graham and Suzanne Purvis check the huge inventory carefully packed away in the Library storage area.

In the second picture, Jess Wilson, university safety officer, joins the inspectors, checking one of the monitoring kits.

In the background are food, lime bags and five gallon cans filled with water.

FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University — Thursday, September 27, 1962

lls Open 9-5

Twelve Win Elections, Run-Off's Tomorrow

lve candidates won Senate seats in Tuesday's primary elections, with all other slated to be decided in run-off elections tomorrow.

s will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Seminole Club, Westcott, the Student r, the Library, Smith Hall and Bryan Hall.

students must present their permanent I.D. cards at the polls in order to vote, tary of Elections Ron Jones stressed.

the 12 winning pre- had opposition. I Mickie Neumann de- , 41 to 35 in Benson defeated 45 to 27 in Pre- defeated Don 3 to 1 in Precinct 21; Jenni- defeated Barbara Precinct 22; and ard Sanders defeated Otis 15 to 2 in Precinct 23. ted without opposition were Killian with 49 votes in Pre- Renfroe with 71 ; Sandra Brooks Precinct 7; Mary 41 votes in Pre- le with 66 votes in nct 10; Miles Williams with tes in Precinct 15; and Frank ll with 44 votes in Precinct

PRECINCT RUN-OFFS

morrow are as fol-

t 1 - Joanne Griffin, who 74 votes Tuesday; and Nancy 49. Precinct 2 - Donna Futral, Pat Sauer, 53. Precinct 3 - ald, 65; and Jeanie nson, 55. Precinct 4 - Caryl 25; and Carol Gresimer, 76. cinct 11 - Sharon Dunn, 31; and n Stewart, 23. Precinct 12 enators) - Jeff Andrews, 107; Barnett, 110; Ted DeLa- e, 110; and Carl M. Sugarman, 3 (two senators) - Wil- Bill) Caldwell, 43; Charles , 43; John Merting, 95; and 79.

4 (Day Students, four ob Barden, 85; Bill , 81; Connie Carroll, 84; John don, 94; Guy Hollingsworth, nis Lanahan, 89; Robert J. and Susan Wharton, cinct 18 - Mary Lundale, 47; ean Sauer, 41. Precinct 19 - l, 50; and Suzie Mil- recinct 20 - Linda Luna, Linda Robertson, 37. Pre- Gerry Dobson, 32; and te, 28.

DEFEATED PRECINCT CANDIDATES

Precinct 1 - Jane Franzino, with 39 votes; "Bruno" Carole Higginbotham, 17; Camilla Kilgore, 35; Marsha Love, 13. Precinct 2 - Sheila Appleby, 26; Nancy Aunspaugh, 13; and Jean Norman, 12. Precinct 3 - Patricia Johns, 15; Linda McGuirt, Precinct 4 - Barbara Brandon, 23; Karen Chambers, 4; Rita McCann, 13; Diane McLaughlin, 21; Paula Tucker, 4; and Dee Williams, 8. Precinct 11 - Pat Curry, 17; Susan Fincher, 7; Cheryl Pittman, 12. Precinct 12 - Dick Acosta, 46.

Precinct 14 - Mitch Franks, 48; Marshall Gifford, 58; and John T. Riggins, 48.

Precinct 18 - Irene Lopez, 36; Boots Ratterree, 31; and Mary Lois Stone, 21. Precinct 19 - Jean Edmondson, 31. Precinct 20 - Suzanne Treadwell, 28. Precinct 24 - Clarke Wyllie, 11.

CLASS RUN-OFFS

In run-off elections tomorrow for Freshman Class officers are as follows:

For President: Lief Erickson, who polled 428 votes Tuesday; and John

(continued on page 3)

Investiture Ceremony Drops Caps And Gowns

No caps or gowns will be used at this year's Sophomore-Senior Investiture ceremony, Senior Class President Duncan Moore announced today.

The cost of renting gowns for one evening is prohibitive, he said. Coeds would have to pay about $5 to rent a cap, gown and collar; male students, about $3 for a cap and gown.

"Since attendance at Investiture has been poor in recent years, the Senior Class officers decided that if the cost of renting gowns were eliminated, more students would be able to attend," Moore said.

Formerly, seniors were "capped" at the ceremony by sophomores. This capping was the ceremonial recognition of senior status.

At this year's ceremony, probably only the Senior Class president will be "capped."

Investiture is scheduled for Oct. 16. The program in Westcott will be preceded by a banquet in the Suwannee Room. Cost of the banquet is $1 per person.

Students who hold state scholarships and have an unused balance may call at the Student Depository, 208 Westcott, if they wish to withdraw funds.

An account has been established for each person who does not have an account there, or the funds have been added to the personal funds already on deposit for those currently using the facility.

WEATHER

Partial cloudiness throughout the day, with showers in the afternoon.

Foreign Policy, Topic for Eight Gov't Lectures

"World in Transition", the 1962-63 Government Lecture Series, will bring eight speakers to FSU to discuss ideologies, forces and events influencing U.S. foreign policy.

Dr. Frederick Watkins of the Political Science Dept. at Yale University will give the opening lecture at 8 p.m., Oct. 29, in the Library Lecture Hall. His topic will be "Constitutional Government and Totalitarian Dictatorship."

Dr. Marian Irish, professor and chairman of the Government Dept., said that titles of most of the lectures are not yet available, but that each will deal with an area of ideology relating to U.S. foreign policy.

Other lecturers and their areas of specialization are:

Nov. 19, Dr. Henry Mayo of the Political Science Dept. of Western Ontario, Democracy and Marxism; Jan. 14, Dr. Roy Macridis of the Political Science Dept. of Washington University, Western Europe.

Jan. 28, Dr. Gwendolyn Carter, Government Dept. of Smith College, Africa; Feb. 11, Dr. William Livingston, Government Dept. of University of Texas, United Kingdom.

April 1, Dr. Merle Fainsod, Russian Research Center of Harvard University, Soviet Union; Dr. Federico Gil, Political Science Dept. of University of North Carolina, Latin America; and May 13 or 20, Dr. Lucian Pye, Political Science Section of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Asia.

organizes tonight

Rallyists to Promote School Spirit and Pep

"Creation of an overwhelming amount of spirit and pep on the FSU campus is the goal of the Rally Committee," explained Evelyn Flathmann, Secretary of Internal Affairs.

She said that the committee will have its 1962-63 organizational meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Trophy Room at the Student Center, with representatives of all dormitories, sororities, fraternities and scholarship houses. All FSU students are invited.

Rally committee members will play a key role in such future activities as pep rallies, street dances, and Homecoming festivities.

Bill Harnage, head cheerleader, will be present at tonight's meeting to introduce the cheerleading squad, which will function as an integral part of the Rally Committee. Long-range plans for the committee will be discussed, and Coach Peterson will be on hand to offer suggestions.

Chairman of the committee is Herb Windom. Gaines Pickett and Harnage are acting as an advisory board.

FSU Ready In Event Of A Bomb

Eleven buildings on the FSU campus now contain 22 shelter areas that will accommodate 10,000 people in the event of nuclear attack, William H. Watson, safety and civil defense coordinator, has announced.

Presently there are shelters in Kellum Hall, Smith Hall, the Nuclear Bldg., Landis Hall, Library, Men's Gym, the Music Bldg. and the Dining Hall (Faculty Club). Overflow shelter areas are in Florida Hall, Dorman Hall and the Graduate Basement. The new Molecular Biophysics Bldg. is in the process of being provided with supplies to make the twelfth shelter building.

The shelters are stocked with food, water, medical, and sanitary supplies sufficient to accommodate the occupants for five days. Canned fruits, vegetables, corned beef, tuna fish, and powdered milk, enough to provide two meals and one glass of milk per person per day are in stock. The canned foods will be rotated periodically so that a full, fresh store is always available. Plastic spoons and paper plates and cups are also on hand.

Drinking water, at one quart per person per day, has been provided in five-gallon sealed cans. Additional water will be stored in hot water tanks which can be cut off from the city water supply, in case of contamination.

Under the direction of University doctors, medical kits, including surgical instruments, first aid supplies, and a large store of medicines, have been furnished by the Infirmary.

Each area has an equipment box containing radiological monitoring equipment and protective clothing to be worn in case of a necessary trip outside the shelter.

Sanitation facilities include soap, toilet paper, 20-gallon trash cans and 10-gallon cans for use as chemical toilets.

A team of administrators for each shelter area consists of a warden, deputy warden, policeman, monitor, maintenance man and three nurses. Each team is familiar with its own shelter area and each member knows his particular duties, Watson said.

All students living in dormitories, chapter houses, FSO houses, Alumnae Village, Mabry Heights, the Trailer Park, and the Hospital should follow the instructions on posters which are located in their living areas in case of emergency, Watson stressed.

All day students should report to any one of the following shelter buildings: Men's Gym, Kellum Hall, Smith Hall, Faculty Club, Music Bldg., Library, Landis Hall or Meteorology Bldg., he added.

Faculty and staff should follow Civil Defense instructions posted at the entrance of the buildings where they have office or here they work, Watson continued.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Record Vote

An unexpected record number of voters cast their ballots in Tuesday's election. This caused the Election Committee to have one of the happiest headaches they've had in many years.

Secretary of Elections Ron Jones and the election committee were late in getting the returens out because of the heavy turnout. They labored hard at the task but the count was simply too large.

Jones was pleased. The Student body should proudly share in his pleasure.

Realizing a large voter turnout on a college campus is a painfully difficult experience. Students are too often content to let the world go skipping by without so much as a second glance. "Who cares" is often the attitude.

This election was the exception to the rule. The exception is healthy.

Student government carries a large responsibility in the management of student affairs on campus. Annually they manage more than $300,00 in student activity fees. Student government serves as the only direct line of communication between the student body and the administration. Representing the interests in these areas is an omnious task.

A representative student government thrives only when there is sufficient student interest to select the right people to carry on these responsibilities.

Tuesday's election, with 131 candidates vying for 38 positions and nearly 3000 students voting for the person of their choice has placed an added burden of responsibility on the winning office seekers.

Those students who won offices will go into office facing the challenge of representing the interests of a student body which has shown by their vote they are vitally interested in the affairs of their government.

Candidates involved in the run-off election face an even more trying challenge in their campaigning with the knowledge that the student body will carefully scrutinize the qualifications and views of each office seeker in an effort to select the best qualified person for the job.

BCS, OW

Today's News Roundup

Flambeau News Services

AROUND THE WORLD

NEW ORLEANS--Mississippi's Lieutenant Governor Paul Johnson has been directed to appear Saturday before the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans to answer charges of contempt of court. It was Johnson who yesterday blocked Negro James Meredith's third attempt to enroll at the University of Mississippi in Oxford.

* * *

WASHINGTON--The House has passed and sent to the President a resolution proclaiming that troops will be used if necessary to halt the spread of communism from Cuba to other nations in this hemisphere.

* * *

WASHINGTON--President Kennedy says the United States and its free world allies will accept any sacrifices necessary to win the cold war.

* * *

TAMPA, FLA.--A B-47 jet bomber crashed in Hillsboroght Bay yesterday--just missing a heavily populated residential area and killing one crew member.

* * *

WASHINGTON--U.S. tax agents are trying to seize every dollar due promoters and organizers of Tuesday night's heavyweight championship fight to assure collection of taxes.

* * *

CHICAGO--Newly crowned Heavy weight Champion Sonny Lister says he is prepared to give the beaten titleholder--Floyd Patterson--a quick rematch and then meet any challenger seeking a bout.

Frank C. Coney

Communism Is A Threat

Lawrence Mahoney's column last week sounded very much like an authority of political science speaking on a clear-cut issue. This, however, is not the case.

Various words, like "propaganda," "socialism," "communism," "ultraextremist" and idiotic" were thrown around as if they were the proper words to use. They were not proper and I can say this from a matter of experience. While attending Carlisle Military School in South Caroline, I was privileged to hear Paul Harvey speak at "Operation Alert." This was a group made up of citizens who wanted to check the socialistic moves that our government has made, as well as keep informed of the Communist activities in the country and state. Carlisle's headmaster is chairman of the local chapter.

In this particular speech, Mr. Harvey made no mention of labor unions. He did, however, point out the dangerous trends that the U.S. has been following. These trends are the attempts to socialize medicine, to increase unemployment compensation, to increase federal aid in our public school system, to try to lull the American people to complacency by releasing reports that communism poses no serious threat to our country.

Then, let us not forget that there is a feeling among many people that the government should take care of them. They tend to let Uncle Sam do for us what we should do for ourselves. Harvey too thinks that government aid in some phase of our life is necessary, but he feels that the line should have been drawn long ago.

Sometime, somehow, that line has to be specifically drawn or we will eventually allow the state to become all-powerful, owning our school, our industry, our other various enterprises. It will treat this country as if its citizens were nothing more than a flock of sheep that have to be nursed and cared for from the cradle to the grave.

Why did Mahoney scornfully imply that communism does not exist in our schools? There is and has been since the early 1920's. I suggest Mr. Mahoney and anyone else who doubts this read "Keyneism at Harvard," a pamphlet printed by the Veritas Foundation. Names and statistics are given, and some professors have openly admitted that they are in agreement with this Fabian economic theory. Harvard believes in freedom of thought and has allowed the youth of America to become infested with this theory.

Also a fine piece of information literature is Mr. J. Edgar Hoover's "Masters of Deceit." In this book the reader can see for himself how the Communist Party, USA, operates. They are everywhere in every walk of life. There are Communists or their sympathizers in government, churches, schools, colleges, and often live in your own neighborhood.

The reader may be asking himself where the connection between the Communist Party and the liberals is-- directly, there is none. Indirectly, slowly but surely some liberals have socialistic tendencies that tend to pass power to the hands of a few, and advocate government aid in practically every phase of American life.

These tendencies are here whether Mr. Mahoney cares to admit them or not. But don't take my word for it; read and vary your reading. I suggest "Masters of Deceit," "Naked American" and "A Nation of Sheep." All these books let citizens see that unAmerican activities do exist and that they are dangerous. It implies that if our country is to remain capitalistic and democratic these activities must be curbed and then discarded completely.

WFSU-TV

9:45 El Espanol Es Facil-Spanish I
10:00 Americanism vs. Communism
10:30 El Espanol Es Facil-Spanish II
10:45 Seeing Music
11:00 American Economy
11:30 Junior College Spanish
12:00 Religions of Man
12:30 Mid-Day
1:00 Jazz Casual
1:30 Your Marriage
2:00 Social Studies
2:30 Americanism vs. Communism
4:30 What's New
5:00 Seeing Music
5:55 News
6:00 Continental Classroom
6:30 American Economy
7:00 Faculty Viewpoint
7:30 Alcoholic Hospital
8:00 Boston Symphony
10:00 Ten o'clock Report

Teaching Positions Available

Teaching assistantships in English at Indian universities now are available for graduating seniors and graduate students, according to an announcement by Dr. George Lensen.

Lensen said that applicants need not be English majors. He added that these assistantships offer "outstanding opportunity for social science and humanities majors as well as English specialists."

Grantees, Lensen added, are permitted to take courses and carry on research

Application forms may be obtained from Lensen, FSU Fulbright advisor, in 215 History Bldg.

ANNOUNCING
GRAND OPENING
OF DEE'S BARBER SHOP
2238 S. Monroe
Across from Dr. Vickers ve
Dee's Barber Shop is a em concern with latest equi ment to meet the needs of the customers.
Regular haircuts $1
Flat tops $1
Flat tops & Princeton specia
DEE'S BARBER SHOP

WE - RENT - IT
1707 N. MONROE STREET
Ph. 224-6161
(For Delivery)
PARTY SUPPLIES
ALL TYPE TOOLS
ROLLAWAY BEDS
T. V. SETS
PLUS MORE
"WE RENT MOST EVERYTHING"

Phone 224-9815
Where Beauty is a Trade Mark
Coiffures By Robert
University Plaza Shopping Center
1918 W. Tennessee St.
Tallahassee, Fla

DELIVERY
5-11
QUAKER HOUSE
BOXES — SANDWICHES
SALADS — DRINKS
DESSERTS
222 - 8677
$2.00 MINIMUM ORDER

☆☆ Today ☆☆

Tai Wan Kwon will speak on "A New Reaction Between Anthrone and Malonaldehyde," at the Food and Nutrition Seminar, at 11:30 a.m. in 107 Sandels Bldg.

• • • • •

Robert H. Baker, Tulane University, will discuss "Electrophilic Substitution Reactions of Metal Acetonates," at the General Chemistry Seminar, 306 Science Bldg., at 4 p.m.

• • • • •

Women's F Club meets in the Student Lounge of Longmire at 9 p.m.

• • • • •

Deadline for signing up for the Physical Education Exemption tests for this semester is tomorrow at 5 p.m.

"Three Faces of Eve" will be shown at the campus movie at 7:30 p.m. in Westcott Auditorium.

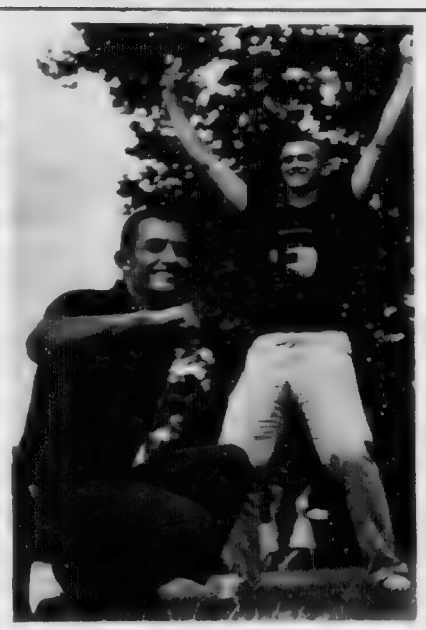
• • • • •

The Insurance and Real Estate Society will have an organizational meeting tonight at 7:30 in 215 Business.

• • • • •

WFSU-TV presents the Boston Symphony Orchestra with Beethoven's Symphony #1 in C Major, at 8 p.m.

• • • • •



Young republicans meet tonight in Longmire at 7 p.m. for the election of treasurer and one board member and the appointment of two permanent committee chairmen; news editor; plus Varn survey.

CROW'S STORE
1902 Lake Bradford Rd.
Near Alumni Village

GRADE A T-BONE $0.69 lb.
T-BONE STEAK $0.69 lb.
SIRLOIN STEAK $0.69 lb.

NO CHANGES in PRICES
ALL MEATS GUARANTEED

STATE BAKERY
&DELICATESEN BIRTHDAY and WEDDING CAKES
SANDWICHES and FOOD BOXES

BEAT FLORIDA

. . .is practiced as Ty Gregory (front) and Claude Shipley, (rear) are added to the cheerleading squad helping to blend bassos with sopranos at the football games. (Photo by Tibbo)

COLLEGE Estate MASTER
INSURANCE
FOR COLLEGIANS
JAY PARNELL
REPRESENTATIVE

...elections

(continued from page 1)

Perry Thomas, 215.

Vice President - John Green, 351; and John Noppenberg, 211.

Secretary - Nancy Meyers, 243; and Anne Orum, 423.

Treasurer - Margaret DeHoff, 435; and Nancy Harris, 379.

Social Chairman - Susie Peters, 334; and Mildred "Stormy" Thurmond, 342.

Men's Senators (two) - Chuck Beck, 425; Robert E. Lee, 343; Pete Nealing, 181; and "Sparky" Sparkman, 491.

Women's Senators (two) - Candy Clifford, 303; Nancy Dale, 216; Dot Fish, 441; and Susan Worley, 264.

Defeated in Tuesday's primary elections for Freshman Class officers were as follows:

For President - Charles DeFoor, with 72 votes; Francis A. DeTure, 44; Joel M. DeVolentine, 103; Gary Hays, 13; Bob Moon, 15; and Guy "Darry" Wood, 184.

Vice President - James Butler, 120; Duke Mader, 91; and Gene Stearns, 197.

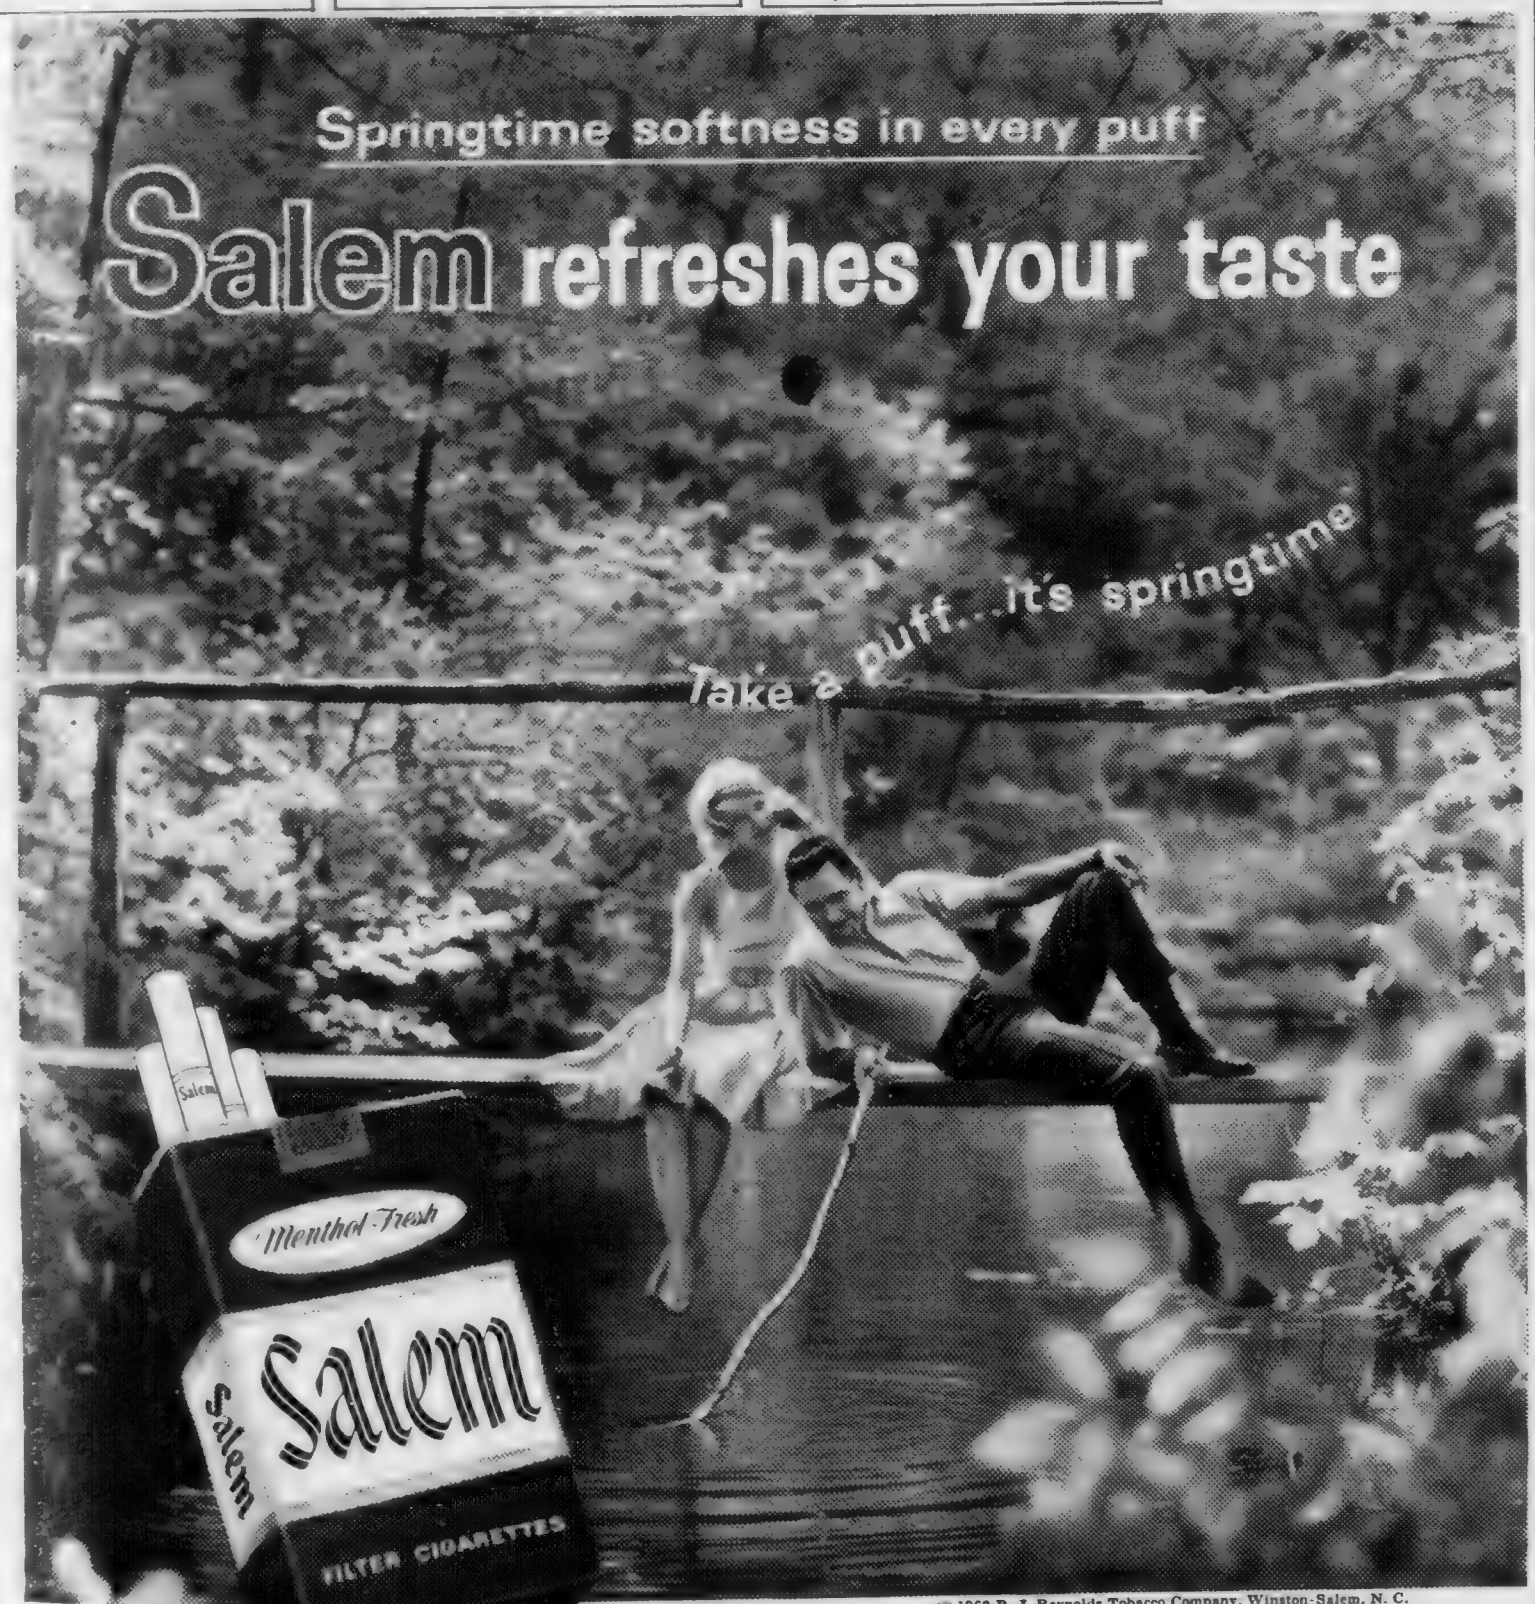
Secretary - Louise Beddingfield, 114; and Barbara Jane Walker, 195.

Treasurer - Carl J. Domino, 127.

Social Chairman - Margaret Marsden, 175; and "Rusty" Seabolt, 126.

Men's Senators - Jerry Huegel, 161; Pete Johnson, 64; George Partin, 24; and George R. Rinhart, 99.

Women's Senators - Ida May Barber, 98; Cathy Cochran, 210; and Katherine Young, 192.



Man Alone With Ten FSU Nurses

Ten coeds and one male nurse are currently studying in a U.S. Public Health Service-sponsored undergraduate program in the FSU School of Nursing.

The students receive a stipend of $200 a month and $30 additional for each dependent. The fellowship grant also pays all tuition and registration fees and provides a travel allowance to the university.

Purpose of the fellowship program, now in its sixth year at FSU, is the preparation of teachers, administrators and supervisors of nursing, either in hospitals or related health agencies.

Students now in the program are William P. Rose, Dorothy A. Beck, Constance L. Carroll, Barbara C. Colley, Virginia Self Giovinco, Patricia A. Kohler, Gloria Routt, Barbara Jean Sommers, Sue Ann Woodall, Charlotte C. Dison and Barbara M. Moulton.

Like Nothing Else in Shirts
BENTLEY
AUTHENTICS
by Jayson.

Pick a Bentley
Authentic and you choose a shirt
that's tailored in the finest tradition.
All combed cotton
madras or broadcloth sets off classic and contemporary versions of plaids,
checks and stripes.

$5.00

BROWN'S
MEN'S WEAR

Scribes Tab Feely Tops In State

Quarterback Eddie Feely of the Seminoles was chosen Back of the Week by Florida sports writers after his performance in the Kentucky-FSU contest.

The pint-sized signal caller was responsible for 107 of FSU's yards against the Wildcats as he hit on eight of 15 passes for 60 yards and ran 47 yards from scrimmage for a game high.

This was the second award of the season, the first back honors going to quarterback George Mira of the University of Miami, whom Feely has unseated in total offense.

Mira, the 1961 leader, garnered 248 yards in 35 running and passing plays against Pittsburgh, and he is second only to FSU's Feely, who has racked up 298 yards in two games for the state's high.

In the passing arena, Feely leads by a large margin with 241 yards gained on 17 completions out of 27 attempts. Two of Feely's heaves netted Florida State touchdowns.

The "MIRAculous" Mira, on the other hand, has passed for 162 yards with 13 completions in 25 attempts.

Third place in the state with total offense is another FSU quarterback, Steve Tensi of the Warriors. The Seminole sophomore amassed 144 yards. Trailing Tensi in this department are two Florida Gators, Larry Libertore with 64 yards in 12 plays and Lindy Infante with 60 yards in 10 plays.

FSU's Marion Roberts leads in the rushing offense with 89 yards in 16 carries, and his is trailed by Mira with 86 yards in 10 carries and Infante with 60 yards in 10 plays.

Last week, Lineman of the Week went to Florida State's Chuck Robinson. This week, front wall laurels go to Florida's Sam Holland, who made seven tackles and three assists against Mississippi State.

Cage Scoreboard

Garnet League:

Sigma Nu, 43; Alpha Tau Omega, 35. Sigma Phi Epsilon, 57; Sigma Chi, 50. Lambda Chi Alpha, 31; Theta Chi, 30.

Gold League

Delta Tau Delta, 47; Pi Kappa Phi, 40. Delta Chi, 47; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 37. Kappa Alpha, 52; Pi Kappa Alpha, 30.

Tryouts Today

Racquettes tryouts, which were tained out Wednesday, have been rescheduled for 4:30 p.m. today. They will be held on the courts next to Tully Gymnasium.

Tony's Pizza

1805 Thomasville Road

Phone 224-6210

Specializing in

Pizza

Spaghetti

Italian Salad

TONY'S PIZZA

HAVE GUNS, WILL TRAVEL

Paladins, Tribes Clash Saturday

The offensive-minded Furman Paladins turn their grid machine almost due south this week as they look ahead to an intersectional clash with Florida State at Tallahassee Saturday.

The Seminoles and the Paladins kick-off at 8 p.m. on Florida soil in the eighth meeting of the schools. Furman has won two, FSU five and there have been no ties since the teams began football competition in 1952.

Florida State was the first team Coach Bob King faced when he began his head coaching career at Furman in 1958. The Seminoles won that year 42-6, a season in which Alabama and Penn State, two other national grid powers were on the Furman schedule.

Furman's two victories over their Florida rival came in 1952, the first time the teams met, and again in 1953. The Furman Hurricanes, at that time, coached by Bill Young, won 9-0 in '52 and 14-7 the following season.

Florida State has dominated the series since then, winning 33-14 in '54, 19-6 in '55, 42-7 in '56, 27-7 in '57 and 42-6 in 1958.

Furman Coach Bob King said Monday that although the 34-21 victory over Wofford turned out about as he expected, he was not overjoyed with the win. "We could have been sharper. It was a disappointment to see Wofford score so much on us."

An interesting note in the comparison of the two games played at this time last year shows the Paladins moving at an almost identical pace in 1962. In 1961, Furman won the opener against Presbyterian 27-6; this year it was 40-6. A comparable opponent Davidson in '61 was beaten 54-19 while this year the Wofford score was 43-21. Furman had scored 72 points at this stage of the 1961 season. They have 74 points after two games this fall.

One glaring difference in the method of scoring might be summed up in one word . . .passing. Last year after two games, Furman had scored on five TD passes, all thrown by Billy Canty. This year, the Paladins have scored on one TD pass, a 22-yard play from QB Doug Watkins to halfback John Cook. All the rest have been punched across on the ground.

Furman fullback Elliot Keller and speedy halfback John Cook are pacing the Paladin backs in individual rushing after the first two games.

Keller, a strong up the middle runner, tore through the Wofford line last Saturday for a total of 139 yards rushing, scored the third Furman TD on a one yard blast, and almost got loose for another touchdown with a 64 yard scamper that started on the Furman three yard line.

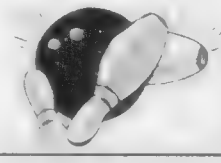
The Clayton, Ga. junior surpassed his total yardage figure of '61 in the Wofford game alone and appears well on his way to spelling trouble for future Furman opponents. Understudy along with George Rapinchuk last season to Furman's All-Southern fullback Tom Campbell, Keller carried the ball only 15 times for a total of 92 yards (6.1 avg.)... He has yet to lose a yard from scrimmage and boasts the top rushing average of the Furman backs with 8.1 and 162 yards in two games.

John (the Jet) Cook, leading scorer in the Southern Conference with 24 points, is averaging 6.8 per carry and has 123 yards to his credit on 18 trips. One of his touchdown runs came on a 55 yard punt return against Presbyterian September 15.

Bootin' Begins

The Florida State soccer club, which was begun last semester, will once again take to the field, announced booter Bodo Pyko. Anyone interested in soccer should call Pyko at 224-8492 after 7 p.m.

IT'S F.S.U. MONTH
at SEMINOLE & PARKWAY LANES



BOWL! BOWL! BOWL!

FOR THE NEXT 30 DAYS ANY FSU STUDENT WHO SHOWS HIS I.D. CARD CAN BOWL

FOR 35¢ A GAME

THAT'S 35¢ A GAME

BOWL! BOWL!

CARTER'S

SPORTING GOODS & HOBBY SHOP
104 E. College Ave. Ph. 222-5178

BRUNSWICK-MAGREGOR
WILSON-BEN PEARSON AGENCY
VOIT-HEALTHWAYS

WHITE STAG SPEEDO SWIM WEAR
OCEAN POOL SWIM WEAR
ADLER SOCKS
GAMES AND HOBBIES

SEE US FIRST
FOR YOUR SPORTING GOOD NEEDS

Mae's Shop

STYLE CENTER OF THE SOUTH

Tallahassee, Florida

INVITES STUDENTS and FACULTY MEMBERS of DISCRIMINATING TASTE TO COME BY

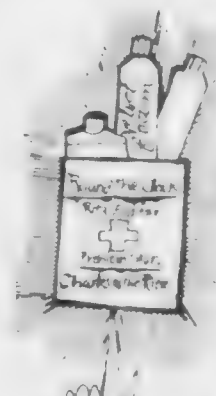
EXCLUSIVE



READY - TO - WEAR

FOR LADIES and MISSES

FREE PARKING in REAR

115 N. MONROE

FREEDOM FROM BUMPLES!

What's a bumple? A bump on its way to a blemish. Banish bumples with Round-The-Clock Ritz Aid Kit! VELVET FOAM to wash your skin spanking clean ($2.00); DISASTER CREAM to help dry and heal eruptions as you sleep ($2.50); MEDICATED LOTION to continue healing help and flatter as a foundation ($2.00). Entire Kit, $6.50 plus tax.

Charles of the Ritz

Linden's

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

XLIX No. 18 | Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University | Friday, September 28, 1962

FSU Homecoming Queen

Ballots Are Cast Today For Queen

Today five senior women will be elected by the FSU student body to serve as the official Homecoming Queen Court.

Since there are 44 nominees a run-off may be necessary next week, Sherri Mead, student chairman of the contest said.

Polls will be set up at the Student Center and Westcott and will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Students will be able to vote for five contestants. Photographs of all contestants are on display at the voting areas. A list of each candidates activities has been placed directly below her picture.

"Being Homecoming Queen is one of the greatest honors a senior woman can recieve at FSU. Therefore it's important that the entire student body express its opinion," Miss Mead stressed. "The queen will be looked upon as the 'ideal FSU coed' and it is necessary that she represent the ideals of character, leadership and service," she added.

Mrs. Galor Edgeworth, faculty advisor of the contest, said that all contestants have been approved for citizenship qualities by the Dean of Women's Office and for senior standing by the Registrar's Office. Each contestant must have a 2.0 or better average.

The queen will be elected from among the five finalists in another contest Oct. 22. Her identity, however, will remain a closely guarded secret until the night of the Pow Wow, Nov. 2.

The 44 candidates for Homecoming Queen and their sponsoring organizations are: Martha Bishop, Alpha Tau Omega; Mildred Bishop, Delta Delta Delta; Barbara Brice, Alpha Theta; Carolyn Bridges, Delta Chi; Peggy Bruce, Phi Delta Theta; Norma Brunsell, Cawthon Hall; Carolyn Cairnes, Recreation Club; Marcia Callison, Delta Delta Delta; Beverly Calvert, Alpha Chi Omega; Sherod Campbell, Lamda Chi Alpha; Carol Cochran, Florida Hall; Karen Edgar, Alpha Gamma Delta; Denice Edwards, Phi Beta Phi.

Joyce Fraggioni, Sigma Alpha Iota; Carolyn Fain, Sigma Kappa; Evelyn Foy, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Jane Gambill, East Landis Hall; Diane Goodwin, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Ann Harbin, Seminole Divers; Martha Lynn Harris, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Carol Haught, Angle Flight; Barbara Hepp, Phi Kappa Phi; Beverly Himes, Alpha Phi; Barbara Hornbeck, Gamma Phi Beta.

Kay Isaly, Alpha Xi Delta; Dorthey D. Jones, West Landis; Diane Klinck, Delta Gamma; Peggy Lane, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Trica Lawrence, Sigma Chi; Lynn McClaren, Fashion Incorporated; Kitty Miller, Men's Physical Education Club; Francine Millinor, Theta Chi; Ginny Newton, Alpha Delta Phi; Barbara Norman, Phi Mu.

Rosemary Plunkett, Delta Zeta; Jan Quinn, Racquettes; Lou Rich, BSU; Judy Riddle, Phi Kappa Alpha; Ann Schloss, Sigma Nu; Nancy Sindon, Zeta Tau Alpha; Reville Slaydon, Chi Omega; Joanne Smaltz, Scabbard and Blade; Fairfax Smathers, Kappa Delta; and Paula Walker, Alpha Omicron Pi.

Student Government Elections

Run-Off Elections Are Held Today

[illegible] are today from [illegible]. Eighteen candidates for Freshman class [illegible] 64 candidates are in [illegible] precinct senate seats. [illegible] places are at the Semi[illegible] Westcott (Ticket Office). [illegible] enter (two polls), Landr[illegible] the library), Smith [illegible] Hall and Bryan Hall (by the [illegible]e Station.)

[illegible] who vote must present [illegible] permanent I.D. cards. [illegible] having difficulties in obtaining his I.D. card should go to 210 Longmire for clearance to vote.

The first returns should be announced by Saturday noon at Longmire stated Secretary of Elections Ron Jones. However, no results will be posted until all campaign posters and materials have been taken down.

Expense statement forms are available at the main desk in Longmire today. All candidates, both those who won and those who lost, are required to turn in these statements to the Elections office, 210 Longmire, by next Friday.

Those candidates in the run-offs today are as follows:

For Freshman Class officers; Presdient Lief Erickson and John Perry Thomas; Vice President - John Green and John Noppenberg; and Secretary - Nancy Meyers. Anne Orum; Treasurer Nancy Harris and Margaret DeHoff; Susie Peters and Mildred "Stormy" Thurmond; Men's Senators (two) - Chuck Beck Robert E. Lee, Pete Nealing and "Sparky" Sparkman; Women's Senators- (two) Candy Clifford, Nancy Dale, Dot Fish and Susan Worley.

Precinct candidates run-offs are: Precinct 1- Joanne Griffin and Nancy May; Precinct 2- Donna Futral and Pat Sauer; Precinct 3- Barbara McDonald and Jeanie Williamson; Precinct 4- Caryl Giffin and Carol Gresimer; Precinct 11- Sharon Dunn and Sharon Stewart; Precinct 12 (two senators)- Jeff Andrews, Louis Barnett, Ted DeLa-Vergne and Carl Sugarman; Precinct 13 (two senators)- William Caldwell, Charles Intraigo, John Merting and George Miller.

Precinct 14 (Day Students, four senators)- Bob Barden, Bill Branch, Connie Carroll, John B. Herndon, Guy Hollingsworth, Dennis Lanahan, Robert J. Schramm and Susan Wharton; Precinct 18- Mary Lundale and Jean Sauer; Precinct 19- Barbara Daniel and Suzie Miller; Precinct 20- Linda Luna and Linda Robertson; and Precinct 24- Gerry Dobson and Jim White.

Internship Meeting Set For Prospective Teachers

[illegible]dents who plan to intern in [illegible]ning [illegible] any of the three trimesters of the 1963-64 school year should attend the appropriate registration meeting next week, Dr. [illegible]. Blake, director of placement and internship, has announced.

Meetings will be held beginning 7:30 p.m. in the Education Lecture Hall on two nights. Those planning to intern in secondary teaching fields, art, music and physical education should attend the Tuesday night meeting, and those in the fields of elementary and exceptional education will meet Thursday.

[illegible]rpose of the registration meeting is to inform students of procedures for applying to intern. Internship assignments must be considered far in advance, Blake said, and it is imperative that all students who wish to intern in 1963-64 register with the Internship Office.

Students who have class conflicts and cannot attend should register with the office before the registration meeting, Blake added.

He stressed the fact that plans have been made to provide opportunities for internship during the third trimester of the present school year. Students who consider interning then, and have not already registered with the Internship Office, should attend the appropriate meeting or register immediately, he added.

Blake cited increased applications for internship have made early registration imperative. He said that 472 students interned in 1960-61, and that in 1961-62, there were 520 interns. He added that 819 students have already indicated a desire to intern in 1962-62.

Early registration also is necessary to maintain a balance in the number of students interning each trimester, and to provide an adequate number of staff members to instruct the interns, he said.

Henry IV Tickets

Tickets will go on sale Oct. 5 for "Henry IV, Part I." Student tickets will be $.75 and non-student tickets, $1.50. They will be sold at Westcott Ticket Office.

Season tickets will go on sale soon for $3, and will be good for five shows.

Wet Paint

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will be painting all the benches on campus today and tomorrow. They ask that all students and faculty members be very careful when sitting on the benches so that they don't get a green back.

Women's Fall Fashions Previewed For Freshmen

Fashion-minded freshmen women had a preview of new fall outfits Wednesday night as Fashion Incorporated presented its annual show. The show, "Fashion View at FSU," was presented as football and cheerleading uniforms formed the background for the models.

Culottes, kilts, and wrap around skirts are in vogue for campus wear this fall, according to the preview. The round, Peter Pan, collared blouse with roll-up or long sleeves are worn with this varied assortment of skirts.

Suits, of two or three pieces, will be popularly worn for classes, games, and fraternity parties. The fitted jacket has been tossed aside for the box-type.

A versatile sports jacket is a complement to any coed fall wardrobe.

Especially designed for the Artist Series are sleeveless cocktail dresses with high necklines, as shown by models at the program. Gold accessories are popular again this year for evening wear.

As for colors, the dull tones are again out-favoring the bright. Grey-green (sometimes referred to as the "Ivy color") is widely accepted. Camel has returned to the campus this year, as will be seen when winter comes.

Linda Duyck was co-ordinator of the fashion show and Ann Schloss was the comentator.

Fashion Incorporated President Carol Rusian invites any freshman woman who has an interest in fashion to become a junior member in the organization.

Today's News Roundup

Flambeau News Services

AROUND THE WORLD

HAVANA, CUBA-- Fidel Castro says 15,000 tons of Soviet codfish will be arriving in Cuba soon, to go on sale in rural areas.

MADRID, SPAIN-- The Vice President of Spain says he expects the death toll in the flood stricken Barcelona region to reach 600. The figure so far is 368.

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND-- Western delegates at the nuclear talks in Geneva have accused Russia of repudiating an agreement to go along with neutralist proposals for a test ban with provisions for on-site inspections.

NEW YORK-- Broadcast reports from Yemen say the small Arab Kingdom's 33 year old monarch has been assassinated by an army faction seizing power. The reports say the royal palace was destroyed by artillery fire and the King's body buried under the debris. The reports are not confirmed, however, but in New York, Yemen's U.N. delegate, a member of the royal dynasty says he's heading home immediatley.

ACROSS THE NATION

WASHINGTON-- A new showdown in the struggle between Mississippi and the Federal Government was averted temporarily by a decision not to make last night a fourth attempt to enroll Negro James Meredith in the state university. Attorney General Robert Kennedy announced the decision in Washington. He said the planned attempt was called off because of what he termed the possibility of major violence and bloodshed for the citizens of Mississippi. He also noted that the "whole matter" as he put it, will go before a court today in New Orleans. He said: "At that time, Governor Barnett will have an opportunity to state his case before all the judges of the Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit."

WASHINGTON-- The senate has voted 72 to three in favor of immediate pay raises for more than one and a half million government workers. The bill also would raise postal rates next January 7th. The bill goes back to the House which has approved a postal rate hike but has not acted on the pay raise provisions.

FLORIDA SPOT SUMMARY

TALLAHASSEE-- Governor Farris Bryant says he doesn't think federal troops should be used to enforce integration in Mississippi. However, the governor declined to comment on General Walker's call for massive resistance if troops are sent into Ole Miss.

TALLAHASSEE-- The State Board of Health says the Sleeping Sickness epidemic on Florida's West Coast is over.

WFSU-TV

9:45 El Espanol Es Facil - Spanish I
10:00 Americanism vs. Communism
10:30 El Espanol Es Facil - Spanish II
10:45 Seeing Music
11:00 American Economy
11:30 Geology 107
12:00 Geology 107
12:30 Mid-Day
1:00 Alcoholic Hospital
1:30 Social Studies
2:00 Written Word
2:30 Americanism vs. Communism
4:30 What's New
5:00 Seeing Music
5:55 News
6:00 Continental Classroom
6:30 American Economy
7:00 Poets at Work
7:30 Lab 30
8:00 Live and Learn
8:30 Frontiers of Knowledge
9:00 Festival of the Arts
10:00 Ten O'Clock Report

Spending-Up

In recent years FSU spending from research grants and contracts have been doubling about every two years, Dr. Russell J. Keirs, associate dean of the Graduate School reported.

Expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30 totaled $3,347,609. Eleven years ago the total was only $48,000, and in 1960-61 it was $2,653,584.

Tony's Pizza
1805 Thomasville Road
Phone 224-6210
Specializing in
Pizza
Spaghetti
Italian Salad
TONY'S PIZZA

43 Bands And Seminoles Fight Furman

By IRMA WEHLE
Flambeau Staff Writer

Tomorrow night, Campbell Stadium will be filled with the sound of music as musicians from 43 high school bands entertain the fans gathered for the FSU-Furman game.

The bands will arrive on campus Saturday morning from Florida, Georgia and Alabama for the annual 12th annual Band Day.

At 10:30 a.m. the bands will assemble at the stadium to rehearse under leadership of the directors and members of the FSU Marching Chiefs. Each band will be assigned two members of the Marching Chiefs to teach them drill routines.

PARADE

The visiting students, joining the Marching Chiefs to make a combined body of some 2,400 musicians and 260 twirlers, will parade through downtown Tallahassee at 4 p.m. The parade will begin along Adams Street, move north on Adams, turn right on Call Street one block to Monroe, then proceed south on Monroe back to th Capitol.

The Marching Chiefs will enter the field at Campbell Stadium at 7:40 p.m. for a pre-game performance. Following a fanfare of introduction, the band will march down the field to the "FSU Fight Song," salute the colors, and perform a drill routine to "Another Opening, Another Show."

MAJORETTES

As the Marching Chiefs play "The Garnet and Gold March," FSU Head Majorette Jo Ann Beazley will lead the 260 majorettes in a colorful twirling review.

A unison twirling routine by the FSU majorettes to "Ain't Misbehaving" will conclude the pre-game show.

At half-time the entire group of bandsmen will develop the theme "Kaleidoscope" as they perform "King Cotton," specially arranged by Charles Carter. Moving into a series of diamond patterns, they will play "Over the Waves." As a finale, the bands will play "Polovetzian Dances" as they form other designs on the field.

The parking lots at the Music Bldg. and Bldg "A," and 10 spaces on each side of Ivy Way, will be reserved tomorrow morning for the use of band vehicles, Sgt. J.M. Lewis, Jr. of the Campus Police Dept. said today.

Dr. Manley R. Whitcomb, director of bands at FSU, will direct the massed bands.

BANDS

Bands participating incude:

Florida: Altha High, Altha; Branford High, Branford; Chapman High, Apalachicola; Chattahoochee High, Chattahoochee; Columbia High, Lake City; Englewood High, Jacksonville; Florida High, Tallahassee; Graceville High, Graceville; Grand Ridge Sylvester; Pelham High, Pelham High, Greensboro; Greenville High, Greenville.

Havana High, Havana; Jefferson High, Monticello; Liberty, Bristol High, Bristol; Milton High, Milton; Quincy High, Quincy; Sopchoppy High, Sopchoppy; Sneads High, Sneads; Taylor County High, Perry; Vernon High, Vernon; Walton High, DeFuniak Springs; Wewahitchka High, Wewahitchka; Leon High, Tallahassee.

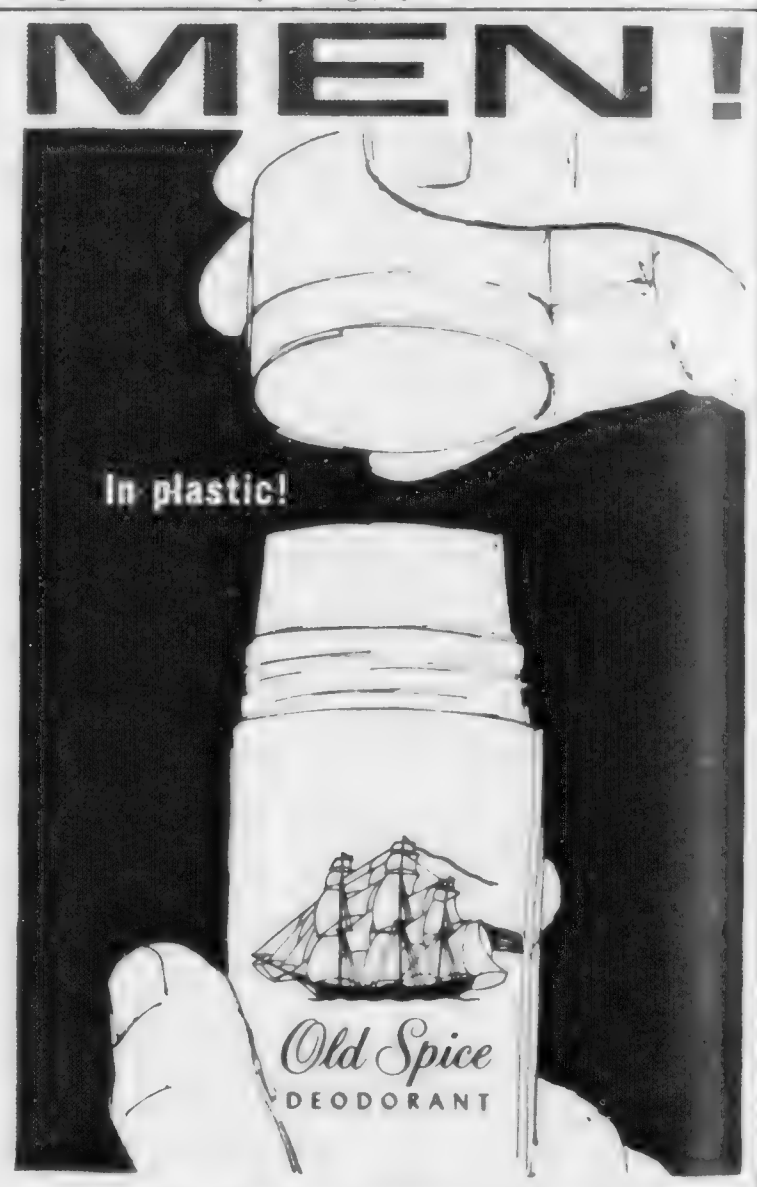
Georgia: Bacon County High, Alma; Berrian High, Nashville; Blakely High, Blakely; Bowdon High, Bowdon; Brooks County High, Quitman; Cairo High, Cairo; Central High, Thomasville; Clinch County High, Homerville; Coffee County High, Douglas; Cook High, Adel.

Cuthbert High, Cuthbert; Fitzgerald; Irwin County High, Ocilla; Miller County High, Colquitt; Mitchell County High, Camilla; Pierce County High, Thomasville; Turner County High, Ashburn; Worth County High, Sylvester; Pelham Hig, Pelham.

Alabama: Enterprise High, Enterprise.

CAMERON'S SEMINOLE TEXACO
"We give S & H Green Stamps"
Ph. 223 - 3555 1917 W. Tenn. St.

Coin and Hobby Supplies
"RELAX WITH A HOBBY"
FLORIDA STAMP and HOBBY SHOP
1920 W. Tenn.
University Plaza



AT YOUR KENT THEATRES

FLORIDA
NOW SHOWING
RICHARD BEYMER as Nick Adams
PAUL NEWMAN as "The Battler"
"HEMINGWAY'S ADVENTURES OF A YOUNG MAN"
CinemaScope & COLOR
1:40 - 4:15 - 6:50 - 9:25

STATE
ALL-COLOR SUSPENSE!
At 1:30 - 4:50 - 8:15
Clark Gable
Lana Turner
"BETRAYED"
and at 3:30 - 6:50 - 9:55
Spencer Tracy
"BAD DAY AT BLACK ROCK"

PERRY HIGHWAY OUTDOOR
Last Two Nights
2 Red-Hot "SIZZLERS"!
In COLOR at 7:50
Angie Dickinson
Peter Finch
"THE SINS OF RACHAEL CADE"
and at 10:00
Lola Albright
"COLD WIND IN AUGUST"

CAPITAL DRIVE-IN ON WOODVILLE HWY.
Tonight & Saturday
showing 7:20 - 10:30
Kent Taylor
Lisa Montell
"THE FIREBRAND"
COLOR HIT at 8:50
Jack Mahoney
"TARZAN GOES TO INDIA"

MEN!

Here's deodorant protection
YOU CAN TRUST
Old Spice Stick Deodorant ... fastest, neatest way to all-day, every day protection! It's the active deodorant for active men ... absolutely dependable. Glides on smoothly, speedily ... dries in record time. Old Spice Stick Deodorant – most convenient, most economical deodorant money can buy. 1.00 plus tax.
Old Spice STICK DEODORANT
SHULTON

Tell her you want her portrait NOW!

...so she'll

L'Avant STUDIOS

217 WEST PARK AVE PH 224-1716

Faculty Notes

Two Professors Publish Survey Of Plant Sites

Access to markets was listed as the most important factor in selecting sites for new plants, by more than one-half of the industrial firms with new plants in Florida surveyed by two FSU economists.

Dr. Marshall Colberg, head of the Economics Dept., and Dr. Melvin L. Greenhut, who rejoined the economics faculty as a professor this fall, disclosed their findings in "Factors in the Location of Florida Industry," a 108-page book which was published this summer as No. 36 in the FSU Studies series.

The book develops and utilizes location theory to analyze the factors which recently have brought new plants to Florida. A questionnaire and interview technique was followed.

Dr. E. P. Miles, Jr., director of the FSU Computing Center, is participating in a National Conference on Information Retrieval at the University of Minnesota this weekend.

The conference deals with computer-orientated techniques of scientific library procedures.

* * * * *

Dr. Donald E. Michel, director of music therapy at FSU, will speak on "Research Methods in Psychology of Music" at the 13th annual conference of the National Assn. for Music Therapy in Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 24-27.

Dr. Michel is immediate past president of the association.

Dr. Stephen J. Knezevich, head of FSU's Administration, Supervision and Curriculum Dept., participated in a seminar for professors of school administration at Lincoln, Neb., last week. Dr. Knezevich was discussion leader on the topic of teacher strike situation.

* * * * *

Dr. Ralph A. Bradley, head of FSU's Statistics Dept., has received a certificated of appreciation for his editorship of the journal "Biometrics."

* * * * *

"Contemporary Southeast Asia" by Dr. Robert C. Bone, Jr., associate professor of government at FSU, has been published by Random House as another book in its series, "Studies in Political Science."

Student Insurance

Student Insurance will be available in Room 210 Longmire from 3:00 until 5:00 Monday through Friday. Deadline date will be Sept. 30.

Today

Jewish New Year

* * * * *

Campus movie features "Three Faces of Eve" at 7:30 p.m. in Westcott.

* * * * *

The Student Socialist Club meets in the Student Lounge of Longmire at 7:30 p.m.

* * * * *

WFSU-FM presents at 8:15 p.m. "The Infernal Machine."

* * * * *

WFSU-TV presents "Frontiers of Knowledge" with Dr. Cash speaking.

* * * * *

SATURDAY

Ruge Hall will hold open house immediately after the football game with Furman.

* * * * *

Newcomers of the University Wives Club's picnic will be at 4 p.m. at the Reservation.

* * * * *

SUNDAY

Lutheran Student Association meets in the Trophy Room at 7 p.m.

Liberal Forum will meet at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the Unitarian Chapel.

MILLER'S Footery

The Gym Shoe

5.

in White Canvas

SIZES 4 TO 10

also in Black . . . Tan

Red or Navy

the famous keds champion in white or any of your favorite colors
the perfect Gym Shoe
so popular for everyday casual wear.
or if you prefer,
the 2-eye type Grasshopper in all the above colors.

U.S. KEDS

MILLERS

CORNER Monroe at College

OPEN

11:00 A.M. - 2:30 P.M.

Saturday Special

FILLET MIGNON

MUSHROOMS

SALAD

HOT ROLLS s/w BUTTER

1.50 BAKED POTATO

TO THE

ELKS CLUB DINING ROOM

OPEN AFTER ALL

HOME GAMES

276 N MAGNOLIA DRIVE phone 224 - 3611

Catering For Parties

PUBLIC

5:00 P.M. to 10:00 P.M.

Sunday Special

SIMORGASS BOARD

$1.50

Tally Ho

Greeks are urged to come to the fourth floor of Longmire to sign for pictures, today, from 2-5, for Tally-Ho Pictures. Greek registration will continue next week.

Weather

Generally fair and nice throughout the day, with the temperatures falling to 78. No chance of showers at any time.

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "I Was a Teen-age Dwarf", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.)

WRITE? YOU'RE WRONG

In the recent furor over the assassination of President McKinley, it may have escaped your notice that a nationwide study of the writing ability of American college students has just been published.

The survey reveals an astonishing fact: that when students have completed their freshman year and are no longer required to take English, their writing skill progressively declines until we come to the fantastic situation where graduating seniors actually are poorer writers of English than incoming freshmen!

Many theories have been offered to account for this incredible fact. Some say that seniors know less English than freshmen because all seniors major in French. This is not true. No more than 94 percent of seniors major in French. How about the other six percent?

Well sir, of the other six percent, half—or three percent—take physics, and it is not hard to understand how these poor souls grow rusty in English when all they ever say is "E equals MC squared."

Of the remaining three percent, two-thirds—or two percent—major in whaling, and their English too grows feeble with disuse. Whalers, as we all know, do not speak at all except to shout, "Thar she blows!" maybe twice a year.

Of the one percent remaining, it cannot be fairly said that they are poor writers. The fact is, we don't know what kind of writers they are. Why not? Because they never write. And why don't they ever write? Because this remaining one percent of American college students are enrolled at the University of Alaska, and never take their mittens off.

(Incidentally, I received quite a surprise upon first visiting Alaska two years ago when I was invited to Juneau to crown the Queen of the Annual Date Palm Festival. Frankly I expected to find a surly and morose populace. After all, going through life with your mittens on all the time is hardly calculated to make you merry as a cricket. Not only can't you write, but you miss out on all kinds of other fun things—like three card monte, making shadow pictures on the wall, and lint picking. However, to my astonishment, I discovered Alaskans to be a hale and gregarious group, mittens notwithstanding, and I soon found out why: because mittens notwithstanding, they could still smoke Marlboro Cigarettes, still enjoy that rich mellow flavor, that fine, clean Selectrate filter, that truly soft soft pack, that truly flip-top flip-top box—and that, friends, will make anybody happy, mittens notwithstanding. In fact, Alaskans are the happiest people I have ever met in the whole United States—except, of course, for the Alaskan vendors of Marlboro Cigarettes, who have not been paid in many years—indeed, never—because how can anybody dig out coins to pay for cigarettes when he is wearing mittens?)

But I digress. What are we going to do about this deplorable condition where college students, having completed Freshman English, become steadily less proficient in the use of the language? The answer is simple. We will make them take Freshman English all through college. In fact, we won't let them take anything else! This solution, besides producing a nation of graceful writers, will also solve another harrowing problem: where to park on campus. If everybody takes nothing but Freshman English, we can tear down all the schools of law, medicine, engineering, and whaling, and turn them into parking lots. Can't we?

© 1962 Max Shulman

* * *

The makers of Marlboro, who sponsor this column, plead guilty to being among those Americans whose writing skill is not all it might be. However, we like to think that as tobacconists we know a thing or two. Won't you try us and see if you agree?

John McCotter

'Young Fogies' At FSU

THE RECENTLY published letter by Ashly Ahl concerning the lack of spirit at the Citadel game brings to mind those little oddities that make football at FSU so unique--and so sad.

First, there is the tragedy of the Marching Chiefs. Here is a band that practices each routine to perfection, only to receive passing applause when they perform. I don't know what drives the members of this group, but it certainly must be internal. If they had to depend on student support to keep going, they wouldn't even make it onto the field.

Next comes the tragedy of the cheerleaders. To say that something has been missing in the past relationship between cheering squad and student body would be an understatement.

I'M CERTAINLY NO expert, but it seems to me that the cheerleaders vainly attempt to keep a constant barrage of noise going, even during the most unimportant moments of the game. This is hard on everybody. I think better results would be achieved if they would regulate their cheers to the up-and-down rhythm of excitement that is characteristic of a football game.

Finally, there is the case of the vanishing redskin. When it comes to a mascot, I honestly believe we have the best. It's just too impressive for even the stuffiest of shirts to ignore, when Sammy flies nearly the entire length of the football field, only touching ground every few yards to begin another hand-spring. Here is a mascot that embodies the very essence of this University--The aura that surrounds this school and makes it so unique--inexhaustible ambition! But lately, an outbreak of sleeping sickness has apparently infected those students portraying Sammy Seminole. I can remember, many, many moons ago, when Sammy jabbed an opposing mascot in the rear with his spear; when he would mark the change of quarter by burying his lance near the new goal post and by turning back flip in time to the [illegible]

PERHAPS SAMMY is c[illegible] like everyone else, by that r[illegible] that's always in his wa[illegible]. I find no greater defender of southe[illegible] tradition than myself--may I wa[illegible] in crushed magnolia blossoms [illegible] proof--but, for the life of me, I [illegible] can't figure the connection betw[illegible] the Seminole Indians a[illegible] federacy. As I recall, this [illegible] came up last year, only to be [illegible] with a rebuff. You can see a r[illegible] flag anywhere, anytime, but Sam[illegible] Seminole comes only a few [illegible] per fall.

In seeking a cause for thes[illegible] ments, I believe we can [illegible] minate the theory that any faul[illegible] with team and coach. The Semin[illegible] will always be surrounded b[illegible] aura of red rebellion in my m[illegible] for they delight in the role [illegible] killer, and play it well (as[illegible] Ga., or Ky.). No, the real [illegible] the problem lies in a sort of [illegible] sophistication that is s[illegible] through the student body. [illegible] becoming, as professor Cha[illegible] Geography Dept. might [illegible] "young fogies."

BOB'S ESSO SERVICE CENTER (ACROSS FROM FLORIDA THEATER)
NOW OPEN
"HAPPY MOTORING"

Padgett's Harley Davidson
417 W. Gaines St.
Ph. 222-0130
"your motorcycle headquarters"

ROAD SERVICE
Auto Repairing Brake Service
Good 224-9341 Service
WEST TENNESSEE PURE OIL
637 W. Tennessee

Bob Foss

We Need 'Dead Day

IN FULL realization that finals will be here all too soon it seems it is about time to see what we can bet done about Dead Day. For those of you who are altogether unfamiliar with it I will explain. It is more-or-less a breather between the last day of classes and the beginning of final exams. During this day it is supposedly forbidden for any activity meeting to be carried [illegible] would interfere with the final p[illegible] aration for this traumatic expe[illegible] ence.

This is how Dead Day has been until now that is. This trimes[illegible] with all the added burden, [illegible] a sadistic Thanksgiving repriev[illegible] has no Dead Day. Sitting high [illegible] judement bench and casting irrev[illegible] ences on the administration [illegible] deletion, and standing fully [illegible] the entire student body [illegible] as a whole, will make good [illegible] such a day if offered, is not [illegible] GRANTED, MANY stud[illegible] little or no advantageous us[illegible] time, but will not the rigors [illegible] creased study load soon annil[illegible] them from the ranks of those [illegible] desire an education!

Not all is to be said in the d[illegible] of the student faction, either [illegible] from it. This imposition [illegible] must, and is, being shoulder[illegible] the administration as well. [illegible] they use one day to regr[illegible] and in turn be more fully p[illegible] to carry out a more effectiv[illegible] program? It's something [illegible] about.

IT'S F.S.U. MONTH
at SEMINOLE & PARKWAY LANES
BOWL! BOWL! BOWL!
FOR THE NEXT 30 DAYS ANY FSU STUDENT WHO SHOWS HIS I.D. CARD CAN BOWL
FOR 35¢ A GAME
THAT'S 35¢ A GAME

BOWL! BOWL!

The BIG "B"

ONE HOUR
Dry Cleaners

SPECIAL
MONDAY TUESDAY WEDNESDAY
FREE PLASTIC SHOE BOX
With Each $2 of Dry Cleaning

LAUNDRY 5 SHIRTS FOR 1 $1.00
PULLOVERS, TUX, AND DOCTORS' JACKETS 25¢ each
305 N. Monroe St. & 1100 W. Tennessee St.

Flambeau Editorials

...BEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student ... as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editori... represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the ... ing the editorial.

No Thanksgiving?

...w many students plan to sacrifice their only Fall ...ester vacation, Thanksgiving, in order to attend ...r two classes on the Friday following the holiday? ... not many.

... having a set of values which sometimes dif... with that of the faculty, were generally willing to ...he cut and go home to their families just once ... final examinations. At least, they were willing ...uy" the holiday with a cut until several professors ...nced their intention to "horse-collar" the week-

... HORSE-COLLAR, which was banned by the ...rsity administration several years ago, is a ...que used by faculty members to keep students ... leaving campus early for vacations. A cut in ... lass meeting before the holiday is recorded ... or even three cuts, thereby weighting that ses... so heavily as to keep students on campus. ...ly, there seems to be no real University regula... determining what number constitutes "excessive" ... Neither the "Pow Wow" nor the "Faculty Hand... lists any such figure, but many instructors still ... the "three-cut limit" and base their grading ...s on it. In this case, the horse-collar can be ...nely important in terms of the student's final ... for the course.

...HE THANKSGIVING horse-collar were an an... University policy, student leaders could lobby ...nd try to seek a solution for the problem. ...A DEPARTMENT intends to inforce attendance on ... Thanksgiving, the policy sould be clearly ...s what effect would a "double cut" have on a stu... grade? Will such a policy be in general effect ...ughout the departmnet or will individual instruc... ...rileged to make their own rules?

... ...er is true, the departments could at least ... students be informed. A long weekend at ... has a definite value in the eyes of college stu... ...nd they should be told exactly what the price ... they are called upon to risk quality points.

...S RED TAPE could be avoided if one of two al...ternatives were followed. First, classes for the day ...d simply be cancelled. If trimester condensation ...mits this, one day of Saturday classes could be ... at some other time during the term. Students ... be willing to swap one Saturday for a four-day ...iday, especially when that holiday is the only one ... trimester.

TD

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

... Joan Abbott, News Editor — John Schaffner, Managing Editor — Howard Denson, Sports Editor

...g Editors.....Jim Smith Sports Staff - Shirley Hardison, Seth Bramson, Sharon Blackwell, Lana Murray, Nancy Olson

Photographers - Art Campbell, Vin Hoagland, Fred McDonald

...or .....John Wood Business Manager .....Dianne Klinck
.....Bruce Tibbo Advertising Manager .....Charlie Mull
.....Spence Guerin Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Mabry Ashley

...rs Dobson, Allan Der..., Bonnie Freedman, ... Matt Straub, Joe Rice, ... Mary Ann Stevens, ...bbie Shiplett, Gayle ... es, Bill Smart, Mary Grossen... Gordon, Susie Rhoades, ... Lack Simmons, Irma ...ey, Thera Brackney, Iris Anderson, Frank Leslie McNevin, Bob Cornet,

Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeithen, Don Dughi, John Morgan.

Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Ben Sharp

The Sad View Of Mississippi

With sadness, the young men and women of the South must view the course followed by Ross Barnett, Governor of Mississippi.

For Barnett is leading his state down the path to destruction of the state's new budding industry. In a few days, he is managing to tear down the great strides that Mississippi has taken in recent years.

Mississippi is typical of the rising South. There exists a definite group of younger, progressive Southerners that are vitally interested in leading the state out of the nation's economic boondocks and moving Mississippi ahead. This younger generation has its eye on the future and is working to meet it.

Many of these men and women would prefer to keep their system of segregation. But they realize that strict maintenance of segregation in schools is incongruous with progress and prosperity.

Throughout the South, this axiom has become apparent. Little Rock, Ark., fought the courts and suffered. In contrast, Atlanta, Ga., handled the same problem smoothly and forcefully. The latter remains strong, prosperous, and stable.

Even Barnett must realize that his moves of defiance are totally futile. The War Between the States has settled the issue of state versus federal authority. Precedent has been established and the federal government will be the victor.

The big fallacy in this dangerous maneurvering is that Mississippi will be the loser economically and Governor Barnett will be responsible for that loss. At that moment, many citizens of the state may consider the governor a hero, but their tune will change when the blight of hatred and unrest creeps across the land.

Mississippi's college students will not want to stay in a state where their education is threatened. College graduates will not want to stay in a place where they do not have the opportunity to advance. The bright young leaders, who are the hope for Mississippi's future, will flock from their home state, seeking more profitable areas.

This is what Barnett's actions forecast for Mississippi, if he is allowed to stir racial friction and create a climate of turmoil. A closed educational system is a closed door to progress and prosperity.

So the younger men and women of the South watch sadly as Barnett inflicts this fate upon his home state. They know that in time the tide of the rising South will sweep through Mississippi eventually. The future will bring a repudiation of leaders like Barnett.

"We Are Determined To Fight Communism By Any Means Short Of Actual Spending"

Letters To The Editor

DiCarlo Lacks Insight

To the Editor:

I would like very much to comment on your article entitled, "Mess at Miss" in your Tuesday, Sept. 25 issue. I agree that this crisis has pointed up a startling contrast between Ole Miss and the Florida universities. And the difference is truly leadership, but the narrow-minded individual who wrote this article clearly lacks even an elementary knowledge of leadership, to say nothing of lacking an insight into the whole situation in relation to Mississippi.

Can it be that Dicarlo is trying to suppress a secret shame because his leaders were too weak and had not the guts to stand up against something they knew was wrong? He makes the statement "the leaders (in Florida) set a favorable, non-emotional climate for the situation." He could well replace the "favorable, non-emotional" with pacifist, "no-care"--both statements mean the same.

I do not believe that the people of this state truly want integration. But there are too many (from all indications about 99-1/2 percent) who are so liberal that they will take anything rather than endure "dangerous emotions on both sides of the issue."

The dignity and grace of the Old South can still be found on the Campus of Ole Miss. Due to the fact that Mississippians are willing to fight for what they believe, it will continue to do so.

Gerald Townsend

EDITOR'S NOTE: Miss Toni DiCarlo, executive editor of the "Flambeau," assures us she is of the feminine gender.

Why Change?

To the Editor:

In an article in the "Flambeau" on September 24, 1962, it was stated that Bella Dodd, former high-level commie, is worried that the Communism vs. Americanism course may be taught in such a way as to influence students in such a way that they will believe in the Communist ideology.

Perhaps it will--if the communist theory alone is taught. Communism looks good--on paper. The idea of communism, or communal living, is "what is good for one is good for all." Wealth would be distributed equally and no one person would be any richer than anyone else, IN THEORY.

On the other hand, if communism is taught for what it is, a deceitful idea that takes away the rights and privileges of all but the ruling class, then the esteemed Dr. Dodd need not worry about whether or not students will be influenced by pinko professors.

Which brings to mind a question. Why is Dr. Dodd no longer a member of the Party? Did she realize what a farce communism is or does she still have her own ideas about communism that the people who applaud her do not realize? In other words, are there ulterior motives to her changeover from communism to democracy?

Seth Bramson

Beware Of Air Conditioning

To the Editor:

As I sit here, nose dripping, eyes running, voice gone, I tenderly recall all the futile actions I had taken from since I first experienced the symptoms of a cold.

How, at the first sign of a sore throat, I took my little body to the infirmary where I joined the assembly line for an assortment of pills as a definite preventative measure. Reluctantly I followed the nurse's advice to restrict my activities.

At eight, dressed according to the mild "sweater weather," I marched off to class. Would you believe it? While the temperature outside was in the lower seventies, inside the air conditioners were going full blast. This became the rule throughout the day. By the end of classes, there I sat, nose dripping, eyes running, headache ....

I certainly hope someone tells the little man who pulls the switches about the "why and when" of air conditioning before winter comes.

Mark Witham

"JUDY'S JOURNEY"
. . . is part of the Lois Lenski collection on display at the library. Here, Miss Agnes Gregory, who teaches children's literature in the library, looks over "Judy's Journey," the book of which Miss Lenski sent original documentary material.

Author's Collection Displayed In Library

An exhibit of books, manuscripts and illustrations by Lois Lenski, Newbery award-winning author of children's books, is now on display in the special collections area of Strozier Library.

A complete set of materials, from documentary sources to the completed book of "Judy's Journey," published in 1948, is included, according to Miss Nancy Bird, librarian.

Miss Lenski is known for a series of regional books about child life in the past. "Strawberry Girl" won for her the Newbery medal for the best children's book in 1946.

"Judy's Journey," the fourth book in the regional series, is the heart of the exhibit, which may be seen in the special collections display room between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily, and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday, until Nov. 1. The printed book, its jacket also designed by Miss Lenski, a typescript of a German translation, and a radio play based on the book, are also being displayed.

The material on "Judy's Journey" is the latest addition to a collection begun in 1958, when Miss Louise Richardson wrote the author asking for a manuscript or a drawing.

Miss Lenski prepared for the library a collection of illustrations, articles, copies of foreign editions, the printer's page dummy for "We Live in the South," and galley proofs for "Houseboat Girl."

The library purchased all of Miss Lenski's books in print at that time, and has bought all new books written and/or illustrated by her since that time, and as many out-of-print titles that have been located.

Housing Normal

Although housing at FSU has been critical during the past year, present facilities are taking care of the immediate needs, according to Miss Edith McCullom, director of housing.

Only 34 upperclasswomen and 11 freshman women now live in temporary housing on campus. Approved off-campus residences house 263 upperclasswomen, of which 73 are over 21 and have official permission.

In selecting off-campus housing, Mrs. Dorothy Nettles of the housing office sought responsible adults to live in each home. In addition, three houses at 529 W. College, 537 W. Park and 610 W. Pensacola now accomodate 76 coeds under the supervision of graduate assistants.

There is no official estimate of how many students were turned away from FSU because of lack of housing space. Most of the 10 women dorms were full by March of last year. In June, the housing office still had 300 applications to fill before the fall trimester.

The problem of space arose because of the retention of students has become greater in the past two years. "We are getting better, more serious minded students; and, as a result, they stay longer," Miss McCullom remarked.

As most of the men ut FSU live off campus, a new men's dormitory, now in the final drawing stages, will be begun next April and should be completed by September of 1963.

IN THE COLLEGE
BRAND ROUND-UP

PRIZES: ZENITH STEREO SET

WHO WINS:

RULES:

Get on the BRANDWAGON ... it's lots of fun!
SAVE YOUR PACKS

SNOW WHITE LAUNDRY
and DRY CLEANERS

625 West Tennessee

One day service
One hour service also
Finish shirts—pants
Fluff dry service

PALACE SHOE SHOP
Est. 1914
SHOE FIXERY
Phone 222 - 0103

121 E. PARK AVE

Across From Post Office
TALLAHASSEE, FLA.

Knowledge For College

Tests on "Knowledge for College" will be given Tuesday, at 5 p.m. in Westcott Auditorium to all freshman and transfer women students.

DELIVERY

5-11

QUAKER HOUSE

BOXES — SANDWICHES

SALADS — DRINKS
DESSERTS

222 - 8677

$2.00 MINIMUM ORDER

318 S. MONROE

SUNSHINE SMILES

are registered as these coeds chance a brief moment as the clouds Old Sol glanced down and drove away the showers but these gals umbrellas ready if Sol decides to run and hide.

Health Insurance Conference Meets At FSU This Week

About 75 field representatives, agents and home representatives of health insurance companies are expected to attend the first Advanced Health Insurance Underwriting Conference at FSU, Monday and Tuesday.

The conference is sponsored by the J. Edwin Larson Foundation for Insurance Education, Inc. and the Florida Association of Health Underwriters, with the cooperation of the International Association of Health Underwriters, the Tallahassee Association and the Disability Insurance Training Council.

The two-day meeting will include discussions of the problems of health insurance programming, business insurance, taxation and estate planning.

The J. Edwin Larson Foundation was started this year under the sponsorship of the FSU School of Business to provide a fund for scholarships in the insurance field. William Brewster Jr., assistant professor of business, said that proceeds of the conference will go to the fund.

Dr. James E. Dillinger of the business faculty and president of the J. Edwin Larson Foundation for Insurance Education, said some 20 scholarships are now available. Qualified students may apply for scholarships for the spring trimester.

The conference, first of its kind to be held at FSU, will open Monday with registration in the Business School's Weichelt Lounge. The opening speaker will be Victor Cawthon, an attorney with the firm of Keen, O'Kelley and Spitz of Tallahassee. He will speak at 9:30 a.m. Monday on "Federal Taxes and Their Relations to Health Insurance." At 10:30 a.m., Robert Osler, president of the Underwriters National Assurance Co., Indianapolis, will discuss "Co-ordinated Programming of Life and Health Insurance."

Other speakers will include John B. English, general agent for Monarch Life Insurance Co., New York; Dr. O. D. Dickerson, associate professor of insurance at FSU and author of "Health Insurance"; and William Harmelin of the Harmelin Agency, New York City.

Graduation

Students who plan to graduate in April or August should sign in 102B Westcott to have their general education requirements checked early this trimester.

STATE BAKERY &DELICATESEN

BIRTHDAY and WEDDING CAKES

SANDWICHES and FOOD BOXES

The Crosby Family 'sez'

Y'ALL COME

Freez King

Southern Kitchen

1935 Thomasville Rd.

Walk up and Dining Room Service

Hamburgers—Hot dogs 8 for $1.00

15¢ ea.

Home Cooked Food Served Daily

7:00 a.m. till 9:30 p.m.

SCOTTY'S PURE OIL

325 E. TENNESSEE ST.

(Across from Garcias)

Mechanical Repairs

Automatic Car Wash

Gas and Oil

Slogan-While you dine at Garcia's, leave your car at SCOTTY'S

Neal Goodwin

Tune-up Specialist

on Dohnanyi ervices Were ought By FSU

orts of FSU officials to obtain the late Ernst von ed what appeared to in 1949 when the Florida's loyalty oath a non-citizen.

ed in a newly pub- book, "The Tallahassee von Dohnanyi," by Marion U. Reuth, a member of staff of the Strozier Library. Reuth said an attorney gene- however, permitted to invite the great Hungarian poser here, and he spent 10 of years in Tallahas- until his sudden death of Feb. 9.

has assembled a large Dohnanyi and pre- book. "It is hoped that studies of the life and works of Dohnanyi will be under- leading eventually to the pub- tion of a definitive biography."

Reuth, a pianist, was familiar and his works long be- ing here in July, 1958, to music cataloguer at the lib- After arriving in Tallahassee, became acquainted with Mr. and

She holds a master's degree in music from Catholic University in Washington. Her book on Dohnanyi Tallahassee was written as a mas- 's thesis in library science, and received a master's degree from in June.

Miss Reuth has returned to Silver Spring, Md., her original home.

Gilbert And Sullivan

Series Traces Careers

The musical comedy careers of Gilbert and Sullivan will be traced in a three part series of programs which begins tonight on WFSU-TV.

"Gilbert and Sullivan; the Immortal Jesters" will be aired at 9:30 tonight.

The first program, "Overture," tells how the two were brought together by the English impressario, Richard D'Oyly Carte. The first big Gilbert and Sullivan success came with "Trial by Jury." The theatre in which they had been working when they wrote such hits at "The Sorcerer," "H.M.S. Pinafore," and "The Pirates of Penzance" was soon too small to accommodate the growing crowds. As a result, Giblert and Sulivan with D'Oyly Carte, formed their own company and built the famous Savoy Theatre.

The second program, "The Golden Years," covers the 1880-1885 period when their greatest hits emerged. Among them were "Patience," "Iolanthe," and "The Mikado." This program, like the others is spiced with excerpts from the musicals. It continues to show the growing disharmony between Gilbert and Sullivan.

The last episode, "Shadows and Sunshine," tells of the rift that widened until the two broke in a mess of court writs and hearings. Four years later D'Oyly re-united the pair but their music lacked sparkle.

Tissue Order

Fraternities, sororities and other organizations needing tissue paper to make Homecoming decorations should order now, Marie Williams, chairman of social affairs committee, advised.

Several Tallahassee merchants have requested prompt ordering, since tissue must be specailly ordered and takes approximately one month for delivery.

VOLKSWAGON REPAIRS

All work guaranteed - 1 day service

Pierce Causseaux - Volks Specialist

JACK KERZAN'S TEXACO

936 North Monroe

Phone - 224-0320

WE - RENT - IT

1707 N. MONROE STREET

Ph. 224-6161

(For Delivery)

PARTY SUPPLIES

ALL TYPE TOOLS

ROLLAWAY BEDS

T. V. SETS

PLUS MORE

"WE RENT MOST EVERYTHING"

San - Can Drive In Restaurant

Air Conditioned Dining Room

Curb Service

Take Out Orders

1825 Thomasville Road

Ph. 223 - 0445

Home Cooked Food

Oak Valley Golf Club Presents

FALL FESTIVAL of GOLF

ENTRY FEE $7.50 (includes 1 Practice Round)

54 HOLES MEDAL PLAY - QUALIFYING ROUND COUNTS

Qualify BEFORE Friday, October 5th

16 MEN TO A FLIGHT

1, 2, 3 PLACE WINNERS IN EACH FLIGHT

OCTOBER 6 & 7th

OVER $500 IN PRIZES

PHONE 224-2047

555 OCALA RD. OFF W. TENN.

TALLAHASSEE, FLA.

SEVEN HILLS STUDIO

"Your ON CAMPUS Studio"

648 W. CALL ST.

(Across from Home Economics Bldg)

COMPOSITES

PORTRAITS

PHONE 224-3532

PLEDGE GROUPS

Grecian Columns

Greeks Begin At Game's End

Initiations, elections of officers, and Saturday night combo parties are the main items on the agenda in Greekland this week.

ALPHA OMICRON PI--Two newly elected officers of AOPi are Lucy Sproull, vice president; and Nelda Byram, rush chairman. Ken Van Assenderp and Johnny Smith were the special guests of AOPi this week.

ALPHA PHI--Sunday evening from 5 till 7 p.m. the spring pledge class of Alpha Phi is having a spaghetti dinner at the Alpha Phi house. The dinner is open to the public. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA--New pledge officers are President Cindy Peters, Treasurer Judy Macneil and Secretary Joanne Carpenter. Wednesday night the Tri-Sigmas will hostess a dessert party with the Delta Chi's.

DELTA CHI--The new Delta Chi housemother is Mrs. Velma Smith. Newly appointed athletic director is Leo Brooker. The new pledges will be honored Friday night with a record party and Saturday night with a combo party.

KAPPA ALPHA--Wednesday the KA's honored Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Blackwell with a dinner. Newly elected officers are Bucky Fry and Bill Greenwood.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA--In a pledging ceremony Tuesday night, the chapter welcomed David White as a new pledge. Saturday night after the football game there will be a combo party featuring "Lawyer Smith's" combo.

PHI KAPPA TAU--Sunday the Phi Tau's and their dates attended church after which they returned to the house for a banquet in honor of the new initiates. Those recently initiated are Bill Arrington, Frank Baggott, Jack Brown, George Datesman, Bob Dennard, Jim High, Hilton Jones, Terry Lubinsky, Stan Melnick, Jerry Shrewsbury, Mike Vickers and Ivan Williams. Jim High was presented the annual Pledge-of-the-year award.

Saturday evening there will be a steak dinner in honor of the new pledges. A combo party is planned for after the game Saturday night.

PI KAPPA ALPHA--New initiates are George Allen, Dave Collyer, Fred Ingley, J.L. Milton, Paul Musante and Mike Overstreet.

There will be a combo party Saturday night with music provided by the "Intruders."

SIGMA PHI EPSILON--Darbi Cook is the newly elected vice president. New pledges are Jim Scroggins, Tom Macdonald and John Thrasher.

There will be a record party after the game Saturday night.

PI KAPPA PHI--New initiates are Gerry Chmielewski, Jon Kaney, Bill Harnage, Bill Joyce, John McQueen, John Miller, Jim Newman, Bob Perkins, Frank Ryll, Richard White and Chuck Wilson.

There will be a Combo Party after the game Saturday night with music provided by the "Gents."

TAU EPSILON PHI--TEP will honor their new pledges with a victory party Saturday night. Music will be presented by the "Collegians."

THETA CHI--Newly elected social chairman of Theta Chi is Vic Yates. Before the game Saturday night the Theta Chi's and their dates will enjoy a buffet dinner at the house.

Auditions Are Held

Auditions for roles in the forthcoming production of the musical, "Kismet," will be Monday and Tuesday in Opperman Music Hall, beginning at 7 p.m. both nights.

Both singers and actors are needed to fill more than 40 roles in the production. Musical scores and books may be obtained at the Music Library in the Music Bldg. and playbooks are also available in 115 History.

Dancers may tryout for the production at the Theatre Dance Group tryouts, Tuesday at 4:20 p.m. at the Women's Gymnasium.

The production will be directed by Dr. Arthur Dorlag. Richard Collins will conduct the musical portions.

"AWRIGHT MISTUH

. . .that hat is just one-quarter of an inch off center. Let's watch it," says Army ROTC Cadet 2nd. Lt. Sheppard.

TALLY-HO

Miss Tally Ho Contest Is Slated For Next Week

The annual "Tally Ho" beauty contest has been set for next Wednesday and Thursday at 7 p.m. in Opperman Auditorium.

But only 46 contestants have registered as of today, according to Sally Street, "Tally Ho" editor, and there must be 75 in the finals. "Any FSU coed is eligible to enter, and any group may sponsor a candidate, providing they have her permission to enter her name," Miss Street said. Each group may enter five contestants. Also, a coed may enter the contest independently. No sponsor is needed, the editor stressed.

The deadline date has been extended to 5 p.m., Monday.

All contestants will wear street-length cocktail dresses. Those asked to return for the finals Thursday will wear shorts, sweaters, heels. Five girls will be [illegible] Thursday and from among the finalists, the "Tally Ho [illegible] Queen" will be selected. The winning coed and her court will be featured in the beauty section of the 1963 "Tally Ho." Her identity will remain secret until Senior Day in April, when it will also be announced in the "Flambeau."

Contestants registered so far are Mary Arliskas, Zeta Tau Alpha; Emily Kay Scholze, Dorman; Jones, Dorman; Ann Fulck, Pi Kappa Phi; Anne Fleishel, Southern Scholarship & Research Foundation; Mercurio, Gilchrist; Sue Le[illegible] Barbara Read, Zeta Tau Alpha; Carole Cubbedge, Pi Kappa [illegible] Lynn Ridgeway, Pi Kappa [illegible] pha Omega Pi; Ann Fackelman; [illegible] an; Nancy Jean Jones, [illegible] MiMi McGaw, Kappa Kappa [illegible] Connie Haver, Dorman; Mitzi [illegible] on, Pi Kappa Phi; Joy [illegible] Tau Alpha; Susan Counts, [illegible] Kappa Kappa Gamma; Valeria [illegible] op, Cawthon; Sandra Reil[illegible] Alpha; Sister Cantey, Pi Kappa [illegible] Mary Grey James, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Mary Ellen Yaggy, [illegible] Chi; Cynthia Ann Peters, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Joanne Carpenter, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Elizabeth [illegible] per, Pi Beta Phi; Kay Alvarez, Beta Phi; Sherian Chester, Kappa Sigma; Trish Kerrigan, Kappa [illegible] ma; Carol Lynn Mitchell, Kappa Sigma; Barbara Jean Partzek, Kappa Sigma; Kathy Ellen Adkins, Kappa Sigma; Nancy Jo Cochran, [illegible] Tau Delta; Barbara Duquette, [illegible] Tau Delta; Linda Reed, Delta [illegible] Delta; Anne Hair, Delta Tau [illegible] Elsa Coleman, Delta Tau [illegible] Bobbie Lou Kaminis, Alpha [illegible] Cora Sue Zolobosky, Gilchrist; [illegible] nie Patten, Theta Chi; Norma [illegible] Smith, Broward; Linda Ann [illegible] Broward; Carole Cundiff, [illegible] and Tiffany Kaye Small, Alpha [illegible]

CAY RUSS

. . . last year's Tally Ho que[illegible]

CROW'S STORE
1902 Lake Bradford Rd.
Near Alumni Village

GRADE A T-BONE	$0.69 lb.
T-BONE STEAK	$0.69 lb.
SIRLOIN STEAK	$0.69 lb.

NO CHANGES in PRICES
ALL MEATS GUARANTEED

"LET THY ATTIER BE COMELY, BUT NOT COSTLY."

From a play by JOHN LYLY, 1510.
Today, smart people dress well
Economically, By choosing from

ALFORD'S ARRAY OF PROVEN APPAREL

* Arrow and Manhattan shirts, underwear, sportswear
* McGregor and Campus-Togs sportswear and clothing
* Florsheim and Bates shoes - Esquire sox
* Champ slacks - Testan and Hickock belts
* Lakeland, McGregor and Rainfair outerwear of which a TOP example is - - - - -

Zip-Lined
Rain Topper
Chases Chills and Showers

Rainfair

Fair-Weather

NOMAD - As practical as it is smart with deep pile lining that zips in or out. Cotton poplin treated with Zelan water repellent.

$29.95

Alford Brothers
TWO TWELVE SOUTH MONROE
DOWNTOWN TALLAHASSEE

LETT'S BARBER SHOP
1120 N. Monroe Street
HAIRCUTS
(FLAT TOPS A SPECIALTY)
SHOE SHINE BOY ON DUTY
FREE SHOULDER MASSAGE
T. V.
WATCH THE SATURDAY SPORTS
WHILE YOU WAIT
"We Appreciate Student Business"

J & J BARBER SHOP
106 W. JEFFERSON

ARE YOU TIRED OF WASTING TIME IN A BARBER SHOP?

HERE'S YOUR ANSWER

HAIRCUTS BY APPOINTMENT
Phone 224 - 0353

(FLAT TOPS BY THE CHAMPION)

Owned and operated by W.R. PARARO, JR. (Formerly of Tallahassee, Barber Shop) and JAMES F. SANDERS (formerly of Florida Barber Shop)

"STANDARD PRICES"

"STUDENTS & FACULTY WELCOME"

GOOD TIMES YOU CAN NEVER FORGET ●●●●●●●

THE EVENTS THAT COMPLETE YOUR COLLEGE
EARS = THOSE IMPORTANT AND VERY SPECIAL
AYS = THE PEOPLE, THE PLACES, THE TIMES THESE AKE UP THE TALLY HO
HE TALLY HO SAVES THESE MEMORIES
ERSERVES THEM FOR YOUR LATER ENJOYMENT
THE 1963 TALLY HO WILL BE A RECORD OF THE OLLEGE YEAR = A COLLECTION OF HAPPENINGS
HAT MAKE FSU YOUR UNIVERSITY
RESERVE YOUR COPY OF THE 1963 TALLY HO
ODAY
4th FLOOR LONGMIRE = $3.00 SENIORS
2.00 ALL OTHERS = LAST CHANCE 2-5 p.m.

Against Southern Mississippi

Freshman Gridders To Open Tomorrow

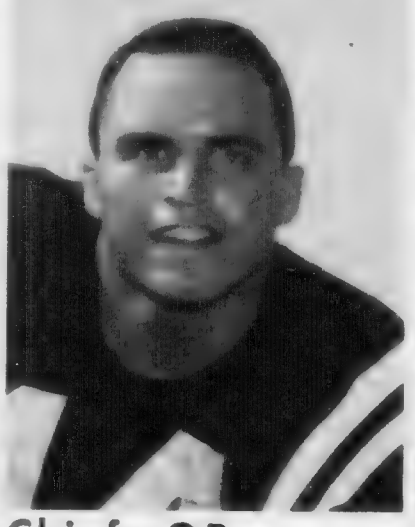
By SHIRLEY HARDISON
Flambeau Sports Writer

The heaviest football team on campus travels to Columbus, Ga., tomorrow night to battle the Southern Mississippi freshman football team. The Baby Seminoles open their season against the Southerners with hopes of upholding the 3-year undefeated streak, which began in 1959.

Coach Bubba McGowan is the head coach of the fightin' Baby Seminoles this season. Former FSU standouts, Fred Grimes and Don Sellers are his assistants. According to Grimes and Sellers, the team is beginning to "firm up and they have a lot of potential."

The team as a whole outweighs any team that has ever been fielded on the Florida State campus. Fifteen of the boys weigh 200 pounds, one tackle, Doug Hesselbart, tipping the scales at 235. Coach McGowan describes his team as "a big group, a good group, and they really have determination on the field. Our only weakness is depth."

The starting line-up for tomorrow night's game includes Max Wettstein, a 6-2, 200-pounder from Leesburg, and Elton Jones, 6-0, 180-pound "weakling" at end positions; two out-of-staters, Larry Strobal, 5-11, 215-pounder from Massilon, Ohio and James Stone, 6-2, 212 pounds from Atlanta, Georgia, holding down the tackle spots.



Two Floridians take the guard positions: Dave Logan, 5-11, 200-pounder from Waldo; and David Pitts, a 5-10, 200-pounder from Blountstown.

At center is Jay MacMathews, 6-2, 195 pounds from Chiefland.

In the backfield are quarterback Buddy Blankenship, 6-3, 197 pounds. The two halfback spots go to Andy Nobles, 6-1, 195-pound Texan and Howard Ehler, 5-9, 185-pounder from Travares.

The fullback for the Southern game will be Ken Fraxier, 6-2, 212 pounds of Texas muscle.

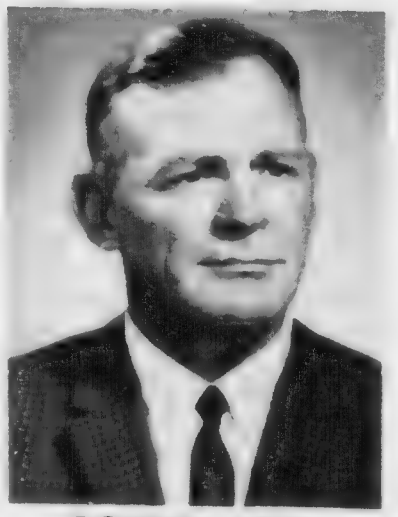
The next game will be with the Miami Baby Hurricanes in the Kiwanis Benefit game to be held in Doak S. Campbell Stadium, Oct. 13. This will be the only home game for the freshman team. Their last game will be played against Furman, Nov. 10.

Chiefs QB

Eddie Feely, who was named back of the Week by Florida Sports Writers, will lead the Chiefs, the two-way unit, into action tomorrow. Having the state's highest passing yardage, Feely was praised by Coach Peterson for his performance in this week's practice.

Furman Coach Bob King possesses a veteran squad, says FSU's Bill Peterson. Six of the vets are (left to right) senior Rodger Senter, senior Olin Hill, junior Doug Dillard, junior Doug Stac[k] senior Elton Brunty, and junior John [C]ook.

Paladins To Battle Seminoles Tomorrow On FSU's Gridiron



Brunty and Donovan are to Feely as Watkins is to Tensi is an algebraic way of saying that a similarity exists at least in physical characteristics, between Furman and Florida State quarterbacks.

On the diminutive side, the Paladins' Elton Brunty (5-10) and Danny Donovan (5-9) face one of the outstanding passers in the country in FSU's brilliant QB, 5-7 Eddie Feely.

Replacing Feely at the signal calling post is a highly touted sophomore, 6-5, 200-pound Steve Tensi, while 6-3, 195 Doug Watkins, is expected to share equal time calling the plays for Furman.

Feely led the aerial onslaught against The Citadel two weeks ago in a game highlighted by a potent FSU passing attack. The Seminoles completed 16 of 20 passes in their rout of the cadets, 49-0. The Furman offense to date has produced 704 yards on the ground, 61 yards through the air. The Paladins have thrown one TD pass, and that was the first score of the year (Watkins to Cook--22 yards) in the Presbyterian opener. A year ago, Furman had scored five touchdowns via the airlanes, all thrown by Billy Canty, who finished the season in seventh place nationally among the major college passers.

The aerial threat has not materialized in Furman's two victories. The Paladins have not been stopped on the ground; "as long as you can run, you don't have to pass," commented Coach King last Saturday after his purple and white backs had covered 471 yards against Wofford.

ROBERT KING
... meets Peterson.

King also said before the season that "Furman would run a little and pass a little" from the multiple prototype offense. So far this year there has been better balance in the running attack with at least seven Paladin backs sharing in the ground offense. A year ago, Tom Campbell was the Furman ground offense after two games.

If the Seminoles stop Furman on the ground, a second "Billy Canty" will have to emerge against FSU Saturday night.

WRA Slates Volleyball Officials Mee

The Women's Recrea[tion] Association is sponsoring a vo[l]leyball officials clinic at [7] p.m. Monday in 208 Montgome[ry] Gymnasium. The purpose of t[his] clinic is to train as many [girls] as possible in the correct te[ch]niques of officiating.

Everyone is urged to attend [the] clinic, and those could hold[ing] national or local rating [are] asked to come dressed re[ady] to play. All potential offic[ials] should bring whistles.

Coed Duffers Sla[te] Organizational Me[et]

Women students interested in [join]ing the women's golf team will [meet] at the pitch and putt course [at] Doak S. Campbell Stadium [from] to 4 p.m. Monday, Wednesday [and] Friday. If this time is not conv[e]ent, coeds should sign up in the Montgomery Gymnasium [or] Martin-Vegue's office.

Southern Scribes Judge Gray To Be A Top Amateur Golfer

Downing Gray's recent near-capture of the National Amateur Golfing crown impressed spectators, duffers, and sports writers from Pinehurst to Pensacola, Gray's hometown.

The reaction of the scribes can serve to point out the kind of champions Florida State produces. Bob Phillips of the Birmingham Post-Herald and Leo Coughlin of the Pensacola Journal were writers that called Gray a winner, despite the score.

"No amount of rationalizing or reason finding can ever be made to support the idea that it was a good thing that Downing Gray lost... but neither can anything be said to throw cold water on Gray's performance..." Coughlin said.

"It was magnificent and amazing.

"Gray breathed the air a champion breathes up there in the rarified heights of fame.. For Gray the pursuit of the championship was a will-o-the-wisp. When he held it so firmly in his grasp it got away. It was not meant to be...

"It was Waterloo at Pinehurst... but Gray bore up in losing with pride, with dignity, with poise.

"He never choked... he never gave up. 'I didn't think I'd lose until he sank the final putt. Then it was hard to believe,' Gray said."

Phillips of the Post-Herald asked, "How did Downing Gray ever manage to reach the finals... and how did he ever let Labron Harris Jr. get away after having him five down after the first 18 and, after lunch, still five down with only 15 holes left?"

The first question is harder to answer than the second question, many would jump the gun on the second question by answering, "He choked," Phillips said.

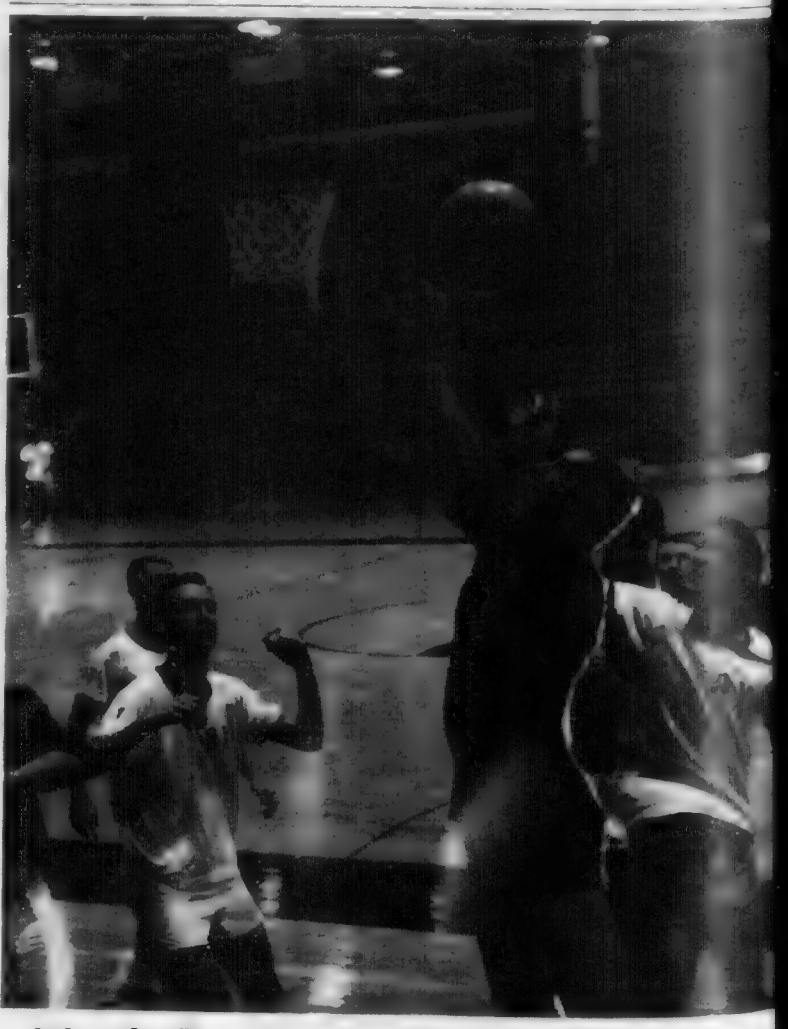
But it ain't necessarily so, he pointed out.

seven
seven-hole stretch, of a five hole lead into a one-hole deficit is not too hard to explain," Phillips said.

"In the first place, the mild, soft-spoken Gray simply had played almost better than he knew how in the morning round when he shot a genuine 70 over one of the more difficult golf courses anywhere. Every putt was holed. The round was one of which Gray could have remarked, golferlike, 'If I'd been putting, I would have shot 65.'

"Then, in the afternoon, Harris got back in the groove of a game that had mowed down in the last three rounds three of the very best pre-tournament bets."

Eventually, in the last five holes, Gray played only one of the five holes worse than Harris.



"By this time," Phillips continued, "Harris' spirits had to be high, and how about Gray's?"

When he walked off the green a loser, Gray's mother, whom he didn't know had flown in for the finals, kissed him.

"What're you crying for?" Phillips quoted Gray, "I'm not."

Phillips said, "He proceeded to give Harris one terrific fight down to the last green. There, Harris kept the match from going into extra holes by sinking a tricky downhill five-footer that he had left himself when he putted from 75 feet away."

Thus go the grads from FSU.

It's A Basketball!

No, it's not a bird, a plane, or even Superman. The intramurals ha[ve] gotten underway this trimester with basketball contests for men stude[nts]. Above, in one of the first games, Theta Chi barely edged Lambda [Chi] 37-36. Men's intramural swimming will begin next week. (Photo by [Al] Campbell Jr.)

nscored Upon Seminoles Rout Furman 42-0

The Florida State Seminoles shutout their third eam Saturday night before 17,500 fans in Doak . Campbell Stadium as they blanked the Furman versity Paladins, 42-0. Previously, the Semin- s whitewashed the Citadel Bulldogs, 49-0, and ght the Kentuck Wildcats to a scoreless stand- ll.

r full details see page 6.

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLIX, No. 19 Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University Monday, October 1, 1962

SEMINOLES DRIVE FORWARD FOR A TD

arterback Jim Loftin (23) picks up some 42-0 victory over Furman, before he is stopped Furman tacklers. (Photo by Emmette Jackson)

van Assenderp Announces Plan

FSU - UF Sponsor Film On Education

Florida State University will participate with the University of Florida in sponsoring the film, "Needs of Higher Education in FLorida," Student Body President Ken van Assenderp announced today.

The film, which was proposed by UF Student Body President Bill Trickle, will be shown to Civic Clubs, PTA groups, and other interested organizations.

The University of Florida and FSU are contributing $4,000 and $1,700 respectively towards the project.

A committee of representatives of the two universities will write the script which will emphasize the needy aspects of higher education in the state. The Florida Development Commission will handle the technical aspects of the film.

Florida State University, however, has put several strings to their agreement to cooperate on the film.

In a letter to Trickle, van Assenderp asked that no state funds be used for the production, that FSU have equal representation in both the committee and film, and that representatives from the other state supported four year universities be included in the committee to review the film.

Van Assenderp also insisted that the film not be shown out of state.

"These provisions will have to be met before we go ahead with the production," he emphasized.

"The overall idea of the film is good," van Assenderp commented. "But the time element is such that we will not have as big an audience as is desirable."

The film will be ready for showing in February.

Homecoming Court Chosen

Peggy Bruce, Evelyn Foy, Diane Goodwin, Kitty Miller and Fairfax Smathers will be members of the 1962 Homecoming Court.

The Homecoming queen will be selected from among these five finalists on Oct. 22. Her identity, however, will remain a secret until the night of the Pow-Wow, Nov. 2.

ll Elections Results

rickson Wins Overwhelmingly n Run-Off Elections On Friday

Erickson overwhelmingly de- John Ferry Thomas in the n Class presidential run- presidential race, John d out John Noppenberg te win. Green totaled 495.

her Freshman Class races, defeated Nan ; Margaret Nancy Harris Sue Peters air man's race Thurmond

For the freshman men's senators positions, Chuck Beck (590) and "Sparky" Sparkman (578) defeated Robert E. Lee (325) and Pete Nealing (294).

For freshman woman's senate, Dot defeated Nan Dale (442) defeated Candy Clifford (416) and Susan Worley (355).

In Precinct Senate run-off races:

1. Joanne Griffin (127) defeated Nancy May (78). 2. Pat Sauer (95) defeated Donna Futral (67). 3. Jeanie Williamson (95) defeated Barbara McDonald (85). 4. Carol Gresimer (100) defeated Caryl Giffin (65). 11. Sharon Dunn (51) defeated Sharon Stewart (39).

12. Newcomer, Jeff Andrews, (138) and Louis Barnett (109) defeated last year's Freshman Class senator Ted DeLaVergne (86) in the race for Smith Hall senator. Carl M. Sugarman (58) also lost in the two seat race.

13. John Merting (96) and vice chairman of the Student Party George Miller (78) defeated William (Bill) Caldwell (28) and Charles Intriago (47).

14. In the day student Senate race Susan Wharton (117), Guy H. Hollingsworth (112), Bill Branch (99) and Dennis Lanahan (98) defeated Bob Bardon (82), Connie Carroll (79) John B. Herndon (84) and Robert J. Schramm (55).

18. Jean Sauer (94), sister of Pat Sauer who won in the Precinct 2 Senate run-off, defeated Mary Lundale (58).

19. Barbara Daniel (71) defeated Suzie Miller (57). 20. Linda Luna (82) defeated Linda Robertson (53).

24. In the Graduate Student (at large) race, Jim White (60) defeated Gerry Dobson (48) in his bid for re-election.

There were better than 5,000 Homecoming Court, Freshman Class officer and precinct Senate ballots cast in Friday's voting reported Secretary of Elections Ron Jones. Of these approximately 1,200 freshmen cast ballots and over 2,000 voted in the Homecoming Court race.

☆ ☆ ☆

All Expense Statements Must Be Submitted Friday

who participated as candidates in the fall elections, n or lost, are required to turn in expense statements receipts before 5 p.m., Friday.

ense statement forms may be picked up at the main desk in Long- e. They are to be completed and returned to the Elections Committee, e expense statements will give the Elections Committee an oppor- to evaluate the various campaign expense at FSU, Secretary of Jones said.

do not return their statements by the deadline can be ely throuh Oct. 13, he added.

nes or expense statement fines are not paid, the student register for the next trimester or obtain a transcript of grades,

Ole Miss Crisis Breaks With Kennedy's Speech

BULLETIN

OXFORD, Miss. -- At least three persons were wounded by shotgun blasts during riots which involved about 2500 University of Mississippi students last night. The persons injured and extent of their injuries was not immediately known.

A second wave of rioting occured when former Major General Edwin Walker led a charge of brick-throwing students against the marshals.

Walker said his student force, numbering about 1,000, would regroup and charge again.

The shooting occured as students turned their wrath on federal marshals guarding the administration building -- throwing rocks, flinging lighted cigarettes and tossing soft drink bottles.

The marshals retaliated by donning gas masks and firing tear gas. Students scattered in all directions.

Students at the University of Mississippi briefly rioted last night as President John F. Kennedy addressed the people of the nation on radio and television.

Kennedy pointed out that a peaceful and sensible solution would have been possible had the University of Mississippi acted like other great southern universities. He cited universities in Fla., Ga., Va., N.C., Texas, La., Tenn., Ark., and Ky. as examples.

Students attacked an out-of-state car, smashing the windows and sending a man and woman fleeing.

They tore a news cameraman's equipment from him and smashed it.

Shortly before, James Meredith had been given an apartment on the campus in an apparent attempt to enroll today.

Kennedy, in speaking to the nation from Washington, said he hoped to avoid the use of National Guardsmen and Federal troops in the University of Mississippi crisis.

He said that with last night's admission of Meredith to the campus, Federal court orders are beginning to be carried out.

"Defiance of the law is the surest road to tyranny," Kennedy said. "We are free to disagree with the law, not disobey it."

The University of Mississippi students "have an obligation to uphold. One of honor and of courage," said Kennedy.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Private Parties

Only three weeks old, the new provision for private parties is already a resounding success. Students have taken advantage of the new rule every weekend since it was published, and this weekend six private parties were registered.

Certainly six parties is not many considering the size of the student body, but it is quite a few in relation to the newness of the rule. There seems to be every indication that more and more students will register their parties.

To those students who still suspect that "legal" parties will be "cased" by the administration, we say "relax." Administrators have better things to do than inspect the social affairs of a student body which has already proved itself to be mature and responsible. The deans are yielding responsibility to students.

It is up to the students to accept the opportunity and the responsibilities that go with it.

TD

More Voting Places

In every major election held on the campus of Florida State University at least six polling places are open for voting -- with the exception of one.

The FSU Homecoming Queen can be voted on at only two places. Westcott and the Student Center.

Secretary of Election Ron Jones points out that this fact cut down on voting for the Queen in Friday's election. However the statutes specify that this election can be held only in these spots.

In the past, this has been the case because the selection of the Homecoming Queen required pictures of the candidates. However, many students see these pictures on display when the polls are not open and many vote for candidates without seeing the pictures.

THE HOMECOMING QUEEN is supposedly representative of the ideal FSU coed. Looks, personality, service, and contribution to the university are qualifications. The winner enjoys an honored position.

There needs to be as many people voting for this position as possible in order to get the best sampling of student opinion. Long lines at few polling places certainly discourage a prospective voter.

THIS SHOULD BE changed before the final voting for the Queen this year. The Senate should make it a project to correct this at their first meeting of the full legislature on Wednesday.

BCS

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor
Joan Abbott, News Editor
John Schaffner, Managing Editor
Howard Denson, Sports Editor

Asst. Managing Editors.....Jim Smith, Sharon Blackwell
Sports Staff-Shirley Hardison, Seth Bramson.
Asst. Sports Editor.....John Wood
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager Dick Waterworth
Ad Make-up.....Mabry Ashley
Advertising Sales Staff-Ned Stafford, Lex McKeithen, Don Dughi, John Morgan.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado
Reporters-Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, John McCotter, Matt Straub, Joe Rice, Lawrence Mahoney, Mary Ann Stevens, Webie, Ted Harvey, Thera Brackney, Michelie Johnson, Iris Anderson, Frank, Leslie McNevin, Bob, Dixon.

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Letters To The Editor

Barnett Leads South

To the Editor:

I would like to comment on the article entitled "The Sad View of Mississippi" which appeared in the Friday, Sept. 28 issue.

First it can well be noted that the question at hand is not one of economics. Therefore this point require no discussion.

Mississippi is the leader of the rising South. These men and wome not only preter, but intend to keep their system of segregation. The power weilders of Atlanta, Ga., in their head-long rush to obey the Federal dictates, gave no consideration to the feelings and desires of the people who would be affected.

There is a fact in regard to education in Mississippi that is probably unknown to Sharp--the welfare payments made to the able but unworking Negroes (not from lack of jobs but from lack of desire to work) would go a long way toward the building of new and better schools for that state. But Mississippi is not going to forfeit education because it will continue--segregated.

It can only be a gross misrepresentation of the truth when Sharp declares that Ross Barnett has been allowed to "stir racial friction and create a climate of turmoil." Such a hypothetical statement could not have been made with any degree of though or fact as a basis.

Governor Ross Barnett promised the people of Mississippi, at the time of his election, that he uphold the system. This promise was instr his election; had the issippi not been t would have meant his defeat. people of Mississ for segregation, then Ole Miss have integrated in a so-called orable, non-emotional climate.'

No, the future will not b repudiation of men like Bar Should such men be re would have only a mass ject to the whims of a which is right now the authority of a great a eign state, the state of Mi The South Will Rise Agai

Gerald

Florida's Leaders Not 'Weak'

To the Editor:

Sir, I wish to take issue with Gerald Townsend on several points (cranial or otherwise) he emphasized in his address to Miss DiCarlo.

First, Miss DiCarlo's (FSU's) leaders were not "too weak ... to stand up against something they thought was wrong." On the contrary, they stood up--against prejudices, against sub-cultural "ruts," against short-sighted bigotry--and held firm in a policy justly described in the "Flambeau" "just students."

So you don't think this state's peoples (both parties) want integration? Then let me say this: If this were true, the students of FSU, a massive body of thought, of traditions, of standards--surely representative of the South--would have taken action against integration. And yet this predominantly Southern (in regard to ideals, not prejudices, obviously) populus, in this decidedly Southern town, reacted in a positive way: Yes, the students of FSU want an education. All the students. That's what they're here for.

Now, about the dignity and grace of the "Old South ...." Sir, this is not the "Old South." It is The South, a geographic section of a big hunk of something bigger and greater, i.e., the United States of America. It is The South, represented by traditions that will not die, that will live and go on living--and growing. That's the word. Growing.

The word that makes the whole trip worth the train ride: a New South. Mr. Townsend, a South that is progress and people. That's it--progress made by people who take pride in being in on the "growing up and out" of the New South.

Dignity and grace? There can be no dignity without pride, pride in the natural grace of growing.

Diana Michelle Goffe

Letters Policy

Letters to the editor and student comment are welcomed by the "Flambeau." We firmly believe that students should have an organ through which their opinions and views can be aired.

* * *

We will attempt to print all letters received that meet standards of good taste, conciseness of thought and quality of presentation. In addition, letters must be held to a maximum of 250 words.

* * *

At no time will letters containing material which is libelous or in bad taste be printed.

Aren't All Antebellum

Fortunately, most peo antebellum south and do in slavery. Miss Toni Di editorial "Mess at Miss was torn apart by Geral send on Friday, September in the "Flambeau," told th but true, story of Ole Miss.

Do you realize what w if one bigot could stand federal government? Our cratic system depends on ation of all citizens to see that rights of the few are not For one man to tell the government what he wants is nonsense.

Ross Barnett is not, as he beli more powerful than the federal ernment. He does not have the nor the right to stop one man obtaining the educati fully his.

Living Mowers?

To the Editor:

What a pal! What a buddy! What an [illegible] creature Joe Rice is! I [illegible] applaud to the [illegible] ritual of lawnmowing. It is a disgrace, no less; costing $11 per hour. I propose lawnmowing be...

Of course, there are certain solutions: I could take 24 hours of classwork and reduce the cost of this disgrace. But then I would have to wait until the second trimester to do so.

I have a more pertinent and timely solution. I demand that FSU sell the fleet of out-moded, obsolete lawnmowers and purchase in its place a herd of goats. The goats possess many distinct advantages over the lawnmowers--the goats wor ly, and they do not require fuels. Perhaps their biggest a tage, however, is that whil are cutting on one fertilizing on the other. Most omical!!!

In time, the campus the odor of a herd of goat would have to be dsposed simplest way of cleani air and the grounds cement the entire campu the grassy areas green. state, the campus would grass, hence, lawnmowing, noise.

Now, don't you see how simp all is?

Bonnie Freedman

Card Carriers Lament

We were recently reminded of the poor fellow who received some several thousand cards "To Remind You To Renew Your Subscription," when a machine in New York went haywire on a hot day.

We were set to wondering what he did with all these cards. We would suppose he invented games to discard them in a pleasant manner.

It is unfortunate that he didn't publish a list of his ideas, for we are now plagued with a similar problem; to wit, what to do with last years' cards.

We have old ID cards. THREE old ID cards. And all with the wrong classification and school. We have old Foreign Film cards which have places all over them to be punched, which have never been punched. We have left over Please-Return-To-The-Library cards. For sure we have returned to the Library from time to time, but these cards are of such official aspect that we haven't the heart to tear them up and throw them away.

We have cards left over from registration. Every single erally, since they are signed President, we don't throw away.) There are all the thi belonged to in high school. any membership that con of an honor is far to to be discarded.

So, if anyone has a good -- we've also got fourte thirty-seven baseball cards around.

Seniors And Grads Should Register For Interviews

NEW! PRO-ELECTRIC ROLL-ON
FIRST! BEFORE-SHAVE LOTION THAT ROLLS-ON

No dripping, no spilling! Covers completely!
Old Spice Pro-Electric protects sensitive skin areas from razor pull, burn. Sets up your beard for the cleanest, closest, most comfortable shave ever! 1.00
SHULTON

Company Representatives Come To Campus Today

Seniors and graduates should register with the Placement Office to be eligible for interviews with company representaties.

To make an appointment students should sign up on schedules in the Placement Office, 08 Longmire, and pick up company literature before interviws.

The recruitment schedule for next week is as follows:

Today - Humble Oil and Refining Co. The Exploration Dept. is interested in employing geology, physics and geophysics majors at all degree levels. The Marketing Dept. will interview Marketing and business administration majors who are interested in retail sales. The Controller's Dept. will interview accounting majors.

The U.S. Army Audit Agency will interview accounting majors.

Wednesday - Citizen's and Southern National Bank will interview business and liberal arts majors who are interested in a banking career. They are particularly interested in students majoring in accounting, industrial management, finance, economics and mathematics.

Haskins and Sells will interview accounting majors.

Thursday - The Martin Co., Orlando Division, will interview mathematics, physics, management and accounting majors.

Arthur Andersen and Co. will interview accounting majors.

Friday - Arthur Andersen and Co. will again interview accounting majors.

33 Charters Are Not Filed

Thirty-three organizations have not yet filed three copies of their constitutions in the Attorney General's office, Lyman Fletcher said.

Unless these copies are filed by Wednesday, as required by Student Body statutes, charters will be revoked at the first Senate meeting after that date.

Organizations that have not yet filed the copies in the Attorney General's office, 210 Longmire, are: Alpha Council, Alpha Delta Sigma, Alpha Epsilon Delta, Alpha Kappa Delta, Alpha Kappa Psi, Alpha Lambda Delta, Alpha Phi Omega, Angel Flight, Arnold Air Society.

Beta Phi Mu, Cavaliers, Chess Club, Choral Union, Circle K, Cotillion, Diving Seminoles, Engineering Science Society, Florida Education Association, Florida State Childhood Education, Florida State University Marketing Club, Garnet Key, Gymkana, Intervarsity Christian Fellowship.

Lambda Alpha Epsilon, Mortified, Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Beta Lambda, Phi Epsilon Kappa, Philosophy Club, Pi Sigma Alpha, Soltas, State Scholarship Club, Village Vamps.

Fund Drives Must Have Authorization

Organizations conducting fund-raising drives without proper authorization may have their fund-raising privileges suspended, Secretary of Finance Frank Milwee announced today.

"Many organizations have been holding fund-raising drives of various types without proper authorization to do so," Milwee said. "Under the Student Body Statutes, all fund-raising projects must be approved by the Student Government Funds Committee before the project is inaugurated," he explained.

"All organizations, scholarship funds, honorary groups, etc., which are now engaged in such unauthorized projects are subject to having future fund-raising privileges suspended unless immediate contact is established with the Funds Committee," he stressed.

Milwee asked that all organizations currently conducting or planning projects call the Student Government offices at Ext. 2975, if there is any question about the status of the projects.

Under the Statutes, "Any student organization which does not receive money from the Student Activity fee is permitted, with the approval of the Funds Committee, to sponsor during the academic year one project for the purpose of making money. Another project may be granted approval by the Committee when the Committee has adequate proof that the previous project that year failed to meet the money needs as stated in the request form.

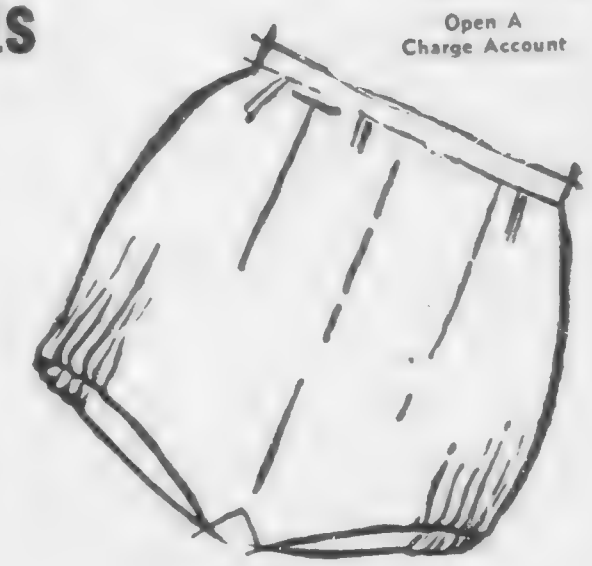
"Before the project of any student organization is approved, a prepared request form must be completed and submitted in writing to the Funds Committee.

"All project request forms must be submitted on or before the first day of the month preceding the month of the proposed project.

"Distribution of the profits from the proposed project shall be as follows: one-half of the profit must be used to render a service to the University Community as stated in the request form.

"A financial statement is to be presented on completion of the project and must include an itemized account of receipts and expenditures. A second financial statement must be submitted on final disposition of the total profits; this statement must be rendered to the Funds Committee before the end of the school year."

Cheers . . . we have 'em



for all athletic activities

Open A Charge Account

Tumbling Shorts

Just what you Hi School and College kids have been hollering for. Short shorts with elastic on sides, self-fitting waist. Smart solid colors to go with any required costume. Sizes 8 to 16.

As Sketched from Stock

$3.50

Gibbs French Shoppe
118 South Monroe

VOLKSWAGON REPAIRS
All work guaranteed - 1 day service
Pierce Cousseaux - Volks Specialist
JACK KERZAN'S TEXACO
936 North Monroe
Phone - 224-0320

Visit
FAIR'S BEAUTY SALON
549 W. Park Ave.
Phone 224-8351
The Beauty Salon Nearest to Campus
HAIR STYLIST
Grace Tucker Alice Strawman
Dores Fain

Today's News Roundup

Flambeau News Services

ACROSS THE NATION

OXFORD, MISS.-- The University Registrar said last week that he would register Meredith under court orders, despite blocking of the registration by Governor Ross Barnett, if Meredith arrived at the campus.

OXFORD, MISS.-- In a surprise maneuver, U.S. Marshals have penetrated the campus of the University of Mississippi last night and have surrounded the Registration building.

JACKSON, MISS.-- Mississippi Governor Ross Barnett indirectly admitted defeat last night in his battle to keep Negro James Meredith out of the State University. .

He issued a statement in Jackson, the state capital, saying, "I know that we are completely surrounded by armed forces and that we are overpowered." He added, ".... We must at all odds preserve the peace and avoid bloodshed."

OXFORD, MISS.-- The University of Mississippi announced last night that Negro James Meredith has been given an apartment by the University in Oxford, but was not allowed to register tonight.

MIAMI-- A new tropical storm has developed in the Atlantic east of Puerto Rico and may jeopardize plans for astronaut Walter Schirra's six orbit flight scheduled for Wednesday.

AROUND THE WORLD

HAVANA-- The Cuban Council of Ministers has attacked the U.S. Congressional resolution saying the U.S. will use force if necessary to fight communism in the Western Hemisphere.

NEW YORK-- The U.N. has taken over temporary administration of West New Guinea. An acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant says he is confident the territory will make rapid progress in the future.

WASHINGTON-- Secretary of State Rusk has ruled out any U.S. deal with Russia aimed at ending the Soviet military buildup in Cuba. Rusk in a recorded interview rejected such a deal, which might have called for western concessions on Berlin or American bases abroad. Said Rusk, "You can not support freedom in one place by surrendering freedom in another."

WFSU-TV Schedule

Monday, Oct. 1, 1962

9:10 English 102
9:40 Seeing Music
9:45 El Espanol Es Facil
10:00 Americanism vs. Communism
10:30 el Espanol Es Facil
10:45 seeing Music
11:00 American Economy
11:30 English 101
12:05 Geology 107
12:35 Mid-Day
1:00 Ragtime Era
1:30 Seeing Music
1:50 English 101
2:25 seeing Music
2:30 Americanism vs. Communism
---- sign off----
4:30 What's New
5:00 Seeing Music
5:55 News
6:00 Continental Classroom
6:30 American Economy
7:00 English 101
7:30 Writers of Today
8:00 FSU Football
9:00 Perspectives
10:00 Ten O'Clock Report

College Estate Master
INSURANCE FOR COLLEGIANS
JAY PARNELL
REPRESENTATIVE

IT'S F.S.U. MONTH
at SEMINOLE & PARKWAY LANES
BOWL! BOWL! BOWL!
FOR THE NEXT 30 DAYS ANY FSU STUDENT WHO SHOWS HIS I.D. CARD CAN BOWL
FOR 35¢ A GAME
THAT'S 35¢ A GAME

BOWL! BOWL!

FSU Professor Makes Study

Florida's Suitable Home Law Causes Decline

A study of two years of operation of Florida's Suitable Home Law indicates it caused a "significant decline" in the aid to dependent children caseload, Dr. Robert T. Lansdale has reported.

Lansdale, a former commissioner of social welfare for the state of New York and now a professor of social welfare at FSU, made his study under a grant by the federal Social Security Administration. The findings are reported in a 124-page report published by the School of Social Welfare.

Purpose of the current study was to provide the framework for a more extensive one, Lansdale said. In asking such a more extensive study the State Department of Public Welfare said there is a need to know "what has happened to the families" where parents or relatives withdrew from the program and for "an evaluation of the reapplications following withdrawal."

CASES ANALYZED

Lansdale said 17,999 cases affected by the Suitable Home Law, which was passed by the Legislature in 1959, were analyzed, The law, which became operative July 1, 1959, requires the State Department of Public Welfare to determine whether a home has a proper moral environment before granting ADC aid.

Of the cases affected by the law during the two years through June 30, 1961, he said, 7,176 or 40 percent withdrew from the ADC program. These families either asked that their application for aid be withdrawn or requested that assistance they had been receiving be discontinued. Only 6.6 percent of the families withdrawing from the program because of the law had reapplied for aid by the end of the two-year period.

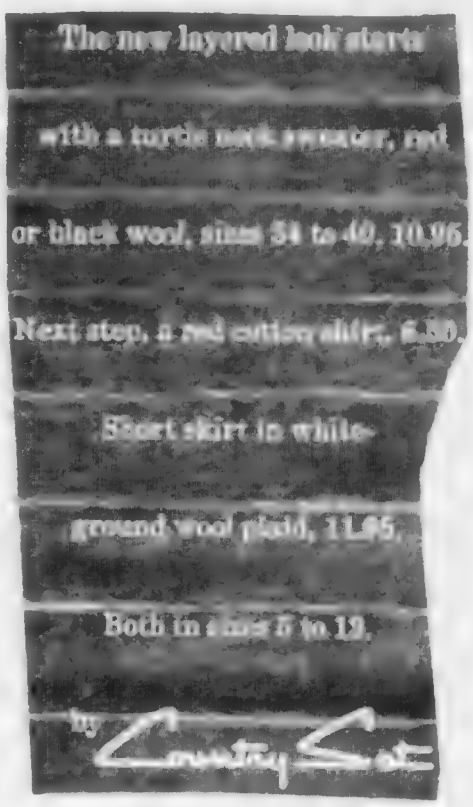
"There is no question but that the Suitable Home Law caused a significant decline in the Aid to Dependent Children caseload in Florida," said the report. "This is demonstrated by a drop of slightly over 3,000 cases in the monthly average caseload in the year 160-61 when the law has fully in effect as compared with 1958-59, the year immediately preceding the law.

Measured another way the monthly caseload dropped 13.8 percent between June, 1959 and June, 1961."

The recipient rate dropped from 49 per 1000 children under 18 in the population receiving Aid to Dependent Children in June, 1959, to 39 per 1000 in July, 1961 according to the report. Had June, 1959, rates prevailed in June, 1961, the caseload would have been 30,355 families as compared with the actual figure of 23,873 families.

Lansdale's report, which was made in cooperation with the State Department of Public Welfare, said the law resulted in a decrease in the proportion of non-white cases in the total ADC caseload, reversing a steady trend upward over previous years. It also appears, he said, that families with a small number of children have withdrawn in greater proportion than larger families.

IMPACT OF LAW



The study showed the impact [illegible] law varied among the [illegible] tive districts of the de[illegible] well as among the 10 lar[illegible] ties. These variations were a[illegible] pated because of recent [illegible] and economic change

"These differences [illegible] ful examination," th[illegible] cluded. "No sweep[illegible] tions on the soci[illegible] Suitable Home Law [illegible] light of present qua[illegible] dence. These sec[illegible] variations add to the [illegible] an intensive follow[illegible] a study has been pro[illegible] State Department of Pu[illegible] which has urged that such a [illegible] taking be made by an indepe[illegible] body.

Lansdale, the author of the r[illegible] has been in his present posi[illegible] FSU since 1955. He was [illegible] sioner of social welfare [illegible] York for 10 years [illegible] to 1943 was professor [illegible] at the New York [illegible] Work, Columbia University.

Today's Weathe[illegible]

Mostly cloudy with some sh[illegible] likely. Temperatures will be [illegible] 75 to 80 degrees with a low [illegible] 60's.

BERTHA COOKE

...udge Tells Of Communist ...ropaganda In Tallahassee

...s are unaccom- ... and incapable of ...rstanding ... nature of Marxist ...sm," communism should be kept ... campuses, stated ... he lectured to ... for Freedom, ...

...e Rudd discussed the nature ... movements on ...rican campuses through his ...f a propaganda organization, ...ommunist Speaker's Bureau. ...organization has sent "hard ... Communist lecturers to doz- ... schools across the nation with ... explain the nature ... political phil- ... he added.

...ROAR

... lecturers, he said, have cre- ...endous uproar, a case in ... stration of ... campus in the ...f Communist agitators ...

... he requested figures on ...umber of Communists on ...rida campuses from the Johns' ... were available. ...discussion period after the lec- Rudd emphasized the growth ...arxism in the United States ...r recent years. He quoted the ... Un-American Activities ...ittee statistics saying, "One ...every 1,814 Americans is a ...

...e influence of these factors are most felt when one realizes the growth of Socialism in the United States, he continued. "Socialism," said Rudd, "is the adopted child of Communism. Socialists cannot present their philosphy in truth and sincerity because of their twisted mentality."

The judge commented that socialistic measures in the United States have caused many Americans to become pampered and milk-fed citizens.

"America should not be influenced by the socialist nature of any other country," he warned.

SUPREME COURT

Shifting from the subject of Constitutional history Rudd commented briefly on the Supreme Court and Federal Government.

"I have very little respect for the Supreme Court," he said. "I think it is absolutely ridiculous for the federal government to send soldiers, planes, and armored troops to get one Negro into a school."

He continued, "The national government has no right whatsoever to interfere in such a state matter."

Analyzing the Communist threat from Cuba the judge indicated he favored a strong policy and that "We wouldn't be forcing our form of government on them if we gave them free elections."

A TROPHY IS GIVEN FOR HIGH GRADES

The Florida Education Association Scholarship House, 803 West Jefferson, received the scholarship excellence trophy for the highest grade point average among the seven scholarship houses at FSU. Shown left to right, with the trophy they will keep for one trimester, are Toni Wells, Pat Boggas, Karen Goldsworthy, Shirley O'Quinn (counselor), and Nancy Hines.

Today

"Punishment" will be Dr. Aaron J. Brownstein's topic at the Psychology Seminar at 4:10 p.m. in 306 Science.

* * * * *

Desert Club will meet at 5 p.m. in the Longmire Student Lounge.

* * * * *

Deadline for submitting prospectus of thesis by students expecting to graduate at the end of the first trimester is 5 p.m.

* * * * *

Peter Rice will speak on "Four-Color Problem" at the Florida Beta Chapter of Pi Mu Epsilon at 7:30 p.m. in 301 Math-Meteorology.

* * * * *

Tryouts for "Kismet" will be at 7 p.m. in Conradi Theatre.

* * * * *

Dr. Milton W. Carothers will speak at the American Association of University Professors meeting at 8 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall. His topic will be "Toward a Better University: Reflections of a Retiring Vice President."

* * * * *

The showing of "The Thread of Life," in Westcott Auditorium tonight by the Biology Dept. has been cancelled.

LOST - A light tan wallet between Longmire and Westcott, Wednesday afternoon. Anyone finding the wallet may turn it in at the main desk in Longmire. Important irreplaceable identification material is contained in the wallet.

Honor Court

Court Renders Two Decisions

Two decisions rendered last May by the Honor Court were returned by the Faculty Review Committee for the reconsideration by the Honor Court last Thursday.

In both cases, students accused of cheating had been found not guilty in the May judgment.

In the first case, the student had been accused by his instructor of cheating on two tests. The Honor Court decided Thursday night to postpone further action, pending additional investigation and retrial.

The second case involved a student accused of cheating by placing extraneous marks on an IBM-checked answer sheet. After additional testimony Thursday night, the Court voted to uphold the previous decision of not guilty.

WFSU-TV Tapes Game

Through its newly installed remote facilities WFSU-TV made video tapes of Saturday night's FSU vs. Furman football game. These will be presented tonight at 7:30 p.m. over WFSU-TV, Channel 11.

The annual Band Day game, complete with half time show was taped by WFSU-TV technicians after they had worked all Friday night and Saturday installing equipment at Doak Campbell stadium.

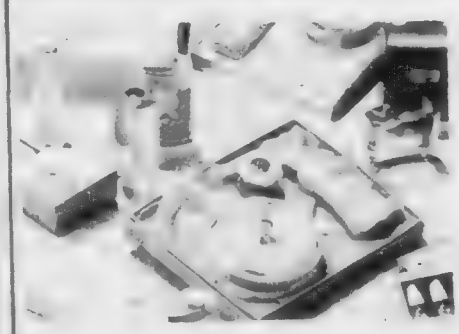
The tapings of home games will continue throughout the season. Re-plays of away games will also be programmed each Monday evening following the contests.

Pep Rally Set For Wednesday

A Pep Rally will be held on Landis Green Wednesday night at 9 p.m. as a send off for Coach Bill Peterson and the team before they leave Thursday for Miami, Bill Harnage, head cheerleader, announced.

Harnage said Coach Peterson, the team, the Marching Chiefs and the cheerleaders will be at the Rally. He asked that as many students as possible plan to take a study break Wednesday at 9 p.m. "to show the team that we are behind them all the way.

"The spirit at the game Saturday was much better than at the Citadel game," he said.



JUST ARRIVED
NEW SHIPMENT
DACRON & COTTON
SHORT CULOTTES

CAREFREE CLOTHES

THE CARRIAGE SHOP
931 NORTH MONROE TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA

FASHION CLEANERS and LAUNDRY
1317 JACKSON BLUFF RD.
904 WEST THARPE ST.
We cover the city
Fairest in Price
Fastest in Service
UNIVERSITY SERVICE
Phone 224-4940

AVON
Avon gifts are a joy to give, a joy to receive.
FOR CAMPUS SERVICE
PHONE: 385 - 1318

Paladins Fall In 42-0 Game

Florida State, unscored upon in three games, whitewashed the Furman Paladins, 42-0, Saturday night, as FSU's three

The Seminoles, with all three teams having a hand in scoring, had a total yardage of 525 yards, with 287 of these coming from the air lanes. Furman, which was held to 148 yards on the ground, yielded 31 first downs to the Seminoles.

Furman Coach Bob King, said, "We gained more yardage The Citadel, but that's not much consolation. The score was 42-0."

battled all the way, but against a team like this you need a break or two and we just didn't

In the opening minutes of the game, FSU Coach Bill Peterson said the Seminoles weren't ready to play, and that Furman looked real tough in the first half.

The Paladins held Florida State to two touchdowns in the first half, and the halftime score was 13-0.

Going into the contest the Paladins had attempted only ten but it was erased by a five-yard penalty for illegal motion.

Florida State's scoring came

Getting possession for the second time in the first half, the Seminoles took over on their ner had punted. Four first downs later, the Seminoles sat on Furman's 29. Fullback Marion Roberts of the Chiefs drove across left tackle for eight yards to set up a touchdown pass from Chiefs quarterback Eddie Feely to halfback Ken Russom.

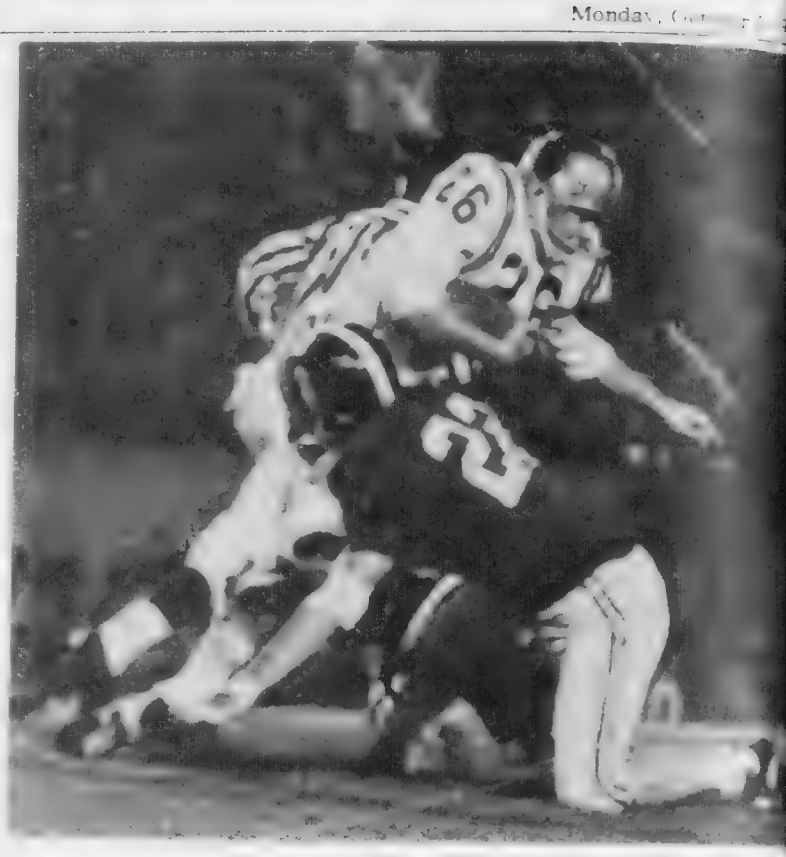
With 3:52 left in the quarter, Feely faded back to pass, taking his good time about throwing since the defense was holding back Furman, and then he shot one across the field to Russom on the goal line. Doug Messer's kick was good for a 13-0 tally.

But that was all the scoring for this half as the ball changed hands twice.

After Furman vainly tried a field goal in the second session, Florida State took over on its 20 and marched to Furman's one yard line, where the Paladins put up a terrific battle that stopped the Tribes. Keith Kinderman took a handoff on the two, and lost two yards; then Feely tried a quarterback sneak at the one, but fumbled, and Furman recovered.



The Paladins moved the ball to their 17 before kicking. Three first downs later, the Warriors were sitting on Furman's 15. Tall QB Steve Tensi passed to end Don Floyd at the two and he stepped over for the second TD. Messer, kicking from the 28 because of a holding penalty, failed with the PAT kick.

With 11:16 left in the third quarter, the Warriors began a TD drive from their 40. Halfback Jim Loftin broke loose up the middle and charged 41 yards to Furman's 9. Then Feely faked a pass and stepped across to paydirt. The kick was good for a 20-0 score.

The Renegades kicked off of the next TD drive as they stayed with 3:45 left in the third. When the quarter ended, the Renegades had moved from their 36 to Furman's 19. The Chiefs came in at this point, and two plays later were on the six Feely ran around left end to get five, and Marion Roberts charged twice to run the score to 26-0. Feely ran the PAT.

Later, FSU punted to Furman and a Paladin lost a fumbled fair catch, setting up the fifth sonal foul and two plays later halfback Phil Spooner scored. Messer's kick was good. The score was 35-0.

FSU's final tally came when the Renegades intercepted a pass and scored from Furman's 16 in three plays. The corker came on a pass from Calhoun to end Red Dawson with 3:53 left. Again the kick was good.

Oof!

halfback Kerit Kinderman (26) experiences a rare event, stopped him. The Florida State Seminole caught for 65 yards attempts against the Paladins. He didn't finish the contest beca minor chest injury. (Photo by Emmette Jackson)

Officials Meet

The Women's Recreation Association is sponsoring a volleyball officials clinic at 7:30 p.m. Monday in 208 Montgomery Gymnasium. The purpose of this clinic is to train as many coeds as possible in the correct techniques of officiating.

Everyone is urged to attend the clinic, and those coeds holding a national or local rating are asked to come dressed ready to play. All potential officials should bring whistles.

Dr. Margaret Mead writes of

SEX ON THE CAMPUS: THE NEW MORALITY

in October REDBOOK on sale now

Tastes Great because the tobaccos are!

21 GREAT TOBACCOS MAKE 20 WONDERFUL SMOKES!

Vintage tobaccos grown, aged, and blended mild . . . made to taste even milder through the longer length of Chesterfield King.

CHESTERFIELD KING

TOBACCOS TOO MILD TO FILTER, PLEASURE TOO GOOD TO MISS

Chesterfield KING CIGARETTES

FOR A GENTLER, SMOOTHER TASTE

ENJOY THE LONGER LENGTH OF CHESTERFIELD KING

ORDINARY CIGARETTES

CHESTERFIELD KING

The smoke of a Chesterfield King mellows and softens as it flows through longer length . . . becomes smooth and gentle to your taste.

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

XLIX, No. 20 — Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University — Tuesday, October 2, 1962

PICKED FOR BEAUTY, POISE AND CHARM,

. .this court of FSU co-eds will appear nightly in this fall's Gymkana Show, Pirate Daze," to be presented in Tully Gymnasium Oct. 17-20. One of the 22 will named Miss Gymkana of 1962 on the final night of the show, which combines mnastics, showmanship, dancing, beauty and singing.

ROW, left to right: Carol Ann Luck, Dot Alvarez, Viretta Rozhon, Dottie Kohl- and Carol Cundiff.

SECOND ROW-- Sara Boggs, Anna Faulds, Lynn Redgeway, Gwen Cawthon, Jo Dietrich, Carol Sue Malt, Kay McClure, and Bobbie Darragh.

THIRD ROW-- Ann Falck, Ellen Whigham, Pam Carlton, Rosemary Plunkett, Barbara Monte, Mary Ellen Yaggy, and Joyce Ojala.

Thanksgiving

Students Granted Four Day Holiday

An extra day of vacation has been granted FSU students which will extend the Thanksgiving Holiday over a four-day vacation period.

President Gordon W. Blackwell announced yesterday that the additional day had been granted as a result of student requests. Previously, FSU students were to have only Thanksgiving Day off. The change of schedule, which makes the Friday after Thanksgiving also a holiday, will allow more students to go home for a vacation.

However, in order to make up the lost class time, President Blackwell announced that classes will be held on Saturday, Dec. 1. Classes that day will follow the normal Friday schedule.

"We cannot simply forego a day of classes," he said. Blackwell stressed that since laboratory classes that meet only once a week are scheduled on Friday, it is especially important that they be made up.

Because of the problems involved in scheduling a full trimester of classes between Labor Day and Christmas, this same pattern of dismissing classes the day after Thanksgiving and making them up on a Saturday, will probably be continued, Blackwell said.

At the University of Florida classes were begun a day early in order to grant the usual two-day-plus-the weekend Thanksgiving Holiday.

Under the trimester system students will no longer be given a "dead day" prior to final examinations, Blackwell also announced. A "dead day" is a day on which no activities or classes are scheduled and is intended to be used by students entirely for studying for final examinations.

This "day off" also had to be dropped because of scheduling problems.

e Miss

Barnett Pleas For Order; Troops Round Up Rioters

. lence in the racial cri- on the University of campus could "If they act now remove James H. Mere- thousands of ," said Mississippi ernor Ross Barnett last t.

The governor issued this and a plea for order, after a night in which two men, a foreign correspon- t for a London paper, killed and at least persons wounded or in- before federal mar- als dispersed the crowds tear gas and bayonets.

arnett blamed the violence on experienced, nervous and trig- happy" federal marshals who ight American youth, extremely slow to fight Cas- " troops, now being rein- paratroopers, have been ng up trouble-makers to pre- another clash over the enroll- Negro James Meredith.

There is word that a second Negro, a girl, is preparing to apply for admission to the school.

WALKER ARRESTED

Former Army Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, who commanded U.S. forces at Little Rock, Ark., has been arrested on charges of inciting a rebellion or insurrection. He has been sent to a hospital with facilities for mental patients instead of to a jail after allegedly leading a charge of 1,000 students against federal marshals.

Seven military units with a total of more than 4,600 men were on or around the Ole Miss campus yesterday. At noon yesterday 150 people had been arrested. Seven cars were destroyed and about 20 other vehicles damaged. No further casualties have been verified but a third death is rumored.

OUTSIDE PRESSURE

Students at the university blame the riots on leadership from people outside the campus.

Proposed Film Cancelled

Florida State University will not participate in the film "Needs of Higher Education in Florida," Student Body President Ken van Assenderp announced today.

The action came swiftly after a phone call to Bill Trickle, student body president at the University of Florida.

Trickle told van Assenderp that the UF administration had decided to either put up both their share and FSU's share of the cost, thus making it totally a UF production, or put up none.

Van Assenderp and Cabinet members were pleased with the withdrawal. They had been hesitant about accepting the proposal.

"FSU students can be proud that their Cabinet did not rush blindly into this new venture, which did have drawbacks," van Assenderp commented.

First of all, the suggestion that FSU participate in the film production was made on "the spur of the moment," van Assenderp said. "There was too little time for coordination of the effort in the way it should be done." he explained. "We also feared that there was not enought time for the film to be shown to a large enough audience to justify the expenditure," the president said.

"In addition, FSU is now working on plans for its own film to promote interest in and understanding of the University," van Assenderp added.

Brazil Sends Students To Study Here

"Brazilians and Americans died together in the war, why shouldn't they live together now?" said Ruy Azeredo, founder of the English Language and Orientation Institute which will bring 52 Brazilian students to FSU next trimester.

Azeredo and his self-supporting institute have brought more than 1,700 Brazilian students to the U.S. since 1948 in order to "bring Brazil and the United States closer together through their young people."

The South American students will arrive Jan. 9 to attend a special five-week short course in English taught by FSU professors, but the primary purpose of the trip is to allow students from both countries to meet and get acquainted with each other.

As many of the Brazilians as possible will live in FSU dormitories. The rest will be housed in private homes in Tallahassee.

Azeredo, a lawyer and high school teacher in Rio de Janeiro said that several scholarships will be available for American students who, having met the Brazilians, would like to spend a month or two in Brazil at the Institutes expense.

The South American students participating in the program pay their own way, spending the equivalent of 1,000 American dollars.

American students who are interested in the program or would like to correspond with the students who will come here in January can write Ruy Azeredo, Av. Rio Bronco 81 16 and , Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Orange Bowl Queen Is To Be Selected

The deadline for entries in the Orange Bowl Queen contest is midnight, Oct. 23.

To be eligible for the contest, a girl must be a resident of Florida, 18 through 24 years of age, have never been married and must not be a professional entertainer.

Judging to choose 25 semi-finalists from pictures submitted by candidates is scheduled for Oct. 24. Those selected will be invited to appear in person Nov. 3, when the queen and her court of four princesses will be chosen.

Prospective queens should send in three black and white photos, including a full-face portrait, one in street or evening clothes and one in a swim suit or shorts. The pictures should be sent to the Orange Bowl Queen Contest, Orange Bowl Committee, P. O. Box 35-748, Miami.

Along with the pictures, entries should include the contestant's name, age, wheight, height, color of hair and eyes, measurements, schools attended, hobbies, school activities, ambitions, previous contests won and name and address of parents.

Sketch Deadline

All proposed plans for Homecoming house decorations must be submitted by 5 p.m. today. Sketches should be placed in a sealed envelop and turned into 129 Dining Hall in care of Madge Lee. Approved plans will be returned by 5:00 p.m. Oct. 4

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Students To Blame

President Kennedy, during his address to the nation concerning the University of Mississippi crisis directly challenged the student body to uphold a "tradition of honor and courage" which has been the university's heritage.

Even as the president spoke nearly 2500 Ole Miss students participated in a screaming brawling riot directed against federal marshals on the campus. The result: two dead and a score injured, some critically.

The students failed to accept the president's challenge--so miserably in fact that words like "honor" and "courage" appear ridiculous when mentioned with the University of Mississippi.

After the campus battleground was cleared students were quoted as saying the riots were led by non-students. In view of the bewildering emotion packed set of circumstances surrounding the situation--state officials' deliberate defiance of the federal government; a former Army major general arriving to lead the riots; and total absence of rational leadership from any hand--some actions of students could have been excused.

But glaring headlines of death, injuries and complete disregard for property and respect of the law can never be excused.

Monday's holocaust completely removed any validity from arguments and prejudices of segregation and states' rights.

With the first oubreak of violence the situation could no longer be analyzed from the viewpoint of "segregationists," or "integrationists," "federalists" or "states' rightists." We can only look with disgust as Americans and human beings at a group of our fellow citizens who have resorted to violence in defiance of the law of our land.

The student body at Ole Miss represents a portion of collegiates across the nation who are rated as the upper ten percent of our population in intelligence. They are slated to be the leaders of our nation.

Had they remained calm and preserved a civilized atmosphere on campus, much of the violence would have been averted. As unfortunate as it may seem, the blood of those killed is on the hands of the present student body and the memory of this tragedy will shroud the University of Mississippi for many years.

OW

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956 '57 '59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

Otis Wragg, Associate Editor | Joan Abbott, News Editor | John Schaffner, Managing Editor | Howard Denson, Sports Editor

Asst. Managing Editors.....Jim Smith, Shamn Blackwell
Asst. News Editors.....Lana Murray, Nancy Olson
Asst. Sports Editor.....John Wood
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists - Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, John McCotter, Matt Straub, Joe Rice, Lawrence Mahoney, Mary Ann Stevens.
Sports Staff - Shirley Hardison, Seth Bramson.
Photographers - Art Campbell, Vin Hoagland, Fred McDonald.
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Mabry Ashley
Advertising Sales Staff - Ned Stafford, Lex McKeithen, Don Dughi, John Morgan.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado
News Staff-Bobbie Shiplett, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Bill Smart, Mary Grossenbacher, Sarah Gordon, Susie Rhoades, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Irma Wehle, Ted Harvey, Thera Brackney, Michelle Johnson, Iris Anderson, Frank Coney, Leslie McNevin, Bob Cornet, Drex Dobson.

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida.

Flambeau Forum

Mississippi Crisis Debated

Mores Versus Law Of The Land

To the Editor:

Perhaps as Mr. Townsend stated, the problem in Mississippi is not one of economics. However, it is certainly not a problem of laziness personified. The problem is one of mores vs. the law, the law which in this case is supposed to be for the entire nation.

The South will not rise again. The North will not rise again, and so long as there are people like Ross Barnett the Nation might not rise again either. We live in the United States of America--one nation--undivided.

As to the "welfare payments" in regard to "lazy Negroes" in Mississippi. I'm sure it is a great comfort to Mr. Townsend to be part of a race which is so free from laziness and from financial difficulties as to be totally independent in financial matters. I for one was under the impression that there was a good deal of welfare distributed amongst the white race and a good deal of laziness also.

Governor Barnett may have promised the people of Mississippi that there would be no integration and the people of Mississippi may uphold this view. This does not make the promise valid or sensible or intelligent, nor does it make the position (if you care to call such a bigoted and convenient bunch of jargon a position) of the people of Mississippi valid, sensible, or intelligent.

Indeed Mississippi is segregated, and people like Mr. Townsend are also segregated, not by color of skin but rather by a narrowness of mind which causes them to live in a small world, with small people who have small thoughts.

Perhaps someday, someone will state just what the South is rising to meet. If it is the old South they wish to recreate--I hasten to add--they have reached their goal. The old South is here--it has never left.

Carole Goldstein

Guilt's Burden

To the Editor:

Amid the worried conjectures over the bad propaganda the Mississippi incident has caused--one terribly terminal fact seems not to have been considered at all. A man was killed in the rioting. A reporter, an observer--the "innocent bystander."

I wonder why reporters are attacked at incidents like this? Does the mob possess some primal instinct that urges destruction of record, so that when the retreat to normality comes one has no concrete fact of the horrible, primitive performance?

A man has been killed--uselessly, senselessly. What a stain must cover the soul of the rioter.

Mr. Meredith has a very heavy burden to carry--and there will be those who make sure that it increases.

But nothing, ever, can weigh heavier than the guilt of needless, heedless murder. This heaviest of all weights must be the albatross of those who go against all official edicts--and blunder. The veneer of civilization is spread very thinly over some surfaces.

E. Schlotthaver

To the Editor:

Student Body President Ken van Assenderp, as the elected representative of the Student Body, should telegraph Governor R. Barnett and express our deep shame in his behavior. Our university, the South, and all of America have been disgraced by the governor's actions.

Gene E. Carte

Who Is Narrow-Minded?

To the Editor:

It was with quite a bit of doubt and confusion that I read Mr. ... illustrious defence (Sept. 28 issue) of the situation at Ole Mi... he feels very strongly about the entire matter, but it might ... send some good to realize that an argument will not always be ... tremel... generous smaplings of very flexible words.

In his second paragraph he states, "Can it be that DiCarl... suppress a secret shame because his (sic) leaders were ... had ... t the guts to stand up against something they knew was ... Would Mr. Townsend be kind enough to offer us his definition ... It appeared to me as nothing more than a reckless opinion.

He goes on to say, "I do not believe that the people of this st... want integration. But there are too many (from all indications ... 1/2 percent) who are so liberal that they they will take anything rat... that endure 'dangerous emotions on both sides of the issue.'" It see... to me, then, that if this 99 percent are "so liberal" under these circ... stances, they don't truly want segregation, either.

Lastly, Townsend claims something to the effect that on the campus ... Old Miss can be evidenced the dignity and grace of the Old South. Alth... the news will be disappointing to him, I feel it my duty to inform ... Townsend that the soldiers have come home, that THAT WAR is ver... this is the 20th century (last I heard, at any rate). The New South ca... just as dignified and graceful. Personally, fail to see where the Miss... sippi students (or the university officials, for that matter) have ... acting as of late with any dignity and grace.

Townsend called the "Flambeau" editor "narrow-minded." I, for... would like to challenge him with that same label. But then, it pr... won't mean much to him, coming from one half Yankee, half liber...

Gerry Dobson

Barnett Not Illegal

Congress has passed no law requiring the integration of Old Miss or any other school. What we have witnessed has been the usurption of the powers of Congress by the courts and by the executive branch of the Government.

Under the weight of many "court decisions," the court power to cite for contempt has been turned into the power to legislate. While courts have the right to cite Go... or Barnett for contempt ... obeying a court order, under ... law was the integration enforce... None.

"Let us preserve both the ... the peace," said President K... in a speech on the Mississip... ration "crisis." O.K., Jack ... But first let me ask you this: WH... LAW? There is no such ... Constitution in several places te... us where the legislative, i.e. ... making power of the federal g... ment lies:

Article 1, Section 1: "All legis... tive power herein granted shall ... vested in a Congress of the Unit... States..." And Article 1, Se... Congress shall have the p... make all laws which shall ... sary and proper for carr... execution the foregoing pow... all other powers vested by ... stitution in the Governme... United States, or in any dep... or officer thereof."

And to make sure it was un... that Congress makes the law ... Nation, Section 5 of the F... teenth Amendment, upon which the ... regation decision was allege... based, reads: "The Congress sh... have the power to enforce, by app... priate legislation, the provision... this article."

These two examples illustrate ... sad state in which the United Stat... finds itself..."law" means not ... anymore...it's all power politics ... with the Communists obviously ... ting the better of it.

Today's News Roundup

Flambeau News Services

PEIPING--Communist China put out a statement on its 13th Anniversary saying it stands for the banning of nuclear weapons in principle.

OSLO--The Norwegian Shipowners Association has asked its members to make sure their vessels are not carrying cargo to and from Cuba.

NEW YORK--Belgium's Foreign Minister has told the United Nations that attacks by communists and others on the European Common Market are based on ignorance and unjustified fears.

WASHINGTON--President Kennedy has invoked the Taft-Hartley law in an attempt to seek an early halt to a strike by 75,000 Longshoremen at ports from Maine to Texas. An official of the AFL-CIO Longshoremen's Union says seven other maritime unions have agreed to respect picket lines and walk off all American ships docking in struck ports. The strike affects 145 shipping firms.

WASHINGTON--A House Subcommittee has heard testimony that a former stewardess took the controls of a 60-passenger airliner for 35 minutes and that an engine on another plane cut off momentarily after a stewardess was seen sitting on the pilot's lap. The former stewardess was asked if she felt competent to fly a plane. Her reply: "I think I did a fairly good job--seeing I had never done it before."

WASHINGTON--A Western Hemisphere meeting on communist Cuba opens today in Washington. The State Department put out a statement last night saying it is U.S. policy to get rid of the Castro regime and communist influence in Cuba.

Buses Readied For Gainesville

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, is sponsoring four buses to the FSU-Florida game in Gainesville Nov. 17.

The buses will leave from the Student Center at 9 a.m., Saturday, Nov. 17, and return to Tallahassee after the game that night.

Coeds who travel on the bus will be given late permission, said Miss Marie Williams, social director.

Round trip tickets cost $6 and will be on sale every weekday beginning Wednesday at the APO Travel Bureau in the Post Office.

Cousins And Golden Are Scheduled For Lectures

Norman Cousins, Harry Golden and Eugene Carson Blake are scheduled to speak this year as part of the University Lecture Series.

Cousins, editor of "The Saturday Review," and Golden, author of "Only in America," will appear during the second trimester. Blake, president of the World's Council of Churches, will speak during the third trimester.

"We will try to have at least one or two speakers for each trimester this year and in forthcoming years, but due to the occasional high fees (which range from $500 to $1500 per lecturer), this may limit our list of prominent, well-known guests," Dr. A. Gib DeBusk, chairman of the Lecture Series committee, explained.

Purpose of the Lecture Series is to arrange programs of an intellectual nature and to feature a series of prominent lecturers. Speakers in former years have included such names as Earl Attlee, Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, Rod Serling, Vance Packard, Prof. C. Northcote Parkinson, Bennett Cerf and Dr. Linus Pauling.

The series is supported by funds from the student activity fees and by the Beth Walton Moor Lecture Fund.

Today's Weather

Mostly cloudy with scattered showers and thundershowers. High, 80. Low, 65. Winds southeast and south from 5 to 15 miles an hour. Low yesterday of 68, at 5:30 a.m.

Attention, all witty, urbane college students:

Get Lucky!

MAKE $25 (or would you like to try for $50?)

ENTER LUCKY STRIKES' ZANY NEW

"Crazy Questions" Contest

(Based on the hilarious book "The Question Man.")

50 CASH AWARDS A MONTH. ENTER NOW. HERE'S HOW:

First, think of an answer. Any answer. Then come up with a nutty, surprising question for it, and you've done a "Crazy Question." It's the easy new way for students to make loot. Study the examples below, then do your own. Send them, with your name, address, college and class, to GET LUCKY, Box 64F, Mt. Vernon 10, N. Y. Winning entries will be awarded $25.00. Winning entries submitted on the inside of a Lucky Strike wrapper will get a $25.00 bonus. Enter as often as you like. Start right now!

RULES: The Reuben H. Donnelley Corp. will judge entries on the basis of humor (up to ⅓), clarity and freshness (up to ⅓) and appropriateness (up to ⅓), and their decisions will be final. Duplicate prizes will be awarded in the event of ties. Entries must be the original works of the entrants and must be submitted in the entrant's own name. There will be 50 awards every month, October through April. Entries received during each month will be considered for that month's awards. Any entry received after April 30, 1963, will not be eligible, and all become the property of The American Tobacco Company. Any college student may enter the contest, except employees of The American Tobacco Company, its advertising agencies and Reuben H. Donnelley, and relatives of the said employees. Winners will be notified by mail. Contest subject to all federal, state, and local regulations.

THE ANSWER: A MONKEY WRENCH
THE QUESTION: What would you use to tighten a loose monkey?

THE ANSWER: G.B.S.
THE QUESTION: Can you name three letters besides ACDEFHIJKLMNOPQR TUVWXYZ?

THE ANSWER: One Hamburger, One Frankfurter
THE QUESTION: Where in Germany are your two friends from?

THE ANSWER: Alma Mater
THE QUESTION: What is Pete Mater's sister's name?

THE ANSWER: Night after night in that log cabin he studied by firelight
THE QUESTION: Why is Abe's eyesight so poor?

THE ANSWER: a four-bagger
THE QUESTION: What would you call a really strong cup of tea?

The answer is:

Get Lucky

the taste to start with...the taste to stay with

The question is: WHAT CIGARETTE SLOGAN HAS THE INITIALS GL tttsw . . . tttsw? No question about it, the taste of a Lucky spoils you for other cigarettes. This taste is the best reason to start with Luckies . . . the big reason Lucky smokers stay Lucky smokers. This taste makes Luckies the favorite regular cigarette of college students. Try a pack today. Get Lucky.

Product of The American Tobacco Company — "Tobacco is our middle name"

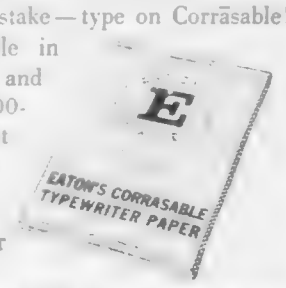
Confucius say, one day in fun,
To a friend and Number One Son,
"With my Swingline I'll fuse
Your most honorable queues
Because two heads are better than one!"

SWINGLINE STAPLER

98¢

No bigger than a pack of gum
- Unconditionally guaranteed!
- Refills available anywhere!
- Get it at any stationery variety or book store
- Send in your own Swingline Poems. Prizes for the best!

Swingline INC. LONG ISLAND CITY 1, N. Y.



We all make mistakes...

ERASE WITHOUT A TRACE ON EATON'S CORRĀSABLE BOND

Typing errors never show on Corrāsable. The special surface of this paper makes it possible to erase without a trace—with just an ordinary pencil eraser. Results: clean-looking, perfectly typed papers. Next time you sit down at the keyboard, make no mistake—type on Corrāsable!

Your choice of Corrāsable in light, medium, heavy weights and Onion Skin. In handy 100-sheet packets and 500-sheet boxes. Only Eaton makes Corrāsable.

A Berkshire Typewriter Paper

EATON PAPER CORPORATION (E) PITTSFIELD, MASS.

Winners Must File Election Expenses

"Winning senatorial candidates must have final expense statements in by 4 p.m. tomorrow, in order to be officially installed at the first Senate meeting at 4:15 p.m.," Undersecretary of Elections Priscilla Lyon announced today.

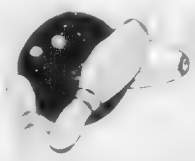
"Any senatorial candidates who have not turned in expense statements should attend the Senate meeting, but may not vote until they have been formally installed," President of Senate Johnny Smith stressed.

Chief Justice of Honor Court Ross McVoy will administer the oath of office tomorrow at Senate to those who have complied with the expense statement law. Other new senators and Freshman Class officers will be installed at a later date.

Forms for expense statements may be obtained and returned at the Longmire Main Desk.

"All candidates, whether they won or lost their races, must submit their [illegible] before 5 p.m., Friday," Miss Lyon stressed. "Candidates must attach all receipts to the expense statements," she added.

IT'S F.S.U. MONTH
at SEMINOLE & PARKWAY LANES



BOWL! BOWL! BOWL!

FOR THE NEXT 30 DAYS ANY FSU STUDENT WHO SHOWS HIS I.D. CARD CAN BOWL

FOR 35¢ A GAME

THAT'S 35¢ A GAME

BOWL! BOWL!

Today

The examination in [illegible] sertation of Orrin H[illegible] will be at 10:30 a.m. [illegible]. Title of [illegible] "Trace Elements in [illegible] Fossil Mollusk Shel[illegible].

* * * *

Dr. R. E. Taylor [illegible] clear Physics at the A[illegible] tional University" at [illegible] Physics seminar at [illegible] 124 Science.

* * * * *

Dr. Michio Yania of C[illegible] University and [illegible] speak at the Meteorolog[illegible] 4:20 p.m. in 301 M-M. on the ject "Large Scale Aspects phoon Formation."

* * * * *

New or prospective mem[illegible] attend the meeting [illegible] Club at 4:30 p.m. in the [illegible] Room, Tully Gym.

* * * * *

All freshman and [illegible] students are [illegible] for College tests at 5 p.m. cott Auditorium.

* * * *

Tryouts for "Kismet" 7 p.m. in Opperman M[illegible]

* * * *

Dr. William [illegible] logy Dept. will spea[illegible] and Religion" at the Ve[illegible] f the Baptist Student Uni[illegible] p.m.

* * * * *

Dr. W. Sinclair Tayl[illegible] [illegible] Christian [illegible] [illegible] student lounge.

* * * * *

"[illegible] Ethic" is the topic [illegible] Guild at [illegible] 1:30 p.m. at [illegible]

* * * * *

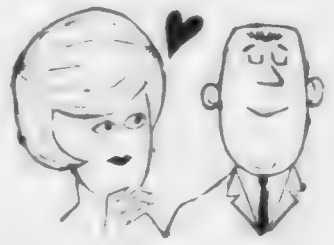
All students who int[illegible] in teaching [illegible] Spring the 1963-[illegible] [illegible] the registrati[illegible] p.m. in the Education Le[illegible]

* * * *

Sophomore Council [illegible] Longmire Auditorium.

* * * * *

The Ball [illegible] 3:30 p.m. in [illegible]



* * * *

"Action at Law," appr[illegible] [illegible] the rights and [illegible] be involved in a civil [illegible] at 9 p.m. in WJSU.

318 S. Monroe

Does your heart throb know you want his portrait so?

L'Avant STUDIOS
[illegible] W. LAKE AVE. [illegible]

FEINBERG'S
Semi-Annual
RECORD SALE
(LAST FOUR DAYS) THROUGH OCT. 6

$1.00 OFF

ON ALL $3.98–$4.98–$5.98
MONO AND STEREO RECORDS
IN OUR ENTIRE STOCK

ALL LABELS INCLUDED

FEINBERG'S

1304 N. MONROE

(ACROSS FROM JITNEY JUNGLE)

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University

Wednesday, October 3, 1962

STUDENT PEP REIGNS HIGH FOR SEMINOLES

A group of FSU students are shown above at the game last Saturday night, as the fans cheered the Seminoles to a 42-0 victory. Tonight, FSU students are called upon to bring their pep with them to the rally at 9 for a PEP RALLY for the Miami game. Coach Bill Peterson, the team the Marching Chiefs and the cheerleaders will all be on hand for the rally to give the team a good send-off.

(Photo by Art Campbell)

Student Union Conference

FSU Sends Eight To Union Meeting

Eight delegates from FSU will attend the Association of College Unions Region Four Conference Oct. 11, 12 and 13 to be held in Greensboro, North Carolina, announced Don Thigpin, Secretary of the University Union.

The conference will be held on the campus of the Women's College of the University of North Carolina.

"The purpose of attending the conference is to learn as much about as many different college unions as possible," said Thigpin. "In constructing our union we may benefit from the experience gained by other colleges and universities."

The general topic of last year's conference, which Thigpin also attended, was "Blueprint of a Union." "This worked right in with our needs," said Thigpin. "We were then in the planning stage."

This year we will have a lot to contribute to the conference because we have several years of experience, he added.

Now that our blueprints are nearly complete our delegates will have a firm basis upon which to base their discuussions at the conference, he continued.

The Conference will be oriented around a series of workshops dealing with every phase of Union management.

The eight delegates from FSU, six men and two women, will attend workshops in those areas where they can contribute most to the conference.

Colleges in Region Four of the Association of College Unions include the University of Florida, Auburn University, Florida A&M, University of Miami, University of Virginia, Duke University and Davidson College.

Chiefs Plan Friday Show

"Broadway Musicals on Parade" will be the theme of the Marching Chiefs' halftime show at the FSU-Miami football game in the Orange Bowl, Friday night.

The 161-member band will leave FSU tomorrow night by bus to go to the game.

The Chiefs will combine with the University of Miami Band for the pre-game show and both bands will present shows at halftime.

One of the highlights of the show by the Marching Chiefs will be a drill performed to "Another Opening, Another Show." Following the drill sequence, the Garnet and Gold Girls will be featured in a salute to "Kismet." In the original costume and character of Borodin's "Kismet," Janice Freeman and Beverly Calvert will salute the Orange Bowl during their last performance there, since both coeds are seniors.

The band will also salute the composers Rodgers and Hammerstein with "Surry with the Fringe on Top" from "Oklahome," "I'm in Love with a Wonderful Guy" from "South Pacific," and "If I Loved You" from "Carousel."

Miss Tally Ho Contest Is Set

One hundred and ninety-nine FSU coeds will compete for the title of Miss Tally-Ho for 1962-63 tonight at 7 p.m. in Longmire Bldg.

Each of the girls will wear a cocktail dress for the event, from which about 75 girls will be chosen for further competition Thursday night. These names will be posted at 8 a.m. Thursday in front of Longmire.

Judges for the contest will be Dr. Reid Montgomery, Dick Parks, Evon Streetman and Grady Toler.

Student Senate

Senate Holds First Full Meeting Today

The first Student Senate meeting of the year and new senators will be held today at 4:15 p.m. in the second floor auditorium, Longmire Bldg.

Ross McVoy, Chief Justice of Honor Court, will swear in the newly-elected precinct and freshman class senators.

"Immediate legislation for a promotional movie for Florida State University will be introduced," said Johnny Smith, student body vice president. "This will be done with the joint cooperation of the administration."

Last year's Senate passed a resolution to set up a committee to work on the film project. However, the year finished before any accomplishments had been made.

If the film resolution is passed, a committee will be set up to make arrangements. "We'll definitely have a film," Smith commented, "but we need more information."

Attorney General Lyman Fletcher will ask for Senate action concerning organizations which have failed to file their constitutions with his office.

Smith also will outline two projects for Senate. He said he will renew efforts to bring international students closer to all phases of university life, and will attempt to bring Student Senate closer to the student body.

"We hope to accomplish this through the Student-Senate Relations Committee." Smith said.

The Senate will also consider appointments submitted by Ken van Assenderp student body president.

Open Rush

Registration for open rush will [illegible] Monday through Friday, in 04 and 203 Longmire. In order to receive a bid from [illegible] during open rush, a [illegible] registered with Panhellenic, announced Betty Bentley, Panhellenic president.

Coeds who registered for fall formal rush do not have to re-register, but may indicate that [illegible] rushed by bringing registration cards up to date in 203 Longmire, she added.

Housing Deposit Rises To $25 For New Students

Prospective FSU students will now [illegible] a $25 deposit with their applications for University housing.

This increase over the present requirement, the new fee will be applicable only to new students and will not affect those currently in residence.

The deposit increase is among a number of housing policies that have been announced by Director of Housing Edith McCullom and Dean of Students R. R. Oglesby.

Students will now make applications for housing at the same time they apply for admission to the University and must make the $25 housing deposit at that time.

This deposit will be retained as long as the student is residing in University housing. It will be refunded to students who are not admitted to the University, to students who cancel their room assignment within 15 days after receiving confirmation (this applies to new students only) and when a student leaves University housing in good standing.

The deposit will be retained by the University in cases where a student is suspended or a student in residence or a former student cancels a room assignment after July 1, for the first trimester; Dec. 1, for the second trimester; or after April 1, for the third trimester.

Priorities for housing assignments have also been announced. First priority will go to students who have been in residence for two and a half trimesters during an academic year. New and qualified students entering the third trimester will receive priority for housing for the ensuing first trimester over students who enter the University in the first trimester.

Consistent with these two priorities, freshmen women will be assigned to dormitories which have been reserved for their use. They will not be accepted for admission unless housing is available or unless the student will live with close relatives in town.

Freshmen are expected by the University to remain the residence halls as long as they are classified as freshmen. Undergraduates will be required to live in University housing whenever space is available in any trimester. Upperclass women who are unable to secure housing in the residence halls may live in approved off-campus housing.

All available housing will be assigned according to the date of admission or re-admission, according to housing policy.

All housing contracts will be for one trimester only. The housing contract becomes effect for the resident student when the student requests accommodations for the following trimester by signing the housing survey form and for the new student or former student who is not currently in residence when the housing rent is paid.

All students living in University owned housing will be required to carry a regular academic load of not less than 12 hours per trimester, except in unusual situations when with the recommendation of a student's academic dean, the dean of men or women may give permission to a student to live in residence and carry an underload. However, all students living in University housing must pay full registration and hospital fees and women must pay a laundry fee regardless of their academic load.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Nation Is Loser

Another serious strike threatens to cripple the economy of the United States. President John F. Kennedy reacted quickly and invoked the Taft-Hartley Act against the Union.

This same story has been appearing and reappearing across the front pages of American newspapers. This time Atlantic and Gulf Coast deep water ports from Maine to Texas were threatened as Union longshoremen walked out in a contract dispute. A Union official promised that seven other maritime unions had agreed to do likewise.

The official White House reaction was "If this strike is allowed to continue for any length of time its effects will have such grave and far reaching repercussions on our total domestic economy and upon our ability to meet our urgent commitments around the world that the national interest would be gravely jeopardized."

The President has faced this identical situation many times before. Flight engineers walked out grounding several air lines. Railroad workers threatened to strike. Truckers, dock workers, and aeronautics workers have pressed their strike power. All of these services are of vital importance and their loss threatens the welfare of the nation.

Despite the seriousness of the crisis, Congress has done nothing to help solve the repeated problem. Kennedy is left to battle the Unions with only the Taft-Hartley injunction. Yet Congressmen continue to charge the unions with having too much power.

The central problem involved in labor-management disputes is education and retraining. Everyday jobs are becoming obsolete. Technology is moving ahead and labor often can not keep pace with it. Men are thrown out of jobs. Unemployment grows. Strikes persist. The nation is the loser.

What is needed is creative legislation designed to help men retrain for other jobs and keep up with quickly changing industries.

At the same time, Congress should provide the President with stronger laws to help in emergency situations. When the nation faces crucial world events, the economy must remain sound. Present labor laws are not strong enough to insure this.

BCS

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1909
MEMBER AMERICAN [illegible]

BEN C. SHARP - Editor
[illegible] Executive Editor

John Schaffner, Managing Editor
Otis Wragg, Associate Editor
[illegible], News Editor
Howard Denson, Sports Editor

[illegible] Editors ... Jim Sutter, Sharon Blackwell
Asst. News Editors ... Lana Murray, Nancy Olson
Asst. Sports Editor ... John Wood
[illegible] Editor ... Bruce Linton
Artist ... Spence Guerin
Columnists-Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Ross, Bonnie Freedman, Jim McCotter, Matt Straub, Joe Rice, Lawrence Mahoney, Mary Ann Stevens.
News Staff-Bobbie Shiplett, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Bill Smart, Mary Grossenbacher, Sarah Gordon, Susie Rhoades, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Irma Wehle, Ted Harvey, Thera Brackney, Michelle Johnson, Iris Anderson, Frank Coney, Leslie McNevin, Bob Cornet, Drex Dobson.
Sports Staff-Shirley Hazdison, Seth Bramson
Photographers-Art Campbell, Vin Hoagland, Fred McDonald
Business Manager ... Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager ... Charlie Mud
Asst. Ad Manager ... Dick Waterworth
Ad Make-up ... Mabry Ashley
Advertising Sales Staff-Ned Stafford, Lex McKeithen, Don Dughi, John Morgan.
Circulation Manager ... Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida

Allan Dermott

Marx Missed Ad Industry

This is the third in a five part series on the seven important factors Karl Marx ignored when setting up his arguments against capitalism. The first two factors, (1) the dynamic nature of money and (2) the role of psychology in the economy, have already been covered.

The third factor is the relation of advertising to distribution. Marx did not consider this element of capitalism at all, mainly, because during his lifetime, the advertising industry was not in existence.

The previous ignored element, the role of psychology in the economy, is greatly connected with this third one. One example can be seen in what happened during the recession in 1958. As Schwarz (see part I) stated, the advertising factor "was understood more completely and a campaign started urging people to buy." A depression did not follow as Marx said it would. The recession was overcome, and the Marxist cycle was broken. This factor is too important to overlook. Conclusions drawn without its consideration cannot be completely correct.

The fourth ignored element is the consumer credit. Let's look at an illustration.

A young man has just graduated from college. He has spent almost everything he had on his education. He has just obtained a job and, therefore, has not had a chance to save. With his prospects of success he can either get a loan from the bank or from a loan [illegible]. he can start charge [illegible] thus can purchase go[illegible] not presently owned. [illegible] will have to pay it [illegible] interest, but he has [illegible] goods to start his [illegible] he can save enough bo[illegible] the loan and also start [illegible] necessities and comforts. The[illegible] sumer credit has become such large factor in the economy of [illegible] ern capitalism that, as Dr. Sch[illegible] stated, "any analysis which doe[illegible] consider this is obviously fal[illegible] cious."

In part four the next tw[illegible] factors, (5) the [illegible] market and (6) the people[illegible] alism, will be discussed.

Matt Straub

Adventure In Library

It's surprising what you can find in the Library. I realized this the other night while in the midst of a "mutilated book" tour there. After riding the elevator up and down several times for kicks, I happened [illegible] tion on the third floor.

Normally this would have be[illegible] area of boredom for me. Nor[illegible] I say.....except for one book [illegible] [illegible] There stand[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] "The Journal of the Geological Society of Japan" (from 1912). Inside were many interesting sketches of Japanese rocks clearly explained in Japanese script.

"Wow!" I said.

Really, this was too much for me. Foaming at the mouth I eagerly [illegible] "The Tra[illegible] of the Royal Society of Tropical Medicine [illegible]" "Chemistry Abs[illegible]" [illegible] "Nutrition Reviews (194[illegible]" and "Nervous Child" both on the same shelf, I was gleefully hopping up and down the aisles, gurgling [illegible].

About this time, though, a rather disturbed little old lady came over and punded me with a heavy "Ar[illegible]" sent me to the far end of the reading room with "The Egyptian Medical Association."

I chortled to myself for a little bit and then fell asleep reading of the snail distribution along the Nile.

* * * * *

Most students who saw the "Band Day" show at last Saturday's Fur[illegible] were impressed and [illegible] by the color and hugeness of the thing.

What they don't realize though, is the immense amount of preparation that goes into those 15 minutes they watched on the field.

The show had to be planned ahead of time. The planning had to take into account such diverse things as the size of each of the 43 bands, the weather, how may parts of what songs each band needed, how all these bands would pass two practices, lunch, supper, a parade and a football game into one day, and so forth.

Congratulations to the Marching Chiefs' directors and the FSU band manager who were the guides for the various bands. These poor bandsmen spent upwards of 12 hours Saturday roasting in their wool uniforms.

* * * * *

The Honor Court bulletin board at the front of the History Bldg. has a record of the action taken against various recent offenders. One boy, tried last February for stealing books from the Seminole Club, was immediately suspended when found guilty.

These people mean business.

* * * * *

[illegible] graph to "Mad." It looks like I was standing backwards for the picture.

* * * * *

Something should be done to alleviate [illegible] (which, incidentally, houses everything from social science and humanities to some chemistry.)

Somebody with a little intelligence should devise a one-way system or something, to get things moving again. I hate to elbow a coed in the face trying to get through the [illegible] sleeves.

Letters

Unfair!

To The Editor:

[illegible] ents three unauthorize[illegible] before any disciplinary [illegible] taken. Also, they are re[illegible] their policies concerni[illegible] Army R.O.T.C. cadets ho[illegible] not allowed any unexcuses [illegible] and should they miss a [illegible] drill they are penalized [illegible] erits.

An example in mind is [illegible] student I know who [illegible] approximately three mi[illegible] as the result of havin[illegible] from the History build[illegible] R.O.T.C. building in th[illegible] a sudden and heavy [illegible] (M[illegible] though he was soakin[illegible] [illegible] r coming in [illegible] If this is an example [illegible] "discipline" I [illegible] carried out into the real[illegible] surdity.

Barnes

Today's News Roundup

Flambeau News Services

ACROSS THE NATION

WASHINGTON-- Foreign Ministers of 19 Latin American had lunch at the White House yesterday and heard President Ken[illegible] appeal for hemispheric solidarity in opposing Communism in WASHINGTON-- The United States has exploded another nuclear weapon in the Mid-Pacific after a two month recess in Pacific tests. The device was detonated in the air after being dropped from a pla[illegible] near Johnston Island. It was a medium-range blast.

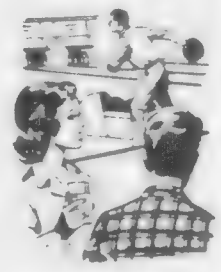
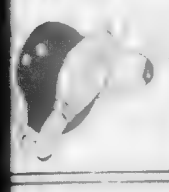
NEW ORLEANS-- A Federal Appeals Court in New Orlea[illegible] given Mississippi Governor Ross Barnett a ten day reprieve [illegible] punishment for his vain attempt to keep Negro James Mere[illegible] the University of Mississippi. Lawyers for the Governor ar[illegible] Barnett had purged himself to contempt court charges. [illegible] court granted him a form of probation until October 12th -- appar[illegible] to test his willingness to accept fully the court's orders to integra[illegible] the University.

OXFORD, MISS.-- James Meredith, accompanied by Federal M[illegible] completed a full schedule of classes at the university in Oxfor[illegible] day. He said in an interview that he considers his enrollment [illegible] formerly all-white school a principle and basic civil rights. A[illegible] said he is determined to stick it out until he receives his degree. Th[illegible] would take between 18 months and two years.



SPRINGFIELD, MISSOURI-- The former general who spear[illegible] resistance to Meredith in Oxford has been ordered placed under [illegible] chiatric examination in a federal prison in Springfield, Miss[illegible] Edwin Walker was arrested and flown to the prison yesterday. [illegible] attorneys said today they will fight the order for a check on his me[illegible] condition, which would take two to three months.



FLORIDA NEWS

CAPE CANAVERAL-- Weather is not ideal in recovery area[illegible] Pacific and Atlantic-- but plans are going ahead for Astronaut Wal[illegible] Schirra's orbital flights today. The launching is scheduled [illegible] 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. EDT. Tropical storm "Daisy" continue[illegible] up high waves in an alternative recovery area off Puerto Rico. H[illegible] if Schirra makes a full schedule of six orbits of the Earth, he w[illegible] be brought down in the Pacific. As ofr the storm- a Project merc[illegible] spokesman said: "This is about as close as we will ever come [illegible] suitable weather around the entire track."

allaway Mills Company, LaGrange, Georgia, a nationally known textile manufacturing company producing a highly diversified line of quality textile products will have a representative on the campus October 17 interviewing graduating seniors with degrees in Business Administration and Chemistry for opportunities in management and research. Please make arrangements for an interview with us at the University Placement Office.

IT'S F.S.U. MONTH
at SEMINOLE & PARKWAY LANES
BOWL! BOWL! BOWL!
FOR THE NEXT 30 DAYS ANY
FSU STUDENT WHO SHOWS
HIS I.D. CARD CAN BOWL
FOR 35¢ A GAME
THAT'S 35¢ A GAME

BOWL! BOWL!

Smoker Series

Simcha Brudno Recounts Experiences At Kellum Hall's Discussion Meeting

"Stop making excuses for doing nothing," said Simcha Brudno at Kellum Hall's first informal faculty-student discussion meeting last Thursday.

A research physicist, Brudno recounted experiences in his native Lithuania after the Russian occupation during World War II. "I made the mistake of keeping an open mind before judging them," he stated, "but by the time I discovered the facts, it was too late. Don't you make the same error. There absolutely exists no question in the mind of the Communists that they are destined to take over the world. We must understand this."

The current series of faculty-student discussions, called "Smokers," was initiated last year in response to students' requests for closer personal and intellectual relations between themselves and the faculty. Established by the Dean of Men's staff in Kellum under the leadership of Dr. Arthur Murphy, counselor; Eugene Simmons, assistant counselor; and Thomas Crook, hall senator, many faculty members participated including President Gordon Blackwell, Dr. Anna Forbes Liddell, Reverend John Carey, Dr. Charles Grigg, Dr. Steven Winters and Dr. Meyer Nimkoff. Joining with Murphy and Simmons in planning for this year's sessions are Allan Dermott, Hall President, and Charles Schmidt, vice president. All residents are invited to take part in the discussions and in the selection of faculty guests, Dermott said.

"If you are not creating, you are stagnating," Brudno told the students present at the first smoker. He urged that America's high living standard be shared with the people of less fortunate countries. Their country can prosper if we build roads for them and they will become our friends, he stressed. If we send engineers, we shall not need to send soldiers, he added. And if we do not build roads, someone else will. Money now being sent as foreign aid frequently is used for armaments as was the case in the struggle between the Arabs and the Israeli forces, he continued. Utilizing American know-how in a program aimed at building roads in countries needing our assistance is necessary, Brudno said.

Our modern machinery and equipment when made available for this purpose would amaze many countries where hand labor is still employed, he added.

"Americans have nothing to be ashamed of," stated Brudno. "Go out and show the world. But don't find so many excuses for doing nothing."

Today's Weather

Cloudy condition. No rain. High, 84, Low, 70. Winds southwesterly from 5 to 15 miles an hour.

Today

A three-hour briefing on "The Management of the Air Proving Ground Center" will be held at 1:15 p.m. in 120 Business for faculty members.

* * * * *

Soltas will meet at 4 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

* * * * *

Student Senate meets at 4 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

* * * * *

Dr. Richard Cornell will conduct a statistics seminar on "Estimation for Exponential Models" at 4 p.m. in 303 Math-Meteorology.

* * * * *

Gamma Alpha Chi will meet at 5 p.m. in the Student Lounge in Longmire.

* * * * *

Young Democrats will meet at 7 p.m. in the Education Lecture Hall.

* * * * *

Young Americans for Freedom will meet at 7 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

* * * * *

Math Teaching Club will meet at 7 p.m. in the Club Room in Longmire.

* * * * *

Hillel Foundation will meet in the Student Lounge in Longmire at 7 p.m.

* * * * *

Miss "Tally Ho" Contest will be held at 7 p.m. in Opperman Music

* * * * *

WFSU-TV visits with a sculptor at 7:30 p.m.

* * * * *

The FSU Forum at 8:30 with John A. Griffin, moderator.

WFSU-TV

9:45 El Espanol Es Facil
10:00 Americanism vs. Communism
10:30 El Espanol Es Facil - Spanish II
10:45 Seeing Music
11:00 American Economy
11:30 Junior College Spanish
12:00 Geology 107
12:30 Mid-day
1:15 Seeing Music
1:30 Social Studies
2:00 Humanities
2:30 Americanism vs. Communism
--------Sign Off--------
4:30 What's New
5:00 Seeing Music
5:55 News
6:00 Continental Classroom
6:30 American Economy
7:00 Humanities 201
7:30 Visits With a Sculptor
8:00 Jazz Casual
8:30 Montage
9:00 Ragtime Era
9:30 Music Hall
10:00 Ten O'clock Report

"Tareyton's Dual Filter in duas partes divisa est!"

Romulus (Alley-Oop) Antonius, agile acrobatic ace of the amphitheater, while enjoying a Tareyton. "Tempus sure does fly when you smoke Tareyton," says Alley-Oop. "Marcus my words, one Tareyton's worth all Tellus in Rome. Because Tareyton brings you de gustibus you never thought you'd get from any filter cigarette."

Dual Filter makes the difference

DUAL FILTER Tareyton

Furman Dents Florida State's Defensive Stax

Florida State is still unscored-upon after three games this football season, but the Seminoles' sparkling defensive statistics of last week have been scratched a bit.

FSU mangled out-classed Furman Saturday night, 42-0, though the Paladins managed to tear 157 yards on the ground and 44 in the air. The Seminiles, led by Coach Bill Peterson's defensive unit (the Renegades) had given up on 51 yards on the ground and 67 in the air against both Kentucky and The Citadel.

So now, instead of owning an average yield on the ground of 25.5 yards per game, FSU has given up almost 70 yards.

Those were the most revealing statistics released here today after Seminole wins over The Citadel (49-0) and Furman, and a 0-0 tie with Kentucky. The Seminoles play the University of Miami Friday night at 8:15 p.m. (EST) in the Orange Bowl at Miami.

Junior fullback Marion Roberts of Ocilla, Ga., is still the leading ground-gainer for FSU with 150 net yards in 30 carries. Senior quarterback Eddie Feely picked up 57 yards on nine carries to move into second place. Feely also leads the Seminoles in total yardage with 452 yards--114 running and 338 passing.

Feely, who stands only 5-7, has combined with sophomore quarterback Steve Tensi of Cincinnati, who towers over Feely at 6-5, for a total of 39 completions in 66 passing attempts for 596 yards and seven touchdowns.

Team captain Gene McDowell was named this week's "Mr. Savage" by coaches for his outstanding defensive performance against Furman University Saturday.

Frosh's Winning Streak Snapped By Southerners

The Baby Seminoles suffered their first defeat in three years Saturday night, 35-12. The B-team of the Mississippi Southerners from Mississippi tore up and down the field to gain the 342 yards for seven touchdowns.

Southern Mississippi had topped the University of Mexico varsity earlier, 21-6. The young Seminoles were the second team to fall before the Southerners.

Southerners received the opening kickoff; 11 plays later they were on the two yard line. Harmon Brannon charged through center for the first score of the game.

Within seven minutes the Southerners had again moved the ball, 53 yards in 10 plays, setting up quarterback Ron Moody for a push from the one yard line.

The second quarter proved to be much the same as the first. Brannon plunged over from the one after a 27 yard drive from center, making the score 21-0.

The Baby Seminoles came up strong in the second half, scoring one touchdown in each quarter. The first came after a 72-yard march in eight plays, down to the Mississippi 10. Buddy Blankenship threw to end Elton Jones for the 10 yard touchdown pass. The extra point kick was blocked.

At the end of the third quarter another march began downfield. Joe Petko went over from the one, climaxing the tallies of Florida State. The pass from Blankenship for the extra point was blocked.

Moody caught the kickoff for the Southerners, for an 8-yard run back to his own 35. Halfback Robert Brown took a pitchout from there and charged 65 yards, evading tacklers all the way, for the sixth touchdown of the night.

Two minutes later the Southerners managed to pick up a Florida State fumble on the FSU 30. Moody moved to the Southerner downfield in two pass plays; the first a 13-yard pitch to Brannon and the second was an 18-yard pass to end Jesse Brown, who was standing in the end zone.

The freshmen football team's only home game is scheduled Oct. 13, Saturday, in Doak S. Campbell Stadium, when the Baby Seminoles will battle the fledglings from the University of Miami.

Since Oct. 13 is an open date for the varsity football team, there will be no varsity tilt to conflict with the frosh's home game.

Mural Results

BASKETBALL--P. E. Majors were defeated, 67-51, by the P. E. Graduates, while the Baptist Student Union trounced the Villagers, 60-26. The Old Timers edged the Newman Club, 27-25, while the FSO stomped the Healers, 64-16. The Geology Club won over the Wesley Foundation, 37-29.

SOFTBALL--Delta Tau Delta socked Theta Chi, 14-3; while Lambda Chi Alpha stomped Pi Kappa Phi, 14-4. Kappa Sigma defeated SAE, 7-2, and the TEPs rolled over Delta Chi, 15-1. Pi Kappa Alpha fell, 14-1, to Sigma Nu, and ATO dropped Phi Delta Theta, 10-7.

Scoreboard

Last Saturday was a week of upsets for several of Florida State's opponents, especially including Auburn University and Houston.

The results:

AUBURN--defeated favored Tennessee, 22-21; will meet Kentucky next Saturday.

THE CITADEL--trounced Presbyterian of South Carolina, 28-8; will battle William and Mary Saturday.

FLORIDA--smashed by Georgia Tech, 17-0; will meet Duke nest Saturday.

FURMAN--was blanked, 42-0, in FSU's third shutout; will battle George Washington next.

GEORGIA TECH--defeated Florida; will go against Louisiana next Saturday.

GEORGIA--dropped Vanderbilt, 10-0; will face South Carolina next Saturday.

HOUSTON--edged by Texas A&M, 6-3; will battle the University of Mississippi next Saturday.

KENTUCKY--was felled, 14-0, by Ole Miss; will go against Auburn next Saturday.

MIAMI--aqueaked past Texas Christian, 21-20; will face Florida State in Miami next Saturday.

VOLKSWAGON REPAIR
All work guaranteed - Pierce Causseaux -
JACK KERZAN'S TEXACO
936 North Monroe
Phone - 224-0320

COLLEGE Estate MASTER
COLLEGIATE
JAY PARNELL
REPRESENTATIVE

Padgett's Harley Davidson
411 W. Gaines
Ph. 222-0130
"your motorcycle ..."

BOB'S ESSO
SERVICE CENTER (ACROSS FROM FLORIDA THEATER)
NOW OPEN
"HAPPY MOTORING"

DAN'S STABLES
SADDLE HORSE RENTALS

OPEN SAT. & SUN. 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.
(OTHER DAYS BY APPOINTMENT)
2610 MISSION ROAD
1 1/2 miles west of university shopping center--Ph. 222-3598

SUTTON'S HAIR FASHIONS
Corner College and Monroe
phone 224-8651

SUTTON'S BEAUTY SALON
123 E. Fifth Ave.
phone 224-4235

Mr. Sutton invites the students of discriminating taste in hair designs to come by or phone for an appointment.

Mr. Sutton
Evva Averett
Mary Vesta Williams
Wayne Leverette
Melanie Leverette
Louise Braswell

FASHION CLEANERS
and LAUNDRY
1317 JACKSON BLUFF RD.
904 WEST THARPE ST.
WE COVER THE CITY
FAIREST IN PRICE
FASTEST IN SERVICE
UNIVERSITY SERVICE
PHONE 224-4940

THE INS AND OUTS OF COLLECTING SWEATERS
(OR)
WHY SWEATERS THAT ARE VERY IN ARE VERY "ORLON"

VERY IN	VERY OUT
washing your sweaters in the nearest washing machine (you can, if they're "Orlon" or "Orlon Sayelle")	sending your sweaters home to Mother for fussy hand washing or whatever.
saving on cleaning bills with great sweaters of "Orlon" and "Orlon Sayelle". They come clean—but quickly—in the wash.	digging deep into fun funds for seasonal—and emergency—sweater cleaning.
all-season sweaters—freed from rituals of mothballing and summer storage.	mishaps with moths and sweaters that hibernate in a box.
bulky, good-looking knits that warm without weight—wash without worry.	burdensome sweaters—too heavy in overheated classrooms, too dependent on demanding care.
classics pure and simple—plus newfangled knits that know how to keep their shape with no assist from you.	the old saggy-baggys like Daddy used to wear—and Mommy has to fuss over!
the newsy textures and tweedy tones of "Orlon" acrylic, "Orlon Sayelle" bi-component acrylic.	almost anything else, almost anything else! (So start collecting sweaters of "Orlon" and "Orlon Sayelle" right now!)

DUPONT

Schirra Circles Earth More Than 5 Times

ee story page 3

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Senate Approves Promotion Film

The drive for the production of a promotional film bout FSU was given an added push yesterday as Stuent Senate passed a resolution setting up a committee work with the faculty on the project. Yesterday was e first time the full Senate met this year.

similar committee was set up year. Sen. Arnie Gibbs exated but was dissolved at the end the year without making significant progress. Since the discussion ut cooperating with the Univera film was begun dropped, interest has been increased concerning an FSU continued.

that definite action taken as soon as possible to get production underway so events semester may be included in film. Pictures have already been en at registration for possible many other events soon.

The film will be used by Speakers Bureau, the Athletic Recruiting Staff, the Alumni Office, TV stations and civic groups when it is completed.

Senate President Johnny Smith appointed Joyce Killian, chairman, and Senators Arnie Gibbs, Dennis Lanahan and Ruth Doyle to the film committee.

As a result of Senate action yesterday, 10 organizations will lose their charters unless they file three copies of their constitutions in the Attorney General's Office by Monday. Senate approved the recommendation of Attorney General Lyman Fletcher that the organizations which have not filed copies of their constitutions as required by Statute be suspended until they do comply with the Statutes when they may reapply for charters.

The organizations are Alpha Epsilon Delta, Alpha Kappa Delta, Beta Phi Mu, Diving Seminoles, Engineering Science Society, Gymkana, Phi Beta Lambda, Philosophy Club, Soltas and the State Scholarship Club.

The Attorney General's Office is in 210 Longmire.

President Presents Paper

University President Blackwell will present a annual meeting of the American Council on Education in Chicago, Ill., Friday.

council is scheduled to study federal scholarship fellowship programs on institutions of higher learning, and Pres. Blackwell will discuss the effects of these programs on the academic disciplines.

Dr. John Champion, FSU and Dr. John K. Folk, dean of the Graduate School, a meeting of the Association of Land Grant State Universities, Wednesday.

administrators will discuss operations in Fla.

Clerical Jobs Now Available

More jobs are available on campus for women clerical workers than can presently be filled, Dr. James F. Carr, director of financial aid, announced today.

All positions open are on campus. Hours of work vary, but most jobs average about 15 hours, Carr said.

Women interested in these positions whould apply at the Office of the Director of Financial Aid, third floor, Longmire Bldg.

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Vol. XLIX, No. 22 Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University Thursday, October 4, 1962

SWEARING IN

. . . of new members to Senate is administered by Ross McVoy, chief justice of honor court, to. left to right, John Merting, Jo Anne Griffin and Chuck Beck. (Photo by Bruce Tibbo)

Annual Retreat To Begin Soon

Registration for the annual Student Government Retreat will be next Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. in the Longmire Lobby. The Retreat will be at the Reservation, Oct. 19 and 20.

Registration for the annual Student Retreat will be next Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. in the Longmire Lobby.

The Retreat will be at the Reservation, Oct. 19 and 20.

The registration cost of $2.50 a person will include breakfast, a snack and lunch at the Reservation, Oct. 20.

Attendance at the Retreat is required of all those who are working in Student Government. In addition, the Retreat is open to students who are interested in Student Government. Only Student Government officials will be able to stay at the Reservation over-night.

The program will begin on campus a keynote address by Rolf Hancke, counsellor of the Embassy of Norway, Washington D.C., Friday evening. Following the address, the program will continue with a general meeting and recreation at the Reservation. Saturday's program will include discussion meetings and general meetings.

Participating in the meetings at the Reservation will be state government officials and students from Florida colleges and junior colleges and some representatives from out-of-state colleges.

SMOKE SIGNALS FEATURE GIRL

"Smoke Signals" will accept applicants for the fall feature girl until Friday. Applicants should submit a portrait-type photograph and a full length photograph. Snap shots are acceptable.

Photos may be sent to "Smoke Signals," 410 Longmire, with return name and address.

This Week's Best

Gene McDowell

Eddie Feely

Florida State captured both Back of the Week and Lineman-of the Week honors this week in Florida, as FSU quarterback Eddie Feely and captain-guard Gene McDowell were lauded by sports writers for their performances against the Citadel. Feely is number three in the U. S. in total offense, and McDowell received the team's Mr. Savage award this week.

Campus Movie

Tickets for the Campus Movie, "Forbidden Planet," will be on sale all day tomorrow at Westcott ticket office.

Coffee Hour Begins

The first English Coffee Hour of the year will be held Friday at 4 p.m. at the Westminster House at the corner of Copeland and Park.

Dr. F.G. Townsend, head of the English Dept. and Richard Fallon of the Speech Dept. will be the first speakers. The topic will be the forthcoming FSU production of Shakespeare's "Henry IV, Part I." Townsend will discuss the play, and Fallon will discuss his direction of it.

The idea for the English Coffee Hour originated in 1953 with the purpose of introducing members of the English staff to the students. The first chairman of the program was Dr. William Randel and meetings were held in the Trophy Room of the Student Center. Guests provided their own coffee from the Center counter.

In 1954 the Coffee Hour moved to the Westminister House at the invitation of Miss Meriam Wilson, director of Presbyterian student work.

Since then the coffee has always met on Friday at 4 p.m. and the coffee has been served with funds donated by the English staff.

The purpose of the Coffee Hour was broadened to outside speakers. Men and women of varied interests and capabilities bring to the audience both addreesses and readings.

In 1954 the following authors appeared on the Coffee Hour program: Mrs. Alfriend, Mrs. Ernst Dohnanyi, Edwin Granberry, Leon Odell Griffith, Andrew Lytle, John D. Mac Donald, Dr. Frank Slaughter and Philip Wylie.

Lawrence Mahoney

Nonexistent Concepts Reviewed

Thank goodness we have in our University people like James T. Ayres, Frank C. Coney and Dick Savage to respond to opinions offered in this daily journal of news and ideas. It seems, however, that through some inability on the part of this writer to say what he wants to say, coupled with a degree of misinterpretation on the part of the reactors, certain nonexistent concepts have been read into the article in question.

One prime misinterpretation was the assertation I object to the right of free speech and open avowal of philosophy when used by rightists. Ayres thinks, obviously because of my strong criticism of Americanism seminars, that I would curtail such phenomena.

If strong criticism means advocation of halting expressions of opinion, then is Ayres, with his satirical objection to my evaluation of professional anti-Reds, not questioning my right of "free speech and open avowal of philosophy?"

No, I think not and perhaps Ayres, after a bit of reconsideration will see that criticism, far from being a hindrance to free speech, is an essential part of idea-exchange in our society.

So, one of Mr. Ayres's "four horsemen of the liberal Apocalypse," his idea of liberal anathemas--capitalism, militant Christianity, anti-Communism and free speech has bit the dust.

Anti-Communism? Yes, I am opposed to the brand of anti-Communism evident in the seminar that I attempted to describe, the muddled know-nothings who use the Red threat as a club against anything from the United Nations to fluorides in the water... the twisted facts in the films... the equation of liberalism with socialism with communism.

Their paranoid exaggerations of the Red menace at home and abroad give rise to suspicions of disloyalty in the schools, the churches, the government and the press within our communities, twist the people's weltanshauung into a false view of a scarlet-tinted, hostile world.

And since we are a democracy--despite the know-nothings' contempt for what that word stands for-- the untimate direction in which the United States carries its quest for extinguishment of Communist expansion will be largely decided by the world view of the people.

Nothing would suit the Kremlin more than for the United States to labor under such absurdities. Liberalism on the other hand, and genuine conservatism as opposed to what the know-nothings stand for, is often regarded by the Marxists as the most effective form of, for want of a better term anti-Communism.

The Communists see liberalism as their prime enemy because it offers necessary political, economic and social change without the violent and totalitarian aspects of Communism.

I think Ayres would agree when I say the liberal philosophy of the Scandinavian nations leaves them in a much stronger position to prevent a Communist takeover than the vehemently anti-Communist governments of pre-1948 China and Batista Cuba did for their lands.

Am I opposed to capitalism because I disagree with the speaker who calls for abolishment of the income tax and repeal of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act? I hardly think so. Capitalism is just like anything else, if carried to an extreme it becomes evil.

Scratch three more of Mr. Ayres' horsemen... and his argument.

Now in regard to Mr. Savage's contention that "my connection between Dr. Bella Dodd and the seminar in Panama City was extremely tenuous, I am forced to agree with him. The connection was rather shallow.

However, anyone reading the newspaper advertisements that proclaimed "Ex-communist to Speak on Subversion in the Schools and Infiltration in other Aspects of American Life" could not fail to see the connection.

Dr. Dodd goes about the nation telling her tales of "When I was a Communist Subversive in the New York School System" and how there may be a few subversives in the audience's own schools.

"There are some people in our educational system who don't want our children to know what is going on in the world," she warns.

Of course Dr. Dodd's subversives include teachers who do not agree with her sponsor's compact definition of Americanism, and sure enough there usually are such heretics in the school system.

Dr. Dodd preaches the "crusade against the Red atheists" theme, calling for the United States to use the same tactics that we abhore so much when the Communists use them.

One classic gem attributed to Dr. Dodd when she spoke at Governor Bryant's "Cold War Conference" this summer in Miami was "The Three Mrs. Khruschev's Tale."

Seems the present matronly Nina Khruschev has not been the only woman in Nikita's life. Actually there have been three -- the first Khrushchev was murdered, the second was sent to the Siberian salt mines after difficulties at home and, finally, matronly Nina, the real love of K's life. Nina was a notorious secret police judge in the 1930's.

To Mr. Savage I give my thanks for calling my error. If the above is not enough to prove my point, as it may very well be, the only thing that I suggest hearing Dr. Dodd talk herself.

Faculty Panel Will Discuss Major Roles

A panel of faculty members will discuss three major roles of Floride State University at FSU's Orange County Alumni Club meeting in Orlando tonight. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Orlando's Cherry Plaza Hotel.

Dr. Coyle E. Moore, dean of the School of Social Welfare, will speak on FSU's "Faculty and Student Body;" Dr. John A. Griffin, director of University Relations, will discuss FSU's role in the community and state, and Athletic Director Vaughn Mancha will talk about FSU's intercollegiate athletic program.

William Byers, president of the Orange County Alumni Club said that a film of the FSU-Furman game will be shown after the meeting. A social hour will precede the event.

Football films of the Seminole games will be shown under the sponsorship of the Orange County Alumni Club each Thursday at 5:30 p.m. at the Orlando Elks Club.

YOUR "BEST YEARS" ARE NOW!

You'll never look better, so telephone today for an appointment.

L'Avant STUDIOS

Oak Valley Golf Club Presents

FALL FESTIVAL of GOLF

ENTRY FEE $7.50 (includes 1 Practice R[illegible])

54 HOLES MEDAL PLAY - QUALIFYING ROUND COUNTS

Qualify [illegible] Friday, October [illegible]

16 MEN TO A FLIGHT

1, 2, 3 PLACE WINNERS IN EACH FLIGHT

OCTOBER 6 & 7th

OVER $500 IN PRIZES

PHONE 224-2047 555 OCALA RD. OFF W. [illegible] TALLAHASSEE, FLA.

Tony's Pizza

1805 Thomasville Road

Phone 224-6210

Specializing in

Pizza

Spaghetti

Italian Salad

TONY'S PIZZA

e and nutrition seminar will be 30 a.m. in 4[illegible] Sandels, with [illegible] Watts speaking.

* * * * *

:30 p.m., the Faculty Christian [illegible]owship Luncheon will be in the [illegible]ree Room.

* * * * *

[illegible] Physics Faculty Luncheon will [illegible]: 12:30 p.m. in the Bamboo [illegible] Facul[illegible].

* * * * *

[illegible]dy Club meets at 4:30 p.m. [illegible]e Wrestling Room, Tully Gym.

* * * * *

Today

Physics Colloquium will begin at 4:30 p.m. in 124 Science, with Dr. Steve Edwards speaking.

* * * * *

Alpha Lambda Delta will meet at 5 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

* * * * *

Phi Eta Sigma meeting will be at 5 p.m. in the Club Room, Longmire.

* * * * *

APO will meet in Longmire Auditorium at 6:30 p.m.

* * * * *

Circle K-ettes meet at 7 p.m. in the Student Lounge of Longmire.

* * * * *

The Collegiate 4-H meets in Rm. 1, Sandels at 7 p.m.

* * * * *

Elementary Internship registration is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Education Lecture Hall.

* * * * *

WFSU-TV presents the Boston Symphony at 8 p.m., "The Creation of the World."

* * * * *

Women's "F" Club meets at 9 p.m. in the Student Lounge, Longmire.

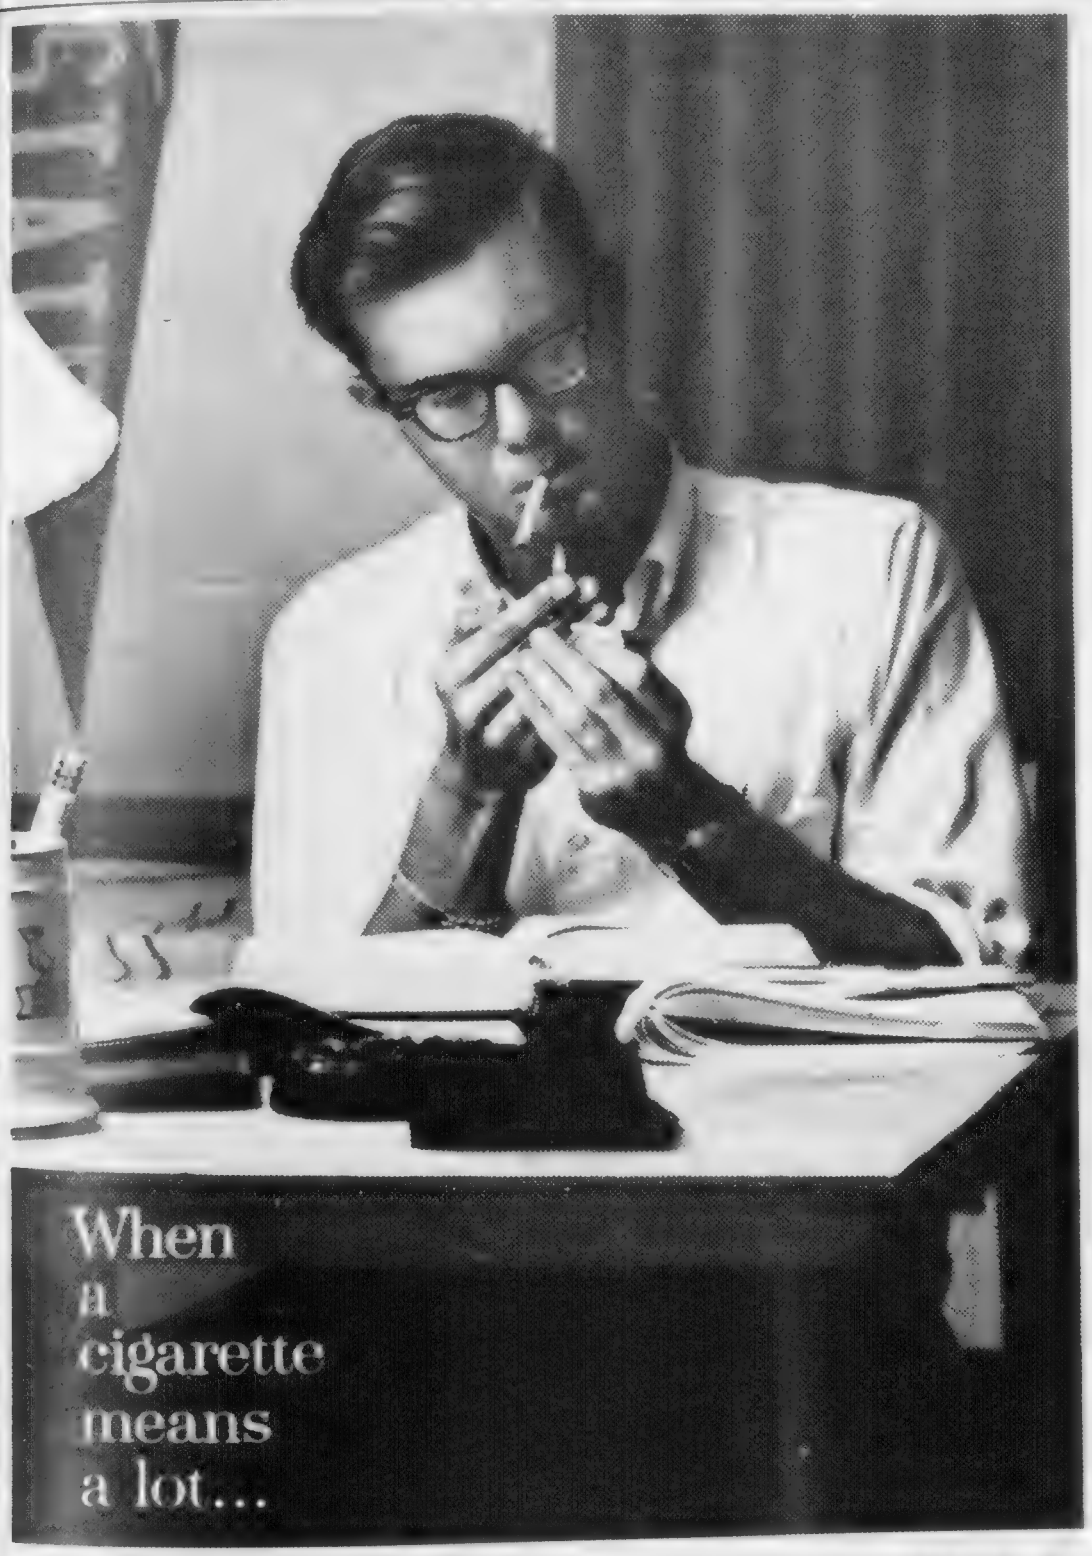
Today's News Roundup

Flambeau News Services

CAPE CANAVERAL--Astronaut Walter Schirra has swirled six times around the globe on the longest space flight ever made by an American and scored a near bull's-eye landing in the Pacific.

Schirra--plucked from the waters by an aircraft carrier--is reported in excellent mental and physical condition after the nine hour and 13 minute flight.

NEW YORK--A boiler exploded in a big New York City building--killing at least 20 persons and injuring 100 others.



OXFORD, MISS.--U.S. officials say Negro James Meredith plans to leave the University of Mississippi for a brief rest after his first week.

WASHINGTON--The Senate has passed a bill for postal rate increases and pay hikes for federal workers, sending it to the House.

WASHINGTON--A draft communique assailing Soviet domination of the Castro regime in Cuba has been submitted for approval by hemisphere Foreign Ministers at the final session of their meeting in Washington.

MIAMI--Tropical Storm Daisy is expected to reach hurricane force today. Forecasters say the storm, packing top winds of 70 miles per hour last night, is moving in the direction of the Bahamas and the southeast United States. People in those areas are urged to follow Daisy's progress. Daisy is now located 840 miles East of Miami. Forecaster Gilbert Clark says if the storm continues its Westward movement during the next 24 hours, it will become a threat to the U.S. mainland.

MIAMI--Negotiator James Donovan has left Miami for Havana to bargain for the freedom of war prisoners held in Cuba. Donovan will meet with Fidel Castro in his effort to liberate the prisoners taken in the Bay of Pigs invasion. He said upon departing he would offer Castro food and medicine from the American people.

When a cigarette means a lot...

get Lots More from L&M

more body in the blend

more flavor in the smoke

more taste through the filter

It's the rich-flavor leaf that does it! Among L&M's choice tobaccos there's more of this longer-aged, extra-cured leaf than even in some unfiltered cigarettes. And with L&M's modern filter — the Miracle Tip — only pure white touches your lips. Get lots more from L&M — the filter cigarette for people who really like to smoke.

LET VITALIS® KEEP YOUR HAIR NEAT ALL DAY WITHOUT GREASE!
Keep the oil in the can. In your hair, use Vitalis with V-7®, the greaseless grooming discovery. Fights embarrassing dandruff, prevents dryness—keeps your hair neat all day without grease.

At Holland's Restaurant
Where they all meet Before or After the show.
You would never believe it!
The most delicious food at such a moderate price.

Everyday Special Luncheons and Dinners—with many meats to choose from, served with fresh vegetables—

We are famous for our Homemade Pies
Wednesday is Chicken Nite—
Platter of Kentucky Fried Chicken...$1.00
From $.75, .90, 1.00 and 1.10.

MIAMI, FSU CLASH TOMORROW

Weatherman Warns Hurricanes Sighted

Miami and Florida State have finished a week of drills and will face each other before 40,000 expected spectators in Miami's Orange Bowl Friday night.

Florida State holds only one win over the Hurricanes in eight tries. It was a 17-6 rout in the Orange Bowl in 1958. Miami has not blanked the Seminoles since the 1953 and 1958 contests. FSU twice has limited Miami to single TD's, but never has done any better.

Although Miami is favored, having already defeated Pittsburgh and Texas Christian, FSU Head Coach Bill Peterson's crew does not have a defeatist's attitude .

"The boys are showing lots of spirit and lots of confidence," he said after Tuesday's closed practice, which he termed "the best we've ever had."

Practice for the Miami game has been darkened by injured hips of quarterback Eddie Feely of the Chiefs, of defensive end Cliff Gunter of the Renegades, and of tackle Mike Blazovich of the Warriors.

However, Peterson said Feely's injury was minor and he should be able to play against the Hurricanes. "He's looking a little better," he said, "he'll be able to play... it's just that he may not be his strongest."

Friday's game will be Feely's last game duel with Miami's quarterback George Mira, who is presently having a statistical battle with the FSU signal-caller.

After TCU, Mira edged Feely out of first place in total offense with 454 yards to Feely's 452. Mira is second to Feely in passing, since Feely has completed 22 of 35 passes for 338 yards and three touchdowns to Mira's 23-of-54 passes, which netted Miami 328 yards and two touchdowns.

Florida State's Marion Roberts leads both second place Mira and third-place Feely in rushing yardage. In 30 plays, Roberts charged 150 yards, while Mira claims 126 yards on 20 plays. Feely steeped off 114 yards on 24 carries.

Feely leads in scoring in the state with 14 points, with six gridders tied for second place.

The Florida State practices, which were closed as were drills for Kentucky, featured pass offense, pass defense, kicking, and other phases of the game.

FSU is expected to use the kicking game against Miami the same way it did against Kentucky -- keep the enemy deep in its own territory and off-balance.

But preparing for Miami's Mira and preparing for Kentucky's Jerry Woolum, both fine passers, have been two entirely different processes.

"These are two different types," Peterson said, "Mira is so much quicker than Woolum. He's able to quickly change field, run instead of throw -- the ability to change is his greatest asset."

The "Mira-culous" Mira, to use Miami Herald's parlance, has not awed Florida State's coaches

"We've got three strong quarterbacks in Eddie Feely, Steve Tensi, and Charlie Calhoun, and some real fine runners -- Keith Kinderman, Marion Roberts, and Jim Loftin."

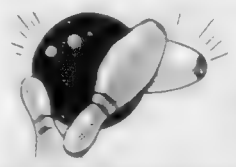
"And I still have to be shown that their offensive line in any better than ours," Peterson said in a preseason talk.

Mira's 328 passing yardage boosts his career mark to 1,328, just four under Don James who finished his UM career with 1,362. James, now a scout and assistant coach at Florida State, is one of those charged with checking Mira's passes Friday.

* * * * *

Coach Andy Gustafson of Miami says he plans no major changes in attack or defense against the Seminoles. However, line coach Walter Kichefski says that Miami must be on the alert defensively more than it was against Texas Christian.

IT'S F.S.U. MONTH
at SEMINOLE & PARKWAY LANES



BOWL! BOWL! BOWL!

FOR THE NEXT 30 DAYS ANY FSU STUDENT WHO SHOWS HIS I.D. CARD CAN BOWL

FOR 35¢ A GAME

THAT'S 35¢ A GAME

BOWL! BOWL!

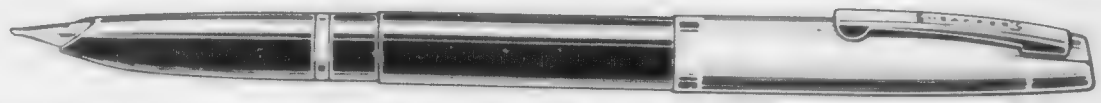
ANNOUNCING

GRAND OPENING

OF DEE'S BARBER SHOP

2238 S. Monroe

Across from Dr. Vickers vet. Dee's Barber Shop is a modern concern with latest equipment to meet the needs of their customers.



Regular haircuts	$1.25
Flat tops	$1.50

Flat tops & Princeton speciality

DEE'S BARBER SHOP

Great new record offer ($3.98 value)...just $1.00 when you buy Sheaffer's back-to-school special!

Now when you buy your Sheaffer Cartridge Pen for school, you get 98¢ worth of Skrip cartridges FREE...a $3.93 value for just $2.95. Look for Sheaffer's back-to-school special now at stores everywhere. On the back of the package, there's a bonus for you . . . a coupon good for a $3.98 value Columbia limited-edition record. It's "Swingin' Sound", twelve top artists playing top hits for the first time on a 12" L.P. This double-value back-to-school offer good only while they last! So hurry, choose your Sheaffer Cartridge Pen from five smart colors... and mail your "Swingin' Sound" record coupon today.

SHEAFFER'S BACK-TO-SCHOOL SPECIAL!
New cartridge pen with 98¢ worth of cartridges FREE.
$3.93 VALUE FOR $2.95

SHEAFFER'S

©1962 W. A. SHEAFFER PEN COMPANY FORT MADISON, IOWA

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

XLIX, No. 23 — Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University — Friday, October 5, 1962

WHO IS YOUR CHOICE FOR THE 1962 HOMECOMING QUEEN?

...e of the four girls above will be selected by the ...tudent body on Oct. 22 to be homecoming queen; ...t her identity will be withheld until the Pow Wow Nov. 2 preceding the Homecoming Game on Nov. 3 with Houston. The girls are, left to right; Diane Goodwin, Kitty Miller, Fairfax Smathers, Peggy Bruce, and Evelyn Foy.

FSU Building Request

Legislature Asked For $66 Milllion +

A total of $66,275,000 for construction and campus improvements may be requested by FSU during the next four legislative sessions, President Gordon W. Blackwell said.

The request plans which have been drawn up for presentation to the 1963 through 1969 sessions of the State Legislature include many new buildings, additions to existing buildings and air conditioning of all buildings that will be used during the summer trimester.

Key buildings on the 1963 request list, which totals $28,860,000, include a library addition, a social science and fine arts building, a men's and a women's dormitories and a number of units of the proposed science center.

Eventaully, all science courses and research will be carried on in buildings located in a complex near the present nuclear accelerator building. On the 1963 request for the center are two chemistry units, a second physics unit, the first engineering science and biological science units, an accelerator addition, a building o house the Institute for Space Biophysics and a science library.

Also included on the 1963 request list are funds for utility expansion renovation of the old Infirmary, air conditioning Kellum and Cawthon Halls and the University School and several other buildings, a child research laboratory, coastal facilities for the Oceanographic Institute, renovation of Longmire, home management instructional houses and a maintenance shop building, as well as relocation of the Greenhouse and physical education facilities.

Near the top of the request list for 1965 is a Law School Bldg. Other buildings on the $20,675,000 request list are a men's and a women's dormitories, another biological sciences unit, a new Education Bldg. (the present one will become a part of the science center), campus facilities for the Oceanographic Institute, a school of Nursing Bldg., an addition to Tully Gymnasium and the physical education facilities, a Continuing Education Center, an auditorium to seat between 3,500 and 5,000 persons, an addition to the Music Bldg., and renovation of Dodd Hall, the present Science Bldg., and of Conradi, which will be used by the Business School.

By 1967, the University will request funds for still another Library addition as part of a $13,292,000 request list. An additional engineering sciences unit, a mathematics-statistics building and a space sciences building will also be on the list.

Other requests will include funds for two additional dormitories, social welfare, administration and military training buildings and renovations of the History Bldg. and the top floor of the dining halls.

Further additions to the science center in the form of an addition to the Geology Bldg. and a geology museum are included on the proposed $3,448,000 for 1969. Also on this list are a women's dormitory and a men's dormitory, renovation of Westcott and the Suwannee Room.

Included on the 1963, 1965 and 1967 request lists are requests for land acquisition that totals almost $2 million.

Tally Ho

Today is the last day for sorority and fraternity members to register for pictures in the Greek Section of the 1963 Tally Ho. Registration will be from 2-5 p.m. on the fourth floor of Longmire Bldg.

Books, Books, And More Books

Prizes Given For Best Book Collection

...zes of $100, $50 and $25 will be ... seniors having the best ... collections in a contest spon... the Strozier Library, Uni... Book Store and Bill's Book ...re.

...dents entering the contest also have a chance at the Amy Love... Award of $1,000 offered in a ...nal contest, John M. Shaw, one ...he judges in the FSU contest, ...

Student's may enter the contest at any time, but must submit a list of their books by Feb. 1, 1963, Shaw said. They may enter a private book collection centered around a single subject, may stress one author or group of authors or may enter a general collection. Collections must consist of 35 or more books.

Accompanying each application must be an explanation or how the student became interested in forming a collection, and an outline of the student's ideals of a home library.

Applications are available at the Library and book stores.

Judges will be N. Orwin Rush, director of university libraries, chairman; John J. Carey, Dr. Paul J. Piccard, Dr. Edward A. Desloge, Dr. Hardin Goodman and Shaw.

Complete Enrollment Facts Are Released By Registrar

...lorida State University today reported complete en...ollment for the fall trimester is 10,391 students, in...ding 1,577 in Graduate School. The enrollment ...mpared with 9,835 last year, a gain of 556.

...reshman enrollment dropped from 2,262 a year ago ... 2,233 this year but the number of juniors went up ...m 1,935 to 2,159, a gain which was expected because ... transfers from junior colleges.

...ophomore enrollment is 2,199 for the fall compared ...th 2,076 last year, and senior enrollment 1,875 com...red with 1,712 a year ago.

...he student body has 5,548 men and 4,843 women. ...egistrar Murray W. Kenna reported the graduate ...rollment of 1,577 compared with 1,432 a year ago. ...ere are 348 speical students compared with 418 a ...ar ago.

...y divisions the College of Arts and Sciences has 6,914 ...udents, including 4,803 in basic studies; Education ...406, Home Economics 201, Music 405, Library School ..., Social Welfare 350; Business 915 and Nursing 108.

Demos Plan Giant Rally

A political rally for local Democratic candidates will be held Saturday night at Centennial Field, Paul Desmond, head of the "Students for Smathers" campaign announced today.

Appearing on the program will be Gov. Farris Bryant, Sen. Spessard Holland, Sec. of State Tom Adams, Sec. of Agriculture Doyle Conner, and Democratic candidates Sen. George Smathers, Rep. Don Fuqua, and Jerry Carter, Railroad and Public Utilities Commissioner.

Carter and Smathers are running for reelection, while Fuqua is seeking a seat in the House of Representatives.

Entertainment will be provided by high school bands from this district and Democrats will have an opportunity to meet their party leaders and candidates.

A barbeque chicken dinner will be served.

Student tickets are available for $1 from Paul Desmond at 413 Longmire, from 1 to 5 p.m. Wednesday through Friday.

HALFBACK LEADS A SEMINOLE CHEER

Seminole halfback got into the cheering spirit and led a Seminole cheer at the pep rally last night in preparation for the Miami game Friday night in Miami. (Photo by Art Campbell)

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Shirking Amendment

Student Senate passed an amendment to the rules of procedure which will excuse them from more than half of the Senate meetings for the remainder of the trimester.

Sen. Arnie Gibbs introduced a resolution which allows Senators to have five unexcused absenses per trimester. This is on top of absences they may incur due to academic reasons. The resolution barely passed.

Both Vice President Johnny Smith and Men's Vice President Gene Brown are directly opposed to the resolution. They feel that it will greatly hinder the work of the Senate. Both men are right.

A SENATE SEAT involves a great deal of responsibility. Senators determine the policies and actions of the Student Body. Senators apportion the money for student activities. These responsibilities cannot be met without attendance.

Several meetings of last year's Senate had to be postponed because of lack of a quoru. Absences of disinterested Senators stalled action on vital questions for weeks. The Senate stood still.

The amendment leaves the door open for more of the same. The trimeste system cuts down on the number of meetings senators attend. Yet, the amendment will allow them to miss even more meetings. Simply, Senators have fewer meetings of Senate, fewer committee meetings, and fewer meetings of men's and women's senate than ever before and more opportunity to skip.

THIS CAN DO nothing but encourage an ineffective Senate. With the trimester system in its early stages, a stagnant Senate will be disastrous.

Student Senators should realize their responsibility. Each should consider his own situation. If he can not find the time to be a Senator, then he should vacate his seat.

ABOVE ACADEMIC and medical excuses, there is no excuse for not exercising this responsibility. Senate should throw their "amendment for shirking" out and decide that they will devote their time towards good government. Else they should get out of Senate and be replaced by Senators who have the interest and dedication to meet this responsibility.

BCS

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956-'57-'59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

John Schaffner, Managing Editor
Otis Wragg, Associate Editor
Joan Abbott, News Editor
Howard Denson, Sports Editor

Asst. Managing Editors.....Jim Smith, Sharon Blackwell
Asst. News Editors.....Lana Murray, Nancy Olson
Asst. Sports Editor.....John Wood
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists-Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, John McCotter, Matt Straub, Joe Rice, Lawrence Mahoney, Mary Ann Stevens.
News Staff-Bobbie Shiplett, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Bill Smart, Mary Grossenbacher, Sarah Gordon, Susie Rhoades, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Irma Wehle, Ted Harvey, Thera Brackney, Michelle Johnson, Iris Anderson, Frank Coney, Leslie McNevin, Bob Cornet, Drex Dobson.
Sports Staff-Shirley Hardison, Seth Bramson.
Photographers-Art Campbell, Vin Hoagland, Fred McDonald.
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Mabry Ashley
Advertising Sales Staff-Ned Stafford, Lex McKeithen, Don Dughi, John Morgan.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida

Gerry Dobson

Are Rightwingers Fascists?

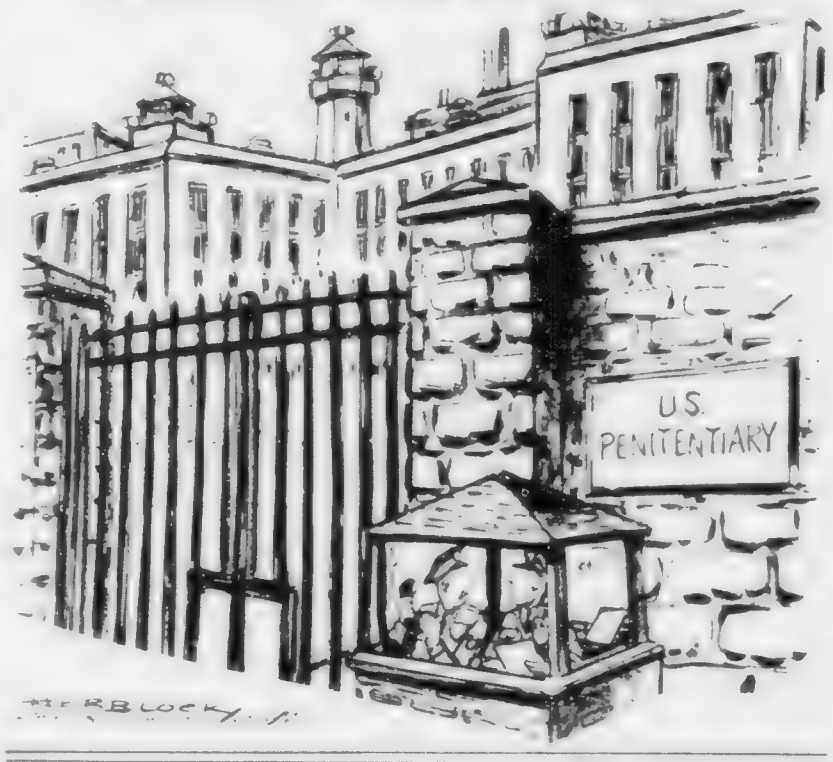
I am growing a little weary of the implication, or outright assertion, that I as a member of the right in American politics, am a fascist. Today we hear much that levels the charge that fascism is a party of the right. We hear various liberals lump conservative organizations with the American Nazi Party; an official of Americans for Democratic Action did this in mentioning the Young Americans for Freedom, in the same breath with Rockwell's goons.

Lawrence Mahoney, Flambeau columnist, did it when he implied "professional anti-Reds" are promoting fascism, by his statement: "Perhaps they should be referred to the Krupps of Germany who also took such chances in pre-1933 political crises."

Against such a background of charges we should now examine the evidence and try to see just where in the political spectrum [illegible] stands. This column will [illegible] economics; a later one [illegible] cerned with the political aspe[illegible] the problem.

Most persons will, I believe, [illegible] cede that the economic ideas [illegible] ced by the New Deal under [illegible] velt, and continued under the [illegible] Deal and the New Frontier, are [illegible] regarded as being "liberal" in [illegible] erica today. More correct[illegible] might trace them to the Fabian [illegible] cialist, John Maynard Keynes. [illegible] quote the prominent liberals who [illegible] tell you just that.

Stuart Chase, Harvard [illegible] long-time Federal bureaucrat [illegible] in his book, "The Proper Study [illegible] Mankind,"..."John Maynard Keynes,...stimulated furious activity [illegible] economic circles. Not [illegible] write a paper without [illegible] him. In due time some of the followers turned their attention [illegible] formulation of programs to [illegible] United States out of the [illegible] pression."



Alvin Hansen, Lauchlin Currie, many other able economists, in operation with lawyers, engineers, political scientists, helped [illegible] such programs as the Securities Exchange Commission, new [illegible] and labor laws, the vast farm [illegible] organizations, the AAA, NRA, [illegible] Rural Electrification, TVA, Social Security and many [illegible] nes had said, "Do something [illegible] they went to work."

Seymour Harris, Harvard [illegible] nomist, wrote: "Yet the general pattern, especially as New [illegible] evolved, checked well with [illegible] strategy and tactics...Keynesian theories and programs undoubtedly had a substantial effect, even if [illegible] difficult to trace. By 1938 the supporters of the new policies and [illegible] the man in the street, though unaware of the sources, were using arguments that Keynes had made commonplace."

But where does fascism stand economically? Let us consult an authority on the subject, Benito Mussolini, who personally gave his approval to a book which stated, "Fascism entirely agrees with Maynard Keynes, despite the latter's prominent position as a Liberal. In fact Mr. Keynes' excellent book, "The End of Laissez-faire" (1926) might, so far as Italy is concerned, serve as a useful introduction to fascist economics. There is precisely anything to object to [illegible] there is much to applaud."

All right, now you decide as far as economics is concerned, is fascism a party of the left or of the right? I welcome the attempt of liberals on this campus to show how the conservative belief in the market economy is ideologically similar to fascist economics.

"Fellow In Mississippi Is Determined To Enroll Here — Shall We Let Him In?"

Preview

Westcott Features 'Robby'

BY DOUG CREPEAU
Flambeau Staff Writer

They were experienced space explorers. They'd sweated in the jungles of Venus and tasted the dust of dead planets. But nothing prepared them for Altair 4.

It was a paradise topsy-turvy Garden of Eden, with green moonlight, golden grass...and the astonishing girl Altaira.

But there was horror behind the beauty. There was non-human intelligence at work--and then there was the sudden shrieking, agonizing death...

This was the FORBIDDEN PLANET --Altair 4.

Truly one of the most remarkable movies to come out of Hollywood in the past decade was the MGM Cinemascope and color production "Forbidden Planet" starring Walter Pidgeon, Ann Francis, Leslie Neilsen, and Robby the Robot.

With a plot based on a concept of Sigmund Freud, this movie brings spacecraft, disintegrator rays, and a fantastic city of an alien race to searing life through the combined efforts of MGM and Walt Disney Studios.

When the movie first appeared the "New York Times" said, "Take it from us, they (the crew of United Planets cruiser C-57-D) see plenty"--and so, we promise, will you. You'll see the vast subterranean powerhouses built by the superhuman Krells who inhabited this far-off planet 2,000 centuries before Earth-man was born. And you'll see--or, rather you won't see--the fearful monster created by the ID.

Best of the lot is Robby, a phenomenal mechanical man who can do more things in his small body than a roomful of business machines. He can make dresses, brew bourbon whiskey, perform feats of Herculean strength and speak 187 languages, which emerged through a neon-lighted grill."

Robby the Robot is a radio-controlled automaton which was constructed for MGM at a cost of $500,000 by a West Coast electronics firm. (The robot has starred in a second movie, "The Invisible Boy", and has appeared on T.V.)

Sound effects and electronic background music of "Forbidden Planet" received a special award from the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences in 1957. The "electronic tonalities" sound effects were created by electronics specialists Louis and Bebe Barron with the aid of UNIVAC and an electronic musical instrument known as the Theramin.

Controversial? Unusual? Incredible? Yes! That is the movie that will be featured at the campus movie today and Saturday at Westcott Auditorium.

Bonnie Freedman

Sam's Sad Song

Sam sat in the Soda Shop, clearly perplexed. They were murmuring to herself.

"It seems," she said--THEY said, "that we have recently been asked to explain our use of the "we" in editorial language. And we are not quite prepared to give an account of the editorial "we." Until today.

"And what happened today, to perplex you so clearly?" we asked.

"Today we got out of the infirmary," Sam said.

"Which means?" we asked.

They asked. SOMEONE asked.

"Today we got out of the infirmary," Sam said.

"Which means?" we asked.

"Which means we're all upset about this multiple reference. 'Let's take our temperature; Did we sleep well?; Let's take some nice pills. Arghl"

"And have you thought of any solutions?"

"Well, we had," she started. And then she mused for a bit. "We have decided to switch to I; Me. Ordinary reference. Fooey with editorial precedent."

"But," we started, knowing she had decided that this was NOT the best solution..."what went wrong?"

"We went to class, from the infirmary," she said. "Where we discovered, in passing, that there IS no I. And we are clearly perplexed."

Grecian Columns

Greeks Have Elected Pledge Class Officers

reeks elected new pledge class ... week.

PHI OMICRON PI-- The newly ... pledge class officers of ... are president, Sherrie Hull; ... president, Pam Fetrow; secretary, ... spooner; treasurer, ... social chairman, ... Barnhardt; and chaplain, ... Glendenning.

... The new pledge ... officers are: president, Gloria ... vice president, Jule ... secretary, Tiffany Small; treasurer, Marilynn Petit; scholarship chairman, Caroline Coble; and ... chairman, Ginger Caste.

... MEGA -- Dave Dahl is a new pledge. Jim Sale has been elected ... Usher.

... ALPHA-- Ann Balck has been chosen Pi Kapp sweetheart.

... GAMMA-- New Delta Gamma ... are: president, ... vice president, Ann ... secretary, Linda Frederick; ... Judy Brailey; social ... Dyer; parliamentarian, Martin and Panhellenic ... Jackie Arnold.

... Delta Gammas are having a ... Sunday afternoon from 4 to 5:30 ... their new housemother, ...

... TA-- The KD's begin ... tonight. They are ... formal dance at the ... Tallahassee Country Club, and will ... to the music of "Big John ... the Untouchables."

... ALPHA SIGMA-- New pledges are ... Khouri, Aldo Rossi, and ... Pledge class officers ... president, Tim Phillips; vice president, Doug Burris; secretary, ... and treasurer, Dave ...

... GAMMA DELTA - New pledge officers are: president, Maria ... vice president, Anita Van ... Margaret Frank, secretary, Carol Ann Beu.

... ALPHA ALPHA - Initiation ... mothers was last Friday. ... are: Jim Brandt, ... Fred Dillman, Paul ... Williams, Walt Williamson, and faculty members, Dr. Harvey D. Tschirgi ... G. Mancha. In pledging ... Tuesday, the chapter ... Ramp Dowling and Sam ... as new pledges.

... PHI TA-- New pledges ... John Rangely, Elton Revell, Dick and Harry Breeze.

... KAPPA TAU-- New pledges ... Miller and Jim Gordon. ... day the Phi Tau's will have ... speaker Dr. William ... the History Dept.

... ALPHA-- The men of ... regret the departure

Block Seating

The new block seating system was described as "successful" ... General Lyman Fletcher, yesterday.

"There were a few minor difficulties with the system at the ... game, but these should be easily worked out," Fletcher said.

"Any organizations or groups who have complaints or suggestions on how to improve the system should come to the special meeting Tuesday on block seating," he said.

The meeting will be at 4 p.m. ... here.

"The system is not definite, so anyone with complaints should by all means air them at this time while changes are still easily made," Fletcher added.

ONE HOUR
Dry Cleaners

SPECIAL
MONDAY TUESDAY WEDNESDAY
SKIRTS & SWEATERS
Drycleaned 29¢ each or 4 for $1.00

LAUNDRY 5 SHIRTS FOR 1 $1.00
PULLOVERS, TUX, AND DOCTORS' JACKETS 25¢ each
305 N. Monroe St. & 1100 W. Tennessee St.

Reflections of Telstar

Remember the picture above? It flashed across your television screen on a hot night last July. Perhaps you remember that it originated from France. And that it reached the U. S. via Telstar, the world's first private enterprise communications satellite.

Since that summer night, the Bell System's Telstar has relayed electronic signals of many types—television broadcasts, telephone calls, news photographs, and others.

But there's one Telstar reflection you might have missed. Look into the faces of the Bell System people below and you'll see it. It is the reflection of Telstar's success that glowed brightly on the faces of all who shared in the project.

Their engineering, administrative and operations skills created Telstar and are bringing its benefits down out of the clouds to your living room.

These Bell System people, through their talented, dedicated efforts, make your phone service still better, more economical, and more useful.

The reflections of Telstar are many.

Bell Telephone Companies

Disciplinary Action Taken On Students

Disciplinary action has recently been taken against a number of students for the violation of a variety of University regulations and standards of good conduct.

Two undergraduate males were apprehended by City Police in the vicinity of the Red Bird Cafe on North Macomb St. after a chase of several blocks. A number of shots were fired at the fleeing automobile, two of which, at least, struck the car.

A fine of $50 was levied by the City Judge against each man for his sub-standard conduct at the time as well as for the attempted fleeing.

Copies of the arrest records were placed in the files of the two men at the University.

Three males, one a graduate student, were taken into custody in front of a local hotel and charged with the following three offenses: disturbing the peace by being drunk, breaking arrest, and interfering with an officer in line of duty.

In a subsequent meeting before the City Judge and arresting officer, certain of the charges were dropped and a plea of guilty to disorderly conduct was made. Fines were levied against the three men.

WFSU-TV Schedule Today

9:45 El Espanol Es Facil
10:00 Americanism vs. Communism
10:30 El Espanol Es Facil
10:45 Seeing Music
11:00 American Economy
11:30 Geology 107
12:00 Geology 107
12:30 Mid-day
1:00 Alcoholic Hospital
1:30 Social Studies
2:00 Written Word
2:30 Americanism vs. Communism

---------Sign Off---------

4:30 What's New
5:00 Seeing Music
5:55 News
6:00 Continental Classroom
6:30 American Economy
7:00 TBA
7:30 Lab 30
8:00 Live and Learn
8:30 Frontiers of Knowledge
9:00 Festival of the Arts
10:00 Ten O'clock Report

Today

At 1 p.m. WFSU-TV presents "Is There Any Cure For Alcoholics?"

* * * * *

Graduate Record Exams will be at 1:30 p.m.

* * * * *

Alpha Delta Sigma, professional advertising fraternity, will meet at 4 p.m. in 310 Business.

* * * * *

General Chemistry Seminar will be at 4 p.m. in 306 Science, with Bentz Howard speaking.

* * * * *

Dr. Francis G. Townsend and Richard Fallon will discuss "Henry IV, Part I" at the English Coffee Hour, 4 p.m. in the Westminster House.

* * * * *

Campus movie will show "Forbidden Planet," at 7:30 p.m. in Westcott Aduitorium.

* * * * *

WFSU-FM presents Dr. Wriston speaking on "Government and Education" at 8 p.m.

* * * * *

THIS WEEKEND

Saturday

Physical Education Exemption Tests will be given at 8 a.m. in Library Lecture Hall.

* * * * *

Graduate Record Exam will begin at 8 p.m.

* * * * *

ODK Leadership Conference meets in Longmire at 9 p.m.

* * * * *

FSU Judo Club meets at 4:30 p.m. in the Wrestling Room of Tully Gym.

* * * * *

Sunday

Chess Club meets at 2 p.m. in the Trophy Room.

* * * * *

Opera Matinee at 2:30 p.m. on WFSU-TV presents Mozart's "Magic Flute."

* * * * *

at 6 p.m. WFSU-FM presents FSU RADIO FORUM.

* * * * *

The Lutheran Student Association meets at 7 p.m. in the Trophy Room.

* * * * *

The Rev. C. K. Steele will speak at the Liberal Forum at 7:30 p.m. in the Unitarian Chapel.

Weather

Mostly fair with very pleasant temperatures.

ROAD SERVICE
Auto Repairing Brake Service
Good 224-9341 Service
WEST TENNESSEE PURE OIL
637 W. Tennessee

Padgett's Harley Davidson
411 W. Gaines St.
Ph. 222-0130
"your motorcycle headquarters"

VOLKSWAGON REPAIRS
All work guaranteed - 1 day service
Pierce Causseaux - Volks Specialist
JACK KERZAN'S TEXACO
936 North Monroe
Phone - 224-0320

IT'S F.S.U. MONTH
at SEMINOLE & PARKWAY LANES
BOWL! BOWL! BOWL!
FOR THE NEXT 30 DAYS ANY FSU STUDENT WHO SHOWS HIS I.D. CARD CAN BOWL
FOR 35¢ A GAME
THAT'S 35¢ A GAME
BOWL! BOWL!
AT YOUR KENT THEATRES

FLORIDA
Biggest ADVENTURE COMEDY in years!
1:30—3:25—5:25—9:25
"FIVE WEEKS IN A BALOON"
--Starring--
That Funny-man of "Hatari"
RED BUTTONS
Peter Lorre
Barbara Eden

STATE
Today & Saturday
TWO COLOR HITS
At 12:45—4:25—8:05
Betty Hutton
"ANNIE GET YOUR GUN"
—ALSO—2:30—6:10—9:50
Leslie Caron
"GABY"
--Open 12.15

PERRY HIGHWAY OUTDOOR
Tonight & Saturday
In COLOR at 7:45
"OLE REX"
Plus at 9:35
BEST ACTOR—
Maximilian Schell
Spencer Tracy
Richard Widmark
"JUDGMENT AT NUREMBERG"

CAPITAL DRIVE-IN ON WOODVILLE HWY.
Tonight & Saturday
TWO COLOR HITS!
Showing at 7:45
Tom Ewell
Sheree North
"THE LIEUTENANT WORE SKIRTS"
Plus at 9.35
Elvis Presley
"KID GALAHAD"

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "I Was a Teen-age Dwarf," "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis," etc.)

WHAT TO WEAR TILL THE DOCTOR COMES

Now that you have enrolled and paid your fees and bought your books and found your way around campus and hated your roommate, it is time to turn to the most important aspect of college life—I refer, of course, to clothes.

What does Dame Fashion decree for the coming season? Incidentally, Dame Fashion is not, as many people believe, a fictitious character. She was a real Englishwoman who lived in Elizabethan times and, indeed, England is forever in her debt. During the invasion of the Spanish Armada, Dame Fashion was not yet a Dame but a mere, unlettered country lass named Moll Flanders—during the invasion, I say, of the Spanish Armada, this dauntless girl stood on the white cliffs of Dover and turned the tide of battle by rallying the drooping spirits of the British fleet with this stirring poem of her own composition:

Drake's the captain,
Man of Devon,
Sailing west and eastin',
We ain't quittin',
Sunday he's Spanish,
Sing Hey nonny,
Monday I'm roasted,
Into a fuss tossed with,
For Good Queen Bess,
Dear sirs, you gotta
Make a mess
Of that Armada
You can't fail!
Knock 'em flat!
Then we'll drink ale
And stuff like that.

As a reward for these inspirational verses Queen Elizabeth dubbed her a Dame, made her Poet Laureate, and gave her the Western Hemisphere except Duluth. But this was not the extent of Dame Fashion's service to Queen and country. In 1589 she invented the laying hen, and she was awarded a lifetime pass to Chavez Ravine. But she was not to end her days in glory. In 1591, alas, she was arrested for overtime jousting and imprisoned for thirty years in a butt of malmsey. This later became known as Guy Fawkes Day.)

But I digress. Let us get back to campus fashions. Certain to be the rage again this year is the cardigan (which, curiously enough, was named after Lord Cardigan, who commanded the English fleet against the Spanish Armada. The sweater is the one product of this remarkable Briton's imagination. He also invented the glottal stop, the gerund, and the eyelid, without which winking, as we know it today, would not be possible.

But I digress. The cardigan, I say, will be back, which is, I believe, cause for rejoicing. Why? Because the cardigan has nice big pockets in which to carry your Marlboro Cigarettes and that, good friends, is ample reason for celebration as all of you will agree who have enjoyed Marlboro's fine, comfortable, mellow flavor and Marlboro's filter. So why don't you slip into your cardigan and hie yourself to your tobacconist for some good Marlboros? They come in soft pack or flip-top box. Cardigans come in pink for girls and blue for boys. © 1962 Max Shulman

* * *

Cardigans or pullovers—it's a matter of taste . . . And so is Marlboro a matter of taste—the best taste that can possibly be achieved by experienced growers and blenders—by science, diligence, and tender loving care. Try a pack.

See "The Forbidden Planet" Tonight

. . . . and Tomorrow night at 7:30, in Westcott Auditorium.

Check our fabulous collection of shirts first!...

From classic button-down oxfords to colorful prints by Judy Bond, Ship n' Shore, Macshore and others.

from $3.98

Turner's
doorway to fashion

116 s. monroe street phone 224-7176 tallahassee florida

We've got 'em!....those fabulous all-weather dacron-cotton jackets by

LONDON FOG

It's all the jacket you need! Water and wind repellent... wrinkle resistant. Tailored of Calibre Cloth, an exclusive super blend of Dacron and and fine combed cotton. Unconditionally washable... drip-dries ready to go. With convertible English collar that buttons up for rough weather.

bone
navy $15.95

And while you're in look over our handsome collection of all-weather coats by London Fog.....they're a must!

Flash! Just received!....new shipment of white bermuda shorts, nly $5.95

Turner's
doorway to fashion

116 s monroe street phone 224-7176 tallahassee, florida

Today's News Roundup

Flambeau News Services

ACROSS THE NATION

OXFORD, MISSISSIPPI-- The Justice Department disclosed yesterday acid was thrown at U.S. Marshals during the rioting Sunday and Monday at the University of Mississippi. Deputy Chief of the marshals force, John Cameron, told newsmen he was burned by acid over a four-square-inch area of the back of his neck. Cameron said:

"It could have been worse. I probably would have received the acid in my face, except that I had just turned to aid another marshal who was burned."

Top Justice Department officer on the scene, Deputy Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach, said that of the force of 538 marshals 166 were wounded or injured, including 29 cases of gunshot wounds or acid burns..

He said one of the gunshot victims, Graham Same of Indianapolis, was wounded seriously in the neck but is now recovering.

Katzenbach said eight deputy marshals were injured before tear gas was used in the rioting that followed admission of Negro James Meredith to the university at Oxford.

He declined to say whether Meredith will be accompanied by marshals when he leaves the campus for the weekend.

The Defense Department announced last night there will be no homecoming football game this Saturday at Oxford. The game between Mississippi and the University of Houston has been switched to Jackson, 170 miles from Oxford.

NEW YORK-- The United Nations security council has U.N. membership for Algeria. The Algerian delegation is expected to be seated next Monday, bringing U.N. membership to 109.

NEW YORK-- A federal judge issued a temporary restraining order last night halting the longshoremen's strike at Atlantic and Gulf coast ports for ten days.

WASHINGTON-- President Kennedy announced new rules will go into effect to hinder shipping between Cuba and Communist countries. Ships that unload Red supplies at Cuba will not be permitted to stop at U.S. ports to pick up cargo for the return trip across the Atlantic.

MIAMI-- Weather officials are telling residents along the south Atlantic coast of the U.S. to keep posted on Hurricane Daisy. The storm is now located about 680 miles east of Miami and moving in a west northwesterly direction at 8 miles an hour.

SNOW WHITE LAUNDRY
and DRY CLEANERS

625 West Tennessee

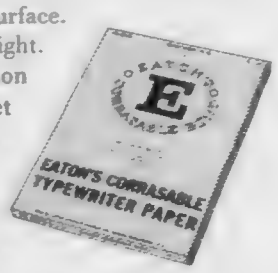
One day service
One hour service also
Finish shirts—pants
Fluff dry service

Liberal Forum

The Reverend C. K. Steele, president of the Tallahassee chapter of the NAACP and vice president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, will speak at the Liberal Forum Sunday night at 7:30.

Rev. Steele will speak on "Fulfillment, Not Destruction."

A question and answer session will follow Rev. Steele's talk.



We all make mistakes...

ERASE WITHOUT A TRACE
ON EATON'S CORRĀSABLE BOND

Touch-type, hunt-and-peck, type with one hand tied behind your back—it's easy to turn out perfect papers on Corrāsable. Because you can erase without a trace. Typing errors disappear like magic with just the flick of an ordinary pencil eraser. There's never a telltale erasure mark on Corrāsable's special surface.

Corrāsable is available in light, medium, heavy weights and Onion Skin. In convenient 100-sheet packets and 500-sheet ream boxes. Only Eaton makes Corrāsable.

A Berkshire Typewriter Paper

EATON PAPER CORPORATION PITTSFIELD, MASS.

SPORTS

SCALP EM—Victor Comolli

'62 Is Crucial Football Season

Coach Bill Peterson told newspapermen at a pre-season fete and practice that this is a most important year for Florida State in football. This is the year that FSU discovers whether or not it is ready for big-time football. A winning season will say "yes" and a losing season will cause us "to re-examine our athletic policy."

At first, Peterson felt that the Kentucky contest would be the game that was the key to the whole season, but the 0-0 ending cannot officially give us an answer.

Statistically, the Kentucky tie proved that FSU is ready, since we wiped the field with the Wildcats, but this is only statistically and people only look at the win-loss column at the end of the season--not the statistics.

Why is this The Year to determine if we can go into big time football?

After the 1958 season (when FSU had a 7-3 record), a new coach came to town, Perry Moss. At that time, we decided to go big-time--if we could. The stress was put on recruiting, which wasasgood a place to start as any.

His first year here (and last) Moss did very well recruiting. He signed a prep All-American by the name of Eddie Feely and a fullback named Gene Roberts, who U of F wanted. Also some fine linemen, like Jim Sims and Gene McDowell.

As a result, the freshmen went undefeated that year (1959), beating Furman frosh, Mississippi Southern, Miami, and the Citadel frosh.

The next year, 1960, Bill Peterson arrived; his first frosh team was also undefeated (5-0 record). They beat Miami, Furman, Mississippi Southern, Citadel and the U of F frosh. The following year it was 2-0-1, with that lone tie to Mississippi Southern. That tie came the week that the frosh drilled with the varsity to sharpen the varsity's play against Florida, so no one will hold that against the freshmen.

Well, all these frosh team members are now in the varsity. The "beefing up" program of recruiting is now three frosh generations old. If it does not begin to pay off by this year, then something is going wrong somewhere.

All this time we have also been beefing up our schedule, playing four home games and six away games. The main reasons why we play six away this year are:

--Our need for money from large crowds, which we don't get here.
--Our stadium is too small to have the big ones come here too often.

So this is the year for FSU. Thus far, the Seminoles are holding their own. They've trounced the 1961 Southern conference champs, 49-0; they've fought the Southeastern Conference's Kentucky Wildcats to a 0-0 tie, despite the fact that the Cats previously defeated them 23-0 and 20-0; they spanked the undefeated Furman Paladins, 42-0.

Admittedly, the previous teams were not of the caliber of the remaining competition, but Florida State has shown that it has a good football team, one that is capable of big-time football.

Seminole-Hurricane Storm Is Tonight In Orange Bow

GEORGE MIRA
. . . whose arm can harm

NICK RYDER
. . . the vet threat

Feely Starts With Chiefs

Florida State, the major unscored-upon lege in the U.S., will the University of Mia Hurricanes tonight at Miami's Orange Bowl.

Miami, which has previ... feated Pitt and Texas Chri... favored to win, but line coa... ter Kichekski of UM w... rida State is tougher tha... (which was narrowly defeat... Miami)."

Kichekski continued, "W... face any tougher quarter... FSU's Eddie Feely. He'... brilliant as a runner and ... Peterson has said practical... same thing about UM's ... Mira.

Feely, who seems to do his ... against the Cards, ha... from a minor hip injury, ... sustained in the Furman-FSU ... test. "He's looking very g... Peterson said, "I expect hi... be near 100 percent form."

The Seminoles face the Cards ... a team that is statistically ra... in the nation. Florida State is ... in total offense, fourth in forw... passing, third in total defense, f... th in pass defense, and ... rushing defense--accumula... the expense of The Cards 14-... Kentucky (0-0), and Furman ...

Tennis Tournament Deadline Extended

Entries for the faculty-student mixed doubles tennis tournament are sparse as the deadline grows near, according to Miss Ann Lankford, Raquettes sponsor. In the past there has been an enthusiastic and early response from the men players which has not been in evidence this season.

Twenty-three teams are entered in the tournament; four men students are needed to complete teams which already have women faculty or faculty wives anxious to compete. It is not necessary that individuals be of Wightman or Davis Cup caliber. The tournament was originated with the aim of acquainting faculty and students on a friendly competitive basis.

Some of the faculty members who are participating this year include Dr. Robert Miller, Philosophy Dept.; Dr. Robert Earnest, head of finance, Business Dept.; and Ray Green, the associate business manager of the university.

Faculty wives who are participating are Mrs. Sarah McKee and Frances Cannon, of the Recreation Dept., are not joined by some of those who were earnest participaters last spring.

All tennis enthusiasts, except members of the freshman and varsity squads, are urged to sign up for the event in 201 Montgomery Gymnasium. The deadline has been extended to give extra time to those who neglected to sign up early.

Athletic Group Slates Meeting

All students interested in entering Sigma Delta Psi, a national athletic honorary, should meet at 9 a.m. tomorrow on the Florida State track.

Mr. Bill Odeneal, faculty advisor, said only 38 FSU students have managed to pass the rigid physical test required for membership. These include cager Dave Bedor and tracksters Quentin Till and Jeff Clark.

But To No Avail

Furman Did Threaten Tribes

Although the Furman Paladins were soundly defeated this week, the South Carolinians did provide some exciting moments, which was more than The Citadel did in the opener.

At times, it seemed as if the Paladins were destined to score. These moments included:

--When Furman got first possession of the ball, full back Elliot Keller went across left guard for 12 yards to Furman's 37. Then halfback John Cook followed it up with a seven yard run up the middle.

--The next time they got the ball, quarterback Doug Watkins threw a pass from the Seminoles' 34 to halfback Bill Chastain in the end zone ...but Chastain dropped the ball.

--Next, after a five-and three-yard run by Cook, quarterback Danny Donovan bootlegged it at left end for a 47 yard gain. Gains from a two-yard run, an eight-yard pass, and a pitchout from Donovan to Cook for 11 yards were wiped out by a Furman clipping penalty.

Fine play was displayed when Furman recovered a fumble by FSU QB Eddie Feely at the one yard line of the Seminoles. Cook broke loose on the first play for 13 yards up center, but a personal foul moved the ball a half-a-foot from the line. Two more runs netted four and six yards, before Furman kicked.

A 17-yard run by Donovan was the final offensive showing of the Paladins in the first half. But Furman opened the second half with an 18-yard run by Cook, representing Furman's final yardage gain over 10 yards during the third.

--It was not until the lasttime that Furman had possession of the ball that it again showed promise of scoring. Sitting on their 47, quarterback Elton Brunty completed an 11-yard aerial to end Al Martin, which moved the Paladins into enemy territory. Next Brunty attempted a long pass to halfback Terry Thomas, who actually caught the ball and ran to FSU's two...but a five-yard illegal motion penalty destroyed the final scoring possibility.

That was the ball game.

Against FSU, the Paladins comparatively went into orbit...but nothing stayed up. Brunty, Watkins and quarterback Danny Donovan attempted 13 passes against FSU--three more than the year's total thus far.

CAMERON'S SEMINOLE TEXACO
"We give S & H Green Stamps"
Ph. 223 - 3555 1917 W. Tenn. St.

The Crosby, Bames 'Sez'
Y'ALL COME
Freez King
Southern Kitchen
1935 Thomasville Rd.
Walk up and Dining Room Service
Hamburgers—Hot Dogs
8 for $1.00
15¢ ea
Home Cooked Food
Served Daily
7:00 a.m. till 9:30 p.m.

Tony's Pizza
1805 Thomasville Road
Phone 224-6210
Specializing in
Pizza
Spaghetti
Italian Salad
TONY'S PIZZA

Coin and Hobby Supplies
"RELAX WITH A HOBBY"
FLORIDA STAMP and HOBBY SHOP
1920 W. Tenn.
University Plaza

PALACE SHOE SHOP
Est. 1914
SHOE FIXERY
Phone 222 - 0103
121 E. PARK AVE
Across From Post Office
TALLAHASSEE, FLA.

San - Can Drive In Restaurant
Air Conditioned Dining Room
Curb Service
Take Out Orders
1825 Thomasville Road
Ph. 223 - 0445
Home Cooked Food

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University

Monday, October 8, 1962

Vol. XL..X No. 24

Absentee Ballots

Students who will be interning Oct. 23, during the election Homecoming Queen and Who's Who nominations, and may write in ballots may obtain absentee ballots this week. The office, 210 Longmire Bldg., will be open from 8 a.m. Mon. and 12-5 p.m. Tues. I.D. cards must be presented.

SIX FSU BEAUTIES TO DRESS UP THE '62 TALLY HO

Six FSU coeds shown above will be this year's Miss Tally Ho. The winner will be announced in the Tally Ho which will be distributed in the Fall. The finalists are, from left to right; Lynn Stanleigh, Connie Gowen, Dottie Kohlman, Mary Ellen Yaggy, Fran All, and Denise Edwards. (Photo by Art Campbell)

FSU Professor Speaks

Science Curriculum Shows Good Effort

NORMAN, Okla.,-- New science teaching programs in physics, chemistry and biology are only "surface scratches on the body of sceince education," according to an FSU educator, but nevertheless "represent the most significant efforts to improve science teaching since science came into the curriculum."

Dr. Stanley Marshall, head of the Science Education Dept. at the Florida institution, spoke on "Administrative Leadership in the Improvement of Science Education" to a meeting Friday of school administrators from the central and southeastern states.

His lecture, given under auspices of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, will be delivered later to north-central administrators meeting at University of Nebraska, Nov. 8, and to southwestern administrators meeting in Miami Beach, Dec. 9.

Science teaching has lagged well behind science itself which has had revolutionary developments in recent years, Dr. Marshall said.

"May I suggest that you try this little game when you go home," he told the administrators. "Try to locate a science textbook published, say, before World War II which was really another era, scientifically speaking, and compare it, topic by topic, with one published in the last few years.

"If I were making this assignment to some shcool administrators in this country, including a few in my own state, finding the pre-war book would not be much of a problem-- it would be necessary only to walk into one of the classrooms and ask a student to look at his text. The more difficult problem might be to locate a book written since 1946."

Marshall said good science teaching "costs money" but is not "expensive."

"Surely we cannot object on the basis that money is not available," said Marshall. "We own and operate over 50 million television sets, we owe 30 million dollars on automobiles; we fire off test rockets every day or so that cost nearly a million dollars apiece."

Tickets Are Being Sold

Tickets for "Henry IV, Part I" and season theatre tickets are on sale in the Westcott Central Ticket Office.

Admission to the Shakespearean drama will be $.75 for students and $1 for non-students. Remaining tickets will be sold in Conradi Theatre at performance times at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday and Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Season tickets, costing $3, entitle the holder to see the season's five productions for the price of four.

Floyd's New Opera Has World Premiere

Several hours a day of rehearsals are in progress in preparation for the New York world premiere of Carlisle Floyd's new opera "The Passion of Jonathan Wade," Thursday.

Floyd, who is helping get his fifth and most ambitious music drama ready for the stage, this week said he is pleased with the cast, musical arrangements for the production by the New York City Opera Company.

He told a colleague in the FSU School of Music, "I had never expected to have a more magnificent cast for any opera. I can say after having several rehearsals that it is excellent to the last person."

The story of the three-act opera, written on commission by the FSU professor of piano and opera composition, is about a Union soldier, Jonathan Wade, during the four years immediately following the Civil War in Columbia, S.C.

Wade, who is played by Metropolitan Opera baritone Theodor Uppman, undergoes a tremendous internal struggle between conflicting loyalties to duty and to his conscience. The woman with whom he is in love, Celia Townsed, played by Metropolitan Opera soprano Phyllis Curtin, is the daughter of a Southern judge, played by Norman Treigel of New Orleans.

Floyd, the author of "Susannah," "Wuthering Heights" and two other operas, said it has been difficult because they are so busy to get the two leading actors together for a performance. Difficulty also has been experienced in getting the large number of women wearing the big hoop skirts of the period together on the stage.

The chorus and orchestra have been working out at least five hours a day for more than a fortnight, Floyd said, and are ready for the opening night production.

A second performance of the opera will be given in New York, Oct. 28.

Several Tallahasseans are planning to see the opening night production, among them Mrs. Catherine Murphy, Miss Nellie-Bond Dickinson, Mrs. Wiley Housewright, Mrs. Elena Nikolaidi, Miss Evon Streetman, Mr. and Mrs. James Woodard and Jim Martin.

Dr. Zerbe Discusses Art With 200 Art Students

Two hundred art students gathered in the University Gallery last week to hear Karl Zerbe, an internationally known artist and member of the FSU faculty since 1956, discuss his various painting media, his techniques and his change of style.

While he talked the students could view many of the paintings he discussed which are on display in a retrospective exhibition at the gallery. The exhibit will continue until Oct. 14.

Before 1938, when Zerbe was searching for the technique to fit his temperment, he quite by chance, as he puts it, found references to encaustic while reading a book. For two years he melted wax and mixed various combinations of colors until his experiments yielded satisfactory results.

For 10 years he then painted with encaustic, until 1949, when he discovered he was allergic to the fumes given off by the hot wax. His last encaustic painting is a significant self-portrait titled "Job," and is exhibited in the gallery.

After a long summer vacation, the artist changed to a polymer medium. Polymer is a plastic; it dries quickly and becomes rock hard. "Landscape" with scrap metal and "Diesel Engine" are among his earliest polymer paintings. The artist worked a number of years in this medium.

Following the trip to the Hudson Bay sub-artic region, Zerbe began painting with acrylic. "The landscape was unbelievably interesting, completely abstract-- no trees, no houses, rocks and an explosion of low vegetation," Zerbe described.

After he returned to Cape Cod, the artist painted a series of large landscapes-- Hudson Bay-- Red Landscapes.

A trip to Jamaica, which is completely integrated, suggested his shadow series, dealing with the "certain barrier or shadow" which he felt existed despite the integration. His paintings have been "related strongly to what goes on in the world at a particular time (depressions, wars, segregation). I would like to paint without my own ideas of what goes on about us," Zerbe commented.

Material, said Zerbe, looks well when it becomes an integral part of the design, color and drawing. In his earliest work, he used tentative colors, began with graphic emphasis, as 75 percent of all painters do. Slowly, he came to understand more about color. Zerbe told the students that there is, however, a danger of young painters being excited by strong colors, and copying color from those around them without understanding it.

KARL ZERBE SPEAKS TO ART STUDENTS

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Outdoor Art Show

As plans are announced for coming dramatic and musical events, an obvious imbalance of cultural offerings is noticeable on the University calendar.

Although FSU is the home of many artists, professional and amateur, very little artistic work is seen except by those few individuals who tramp the stairs to the art gallery.

Winter Park, Fla., like FSU, has many resident artists. The community takes great pride in the creative talents of its citizens and encourages them whenever possible. This civic pride gave birth to the town's annual Sidewalk Art Festival, in which artists are invited to set up their canvases along the broad sidewalks and the main street.

Many of the participants bring a partially completed piece and continue to work on it during the display. This gives other inhabitants the chance to see not only the finished product but also the processes which go into making it.

The FSU Art Department often presents beautiful displays of work by students and professors, but they find students either unwilling or unable to make the trek up to the gallery. Usually, students simply forget about the display since they rarely go by the museum in the course of an ordinary day.

If, however, the campus artists could set up shop on Westcott Circle or on the lawn between Westcott and Longmire for a day or two, they would find students more than willing to stop for a while to browse and watch.

We hope the Art Department will investigate the possibilities of an outdoor show, although there is no real reason why it would have to be limited to art majors and professors. Other students and townspeople might enjoy participating in the experiment.

TD

Today's News Roundup

Flambeau News Services

AROUND THE WORLD

CAIRO---In the Middle East, Cairo Radio says Yemeni troops and planes of Colonel Abdullah Sallal's revolutionary regime are fighting against Saudi Arabian forces on Yemen's northern frontier. Saudi Arabia has denied there is any fighting.

TEL AVIV---Yom Kippur, the holiest day of religious observance for Jewish people, began at sundown yesterday.

NEW YORK---Acting U. N. Secretary General U Thant plans to issue a written report on the Congo situation to the eleven-nation Security Council today or tomorrow. He also plans to meet with his Congo advisory committee Wednesday to ask their views on what to do to bring secessionist Katanga province into the Congo under a federal system.

ROME---In Rome, Pope John prayed befor a gathering of some 300,000 persons at the hilltop cathedral of St. John Lateran in Rome, asking divine blessings on the Ecumenical Council starting this week.

ACROSS THE NATION

HOUSTON---Astronaut Walter Schirra has described his nine-hour, six-orbit spin around the Earth last Wednesday as a textbook flight. He told newsmen in Houston, Texas: "I had no problems, no uneasiness, no queasiness." Later he added that he had suffered no fatigue on the flight and felt he could have continued it through a full day.

DALLAS---Former Major General Edwin Walker has returned to Dallas, Texas from what he described as a short trip to Mississippi that was extended to Missouri. Walker was released from the U.S. Medical Prison Center in Springfield, Missouri on $50,000 bail furnished by his family and a promise that he will have psychiatric examinations in Texas. He was arrested last week during riots against the admission of Negro James Meredith at the University of Mississippi.

OXFORD, MISS.---Negro student James Meredith has returned to the campus of the University of Mississippi. He is reported to have spent the weekend with his wife and young son in Memphis, Tennessee.

Fred Glavin

Civil Defense Deception

Civil Defense has been quite active on our campus. It has been pointed out that "eleven buildings on the FSU campus now contain 22 shelter areas that will accomodate 10,000 people in the event of nuclear attack," and that "the shelters are stocked with food, water, and medical supplies sufficient to accommodate the occupants for five days."

As I observe the numerous "fallout shelter area" signs, I am constantly aware that Civil Defense is doing a great job-- of carrying on its deception, that is.

Their project must carry at least this major assumption: that in the event of nuclear attack, these "shelters" will provide adequate protection for the majority of the students. Assuming for the moment that they do protect the majority against the initial explosion effects, I ask this: after five days are up, then what? Do all 10,000 students come crawling out of the womb to feed once more from the bounty of Mother Nature's breast, or do they find it slightly shriveled from radiation, fire, and blast effects?

Civil Defense is lulling us into a false sense of security. In pursuing this Almighty Security at any cost, we are regressing; we are pushing aside our responsibility to ourselves and to humanity; we are crawling, like rats, into holes in the ground, and refusing the implications and responsibilities of being human beings.

Why are we allowing ourselves to be deceived? Instead of pursuing all of our elaborate preparations for nuclear war, why do we not focus our energies upon the opposite goal-- that of peace; peace being more than the absence of war.

Oh yes, I can hear the familiar cry now, "But I'm only one person..." But mankind is composed of individuals, and without individual action, how can there be any collective action? You have pen and paper--use them. You have vocal cords--exercise them. Nobody asked us if we wanted the world to become a radioactive waste. This is our world -- why don't we start showing that we do give a damn.

John McCotter

Gulp Of Culture

At present I am in my Humanities class. I love my Humanities class--it's so broadening. Even more broadening than soda shop doughnuts is my Humanities class.

Today the professor is giving us a brief account of the entire Roman Empire. At the last class meeting we breezed through the Old and New Testaments, Plato, Jack Kerouac, and the Koran. At the next class meeting, out eighty-dollar syllabus says that we will receive fifteen minutes' worth of the accumulated works of Shakespeare, a ten-minute re-enactment of Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales," and an hour-long series of slides showing the masonry in the foundation of the Parthenon.

Humanities professors are very talented. They are trained to talk at the same tone and speed as a teletype. It's really a fun game to try to keep up with them while taking class notes. See the girl over there? She's sobbing hysterically because her pencil broke and fifteen centuries of knowledge are slipping by unrecorded.

One student tried to bring a tape recorder to class in an effort to at last capture everything that was said. He was caught by the professor, however, and was sentenced to be shot in the heel with a bow and arrow.

FASHION CLEANERS and LAUNDRY
1317 JACKSON BLUFF RD.
904 WEST THARPE ST.
We cover the city
Fairest in Price
Fastest in Service
UNIVERSITY SERVICE
Phone 224-4940

Visit
FAIR'S BEAUTY SALON
549 W. Park Ave.
Phone 224-8351
The Beauty Salon Nearest to Campus
HAIR STYLIST
Grace Tucker Alice Strawman
Dores Fair

IT'S F.S.U. MONTH
at SEMINOLE & PARKWAY LANES
BOWL! BOWL! BOWL!
FOR THE NEXT 30 DAYS ANY FSU STUDENT WHO SHOWS HIS I.D. CARD CAN BOWL
FOR 35¢ A GAME
THAT'S 35¢ A GAME

BOWL! BOWL!

BERTHA COOKE

$19.95

WFSU-TV Schedule

English 102
Seeing Music
El Espanol Es Facil
Americanism vs Communism
El Espanol Es Facil

10:45 Seeing Music
11:00 American Economy
11:30 English 101
12:05 Geology 107
12:30 Mid-Day
1:00 Ragtime Era
1:30 Seeing Music
1:50 English 101
2:25 Seeing Music
2:30 Americanism vs Communism
---------- SIGN OFF-------
4:30 What's New
5:00 Seeing Music
5:55 News
6:00 Continental Classroom
6:30 American Economy
7:00 English 101
7:30 Writers of Today
8:00 FSU Football
9:00 Perspectives
10:00 Ten O'Clock Report

INSURANCE FOR COLLEGIANS
JAY PARNELL REPRESENTATIVE

VOLKSWAGON REPAIRS
Work guaranteed - 1 day service
Volkswagen Specialist
CK KERZAN'S TEXACO
936 North Monroe
Phone - 224-0320

Attention Seniors

Placement Interviews Begin Today

Students interested in having interviews with the various company representatives that will be on campus this week should register with the Placement Office in Longmire Bldg.

The interviews, which begin today, are scheduled with the following companies: Today, the U.S. General Accounting Office, will meet with accounting seniors in the upper quartile of their class, or with a B average, and the Sandoz Pharmaceuticals, will see anyone interested in being sales representatives.

Tuesday, the J.C. Penny Co., Inc. will interview business and liberal arts majors, and the U.S. General Accounting Office will again interview accounting seniors.

The Shell Oil Company will interview BS and MS Chemists for positions in Petroleum Refineries, Chemical Manufacturing Plants, Research and Development, and women's positions as Literature Chemists Wednesday. The M.A. Montenegro & Co. will interview accounting majors.

The following companies will be on campus Thursday: The William H. Carter, C.P.A., Jacksonville, for accounting majors; the Upjohn Co., for pre-med, pre-dental, biology and chemistry majors interested in Pharamaceutical Sales; the Union Bag-Camp Paper Corp. for Ph.D.'s in chemistry. Opportunities are available in such areas as the identification, separation and modification of organic structures, surface chemistry, chemical kinetics, rheology, transport phenomena, instrumental analysis and related fields; the Afetna Casualty and Surety Co. for seniors interested in insurance careers as Field Representatives, Underwriters, or Claim Adjusters.

The Simmons Co. (Manufacturing of Bedding Equipment) will interview business and liberal arts majors interested in Sales, and Price Waterhouse will meet with accounting majors, Friday. The Aetna Casualty and Surety Co. will again hold interviews.

Elections Notice

Class officer and Senate Candidates have until 5 p.m. today to turn in their expense statements. Otherwise a $1 fine will be imposed until Wednesday when there will be a $4 fine. Friday the total will be $14 for delinquent statements. The total amount spent is $700.74. Total class officer expenditures were $233.45 and Senate expenses were $466.73.

Pall Mall Presents~ GIRL WATCHER'S GUIDE

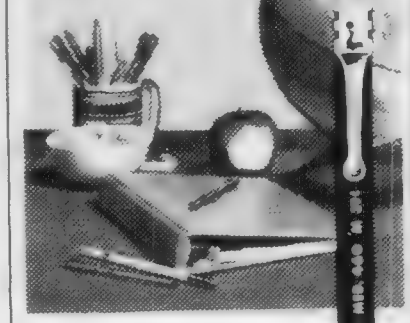
BATON-TWIRLING HIGH-STEPPER

CAMPUS TYPE I

The High-Stepper is an ideal choice for Campus Type #1 for two reasons. First, she is a fairly common species—and second, she is easy to identify.

Just as the bird-watching beginner should concentrate on the Robin, Sparrow and Cardinal before moving on to more exotic species, the girl watching beginner should master the observation and identification of types such as the High-Stepper before progressing to rarer (and usually more difficult to identify) types.

As in all fine arts, the mastery of fundamentals is the key to girl watching success. This mastery of fundamentals is just as important in the art of cigarette making. Taste Pall Mall and see what we mean!



Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste!

So smooth, so satisfying, so downright smokeable!

©A.T.Co. Product of The American Tobacco Company
"Tobacco is our middle name"

Some Things are Nice to Have Around

A Utility Ball Pen.

The Lindy

A good practical pen for everyone.

Everybody likes the LINDY.

It writes nice.

Lots of students buy two or three at a time.

Maybe because it's only 39¢.
Maybe because there are twelve brilliant ink colors.

Or maybe they just like to have two or three or twelve around.

Also nice to have around:

STENO-PEN 49¢
The secretary's secretary.

AUDITOR'S PEN 49¢
Fine for .it figures. auditors.

LEGAL COPY PEN $1.00
Retractable. Makes a permanent impression

STARLET $1.50
Retractable. Smooth performer.

MANUFACTURED BY LINDY PEN CO., INC. CULVER CITY, CALIFORNIA, U.S.A.

You'll go farther with VW service

Kinnebrew Motors
2024 S. Monroe
Ph. 224-4188

DOUG MESSER

SEVEN HILLS STUDIO
648 W. CALL ST.
Across from Home Economics Bld

COMPOSITIES  COMPOSITIES

PHONE 224 3532

FSU Fumbles Foil A National Ranking

By John Wood
Asst. Sports Editor

Florida State's suddenly quite grown up Seminoles slashed Miami's defenses into ribbons, but failed to come through in the clutch situations for the second time this season.

Scorewise, Miami won the game 7-6, even though FSU held a large edge in the statistics department. FSU scored first on a 29 yard field goal by Doug Messer. Mira put Miami on top with a 39 yard pass to left-halfback Nick Spinelli. Bobby Wilson kicked the extra point and mde it 7-3. After Feely had piloted the team 81 yards to scoring position, Messer came back in to kick a 27 yard Field Goal and make it 7-6 at the end of the first half.

A Seminole victory in last Friday's Orange Bowl clash would have surely meant a place in the national rankings for the Seminoles and a place in the dog house for the ninth ranked Hurricanes. The margin between victory and defeat for the Hurricanes was six Seminole fumbles, occuring, in sequence at the Miami 15, and finally at the Miami 10.

The Seminoles' last three offensive series culminated in fumbles. Four of the five times they had the ball on offense in the last half they fumbled. The other time they punted one of just two FSU punts during the game.

An Orange Bowl crowd had difficulty in believing in what it saw. FSU led in first downs, 16-11, in yards rushing, 176-114, in yards passing, 178-122. But Miami led in good fortune all the way.

The highly touted Miami quarterback, one George Mira, completed only seven of fifteen passes, one of those being the touchdown pass that went 39 yards to Nick Spinelli. FSU's Eddie Feely completed eight of nine for 105 yards, and Steve Tensi five of eight for 73.

GEORGE MIRA

It should be noted that aggressive Miami tackling precipitated much of the fumbling. Actually the breaks were not all in FSU's favor. Miami was penalized 65 yards, FSU five. The Hurricanes lost a couple of fumbles, too, and had a pass interception that probably cost them a touchdown.

"I'm really happy to win this one," Miami Coach Andy Gustafson remarked to reporters after the game. "This is one of the scrappiest teams we have ever run up against. And the double wing they threw at us was something we did not expect," he said.

Coach Bill Peterson had this to say: "The good teams win the close ones-- and I guess that wraps it up. Miami is a real good football team."

"Was it our best game of the year? It's a hard question to answer. We haven't fumbled like that this year. Overall, however, considering spirit and everything else, I guess it was the best we have played. I don't think the loss is going to hurt our kids too much, because we have a couple of weeks to forget about it. Anyway, these kids have lots of pride and character. They'll be OK.

Gene Roberts led FSU' running with 71 yards in eight tries. Nick Ryder paced Miami with 64 in 13 runs.

FSU has an open date next week before playing Georgia in Athens.

The Yardstick

	FSU	Mia
First downs
Rushing yardage
Passing yardage
Passes attempted
Passes completed
Passes intercepted by
Punts
Punting average
Fumbles
Fumbles lost
Number of penalties	1
Yards penalized	5

Here comes "the MUSIC MAN"

THE MOST MARVELOUS MOVIE EVER MADE FROM THE PLAY THAT KEPT PLAYING FOREVER

TECHNIRAMA TECHNICOLOR

Adults $1.00

1:40 3:20 6:00 8:40

STARTS WEDNESDAY

FLORIDA
AIR CONDITIONED • PHONE 224-3265

AVON

FOR ALL YOUR COSMETIC and BEAUTY NEEDS CONSULT your AVON REPRESENTATIVE PH. 385-1818

(CAMPUS (FOR CAMPUS SERVICE)

"WELCOME HER"

HISTORY 181
HUMANITIES 201

SPECIALLY PREPARED STUDY AIDS

FOR HISTORY 181 and HUMANITIES 201 ARE NOW AVAILABLE TO FSU STUDENTS.
SEE THEM TODAY AT THE Sweet Shop.
701 W. Jefferson St.

NEW! PRO-ELECTRIC ROLL-ON
FIRST! BEFORE-SHAVE LOTION THAT ROLLS-ON

No dripping, no spilling! Covers completely! Old Spice Pro-Electric protects sensitive skin areas from razor pull, burn. Sets up your beard for the cleanest, closest, most comfortable shave ever! 1.00

SHULTON

DOING IT THE HARD WAY by hoff (GETTING RID OF DANDRUFF, THAT IS!)

easier 3-minute way for men: FITCH

Men, get rid of embarrassing dandruff easy as 1-2-3 with FITCH! In just 3 minutes (one rubbing, one lathering, one rinsing), every trace of dandruff, grime, gummy old hair tonic goes right down the drain! Your hair looks handsomer, healthier. Your scalp tingles, feels so refreshed. Use FITCH Dandruff Remover SHAMPOO every week for positive dandruff control. Keep your hair and scalp really clean, dandruff-free!

FITCH
LEADING MAN'S SHAMPOO

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

VOL. XV No. 25

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University

Tuesday, October 9, 1962

olitical nion To rganize rganizational meeting of the Political Union will be conduct- ment at 7:30 in the Library ium Hall.

dent Body Vice President John will be guest speaker. His will be "Responsibilities of ts in Political Activity."

John Vanderoef, faculty ad- of Political Union and Dr. Ready, executive director Florida Center for Education olitics will present a brief his- and purposes of the organization. Informal discussion session will the meeting at which refresh- s will be served.

ional Union is the campus affil- the Florida Center for Educa- Politics (FCEP). It is a part national organization having than 450 chapters in 28 states. headquarters is located at .

bipartisan organization, the expresses no political attitude reference and encourages mem- ship from both sides of the poli- l spectrum.

with "Better Minds for Better s" serves as a guideline for activities. Annually they work many state, county and city rnmental officials as interns observers. Statistical studies political attitudes and trends with sponsorship of political ates and forums in the field of ical science are all part of activities. All interested are urged to attend.

CHANGE OF MAJOR

nts who wish to change their major, with necessary e in faculty adviser, should do ring the period from Oct. 8 .

anges in majors may be made in Counseling Center, Extension 302 Westcott, Dr. G. Harold director of counseling, an- ced.

Opens Tomorrow

Swords Clash In Henry IV

By JACK SIMMONS
Flambeau Staff Writer

"On guard."

The lusty cry rings out, Broadswords begin to clash, and death comes to the loser of the battle.

Such scenes as these will occur nightly at FSU this week as the days of Merry Olde England come to life again on the Conradi Theatre stage, when the University Theatre group presents "Henry the IV, Part I."

Weeks of practice have gone into the production that opens tomorrow night at 8:15 p.m. As well as learning their lines, six of the cast members have been working at polishing their fencing techniques.

Stan DeHart, pictured left above, who portrays Hotspur, has had fencing experience in several other plays and also has done some fencing outside the theatre. He said that the "untrained individual would probably find legitimate fencing very boring. Therefore, in the theatre we enlarge and magnify the movements to create a more exciting and dramatic effect."

DeHart added that it would be advantageous for every aspiring young actor to know fencing. It gives him grace, poise and control which are as necessary to the actor as is his voice. It also might mean the difference of being hired or not being hired, he said.

Robert Swain, pictured above, who plays Prince Hal, also has had fencing experience. This production is the first time that he has used the English broadsword which he says is more dangerous than the rapier. The English broadsword is much heavier and has a double edged blade, he explained. Swain said he has a healthy respect for the men who actually fought with these weapons.

Sammy Kilman, who plays Falstaff, said fencing in "Henry IV" is comparable to some professional work he has seen. Falstaff is a comic character in the production who does not do any fencing but does a great deal of pretending as to his wizardry with the sword. To prove this to his constituants, he shows them his sword which he has hacked up by beating it on a rock.

Six Found Guilty In ID Fraud

Six students were found guilty of deception concerning student identification cards in a ruling by the Honor Court last Thursday.

The students, who either had loaned an ID to another student or had used another student's ID to obtain admission to the football game, were deprived for one trimester of all rights and privileges of free admittance to University events using ID cards.

Two other students were found guilty of using another student's ID card to obtain admittance to a football game for a person not enrolled at FSU. Both were sentenced to a trimester of Honor Court probation.

LENIENCE

A special concession was granted to one of the students, who is a freshman and is attending FSU on a scholarship.

Three students accused of being involved in printing and possessing fake temporary ID cards were brought to court on a charge of deliberate deception. The students stated that they had not used the cards, nor had they had any intention of defrauding the University in any way. The Honor Court accepted their pleas of not guilty.

SUSPENDED

A student accused of cheating on a final exam of the summer session was found guilty of academic dishonesty and sentenced to immediate suspension.

All cases tried by the Honor Court are reviewed by the faculty disciplinary committee before official action is taken on the Honor Court recommendations.

Defendants have the right to legal advice from another student, who may not directly address the court.

Overseas Study Program Applications Now Ready

Institute of European Studies take applications for spring ter study programs at the ersities of Vienna and Frei- g.

program includes formal s, lectures, seminars and d-study in Europe. The Univer- of Vienna will take those of homore or junior standing as of 2, 1962.

program combines English- liberal arts and general ies courses, intensive German uage instruction and regular ersity courses taught in Ger- for those competent in that uage and supplementary lec- s and seminars.

y juniors are allowed to attend program at the University of lberg. Political science, Ger- language study, philosophy, erature, and European history be stressed. All classes will be taught in German.

Admission will depend on a C-plus college average and recommendations of his dean and department chairman and of a professor familiar with his recent college work.

The application period will close next Dec. 10 Students will sail for Europe from New York on Feb. 2. Academic guides will lead the group in the Vienna program through England, France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Switzerland, Austria, Germany, Italy, and Spain, while those in the Freiberg program will travel in Germany, Switzerland and Italy. These field-study trips are not mere tous because they are strictly subordinated to classwork.

Descriptive brochure on the two programs is available from the Institute of European Studies, 35 E. Wacher Drive, Chicago.

Nikolaidi Scheduled To Sing In Town Hall

Elena Nikolaidi, FSU professor of voice, will leave next month for New York City where she will present a recital in Town Hall, Nov. 14.

This is the popular mezzo-soprano's first appearance in Town Hall in more than three years. A native of Athens, she made her initial American appearance there in 1949 and subsequent appearances in 1954 and 1959.

Her most recent Town Hall appearance hailed by the New York Times as "a recital of distinction" and the Herald Tribune praised her voice for its warmth, color and range.

Tallahasseans will have an opportunity to hear this season's program ahead of the New York audiences. Miss Nikolaidi will sing in Opperman Music Hall, Nov. 7.

Selections on the program include Schymann's "Frauen Liebe und Leben," Claire de lune and Fantoches from "Fetes Galantes: En Sourdin" by Debussy, Parto, ma tu ben mio from Mozart's "Clemenza di Tito," selections from Brahms' "Wir wandelten" and two contemporary Greek songs by Riadis.

Miss Nikolaidi plans a week of rehearsals in New York prior to the Town Hall concert. Her accompanist will be Ryan Edwards, an FSU graduate now working professionally in New York.

Other out-of-state performances scheduled by the vocal artist this fall and winter include appearances in Toronto, El Paso, Chicago, and a lecture-concert at the University of Arkansas.

The daughter of a professor of Byzantine music, Miss Nikolaidi studied at an Athens conservatory and made her professional debut with the State Orchestra. International recognition came to her as a star of the Vienna State Opera where she was discovered by Bruno Walter. She made her Metropolitan Opera debut during the 1951-52 season. Prior to that she made an opening night appearance at the San Francisco Opera in 1950-51. She was during the 1958-59 season a featured soloist on CBS television.

ELENA NIKOLAIDI

Students Are Invited

DEAR STUDENTS:

The annual Florida State University Student Government Retreat will take on a new look this year. It will offer new stress on lecture and discussion by state and international political figures. The keynote speaker, Honorable Ralph Hancke, Council of the Embassy of Norway, Washington, D.C., is well known in international affairs and is familiar with the institutions of higher learning in Florida.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the keynote address Friday, October 19, at 8:15 p.m. in Florida High School Auditorium. Saturday business sessions will begin at 7:30 a.m. at the Reservation. Breakfast and lunch will be served. Registration will be held on the lobby floor of Longmire Building Monday, October 8, through Friday, October 12, from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. The registration fee for students will be $2.50. Agendas may be picked up Friday, October 19, on the main floor of Longmire.

The retreat should be a learning experience, the purpose of which is to inspire in Student Government leaders an increasing awareness of the role of government in the larger area of the community and world. We are looking forward to your participation in making the retreat a success.

KITTY MILLER
SECRETARY OF INTERCOLLEGIATE AFFAIRS

Flambeau Forum

Stoic Warriors Herald Greatness

To the Editor:

Tearing myself from my bed on that portentous Monday--How could I have been so artless as to imagine it to be an ordinary as any other--I proceeded to the usual dreary tasks of learning. But a strangeness stole over me before I had reached my first class. I was seized by a magical infection of the senses. What could have caused the golden aura suffusing our usually forwsy campus? What could have inspired the transfigured faces of students I met? It seemed that the ghostly eyes of the universe were directed as FSU.

This malady so trammelled and exalted my reason that--wildly, eyes aglow and brain amok--I envisioned a pay raise for our faculty, a usable science building, enough language professors to go around, but all, even a sane board of control, seemed inadequate as an explanation.

Suddenly all was revealed. Those stoic warriors the Seminoles, had held and statistically beat their opponents, the redoubtable Miami Hurrica

The consummation of a life's fond hopes, the nouement of an idyll are realized. The souls have lifted all from the miasma of academ plodding to the heights of collegaite grea none--not even those who came for an educatio were excluded. Well might the universe wonder; t dull substance of the buildings wax lar sun.

Join me now fellow students in placing the laur of victory on these battered but yet solid head for Time will remember Monday as the day, that day we began operation as a Great Universit

George

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Support Team

An encouraging number of students met the Florida State University football team at the Tallahassee airport Saturday. Several hundred turned out to give the Seminoles a warm welcome back after their hard fought battle with Miami.

THIS WAS NOT the first time that students have greeted the team upon their arrival. After the 0-0 tie with Kentucky, almost a hundred students braved a downpour at 2:30 a.m. to greet the Seminoles.

From all the indications, students are in the mood to back their football team. Outstanding performances by the Seminoles undoubtedly are the cause for this.

PRAISE IS due both to the football team and to their supporters.

However, better coordination will help increase the already encouraging turnouts. This should be, and will be, provided in the future.

Paul Hemphill, Sports Publicity Director, will give the "Florida Flambeau" the exact time the team is to return after an away game. This will be announced in the Tuesday edition.

We heartily encourage students to note this time and plan to be on hand to greet the returning Seminoles. Fraternities and sororities should also encourage their members to turn out.

SPIRIT IS a spontaneous thing. It takes a few sparks and spirit spreads. Outstanding performances by both students and team in games with Kentucky and Miami have provided that spark.

Students should keep this spirit alive in the future by supporting the Seminoles both at home and away.

BCS

Florida Flambeau

ESTABLISHED 1914
ALL AMERICAN 1956-'57-'59
BEN C. SHARP - Editor
TONI DICARLO - Executive Editor

John Schaffner, Managing Editor
Otis Wragg, Associate Editor
Joan Abbott, News Editor
Howard Denson, Sports Editor

Asst. Managing Editors.....Jim Smith, Sharon Blackwell
Asst. News Editors.....Lana Murray, Nancy Olson
Asst. Sports Editor.....John Wood
Photo Editor.....Bruce Tibbo
Artist.....Spence Guerin
Columnists-Gerry Dobson, Allan Dermott, Bob Foss, Bonnie Freedman, John McCotter, Matt Straub, Joe Rice, Lawrence Mahoney, Mary Ann Stevens.
News Staff-Bobbie Shiplett, Gayle Motes, Mila Arnold, Bill Smart, Mary Grossenbacher, Sarah Gordon, Susie Rhoades, Linda English, Jack Simmons, Irma Wehle, Ted Harvey, Thera Brackney, Michelle Johnson, Iris Anderson, Frank Coney, Leslie McNevin, Bob Cornet, Drex Dobson.
Sports Staff-Shirley Hardison, Seth Bramson.
Photographers-Art Campbell, Vin Hoagland, Fred McDonald.
Business Manager.....Dianne Klinck
Advertising Manager.....Charlie Mull
Asst. Ad Manager.....Dick Waterworth
Ad Makeup.....Mabry Ashley
Advertising Sales Staff-Ned Stafford, Lex McKeithen, Don Dughi, John Morgan.
Circulation Manager.....Fred Salgado

Member Associated College Press. Nationally Represented by National Advertising Service, 420 Madison Ave., New York 17, New York. Published Daily by Florida State University Students in Tallahassee, Florida

Negroes Feared?

To The Editor:

Although James Meredith has held the spotlight in national news, we should not overlook the beam in our own eyes. In a recent issue of the Flambeau (October 5, 1962), the arrest of two FSU students was reported. They were charged with "sub-standard conduct" and "attempted fleeing," which involved an automobile chase by the police.

On the same day, the local newspaper reported that "five Florida A&M students were found guilty of refusing to leave a restaurant after being requested to do so and disobeying a Police Officer." They had attempted to be served at a bus terminal restaurant.

The FSU students were fined $50.00 each. But the A&M students were fined $300 or 60 days in jail. It would seem that five students sitting in a restaurant are more to be feared in the enlightened, cultural center of Tallahassee than two endangering lives in a chase involving automobiles and pistol shots.

Richard Stillwagon

Discipline Has A Purpose

To The Editor:

Concerning Mr. Salzberg's recent outcry of "Army 'discipline'."

Precise and exact times of departure are of the utmost importance to any military organization, especially during wartime, for lives may be at stake.

As a cadet, he is supposed to do things and be places at certain times. The "discipline" has a purpose, which I think is very evident.

One demerit on this cadet's record now for showing up tardy to a meeting, would be much better than a life, or many lives, on his conscience as a lieutenant for sho up late on a war patrol or ilar action.

What good is an excuse, espec to the parents of dead sol

As far as "discipline... bel ried out to the realm of absurd why don't we let the Army whether or not it is or isn't.

While your letter enlighten students of FSU to the atrocit the Army R.O.T.C., I think it's have been sent to the Comma Officer of R.O.T.C., if actu what you wanted.

Liberals Aid Communists

To the Editor:

I read with rapt interest Mr. Mahoney's views on communism- he must see it, the myth of communism.

Without attempting to disentangle all of the threads of anti-ant munism, this reader would be interested in knowing just what Mahoney thinks communism is--and what its leaders have in store us. Does he think communism is just a headache that will go awa sleep? I refer to his phrase, "paranoid exaggeration of the red at home and abroad."

As far as the reds regarding liberalism as their worst e could be further from fact. Any commie worth his salt knows that he spread his poison much easier dressed in the attractive garb of liber ism than in any other way. Why? Because liberalism offers care sponsorship of each citizen from the womb to the tomb, exacti price of individual rights and freedom of thought with attendant ser to governmental whims and command. Conservatism, in contra the welfare of the individual squarely where it belongs--on the indivi

In sum then, communism is real and out to get us--honest tinued liberal or otherwise, evasion of the problem and embracing welfare state holds dire implications for all of us except those vegetables that walk around looking like people.

Warren D. Hast

Mississippi In Retrospect

Right Of Majority

To the Editor:

In the editorial section of the "Flambeau" (Oct, 2, 1962) I noticed several opinions as to where the "guilt" lies in the recent situation in Mississippi. I did not, however, see any implication that perhaps the "guilt" rests on the head of one James Meredith. Here, it would seem, is one (but not the only) party which should be held responsible.

I do not mean to say that I oppose the protection of the rights of minorities, but rather, that I more strongly uphold the right of the majority to determine a course of action, (namely, the original refusal by a rightful representative of the people of Miss. to admit Meredith as a student at Ole Miss) within the limit of the law. And, if I may quote Gerry Dobson, "Congress has passed no law requiring the integration of Ole Miss or any other school."

When the emphasis on protection of the rights of minorities so completely outstrips the rights of the majority, then "majority rule," the mainstay of democracy, is no longer being followed. The minorities must be protected, but not to the extent that we have government of the people, for and by the minorities.

Certainly the students who participated in the riotous actions were wrong, but it seems these actions were precipitated by Meredith and I can not see how this can be overlooked by the general public, the FSU student body, or this paper.

Ennis Whiddon

Our Shame

To The Editor:

Judging by the editorials and letters to the editor, FSU has more than its share of narrow minded students.

If the opinions of these persons express the opinions of the South, then, WE, not Ross Barnett, should hang our heads in shame.

Governor Barnett should be congratulated for his firm convictions, not disgraced. He is one of the last of the fast fading strongholds of Southern traditions.

Since when is the education of ONE person, black or white, worth the lives of TWO others?

As long as we are bluffed by these "exhibitionists" we will see no end of trouble.

Pearce Northrup

Refreshing Exception

To The Editor:

At a time when so many students lack interest more than social activitie tus-seeking James Mere as a refreshing exception.

His involvement in the integra struggle must be costly, tedi and dangerous to him. He has wife and child to consider. And his convictions, his sheer guts tain his commitment to the cau racial justice.

His willingness to pay the pr is being constantly tested. And is constantly paying that price.

Perhaps there is a lesson learned from his example. Perha in the light of his life-and-d struggle with the forces of ign ance, we should re-evaluate own lives.

There is a question that most of us could not truthfu answer in the affirmative: "D care about anything that much The Meredith are rare. We ne more of them.

John D. B

Olympic Star Performs In Gymkana

...most teenagers were still ...awkward and uncoordinated, ...gerath was winning inter...a. laurels for her graceful ...astic performances.

...h Gail led all American en... ...the home Olympics by ...28th individually in the wo... gymnastic contests. At 17, ...was the third ranking woman ...nast in the United States and ...d 19 is second in the nation.

...e FSU freshman is not resting ...her laurels, however. Instead ...putting long hours of prac... ...for FSU's fall ...and continuing to ...her techniques in hope of ...the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

...e one of the leading per...rs in the Gymkana show, "Pi... ..." which will run nightly ...through 20 in Tully ... She will perform three ...required in the ...paring the uneven paral... ...balance beam and ...routines. Later in the ...fourth event, vaulting ...will be added for the ...final shows.

...nastics Coach Hartley Price ...is the first woman Oly... ...member who has ever ...been in the Gymkana show, as ...is hers to enroll at FSU. ...gymnastic laurels she has al... won will earn a place for her ...among those of men gymnasts on the big Hall of Fame plaque in Tully Gymnasium when she graduates.

Price, who has coached 11 national champion gymnastic teams (six at Illinois and five at FSU) and 13 individual champions said he hoped Miss Sontgerath's work here will lead the way to a program which will provide training for women as well as men in gymnastics.

The value of long and intensive training in producing a championship gymnastic team was seen firsthand by Gail when she saw the Russian team's performance in Rome. The U.S.S.R. captured first place, and Russian performers won many individual honors, while the American team ranked ninth.

"In Russia the results of starting training early are much in evidence," she said. "I have seen Russian women who were 40 and had two or more children, who were still performing superbly and were slim and trim."

Henry IV

(continued from page 1)

"It is worth being in the play just to be able to use the swords," says Mr. Robert Wenman. "It gives me the feeling of really being a part of the action of the play. I become personally involved." Wenman plays Sir Walter Blunt, who is killed in the play. He said he gets an odd feeling of excitement and apprehension when he sees the thrust come at him.

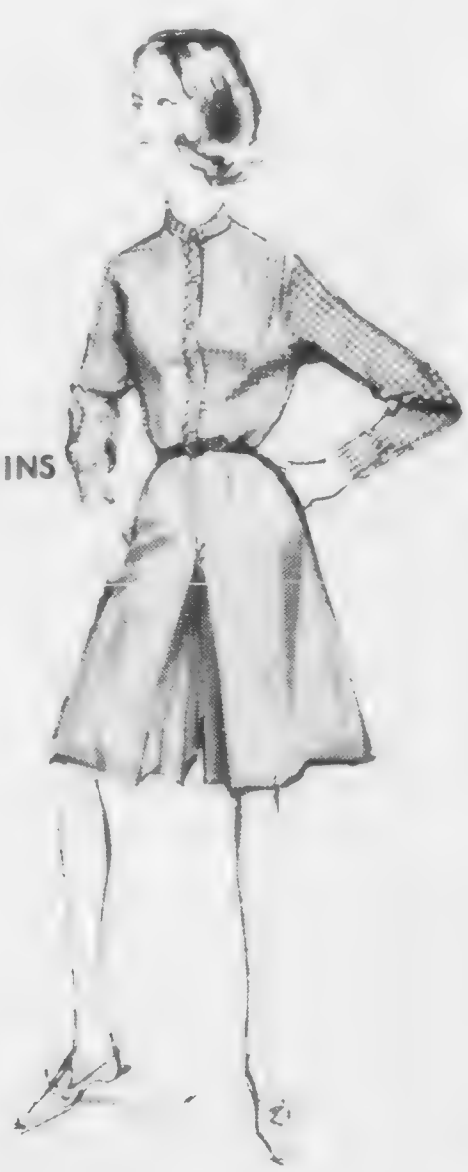
Hal Poe, playing Henry IV, hasn't fenced before this production. He finds it thrilling, interesting and somewhat frightening. Poe recalls one rehearsal when he was fighting Douglas, played by Mike Gallagher. "When I blokced Douglas' swing, the sword broke and gave me quite a fright."

Gallagher was injured slightly one night when he was hit over the eye by Poe.

Swain says jokingly that he things "Gallagher will eliminate 'Henry IV, I art II' by killing Poe before this production is over. Then we can go on to 'Henry V.'"

I Love you TRULY

One picture worth a thousand words: your portrait. It says you care because you give of yourself. Give the gift of love made with loving care by fine professional photographers. Telephone now for an appointment.



L'Avant STUDIOS
207 WEST PARK AVE PH 225-1716

Just Received:
New Shipment

Culottes

7.99

with matching stretch belt
65% DACRON ... 35% COTTON
DRIP-DRY - SHEDS RAIN & STAINS

* BROWN
* GREY
* IVORY
* BLACK

the Sensational Skirt
everyone has been asking
for. New shipment just received get yours while we have all colors... all sizes

OURS ALONE

MILLERS

CORNER Monroe at College

THE INS AND OUTS OF COLLECTING SWEATERS
(OR)
WHY SWEATERS THAT ARE VERY IN ARE VERY "ORLON"

VERY IN	VERY OUT
washing your sweaters in the nearest washing machine (you can, if they're "Orlon"* or "Orlon Sayelle")	sending your sweaters home to Mother for fussy hand washing or whatever.
saving on cleaning bills with great sweaters of "Orlon" and "Orlon Sayelle". They come clean—but quickly—in the wash.	digging deep into fun funds for seasonal—and emergency—sweater cleaning.
all-season sweaters—freed from rituals of mothballing and summer storage.	mishaps with moths and sweaters that hibernate in a box.
bulky, good-looking knits that warm without weight—wash without worry.	burdensome sweaters—too heavy in overheated classrooms, too dependent on demanding care.
classics pure and simple—plus newfangled knits that know how to keep their shape with no assist from you.	the old saggy-baggys like Daddy used to wear—and Mommy has to fuss over!
the newsy textures and tweedy tones of "Orlon" acrylic, "Orlon Sayelle" bi-component acrylic.	almost anything else, almost anything else! (So start collecting sweaters of "Orlon" and "Orlon Sayelle" right now!)

DU PONT

Today's News Roundup

Flambeau News Services

AROUND THE WORLD

BERLIN-- The Russians have snubbed Western protests over the turning back of a British ambulance which tried to go to the aid of a man shot and wounded yesterday on the Communist side of the wall in Berlin. A Soviet protocol officer listened to a reading of the protest-- then said he could not accept it because it did not concern the Russians but the East Germans. The West does not recognize the East German Communist regime.

NEW YORK-- The President of Cuba made a violent attack on the United States today before the United Nations Assembly. His speech produced what was probably the noisiest and most impassioned gallery demonstration the U.N. has ever seen. Hecklers screamed from the galleries as the Cuban president spoke. Twenty of them-- both Anti-United States-- and all of the guests of U.N. delegations-- were rushed from the galleries by security guards. Outside later, at the U.N. gates, Anti-Castro demonstrators clashed with Castro supporters. Police took four into custody.

ACROSS THE NATION

WASHINGTON-- In another move, the high court decided to take a new look at the matter of religion in public schools. It agreed to rule on the constitutionality of prayers and Bible reading in cases involving Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Maryland.

OXFORD, MISS.-- The Federal Government has cut back its forces around the University of Mississippi, where the situation was quiet today as Negro James Meredith began his second week of classes. The Army announced it is pulling about 5,000 troops from nearby Columbus, Mississippi, and Memphis, Tennessee-- the first withdrawal of Federal forces sent in to deal with the integration crisis one week ago. Tomorrow night, another 4,000 guardsmen will be released from standby duty.

FLORIDA SPOT NEWS SUMMARY

MIAMI-- U.S. officials are presuming that the release of 1,113 Cuban invasion prisoners is imminent and are making plans to receive them possibly as soon as today.

JACKSONVILLE-- Search crews have found major portions of a General Electric Company aircraft which crashed off Jacksonville last week. Navy jet plane parts were found 50 yards away, but investigations have not been able to determine if the two planes collided. Five lives were lost in the accidents.

Sigma Delta Pi will meet in the Club Room of Longmire at 7 p.m.

* * * * *

Knowledge for College make-up examinations will be given at 7 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium.

* * * * *

FSU Political Union will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

* * * * *

"Nights of Cabiria," an Italian film classic, will be shown by the FSU Film Club in Westcott Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Today

Cavalier-Cotillion will meet in the Trophy Room at 8 p.m.

* * * * *

Students and faculty members may attend the Kennel Club meeting at 8 p.m. in 303 Women's Gym.

* * * * *

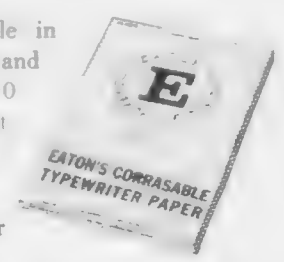
Dr. N. E. LaSeur will discuss "Forecasting Problems Associated with Hurricane Audrey, 1957," at the Meteorology Seminar in 301 M-M at 4:05 p.m.

The Inter-Versity Christian Fellowship program will be a study hour, at 7 p.m. in the Student Lounge.

* * * * *

"R[illegible] pha Particle Widths" is R. H. [illegible] topic at the Nuclear Physics Seminar, 4:30 p.m. in 124 Sci[illegible]

* * * * *

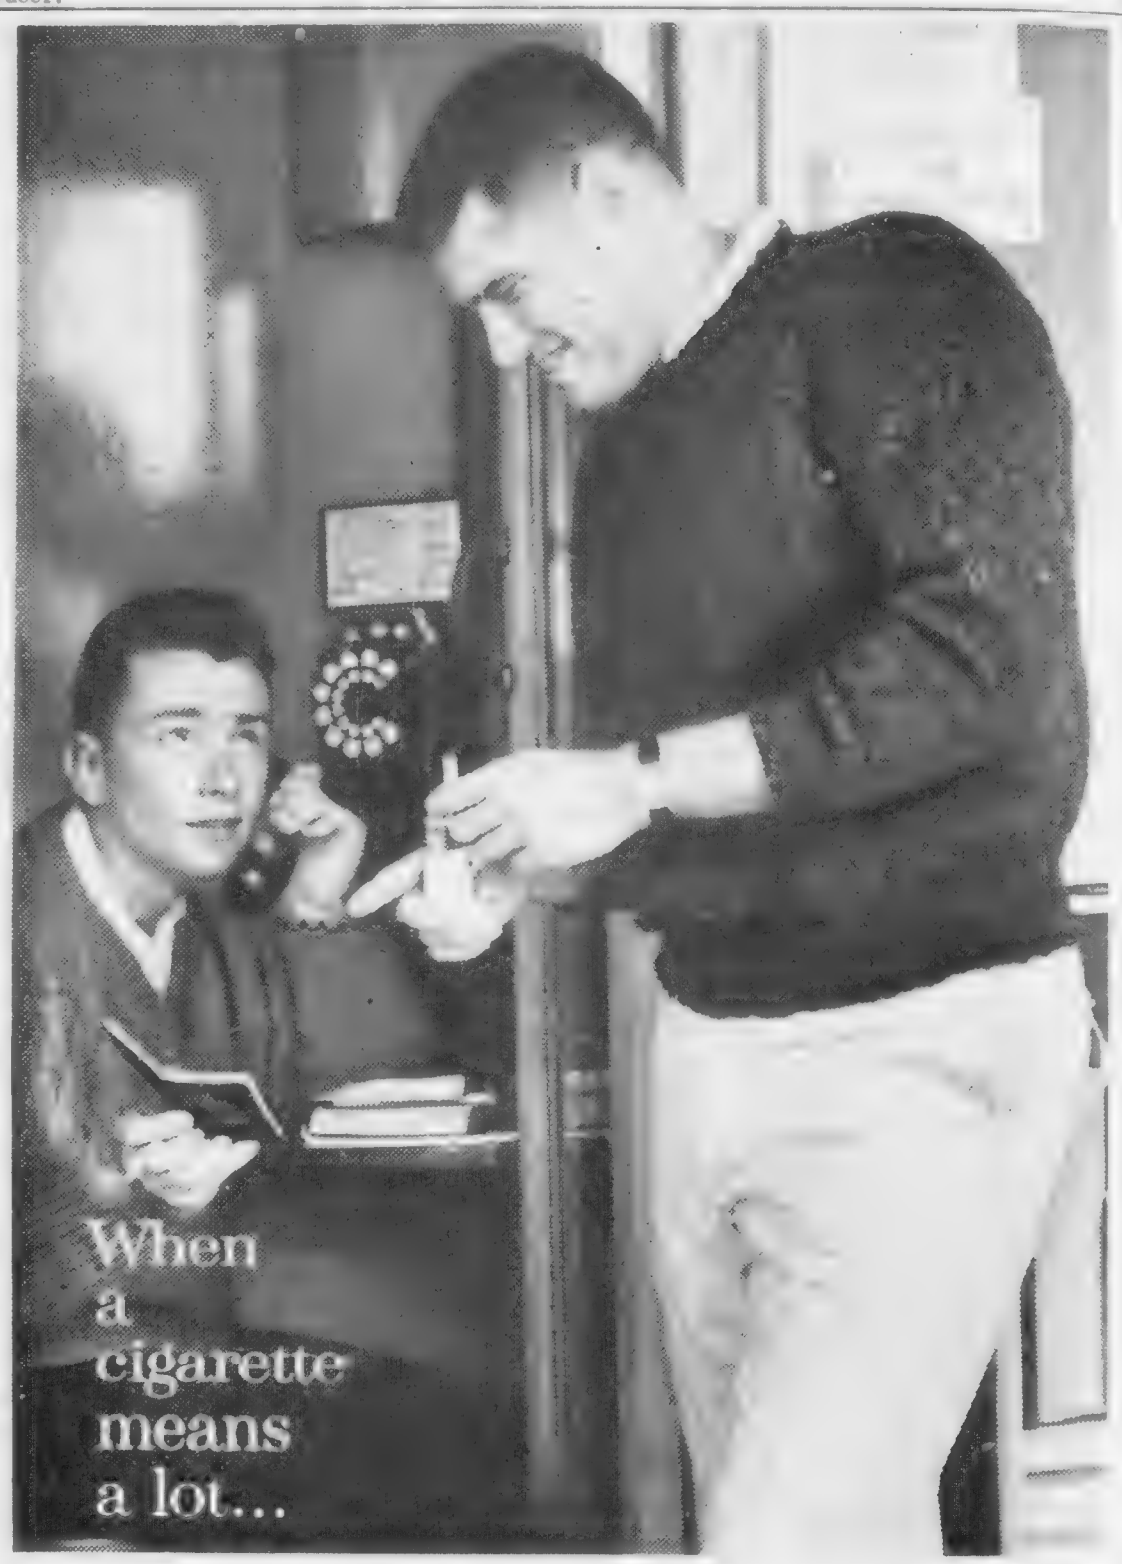


The R[illegible] meet at 5 p.m. in Longmire Lounge.

ERASE WITHOUT A TRACE
ON EATON'S CORRĀSABLE BOND

Don't meet your Waterloo at the typewriter—perfectly typed papers begin with Corrāsable! You can rub out typing errors with just an ordinary pencil eraser. It's that simple to erase without a trace on Corrāsable. Saves time, temper, and money!

Your choice of Corrāsable in light, medium, heavy weights and Onion Skin in handy 100 sheet packets and 500-sheet boxes. Only Eaton makes Corrāsable.



A Berkshire Typewriter Paper

EATON PAPER CORPORATION (E) PITTSFIELD, MASS.

Get Your Supply of EATON'S PAPER at the
UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE IN THE STUDENT CENTER

get Lots More from L&M

more body in the blend
more flavor in the smoke
more taste through the filter

It's the rich-flavor leaf that does it! Among L&M's choice tobaccos there's more of this longer-aged, extra-cured leaf than even in some unfiltered cigarettes. And with L&M's modern filter—the Miracle Tip—only pure white touches your lips. Get lots more from L&M—the filter cigarette for people who really like to smoke

Science Talks To Appear In Series

...visiting lecturers will appear at a weekly series of seminars sponsored by the Institute of Molecular Biophysics every Friday at 4 p.m. in 306 Science.

...an organic chemist from the University of ... will be the first lecturer, Oct. 19. The other visiting lecturers are J.F. Colman, organic chemist, University of ... Carolina, Nov. 7, who will speak on "Chemistry of Di-Armomatic Metal Chelates"; J.B. Dickey, organic chemist from Tennessee Eastmen, who will speak Nov. 18 on "Azo Dyes from Substituted 2-Aminothiophenes"; E. Grovenstein, organic chemist from Georgia Tech, who will speak Nov. 30 on the "Cleavage of Quaternary Ammonium Salts by Sodium"; A. Streitweiser, organic chemist from the University of California who will speak Dec. 7; and M. Morales, biophysicist from the University of California Medical School who will speak Dec. 14.

Rainbow Girls Needed To Work

All Ranibow Girls on campus who are interested in working with the Tallahassee Assembly and participating in local social affairs may contact Brenda Stickney, 319 Landis, or Sandie Pollock, 112 Gilchrist, for information.

WFSU-TV

TUESDAY

9:45 Spanish I
... Americanism Vs. Communism
10:30 Spanish II
10:45 Seeing Music
... American Economy
11:30 Jr. College Spanish
12:... Religions of Man
12:... Monday
1:00 Lab 30
1:... Live & Learn
2:00 Social Studies
2:... Americanism Vs. Communism
4:... What's New
5:... Seeing Music
5:55 News
6:... Continental Classroom
6:... American Economy
7:00 English 102
7:... William Ward
8:00 Government in Action
8:30 Americanism Vs. Communism
9:00 Action at Law
9:... Medical Hospital
10:00 Ten O'Clock Report

Weather

Variable temperatures and cloudiness expected, with morning fog forecast. High temperatures should be in low 90's, with possibilities of widely scattered afternoon showers and thundershowers.

Liberal Forum

podium topics...

An image of growing maturity in American society as a goal for the current instances of social interaction was projected Sunday night by the Reverend C. K. Steele, as he spoke to the Liberal Forum.

Rev. Steele, president of the Tallahassee chapter of the NAACP, and vice president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, spoke on "Fulfillment, Not Destruction."

The speaker said that, since Jesus Christ taught a doctrine which upset many established beliefs and practices of his day, many people said he had come to destroy the laws of the prophets, but He answered, "I am not come to destroy the law, but to fulfil the law."

FULFILLMENT

Rev. Steele asserted that present social reformers seek to complete and fulfill the potential of the nation, yet some people accuse them of intending to destroy the law.

The United States is based on ideals defended in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution--fair play, democracy and freedom, the speaker continued. These ideals were desecrated, and prejudice, slavery, abolitionism and civil war followed, Rev. Steele declared.

He said that the U.S. maintains a position of leadership in the development of social relations, and remains a land where experimentation and innovation can be brought about to develop new and better race relations.

'TOO SLOW'

But, he continued, the process of social change moves entirely too slow, and it is of tremendous importance to the country and its people that it move faster.

"Everywhere you turn, racial prejudice raises its head somehow. To counteract this, whatever sacrifice is necessary for freedom, even my life, I ought to make and would be glad to," Rev. Steele concluded.

Coffee Hour

Shakespeare's "Henry IV, Part I," was discussed by Dr. Francis G. Townsend and dramatist Richard Fallon at the English Coffee Hour, Friday.

Townsend outlined three major points of interest in the play, which will be presented in Conradi Theatre starting Wednesday.

The "X" technique is the first of Townsend's three points. A major character, well thought of, begins to fall in the first act while a badly thought of character rises. They cross during the third act.

Use of tree parallel characters is another feature of the play. They are Hotspur, Prince Hal and Falstaff.

TWO PLOTS

Juxtaposition of two plots is the third point. Action in the rebellion is intertwined with Falstaff's robbery.

Fallon, as director of the FSU production, found several main obstacles in preparing the play. Casting is difficult because Prince Hal must dominant.

This is done, said Fallon, by showing the other characters through the eyes of Prince Hal.

NO ART

Language, Shakespearean English, presents the second major problem. "It is no longer an art," said Fallon. "Now players only speak when they must." Some language has been cut and obsolete words have been dropped for the benefit of modern audiences.

"Most of all I want the play t have vitality," Fallon concluded.

Rally Committee

The time for the Rally committee meeting tonight in Longmire Auditorium has been changed from 7:30 to 8:30, Chm. Gaines Pickett announced today.

IT'S F.S.U. MONTH
at SEMINOLE & PARKWAY LANES

BOWL! BOWL! BOWL!

FOR THE NEXT 30 DAYS ANY FSU STUDENT WHO SHOWS HIS I.D. CARD CAN BOWL FOR 35¢ A GAME

THAT'S 35¢ A GAME

BOWL! BOWL!

VITALIS® KEEPS YOUR HAIR NEAT ALL DAY WITHOUT GREASE! Greatest discovery since the comb! Vitalis with V-7®, the greaseless grooming discovery. Keeps your hair neat all day without grease—and prevents dryness, too. Try Vitalis today.

Toe Specialists Shine In Week's Football Action

The closing game received special emphasis this week in football as Florida State tallied two field goals, missed another, to nearly defeat the University of Miami, and as Auburn kicked three field goals before getting a TD and a 16-6 victory over Kentucky.

The oppositions' results:

AUBURN--downed Kentucky for second victory of season; to face [illegible] Oct. 13.

THE CITADEL--lost to William and Mary, 29-23, for second loss against two victories; to face Vanderbilt Oct. 13.

FLORIDA--defeated by Duke, 28-21, for second loss against one victory; to face Texas A&M Oct. 13.

FURMAN--lost to George Washington, 14-7, for 2-2 record; to battle Howard College Oct. 13.

GEORGIA--tied South Carolina, 7-7, for a 1-1-1 tally; to fight Florida State Oct. 13 in Athens, Ga.

[illegible]--nipped by Louisiana State, 10-7, for first loss against [illegible] against Tennessee Oct. 13.

HOUSTON--trounced by Ole Miss, 40-7, for 2-1 record; to face Alabama Oct. 13.

KENTUCKY--defeated by Auburn for third defeat; to face Detroit Oct. 12.

MIAMI--slipped past FSU, 7-6, for third win; to battle LSU Oct. 13.

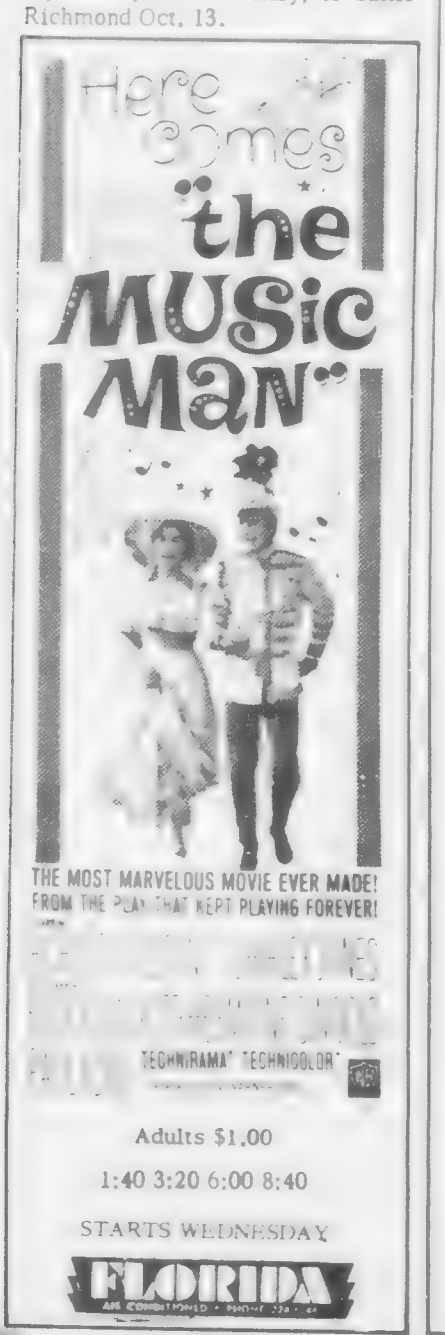
VIRGINIA TECH--defeated Virginia, 20-15, for 2-2 tally; to battle Richmond Oct. 13.

Grads Still Swimming

"Gee, I wonder what happened to so-and-so, you remember him, the All-American that was so good last year." This is a common statement of Tribe swimming fans as they wonder aloud about last year's, or the year before's All-American swimmers.

Head Swim Coach Bim Stults shed some light on the question recently. All four of FSU's recent year All-Americans are still active in swimming in some way or another.

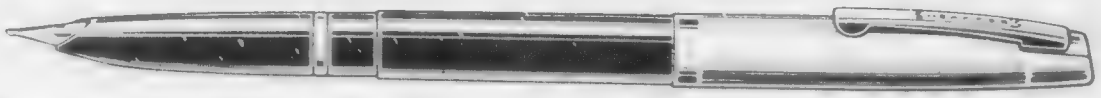
Curt Genders and Buck Hiles, both All-American divers here, are now in the Army on special assignment to the sports staff at West Point. Genders is coaching the divers and Hiles is working with the freshmen. Recently both men went to Paris with the Army Athletic Association to swim for the Armed Forces at the C.I.S.M. games, which, according to Stults, are somewhat equivalent to our National A.A.U. events.



Paul Thompson, the only man at FSU ever to make All-American in two events in one year here is presently working towards a degree. Thompson still keeps in shape by working out with the team and helps Stults to coach the freshmen.

Another diver, Bob Weber, finished his West Point assignment and is now in Clearwater. He is working for the Florida Power and Light Company and is still keeping active athletically.

The Seminoles have a new assistant coach this year. Danny Flandreau, a former prep All-American at G.M.A., is giving Stults a big hand with the coaching chores. Flandreau was in the Coast Guard and coached the Coast Guard team at Treasure Isle, California.



THE 1962 EDITION OF THE FLORIDA STATE . . . swimming team has daily workouts in Montgomery Pool. . . tankers prepare a practice race. (Photo by Art Campbell Jr.)

Great new record offer ($3.98 value)...just $1.00 when you buy Sheaffer's back-to-school special!

Now when you buy your Sheaffer Cartridge Pen for school, you get 98¢ worth of Skrip cartridges FREE...a $3.93 value for just $2.95. Look for Sheaffer's back-to-school special now at stores everywhere. On the back of the package, there's a bonus for you . . . a coupon good for a $3.98 value Columbia limited-edition record. It's "Swingin' Sound", twelve top artists playing top hits for the first time on a 12" L.P. This double-value back-to-school offer good only while they last! So hurry, choose your Sheaffer Cartridge Pen from five smart colors . . . and mail your "Swingin' Sound" record coupon today.

SHEAFFER'S BACK-TO-SCHOOL SPECIAL!
New cartridge pen with 98¢ worth of cartridges FREE.
$3.93 VALUE FOR $2.95
SHEAFFER'S

FLORIDA'S FIRST COLLEGIATE DAILY

THE FLORIDA FLAMBEAU

Published Daily By The Students Of Florida State University

Wednesday, October 10, 1962

Metropolitan Opera's Top Star Appears In Westcott Oct. 22

...acclaiming the ... of Zinka Milanov since she ... her debut on the operatic ... ra in "Il Trovatore," ... 1928. Madame Mil... appears on Westcott stage ... 24, to open this ... Series.

... Metropolitan Op... prima donna's per... sale at the West... Ticket Office, Monday. Indiv... the performances ...ning at 8:30 p.m., will be $3.50 ... students are free. ... all six attractions ... Artist Series pro... available.

Madame Milanov was born in Zag... Yugoslavia. She studied at the ...ored Academy where her voice ... the attention of an... famous soprano, Milka Ter... ...ured. Under Ternina ... her studies and made ... era.

... by Toscanni to ... Verdi "Requiem" in ... It was because of this she later was heard by Edward Johnson, then manager of the Metropolitan Opera. Johnson engaged her for the opera house and except for absences during the war years, she has been there since.

Early in her career Madame Milanov was selected by Bruno Walter to sing "Aida" at the Vienna Opera and later Toscanini presented her to a delighted international audience at the Salzburg Festival of 1937.

In addition to her operatic triumphs after her return to the Met in 1950, she has made numerous concert appearances throughout the United States as soloist with orchestras and as a recitalist.

Among some of the works to be heard at the Milanov concert will be Addio Di Mimi from "La Boheme," Vissi d'Arte from "Tosca," ande Pace, Pace, Mio Dio from Verdi's "La Forza del Destino." Olin Downes of the New York Times has called her "Utterly magnificent-- grand in manner, gesture, vocal sweep and glory of tone."

ZINCA MILANOV

"Kismet" Cast Is Announced

...omas Cavendish and Ellen Whigham have been ... by Director Arthur Dorlag to play the leading ... University Theater-Opera Guild's ... duction of "Kismet."

... plays the role of the poet and Miss ... at of the sultry Lalume in the musical ...ed for Nov. 8 and 9. The poet's daughter, ... the Caliph will be played by Bobbie ... and James Haygood respectively. ...liam Calhoun will portray Omar and Gerard ... and Wazir.

...her members of the large cast are: Sam Baker, Minge Bishop, Gary Bowen, Valerie Browne Rhett Bryson, William Caldwell, Oudia Carlton, David Cormack Mary Crawford, Frances Easterling Joyce Graham. Katherine Hendry, John Hofmann, Laurette Kenny, Ann Killibrew, Michael La Cagnina, Betty McConnell, John McCotter, Thomas Mac Donald, David Philo, Hal Poe, Barbara Quinn, Kenneth Richart, Sarah Riedout Mark Riechmann, Jack ... Deur Therrel, Jackie Turner, Robert Wenman, Rosie Wildes, and Mary Witham.

Both Dorlag and Richard Collins, musical director, said they were quite pleased with the try-outs.

Who's Who At FSU

Nominations Have Tuesday Deadline

Nominations for "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" are to be submitted no later than Tuesday.

Letters have been sent to the presidents of all legally recognized groups under the statutes explaining the qualifications for candidacy. Junior Class vice president Mike Woods said each organization may submit as many qualified candidates as they desire.

To be eligible for "Who's Who," a person must be a member of either the Senior or Graduate Classes. He must have maintained a minimum 2.5 overall scholastic average for five semesters. Except under a special statuatory provision when this requirement may be waived.

A nominee must have shown by his college record his ability to be of service to his community and to society; outstanding leadership in the various activities of campus life; and cooperation and willingness to give of time and effort in the educational and extra-curricular activities of FSU, according to the Statutes.

All nominations should be submitted to the Chairman of the Who's Who Nominating Committee Mike Woods, at the Main Desk in Longmire.

Elections will be held Oct. 23. Only seniors and graduate students willlbe eligible to vote.

Queen Contest Absentee Ballots May Be Obtained

Students who will be interning or out-of-town Oct. 23, when the Homecoming Queen and Who's Who nominees will be elected may vote by absentee ballot.

Absentee ballots may be obtained at the Elections Office, 210 Longmire, through Oct. 18. Office hours are 3 to 5 p.m., Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and 12 to 5 p.m., Tuesday and Thursday.

Students must present their I.D. cards in order to receive a ballot.

S. G. Retreat

Registration for the Student Government Retreat is being held in the lobby of Longmire Bldg. this wee from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. All students interested in any phase of Student Government, whether they hold an office or not, may attend. The cost is $2.50 per person.

University Theatre Gives Henry IV, Part I Tonight

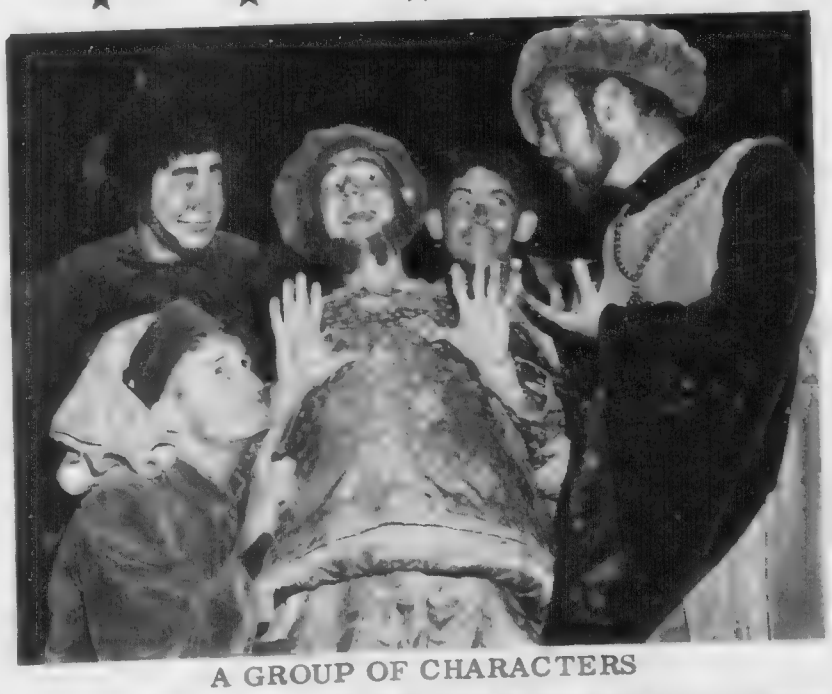
...iversity Theatre production of Shakes... 'Henry the IV, Part I," will open tonight ... a Conradi Theatre.

... are on sale at the Westcott Ticket Office ... also be purchased at the door. Prices are ... dents and $1.50 for non-students. The ... through Sunday with evening per... ch night at 8:15, except Sunday. ... rmances will be Saturday and Sunday ... This is the first time that the Univer... re has presented a Sunday matinee. ... ees are especially for local and area ...tudents interested in the play because of ...r studies, Director Richard Fallon said. In... tors who accompany the groups will be ad... free, he added.

... in 15th Century England, the play revolves ...nd the reign of Henry IV and his trouble with ...bjects from the north of England.

...lon sees Prince Hal as the dominant figure ...e play. The other characters are often brought ... focus through him as he seeks to be a leader ... the people around him and yet also understand ...r human frailities. This presentation, the dir... said, is in keeping with Shakespeare's own ... ind.

... elected for his demanding role a ... : in theatre, Bob Swain. Swain ...lish and speech for three years at the ...versity of Tennessee's Martin Branch and for ... years served as technical director at Win... College. His previous roles include Tybalt "Romeo and Juliet." Stanley in "Streetcar Names Desire," Tom in "Glass Menagerie."



Much of the ironic humor in the play comes out in the character of Hotspur, leader of the rebellion against the throne. Stanley DeHart, a candidate for a master's degree in speech, plays Hotspur. DeHart received the FSU Best Supporting Actor Award for his work in "Juno and the Paycock" and "The Alchemist." He has also had roles in "The Tender Trap" and "Skin of Our Teeth."

Falstaff, who spends most of his time in the Boar's Head Tavern, is played by Sammy Kilman. A graduate student, Kilman has appeared in "Look Homeward Angel," "Inherit the Wind," and "Last Days of Lincoln." He received the FSU Best Actor Award for his role in "Look Homeward Angel."

King Henry the IV, the title character, is played by Hal Poe. He is a Ph.D. candidate in speech and has a master's degree from FSU. He played Senator Wade in "Last Days of Lincoln," the psychologist in "Cocktail Party" and Giles Corey in "The Crucible."

Other members of the cast include Sam Ba er, Prince John; Harlan Shaw and Dean Patterson of the speech faculty, Northumberland and Glendower; Robert Wenman, Sir Walter Blunt; Albert Smelko, Worchester; John Hofmann, Mortimer; Michael Gallagher, Douglas; John McCotter, Vernon; Rhett Bryson, Bardolph; George Bew, Vintner; Jerry Walter, Gadshill; Joann Gresham, messenger; Louise Beddingfield, servant; Linda Diz, messenger; Mary Crawford, Lady Mortimer; Pay McCoy, Lady Percy; Janine Chapman, Mistress Quickly; and Jim Martin, Westmoreland.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

A GROUP OF CHARACTERS

...from Shakespeare's "Henry IV, Part I" are shown here in a tavern scene. Shown above left to right, are Sam Baker, Rhett Bryson, Sammy Kilman as Falstaff, Jerry Walter, and Robert Swain as Prince Hal.

Flambeau Editorials

FLAMBEAU editorials do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the student body as a whole or the administration of Florida State University. Editorials represent only the opinions of staff members with the initials of the writer following the editorial.

Be Present

The attitude of newly elected Student Senators can be seriously questioned after their first meeting. One of their initial actions was to give themselves more absences, despite the shorter length of the Trimester system.

This action seems strange for Senators who are just beginning their tasks for the year. Instead of being filled with the usual enthusiasm for tackling significant projects, they are looking for ways out of doing their duty.

Sen. Arnie Gibbs, who introduced the resolution, claims that this amendment will cut down on the number of absences.

BUT WE DOUBT THIS. Establishment of a lenient minimum for absences only encourages the attitude that since these cuts are free, they should be taken. Granted that in certain instances, conflicting events force Senators to miss an occasional meeting. But this certainly should not be the case five time during a Trimester.

Certainly, some senators will execute their duties properly and take advantage of this loophole. But the past history of the Senate shows that a good many Senators will dodge work cronically.

SENATORS SHOULD make it clear at the onset whether they intend to work or shirk. A good way of doing this would be to put teeth back into the attendance rule and stress that Senators can either plan to be present and ready for work or give up their seats to someone else.

BCS

Today's News Roundup

Flambeau News Service

AROUND THE WORLD

HAVANA-- Informed sources in Havana report that Prime Minister Fidel Castro postponed his scheduled meeting yesterday with American attorney James Donovan on the release of the prisoners of the Cuban invasion.

WASHINGTON-- State Department officials say the remaining 3,000 American troops in Thailan will be withdrawn, but not until after further consulations with the Thai government about the presence of Communist troops in Laos.

JORDAN-- The Foreign Minister of the Royalist government of Yemen, overthrown two weeks ago, said yesterday, in Jordan that the youn king reported killed by the rebels is actually hiding out in the mountains, mobilizing tribesmen to restore the monarchy. The rebels had said the king was killed and buried in the ruins of his palace.

MONTEVIDEO, URUGUAY-- Seven employees of the Pluna Airline were killed yesterday in the crash of a DC-3 at Carrasco Airport in Uruguay.

ACROSS THE NATION

WASHINGTON-- The drive for adjournment of Congress got stalled again yesterday. There was little progress on clearing major legislation still up in the air. But there was still hope among the Democratic leaders that the men on Capitol Hill can go home this week.

WASHINGTON-- The Chairman of the Board of the Chicago and North Western Railway Ben Heineman, has promised there will be no wholesale layoffs as a result of a ruling yesterday by an arbitration board in Washington. The board ended the long dispute on the railroad by ruling that the board may end any telegrapher's job considered unnecessary-- provided it gives 90 days' notice and tal s it over with the Telegraphers' Union. The union has expressed disappointment over the ruling.

OXFORD, MISS.-- James Meredith, the Negro student at the University of Mississippi -- complained today that the Army segregated the troops sent in to deal with riots on the University campus. The Army admitted that some patrols were kept on an all white basis at the height of the tension-- for the purpose of avoiding trouble. But it flatly denied that segregation is being maintained at present.

CAPE CANAVERAL-- Walter Schirra, the Astronaut who spent nine hours orbiting the earth, arrived back in Cape Canaveral yesterday. Flying with him from Houston was Leroy Gordon Cooper, the only one of the six eligible Astronauts who has not made a space flight. Schirra said he's pulling for Gordon to make the next space flight, 18 orbits, scheduled for early next year.

Lawrence Mahoney

Intervention Not Solution

The situation in Cuba has festered to a new degree of danger during the past month, with much of the infection coming from American jingoists.

A crescendo of wails has been rained on Washington calling for Marines and bombs to alleviate the danger by annihilation of a government that is repulsive to most Americans.

Florida politicians, aided by the proximity of the island nation, sought a convenient issue to ride into office upon for imminent November elections. They found it by alarming the people with exaggerations of the Cuban threat, actually raising the assertion that we are in danger of attack by bearded invaders.

If and when the President of the United States succumbs to the alarmists' desires then our nation would suffer repercussions from the biggest error it ever made.

There would be no easier way to spread the Castro infection throughout Latin America. Every effort made by the U.S. in a quarter-century of fence-mending with lands wary of infringments on their sovereignity would be nullified.

How we condemned the Soviets for their smashing of the Hungarian revolutionaries! There is no rationalization available for us if we crush the Cuban government because we are opposed to it.

Such action would also correspond to the British and French aggression against Egypt over the Suez Canal in 1956. Although these powers were our allies, President Eisenhower reminded the world of the gravest issue of the twentieth century: whether powers can be restrained from using force when they consider it in their national interests to do so.

Eisenhower said that the United States could not accept a double standard by which it dnounces foes when they use force but condones such activities when used by allies and itself.

Recognizing that great provocations give great temptations to use armed might, Eisenhower nevertheless urged all nations to accept the fact that justice in today's world requires action under law.

We have cause to be alarmed over the arrival of Russian technicians and military men in Turkey, Afghanistan and Pakistan.

The Soviets, so far, have recognized the right of a nation to ally itself with the other power bloc, and to receive military aid and to lease sites for military bases. At least, they have made no moves to invade the countries where Americans have nuclear weapons aimed at the Soviet hinterland.

The American bases in Turkey are there as a check against Soviet ambitions in the middle East, and presumably, elsewhere in the world. The Soviet military aid to Cuba is meant as a check against American intervention-- and, since our nation did support an abortive attempt to destroy the Cuban government and because many of our leaders are calling for intervention now, perhaps Castro has a legitimate need for defensive weapons.

All considered, we find ourselves in a highly complex crisis -- one that might have been avoided except for mistakes that were made dating back two or three decades.

Since there is little use in crying over spilled milk -- or past errors -- the best course of action would be to do what we should have done in Cuba during the Batista days.

We must take the lead in advocating and aiding the cause of social and agrarian reform in Latin lands. We must halt our propping up of any government, regardless of whether it is totalitarian, as long as it is sufficiently anti-communist to please us. Anti-communism is not what the fermenting peoples of these lands are interested in -- they want social justice and economic progress, and, if the United States allies itself with the oligarchies and dictators of their lands they will turn to the offers of the other bloc.

Cuba is a danger to the well-being of our nation, but the solution is absolutely not available through military means. The danger lies in the spread of communism from Cuba to the ripe-for-change nations to the south and west, and the way to combat it is through helping the peoples to help themselves.

"You Forgot Something!"

Mary Ann Stevens

Let's Enlarge Soda Shop

There is only one place on this campus where students regularly carry their classroom learning into the conversation and activity of everyday life. There is only one place where students and professors, grad students and freshmen can sit together as equals and discuss topics from life to love, Bach to Zen Buddhism, etc. This place is, of course, the Soda Shop -- a broken-down, understaffed, and poorly equipped basement eatery with 62 seats serving 1,600 people daily. They are using hot plates as steam tables, the ice box is in the manager's "office," and the nicest room in back is the garbage bin!

This campus thinks nothing of having a fine, properly equipped Student Center where students can shake their bodies in time with savage rhythms. But what about the place where the prime goal of a university, learning, is advanced? Whoever is at the financial helm must realize that the stude[illegible] there whether it's beauti[illegible]

In the past five years, [illegible] been two new dining hall[illegible] snack bar renovated in A[illegible] the food plan and a [illegible] Union planned. The S[illegible] increased its business [illegible] in this time with the addit[illegible] new equipment. For at l[illegible] years, plans have been draw[illegible] for its enlargement but as yet [illegible] thing has been done.

There is the danger that the S[illegible] Shop will lose some of its "rusti[illegible] charm if it is enlarged. But w[illegible] can't enlargement be so planne[illegible] to add to the relaxed atmosphe[illegible] of the place? The addition of [illegible] outside (Parisian cafe style) [illegible] not be too expensive [illegible] certainly add seating spa[illegible] "cafe designed with the [illegible] in mind" is not an impo[illegible] it can only be had if the studen[illegible] really want it.

John McCotter

I Love Government

At present I am in my Government class. I love my Government class-- it's so pertinent. Even more pertinent than the Tallahassee Democrat is my Government class. There are lots of International Affairs majors in my Government class. I love International Affairs majors-- they're so smart. They all wear smug expressions that seem to say, "I've traveled, and I know the inside dope."

When they talk, they call world leaders by their nicknames, such as "Ike" or "Krushy," as if they knew these famous men personally. They are able to talk for fantastically long periods, why, sometimes the professor hardly has to say a word!

See that man over there [illegible] bullet-shaped head? He [illegible] military officer. There are lot[illegible] retired military officer[illegible] Government class. Hear how [illegible] he talks in class? See how purp[illegible] he turns when someone disagree[illegible] with him? He's not used to peop[illegible] disagreeing with him.

Oh, Yes! See that thin fellow [illegible] the corner sharpening the machet[illegible] He is an exchange student from Sou[illegible] America. There are lots of exchang[illegible] students in my Government class. He hates Gringos. If you get t[illegible] close to him he will spit [illegible] and call you a yankee peeg. He says that he is waiting for Nixo[illegible] to come back.

WFSU-TV

WEDNESDAY

- [illegible] Vs. Communism
- [illegible] Music
- [illegible] Economy
- [illegible] Spanish
- [illegible] Studies
- [illegible] Vs. Communism
- [illegible] Music
- [illegible] Classroom
- [illegible] Economy
- [illegible] Chapter
- [illegible] Era
- [illegible] Report

Padgett's Harley Davidson
411 W. Gaines St.
Ph. 222-0130
"our motorcycle headquarters"

Jim Martin Leaves Photographic Post

James Martin, who has turned out between 75,000 and 100,000 prints and slides for FSU during the past eight years, has resigned as head of the Photographic Services Dept. to enter private industry.

Martin will join Keuffel and Esser Co. Monday, as southeastern regional manager of the audio-visual division. After several weeks in New York he will return to Tallahassee.

Formerly of Birmingham, Martin studied at Howard College and in 1948 transferred to FSU. After four years in the Navy beginning in 1950 he joined the FSU staff as University photographer.

His work has been primarily for FSU research projects but Martin also has taken care of sports publicity photography and other work.

JIM MARTIN

Attention SENIOR and GRADUATE MEN Students
WHO NEED SOME FINANCIAL HELP IN ORDER TO COMPLETE THEIR EDUCATION DURING THIS ACADEMIC YEAR AND WILL THEN COMMENCE WORK
Apply to STEVENS BROS. FOUNDATION, INC.
A Non-Profit Educational Corp. 610 ENDICOTT BLDG., ST. PAUL 1, MINN.

Weather

Fair and partly cloudy throughout the day, with temperatures remaining in the high 80's.

Topranking Seniors Get Scholarship Information

Topranking seniors in the College of Arts and Science at Florida State University who expect to receive degrees between December and August will be placed in touch with representatives of foundations providing fellowships for graduate study at a tea Friday afternoon.

Seventy-five or more students have a cumulative grade average of 3.2 points, according to Dr. Robert O. Lawton, associate dean, but in the event any are missed in the invitations to be sent out this afternoon they should come to the tea anyway. It will be in the club room of Longmire from 4:15 to 5:15 p.m.

Dean J. Paul Reynolds of the College will preside at the tea and Dr. John Champion, University vice president, will greet the group. Campus representatives of various agencies handling fellowships will speak as follows: Dr. Thomas R. Lewis, associate dean of the Graduate School, NDEA and NSF fellowships and other assistanships and fellowships handled by graduate schools; Dr. Charles R. Storey, Jr., Danforth Foundation; Dr. Weymouth T. Jordan, Woodrow Wilson Fellowships; Dr. George Lensen, Fulbright scholarships; and Dr. Lawton, other fellowships.

Sophomore Investiture Tickets Are On Sale

Sophomore-Senior Investiture tickets are now on sale at Westcott Tickett Office.

Tickets are $1 for the banquet in the Suwannee Room which will be next Tuesday. The Investiture program in Westcott Auditorium will follow the banquet.

Dr. Melvene Hardee will speak on "Education, the Delicate Commodity" at the program.

The banquet and Investiture ceremony are both open to all students, although the program is primarily directed at sophomore and senior students.

CREATIVE WRITING

Interested in creative writing? A club, tentatively called "The Thursday Night Barbecue Pit," is being formed by a group of students who are trying to get started as free lance writers.

The group will meet two Thrusday nights each month to read their efforts and submit them to the criticism of the group.

Interested beginning writers may call Joe Rice at 224-4772, after 5:30 p.m. for further information.

Today

Dr. Allen W. Ostar, director of the Joint Office of Institutional Research of the American Association of Land Grant Colleges and State Universities, will speak at the Higher Education Seminar at 1:45 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge of the Education Bldg.

* * * * *

Student Senate will meet at 4 p.m. in front of Westcott for transportation to the State Capital for a meeting there.

* * * * *

The Student Florida Education Association will meet at 5 p.m. in the Suwannee Arcade.

* * * * *

"Wet Milling Processes" will be Richard Szypersk i's topic at the Baking Industry Seminar at 7 p.m. in 10 Dining Hall. The speaker is from Corn Products Co.

* * * * *

Fashion Inc. will meet at 7 p.m. in Sandels Lounge.

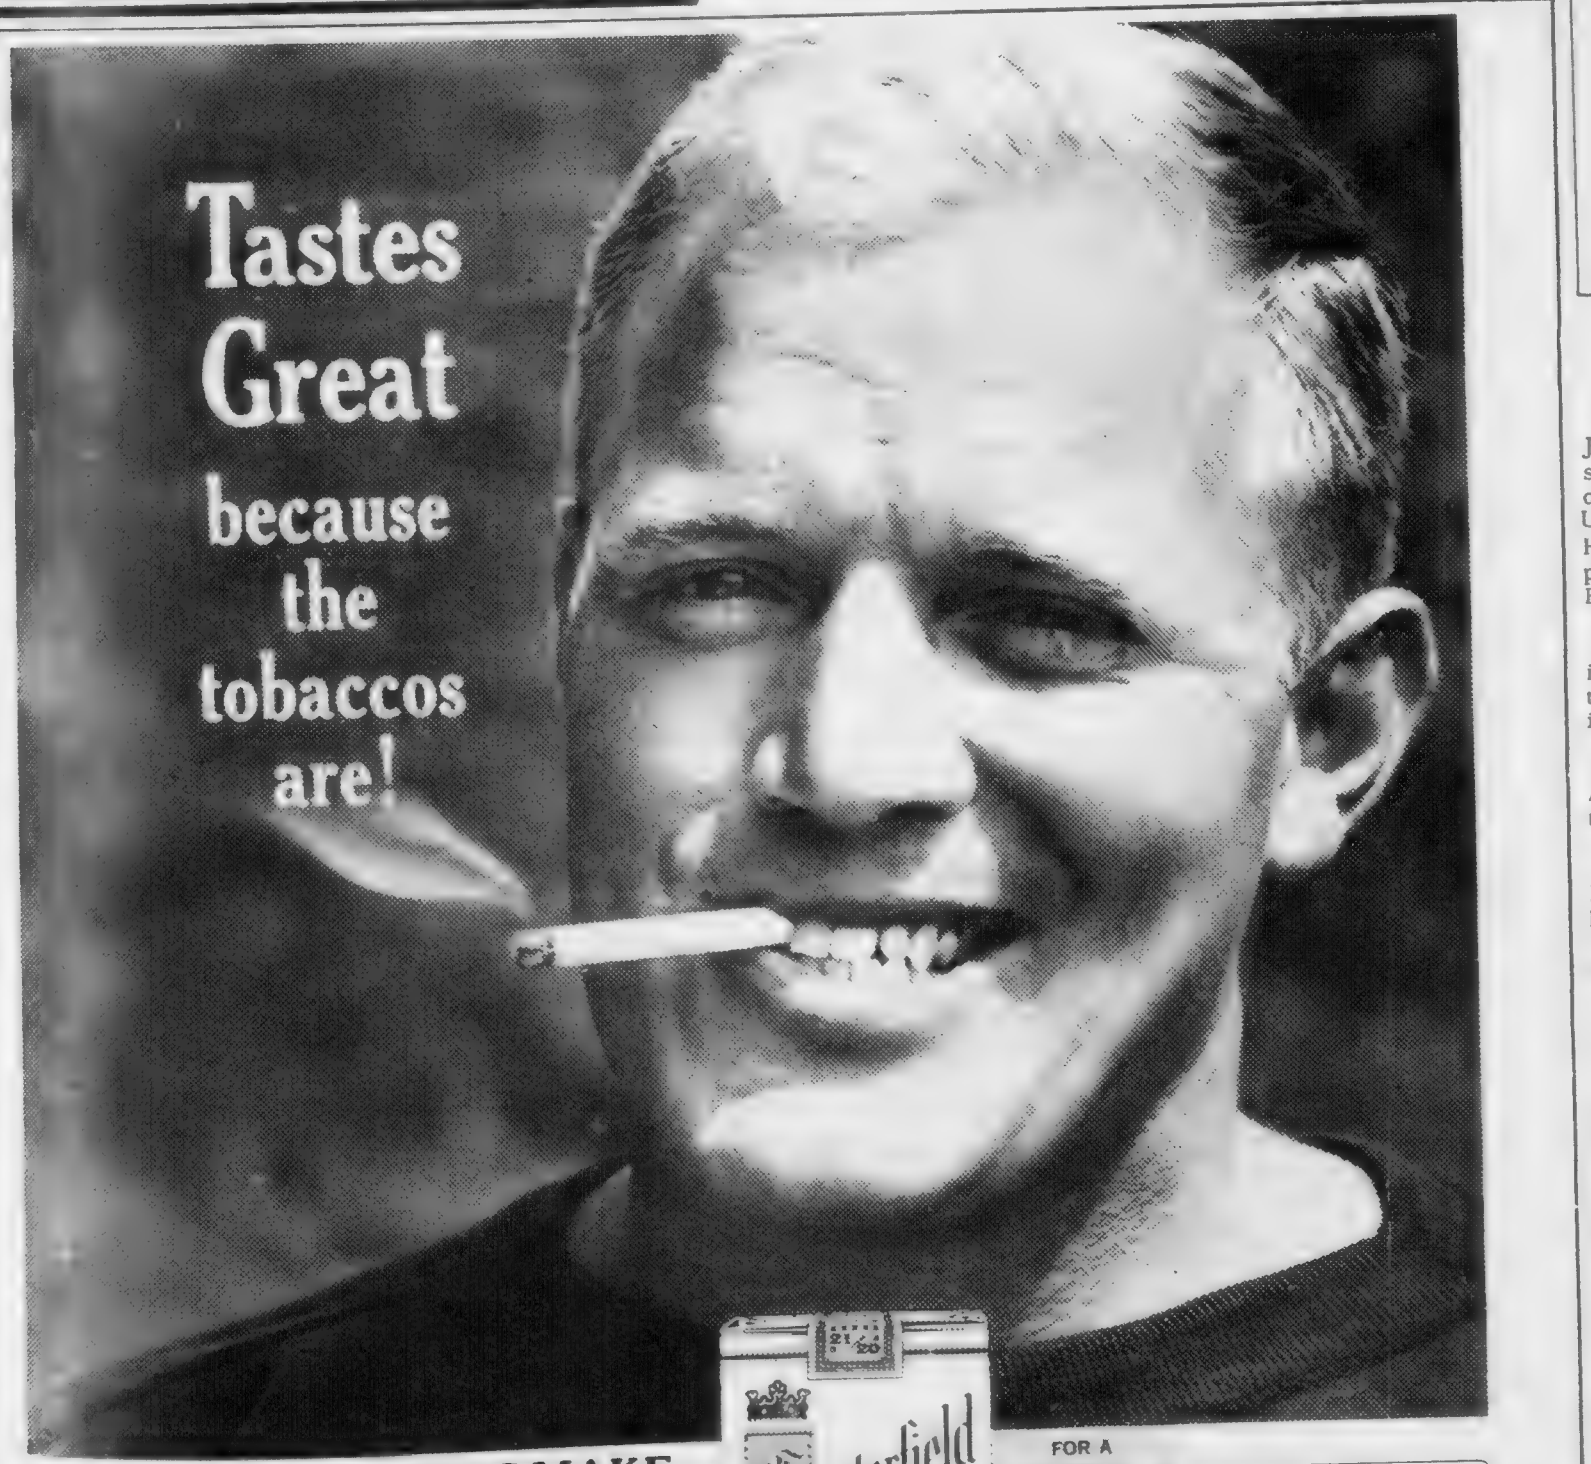
* * * * *

Young Americans for Freedom will meet at 7 p.m. in the Library Lecture Hall.

* * * * *

All prospective business education majors will meet at 7:30 p.m. in 212 Business.

* * * * *



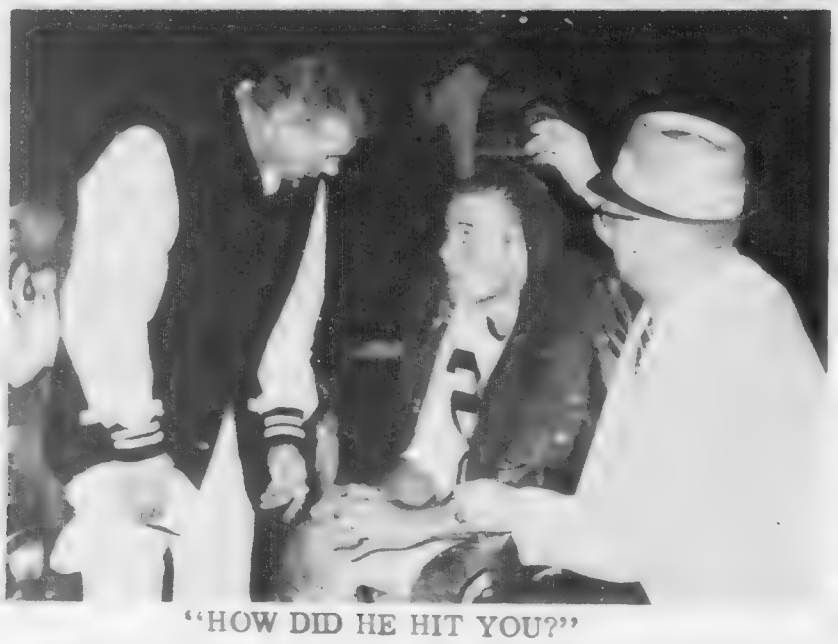
Alpha Council will meet at 8 p.m. in the Longmire Student Lounge.

* * * * *

New members of the FSU Dames Club will be installed at 8 p.m. in Longmire Auditorium and Clubroom

* * * * *

"New Hope for Richard" will be the topic of the WFSU-FM Radio Forum at 8:30 p.m. Dr. Richard Finner, the chief of professional education at the Sanoma State Hospital for the retarded in California; Mrs. Ellen Theil, associate professor or educational services for exceptional children and youth at FSU; and Dr. John A. Griffin, director or university Relations, will participate on the forum.



21 GREAT TOBACCOS MAKE 20 WONDERFUL SMOKES!
Vintage tobaccos grown, aged, and blended mild . . . made to taste even milder through the longer length of Chesterfield King.
CHESTERFIELD KING
TOBACCOS TOO MILD TO FILTER, PLEASURE TOO GOOD TO MISS

FOR A GENTLER, SMOOTHER TASTE
ORDINARY CIGARETTES
CHESTERFIELD KING
ENJOY THE LONGER LENGTH OF CHESTERFIELD KING
The smoke of a Chesterfield King mellows and softens as it flows through longer length . . . becomes smooth and gentle to your taste.

SPORTS

"HOW DID HE HIT YOU?"

. . .trainer Don Fauls (left) asks Chief halfback Keith Kinderman, who sufferred a chest injury in the Seminoles' last home game. The injury proved to be minor. said team physician (right). Dr. R.A. Johnson.

Seminoles Suffer The Simple Sores

Except for a couple of minor catastrophes, the Seminole football team hasn't been badly injured this season. This is largely due to the precautions taken by trainer Don Fauls and the team physician, Dr. R. A. Johnson, and also the on-the-spot aid rendered.

And, when the Tribesmen do get injured. the public is rarely puzzled by Fauls' or Johnson's description of the injury. For instance, a broken leg need not be jazzed up into a fractured tibia.

This simplification encourages analyses like bruised hip, injured leg, bruised chest, etc.

[illegible] frown on such general statements.

A case in point is the Associated Press' Aug. 1 memorandum concerning football injury reports. It said:

"There has been a rash of injuries to athletes recently and in all too many cases we have failed to be specific as to the location of the injured member. Don't say so-and-so hurt his arm or leg. BE SPECIFIC!"

So what did the Yale University publicity department do but issue a report as follows:

"Three Yale University football players were on the disability list as the Elis wound up their first week of work.

"Pete Cummings, sophomore fullback, has a contusion on the left anterior superior spine of the crest of the ilium.

"Guard Stan Riveles has a subluxation of the distal head of the right ulnar.

"Mark Horlings, a tackle, has a strain of the semi-tenonosis muscle of the right thigh at the insertion of the ischium."

The specific Yale report puzzled Bob Phillips, columnist for the Birmingham Post-Herald. The Flambeau sports department has [illegible] upset by a hip-pointer.

X- Country Team Enters 4 Meets

Florida State's first cross-country team will participate in four dual meets and an Amateur Athletic Union event this fall, it was announced by Athletic Director Vaughn Mancha.

The Seminole harriers, to be coached by Assistant Track Coach Verlyn Giles, will meet Miami (Tallahassee Nov. 3), Troy Ala. (Tallahassee, Nov. 7), and Florida (at Gainesville, Nov. 12, and in Tallahassee, Dec. 1). To end their season, they'll enter an AAU meet in Troy, Ala., Dec. 8.

Varsity team members are Dennis Barton, senior from Ft. Lauderdale; Doug Ferry, sophomore from Melbourne; Jim Hampton, senior from Titusville; Tom Houston, junior from Orlando; Jim Lankford, junior from Shreveport, La.; Dick Roberts, junior from St. Petersburg, and Hank Raehn, junior from Orlando.

Calhoun Is Chosen Back Of The Week

Quarterback Charley Calhoun of the Florida State Seminoles has been named Back of the Week for his performance in last Friday's Miami-FSU contest.

Sports writers across the state nominated the signal caller for the Renegades, FSU's defensive outfit, according to Bill Kastelz, of the Sports Writers Association and sports editor of the Jacksonville Times-Union.

Although most backs get state laurels for offensive plays, Calhoun's defensive action proved that he deserved the week's honor as he tackled six members of the Hurricanes unassisted and assisted in dragged two others down.

In addition, he punted twice for a 47.5 yard average and returned a punt 30 yards to start one Florida State threat.

